

Div: 10.
Ph: 7.
B: 6?

3472K/D

V. XXIX

17/m

C. Harris Esq^r
HAINE

THE GREAT
FRENCH
DICTIONARY.

IN TWO PARTS.

THE FIRST,
FRENCH and ENGLISH;

THE SECOND,

English and French;

According to the Ancient and Modern

ORTHOGRAPHY.

Wherein Each Language is Set forth in its Greatest LATITUDE:

The Various SENSES of Words, both Proper and Figurative,
ARE

ORDERLY DIGESTED;

And ILLUSTRATED with Apposite

PHRASES, and PROVERBS:

The HARD WORDS Explained;

And the PROPRIETIES Adjusted.

To Which are Prefixed

The Grounds of Both LANGUAGES, in Two Grammatical DISCOURSES;
The One ENGLISH, and the Other FRENCH.

By GUY MIEGE, Gent.

L O N D O N,

Printed by J. Redmayne, for Tho. Bassett, at the George near St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street. MDCLXXXVIII.

THE GREAT FRANCIS
DICTIONARY

86900

IN TWO PARTS
THE FIRST
FRANCIS AND ENGLISH
THE SECOND
English and French

According to the Ancient and Modern
Oxford Dictionary
Which each language is given in its own to the same sense of words both in English and French

ORDERLY DIGESTED
P. H. R. A. S. S. and P. O. N. T. I. F. I. C. A. T. I. O. N. E. S.
The Latin Words Explained
And the PROVERBS, ADAGES, TO WHICH THE
IN ENGLISH AND FRENCH, WITH A
OF THE

By GUY MARCHANT
LONDON
Printed by J. B. R. in the Strand at the Sign of the Crown in the Strand

THE PREFACE.

WHEN I made my first Attempt of this Kind (I must confess) I did it under great Disadvantages. Then the Publick was in haste for a FRENCH DICTIONARY; and they had it accordingly, hurried from the Design to the Composition, and from under my Pen to the Press. Nothing was prepared for it, and That which should have been the Work of many Tears was both conceived and brought forth in less than two. Neither was I then so well versed in either Language, as I have been since I made it my Business. All this, together with the dangerous Concurrence of Cotgrave's long-settled Reputation, and the Want of Barbarous Words, so much wanted at first, (and as much nauseated at last) was more than sufficient to run down the Book, to baffle its Author, and disappoint the Bookseller. But Something there was, by good Providence, that made it strangely work it self into the World, and become Acceptable, even beyond my Expectation.

Which was no small Inducement for me, greater indeed than all the weak Temptations of an Empty Name, to go on, and neglect nothing that might make the next Impression a complete and absolute Piece in its Kind. Accordingly I took my Notes, and made Collections ever since. The Multiplicity whereof, with the Thoughts of a new Method, put me at last upon the Necessity of making That a New Piece of Work which I had proposed to my self but as an additional Improvement to the former. So that I don't present you here with a patched Impression, augmented with many Thousand Words, &c. but with a new Production of my Pains and Industry, writ all over with my own Hand, and the Result of many Tears Study. Wherein you will find both Languages set forth in their greatest Latitude, such a Variety of Learning intermixt, and in the Whole so vast a Difference from my first Attempt, both as to Matter and Form, that I left no ground for the least Comparison. And so you may take This as my last Hand.

The Ancients pictured Janus with two Faces, and made him look two Ways at once. This Book, Janus-like, has a double Aspect; French to the English, and English to Forreiners. To both Parties equally Usefull; for the one, to get French; and the other, English. Therefore I took a convenient Care so to please and accommodate Both, that Neither of them may have Occasion to complain.

I shall now speak in particular of the two essential Parts of the Book, the MATTER, and METHOD; and that with all the Brevity that can be expected from a Work of this Nature.

The MATTER is of that Latitude, in either of the two Parts, that it exceeds considerably any Thing that has been done in this Kind; whether we consider the Copiousness of Words, the several Senses of such as are Homonymous, or the Phrases which are brought in to shew the Use thereof. The Second Part especially, where the English is the Leader, does so far outdo the same Part in the Quarto-Book, that it exceeds it to the full by two Parts in three. And the Truth is, 'tis so much beyond any English Dictionary extant, that I have often wondered, in the Composing of that Part, that this Nation should be so much wanting in this respect.

In the first Part you have the French Words spelt after the Old and New Way; but the Old referred to the New, which has been the Occasion of so many gracefull Braces. By which means the Reader is fitted for any Sort of French Books, following either the Old or Modern Orthography. And, though I am not fond of Obsolete and Barbarous Words; yet I thought fit to intersperse the most remarkable of them, lest they should be missed by such as read old Books. As for Terms of Art, wherein the Quarto is very defective, here is in both Parts a good Supply of them.

Amongst this Variety you'll meet with a great Stock of Phrases, adapted to the various Acceptations of Words; and many of 'em above the vulgar Sort, to fit the Learner for all manner of Style. Intermixt with those Phrases, you will find the Proverbs, which have their proper Use. And, for a further Improvement of this Work, I have here and there inserted, as Occasion served, many usefull and diverting Descriptions and Definitions; some short in the nature of Phrases, and others too long to be put in both Languages. Most of these, relating chiefly to the Law, are delivered in French in the First Part, and in English in the Second. So that the Learner of either Language will have a fair Opportunity to practise and improve himself, by sifting out the Meaning of them, for which the Help is so ready at hand. Thus you have a DICTIONARY, consisting not only of bare Words and Phrases, but such as explains the very Things themselves expressed by those Words. And, as the First Part does here and there give a Prospect into the Constitution of the Kingdom of France; so the Second does afford to Forreiners what they have hitherto very much wanted, to wit, an Insight into the Constitution of England.

THE PREFACE.

Neither is the Material Part of this Work the only Thing, wherein It doth infinitely exceed and surpass the First. For the Form and METHOD it self lays a great Claim to it. In the Quarto I unadvisedly disposed the Derivatives under their Primitive Words, whereby the Book came to swarm with uneasy References. Here I follow the Alphabetick Order; But in such a manner that, where a Derivative is remote from its Primitive, I shew its Extraction within a Parenthesis. And so, by changing that Method, I have shifted off the Trouble, without absolutely losing the Benefit of it.

Another Inconveniency of my first Dictionary is This, that, where a Word is taken in several Senses, one Sense is set forth, and then Phrases to it; and so on, with the rest. Insomuch that sometimes, to find the Meaning one looks for, there the Reader is fain to take a pretty long Ramble. Here all the several Acceptations of a Word are commonly summed up together, proceeding methodically from the general to the particular, and from the proper to the figurative. Then come the Phrases, more or less, to illustrate the same respectively; and at last the Idioms, which generally begin with these Words, Or thus. What Proverbs fall in of course are Intermixt with them; and, where there's more than one, they are brought together under a Head; to distinguish 'em from the rest of the Matter.

And, whereas DICTIONARIES do not usually meddle with the Variations incident to Nouns and Verbs, (supposing those Things to be learnt by the Grammar,) I have hereunto added, for the Learner's Conveniency and fuller Satisfaction, the Grounds of both Languages, in two Compendious Grammatical Discourses. Much the same as were lately printed, and are now to be had by themselves, in Octavo; very acceptable chiefly to Scholars, and Men of Sense. In the first you will find no less than Ten material Heads, not to be found in other Grammars. And, in the Account I give of Proper Names, you have those comprehensive Rules, which in a few Lines shew wherein Proper Nouns differ in these two Languages; and give a fairer Prospect of the Matter, than if they had been all mustered in the Body of the Work. Which could not have been done, without making an Atlas, instead of a Dictionary.

Thus I have endeavour'd to make this great Work both Usefull and Easy. Usefull, by the Copiousness thereof; and Easy, by the best Method I could contrive for it. Wherein I hope I have done some Service to the Publick; but chiefly to this Nation, which has so great a Share in it. And, if such an Imperfect Piece as my first Attempt was, has found so much Incouragement, I may rationally expect a much greater from This.

As to those few Irregularities that either my Pen or the Press is guilty of, they are most of 'em corrected in the Additions annexed to each Part. Infallibility is too great a Thing to be found amongst Authors, or Printers.

The Explanation of the following MARKS, prefixt to some Words; as also, of some ABBREVIATIONS.

† Shews, that the Word is only used in a burlesk, jocosè, or comical Sense; or else, that it is not current in any Style, but is either forced, or Provincial, or such as grows out of date.

‡ Denotes an obsolete, or antiquated Word, hardly fit to be used in any manner of Style.

* Before a Word that begins with b in French, shews, that the b is aspirated, and must be sounded after the English Way. And, where this Mark is not prefixt under the Letter H in the First Part, the b is mute, and must not be pronounced.

cd. i. e. q. d.	}	stands for	{	c'est à dire , that is to say. the Latine id est , that is. quasi diceres , as if one should say.
--	---	------------	---	--

There are several other Abbreviations, but such as few People are unacquainted withall. As m. or masc. for masculine, f. or fem. for feminine, act. for active, neut. for neuter, Subst. for Substantive, Adj. for Adjective. To which add the eight Parts of Speech, and the Books in the Bible, which I think needless for me to insist upon.

THE GROUNDS
OF THE French Tongue.

WITH A PREFACE,

UPON THE BEAUTIES, and the USE of that LANGUAGE.

THE PREFACE.

CHANGE, the common Fate of Sublunary Things, is, of all others, That of living Languages; which sometimes are in a flourishing, sometimes in a declining Condition. And this, not long since, was the Case of the French Tongue. So that it wanted Something to rid it of those Excrescencies and Irregularities it had contracted; and to bring it into a new Form, agreeable to this our nice and learned Age. In order to which, the most Eminent Cardinal Richelieu erected an Academy.

Thus a strict Inquiry was made into such Expressions as wanted Amendments. Some improper Words were Exploded, and others brought into Use. Many Phrases were changed, and fitted to the subject Matter. The French Way of Spelling, formerly stuffed with so many superfluous Letters, was brought as near the Pronunciation as could in reason be allowed. Transpositions, and Parentheses, in a continued Discourse, were lookt upon as a stumbling Block to the Reader. In short, by the great Industry and Sagacity of the late French eminent Authors, this Language, which was in a decaying Condition, has been so sifted, refined, and improved, that it is now become the darling Language of EUROPE. So sweet it is, and pleasing to the Ear; so very neat, and curious in its Expressions; so eloquent in its own Genius and Nature.

THE PREFACE.

But of all Parts of EUROPE, next to FRANCE, none is more fond of it than ENGLAND. And the Truth is, the English is so much made up of the French, that (according to Mr. Howel, in his Epistle upon Cotgrave) an Englishman had need to study French, to speak good English. And therefore 'tis no wonder, why the French Tongue should be so kindly received here, amongst all Sorts of People.

Now, to facilitate the Learning of this Language, as well as to secure the Grounds of it to the Proficient, I have here annexed a Grammatical Discourse. A Discourse short, but pithy; and withall digested into so plain, and accurate a Method, that I presume Nothing can be more conducive, with the concurrent Help of the Dictionary, either to learn, or to keep the Language.

THE G R O U N D S OF THE French Tongue.

Of the French PRONUNCIATION, and SPELLING, in general.

TO speak and write well a Language, four Things chiefly are requisite.

First, one must know the proper Words thereof, which is the Thing called by Grammarians Etymology. And those words must have a proper Connexion, which in Grammar is called Construction, or Syntax.

Now, as we have two Ways of Expressing our selves, to wit, by Word of Mouth, and in Writing; so there are two material Things required for that purpose, true Pronunciation, and Spelling, or what Pronunciation is to the Speaker, the same is Spelling to the Writer.

True Pronunciation is nothing else but giving to each Syllable, by one Motion of the Tongue, a Sound agreeable to the Genius of the Language.

True Spelling, otherwise called Orthography, consists in expressing every Motion of the Voice, with a certain Concurrence of Letters, such as is established by Use.

It cannot be expected, that I should treat here of both These in particular, with a relation to the French; having already done it, by way of Alphabet, in the Dictionary. But, in point of Pronunciation, there are three general and important Rules, concerning final Consonants, which are fit to be inserted here.

I. General Rule.

A final Consonant, before a Word that begins with a Vowel, or b mute, must be pronounced jointly with the Vowel, and both Words sounded into one.

As, un Enfant, des Enfants, un Homme, des Hommes.

Except

These following Words, where the final Consonant is ever mute.

As, b in the Word Plomb. And c in banc, blanc, flanc, franc, coignac, almanac, tabac, arsenac, junc, tronc, porc, porc-épic. To which add the Word donc, being used with an Interrogation; As, est-il donc arrivé? is he come then?

d, in most Words of this Termination; as regard, bord, fond, chaud, nud, sourd, and the like. To which add grand before es, and quand being used with an Interrogation; as grand es gros, quand irez vous?

As for bled, pied, trepié, they are now commonly spelt as pronounced, blé, pié, trepié. And these Words formerly written with a d final, to wit, badand, courtaud, lourdaud, maraud, nigaud, are now spelt with a t; but so that neither of 'em is pronounced.

f, in Baillif, Apprentif, clef, œuf, eteuf, Chef-d'œuvre. And accordingly there are those who spell the first two without an f; and, as for the Word clef, it is now commonly spelt clé.

g, in barang, etang, long, poing, and seing.
l, in Substantives ending in il, and ul. As, barril, bresil, chenil, fusil, gentil, nombril, outil, sourcil; cul, chevreul, epagneul, filleul, which last some write without an l.

To which add il, in case of an Interrogation; as parle-t-il à moi? do's he speak to me?

As for col, licol, mol, fol, and sol a penny, they are now commonly spelt as pronounced, viz. con, licou, mou, fou, sou. Except col and fol, in some particular Cases.

n is indeed sounded, but not jointly with the following Vowel. As for example, J'appren à écrire, I learn to write; Platon a dit, que, Plato said, that.

Just so is n pronounced in the Word on, in case of an Interrogation; as, que dit on à la Cour? what News at Court? And in the Word en, next to an Imperative Mood; as, ôtez en un peu, take some on't away.

p is mute in these Words, champ, coup, loup, galop, sirop.

1. At the end of the Infinitive of Verbs of the first and second Conjugation; as parler, aimer, remplir, finir.

2. Of Nouns ending in er, with a masculine Sound; as Taillandier, Fermier, Montpellier, where the final er is sounded é.

3. Of many Nouns ending in oir, such as tailloir, tiroir, frotoir, peignoir, &c.

4. In all Words ending in as, or is; as hypocras, taffetas, tracas, embarras, brebis, chaffis, tabis, tapis, Paris.

5. In travers, revers, envers, obus, merlus, talus, verjus, canus, discours, à tâtons, à reculons, Athenes, Rhodes, Genes, Bruxelles, Naples, and the like.

6. In the second Plural Persons of Verbs, ending in es; as vous me dites une chose qui me surprend, you tell me a Thing that surprises me.

[Except that Person be followed by the Particle en, or y. As, dites en ce qu'il vous plaira, say what you will of it; faites tout votre possible, do what you can in it.]

7. Where it is followed by the Preposition à; As, voici des Chambres à louer, here be Rooms to let.

t, in forêt, respect, appetit, lit, landie, Zenith, doit a finger, huguenot, exact, plat, front, affront, sort, port, rapport, support, court, etat, rabat, and the like.

x, in chaux, creux, crucifix, Meaux, flux, Portefaix, poux, toux.

z, in assez, and nez, this last being now commonly spelt né.

The II. General Rule.

A Consonant ending a Word is not heard, when it ends the last Word of a Sentence, nor where the next Word begins with a Consonant.

As, je parle hardiment, I speak boldly; Toutes les fois que, as often as.

Except

These Words, the final Consonant whereof is always sounded.

And first in Proper Names; as Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Betlehem, Jerusalem, &c.

[From which must be excepted such as end in as, or is; as Arras, Paris, where the s is mute.]

c, in arc, bac, lac, parc, sac, bec, sec, bouc, Duc, choc, froc, roc, soc, boc, pic, repic, public, where the c is sounded much like a k.

f, in Chef, nef, vis.

l, in all Words ending in al, and el; as animal, general, tel, quel. To which add seul, Sol a musical Note, Parasol, Caracol, &c.

p, in Cap, and Sep.

r, in all Words of this Termination. As, Chair de beuf, beef; pour moi, for me; par sa folie, through his folly; l'honneur que vous me faites, the honour you do me. To which add fer, enfer, braver, amer, &c.

[Except such as end in ir, and er, with a masculine Sound; as plaisir, Fermier, where the r is mute. In the Word Monsieur, the r is also mute. But it is heard in Soupir.]

s, in Sens, and Univers.

t, in fat, mat, chut, correct, indirect, placet, Zest, Est, Ouest; and vint before these additional Numbers, viz. deux, trois, quatre, cinq, six, sept, huit, neuf.

The III. General Rule.

None of these four Consonants, d, g, p, t, is pronounced, where it ends the Word with an s.

As, mes grands Amis, my great Friends. Les Rangs estoient doubles, the Ranks were double. Les Loups & les Brebis, the Wolves and the Sheep. Les Chats & les Souris, the Cats and the Mice.
This is a Rule, which I take to be without Exception.

I proceed now to the French Way of Spelling, which is either Old, or New.

By the Old Way of Spelling, I mean that Orthography of former Ages, which admitted of so many superfluous, excremental, and unpronounced Letters.

As a, in age, and Sergeant.
b, in devoir, redevable, fevre, fevrier, fièvre, Orfevre, soubs, subject, doubte, debte, doibt, obmettre, &c.

c, in object, list, nuist, dict, faict, saint, contrainct, edique, laidue, luict, quict, quittance, poictal, poictine, practique, voiture, traicte, traictier, blocquer, cliquette, chocquer, &c.

d, in adjoindre, adjourner, adjuster, adjuster, Admiral, admodier, advance, advantage, advenir, adverer, advertir, advou, advu, Advocat, &c. To which add bled, picd, trepiéd.

e, in veoir, decheoir, echeoir, cheute, rongneure, egratigneure, and the like.

f, in naïfve, neufve, neufvaine, neufvième, veufve, veufvage, &c.

g, in bening, besoing, coing, desdaing, desseing, loing, mailing, soing, te/moing, regnard, vingt, doigt, Magdelaine, cognoistre, &c.

h, in cholere, cholique, eschole, Jehan, Nicholas, sepulchre, orchanette. To which may be added charactere, Archange, Authour, authentique, mechanique, melancholic, thesor, throsne, Hierosme, Hierusalem, &c.

i, in Allemagne, Campaigne, Montaigne, gagner, seiche, Ecuirie, and the like.

l, in aulcun, aulne, jaulge, taulpe, aulvent, soulfre, faulx; and instead of s, in faulseté, faullement, haulser, pouls, poulser, and the like.

m and p, for n, in compte, dompter, exempt, &c.
n and s, for m, in vinismes, parvinismes, and the like.

o, in bœuf, nœud.

p, in achapt, achepter, prompt, baptiser, baptisme, nopce, semaine, septier, april, neveu, niece, recevoir, and the like. To which add Temps, and its Compounds passetemps, printemps.

r, in Mercredi.

s, in an endless Number of Words. Whereof you have a pretty large Stock in those long and short Braces of the first part of the Dictionary, which are under these Heads, viz. DE, ES, ME, RE.

But it is retained in these Words, est, Isle, Basle, Estienne, though the s be mute.

The New Way of Spelling, or Modern Orthography, is That which has rectified the Old, that hath expunged those needless and superfluous Letters, and has made besides such other Alterations, as were most agreeable to the rational Design of making the French less perplexing and difficult to read. Thus those stumbling Blocks were happily removed, and the Way made easy for Learners to read French.

And, whereas formerly the Greek Vowel y was much used, instead of z, at the end of Words; now that foreign Vowel is turned out, and this has took its place. Accordingly we write je parlai, je parlerai, Roi, moi, toi, soi, lui, ainsi, aussi, joie, anchoise, monnaie; instead of je parlay, je parleray, Roy, moy, &c.

We write also Reine, aveine, neyer, netteyer, instead of Royne, avoine, noyer, nettoyer.

Savoir, which formerly was spelt with s next to s, is now spelt without it. Monsieur Ménage gives this Reason for it, that Savoir does not come from the Latin Scire, but Sapere; Wherein I am clearly of his Opinion.

Where an l before an s is mute, we put an s, instead of the l; as haulser, pousser, fausse, fausseté, fausseté, instead of haulser, pousser, &c.

We write enemi, conte, donter, exent, solennel, and their Derivatives accordingly; instead of ennemi, compte, dompter, exempt, solennel.

Triomphe, profane, dette, recette, quitter, quittance, jeter, rejetter, and the like, are also much in use, instead of Triomphe, prophane, debte, recepte, quictier, quittance, jecter, rejecter.

q, at the end of a Word, is obsolete, except in the Number Cinq. And accordingly we write now coc, choc; as we do some other Words, such as roc, loc, troc.

s, is laid aside by many creditable Authors in the Plural Number of Nouns ending in ant or ent in the Singular; and write for exemple enfants, commencemens, instead of enfants, commencements.

The same is also left out in neanmoins, formerly spelt neantmoins.

And it is turned into e, i. in such Adjectives as these, viz. vicieux, spacieux, avaricieux; formerly spelt vitieux, spatiieux, avaritiieux, though derived from vice, espace, avarice.

2. In these Words, and the like, ending in ie; as Prophecie, Necromancie, Chiromancie, Dalmacie, Croacie.

Some spell these Words with a x, instead of x, viz. deuxième, sixième, disième.

z is also much used, instead of s, i. in the Plural Number of Nouns and Participles, such as verité, aimé, which make in the Plural veritez, aimez. 2. In this Person of Verbs, as vous aimez, aimiez, aimerez, aimeriez, aimassiez. In both which ez is sounded but like an e acute, or masculine.

'Tis true, all Writers are not agreed upon these Alterations; neither is there any true Standard to go by. A Thing wherein the French Academy has been very much wanting. For, had they but set forth a Model of their make, no doubt but their Credit would have influenced a much greater Uniformity in the Spelling of French than at present there is. But they are grown so slack, and so remiss, that it is now about fifty Years since they begun a French Dictionary; and, at the same rate, 'twill be near fifty Years more before it can be finished. And, by that time this long-winded Work comes to Light, 'tis to be supposed, the Language will be so much altered, in a hundred Years time, that it will require almost another Age to new-vamp it, and bring it into the Mode.

In the mean time, for want of a standing Model, every Writer follows his own Fancy, and sticks more or less to the old Orthography. And, as some Men are very apt to run upon Extremes; whilst one sticks fondly, and beyond measure, to the Old Way of Spelling, you shall see another bent a quite contrary Way. Who, under the specious Pretence of a New Way of Spelling, and bringing the Orthography close to the Pronunciation, disguises the Language, and leaves it almost stark naked. The Ingenious Monsieur Richeler, a very late Author, is in some degree guilty of this Escape; as he owns it himself at the end of his Work.

The Way to prevent these Mistakes is to keep a Medium, and follow the best Authors; without an obstinate sticking to the Old Way of Spelling, or over-stretching the New. Which is the Method I have observed all along in the Dictionary. But, that nothing might be wanting in it for the reading of Old Books, I brought in likewise the Old Way of Spelling, and referred it to the New.

Before I close up this Matter, it will not be improper to mention here the Use of the Capital Letters, which I find is too much neglected.

The same are fitly used, not only at the beginning of a Period, or Verse; but also of all Proper Names, Titles, &c. and indeed of any Thing that hath an Emphasis with it, or that bears any Sway in the Discourse.

Of the French ACCENTS, and POINTING.

There are two material Things required in the true Spelling of French, and such as deserve a particular Discussion; viz. the Use of the French Accents, and Pointing.

There are three ACCENTS used in the French Tongue, viz.

In English.		In French.
Acute,	} thus shaped {	Aigu.
Grave,		Grave.
Circumflex,		Circumflexe.

The ACUTE is proper to the Vowels, i. in these Sorts of Nouns, to wit, verité, piété, santé, Armée, épée, Vallée, deuxième, troisième, &c.

2. In all Participles of the Preter Tense in the first Conjugation; as aimé, aimée.

3. In some Adverbs ending in ment; such as effrontément, asseurement, inconsidérément.

The same has been also much used at the beginning of Words, where an s mute is left out; as émouvoir, répondre. But in this Case it begins to be laid aside; and good reason too, if we consult the Pronunciation. For, whereas the proper Sound of an e acute is sharp and masculine, in these Words it is not so; and consequently it takes off from the Rule. To which might be added, that the admitting of Accents, as frequently as these Words fall in, does infinitely clog and perplex the Language.

The GRAVE is used in three Words only, à, là, où; the first a Preposition, and the other two Adverbs.

The Use of it is only to distinguish, the first, from a the Verb; the second, from la the Article and Pronoun; the third, from the Conjunction ou.

The CIRCUMFLEX is common to five of the six Vowels, viz. to a, e, i, o, and u.

And the general Use of it is to shew, that some Letter or other is left out that is not pronounced; as in bâton, fête, connoître, nôtre, formerly spelt with an s, and lû where an e is left out.

The same is also not unfitly used, instead of an Acute, in these Words where the e is pronounced open. As, être, progrès, congrès, accès, décès, excès, procès, succès, après, expres.

I come now to POINTING, a Thing of great Use in Writing, and which few People understand.

'Tis well known, that Writing is the Image of Speech. And, as we do not speak without making some Pauses, greater or lesser; so, in Writing, we ought to express those Pauses with such Characters as are established by Use, to distinguish each Member of the Discourse. And indeed, without the Use of those Stops, a written Discourse must needs be confused, and the Reader puzzled to find the Sense of it.

Those

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Those Characters are

In English.		In French.
a full Stop,	} thus shaped {	un Point,
a Colon,		deux Points,
a Semi-colon,		Point & Virgule,
a Comma,		Virgule,
a Parenthesis,		() Parenthese,
an Interrogation,		? l'Interrogatif,
an Admiration,		! l'Admiratif,

A Full STOP shews that the Sense is full, and the Period complete.

As, Nothing is so certain as Death, and nothing is so uncertain as the Time. Which in French is thus rendred, Il n'y a rien de si certain que la Mort, ni rien de si incertain que l'heure de la Mort.

A COLON marks a Sense that seems to be complete, but so that there is still something to be added, which has some Connexion with the foregoing Words.

As, His Coming is uncertain, and I do not question it much: however I prepare my self to receive him, On ne sait s'il viendra, & memes j'en doute fort: cependant je me prepare à le recevoir.

Instead of a Colon, we often use a SEMI-COLON; though, in a strict Sense, this has a nearer relation to the foregoing Words than a Colon has.

Thus we write for exemple,

If they be tempted, they resist; if molested, they suffer it patiently; if they be praised, they humble themselves, and attribute all to God. Which in French is thus rendred, S'ils sont tentez, ils résistent; si on les afflige, ils le souffrent sans dire mot; si on les loue, ils s'humilient, & rapportent tout à Dieu.

This is the Distinction I made use of in the Dictionary, to shew the different Senses and Acceptations of Words.

A COMMA marks the least Pauses one makes in a Discourse.

As, His Envy, Hatred, and Malice are three Monsters that I am to fight, son Envie, sa Haine, & sa Malice sont trois Monstres que j'ai à combattre.

But sometimes it serves to divide two Members of a Sentence, that have a near Coherency together.

As, I give you leave to go thither, but come back as soon as you can, je vous laisse aller, mais revenez le plus tôt que vous pourrez.

A PARENTHESIS consists of two Figures facing each other, and including a Sentence by it self; which being omitted, the Sense of the Period however remains intire.

As, I have tried (but perhaps in vain) to subdue my Affections, J'ai essayé (mais peut être inutilement) de surmonter mes Passions.

The first Figure of a Parenthesis is called the beginning; and the other, the end. But Parentheses, in the French Tongue, especially long-winded ones, are quite out of doors; and, of late Years, they begin to be out of date amongst the best English Writers. The Truth is, they do but perplex and darken the Discourse; and are, as I said before in my Preface, but a stumbling Block to the Reader. Their very Figure is become a Scare-crow to clear Understandings; and nothing, but the want of a clear Conception, can put a Writer of a continued Discourse upon a frequent Use of them. In short, I find no Place fitter for Parentheses than a Dictionary; which, being of it self a broken Piece of Work, may very well admit of them, to make usefull and proper Distinctions. And accordingly I found them of great Use in compiling my Dictionary, to include the Genders of Nouns, to distinguish a Substantive from an Adjective, an Adverb from a Noun, &c.

'Tis true, some Parentheses may be said to be essential to Discourse, and that the very Matter it self incident to some clear Periods is a Parenthesis, whether it be distinguished or no with its proper Figures.

As, when we say for Exemple,

The King, as I am told, is gone to Newmarket, le Roi, à ce qu'on m'a dit, est allé à Newmarket.

There is a plain Parenthesis in these Words, [As I am told,] and in the French, [A ce qu'on m'a dit.] All this is granted; and such short Parentheses, that do not darken the Discourse, are allowable. But, where Commas will serve to distinguish 'em, those Turkish Crescent-like Figures may very well be spared.

An INTERROGATION is used, instead of a full Stop, where a Question is made.

As, What is your Will? que vous voulez? What News? qu'y a-t-il de nouveau?

Lastly, an ADMIRATION finds its place in such Expressions as imply some Astonishment in the Speaker.

As for Exemple,

Oh! Wonder! O quelle Merveille!

BESIDES the Accents and the Stops, the French, in their Way of Writing, use also these Characters, in relation to Letters and Syllables. Viz.

In English.		In French.
Apostroph,	} thus shaped {	Apostrophe.
Division,		Division.
Diæresis,		Trema.

The first Two are in use in the English Tongue; but the Third is not.

An APOSTROPH is like a Comma, or an inverted c, shewing that there is a Vowel put out, and two Words made into one. Which happens, when, after any of these following Particles, there comes a Word that begins with a Vowel, or h mute. In which Case.

ce	} is turned into {	c'
de		d'
je		j'
le		l'
la		l'
me		m'
ne		n'
que		qu'
se		s'
te		t'

As, C'est d'un honnête homme d'en agir de la sorte, tis the part of an honest man so to do. J'implore votre Secours, I call upon you for Help. Je l'aime, I love him, I love her. Je l'honore, I honour him, I honour her. Il n'est pas croyable, qu'il ait fait cela, it is not likely, that he has done it. Il s'impacientera, he will be restless. Il s'incommodera, he will be troublesome to thee.

Except

Le and la, which retain their Vowels before onzième and huitième. And accordingly you must say, le onzième, la onzième; le huitième, la huitième.

These four following, viz. si, re, entre, grande, lose also in some Cases their final Vowel, and turn it into an Apostroph.

Si, before il and ils; as,

S'il le veut, if he will. S'ils le veulent, if they will.

Re, and entre, in Compound Words, where they are followed by a Vowel; as,

R'entrer, to come (or go) in again. Entr'ouvrir, to open a little.

But Grande, the feminine of Grand, loses its e before many Words that begin with a Consonant; as,

La grand' Sale, the great Hall.

The DIVISION is used, either at the end of a Line, where a Word must be divided for want of room; or else in the middle of such Compound Words as these, viz. mal-adroit, mal-sant, mal-faisant, &c. Of which sort of Compounds the English Tongue is much more stocked than the French.

A DIÆRESIS is only used in French upon these three Vowels, e, i, u.

As, Jouë, a cheek. Louër, to praise. Jouir, to enjoy.

The

THE GROUNDS

The Use of it is only to part the Syllables, where two or three Vowels meet, that belong not to one and the same Syllable. But this Distinction begins to wear out; and is used, at the most, but in some particular Words.

Of SYLLABLES, and their QUANTITY.

BY a SYLLABLE is properly meant a Conjunction (or Concurrence) of Letters into one Sound. For Letters make Syllables, as Syllables make Words, and Words Sentences.

So Maison makes two Syllables, Empire three, ordinaire four, ordinairement five, incommunicable six; in this manner, mai-son, Em-pi-re, or-di-nai-re, or-di-nai-re-ment, in-com-mu-ni-ca-ble.

Every one of which Syllables has either one Vowel, or more. For Vowels are as it were the Soul of Consonants, and a Consonant has no Sound without a Vowel.

Now there occurs a Difficulty in the French Tongue, as well as in the English, in making a true Distinction of Syllables, especially where two Vowels meet, that belong to several Syllables, and are not marked with a Diæresis.

To clear this Point, you must know, in the first place, that the final of Nouns and Participles ending in ee, ie, or ue makes a distinct Syllable, though imperfect, and but little sounded; as in these Words épée, vie, morue, reçue.

So and au belong to several Syllables, and are distinctly pronounced, in Laon a City of France, faonner, Chaos, Laodicée, Esaü, Saul the Name of a King, and Proper Names ending in aus, as Imaus, Archelaüs, Agésilas.

The same it is with ea, ee, and eo, in Geant, neant, beat, reale, seant, Ocean, Theatre, Genealogie, creer, reel, Geometrie, Meteore, and all their Derivatives.

To which add ea, ee, and ei, in Words compounded of these Inseparable Prepositions re and pre. As, reajourner, reengendrer, reintegrer; preeminence, preexistence.

So are distinctly pronounced, and belong to several Syllables. Except in the first Person Plural of Verbs; as nous parlions, nous parlerions, nous parlissions.

The same it is with oa in such Words as these, as Cloaque, Croacie.

So are also distinctly pronounced, and belong to several Syllables, 1. in Nouns ending in uel, and their Derivatives; as annuel, continuel, spirituel, perpetuel, continuellement, spirituellement, perpetuellement.

2. In those Verbs, whose Infinitive doth end in uer; as suer, remuer. To which add the Word Suede.

The same it is with ui, in Jesuite, Cassiste, ambiguë, continuité, perpetuité, and the like.

One Thing is observable, That the French do sometimes reckon two Syllables, where the English makes but one; As in these Words grace, âge, prudence, constance, and the like. Where grace and âge in French make each two Syllables; prudence and constance, three.

As for the QUANTITY of Syllables, that is, to know which are long and which short, the Rules for the Pronunciation go a great way in it.

However take this for a general Rule, That all Syllables rightly accented with a Circumflex, or with an Acute, are to be pronounced long; as fête, verité.

Except where the Acute is placed, as it is by some, at the beginning of a Word; as épanche, répandre.

I was about to give you another Rule, concerning Syllables which are followed by a Consonant or two, with a final Vowel; But the Matter will hardly bear it. Some are pronounced long; as in these Words grace, adorable, cinnabre, miracle, Diaque, barri-cade, escadre, navfrage, sûle, rape, Geographe, Philosophe, cloaque, boire, cimarré, basse, Pilate, Socrate, Mithridate, idolatre, Theatre, brave, grave, globe, grosse, pistole, tombe, matrone, coiffe, connoisse, aïse, chaise, graisse, punaise, chaîne, chaire, guerre, peine, veine, and the like. To which add étrange, dimanche, constance, vigilance, prudence, se-mence, and others of this kind.

Others are sounded short, as face, fouace, glace, race, menace, massacre, fade, gage, rage, nage, quatre, bave, parole, noce, crime, malice, vice, lice, apprentice, insipide, invalide, visible, invisible, and the like. To which add the Persons of some Verbs, whose Infinitive ends in er, or re; as attrape, harasse, tracasse, bate, com-bate, &c. from attraper, harasser, tracasser, bater, combater.

a is long in mât a mast, and short in mat unpolished, or mate. In the same manner o is long in voler to fly, and short in voler to rob.

Of the Eight Parts of SPEECH, in general.

THERE are but eight Sorts of Words, whereof a Language does consist; and these are called, by Grammarians, the Eight Parts of Speech.

Viz.

In English.

In French.

NOUN,	NOM,
PRONOUN,	PRONOM,
VERB,	VERBE,
PARTICIPLE,	PARTICIPE,
ADVERB,	ADVERBE,
CONJUNCTION,	CONJONCTION,
PREPOSITION,	PREPOSITION,
INTERJECTION,	INTERJECTION.

When any of these Words has but one Syllable, as God Dieu, it is called a Monosyllable. But, if it hath more than one, as Godly devor, Godliness devotion, it is termed a Polysyllable.

If it be a Word that do's not arise from another, 'tis a Primitive, as form forme. But, if it be derived from another, as formel formel, it is called a Derivative.

Lastly, if the Word have in it no mixture of another, it bears the Name of Simple, as just juste. Otherwise it is a Compound, as unjust injuste.

A NOUN is the Name of a Thing; As, a Man un Homme, a Woman une Femme, Beast une Bête, Town une Ville, House Maison. Or which expresses some Quality or other of the Thing; As, good bon, bad mauvais, white blanc, black noir, great grand, small petit.

And, of these two Sorts of Nouns, the first is called Substantive; the other, Adjective.

Amongst the Substantives, some are called Proper Nouns. As, John Jean, Mary Marie, England Angleterre, London Londres, the Thames la Tamise.

A PRONOUN is a Part of Speech, made use of instead of a Noun.

Some Pronouns are called Personal. Viz. I, je, or moi; Thou, tu, or toi; He, il, lui; She, elle. Others Demonstrative; as This, ce, celui ci, ceci; That, ce, celui là, cela.

That que, is a Relative; and so are these three, Which, Who, What, qui, que, quoi, lequel.

The Pronouns Possessive are, My, mon or ma; Thy, ton, or ta; His, son, or sa; Our, nôtre; Your, vôtre; Their, leur.

From whence these are formed, the proper Use whereof is at the end of a Sentence. Viz. Mine, le mien; Thine, le tien; His, Hers, le sien; Ours, le nôtre; Yours, le vôtre; Theirs, le leur.

A VERB is a Part of Speech that betokens Action, Possession, or Existence. As, to love aimer, to run courir; to have avoir, to enjoy jouir; to be être, to exist, exister.

When a Verb does admit of a Substantive after it, we call it a Verb Active; if not, 'tis a Verb Neuter. So, to eat manger, and to have avoir, are Active; for we say, for exemple, to eat fruit manger du fruit, to have fruit avoir du fruit. Whereas to Fall is a Verb Neuter, because we don't say to fall a Thing. 'Tis true, there are some Verbs Active that we use Neutrally; and so there be Verbs Neuter, that we use in an Active Sense.

Besides these two Sorts of Verbs, the French have another Sort; which they call Reciprocal, because they Reciprocate the Action signified by the Verb upon the Agent himself. These are known by the pronominal Particle, se, which goes before 'em in the Infinitive; as se moquer to laugh, se parjurer to forswear.

Now Verbs being conjugated by Moods, Tenses, Numbers, and Persons, and most of the Tenses being Compound, the Verb that comes into that Composition is called Auxiliary. We have many of these Auxiliary Verbs in English; but the French has only two, viz. Avoir to have, and Etre to be.

Some Verbs there be which are only conjugated with one Person in each Tense, and therefore we call 'em Impersonal; as, It rains il pleut, It rained il pleuvoit. Those are named Irregular, which are Irregularly conjugated, or which deviate more or less from the general Way of conjugating the Verbs. And we call those Defective, which have but some Tenses in Use.

An English Verb is known by the Particle To, which is the Sign of it, in the Infinitive Mood; as to love aimer, to speak parler, and to pray prier. Now 'tis observable, that English Verbs have almost as many Endings in the Infinitive as there be Letters in the Alphabet; as to flea écortcher, to rob voler, to find trouver, to see voir, &c. Whereas the French Verbs are all reduced to two Terminations in the Infinitive Mood, r and e. And these are subdivided into four Endings, which make the four distinct Conjugations of French Verbs; viz. er, ir, oir, and re. As parler to speak, emplir to fill, recevoir to receive, vendre to sell.

A PARTICIPLE is a Part of Speech, that has something of a Noun, and something of a Verb. Therefore it is called Participle.

There are two Sorts of Participles, one of the Present, and another of the Preter Tense.

The first in French does always end in ant; as parlant speaking, emplissant filling, recevant receiving, vendant selling, from the fore-said Verbs parler, emplir, recevoir, vendre.

The Participle of the Preter Tense has several Endings, but these three especially, e, i, u; as parlé spoken, empli filled, reçu received, vendu sold.

An

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

An ADVERB is a Word expressing some Circumstance or other of an Action, or Being, signified by the Verb.

The most numerous Sort of Adverbs are those of Quality, such as the English ends in ly, the French in ment. As prudently prudemment, resolutely résolument, wisely sagement, infinitely infinitement.

There are also Adverbs, called, of Quantity. As, little peu, much beaucoup, more davantage, less moins, enough assez, too, too much trop.

Of Affirmation, yes oui, truly en vérité, indeed en effet, surely assurément. Of Negation, no non, not at all point du tout. Of Comparison, so ainsi, likewise pareillement, as, even as, comme, than que.

Of Time, now maintenant, when quand, then alors, often souvent, sometimes quelquefois, seldom rarement, always toujours, never jamais, presently, by and by, tout à l'heure, tout maintenant, mean while pendant.

Of Place, where où, here ici, there là, elsewhere ailleurs. Of Order, first premierement, secondly secondement, thirdly troisièmement, &c.

A CONJUNCTION is a Part of Speech, which serves to joyn Words and Sentences together.

Some we call Copulative, (viz.) and &, also aussi. Others Disjunctive, (which are) or, either, ou; nor, neither, ni.

Some are Causal; viz. that, to the end that, afin que, lest de peur que, for car, because parce que, then donc, therefore c'est pour-quoi.

Some again Conditional; viz. if si, provided pourveu que, unless à moins que. Others Adverbative, but mais, yet, however, neanmoins, toutefois, though, although, quoique, bien que.

A PREPOSITION is a Word, that expresses some Circumstance or other of the Noun.

As, with avec, without sans, by par, for pour, against contre. At, to, in, into, à; of, out of, from, de; near, nigh, proche; towards, vers; far, far off, loin; in, within, dans; out, without, hors.

To which add before devant, after après, upon sur, under sous, between entre, amongst parmi.

An INTERJECTION is a Part of Speech, expressing a sudden Motion of the Mind. As, ha, ha, ha! which betokens some Joy; Oh that! a Desire; Alas! a Grief.

To conclude, Of all these Eight Parts of Speech, the Noun and Verb are certainly the most considerable. For Pronouns and Participles are in their Nature half Nouns. And what are Adverbs, Conjunctions, Prepositions, and Interjections, but Accessories to Nouns and Verbs, and as it were their Attendants?

Of the DERIVATION of Words.

THE Way to understand the Bottom of a Language is to learn how the Derivatives are formed from their Primitives, and the Compounds from their Simples. Which is the Thing I am now going upon, in Relation to the French.

Amongst the French Derivatives that are most like the English, we reckon 1. such as end in ance or ence, and which come from the Latine.

Such as

Constance Constancy.
Prudence Prudence.

Vigilance Vigilancy.
Temperance Temperance.

2. Those that end in té, derived from Latine Nouns in tas.

As,

Piété Piety.
Charité Charity.

Chasteté Chastity.
Libéralité Liberality.

3. Some Greek Nouns ending in ie, which the English end commonly in y.

As,

Amnistie Amnifty.
Anatomic Anatomy.

Philosophie Philosophy.
Polygamie Polygamy.

4. A great Number of Verbals in ion, which differ from the English but in the Pronunciation.

Such as

Union Union.
Opinion Opinion.
Question Question.
Creation Creation.

Satisfaction Satisfaction.
Institution Institution.
Constitution Constitution.
Conclusion Conclusion.

Some Verbals in ment. As, from Commander to command,

Gouverner to govern,
Juger to judge,
Etablir to establish,

Commandement Commandment.
Gouvernement Government.
Jugement Judgement.
Etablissement Establishment.

6. Some Adjectives, ending in el and eux, which the English ends in al and ous.

As,

Temporel temporal.
Eternel eternal.
Corporel corporal.
Spirituel spiritual.

Courageux courageous.
Malicieux malicious.
Vertueux virtuous.
Vicieux vicious.

7. Others ending in able and ible, wherein the English doth agree.

As,

Desirable desirable.
Abominable abominable.
Aimable amiable.
Insatiable insatiable.

Visible visible.
Invisible invisible.
Horrible horrible.
Terrible terrible.

8. To which add those that we end in que, the English in ick, and ical.

As,

Politique politick.
Despotique Despotick.
Allegorique allegorical.

Angelique Angelical.
Canonique canonical.
Methodique methodical.

9. And these we end in if, the English in ive, both Endings being pronounced alike.

Viz.

Substantif Substantive.
Adjectif Adjective.
Positif Positive.
Comparatif Comparative.
Superlatif Superlative.
Indicatif Indicative.

Imperatif Imperative.
Optatif Optative.
Subjonctif Subjunctive.
Infinitif Infinitive.
Lenitif Lenitive.
Obstrucif Obstructive, &c.

Those are the Derivatives which have the greatest Affinity with the English. I come now to such as vary, more or less, from the English Way of making Derivatives. Amongst which I shall reckon, first, the Verbals in eur.

As, from

Faire to make,
Vendre to sell,
Causer to prattle,
Railler to jeer,
Danser to dance,

Faiseur a Maker.
Vendeur a Seller.
Causeur a Prattler.
Raillieur a Jeerer.
Danseur a Dancer.

The Names of Professions do commonly end in er. As,

Chapeau a Hat.
Gant a Glove.
Perruque a Perwig.
Bonnet a Cap.
Bouton a Button.
Ruban a Ribbon.
Barbe a Beard.
Pot a Pot.
Couteau a Knife.
Armes Artis.
Joyau a Jewel.
Verre a Glass.
Bateau a Boat.
Corde a Rope.
Serrure a Lock.

Chapelier a Hatter.
Gantier a Glover.
Perruquier a Perwig-maker.
Bonnetier a Cap-maker.
Boutonnier a Button-maker.
Rubanier a Ribbon-weaver.
Barbier a Barber.
Potier a Potter.
Coutelier a Cutler.
Armurier a Gun-smith.
Joualier a Jeweller.
Verrier a Glass-maker.
Batelier a Water-man.
Cordier a Rope-maker.
Serrurier a Lock-smith.

[In which, and most of the following Exemples, the first Column includes the Primitives; and the second, the Derivatives.]

But some end in eur, which are for the most part derived from Verbs, and therefore called Verbals.

As,

Fourbir to furbish.
Imprimer to print.
Relier to bind.
Fondre to cast.
Graver to engrave.
Broder to imbroder.
Carder to card.
Paver to pave.

Fourbisseur a Sword-cutler.
Imprimeur a Printer.
Relieur a Book-binder.
Fondeur a Founder.
Graveur an Engraver.
Brodeur an Imbroderer.
Cardeur a Carder.
Paveur a Paver.

Others,

THE GROUNDS

Others, and particularly those that relate to Sciences, end in e, iste, or ien.

As,

Astronomie Astronomy.	Astronome Astronomer.
Astrologie Astrology.	Astrologue Astrologer.
Cosmographie Cosmography.	Cosmographe Cosmographer.
Geographie Geography.	Geographe Geographer.
Drogue Drug.	Droguiste Druggist.
Herbe Herb.	Herboriste Herbalist.
Latin Latine.	Latiniste Latinist.
Calvin Calvin.	Calviniste Calvinist.
Janſenius Janſenius.	Janſeniste Janſenist.
Grammaire Grammar.	Grammairien Grammarian.
Mathematiques Mathematicks.	Mathematicien Mathematician.
Muſique Muſick.	Muſicien Muſician.
Arithmetique Arithmetick.	Arithmeticien Arithmetician.

The Names of Fruit-Trees end in er. As,

Cerise a Cherry.	Cerifier a Cherry-tree.
Prune a Plum.	Prunier a Plum-tree.
Poire a Pear.	Poirier a Pear-tree.
Pomme an Apple.	Pommier an Apple-tree.
Pêche a Peach.	Pêcher a Peach-tree.
Abricot an Apricock.	Abricotier an Apricock-tree.
Noix a Walnut.	Noyer a Walnut-tree.
Noisetie a small Nut.	Noisetier a small Nut-tree.
Figue a Fig.	Figuier a Fig-tree.
Olive an Olive.	Olivier an Olive-tree.

Formerly the French Tongue swarmed with a sort of Derivatives in et, properly called Diminutives, because they lessened the Signification of their Primitives. And, whereas they were made at will, in a manner, now that Licentiousness is restrained, and the abuse of em become ridiculous. However there are still some of em in Use.

As, from

Poule a Hen,	Poulet a Chick.
Sac a Sack,	Sacbet a Bag.

Amongst the rest of the Diminutives, you will find some ending in elle, or ette; and others in eau, or aut.

As,

Prune a Plum.	Prunelle a Sloe.
Poche a Pocket.	Pochette a little Pocket.
Arbre a Tree.	Arbrisseau a Shrub.
Perdrix a Partridge.	Perdreau a young Partridge.
Lapin a Rabbet.	Lapreau a young Rabbet.
Ver a Worm.	Vermisseau a little Worm.
Lievre a Hare.	Levrant a young Hare.

Now there is another Sort of Derivatives betokening Colour, or Dimension, whose Termination is in eur.

As,

Blanc white.	Blancheur whiteness.
Noir black.	Noireur blackness.
Rouge red.	Rougeur redness.
Vert green.	Verteur greenness.
Grand Great.	Grandeur greatness.
Gros big.	Grosseur bigness.
Epais thick.	Epaisseur thickness.
Long long.	Longueur length.
Rond round.	Rondeur roundness.
Large broad.	Largeur breadth.
Haute high.	Hauteur height.
Profond deep.	Profondeur depth.

To which add these Adjectives in âtre, which lessen the Signification of their Primitives.

As,

Blanchâtre whitish.	Verdâtre greenish.
Noirâtre blackish.	Grisâtre grayish.
Rougeâtre reddish.	Jaunâtre yellowish.

As to National Names, they generally end in ois. As,

Angleterre England.	Anglois English.
France France.	François French.
Navarre Navarre.	Navarrois Navarrian.
Ecosse Scotland.	Ecossois Scotch.
Galles Wales.	Gallois Welch.
Irlande Ireland.	Irlandois Irish.
Hollande Holland.	Hollandois Dutchman.
Danemarck Denmark.	Danois Dane.
Suede Sweden.	Suedois Swede.

Pologne Poland.
Hongrie Hungary.
Genes Genoua.
Geneve Geneva.

Polonois Pole.
Hongrois Hungarian.
Genois Genouefe.
Genevois Genevian.

Sometimes in ien, and ain. As, for example;

Italie Italy.
Venise Venice.
Arménie Armenia.
Bohème Bohemia.
Paris Paris.
Egypte Egypt.
Indes the Indies.
Afrique Africk.
Amerique America.
Naples Naples.
Rome Rome.
Lorraine Lorrain.

Italien Italian.
Venitien Venetian.
Armenien Armenian.
Bohemien Bohemian.
Parisien Parisian.
Egyptien Egyptian.
Indien Indian.
Africain African.
Americain American.
Neapolitain Neapolitan.
Romain Roman.
Lorrain Lorrainer.

These following are Irregular. Viz.

Alleman German.
Persan Persian.
Parthe Parthian.
Mede Mede.
Scythe Scythian.
Tartare Tartar.
Moscovite Moscovite.
Suisse Swiffer.

Lapon Laplander.
Saxon Saxon.
Gascon Gascon.
Bourguignon Burgundian.
Portugais Portugeze.
Juif Jew.
Turc Turk.
Grec Grecian.

Now, whereas the English does usually confound both Sexes in one Word, the French Tongue makes a Distinction; and that commonly, by adding an e for the feminine Gender, which in French imports a Derivation.

As,

Ami a Friend.	Amie a Friend, or the Friend.
Cousin a Cousin.	Cousine a Cousin, or the Cousin.
Marquis a Marquess.	Marquise Marchioness.
President a President.	Presidente a President's Lady.
Anglois English.	Angloise an English-woman.
François French.	Françoise a French-woman.
Jouaſier a Jeweller.	Jouaſiere a Jeweller's Wife.

Or else, by adding ne to the masculine Gender, when the same ends either in en, or on.

As for Exemple,

Italien an Italian.	Italienne an Italian Woman.
Parisien a Parisian.	Parisienne a Parisian Woman.
Chrétien Christian.	Chrétienne a Christian Woman.
Chien a Dog.	Chienne a Bitch.
Baron a Baron.	Baronne a Baroness.
Poltron a Coward.	Poltronne a cowardly Woman.
Lion a Lion.	Lionne a Lioness.
Fripon a Knave.	Friponne a knavish Woman.

But Verbals in eur, I mean those that admit of a feminine Termination for the female Sex, do change eur into euse.

As from

Faiseur ,	Faiseuse .
Causeur ,	Causeuse .
Menteur ,	Menteuse .
Trompeur ,	Trompeuse .
Vendeur ,	Vendeuse .
Brodeur ,	Brodeuse .

Except

Empereur .	Imperatrice .
Electeur .	Electrice .
Dominateur .	Dominatrice .
Fondateur .	Fondatrice .
Protecteur .	Protectrice .
Mediateur .	Mediatrice .
Ambassadeur .	Ambassadrice .
Curateur .	Curatrice .
Inventeur .	Inventrice .
Tuteur .	Tutrice .
Vengeur .	Vengeresse .
Pecheur .	Pecheresse .
Gouverneur .	Gouvernante .
Serviteur .	Servante .

Lastly, take notice of these; Viz.

Dieu God.	Deesse a Goddess.
Duc Duke.	Duchesse a Dutchess.
Prince Prince.	Princesse a Princess.
Maitre Master.	Maitresse a Mistress.

Abbé

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Abbé Abbot.
Prêtre Priest.
Larron a Thief.
Fils a Son.
Neveu a Nephew.
Compagnon Companion.
Apprentif a Prentice.
Juméau a Twin.
Puceau a he Maid.
Maquereau a Pimp.
Moor a Moor.
Juif a Jew.
Grec a Grecian.
Turc a Turk.
Veuf a Widower.
Loup a Wolf.
Cheval a Horse.

Abbesse an Abbess.
Préresse a Priestess.
Larronnesse a Woman Thief.
Fille a Daughter.
Niece a Niece.
Compagne a she Companion.
Apprentice a she Prentice.
Jumelle a she Twin.
Pucelle a Virgin.
Maquerelle a Bawd.
Moresque a she Moor.
Juive a Woman Jew.
Grecque a she Grecian.
Turque a she Turk.
Veuve a Widow.
Louve a she Wolf.
Cavalle a Mare.

Amongst the Adverbs, let us take notice of those numerous Derivatives which the French end in ment, and the English in ly.

As from

Humble humble,
Savant learned,
Prudent Prudent,
Sage wise,
Vigoureux brisk,

Humblement humbly.
Savamment learnedly.
Prudemment prudently.
Sagement wisely.
Vigoureusement briskly.

Of the COMPOSITION of Words.

THE Compounds, in the French Tongue, as well as in the English, do generally consist of a Preposition, and then another Part of Speech.

And, of these Prepositions, some are used by themselves, others are only used in Composition. Therefore the first are called Separable, and the last Inseparable.

Of the first Sort there are only these Ten. Viz.

A.	As,	Aneantir, to bring to nothing.
Avant.		Avant-coureur a forerunner.
Contre.		Contredire to contradict.
De.		Defaire to do off, or undo.
En.		Enragé mad, enraged.
Entre.		Entremêler to intermix.
Par.		Parcourir to run over.
Pour.		Pourvoir to provide.
Sous.		Souffigner to subfigure.
Sur.		Surprendre to surprise.

Aneantir,	is com- pounded of	a to,	and	neant nothing.
Avantcoureur,		avant before,		coureur runner.
Contredire,		contre against,		dire to say.
Defaire,		de off,		faire to do.
Enragé,		en in,		rage rage.
Entremêler,		entre amongst,		mêler to mingle.
Parcourir,		par over,		courir to run.
Pourvoir,		pour for,		voir to see.
Souffigner,		sous under,		signer to signe.
Surprendre,		sur upon,		prendre to take.

Amongst which Prepositions, 'tis observable that De imports three several Senses, in French as well as in English.

1. A Change, or Privation; As in depraver to deprave. Depeu-ler to deflour.
2. a Motion downwards; As, descendre to descend.
3. An Exaggeration; As, demontrer to demonstrate.

This Preposition doth also, in some Compounds, stand for something more than the Word bears of it self.

As,

Developer to unwrap, for des- | Detacher to unty, for desatta-
envelopper. | cher.

Lastly, De, A, and En are Variable, and admit of some Change. So De is turned into des, before any of these Vowels.

As,

Desarmer to disarm. | Desobliger to disoblige.
Desespérer to despair. | Desunir to disunite.
Desintéressé disinterested.

And sometimes before an h mute, and an s. As,

Deshonneur dishonour. | Dessaler to unsalt.

A is turned into au, in the Word auprès near.

En, into em, before b, m, p. As,

Embellir to imbellish. | Empaqueter to pack up.
Emmuser to muzzle.

As for Contre and Entre, they lose their final Letter before a Vowel. As in these Words Contrescarpe, Contr'espaler; entr'ou- vir, entr'ouvert.

The Inseparable Prepositions are very numerous. They come originally, for the most part, from the Latine or Greek, and bear the same Signification.

Here's the List of them. Viz.

Ab.	As,	Abjurer to abjure.
Abs.		s'Abstenir to abstain.
Ad.		Admirer to admire.
Amphi.		Amphibie amphibious.
Ana.		Anagramme an Anagram.
Anti.		Antichretien Antichristian.
Apo.		Apocryphe apocryphal.
Cata.		Catastrophe Catastrophe.
Con.		Concours Concourse.
Circon.		Circonference Circumference.
Dis.		Discours Discourse.
E, or Es.		Emouvoir to move, Efforillé that has lost an ear.
Ex.		Excommunier to excommunicate.
Extra.		Extraordinaire extraordinary.
For.		Forclorre to exclude.
Hyper.		Hypercritique hypercritick.
Hypo.		Hypothese hypothesis.
In.		Incorporer to incorporate, invisible invisible.
Inter.		Interceder to intercede.
Intro.		Introduire to introduce. (standing.
Me, or Mis.		Méprise mistake, Mesintelligence a Misunder-
Meta.		Metaphysique Metaphysick.
Ob.		Obtenir to obtain.
Para.		Paraphrase a Paraphrase.
Per.		Permettre to permit.
Peri.		Periphrase a Periphrase.
Post.		Posthume posthumous.
Pre.		Prevenir to prevent.
Preter.		Preterit a Preter.
Pro.		Promettre to promise.
Re.		Revenir to come again.
Sub.		Subvenir to supply.
Super.		Superficiel superficial.
Syn.		Synode Synod.
Trans.		Transplanter to transplant.

Of all these Prepositions, there are eleven purely Greek, and which make but a few Compounds. Viz. Amphi, Ana, Anti, Apo, Cata, Hyper, Hypo, Meta, Para, Peri, Syn. The rest are most of 'em Latine. And, among these, Ad, Con, Dis, E, Ex, In, Per, and Re, make the most Compounds of any.

I shall not insist upon the proper Emphasis of each of these Prepositions, for fear of being too tedious upon this Subject. Only I shall observe to ye, that In hath a double Sense, in French as well as in English; the one implying an Ingress, as inhumer to inhum; and the other a Negation, as inhumain inhumane.

Re doth imply a repeated Action; as relever to take up again, retablir to re-establish.

What remains is to shew you the usual Change of these, and a few other Prepositions, both in French and English; and that Euphonia grata, (that is, for a better Sound,) agreeably to the Genius of the Latine Tongue.

Accordingly you will find

ac,	Ad turned into	af,	before	ag,	As,	al,	annuller, to annul.
af,		af,		ag,		al,
ag,		af,		ag,		al,
al,		af,		ag,		al,
an,		af,		ag,		al,
ap,		af,		ag,		al,
ar,	b	af,	As,	ag,	annuller, to annul.	al,	annuller, to annul.
as,		af,		ag,		al,
at,		af,		ag,		al,
af,		af,		ag,		al,
ag,		af,		ag,		al,
al,		af,		ag,		al,

accommoder to accommodate.
affectionné, affectionate.
aggraver, to aggravate.
allusion, an allusion.
annuller, to annul.
appaiser, to appease.
arrogance, arrogance.
asseurer, to assure.
(tempt.
attentat, an attempt.
Con,

THE GROUNDS

Con, into	{ col, com, cor,	before	{ l; b, m, p; r;	as,	{ colloque, colloquy. combustion, combustion; commiseration, commiseration; compassion, compassion; corrompre, to corrupt.

But sometimes Con loses its n; as in these Words,

Coadjuteur Coadjutor.
Coeternal coeternal.
Cohabiter to cohabit.

Coheritier Coheir.
Cooperer to cooperate.

Dis, into dif, before f; as,

Difference difference.
Difficile difficult.

Difforme deformed.
Diffus diffused.

And sometimes into di; as in these Words sprung out of the Latine, Dilater to dilate.

Diminuer to diminish.

Divulguer to divulge.

In, into	{ im, ir,	before	{ m, & p; r;	as,	{ immortel immortal, imprudent unwise. irregulier irregular, irregular; irreligieux irreligious.
Ob, into	{ oc, of, op,	before	{ c; f; p;	as,	{ occasion occasion, occurrence occurrence. offrir to offer, officieux officious. opposer to oppose, opprimer to oppress.
Re loses its e , before the Vowel	{ a; e; i; o;	before	{ a; e; i; o;	as,	{ ramasser to take up again. remporter to carry back again. reimprimer, to print again. roublier, to forget again.

Except these Words regrave, rejourner; reengendrer, reintegré, and their Derivatives.

Sub is turned into	{ suc, suf, sug, sup,	before	{ c; f; g; p;	as,	{ succeder to succeed, succinct succinct. suffire to suffice, suffoquer to suffocate. suggerer to suggest, suggestion suggestion. supporter to support, supprimer to suppress.

Sometimes this Preposition loses its b, as in suspect suspicious.

Syn, into sym, before m, & p. As,

Symbol symbol, Symbolique | Sympathie sympathy, sympathique sympathetical.

But, in the Word Système a System, the n you see is lost.

Those are all the Prepositions which are subject to Change. Before I close up this Matter, I shall make three Observations. First, that a great part of our Compounds, derived either from the Greek or Latine Tongue, have not their Simple in use.

Thus we say,

Amphibie amphibious.
Apostrophe an apostroph.
Anagramme an anagram.
Syndic a Syndick.

Intercepter to intercept.
Suggerer to suggest.
Persister to persist.
Transferer to transfer, &c.

Take away the Preposition, what remains is neither French nor English.

My second Observation is, That many of our Compounds who have their Simple in use, do deviate from these more or less in the strictness of their Signification.

As,

Corrompre to corrupt, } from rompre to break.
Interrompre to interrupt,

Lastly, there are some Compounds in the French Tongue, which vary from their Simple, both in the Spelling and in the Pronunciation. So from montrer, without an s, we have demonstratif and demonstration, with an s pronounced; from ecrire, description, prescrire, and its Derivatives; from repondre, correspondre, correspondent, & correspondence. And, though we say oreille, and contrevenir; yet we write and pronounce efforillé, and contravention.

But, besides these Compounds with Prepositions, which (as I said before) is the most general Way; the French Tongue has a few consisting of other Parts of Speech.

As for exemple these Greek and Latine Words naturalized.

Atrabile black Choler.
Astrologue an Astrologer.
Astronome an Astronomer.
Philosophe a Philosopher.

Theologien a Divine.
Jurisconsulte a Lawyer.
Jurisprudence the knowledge of the Law.

To which add these, more properly French. Viz.

Monseigneur my Lord,	Compound of	Mon my,	&	Seigneur Lord.
Monsieur Sir, or Master,		Mon my,		Sieur Sir.
Madame Madam,		Ma my,		Dame a Dame.
Faineant an idle Man,		Faire to do,		Neant nothing.
Toujours always,		Tous all,		Jours Days.

And these following, used with a Division;

Tout-puissant almighty. | Mal-adroit unhandy.
Clair-voyant clear-sighted. | Mal-faisant mischievous, &c.

In which last Sort of Compounds the French Tongue falls much short of the English.

Lastly, there is a Sort of Compounds called Decompositions, or double Compounds.

As,

Imparfait } made up of { in, par, fait.
Auparavant } au, par, a vant.

Of NOUNS in particular; and first, of Substantives.

Begin with Nouns Substantive. Wherein three Things chiefly are to be considered;

To wit,

NUMBERS, GENDERS, ARTICLES.

There are two NUMBERS, Singular, and Plural.

The Singular speaks but of one Single Thing; the Plural, of more than one.

As,

Sing.

Plur.

Une Heure an Hour.
Un Jour a Day.
Une Semaine a Week.
Une Année a Year.

Des { Heures Hours.
Jours Days.
Semaines Weeks.
Années Years.

Whereby it appears, that

The Plural Number is formed in French, as in English, by adding an s to the Singular.

From which Rule these must be Excepted.

And 1. Nouns ending in s and x in the Singular Number, which are Invariable in the Plural. So we say, for exemple, mons and perdrix, in both Numbers.

2. Nouns ending in al and ail, which turn it into aux in the Plural; as animal animaux, cheval chevaux, travail travaux, and email emailaux.

[But Betail makes Bestiaux; and these follow the Rule, viz. bal, cal, bocal, poitral, attirail, mail, eventail, Serrail.]

3. Nouns ending in au or eu, which takes an x to the Plural Number; as chapeau, feux, which make chapeaux, feux. To which add loi, genou, verrou.

4. Nouns ending in é turn it into ez; as beauté beautez, bonté bontez.

5. Nouns ending in ant or ent, which turn t into s; as enfant enfants, commencement commencemens.

Lastly, Ayeul makes Ayeux, Ciel Cieux, œil yeux, Zephyre Zephyrs; and Gentilhomme, taking an s after l, makes Gentilshommes, in the Plural Number.

As to those Nouns that have no Plural Number, such as the Names of Metals, Minerals, Vertues, Vices, Proper Names, &c. the French and the English are agreed in that Point.

The GENDERS are Twofold, viz. Masculine, and Feminine.

Now

THE GROUNDS

Others are indeed used in both Genders, but in a different Sense.

As,

Aune, barbe, carouge, cartouche, enfant, enseigne, espace, exemple, garde, greffe, haine, livre, manche, manoeuvre, martyre, memoire, mode, mole, moule, novice, office, ombre, pagure, Pâque, parallele, pèle, periode, poile, poste, pourpre, saie, satire, somme, sours, temple, tour, trionse, vague, vase, vigogne, voile, and a few others.

Gens, before an Adjective, is masculine; and, after an Adjective, feminine.

As for the Names of Towns and Cities, there is no certain Rule to be given for their Gender. But the Way to remove that Scruple is to make use of the word Ville with the Name of the Town, and then to put the Adjective in the feminine Gender; as la Ville de Paris est grande, Paris is a great City.

Lastly, 'tis to be observed, that the Names of French Holy-days, and Nouns compounded of mi, are used with la, the feminine Article.

Accordingly we say la Chandeleur, la S. Jean, la S. Michel, la Toussaints, la S. Martin; but this la hath reference to the Word Fête, a feminine Substantive, which is to be understood. So we say la mi-Aout, la mi-Chemin, for le milieu d'Aout, la moitié du Chemin.

I come now to ARTICLES, which are certain Particles commonly used before Nouns, in our Vulgar Languages.

There are two Articles in the French Tongue, as well as in the English; but they are Variable, according to the Gender or Number.

As,

Sing.		Plur.
Masc.	Fem.	Masc. and Fem.
Le,	La, the,	Les, the.
Un,	Une, a, an.	Des, some.

The first of these Articles is called Definite; the other, Indefinite: That being properly a Pronoun, and This a Numeral Noun.

To follow the old Road, I should now decline a Noun or two, with these Articles, and fix Cases to be sure; to wit, the Nominative, the Genitive, the Dative, the Accusative, the Vocative, and the Ablative, whether our Languages can afford them or not. But why should I perplex the Learned with so improper and needless a Thing? For the Distinction of Cases is come from the variable Termination of one and the same Noun; a Thing incident (I confess) to the Latine Tongue, but not to our vulgar Speeches. So that all we have to do, in this Case, is to shew you the Use of the said Articles with Nouns; first, without a Preposition; secondly, with the Preposition De; and thirdly, with the Preposition A. Which answer, if you will, to three Cases, viz. the Nominative, Genitive, and Dative Case. Thus you must say,

For Example,

Sing.		Plur.
Masc.	Fem.
Le Roi,	La Reine,	Les Rois,
Du Roi, of	De la Reine, of	Des Rois, of
Au Roi, to	A la Reine, to	Aux Rois, to
the King. the Queen. the Kings. the Queens.
And, with the other Article, thus.
Un Roi,	Une Reine,	Des Rois,
D'un Roi, of	D'une Reine, of	Des Rois, of
A un Roi, to	A une Reine, to	A des Rois, to
Kings, some Kings. Queens, some Queens.
Now you must look back, and observe in the first place, why the French say au Roi of the King, au Roi to the King; and not de le Roi, à le Roi , as well as they say de la Reine, à la Reine . It seems to be for Shortness, and Varieties sake. And this is a constant Rule, ever to be observed before Nouns of the Masculine Gender that begin with a Consonant.

Here you must also observe the Elision, or cutting off of the Vowel a in la, and of the Vowel e in le and de, whenever the next Word begins with a Vowel, or h mute. So you have here d'un Roi, for de un Roi, of a King. And accordingly you must say l'Empereur (for le Empereur) the Emperor, l'Imperatrice (for la Imperatrice) the Empress, de l'Empereur of the Emperor, de l'Imperatrice of the Empress.

The same it is with l'Homme (for le Homme) the Man, de l'Homme of the Man, à l'Homme to the Man.

Thus having said what is proper in Relation to Nouns Substantive in general, I should now speak of the Adjective. But first I must say something

Of Proper Nouns.

Though Proper Nouns in French have a great Affinity with the English, and are generally the same in both Languages; yet there is a good Number of 'em that vary more or less in their Termination. And this is the Difference which is now incumbent upon me to demonstrate, by these following Directions.

In order to which I shall observe to ye in the first place, that the English agrees much with the Latine, in these four Terminations, viz. a, es, us, and o; whereas the French do commonly end, the first three in e, the last in on.

As,

Minerva Minerve.	Asia Asie.
Diana Diane.	Candia Candie.
Martha Marthe.	Modena Modene.
Susanna Susanne.	Geneva Geneve.
Hercules Hercule.	Euphrates l'Euphrate.
Socrates Socrate.	Ganges le Gange.
Æolus Æole.	Caucasus Caucafe.
Priapus Priape.	Olympus Olympé.
Pindarus Pindare.	Indus l'Inde.
Josephus Josephé.
Pluto Pluton.	Nero Neron.
Apollo Apollon.	Pharao Pharaon.
Juno Junon.	Cicero Cicéron.

To which add these, ending in ia and im, that cast off the i in French.

Viz.

Persia Perse.	Suabia Suabe.
Prussia Prusse.	Alfania Alfane.
Bohemia Bobeme.
Æsculapius Æsculape.	Claudius Claude.
Eusebius Eusebe.	Vitruvius Vitruve.
Cornelius Corneille.	Vesuvius Vesuve.

As for Ætna, Ida, Taurus, Hæmus, and Japon, they are the same in French as in English.

But there are other Proper Nouns, fit to be taken notice of, that vary from the English in a different manner from the former. And

I. These Names of eminent Men in ancient History.

Viz.

Isaiah Esaié.	Justinian Justinien.
Jonah Jonas.	Diocletian Diocletien.
Joshua Josué.	Cyprian Cyprien.
Noah Noé.	Tertullian Tertullien.
Æneas Enée.	Origen Origene.
Elias Elie.	Pliny Pline.
Pythagoras Pythagore.	Livy Live.
Ezekiel Ezechiel.	Ptolomy Ptolomée.
Austin Augustin.	Pompey Pompée.
Jerom Jerome.	Hesiod Hesiode.
Chrysostom Chrysostome.	Herod Herode.
Aristotle Aristote.	Homer Homere.
Plutarch Plutarque.	Ovid Ovide.
Lucan Lucain.	Virgil Virgile.
Valerian Valerien.

To which add these more familiar Names;

Andrew André.	Stephen Estienne.
Matthew Matthieu.	Francis François.
Bartholomew Bartholomé.	William Guillaume.
Anthony Antoine.	James Jacques.

Gregory

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Gregory Gregoire.
Jeremy Jeremie.
Timothy Timothée.
Barnaby Barnabé.
Christopher Christophe.
Ralph Rodolphe.
Solomon Salomon.

John Jean.
Peter Pierre.
Philip Philippe.
Lewis Louis.
Luke Luc.
Mark Marc.
Frederick Frederic.

Of Women.

Barbara Barbe.
Clement Clemence.
Charlot Charlotte.
Mary Marie.
Margaret Marguerite.

Frances Françoise.
Jane } & } Jeanne.
Joan }

Magdalen, Madelaine.

These Names of Countries, which the English ends in land.

As,

England Angleterre.
Scotland Ecosse.
Ireland Irlande.
Holland Hollande.
Zeland Zelande.
Frizeland Frise.

Guelderland Guelldres.
Liffland Livonie.
Lapland Laponie.
Poland Polongne.
Swethland Suede.
Switzerland Suisse.

Amongst which Liffland is also called in English Livonia; and Swethland, Sweden.

To which add these following, ending in English in y.

Viz.

Barbary Barbarie.
Italy Italie.
Turkey Turquie.
Tartary Tartarie.
Moscovy Moscovie.
Germany Allemagne.
Hungary Hongrie.

Tuscany Toscane.
Sicily Sicile.
Saxony Saxe.
Norway Norwege.
Normandy Normandie.
Brittany Bretagne.
Burgundy Bourgogne.

Besides these, there are others, that vary after this manner.

As,

Africk }
or } Afrique.
Africa }

Funen Fionie.
Denmark Danemarck.
Greece Grece.
Egypt Egypte.
The Indies les Indes.
Brasil le Bresil.
Genoua Gènes.
Flanders Flandres.
Wales Galles.
Cornwal Cornouaille.

Amongst the Names of Towns and Cities, the French end in bourg what the English end in burg.

As for Exemple,

Luneburg Lunebourg.
Luxemburg Luxembourg.
Newburg Nioubourg.
Edenburg Edenbourg.

Hamburg Hambourg.
Philipsburg Philipsbourg.
Strasburg Strasbourg.
Friburg Fribourg.

Others end after this manner. As,

Babylon Babylone.
Lisbon Lisbonne.
Leghorn Livourne.
Ratisbon Ratisbonne.
London Londres.
Bullen Boulongne.

Collen, Cologne.
Bremen Breme.
Copenhagen Copenhague.
Groningen Groningue.
Bergen Bergue.
Nimwegen Nimegue.

Or thus. As,

Padua Padoue.
Mantua Mantoue.
Malaga Malgue.
Genoua Gènes.
Venice Venise.
Cracow Cracovie.
Warsaw Varsovie.
Cassaw Cassovie.
Sodom Sodome.
Stockholm Stockholme.
Roan Rouen.
Rochel la Rochelle.
Mentz Mayence.

Basil Basle.
Soloturn Soleurre.
Brussels Brusselles.
Antwerp Anvers.
Ostend Ostende.
Ghent Gand.
The Hague la Haie.
The Brill la Brille.
Flushing Fleissingue.
Dunkirk Douquerque.
Canterbury Canterbury.
Dover Douvre.
Cambridge Cambrige.

Amongst Names of Rivers, the French call

Nilus le Nil.
Tigris le Tigre.
Tiber le Tibre.
The Thames la Thamise.

The { Rhine le Rbin.
Scheld l'Escaut.
Weissel la Vistule.

Thus you have in a few Words what must stand you instead of a Dictionary, as to Proper Nouns. And so I come now to speak

Of Nouns Adjective.

These Nouns, in French, afford a great deal of Variety. For, whereas in English they are Invariable, both as to Gender and Number; the French Adjectives do generally vary, in those two Respects.

And first, as to the Gender, take this general Rule.

All Adjectives are made feminine, by adding but an e to the masculine Gender.

So

Masc.

Fem.

Froid }
Civil } makes { Froide.
Fin } Croile.
Premier } Fine.
Menu } Premiere.
Menue.

Except

1. Adjectives ending in e, which are Invariable as to the Gender; such as facile, affable, fidelle, celebre, triste, juste, illustre, superbe, solide, &c. for the most part derived from the Latine.

2. The Numeral Nouns, as deux, trois, quatre, cinq, &c. which are all Invariable, but un that makes une, according to the Rule.

3. Nouns ending in el, et, s, on, and ien, which double their final Consonant before the e. As, bel belle, secret secrette, gros grosse, bon bonne, ancien ancienne. To which add nul nulle, gentil gentille, vieux vieille, mou molle, fou folle, beau belle, nouveau nouvelle. Amongst which vieille, molle, and folle are properly formed from vieil, mol, and fol; belle, and nouvelle, from bel and nouvel, still in use before Nouns that begin with a Vowel, or with an h mute.

4. Those that end in f, which turn it into ve; as actif active, vif vive, neuf neuve.

5. Adjectives ending in eux, that turn x into se; as honteux honteuse, heureux heureuse, malheureux malheureuse.

And lastly these, the most Irregular of all, viz. blanc blanche, franc franche, frain fraiche, sec seche, Grec Grecque, Turc Turque, public publique, caduc caduque, crud crue, nud nue, verd verte, long longue, faux fausse, tiers tierce, exclus exclue, absous absoute.

For the Plural Number, 'tis but adding an s to the Singular, whether it be Masculine or feminine.

So

Sing.

Plur.

Froid }
Civil } makes { Froids.
Fin } Civils.
Premier } Fins.
Menu } Premiers.
Menue.

Froide }
Croile } makes { Froides.
Fine } Croiles.
Premiere } Fines.
Menue } Premieres.
Menues.

Except,

As to the Masculine Termination,

1. Such Adjectives as end in s, or x, whose masculine Termination in the Plural Number differs not from that in the Singular; as courtois, niais, honteux, heureux, which are said in both Numbers.

2. Those that end in al, which turn it into aux; as general generaux, special speciaux. Only fatal makes fatals, according to the Rule.

3. Adjectives ending in ant, or ent, which turn t into s; as savant savans, prudent prudens.

4. Numeral Nouns, such as quatre, cinq, sept, huit, neuf, &c. which are Invariable upon all accounts.

ONE Thing the French Tongue is deficient in, relating to Adjectives; and that's the Want of Comparing of them, according to the Genius both of the Latine and English, by these three different Degrees, Positive, Comparative, and Superlative. Which Way of Comparing is doubtless a Set-off to a Language, if the Rule be right, Ne fiat per plura quod fieri potest per pauciora.

In short, the French Tongue has no better Way of Comparing Adjectives, than thus.

As for Example,

Pos.	Comp.	Superl.
Riche. Rich.	Plus riche. Richer.	Le plus riche. The richest.
Pauvre. Poor.	Plus pauvre. Poorer.	Le plus pauvre. The poorest.

The French whereof signifies, Word for Word, Rich, more rich, the most rich; Poor, more poor, the most poor.

'Tis true there are three French Adjectives Irregularly compared, after the manner of the Latine Words; from whence they are derived.

Viz.

Pos.	Comp.	Superl.
Bon. Good.	Meilleur. Better.	Le meilleur. The best.
Mauvais. Bad.	Pire. Worse.	Le pire. The worst.
Petit. Little.	Moindre. Lesser.	Le moindre. The least.

In fine, there are four noble Superlatives, sometimes used in French, and wanting in the English Tongue.

To wit,

Serenissime,	Most	Serene.
Illustrissime,		Illustrious.
Eminentissime,		Eminent.
Reverendissime,		Reverend.

I conclude with this Observation, that, as in English, so in French, many Adjectives are used Substantively; as fidelle faithfull, damné damned, ingrat and ingrate ungratefull. Which, in a Substantive Sense, are used thus; as les Fideles the Faithfull, les Damnez the Damned, un Ingrat an ungratefull Man, une Ingrate an ungratefull Woman.

Of the Use and Construction of NOUNS; as also of their ARTICLES.

Hitherto we have laid a sure Foundation for the French, chiefly in respect to Nouns, which is a great Part of Speech. What remains is to build upon it, and to make the Superstructure answerable thereto.

In order to which, the first Thing that offers it self to our Consideration is, how to place Substantives and Adjectives together. For, whereas in English, the Adjective does commonly precede the Substantive; in French some Adjectives go always before, some after, and others sometimes before, sometimes after.

Those that go before are the Numeral, and Ordinal Nouns. As un, deux, trois, quatre; premier, second, troisieme, quatrieme, &c.

Accordingly we say

Un Homme, a Man.	Trois Garçons, three Boys.
Deux Femmes, two Women.	Quatre Filles, four Girls.
Le premier second troisieme quatrieme	The first second third fourth
Jour.	Day.

Except

1. When we speak of Princes. As for Example,

Charles Premier;	Charles	the	First.
Jaques Second,			Second.
Henry Troisieme,			Eighth.
Louis Quatorzieme,			Fourteenth.

2. When we speak Indefinitely of some Part or other of a Book.

As,

Tome premier,	Book	the	first.
Livre second,			second.
Chapitre troisieme,			third.
Verjet quatrieme.			fourth.

Simple, double, and triple, do also commonly precede the Substantive.

As,

Simple Semelle,	A single	Sole.
Double Profit,		Double Profit.
Triple Couronne,		A Triple Crown.

Those Adjectives which follow the Substantive are National Nouns; and such as express some Colour, or Figure.

For example,

Un Gentilhomme Anglois,	An English	Gentleman.
Du Pain blanc,		White Bread.
Une Table ronde,		A round Table.

Lastly, you may observe, in these following Phrases, those Adjectives that sometimes go before, and sometimes after.

As,

Un charmant Visage,	A charming	Face.
Une Voix charmante,		Voice.
La Main droite,		The right Hand.
En droite Ligne,		In a strait Line.
Un strange Homme,		A strange Man.
Une chose strange,		A strange Thing.
Un parfait Amant,		A complete Lover.
Un Nombre parfait,		A complete Number.
Une sage Femme,		A Midwife.
Une Femme sage,		A wise Woman.
Une grosse Femme,		A big-bodied Woman.
Une Femme grosse,		A Woman bid with Child.
Un vieux Homme,		An old Man.
Du Vin vieux,		Old Wine.

To which add some Adjectives, which in their proper Sense come after, and in a figurative Sense go before the Substantive.

As,

Un Homme aveugle,	A blind	Man.
Une aveugle Passion,		Passion.
Terre ferme,		Firm Land.
Une ferme Resolution,		A firm Resolution.
Du Fruit meur,		Ripe Fruit.
Une meure Deliberation,		A mature Deliberation.
Viande froide,		Cold Meat.
Froide mine,		A cold Reception.
Un Homme maigre,		A lean Man.
Maigre Chere,		A lean Entertainment.
Du Drap fin,		Fine Cloth.
Un fin Homme,		A cunning Man.
Une chose rare,		A rare Thing.
Un rare Esprit,		A rare Wit.
Une Feuille verte,		A green Leaf.
Une verte Reprimende,		A sharp Rebuke.

THE next Thing you must mind in the Construction of Nouns is, to make the Adjective agree with the Substantive it has reference to, both in Gender and Number. So that, when the Substantive is of the masculine, or feminine Gender, in the Singular, or in the Plural Number, the Adjective must be so likewise.

As for Example,

Sing. Masc.	Plur. Masc.
Un grand Lit, a great Bed.	De grands Lits, great Beds.
Un petit Livre, a little Book.	De petits Livres, little Books.
Sing. Fem.	Plur. Fem.
Une belle Table, a fine Table.	De belles Tables, fine Tables.
Une bonne Plume, a good Pen.	De bonnes Plumes, good Pens.

And here 'tis to be observed, that the French say de, and not des, when the Adjective comes before the Substantive.

Two Singulars are equivalent to a Plural Number. Therefore, after two Substantives in the Singular Number, the Adjective must be put in the Plural.

As,

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

As,

Mon Pere & ma Mere sont morts, My Father and Mother are dead.

And, if the Substantives be, one of the Masculine, and the other of the feminine Gender, the Adjective must be put in the Masculine, as the nobler Gender of the two.

For Example,

Les Hommes & les Femmes sont mortels (not mortelles,) Both Men and Women are mortal.

Except, when there is no Verb after the two Substantives; for then the Adjective agrees with the last Substantive.

As,

J'ai le Cœur & la Bouche ouverte à vos Louanges, My heart and Mouth are open for your Praise.

THOUGH the Word Chose be of the feminine Gender; yet, after these two Words quelque Chose, the Adjective or Participle which comes after is put in the masculine Gender.

As,

Quelque Chose de beau, de bon, de riche, de somptueux, Il y a en sa Conversation quelque Chose d'ennuyeux, Something that's fine, good, rich, or costly. Something there is in his Conversation, which is a little unpleasant.

Ai je fait quelque Chose que vous n'avez pas fait (not faite) devant moi? Have I done any Thing that you have not done before me?

Il y a quelque Chose qui n'est pas approuvée (not approuvée,) There is Something in it which is not approved of.

The Reason of this Discordance, as far as I conceive, is, because quelque Chose goes here for je ne sais quoi, which can't be said to be feminine. And accordingly we say de la façon que j'ai dit (and not dis) because de la façon que stands here for an Adverb, and signifies the same as comme.

WHEN these Words, une partie de, are followed by a Substantive of the masculine Gender, the Adjective or Participle that comes after doth not agree with the Word partie, but with the masculine Substantive that follows it.

As,

J'ai trouvé une partie de mon Argent dérobé (not dérobée,) I found part of my Money stoln away.

Il eut une partie du Bras emporté (not emportée,) He had a great part of his Arm shot off.

Après six Mois de sems écoulés (rather than écoulés,) At six Months end, when six Months were elapsed.

For which I know no Reason, but Use, the Tyrant of Languages.

But it is not the same after plus, or le peu de. For we say,

For Example,

J'ai perdu plus de Pistoles, que vous n'en avez jamais gagnées (not gagnées,) I lost more Pistols than ever you got.

Le peu d'affection qu'il m'a témoignée (not témoignée,) The little Love he shewed me.

THE English, like the Latine Tongue, to make the Expression the shorter and more fluent, hath a Way of Transposing Substantives out of their proper places. A Thing which the French is altogether unacquainted with, unless it be in the Use of its Pronouns.

So, if you will render into French,

My Father's Estate, } you must { Le Bien } de { mon Pere.
The London Gazette, } say, { La Gazette } de { Londres.

Which is, Word for Word, the Estate of my Father, the Gazette of London.

The same has also a peculiar Aptness to put two Substantives transposed into one. As, a Head-ake, for an ake of the head, un Mal de Tête; a Windmill, for a Mill that turns with the Wind, un Moulin à vent. But the French Tongue (as I hinted already before) deals but little in this Sort of Composition.

Another Advantage which the English has over the French Tongue, is in the Use of its Verbals in ing; to which answer the French Verbals ending in ment, and tion. But, these falling much short of the former, it frequently happens, that, to render the English into French, one must tack about.

As for Example,

The drawing of Wine, L'action de tirer le Vin.
He paid dear for his going thither, Il lui a coûté bon d'être allé là.

For contemning divine and humane Laws, Pour avoir méprisé les Loix divines & humaines.

WHAT remains is to give a proper Account of the Use of the Articles; especially where the French differs, in the Use of them, from the English. For you must know, that in several Cases, the French use the Definite Article, where the English leaves it out.

As first, when we speak of Princes, without the Ordinal Numbers.

For Example,

Le Roi Jacques, King James. La Reine Marie, Queen Mary.

Of these two Goddesses,

La Fortune, Fortune. La Renommée, Fame.

Also, when we speak of a Thing, in an Indefinite Sense.

As,

L'Homme, Man. Le Boire, Drinking.
La Nature, Nature. Le Dormir, Sleeping.
Le Pain, Bread. La Vie, Life.
L'Argent, Money. Le Repos, Quiet.
Le Manger, Eating. L'Aise, Ease.

Of Virtues, and Vices. As,

La Justice, Justice. L'Injustice, Injustice.
La Tempérance, Temperance. L'Intempérance, Intemperance.

Of Arts, and Sciences. As,

La Grammaire, Grammar. La Philosophie, Philosophy.
La Rhétorique, Rhetorick. Les Mathématiques, Mathematics.
La Logique, Logick. La Théologie, Divinity. (ticks.)

Of Countries. For example,

La France, France. L'Allemagne, Germany.
L'Espagne, Spain. La Pologne, Poland.
L'Italie, Italy. La Moscovie, Moscow, &c.

To which add

Le Ciel, Heaven. L'Enfer, Hell.

Of Games. As,

Jouer à la Boule, Bowls.
à la Paume, Tennis.
au Billard, Billiards.
aux Cartes, Cards.
aux Quilles, Nine Pins.

On the contrary, sometimes the Article is left out by the French, where it is proper in English. But this happens but seldom; and that chiefly, when we speak of Princes with the Ordinal Numbers.

As,

Charles Quint, Charles the Fifth. François Premier, Francis the First.

I conclude with a Nicety in the Use of the French Articles, which consists in the Repeating, or not Repeating of them.

As in these following Examples,

Il jeune au Pain & à l'Eau, He lives upon nothing but Bread and Water.

J'ai une grande Opinion de la Vertu & de la Générosité de ce Prince, I have a great Opinion of the Virtue and Generosity of that Prince.

La Théologie, ou la Philosophie, Divinity, or Philosophy.

La Théologie, ou Science des Choses divines, Divinity, or the Knowledge of divine Things.

In the three first Examples, you see the Articles repeated in French, not in English; and in the last, it is left unrepeatd. The Reason is, because here the Conjunction ou signifies the same Thing as c'est à dire. For, if one should repeat here the Article, he might be thought to speak of two different Things; as, when we say, la Théologie ou la Philosophie.

OF PRONOUNS.

SUCH is the Nature of Pronouns, both in French and English, that some of 'em are Substantive like, and others like Adjective. Some have two Numbers, others have but one. Some are of the Masculine Gender, others of the Feminine, and there are those who include both the Genders.

This, I confess, is an intricate and perplexing Part of Speech, the small Extent of it considered. Therefore I shall take the more Care to unravel it, as well as the Nature of the Thing will give me leave. And first I begin with Pronouns Personal.

Some of these Pronouns are only proper to Verbs.

As,
Sing.	Plur.
Je I.	Nous We.
Tu Thou.	Vous You.
Il He, or It.	Ils They.

These are the Pronouns wherewith Verbs are Conjugated. Therefore I need not trouble you here with the Use of them; but I shall refer you, for that purpose, to the Use of Verbs.

The other Sort of Pronouns Personal are

Sing.	Plur.
Moi.	Nous.
Toi.	Vous.
Lui.	Eux.

Englished as the former.

As,
Moi } qui { vous aime, Toi } es riche, Lui } est jeune,	I } that { love you. Thou } art rich. He } is young.
Nous } qui { sommes vieux, Vous } vous portez bien, Eux } se portent mal,	We } that { are old. You } are well. They } are ill.

C'est { Moi, Toi, Lui,	'Tis I. Thou art he. 'Tis he.
--	--

C'est { Nous, Vous, Ce sont Eux,	We are the Men. 'Tis you. They are the Men.
---	--

Now you must know, that, as He makes She in English, for the feminine Gender; so Eux, in the Plural, makes elles. As, c'est elle, 'tis she; ce sont elles, they are the Women.

But these Personal Pronouns are also thus Englished.

As,
Sing.	Plur.
Moi me.	Nous us.
Toi thee.	Vous you.
Lui him.	Eux } them.
Elle her.	Elles

Which happens 1. after Prepositions. As for Exemple,

Pour { Moi, Toi, Lui, Elle,	for { me. thee. him. her.	Pour { Nous, Vous, Eux, Elles,	for { us. you. them.
---	--	--	---

In which Case the French use another Pronoun called Reciprocal. And that is Soi, which includes both Genders, and signifies Himself and Herself. As, parler contre soi, to speak against himself, or herself.

2. After a Verb, in the Imperative Mood. As,

Aimez { moi, nous,	Love { me. us.
--	--

And in this Case, as we use in English the Personal Pronouns in a Dative Sense, without a Preposition; (as me for to me, thee for to thee, and so of the rest) the same it is with the French. But then lui serves for both Genders, and makes leur in the Plural Number.

As,

Donne moi cela,	Give {	me that.
Donnez lui ceci,		him this.
Faites nous place,		her this.
Faites leur ce Plaisir,		Make us room.
		Do them that kindness.

There are other Ways of rendering these Pronouns into English; and particularly, by the Pronouns Possessive.

As,

Sing.	Plur.
Moi même , my self.	Nous mêmes , our selves.
Toi même , thy self.	Vous mêmes , your selves.
Soi même , himself, or her self.
Lui même , himself.	Eux mêmes , } themselves.
Elle même , her self.	Elles mêmes , }
Cela est à moi ,	That's mine.
Ceci est à vous ,	This is yours.
Lave toi les mains ,	Wash thy hands.
Lavons nous les pieds ,	Let us wash our feet.
C'est à moi à jouer ,	'Tis my turn to play.
C'est à vous à faire cela ,	'Tis your turn to do that.

The other Uses you may learn out of my Dictionary.

What remains is to Shew you the Use of these French Pronouns, with a new face. For there's nothing more common than to see

Moi	changed into	me.
Toi		te.
Soi		se.
Lui		le.
Elle		la.
Eux		les.
Elles

Only Nous the Plural of Moi, and Vous the Plural of Toi, remain Invariable.

Now, whereas Soi is never used but in the Singular Number, se is used in both Numbers, and that mostly with Verbs Reciprocal.

Observe moreover, that these Pronouns ever go before Verbs. And that's the main Transposition this Language is guilty of, contrary to the proper and natural Method of placing Words.

For Exemple,

Il me caresse,	He caresses me.
Elle te flatte,	She flatters thee.
Il se chagrine,	He vexes himself.
Elle se chagrine,	She vexes herself.
Ils se chagrinent,	They vex themselves.
Elles se flatte,	She flatters him.
Il la caresse,	He caresses her.
Je les aime,	I love them.

And thus, in a Dative Sense. As,

Il me fait	tort.	He does me	wrong.
Il te fait		He does thee
Il se fait		He does himself
Elle se fait		She does her self
Ils se font		They do themselves
Elles se font

In which last Exemples, me is said for à moi, te for à toi, &c. And so is me, in English, said for to me, thee for to thee, &c.

But, in this Sense, you must not say le nor les, but lui and leur.

As,

Il lui } fait tort.	He does him } wrong.
Il leur }	He does them }

Though moi is commonly used in the Imperative Mood of a Verb, yet sometimes me is used.

And 1. when two Imperatives come together, with the Conjunction & between them, then me is used in the last Imperative.

As,

Aimez moi, & me traitez bien,	Love me, and use me well.
--	---------------------------

2. When the Negative Ne goes with the Imperative. As,

Ne { me fâchez	pas.	Don't { anger } me.
{ m'incommodez

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

And in this Case we use likewise te, le and la, and their Plural les.

But, without a Negative, the French use also le, la, and their Plural les, in this very Mood, where the Sense is not Dative.

As,
Aimez { le, la, les, } Love { him, her, them. }

Moreover, these Pronouns, like the former, are also Englished by Pronouns Possessive.

As,
Je me lave les Mains, I wash my Hands.
La Tête me fait mal, My Head akes.
Il s'essuie le Visage, He wipes his Face.

Lastly, me, te, le, la, and their Plurals nous, vous, les, are used before these two Adverbs, Voici, Voilà; and are thus rendred.

As,
Me voici, Here I am.
Le voilà, There he is.
Nous voici, Here we are.
Les voilà, There they are, &c.

As for le, la, and their Plural les, as they are used for Things, and not for Persons, I shall speak of 'em, amongst the Pronouns Relative. The next I am now to treat of are the Demonstrative.

There are but four Pronouns Demonstrative, two Variable, and two Invariable.

Those are

Sing.		Plur.
Masc.	Fem.	Masc.	Fem.
Ce or Cet , this, that.	Cette , this, that.	Ces , these, those.	Ces , these, those.
Celui , he.	Celle , she.	Ceux , they, those.	Celles , they, those.

As,

Ce Garçon, This Boy, that Boy.
Cette Fille, This Girl, that Girl.
Ces Garçons, These Boys, those Boys.
Ces Filles, These Girls, those Girls.
Celui } qui vient, He } that comes.
Celle } qui vient, She }
Ceux } qui viennent, They (those) that come.
Celles }

As to the first of these Pronouns, you must observe, 1. that Ce is used before Words that begin with a Consonant, as ce Garçon, ce Heros; and Cet, before those that begin with a Vowel, or b mute, as cet Enfant, cet Homme.

2. That the French do use sometimes this Pronoun with these additional Particles, ci or ici, and là; especially in familiar Discourse, and that when they mean to point particularly at a Person or Thing. As, cet Homme ci, or cet Homme ici, this Man; cet Homme là, that Man.

3. This Pronoun is sometimes used Substantively, and then it is followed by the Relative que, or qui.

As,

Ce que vous dites, What you say.
Ce qui m'afflige, That which troubles me.

Celui is said both of Persons and Things, and is commonly followed by qui, or que.

As,

Celui } qui m'aime, He } that loves me.
Celle } qui m'aime, She }
Ceux } qui m'aiment, They (or those) that love me.
Celles }
Celui } que j'honore, He } whom I honour.
Celle } que j'honore, She }

Ceux } que j'honore, Those whom I honour.
Celles }

But, after a Verb, or a Preposition, this Pronoun must be thus Englished, viz. by him, her, those, or them.

After a Verb. As,

J'aime { celui qui, celle qui, ceux (or celles) qui, I love { him that, her that, those (or them) that. }

After a Preposition. As,

Pour { celui qui, celle qui, ceux (or celles) qui, For { him that, her that, those (or them) that. }

The same, being applied to Things, is always made English by That in the Singular Number; by Those, or Them, in the Plural.

As,

Voici celui qui me plaît le mieux, Here's that which pleases me best.
Prenez celle que vous voudrez, Take that which you have a mind to.
Il choisit ceux (or celles) qui ne valent rien, He picks those (or them) that are good for nothing.

After a Comparative, this Pronoun being used to avoid the Repetition of a foregoing Substantive, is Englished in the same manner.

As,

L'Air de France est meilleur que celui d'Angleterre, The Air of France is better than that of England.
Ma Maison est plus belle que celle de mon Voisin, My House is finer than that of my Neighbour.
Mes Chevaux sont meilleurs que ceux d'un tel, My Horses are better than those of such a one.
Elles sont plus belles que celles de France, They are finer than those of France.

To which add this Observation, about Ceux, that it is used for les Habitans. As, Ceux de Londres, the People of London.

Lastly, this Pronoun does frequently admit of these two additional Particles, ci and là, especially at the end of a Sentence; and then it is thus Englished.

Sing.

Plur.

Celui ci, celle ci, this. Ceux ci, celles ci, these.
Celui là, celle là, that. Ceux là, celles là, those.

As,

Prenez celui ci, & je prendrai celui là, Take this, and I shall take that.
Ceux ci sont meilleurs que ceux là, These are better than those.

I come now to the two Pronouns Demonstrative, which are Invariable, and used in both Numbers instead of a Substantive.

Viz.

Ceci, this, these. Cela, that, those.

As,

Ceci } me fâche, This } troubles me.
Cela } me fâche, That }
Quels Livres sont { ceci ? cela ? What Books are { these ? those ? }

This being all that can be said to these Pronouns, I proceed now to the Relative.

The Pronouns Relative are so called, because they commonly relate to Something mentioned before. And they are fix in Number, three Variable, and three Invariable.

The Variable Relatives are Le, Quel, and Lequel, which vary after this manner.

Sing.

Sing.

Masc.		Fem.
Le,	la,	Les,	les,
it.		them.

Quel

Quel, quelle,
what.
Lequel, laquelle,
that, which, who.

Quels, quelles,
what.
Lesquels, lesquelles,
that, which, who.

The first you have had already amongst the Pronouns Personal. But now, as it falls in our Way under the Notion of a Relative, and applicable to Things as it is there to Persons, I must enlarge upon it, and shew the Use of it by these following Examples.

As,

Il le fera,
or
Il la fera,
Il les fera,

He will do it.

He will do them.

But sometimes le is used in a peculiar Sense, answerable to So in English; and then it agrees with all Genders and Numbers. Thus to these two Questions, Etes vous malade? are you sick? Etes vous fâché? are you angry? this Return may be made, Je le suis, I am so.

And here we may say, Je le suis, not Je la suis, though a Woman says it of her self; because the Sense of Je le suis, in this Case, is the same as if one should say, Je suis ce que vous dites, I am what you say. So in the Plural Number we say for example, Il fait les Choses comme nous le souhaitons, (and not des souhaitons) he does Things as we would have him.

But yet, if the Question be asked a Woman by a Noun Substantive, la must be used.

As,

Etes vous Marie? Oui, je la suis.
Etes vous pas la Servante d'un tel? Oui, je la suis.

Are you Mary? Yes, I am so.
Are you not such a ones Maid? Yes, I am so.

And indeed Je la suis is here the same Thing as if she should say, Je suis celle la même que vous dites, I am the very same Woman you speak of. Lastly, le is sometimes left out unexpressed in English. As, je le veux, or je le veux bien, I will.

Quel is a Pronoun that admits of little or no Difficulty. The Use of it you may learn by these Examples.

As,

Savez vous quel Homme c'est?
Je ne sais quelle Femme il a.
Dites moi quels Livres sont ceux.
Tu ne sais pas quelles gens sont cela.

Do you know what Man he is?
I don't know what Wife he has.
Tell me what Books these are.
Thou dost not know what people they are.

Only 'tis Observable, that it may be thus used. As,

Quelqu'il soit,
Quelle que puisse être son Eloquence.

Whatever (whoever) he be.
Whatever his Eloquence may be.

Lequel is a Compound of the Article le, and the Pronoun Quel afore said. Whose proper Use is, instead of Qui, Quoi, and Que, in some particular Cases.

And r. at the beginning of any considerable Relation.

As,

Il y avoit un grand Philosophe, lequel enseignoit les Vertus Morales à la Jeunesse.
On a envoyé au Roi les Articles de la Paix, lesquels étant lus, &c.
Le Sujet pour lequel nous sommes assembles.

There was a great Philosopher, who used to teach young People Moral Virtues.
The Articles of Peace were sent to the King, which being read, &c.
The Thing for which we are met here.

2. When the Expression doth mention or intimate several Things, or Persons, in question.

For Example,

Je ne sais lequel c'est.
Je veux savoir laquelle des deux Sœurs a commencé.

I can't tell which is which.
I will know which of the two Sisters hath begun.

3. To avoid an Ambiguity, after two Substantives of a different Gender.

As,

Vous m'avez envoyé un Livre par votre Servante, lequel j'ai reçu en main propre.
C'est la Fille de mon Frere, laquelle demeure avec moi.

You sent me a Book, by your Maid, which I received by my own hand.
She is my Brother's Daughter, that lives with me.

In which Case, if que were used, as it is Invariable, and consequently applicable to both Genders, it might be thought in the first Phrase to relate to Servante, and in the last to Frere, contrary to the Sense and Meaning of those Expressions.

Another Thing Observable in this Pronoun, as you have it set down in the beginning, is the Use of its Article. For, though it be here Incorporated, making but one Word with quel; yet, with the Prepositions de and à, the same Rule is to be observed, as if they were distinct from one another. And accordingly we say auquel, de laquelle, desquels, desquelles; auquel, à laquelle, auxquels, auxquelles.

Now let us examine the three Pronouns Relative, which are Invariable.

Viz.

Qui,
Que,
Quoi,

That, Which, Who.

That, Which, What.

Qui is applied both to Persons and Things, but chiefly to the first.

As,

Un Homme, ou une Femme qui vit bien.
Des Hommes, ou des Femmes qui vivent bien.
Je sais qui c'est.

A Man, or a Woman that lives well, or who lives well.
Men, or Women that live well, who live well.
I know who it is.

La Victoire qui va vous couronner de Gloire.
La Renommée qui porte par tout vos Louanges.

Victory which is going to crown you with Glory.
Fame which carries your Praise every where.

To Things. As,

Le Soleil } qui luit,
La Lune } qui luit,
Les Etoiles } brillent.

The Sun } that shines.
The Moon } that shines.
The Stars } that sparkle.

But, after a Preposition, Qui is made by Whom.

As,

Je sais de qui vous parlez.
A qui vous êtes redevable.
Ceux pour qui vous avez tant d'estime.

I know whom you speak of.
Whom you are indebted to.
Those whom you have so great an esteem for.

Sometimes à qui is made English by Whose. As,

Je ne sais à qui est cette Maison.

I know not whose House this is.

After Voici, or Voilà, Qui is thus rendred. As, Le voici qui vient.

Le voilà qui vient.
La voici qui vient.
La voilà qui vient.
Les voici qui viennent.
Les voilà qui viennent.

Here he comes.
There he comes.
Here she comes.
There she comes.
Here they come.
There they come.

Or thus. As,

Qui que ce soit,
Je vous aime autant que qui que ce soit.
Comme qui dirait,

Whoever he be.
I love you as much as any body.
As if one should say.

Que is also applied to Persons, and Things.

To Persons. As,

Le Mari que j'ai.
La Femme qu'il a.
Les Enfants qu'ils ont.

The Husband that I have, or which I have.
The Wife that he has.
The Children which they have.

To Things. As,

Le Livre, ou les Livres, que je lis.

The Book, or the Books, that I read, or which I read.

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

La Vertu, ou les Vertus, que j'aime, The Virtue, or Virtues, that I love.

But sometimes the Pronoun is elegantly left out in English, not in French.

As,

Le Mari que vous m'avez procuré, The Husband you got me.
Les Enfants que Dieu m'a donnés, The Children God has given me.

Or else it is thus expressed. As,

Des le moment qu'il fut arrivé, As soon as ever he was come.

Quo, What. As,

Il ne sait que faire, He knows not what to do.

Or thus. As,

Vous n'avez que faire ici, You have nothing to do here.

Quoi is only used when we don't speak of Persons.

As,

La Chose à quoi j'ai le plus d'inclination, The Thing which I have the greatest Inclination to.
Le Cheval sur quoi j'étois monté, The Horse that I rid upon.
Les Dangers à quoi ce Pais est sujet, The Dangers this Country is subject to.
Ce sont des Affaires à quoi nous devons penser, These are Things we ought to think upon.

Quoi, What. As,

Je ne sais quoi, I know not what.
Il ne sait pas de quoi il s'agit, He do's not know what's the matter in hand.

Dequoi, wherewith, wherewithall. As,

Il a dequoi, He has wherewithall.

En quoi, wherein, in which. As,

Savez vous en quoi consiste l'Amitié? Do you know wherein Friendship does consist?

Or thus.

C'est en quoi il se trompe lourdement, Therein he is grossly mistaken.

This Pronoun is also used with que, or qui, after it. As, quoi que, for quelque chose que; quoi qui, for quelque chose qui. To which purpose mind these following Phrases.

Quoi qu'il arrive, Whatever happens.
Quoi qu'il coûte, Whatever it costs.
Quoi qu'il en soit, However.

Quoi qui vous afflige, Whatever troubles you.
Quoi qui marche sur la Terre, Whatever goes upon the Ground, whatever swimmeth in the Waters.
Quoi qui nage dans les Eaux,

Lastly, 'tis Observable, that all the Pronouns Relative, but Le, are used Interrogatively; and therefore are, in that respect, called Interrogative.

As,

Quel Homme est ce là? What man is that?
Lequel des deux? Which of the two?
Qui est ce? Who is it?
Que dites vous? What d'ye say?
Quoi donc? What then?

Possessive.

Next to Pronouns Relative, we are to speak of those called Possessive, which express a Thing possessed. There are Twelve of 'em, six Conjunctive, and six Absolute.

Those we call Conjunctive, which ever go with Nouns Substantive; Invariable as to the Gender, but Variable in the Plural Number, thus.

Sing.

Plur.

Mon } my Ton } thy Son } his, her
Nôtre } our Vôtre } your Leur } their

Mes
Tes
Ses
Nos
Vos
Leurs

As,

Mon Enfant, my Child. Mes Enfants, my Children.
Ton Esperance, thy Hope. Tes Esperances, thy Hopes.
Son Fils, his Son. Ses Fils, his Sons.
Nôtre Pere, our Father. Nos Peres, our Fathers.
Vôtre Mere, your Mother. Vos Meres, your Mothers.
Leur Serviteur, their Servant. Leurs Serviteurs, their Servants.

In English we use her, instead of his, when the Pronoun relates to a foregoing Substantive of the feminine Gender. A Distinction which the French Tongue is altogether unacquainted with. As, the Mother and her Child, la Mere & son Enfant; the Mother and her Children, la Mere & ses Enfants.

But here is a material Distinction to be observed in the Use of the three first Pronouns. Which is, that, before a Noun of the feminine Gender beginning with a Consonant,

Mon
Ton
Son

is changed into

Ma
Ta
Sa

As,

Ma Constance, My Constancy.
Ta Patience, Thy Patience.
Sa Perfidie, His Perfidiousness.

The Possessive Absolute are so called, because they are used without, and instead of a Substantive. Three of them are Variable, both in Gender and Number; the other three, only in their Number, and that by the addition of an s in the Plural.

Those are

Sing.

Plur.

Masc.

Fem.

Masc.

Fem.

Mien,
Tien,
Sien,

Mienne,
Tienne,
Sienne,

mine.
thine.
his, hers.

Miens,
Tiens,
Siens,

Miennes,
Tiennes,
Siennes.

The Three that vary, only as to their Number, are

Sing.

Plur.

Nôtre.
Vôtre.
Leur.

ours.
yours.
theirs.

Nôtres.
Vôtres.
Leurs.

All these Pronouns are used with the Article Definite, thus.

As,

Ton Frere, & le mien,
Mon Pere, & le tien,
Mon Cheval, & le sien,

Thy Brother, and mine.
My Father, and thine.
My Horse, and his Horse,

Celui ci est le nôtre,
Celui là est le vôtre,
Voici le leur,

This is ours.
That is yours.
Here is theirs, &c.

Sometimes these Pronouns are used Substantively, in the Singular Number; and then they are thus Englished.

As,

Je veux avoir le mien,
Je ne veux rien du tien,

I will have my own.
I will have nothing of thy own.

Chacun le sien n'est pas trop,

Every one his own is not too much.

And so of the rest.

Indefinite.

To the foresaid Pronouns I shall add another Sort, called Indefinite.

THE GROUNDS

Such as

Aucun any.
Chaque } every.
Chacun }
Quêque, some, any.

Quêcun } any.
Quêconque }
Quiconque, } whoever.
} whosoever.

Amongst which aucun and quêque are Variable in both Numbers, after the manner of Nouns Adjective. But Chacun has no Plural Number. Quêcun makes quêcune, for the feminine Gender; and in the Plural, quêques uns, quêques unes. Chaque, Quêconque, and Quiconque, are all three Invariable, and have no Plural Number.

What remains is to shew, by apposite Phrases, the Use of these Pronouns.

Of Aucun. As,

S'il y a { aucun homme, If there be any { man.
aucune femme, } woman.

Or else it is Englished by No, or None. As,

Vous ne trouverez aucun Homme You will find no Man that qui le veuille faire, will do it.
Je n'en connois aucune, I know none of 'em.
Je n'en frequente aucuns, I keep company with none of 'em.
Je n'ai vu aucune de ces I saw none of those Wo-
Femmes là, men.

Chaque. As,

A chaque moment, Every moment.
Chaque chose est en sa place, Every Thing is in its place.

Chacun.

This is a Pronoun Compounded of Chaque, and Un. Tis used without a Substantive, and that only in the Singular Number.

As,

Chacun sait ses Affaires, Every one knows his own Business.
Il donna à chacune d'elles une He gave every one, (or he gave paire de Gants, each) of 'em a pair of Gloves.

Quêque, some, or any. As,

Quêque { tems, } time.
chose, } thing.
Amis, } Friends.
Quêques { Faveurs, } Favours.

En quêque lieu, Any where.
En quêque tems que ce soit, At any time.
S'il y a quêque chose, If there be any Thing.

Or thus.

En quêque état que les Af- Whatsoever be the posture of aires soient, Affairs.
Quêque Raison que vous alle- Whatever (whatsoever) Reaguiez, son you alledge.
En quêque Lieu que, Wherever.
Par quêque Lieu que, Through what Place soever.

Quêcun.

This is a Pronoun made up of Quêque and Un; and made English by any, any body, any man, some body, or one, in the Singular Number; and by some, or some people, in the Plural.

As,

Y a-t-il quêcun d'eux? Is there any of 'em?
S'il y a quêcun qui veuille pren- If there be any body that will dre son parti, take his part.
Quêcun doutera-t-il après cela Will any man after that que-de ma fidélité? tion my fidelity?
Quêcun m'est venu voir, Some body is come to see me.
J'ai trouvé quêcun, qui m'a dit, I met one, who told me.
Quêques uns s'imaginent, que, Some (or some people) fancy,
that.

Quêconque. As,

Sans mouvement, ni respira- Without any motion, or breation quêconque, thing.

Or thus.

Je ne permettrai point, que I will not suffer it to be done cela se fasse en façon quêconque, by no means.

Quiconque. As,

Quiconque tu sois, Whoever thou art.
Quiconque dit cela se trompe, Whosoever says so is under a mistake.

Or thus.

Quiconque est riche est tout, He that is rich is all.

Of the Pronominal Particles, Dont, T, En.

Before we take our Leave of the Pronouns, it will not be im- proper to explain unto you the Use of these Particles, Dont, T, En, which are so frequent in the French Tongue, but chiefly the two latter.

Dont is used, for shortness sake, instead of de qui, duquel, de laquelle, desquels, desquelles, and dequoi.

As for Example,

C'est l'Homme du Monde, dont He is a Man, whom I have je fais le plus d'estime, the greatest esteem for.
C'est la Femme du Monde, dont She is the Woman, that I least je me soucie le moins, care for.
Ce sont des Malheurs dont per- These are Mischances from sonne n'est exempt, which no man is free.
Les Parties dont le Tout est The Parts of which the Whole composé, does consist.
Ce dont il s'agit, The Business now in hand.

T, an Adverb of Place, is also used in the Sense of a Pronoun; and signifies the same as en cela, à cela, in it, about it, of it, upon it.

As,

Mettez y de l'Eau, Put some Water in it.
J'y emploie tout mon Tems, I spend all my Time about it.
J'y aviserai, I shall consider of it.
I shall think upon it.

En is a busy Particle, that intrudes it self into several Parts of Speech. For, besides its proper Station amongst the Prepositions, it does sometimes the Office of an Adverb, and sometimes of a Pronoun.

As a Pronoun, it is said either of Things, or Persons. Being applied to Things, it signifies the same as de cela, of it, for it, at it, to it, with it, &c.

For Example,

J'en suis bien aise, I am glad of it.
Je vous en remercie, I thank you for it.
J'en suis surpris, I wonder at it.
Qu'en dites vous? What say you to it?
Qu'en feroit il? What would he do with it?

Or thus. As,

J'en ai de l'horreur, I abhor it.
Je m'en souviens, I remember it.
Il s'en repentira, He'll repent it.
En avez vous? Have you any?
J'en ai, I have some.
Je n'en ai point, I have none.
Il y en a, There is some.
J'en ai assez, I have enough.
J'en suis content, I am content.
J'en tiens, I am caught.
J'en suis là, That's my Case.
That's my Temper.

When it is applied to Persons, it bears the Sense of de lui, d'elle, d'eux, and d'elles. So, when I say, J'en ai fait mention, that may be understood any Way, as if I should say, J'ai fait mention de lui, I made mention of him, d'elle of her, d'eux or d'elles of them.

Of Verbs.

I N my former general Account of the Eight Parts of Speech, I said that Verbs were conjugated with Moods, Tenses, Numbers, and Persons.

There-

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

There are four Moods ; Viz.

The	{	Indicative,	PIndicatif.
		Imperative,	PImperatif.
		Subjunctive,	le Subjonctif.
		Infinitive,	PInfinitif.

The Indicative indicates the Thing either doing or done; the Imperative commands it; the Subjunctive speaks of it with some circumstantial Conjunctions; and the Infinitive, indefinitely, that is, without Number or Person.

In the Course of Nature, there are but three Sorts of Time.

Viz.

The Time	{	Past,	called, by	{	Preter	Tense.
		Present,
		To come,

But, whereas the Time past is lookt upon several Ways, from thence is sprung that Variety of Preter Tenses which are used, especially in the French Tongue; there being no less than five Preters in the Indicative Mood. And, for the forming the most part of those Tenses, there are two Auxiliary Verbs, to wit, Avoir to have, and Ere to be, of either of which those Tenses be Compounded. From whence comes the Distinction of Tenses, into Simple and Compound.

Now every Tense hath two Numbers, Singular and Plural. And every Number, except the Singular of the Imperative Mood, has three Persons, Conjugated (as I said before) with the first Sort of Pronouns Personal.

To all this add, that the French (like the Latine) Tongue has four distinct Conjugations of Verbs, that is four different Ways of forming most of their Tenses. Which Conjugations are known by these Endings of the Infinitive Mood.

Viz.

er,	{	as,	Parler to speak.
ir,			Finir to finish.
oir,			Recevoir to receive.
re,			Prendre to sell.

Upon the Whole, this I must say in behalf of the French Tongue, that it excels in point of Variety, amongst all other Vulgar Speeches, in its nice Distinction of Tenses, and in the distinct Termination of Persons, wherein it imitates the Greek and Latine Tongue.

I should now bring on a Model for the four Conjugations, but that an inforcing Custom has at length prevailed upon me to give the Precedency to the two Auxiliary Verbs. Though I confess 'tis not very Methodical to place Irregular before Regular Verbs, the Exception before the Rule, or the Cart before the Horse.

Avoir, to have.

Indicative Mood.

Present Tense.

Sing.	Plur.
J'ai , I have.	Nous avons , We
Tu as , Thou hast.	Vous avez , You
Il a , He hath.	Ils ont , They

The Preter Imperfect Tense.

Sing.	Plur.
J'avais , I had.	Nous avions , We
Tu avais , Thou hadst.	Vous aviez , You
Il avait , He had.	Ils avoient , They

The Preter Perfect Simple, Englished as the Imperfect.

Sing.	Plur.
J'eus .	Nous eumes .
Tu eus .	Vous eutes .
Il eut .	Ils eurent .

The Preter Perfect Compound.

Sing.

J'ai eu ,	I have	{	had.
Tu as eu ,	Thou hast
Il a eu ,	He has

Plur.

Nous avons eu ,	We have	{	had.
Vous avez eu ,	You have
Ils ont eu ,	They have

The Preter Pluperfect Tense.

Sing.

J'avais eu ,	I had	{	had.
Tu avais eu ,	Thou hadst
Il avait eu ,	He had

Plur.

Nous avions eu ,	We had	{	had.
Vous aviez eu ,	You had
Ils avoient eu ,	They had

The 1. Future Tense.

Sing.

J'aurai ,	I shall	{	have.
Tu auras ,	Thou shalt
Il aura ,	He shall

Plur.

Nous aurons ,	We shall	{	have.
Vous aurez ,	You shall
Ils auront ,	They shall

This Tense is also Englished by Will, instead of Shall.

The 2. Future Tense.

Sing.

J'aurais ,	I should	{	have.
Tu aurais ,	Thou shouldst
Il aurait ,	He should

Plur.

Nous aurions ,	We should	{	have.
Vous auriez ,	You should
Ils auroient ,	They should

This Tense is also Englished by Would, Might, or Could.

Imperative Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

Sing.

Aie , have, or have thou.	Ayons , let us have.
Qu'il aie , let him have.	Ayez , have, or have you.
	Qu'ils aient , let them have.

Plur.

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

Sing.

Que j'aie ,	I may	{	have.
Tu aies ,	Thou mayst
Il ait ,	He may

Plur.

Que nous ayons ,	We may	{	have.
Vous ayez ,	You may
Ils aient ,	They may

The

THE GROUNDS

The Indefinite Tense.

Sing.

Je pense,
Tu penses,
Il est,

I might
Thou mightest
He might } have.

Plur.

Nous pensions,
Vous pensiez,
Ils pensaient,

We might
You might
They might } have.

This Tense is also rendered by Would, and Should.

The Preter Perfect Tense, Englished as in the Indicative Mood.

Sing.

J'ai
Tu as
Il a } eu.

Plur.

Nous avons
Vous avez
Ils ont } eu.

The 1. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as in the Indicative Mood.

Sing.

J'aurais
Tu aurais
Il aurait } eu.

Plur.

Nous aurions
Vous auriez
Ils auraient } eu.

The 2. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as the first.

Sing.

J'eusse
Tu eusses
Il eût } eu.

Plur.

Nous eussions
Vous eussiez
Ils eussent } eu.

The Future Tense, Englished as the Preter Perfect.

Sing.

J'aurai
Tu auras
Il aura } eu.

Plur.

Nous aurons
Vous aurez
Ils auront } eu.

Infinitive Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

Avoir,

To have.

The Preter Tense.

Avoir eu,

To have had.

Etre, to be.

Indicative Mood.

The Present Tense.

Sing.

Je suis, I am.
Tu es, Thou art.
Il est, He is.

Plur.

Nous sommes, We
Vous êtes, You
Ils sont, They } are.

The Preter Imperfect Tense.

Sing.

J'étais, I was.
Tu étais, Thou wast.
Il était, He was.

Plur.

Nous étions, We
Vous étiez, You
Ils étaient, They } were.

The Preter Perfect Simple, Englished as the Imperfect.

Sing.

Je fus.
Tu fus.
Il fut.

Plur.

Nous fumes.
Vous fûtes.
Ils furent.

The Preter Perfect Compound.

Sing.

J'ai
Tu as Il a } été,

I have
Thou hast
He has } been.

Plur.

Nous avons
Vous avez
Ils ont } été.

We have
You have
They have } been.

The Preter Pluperfect Tense.

Sing.

J'avais
Tu avais
Il avait } été,

I had
Thou hadst
He had } been.

Plur.

Nous avions
Vous aviez
Ils avaient } été,

We had
You had
They had } been.

The 1. Future Tense.

Sing.

Je serai,
Tu seras,
Il sera,

I shall
Thou shalt
He shall } be.

Plur.

Nous serons,
Vous serez,
Ils seront,

We shall
You shall
They shall } be.

This Tense is also Englished by Will, instead of Shall.

The 2. Future Tense.

Sing.

Je serois,
Tu serois,
Il seroit,

I should
Thou shouldst
He should } be.

Plur.

Nous serions,
Vous seriez,
Ils seroient,

We should
You should
They should } be.

This Tense is also Englished by Would, Might, or Could.

Imperative Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

Sing.

Sois, be, be thou,
Qu'il soit, let him be.

Plur.

Soyons, let us be.
Soyez, be, be you.
Qu'ils soient, let them be.

Subjun-

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

Sing.
Que $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Je sois, \\ Tu sois, \\ Il soit, \end{array} \right\}$	That $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} I may \\ Thou mayst \\ He may \end{array} \right\}$ be.
Plur.
Que $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous soyons, \\ Vous soyez, \\ Ils soient, \end{array} \right\}$	That $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} We may \\ You may \\ They may \end{array} \right\}$ be.

The Indefinite Tense.

Sing.
$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Je fusse, \\ Tu fusses, \\ Il fut, \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} I might \\ Thou mightest \\ He might \end{array} \right\}$ be.
Plur.
$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous fussions, \\ Vous fussiez, \\ Ils fussent, \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} We might \\ You might \\ They might \end{array} \right\}$ be.

This Tense is also rendred by Would, and Should.

The Preter Perfect Tense, Englished as in the Indicative Mood.

Sing.
$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'aie \\ Tu aies \\ Il ait \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous ayons \\ Vous ayez \\ Ils aient \end{array} \right\}$ etc.

The 1. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as in the Indicative Mood.

Sing.
$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'aurais \\ Tu aurais \\ Il aurait \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous aurions \\ Vous auriez \\ Ils auraient \end{array} \right\}$ etc.

The 2. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as the first.

Sing.
$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'eusse \\ Tu eusses \\ Il eût \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous eussions \\ Vous eussiez \\ Ils eussent \end{array} \right\}$ etc.

The Future Tense, Englished as the Preter Perfect.

Sing.
$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'aurai \\ Tu auras \\ Il aura \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous aurons \\ Vous aurez \\ Ils auront \end{array} \right\}$ etc.

Infinitive Mood.

The Present, and Future Tense.

Etre, To be.

The Preter Tense.

Avoir été, To have been.

Thus having dispatched these Forerunners, and mustered the Auxiliaries according to ancient Custom, let us now come to the main Body, I mean, our Model for the four Conjugations. And, that you may find out at hand how the first Person of each Tense is Terminated in any Regular Verb of the four Conjugations, here is a prefixt and accurate Table, fitted to that purpose.

Indicative Mood.

Pref. Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} e; \\ is; \\ oi; \\ en; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parle. \\ finis. \\ recoi. \\ ven. \end{array} \right\}$
Pret. Imperf.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} ois; \\ as; \\ ois; \\ ois; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlais. \\ finissais. \\ recevois. \\ vendais. \end{array} \right\}$
Pret. Perf. Simple.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} ai; \\ is; \\ eu; \\ is; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlai. \\ finis. \\ receu. \\ vendis. \end{array} \right\}$
The Preters Compound.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} ai; \\ is; \\ eu; \\ is; \end{array} \right\}$	as, J'ai, J'a-	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlé. \\ fini. \\ receu. \\ vendu. \end{array} \right\}$
1. Future.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} rai; \\ rai; \\ rai; \\ rai; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlerai. \\ finirai. \\ recevrai. \\ vendrai. \end{array} \right\}$
2. Future.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} rais; \\ rais; \\ rais; \\ rais; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlerois. \\ finirois. \\ recevrais. \\ vendrais. \end{array} \right\}$

Imperative Mood.

Pref. and Fut. Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} e; \\ is; \\ oi; \\ en; \end{array} \right\}$	as,	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Parle. \\ Fini. \\ Recoi. \\ Ven. \end{array} \right\}$
-----------------------	--	-------------	---	-----	---

Subjunctive Mood.

Pref. Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} e; \\ is; \\ oi; \\ en; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parle. \\ finisse. \\ recoive. \\ vende. \end{array} \right\}$
Indef. Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} asse; \\ isse; \\ eusse; \\ isse; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Je	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlasse. \\ finisse. \\ receusse. \\ vendisse. \end{array} \right\}$
The Preters Compound.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} e; \\ is; \\ eu; \\ is; \end{array} \right\}$	as, J'aie, J'au-	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlé. \\ fini. \\ receu. \\ vendu. \end{array} \right\}$
The Future Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} e; \\ is; \\ eu; \\ is; \end{array} \right\}$	as, J'aurai	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlé. \\ fini. \\ receu. \\ vendu. \end{array} \right\}$

Infinitive Mood.

Pref. and Fut. Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} er; \\ ir; \\ oir; \\ re; \end{array} \right\}$	as,	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Parler. \\ Finir. \\ Recevoir. \\ Vendre. \end{array} \right\}$
Preter Tense.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} 1. \\ 2. \\ 3. \\ 4. \end{array} \right\}$	Conjugation	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} é; \\ is; \\ eu; \\ is; \end{array} \right\}$	as, Avoir	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlé. \\ fini. \\ receu. \\ vendu. \end{array} \right\}$

Upon this general Model, let us now Conjugate the foresaid Verbs, through all their Moods, Tenses, Numbers, and Persons.

INDICATIVE MOOD.

The Present Tense,

Of Parler.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Je parle, I speak, \\ Tu parles, Thou speakest, \\ Il parle, He speaks, \end{array} \right\}$	or	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} do \\ dost \\ does \end{array} \right\}$	Speak.
Plur.

Plur. { Nous parlons, We speak, } or { do } speak.
 { Vous parlez, You speak, } or { do }
 { Ils parlent, They speak, } or { do }

Finir.

Sing. { Je finis, I finish, } or { do } finish.
 { Tu finis, Thou finishest, } or { do }
 { Il finit, He finishes, } or { does }

Plur. { Nous finissons, We finish, } or { do } finish.
 { Vous finissez, You finish, } or { do }
 { Ils finissent, They finish, } or { do }

Recevoir.

Sing. { Je reçois, I receive, } or { do } receive.
 { Tu reçois, Thou receivest, } or { do }
 { Il reçoit, He receives, } or { does }

Plur. { Nous recevons, We receive, } or { do } receive.
 { Vous recevez, You receive, } or { do }
 { Ils reçoivent, They receive, } or { do }

Vendre.

Sing. { Je vends, I sell, } or { do } sell.
 { Tu vends, Thou sellest, } or { do }
 { Il vend, He sells, } or { does }

Plur. { Nous vendons, We sell, } or { do } sell.
 { Vous vendez, You sell, } or { do }
 { Ils vendent, They sell, } or { do }

Besides those two Ways of rendring this Tense in English, the same is likewise Englished with the Verb I am, and the Participle of those Verbs that ends in ing.

As,

I am } speaking. We are } speaking, &c.
 Thou art }
 He is }

Now, for the feminine Gender, She in the Singular, and They in the Plural, you must say elle in the Singular, and elles in the Plural. As, she speaks, elle parle; they speak, elles parlent. Which Rule is to be observed in all Tenses alike.

The Preter Imperfect Tense,

Of Parler.

Sing. { Je parlois, I spoke, } or { did } speak.
 { Tu parlois, Thou spokest, } or { did }
 { Il parloit, He spoke, } or { did }

Plur. { Nous parlions, We spoke, } or { did } speak.
 { Vous parliez, You spoke, } or { did }
 { Ils parloient, They spoke, } or { did }

Finir.

Sing. { Je finissois, I finished, } or { did } finish.
 { Tu finissois, Thou finishedst, } or { did }
 { Il finissoit, He finished, } or { did }

Plur. { Nous finissions, We finished, } or { did } finish.
 { Vous finissiez, You finished, } or { did }
 { Ils finissoient, They finished, } or { did }

Recevoir.

Sing. { Je recevois, I received, } or { did } receive.
 { Tu recevois, Thou receivedst, } or { did }
 { Il recevoit, He received, } or { did }

Plur. { Nous recevions, We received, } or { did } receive.
 { Vous receviez, You received, } or { did }
 { Ils recevoient, They received, } or { did }

Vendre.

Sing. { Je vendois, I sold, } or { did } sell.
 { Tu vendois, Thou soldst, } or { did }
 { Il vendoit, He sold, } or { did }

Plur. { Nous vendions, We sold, } or { did } sell.
 { Vous vendiez, You sold, } or { did }
 { Ils vendoient, They sold, } or { did }

This Preter is also thus Englished, according to the Present Tense.

As,

I was } speaking. We were } speaking, &c.
 Thou wast }
 He was }

This Tense is called Preter Imperfect, because this is the Tense used, when we speak of Something that was a doing, which is left imperfect. And in that Sense it is Englished the last Way.

As,

Je parlois de lui, comme il entra, I was speaking of him, when he came in.
J'écrivais une Lettre, mais la Compagnie qui survint m'empêcha de l'achever, I was writing a Letter, but Company coming in I could not make an end of it.

Secondly, this Tense is used, when we speak of some Action, Quality, or Inclination, with reference to a particular Time past. And in that Sense it is Englished after the first Way.

As,

Dans ce Temps là il parloit mieux qu'il ne fait presentement. In those days he spoke (or he could speak) better than he does now.
J'aimois fort à voyager, I loved dearly to travel.
J'y prenois beaucoup de plaisir. I took great delight in it.
Quand je le benissois, il me maudissoit, When I blessed him, he cursed me.
Lors que je vendois de ces Choses, il achetoit toujours de moi, When I sold such Things, he always bought of me.

Thirdly, the French use this Tense, instead of the second Future, after the Conjunction Si. In which Sense it is commonly Englished by the Auxiliary did.

As,

S'il parloit seulement un mot, If he did but speak a word.
S'il vendoit la moindre chose, If he did but sell the least Thing.
S'il me faisoit un bon Office, If he did me one good Office, je lui en rendois deux, I returned him two.

Or thus. As,

Que diriez vous, si je le faisois? What would you say, if I should do it?
Si je le vendois, il seroit bien attrapé, If I should sell it, he would be finely mumped.

The Preter Perfect Simple,

Of Parler.

Sing.

Plur.

Je parlai.
Tu parlas.
Il parla.

Nous parlames.
Vous parlates.
Ils parlèrent.

Finir.

Je finis.
Tu finis.
Il finit.

Nous finimes.
Vous finites.
Ils finirent.

Recevoir.

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Recevoir.

Sing.

Plur.

*Je receus.
Tu reçus.
Il reçut.*

*Nous reçûmes.
Vous reçûtes.
Ils reçurent.*

Vendre.

*Je vendis.
Tu vendis.
Il vendit.*

*Nous vendîmes.
Vous vendîtes.
Ils vendirent.*

The proper Use of this Tense in French is, when we relate in some absolute manner any Part of a Story, Adventure, or Misfortune.

Thus we say,

*Je lui parlai en des termes forts,
Il me reçut avec bien de la tendresse,*

I spoke (or I did speak) to him very smartly.
He received (or did receive) me with a great deal of kindness.

Je tombai malade un tel jour,

I fell (or I hapned to fall) sick such a Day.

The Preter Perfect Compound.

Now we are come to Compound Tenses, 'tis fit to tell you before hand, That in all Verbs Active, as these are, those Tenses consist of the Auxiliary Verb Avoir to have, and the Participle of the Verb which is Conjugated, I mean the Participle of the Preter Tense.

And This is formed from the Infinitive,

In the { 1. } Conjugation, by Changing { er } into { é.
 { 2. } { ir } { u.
 { 3. } { voir } { u.
 { 4. } { re } { u.

So

The Participle of { Parler to speak, } is { Parlé spoken.
 { Finir to finish, } { Fin finished.
 { Recevoir to receive, } { Reçu received.
 { Vendre to sell, } { Vendu sold.

Accordingly the Preter Perfect Compound we are now upon must be thus Conjugated.

Sing. { J'ai }
 { Tu as } { Il a }

I have
Thou hast
He has } spoken.

Plur. { Nous avons }
 { Vous avez }
 { Ils ont }

We have
You have
They have } spoken.

To Conjugate the other Verbs, there is no more to do than to change the Participle.

The Use of this Tense, both in French and English, is to express a Thing newly done.

As,

*Je lui ai parlé,
Il a fini son Ouvrage,*

I have spoken to him.
He has finished his Work, &c.

But oftentimes the Auxiliary Verb is left out in English, for shortness sake; and then it does not differ from the former Preters.

As,

*Les Choses dont je vous ai parlé,
J'ai répondu pour lui,*

The Things I spoke to you of.
I passed my Word for him.

The 1. Preter Pluperfect.

Sing. { J'avois }
 { Tu avois }
 { Il avoit }

I had
Thou hadst
He had

} spoken.

Plur. { Nous avions }
 { Vous aviez }
 { Ils avoient }

We had
You had
They had

} spoken.

And the rest accordingly.

This Tense is called Pluperfect, because it betokens a much further Distance of Time than the Perfect does.

As,

Je lui en avois parlé, mais il ne s'en est pas souvenu,

I had spoken to him about it, but he has not remembered it.

The 2. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as the first.

Sing. { J'eus }
 { Tu eus }
 { Il eut }

Plur. { Nous eûmes }
 { Vous eûtes }
 { Ils eurent }

} parlé.

And the rest accordingly.

The Proper Use of this Preter is after these Particles, quand, comme (in the Sense of quand,) lors que, dès que, après que, si tôt que.

As,

*Quand je lui eu parlé,
Des qu'il eut fini son Ouvrage,*

When I had spoke to him.
Assoon as ever he had finished his Work, &c.

The 1. Future Tense,

Of Parler.

Sing. { Je parlerai, I shall } or { Je parlerai, I shall } { Tu parleras, Thou shalt } or { Tu parleras, Thou shalt } { Il parlera, He shall } or { Il parlera, He shall }

} will speak.

Plur. { Nous parlerons, We shall } or { Nous parlerons, We shall } { Vous parlerez, You shall } or { Vous parlerez, You shall } { Ils parleront, They shall } or { Ils parleront, They shall }

} will speak.

Finir.

Sing. { Je finirai, I shall } or { Je finirai, I shall } { Tu finiras, Thou shalt } or { Tu finiras, Thou shalt } { Il finira, He shall } or { Il finira, He shall }

} will finish.

Plur. { Nous finirons, We shall } or { Nous finirons, We shall } { Vous finirez, You shall } or { Vous finirez, You shall } { Ils finiront, They shall } or { Ils finiront, They shall }

} will finish.

Recevoir.

Sing. { Je recevrai, I shall } or { Je recevrai, I shall } { Tu recevras, Thou shalt } or { Tu recevras, Thou shalt } { Il recevra, He shall } or { Il recevra, He shall }

} will receive.

Plur. { Nous recevrons, We shall } or { Nous recevrons, We shall } { Vous recevrez, You shall } or { Vous recevrez, You shall } { Ils recevront, They shall } or { Ils recevront, They shall }

} will receive.

Vendre.

Sing. { Je vendrai, I shall } or { Je vendrai, I shall } { Tu vendras, Thou shalt } or { Tu vendras, Thou shalt } { Il vendra, He shall } or { Il vendra, He shall }

} will sell.

Plur. { Nous vendrons, We shall } or { Nous vendrons, We shall } { Vous vendrez, You shall } or { Vous vendrez, You shall } { Ils vendront, They shall } or { Ils vendront, They shall }

} will sell.

One Thing observable in this Tense is, That sometimes it is used in French, where the English makes use of the Present Tense.

As in these Expressions,

*Ce qu'il plaira à Dieu,
Comme il vous plaira,*

What God pleases.
As you please.

d

Tant

THE GROUNDS

Tant que je vivrai,
Tant que le Monde durera,

As long as I live.
As long as the World endures.

The 2. Future Tense,

Of Parler.

Sing. { Je parlerois, I would
Tu parlerois, Thou wouldst
Il parleroit, He would } or { could couldst
could } speak.

Plur. { Nous parlerions, We would Vous parleriez, You would Ils parleroient, They would } or { could could could } speak.

Finir.

Sing. { Je finirois, I would
Tu finirois, Thou wouldst
Il finiroit, He would } or { could couldst
could } finish.

Plur. { Nous finirions, We would Vous finiriez, You would Ils finiroient, They would } or { could could could } finish.

Recevoir.

Sing. { Je recevrais, I would
Tu recevrais, Thou wouldst
Il recevrait, He would } or { could couldst
could } receive.

Plur. { Nous recevriions, We would Vous recevriez, You would Ils recevraient, They would } or { could could could } receive.

Vendre.

Sing. { Je vendrais, I would
Tu vendrais, Thou wouldst
Il vendrait, He would } or { could couldst
could } sell.

Plur. { Nous vendrions, We would Vous vendriez, You would Ils vendraient, They would } or { could could could } sell.

This Tense is also rendred into English with these other Signs Might, and Should.

As,

I might
Thou mightest
He might } speak.

I should
Thou shouldst
He should } speak, &c.

This is the Tense which all other Grammarians have placed in the Subjunctive Mood, with the Name of a Preter-Imperfect Tense.
An Imperfect one indeed. For there is nothing in it, that hath any relation to the Time past; but rather to the present, and especially to the Time to come.

Besides, there is so great an Affinity betwixt this Future and the First, that it is plain This is an Off-spring of That. And, as the First may be called the Absolute, so This may be termed the Future
Conditional.

What remains is to shew you the Use of this Tense, by proper and apposite Phrases.

As,

Je lui parlerois de cette Af-
faire,
Il le finiroit bien, s'il vou-
loit,
S'il se conduisoit bien, peut
être que je le recevrais, Pourquoi le vendriez vous à si bon marché?

I would speak to him about that Business.
He could finish it well enough,
if he would.
If he carried himself well,
perhaps I might receive him.
Why should you sell it so cheap?

IMPERATIVE MOOD.

The Present, and Future Tense.

Of Parler.

Sing. { Parle, speak, do thou
Qu'il parle, let him } speak.

Plur. { Parlons, let us
Parlez, speak, do you
Qu'ils parlent, let them } speak.

Finir.

Sing. { Fini, finish, do thou
Qu'il finisse, let him } finish.

Plur. { Finissons, let us
Finissez, do you
Qu'ils finissent, let them } finish.

Recevoir.

Sing. { Reçois, receive, do thou
Qu'il reçoive, let him } receive.

Plur. { Recevons, let us
Recevez, receive, do you
Qu'ils reçoivent, let them } receive.

Vendre.

Sing. { Ven, sell, do thou
Qu'il vende, let him } sell.

Plur. { Vendons, let us
Vendez, sell, do you
Qu'ils vendent, let them } sell.

This Mood admits of no other Tense. And this is called Present and Future; because it is Mixt, and relates both to the Time Present and to come. Now this Tense wants the first Person in the Singular Number, because one does not direct any Command to himself in particular.

As for the Use of this Mood, there is so little Difficulty in it, that, if you do but know how to conjugate it, you cannot fail in the right Use of it. However you may mind these Phrases upon it.

As,

Qu'il parle, s'il veut,
Faisons notre Ouvrage,
Recevez le chez vous,
Qu'ils le vendent, s'ils peuvent,

Let him speak, if he will.
Let us finish our Work.
Receive him into your House.
Let them sell it, if they can.

SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD.

The Present, and Future Tense,

Of Parler.

Only observe, that in the 3. Person both Singular and Plural, you must turn the e of Que into an Apostroph, and read Qu'il and Qu'ils, instead of Que il and Que ils.

Que

That

Sing. { Je parle,
Tu parles,
Il parle, } I may
Thou mayst
He may } speak.

Plur. { Nous parlions,
Vous parliez,
Ils parlent, } We may
You may
They may } speak.

Finir.

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Finir.

Que	That
Sing. { Je finisse, Tu finisses, Il finisse,	I may Thou mayst He may } finish.
Plur. { Nous finissions, Vous finissiez, Ils finissent,	We may You may They may } finish.

Recevoir.

Que	That
Sing. { Je reçoive, Tu reçoives, Il reçoive,	I may Thou mayst He may } receive.
Plur. { Nous recevions, Vous receviez, Ils reçoivent,	We may You may They may } receive.

Vendre.

Que	That
Sing. { Je vende, Tu vendes, Il vende,	I may Thou mayst He may } sell.
Plur. { Nous vendions, Vous vendiez, Ils vendent,	We may You may They may } sell.

Now let us speak both to this Mood, and Tense. The Mood is called Subjunctive, or Conjunctive, because it is most commonly used with Conjunctions. The same is named Optative, by reason it is used, when we make any Wish. And the English give it also the Name of Potential, as a Mood wherein they use much May, Might, and Could, which betoken Liberty and Power.

The Tense may very well be called both Present and Future; for it includes in it both the Time present and to come. The same is seldom used, but with que before it; and sometimes 'tis Englished with the Verb Auxiliary Do.

As,

Sing. { I do Thou dost He do } speak.	Plur. { We do You do They do } speak.
--	--

Now mind these following Phrases. As,

Je le fai, afin que vous m'aimiez,	I do it, that you may love me.
Dieu veuille qu'il vienne,	God grant that he may come.
Pourveu que tu parles,	Provided thou dost speak.
A moins qu'il ne le vende,	Unless he do sell it.

But, besides these two general Ways of rendering this Tense into English, there are several other particular Ways. And 1. by the first Future Tense, either with the Sign Shall;

As,

Faiten que chacun fasse sa part.	I mean that every one shall do his part.
---	--

Or with the Sign Will; and that after Verbs that signify believing, fearing, or doubting.

For Example,

Je ne croi pas qu'il le fasse,	I don't believe, that he will do it.
Pensez vous qu'il lui parle?	Do you believe he will speak to him?
Je crain qu'il ne se fâche,	I fear he will be angry.
Je ne doute point qu'il ne vienne,	I question not but that he will come.

2. This Tense is also made by Should, in English.

As,

Voulez vous que je vous fasse compagnie?	Are you willing that I should bear you company?
Je ne souhaite pas qu'il meure,	I do not wish that he should die.
A Dieu ne plaise que cela se fasse,	God forbid that should come to pass.

3. By the Present Tense of the Indicative Mood.

As,

Je suis ravi que vous vous portiez bien,	I am very glad that you are well.
Je suis fâché qu'il se porte mal,	I am sorry that he is ill.
Je ne dis pas qu'il soit Ivrogne,	I don't say that he is a Drunkard.
Il n'y a personne qui n'ait ses Defauts,	There's no body but hath his Failings.

Lastly, this Tense, after an Inforcing Verb, is Englished by the Infinitive Mood.

As,

Je veux qu'il parle,	I will have him speak.
Il faut que je me leve.	I must rise.

The Indefinite Tense.

Of Parler.

Que	That
Sing. { Je parlasse, Tu parlasses, Il parlât,	I might Thou mightest He might } speak.
Plur. { Nous parlussions, Vous parlassiez, Ils parlaient,	We might You might They might } speak.

Finir.

Que	That
Sing. { Je finisse, Tu finisses, Il finît,	I might Thou mightest He might } finish.
Plur. { Nous finissions, Vous finissiez, Ils finissent,	We might You might They might } finish.

Recevoir.

Que	That
Sing. { Je receusse, Tu receusses, Il receût,	I might Thou mightest He might } receive.
Plur. { Nous recevussions, Vous receussiez, Ils receussent,	We might You might They might } receive.

Vendre.

Que	That
Sing. { Je vendisse, Tu vendisses, Il vendît,	I might Thou mightest He might } sell.
Plur. { Nous vendissions, Vous vendissiez, Ils vendissent,	We might You might They might } sell.

THE GROUNDS

This is so mixt a Tense, that it relates to the Time past, present, and to come; and therefore I call it Indefinite.

As,

*Quoi qu'il l'aimât,
Afin que je le receusse,*

Though he might love him,
or though he loved him.
That I might receive him.

And in this last Sense, that is with relation to the Time to come, this Tense is also Englished by Would, and Should.

As,

*Je souhaiterois qu'il s'en allât,
De peur qu'il ne tombât,*

I wish he would go away.
Lest he should fall.

The remaining Tenses of this Mood are all Compound, and most of 'em Englished as in the Indicative Mood. As first,

The Preter Perfect Tense.

Sing. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'ai \\ Tu as \\ Il a \end{array} \right\} parlé,$

I have
Thou hast
He has } spoken.

Plur. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous ayons \\ Vous avez \\ Ils aient \end{array} \right\} parlé,$

We have
You have
They have } spoken.

And the rest accordingly.

This Tense does answer to the Compound Preter Perfect of the Indicative Mood, and does clearly arise from it. The same is mostly used after Conjunctions.

As,

*Quoi que je lui aie parlé,
Poursu qu'il l'ait fini,
Avant que nous l'ayons vendu,*

Though I have spoken to him.
Provided he has finished it.
Before we have sold it.

But sometimes it is used after a Superlative, and then it is followed by que.

As, for Example,

*C'est le plus beau Présent que
j'ai reçu,*

'Tis the finest Present that I have received.

The 1. Preter Pluperfect Tense.

Sing. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'aurais \\ Tu aurois \\ Il aurait \end{array} \right\} parlé,$

I had
Thou hadst
He had } spoken.

Plur. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous aurions \\ Vous auriez \\ Ils auraient \end{array} \right\} parlé,$

We had
You had
They had } spoken.

And the rest accordingly.

This Tense is also made English by these Signs, Could, Would, and Should. As, I could (would, or should) have spoken, &c.

Of all the Preter Tenses of this Mood, this is the most used of any without Conjunctions.

As,

*Je l'aurais tout à fait fini, si
je n'avois été interrompu,
Nous l'aurions aimé, s'il s'étoit bien conduit,*

I had quite finished it, if I had not been interrupted.
We had loved (or we could, should, or would have loved) him, if he had carried himself well.

The 2. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as the first.

Sing. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'eusse \\ Tu eusses \\ Il eût \end{array} \right\} parlé.$

Plur. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous eussions \\ Vous eussiez \\ Ils eussent \end{array} \right\} parlé.$

And the rest accordingly.

This Tense is never used but after Conjunctions.

As,

Si vous lui eussiez parlé,

If you had spoken to him, or had you spoke to him.

*Avant que je l'eusse fini,
Plût à Dieu que je l'eusse fait,*

Before I had finished it.
Would to God that I had done it.

The Future Tense Compound.

Sing. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} J'aurai \\ Tu auras \\ Il aura \end{array} \right\} parlé,$

I shall have Thou shalt have
He shall have } spoken.

Plur. $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Nous aurons \\ Vous aurez \\ Ils auront \end{array} \right\} parlé,$

We shall have
You shall have
They shall have } spoken.

And the rest accordingly.

Phrases to this Tense.

*Quand aurez vous fini?
J'aurai fait pour demain matin,*

When shall you have finished?
I shall have done by to morrow morning.

But, when this Tense is used (as frequently it is) after these Particles, quand, des que, lors que, après que, then the Sign Shall is commonly left out in English.

As,

*Quand vous l'aurez vendu, que
ferez vous de l'Argent?
Des que je lui aurai parlé, je vous viendrai voir.*

When you have sold it, what will you do with the Mony?
Assoon as I have spoke to him,
I shall wait upon you.

INFINITIVE MOOD.

This Mood, as I said before, has neither Numbers, nor Persons. And it consists only of two Tenses, one Simple, and one Compound; that relating to the Time Present and to come, and this to the Time past.

The Present and Future Tense.

*Parler, to speak.
Finir, to finish,*

*Recevoir, to receive.
Vendre, to sell.*

The Preter Tense.

Avoir $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} parlé, \\ fini, \\ reçu, \\ vendu, \end{array} \right\}$

To have $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} spoken. \\ finished. \\ received. \\ sold. \end{array} \right\}$

Now, whereas in English this Mood is used but with one Preposition, which is To. in French they use three Sorts of Prepositions, de, à, and pour. For which take these following Rules.

Pour is used, 1. when we express the End which a Thing is done for.

As,

*Je vien ici, pour vous dire des Nouvelles,
Je vous écris, pour vous aver-
tir, que,*

I come hither, to tell you
News.
I write to you, to acquaint you, that.

2. After the Word trop. As,

*Il a trop d'esprit, pour ne pas
prevoir cela,
Vous êtes trop savant, pour i-gnorer ces Choses,*

He has too much Wit, not to foresee that.
You are too great a Scholar, not to know this.

3. Pour is used in another Sense, as in these and the like Expressions.

*Il a peu profité, pour avoir été si long tems à l'Ecole,
Pour avoir tant voyagé, il n'en
est pas plus raffiné,*

He is but a small proficient, considering how long he has been at School.
Though he has travelled much, yet he has not learned much Wit.

A is

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

A is used 1. after these and the like Adjectives, bon, propre, enclin, sujet, pret, aisé, admirable, horrible; also, after these Substantives, Inclination, panchant, disposition, peine, and the like.

As,

Cela est bon à manger,	That's good to eat.
Une Chose aisée à faire,	A Thing easy to do.
Un Monstre horrible à voir,	A dreadful Monster to look upon.
Avoir un grand panchant à voyager,	To have a great Inclination to travel.
J'ai bien de la peine à le croire,	I have much ado to believe it.

2. After Verbs that signify to learn, to teach, exhort, move, incourage, incite, invite, dispose, or design.

As,

Apprendre à parler François,	To learn to speak French.
Montrez moi à faire cela,	Teach me how to do that.
Il m'a incité à le faire,	He has incouraged me to do it.
Je l'ai invité à dîner,	I have invited him to Dinner.

3. After these, commencer, continuer, aider, employer, aimer, passer le tems, prendre plaisir, travailler, songer, s'addonner, se mettre, s'amuser, s'accoutumer, s'opiniâtrer, se préparer, faillir, manquer, and the like.

As,

Il commence à travailler,	He begins to work.
S'accoutumer à faire une Chose.	To use himself to do a Thing.

4. In these, and the like Expressions. As,

J'ai quelque Chose à vous dire,	I have Something to tell you.
Il y a beaucoup à gagner,	There is a great deal to be got.
C'est à vous à parler,	You are to speak.

In other Cases, you may use the Preposition De.

But sometimes this Mood is Englished by a Verbal in ing.

As,

Passer son Tems à boire & à jouer,	To pass his Time in drinking and playing.
Prendre grand plaisir à chasser,	To take much delight in hunting.
Cela ne m'empêchera pas de l'aller voir,	That shan't hinder me from going to see him.
Je ne vous dissuade pas d'y aller,	I don't dissuade you from going.

The same it is, after the Preposition Sans. As,

Il ne partira pas, sans me dire Adieu,	He won't go away without taking his Leave of me.
Il est sorti, sans fermer la Porte,	He went out, without shutting the Door.
Sans faire semblant de rien,	Without taking any notice.

Or thus. As,

Sans être aidé de personne,	Without any body's help.
Sans être appelé,	Uncalled for.
Sans y penser,	Unawares.
Il a beaucoup d'Argent dans ses Coffres, sans parler de ses Revenus,	He is a great mony'd man, not to speak of his Revenues.

But, after Après, this Mood is commonly Englished by the Indicative.

As,

Après m'en être bien servi,	After I had used it a great while.
Après l'avoir bien censuré, il s'en alla,	When he had sharply rebuked him, he went his Way.

Lastly, 'tis observable, that the Present Tense of this Mood is sometimes used in French Substantively.

As,

Le manger & le Boire,	Eating and Drinking.
Le Savoir,	Learning.
Le Dormir,	Sleeping.

Thus you have a Model of the four Conjugations of Verbs Active, in a Regular Manner, together with the Use of their several Moods and Tenses. And now, to Conjugate any Regular Verb, 'tis but Observing the Characteristical Letter, I mean the Letter that precedes er in the Infinitive of the first Conjugation, ir in the second, oir in the third, re in the fourth. Then make it up throughout all the Persons of the Tenses Simple, with the same Terminating Letters as l has in parler, n in finir, c in recevoir, d in vendre. As for the Compound Tenses, I have already told you, under the 1. Preter Compound of the Indic. Mood, how to form the Participle used in those Tenses.

What remains is to, take a View of those Verbs, the Compound Tenses whereof are Conjugated with the other Auxiliary Verb, that is Etre to be. And those are either Neutral, or Reciprocal Verbs.

The Way of Conjugating the Compound Tenses of the Verbs Neuter.

In my general Account of the eight Parts of Speech, you have the Definition of all Sorts of Verbs, so as to know a Verb Active from a Neuter, and a Reciprocal from both.

Now you shall see wherein lies the Difference of Verbs Neuter from Active, as to the Way of Conjugating. Which consisting altogether in the Compound Tenses, I shall for bear mustering of any other.

Amongst all the Verbs Neuter that are Conjugated in a Regular manner, I take Tomber to fall, as a Model for the rest.

Indicative Mood.

The Preter Perfect Compound.

Sing. { Je suis Tu es Il est }	tombe,	I am } fals. Thou art } He is }
Plur. { Nous sommes Vous êtes Ils sont }	tombe,	We are } fals. You are } They are }

The 1. Preter Pluperfect.

Sing. { J'étois Tu étois Il étoit }	tombe,	I was } fals. Thou wast } He was }
Plur. { Nous étions Vous étiez Ils étoient }	tombez,	We were } fals. You were } They were }

The 2. Preter Pluperfect Tense, Englished as the first.

Sing. { Je fus Tu fus Il fut }	tombe.	Plur. { Nous fumes Vous fûtes Ils furent }	tombez.
---	---------------	---	----------------

Subjunctive Mood.

The Preter Perfect.

Sing. { Je sois Tu sois Il soit }	tombe,	I be } fals. Thou beest } He be }
Plur. { Nous soyons Vous soyez Ils soient }	tombez,	We be } fals. You be } They be }

The 1. Preter Pluperfect.

Sing. { Je serois Tu serois Il seroit }	tombe,	I had } fals. Thou hadst } He had }
Plur. { Nous serions Vous seriez Ils seroient }	tombez,	We had } fals. You had } They had }

The 2. Preter Pluperfect.

Sing. { Je fusse Tu fusses Il fût }	tombe,	I were } fals. Thou wert } He were }
Plur. { Nous fussions Vous fussiez Ils fussent }	tombez,	We were } fals. You were } They were }

The

THE GROUNDS

The Future Tense Compound.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je serai} \\ \text{Tu seras} \\ \text{Il sera} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{tombé,} \\ \text{tombée,} \\ \text{tombés,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{I am} \\ \text{Thou art} \\ \text{He is} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{faln.} \\ \text{faln.} \\ \text{faln.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous serons} \\ \text{Vous serez} \\ \text{Ils seront} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{tombés,} \\ \text{tombées,} \\ \text{tombés,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{We are} \\ \text{You are} \\ \text{They are} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{faln.} \\ \text{faln.} \\ \text{faln.} \end{array} \right\}$

As,

Quand je serai tombé, qui me relevera?

When I am faln, who shall get me up?

Infinitive Mood.

Etre tombé,

To be faln.

Now you must observe, that some Verbs have their Compound Tenses Conjugated both Ways, but in a different Sense. Such are these three, Monter, Passer, Sortir.

Monter. As,

*Je suis monté par là,
J'ai monté à Cheval, sous un
tel,*

I went up that Way.
I learnt to ride, under such a one.

Passer. As,

*Des qu'il fut passé,
Je passai la Rivière,*

Assoon as he were passed.
I went over the River.

Sortir. As,

*Il est sorti,
Il a sorti ce matin,*

He is gone out.
He has been abroad this morning.

Where note, that, Il a sorti ce matin, is the same as if one should say, Il est sorti & revenu, he went out and he is come back.

The Way to Conjugate Reciprocal Verbs.

There are but a few Verbs that are only used Reciprocally, such as se moquer to laugh at, se parjurer to forswear himself, se repentir to repent, s'enfuir to run away. But we call Reciprocal any Verb Active that takes upon it the Nature of those Verbs, by reciprocating the Action upon the Agent himself. So lever to raise becomes Reciprocal, when we say se lever to rise, to get up, or (to speak Word for Word) to raise himself.

Now all these Verbs, like the Neuter, have their Compound Tenses conjugated with the last Auxiliary Verb. But they have this Property besides, that it is done with these additional Pronouns, coming just before the Verb.

Viz.

$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{me,} \\ \text{te,} \\ \text{se,} \end{array} \right\}$ in the Singular.

$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{nous,} \\ \text{vous,} \\ \text{se,} \end{array} \right\}$ in the Plural.

Accordingly se lever, to get up, must be thus Conjugated.

Indicative Mood.

The Present Tense.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me leve,} \\ \text{Tu te leves,} \\ \text{Il se leve,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{I get} \\ \text{Thou gettest} \\ \text{He gets} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous levons,} \\ \text{Vous vous levez,} \\ \text{Ils se levent,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{We get} \\ \text{You get} \\ \text{They get} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \end{array} \right\}$

The Preter Imperfect Tense.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me levois,} \\ \text{Tu te levois,} \\ \text{Il se levoit,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{I was} \\ \text{Thou wast} \\ \text{He was} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{getting up.} \\ \text{getting up.} \\ \text{getting up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous levions,} \\ \text{Vous vous leviez,} \\ \text{Ils se levoient,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{We were} \\ \text{You were} \\ \text{They were} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{getting up.} \\ \text{getting up.} \\ \text{getting up.} \end{array} \right\}$

The Preter Perfect Simple.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me levai,} \\ \text{Tu te levais,} \\ \text{Il se leva,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{I got} \\ \text{Thou gottest} \\ \text{He got} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous levâmes,} \\ \text{Vous vous levâtes,} \\ \text{Ils se leverent,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{We got} \\ \text{You got} \\ \text{They got} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \end{array} \right\}$

The Preter Perfect Compound.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me suis} \\ \text{Tu t'es} \\ \text{Il s'est} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{levé.} \\ \text{levée.} \\ \text{levé.} \end{array} \right\}$	Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous sommes} \\ \text{Vous vous êtes} \\ \text{Ils se sont} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{levés.} \\ \text{levées.} \\ \text{levés.} \end{array} \right\}$
-------	--	---	-------	--	--

Englified as the foregoing Tense.

The 1. Preter Pluperfect.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je m'étois} \\ \text{Tu t'étois} \\ \text{Il s'étoit} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{levé.} \\ \text{levée.} \\ \text{levé.} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{I was} \\ \text{Thou wast} \\ \text{He was} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{got up.} \\ \text{got up.} \\ \text{got up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous étions} \\ \text{Vous vous étiez} \\ \text{Ils s'étoient} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{levés.} \\ \text{levées.} \\ \text{levés.} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{We were} \\ \text{You were} \\ \text{They were} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{got up.} \\ \text{got up.} \\ \text{got up.} \end{array} \right\}$

The 2. Preter Pluperfect, Englified as the first.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me fus} \\ \text{Tu te fus} \\ \text{Il se fut} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{levé.} \\ \text{levée.} \\ \text{levé.} \end{array} \right\}$	Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous fûmes} \\ \text{Vous vous fûtes} \\ \text{Ils se furent} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{levés.} \\ \text{levées.} \\ \text{levés.} \end{array} \right\}$
-------	--	---	-------	--	--

The 1. Future Tense.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me leverai, I shall} \\ \text{Tu te leveras, Thou shalt} \\ \text{Il se levera, He shall} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{will} \\ \text{or wilt} \\ \text{will} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous leverons, We shall} \\ \text{Vous vous leverez, You shall} \\ \text{Ils se leveront, They shall} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{will} \\ \text{or will} \\ \text{will} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \end{array} \right\}$

The 2. Future Tense.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me leverois, I would} \\ \text{Tu te leverois, Thou wouldst} \\ \text{Il se leveroit, He would} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{should} \\ \text{or shouldst} \\ \text{should} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous leverions, We would} \\ \text{Vous vous leveriez, You would} \\ \text{Ils se leveroient, They would} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{should} \\ \text{or should} \\ \text{should} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \\ \text{get up.} \end{array} \right\}$

Imperative Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Lève toi, get} \\ \text{Qu'il se leve, let him get} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \end{array} \right\}$
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Levons nous, let us get} \\ \text{Levez vous, get} \\ \text{Qu'ils se levent, let them get} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \\ \text{up.} \end{array} \right\}$

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present and Future Tense.

	Que	That
Sing.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Je me leve,} \\ \text{Tu te levers,} \\ \text{Il se leve,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{I may} \\ \text{Thou mayst} \\ \text{He may} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \\ \\ \end{array} \right\}$ get up.
Plur.	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{Nous nous levions,} \\ \text{Vous vous leviez,} \\ \text{Ils se levent,} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{We may} \\ \text{You may} \\ \text{They may} \end{array} \right\}$	$\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \\ \\ \end{array} \right\}$ get up.

The

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

The Indefinite Tense.

Que	That
Sing. { Je me levais, Tu te levasses, Il se levât,	I might Thou mightest He might } get up.
Plur. { Nous nous levassions, Vous vous levassiez, Ils se levassent,	We might You might They might } get up.

The Preter Perfect Tense.

Sing. { Je me suis levé, Tu te sois levé, Il se soit levé,	I be Thou beest He be } got up.
Plur. { Nous nous soyons levés, Vous vous soyez levés, Ils se soient levés,	We be You be They be } got up.

The 1. Preter Pluperfect.

Sing. { Je me serais levé, Tu te serais levé, Il se serait levé,	I had Thou hadst He had } got up.
Plur. { Nous nous serions levés, Vous vous seriez levés, Ils se seraient levés,	We had You had They had } got up.

The 2. Preter Pluperfect, Englished as the first.

Sing. { Je me fusse levé, Tu te fusses levé, Il se fût levé,	I had Thou hadst He had } got up.
Plur. { Nous nous fussions levés, Vous vous fussiez levés, Ils se fussent levés,	We had You had They had } got up.

The Future Tense Compound.

Sing. { Je me serai levé, Tu te seras levé, Il se sera levé,	I shall be Thou shalt be He shall be } got up.
Plur. { Nous nous serons levés, Vous vous serez levés, Ils se seront levés,	We shall be You shall be They shall be } got up.

Infinitive Mood.

Se lever, S'être levé,	To get up. To be got up.
---	-----------------------------

One Thing is Observable concerning these Reciprocal Verbs, That, whereas Some of 'em are Englished by a Verb Neuter, as the foregoing Verbs s'enfuir to run away, se repentir to repent, and se lever to rise; Others are made English, according to the French, by a Verb Active and the Reciprocal Pronoun himself, or herself. As, s'appeler to call himself, se cacher to hide himself, or herself.

The Way to Conjugate Verbs, with the Negative Particles, and with an Interrogation.

The French do commonly use two Negative Particles together, ne and pas, the last of these being but an expletive Particle, and as it were an Attendant of Ne. And they must be thus placed.

As for Example,

Je ne parle Tu ne parles Il ne parle	{ pas,	I do not Thou dost not He do's not	} speak.
Nous ne parlons Vous ne parlez Ils ne parlent	{ pas,	We do not You do not They do not	} speak.
Je ne me lève Tu ne te lèves Il ne se lève	{ pas,	I do not Thou dost not He do's not	} get up.

Nous ne nous levons Vous ne vous levez Ils ne se levent	{ pas,	We do not You do not They do not	} get up.
--	---------------	--	-----------

And in Compound Tenses,

Je n'ai pas Tu n'as pas Il n'a pas	{ parlé,	I have not Thou hast not He has not	} spoke.
Nous n'avons pas Vous n'avez pas Ils n'ont pas	{ parlé,	We have not You have not They have not	} spoke.
Je ne me suis pas Tu ne t'es pas Il ne s'est pas	{ levé,	I did not Thou didst not He did not	} get up.
Nous ne nous sommes pas Vous ne vous êtes pas Ils ne se sont pas	{ levé,	We did not You did not They did not	} get up.

With an Interrogation, and without the Negative Particles, you must say thus.

Parle je ? Parles tu ? Parle-t-il ?	Do I Dost thou Does he	} speak ?
Parlons nous ? Parlez vous ? Parlent ils ?	Do we Do you Do they	} speak ?
Me lève je ? Te lèves tu ? Se lève-t-il ?	Do I Dost thou Does he	} get up ?
Nous levons nous ? Vous levez vous ? Se levent ils ?	Do we Do you Do they	} get up ?

And in their Compound Tenses.

Ai je As tu A-t-il	{ parlé ?	Have I Hast thou Has he	} spoke ?
Avons nous Avez vous Ont ils	{ parlé ?	Have we Have you Have they	} spoke ?
Me suis je T'es tu S'est-il	{ levé ?	Did I Didst thou Did he	} get up ?
Nous sommes nous Vous êtes vous Se sont ils	{ levé ?	Did we Did you Did they	} get up ?

With the Negative Particles, you must say, for Example,

Ne parle je Ne parles tu Ne parle-t-il	{ pas ?	Do not I Dost not thou Does not he	} speak ?
Ne parlons nous Ne parlez vous Ne parlent ils	{ pas ?	Do not we Do not you Do not they	} speak ?
Ne me lève je Ne te lèves tu Ne se lève-t-il	{ pas ?	Do not I Dost not thou Does not he	} get up ?
Ne nous levons nous Ne vous levez vous Ne se levent ils	{ pas ?	Do not we Do not you Do not they	} get up ?

And in their Compound Tenses.

N'ai je pas N'as tu pas N'a-t il pas	{ parlé ?	Have I not Hast thou not Has he not	} spoke ?
N'avons nous pas N'avez vous pas N'ont ils pas	{ parlé ?	Have we not Have you not Have they not	} spoke ?
Ne me suis je pas Ne t'es tu pas Ne s'est il pas	{ levé ?	Did not I Didst not thou Did not he	} get up ?
Ne nous sommes nous pas Ne vous êtes vous pas Ne se sont ils pas	{ levé ?	Did not we Did not you Did not they	} get up ?

Now

Now these Interrogations are in use but in the Indicative Mood, in the 1. Preter-pluperfect of the Subjunctive, and the Future of the same Mood.

What remains is to shew you, how the Negative is placed in the Imperative, which is thus.

As,
Ne parle	} pas,	Do not	} speak.
Qu'il ne parle		Let him not
Ne parlons	} pas,	Let us not	} speak.
Ne parlez		Do not you
Qu'ils ne parlent		Let them not
Ne te leve	} pas,	Do not thou	} get up.
Qu'il ne se leve		Let him not
Ne nous levons	} pas,	Let us not	} get up.
Ne vous levez		Do not you
Qu'ils ne se levent		Let them not

As for these two Pronominal Particles, en and y, which are so often intermixt with Verbs, but chiefly Active and Neuter, the Way to place 'em is betwixt the Person and the Verb. For example, J'en parle I speak of it, J'y vai I go thither; J'en ai parlé I have spoke of it, J'y suis allé I went thither.

But, in the first and second Persons of the Imperative Mood, you must say *Parle-*en speak of it, *Parlons *en, let us speak of it, *Parlez *en do you speak of it. *Va-*y go thou thither, *Allons *y let us go thither, *Allez *y go you thither.

With a Negative, 'tis but turning ne into n'en, and n'y. As je n'en parle pas I do not speak of it, je n'y vai pas I do not go thither; je n'en ai pas parlé I did not speak of it, je n'y suis pas allé I did not go thither.

The same Rule must be observed, in Case of an Interrogation.

As for Verbs Reciprocal, such as s'en aller to go away, s'en retourner to go back, you must say for example, Je m'en vai I go away, Je m'en suis allé I went away. Je ne m'en vai pas I do not go away, Je ne m'en suis pas allé I did not go away.

And with an Interrogation, M'en vai je? do I go away? M'en suis je allé? did I go away? Ne m'en vai je pas? do not I go away? Ne m'en suis je pas allé? did not I go away?

But, when the other Particle comes in along with it, the same has the precedency. As, je m'y en vai I am going thither, il s'y en est allé he is gone thither.

Of Irregular and Defective Verbs.

In the 1. Conjugation, we have two Irregular Verbs; to wit, Aller to go, Puer to stink.

Aller is thus Conjugated. Je vai, tu vas, il va, Nous allons, vous allez, ils vont. J'allais. Je suis, j'étais, je fus allé. J'irai. J'irons. Va, qu'il aille. Allons, allez, qu'ils aillent. Que j'aille, que tu ailles, qu'il aille, que nous allions, que vous alliez, qu'ils aillent. J'allasse. Je sois, je serois, je fusse, je serai allé. Etre allé.

Puer is a Verb Defective, as well as Irregular. The same is thus Conjugated; Je pus, tu pus, il put. Nous puons, vous puez, ils puent. Je puais, je purai, je purais. Pus, qu'il pue, puons, puez, qu'ils puent. Que je pue, que tu pues, qu'il pue, que nous puyions, que vous puez, qu'ils puent.

There's scarce any Thing else in use.

In the II. Conjugation, These are Irregular.

Ouvrir to open.	Requerir to require.
Couvrir to cover.	Conquerir to conquer.
Offrir to offer.	Servir to serve.
Souffrir to suffer.	Dormir to sleep.
Cueillir to gather.	Sortir to go out.
Mentir to lie.	Mourir to die.
Sentir to feel, or smell.	Partir to depart.
Tenir to hold.	Courir to run.
Venir to come.	Fuir to fly.
Acquerir to acquire.	Ouir to hear.

Besides their Compounds.

To which add these Defective Verbs.

Vetir, revetir , to clothe.	Assaillir to assault.
Bouillir to boyl.	Faillir to fail.
Accueillir to receive.	Querir to fetch.
Asservir to subject.

Amongst the first, some are Conjugated more or less Irregularly. Some have their Compound Tenses formed with the Verb Avoir, and others with the Verb Etre, according to the Rule of Verbs Active and Neuter.

The first are thus Conjugated.

Only I shall omit these three; which are every where Conjugated, Requerir, } as Acquerir.

Conquerir, } as Mentir.

Sentir, as Mentir.

Indicative Mood.

Present Tense.

Ouvrir .	Pouvoir , tu ouvres, il ouvre, Nous ouvrons, vous ouvrez, ils ouvrent.
Couvrir .	Je couvre , } &c. as in the Verb Ouvrir .
Offrir .	J'offre , }
Souffrir .	Je souffre , }
Cueillir .	Je cueille , tu cueilles, il cueille, Nous cueillons, vous cueillez, ils cueillent.
Mentir .	Je mens , tu mens, il ment, Nous mentons, vous mentez, ils mentent.
Tenir .	Je tiens , tu tiens, il tient, Nous tenons, vous tenez, ils tiennent.
Venir .	Je vien , &c. as in the Verb Tenir .
Acquerir .	J'acquiers , tu acquiers, il acquiert, Nous acquérons, vous acquerez, ils acquierent.
Servir .	Je sers , tu sers, il sert, Nous servons, vous servez, ils servent.
Dormir .	Je dors , tu dors, il dort, Nous dormons, vous dormez, ils dorment.
Sortir .	Je sors , tu sors, il sort, Nous sortons, vous sortez, ils sortent.
Mourir .	Je meurs , tu meurs, il meurt, Nous mourons, vous mourez, ils meurent.
Partir .	Je pars , tu pars, il part, Nous partons, vous partez, ils partent.
Courir .	Je cours , tu cours, il court, Nous courons, vous courez, ils courent.
Fuir .	Je fuis , tu fuis, il fuit, Nous fuyons, vous fuyez, ils fuient.
Ouir .	J'ois , tu ois, il oit, Nous oyons, vous oyez, ils oient.

The Preter Tenses Simple.

Ouvrir .	Pouvrais , Pouvris .
Couvrir .	Je couvrais , Je couvris .
Offrir .	J'offrais , J'offris .
Souffrir .	Je souffrais , Je souffris .
Cueillir .	Je cueillais , Je cueillis .
Mentir .	Je mentais , Je mentis .
Tenir .	Je tenais , Je tins , tu tins, il tint, Nous tinmes, vous tîmes, ils tinrent.
Venir .	As Tenir .
Acquerir .	P'acquies , J'acquies .
Servir .	Je servais , Je servis .
Dormir .	Je dormais , Je dormis .
Sortir .	Je sortais , Je sortis .
Mourir .	Je mourais . But in the Preter Perfect these Persons only are in Use, Ji mourut , ils moururent .
Partir .	Je partais , Je partis .
Courir .	Je courais , Je courus .
Fuir .	Je fuyais , Je fus .
Ouir .	J'oyais , J'ouis .

The Preter Tenses Compound.

Ouvrir .	} J'ai , J'avois , J'en	ouvert .
Couvrir .		couvert .
Offrir .		offert .
Souffrir .		souffert .
Cueillir .		cueilli .
Mentir .		menti .
Tenir .		tenu .
Acquerir .		acquis .
Servir .		servi .
Dormir .		dormi .
Courir .	} Je suis , J'étais , Je fus	couru .
Fuir .		fui .
Ouir .		oui .
Venir .		venu .
Sortir .	}	sorti .
Partir .		parti .

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

The Future Tenses.

These two Tenses are Regular. Except, from

Cueillir.	Je cueillerai, Je cueillerois,
Tenir.	Je tiendrai, Je tiendrois,
Venir.	Je viendrai, Je viendrois,
Acquerir.	Je acquerrai, Je acquerrois,
Mourir.	Je mourrai, Je mourrois,
Courir.	Je courrai, Je courrois,
Oùir.	Je oùirai, Je oùirois.

Imperative Mood.

Ouvrir.	Ouvre, qu'il ouvre, Ouvrons, ouvrez, qu'ils ouvrent.
Cueillir.	Cueille, qu'il cueille, Cueillons, cueillez, qu'ils cueillent.
Mentir.	Mens, qu'il mente, Mentons, mentez, qu'ils mentent.
Tenir.	Tiens, qu'il tienne, Tenons, tenez, qu'ils tiennent.
Venir.	As Tenir.
Acquerir.	Acquiers, qu'il acquiere, Acquerons, acquerez, qu'ils acquierent.
Servir.	Sers, qu'il serve, Servons, servez, qu'ils servent.
Dormir.	Dors, qu'il dorme, Dormons, dormez, qu'ils dorment.
Sortir.	Sors, qu'il sorte, Sortons, sortez, qu'ils sortent.
Mourir.	Meurs, qu'il meure, Mourons, mourez, qu'ils meurent.
Partir.	Part, qu'il parte, Partons, partez, qu'ils partent.
Courir.	Cours, qu'il coure, Courons, courez, qu'ils courent.
Fuir.	Fuis, qu'il fuie, Fuyons, fuyez, qu'ils fuient.
Oùir.	Ois, qu'il oie, Oions, oyez, qu'ils oient.

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present, and Future Tense.

Ouvrir.	Que	Fouvre, tu ouvres, il ouvre, Nous ouvrons, vous ouvrez, ils ouvrent.
Courir.		Je coure,
Offrir.		Je offre,
Souffrir.		Je souffre,
		&c. as in the Verb Ouvrir.
Cueillir.		Je cueille.
Mentir.		Je mente.
Tenir.		Je tiens, tu tiennes, il tienne, Nous tenons, vous tenez, ils tiennent.
Venir.		Je vienne, &c. as in Tenir.
Acquerir.		Je acquiere, tu acquies, il acquiere, Nous acquérons, vous acquiez, ils acquierent.
Servir.		Je serve.
Dormir.		Je dorme.
Sortir.		Je sorte.
Mourir.		Je meure, tu meures, il meure, Nous mourons, vous mouriez, ils meurent.
Partir.		Je parte.
Courir.		Je coure.
Fuir.		Je fuie, tu fuies, il fuie, Nous fuyons, vous fuyez, ils fuient.
Oùir.		Je oùie, tu oùies, il oùie, Nous oùions, vous oùiez, ils oùient.

The Indefinite Tense.

This Tense is the least Irregular of any. For, as finir makes finisse, so we say Fouvrisse, Je cueillisse, mentisse, servisse, dormisse, sortisse, partisse, fuisse, oùisse.

But

Tenir	} makes	Tinse.
Venir		Vinse.
Acquerir		Acquisse.
Mourir		Mourusse.
Courir		Courusse.

The Preters, and Future Compound.

Ouvrir.	} Faie, F'auois, F'eusse, and F'aurai	ouvert.
Cueillir.		cueilli.
Mentir.		menti.
Tenir.		tenu.
Acquerir.		acquis.
Servir.		servi.
Dormir.		dormi.
Courir.		couru.
Fuir.		fui.
Oùir.		ouï.

Venir.	} Je sois, Je serois, Je fusse, and Je serai	venu.
Sortir.		sorti.
Mourir.		mort.
Partir.		parti.

Now, for the Preter Tense of the Infinitive Mood, 'tis but putting Avoir before the Participle, as avoir ouvert, cueilli, &c. and être before these, venu, sorti, mort, parti.

Note, that the Verb Oùir is something harsh, especially in some Tenses. Therefore, instead of it, the French do frequently use the Verb Entendre.

The Compounds are,

Ouvrir.	R'ouvrir, to open again.
Couvrir.	Decouvrir, to discover. Recouvrir, to cover again.
Cueillir.	Recueillir, to gather.
Mentir.	Démentir, to give the lie.
Sentir.	Consentir, to consent. Présentir, to foresee. Réssentir, to resent.
Tenir.	Contenir, to contain. Detenir, to detain. Maintenir, to maintain. Obtenir, to obtain. Retenir, to retain. Soutenir, to bear up.
Venir.	Avenir, to happen. Convenir, to agree. Contrevenir, to contravene, or act contrary to. Devenir, to become. Intervenir, to intervene. Parvenir, to attain. Provenir, to proceed. Revenir, to come back. Subvenir, to relieve. Survénir, to happen.
Conquerir.	Reconquerir, to conquer again.
Servir.	Desservir, to take away.
Partir.	Repartir, to reply.
Courir.	Accourir, to run to. Concourir, to concur. Recourir, to have recourse. Secourir, to succour.

Amongst which, these three from Venir, viz. Contrevenir, Prevenir, and Subvenir have their Compound Tenses Conjugated by the Verb Avoir. The same it is with Repartir, to reply; and, when it signifies to share (or divide) again, it is conjugated in a regular Way, like Finir.

As for these Reciprocal, s'abstenir, se repentir, s'enquérir, se souvenir, se resouvenir, they have all their Compound Tenses like the other Reciprocal Verbs; and for the rest, the first is Conjugated like Tenir, the second like Mentir, the third like Acquerir, and the two last like Venir.

Amongst the Defective Verbs of this Conjugation, Venir is hardly used any where but in these Tenses, Je viens, Fai, Favois, Feu, vetu, Je vetrais, Je vetirois, Je vetisse, Fais, Faurois, Fuisse, Faurai, vetu, Vetir, Avoir vetu. The same it is with its Compound Revenir. Only the Present Tense Indic. Mood may be used, except in the first Persons. The Imper. Mood may likewise be used, thus; Reviens, qu'il revête, Revenons, revetez, qu'ils revêtent.

Bouillir has scarce any Thing but these third Persons in Use, Il bout, ils bouillent. Il bouilloit, ils bouilloient. Il a, ils ont bouilli. Il eut, ils eurent bouilli. Il bouillira, ils bouilliront. Il bouilliroit, ils bouilliroient. Qu'il bouille, qu'ils bouillent. Qu'il bouillit, qu'ils bouillissent. Il ait, ils aient bouilli. Il auroit, ils auroient bouilli. Il eût, ils eussent bouilli. Il aura, ils auront bouilli. Bouillir, Avoir bouilli.

Accueillir is little in Use but in the Compound Tenses, where you must say Accueilli; and there it is used but seldom too. For the Verb grows out of date, and Recevoir is the Word instead of it.

Affervir. Besides the Preter Perfect Simple Fasservis, the two Future Tenses Fasservirai and Fasservirois, and the Infinitive it self Affervir, this Verb has nothing in Use but the Compound Tenses, which are according to Rule.

Assaillir. This Verb grows out of date, and Attaquer is the Word used instead of it. Except the Preter Perfect Simple Fassaillis, nothing but the Compound Tenses can properly be used.

Faillir. besides the Preter Perfect Simple Je faillis, this Verb is hardly any where else in Use, but in its Compound Tenses, for which say failli.

Querir is never used but in the Infinitive, nor that neither but with with a Verb before it, such as aller, envoyer, &c. As, allez quérir mon Chapeau, go fetch my Hat.

THE GROUNDS

Gefir is an obsolete Verb, whereof there's scarce any thing left in Use but this Person Gir, and that chiefly in Epitaphs; As, Cy gir, &c. Here lyes, &c.

In the III. Conjugation, you will find these Irregular Verbs.

Viz.

Voir to see.	Savoir to know.
Avoir to have.	Valoir to be worth.
Emouvoir to move.	Vouloir to will.
Pouvoir to be able.

Besides their Compounds.

To which add these Defective Verbs;

Mouvoir to move.	Ravoir to recover.
Choir to fall.	Assoir to sit.
Dec choir to decay.	Surseoir to suspend.
E choir to expire.

The first are thus Conjugated.

But, to avoid a needless Tautology, I shall pass by Avoir, the Auxiliary Verb.

Indicative Mood.

The Present Tense.

Voir.	Je voi, tu vois, il voit, Nous voyons, vous voyez, ils voient.
Emouvoir.	J'emeus, tu emeus, il emeut, Nous emouvons, vous emouvez, ils emeuvent.
Pouvoir.	Je puis, tu peux, il peut, Nous pouvons, vous pouvez, ils peuvent.
Savoir.	Je sais, tu sais, il sait, Nous savons, vous savez, ils savent.
Valoir.	Je vau, tu vau, il vaut, Nous valons, vous valez, ils valent.
Vouloir.	Je veux, tu veux, il veut, Nous voulons, vous voulez, ils veulent.

The Preter Tenses Simple.

Voir.	Je voyois; Je vid, tu vis, il vid, Nous vimes, vous vites, ils virent.
Emouvoir.	J'emouvois; J'emus, tu emus, il emut, Nous emumes, vous emutes, ils emurent.
Pouvoir.	Je pouvois; Je pus, tu pus, il put, Nous pûmes, vous pûtes, ils purent.
Savoir.	Je savois, Je seu.
Valoir.	Je valois, Je valu.
Vouloir.	Je voulois, Je voulus.

These 3. last being Conjugated in their Persons, like Je pus.

The Preter Tenses Compound.

Voir.	} Fai, J'avois	} veu. emeu. pû. seu. valu. voulu.
Emouvoir.
Pouvoir.
Savoir.
Vouloir.

The Future Tenses.

Voir.	Je verrai, Je verrois.
Emouvoir.	J'emourrai, J'emourrois.
Pouvoir.	Je pourrai, Je pourrois.
Savoir.	Je saurai, Je saurois.
Valoir.	Je vaudrai, Je vaudrois.
Vouloir.	Je voudrai, Je voudrois.

Imperative Mood.

Voir.	Voi, qu'il voie, Voyons, voyez, qu'ils voient.
Emouvoir.	Emeu, qu'il emeuve, Emouvons, emouvez, qu'ils emeuvent.
Savoir.	Sache, qu'il sache, Sachons, sachez, qu'ils sachent.
Vouloir.	Veuille.

Pouvoir and Valoir have no Imperative.

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present, and Future Tense.

Voir.	} Que	Je voie, tu voies, il voie, Nous voyions, vous voyiez, ils voient.
Emouvoir.		J'emeuve, tu emeuves, il emeuve, Nous emouvions, vous emouviez, ils emeuvent.
Pouvoir.		Je puisse, tu puisses, il puisse, Nous puissions, vous puissiez, ils puissent.
Savoir.		Je sache, tu saches, il sache, Nous sachions, vous sachiez, ils sachent.
Valoir.		Je vaille, tu vailles, il vaille, Nous valions, vous valiez, ils valient.
Vouloir.		Je veuille, tu veuilles, il veuille, Nous voulions, vous vouliez, ils vouluient.

The Indefinite Tense.

Voir.	Je visse, tu visses, il vit, Nous vissions, vous vissiez, ils vissent.
Emouvoir.	J'emusse, tu emusses, il emût, Nous emussions, vous emussiez, ils emussent.
Pouvoir.	Je pusse.
Savoir.	Je sceusse.
Valoir.	Je valusse.
Vouloir.	Je voulusse.

&c. as in the Verb Emouvoir.

The Preters, and Future Compound.

Voir.	} Fais, Faurais, Feusse, and F'aurai	} veu. emeu. pû. seu. valu. voulu.
Emouvoir.
Pouvoir.
Savoir.
Vouloir.

Infinitive Mood.

The Preter Tense.

Voir.	} Avoir	} veu. emeu. pû. seu. valu. voulu.
Emouvoir.
Pouvoir.
Savoir.
Vouloir.

Their Compounds are

Of	} Voir.	Entrevoir, to have a glimpse of.
		Prevoir, to foresee.
		Pourvoir, to provide.
		Revoir, to see again, to revise.
	Valoir.	Prevaloir, to prevail.

Entrevoir & Revoir are Conjugated like Voir; but the other two Compounds vary from their Simple in four Tenses, viz. the Preter Perfect Simple, together with the two Future Tenses of the Indicative Mood, and the Indefinite Tense of the Subjunctive. Where you must say, Je preveu, Je prévoirai, Je prévoirai, Je preveuise; Je pourveu, Je pourvoirai, Je pourvoirai, Je pourveuise.

Prevaloir is every where Conjugated like Valoir.

Amongst the Defective Verbs, I reckoned in the first place Mouvoir, which is nothing near so much used as its forefaid Compound Emouvoir. Besides the Infinitive Mouvoir, the Present Tense Indicative Mood may be used, together with the two Preters Perfect, Conjugated in all points like Emouvoir, the first Letter only being left out.

Choir is only used by Poets, and that but figuratively, in some of the Compound Tenses; as, il est chu, il sera chu, &c.

Its two Compounds, Dec choir and E choir, are much more in Use, though they be Defective too. We say Je dec choi, tu dec chois, il dec choit. Je dec cheu. Je suis, J'étois, Je fus dec cheu. Etre dec cheu. The same it is with E choir.

Ravoir, a Compound of Avoir, is no where used but in the Infinitive.

Assoir, a Compound of the Reciprocal, but Defective Verb Se seoir, is used but in these Tenses; Fassis. Fai, F'avois, Feu assis. F'assierai. F'assierois. Que j'asseye. F'ais, F'aurais, F'eusse, F'aurai assis. Assoir. Avoir Assis.

Surseoir is Conjugated after the same manner, except the Future Tenses, which are thus, Je surseoirai, Je surseoirois.

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Se Seoir is only used Reciprocally; and that scarce any where but in the Infinitive, and this Person of the Imperative seyez vous, sit you down.

But its Compound S'asseoir, to sit down, may be used in all the Tenses, thus. As, je m'assieds, tu t'assieds, il s'assied, Nous nous asseyons, vous vous asseyez, ils s'assient. Je m'asseyois. Je m'assis. Je me suis, Je m'etois, Je me fus assis. Je m'assierai. Je m'assierois. Assied toi, qu'il s'assie, Assieyons nous, asseyez vous, qu'ils s'assient. Que je m'asseye, que tu t'asseyes, qu'il s'asseye, Que nous nous asseyons, que vous vous asseyez, qu'ils s'assient. Je m'assisse. Je me sois, Je me serois, Je me fusse, and Je me serai assis. S'asseoir. S'être assis.

The IV. Conjugation has much more Variety in it than any of the former. Therefore we shall divide the Irregular Verbs of this Conjugation into two Classes; the first containing those, whose Infinitive ends with a Consonant before re; and the second, such as end with a Vowel before re, in the said Mood.

As to the first, 'tis Observable, that some Verbs ending in dre differ only from Vendre, the Model of the fourth Conjugation, in the Spelling of the two first Persons. For, whereas I spelt Je ven, tu vends, and the Imperative Ven, without a d; there are some of these Verbs, where the d must come in; As, pendre, fendre, perdre, mordre, tordre, fondre, tondre, and the like. Except defendre, where the said Consonant is left out, as in Vendre.

The Irregular Verbs, of this first Class, are

Prendre to take.	Batre to beat.
Craindre to fear.	Mettre to put.
Coudre to sew.	Naître to be born.
Moudre to grind.	Repaitre to feed.
Resoudre to resolve.	Connoître to know.
Absoudre to absolve.	Suivre to follow.
Vaincre to vanquish.	Vivre to live.
Rompre to break.

With their Compounds.

Observe in the mean time, that, as in the 3. Conjugation I left out the Verb Avoir, so I have in this the Verb Etre, they being both at length in the front of all the Verbs.

Indicative Mood.

The Present Tense.

Prendre.	Je pren, tu prends, il prend, Nous prenons, vous prenez, ils prennent.
Craindre.	Je crain, tu crains, il craint, Nous craignons, vous craignez, ils craignent.
Coudre.	Je coud, tu couds, il coud, Nous cousons, vous cousez, ils cousent.
Moudre.	Je moud, tu mouds, il moud, Nous moulons, vous moulez, ils moulent.
Resoudre.	Je resoud, tu resous, il resout, Nous resolvons, vous résolvez, ils résolvent.
Absoudre.	P'absolve, &c. as in the Verb Resoudre.
Vaincre.	Je vain, tu vains, il vaint, Nous vainquons, vous vainquez, ils vainquent.
Rompre.	Je roms, tu roms, il romt, Nous rompons, vous rompez, ils rompent.
Batre.	Je bat, tu bats, il bat, Nous batons, vous batez, ils battent.
Mettre.	Je met, tu mets, il met, Nous mettons, vous mettez, ils mettent.
Naître.	Je nais, tu nais, il naît, Nous naissons, vous naissez, ils naissent.
Repaitre.	Je repais, &c. according to the Verb Naître.
Connoître.	Je conoi, tu conois, il conoit, Nous connoissons, vous connoissez, ils connoissent.
Suivre.	Je suis, tu suis, il suit, Nous suivons, vous suivez, ils suivent.
Vivre.	Je vis, tu vis, il vit, Nous vivons, vous vivez, ils vivent.

The Preter Tenses Simple.

Prendre.	Je prenois, Je pris.
Craindre.	Je craignois, Je craignis.
Coudre.	Je cousois, Je cousis.
Moudre.	Je mourois, Je moulu.
Resoudre.	Je resolvois, Je resolu.
Absoudre.	P'absolvais, P'absolvus.
Vaincre.	Je vainquois, Je vainquis.
Rompre.	Je rompois, Je rompis.
Batre.	Je battois, Je battis.
Mettre.	Je mettois, Je mis.
Naître.	Je naissois, Je nâquis.
Repaitre.	Je repaissois, Je repai.
Connoître.	Je connoissois, Je conus.

Suivre.	Je suivais, Je suivis.
Vivre.	Je vivois, Je vécus, or vécu.

The Preter Tenses Compound.

Prendre.	Fais, Faisois, Feu	pris.
Craindre.		craint.
Coudre.		cousu.
Moudre.		moulu.
Resoudre.		resolu.
Absoudre.		absous.
Vaincre.		vaincu.
Rompre.		rompu.
Batre.		battu.
Mettre.		mis.
Repaitre.		repeu.
Connoître.		conu.
Suivre.		suiu.
Vivre.		vecu.

Naître. Je suis, J'etois, Je fus né.

The Future Tenses are Regular.

So Prendre makes Je prendrai, Je prendrons; Craindre, Je craindrai, Je craindrons; &c.

Imperative Mood.

Prendre.	Prends, qu'il prenne, Prenons, prenez, qu'ils prennent.
Craindre.	Crains, qu'il craigne, Craignons, craignez, qu'ils craignent.
Coudre.	Cous, qu'il couse, Cousons, cousez, qu'ils cousent.
Moudre.	Moud, qu'il moule, Moulons, moulez, qu'ils moulent.
Resoudre.	Resous, qu'il resolve, Resolvons, résolvez, qu'ils résolvent.
Absoudre.	As Resoudre.
Vaincre.	Vain, qu'il vaille, Vainquons, vainquez, qu'ils vainquent.
Rompre.	Romp, qu'il rompe, Rompons, rompez, qu'ils rompent.
Batre.	Bat, qu'il bâte, Batons, batez, qu'ils battent.
Mettre.	Mets, qu'il mette, Mettons, mettez, qu'ils mettent.
Naître.	Qu'il naisse, qu'ils naissent. The rest is wanting.
Repaitre.	Repais, qu'il repaie, Repaissons, repaissez, qu'ils repaissent.
Connoître.	Conois, qu'il conoisse, Connoissons, connoissez, qu'ils connoissent.
Suivre.	Suis, qu'il suive, Suivons, suivez, qu'ils suivent.
Vivre.	Vi, qu'il vive, Vivons, vivez, qu'ils vivent.

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present, and Future Tense.

Prendre.	Que	Je prenne, tu prennes, il prenne, Nous prenions, vous preniez, ils prennent.
Craindre.		Je craigne, tu craignes, il craigne, Nous craignons, vous craigniez, ils craignent.
Coudre.		Je couse, tu couses, il couse, Nous cousions, vous cousiez, ils cousent.
Moudre.		Je moule, tu moulas, il moule, Nous moulions, vous mouliez, ils moulent.
Resoudre.		Je resolve, tu resolves, il resolve, Nous resolvions, vous résolviez, ils résolvent.
Absoudre.		P'absolve, &c. as in the Verb Resoudre.
Vaincre.		Je vaille, tu vailles, il vaille, Nous vainquions, vous vainquiez, ils vainquent.
Naître.		Je naisse, tu naisses, il naisse, Nous naissons, vous naissez, ils naissent.
Repaitre.		Je repaie, &c. as in the Verb Naître.
Connoître.		Je conoisse, tu conoisses, il conoisse, Nous conoissions, vous conoissiez, ils conoissent.

The rest, viz. Rompre, Batre, Mettre, Suivre, and Vivre, form this Tense in a Regular manner, thus. Je rompe, bate, mette, suive, vive, &c.

The Indefinite Tense,

Prendre.	Je	prisse.	Batre.	Je	batisse.
Craindre.		craignisse.	Mettre.		missé.
Coudre.		coufisse.	Naître.		nâquisse.
Moudre.		moulusse.	Repaitre.		repeusse.
Resoudre.		resolusse.	Connoître.		conusse.
Vaincre.		vainquisse.	Suivre.		suivisse.
Rompre.		rompisse.	Vivre.		vecusse.

THE GROUNDS

The Preters, and Future Compound

Prendre.	Faire, Faurai, Fuisse, and Faurai	pris.
Craindre.		crain.
Coudre.		coufu.
Moudre.		moulu.
Refoudre.		refolu.
Absoudre.		absolu.
Vaincre.		vaincu.
Rompre.		rompu.
Batre.		batu.
Mettre.		mis.
Repaire.		repeu.
Connoître.		conu.
Suivre.		suivi.
Vivre.	Je fois, Je serois, Je fusse, Je serai	suivi.
Naître.		né.

Now, for the Preter Tense of the Infinitive Mood, 'tis but putting Avoir before the Participle; as avoir pris, avoir crain. &c.

Note, that peindre to paint, joindre to join, and their Compounds, are Conjugated as Craindre; croître to grow, paraître to appear, and their Compounds, as connoître; dissoudre to dissolve, as absoudre.

And yet dissoudre may be as well conjugated in a regular manner; as Je dissous, tu dissous, il dissoud, Nous dissoudons, vous dissoudez, ils dissoudent, and the rest accordingly.

As for the Compounds of the aforesaid Verbs, they are pretty Numerous, and all of them Conjugated after the manner of their Simple.

As the Compounds

Prendre,	Apprendre, to learn. Desapprendre, to unlearn. Comprendre, to comprehend. Entreprendre, to under take. Reprendre, to take again. Rapprendre, to learn again. Surprendre, to surprise.
Coudre,	Decoudre, to unfow. Recoudre, to fow again.
Moudre,	Remoudre, to grind again.
Vaincre,	Convaincre, to convince.
Rompre,	Corrompre, to corrupt. Interrompre, to interrupt.
Batre,	Combatre, to fight. Debatre, to debate. Rebatre, to beat again. S'entrebatre, to beat one another.
Mettre,	Admettre, to admit. Commettre, to commit. Demettre, to put out. S'entremettre, to intermeddle. Omettre, to omit. Permettre, to permit. Promettre, to promise. Remettre, to put again. Soumettre, to submit. Transmettre, to transmit.
Connoître,	Meconnoître, not to know. Reconnoître, to know again.
Suivre,	Poursuivre, to pursue, or prosecute.
Vivre,	Revivre, to live again.

The other Classis of the Irregular Verbs belonging to this Conjugation is reducible to these five Terminations of the Infinitive; viz. aire, ire, oire, uire, and ure.

As,

Faire to make, or do.	Rire to laugh.
Plaire to please.	Boire to drink.
Dire to say, or tell.	Croire to believe.
Lire to read.	Nuire to prejudice.
Ecrire to write.	Conclure to conclude.

With their Compounds.

Indicative Mood.

Present Tense.

Faire.	Je fai, tu fais, il fait, Nous faisons, vous faites, ils font.
Plaire.	Je plai, tu plais, il plaît, Nous plaçons, vous plaisez, ils plaisent.
Dire.	Je dis, tu dis, il dit, Nous disons, vous dites, ils disent.
Lire.	Je lis, tu lis, il lit, Nous lisons, vous lisez, ils lisent.
Ecrire.	Je écris, tu écris, il écrit, Nous écrivons, vous écrivez, ils écrivent.
Rire.	Je ris, tu ris, il rit, Nous rions, vous riez, ils rient.
Boire.	Je bois, tu bois, il boit, Nous buvons, vous buvez, ils boivent.
Croire.	Je croi, tu crois, il croit, Nous croyons, vous croyez, ils croient.
Nuire.	Je nuis, tu nuis, il nuit, Nous nuisons, vous nuisez, ils nuisent.
Conclure.	Je conclu, tu conclus, il conclut, Nous concluons, vous concluez, ils concluent.

The Preter Tenses Simple.

Faire.	Je faisois, Je fis.
Plaire.	Je plaisois, Je plu.
Dire.	Je disois, Je dis.
Lire.	Je lisois, Je lu.
Ecrire.	Je écrivois, Je écrivis.
Rire.	Je riois, Je ris.
Boire.	Je buvois, Je bu.
Croire.	Je croyois, Je cru.
Nuire.	Je nuisois, Je nuis.
Conclure.	Je conclusois, Je conclu.

The Preter Tenses Compound.

Faire.	J'ai, J'avois, J'en	fait.
Plaire.		plu.
Dire.		dit.
Lire.		lu.
Ecrire.		écrit.
Rire.		rit.
Boire.		bu.
Croire.		cru.
Nuire.		nuis.
Conclure.		conclu.

The Future Tenses

Are all Regular, but Faire, that makes Je ferai, Je serois.

Imperative Mood.

Faire.	Fais, qu'il fasse, Faisons, faites, qu'ils fassent.
Plaire.	Plai, qu'il plaise, Plaisons, plaisez, qu'ils plaisent.
Dire.	Di, qu'il dise, Disons, dites, qu'ils disent.
Lire.	Li, qu'il lise, Lisons, lisez, qu'ils lisent.
Ecrire.	Ecris, qu'il écrive, Écrivons, écrivez, qu'ils écrivent.
Rire.	Ris, qu'il rie, Rions, riez, qu'ils rient.
Boire.	Bois, qu'il boive, Buvois, buvez, qu'ils boivent.
Croire.	Crois, qu'il croie, Croyons, croyez, qu'ils croient.
Nuire.	Nuis, qu'il nuise, Nuisons, nuisez, qu'ils nuisent.
Conclure.	Conclu, qu'il conclue, Concluons, concluez, qu'ils concluent.

Subjunctive Mood.

The Present, and Future Tense.

Faire.	Que	Je fasse, tu fasses, il fasse, Nous fassions, vous fassiez, ils fassent.
Plaire.		Je plaise, tu plaises, il plaise, Nous plaissions, vous plaissiez, ils plaissent.
Dire.		Je dise, tu dises, il dise, Nous disions, vous disiez, ils disent.
Lire.		Je lise, &c. according to Je dise.
Ecrire.		Je écrive, tu écrives, il écrive, Nous écrivions, vous écriviez, ils écrivent.
Rire.		Je rie, tu ries, il rie, Nous rissions, vous riez, ils rient.
Boire.		Je boive, tu boives, il boive, Nous buvions, vous buviez, ils boivent.
Croire.

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

Croire.	Que	Je croie, tu croies, il croie, Nous croyions, vous croyiez, ils croient.
Nuire.		Je nuise, &c. according to Je dis.
Conclure.		Je conclue, tu conclus, il conclue, Nous concluions, vous conclusiez, ils concluent.

The Indefinite Tense.

Faire.	Je fisse, tu fisses, il fit, Nous fissions, vous fisses, ils fissent.
Plaire.	Je plusse, tu plusses, il plut, Nous plussions, vous plussiez, ils plussent.
Dire.	Je disse,
Ecrire.	Jecrivisse,
Nuire.	Je nuississe,
	} &c. according to Je fisse.
Lire.	Je lusse,
Boire.	Je bûsse,
Croire.	Je crûsse,
Conclure.	Je conclûsse,
	} &c. according to Je plusse.

The Preters, and Future Compound.

Faire.	} Faire, Faurai, Fuisse, and Faurai	fait.
Plaire.		plû.
Dire.		dit.
Lire.		lû.
Ecrire.		ecrit.
Rire.		rit.
Boire.		bû.
Croire.		crû.
Nuire.		nuît.

Now for the Preter Tenses of the Infinitive Mood, 'tis but putting Avoir before the Participle; as avoir fait, avoir plû, &c.

Note, that all Verbs ending in uire, are conjugated as Nuire; confire, as lire; and exclure, as conclure.

Se taire, to hold his Tongue, varies from the Verb Faire in all its Preters Compound. For you must say, Je me suis, Je m'étois, Je me fus, Je me suis, Je me serois, Je me fusse, Je me serai, Je me serois; and in the Infinitive Mood, s'être tenu. To which add the Indefinite Tense of the Subjunctive, Je me tussse.

The Compound Verbs are,

Faire,	Defaire, to undo.
	Contrefaire, to counterfeit.
	Parfaire, to perfect.
	Refaire, to do again, to mend.
	Surfaire, to exact.
Plaire,	Deplaître, to displease.
Dire,	Contredire, to contradict.
	Se dedire, to unsay.
	Interdire, to interdict.
	Medire, to slander.
	Predire, to foretell.
Of Lire,	Relire, to read again.
Ecrire,	Decrire, to describe.
	Prescrire, to prescribe.
	Proscrire, to proscribe.
	Recrire, to write again.
	Souscrire, to subscribe.
Rire,	Se sourire, to smile.
	Reboire, to drink again.

As for the Defective Verbs of this Conjugation, here's the List of 'em.

Viz.

Soudre, to solve.	Pâître, to feed.
Frir, to fry.	Renâître, to be born again.
Taire, to conceal.	Têre, to weave.
Complaire, to please.	Accroire, to believe.
Traire, to milk.	Clorre, to close up.
Enfreindre, to infringe.

Soudre has scarce any Thing in use, besides the Infinitive, but these two Future Tenses, Je soudrai, Je soudrai.

Frir is hardly used but in the Infinitive Mood, and that with the Verb faire belonging to it. As, je le fais frir, I fry it; je le fis frir, I fry'd it, &c.

Taire has most of its Tenses Simple conjugated like Faire; as Je tais, Je taisois, Je tairai, Je tairais, Je taise. But I don't find the other Tenses much used, except the Indefinite of the Subj.

Mood, Je tussse. Whereas the Reciprocal, se taire, has all its Tenses used, as aforesaid.

Complaire. You may say, Je complairai, Je complairais, Je complais; but the greatest Use of this Verb is in the Infinitive.

Traire may be thus Conjugated, Je traie, tu traies, il traie, Nous trayons, vous trayez, ils trayent; Je trayois; Fai, Favois, Feu trait; Je traitrai; Je traitrais; Je traie; Faie, Faurais, Fuisse, Faurai, traie; traie; avoir trait.

This Verb has three Compounds, (besides the old Verb Portraire) viz. distraire, extraire, soustraire, which are little in Use, but in their Compound Tenses; where you must say, distrast, extrast, soustrast.

Enfreindre is hardly used any where, besides this Infinitive, but in the Compound Tenses. As, Fai, Favois, Feu enfreint; Faie, Faurais, Fuisse, and Faurai enfreint; Avoir enfreint.

Pâître, on the contrary, wants all the Compound Tenses; besides the Preter Perfect Simple of the Indicative, and the Indefinite Tense of the Subjunctive Mood. As for the rest, it agrees with its Compound Repâître, which is in the List of the Irregular Verbs.

Renâître has the same fate as Pâître.

Têre, or Tistre, is an obsolete Verb, which has nothing in Use but the Compound Tenses; Fai, Favois, Feu tissû; Faie, Faurais, Fuisse, Faurai tissû; Avoir tissû.

Accroire is no where used but in the Infinitive, and that with the Verb faire before it. As, il m'en fait accroire, he imposes upon me, he makes me believe things that are not to be believed.

Clorre is a Defective Verb, that has scarce any Thing in Use but the Infinitive, unless it be the Compound Tenses. Where you must say, Fai, Favois, Feu, Faie, Faurais, Fuisse, Faurai, Avoir clos.

The same it is with its Compounds eclorre, forclore, and the antiquated enclorre.

Of Verbs Impersonal.

Thus we have run through the four Conjugations of Verbs Personal; and now let us take a short View of the Impersonal.

There are few Verbs, whether Active, Neuter, or Reciprocal, but what may be made Impersonal, by putting on or l'on (a Pronominal Particle) before it.

As,

On dit, it is said.	On s'inquiete, Men trouble themselves.
On croit, it is thought.	On sait bien cela, that is very well known.
On court, they run.
On dort, they sleep.

A few there are, which become Impersonal, by putting il, or ce, before the Verb. And those are Avoir, Arriver, Valoir, Paroître, Etre, Faire.

As,

Il y a, there is.	Il est, it is.
Il arrive, it happens.	C'est, it is.
Il vaut mieux, it is better.	Il fait, it is.
Il paroît, it appears.

Lastly, these following are never used but Impersonally; and therefore you have 'em here conjugated at length.

Indicative Mood.

Present Tense.

Il pleut, it rains.	Il tonne, it thunders.
Il neige, it snows.	Il faut, it behoves.
Il grêle, it hails.	Il suffit, it sufficeth.
Il gèle, it freezes.

The Preter Imperfect Tense.

Il pleuvoit, it rained.	Il gèle, it froze.	Il tonnoit, it thundered.
Il neigeoit, it snowed.	Il gela, it behoved.	Il suffisoit, it sufficed.
Il grêloit, it hailed.
Il geloit, it froze.
Il tonnoit, it thundered.
Il faloit, it behoved.
Il suffisoit, it sufficed.

The Preter Perfect Simple, Englished as the former.

Il plut, it rained.	Il tonna, it thundered.
Il neigea, it snowed.	Il futa, it behoved.
Il grêla, it hailed.	Il suffit, it sufficed.
Il gela, it froze.

The

THE GROUNDS

The Preter Perfect Compound.

Il a	plû, neigé, grêlé, gelé, tonné, salu, suffi,	It has	rained. snowed. hailed. froze. thundered. behoved. sufficed.
-------------	---	--------	---

The 1. Preter Pluperfect.

Il avoit	plû, neigé, grêlé, gelé, tonné, salu, suffi,	It had	rained. snowed. hailed. froze. thundered. behoved. sufficed.
-----------------	---	--------	---

For the 2. Preter Pluperfect, 'tis but saying Il eût, instead of Il avoit. But you may omit the two last, as not in use. The English is the same as in the 1. Pluperfect.

The 1. Future Tense.

Il	pleuvra, neigera, grêlera, gelerà, tonnera, faudra, suffira,	It will	rain. snow. hail. freeze. thunder. behave. suffice.
-----------	---	---------	--

The 2. Future Tense.

Il	pleuvrait, neigerait, grêlerait, gelerait, tonnerait, faudrait, suffirait,	It would	rain. snow. hail. freeze. thunder. behave. suffice.
-----------	---	----------	--

Imperative Mood.

Present, and Future Tense.

Qu'il	pleuve, neige, grêle, gèle, tonne,	Let it	rain. snow. hail. freeze. thunder.
--------------	---	--------	---

The two last are defective here.

Subjunctive Mood.

Present, and Future Tense.

Qu'il	pleuve, neige, grêle, gèle, tonne, faillisse,	That it may	rain. snow. hail. freeze. thunder. behave. suffice.
--------------	--	-------------	--

The Indefinite Tense.

Qu'il	plût, neigeât, grêlât, gelât, tonnât, salût, suffît,	That it might	rain. snow. hail. freeze. thunder. behave. suffice.
--------------	---	---------------	--

The Preter Tenses.

Il ait, Il aurait, Il eût	plû, neigé, grêlé,	It has, it had	rained. snowed. hailed.
----------------------------------	---	----------------	--

Il ait, Il aurait, Il eût	gelé, tonné, salu, suffi,	It has, it had	froze. thundered. behoved. sufficed.
----------------------------------	--	----------------	---

The Future Tense.

Il aura	plû, neigé, grêlé, gelé, tonné, salu, suffi,	It has	rained. snowed. hailed. froze. thundered. behoved. sufficed.
----------------	---	--------	---

Infinitive Mood.

Present, and Future Tense.

Pleuvor, to rain.	Geler, to freeze.
Neiger, to snow.	Tonner, to thunder.
Grêler, to hail.	Suffire, to suffice.

Faloir is out of use, in this Mood.

The Preter Tense.

Avoir	plû, neigé, grêlé, gelé, tonné, suffi,	To have	rained. snowed. hailed. froze. thundered. sufficed.
--------------	---	---------	--

To these Impersonal Verbs, I shall add these four, which are also ever used Impersonally, but such as are Defective in most Tenses.

As,

Il {semble,}	It {seems.}	Il {sied,}	It {becomes.}
{importe,}	{imports.}	{s'ensuit,}	{follows.}

Il semble makes Il sembloit, Il sembla, Il semblera, Il sembleroit, Il semblerait.

Il importe, Il importoit.

Il sied, Il seyoit, Il siera, Il sieroit.

Il s'ensuit, Il s'ensuivoit, Il s'ensuivra, Il s'ensuivroit.

But, besides the foresaid Impersonal Verbs, there are others that seem to become Impersonal; and that when the Substantive comes after, which, according to natural Construction, should go first.

As,

Il sort quëcun de la Maison,	Some body go's out of the House.
Il vient beaucoup de Vins François en Angleterre,	There comes into England, a great store of French Wines.
Il mourut une infinité de personnes du tems de la Peste,	A world of people died of the Sicknefs.
Il fut pris quantité de Vaisseaux sur les Hollandois,	A great Number of Ships were taken from the Dutch.

The same it is with some Verbs conjugated with the Pronoun Reciprocal Se.

As,

Il se mange de bon beuf en Angleterre,	There's good Beef eaten in England.
Il se boit de bon Vin en France,	There's good Wine drunk in France.
Il se passe bien des Choses dans un Jour,	Many Things come to pass in a Days time.
Il ne se peut autrement,	It cannot be otherwise.

The Construction of VERBS.

AS for the Construction of Verbs, in relation to Nouns and Pronouns, the French agrees most an end with the English. Accordingly the Verb must be of the same Number as the Substantive that goes before it, and be placed in the third Person.

As,

Mon Pere parle,	My Father speaks.
Nos Amis nous vendent,	Our Friends do betray us.

And,

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

And, forasmuch as two Singulars are equivalent to a Plural Number, therefore after two Substantives in the Singular Number the Verb must be in the Plural.

As,

Le Roi & la Reine sont en bonne Santé, The King and Queen are in good Health.

Except the Substantives be Synonymous, or have almost the same Signification; in which Case the Verb is best in the Singular Number.

As,

Sa Clemence & sa Douceur étoit incomparable, His Clemency and good Nature was incomparable.

After these Collective Words, une infinité, la plupart, la plus grand part, and the like, followed by a Substantive in the Plural Number, the Verb that comes after must be put in the Plural.

As,

Une infinité de personnes me sont venus voir, An infinite deal of People came to see me.
La plupart (ou la plus grand part) des Hommes suivent leurs Passions, sans consulter la Raison, Most Men follow their Affections, without consulting Reason.

But if, after a Substantive or two in the Plural Number, there comes another in the Singular, then you may put the Verb in the Singular.

For Example,

Tous ses Honneurs, toutes ses Richesses, & toute sa Puissance s'évanouit, All his Honours, Wealth, and Power vanished away.
Non seulement ses Honneurs & ses Richesses, mais aussi sa Vertu s'évanouit, Not only his Honours and Wealth, but also his Virtue vanished away.

Where two or three Personal Pronouns go before a Verb, the Verb agrees with the best Person. Now you must know, that the first Person is counted better than the second, and this better than the third.

Accordingly we say,

Vous & moi étions fort en peine, You and I were very much troubled.
Mon Frere & Vous êtes toujours ensemble, My Brother and you are always together.

After a Personal Pronoun, followed by the Relative Qui, the Verb agrees with the Personal.

As,

Moi	} qui	aime,	} I	} love.
Toi		aimes,			} Thou
Lui		aime,				} He
Nous		aimons,					} We
Vous		aimez,						} You
Eux		aiment,

And so we say,

Si c'étoit moi qui eusse (not qui eût) fait cela, If I were the Man that had done such a Thing.
Si c'étoit nous qui eussions fait cela, If we were the Men that had done such a Thing.

Lastly, when two Proper Names come before an Imperative, this ought to be in the 2. Person Plural.

As,

Pierre & Jean, venez ici, Peter and John, come hither.

As for the French Way of transposing their Pronouns with Verbs, contrary to the proper and natural Method of placing Words (a Thing which however the French does affect beyond all Languages) I need not insist any further upon it, that Point having been sufficiently cleared in our Account of Pronouns and Verbs. And so I pass over to the next Part of Speech.

OF PARTICIPLES.

From Verbs we come to Participles; a Part of Speech so called, because it partakes something of a Noun, and something of a Verb. And indeed, besides the Nature of a Noun Adjective, it has these Tenses of a Verb, the Present and the Preter. From whence comes the Division of Participles into Participles of the Present Tense, and others of the Preter Tense.

The English end the first in ing; the French, in ant. Which is formed from the Infinitive,

In the 1. 2. 3. 4. Conjugation, by changing $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} er \\ ir \\ oir \\ re \end{array} \right\}$ into $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} ant. \\ issant. \\ ant. \\ ant. \end{array} \right\}$

Accordingly

The Participle of $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Parler \text{ to speak} \\ Finir \text{ to finish} \\ Recevoir \text{ to receive} \\ Vendre \text{ to sell} \end{array} \right\}$ is $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} Parlant \text{ speaking.} \\ Finissant \text{ finishing.} \\ Recevant \text{ receiving.} \\ Vendant \text{ selling.} \end{array} \right\}$

Except

1. The Irregular Verbs of the 2. Conjugation, which change ir into ant; as Ouvrir ouvrant, Courir courant, Offrir offrant, &c.

2. These of the 3. Conjugation, viz. Voir that makes voyant, Avoir ayant, Savoir sachant.

3. In the 4. Conjugation, those Verbs whose Infinitive ends in ndre, which turn it into gnant; as craindre craignant, peindre peignant, joindre joignant, and the like. From which must be excepted prendre, which makes prenant; and its Compounds accordingly.

Coudre, that makes cousant, moudre moulant, foudre fendant, naitre naissant, paître paissant, conoltre conoissant, and their Compounds accordingly.

Lastly, those Verbs whose Infinitive ends in ire, which change re into sant. Thus lire makes lisant, dire disant, faire faisant, nuire nuisant, and the like accordingly. From which except rire that makes riant, conclure concluant, exclure excluant, croire croyant, boire buvant, écrire écrivant.

As for the Participles of the Preter Tense, I have already shewed before how the same are formed in a regular manner. Which you will find before the Preter Perfect Compound of the Indic. Mood, in the Conjugation of the four Regular Verbs. Those that are Irregular, in the 2. 3. and 4. Conjug. are to be seen in the Compound Tenses of the Verbs Irregular.

The Use and Construction of PARTICIPLES.

As Participles take upon 'em the nature of Adjectives, they must agree with their Substantives, both in Gender and Number.

For Example,

Un Homme parlant,	A man speaking.
Des Hommes parlans,	Men speaking.
Une Femme pleurante,	A Woman weeping.
Des Femmes pleurantes,	Women weeping.
Mon Pere est mort,	My Father is dead.
Nos Peres sont morts,	Our Fathers are dead.
Ma Mere est morte,	My Mother is dead.
Nos Mères sont mortes,	Our Mothers are dead.

Except the Participles of the Present Tense, being used in the same Sense as the Latine Gerunds in do; In which Case they are Invariable, and may be applied to any Person Singular, or Plural. As, en mangeant eating, en me promenant walking.

And so are Ayant and Etant, followed by a Participle of the Preter Tense. As, ayant bien passé le Temps, nous étant bien divertis, having passed our Time very well.

The Participle of the Preter Tense, being used in Compound Tenses with the Verb Avoir, is also Invariable. Thus we say elle a aimé, elles ont aimé; and not elle a aimée, nor elles ont aimées.

But in Verbs Neuter, or Reciprocal, where the Verb Etre is used, the Participle must agree with the Pronoun. As, elle est courue, elle s'est levée; elles sont courues, elles se sont levées.

Except the first, when it is used after these Pronouns le, que, me, te, nous, vous.

As,

Je l'ai vue,	I have seen her.
Je les ai vus, ou je les ai vues,	I have seen them.
La Lettre que j'ai envoyée,	The Letter I sent.

Les

Les Livres que j'ai lus,
Il m'a aimée (une Femme parlant.)
Il t'a respectée,
Ils nous ont chagrinés,
Il vous a tous maltraités.

The Books I have read,
He has loved me.
He has respected thee.
They have vexed us.
He has abused you all.

And yet, if the Verb be transposed, the Participle varies not. As, when we say les Lettres que m'a envoyé ma Mere, instead of saying les Lettres que ma Mere m'a envoyées, the Letters that my Mother sent me.

Neither does it vary, where an Infinitive comes after the Participle. Thus, speaking of a Woman in the Singular, or of Women in the Plural Number, you must say for example, Je l'ai vue (not je l'ai vuee) entrer, I saw her go in; Je les ai vus (not je les ai vuees) sortir, I saw them go out. In like manner we say, c'est une Fortification que j'ai apprise à faire, (not apprisé) this is a piece of Fortification that I learnt to make.

The same it is with the Participle fait, in such Expressions as these. As, elle s'est fait faire une jupe neuve, she has got a new Peticoat made for her. Elles se sont fait peindre, they got their Pictures drawn.

Moreover, you must say for Example, Il n'y a sorte de Soins qu'il n'ait pris, (and not prise, for pris ought to agree with soins, not with sorte) there's no manner of Care which he has not taken.

Vous ne sauriez croire la Joie que cela m'a donnée, (not donnée) you cannot think what Joy it was to me.

C'est un des meilleurs Chevaux qu'il ait jamais montés, (not montez) that's one of the best Horses he ever rid. In which last you see montés does agree with un, not with Chevaux, as in the foregoing Phrase donnée agrees with cela, not with Joie.

We say also, elle s'est fait fort de cela, (not faire) she presumed it, she took it upon her self.

OF ADVERBS, CONJUNCTIONS, and PREPOSITIONS.

HAVING already spoken in general of these three Parts of Speech, and having nothing further to say of Interjections; What remains is to make a few Observations, as to the Use of the French Adverbs, Conjunctions, and Prepositions.

The first is concerning the ADVERBS, and especially those ending in ment; which are usually placed next after the Verb.

As,

Il a conduit sagement cette Affaire,

He has managed that Business discreetly.

But Jamais, Toujours, and Souvent, are sometimes elegantly placed at the head of a Sentence, and far before the Verb.

As,

Jamais avec tous vos Efforts,
Et toute votre Adresse, vous n'en viendrez à bout,

You will never bring it about, for all your Endeavours and great Dexterity.

Où is sometimes used, instead of the Pronoun Relative Lequel.

As,

Le mauvais état où (cd. dans lequel) je vous ai laissé,
La Prison où il fut mis, cd. dans laquelle il fut mis,
La Nécessité où il étoit réduit,

The wretched condition I left you in, or wherein I left you.
The Prison wherein he was cast.
The want he was brought to.

Dedans, Dehors, Dessus, Dessous are never to be used as Prepositions, but always like Adverbs; that is, absolutely, and without a Substantive depending upon them. And therefore those are out in their French, who say for example, dedans or dehors la Maison, dessus or dessous la Table; instead of saying dans la Maison in the House, hors de la Maison out of the House, sur la Table upon the Table, sous la Table under the Table.

Tant being used Comparatively, Guerre little, Encore yet, have always (in these respective Senses) the Negative Ne before them.

As,

Vous n'en avez pas tant que moi,
Il ne s'en est guère fait,
Il n'est pas encore venu,

You have not so much (or so many) as I.
There wanted but little.
He is not come yet.

On the contrary Autant, or Tout autant, is only used in affirmative Sentences.

As,

Je l'aime autant que qui que ce soit,
J'en ai eu tout autant,

I love him as much as any body.
I have had as much, I have had as many.

Tant plus, and tant moins, are antiquated. Therefore you must leave out Tant in such Expressions as these.

As,

Plus je me presse, moins j'avance,
Plus vous dépenserez d'Argent, moins il vous en restera,

The more haste, the worse speed.
The more Money you spend, the less you will have left.

Plus admits of de after it, which davantage does not.

Thus we say,

Nous sommes plus de Vingt, and not davantage de vingt,

We are above Twenty.

The same is used with the Verb Aimer, or Cherir, when que comes after, with a Substantive.

As,

J'aime mon Salut éternel plus que tous les Biens périssables,
Je chéris plus mon Pere que ma Mere,

I love my eternal Salvation better than all perishable Goods.
I love my Father better than my Mother.

Otherwise say mieux, instead of plus, after the Verb Aimer.

For Example,

J'aimerais mieux qu'il fût pendu,

I had rather see him hanged.

Tout is frequently used for tout à fait. As, when we say,

Ils sont tout étonnés,
Ces Fleurs sont tout aussi fraîches (ou tout aussi belles) que le jour qu'elles furent cueillies,
Elles sont tout autres que vous ne dites,

They are all in a maze.
These Flowers are altogether as fresh (or as fine) as when they were gathered.
They are quite another Thing than what you speak of.

Yet, before Autre in the Singular Number, you must say toute.

As,

Elle est toute autre que celle ci,

She is quite another Thing.

Bien (not unlike Enough in English) is sometimes used in French, as an expletive Particle; that is, rather to fill up the Sentence, than for any emphasis it hath.

As,

Je le veux bien,
Pouvez vous bien le faire?

I will.
Can you do it?

Voici and Voilà do sometimes admit of the Particle que after them.

As,

Lors que nous y pensions le moins, voici (or voilà) qu'il arrive,

When we least thought of him, lo he comes upon us.

The Negative Ne is sometimes suppressed in French, and that in case of an Interrogation.

For Example,

Avez vous rien de Nouveau?

Have you no News? or, have you no new Thing?

Etes vous point l'Homme que je cherche?

Are you not the Man I look for?

A-t-il pas fait?

Has not he done?

Where you see Avez for n'avez, êtes for n'êtes, a-t-il for n'a-t-il.

As for Pas and Point, two Negative Particles that commonly follow Ne, this is the Difference between them; that Point is a fuller Negative than Pas, for it signifies not at all.

As,

OF THE FRENCH TONGUE.

As,
Je n'ai point d'Argent, I have no Mony, I have no Mony at all.
Il ne va point à l'Eglise, He does not go to Church at all.

And, whereas Point before a Noun will have de after it without the Article, as in the Exemple aforesaid; Pas, in such a Case, requires the Article.

As,
Il n'a pas de l'Argent, He has not Mony.

Besides, Pas is used in some Cases, where Point would not be proper.

As,
Je n'ai pas grand Appétit, I have no great Stomach.
Il est trop severe, pour ne pas dire cruel, He is too severe, not to say cruel.

But there are also sundry Cases, where none of these additional Particles is used. As 1. before these Words, ni, rien, jamais, mot, goutte, plus, personne, and the like, in a Negative Sense. 2. Before the Particle que, signifying but, and nothing. 3. After que ne, and si ne. 4. After plus, moins, mieux, pis, meilleur, autre, autrement que. 5. After ne, with a Verb in the Subjunctive Mood.

Pas, after the Verb Craindre, Pouvoir, Savoir, Oser, Bouger, may be used, or left out; and Point, after Cesser.

And 'tis Observable, that, after Craindre, and the like, the Using of Pas does so alter the Sense, that it makes it quite contrary to that which is meant, when the said Particle is left out.

As for Exemple, a dishonest Woman says,

Je crain que mon Mari ne vienne, I fear My Husband will come.

Whereas a virtuous Woman says thus,

Je crain que mon Mari ne vienne pas, I fear my Husband will not come.

As for CONJUNCTIONS, the main Thing Inquirable into is, what Conjunctions govern an Indicative, and which a Subjunctive Mood. But this has been pretty well cleared already, in the Conjugation of the four Regular Verbs.

Que being one of the chief Conjunctions, I shall make this Observation upon it; That, after Verbs that signifie to know, think, or declare, it governs an Indicative Mood; and, after such as betoken ones Will, Intention, Fear, or Desire, a Subjunctive Mood.

As,
Je sais, je croi, je soutien qu'il a raison, I know, I believe, I hold that he is in the right.
Je veux, je preten, ou je souhaite qu'il le fasse, I will, I do expect, or I could wish he should do it.

Si is sometimes, and that elegantly, left out, as well as If in English.

As,
N'eût été (for, si ce n'eût été) le Respect que j'ai pour vous, Had it not been (or, if it had not been) out of my particular Respect to your self.

To avoid the Repetition of Si, in one and the same Sentence, 'tis common with the French to use instead of it the Conjunction que, and that in the Subjunctive Mood.

As,
S'il y va, & que je le sache, If he go thither, and I know of it.
 So, instead of repeating at length these compound Conjunctions, parce que, quoi que, bien que, &c. the French say only que.

As,
Quoi qu'il vieillisse, & que les Forces commencent à lui manquer, Though he grows old, and his Strength begins to fail him.

The Conjunction & is elegantly used twice, in these and the like Expressions.

As,
Je veux du bien & à mes Amis & à mes Ennemis, I wish well both to my Friends and Foes.

Il y a quantité de Lacs, & de grands & de petits, There is a great Number of Lakes, both great and small.

At last we come to French PREPOSITIONS. Wherein this is Observable in general, as to the placing of 'em, that (consonant to their Names) they ever go before, and never come in the rear, as they do often in English. Thus

We say, And the English,
A quoi pensez vous? What d'ye think upon?
De quoi vous mettez vous en peine? What do you trouble your self for?
Pour qui me prend il? Who does he take me for?

And, whereas in English the Substantives are often transposed, and the Preposition lost in that Transposition, in French it is not so; as I have formerly hinted.

Another Thing Observable upon this Subject is, That some Adverbs, in French as well as in English, serve for Prepositions, as pres, auprès, devant, après, &c. but not without some Distinction. For, as Adverbs, they have no Noun after 'em; but, as Prepositions, they have.

So when we say,

L'un marche devant, l'autre après, The one goes before, and the other after.

There devant and après, before and after, are Adverbs,

But, if we say,

L'un marchoit devant moi, l'autre après moi, The one went before, and the other after me.

There they become Prepositions.

Lastly, a Preposition ought to be repeated, before a Noun or Verb of a different Signification from that which goes before it.

As,
Il a fait cela par une Cruauté & par une Avarice inouïe, J'ai ordre de commencer & d'achever cette Affaire, That he did through an unheard of Cruelty and Avarice. I have Orders to begin and make an end of that Business.

From which Rule you must except 1. such comprehensive Prepositions as durant, après. 2. Nonobstant, and others consisting of above two Syllables. 3. Compound Prepositions, as jusques à, pres de, of which à and de only is repeated.

Thus we say,

Durant trois Jours & trois Nuits, During three Days and three Nights.
Après le Printems & l'Eté, After the Spring and Summer.
Nonobstant vos Ruses & vos Violences, Notwithstanding your crafty and violent Methods.
Christ nous a aimés jusques à l'Infamie & à une Mort cruelle, Christ has loved us even to an infamous and cruel Death for us.
Ma Maison est située pres d'un Bois & d'une Riviere, My House stands near a Wood and a River.

The CONCLUSION.

FOR the further Information of the Learner, in relation to this nice Language, I shall shut up this Grammatical Discourse with a few usefull Directions.

First, a great Care must be had to use proper Words to express his Meaning, to avoid Rhimes and Cadences in Prose, to be clear in his Expressions and free from Ambiguity, to shun Tautologies, and playing upon Words. For this last is lookt upon in French as a Sign of a childish or popular Wit, unless it be but seldom, and very fitly used.

There are many Words in French, as well as in English, that have the same Signification, and yet different Uses. So these three Words, trancher, tailler, couper, do all signifie to cut. Yet we say couper les Cheveux, un Bras, une Jambe, &c. (not trancher, nor tailler) to cut ones Hair, Arm, or Leg, &c. On the other side we say tailler (not trancher, or couper) de la Pierre, to cut out the Stone.

In point of Construction, take heed of that which the French call louche, or squint, because it looks two ways. As in this Phrase, Il a égale sa Vertu, & son Bonheur n'a jamais eu de pareil. Where sa Vertu & son Bonheur seem at first to the Hearer to go together, whereas they belong to two distinct Sentences.

There are besides some Incongruities fit to be taken notice of, from which the French Purist is abhorrent. As for example, Je veux & promet d'accomplir ma Promesse, I will and engage to perform my Promise. Wherein you see the same Construction used for two different Words, which is not proper to both. For, though we say, Je promet d'accomplir, yet we don't say, Je veux d'accomplir, but Je veux accomplir.

The same it is with these. As, après avoir embrassé & donné la bénédiction à son Fils, after he had imbraced and blessed his Son. Je suis plus savant que ma Sœur, I am more learned than my Sister. Il s'est brûlé, & ceux qui étoient auprès de lui, he burnt himself, and those that stood by him. In which observe these several Incongruities, 1. That à doth well after donné, but not after embrassé. 2. That plus belle and plus savant do not agree with both Sexes. 3. That one may say, se brûler, but not se brûler qu'on.

A poor Man, for example, cannot say properly of another Man, Il est plus riche que moi, he is richer than I. For, by saying so, he supposes himself to be rich, though in a lesser degree. But he must say, to speak properly, Il n'est pas pauvre comme moi, or je ne suis pas riche comme lui, he is not so poor as I am, or, I am not so rich as he is.

Lastly, for writing of Letters, take these Cautions. 1. That the Subscription, Votre très humble Serviteur, and the like, is best without à or de before it. 2. Whatever Title you begin your Letter with, you must not have it again in the first Period. 3. Where you say Vous in the body of the Letter, if the Person you write to be of Quality, 'tis fit to add the Title to it; As, il n'appartient qu'à Vous, Monsieur; Pour vous faire savoir, Monsieur, &c. 4. The best place besides for the Title in the body of a Letter is after Conjunctions, such as mais, au reste, car, en fin, c'est pourquoi, &c. and not in the beginning of a Period.

Moreover do not write, Sire, Votre Majesté; or, Monseigneur, Votre Altesse, &c. But write thus, Votre Majesté, Sire; Votre Altesse, Monseigneur. If the Letter be but short, you may repeat these Titles, whensoever there is Occasion; as Votre Majesté, Votre Altesse, Votre Eminence, Votre Seigneurie Illustrissime, &c. But, if the Letter be long, you must say Vous sometimes for a Change, adding next to it Sire, Monseigneur, &c. As, vous savez, Monseigneur, que.

Now, to prevent a ridiculous Equivocation, you must be sure never to put the Title next after a Verb Active; as in this Expression, Je ne veux pas acheter Madame si peu de chose. To conclude, 'tis better to say, vous verrez par cette Lettre, than to write (as some do) vous verrez par celle-ci.

F I N I S.

T H E G R E A T
F R E N C H
D I C T I O N A R Y.

T H E F I R S T P A R T.

W H E R E I N T H E
F R E N C H is Rendred into E N G L I S H:

The Several S E N S E S,

B O T H

Proper and Figurative,

A R E

O R D E R L Y D I G E S T E D;

And ILLUSTRATED with Apposite

P H R A S E S, and P R O V E R B S:

The H A R D W O R D S Explained ;

And the PROPRIETIES of both LANGVAGES Adjusted.

With an Intermixt VARIETY of most Sorts of

L E A R N I N G.

By GUY MIEGE, Gent.

L O N D O N,

Printed by J. Redmayne, for Tho. Basset at the George near St. Dunstan's Church in Fleetstreet, MDCLXXXVII.

THE GREAT
FRENCH
DICTIONARY.

THE FIRST PART

WHEREIN THE
FRENCH is Rendered into
The Several SEVERAL
BOTH

Proper and Figurative

ARE

ORDERLY DIGESTED

And ILLUSTRATED with Apophthegms

PHRASES and PROVERBS

The HARD WORDS Explained

And the PROPERTIES of both LANGUAGES Adjusted

With an Appendix VARIETY of most Sorts of

LEARNING

By GUY MIEGE, Gent.

L O N D O N

Printed by J. Redman, for Tho. Balfour at the Gunpowder
St. Dunstons Church in Fleetstreet, MDCCXXVII

THE GREAT FRENCH DICTIONARY.

The F R E N C H before the E N G L I S H.

A.

A

The first Letter, is of the Masculine Gender, and is sounded in French as the word Au in English.

This is the most open, and the easiest to pronounce of any Letter. 'Tis a Vowel, which in all Languages has the precedence of all other Letters, and the first rank in the Alphabet. With this Letter Children begin to frame articulate Sounds. But it is not pronounced alike by all Nations.

The English have a peculiar way of pronouncing this Letter, most commonly like the Diphthong ai. Whereas in the French Tongue it has a more Masculine Pronunciation; such as in the English Words What, and Water, as cadavre, bagage.

And it does always keep to that Pronunciation; except in some few Words, where it is sounded like an e, viz. païs, païsan, païssanne, païssage, depaïsser, Abbaïe, Payen, payer, payeur, payement, begayer, begayement, effayer, egayer, rayon.

But it is mute in these, viz. Saone, saoul, saouler, Aout, and in the second Syllable of these two, extraordinaire, extraordinairement. Also in such Words as end in aim, or ain, as faim, etaim, pain, main. See the Diphthongs ai and au.

Now this Letter in French admits of two several Accents, the one Grave, and the other Circumflex.

It admits of the Grave but in these two Words, à and là, the first a Preposition, and the other an Adverb. And the Use of it is only to distinguish the first from a the Verb; the second, from la the Article and Pronoun.

But, when it begins a Verse or a Period, and generally where a Capital is used, then the Accent is left out.

The Circumflex is applied to this Letter where an s is left out, which (according to the old Way of Spelling) followed it immediately, as when we write bâton for balton. And then to be sure the a is pronounced something longer than ordinary.

And so it is commonly, tho without any Accent, before these endings, ce, de, ge, le, pe, phé, que, re, se, te, ve, ble, bre, cre, dre, tre. As grace, malade, nauffrage, sale, rape, Geographe, cloaque, tiare, bâse, Socrate, brave, adorable, cinnabre, Diacre, escadre, idolatre.

'Tis true, there are some Exceptions, such as face, fouace, glace, fade, gage, rage, nage, chaque, bave, quatre, batre, and its Compounds; besides the persons of some Verbs, as saccage, fasse, bate, combate, &c.

When the Article la is followed by a Word that begins with a Vowel, then a is turned into an Apostrophe, and is incorporated with the following Word. So we say l'Ame for la Ame. And this is a Rule that admits of no Exception, except before the word onzieme.

In point of Spelling, whereas formerly they writ aage, aagé, Sergeant, now we spell 'em thus, âge, agé, Sergeant.

Saoul, Saouler, Saone, are also frequently writ as pronounced, that is without an a; as Soul, Souler, Sône.

A, as it is a Part of Speech, is either a Preposition, or a Person of the Verb Avoir.

As a Preposition, it goes either before Nouns, Pronouns, or Verbs; and is commonly made English by At, or To.

By At, when it expresses ones being in a place; as il est à l'Ecole, he is at School; à l'Eglise, at Church. Or the Thing one is about; as il joue à la boule, he plays at bowls; il est à Dîné, he is at Dinner. Or the Rate of any thing; as à ce prix là, at that rate; à raison de six pour cent, at the rate of six per cent.

By To, i. after all Verbs of Motion, Sending, and Conveying. As aller à l'Eglise, to go to Church; portez le à mon Pere, carry it to my Father.

2. After Verbs that signifie to give, restore, belong, shew, declare, compare, and the like. As, donnez le à mon Frere, give it to my Brother; montrez le à ma Mere, shew it to my Mother.

3. When it does express some end; As, faire toutes choses à la Gloire de Dieu, to do all things to the Glory of God.

But sometimes this Preposition is used for Avec, Pour, Par, Suivant, or Selon.

For avec. As, un Miroir à bordures dorées, a Looking-glass with a gilt frame; une Chaise à bras, an Elbow-chair; une Boîte à fusil, a Tinder-box; peindre à huile, to paint in oyl. For pour, and then it expresses the Use a Thing is put to. As, un pot à beurre, a Butter-crock; un Moulin à vent, a Windmill; un Pot à l'eau, cd. pour mettre de l'eau, a Water-pot.

For par. As, laissez le faire à un tel, cd. par un tel, let such a one do it, let it be done by such a one; à force de bras, by strength of Arms; à la faveur de la nuit, by the favour of the night.

For Suivant, or Selon. As, à la mode de France, after the French fashion; à ma mode, after my manner.

Besides all these several Ways, it bears now and then in English the sense of in, within, of, against. As, à la mode, in fashion; à deux doits de terre, within two inches of the ground; sensible à la douleur, sensible of pain; à demain, against to morrow.

Or thus. As, à vingt lieues d'ici, twenty Leagues off; il est à la Ville, he is in Town; ils marchoient dans la neige haute de cinq à six piez, they went through the Snow, being about five or six foot deep; à l'épreuve du mousquet, Musket-proof; à d'autres, proceed, go on.

In some cases 'tis used with a Noun Adverbially. As, à tort, wrongfully; à l'impreveu, unawares; à l'etourdi, rashly, heedlessly; à fond, thoroughly; à mesure que, whilst; à cause que, because.

One Thing besides is observable concerning this Preposition, That it is never used before the Article le, nor its Plural les. But, instead of à le the French say au; and instead of à les, aux. As, je l'ai donné au Marquis, I gave it to the Marquis; j'ai parlé aux Officiers, I spoke to the Officers.

Or thus. As, il est au College, he is in the Colledge; il est aux Champs, he is in the Country.

A, before a Pronoun, is made by To. As, à moi to me, à toi to thee, à lui to him, à elle to her.

But, when it betokens possession, thus. As, à moi, mine, or my own; à toi, thine, or thy own; à lui, his, his own; à elle, hers, her own. And so in the Plural Number. As, à nous ours, or our own; à vous yours, or your own, à eux, à elles, theirs, or their own.

Or thus. As, c'est à moi à faire cela, 'tis my business (part, or turn,) to do that, I am to do it.

A qui est cette Maison? whose House is this? A mon Cousin, my Cousins.

† A ce que, A celle fin que, that, to the end that. Say afin que.

Before a Verb, in the Infinitive Mood, it commonly betokens an aptness, disposition, or duty, and then it is made by To. As, je suis fort enclin à l'aimer, I am very much inclined to love her; c'est à vous à jouer, you are to play, 'tis your turn to play.

Or thus. As, un Maître à danser, cd. pour apprendre à danser, a Dancing Master. Un homme à tout faire, one that is for any thing, that will do any thing.

A, the Verb, is the third Person singular of the Present Tense Indicative Mood of the Verb Avoir, to have. Where we say, J'ai, tu as, il a, I have, thou hast, he hath.

Il y a. See the Verb Avoir.

Aage, } See { Age.
Aagé, } Age.

A B.

Abbaïe } See { Abbaïe.
Abbaïssé } Abbaïssé.
Abbaïssement } Abbaïssement.
Abbaïsser } Abbaïsser.

Abandon, (m.) As, laisser quécun à l'abandon, to leave one to the wide world, to forsake him, to abandon him.

Sometimes this Word is used Substantively, but it is not generally approved in that Sense. As, dans un tel abandon il ne sent à quoi se refoudre, his being thus left in the lurch put him quite to a stand.

La Verge & la Reprehension donnent Sapience, mais l'Enfant laissé à son abandon fait honte à la Mere, (Prov. 29. 15.) the Rod and Reproof give Wisdom, but a Child left to himself bringeth his Mother to shame.
Abandonné, abandoned, forsaken, cast off, given over, &c. according to the Verb.
Je suis abandonné de tout le monde, I am forsaken by all the world.
Un Malade abandonné, a sick person given over for dead.
Un Abandonné, a lewd (or loose) Man, a
Man given over to some Vice or other.
Une Abandonnée, a loose Woman, a Prostitute, a common Whore.
Abandonnement, (m.) an abandoning, forsaking, casting off, giving over, &c. according to the Verb Abandonner.
Faire un abandonnement de tous ses Biens, to give (or resign) over all his Estate. Etre dans le dernier abandonnement, to be ex-treamly lewd.
Abandonner, to abandon, forsake, cast off, or give over.
Mon Dieu, pourquoi m'as tu abandonné?
(Mat. 27. 46.) Lord, why hast thou forsaken me?
Or thus. As, abandonner le Pais au Pil- lage, to leave the Country to be plundered. Je vous abandonne à votre mauvais sens, I leave you to your error. J'ai exercé Jugement & Justice, ne m'abandonne point à ceux qui me font tort, Ps. 119. I have done Judgment and Justice, leave me not to my Oppressors.
Abandonner sa Vie à la Justice, to yield (or give) up his Life to Justice. Abandonner les Armes, to lay down his Arms. Abandonner la Maîtresse à tout le monde, to prostitute his Mistress to all the World. Nous l'abandonnons à votre colere, we let him loose to your anger.
S'abandonner, to give himself over, to give up himself, to give way.
As, s'abandonner à toutes sortes de Vices, to give himself over (to give up, or addict himself) to all manner of Vices. S'abandonner à la colere, to give way to his anger, to indulge (to gratify) his passion.
Or thus. As, dans cette extremite il ne s'abandonna pas, in that extremity he was not disheartened, or cast down. S'abandon-ner au hazard, to commit himself to fortune.
S'abandonner à la Course en quèque Plaine,
to fall a running with full speed in a Plain.
Abatardi, degenerate, spoiled, grown worse.
S'abatardir, to degenerate, to be spoiled, to grow worse.
Abayer. See Aboyer.
Abbaie, (from Abbé) an Abbey.
Abbaissé, pulled down, brought down; humbled, cast down, abased.
Abaissement, (m.) a pulling, or bringing down;
a stooping, or cringing; a disgrace, a fall, or the state of one whose fortune frowns upon.
Dans son abaissement il vit sans esperance, in that his disgrace he lives without hopes. Se rejoir de l'abaissement des autres, to be glad of other mens fall.
Note that this Word is hardly used in French but in the figurative sense, except in terms of Physick. As, l'abaissement de la Matrice, the fall of the Matrix.
Abaisser, to pull, or bring down; to humble, or to cast down.
As, abaisser un Pont levis, to pull down a Draw-bridge. Abaisser une Muraille de deux piez, to bring a Wall lower by two foot.
Dieu abaisse l'un & eleve l'autre, God pulls one down, and raises up another. Abaisser l'Orgueil de Carthage, to pull down the Pride of Carthage.
Or thus. As, Ps. 144. Eternel, abaisse tes
Cieux, & descen, Bow thy Heavens, O Lord, and come down.
S'abaisser, to fall; to sink; to be laid; to humble himself, to cast himself down; to stoop, to submit.
Les Eaux s'abaissent, the Waters fall, or decrease. Le Vent s'abaisse, the Wind begins to be laid, the Wind is not so high as it was.
L'Humilité n'est souvent qu'un artifice de l'Orgueil, qui s'abaisse pour s'elever, Humility is oftentimes but an artifice of Pride, which stoops in order to get up.

Abbatement, (from Abbatre) m. weakness, faintness, trouble, heaviness. 'Tis hardly used in the proper sense.
† Abbateur, (m.) that pulls (breaks, or beats)
down.
Abbatial, of, or belonging to an Abbot. As, une
Maison Abbatiale, an Abbots House.
Abbatis, (m.) a fall of boules, trees, or walls; a wind-fall (in its proper sense;) the Stones which a Stone-digger (or Quarry man) has got out of the Quarry; the skin, fat, tripe, &c. of Cattel slain by a Butcher; the prey of Wolves; a path made by young Wolves, by their frequent resort to their feeding Place.
Abbatre, to pull (break, or beat) down; to cast down, to grieve, to afflict.
Abbatre les Fortifications d'une Place, to pull down the Fortifications of a Place. Abbatre des fruits d'un Arbre, to beat down the fruits of a Tree.
Or thus. Abbatre les rideaux, to untie the curtains. Il abbatit l'oreille d'un Tribun, he cut off the ear of a Tribune. Qu'il versera de sang, qu'il abbatra de têtes? how much blood will be shed, how many heads will fall before him?
La Pluye abbat la poussiere, the rain lays the dust. Abbatre la Poudre (dont on s'est poudré les Cheveux) to comb the powder off.
Abbatre sa robe, to let her gown hang down.
Je lui abbatrai le caquet, I shall make him hold his tongue.
Le Don fait en secret abbat la Colere, (Prov. 21. 14.) a Gift in secret pacifieth Anger.
Abbatre le cuir d'un Beuf, to skin an Ox.
Abbatre un Vaisseau, changer sa droite route, to make the Ship go from her right course.
Se laisser abbatre à la douleur, to suffer himself to be cast down with grief. Cela lui ab-batra le courage, that will abate (or quell) his courage.
S'Abbatre, to fall; to despond, to be cast
down.
Mon Cheval s'abatit sous moi, my Horse fell under me. La chaleur s'abat, the heat begins to be allay'd.
Abbattu, pulled (broken, or beaten) down; dejected, cast down, grieved, afflicted.
Le Cœur Joyeux vaut Medecine, mais l'esprit abbattu deseché les Os (Prov. 17. 22.)
a merry heart doth good like a Medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the Bones.
Abbé, (m.) Abbot.
Un Abbé Regulier, a Regular Abbot. Abbé
Seculier, a Lay-Abbot. Abbé Commenda-taire, an Abbot in Commendum.
Charge (ou Dignité) d'Abbé, Abbotship.
Abbesse, (f.) Abbess.
Abbois } See } Abois.
Aboyer }
Abbregé, abridged, shortened, or cut short.
As, un Discours abbregé, an abridged Discourse.
Abbregé (a masc. Subst.) abridgment, abstract, epitome, compendium, summary.
Un Abbregé d'Histoire, a compendious History.
En Abbregé (Adv.) in few words.
Abbregement (m.) the act of abridging, and the like.
Abbregier, to abridge, shorten, or cut short.
As, Abbregier un Discours, to abridge (or shorten) a Discourse. La Debauche abbregé les Jours, Debauchery shortens ones days.
Abbreviation, (f.) abbreviation.
Abbreuvé, watered; soaked; informed.
Notre Seigneur fut abbreuvé de vinaigre,
Our Saviour had vinegar given him to drink.
† Abbreuvement, a watering; or soaking; the act of informing.
Abbreuver, to water; to soak; to inform.
As, abbreuver un Cheval, to water a Horse.
Abbreuver la terre, to soak the ground.
† S'il le fait, il ne manquera pas d'en abbreuver toute la Ville, if he knows it, he will not fail to inform the whole Town of it, or to make it publick all the Town over.
S'Abbreuver, to drink plentifully. As, s'abbreuver de nectar, to drink Nectar plentifully.
Abbreuvier (m.) a watering Place.
Mener le Betail à l'abbreuvoir, to lead the Cattle to the watering Place.

† Abbreuvier à mouche, a bloody wound in the head (whereat flies may drink their fill, if one lets them alone.)
Abbruti, besotted.
Les Sages meurent, le fou & l'abbruti pe-rissent, the Wise men die, the fool and the brutish person perish.
Abbrutir, to besot.
La Solitude acheve de leur abbrutir l'esprit, their solitary Life makes them quite besotted.
Abcès. See Abscès.
Abdication, (f.) Abdication.
L'Abdication de Charles Quint, Charles the fifth's Abdication.
Abecé, (m.) abecé; the ground (or principle) of some Art.
As, apprendre l'abecé, to learn his abecé.
La Doctrine des Opinions probables est le fondement & l'abecé de toute nôtre Morale, the Doctrine of probable Opinions is the Ground of all our Morals.
† Abecher. See Abequer.
Abeille, (f.) Bee, honey-bee.
L'Abeille merite d'être admirée, the honeybee deserves our admiration.
Ruche d'abeilles, a Bee-bive. Essaim d'abeilles, a Swarm of Bees.
Abequer, to feed.
As, abequer un merle, to feed a black bird.
† Abétir, as Abbrutir.
† Abhorré, abhorred.
Abhorrer, to abhor, to hate extreamly.
As, s'abhorre sa Compagnie, I abhor his Company.
Abjection, (f.) abjection, abject condition.
Jesus Christ a vecu dans la dernière abjecti-on, our Saviour Christ has lived in a most abject condition.
Abjet, abject, vile, contemptible.
Avoir des sentimens bas & abjets, to have base thoughts, to be lowly minded. Etre d'une naissance basse & abjet, to be meanly extracted. Des Enemis abjets, contemptible Enemies.
Abime, (m.) abyss, depth, or deep place, pit, bottomless pit.
L'Eternel fait tout ce qu'il lui plait, es
Cieux & en la Terre, en la Mer, & en tous les Abimes, the Lord does whatsoever pleases him, in Heaven and in Earth, in the Seas, and all deep Places. Vous Balenes, & tous les Abimes, you Dragons, and all Deeps, Ps.
148. Les Abimes se debordent par sa Science, by his Knowledge the Depths are broken up.
La Raison humaine est un Abime où l'on se perd, humane Reason is an unsearchable
Abyss. Etre précipité du faite de la Gloire dans l'Abime du Neant, to be cast down headlong from a glorious State into a fathom-less Nothing.
Abime, ou Enfer, Hell. As, ils ont à com-
bater toutes les Puissances de l'Abime, they are to withstand all the Powers of Hell.
Après avoir enseigné aux autres le Chemin du Ciel, il craint d'être précipité dans l'Abime, now he has taught others the Way to Heaven, he fears himself to be cast headlong into Hell.
Abimé, swallowed up into an abyss; destroyed;
ruined, undone to all intents and purposes.
Abimé dans la douleur, overwhelmed with grief, sunk in his grief. Voilà un grand Travail qui a été bien tôt abimé, there's a great piece of Work soon brought to nought.
Abimer, to throw into an abyss; to destroy; to ruin; to perish.
Il abima par sa profusion toute l'Opulence de Rome, by his profuseness he wasted (or squandered away) the whole Wealth of Rome.
Il ne faut qu'un moment pour abimer toutes vos Richesses, in a moment of time all your Wealth may come to a fatal end.
S'Abimer, to run into an abyss; to dive deep into a thing by the strength of meditation.
Abjuration, (f.) abjuration.
Faire abjuration, to make abjuration.
Abjurer, to abjure.
Abjurer une heresie, to abjure an heresy.
Ablatif, (m.) ablative, the ablative case.
Able, (m.) bleak (a River Fish.)
Ablution, (f.) ablution.
† Abnegation, (f.) abnegation.

Aboier. See Aboyer.
 Abois, (m.) the barking of a dog; the last gasp either of a man or beast.
 Etre aux abois, to breath his last, to be at his last gasp.
 Or thus. Mettre ses Enemis aux abois, to put his Enemies to their last shifts, to drive them to a non plus. On y void tous les jours l'Innocence aux abois, there Innocence is seen every day upon her last legs.
 Aboli, abolished, abrogated, annulled; done away, 1 Cor. 13. 10.
 Abolir, to abolish, abrogate, or annul; to destroy, to bring to nought, to put down, to put away, 1 Cor.
 Abolir une Coutume, une Loi, to abolish a Custom, or a Law. Abolir la memoire de quelque belle action, to abolish (or raise out) the memory of a noble action.
 Abolition, (f.) abolishment, or the act of abolishing.
 Demander l'abolition d'un Impôt, to require the taking away of an Impost.
 Il a eu l'abolition de son Crime, he has got a Pardon.
 Abominable, abominable, had in abomination.
 † Abominablement, abominably.
 Abomination, (f.) abomination.
 Avoir en abomination, to abominate, abhor, or detest.
 Etre en abomination, to be abominated.
 C'est une abomination (ed. une chose abominable) aux Fous, que de se détourner du mal, (Prov. 13. 29.) 'tis abomination to Fools to depart from evil.
 † Abominer, to abominate.
 Abondamment, abundantly, plentifully.
 Le Parasite ne sème, ni ne moissonne, &c trouve tout abondamment, the Parasite does neither sow nor reap, and yet finds plenty of all things.
 Abondance, (f.) abundance, plenty, plentifulness, great store.
 Vivre dans une abondance de toutes choses, to live plentifully, to have plenty of all things. Avoir en abondance, to abound, to have great plenty of.
 La Corne d'Abondance, the Horn of Abundance.
 Abondant, abounding, plentiful.
 Un Pais abondant en toutes Choses nécessaires à la Vie humaine, a Country abounding in all things necessary for mans Use, a plentiful Country.
 L'Eternel est tardif à colere, &c abondant en gratuité, the Lord is slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
 D'Abondant, moreover, more than enough.
 Or thus. As, Ex. 26. 12. La Moitié du Rouleau qui te fera d'abondant flotera vers le derriere du Pavillon, the half Curtain that remaineth shall hang over the back side of the Tabernacle.
 Abonder, to abound; to excel, 1 Cor. 14. 12.
 Un Pais qui abonde en toutes choses, a Country abounding in every thing, that has plenty of all things, that wants nothing.
 Il abonde en son sens, he is self-conceited.
 † Abonner, to make a bargain, thus. As, s'abonner avec un Chapelier, to agree with a Hatter, that he shall have so much a year for finding new Hats once a month, or otherwise.
 Abord, (m.) landing, arrival; access, approach.
 Un Lieu de grand abord, a Place much frequented, or of great resort. Defendre l'abord, to keep off from landing. A notre abord dans l'Isle nous fumes attaquez, we were no sooner landed but we were set upon.
 Avoir l'abord galant, to receive people gallantly, genteely, obligingly. Cet homme là a quelque froideur à l'abord, that mans way of receiving people is something cold at first.
 Un homme de facile abord, an affable (a courteous) man, a man easy to be spoken with.
 Un homme de difficile abord, a man that stands off, that keeps a distance, not easie to be spoken with.
 D'abord, at first, at first sight; presently, forthwith. As, ces paroles exciterent d'abord de l'admiration, those words caused at first some admiration. La Citadelle fut prise d'abord, the Cittadel was presently taken.
 D'abord que, as soon as. D'abord qu'il mevid, il se retira, as soon as he saw me, away he went.

Abordage, (m.) boarding, the boarding of a Ship; also the hitting of one Ship against another.
 Quand nous vimmes à l'abordage, when we came to boarding.
 Aborder, to land, to arrive; to come (to draw near) to; to board a Ship.
 La Rive étoit si escarpée que nous n'osâmes aborder, the Shore was so very steep that we durst not venture to land. Des que les Eclaves abordent cette Côte, ils sont libres, when Slaves come upon that Coast, they are free of course.
 Ils aborderent le Roi avec insolence, they came to the King in an insolent manner.
 Les Presens abordent chez moi de toutes Parts, I receive variety of Presents (Presents come to me) from all Parts.
 Abouchement, (m.) Interview; the meeting of Veins and Arteries in the Womb.
 L'Abouchement de Charles Quint avec François premier, the Interview of Charles the fifth and Francis the first.
 Aboucher quelqu'un, to get one to speak to another, to get them together.
 S'Aboucher avec quelqu'un, to speak face to face to one, to parley, treat, or confer with him by word of mouth.
 Aboutir, to meet, to confine upon.
 Les Lignes du Cercle aboutissent au Centre, the Lines of a Circle meet in the Center.
 Aboutir en pointe, to grow sharp at the top, to end smaller and smaller.
 This Verb is also sometimes used in this sense in a low Style. As,
 Je ne sai où aboutira tout ceci, I know not what will be the end of all this. Voyons où aboutira son Discours, let's see what he aims at by his Discourse.
 Aboutissant, (m.) the utmost bound of a field.
 † Les tenans &c les aboutissants d'une Affaire, the sum of a Business.
 † Aboutissement, (m.) the meeting of several things in one place.
 C'est l'aboutissement de tous mes desirs, that is the sum of all my desires.
 † Aboyerment, (m.) as Abois, in the first sense.
 Aboyer, (from Abois) to bark.
 Un Chien qui ne fait qu'aboyer, a Dog that is ever barking. Aboyer après les passans, to bark at goers by.
 Il y a de certaines gens qui aboient tout le monde, some men there are apt to bark at all men. Il faut avoir du mepris pour eux, &c les laisser aboyer, we must take no notice of them, but let them bark on.
 Aboyer à la Lune, to bark at the Moon, to bark where one cannot bite.
 Abri (m.) skelter (but chiefly from foul weather;) a lee-shore.
 Etre à l'abri, to be safe, to be under a skelter.
 Se mettre à l'abri, to skelter himself.
 Leur Amitié me doit servir d'abri contre la Nécessité, their Love should be to me a skelter against Want.
 Abricot (m.) apricock.
 Abricotier (m.) apricock-tree.
 † Abrier, (from Abri) to skelter, to defend.
 Abrogation, (f.) abrogation.
 Abrogé, abrogated.
 Abroger, to abrogate.
 Abroger un Edit, to abrogate an Edit, to make it void. Abroger la Puissance du Pape, to abrogate the Popes Power.
 Abrotonne, (f.) Southernwood.
 Abrutir. See Abbrutir.
 Abscès (m.) impostume, a swelling full of matter.
 Absence, (f.) absence, being from.
 Une Absence cruelle, longue, ennuyeuse, a cruel, long, and tedious absence. Je ne puis supporter la peine que me cause votre absence, I cannot bear the trouble your absence puts me to.
 Son absence de la Cour a fait son malheur, his being from Court has occasioned his disgrace.
 Absence (egarement) d'esprit, distraction, or wandering of the mind.
 Absent, absent, missing, wanting, out of the way.
 S'Absentir, to go away, to keep out of the way.

Abfante, or Abfinthe, (f.) wormwood; grief.
 Vin d'abfante, wormwood-wine.
 Cela addoucit toute l'abfinte de mon cœur, that allays all the grief of my heart.
 Absolu, absolute, unlimited; imperious; absolute, (in Grammar,) governed by nothing.
 As, un Prince absolu, an absolute Prince.
 Parler d'un ton absolu, to speak with an imperious tone.
 Un Ablatif absolu, an Ablative absolute.
 Absolument, imperiously, absolutely, without any condition, or reserve; absolutely, wholly, intirely; by all means, 1 Cor. 9. 22.
 Commander absolument, to have an absolute command. Parler absolument, to speak imperiously, or with great authority.
 Je le veux absolument, I le have it absolutely.
 Absolution, (f.) absolution, discharge.
 Le Prêtre lui a donné l'absolution, the Priest has given him the absolution. Le Parquet a conclu à l'absolution, the Judges have acquitted him, have brought him in not guilty.
 † Absolutoire, absolatory.
 † Absorbé, swallowed up, consumed.
 Tout se trouva absorbé dans ce Bouleversement universel, all was swallowed up in that general Confusion, or Overthrow.
 † Absorber, to swallow up, to consume.
 Les Plaisirs de Henri huitieme absorberent tout, the Pleasures of Henry the Eighth swallowed up (or consumed) all.
 Absoudre, to absolve, to acquit, or discharge; to give the absolution.
 Absous, absolved, acquitted, or discharged; that has received the Church absolution.
 On la déclaré absous tout d'une voix, he was unanimously brought in not guilty.
 Absoute, the feminine Gender of Absous.
 Absoute, (afem. Subst.) the Bishops general Absolution upon Maundy-Thursday, in the Roman Church.
 † Absténir, to abstain, forbear, or keep from.
 S'Absténir du Vin &c des Femmes, to abstain from Wine and Women. Il ne put s'absténir de la regarder, he could not forbear looking upon her.
 Absterfif, absterfife, cleansing, that has a cleansing virtue.
 Un Medicament absterfif, an absterfife (or cleansing) Medicament.
 Abstinence, (from s'Absténir) f. abstinence, forbearance.
 Faire abstinence, to abstain, to forbear.
 † Abstinence, temperate, sober.
 Abstraction, (f.) abstraction.
 Abstraire, to abstract.
 Abstrait, abstracted.
 Abstrus, abstruse, dark, wrapt up in obscurity.
 Un sens abstrus, an abstruse meaning.
 † Abstrusement, darkly.
 Absurde, absurd, foolish, impertinent.
 † Absurdement, absurdly.
 Absurdité, (f.) absurdity, foolishness, impertinency.
 Une Opinion pleine d'absurdité, a most absurd Opinion, an Opinion full of absurdities.
 Absynthe. See Abfinte.
 Abus, (m.) abuse; error, mistake; fraud, or deceit.
 Abusé, abused.
 Abuser, to abuse, or misuse; to abuse, deceive, cheat, gull, or cozen.
 J'abuse de votre patience, I abuse (I tire) your patience. Il emprunta mon Nom pour abuser de ma Maîtresse, he borrowed my Name to abuse my Mistress.
 Il m'a abusé, il m'a trompé, he has cheated me, he has cozened me.
 Or thus. As, abuser d'un Mot, to use a Word improperly.
 S'abuser, to deceive himself. Ne vous abusez point (1 Cor. 6. 10) be not deceived.
 † Abuseur, (m.) abuser, deceiver.
 Peut être que mon Pere me tâtera, &c me tiendra pour un Abuseur, (Gen. 27. 12) my Father peradventure will feel me, and I shall seem to him as a Deceiver.
 Abusif, improper.
 Abusivement, improperly, abusively.
 Abyme } See } Abime.
 Abymé } } Abimé.
 Abymer } } Abimer.

A C.

Acablé } See } Accablé.
 A cablement } } Accablement.
 Acabler } } Accabler.
 Acacia (m.) Acacia, an Egyptian Tree; also a Medicinal Juice drawn from that Tree.
 Acacia commun, a Juice of Stoea frequently used instead of the true acacia.
 Academicien, (m.) an Academy (or University) man.
 Academie (f.) Academy, or learned Society; an Academy, or place where are taught some of the liberal Arts; a Riding House; a Gaming House.
 Academique, Academical.
 As, un Discours Academique, an Academical Discourse.
 Academiste, (m.) one that learns to ride the great horse, and other genteel Exercises in an Academy.
 Acante, or Acanthe, (f.) brankurfin.
 † Acariâtre, humoursom, fantastical.
 Acatique, Aquatile, living (or breeding) in the water; that haunts the water.
 Oiseau acatique, a Water-fowl. Les Oiseaux acatiques ont les jambes courtes, & les Piez larges, the Water-fowls are short-legged, and broad-footed.
 Accablé, overdone, overburdened, crushed, overwhelmed; overbrowed, 1. Cor. 10. 5.
 Un homme accablé d'affaires, a man overdone with business, whose hands are exceeding full. Etre accablé sous le poids d'un trop grand fardeau, to be crushed (to fall) under the weight of too great a burden.
 Or thus. Accablé sous les Ruines d'une Maison, buried in the Ruins of a House. Accablé d'Impôts, de Tailles, oppressed with heavy Taxes. Accablé de Visites, overdone (tired, exceedingly troubled) with Visits. Accablé d'années, full of years.
 Accablement, (m.) a crushing, oppression, grief, or trouble; multitude of business; an irregular beating of the Pulse upon the coming of an Ague-fit.
 Accabler, to overdo, overburden, crush, or overwhelm; to overdo, or oppress; to tire, or trouble.
 Vous allez m'accabler sous ce grand fardeau, you will crush me (you will make me sink) under so great a burden. Il ne faut pas accabler la Nature en la surchargeant, Nature must not be overloaded. On l'accabla de coups, he was overwhelmed with blows. Accabler quécun de Visites, to tire one with Visits.
 Or thus. As, la Fortune acheva de l'accabler par ce dernier coup, Fortune by that last blow brought him upon his Knees. La Tristesse m'accabla au milieu des Plaisirs, Sorrow possessed me in the midst of Pleasures. Accabler quécun de caresses, to caress one exceedingly, to make exceeding much of him. Ce sont des bontez qui m'accablent, such favours are too great for me.
 Il jura (dit le Psalmiste) qu'il accableroit leur Posterité parmi les Nations, he swore (says the Psalmist) that he would overthrow their Seed among the Nations.
 Accastillage, (Terme de Marine) the Castles of a Ship.
 Accent, (m.) an accent, or note that regulates the pronunciation; accent, tone, or pronunciation; noise, or clamour.
 Il y a trois fortes d'Accent, l'Aigu, le Grave, & le Circonflexe, there are three sorts of Accents, the Acute, Grave, and Circumflex.
 Avoir bon accent, to have the right accent, tone, or pronunciation.
 Pousser de funebres accens, to cry mournfully.
 Accentué, accented, marked with an accent.
 Accentuer, to accent, to mark with an accent.
 † Acceptable, acceptable, to be accepted (as Lev. 23. 11.)
 Acceptation, (f.) acceptance.
 Accepté, accepted.
 Accepter, to accept.
 Accepter le Combat, l'Alliance de quécun, une Lettre de change, to accept the fight, ones alliance, a bill of exchange.
 Accepteur, (m.) that accepts.

Acception, (f.) respect.

As, il ne faut point avoir acception de personnes, there must be no respect of persons.

Accès, (m.) access, admittance; an ague fit.

Avoir accès dans la Maison de quécun, to be freely admitted into ones house. J'ai accès auprès du Roi, I have free access to the King.

Avoir un accès de fièvre fort violent, to have a violent Fit of an ague.

Accessible, accessible, easy to come to.

As, un Lieu accessible, an accessible Place, a Place of an easy access.

Accessoire, (Adj.) additional, accessory.

Accessoire, (a masc. Subst.) an accessory, accession, or addition.

L'Accessoire va après le Principal, after the Principal comes the Accessory.

† Accessoire, ou état, state, case, or pass.

As, se voyant en cet accessoire, seeing himself in this case.

Accident, (m.) accident, or chance; accident, or mischance; a symptom; an accident (in opposition to Substance.)

C'est par accident que vous avez si bien réussi, 'tis by meer chance that you have had so good a success. Je crain qu'il ne lui arrive quèque accident, I fear some mischance or other will befall him.

Les Accidens de la Grammaire, the Accidence.

Accidentel, accidental, casual.

† Accidentellement, accidentally.

Acclamation, (f.) acclamation, shouting.

Recevoir les Acclamations du Peuple, to receive the Acclamations of the People.

Acclampé, (en termes de Marine) fastened, born up, or strengthened with a piece of Timber. As, Mât acclampé, Vergue acclampée.

† Accointance, acquaintance, conversation, commerce, or business.

† Accointer, (s'accointer de) quécun, to get acquainted with one.

Or thus. As, (Gen. 6. 4.) après que les Fils de Dieu s'accointèrent avec les Filles des Hommes, when the Sons of God came in unto the Daughters of Men.

Duquel il s'étoit accointé (Judg. 14. 20.) whom he had used as his friend.

† Accoiser, to quiet, to pacify.

Accolade, (f.) the dubbing of a Knight, or the Ceremony of clipping and colling used therein.

Accolade de Lapereaux, two young Rabbits ready to be rosted together.

† Accoler, to clip and coll.

Accoler, (en termes de Rotisseur) to put two Rabbits together, and fit them for the Spit.

Accolite. See Acolite.

Accommodable, that may be composed, or brought to an agreement.

Accommodant, (Adj.) complying, flexible.

As, un Esprit accommodant, a flexible (or complying) man. Une Conduite obligeante & accommodante, an obliging and complying Carriage.

Accommodé, fitted up, furnished; warm, well to pass.

Un Air accommodé aux Paroles, a Tune suitable to the Words.

Accommodement, (m.) agreement, or composition; agreement, or reconciliation.

J'ai fait son accommodement, I brought his business to a composition. C'est un homme d'accommodement, he is a good man to deal with, a flexible (or complying) man.

Accommoder, to fit up, to furnish; to be fit (or convenient) for, to serve the turn of; to dress, prepare, or make ready; to settle, or to compose.

Accommoder une Maison, to fit up a House.

Cette Maison accommoderoit fort un de mes Amis, this House would be very convenient for a Friend of mine.

Accommoder quécun à la Françoisé, to dress one after the French Fashion.

Accommoder des Oeufs, du Poisson, &c. to dress Eggs, Fish, &c.

Accommoder une Affaire pour de l'Argent, to bring a business to a composition. Cela sert à accommoder ses affaires, that serves to settle his concerns.

Or thus. As, accommoder sa Voix à la nature des Choses qu'on recite, to fit (or frame) his Voice according to the Subject. Accommoder un Sujet au Theatre, to fit a Subject to the Theater.

† Accommoder quécun, le maltraiter de paroles ou de coups, to use one scurvily, to pay him off.

Voulez vous bien m'accommoder de cela? will you be so kind as to accommodate me with that?

S'Accommoder, to dress himself; to be fit for ones turn; to agree, or come to an agreement; to take into his Service; to use, or make use of; to make bold with.

As, s'accommoder pour aller en visite, to dress himself to go a visiting.

Si vous pouviez vous accommoder de cela, je vous l'offirois, if that could be any ways serviceable to you, I would offer it you.

Je voudrois bien que vous pussiez vous accommoder avec cet Enemi du Genre humain, I wish you could agree with that Enemy of Mankind. Il ne tient qu'à lui que les Affaires ne s'accomodent, 'twill be long of him if Things don't come to an agreement.

Le moyen qu'on pût s'accommoder d'un Valet si mal adroit? how can a man take into his service such a bungling Servant? Ils s'accomodent de tout ce qu'ils trouvent à leur bienfiance, they make bold with any thing that is for their turn.

Or thus. As, s'accomodier au Temps, to serve the Time, to be a Time-server, to do as others do. S'accomodier à la portée des Enfants, to fit himself to Childrens capacity. S'accomodier à l'humeur de quécun, to fit a mans humour, to humour him, to bear with his humours. S'accomodier (se plaire) en un Lieu, to be pleased with a Place, to like it. S'accomodier avec quécun, to live with one, to take pleasure (to delight) in his company.

Accompagné, accompany'd, waited on; attended, or followed.

Il est venu bien accompagné, he came well attended. La Vertu est toujours accompagnée de la Gloire, Virtue is always attended with Glory.

Il vaut mieux être seul que mal accompagné, 'tis better be alone than with ill Company.

Accompagnement, (m.) attendance.

Accompagner, to accompany, wait on, come (or go) along with; to attend, or to follow.

Je vous accompagnerai, I'll wait on you.

Accompagnez moi, je vous prie, jusqu'à mon Logis, pray, come along with me to my House.

Je prie Dieu qu'il vous accompagne, I pray God go along with you.

† S'accompagner, to keep Company, to be a Companion.

As, Ps. 119. 63. Je m'accompagne de tous ceux qui te craignent, & qui gardent tes Ordonnances, I am a Companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy Precepts.

† Comparé, compared, likened. Say Comparé.

† Comparer, to compare, or liken. Say Comparer.

Or thus. As, Ruth 2. 13. Bien que je ne sois pas à comparer à une de tes Servantes, though I be not like unto one of thy Hand-maidens.

Accompli, accomplished, or fulfilled; accomplished, compleat, or perfect.

As, un Voeu accompli, a Vow fulfilled.

Un Jeune homme accompli, an accomplished Young man. Une Beauté accomplie, a compleat (or perfect) Beauty.

Un Orateur accompli, an accomplished (or excellent) Orator.

Il y a cent ans accomplis, it is full a hundred years since.

Accomplir, to accomplish, or fulfil.

Accomplir les Commandemens de Dieu, to fulfil Gods Commandments.

Accomplissement, (m.) an accomplishing, or fulfilling.

Avoir l'accomplissement de tous ses desirs, to have all his desires fulfilled.

† Ac-

† Accoquiné, so used to a thing or place that one cannot leave it.

† S'Accoquiner, so to use himself either to a thing or place that one cannot be without that, or from this.

Accord, (m.) accord, agreement; unity of sentiments; accord, or harmony.

Faire un Accord avec quécun, to make an agreement with one. Cela est il suivant votre Accord? is that according to your Agreement?

Pour vous faire entendre l'accord de nos Opinions avec les Décisions des Papes, il faudroit avoir plus de loisir, to make you understand the unity of our Sentiments with the Decisions of the Popes, we should have more time to spare.

Les Objets, les plus Insensibles semblent être animés par ces Accords, the most Insensible Objects seem animated by that Harmony.

D'un commun accord, with one accord, unanimously. Ils renoncèrent d'un commun accord à la Servitude, they unanimously renounced to Bondage.

Demeurer (tomber) d'accord d'une Chose, to agree in a Business.

Or thus, As, tout le monde tombe d'accord de cela, it is the sense of all the World. J'en demeure d'accord avec vous, I grant it, there I join with you.

Etre d'accord, être tout d'un accord, to agree, to be agreed. Les Philosophes ne sont pas d'accord là dessus, the Philosophers do not agree as to that particular.

Etre d'accord (s'entendre) dans le Jeu, to play booty together.

D'accord, je le veux bien, done, I will, I consent to it.

Mettre d'accord, to make friends, to reconcile.

† Etre de tous bons accords, vouloir ce qu'on veut, to be for any thing, to stand to what the Company pleases.

Accordailles, (f.) the Articles signed by the Parties that are to marry together.

Accordé, agreed, composed; granted; tuned.

Il a été accordé entr'eux, it was agreed between them. Un Different accordé, a Difference composed, a Controversy decided.

Votre Requête vous a-t-elle été accordée? was your Request granted you?

Un Lut bien accordé, a well tuned Lute.

Or thus, As, une Fille accordée en mariage, a Maid betrothed to a Man.

L'Accordée est belle, the Woman is handsome.

L'Accordé est bien fait, the Man is a handsome proper Man.

Accorder, to reconcile; to grant; to tune.

Accorder deux personnes qui sont en différent, to reconcile two persons that are at variance.

Accorder un Different, to reconcile (or compose) a Difference.

Accorder les Principes de diverses Sectes, to reconcile the Principles of several Sects.

Accorder des Contradictions, to reconcile Contradictions.

Il accorda deux Choses incompatibles, un Maître & la Liberté, he reconciled two Things incompatible, a Master and his own Liberty.

Accorder une grâce (ou une faveur) à quécun, to grant one a favour, to do him a kindness.

Je vous l'accorde, & soyons désormais bons Amis, I grant it you, and let us be hereafter good Friends.

Je vous l'accorde, je suis bien d'accord avec vous de cela, I grant it, I am of your mind as to that.

Accorder un Lut, une Tuorbe, to tune a Lute, or a Theorbo.

Or thus, As, accorder sa Fille en mariage, to give his Daughter in marriage, to betroth her to a man.

Accorder l'Adjectif en genre, en nombre, & en cas, avec son Substantif, to make the Adjective agree in gender, number, and case, with its Substantive.

S'accorder, to agree; to yield, to consent.

Ils s'accordent parfaitement bien, they agree mightily well together.

Ils s'accordent en ceci, they agree in this, or in this particular.

S'accorder sur quèque chose, touchant quèque chose, to agree about something.

Vos Actions ne s'accordent pas avec vos Paroles, your Actions do not at all agree with your Words.

Ils ne s'accordent pas des Principes, they do not agree about the Principles.

Si les Pecheurs te veulent attirer dans leur Parti, ne t'y accorde point, (Prov. 1. 20.)

If Sinners intice thee, do not consent. Les

Provinces s'accordoient à cette sorte de

Gouvernement the Provinces yielded (or consented) to that manner of Government.

Accort, courteous; cunning.

Accostable, affable, kind, courteous.

Accostér, (s'Accostér de) quécun, to accost, one, to make his application to him.

On n'eût osé parler ensemble, ni s'être accosté de personne, they durst not speak privately together, neither was it safe for one man to accost another.

† Accoter, to support, to bear up.

† S'Accoter contre, to lean against.

† Accotoir, (m.) a Thing to lean on.

Accouchée, a Woman newly brought to bed, that lies in, who is in the Straw.

Vous ne sauriez croire combien l'Accouchée est gaillarde, you cannot think how brisk the Woman is that lies in.

Accouchement. See Couches, as the better Word of the two.

Accoucher, to be brought to bed; to lay a Woman.

Sa Femme accoucha hier d'un gros Garçon, his Wife was brought to bed yesterday of a great Boy.

Voici la Sage femme qui doit m'accoucher, this is the Midwife who is to lay me.

This Verb is also used, but improperly, for Gods and Men.

As, Jupiter accoucha de Minerve, Jove brought forth Minerva.

Vulcain n'accouchera pas si sagement Jupiter qu'une sage Femme, Vulcan will not be so fit to lay Jove as a Midwife.

† Les Poetes accouchent par le bout des doigts, Poets bring forth at their fingers end.

C'est dans votre Cour que je vien d'accoucher de ce Sonnet, 'twas in your Court that I just now brought forth this Sonnet.

† Accoudé, leaning on his elbow,

† s'Accouder, to lean on his elbow.

† Accoudoir, (m.) a leaning-stool for ones elbows.

Accouplé, coupled, joyned together.

Accouplement, (m.) copulation of beasts.

For this Word ought not to be used in French, about the Generation of Mankind, unless it be sweetened or qualified by some noble Epithet; as un Accouplement divin, celeste, fatal, heureux.

Accoupler, to couple, to joyn together.

Faire accoupler des papillons, to get Butterflies to couple.

S'Accoupler, to couple, to joyn together (in a neutral sense.)

Un Chien s'accouple avec une Chienne, a Dog lines with a Bitch.

Une Chienne qui s'accouple avec son mâle, a Bitch coupled with her male.

Ils s'accouplèrent à Bahal-pehor, (Ps. 106. 28.) they joyned themselves unto Baal-pehor.

And Ex. 28. 7. Il aura deux Epaulières qui s'accouplent par les deux bouts, it shall have the two Shoulder-pieces joyned at the two edges thereof.

Accourci, shortened, or made shorter.

Or thus, As, Deut. 34. 7. Sa Venü n'étoit point accourcie, his Eye was not dim.

Accourcir, to shorten, or make shorter.

Accourcir la Veuë, to make short-sighted.

† Accourcissement, (m.) a shortening, or making shorter.

Accourir, to run.

As, accourir au secours de quécun, to run to ones help.

† Accoutré, accoutred, dressed; made fit, or ready.

Des Singes accoutrez en Charlatans, Monkeys in Quacks Habit.

† Accoutrement, (m.) garment, dress, accoutrement.

† Accoutrer, to accouter, to dress; to misuse, or beat soundly; to make fit, or ready.

Qui vous a ainsi accoutré mes Amis? Who has so accoutered you, my Friends; also, who who hath so misused you?

Les Mechans bandent l'Arc, ils ont accoutré leur fleche sur la corde (Ps. 11. 2.)

the Wicked bend their Bow, they made ready their Arrow upon the string.

And, Prov. 24. 27. Agence ton Ouvrage dehors, accoutre le dans ton Champ, puis bâti ta Maison, prepare thy Work without, make it fit in the Field, and afterwards build thine House.

Accountumance, (f.) custom.

This Word, though nothing near so much in use as Coutume, yet it is in some cases more fitly used. As for example,

La Jeunesse change ses Gouts par l'ardeur du Sang, & la Vieillesse conserve les siens par l'Accountumance, whilst the heat of Blood makes young people alter their Inclinations, old people keep theirs by Custom.

Un esprit abbattu, & comme donté par l'accountumance au joug, n'oseroit plus s'enthardir à rien, a dejected mind, and tamed as it were by continual hardship, has not spirit enough to undertake any thing.

Accountumé, used, accustomed; usual, wonted, ordinary.

Je ne suis pas accountumé à recevoir des Affronts, I am not used to receive Affronts.

Nous sommes si accountumés à nous deguïser aux autres, qu'en fin nous nous deguïsons à nous mêmes, we do so use to disguise our selves to others, that we are apt to play that trick upon our selves.

A la maniere accountumée, in the usual manner. Les Ceremonies accountumées, the wonted (or usual) Ceremonies.

Accountumer, to accustom, to use, to inure.

Accountumer un Enfant au travail, to use a Child to work, to inure him to it.

† Tu as accountumé toutes mes Voyes, (Ps. 139. 3.) thou art acquainted with all my Ways.

Les Ignorans ont accountumé de s'en fier aux personnes habiles, 'tis the way of Ignorant people to leave it to Men of knowledge.

S'Accountumer, to use (to accustom) himself.

Accountumez vous à parler François, use your self to speak French.

† Accravanté, crushed down.

† Accravanter, to crush down.

† Accredité, commended, praised, set forth.

† Accrediter, to commend, praise, or set forth.

s'Accrediter, to get into credit.

Accreu. See Accru.

Accroc, (m.) a remora, a let, or hinderance.

Accroché, hanged upon a hook; grappled, as a Ship; got by cunning; stayed (as a Law-suit) from farther proceeding.

Le Procès est accroché, the Law-suit hangs by the wall.

Accrocher, to hang upon a hook; to grapple; to get cunningly; to stop from farther proceeding.

As, accrocher de la viande, to hang meat upon a hook.

Accrocher un Vaisseau, to grapple a Ship.

† Accrocher un bon Benefice, to get a good Living.

Accrocher un Procès, to stay a Suite from farther proceeding.

S'Accrocher, to hang on, to be caught, to stick to a thing; to come to grappling; to fix somewhere.

Accroire. As, faire accroire, to create a belief of a thing untrue.

Il voudroit bien nous faire accroire qu'il est habile homme, he would fain make us believe (or persuade us) that he is an able Man.

On lui fait accroire ce qu'on veut, one may make him believe any thing.

Je sai tout, ne pense pas m'en faire accroire, I know all, don't you think to impose upon me.

S'en faire accroire, to think too well of himself.

Accroissement, (m.) encrease, augmentation.

Faire des Vœux pour l'accroissement de l'Empire, to pray for the prosperity and well-fare of the Empire.

Accroître, to increase, or add to; to encrease, or wax great.

As, les Richesses ne font qu'accroître la soif, Riches do but encrease our thirst after them.

Il vaut mieux boire la Raillerie, que l'accroître en la defendant, it is better to put up a Jest, than encrease it by a weak defence.

Isaac

Isaac donc accreut, & alloit toujours en augmentant, (Gen. 26. 13.) and Isaac waxed great, and went forward.
 Accroupi, squat upon the tail.
 S'Accroupir, to sit squat upon the tail.
 Accru, (from Accroître) encreased.
 Une Riviere accrue par des Ruiffeaux, a River swelled by Rivulets.
 Or thus. As, Gen. 26. 13. † Il alloit toujours en augmentant jusqu'à ce qu'il fut merveilleusement accru, he went forward, and grew, until he became very great.
 Accueil, (m.) reception, entertainment (and always a kind one, unless the word mauvais, or the like, be joyned to it.)
 Faire accueil à tout le monde, to make all people welcom. Il lui fit un accueil le plus obligeant du monde, he received him in a most obliging manner. Faire mauvais accueil à quëcun, to receive (or entertain) one unkindly.
 Accueilli, received, entertained.
 Accueillir, to receive, to entertain.
 This Verb, which formerly was used to express an ill Entertainment, is now taken always in good part. But it is almost out of date, and Recevoir is the Verb used in stead of it.
 † L'Aigle accueille ses petits, & les porte sur ses ailes, (Deut. 32. 11.) the Eagle takes her young, and bears them on her wings.
 Acculé, set on his tail, brought to a strait, or to a nonplus.
 Un Taureau qui se trouve acculé par des Dogues, a Bull hard put to it by the Dogs, that is fain to shelter himself in a corner.
 Acculer, to bring to a strait, or to a non plus.
 Acculer un Taureau, to press a Bull very hard, to drive him to a corner.
 Acculer l'Enemi, le ferrer de si près qu'il ne sache par où se sauver, to beset the Enemy round, to leave them no way to escape.
 Cheval qui s'accule, a horse that throws down, or sets on his tail; also, that does not take ground enough in his motions.
 Accumulé, accumulated.
 Accumuler, to accumulate.
 Accusateur, (m.) Accuser, Informer.
 Se rendre Accusateur de quëcun, to inform against one, to be his Accuser.
 Accusatif, (m.) Accusative.
 Accusation, (f.) accusation, information, or charge.
 Intenter (entreprendre) une Accusation, to bring an Information against one. Pour suivre une Accusation, to prosecute a Charge.
 Accusatrice, (f.) a she Informer.
 Accusé, accused, informed against, charged with some fault or crime.
 Etre fausement accusé & injustement condamné, to be wrongfully accused and unjustly condemned.
 L'Accusé, (m.) the Party accused.
 Accuser, to accuse, or inform against, to charge with some fault or crime.
 Accuser quëcun de larcin, to accuse one of theft, to charge one with theft.
 Acéré, steeld, sharp, that cuts well.
 La Pauvreté est un Glaive bien acéré, Poverty is a sharp Weapon.
 Acerer, (from Acier) to steel, to temper Iron with Steel.
 Achalandé, custumed.
 Une Boutique bien achalandée, a Shop that is well custumed.
 Achalandier, to get a Tradesman Customers, to get Customers to his Shop.
 S'Achalandier, to get (or to draw) Customers.
 Acharné, fished with; felly minded, cruelly bent against one.
 Acharné au Combat, eager in the fight.
 Acharnement, (m.) a fleshing; a severe (or cruel) disposition.
 S'Acharner, greedily to feed upon flesh; cruelly to fall upon.
 L'Ours s'acharne peu souvent sur un Cadavre, a Bear does seldom feed upon (is seldom fished with) a Carrion.
 Ils se font tous acharner contre moi, they all fell foul upon me, ready to tear me to pieces.
 Achat, (m.) from Acheter, a purchase.
 Faire un bon achat, to make a good purchase.

Ache, (f.) Smallage.
 Acheminé (en termes de Manege) As, Cheval acheminé, a broken Horse, that begins to know the Bridle, and to answer the Spur.
 Acheminement, (m.) a way (or means) to compass a thing.
 C'est un acheminement à une plus grande fortune, this will make way for preferment.
 † Acheminer, to put in the way.
 Achemine moi (dit le Psalmiste) au sentier de tes Commandemens, car j'y pren plaisir, make me to go in the path of thy Commandments, for therein do I delight.
 S'Acheminer, to take his way, to set forward, to begin his Journey.
 Il s'achemina vers la Cappadoce, he took his way towards Cappadocia.
 Il s'achemine vers sa chute, he runs to his ruin.
 Acheté, bought, purchased.
 Acheter, to buy, to purchase.
 Acheter de quëcun argent contant, ou à credit, to buy of one ready money, or upon trust.
 Acheter cherement, ou à bon marché, to buy dear, or cheap.
 Acheter bien cherement un petit plaisir, to pay dear for a small pleasure.
 Acheteur, (m.) a Buyer.
 Achevé, finished, ended, concluded.
 Un Ouvrage achevé, parfait, ou excellent, an excellent (a rare) piece of Work.
 Un Auteur achevé, an excellent Author.
 Un Fou achevé, an absolute Fool. Un Cheval achevé, a Horse well managed, that understands all the tricks of a Manege.
 Achevement, (m.) a perfecting, or bringing to perfection.
 Achever, to finish, end, or conclude, to make an end of; to polish, to make compleat, or bring to perfection.
 Achever (finir) son Ouvrage, to finish his Work, to make an end of it. Achever son Discours, to end (to conclude) his Discourse.
 La plupart des Auteurs ne se donnent pas le tems d'achever leurs Ouvrages, few Authors take the time which is requisite to bring their Works to perfection.
 Or thus. As, achever d'emplir, to fill up. Achever de boire, to drink up.
 Achopement, (m.) a stumbling-block; an offence, Rom. 14. 20. grief, 2 Sam. 25. 31.
 C'est l'achopement de l'Antiquité, it is the stumbling-block of Antiquity.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 119. 165. Il y a grande prosperité pour ceux qui aiment ta Loi, & il n'y a point d'achopement pour eux, great peace have they which love thy Law, and nothing shall offend them.
 Pierre d'achopement, a stumbling-stone.
 Acide, acid.
 Les choses acides rafraichissent, acid things are cooling.
 Acier, (m.) steel.
 Boucles d'acier, steel buckles.
 Acolite, (m.) he that ministers to the Priest while he says Mass.
 Aconit, (m.) aconitum (a venomous Plant.)
 Acoquiner. See Accoquiner.
 Acquerir, (m.) Terme de Palais, a Purchaser.
 Acquerir, to acquire, to get, to purchase.
 Acquerir des richesses, de la reputation, de l'honneur, to acquire riches, fame, honour. Acquerir l'amitié de quëcun, to get ones friendship. Acquerir du Bien, to purchase an Estate. L'acquerir par des voies legitimes, to get it by lawful means.
 Le Sage ecoutera, & en deviendra mieux appris, & l'homme entendu en acquerra prudence, (Prov. 1. 5.) a wise Man will hear, and will encrease learning, and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels.
 S'Acquerir, to get.
 As, s'acquerir des Amis, de l'honneur, to get Friends, to get honour. Il s'est acquis le Royaume par un Parricide, he got the Crown by a Parricide.
 Acquet, (m.) Terme de Droit, a Purchase.
 Acquiescement, (m.) consent, condescension.
 Donner son acquiescement, to give his consent.
 Acquiescer, to acquiesce, to consent, to condescend.

Acquis, (from Acquerir) acquired, got, purchased.
 † Avoir de l'acquis, to be qualified for something.
 Acquisition, (f.) a purchase.
 Une nouvelle acquisition, a new purchase.
 Acquit, (m.) acquit de Douane, a cocket.
 † Par maniere d'acquit, slightly, only for fashion sake.
 Acquiter, to acquit, or discharge.
 Acquiter de la Marchandise, to pay the Custom. Acquiter ses Dettes, to pay off his Debts.
 S'Acquiter, to acquit himself, to perform, to fulfil.
 As, s'acquiter de son devoir, to acquit himself of his duty, to do (to perform) his duty. S'acquiter de sa promesse, to perform (to fulfil) his promise, to be as good as his word.
 Acre, sharp.
 As, Urine acre & mordante, sharp Urine.
 Acrimonia, (f.) acrimony.
 L'acrimonia des humeurs, the acrimony of humours.
 Acrocher. } See { Accrocher.
 Acroître. } { Accroître.
 Acrostiche, (f.) Acrostick, a Copy of Verses whereof the first Letters contain a Name or a Sentence.
 S'Accroupir. See S'Accroupir.
 Acte, (m.) act, deed, action; a Deed, or Instrument (in Law); an Act, of a Comedy or Tragedy; an Act, or University-Exercise, as in Divinity, Philosophy, Physick, Law, &c.
 Acte de contrition, an Act of contrition.
 Et Joseph leur dit, quel acte est celui que vous avez fait? (Gen. 44. 15.) and Joseph said unto them, what act is this that you have done? Pourquoi faites vous ces actes ici? car j'appren vos mechans actes (1. Sam. 2. 23.) why do ye such things? for I hear of your evil dealings.
 Les Actes des Apôtres, the Acts of the Apostles.
 Acteur, (m.) Actor, or Player in a Comedy; the chief Manager of an intricate Business.
 Il a été un grand Acteur en cette Affaire, He has been a great Stickler in that Concern.
 Actif, active, stirring, lively, nimble, brisk, or full of action; active, in opposition to passive; owing, or due.
 Un Jeune homme actif, an active Young man.
 Vie active, a Life full of action.
 Verbe Actif, a Verb Active. Signification active, an active sense.
 Effets actifs (en Termes de Palais) Debts owing (or due) unto us.
 Action, (f.) action, act, or deed; action, or way of delivery; a Speech, or Sermon; action, or plea; action, fight.
 Faire une action illustre, ou genereuse, to do a noble act. Faire une action de Justice, to do an act of Justice. Une action lâche, basse, indigne d'un honnête homme, a base and unworthy action.
 Parler d'action, to have a brisk way of delivery. Avoir l'action belle, to have a fine way of delivery, to have a quaint way of speaking in publick. L'Action donne l'ame au Discours, Action gives life to a Discourse. L'Eloquence depend des Choses, des Paroles, & de l'Action, Eloquence depends upon Things, Words, and Action.
 Voila un bon Predicateur, il a fait une belle Action, there's a good Preacher, he has made a delicate Sermon.
 Avoir (intenter) action contre quëcun, to have (or bring) an action against one.
 Action réelle, ou personnelle, a real, or personal action. Action criminelle, an action for crime.
 Actions de grâces, thanksgiving.
 Rendre à quëcun des actions de grâces, to give one thanks, to return him thanks, to thank him. Je vous rendrai d'éternelles actions de grâces, I shall ever be thankful to you.
 Active, the feminine Gender of Actif.
 Activement, dans un sens actif, active, in an active sense.
 Ce Verbe se prend activement, this Verb is taken actively, or in an active sense.
 Activité, (f.) strength, or vigour, activity, briskness.

Les Corps naturels redoublent leur activité à mesure qu'ils s'approchent du Centre, natural Bodies redouble their strength as they draw near to their Center.

J'admire l'activité de ce Jeune homme là, I admire that Young man's briskness.

Activité d'esprit, readiness of wit.

Actrice, (f.) Actress, a Woman Player.

Actuel, actual, or reduced into action; actual, or efficacious.

Le Peché Originel & le Peché actuel, the Original and the actual Sin.

La Grace actuelle, the actual Grace.

Actuellement, really, indeed.

A D.

Adamites, (m.) sorte d'Heretiques, Adamites.

† Adapté, adapted.

† Adapter, to adapt. Say, appliquer.

Addition, (f.) addition, or increase; addition, in Arithmetick.

Faire des additions à un Livre, to make additions to a Book.

L'Addition (en termes d'Arithmetique) est l'Art d'assembler plusieurs Sommes, ou plusieurs Nombres, pour trouver la Somme totale, Addition is an Art of gathering together several Sums or Numbers, to find out the total Sum.

Additionner, to reduce (or make up) several Sums into one.

Addonné, given, bent, addicted, inclined.

Un homme addonné à toute sorte de Vices, a man given (addicted) to all manner of Vices.

Je suis entièrement addonné à la Paix, mais quand j'en parle ils veulent la Guerre (Ps. 120. 7.) I am altogether for Peace, but when I speak, they are for War.

s'Addonner, to give, addict, or apply himself.

S'addonner aux Exercices du Corps, to give his mind to bodily Exercises. S'addonner à l'étude des belles Lettres, to give his mind (to apply himself) to Learning.

s'Addorler. See s'Adorler.

Addouci, softened, smoothed; sweetened; appeased, pacified; tempered, qualified; asswaged, lenified, or mitigated.

Son naturel s'est fort addouci, he is now of a much sweeter temper, he is nothing near so fierce as he has been. Vous faites ces Souhaits après vous être de beaucoup addouci, you make these Wishes now your Anger is pretty well over.

Addoucir, to soften, or make soft; to sweeten, or make sweet; to soften, assuage, lenifie, temper, or qualify.

La Savonette addoucit le poil, a Wash-ball softens the beard.

Addoucir la Voix, la rendre delicate, to sweeten the Voice, to make the Voice sweet and delicate.

Addoucir (appaier) quécun, to appease (or pacify) one, to assuage his anger. Addoucir son humeur farouche, to temper (qualify, or soften) his savage humour.

Addoucir la douleur, to assuage the pain. Mes Malheurs ne vous peuvent addoucir, my Misfortunes cannot soften you.

Or thus: Addoucir ses ennemis, to divert himself. Le Temps addoucit les aigreurs, Time wears away animosities. Le Ris addoucit la Tristesse, Laughing eases one of his Melancholy.

Addoucir sa colere, to cool his anger. Il est bon d'addoucir les choses, it is good to go on smoothly.

Addoucir un Tableau, donner plus de douceur à l'air d'un Visage, to give the last strokes to a Picture, in order to make it look sweeter. Addoucir le son de la Trompette, to make the Trumpet sound sweeter.

S'Addoucir, to soften, or grow soft; to sweeten, or grow sweet; to grow milder.

Votre poil s'addoucit, your beard grows soft. L'eau salée s'addoucit par le melange des eaux douces, the salt-water grows sweet by the mixture of fresh water.

La douleur s'addoucit, my pain begins to leave me, or to grow less. Le Temps commence à s'addoucir, the Weather begins to grow mild.

Addoucissez vous, appeaisez votre colere, be peaceable, mitigate your anger.

Addoucissement, (m.) the act of softening, sweetening, &c. according to the Verb.

Si ce n'est un Remede à mes Maux, c'est au moins l'Addoucissement de mon Chagrin, if this do not rid me of all my Troubles, it gives however some ease to my Grief.

Il faut apporter quèque addoucissement aux Mots qui ne sont pas bien etablis, some lenitive must be used for Words that are not current.

Adresse, (f.) supercription; direction; wisdom, wit; address, industry, knack, or cunning.

Une Adresse de Lettre mal ecrite, a Supercription ill writ.

Son Adresse est à Paris chez un tel, his Direction is at Paris at such a ones house.

On admire l'adresse dont Salomon se servit pour decouvrir la vraie Mere, the Wisdom of Solomon is admired, whereby he found out which was the true Mother.

Sa Femme a une adresse admirable pour se donner toujours raison, his Wife has a wonderful genius to make the right appear of her side.

Il a une adresse à faire cela toute particuliere, he has a peculiar knack that way.

Addressé, directed; sent; dedicated.

Votre Lettre me fut adressée, your Letter was directed to me.

Je fus adressée à lui, I was sent to him.

Un Livre adressé à quécun, a Book dedicated to one.

Or thus: As, que ma Requête soit adressée devant toi comme le Parfum, (Ps. 141. 2.) let my Prayer be set forth before thee as Incense.

Addresser, to direct; to send; to dedicate; to frame, judg. 12. 6. to carry himself wisely, 1 Sam. 18. 14.

Addresser une Lettre à quécun, to direct a Letter to one.

Le Ciel m'adresse par tout des facheux, the Heavens send me troublesom men wherever I go.

Addresser un Livre à quécun, to dedicate a Book to one.

S'Addresser à quécun, to address (or apply) himself to one, to make his application to him.

S'Addresser (s'attaquer) à quécun, to meddle with one. Ne vous adressez pas à lui, il vous frotera, do not meddle with him, he will be too hard for you.

Ce Discours s'adresse à vous seul, this Discourse regards none but you, does only concern you.

Adherent, adhering, cleaving, sticking fast unto.

Un Adherent, (Subst.) a follower of a Sect, or Heresy.

Le Diable & tous ses Adherans, the Devil and all his Followers.

† Adherer, to adhere, to side, or take part with, to stick, or cleave unto.

J'ai adheré à tes Temoignages, (Ps. 119. 31.) I have stuck unto thy Testimonies.

And Deut. 4. 4. Vous qui avez adheré à l'Eternel votre Dieu, je that did cleave unto the Lord your God.

Adjacent, adjacent, neighbouring.

As, Terres adjacentes, adjacent (neighbouring) Countreys.

Adjectif, (m.) Adjective.

Accorder l'Adjectif avec son Substantif, to make the Adjective agree with its Substantive.

Adieu, adieu, farewell, God be with you.

This Adverb is commonly used at parting, and sometimes at the end of a Letter; in which case it expresses some love or tenderness. As, Adieu, je suis tout à vous, adieu, I am yours. Adieu, je vous baise les mains, adieu, I kiss your hands.

The same is also used, when a man leaves a Place or a Person, with some kind of disgust.

As, adieu la Cour, adieu pour la dernière fois, farewell the Court, farewell for ever. Adieu, va te promener, farewell, go thy ways.

Moreover it is used to express a discontent upon the loss of a Thing which was dear to us.

As, si cela arrive, adieu l'Amour, if that comes to pass, farewell Love. Adieu tous mes plaisirs, farewell all my delights.

Lastly, it is used Substantively, in the Masculine Gender, and then it expresses friendship and tenderness.

As, dire adieu à quécun, to take his leave of one, to bid him farewell. Lui dire un dernier adieu, to bid him the last farewell. Dans l'Empire d'Amour l'Adieu coute le plus à dire, in the Empire of Love, a farewell is the hardest thing to compass.

Sans adieu, a familiar way of parting upon business for a little while.

† Adjoindre, to adjoin, to add.

Et le Seigneur adjoignoit de jour en jour à l'Eglise des gens pour être sauvez (Act. 2. 47.) and the Lord added to the Church daily such as should be saved.

Adjoint, See Ajoint.

Adjournement, See Ajournement.

Adjoindre, See Ajoindre.

Adjudicataire, (a Law-Term) he to whom a thing is adjudged, or delivered by Judgment.

Adjudication, (f.) adjudication.

Adjugé, See Ajugé.

Adjurer, See Ajuger.

† Adjurer, to adjure, to charge.

Admettre, to admit, or receive; to allow, or to grant.

Admettre quécun à sa table, to admit one at his table.

On n'admet que deux Principes des Etres naturels, la Matiere & la Forme, there are but two Principles allowed of natural Beings, the Matter and the Form.

Administrateur, (m.) Administrator; a Layman, to whom is committed the temporal care of an Hospital.

Administration, (f.) management, administration, ministry.

Administré, ministred, administréd, managed.

Les Revenus de la Republique estoient sagement administrés, the Revenues of the Common-weal were prudently managed.

Administrer, to minister, to administer, or manage; to administer, or to give.

Administrer les Finances, to manage the Finances, that is, the Kings Revenues.

Administrer les S. Sacramens, to administer the holy Sacraments.

Admirable, admirable, wonderful; admirable, rare good, or excellent.

La Sageffe de Dieu est admirable, wonderful is the Wisdom of God.

Un Ragout admirable, an excellent Ragoo.

This word is also used sometimes by way of jest and Dislike.

As, le Detour est bon, & l'Excuse admirable, it is a good come off, and an admirable Excuse.

Vraiment vous êtes admirable, indeed you are a pretty man.

Admirablement, admirably, wonderfully, rarely well, mighty well.

Cela vous sied admirablement, that becomes you mighty well.

Admiral. See Amiral.

Admirateur, (m.) Admirer.

Admiration, (f.) admiration.

Son Eloquence me ravit en admiration, I am taken up with admiration when I hear his Eloquency.

Un Point d'admiration, a Note of admiration.

Admirauté. See Amiraute.

Admiré, admired, wondered at.

Sa Vertu fut admirée, her Vertue was admired.

Admirer, to admire, to wonder at.

J'admire également sa conduite & son courage, I equally admire his conduct and courage.

Je vous admire de penser que nous soyons opposés à l'Ecriture, I wonder you should think we go against Scripture.

Se faire admirer, to make himself to be admired.

C'est ce qui fait admirer (c'est ce qui fait qu'on admire) les bons Orateurs, that is it which makes good Oratours to be so admired.

Admis, (from Admettre) admitted, or received.

As, je fus admis à sa Table, I was admitted at his Table.

† Admission, (f.) admittance, admission.

Admodiateur } See { Amodiateur.

Admodiation } See { Amodiation.

Admodié } See { Amodié.

Admodier } See { Amodier.

† Admoneté, admonished, exhorted, warned.

† Admoneter, to admonish, to exhort, to warn.

Admonition, (f.) Terme d'Eglise, admonition, exhortation, warning.

Adolescence, (f.) adolescence.

† L'Adolescence du Monde, the Age of the World next to the Infancy thereof.

† Adolescent, (m.) a young man.

This word is only used in Jest, speaking of an elderly man.

As, pourquoi ne feroit il pas l'amour? ce n'est encore qu'un jeune Adolescent, why should not he make love? alack, he is but a young Man.

† Adone, then, at that time; and, Judg. 9. 28.

Say Alors.

Adonné } See { Addonné.

s'Adonner } See { s'Addonner.

Adopté, adopted.

Adopter, to adopt; to own.

Il l'adopta pour fils & pour heritier, he adopted him, he made him both his Son and his Heir.

Ce n'est pas chose étrange en lui d'adopter les Oeuvres d'autrui, it is no new thing with him to own another mans Works.

Adoptif, adoptive, chosen by adoption.

Un fils adoptif, an adoptive Son. Fille adoptive, an adoptive Daughter.

Adoption, (f.) adoption.

Nous sommes les Enfants de Dieu par adoption, we are Gods Children by adoption.

Adorable, adorable, worthy (or fit) to be adored; adorable, that deserves to be loved with great respect.

La Providence adorable de Dieu, the adorable Providence of God.

Les Yeux ne sauroient rien voir de plus adorable, si quelque Objet des yeux se doit adorer, if any Object of our Eyes deserves adoration, the Eyes can see nothing that is more adorable.

Adorateur, (m.) Adorer; a respectful Lover.

Les Payens étoient des Adorateurs de faux Dieux, the Heathens were Adorers of strange Gods.

C'est là son Adorateur, celui qui l'aime d'une passion tendre & respectueuse, there is he who loves her with a tender and respectful passion.

Adoration, (f.) adoration, worship; a profound respect and passion that one has for another.

Rendre des adorations publiques à quelque Idole, to perform a publick worship to an Idole.

Avoir une adoration particuliere pour une personne, to have a most particular respect for a person.

Adoré, adored.

Adorer, to adore, or worship; to adore, or have a passionate and respectful love for; to adore, honour, or respect in a high measure.

Adorer la Sagesse & Toute puissance de Dieu, to adore Gods Wisdom and Omnipotency. Que ne puis je sans crime adorer vos beautés? Oh! were it lawful for me to adore your beauty.

Ne foulez pas à vos piez celui qui vous adore, do not trample your adorer under your feet.

S'il se fût bien ménagé, il se feroit fait adorer de tout le monde, had he acted like a discreet man, he would have been adored by all the World.

Adossé, leaning his back.

Je le vis comme il étoit adossé contre le Mur, I saw him as he was leaning his back against the Wall.

s'Adosser contre quelque chose, to lean his back against something.

Adouci } See { Addouci.

Adoucir } See { Addoucir.

Adoucissement } See { Addoucissement.

Adresse } See { Adresse.

Adressé } See { Addressé.

Adresser. See Addresser.

Adroit, cunning, neat, ingenious.

Tibere étoit adroit à cacher ses Vices, & à faire paroître ses Vertus, Tiberius was a neat man (or had a peculiar knack) in concealing his Vices, and exposing his Virtues to view.

Un Adroit, a cunning Sophister.

Adroitement, cunningly, neatly.

Conduire adroitement une Affaire, to manage a business neatly, or cunningly.

Advenement } See { Avenement.

Advenir } See { Avenir.

Advent } See { Avent.

Adventure } See { Aventure.

Advenu } See { Avenu.

Advenue } See { Avenue.

Adverbe (m.) Adverb.

Adverbe mal placé, an Adverb out of its place.

Adverbial, Adverbial.

Façon de parler adverbiale, an adverbial way of speaking.

Adverbialement, Adverbially.

Mot pris adverbiallement, a Word taken adverbially.

Adversaire, (m.) Adversary, Opposer.

Vous êtes un de mes plus grands Adversaires, you are one of my greatest Adversaries.

Adversative, adversative.

As, Conjonction adversative, a Conjunction adversative.

Adverse. See Averse.

Adversité, (f.) adversity, trouble, misery.

Etre dans l'adversité, to be in adversity, or in trouble.

Adverti } See { Averti.

Advertir } See { Avertir.

Advertissement } See { Advertissement.

Adveu } See { Aveu.

Advis } See { Avis.

Advisé } See { Avisé.

Adviser } See { Adviser.

† Adulateur, a Flatterer. Say Flateur.

Adultere, (m.) adultery; an Adulterer.

Commettre un adultere, to commit adultery.

Il fut condamné comme Adultere, he was condemned as an Adulterer.

Adultere, (f.) an Adulteress.

As, une infame Adultere, an infamous Adulteress.

Adultere, (Adj.) As, un homme adultere, an Adulterer. Une Femme adultere, an Adulteress.

† Adulteresse, (f.) an Adulteress. Say une Adultere.

Advocasser } See { Avocasser.

Advocasserie } See { Avocasserie.

Advocat } See { Avocat.

Advocate } See { Avocate.

Advoué } See { Avoué.

Advouër } See { Avouër.

Aduste, (Terme de Medecine) over-heated, adust.

As, un Sang aduste, Blood over-heated, adust Blood.

A E

Æ, being a Diphthong, is sounded like an E; as Enée, Æole.

But Caen, a City of Normandy in France, is pronounced Can.

Aéré } See { Airé.

Aerer } See { Airer.

Aerien } See { Airien.

Aeromancie } See { Airomancie.

A F

† Affabilité, (m.) affability.

Affable, affable.

† Affablement, affably

Affadi, dull, heavy, the sharpness whereof is taken away.

Affadir, to make dull, or heavy, to take away the sharpness of.

La Tarte à crème m'affadit l'Estomac, a cream Tart takes away the sharpness of my Stomack.

Affaire, (f.) affair, business, thing; concern; trouble.

Se charger d'une affaire importante, to take upon himself an important affair. Etre accablé d'affaires, to be imbarassed (or pestered) with business. C'est une étrange affaire, it is a strange thing.

Mêlez vous de vos affaires, meddle with your own concerns. C'est ici une grande Affaire, this is a great Concern.

S'attirer des affaires, to bring himself into troubles. Sortir d'affaire, to get out of trouble. Ne vous faites point d'affaire avec cet homme là, do not trouble your self with that man.

Or thus. As, être mal dans ses affaires, faire mal ses affaires, not to thrive, to go down the wind. Faire bien ses affaires, to thrive, to do well, to prosper.

† Il fait ses affaires, il chie, he does his business, he shites. Reposez vous sur moi, j'ai votre affaire, you may rely upon me, I shall fit you. C'est une affaire que cela, that is a business indeed.

Affaire, for à faire, see Faire.

† Affaire, busy, full of business, taken up with business.

Affaillé, sunk, or falm.

Affaïssement, (m.) a sinking, or falling.

s'Affaïsser, to sink, to fall.

La Terre s'affaïsse ici, the Earth sinks here.

Affalé, (Terme de Marine.) As, un Vaisseau affalé sur la Côte (qui faute de vent, ou par trop de vent, ne peut s'élever & courir au large) a Ship that by reason of too much or too little Wind cannot get off from the Shore to have Sea-room.

Affamé, famished, starved; greedy.

Ventre affamé n'a point d'oreilles, a starved Belly has no ears.

Affamé de gloire, greedy of glory.

Affamer, to famish, to starve.

As, affamer une Ville, to famish a Town.

Affectation (f.) affectation.

Tomber dans une ridicule affectation, to please himself with a ridiculous affectation.

Affecté, affected, full of affectation; assigned, attributed, appropriated.

Un Style affecté, an affected Style. Des Complimens affectez, affected Compliments.

Ce Droit là lui est affecté, that Right belongs properly to him.

Affecter, to affect, or desire with affectation; to assign, attribute, or appropriate.

Affecter de paroître ce qu'on n'est pas, to affect a false outward shew.

Or thus. Rom. 12. 16. N'affectez point les Choses hautes, mind not high Things.

Affection, (f.) affection, love, kindness; inclination, or zeal.

Avoir bien de l'affection pour quécun, to have a great kindness for one. Prendre quécun en affection, to entertain a love (or affection) for one.

J'ai une affection sans pareille pour leur service, I have an extraordinary Zeal for their service.

† L'Eternel met son affection en son Peuple (dit le Psalmiste) the Lord (says the Psalmist) takes pleasure in his People.

L'Affection de la Chair est Mort, parce qu'elle est Inimicitie contre Dieu, mais l'Affection de l'Esprit est Vie & Paix, (Rom. 8. 6.) to be carnally minded is Death, because the carnal Mind is Enmity against God, but to be spiritually minded is Life and Peace.

Affectionné, affectionate; addicted.

Je suis votre affectionné Serviteur, I am your affectionate Servant. Etre affectionné à son Parti, to be addicted to his Party.

† Que ceux qui sont affectionnez à ma Justice s'enjoignent avec chant de triomphe, (Psalm. 35. 27.) let them shout for joy and be glad that favour my righteous Cause.

Ceux qui sont selon la Chair sont affectionnez aux Choses de la Chair, (Rom. 8. 5.) they that are after the Flesh do mind the Things of the Flesh.

† Affectionnement, affectionately.

Affectionner, to love, or have a love for; to fancy, or to like.

Le Roi affectionne un tel, the King has a love for him.

C'est une Chose que je n'affectionne pas beaucoup, this is a Thing I don't fancy much.
 † Affectueusement, affectionately, heartily; instantly, Luke 7. 4; fervently, 1. Pet. 1. 22.
 † Affectueux, affectionate, hearty.
 Affermé, farmed.
 Affermer, to farm, to let out unto farm.
 As, affermer une Terre, to farm a piece of Ground, to rent it out.
 Affermi, strengthened, established, fastened; confirmed, corroborated.
 Or thus. As, † celui qui profere mensonge ne sera point affermi devant moi, (Psalm 101. 7.) he that telleth lyes shall not tarry in my sight.
 Affermir, to strengthen, establish, fasten; to confirm, to corroborate; to make sure, 1. Pet. 5. 10.
 Affermir les fondemens d'une Maison, to strengthen the foundation of a House.
 Affermir les dents dans leurs alveoles, to fasten the teeth in their holes. Affermir sa Santé, to strengthen his Health.
 Lequel aussi vous affermira jusques à la fin, (1 Cor. 1. 8.) who shall also confirm you unto the end.
 Cela n'a servi qu'à affermir notre Amitié, that has been a great help to corroborate our friendship.
 Or thus. As, affermir son pié, to set his foot upon sure ground. Affermir son esprit contre les Dangers, to put on a firm resolution against all Dangers.
 Affermi mes pas sur ta Parole, (Psalm 119. 133.) order my steps in thy Word.
 Dieu est puissant pour l'affermir, (Rom. 14. 4.) God is able to make him stand.
 † Affermir, to grow firm.
 Affermissement, (m.) any thing that strengthens.
 Affété, affected, full of affectation, quaint, or precise.
 Un Langage affété, an affected Language.
 La plus petite est la plus éveillée & la plus affétée, the youngest is the sprightliest, and withall the most quaint.
 Afféterie, (f.) an affected way.
 Affiche, (f.) a Paper posted up; a Siquis (in Terms of Law,) a Paper of Latin Verses, or Prose, in the Jesuits Colleges; also the Time when such Papers are posted up in Schools.
 Affiché, posted up.
 Afficher, to post up.
 As, afficher un Livre, to post up a Book (in order to make it known.)
 Afficher, couper les extremités du Cuir lors qu'il est sur la forme, to pare the leather whilst it is upon the last.
 Afficheur, (m.) one that posts up papers up and down for publick notice.
 Affidé, trusty, trusty friend.
 Il étoit affidé à Alexandre, he was a trusty friend to Alexander.
 Affilé, set, that has an edge set on.
 † Elle a le bec bien affilé, elle babille beaucoup, she has a nimble tongue.
 Affiler, (Terme de Coutelier) to set, to set an edge on, to sharpen.
 Affiler un Rasoir, to set a Razor.
 Ils affilent leur Langue comme un Serpent, (Ps. 140. 4.) they sharpen their Tongues like a Serpent.
 Affinage, (m.) the fining (or refining) of Metals.
 As, l'Affinage est fait (en Termes de Monnoie) the Refining is over.
 Affiné, fined, refined, &c. according to the Verb.
 † La Parole du Seigneur est affinée (Ps. 18. 30.) the Word of the Lord is tried.
 † Affinement, (m.) a fining, or refining.
 Affiner, to fine, to refine.
 Affiner l'or, l'argent, l'étain, le salpêtre, &c. to refine gold, silver, pewter, salpeter, &c.
 Or thus. As, affiner le Chanvre (en Termes de Cordier,) le passer par l'Affinoir pour le rendre plus fin, to make the hemp finer.
 Affiner le carton (en termes de Relieur,) le renforcer, to strengthen the pastboard.
 Affiner le fromage, le rendre jaune & gras, to improve (or refine) cheese.
 Affineur, (m.) a Refiner of Gold, Silver, &c.
 Affinité, (f.) affinity.
 Nous avons quelque affinité avec eux, there is some affinity amongst us.
 Affinoir, (m.) from Affiner, a Cord-makers

Comb wherewith he fines his hemp.
 † Affiquets, (m.) cosmetics, Womens toys.
 † Affirmateur, (m.) that affirms a thing, an avoucher.
 Affirmatif, affirmative.
 Proposition affirmative, an affirmative Proposition.
 Affirmation, (f.) affirmation; oath.
 Deux Negations en Latin valent une Affirmation, two Negatives in Latin have the sense of an Affirmative.
 Il fera crû sur son affirmation, he shall be believed upon his oath.
 Affirmative, (a fem. subst.) the affirmative.
 Si vous tenez l'affirmative, je defendrai la negative, if you be for the affirmative, I shall stand for the negative.
 L'affirmative & la negative de la plupart des Opinions ont chacune leur probabilité, the affirmative and negative of most Opinions have every one of them their probability.
 Affirmativement, affirmatively.
 Declarer une Chose affirmativement, to declare a Thing affirmatively.
 Affirmé, affirmed, asserted, avouched, maintained.
 Affirmer, to affirm, assert, avouch, or maintain; to swear, or take his oath.
 Il me l'a affirmé, he has asserted it to me.
 Il a affirmé qu'il ne devoit rien, he has taken his oath that he owed nothing.
 Affliction, (f.) affliction, grief, sorrow, trouble.
 Je ressens votre affliction, I am sensible of your affliction, of your grief.
 Il receut une sensible affliction, a great sorrow (or trouble) came upon him.
 Etre dans l'affliction, to be in troubles.
 Donner de l'affliction, to grieve, to trouble.
 Affligé, afflicted, grieved, troubled.
 Il est affligé de la Mort de sa Femme, he is troubled for the Death of his Wife.
 C'est assez d'être du nombre des Affligés pour être de vos Amis, to be your Friend 'tis sufficient to be amongst the Afflicted.
 Affligé, sad, grievous, afflictive.
 C'est une Chose affligée, 'tis a grievous thing, a sad thing.
 Affliger, to afflict, grieve, or trouble; to mortify; to shake, or bring to ruin.
 Cette Affaire ne m'afflige pas moins que vous, this Business afflicts (grieves, or troubles) me as much as it does you.
 Affliger son Corps par des austeritez, to mortify his Body by an austere life.
 La Guerre afflige l'Etat, the Wars shake the State.
 S'affliger de quelque chose, to be troubled, (grieved, or concerned) about any thing.
 Affluence, (f.) affluence, plenty, abundance.
 Il y avoit une affluence incroyable de peuple, there was an incredible abundance (or concourse) of people.
 Le Chemin étoit rompu par l'affluence des Ruissieux, the Ways were broken through the abundance of Brooks.
 Affoibli, weakened, weak, grown weak, or faint.
 Affoiblir, to weaken, to make weak, or faint.
 La Douleur m'affoiblit, my Pain weakens me.
 La Vieillesse affoiblit les personnes, Old Age makes people weak.
 Le Chaud affoiblit les Corps, Heat makes our Bodies faint.
 The same is used also in a figurative sense. As, affoiblir une pensée, le courage, un Parti, to weaken a notion, the courage, a Party.
 Affoiblir la Monnoie, la rendre de moindre valeur, to alloy the Coin, to abate the value of it.
 S'affoiblir, to grow weak, feeble, or infirm, to decay.
 Mes forces s'affoiblissent, my strength begins to fail me, or begins to decay.
 Le Parti s'affoiblit, the Party grows weaker and weaker.
 Affoiblissement, (m.) a weakening, or diminution of strength; an alloying, or abating the value of Coin.
 † Affolé, wounded, spoiled, (in an amorous sense.)
 Un Magistrat de Province affolé de sa propre amour, a Country-Magistrate spoiled with love.

Bouffole affolée (en Termes de Marine) cd. mal touchée, ou defectueuse, a bad Compass, a Compass not true, not well touched, that does not shew the North exactly.
 † Affoler, to wound, to spoil, (in an amorous sense.)
 L'Amour affole Chloris, Love spoils Chloris.
 † Affoli, made foolish.
 † Affolir, to make foolish.
 As 1 Cor. 1. 20. Dieu n'a-t-il pas affoli la Sapience de ce Monde? has not God made foolish the Wisdom of this World?
 Affourcher, to cast another Anchor opposite to the first.
 Affranchi, free.
 As, affranchi de la Servitude, affranchi des Misères de la Vie, free from Slavery, free from the Miserys of this Life.
 Un Affranchi, une Affranchie, a Man, or Woman made free, or discharged from Servitude.
 L'Affranchi de notre Seigneur, (1 Cor. 7. 22.) the Lord's Freeman.
 Affranchir, to make free, to give one his liberty who was but a Slave.
 As, affranchir quécun, to make one free.
 La Loi de l'Esprit de Vie qui est en Jesus Christ m'a affranchi de la Loi du Peché & de la Mort, (Rom. 8. 2.) the Law of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus has made me free from the Law of Sin and Death.
 S'affranchir, to free himself, to get free.
 As, s'affranchir de la tyrannie des Passions, to free himself from the tyranny of Passions.
 Or thus. As, s'affranchir de la Domination d'un Souverain, to shake off a Sovereigns Toke.
 Affranchissement, (m.) a freedom given to a slave.
 Affreteur } See } Affreteur.
 Affreusement } } Affreusement.
 Affreux } } Affreux.
 † Affriander un Enfant, le rendre friand, to bring up a Child to dainties.
 Affront, (m.) affront, abuse.
 Faire un sanglant affront à quécun, to put a deadly affront upon one.
 Recevoir un affront, to receive an affront.
 Endurer un affront, to bear (to put up) an affront.
 Affronté, affronted, abused, cheated.
 Affronter, to affront, to abuse, or cheat; to incounter, to set upon.
 Affronter quécun, le tromper finement & malicieusement, to cheat one, to abuse him.
 Affronter l'Enemi, l'attaquer, to incounter the Enemy.
 Affronter la Mort, ou le Danger, s'y exposer hardiment, to affront Death, or the Danger, not to be afraid of it.
 Affronteur, (m.) a cunning Cheat.
 Un infigne Affronteur, a famous Cheat.
 Affronteuse, (f.) a cheating Woman.
 C'est une franche Affronteuse, she is a pure Cheat.
 † Affublé, muffled up.
 Affublé d'un manteau, muffled up with a cloak.
 † Affublement, (m.) a muffling up; the Cloaths one is muffled up with.
 † Affubler, to muffle up.
 On l'affubla d'un froc, they muffled him up in a Monks habit.
 Affut, (m.) the Carriages (or Stocks) for Artillery; a close Place where the Hunter hides himself, and waits for Game to shoot at.
 Aller à l'affut, to go hunting in the dusk of the evening, by lying upon the lurch for the Game.
 Affutage, (m.) a Joyner's set of Tools.
 Avoir tout son affutage, to have all his tools about him.
 Affuté, that has his Tools.
 Etre bien affuté, to have all his Tools about him.
 Affuté, ou aiguisé (en Termes de Menuisier) set, made sharp.
 As, un Outil affuté, a sharp Tool.
 Afin, a Conjunction always followed with the Particle de and a Verb in the Infinitive Mood, or with the Particle que and a Verb in the Operative Mood.
 Afin de, to, for to, in order to, that, to the end that.

Afin de vous obliger, to oblige you. A fin de m'y persuader, to (for to, in order to) persuade me to it.

Il ne fait son devoir qu'afin d'être loué, he do's his duty only that he may be praised. Elle veut qu'on l'oblige seulement afin de pouvoir être ingrate, she lacks to be obliged to the end only that she may shew her Ingratitude.

Afin que, that, to the end (to the intent) that.

As, afin que vous ne pensiez pas que j'ai trouvé un Trésor, that you may not think I found a Treasure. Il fait cela afin qu'on ne soupçonne rien, he do's it to the end that nothing be suspected, or he do's it lest one should suspect any thing.

Afriteur (Terme de Marine) a private Merchant, that hires a Ship and pays so much a month to the Owner.

Afreusement, horribly.

Or thus. As, il est afreusement laid, he is extrem (or exceeding) ugly, he frights people with his ugliness.

Afreux, hideous, dreadful, terrible to look on. Avoir le regard afreux, to have a hideous (dreadful, or terrible) look.

Armée afreuse à voir, a dreadful (or terrible) Army to look on.

†Automates. See Automates.

A G.

Agacé, set on edge.

Avoir les dents agacées, to have his teeth set on edge.

Agacement, (m.) a setting on edge.

As, l'agacement des dents, the setting the teeth on edge.

Agacer, to set on edge; to provoke, urge, or anger.

Le Citron rafraichit, mais il agace les dents, a Lemmon is cooling, but it sets the teeth on edge.

†Agacer un moineau, to anger a sparrow.

Ils s'agacent l'un l'autre, they provoke (they urge) one another.

Agaric, (m.) agarick, (a Kind of Drug.)

Agate, (f.) agate.

Des Couteaux à manche d'agate, Knives with agate handles.

Age, (m.) age, a tract of time; age, or part of man's life.

Ovide, dans sa Description fabuleuse du Monde, l'a divisé en quatre Ages différens; savoir l'Age d'or, d'argent, d'airain, & de fer, Ovid, in his fabulous Description of the Creation of the World, divides it into four Ages, viz. the Golden, Silver, Brass, and Iron Age.

La Vie de l'Homme est partagée en divers Ages, qui font l'Enfance, l'Adolescence, la Jeunesse, l'Age viril, la Vieillesse, & l'Age decrepit, the Life of Man is divided into several Ages, viz. Infancy, Adolescence, Youth, Manhood, Old age, and decrepit Age.

En cet Age brutal il semble que les Hommes soient transformez en Bêtes, in this brutish Age one would think Men transformed into Beasts.

Bas age, Infancy. Age de discretion, years of discretion. La fleur de l'âge, the prime of ones years. Il est en la fleur de son âge, he is in the very prime of his years.

Etre en âge, to be of age. Etre en âge de gagner sa vie, to be of a fit age (to be old enough) to get his livelihood. Etre en âge de porter les armes, to be of a fit age to bear arms. Etre en âge de se marier, to be marriageable, to be ripe for marriage.

Quel âge avez vous? how old are you? J'ai l'âge de trente ans, I am thirty years old, I am thirty. Un homme de cet âge doit être raffiné, a man of that age (of those years) ought to be stayd.

Age avancé, old age. Etre sur l'âge, to be old. Etre hors d'âge de porter les armes, to be past bearing arms. Elle est hors d'âge d'avoir des Enfants, she is past Child-bearing.

Agé, so many years of age, a certain number of years old; old, aged, that is come to be old.

Agé de 20 ans, 20 years of age, 20 years old.

Il est mort âgé, he was old when he died.

Agencé, set in order.

Agencement, (m.) order, the orderly placing (or disposing) of something.

L'agencement des os, the orderly placing of the bones.

Agencer, to set in order.

Tes mains (dit le Psalmiste) m'ont fait & agencé, thy hands have made me and fashioned me.

Agence ton Ouvrage, (Prov. 24. 27.) prepare thy Work.

S'agencer, to put himself in a posture.

As, il se coucha tout de son long, & s'agença le plus honnêtement qu'il lui fut possible, he laid himself down all at length, and put himself in the best posture he could.

†Agenda, (m.) a Book of Memorandums, a Table-book.

Mettez cela sur votre Agenda, set that down in your Table-book.

Agenuillé, kneeling, on his knees.

†Agenuiller, to kneel, to kneel down, to fall upon his knees.

Agent, (from Agir) m. an Agent, in Philosophy; an Agent, or Negotiator.

†S'Aggluer, to cleave, to stick fast.

Aggrandi, enlarged, made greater or bigger; raised, advanced, highly preferred.

Aggrandir, to enlarge, to make greater or bigger; to raise, to advance.

Aggrandir un Jardin, une Cour, to make a Garden or a Court greater.

Il tâche d'aggrandir toute sa Famille, he does his best Endeavours to raise all his Family.

S'aggrandir, to grow (to make himself) great, to grow upon his Neighbours.

Aggrandissement, (m.) improvement, in point of extent; preferment, advancement, growth.

L'Aggrandissement de Londres est bien considerable, the Improvement of London is very considerable, London is very considerably improved or enlarged.

Songer à son aggrandissement, to lay about how to grow (or make himself) great.

L'Aggrandissement du Roi de France, the Growth of the French King.

†Aggravation, (f.) aggravation.

†Aggravé, aggravated; hardened, Ex. 7. 14.

Aggrave, (f.) Terme d'Eglise, an aggravating Excommunication.

Aggraver, to aggravate, or make greater; to harden, Ex. 8. 15.

As, Circonstances qui aggravent le peché, Circumstances which aggravate the sin, aggravating Circumstances.

Aggreable

Aggreablement

Aggré

Aggreer

Aggregation, (f.) aggregation.

Etre d'un Corps par aggregation, to be of a Society by aggregation.

Aggré, aggregated, received into a Society.

Or thus. As, Nous soussignez Docteurs en Theologie, aggregez au College Royal de cette Ville, We subscribed Doctors of Physick of the College Royal of this Town.

Aggreger, to receive into a Society.

Agresseur, (m.) Aggressor.

Il est l'Agresseur, he is the Aggressor.

†Aggression, (f.) aggression, assault, or first onset.

Il recourra mon ame en paix de l'aggression qu'on me fait, (Ps. 55. 19.) he will deliver my soul in peace from the Battel which is against me.

Agile, agile, nimble, active.

Il y a des Bêtes fort agiles, there be some very nimble Beasts.

Agilement, nimblely.

Il a fait le tour fort agilement, he is gone nimblely about.

Agilité, (f.) agility, nimbleness, activity.

L'Agilité des Hommes egale celle des Chevaux, the activity of Men equals that of the Horses.

Agir, to act, to do.

Agir de concert avec quécun, to act unanimously. Il est bon d'agir par conseil là où la force paroît inutile, it is good to act with counsel where a thing cannot be done by force.

Agir en ami, en honnête homme, to act like a friend, like an honest man.

Il en a tout à fait bien agi envers moi, he has done very well by me.

Il s'agit (a sort of Verb Impersonal). As, il ne s'agit pas, (cd. il n'est pas question) de peu de chose, it is not a trifling Concern.

Il s'agit de votre Vie, your Life is at stake. Il ne s'agit pas de cela, that is not the business in hand.

Agissant, (Adj.) active, stirring, busy.

Un homme agissant, vif, actif, diligent, an active (stirring, busy) man.

Une femme agissante, an active (stirring, or busy) woman.

Agitation, (f.) agitation, to'st, violent motion; a trouble.

Il est dans une continuelle agitation, he is in a perpetual to'st, or motion.

La Constance des Sages n'est que l'Art de renfermer leurs Agitations dans leur cœur, the Constancy of Wise men is but an Art of keeping in the Agitations of their hearts.

Agité, agitated, shaken, tossed; debated; tormented, or tortured.

Qu'êtes vous allé voir au Desert? un Roseau agité du Vent, (Matt. 11. 7.) What went ye out into the Wilderness to see? a Reed shaken with the Wind.

Agiter, to agitate, shake, or to'st; to debate; to torment, or torture.

Les Vents agitent la Mer, the Winds to'st the Sea.

Agiter une Question, to debate a Question.

L'horreur de son Crime l'agitoit, he was tormented by the horror of his Crime.

Agneau, (m.) a Lamb.

Agneau Pascal, the Paschal Lamb. Jesus Christ est l'Agneau sans taches, Christ is the unspotted Lamb.

De l'Agneau, ou Chair d'Agneau, Lamb, or Lamb's flesh.

Un Quartier, une Epaule d'Agneau, a Quarter, a Shoulder of Lamb. Une Tête d'Agneau, a Lamb's head.

Agneler, to Lamb, to bring forth Lambs.

†Agnelet, for petit agneau, (m.) Lambkin, a little (or a young) Lamb.

Les Montagnes sauterent comme Moutons, & les Coteaux comme Agnelets, (Ps. 114. 4.) the Mountains skipped like Rams, and the little Hills like Lambs.

Agnus, or Agnus Dei, (m.) an Agnus (a sacred Thing amongst Roman Catholics, which they commonly wear about their Necks.)

Agnus-castus, (m.) Agnus-castus (a Shrub not unlike a Willow, or an Almond-tree.)

Agonie, (f.) agony, last gasp.

Etre à l'agonie, to breath his last, to be at the point of death. Leur Vie n'est qu'une agonie continuelle, their Life is but a constant agony.

Phillis me met à l'agonie, Phillis puts me to a nonplus.

Agonisant, dying, in a dying condition.

Agoniser, to be in agony, to be at the point of death.

Agrafe, (f.) clasp; the brace of a Doffer.

Une agrafe d'or, a golden clasp.

Agraser, attacher avec des agrafes, to clasp, or fasten with clasps.

Agreable, agreeable, pleasant, pleasing, acceptable, accepted, thank-worthy 1 Pet. 2. 19.

Agreable à manger, pleasant to eat.

Un agreable Sejour, a pleasant Place to live in.

Etre agreable à tout le Monde, to be pleasing to all the World.

Il n'est rien de plus agreable à Dieu que la Charité, nothing is more acceptable to God than Charity.

Avoir pour agreable, to like, to accept.

Agreablement, pleasantly; ingeniously.

Passer agreablement la Vie, to lead a pleasant Life.

Il s'en est acquitté fort agreablement, he has done it very ingeniously.

Aggré, accepted, approved (well liked) of.

Agreer, to accept, to approve (or like well) of; to please, or be pleasing; to rig.

J'agréé votre Desein, I like your Design, I do approve of it. J'agréé votre Excuse, je la trouve bonne, I like your Excuse. Agreer un Mariage, to approve of a Match.

Agreer

Agreer au Roi, to please the King. Il faut avoir du merite pour agreer aux gens d'esprit, one must be deserving to please men of parts.

Or thus. As, Agreez que je vous dise mon sentiment, give me leave to tell you my mind. Agree un Vaisseau, l'equiper de sa Manoeuvre, to rig a Ship.

Agreur, (m.) a Rigger of Ships.

Agreils, (m.) Equipemens de Cordages, &c. the Rigging of a Ship.

Agrément, (m.) liking, approbation; grace, or set off; any pretty thing, or Knick-knack that pleases the fancy; a pretty way (or knack) of doing a thing.

Avoir l'agrément du Roi pour une Charge, to have the King's liking about a Place.

Elle a dans toutes ses manieres un agrément qui enchante, she hath in all her actions a charming grace.

L'Ordre & l'Exactitude sont les Agréments d'un Livre, Order and Exactness are the Set-offs of a Book.

Des Agréments pour un habit, Loops. Agréments de perruque, the locks of a perwig that fall about the temples. Agrément de Broderie, a part of Embroidery-work which serves to set off the rest.

Or thus. As, des Fruits qui n'ont gueres d'agrément, Fruits that are not very agreeable.

†Agreste, rustical, clownish.

Ton humeur agreste me deplaît, I hate thy rustical humour.

Agriculture, (f.) Agriculture, Husbandry.

Les Anciens faisoient gloire de s'addonner à l'Agriculture, our Forefathers took a pride in Agriculture. Entendre bien l'Agriculture, to have skill in husbandry, to understand it well.

Agrimoine, (f.) agrimony, liver-wort.

Agripaume, (f.) mother-wort.

†Agriper, to snatch.

Elle agripe tout ce qu'elle void, she snatches whatever comes near her.

Agrouper. See Grouper.

Aguerrir, trained up in martial Discipline.

Aguerrir, to train up in the Wars.

S'aguerrir, to grow warlike. As, nos Troupes commencent à s'aguerrir, our Men begin to grow warlike, to be seasoned for Wars.

Aguet. As, être aux aguets, to ly in wait, to be upon the catch.

Or thus. As, Jos. 8. 13. †Le Peuple mit son Aguet d'Occident contre la Ville, the People set their Liers in wait on the West of the City.

†Aguetter, to watch, to wait for, to lurk for.

Mon ame s'attend au Seigneur plus soigneusement que ceux qui aguettent le Jour (Ps. 130. 6.) my Soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the Morning.

Aguettons secrettement l'Innocent, sans craindre aucune punition, (Prov. 1. 11.) let us lurk privily for the Innocent, without fear of punishment.

A H.

Ah! Oh!

This Interjection expresses both Joy and Anger.

As, ah! ah! que cela est doux! oh! how sweet it is!

Ah! ah! Coquins! que faites vous ici? oh! oh! you Rogues! what are you doing here?

Ah, ah, ah! je vous apprendrai à vous connaître, oh, oh! I shall teach you to understand your selves.

It is also used with Repetitions in a jesting way.

As, te voila payé de ta Raillerie, ah, ah, ah, ah! now thou art paid off for thy Jest, oh, oh, oh!

Ahan, (m.) the loud sighing and pain-expressing time which Wood-cleavers (for example) keep with their Voices unto the blows they give.

Faire une chose avec ahan, to do a thing with great pains and trouble.

†Ahaner, to sigh out.

J'ai ahané en mon gemissement, (Ps. 6. 6.) I am weary with my groaning.

Le Soleil ahané vers le Lieu d'où il se leve, (Eccl. 1. 5.) the Sun hasteneth to the Place where he arose.

†Aheurt, (m.) a stumbling block.

As, Lev. 19. 14. tu ne mettras point d'aheurt devant l'Aveugle, thou shalt not put a stumbling block before the Blind.

Aheurté, obstinate.

Aheurté à son sens, wedded to his own opinion. De tout tems elle a été aheurtée à cela, she ever stuck to that.

†Aheurement, (m.) offence, as 1 Sam. 25. 31.

†Aheurter, obstinately to stick to something; to stumble, 1 Pet. 2. 8.

Ahi, (an Interjection of Grief) ahi.

Ahi, ahi, tout doucement, vous me faites mal, ahi, ahi, softly, you hurt me.

A I.

†The Diphthong ai is generally pronounced in French as in English, or as the Vowel a is commonly sounded in English. Ex. faire, taire.

But, before m and n, the a is in a manner mute, as in these Words faim, pain.

And, before l, the sound of the i is drowned in the liquid l; as travail, travailler.

There are some Words where this Diphthong is sounded like an e; and that either in the first Syllable, or in the middle, or else at the end of a Word.

In the first Syllable, as in aigu, aiguade, aiguier, aguille, aiguillon, and their Derivatives, faissant, faiseur, faiseuse, faisons, faisons, faisez, faineant.

In the middle of the Word, as araignée, fontainier, contraire, &c.

At the end of a Word, as gai, bai, je ferai, je parlerai, haie, tremblaie, faussaie. In all which Words, and the like, it sounds much like an é acute.

Where you find the i marked with two pricks, it is a sign that ai is no Diphthong; so that the a belongs to one Syllable, and the i to another. As in these Words, hair, naïf, Sinai.

Aiant. See Ayant.

†Aidant. As, Dieu aidant, by Gods help. Say, avec l'aide de Dieu.

Aide, (f.) help, assistance, aid; excise.

Appeler ses Voisins à son aide, to call to his Neighbours for help. C'est le dernier des Maux d'implorer l'aide d'un Traître, it is the worst of Evils to implore a Traitors help.

Crier à l'aide, to call (to cry out) for help. A l'aide, O Roi, (2 Sam. 24. 4.) Help, O King.

Les Aides sont affermées, the Excise is farmed. La Cour des Aides, the Court of Excise, or the Court wherein all Causes that concern the Excise are heard and determined.

Aide, (m.) a Helper. As, Aide à Maillon, a Majors Helper, he that reaches him Stone and Mortar as he works.

Aide de Cuisine, a Kitchen Officer that is subservient to the Cook. Aide à Mouleur de bois, an Under-Officer to a Mouleur de bois.

Aide de Ceremonies, an Under-Master of Ceremonies. Aide de Camp, an Adjutant.

Aide major, a Foot-Officer, that takes care of all the Regiment.

†Eternel, sois moi en aide, (Ps. 30. 11.)

Lord, be thou my helper. Que ta main me soit en aide, (Ps. 119. 173) let thine hand help me.

Aidé, helped, assisted, aided.

Aider, to help, assist, or aid.

Aider quécun de son credit, to assist one with his credit.

Je te prie de m'aider à decouvrir l'Imposture, pray, help me to find out the Cheat.

Or thus. As, Rom. 8. 27. Toutes Choses aident ensemble en bien à ceux qui aiment Dieu, all Things work together for good to them that love God.

S'aider, to help himself; to use, to make use of.

La Fortune aide celui qui veut s'aider, Fortune helps him who helps himself. S'aider l'un l'autre, to help one another.

Il s'aide de la main gauche aussi bien que de la droite, he uses his left as well as his right hand. Il ne peut pas s'aider de ses membres, he can make no use of his limbs.

Or thus. As, chacun s'aide comme il peut, every one shifts for himself as well as he can.

Aieul } See { Ayeul.

Aieule } See { Ayeule.

Aigle, (m. & f.) an eagle; a transcendent Wit.

L'Aigle est un des Oiseaux que les Juifs avoient en abomination, the Eagle is one of the Fowls which were an abomination to the Jews.

Un Aigle noir, a black Eagle.

L'Aigle Romaine, l'Eaigle des Legions des anciens Romains, the Roman Eagle.

L'Aigle Imperiale, les Enseignes (ou les Troupes) de l'Empereur, the Imperial Eagle.

Aiglon, (m.) le petit de l'Aigle, an Eaglet, or young Eagle.

Le Renard mit le feu à l'Arbre, & les Aiglons tomberent tout rotis, the Fox set the Tree on fire, and the young Eagles fell down ready roasted.

Aigre, sour, or sharp in taste; sour, sharp, or bitter in his expressions, humour, or carriage.

Cerises aigres, sour (sharp) Cherries. Une Liqueur aigre, a sour Liqueur.

Aigre doux, half sweet, half sour, between sweet and sour.

Des paroles aigres, sharp words. Des esprits aigres, men of a sour (or bitter) temper.

Aigre de cedre, a sort of liquour of a most pleasant taste.

Aigrement, sharply, bitterly, severely.

Tibere reprit les Juges aigrement, Tiberius gave a severe check to the Judges.

Aigremoine. See Agrimoine.

†Aigret, (m.) sour grapes.

As, Ezek. 18. 2. Les Peres ont mangé l'aigret, & les dents des Enfants en sont agacées, the Fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the Childrens teeth are set on edge.

Aigrette, (f.) a white Heron; a parcel of white Herons feathers; a Topping of a Coach-horse, or the like.

Aigreur, (f.) sourness, sharpness, (both in the proper and figurative sense;) grudge, spite, spleen, ill will, malice, animosity; smartness, or heat; bitterness.

Une Aigreur piquante, a pungent sharpness. Pour adoucir l'aigreur des Peines que j'endure, je me plain aux Rochers, to temper the sharpness of the Pain I lie under, I bemoan my self to the Rocks.

Avoir de l'aigreur contre quécun, to have a spite (or a spleen) against one; to bear him a malice.

Faire les Choses avec aigreur, to do Things in a heat, or with a bitter mind.

Aigri, grown sour, or sharp; provoked, incensed, exasperated.

Aigrir, to make sour, or sharp; to provoke, incense, or exasperate.

Cela aigrira le vin, le fera devenir aigre, that will make the wine sour.

Combien de fois ont ils aigri Dieu dans le Desert? how often have they provoked God in the Desert? Aigrir les esprits, to incense (or exasperate) men, to breed ill blood.

S'Aigrir, to sour, to grow sour, or sharp; to fall out, to fall into a passion, to be angry.

Vin qui commence à s'aigrir, Wine that begins to sour.

Aigu, sharp, that hath a sharp point; sharp, or scrill; sharp, or violent; acute, or ingenious.

Une pointe aiguë, a sharp point.

Une Voix aiguë, a sharp (or a shrill) Voice.

Douleur aiguë, a sharp pain.

Epigramme aiguë, a sharp (or ingenious) Epigram.

Aiguade, (f.) Terme de Mer. As, faire aiguade, to take in fresh water.

Aigue marine, (f.) a precious Stone of Sea water colour.

Aiguiere, (f.) an Ewer.

Aiguiérée, (f.) an Ewer full.

As, une aiguiérée (or plein l'aiguiere) d'eau, an ewer full of water.

Aiguille, (f.) a needle, to sow with; a packing needle; a needle, to knit stockings with; a bodkin used by Ladies to dress their heads with;

the needle of a Watch or Dial; the cock (or trial) of a ballance; the Spire of a Steeple; a Sea-fish called Horn-back.

La pointe & le trou d'une aiguille, the point and the eye of a needle. Enfiler une aiguille, to thread a needle.

Il est plus aisé (dit Jesus Christ, Matt. 19. 24.) qu'un Chameau passe par le trou d'une aiguille qu'a un Homme riche d'entrer au Royaume des Cieux, it is easier for a Camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich Man to enter into the Kingdom of God.

Aiguillée, (f.) a needle-full.

Aiguillée de fil, ou de soie, a needle-full of thread, or silk.

Aiguiller, (m.) a Needle-maker.

Aiguilleté, whose Cloaths are eyed with points.

Aiguillette, (f.) a point, a tagged point.

Fer d'aiguillette, the tag of a point.

Nouer l'aiguillette à quécun, to tie a mans codpiece, to charm it so that he shall not be able to use his own Wife, though he may use any other.

Avoir l'aiguillette nouée, to be impotent as to his Wife by virtue of a Charm, to want erection.

† Courir l'aiguillette, être dans le libertinage, to play the common Whore, to run up and down after her Leachery. (This Expression is derived from an ancient Custom, when common Wenches were enjoined to wear a Point on one of their shoulders, thereby to distinguish them from those that professed Honesty. What a sight of Points should we have, if such a Law were now in force amongst us?)

Aiguillon, (m.) a sting; a goad.

Aiguillon de mouche, the sting of a fly. L'Aiguillon de la Mort c'est le Peché, (1 Cor. 15. 56.) the Sting of Death is Sin.

Piquer un bœuf avec un Aiguillon, to prick an Ox with a goad.

Or thus, figuratively. As, la louange des belles Actions sert d'aiguillon à la Vertu, the praise of noble Actions is a mighty thing to spur one on to Virtue.

La Colere seroit d'aiguillon à son ardeur naturelle, Anger stirred up his fiery nature.

† Aiguillonner, incited, spurred on.

† Aiguillonner, to incite, or spur on.

Aiguilé, whetted, made sharp, whereon a good edge is set.

Aiguiler, to whet, make sharp, or set a good edge on; to whet, or to refine.

Aiguiler un couteau, des ciseaux, to whet a knife, or cizars. Aiguiler un crayon, to make a pencil sharp. Aiguiler l'appetit, to whet the stomach.

Aiguiler l'esprit, to whet the Wit. Le bon Vin aiguile l'esprit, good Wine whets the Wit.

† Aiguiseur, (m.) that whets, or makes sharp.

Ail, (m.) garlick.

Pain froté d'ail, bread rubbed with garlick. Sentir l'ail, to smell of garlick.

Aile (f.) a wing, wherewith a bird flies; a wing of a Building, of an Army, and of a Windmill; the broad end of a larding pin; the lead that covers a square of a glass window.

This Word is also said of Winds, Love, Time, the Mind, &c. but especially in Poetry. As, les ailes de l'Amour, the wings of Love. Porté sur les ailes du Vent, carried upon the wings of the Wind.

Or thus. As, si la Peur vous donne des ailes pour vous sauver, l'Esperance lui en donnera de plus fortes pour vous atteindre, If Fear gives you wings to fly away withal, Hope will give him stronger wings to overtake you.

On ne peut pas voler sans ailes (Prov.) one cannot fly without wings, it is impossible to compass great matters without means.

† J'en ai dans l'aile, je suis perdu, I am caught, I am at a Loss. Je lui rongnerai bien les ailes de près, I shall bring him down. Sous l'aile de sa Maman elle n'a pris qu'une basse habitude, under the wing of her Maman she has contracted but a base habit.

Il ne bat plus que d'une aile, he is gone, he is undone, he has but one string left to his bow; also he is a dead man, a dying man.

Il en tirera pié ou aile, he will get something out of it.

Ailé, winged, that hath wings.

As, un Cheval ailé, a winged Horse.

Aileron, (m.) small wing.

As, la Vigilance porte des Ailerons à la tête, pour marquer qu'elle est Compagne de la Diligence, Vigilance carries small wings on her head, to shew that she is a Companion of Diligence.

Ailerons du Né, those grisly parts of the Nose which are on both sides of the tip.

Ailleurs, elsewhere, somewhere else, in another place, to another place.

D'ailleurs, from another place; besides, moreover.

Par ailleurs, through another place.

Aimable, amable, lovely, to be loved.

C'est une femme fort aimable, she is a most lovely woman.

Etre d'un naturel aimable, to be of a lovely temper, to be of a sweet and kind nature.

† Aimablement, in a lovely manner.

Aimant, (m.) load-stone.

Aimanté, touché avec l'aimant, rubbed with a load-stone.

Aimé, loved, beloved.

Bien aimé de ses Voisins, well beloved of his Neighbours.

Mes bien-aimés, my Beloved.

Aimer, to love.

Aimer quécun tendrement, ardemment, passionnément, eperdument, to love one tenderly, passionately, to be passionate for him. Je vous aime de tout mon cœur, I love you with all my heart, I love you intirely.

C'est trop aimer quand on en meurt, they love too much who dye for love. (To which answers the English Saying, Love me little and love me long.) On n'oublie pas aisément ce que l'on a aimé parfaitement, sound Love is not soon forgotten.

Aimer quèque chose; s'y plaire, la fouhaiter, avoir du panchant pour elle, to love a thing, to like it. Le Voluptueux aime ses Plaisirs, l'Ambitieux les Honneurs, l'Avaré les Richesses, & l'Yvrongne le Vin, the Voluptuous man loves his Pleasures, the Ambitious man loves Honours, the Covetous Riches, and the Drunkard the Bottle.

J'en aime point qu'on me gêne, I don't love to be constrained.

† Je t'aime de vous, je vous ferai raison, I'll pledge you.

Aimer mieux, to have rather, to choose rather.

Ils aimèrent mieux le prendre vif que de le tuer, they chose rather to take him alive than to kill him.

J'aime mieux une fortune basse, qu'une fortune élevée & tumultueuse, I had rather (or I had lieve) a mean fortune, than to be raised to a lofty and troublesome state.

J'aime mieux un Valet mal fait & sage, qu'un Valet bien fait & fripon, I had rather an ill-favoured but discreet Servant, than a well-favoured Knave.

Aimoragie. See Hemorrhagie.

Aïne, (f.) the groin.

Avoir l'aine enflée, to have the groin swelled.

Ainé, (m.) Aînée, (f.) eldest, first born.

Il est l'Ainé de la Famille, he is the eldest of the Family.

L'Aînée est la plus belle, the eldest Daughter is the handsomest.

Or thus. As, mon frere aîné, (lors qu'ils ne sont que deux freres) my elder Brother.

Aînesse, (f.) eldership.

Droit d'aînesse, birth-right.

Esaü vendit son Droit d'aînesse à Jacob, Esaü sold his Birth-right to Jacob.

† Ains, but, rather.

Ainsi, so, thus, after this manner.

Ainsi vous ne devez rien craindre, so you need not fear any thing.

Il parla ainsi à ses Soldats, thus he spoke to his Soldiers. Faites le ainsi, do it after this manner. Ainsi soit il, so be it.

Or thus. As, est ce ainsi que vous étudiez? do you study no better? Il est ainsi fait, c'est là son humeur, that's his temper, his nature, his humour. On est ainsi fait, such is the genius of this Age.

† Ainsi n'avienne, God forbid. Say à Dieu ne plaife.

† Ainsi aussi, even as.

Ainsi que, as, even as, so as.

Ainsi que je le conçois, as I apprehend it. Je fais ainsi que font les plus sages, I do even as the wisest men do. Il est ainsi que vous dites, it is so as you say.

† s'Ajoindre, to be joyned.

As, 1 Cor. 6. 16. Ne savez vous pas que celui qui s'ajoint à une Paillardé est fait un même Corps avec elle? know ye not that he which is joyned to an Harlot is one Body with her?

And Eph. 5. 31. C'est pourquoi l'Homme quittera son Pere & sa Mere, & s'ajointra à sa Femme, for this cause shall a man leave his Father and Mother, and shall be joyned unto his Wife.

Ajoint, (m.) an Assistant, or Associate (in commission, function, or office;) one that joyns with another in a Suit or Action.

Ajoins, ou Circonstances d'une Chose, the Adjuncts, or Circumstances of a Thing.

Ajourné, summoned, warned to appear.

Ajournement, (m.) a Summons.

Ajourner, to summon, or warn to appear.

Ajouté, added.

Ajouter, to add.

Ajouter une chose à une autre, to add one thing to another. Ajouter Crime sur Crime, to add Crime upon Crime.

Ajouter foi aux paroles de quécun, to believe what one says, to give credit to it.

† J'ajouterai à toute ta louange, (Ps. 71. 14.) I shall praise thee more and more.

Air, (m.) the Air, one of the four Elements; an air, or tune; air, aspect, countenance, look, presence; manner, way, course, or carriage; the harmony of parts in a Picture; the curves of a horse; a point of the Compass.

La haute, moyenne, & basse Region de l'Air, the upper, middle, and lower Region of the Air. Les Oiseaux de l'Air, the Birds of the Air. Donner entrée à l'Air, to let in the Air. Tirer un mousquet en l'Air, to let off a gun into the Air. Etre suspendu en l'Air, to hang in the Air. Vivre de l'Air, to live upon the Air.

Un Air pur & subtil, a pure, keen, or sharp Air. Un Air serein, a serene Air. Air épais & grossier, a thick and foggy Air. Un bon Air, un Air sain, a good wholesome Air. Un Air doux & temperé, a kind temperate Air. Un mauvais Air, un Air mal sain, an ill, or unwholsom Air.

Prendre l'Air, prendre le frais, to take the Air, to take some fresh Air.

Air nouveau de Musique, a new Tune, a new Air of Musick. L'Air que vous venez de chanter est grave & mélancolique, the Tune you sung just now is both grave and melancholy.

Avoir l'air chagrin, to have a morose aspect, to look peevish or melancholy. Il a un air fort modeste, he has a modest look. Prendre un air riant, to put on a smiling countenance. Avoir un air de qualité, avoir l'air grand & noble, to have a noble air, or a noble aspect, to look great.

Avoir l'air grand, vivre à la maniere du grand monde, to live high. Je vis d'un air dans le Monde à ne rien craindre, I live at such a rate (or in such a manner) that I need fear nothing. Vous verrez de quel air il vous parlera, you shall see how he will speak to you. L'air dont il parle montre assez qu'il est fâché, il parle d'un air qui fait bien voir qu'il est fâché, he shews by his way of speaking that he is really angry.

Dire quèque chose d'un air libre & enjoué, to say a thing freely and in a facetious way. Faire les choses d'un bel air, to do things gallantly, honourably. Danfer d'un bel air, to dance briskly, bravely. Danfer d'un air dégagé, to have a free way of dancing, to dance handsomely.

Il a été élevé à l'air de la Cour, he was brought up after the Court way, he was bred a Courtier. Elle avoit de l'Air du Monde, she had a handson, (she had a genteel) carriage.

Je n'aime point ces Airs de Courtisane, I hate the Ways of a Courtesan. Il prend tout l'air d'un méchant Garnement, he takes the right course of a lewd (or licentious) Fellow.

Or

A I

Or thus. As, discourir en l'Air, to discourse extravagantly. Donner des preceptes en l'air, to give precepts in vain.

A rain, (m.) brash.

Aire, (f.) the floor of a Barn, a threshing floor; the superficies of a floor; an aire of Birds of prey; the inside of a Geometrical figure.

Airé, aired; well seated, situate in a fine air.

Airer une Maison, y brûler des senteurs pour en chasser le mauvais air, to air a House, with burning perfumes to drive an ill air out of it.

Airien, aerial, of the Air.

As, un Corps airien, an aerial Body. Substance aérienne, an aerial Substance.

Aïromancie, (f.) Divination par l'Air, Aïromancy.

Ais, (m.) board.

Un grand ais, a great board.

Ais (ou feuille) de Carton, a past-board.

†Aïfances (f.) the Privy, the House of Office. Say les Lieux.

Aïse, (m.) ease, comfort, pleasure.

Aimer ses aïses, to love his ease. Etre à son aïse, to be at ease.

Les Aïses de la Vie, the Comforts of this Life.

Chercher ses aïses, to mind his pleasures.

Prendre ses aïses, to take his pleasures.

Or thus. As, être à son aïse, avoir du bien médiocrement, to be well to pass, to have wherewithal to live. Les voila bien à leur aïse, now they are warm, or well-lined.

Vivre à son aïse, to live comfortably. Se promener à son aïse, to walk for his pleasure.

Il parle bien à son aïse, he speaks at random, freely, or to his purpose, (without a full knowledge of the matter.)

A l'aïse, ou sans peine, easily, with ease.

As, six hommes de front y passent à l'aïse, six men abreast go easily through it.

On est assis à l'aïse à son Sermon, there's elbow-room enough, (there's no Crowd) when he preaches.

Aïse, bien aïse, (Adj.) glad, well-pleased.

Je suis bien aïse de ce Mariage, I am very glad of that Match, I am well pleased with it.

Je suis bien aïse qu'il ne soit pas venu, I am glad that he is not come.

Or thus. As, vous ne serez pas bien aïse que je vous dise la Verité, you won't like it to hear the truth from me. On n'est pas bien aïse d'avoir un Etranger pour Maître, Men do not love that a Stranger should rule over them.

Aïfé, easy, easy to say, or to do; easy, to be wrought upon.

Il n'est rien de plus aïfé, there's nothing more easy. Il est aïfé de le dire, 'tis an easy thing to say.

Aïfé à apprivoiser, easy to tame. Un Esprit aïfé, an easy man.

Mal aïfé, hard, difficult.

Aïfement, easily, with ease; freely, or willingly.

Je le ferai aïfement, I shall do it easily, or with ease.

Ce Fruit est si excellent, que je le préférerois aïfement à tout autre, this is so excellent a Fruit, that I could freely prefer it before any other.

Mal aïfement, hardly, with much ado.

Aïfine } See { Aïne.

Aïné } See { Aïne.

Aïnesse } See { Aïnesse.

Aïsse (f.) aïsse de Roué, axel-pin, the iron-pin that keeps a Wheel in.

Aïsselle, (f.) arm-hole.

Aïsselle puante, a stinking arm-hole.

Aïffieu (from Aïsse) m. the axel-tree.

Aïtiologie, (f.) that Part of Physick which treats of the different Causes of Diseases.

Ajudicataire } See { Adjudicataire.

Ajudication } See { Adjudication.

Ajagé, adjudged, or given by judgment.

Ajager, to adjudge, to give by judgment.

Ajusté, adjusted, fitted, ordered, framed, joined, disposed.

Bien ajusté, well done, well contrived, well set together.

Bien ajusté, bien couvert, in a bandom garb.

† En voila treize ajustez au niveau (cd. faits comme il faut) there are thirteen exactly done.

Ajustement, (m.) dress, garb, attire.

Vos Actions & votre Ajustement ont un Air de qualité qui enchante, there is something in your Carriage and Dress which is noble and charming.

Les Dames se trouverent à cette Solennité dans un Ajustement magnifique, the Lady's came to that Solemnity in a most sumptuous Attire.

La Toilette & les Ajustemens d'une Courtisane ne sont pas propres à une Reine, the Toilet and Dress of a Courtesan are not fit for a Queen.

Ajuster, to adjust, fit, order, frame, join, or dispose.

As, ajuster ses cheveux, to put his hair in order.

Ajuster les etriers, to fit the stirrups.

Ajuster les rênes dans la main, to fit the reins to his hand.

Ajuster des ballances, to make the Weights fit.

S'ajuster, to dress himself, to make himself fine; to suit, agree, or quadrate.

Il s'ajuste pour plaire aux Femmes, he makes himself fine to please Women.

Il faut que votre Volonté s'ajuste à la sienne, your Will must suit with his.

Cela s'ajuste assez mal au Dessin que vous avez pris, that does not quadrate very well with the Design you took in hand.

A L

†Alaigre

†Alaigrement

Alaite

Alaiter

Alambic, (m.) a Lembeck, an Alembick, a Still.

†Alambiqué, distilled through an alembick.

†Alambiquer, to distil through an alembick.

†S'alambiquer l'esprit, to puzzle himself, to beat his brains about a thing. Say s'embarasser l'esprit.

†Alangouri, languishing, fainting, brought low, waxed feeble.

Ils ont été alangouris par leur Iniquité, (Ps. 106. 43.) they were brought low for their Iniquity.

And 1 Sam. 2. 5. Celle qui avoit beaucoup de Fils est devenue alangourie, she that hath many Children is waxed feeble.

†s'Alangourir, to languish, or to faint, to fail in strength, to decay in vigour.

Alarguer (en Termes de Mer) se mettre au large, to take Sea-room.

Alarme, (f.) alarm; fear, or trouble.

Sonner, donner, prendre l'alarme, to sound, give, and take an alarm.

Tenir la pudeur en alarme, to keep chastity in fear.

Nous voyons finir nos alarmes, we see our troubles go away.

Or thus. Il crie alarme, he cries out murder.

Alarmé, alarmed; frightened.

Elle fut alarmée de ce Spectacle affreux, she was frightened with that dreadful Sight.

Alarmer, to alarm, to fright.

Alarmer une Ville, to alarm a Town, to give it an alarm.

S'alarmer, to be alarmed, to be frightened.

C'est bien là de quoi tant s'alarmer, there's a business indeed to be so alarmed with.

Alaterne (m.) privet, fruitless (or barren) privet.

Albâtre, (m.) alabaster, or alabafter; whiteness.

L'Albâtre est une espece de Marbre blanc & luisant, Alabaster is a kind of a Marble, white and shining.

Alberge, (f.) forte de Fruit à noyau, Alberge, a dainty sort of Fruit.

Alcakengi, (m.) alcakengy, morrel-berries.

Alcali, sel alcali, alkaline, (or alkaline) Salt, a Salt made of the Ashes of divers sorts of Herbs, but most especially of Glass-wort.

Alcion, (m.) alcion.

Alcoran, (m.) Alcoran, Mahomets Alcoran.

Alcove, (m. and f.) alcove.

†Aleché

†Alechement

†Alecher

Alé

Alée

Alegation

†Alégé

†Alégement

†Aléger

Alegorie

Alegorique

†Alégre

†Alégrement

Alegresse

Alegué

Aleguer

Aleluia

Alembic

Alencontre

Alene, (f.) awl, a Shoe-makers awl.

Alenier, (m.) an Awl-maker, or seller.

Alentour } See { Entour.

Aler } See { Aller.

Alerion (Terme de Blason) m. a young Eaglet, that has neither wings nor feet.

Alerte } See { Erte.

Aleu. } See { Franc.

Alezan, of a sorrel colour.

As, Cheval alezan, a sorrel horse.

†Algarade, (f.) insult.

Il m'a fait plusieurs algarades, he has made me many an insult.

Algebre, (f.) espece d'Arithmetique, Algebra.

L'Algebre est pleine de difficultez, the Algebra is full of difficulties.

Algebriste, (m.) Algebrist, one that has Skill in the Algebra.

Aliage } See { Alliage.

Aliance } See { Alliance.

Alié } See { Allié.

Alienation, (f.) strangeness, aversion; a wandering of the mind.

Leur Alienation avoit pris son origine de l'estroite communication qu'ils avoient eue ensemble, their Strangeness (or Aversion) proceeded from their former Intimacy.

J'ai vu en elle de l'alienation d'esprit, I observed her mind was wandering.

Aliéné, alienated, sold (made) away; disaffected.

Aliener, to alienate, to sell (or make away; to make one disaffected).

Aliens. See Allieurs.

Aligné, squared out by a line.

Alignement (m.) a squaring out by a line.

L'alignement des Cieux est issu par toute la Terre (Ps. 19. 4.) the Line of the Heavens is gone out through all the Earth.

Aligner, to square out by a line.

S'aligner, Jos. 15. 9. to be drawn.

Aliment, (m.) food, nourishment.

Ne prendre aucun aliment, to eat no kind of thing.

Alimus (m.) a kind of Shrub ever green.

Alisier (m.) the Lote-tree.

Alité } See { Allité.

s'Aliter } See { s'Alliter.

Alizé, Terme de Marine. As, Vents alizés,

Trade-winds.

Allaité, that has suckt.

Allaitement (m.) a giving of suck.

Allaiter, to give suck.

As, allaiter un Enfant, to give suck to a Child.

Or thus. As 1 Sam. 6. 10. Ils prirent deux jeunes Vaches qui allaitoient, they took two milch-kine.

†Allangouri } See { Alangouri.

†Allangourir } See { Alangourir.

†Alleché, allured, egged on, inticed, tempted.

Maître Renard par l'odeur alleché lui tint à peu près ce langage, Mr. Fox tempted by the smell, made his address to him in these words, or the like.

†Allechement, (m.) alluement, inticement, temptation.

†Allecher, to allure, to egg on, to intice, to tempt.

L'homme outrageux alleche son Compagnon, & le fait cheminer par une Voie qui n'est pas bonne (Prov. 16. 29.) a violent man inticeth his Neighbour, and leads him into the way which is not good.

Allé, (from Aller) gone.

Il est allé à l'Eglise, he is gone to Church.

Allée, (a fem. Subst.) an Entry; a Walk.

Une allée fort obscure, a very dark Entry.
 Une allée couverte, a shady Walk.
 Allée d'Ormeaux, a Walk of Elms.
 Allegation (f.) allegation, quotation.
 †Allegé, alloy'd, alleviated; lightened; abated Gen. 8. 8.
 †Allegement, (m.) an allaying, or alleviating; ease, or comfort.
 †Alleger, to alloy, to alleviate; to lighten.
 Peut être allegera-t-il sa main de dessus vous (1 Sam. 6. 5.) peradventure he will lighten his hand from off you.
 Alléger un Vaisseau (en Termes de Marine,) oter une partie de sa Charge pour le mettre à flot, ou le rendre plus léger à la Voile, to lighten a Ship.
 Allégerir (or Allegir) un Cheval (en Termes de Manège) to make a Horse lighter before than behind.
 Alléges, Terme de Marine. Ce sont toutes sortes de Bâtimens de mediocre grandeur destinés à porter les Marchandises d'un Vaisseau, qui tire trop d'eau pour pouvoir arriver avec sa Cargaison au Lieu de sa Route. to lighten a Ship.
 Allegorie, (f.) Allegory.
 L'Allegorie doit être ingénieusement continuée, an Allegory ought to be ingeniously continued.
 Allegorique, allegorical.
 Un Sens allegorique, an allegorical Sense.
 †Allegre, brisk, lively, cheerful.
 †Allegrement, briskly, cheerfully.
 Allegresse, (f.) alacrity, cheerfulness, mirth, joyfulness of heart.
 Allégué, alleged, quoted, produced.
 Alleguer, to alledge, quote, or produce.
 Alleluja (m.) Hallelujah.
 Chanter des Allelujas, to sing Hallelujahs.
 Aller, to go.
 Aller à pied, à cheval, en chaise, en carrosse, to go on foot, on horseback, in a chair, in a coach. Aller par terre ou par eau, to go by land or water. Aller vite ou bellement, to go fast or softly.
 Or thus. As, allez en paix, depart in peace.
 Ne faire qu'aller & venir, to be ever running up and down. Je ne ferai qu'aller & venir, I will not stay, I shall be back again presently.
 Aller au devant de, to meet; to prevent.
 Aller à l'excès, to run out into excess.
 Aller is also used in these several senses. As, ce Chemin va au Camp, this Way leads into the Camp. Je n'ai rien dit qui aille à vous, I said nothing that concerns you. Cet Avis n'alloit qu'à lui, this Advice was only for him. Aller à la Gloire par le chemin de la Vertu, to come to Glory by the path of Virtue.
 Comment vont vos Affaires? how do your Business go on. Tout alloit bien de ce côté là, all went well (all was well) on that side. Qu'on ait soin que tout aille comme il faut, see that all be well. Ainsi va le Monde, so goes the World. L'affaire va de la sorte, so it is. Nos Affaires vont mal, our Businesses are in a sad case. Comment va la santé? comment vous va? how is it with you? how goes your health? how do ye do? Laisser tout aller comme il plaît à Dieu, to leave all things to God's Will.
 Cet Habit vous va bien, that Suit fits you very well. Un Rasoir qui va bien, a Razor that cuts well.
 Les Extravagans ne vont gueres loin (c'est ne sont pas long tems) sans ennuyer, extravagant Talkers grow soon tedious. Je n'eusse jamais cru que le Luxe & la Vanité pussent aller jusques là, I could not have imagined that Luxury and Vanity should ever have gone so far. J'irai jusqu'à cent francs, mais non pas plus loin, I shall venture 100 livers, but not a sous more.
 N'allez point contre ce là, ne vous y opposez pas, do not oppose that, do not go against it. Il y va de votre Vie & de votre Honneur, your Life and Honour are at a stake. Il y alloit de sa Gloire, his Glory (his Reputation) was concerned in it.
 †Est ce ainsi que vous y allez? ou que vous vous y prenez? is this your Way? La Medisance y va plus doucement, Slandering is not so rash, or so inconsiderate.
 Aller du pair avec quécun, to go cheek by jowl with one, to think himself as good as he.
 Le Commerce ne va pas, Trading is dead,

there's no Trading, there's no Trade stirring.
 La Besongne ne va pas comme les autres années, the Manufactures don't go off as they did in former years.
 Il va fortir, he is just going out. Il alloit rendre l'ame, si vous ne fussiez venu, he was ready to give up the ghost, if you had not prevented him. Il va être le plus infortuné des hommes, he will go near to be a most unfortunate man. Voyez où j'en serois, si elle alloit croire cela, mind what case I should be in, if she were apt to believe that.
 With a Participle of the Present Tense Al-ler is out of use both in Prose and Poetry, unless there be a visible Motion, as in these following Phrases.
 Elles vont si tant & dansant, they go skipping and dancing. Il les alloit chassant comme des Troupeaux de Mouton, he went and drove them before him just like a flock of Sheep.
 Allez, vous n'êtes qu'un Apprenti en cela, away, you are but a Novice in that.
 S'en aller, to go away, to go his way.
 S'en aller en Voyage, to go a Journey, or to go a Voyage. S'en aller en France, to go to France.
 S'aller, (for aller se) promener en quécun Lieu, to go to walk into some Place.
 Se laisser aller à des pleurs comme une femme, to give himself over to tears like a woman. Comme elle l'aimoit eperdument, elle s'est laissée aller à lui, she loved him so intirely, and without any reserve, that she gave herself over to him.
 Heureux l'Homme qui ne se laisse point aller au Conseil des Mechans, (Ps. 1.) Blessed is the Man that walketh not in the Counsel of the Ungodly.
 Lastly, Aller is taken Substantively, for which see the word Pis.
 Alliage, (m.) the allaying (or mixing) of Metals; mixture, union.
 Alliance, (f.) alliance, confederacy, league of friendship; alliance by marriage, affinity; covenant; gimmol, or gimmol-ring.
 Faire alliance avec quécun, to make an alliance with one, to make a league with him.
 Rompre l'alliance, to break the league.
 Je ferai ravi d'avoir l'honneur de votre alliance, I shall be very glad to have the honour of your alliance.
 L'Alliance de Grace, the Covenant of Grace.
 Or thus. As, faire alliance des Maximes de l'Evangile avec celles du Monde, to match the Rules of the Gospel with the Maximes of the World.
 Allié, alloy'd, mingled with an other mettle; ally'd, matched.
 Les Alliez, the Allies, the Confederates.
 Allié, ou Parent, (a masc. subst.) a Kinsman, a Relation.
 C'est mon Allié, he is my Kinsman.
 Allier, to alloy; to ally, or to match.
 Allier les metaux, to alloy metals.
 Il a allié son Fils à une des meilleures Familles de la Robe, he has matched his Son into one of the best Families of the Gown.
 Allier les Loix divines avec les humaines, to match the Divine and Humane Laws, to reconcile them together.
 Or thus. As, la Raison & le Discours allient les Hommes, Reason and Discourse unite Men together.
 S'Allier, to make an alliance; to match.
 S'Allier avec un Prince étranger, to make an Alliance (to enter into an Alliance) with a foreign Prince.
 S'allier à une noble Famille, to match into a noble Family.
 Aligné } See } Aligné.
 Alignement } } Alignement.
 Aligner } } Aligner.
 Allité, bedrid.
 s'Alliter, to betake himself to his bed upon an Indisposition.
 †Allobroge, m. In a burlesque Style it signifies a great Hoydon or Booby, that has but little wit; such as the Savoyards (the Allobroges of the Ancients) are accounted to be.
 Quoi? tu me traites d'Allobroge, what? thou callest me a great Booby.
 Il parle Francois comme un Allobroge, he speaks French like a Savoyard, that is, he speaks but broken French.
 Aloï, (m.) allay (of gold or silver-coin.

Allonge, (f.) a lengthening piece of stuff.
 Allongé, lengthened, drawn out in length, stretched out.
 Allongement, (m.) a lengthening, drawing out in length, or stretching out.
 Le Roi t'avoit demandé Vie, & tu la lui as donnée, voire un allongement de Jours à perpetuité (Ps. 21. 5.) the King asked Life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever.
 Allonger, to lengthen, to lengthen (or stretch) out, to draw out in length.
 Allonger le bras, to stretch out his arm.
 Or thus. As, allonger la pique, to thrust the pike forward. Allonger une bote, to make a pass. Allonger un coup, to strike a blow.
 S'Allonger, to lengthen, or grow longer.
 As, une Queue qui s'allonge, a Tail that grows longer.
 Alloué, allowed, counted, accounted, reckoned, imputed.
 Sa Foi lui est allouée à Justice, (Rom. 4. 5.) his Faith is counted for Righteousness.
 Le Salaire ne lui est point alloué pour Grace, (Rom. 4. 4.) to him the Reward is not reckoned of Grace.
 Allouer, (Terme de Pratique) to allow.
 As, allouer les Frais, to allow the Charge.
 Or thus. As, Rom. 4. 6. Bienheureux est l'Homme à qui Dieu alloué la Justice sans œuvres, blessed is the Man unto whom God imputeth Righteousness without Works.
 Alloy. See Aloï.
 Allumé, lighted, kindled.
 La Chandelle est elle allumée? is the Candle lighted? Le Feu est il allumé? is the Fire kindled?
 La Guerre est allumée presque par toute l'Europe, the War is broke out almost all over Europe.
 Allumelle. See Alumelle.
 Allumer, to light, to kindle.
 As, allumer une Chandelle, to light a Candle. Allumer le feu, to kindle the fire.
 Or thus. As, Allumer une Guerre, to stir up a War.
 Vous devez conter pour beaucoup d'avoir pu allumer le Cœur d'un Homme aussi froid que je suis, you ought to think it much that you have been able to set my Heart in a flame who am of so cold a temper.
 S'allumer, to light, to kindle (in a neutral sense.)
 La Guerre s'allume de toutes parts, the War breaks out every where.
 Allumette, (f.) a match, a tinder-box match.
 Prenez vite une allumette, take a match quickly.
 Allure, (f.) from Aller, the pace of a Horse, or of a wild beast.
 † Formerly it was used to express a mans steps, or going, and you will frequently find it in that sense (but figuratively) in the French Translation of the Bible.
 As, Ps. 18. 36. Tu as elargi mon allure sous moi, & mes talons n'ont point glissé, thou hast enlarged my steps under me, that my feet did not slip.
 And Prov. 4. 12. Quand tu y chemineras, ton allure ne sera point ferrée, & si tu cours tu ne choperas point, when thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened, and when thou runnest thou shalt not stumble.
 Nay, this very Word is applied to God himself, Ps. 68. 25. O Dieu, ils ont vu tes allures, les allures de mon Dieu fort au Lieu Saint, they have seen thy goings, O God, even the goings of my God, in the Sanctuary.
 Or thus. As, Judg. 5. 28. Pourquoi tardent tant les allures de ses Chariots? why is his Chariot so long in coming?
 Allusion, (f.) allusion.
 Faire allusion à quécun chose, to make allusion (to allude) to something.
 Almanac, (m.) Almanack.
 Faire des almanacs, to make almanacks.
 Un faiseur d'almanacs, an Almanack-maker.
 J'ai beau dire la verité, on ne prend plus de mes Almanacs, (c'est j'ai beau dire vrai, on ne me croit plus) though I speak the truth, I am no more believed.
 Almandine, (f.) a course kind of Ruby.
 Aloé, (m.) aloes, an herb so called; also the bitter Juice thereof congealed and used in purgations.
 Aloes,

Aloes, (m.) bois d'aloës, legnum aloës.
 Aloï } Alloi.
 Aloïau } Aloyau.
 Alonge } Allonge.
 Alongé } Allongé.
 Alongement } Allongement.
 Alonger } Allonger.
 Alopecie, (f.) the foxes Evil, a Disease causing the hair of the head (or beard) to fall off.
 Alors, then, at that time.
 Quand vous aurez accompli votre Promesse, alors je verrai ce que j'aurai à faire, when you have fulfilled your Promise, then I shall consider what I am to do.
 Quand je te cherche, c'est alors que tu te caches, when I look for thee, then thou hidest thy self. Ce fut alors qu'il commença à crier, then he began to cry out.
 Alofe, (f.) the Shad-fish.
 Alouer. See Allouer.
 Alouëtte, (f.) a Lark.
 Alouëtte de Mer, a Purr.
 Aloy. See Alloi.
 Aloyau, (m.) aloyau de beuf, a short Rib of beef.
 Alpes, (f.) Alpes (the Mountains which part France from Italy).
 † Il croit être de belle taille avec les Alpes sur le dos, (cd. étant bossu) he fancies himself to be a proper man with the Alps upon his back, that is with his crooked back.
 Alphabet, (m.) Alphabet.
 Alphabetique, alphabetical, alphabetick.
 Par ordre alphabetique, alphabetically.
 Alpitte, (f.) a kind of Grain pale and oval.
 Alte. As, faire alte, to stop, stay, or make a stand.
 Alteration, (f.) alteration, or change; adulteration; thirst, or drought.
 Il n'y a point d'alteration sans mouvement local, there is no alteration without a local motion.
 La Chaleur venant à croître, l'alteration se rallume, the Drouth encreased with the Heat.
 † Altercation, (f.) altercation, dispute, or contest.
 Alteré, altered, changed; disordered; adulterated; dry, thirsty; greedy, or passionate.
 Un Monstre alteré de sang, a blood-thirsty Monster. Sa Santé est alterée, he is out of order, he is not right in health.
 Alterer, to alter, change, or disorder; to adulterate; to make dry, or cause drouth.
 Nous rapportons les Choses comme nous les avons reçues, sans y rien alterer, we make just such a relation of Things as we have had from others, without the least alteration or change.
 Pourquoi condammes tu ma façon de vivre, puis qu'elle n'altere point mon Corps? why dost thou blame my way of living, which does not in the least disorder my Body?
 Alterer la foi, to alter the faith. Alterer le sang, to disorder the blood.
 Quel sujet inconnu nous trouble & nous altere? what new subject is this which troubles and disorders us?
 Le Chaud altere, the Heat makes one dry.
 Alternatif, alternative, done by turns.
 Alternative, (a fem. Subst.) succession by turns.
 Alternativement, by turns, one after another.
 Alteffe, (f.) Highness.
 Son Alteffe Royale, his Royal Highness.
 Altier, haughty, proud, lofty.
 Un Cœur altier, a haughty mind. Humeur altiere, a proud temper.
 Alveole, (f.) trou où est la dent, the tooth-hole, the hole wherein it is fastened.
 Affermir les Dents dans leurs alveoles, to fasten the Teeth in their holes.
 Aluin, (m.) a fish for breed.
 † Aluine, (f.) wormwood. Say Absinthe.
 Ce qui en avient est amer comme aluine, (Prov. 5. 4.) her end is bitter as wormwood.
 Aluiner un Etang, le remplir de Poissons propres à multiplier, to stock a Pond with fishes for breed.
 Alumé. See Allumé.
 Alumelle, (f.) taillant de couteau, ciseaux, &c. the edge of a cutting tool.
 Alumer } See Allumer.
 Alumette } Allumette.
 Alun, (m.) Alum (a kind of Stone, or Mineral.)

Alure } See Allure.
 Alzan } Alezan.

A M.

Amadote, (f.) a sort of pear, first come out of Burgundy; also the Tree which bears that sort of pear.
 † Amadouër, to coxe, to flatter.
 Ne t'entremêle point avec celui qui amadouë de ses levres, (Prov. 20. 19.) meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.
 Amadouër un Chat, to coxe a Cat, to stroke him.
 Amaigri, grown lean, thin, or meager, macerated.
 Amaigrir, to make lean, thin, or meager, to macerate; to grow lean, thin, or meager, to fall away.
 La Fievre amaigrit, an Ague will make one lean.
 Elle amaigrit tous les jours, she grows leaner and leaner (she falls away more and more) every day.
 Amaigrissement, (m.) a growing lean, or falling away.
 Amalgamer, (Terme de Chimie) to calcine a Metal with Quick silver.
 Amande, (f.) almond, the fruit of the Almond tree; an almond-like piece of Chrystal in a branched Candlestick.
 Amande douce ou amere, sweet or bitter almond. Huile d'amande, oil of almond.
 Amande, ou peine. See Amende.
 Amandement } See Amendement.
 Amander } Amender.
 Amandier, (m.) an Almond-tree.
 Amant, (m.) a Lover, a Suitor.
 Amante, (f.) ones Mistress, or Sweet-heart.
 Amarage, (m.) Terme de Mer, Anchoring, or lying at Anchor.
 Amarante, (f.) Fleur qu'on appelle autrement, Fleur d'amour, & Passe velours, Flower-gentle, the purple Velvet flower.
 Amarantine, (f.) a Kind of Wind-flower.
 Amaré, fast, made fast.
 Amarrer, (Terme de Marine) cd. attacher, lier, to fasten, or make fast.
 Amares, (f.) great ropes, cables.
 Amas, (m.) heap, pile.
 Un Amas de pierres, a heap of stones.
 Amassé, heaped up.
 † Que nos Beufs soient d'une corporance bien amassée, (Ps. 144. 14.) that our Oxen may be strong to labour.
 Amasser, to heap (hord, or treasure) up, to gather in heaps.
 Amasser de l'argent, to hord up (to lay up) money.
 Or thus. As, amasser de l'argent de tous cotés, to get money from all hands. L'amasser avec bien de la peine, to scrape it up. On ne fait pour qui l'on amasse, men know not who they scrape up for.
 Amassez (or rather ramassez) mes Gans, take up my Gloves.
 Samasser, to gather (to get) together, to treasure up, Rom. 2. 5.
 Les humeurs s'amassent en quèque partie du Corps, the humours gather together in some part of the Body.
 Elles s'étoient amassées en grand nombre, a great number of them were got together.
 Amassette, (f.) a stick (or any thing else) wherewith Painters and Glovers scrape up their ground Colours.
 Amateler, Terme de Marine. C'est donner un Compagnon à chaque homme de l'Equipage, & associer les Matelots deux à deux; afin qu'ils se soulagent l'un l'autre, & que l'un puisse se reposer tandis que l'autre fait le quart.
 Amateur, (m.) from Aimer, Lover.
 As, je n'en suis pas grand amateur, I am no great lover of it.
 Amathyste. See Amethyste.
 Amati, unpolished.
 Amatis, to unpolish.
 As, amatis l'or, lui ôter le poli, le rendre mat, to unpolish Gold.
 Amazone, (f.) an Amazon, a warlike Woman.
 Vous êtes l'une & l'autre deux franchises Amazones, you are both of ye two right Amazons.

† Ambages, (f.) detours, ambages, or going about the bush.
 Ambassade, (f.) Embassy, Embassage, an extraordinary Message from one Prince or State to another; Embassy, the charge of an Embassadour; a familiar Message.
 Envoyer une Ambassade, to send an Embassy.
 Une Ambassade glorieuse, solennelle, celebre, a glorious, solemn, and famous Embassy.
 Recevoir une Ambassade, to receive an Embassy.
 Le Roi d'Angleterre recut dernièrement deux Ambassades Extraordinaires, l'une de Maroc en Afrique, l'autre de Bantam dans les Indes Orientales, the King of England received of late two Extraordinary Embassies, the one from Morocco in Africk, and the other from Bantam in the East-Indies.
 S'acquitter glorieusement de son Ambassade, to perform his Embassy in the best manner, to acquit himself well of it.
 † Elle a recu une Ambassade de la part de son Galant, she has received a Message from her Gallant.
 Ambassadeur, (m.) Embassadour.
 Ambassadeur ordinaire, ou extraordinaire, an ordinary or extraordinary Embassadour.
 Envoyer un Ambassadeur à un Prince Souverain, to send an Embassadour to a foreign Prince.
 On traite d'Excellence les Ambassadeurs, the Title of Excellency is given to Embassadors.
 Ambassadrice, (f.) Ambassadress, the Ambassadours Lady.
 Or thus, in a burlesk sense. † Je suis une Ambassadrice de Joie, I am a joyful Messenger amongst Lovers.
 Ambigu, ambiguous, that hath a double sense.
 Mot ambigu, parole ambiguë, an ambiguous Word.
 Ambigu, (a Masc. Subst.) Festin où la Viande & le Fruit sont ensemble, a Banquet of Meat and Fruit both together.
 Ambiguë, (f.) ambiguity.
 Ambigument, ambiguously.
 Il écrivit ambigument aux Generaux, he writ ambiguously to the Generals.
 Une Ambitieuse, an ambitious Woman.
 Ambitieux, ambitious, proud, greedy of honours, high minded.
 Un Esprit ambitieux, an ambitious Mind.
 Un Ambitieux, (Subst.) an ambitious Man.
 Ambition, (f.) Ambition, Pride.
 Ambition grande & violente, a great and strong ambition. Une noble ou belle ambition, a noble and commendable ambition.
 Une Ambition criminelle, a criminal Ambition.
 L'Ambition criminelle est hardie, aussi c'est le premier Crime qui a osé paroître sur la Terre, a criminal Ambition is bold and daring, and accordingly 'tis the Crime that durst appear first upon Earth.
 Arrêter (regler, fixer, moderer, borner) son ambition, to moderate (to set bounds to) his ambition. Affouvir (satisfaire) son ambition, to satisfy his ambition.
 Avoir bien de l'ambition, to be very ambitious, to be high-minded, to have a great deal of pride.
 † Ambitionner, souhaiter avec ambition, ambitiously to seek after.
 Amble, (m.) pas de haquenée, amble.
 Aller l'amble, to pace, to amble. Cheval qui va l'amble, Cheval franc d'amble, (en Termes de Manege) a pacing Horse.
 Ambleur, (m.) an Officer of the Kings Stables.
 Ambre, (m.) amber; sweet smell.
 L'ambre couleur de citron est le plus estimé, the lemon colour amber is most esteemed.
 Son haleine a perdu son ambre, his breath has lost its sweet smell.
 Ambre-gris, amber-grease.
 Ambre, ambered, having the tast (or smell) of Amber-grease.
 Ambrer, to perfume with amber-grease.
 Ambrette, (f.) fleur du Grand Seigneur, ambrette, a little flower that smells like amber-grease.
 Ambrosie, (f.) the Oke of Cappadocia, and another of Jerusalem; ambrosia, the food of the Gods.
 Se fouler d'ambrosie, to get his fill of Ambrosia.

Ambulant,

Ambulant, qui va d'un Lieu à un autre, that goes a circuit, or from one Place to another.

Commis ambulant, a Commissary that goes a circuit.

Troupe de Comédiens ambulante, a strolling set of Stage-Players, that go from one place to another, that are no where fixt.

Ame, (f.) the soul, the ghost; a soul, or person; soul, or conscience; soul, heart, mind, or spirit; life, that gives life; soul, heart, or object of ones love; the words of a motto; the sound-poets that stand up within the body of a musical Instrument just under the bridge; a figure of clay used by Stone-cutters.

L'Ame vegetative, sensitive, & raisonna- ble, the vegetative, sensitive, and rational Soul. Une Ame séparée de son Corps, a Soul that is separated from the Body. Les Ames des Trepassez, des Bienheureux, des Damnez, the Souls of the Dead, of the Blessed, of the Damned.

Rendre l'ame, to give up the ghost.

Une bonne Ame, a good honest Soul, a good Man or Woman. Je ne le dirai à Ame vi- vante, I shall tell no living Soul of it. Je n'y ai vu ame vivante, I saw no body there, I saw no living soul there. On croit qu'à Londres il y a près d'un million d'ames, it is thought there are in London near upon a mil- lion of Souls.

Sur mon Ame, cela est, upon my Soul (upon my Conscience) it is so. Avoir l'ame bonne, to have a good Conscience. Il n'a point d'ame, he has no conscience at all.

La Charité est l'ame des Vertus Chrétiennes, Charity is the Soul of Christian Virtues. La Verité est l'ame de l'Histoire, Truth is the Life of History. Cette parole me rendit l'ame, me donna du courage, that word gave me some life again, it heartened me. L'Acti- on donne l'ame au Discours, Action gives life to a Discourse.

Aimer Dieu de toute son ame, to love God with all his soul, or with all his heart. Vos Charmes donteroient l'Ame la plus farou- che, your Charms would conquer the most ob- durate Soul, would soften a heart of stone. Une Ame venale, mercenaire, a venal (or merce- nary) Soul. Avoir l'ame basse, to have a low spirit. C'est la seule chose qui trouble mon ame, that is the only Thing which perplexes my mind.

Mon Ame, mon Cœur, my dear Soul, my dear Heart.

†Ame, well beloved. As, à nos Ames & Feaux Conseillers, to our well-beloved and trusty Counsellours.

†This, together with Feal, are two ancient Epithets, only used in the Kings Letters to his Sovereign Courts, to the Presidents, and Judges of those Courts, to the Kings Council learned, to the Provost of Merchants and E- chevins of Paris. The same is also given in the Letters obtained in Chancery by the Pre- sidents, the Judges, and the Kings Council.

Amelette. See Omelette.

Amelioration, (f.) Improvement.

Amélioré, bettered, mended, improved.

Améliorer, to better, to mend, or improve.

Amende, (f.) fine, mulct, penalty, forfeit.

Condamner (mettre) quécun à l'amende, to fine one. Payer une grosse amende, to pay a great fine. Amende pecuniaire, a pecuni- ary mulct. Encourir une amende, to incur a penalty. On vous fera payer l'amende, you will be forced to pay the forfeit.

Amende arbitraire, a Fine imposed at the pleasure of the Court. Amende coutumière, a Fine limited by the peculiar Laws and Cu- stoms of every Court and Country.

L'homme avisé prevold le mal, mais le simple paye l'amende, (Prov. 22.3.) a pru- dent man foresees the evil, but the simple is punished.

Amende honorable, an honorable Amand, a kind of public Punishment thus inflicted up- on some Offenders. The Prisoner must go through the Streets bare-foot and bare-headed, with a burning Torch in his hand, unto the Seat of Justice, or some publick Place; where he is to confess his Offence, and humbly ask forgiveness of the Party offended.

Amendé, amended, reformed; saln in price; mended, or better in health; dunged.

Amendement, (m.) amendment, reformation; a mending hand of a sick body; dung, or any other thing used to fatten the Soil.

Remettre de jour en jour l'amendement de sa Vie, to put off daily the amendment of his life.

†Il n'y a point encore d'amendement, he is nothing better as yet.

Donner de l'amendement à la Terre, aux Arbres, &c. to dung the Earth, the Trees, &c. Amender, to dung; to fall in price; to mend in point of health.

S'Amender, to mend, to be reformed, to lead a new life, to repent.

Je ne sen qu'une tres foible resolution de m'amender, I feel within me but a very weak disposition to mend.

Amendez vous, car le Royaume des Cieux est approché, (Matt. 4. 17.) Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.

Amené, brought.

Amener, to bring.

Alexandre s'avanca vers le Tanais, où l'on amena Bessus lié & tout nud, Alexander went towards the Tanais, where they brought to him Bessus bound and stark naked.

Quand vous me ferez l'honneur de me ve- nir voir, ne m'amenez point de mauvais plaisant, when you will be pleased to favour me with a Visit, bring me no churlish Com- pany.

Amener les Voiles (en Termes de Marine) les abbaïsser, to strike sail, to take in the Sails.

Amenuisé, made smaller.

Amenuiser, to make smaller.

As, amenuiser un morceau de bois, to make a piece of wood smaller.

Amer, bitter, that has a bitter tast; bitter, sad, or grievous.

Un fruit amer, a bitter fruit. Une amande amere, a bitter almond.

Un souvenir amer, a grievous remembrance. Une Douleur amere, a sad (or bitter) Pain.

Amerelement, bitterly, grievously.

Pierre pleura amerelement, Peter wept bit- terly. Alexandre, voyant le Corps de Darius, pleura amerelement, Alexander, seeing the body of Darius, wept bitterly.

Amertume, (f.) bitterness, or bitter tast; bit- terness, grief; hatred.

L'Abstinence est d'un fort bon usage à cause de son amertume, Wormwood is of great use by reason of its bitterness.

Ma Joie n'étoit point sans quécque amer- tume, my Joy was mixt with bitterness. Ad- doucir des amertumes, to allay grief.

Ce Mariage lui a inspiré toute l'amertume d'une Marâtre, that Match has infused in her mind all the hatred Stepmothers are capable of. Or thus. As, Rev. 10. 10. Quand je l'eü devoré, mon Ventre fut en amertume, as soon as I had eaten it, my Belly was bitter.

Je suis en grande amertume à cause de vous, (Ruth 1. 13.) it grieveth me much for your sakes.

†Ameslé. See Emeslé.

Amethiste, or Ametiste, (f.) an Amethyst.

Ameublement, (m.) moveables, furniture, household stuff.

Avoir un fort joli Ameublement, to have his Room neatly furnished.

†Ameublé } See { Meublé.

†Ameubler } See { Meubler.

Ameubler, (Terme de Pratique) to make movable.

Ameublissement, (m.) tout ce qu'on a a- meublé, all that has been made movable.

†Amez, the Plural of Amé.

Ami, (m.) from Aimer, Friend.

Se faire de bons & de genereux Amis, to get good and generous Friends. On ne peut avoir trop d'Amis, one cannot have too many Friends. On conoit l'Ami au besoin, a Friend is known in time of need.

Que l'Homme qui a des Amis se tienne à leur Amitié, car il y a tel Ami qui est plus intime qu'un Frere, (Prov. 18. 24.) a Man that has Friends must shew himself friendly; for there is a Friend that sticketh closer than a Brother.

Parons sans Amis, Amis sans pouvoir, pou- voir sans vouloir, vouloir sans effet, effet sans profit, profit sans vertu, tout cela ne vaut pas un zelt, Kyndred without Friends, Friends without ability, ability without will, will without effect, effect without profit, pro- fit without virtue, is not worth a straw.

Un Ami de Table, a Trencher-friend.

Servir (obliger) quécun en Ami, to serve one like a Friend, to do him a friendly Office.

Traiter quécun en Ami, cd. sans façon, to use one like a friend, without ceremonies, or any formalities.

As the word Friend in English, so is Ami in French, used in a familiar way by a Superiour to an Inferiour person.

As, mon Ami, songez à ce que vous faites, my friend, mind what you do.

Ami is also used Adjectively, and then it signi- fies friendly.

As, le Cidre est ami de l'Estomac, Cider is friendly to the Stomack.

†Amiable, doux, honnête, amiable, lovely, friendly.

A l'amiable, (Adv.) friendly, lovingly, ami- cably, in an amicable manner.

Terminer un Different à l'amiable, to make a friendly composition with one.

Que ne vous mettez vous en etat de termi- ner cette Affaire à l'amiable, plutôt que de la porter ainsi dans l'aigreur & dans les extremitez? why don't you rather go about to make a friendly Agreement, than to carry on the business with so much passion to the last extremity?

†Amiablement, as à l'Amiable.

Ren moi ces Pais là amiablement, (Judg. 11. 13) restore those Lands again peaceably.

Amict. See Amit.

Amidon, (m.) Starch.

Amidon fort blanc, very white starch.

Amidonnier, (m.) a Starch-man, one that makes or sells starch.

Amie, (the feminine of Ami) friend, or spe- cial friend. See Ami.

Amigdales, (f.) Kernels rising in the neck, or under the root of the tongue.

Amiral, (m.) Admiral.

Un Amiral doit être savant en la Sphere, la Geographie, & l'Astrologie, an Admiral ought to understand the Sphere, Geography, and A- strology.

Vice-Amiral, Vice-Admiral. Contre-Ami- ral, Recr-Admiral.

Vaisseau Amiral, the Admirals Ship.

Amirale, (f.) the Admirals Lady; also the Admirals Galley.

Amirauté, (f.) Admiralty, the Court of Ad- miralty.

Amit, (m.) Amict (part of a massing Priests Habit.)

Amitié, (f.) amity, love, friendship, affection; favour, kindness, or courtesy.

Contracter, (faire, nouer) amitié avec quécun, to make friendship with one. Ac- querir (gagner, s'infirmer en) son amitié, to get (to compass) his love, to scrue himself into his friendship. Cultiver (entretenir, ménager) son amitié, to cultivate (to keep, or improve) his friendship. Rompre amitié, to break off friendship.

Faites moi cette amitié, (Expression, selon Monsieur Menage, de Superiorité) do me that Kindness, that favour, that courtesy. Il m'a fait mille amitez, he has shewed me an infinite deal of Kindness.

Des Amitiez nouvelles, cd. de nouveaux Amis, new Friends.

L'amitié des Couleurs (en Termes de Peinture) the Suitableness of Colours.

†Ammoniac. See Armoniac.

Amnistie, (f.) Amnesty, a general Pardon, an Act of Oblivion.

Amodiateur

Amodiation

Amodié

Amodier

Fermier.

Bail à ferme.

Affermé.

Affermer.

Amoindri, lessened, diminished.

Amoindrir, to lessen, to diminish.

S'Amoindrir, to lessen, or grow lesser.

Amolli, mollify'd, softened.

Amolli par les plaisirs, effeminate, grown effeminate, softened through voluptuousness.

Amollir, to mollify, to soften.

La volupté amollit le Courage d'un Hom- me me, Voluptuousness softens a Mans Courage, renders him effeminate.

Amollir par la patience & par la douceur la dureté de quécun, by patience and meekness to soften a mans hard (stiff, and stubborn) temper.

S'Amollir, to soften, or grow soft, to grow soft, or effeminate.

Il y a des Corps qui s'amollissent avant que de se fondre, & d'autres qui se fondent sans s'amollir, some Bodies there are which grow soft before they melt, others that melt without a previous softness.

Son Courage s'amollit, his Courage decays.

Amonciler, to heap up, to lay on a heap.

Amont (Terme de Batelier) up the River, against the stream.

Amorce, (f.) prime, the powder that is put in the touch-hole of a gun; a bait, both in the proper and figurative sense.

L'Amorce est mouillée, the prime is wet.

C'est assez, notre amorce est trop précieuse, 'tis enough, our bait is too costly.

Les Plaisirs sont les amorces des Vices, Pleasures are the baits of Vices.

Amorcé, primed; baited.

Amorcer, to prime; to bait; to beguile, 2 Pet. 2. 14.

Amorcer un pistolet, to prime a pistol.

Amorcer le poisson, ou peloter (qui est le Terme dont se servent les Pêcheurs d'autour de Paris) to bait the fish.

Amorcer quécun, l'attirer adroitement, gagner son esprit d'une manière fine & caressante, to draw one in, to inveigle (allure, or intice) him.

Amorçoir, (m.) Terme de Charron, a kind of Auger that Cart-wrights make use of to begin their Holes with.

Amorti, bought out; granted (passed away) in Mortmain; allay'd, diminished.

Or thus. As, j'ai les piez tout amortis, my feet are asleep, my feet are all benumbed.

Amorti, (Rom. 4. 19.) dead, as good as dead.

Amortir, to redeem, or buy out; to grant (or pass away) in Mortmain; to allay, or diminish; to dead, or deaden.

Amortir une Rente, to redeem (or buy out) a Rent-charge.

Amortir un Fief, to grant (or pass away) an Estate in Mortmain. As, when the King gives the Church leave to enjoy an Inheritance.

Le Temps amortit les Afflictions, Time allay's Afflictions.

Un bon buffe amortit un coup de bale, a good buff-coat deads a bullet. Amortir le son des cordes d'un Instrument de Musique, to dead the sound of a musical Instrument.

S'amortir, to grow num; to die, as 2 Sam. 25. 37.

Amortissement, (m.) Mortmain; a Licence of Mortmain; the finishing of a piece of Joyner's Work or Architecture; deadness, Rom. 4. 19.

Amortissement (en Termes de Pratique) est une Permission que le Roi donne aux Gens de Main morte (c'est aux Ecclesiastiques, aux Hopitaux, aux Colleges, Maladeries, Leproses, & Confrairies) de posséder en France des Heritages, sans qu'ils puissent être contraints d'en vider leurs mains.

Il y a trois sortes d'Amortissement, un general, un particulier, & un mixte, qui doivent tous être verifiez à la Chambre des Comptes, & en la Cour de Parlement. Par le general, on entend un Amortissement accordé par le Roi à un Pais, à une Province, ou à tout un Diocèse.

Pour obtenir des Lettres d'Amortissement, on donne au Roi la Valeur de la troisième partie de l'Heritage, ce qui s'appelle Droit d'Amortissement. Et ce qu'on paie au Seigneur Censier, ou Feodal, dont l'Heritage étoit tenu, se nomme Droit d'Indamnité.

Amoudote. See Amiadote.

Amour, (m.) love, or affection; Cupid, the God of Love; Love, Amour, an Object of love; love, or expressions of love.

L'Amour est un Mouvement de l'Ame par le moyen duquel elle s'unit aux Objets qui lui paroissent beaux ou bons, Love is a Motion of the Soul, whereby it unites it self to such Objects as it takes to be good or beautiful.

Avoir de l'amour pour quécun, to have a love for one, to love him. Un Esprit bien fait n'a de l'amour que pour les Choses honnêtes, a good Man has no love but for honest Things. Donner de l'amour, to cause (to beget) love. Etre transporté d'amour, to be transported with love.

L'Amour Divin, the Divine Love. L'Amour de Dieu doit être gravé dans nos Cœurs, the Love of God should be imprinted in our Hearts. Avoir de l'amour pour la Vertu, to be in love with Virtue.

Se marier par amour, to marry for love. Qui se marie par amour a de bonnes nuits & de mauvais jours, (Prov.) he that marry's for love has good nights and sorry days.

Un Char environné d'Amours, a Chariot compassed with Cupids.

Vien faire, Amour, par un trait de Justice, Que je l'échaufe, ou qu'il me refroidisse, Come, Cupid, come, do an act of Justice, either let him warm himself by my Flames, or let me cool myself by his Ice.

Les Amours naissent sous ses pas, Laughter and Sport attend the Throne of Love. Nous devons à l'Amour le plus beau de nos Jours, we owe to Love the best time of our Life.

Mon Amour, mon Cœur, my dear Love, my dear Heart. Il est enflammé avec ses nouvelles Amours, he is shut in with his new Amours. Il n'y a point de laides Amours, there are no ill-favoured Amours.

Here you see Amour is used in the feminine Gender, as it ought to be whenever it implies a Mistress.

And so it is in such a Case as this. As, il faut quitter Philis, Amarante, & Silvie, à qui ta folle amour eleve des Autels, leave Amaranta, Philis, and Sylvia, for whom thy foolish Love has set up divine Altars.

Pour l'amour. As, faites cela pour l'amour de moi, do that for my sake. Pour l'amour d'elle, for her sake.

Le Jeu d'Amour. See Mourre.

Amouraché, fahn in love.

s'Amouracher, to fall in love.

Il s'est amouraché d'une telle, he is fahn in love with such a one.

Amourette, (f.) a Love-business; a Match made merely out of Love.

Avoir quèque amourette en tête, to be smitten.

Amoureulement, amorously.

Baiser amoureulement, to kiss amorously, to give amorous kisses.

Amoureux, amorous, that loves, or is in love; amorous, or of love.

J'en serois amoureux, si elle n'étoit trop amoureuse de moi, I could love her, if she were not so fond of me as she is. Etre eperdument amoureux, to be desperately in love.

Etre amoureux de la Vertu, to be in love with Virtue.

Aventure amoureuse, an amorous Adventure.

Un Amoureux (Subst.) a passionate Lover.

C'est un Amoureux à la mode, he is a modish Lover. Un amoureux transi, a languishing Lover.

Amphibie, amphibious.

Le Castor est un Animal amphibie, the Beaver is an amphibious Creature.

Amphibologie, (f.) parole à double sens, an ambiguous word, a word that may be taken in several senses.

Amphisciens, (m.) Terme de Geographie, Amphiscii.

Thus are called those that dwell in the Torrid Zone, between the two Tropicks; whose shadows are both Ways, sometimes to the South, and sometimes to the North.

Amphitheatre, (m.) Amphitheater (a place with Seats and Scaffolds, to behold Plays on.)

Ample, large.

Une Robe fort ample, a very large Gown.

Une Edition plus ample que la premiere, a larger Edition than the first.

Amplement, at large, amply, fully.

Une autre fois je parlerai plus amplement de cette Affaire, another time I shall speak more at large of that Business, I shall enlarge upon it.

Je satisferai amplement à votre demande, I shall fully satisfy your desire.

Ampliation, (f.) Terme de Droit, a wrestling, straining, large exposition, or far-fetched Interpretation of the Law; also a deferring of a Sentence or Verdict, when the Matter is doubtful and not agreed on.

Amplification, (f.) amplification.

Amplifié, amplified, enlarged, aggravated, exaggerated.

Amplifier, to amplify, to enlarge, to aggravate, to exaggerate.

Ampoule, (f.) blister, or rising of the skin; the small Vessel where the liquor is kept, which the French Kings are anointed with at their Coronation.

Il m'est venu de petites ampoules aux mains, I got some small blisters upon my hands.

Ampoulé, tumid, high, swelling.

Un Discours ampoulé, a high-flown Discourse. Des Vers ampoulez, Verses that run in a high strain.

Amputation, (f.) Terme de Chirurgie, amputation, or cutting off.

Amputé, cut off.

Amputer, to cut off.

As, amputer quèque Membre, to cut off a Limb.

Amures, (f.) Terme de Marine. Ce sont des Trous pratiqués dans le plat bord d'un Vaisseau, & dans la Gorgere de son Eperon.

Amusement, (m.) a trifling business, (or toy) to pass away the time; a disappointment; a sham, or shamming trick.

Amuser, to amuse, or play the fool with; to cheat, or make a fool of.

Amuser l'Enemi, to amuse the Enemy.

Amuser quécun de paroles, to cheat one with fair words, to baffle him.

S'amuser à quèque chose, to bestow his time and pains about something.

Il s'amuse à des sottises, he stands on trifles, he is taken up with things that are not worth his while.

Il s'amuse aux accessoires, & il neglige le principal, he minds the accessories, and slightes the main business.

S'amuser à raisonner d'une Chose avec quécun, to stand arguing the Case with one.

Amuseur, (m.) a Baffler.

Vous êtes un vrai Amuseur, you are a meer Baffler.

Amy } See } Ami.

Amydon } } Amidon.

Amydonier } } Amidonier.

Amygdales } } Amigdales.

A N.

An, (m.) year.

An solaire, a solar year. An lunaire, a lunar year. Nouvel an, new year.

Tous les ans, yearly, every year. De deux en deux ans, every other year. De trois en trois ans, every third year.

L'an 1680. la Paix se fit, Anno (or in the year) 1680. the Peace was made.

Anabatiste, (m. & f.) Anabaptist.

Anachorete, (m.) Anchorite, Hermit.

Anachronisme, (m.) a fault against Chronology (as when a man is made to have lived long before he was born.)

Anagogique, mystical.

Un sens anagogique, a mystical sense.

Anagrammatiste, ou faiseur d'Anagrammes, (m.) a maker of Anagrams.

Anagramme, (f.) Anagram.

Une heureuse Anagramme, a lucky Anagram.

Annales } See } Annales.

Analise } } Analyse.

Analiste } } Annaliste.

Analogie, (f.) analogy, conformity, proportion.

L'analogie eclaircit les Doutes de la Langue, the analogy clears the Doubts of a Language.

Selon l'analogie de la Foi, (Rom. 12. 6.) accord-according to the proportion of Faith.

 Analogique, analogical.
 La Metaphore doit être analogique, a Metaphor ought to be analogical.
 † Analyse, (f.) Analysis.
 Faire l'analyse d'un Discours, to make the analysis of a Discourse, to take it in pieces and resolve it into its Parts.
 Anarchie, (f.) Anarchy, or confused State, (without Head, or Governour.)
 Vivre dans un état d'Anarchie, to live in a state of Anarchy.
 Anate. See Annate.
 Anathématisé, anathematized.
 Anathématiser, to anathematize.
 † Combien de fois m'a-t-il pris envie d'anathématiser & Vignes & Vendanges ? how often came it into my head to curse both Vineyards and Vintage ?
 Anathème, (m.) anathema, cursed, accursed; a solemn Curse of the Church.
 Anatomie, (f.) Anatomy.
 L'Anatomie est belle & curieuse, Anatomy is a fine and curious Thing.
 Anatomique, anatomical, of (or belonging to) Anatomy.
 Discours Anatomique, a Discourse of Anatomy.
 Operation anatomique, an anatomical Operation.
 † Anatomisé, anatomized. Say Dissected.
 † Anatomiser, to anatomize. Say Dissect. or faire l'anatomie de, &c.
 Anatomiste, (m.) Anatomist.
 Un savant Anatomiste, a learned Anatomist.
 Ancepsade. See Anspegade.
 Ancêtres, (m.) Ancestors, Forefathers.
 C'étoit la Coutume de nos Ancêtres, 'twas the Custom of our Forefathers.
 Le Nom de ces glorieux Ancêtres vivra à jamais dans vos Annales, the Name of those glorious Ancestors shall live for ever in your Annals.
 Note, that Ancêtres is not used in the singular Number, and that its proper Use in the Plural Number is for Persons of Quality, Sword-men, or Gown-men.
 Anche, (f.) the mouth of a hoboy, or the like; a wooden Conduit through which the meal falls into the meal-tub.
 Anchois, (m.) anchovy.
 Un Plat d'anchois, a Dish of anchovies.
 Ancien, ancient, old, aged, elder, or elderly; ancient, or venerable by its antiquity.
 Les anciens Peres de l'Eglise, the ancient Fathers of the Church.
 Les Hommes anciens, (Tit. 2. 2.) the aged Men. Les Femmes anciennes, (v. 3.) the aged Women, and 1 Tim. 5. 2. the elder Women.
 L'Histoire ancienne & moderne, the ancient and modern History. Une ancienne Coutume, an ancient (or an old) Custom. Une Loi ancienne, an old Law. Notre ancienne amitié, our old (our ancient) friendship.
 Une Maison ancienne, an ancient Family.
 Ancien, (a masc. Subst.) Senior.
 As, il est mon ancien dans le Parlement, he is my Senior in the Court of Parliament.
 Anciens, les vieux Auteurs Grecs & Latins, the Ancients, the old Greek and Latin Authors.
 Les Anciens d'une Eglise Protestante, the Elders (the Lay-Elders, or Church-wardens) of a Protestant Church.
 La Compagnie des Anciens, (selon S. Paul, 1 Tim. 4. 14.) the Presbytery.
 Anciennes, the Seniors in a Monastery of Nuns.
 Anciennement, anciently, of old, in old time.
 Anciennement on vivoit dans le Monde avec plus de franchise, anciently there was a greater freedom amongst Men.
 Ancienneté, (f.) ancientness, seniority.
 L'ancienneté d'une Famille, the ancientness of a Family.
 † Le Dieu fort preside de toute ancienneté, (Ps. 55. 20.) God abideth of old.
 L'Ancienneté règle les Rangs, the Ranks are ordered by Seniority.
 Ancolie, (f.) a kind of flower.
 Ancrage, (m.) anchorage.

Ici l'ancrage est bon, here's good anchorage.
 Ancre, (f.) anchor; an S, or an Iron-bar, like an S, used to strengthen a Wall; a recourse, or refuge.
 Jetter (laisser tomber) l'ancre, to cast anchor.
 Etre à l'ancree, to lie at anchor. Lever l'ancree, to weigh the anchor.
 Ancree, pour écrire ou imprimer. See Encre.
 † Ancré, (the Part.) settled, fast, sure.
 As, il est bien ancré dans la Maison, he is well settled in the House.
 Ancrer, to anchor, to cast anchor.
 Nous ancrames en cet endroit là, we anchored in that place.
 † S'ancrer, s'établir, to settle himself, to get a sure footing in a Place.
 Ancrier. See Encrier.
 Andouille, (f.) a Hog's Guts doubled, seasoned with salt and pepper, and covered with a great Gut called Robe de l'Andouille.
 Andouillers, (m.) the brow-anklers of a Deers head.
 Andouillettes, (f.) minced Veal rolled into an oval.
 Ane, (m.) Ass, a stupid Animal; an Ass, or Idiot; also as Porte-presse.
 Un Ane sauvage, a wild Ass. Braire comme un Ane, to bay like an Ass. Des oreilles d'Ane, Asses ears, long ears.
 Fait en dos d'âne, sharp-bottomed.
 Coc à l'âne, a satirical Poem, a Lampoon.
 † Un Pont aux Anes, a Thorow-fare for Asses, a great Help for dull-pated people that can do nothing without it.

Proverbs.

Pour un point Martin perdit son Ane, for want of a small help one may come to great damage.
 A laver la Tête d'un Ane on perd son tems & son favon, 'tis but lost labour for a man to strive to make a Scholar of one that wants parts, or a Gentleman of a Clown.
 Chevaucher comme des Anes débâtez, to be brisk at the act of generation, (as Asses, when discharged of their burden, and set at liberty.)
 Aneanti, annihilated, destroyed; brought to nothing, made of none effect 1 Cor. 1. 17. become of no effect, Gal. 5. 4.
 Aneantir, to annihilate, to destroy, or bring to nothing; to make void, 1 Cor. 9. 15. to frustrate, Gal. 2. 21.
 On ne sauroit entièrement aneantir une Substance, a Substance cannot be wholly annihilated.
 Aneantir la Morale Chretienne, to bring Christian Morality to nothing, to destroy it.
 J'abolirai la Sapience des Sages, & aneantirai l'Intelligence des Entendus, (1 Cor. 1. 19.) I will destroy the Wisdom of the Wise, and will bring to nothing the Understanding of the Prudent.
 S'aneantir, to come to nothing, or be annihilated; to be humbled.
 Or thus. As, Phil. 2. 7. Il s'est aneanti soi même, he made himself of no reputation.
 Aneantissement, (m.) an annihilating, destroying, or bringing to nothing; abrogation, abolishment.
 Aneau. See Anneau.
 Anemone, (f.) sorte de Fleur, the Wind-flower.
 Anerie, (f.) from Ane, Ignorance, Imperitence.
 Aneffe, (f.) Ass, or she-ass; an Ass, or Ignorant Woman.
 Lait d'aneffe, Asses Milk.
 C'est une Aneffe, une Ignorante, she is an Ass.
 Annexe } See } Annexe.
 Annexe } } Annexe.
 Annexer } } Annexer.
 Ange, (m.) Angel, a created and bodiless Spirit; an Angelical man, woman, or wit.
 Les Anges sont des Esprits degagez de toute matiere, Angels are Spirits altogether free from any matter. Un Ange Gardien, a Tutelary Angel.
 C'est une Societé d'Hommes, ou plutôt d'Anges, 'tis a Society of Men, or rather of Angels.

Un Esprit d'Ange, an Angelical Wit. Amour a ramené mon Ange, Cupid has brought me back my Angelical Mistress.
 Ange, ou boulet à Chaîne (en Termes de Mer) a Chain-bullet.
 Un Ange de Satan (2 Cor. 12. 7.) a Messenger of Satan.
 Angelique, Angelical, of (or belonging to) an Angel; Angelical, or excellent.
 As, nature Angelique, Angelical nature.
 Etat Angelique, an Angelical State.
 Angelique, (a fem. Subst.) angelica, an herb so called; a kind of Wind-flower; a Musical Instrument, that has something of a Lute, and something of a Teorbo; a Woman's Name.
 Angelot, (m.) sorte de Fromage, Angelot, a sort of refined Cheese.
 Angle, (m.) angle.
 Angle droit, a right angle. Angle obtus, an obtuse Angle.
 Angleux. As, une Noix angleuse, a Nut that hath a thick Shell and a small Kernel.
 Anglicane, of England.
 As, l'Eglise Anglicane, the Church of England.
 Anglicisme, (m.) anglicism.
 Anglois, English.
 As, la Langue Angloise, the English Tongue.
 Un Anglois, (Subst.) an English Man. Une Angloise, an English Woman.
 L'Anglois, ou la Langue Angloise, the English, or the English Tongue.
 Angoisse, (f.) anguish, or great pain; trouble, or distress.
 Etre dans de furieuses angouisses, to be in great pain. Dans cette Terre de Tribulation & d'Angoisse, in this Land of Tribulation and Anguish.
 Leur Ame se fond d'angoisse, (Ps. 107. 26.) their Soul is melted because of trouble.
 Sera ce oppression ou angouisse ? (Rom. 8. 32.) shall tribulation or distress ?
 Or thus. Les Songes le faisoient rire dans les angouisses de la Mort, his Dreams made him laugh amongst the pangs of Death.
 Poire d'angoisse, a choke-pear.
 † Angouisse, filled with anguish, full of heaviness, grieved, distressed, perplexed.
 Moab fut angouissé à cause des Enfants d'Israel, (Numb. 20. 3.) Moab was distressed because of the Children of Israel.
 † Angouisser, to fill with anguish, grieve, or perplex.
 Jusques à quand angouisserai je mon cœur ? (Ps. 13. 3.) how long shall I have sorrow in my heart ?
 Anguichure, (f.) the leather Belt on which the Huntsman hangs his Horn.
 † Anguillade, (f.) a Whipping (or Lashing) with Eeles Skins.
 Donner l'anguillade à quécun, to whip (or lash) one with Eeles Skins.
 Anguille, (f.) an Eel.
 Un Pâté d'Anguilles, an Eel-py.
 En pressant trop l'Anguille on la perd, through too much Care we often lose our Charge.
 Angulaire (from Angle) angular, having angles.
 † Anichon. See Anon.
 Anier, (m.) one that keeps Asses; a Driver of Asses.
 † Animadversion, (f.) animadversion.
 Animal, (m.) an animal, or living creature; an animal, or brute; an animal, or block-head.
 Un Animal est une Creature animée, qui a du sang dans les Veines, qui a les cinq Sens, ou quécun des cinq Sens, an Animal is a living Creature, having blood in its veins, and the five Senses, or some one of them. L'Homme est un Animal raisonnable, Man is a rational Creature, Man is a living Creature capable of Reason.
 La Nature ayant courbé le Corps de tous les Animaux vers la Terre, où ils devoient trouver leur Nourriture, a fait celui de l'Homme seul droit & élevé, Nature having bent the Body of all Beasts towards the Ground, where they were to feed, made only that of Man straight and upright.
 Tous les Animaux ont une Inclination naturelle à se conserver, à éviter tout ce qui peut les incommoder, & à chercher tout tout ce qui est nécessaire à la Vie, all living Creatures have a natural Disposition to preserve themselves, to shun whatever may be noisom to them, and to seek after their Necessaries.

Il y a des Animaux apprivoisés & domestiques, il y en a de sauvages, & il y en a de farouches & de malfaisans, amongst the Brutes some are tame and home-bred, some wild, and others fierce and dangerous.

En fin, parmi les Animaux, les uns sucent la Viande, d'autres la brouillent, les uns l'avalent sans la mâcher, & les autres la mâchent, lastly, amongst living Creatures, some suck their food, others brouze upon it, some swallow it unchawed, others chew it.

C'est un vrai Animal, he is a meer Animal.

Elle aime le plus fort Animal qui jamais eut la forme d'Homme, she loves the greatest Animal that ever had the shape of a Man. Elle est dans une colere epouvantable de voir qu'on les appelle des Animaux, she is extreem angry that they should be called Animals.

Animal, (Adj.)

L'Homme animal ne comprend point les Choses qui sont de l'Esprit de Dieu, (1 Cor. 2. 14.) the natural Man receiveth not the Things of the Spirit of God.

Animé, animated, living, or having life; animated, heartned, incouraged; incensed.

Une Creature animée, a living Creature. Elle étoit animée d'une Beauté capable d'être aimée, she was animated by a charming beauty.

Etre animé contre quécun, to be incensed against one.

Animer, to animate, quicken, or give life; to animate, hearten, incourage, incense, urge, or provoke.

Dieu anima l'Homme d'un souffle de Vie, God quickened Man with a breath of Life.

Animer un Discours, le rendre plus vif, to quicken a Discourse, to give life unto it.

Je pourrais de ma Plainte animer une Souche, I could wish my Complaint quicken a very Block, that is, make it sensible.

Animer quécun, l'encourager, to hearten, or incourage one. L'animer le fâcher, to anger (to urge) him. L'animer à la vengeance, to provoke him to vengeance.

Or thus. Animer le marbre, lui donner un air de vie, to make a marble Statue look lively.

S'Animer, to grow brisk upon't, to cheer up; to chafe, or be angry.

Il commenca à s'animer, he begun to grow brisk upon't, to cheer up.

Il prend feu d'abord, voyez comment il s'anime, he takes fire presently, see how angry he looks already.

Animosité, (f.) animosity, hatred, ill-will, spite, grudge, malice.

Par animosité, out of an ill-will, out of spite, out of malice. Vous avez quécque animosité contre lui, you have a spite against him.

Anis, (m.) anis, the plant; aniseed.

Aniversaire. See Anniversaire.

Annales, (f.) Annals, annual Chronicles, yearly Relations.

Annales bien écrites, Annals well written.

Annaliste, (m.) Annalist, a Writer of yearly Chronicles, a Relater of annual Occurrences.

Un Annaliste fameux, a famous Annalist.

Annate, (f.) the first fruits of a Benefice, the profit of a whole Year after the remove or death of the Incumbent.

Annate est un Terme de Droit Canon, dérivé du Latin Annata. C'est un Droit que le Pape prend sur tous les grands Benefices Consistoriaux, ou de valeur de 24 Ducats de Revenu. Ce Droit se paie ordinairement selon la Taxe qui en a été faite à Rome dans les Livres de la Chambre Apostolique. Cette Taxe est le plus souvent le Revenu d'une Année du Benefice, quécquefois elle va plus haut, & quécquefois plus bas.

Les Annates, selon quécques uns, ont été instituées en 1260; & selon d'autres, elles tirent leur Origine du Pape Jean xxii, qui tenoit le Siege en 1316. Mais la plus commune Opinion est, qu'elles ont été établies en 1394. par le Pape Boniface ix.

Le Concile de Bâle, & l'Assemblée de Bourges, ont abrogé les Annates par un Esprit de Religion. Car, comme elles se exigent lors qu'on donne les Provisions des grands Benefices, on croit qu'il y a en cela quécque Chose qui sent la Simonie; & que c'est en quécque façon acheter un Benefice, qui est une Chose Spirituelle, que d'en payer l'Annate à Rome.

Anneau, (m.) a ring, for a finger; any ring whatsoever.

Anneau d'or ou d'argent, a gold or silver ring.

Anneau de fer ou de leton, an iron or brass ring.

Anneaux d'une Branche, the Rings of a Branch.

Anneau de clef, the bow (or utmost part) of a Key.

Année, (f.) Year.

Année Astronomique, Civile, Gregorienne, an Astronomical, Civil, Gregorian Year.

Etre accablé d'années, to be full of years.

† Annelé (from Anneau) curled.

Elle avoit les cheveux annelez, she had her hair curled.

Annelet, (m.) petit anneau, a little ring, a tache, Ex. 26. 33.

Annexe, (f.) Annexation, or a Thing annexed.

Annexé, annexed, added to.

Annexer, to annex, or add to.

En 1486. le Roi Charles viii. annexa la Provence à la Couronne, Anno 1486. King Charles viii. annexed Provence to the Crown.

† Annihilation, (f.) annihilation.

† Annihilé, annihilated.

† Annihiler, to annihilate.

Anniversaire, (m.) Anniversary.

Annonce, (f.) ban de mariage, bane of matrimony.

Note that Annonce is the Word used amongst French Protestants, as Ban is amongst the Roman Catholics.

Annonce de Comedien, avertissement de la Piece qu'on doit jouer, a Players Bill posted up (to give notice what Play will be acted.)

Annoncé, announced, declared, told, spoke, published, preached, proclaimed.

Annoncer, to announce, declare, tell, speak, publish, preach, or proclaim; to shew, 1 Cor. 11. 26. to bring, Luke 2. 11. to command, 1 Tim. 4. 11.

Annoncer de mechantes nouvelles à quécun, to tell one bad (or unwellcome) news.

Annoncer l'Ev angile, to preach the Gospel.

Annoncer une Piece, to publish what Play will be acted.

† Annonciateur (m.) a Proclaimer, or Setter forth.

Il semble être Annonciateur des Dieux étranges, (Acts 17. 18.) he seems to be a Setter forth of strange Gods.

Annonciation, (f.) une des Fêtes de la Vierge, Annunciation, the Annunciation of the blessed Virgin.

Annonciation, Image qui represente le Myſtere de l'Annonciation, an Image of the Annunciation.

Annotation, (f.) note, or annotation.

Annuel, (from Année) annual, yearly, that comes every year.

Droit annuel, a yearly Right. Rente annuelle, a yearly Rent.

Un Annuel, Messe qu'on dit durant un an pour un mort, an annual Mass for a deceased Person.

† Annuellement, annually, yearly, every year, from year to year.

Annulé, annulled, disannulled, made void.

Annuler, to annul, disannul, or make void.

Anobli, nobliterated, made a Nobleman or Gentleman.

Anoblir, to make noble.

Anoblir son Style, to write with a nobler Style.

Anoblissement, (m.) a making noble.

Lettres d'anoblissement, a Patent of Nobility.

Anodin, Terme de Medecine, that allays the pain.

Remede anodin, a Medicine that allays the pain.

Anomal, Terme de Grammaire, anomal, irregular.

As, un Verbe anomal, an Irregular Verb.

Anon, (m.) a young Ass.

Anonce } Annonce.

Anoncé } Annoncé.

Anoncer } Annoncer.

Anonciation } Annonciation.

Anonime } Anonyme.

Anonner, faire un anon, to bring forth a young ass.

† Anonner, lire mal, to read scurvily.

Anonyme, anonymous.

Un Auteur anonyme, an anonymous Author, that puts out a Book, and keeps his Name to himself.

Anse, (f.) the handle of a basket, pot, cup, &c. a Creek, or little Bay; and (amongst Bell-founders) that Part which the Bell hangs on.

L'anse du Panier est rompue, the handle of the Basket is broken.

† Elle fait le Pot à deux anses, she sets her arms at Kembo (as Women do sometimes in their passion.)

Anseatique, Hanse.

As, Ville Anseatique, a Hanse-Town.

Les Villes Anseatiques sont des Villes d'Allemagne maritimes, ou sur des Rivières Navigables, qui ont fait & juré entr'elles une Ligne Offensive & Defensive, & qui en 1254. se sont associées pour le Commerce. Lubeck est la principale & la plus considerable des Villes Anseatiques.

Anspécade, (m.) Aide de Caporal, an Under-Corporal.

Antagoniste, (m.) Antagonist.

Antartique, Antarctick.

Le Pole Antartique, the Pole Antarctick.

Ante } Ante.

Anté } See } Enté.

Antecedent, foregoing.

Antechrist, (m.) Antichrist.

Anteciens (Terme de Geographie) Antæci.

Thus are called those that dwell under the same Meridian, and are equally remote from the Equator; but with this Difference, that the one is in the Northern, and the other in the Southern Latitude, so that the Summer of the one is the other's Winter.

Antenne, (f.) Mot des Levantins pour signifier une Vergue, a Sail-Yard.

Anter. See Enter.

Antérieur, anterior, that is set before.

Partie antérieure, the fore-part.

Antestature. C'est une Traverſe ou un petit Retranchement fait avec des Palissades, ou des Sacs à terre, dont on se couvre à la hâte, pour conserver ou disputer le reste d'un Terrain dont l'Enemi a gagné quécque partie.

Antichambre, (f.) a withdrawing Room, a small Room next to a great one.

Anticipation, (f.) anticipation.

Appel par anticipation, an anticipated Appeal.

Anticipé, anticipated.

Anticiper, to anticipate, or take first possession, to usurp, incroach, or invade.

Anticiper sur les Droits d'autrui, to incroach upon another man's Right, to usurp (or invade) it.

Anticœur. See Avant-cœur.

Antidate, (f.) antidate, or antedate, an older date than it ought to be.

Antidaté, antedated.

Antidater, to antidate, (or rather) to antedate.

Antidote, (m.) antidot, counter-poison.

Excellent antidote, an excellent antidote.

Antienne, (f.) Anthem.

As, chanter une Antienne, to sing an Anthem.

Antimoine, (m.) antimony.

Antimoine préparé, antimony prepared.

Antipape, (m.) Antipope, a Pope's Competitor, who pretends to be the Pope duly elected.

Antipathie, or Antipatie, (f.) antipathy.

Il y a une antipathie naturelle entre le Loup & la Brebis, there is a natural antipathy betwixt the Wolf and the Sheep.

Antiperistase, (f.) antiperistasis, as when heat being beset with cold, its contrary quality is the more increased.

Antipodes, (m.) Terme de Geographie, Antipodes.

Nos Antipodes sont ceux qui marchent sous l'Hémisphere qui nous est opposé, our Antipodes are those who walk under the Hemisphere opposite to ours.

Antipode is also used in a comical style, in the sense of contrary, or opposite.

† As, il passe pour l'Antipode des Esprits raffinez, he passeth for a Man far enough from being a refined Wit.

C'est l'Antipode de la Raison, he is the greatest Opposer to Reason.

Antiquaille, (f.) an Antick, a ruinous piece of antiquity.

Antiquaire, (m.) Antiquary.

C'est un grand Antiquaire, he is a great Antiquary.

Antique, masc. & fem. When it is masculine, it signifies in general all manner of Pieces either of Painting or Sculpture made since Alexander the Great till the Reign of the Emperor Phocas, when those noble Arts perished among the rest.

But, when you find it used in the feminine Gender, then it signifies a particular Figure either of Painting or Sculpture, made in the Time aforesaid. As, une belle Antique, a fine Antick.

Antique besides is used Adjectively, but most properly by Poets.

As, Rome n'a rien de son antique Orgueil, Rome has nothing of its ancient Pride.

Au Temps antique, of old, in old time.

A l'antique, à la maniere ancienne, after the antick way.

Antiquité, (f.) Antiquity, ancientness; Antiquity, the Ancients; former Ages.

Ville fameuse pour son Antiquité, a Town famous for its Antiquity.

On peut opposer les deux Scaligers à la plus savante Antiquité, the two Scaligers may be opposed to the learnedst amongst the Ancients.

Les Heros de l'Antiquité étoient véritablement de grands Heros, the Heroes of former Ages were indeed great Heroes.

Antithese, (f.) Antithesis (a Rhetorical Figure, as when Contraries are opposed to Contraries.)

Antonins, (m.) the Monks of S. Anthony's Order.

Antoussisme } See { Entoussisme.

Antr'acte } See { Entr'acte.

Antre, (m.) a Den, Cave, or Grot.

Un Antre obscur, noir, & profond, a dark and deep Cave.

Antropophage, (m.) a Man-eater.

Quoi? me prend il pour un Antropophage? What? do's he take me for a Man-eater?

† Anuité, surpris de la Nuit, benighted.

† Anuiter, se laisser surprendre de la Nuit, to be benighted.

Anullé } See { Annulé.

Anuller } See { Annuler.

† Anxiété, (f.) anxiety, great trouble, or great perplexity.

A O.

† Ao is an improper Diptong, for either the a or the o is mute. The a, as in Saone, Saoul, Saouler, taon, Aout, extraordinaire, extraordinairement; the o in paon, faon, flaon.

And accordingly some write the first four without an a, and the last without an o.

But it is no Diptong in faonner, nor Laon a City of France.

Aorte, (f.) Terme d'Anatomie, grosse artere, the Mother of Arteries, one of the three Arteries of the Body issuing from the left Ventricle and broad end of the Heart.

Aout, (m.) August; the Harvest time in August.

† Sa Lettre est du premier d'Aout, his Letter is dated August the first.

† L'Aout est fait, the Harvest is over.

† Aouté, (Terme de Jardinier) filled with sap, in August.

A P.

Apaisé

Apaiser

Apanage

Apanager

Aparat

Apareil

Apareillé

Apareiller

Apareilleur

Aparemment

Aparence

Aparent

† Aparenté

Aparié

Aparier

Aparoître

Apaisé.

Apaiser.

Apanage.

Apanager.

Aparat.

Apareil.

Apareillé.

Apareiller.

Apareilleur.

Aparemment.

Aparence.

Aparent.

† Apparenté.

Apparié.

Apparier.

Apparoître.

See

Apartement, (m.) Apartment, or Story.

On appelle Appartement Chambre, Antichambre, & Cabinet, ou Salle, Chambre, & Cabinet, the French call Apartment a Bed-chamber, a withdrawing Room, and Closet, or else a Parlour, a Bed-Chamber, and a Closet. Etre logé au premier Appartement, to take up the first Rooms.

Appartenance

Appartenir

Aparu

Appas

Appauvri

Appauvrir

Appau

Appel

Appellant

Appellation

Appellé

Appeller

See

Appartenance.

Appartenir.

Apparu.

Appas.

Appauvri.

Appauvrir.

Appau.

Appel.

Appellant.

Appellation.

Appellé.

Appeller.

† Appendice

Appendre

Appendu

Apercevu

† Apercevable

Apercevoir

See

† Appendice.

Appendre.

Appendu.

Apercevu.

† Apercevable.

Apercevoir.

Aperitif, opening, that opens the body.

Le Citron est aperitif, la Rave est aperitive, the Lemon, and Radish are opening.

Apesanti

Apesantir

† Apetissant

Apetisser

Apetit

Apetitif

See

Appesanti.

Appesantir.

† Apetissant.

Apetisser.

Apetit.

Apetitif.

Aphorisme, (m.) Aphorism, a Sentence that bears a great sense in few words.

Aplané

Aplaner

Aplaneur

Aplani

Aplanir

Aplanissement

Aplati

Aplatir

Aplaudi

Aplaudir

Aplaudissement

Aplicable

Aplication

Appliqué

Appliquer

See

Applané.

Applaner.

Applaneur.

Applani.

Aplanir.

Applanissement.

Applati.

Aplatir.

Aplaudi.

Aplaudir.

Applaudissement.

Aplicable.

Aplication.

Appliqué.

Appliquer.

Apocalypse, (f.) the Apocalypse, or St. John's Revelation.

Apocryphe, apocryphal.

Livre apocryphe, an apocryphal Book, a part of Scripture which is not Canonical.

Les Apocryphes, the Apocrypha.

Apogée, (m.) the Point of Heaven wherein the Sun (or any Planet) is furthest from the Center of the Earth.

Apointé

Apointement

Apointer

Apointir

Apointissant

See

Appointé.

Appointement.

Appointer.

Appointir.

Appointissant.

Apologie, (f.) apology, defence, or excuse.

Faire l'apologie de quécun, to make one's apology.

Apologiste, (m.) Apologist.

Apologue, (m.) Fable morale, a moral Fable.

Apophtegme, (m.) Apophthegm, a short and pithy Sentence.

Apoplectique, apoplectick, subject to an apoplexy; apoplectick, good against apoplexy.

Il est apoplectique, he is subject to an apoplexy.

Baume apoplectique, apoplectick balsam.

Apoplexie, (f.) apoplexy.

Tomber en apoplexie, to fall into an apoplexy.

Mourir d'apoplexie, to die of an apoplexy.

Aporté

Aporter

Aposème

Aposer

See

Apporté.

Apporter.

Apozème.

Apposer.

Apostasie, (f.) apostasy.

Apostasier, to apostatize.

Apostat, (m.) Apostate.

Un infame Apostat, an infamous Apostate, that hath basely forsook the true Religion.

Aposté

Aposter

See

Apposté.

Apposter.

Apostille, (f.) a short Note upon something; a Postscript.

Apostiller, to write short Notes upon.

Apostiller un Livre, to write short Notes upon a Book.

Apostolat, (m.) Dignité d'Apôtre, Apostleship.

Apostolique, Apostolical.

Une Maxime Apostolique, an Apostolical Maxim.

Un homme Apostolique, a good Man.

Apostoliquement, holily, Apostolically.

Apostrophe, (f.) an Apostroph, that stands instead of a Vowel put out; Apostroph, a kind of Rhetorical Figure.

Apostropher quécun, to turn his speech to one.

Apostume, (f.) Impostume, a swelling full of corrupt matter.

† Apostumer, suppurer, venir à suppuration, to run, to suppurate.

Apoteose, or Apotheose, (f.) a Deifying of a Man; also the publick Games and Ceremonies which attended it.

Apoticaire, (m.) Apothecary.

Apoticairerie, (f.) the Place where the Drugs are kept (either in a Monastery, or in a great Man's House.)

Apoticairelle, (f.) the Nun which provides the Drugs in a Monastery.

Apôtre, (m.) Apostle; a Man in Orders, but without a Living.

† Un bon Apôtre (en Termes burlesques) a good Companion.

On appelle aussi Apôtres les Confreres qui vont à Paris aux Processions solennelles, qui s'habillent de blanc, & marchent les piez nus avec une Couronne de fleurs sur la Tête.

Apozème, (m.) Apozeme, a Decoction made of roots, wood, barks, leaves, flowers, seeds, and other parts of Plants.

Apaisé, appeased, pacify'd; quiet, still, &c. according to the Verb; merciful, Heb. 8. 12.

Mes Maux ont été apaisez, des que j'ai lu votre Lettre, all my Grievances ceased upon my reading of your Letter, your Letter has allay'd the bitterness of my Misfortunes.

† Appaisement, (m.) an appeasing, or pacifying, a quieting, or making quiet.

Et l'Eternel flaira une odeur d'appaisement, (Gen. 8. 21.) and the Lord smelled a sweet savour.

Appaiser, to appease, or pacify; to appease, or allay; to quiet, to make quiet.

Appaiser la colere de quécun, to appease one's anger, to pacify an angry man. J'ai tant fait que je l'ai apaisé, with much ado have I appeased him.

Appaiser la Soif, to appease Drought.

Appaiser la Toux, to appease the Cough.

Appaiser un Enfant qui crie, le faire taire, to quiet a roaring Child, to make it quiet.

Or thus. Appaiser sa soif, to quench his thirst. Appaiser une Sedition, to suppress a Sedition. Qui viendra appaiser nos Troubles? Who will come and put a period to our Troubles?

Après m'avoir apaisé (après m'avoir remis de mon émotion) il reprit son Discours.

cours, after he had composed my mind, he resumed his Discourse.

S'Appaier, to allay his passion; to be (or to grow) quiet.

Sa Colere s'est appaier, his Anger is over.

Le Vent s'est appaier, the Wind is down.

La Tempête s'est appaier, the Storm is over.

Appanage, (m.) the Portion of a younger Son of France.

Le Mot d'Appanage se dit proprement des Fils puineux des Rois de France. Il y en a qui le derivent de Panix, & d'autres de Panagium; mais Ragueau pretend, que ce Mot vient de l'Alleman.

L'Appanage n'a été établi en France, que depuis la troisième Race de les Rois. Il se donnoit autrefois en une Pension d'une certaine Somme d'argent; mais aujourd'hui ce sont des Fonds de Terre qu'on donne aux Fils puineux de France, pour les faire subsister conformément à leur haute Naissance.

L'Appanage retourne à la Couronne, au cas que l'Appanager meure sans Enfants mâles; & ce fut Philippe le Bel, qui fit cette Ordonnance.

Il n'y a que le Fils aîné de l'Appanager qui succède à l'Appanage; & à son défaut, le Roi. Mais le Fils aîné doit donner à son Puîné de quoi s'entretenir honorablement.

L'Appanage ne peut être aliéné. Les Collatéraux, ni les Femmes, n'y succèdent point.

Donner une Terre en Appanage, to assign a Portion of Land in lieu of the future Right of Succession to the Whole, which the Party renounces upon the receipt thereof.

Tenir en Appanage, to hold Lands and Lordships as it were to Use only (the property of them being in the Crown, and therefore not to be aliened, or inherited by a Woman.)

† C'est un joli Appanage qu'une paire de Cornes, a pair of Horns is a pretty Gift.

Appanagé, or Appanager, (m.) le Fils puîné de France qui a quelque Appanage, a younger Son of France that has got his Portion.

Apparat, (m.) preparation; a School-Book containing a Collection of Phrases out of Tully.

Plaider avec apparat, to plead with great solemnity.

Appareux, Terme de Marine. Ce mot signifie les Voiles, les Manœuvres, les Vergues, les Poulies, les Ancres, les Cables, le Gouvernail, & l'Artillerie du Vaisseau. De sorte qu'il designe plus de choses que le mot d'Agreils, & moins que celui d'Equipement, qui signifie outre cela les Gens de l'Equipage & les Vituailles.

Appareil, (m.) provisions, preparations; a Surgeons apparel for Cure; the dimension of a Stone.

Faire de grands appareils, to make great preparations.

Mettre le premier appareil à la plaie, to begin the cure of a wound.

Une Pierre de grand appareil, a Stone of a great thickness.

Appareillé, prepared, fitted, got ready; matched.

Voile appareillée, Voile mise hors, ou mise au Vent, c'est à dire deployée, & prête à prendre le Vent.

Appareiller, to prepare, to make ready for; to match.

Appareiller des bas, to get stuff for stockings.

On appareilloit, lors que tout à coup il s'éleva une Tempête, we were preparing to weigh anchor, when a Storm arose on a sudden.

S'Appareiller (en Termes d'Oiselier) to match.

Appareilleur, (m.) he that cuts Work to others.

Appareusement, likely, apparently.

Cela est appareusement vrai, that's likely to be true.

Apparence, (f.) appearance, shew, or sign; a phenomenon; colour, or pretence; appearance, likelihood, probability; observation, Luke 17. 20; face, Luke 12. 36.

Il n'y a aucune apparence de verité, there is no appearance of Truth. Une fausse apparence de Vertu, a false shew of Virtue.

Une grande Mechanceté cachée sous une belle apparence, a great Wickedness cloathed with a fair pretence.

Il n'y a point d'apparence qu'il meure si tôt, there is no likelihood of his dying so soon, it is not likely that he will die so soon.

Donner tout aux apparences, to go altogether by outward appearances. Sauver les apparences, to save the appearances. Toutes les apparences sont contre vous, to all outward appearance you are in the wrong.

Or thus. As, Gal. 2. 6. Dieu n'accepte point l'apparence extérieure de l'Homme, God accepteth no man's person.

Il n'y a point d'égard à l'apparence des Personnes, (Col. 3. 25.) there is no respect of Persons.

Gens qui ont l'apparence de la Piété, mais qui en ont renié la force, (2 Tim. 3. 5.) Men that have a form of Godliness, but denying the power thereof.

Cette Action est honnête en apparence, that Action seems to be honest, 'tis honest in all appearance.

Apparent, apparent, evident, plain, manifest; apparent, or seeming.

† Les plus apparens de la Ville, the most eminent (the chiefest) men of the Town.

† Apparenté, related, having Relations.

Il est bien apparenté, he has good Relations.

Apparié, matched.

Apparier, to match.

Apparier deux Chevaux, to match two Horses, to put them together.

Apparition, (f.) Apparition; appearing, manifestation.

Apparoître, to appear.

Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 3. 3. † Entant qu'il apparoit en vous, que vous êtes l'Epître de Christ, forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the Epistle of Christ.

Appartement. See Apartement.

Appartenance (f.) Terme de Droit, Appurtenance.

Ces Terres sont des Appartenances de ce Fonds, those Pieces of Ground belong to this, are an appendant of it.

Appartenir, to belong, to appertain; to become.

Cela vous appartient, that belongs to you.

Il ne vous appartient pas de répondre, it do's not become (it is not fit for) you to answer.

Or thus. Ceci m'appartient, this is mine.

Cela lui appartient, that's his.

Apparu, (from Apparoître,) appeared, seen.

Appas, (m.) charms.

Or thus. Son Langage un peu libre a pour moi des appas, his free Way of speaking humours (or pleasures) me, I am charmed with his free Way of speaking.

Appauvri, impoverished, grown poor, waxen poor.

Appauvrir, to impoverish, or make poor.

L'Eternel appauvrit & enrichit, il abbaisse & il eleve, (1 Sam. 2. 7.) the Lord maketh poor and maketh rich, he bringeth low and lifteth up.

Appau, (m.) a bird-call.

Appet, (m.) a challenge; an appeal, or appealing.

Faire un appel à quécun, to give one a challenge.

Interjeter un Appel, to appeal.

Il n'y a point d'Appel contre la Mort, there is no appealing from Death, Death admits no Appeal.

Appellant, (m.) Appellante, (f.) Appeler, a Man or Woman that appeals from the judgment of the Court.

Appellatif, (Terme de Grammaire) appellative, or common to many.

Appellation, (f.) an appeal, or appealing; appellation.

Appellé, called.

Appellé en duel, challenged.

Appeller, to call; to appeal.

Comment appelez vous ceci? how d'ye call this? Appeller quécun par son Nom, to call one by his Name. L'appeler, pour le faire venir, to call to him, to give him a call.

Appeler une Cause, to call a Cause (to be heard.)

Appeler d'une Sentence, to appeal from a Judges Sentence to a superiour Court. J'en appelle à vous même, I appeal to your self.

Or thus. As, envoyer appeler quécun, to send for one. Il vient sans qu'on l'appelle, he comes uncalled for.

Appeler quécun en Duel, to give one a Challenge.

S'Appeler, to be called.

As, comment s'appelle ceci? how do you call this? Cela s'appelle ainsi, that is thus called, that's the name of it.

Il s'appelle César, & je m'appelle Alexandre, his Name is Caesar, and mine is Alexander.

Appendice, (m.) an Appendix.

Appendre, to hang something in a Church.

Vous voyez un Homme qui a appendu ses Chaines au Temple de la Liberté, you see a Man that has banged his Chains in the Temple of Liberty.

Appendu, banged in a Church.

† Appercevable, perceivable, to be perceived.

Appercevoir, to perceive, or discover; to perceive, or understand.

Les Barbares l'apperceurent, & n'osèrent s'en approcher, the Barbarians perceived him, and durst not come near him.

Tu apperçois de loin ma pensée, (Ps. 139. 2.) thou understandest my thoughts afar off.

S'appercevoir, to find (or smell) out, to discover.

Je m'en suis apperceu, I found it out. Et moi je m'apperceus trop tard de son artifice, but I found out his trick too late.

Or thus. As, Luke 2. 43. Ils ne s'en apperceurent point, they knew not of it.

† Il Appert, for il paroît, 'tis apparent, it appears, it is manifest, it is evident.

Appesanti, heavy, grown heavy.

Appesanti de sommeil, (Luke 9. 23.) heavy with sleep.

† Appesantir, to make heavy.

S'appesantir, to wax (to be) heavy.

La main de Dieu s'appesantit sur lui, the hand of God is heavy upon him.

Jour & nuit ta Main s'appesantissoit sur moi, (Ps. 32. 4.) day and night thy hand was heavy upon me.

† Appeter, to desire, to be desirous of, to lust after, Deut. 14. 26.

Quand tu seras assis à table avec quécun Seigneur, n'appete point les friandises, (Prov. 3.) when thou sittest to eat with a Ruler, be not desirous of his Dainties.

† Appetissant, (from Appetit) that provokes the appetite.

Appetissé, lessened.

† Appetissement, (m.) a lessening.

Appetisser, (from Petit) to lessen.

S'appetisser, to lessen, to abate (in a neutral sense.)

Appetit, (m.) appetite, the faculty of desiring; appetite, affection, or desire; appetite, or stomach.

Appetit raisonnable, sensif, concupiscible, irascible, the rational, sensitive, concupiscible, and irascible Appetite.

Appetits desordonnez, inordinate Affections.

Commander à la violence de ses appetits, to refrain his appetite.

Avoir bon appetit, avoir l'appetit ouvert, to have a good appetite, to have a good stomach.

Perdre l'appetit, to lose his appetite, or stomach.

Reveiller (retablir) l'appetit, to recover his stomach.

Ne me livre point à l'appetit de mes Adversaires (Ps. 27. 12.) deliver me not over unto the Will of mine Enemies.

Appetitif, (Terme Philosophique) appetitive.

As, la puissance appetitive de l'Ame, the appetitive faculty of the soul.

Applané, the wool whereof is raised by thifty Cards.

Applaner (Terme de Couverturier.)

As, applaner une Couverture, y faire venir la laine avec des Chardons, to raise the wool with thifty Cards.

Applaneur, (us.) a raiser of the wool with thifty Cards.

Applani, levelled, made smooth, or even; cleared, or made plain.

Appla-

Applanir, to level, make smooth, or even; to hew, Exod. 34. 15. to clear, or make plain.

Applanir un Chemin, une Montagne, to level a Way, or a Hill.

Applanir une Difficulté, to clear (or make plain) a Difficulty.

Applanissement, (m.) a levelling; a clearing.

Applati, flatted, or grown flat, squashed down.

Applatis, to flat, or make flat, to squash down.

Applatis une chose ronde, to make a round thing flat.

Or thus. As, Ps. 18. 43. Je les ai applatis comme la boue des Rues, I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets.

S'Applatis, devenir plat, to fall, to become flat.

Les Jouës s'applatisent lors qu'on baïlle, when a man yawns his Cheeks fall.

Applaudi, applauded, highly approved of, or praised.

Cette Raïson fut applaudie, that Reason was highly approved of.

Applaudir, to applaud, highly to approve of, or praise.

S'Applaudir, to applaud to himself, to praise (or admire) himself, to be proud of (to be pleased with) himself.

Ma Muse s'applaudit du beau coup qu'elle a fait, my Muse is highly pleased that she has hit so well.

Applaudissement, (m.) applause, or publick praise.

Cela s'est fait avec un applaudissement universel, that was done with a general applause.

Chercher des applaudissements, to seek for publick praise.

Applicable, to be disposed of, or distributed.

Amende applicable, un tiers au Roi, & le reste à l'Hopital, a Fine to be disposed of, one third to the King, and the rest to the Hospital.

Application, (f.) application, or the act of applying; application, care, attention.

Faire l'application, to make the application.

On y travaille avec une application toute extraordinaire, the thing is a doing with great application, with all the care imaginable.

Applique, (f.) a set of precious stones serving to set off others.

Appliqué, apply'd, bestowed.

Cela est mal appliqué, that's ill apply'd.

Argent mal appliqué, Money ill bestowed.

Appliquer, to apply, or bestow; to apply, or make an application of; to set.

Appliquer son esprit à la recherche de la Verité, to apply his mind to the finding out of Truth.

Appliquer une partie de ses Revenus à bâtir, to bestow a part of his Revenues upon building.

Appliquons cette Fable à notre Discours, let us apply this Fable to our Discourse.

Il lui appliqua ces Paroles, he apply'd these Words to him.

Appliquer le Seau, to set the Seal.

Or thus. As, Appliquer (donner) un soufflet à quécun, to give one a box on the ear.

Appliquer un Criminel à la Question, to put a Prisoner to the Rack.

N'appliquez point vos Membres pour être des Instrumens d'Iniquité à Peché (Rom. 6. 13.) Yield not your Members as Instrumens of Unrighteousness unto Sin.

S'Appliquer, to apply himself; to take in hand, Luke 1. 1; to be careful, Tit. 3. 8.

S'appliquer à la lecture, to apply himself to reading.

Ce Mot peut s'appliquer à plusieurs Choses, this Word may be apply'd to many Things.

Appointé, appointed, ordered.

Appointé (m.) Soldat qui a plus de paie que le simple Soldat, a Gentleman Souldier that receives better pay than the ordinary Souldiers.

Appointement, (m.) a Sentence (Decree, Order, or Injunction) for the possession of a Thing in controversy; a good Stipend, Salary, or Maintenance.

Appointer, to appoint, to order; to make peace, Deut. 26. 12.

†Appointir, to make sharp at the end.

Appointissant, As, une Chose qui va en appointissant, a Thing that grows sharp at the end.

Apporté, brought.

Apporter, to bring, or convey; to bring, or cause; to bring, or to alledge.

Apportez moi cela, bring me that.

Apportez moi le peu d'argent que vous me devez, bring me that little money you owe me.

Sa Mort vous apportera beaucoup de Maux, his Death will bring you many Disadvantages.

Cette Prise apporta de la honte aux Vainqueurs, that Prize brought shame upon the Conquerours.

Apporter de mauvaises Raïsons pour se défendre, to bring weak Arguments in his own defence.

Quels Exemples, quelles Raïsons, quelles Autoritez m'apportez vous? what Examples, what Reasons, what Authorities do you bring for it?

Or thus. As, Dites les Choses, sans y apporter tant de façon, speak without so much ado.

Ils ne m'ont rien apporté davantage (Gal. 2. 6.) they have added nothing to me.

Si le Grain meurt, il apporte beaucoup de fruit (John 12. 24.) if the Corn lie, it bringeth forth much fruit.

Appoier le Seellé, to set the Seal.

Appoité, appointed to make an attempt; suborned.

Appofter quécun, to get one to make an attempt in order to compass a Design.

Appofter de faux Temoins, to suborn (to get) false Witnesses.

Appreciation, (f.) a prizing, rating, valuation, or estimation.

Apprecié, prized, rated, valued.

Apprecier, to prize, rate, or value.

Apprehender, to fear, dread, or stand in fear of; to be loth, or afraid; to attain, or apprehend, Phil. 3. 12; to lay hold on, 1 Tim. 6. 12; to apprehend, take, or seize, Acts 17. 19; to receive, Heb. 12. 28.

Qu'apprehendez vous? what d'ye fear? what d'ye stand in fear of?

Je l'apprehende fort, I dread it very much.

On ne peut envisager fixement la Mort sans l'apprehender, one cannot look stedfastly Death in the face without being struck with fear.

J'apprehende d'y aller, I am loth to go thither.

Apprehensif, fearful, timorous.

Apprehension, (f.) apprehension, fear.

Etre en une perpetuelle apprehension, to be in perpetual fear.

Apprendre, to learn, or get knowledge; to learn, to be told, or informed; to hear, or understand; to learn, shew, or teach; to inform.

Apprendre les Mathematiques, to learn the Mathematicks.

Apprendre sa leçon par cœur, to learn his lesson by heart, to get it without book.

Apprendre de quécun à jouer de la Guitarre, to learn of one to play upon the Guitar.

J'ai appris cela par experience, that I learnt by experience.

Apprendre des Nouvelles, to hear News.

J'ai appris de facheuses Nouvelles, I heard (I am told) sad News.

J'appren que vous vous absentez fort souvent, I am informed (I hear under hand) that you absent your self very often.

Apprendre à quécun à jouer du Lut, to learn (teach, or shew) one to play upon the Lute.

Apprenez moi à parler Latin, teach me to speak Latine.

Apprendre aux Poissons à nager, to teach Fishes to swim.

To which answers the English Proverb, to teach his Grandam to grope Ducks.

Vos Lettres m'apprendront toutes choses, your Letters shall inform me of every thing.

I shall know all by your Letters.

Or thus. As, apprenez qu'il ne fait pas bon se jouer avec lui, take notice that it is not safe meddling with him.

Je l'ai appris de bonne part, I have it from good hands.

Apprenti, or Apprentif, (m.) a Prentice, or Apprentice; a Novice, Learner, or new Beginner.

Mon Maître a deux Apprentis, my Master has two Prentices.

Allez, vous n'êtes qu'un Apprenti en cela, away, you are but a Novice in that.

Apprentissage, (m.) Prenticeship, Apprenticeship.

Faire son Apprentissage, to serve his Prenticeship.

J'ai fait mon Apprentissage, I am out of Prenticeship, I am out of my time.

Or thus. As, mettre un Jeune homme en apprentissage, to bind a Young man a Prentice.

Etre en apprentissage, to be an Apprentice.

Il fait l'apprentissage du bel Art de la Guerre, he learns the noble Art of War.

Apprentisse, (f.) a Prentice.

Apprêt, (m.) preparation; a sort of gummed Water that sets a gloss on woollen Cloth; the art of painting upon glafs.

Faire de grands apprêts, to make great preparations.

On travaille à de grands apprêts pour cette Guerre, great preparations are making for this War.

Apprête, (f.) a slice of bread to eat a boyled egg withal.

Apprêté, prepared, ready.

Apprêter, to prepare, to make ready.

Apprêter le dîné, to make dinner ready.

Il lui a apprêté des Armes mortelles (Psal. 7. 14.) he has prepared for him the Instruments of Death.

Il a apprêté son Trône pour juger, (Psal. 9. 7.) he has prepared his Throne for Judgment.

S'apprêter, to prepare himself, to go about a thing.

Une Foule de Mal-contents s'apprête à le tourmenter, a Crowd of discontented people go about to vex him.

Or thus. As, Numb. 11. 18. apprêtez vous pour demain, & vous mangerez de la Chair, sanctify your selves against to morrow, and you shall eat Flesh.

Apprêteur, (m.) a Painter upon glafs.

Appris. See the Verb Apprendre.

Un Jeune homme bien appris, a well-bred Young man, a Young man well trained up.

Le Sage ecoutera, & en deviendra mieux appris, (Prov. 1. 5.) a Wise man will hear, and will encrease learning.

Apprivoisé, tame, tamed.

Voila un Loup bien apprivoisé, there's a Wolf mighty tame.

†Apprivoisement, (m.) a taming, or making tame.

Apprivoiser, to tame, to make tame.

Apprivoiser une bête sauvage, to tame a wild beast.

Apprivoiser une Fille, la rendre complaisante & familiere, to tame a Virgin, to make her sociable, to make her good company.

S'Apprivoiser, to grow tame; to grow sociable.

Or thus. a Perfidie s'apprivoise par les bien faits, Perfidiousness may be overcome with kindness.

On s'est apprivoisé à ce Mot, that Word is grown in use.

Approbateur, (m.) Approver.

Approbation, (f.) approbation, proof, 2 Cor. 8. 24.

Avoir l'approbation de quécun, to have ones approbation.

†Approchamment, almost, e'en almost.

Approchant, like, near ally'd.

Cette Couleur est fort approchante de celle là, this Colour is very like that, or comes very near it.

Les Nefles & les Cormes ont des qualitez fort approchantes, the Medlars and Services are near ally'd in qualities.

Approche, (f.) approach, access.

Elle doit craindre l'approche des Gallans, she ought to keep off from Gallants, she should fear their approach.

Ils craignent l'approche de l'Armée, they fear the approach of the Army.

Les Approches d'un Siege, the Approaches in a Siege.

Approché, come nigh, approached, near at hand.

Approcher, to draw near, or come near; to come near, or be like; to approach, or have free access to.

Il me fit approcher de lui, he made me come near him.

Approcher de la Verité, to come near the Truth.

L'abricot n'en approche pas, cd. il s'en

A P

A Q

A R

s'en faut beaucoup qu'il ne soit si délicieux, the Apricock does not come near it.
 J'ai l'honneur d'approcher la personne du Roi, I have the honour to approach the Kings person, I have free access to him. Approchez la Table de moi, draw the Table near me.
 S'approcher, to approach, to draw nigh, or near, to come near.
 S'approcher des Murailles d'une Ville, To draw near the Walls of a Town. L'heure de son Arrivée s'approche, the time of his Arrival draws near, or is at hand.
 S'approcher du Roi, to approach the King. Approchez vous de Dieu, & il s'approchera de vous, (Jam. 4. 8.) draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you.
 Approfondi, thoroughly examined, searched into.
 Approfondir, to search into, to examine thoroughly, to dive into the bottom of.
 Il ne faut pas toujours approfondir les Choses, one must not always dive into the bottom of Things.
 †Approfondissement, (m.) a searching into, or diving into the bottom of.
 †Appropriation, (f.) appropriation.
 †Approprié, appropriated, converted to ones use; fitted up, accommodated.
 †Appropriier, to appropriate, or convert unto ones use; to fit up, or accommodate; to prepare, Hebr. 10. 5. to compare, 1 Cor. 2. 13. to espouse, 2 Cor. 11. 2. to lay, P'sal. 21. 6.
 S'appropriier, (a current Word) to own, to claim as his own.
 As, s'appropriier les Ouvrages d'autrui, to own another mans Works, to claim them as his own.
 Approuvé, approved (liked) of; known, 2 Tim. 4. 17.
 Orthus. As, 2 Tim. 4. 3. Ren ton Ministre pleinement approuvé, make full proof of thy Ministry.
 Approuver, to approve (or like) of.
 Approuver la conduite de quécun, to like ones conduct, or to approve of it. Mes yeux n'approuvent pas vos Gestes, ni mes oreilles votre Discours, my Eyes do not like your Carriage, nor my Ears your Discourse.
 Orthus. As, 2 Cor. 4. 2. Nous approuvant à toute Conscience des hommes devant Dieu, commending our selves to every mans Conscience in the sight of God.
 Appui, (m.) any thing that holds up another, or that serves to lean upon; a prop, supporter, or buttress; help, protection.
 Il étoit l'Appui de la Patrie, he was the support (or strength) of his Country.
 Cheval de bon appui, cd. qui a la bouche fine & delicate, & capable de bien obeir à la bride, a Horse of a temperate & sweet rest upon the hand.
 Appuyé, leaning; bore up, supported, propped; supported, bore up, helped, or protected.
 Orthus. As, appuyé de votre faveur, trusting in your favour.
 Etre appuyé d'Amis, to have the support of Friends.
 Ceci est appuyé sur de simples Conjectures, this is grounded merely upon Conjectures.
 Appuyé-main, (m.) a Painters leaning-stick, that which he leans his hand upon while he paints.
 Appuyer, to support, or bear up (both in the proper and figurative sense.)
 Appuyer un Mur, to bear up a Wall (with a Buttress, or any thing else.)
 Orthus. Appuyer un Parti, to favour (or to countenance) a Party. Appuyer le Droit de quécun, to defend ones Right.
 Appuyer son Desein, to confirm (or encourage) him in his Design. J'appuye toutes mes esperances sur votre Credit, I ground all my hopes (I rely altogether) upon your Credit.
 Pour appuyer cette Conjecture, to make good that Conjecture.
 S'appuyer, to lean; to rely (or depend) upon.
 S'appuyer sur le coude, ou sur un bâton, to lean upon his elbow, or upon a stick. Il s'appuye contre la muraille, he leans against the wall.
 Je m'appuye sur vous, I rely (I depend) upon you.

Apré, rough, harsh, brackish; rough, hard, severe; eager, earnest, hot, violent; greedy.
 Un Vin apré, rough (or harsh) Wine.
 Une Gelée apré, a hard (or severe) Frost.
 Un Homme apré en ses humeurs, a severe (or churlish) Man.
 Apré (ou ardent) à quèque chose, eager about any thing.
 Apré à l'argent, greedy of money. Apré au Gain, greedy of Gain.
 †Aprément, roughly.
 Apprendre } See { Apprendre.
 Apprenti } { Apprenti.
 Apprentissage } { Apprentissage.
 Apprentisse } { Apprentisse.
 Aprés, after, next to.
 This Particle is a Preposition, an Adverb, and a Conjunction.
 A Preposition. As, après souppé, after supper.
 Aprés demain, after to-morrow. L'un aprés l'autre, one after another. Je couru aprés lui, I ran after him.
 Aprés Ciceron il est le Roi des Orateurs, next to Cicero he is the King of Orators.
 Il étoit assis aprés lui, he sat next to him.
 Aprés vous je n'ai point de meilleur Ami que lui, next to you he is the best Friend I have.
 Orthus. As, être après une affaire, y travailler, to be about a business, to be doing of it. Il est toujours aprés moi, he ever hangs about me, he is always at my elbow.
 An Adverb. As, incontinent aprés, presently after. Long tems aprés, long after.
 Un peu aprés, a little after. Il vient aprés, he comes after.
 Je souperai, & aprés je m'irai coucher, I will eat my supper, and after that (and then) I will go to bed. Priez Dieu presentement, & vous étudierez aprés, say your Prayers now, and after that you shall mind your Book.
 A Conjunction. As, après m'avoir volé il voulut encore m'égorgier, after he had robbed me he went about to cut my throat. Il mourut aprés avoir regné 30 ans, he died having reigned 30 years.
 Aprés que, after, after that, when.
 Trois jours aprés qu'il fut arrivé, three days after his arrival. Aprés que je m'en fus allé, after that I was gone. Aprés qu'il a bien bû il est eloquent, when he is in drink he is most eloquent.
 D'après, (Terme de Peinture) by.
 As, je l'ai fait d'après cet Original, I made it by that Original.
 Aprés-dinée, (f.) the Time betwixt dinner and supper, the Afternoon.
 Une belle après-dinée, a fine afternoon.
 Apres. See Appret.
 Apreté, (f.) from Apre, roughness, brackishness, or harshness; sharpness.
 As, L'apreté de certaines Eaux, the roughness (or brackishness) of some Waters.
 L'apreté de la Bile, the sharpness of the Choler.

A Q

Aquatique. See Acatique.
 Aqueduc, (m.) Aqueduct, Water-conduit.

Les Aqueducs de Constantinople sont dignes d'admiration, the Aqueducts of Constantinople are worthy our admiration.
 Aqueur } See { Acqueur.
 Aquerir } { Acquerir.
 Aquêt } { Acquet.
 Aqueux, aqueous, waterish, full of water.
 As, un Fruit aqueux, an aqueous (or waterish) Fruit.
 Acquiescement } See { Acquiescement.
 Acquiescer } { Acquiescer.
 Aquilin. As, Né aquilin, a hawk-nose.
 Aquilon, (m.) Terme de Poësie, North-Wind; North, Judg. 12. 1.
 Aquis } See { Acquis.
 Aquifition } { Acquisition.
 Aquit } { Acquit.
 Aquiter } { Acquiter.
 Aquosité, (f.) aquosity, waterishness.

A R

Arabe, (m. & f.) Arabian; a sordid (or base) man.
 Arabesque } Arabick.
 Arabique }
 Araignée, f. (not Arignée, as the People of Paris pronounce it) a spider.
 L'Araignée a une aversion naturelle pour les Serpens & les Lézards, the Spider hath a natural antipathy against all manner of Serpents and Lizards.
 Araignées (en Termes de Mer) sont des Poulies particulieres, par où viennent passer les Cordages appelez Marticles.
 Aramber un Vaiffeau, l'accrocher pour venir à l'abordage, to grapple a Ship.
 Arbalette, f. (not Arbaletre) a Cross-bow.
 Tirer de l'arbalette, to shoot with a Cross-bow.
 Arbalette, Fleche, Bâton de Jacob, ou Rayon Astronomique. C'est un Instrument d'Astronomie, qui par ses Graduations ou Divisions Geometriques sert à prendre les hauteurs des Astres, pour en conclure quelle est l'Elevation du Pole, ou (ce qui est la même chose) pour déterminer combien on est éloigné de la Ligne Equinoctiale dans le Lieu où l'on prend hauteur.
 Arbalette à jalet, a Stone-bow.
 Arbaletter (en Termes d'Architecture) to bear up with Arbaletiers.
 Arbaletiers, ou petites forces (Terme d'Architecture) pieces of Timber that bear up the Timber of a Roof.
 Arbaletrier, (m.) qui tire de l'arbalette, a Cross-bow-man.
 Arbitrage, (m.) arbitration.
 Mettre une Affaire en arbitrage, to put a thing into arbitration.
 Arbitraire, arbitrary.
 Un Pouvoir arbitraire, an arbitrary Power.
 Amende arbitraire, an arbitrary Fine.
 †Arbitrairement, arbitrarily.
 Arbitral, of an Arbitrator.
 Sentence arbitrale, an arbitrators Sentence.
 Arbitre, (m.) Arbitrator, Umpire, Judge; a Sovereign Disposer.
 Choisir quécun pour Arbitre, to chuse one an Arbitrator. Nous vous prenons pour Arbitre de ce Different, we take you for a Judge of our Controversy.
 Il est devenu l'Arbitre de la Vie & de la Mort des Citoyens, he is become the Sovereign Disposer of the Citizens Life and Death.
 Arbitré, arbitrated, regulated by way of arbitration.
 Arbitrer, to arbitrate, to regulate by way of Arbitration.
 Arboise } See { Arboise.
 Arboisier } { Arboisier.
 Arboré, set up.
 Arborer, to set up.
 As, arborer un Mât, to set up a Mast.
 Arborer l'Etendart, to set up the Colours.
 Orthus, in a burlesk Sense.
 †Arborer une plume sur son Chapeau, to set off his Hat with a plume.
 Arborifier } See { Herborifier.
 Arboriste } { Herboriste.
 Arboise, (f.) Arbut, the Tree-strawberry (which is a hard red berry.)
 Arboisier,

Arbouffier, (m.) the Arbut-tree.

Arbre, (m.) a Tree; an axel-tree of a Wind-mill, or Grindle-stone; the mast of a Ship, according to the Levantines.

Arbre à fruit, Arbre fruitier, a fruit Tree, a fruit-bearing Tree. Le tronc, les racines, & l'écorce d'un Arbre, the stump, roots, and bark of a Tree. Les branches, les bourgeons, les feuilles, & les fruits d'un Arbre, the branches, buds, leaves, and fruits of a Tree.

L'Arbre de Vie, the Tree of Life.

Arbre de Genealogie, a Tree of Consanguinity.

Arbre fourchu, sorte de vieux Poème François, an old kind of Poetry in French.

On conoit l'Arbre par son Fruit, the Tree is known by its Fruit.

Arbrisseau, (m.) a Shrub.

Arbuste, (m.) a low (but woody) Shrub.

Arc, (m.) a bow, a hand-bow, or long bow; an arch, or bow-like piece of work. Bander un arc, to bend a bow. Tirer de l'arc, to shoot in a bow. Debander un arc, to unbend a bow.

La Corde d'un Arc, a Bow-string.

Avoir plusieurs Cordes à son Arc, to have more than one string to his Bow.

Arc en Ciel, a Rain-bow.

Arc boutant, an Arch, a Supporter, a Buttress.

Arc de triomphe, a triumphal Arch.

Arcade, (f.) an Arch.

Le Pont de Londres a dix-neuf Arcades, London-Bridge has nineteen Arches.

Arcaffe, Terme de Mer. C'est tout le bordage de la Poupe.

L'arcaffe (ou moufle) d'une Poulie est le corps de la Poulie, qui en renferme le rouet.

Arceau, (m.) a little arch, a thing made bow-like.

Arceler. See Harceler.

Arcenal, (not Arcenal) m. an Arsenal, a Store-house of Arms.

Archal, fil d'archal, (m.) wire.

Arche, (f.) Arch; Ark.

L'Arche de ce Pont est rompue, the Arch of that Bridge is broke.

L'Arche de Noé, Noah's Ark. L'Arche de l'Alliance, the Ark of the Testimony.

Archer, (m.) Archer, Bow-man.

Archer de Prevot, one of the Provost Marshals Attendance or Guard.

Archer du Guet, a Horseman that goes the round at Paris in the Night time to prevent Robbing and Disorders.

Archer des Pauvres, Archer de l'Ecuelle, a kind of Foot-Soldier, that hath orders to seize upon Street-beggars and carry them to the Hospitals.

Archet, (m.) the bow of a musical Instrument, &c.

† Etre sous l'archet, ou fuser la verole, to sweat for the pox.

Archevêché, (m.) Arch-bishoprick; an Arch-bishop's House.

Archevêque, (m.) Arch-bishop.

Il n'y a que deux Archevêques en Angleterre, l'un de Cantorbery & l'autre d'Yorc, there are in England but two Arch-bishops, the one of Canterbury and the other of York.

Archidiaconat, (m.) Dignité (Charge) d'Archidiaque, Arch-Deaconship.

Archidiaconé, (m.) l'Etendue des Paroisses sujettes à la Visite de l'Archidiaque, Arch-Deaconry.

Archidiaque, (m.) Arch-Deacon.

Le grand Archidiaque, the grand Arch-Deacon.

Archiduc, (m.) Arch-Duke.

Archiduc d'Autriche, Arch-Duke of Austria.

Archiduchesse, (f.) Arch-Duchess.

Archiepiscopal, Archiepiscopal.

Dignité Archiepiscopale, the Archiepiscopal Dignity.

Archi-pédant, (m.) qui est tout à fait Pédant, an absolute (a thorough-paced) Pedant.

Archipompe, ou Puits, Terme de Mer, (f.)

C'est une Enceinte de Planches, qui forment un Carré dans le fond de Cale, pour recevoir les Eaux qui se dechargent vers l'Endroit où elle est située.

Archiprêtre, (m.) la Dignité & la Charge de l'Archiprêtre, the Dignity and Office of an Arch-priest.

Archiprêtre, (m.) le premier entre les Prêtres, Arch-priest.

Archiprêtre, (m.) Arch-Priory.

Architecte, (m.) Architect.

Un bon Architecte, a good Architect.

Architecture, (f.) Architecture.

Entendre bien l'Architecture, to have great skill in Architecture.

Architrave, (m.) architrave.

Archives, (f.) Records, the Records of a Nation.

Argon (from Arc) m. a saddle-boy.

Perdre les argons, to fall off of his horse.

Arctique. See Artique.

Ardeamment, eagerly, intirely.

Disputer ardeamment, to dispute eagerly.

Aimer ardeamment, to love intirely.

Ardent, burning, hot, glowing; hot, fervent, eager, violent.

Charbon ardent, a glowing coal, a coal that's burning hot.

Un homme ardent, a hot (or violent) man, a man that goes hotly to work, a busy man, a great Stickler.

Un Discours ardent, an eager (or earnest) Discourse.

Une passion ardente, a violent passion. Affection ardente, (2 Cor. 7.7.) a fervent Mind.

Or thus. As Gal. 1.14. étant le plus ardent Zelateur des Traditions de mes Peres, being exceedingly Zealous of the Traditions of my Fathers.

Ardent, (a masc. Subst.) sorte de Metéore Ignée, a kind of fiery Meteor.

Ardeur, (f.) heat, burning heat; heat, eagerness, or fervency; heat, passion, or passionate love.

L'ardeur du Soleil, the heat (the burning heat) of the Sun. Ardeurs du Cœur, heart-burning.

Avoir de l'ardeur pour les belles Connoissances, to be eager in point of learning.

Parler avec ardeur, to speak eagerly. Vous l'avez fait avec trop d'ardeur, you have done it with too much eagerness, or passion.

Ardu, (m.) petite pointe amouilleu de la Boucle, the tongue of a Buckle.

Ardoise, (f.) slate.

Maison couverte d'ardoise, a House covered with slate.

† Ardre, to burn.

As, Ex. 3.2. le Buisson ardoit en feu, & ne se consumoit point, the Bush burnt with fire, and yet was not consumed.

† Ardu, hard, difficult.

C'est une des plus ardues Questions que j'aie ouï faire, 'tis one of the hardest Questions that ever I heard of.

Aregnée. See Araignée.

Arene (Terme Poétique pour Sable) f. sand, gravel.

Arene, Lieu où combattoient les Gladiateurs du tems de l'ancienne Rome, an Amphitheater, (such as the ancient Romans used for their Gladiators, of which there is a stately Remnant still extant in Nimes, a City of Languedoc in France.)

Arer. See Chaffer sur ses ancras.

Arête, (f.) a fish-bone; an edge, or ridge.

Arganeau, (m.) Terme de Mer, the great Ring of an Anchor, through which the Cable runs.

Argent, (m.) Silver, the Metal so called; Silver, or Silver-coin; Argent, in Heraldry.

Mine, ou Veine d'argent, a Silver Mine, or Vein. Vif argent, quick silver.

Argent battu, beaten silver. Argent trait, silver wire.

Des Armes d'argent, silver Arms.

Argent monoyé, Money, Coin. Argent constant, ready money.

La où l'argent manque, tout manque, he that wants Money wants all things. L'Argent fait tout, Money is omnipotent.

In Poetry this Word signifies also a fine clear Water, and sometimes the Snow.

As in these following Phrases; Elles conduisent leur argent sur un Lit d'arenes, Sous un Voile d'argent la Terre ensevelie.

Argenté, silvered over, done over with silver.

Gris argenté, a whitish Gray.

Argenter, to silver over, to do over with silver.

Argentier, (f.) Silver-plate.

Argentier, (m.) a Silver-smith, one that sells silver-ware; also a certain Officer of the Kings Household.

Argentin, of the colour of silver, silver-coloured.

Argentine, (f.) sorte d'Herbe, the silver-weed.

Argile, (f.) clay, Potters clay.

Argileux, full of clay.

Argot, (m.) the stub left where a Tree is lopped.

Argoter, to prune (or lop) a Tree so as to leave a Stub, to cut it an eye or two from the mother Branch.

Argument, (m.) argument, reason, proof; argument, or Subject of a Discourse.

Pouffer un argument, to urge an argument, to insist upon it.

Argument de Comedie, ou de Tragedie, the Subject of a Comedy, or a Tragedy.

Argumenter, to argue, to bring in arguments.

Aride, dry.

As, une Terre aride, a dry (or barren) Ground.

† Aridité, (f.) driness.

Aristocracie, (f.) sorte de Gouvernement, Aristocracy.

Aristocratique, Aristocratical.

Aristoloche, (f.) aristolochy, hartwort, birthwort.

Arithmeticien, (m.) Arithmetician, Accountant.

C'est un mechant Arithmeticien, he is but a bad Accountant.

Arithmetique, (f.) Arithmetick, the Art of Counting.

Regle d'Arithmetique, a Rule of Arithmetick.

Arithmetique, (Adj.) Arithmetical.

As, Figure arithmetique, an arithmetical Figure.

Arithmetiquement, arithmetically.

Armand, (m.) a kind of Pap prepared for a sick Horse, and made up of several Drugs.

Armateur, (m.) a Privateer.

Arme, (f.) a weapon; a fire-arm, or gun.

Voici une bonne Arme, this is a good weapon, or gun.

Armes (in the Plural Number) arms, to fight withall; arms, or coat of arms.

Armes offensives & defensives, offensive and defensive Arms. Prendre les armes, to take up arms. Porter les armes, to bear arms.

Etre en armes, to be up in arms. Demeurer sous les armes (not sur les armes) to continue up in arms. Poser (mettre bas) les armes, to lay down the arms.

Il n'est rien qui ne plie sous la force des Armes, all things yield to the force of Arms. Il n'y a point de Lieu où vous n'avez signalé vos Armes, you have signalized your self every where by your Arms.

Or thus. Les Armes sont journalieres, the Fortune of War is uncertain, he that has the advantage one day may be beaten the next.

Aimer les Armes, to love Wars, to love Fighting.

Me rendrai je à de si douces Armes? shall I surrender my self to such Charms?

Faire des Armes, to fence. Une Sale d'armes, a fencing School.

Les Armes d'Angleterre, the Arms of England.

Or thus. As, une Hache d'Armes, a Batel-ax.

Soyons revetus des Armes de Lumiere, (Rom. 13.12.) Let us put on the Armour of Light.

Armé, armed.

* Armé de toutes pieces, armed Cap-a-pe, or from top to toe.

Armé en Cours, Armé en Guerre (en Termes de Marine) fitted up and furnished with arms to fall upon the Enemy's Ships.

Armée, (f.) Army.

Armée de Terre, a Land Army. Armée Navale, a Naval Army.

L'Avant Garde, le Gros, & l'Arriere Garde d'une Armée, the Vanguard, the Body, and the Rear of an Army. La Tête & les Ailes d'une Armée, the Head and Wings of an Army. Les Officiers, the Officers.

Lever une Armée, to raise an Army. Mettre une Armée sur pied, to set an Army on foot. La commander, to command it. La ranger en bataille, to draw it up in battalia.

Combatre une Armée, to fight an Army.

La defaire, la mettre en deroute, to defeat it, to rout it. Mettre une Armée en Quartier d'Hiver, to put an Army into Winter Quarters.

Or thus. As, le Dieu des Armées, the God of Hosts. Les Cieux donc & la Terre furent achevez, & toute leur Armée, (Gen. 2. 1.) thus the Heavens and the Earth were finished, and all the Host of them.

Armeline, (f.) Peau tres fine & tres blanche, Ermelin.

Armement, (m.) an arming; a warlike Provision (as Powder, Bullets, Chain-shot, Wild-fire, &c.) for Shipping.

Faire un grand Armement, to raise a great many Forces.

Armenienne, (f.) a blewish kind of Stone.

Armer, to arm, to furnish with arms; to arm, or make provision for Wars; to strengthen, fence, or fortify.

S'Armer, to arm himself, or to take up arms; to fortify himself.

S'Armer de toutes pieces, to arm himself cap-a-pe.

S'Armer de constance, to put on a stout resolution. Le Ciel s'arme contre la Terre, Heaven arms it self against the Earth.

Cheval qui s'arme (en Termes de Manège) a Horse that arms or defends himself, that does so clap his bit unto his breast that the curb hath little or no power over him.

† Armet, (m.) a head-piece; one's brains. Il en a dans l'armet, his brains are out of order.

Le Vin lui barbouille souvent l'armet, his brains are often disturbed (or confounded) with Wine.

† Armistice, (m.) a Suspension of Arms. Say Suspension d'Armes.

Armoire, (f.) a Cup-board; a press, or chest of drawers.

Armoiries, (f.) a painted Coat of Arms.

Armoise, (f.) forte de Plante, Magwort, or Mothwort.

Armoniac, Sel armoniac, ammoniack Salt.

Armorial (from Armoiries) of, or belonging to Coats of Arms.

Armorié, painted.

Armurier, to paint a Coat of Arms.

Armure, (f.) armour, weapon, 2 Cor. 2. 4.

La Patience est une Armure impenetrable, Patience is an impenetrable Armour.

Couvert d'une armure complete, furnished with compleat armour.

Armurier, (m.) Armourer.

Aromates, (f.) Spices, fragrant Simples.

Aromatique, aromatical, odoriferous, fragrant, sweet smelling.

Pren les plus exquis des Choses aromatiques (Ex. 30. 23.) take thou unto thee principal Spices.

Roseau aromatique (ib.) sweet Calamus. Aronde. As, Queue d'aronde (en Termes de Menuiserie) a Swallow tail.

† Arondelle. See Hirondelle.

Arpent, (m.) a French Acre (Which is 100. Perches, at 18. foot a Perch.)

Arpentage, (m.) the Art of Surveying Land.

Arpenté, surveyed, or measured.

Arpenter, to survey, or measure; to run. As, arpenter un Champ, to survey (or measure) a Field.

† Arpenter les Campagnes, to run over the Fields.

Arpenteur, (m.) a Surveyor, or Measurer of Land.

Arqué (en Termes d'Art) bent, or crooked. As, un Cheval qui a les Jambes arquées, ou qui a les genoux courbez en arc.

Quille de Vaisseau arquée, qui perd de son trait, ou de sa figure ordinaire. Ce qui arrive, lors que mettant le Vaisseau à l'eau, ou bien lors que faisant voile & venant à toucher par l'arrière pour être inegalement chargé, la Quille se dement par cet effort.

Arquebuse (f.) forte d'Arme à feu, à roüet, & qui se bande avec une clef, Arquebuse, a Piece that goes with a fire-lock.

Arquebuser, (m.) a Gun-smith.

Arraché, drawn (or got) out by force, pickt (pulled, or plucked) out, plucked (or pulled) up, snatched.

Arrachement, (m.) a drawing, or getting out by force, a plucking, pulling, or snatching. d'Arrache-pié, sans discontinuer, without intermission.

J'ai étudié six heures d'arrache-pié, I have study'd six hours together, or without intermission.

Arracher, to draw (or get) out by force, to pick (or pluck) out, to pluck (or pull) up, to snatch, to tear off.

Arracher une dent, to draw out a tooth.

Arracher un cors, to pick out a corn.

Arracher de mauvaises herbes, to pluck up weeds.

Arracher un Arbre, to pull up a Tree by the root.

Arracher les yeux à quécun, to pull ones eyes out.

Je lui ai arraché ce Livre de la main, I snatched this Book out of his hands.

Arracher un Enfant d'entre les bras de sa Mere, to snatch a Child from his Mothers Arms.

Arracher la peau, to tear one's skin off.

Arracher un Secret à quécun, to get a Secret from one, to hook it out of him.

Vous n'arracherez pas un mot de sa bouche, you won't get a word from him.

L'Eternel ton Dieu arrachera ces Nations la de devant toi (Deut. 7. 22.) the Lord thy God will put out those Nations before thee.

J'ai resolu de m'arracher de Paris, I am resolved to leave Paris, though much against my mind.

Arracheur, (m.) As, un Arracheur de Dents, a Tooth-drawer.

Il ment comme un Arracheur de dents, he lies like a Tooth-drawer, or he talks like an Apothecary.

Arrangé, set in order.

Arrangement, (m.) a setting in order.

Lors qu'on ecrit on doit avoir un grand soin de l'arrangement des paroles, a Man that writes ought to be very careful to set his words in order.

Arranger, to set in order, to sit down, Luke 9. 14.

Il faut ingenieusement arranger les Mots dans le Discours, in a Discourse one must be ingenious in setting his Words in order.

S'Arranger, to sit down, to sit in order.

Alors il commanda aux Troupes de s'arranger par terre (Matt. 15. 35.) then he commanded the Multitude to sit down on the ground.

Arretrages, (m.) from Arriere, Arrears.

Payer les Arretrages, to pay the Arrears.

Arres, (m.) an earnest, (in the figurative Sense.) For Erres is the Word in a proper sense.

Arrêt, (m.) a rest, or stay for a thing; a Judgement (or Sentence) of the Court; an arrest; an attachment.

Arrêt de lance, the rest for a lance. Mettre la lance en arrêt, to settle his lance with a rest.

Prononcer un Arrêt, to pronounce the Judgement.

L'Arrêt d'une personne, the Arrest of a man.

Faire un Arrêt, saïr les meubles d'une personne, to make an Attachment of one's Goods, to attach his Goods.

Or thus. As, être sans arrêt, to be unsteady, to be giddy-headed.

Arrêt d'un Cheval, the stopping of a Horse.

Arrêté, stopped, or stay'd; arrested; hired; agreed on, decreed, concluded, resolved on.

Au Jour arrêté, at the Day appointed.

Selon son Propos arrêté (Rom. 8. 21.) according to his Purpose.

Arrêté, (a masc. Subst.) a Thing agreed upon.

Arrête-beuf (m.) forte d'herbe, Rest-barrow.

Arrêter, to stop, or stay; to arrest; to hire; to conclude, or make up; to appoint, purpose, or decree.

Arrêter un homme qui court, to stop a man that runs. Elle employa tous ses Charmes pour l'arreter, she employ'd all her Charms to stay him, or to make him stay.

Arreter une Charette, to stop a Cart. Arreter le sang, ou le flux de ventre, to stop the blood, or a looseness.

Arrêter quécun, le faire Prisonnier, to arrest one, or make him a Prisoner.

Arrêter un Valet, l'engager pour servir, to hire a Servant.

Arrêter un marché, to conclude, to make (or clap) up a bargain.

Arrêter un jour pour faire quèque chose, to appoint a Day for something. Celui qui a arrêté cela en son Cœur (1 Cor. 7. 37.) he that has decreed that in his Heart.

Or thus. As, arrêter ses larmes, to give over crying.

Arrêter son ambition, to put a stop to his ambition.

Arrêter les progrès de l'Enemi, to put a stop to the Enemy's Conquest.

Arrêter une Sedition, to suppress a Sedition.

Votre presence arrêta ma douleur, your presence did allay my pain.

S'Arrêter, to pause, stop, or stay (in a neutral sense;) to mind; to forbear.

Is ne pouvoient marcher, ni s'arrêter, they could neither go, nor stay.

S'arrêter à des sottises, à des bagatelles, to mind trifles.

Je lui commandai de s'arrêter, ed. de se contenir, I commanded him to forbear.

Or thus. As, Luke 18. 40. Jesus s'étant arrêté commanda qu'on le lui amenât, Jesus stood, and commanded he should be brought unto him.

Après qu'on a bien couru, il faut en fin s'arrêter, when a man has travelled much up and down, he must at last settle somewhere.

Il s'arrête, la Memoire lui manque, he is out, his Memory fails him.

S'arrêter aux Mots, to stick to the Words.

Il s'arrête aux Passages les plus difficiles, he insists upon the most difficult Passages.

S'arrêter à l'Opinion d'un autre, to stand to another man's Opinion or Judgement.

Arriere, away.

Arriere de moi tous ces Conseils timides, away with those timorous Advices.

En arriere, backward.

As, Sauter en arriere, to leap backward. La tête en arriere, with the head backward.

Arriere de Navire (a masc. subst.) the Stern of a Ship. Faire vent arriere, to go before the Wind.

Arriere-ban, (m.) a Proclamation whereby all Gentlemen that hold Estates of the King by a mesne Tenure, are summoned to assemble and serve him in his Wars; the Gentlemen so summoned to serve in the War.

Arriere-boutique, (f.) a back-shop, or the back-side of a shop.

Arriere-faix, (m.) after-burden. L'Arriere-faix est le premier formé, the after-burden is formed the first of all.

Arriere-fief, (m.) a mesne Fief, a fief that is held of (or depends on) a higher Fief.

Arriere-garde, (f.) the Rear of an Army. Conduire (mener, commander) l'Arriere-Garde, to bring the Rear.

Arriere-main (m.) revers de main, the back of the hand. Recevoir un soufflet de l'arriere-main, to receive a blow with the back of one's hand.

Arriere-Neveu, (m.) the Son of a Grandchild of a Brother or Sister.

Arriere-petit fils (m.) le fils du petit fils ou de la petite fille, a great Grandson.

Arriere-point, (m.) knotted needle-work (such as is used for wrist-bands of sleeves.)

Arriere-pointeuse, (f.) a Woman that sets off wrist-bands with knotted needle-work.

Arriere-saison, (f.) the latter part of Autumn; old age.

Arrivé, arrived, come.

Il ne fut pas plus tôt arrivé qu'on le saïsît, he was no sooner arrived but he was taken.

La Flote est arrivée, the Fleet is come.

Je suis arrivé au point d'honneur où j'aspirois, I am arrived (I am come) to that degree of honour I aimed at.

La Chose est arrivée à ce point, the Thing is come to that pass.

Or thus. La Chose est arrivée comme je le desirois, the Thing fell out according to my wishes. Il m'est arrivé comme à vous, I have had the same luck with you.

Il est arrivé que, it hapned that. D'ou il est arrivé que, from whence it came to pass, that. Il lui est arrivé quèque petite Disgrace, some small Misfortune is befallen him.

Arrivée, (a fem. subst.) arrival, or coming.
J'attén son arrivée avec grande impatience,
I wait for his coming with great impatience.

Son arrivée m'a donné bien de la joie, his arrival has been very joyful to me, I was overjoy'd to see him safely arrived.

Arriver, to arrive, to come; to happen, come, or befall.

Arriver en quelque Lieu, to arrive at (or come to) a Place.

Arriver au comble de ses desirs, to arrive at the height of his desires.

Ce qui arrive à tous, that which happens to every man. Quoi qu'il arrive, whatever happens, however.

Je ne fais pas ce qui lui arrivera, I know not what will befall him. S'il lui arrivoit quelque Malheur, if some Misfortune or other should befall him, if he should come to some Misfortune or other.

Il ne se peut faire qu'il n'arrive des Scandales (Luke 17. 1.) 'tis impossible but that Offences will come.

Or thus. Il ne me sauroit rien arriver de plus agreable, nothing can please me better. S'il arrive que vous ayez besoin de moi, if you chance to want me.

Comme s'étois à la Chasse, il lui arriva de faire une Insolence, as I was hunting, he chanced to commit an Extravagancy.

Arroche, (f.) Orache, the golden Herb.

Arrogamment, arrogantly, saucily.

Repondre arrogamment, to answer saucily, to give a saucy answer.

Arrogance, (f.) arrogance, sauciness.

Une arrogance insupportable, an intolerable arrogance.

Arrogant, arrogant, saucy.

s'Arroger, to arrogate to himself, to take upon himself.

Arrondi, rounded, made round.

Une periode bien arrondie, an elaborate Period.

Arrondir, to round, to make round.

Arrondir une periode, to be curious about a Period.

Arrondir un Cheval, to ride a Horse round a Ring.

Arrondissement, (m.) a rounding, or making round.

Arrosé, watered.

Arroser, (m.) a watering.

Arroser, to water.

Arroser un jardin, to water a Garden.

Il n'est point de Fleuve en Europe qui arrose plus de Pais, there is no River in Europe that waters a greater extent of Country.

Arroir, (m.) a watering-pot.

Un Arroir bien fait, a neat (or handsome) watering Pot, a watering Pot well made.

Arrumer, or Arruner, (Terme de Marine) to set things in order.

Ar, (m.) the Veins of a Horse, where they are usually blouded.

Arsenac. See Arcenac.

Arsenic, (m.) forte de Poison, Arsenick, a sort of Poison.

Trois grains d'arsenic suffissent pour envoyer un homme en l'autre Monde, three grains of Arsenick is enough to send one packing into the other World.

Art, (m.) Art, or Science; art, or cunning.

Les Arts liberaux & mecaniques, the Liberal and Mechanick Arts. Enseigner, apprendre, exercer un Art, to teach, learn, or practice an Art. Maître es Arts, a Master of Arts.

Il faut avoir beaucoup d'art & d'adresse pour en venir à bout, a man must be very cunning that can compass it.

Artère, (f.) an artery.

La grosse artère, the great artery.

Artère veineuse, the vein-artery.

Arterial, or Arteriel, arterial, of (or belonging to) arteries.

Le Sang arterial, the arterial Blood.

Arteuil. See Orteil.

Artichau, or Artichaut, (m.) artichoke.

Le cul de l'artichau, the bottom of an artichoke.

Article, (m.) Article.

Articles de Grammaire, Articles of Grammar.

Articles de Conte, de Contrat, de Loi, de la Foi Chretienne, Articles of an Account, of a Contract, of a Law, of the Christian Faith.

Or thus. As, être à l'article de la Mort, to be dying, to be at the point of Death.

Article, pour Jointure (en Termes d'Anatomie) a joyn, or knuckle.

Articulation, (f.) articulation; a distinct pronunciation.

Articulé, articulated, set down in articles; articulate, distinct.

Voix articulée, an articulate Voice.

Articuler, (Terme de Palais) to set down in articles.

Artifice, (m.) artifice, a crafty (subtle, or cunning) trick.

Feu d'artifice, fire-work.

Artificiel, artificial, done by art.

Artificiellement, artificially; cunningly, 2 Pet. 1. 16.

Artificieusement, cunningly, subtly.

Artificieux, cunning, subtle, alluring, inveigling.

Une Promesse artificieuse, an inveigling Promise.

Artillerie, (f.) Artillery, Ordnance, or great Guns.

Le grand Maître de l'Artillerie, the Master of the Ordnance.

Piece d'Artillerie, a Cannon, or great Gun.

Artimon, (m.) Mât d'artimon, ou de Foule, the mizzen Mast.

Voile d'artimon, the mizzen Sail.

Artique, Artick.

Le Pole & le Cercle Artique, the Artick Pole and Circle.

Artisan, (m.) a Tradesman, a Handicrafts man; a Contriver.

Un pauvre Artisan, a pitiful Tradesman. Un vil Artisan, a vile Handicrafts man. Femme d'Artisan, a Tradesman's Wife.

Je suis moi même la Cause de ma Disgrace, & l'Artisan de mon Malheur, I am my self the Cause of my Calamity, and the Contriver of my Misery.

Artifane, (dans le figuré) f. a sbe-contriver.

La Sageffe est l'Ouvriere & l'Artifane de toutes Choses, Wisdom is the Contriver of all Things.

Artiste, (m.) an Artist, an ingenious Workman.

Artiftement, like an Artist, cunningly, ingeniously, artificially.

Une Chose artiftement faite, a Thing done like an Artist, done very artificially.

Arzel, Cheval arzel, qui a une balzane ou marque blanche au pié de derriere du côté droit, a Horse that hath a white spot on the right side of the hind foot.

A S.

As, (m.) an ace.

As de carreau, pique, cœur, ou trefle, an ace of diamonds, spades, hearts, or clubs.

†Ascavoir, to wit, that is to say. Instead of which Savoir is the Word now in use.

Ascendant, (m.) Ascendent, a Sign appearing at ones birth over the Horizon, and influencing a particular Inclination to some Thing; an ascendent, natural propensity, humour, or inclination.

Ses beaux yeux me dominant plus que mon Ascendant, her fair eyes have a greater power over me than my Ascendent, than the sign which appeared at my birth.

On ne peut repriimer cet Ascendant malin, it is impossible to curb that strong Inclination.

Avoir de l'ascendant sur quécun, ou du pouvoir sur son esprit, to have an ascendent upon one, to have a great influence over his mind.

Ascension, (f.) Ascension.

L'Ascension, ou le Jour de l'Ascension, the Ascension-Day.

Acheter une Ascension, cd. une Image qui represente le Mystere de l'Ascension, to buy an Image of Christ's Ascension.

Afcite. As, hydropisie afcite, a kind of Dropsy, which makes the Belly sound like a Bottle, when one strikes upon it.

Asile. See Asyle.

Asmatique, troubled with a short breath, that draws his wind short.

Asme, (m.) short breath.

Etre travaillé d'un asme, to be troubled with a short breath.

Asne

Asnerie

Asneffe

Asnon

Asnonner

Ane.

Anerie.

Aneffe.

Anon.

Anonner.

Aspect, (m.) aspect, looks, or countenance; prospect, or sight.

Son aspect n'avoit rien de farouche, there was nothing of fierceness in his aspect.

Aspect, Distance de Planetes ou de Constellations, an aspect of Planets or Heavenly Signs.

Vous avez ici un bel aspect, you have a fine prospect here.

Asperge, (f.) sparagras, sparagus.

De belles asperges, fine sparagras.

†Aspergez, (f.) a holy-water sprinkle. Say Asperfoir, or Goupillon.

Asperion, (f.) asperion, sprinkling, besprinkling.

Or thus. As, Ex. 30. 9. Vous n'y verserez aucune asperion, you shall not pour drink-offering thereon.

Servir d'asperion sur le Sacrifice, (Psal. 2. 17.) to be offered upon the Sacrifice.

Faire asperion, to sprinkle.

Asperfoir, (m.) a holy-water sprinkle.

Prendre de l'Eau benite avec l'asperfoir, & en jeter sur le Peuple, to take holy-water with the sprinkle, and throw it upon the People.

The same is otherwise called Goupillon.

Aspic, (m.) aspick, or asp, a most venomous Serpent; the herb called Spikenard, or Lavender-spike.

Sous leurs Levres il y a du Venin d'Aspic, (Rom. 3. 17.) Poison of Asps is under their Lips.

Marie ayant pris une Livre d'Oignement d'Aspic liquide de grand prix, en oignit les piez de Jesus, (John 12. 3.) then took Mary a Pound of Oynment of Spikenard, and anointed the Feet of Jesus.

The same is also used in a figurative sense. As, c'est un Aspic que cette Femme là, cd. une Femme pleine de mechanceté & de malice, she is the Devil of a Woman.

Aspirant, aspiring.

Or thus. H aspirante, an aspirated H.

Aspirante, (en Termes de Religion) a Virgin that inclines to a Nunery.

Aspiration, (f.) aspiration.

Aspirations devotes, pious Ejaculations.

Aspirer, to aspire, aim, covet, or desire; to aspire, or pronounce with an aspiration.

Aspirer aux Honneurs, to covet (to desire) Honours.

Aspre, (a masc. Subst.) Asper, a sort of foreign Coin.

Aspre, (Adj.)

Asprement

Aspreté

See

Aspre.

Asprement.

Aspreté.

†Assablé, run aground.

Assaillant, assailant, aggressor, that sets upon another; a Challenger, at Tilting.

†Assailli, assaulted, attacked, set upon.

†Assaillir, to assault, to attack, to set upon. Say Attaquer, which is much more in use.

Assaisoné, seasoned.

Voilà qui est fort bien assaisoné, that is very well seasoned.

Assaisonnement, (m.) a seasoning.

Les Plaisirs sont de peu de durée, s'ils ne sont accompagnez de quécun assaisonnement, Pleasures are but short, unless they be seasoned.

Assaisonner, to season (both in the proper, and figurative sense.)

Assaisonner une fricassée de Poulets, to season a fricassy of pullers.

Assaisonner le plaisir à l'utile, to season (or set off) profit with pleasure.

Assassin, (m.) Assassin, a private (or treacherous) Murderer; a Physician, in a comical sense.

Assassin, (Adj.) killing, murdering.

As, un Visage assassin, a killing Face. Des Yeux assassins, murdering Eyes.

Assassi-

Affassinant, killing.

As, redite affassinante, a killing repetition.

Affassinat, (m.) a private (or treacherous) Murder.

Un cruel (un horrible) Affassinat, a cruel (a horrid) Murder. Commettre un Affassinat, to commit a private Murder.

Or thus. As, † je crain qu'èue affassinat de ma Liberté, I fear a dangerous design upon my Liberty.

† Affassinateur. See Affassin.

Affassiné, assassinated, privately murdered.

Affassiner, to assassinate, privately to murder; to kill, or to be killing; to tire, in a comical sense.

Affassiner qu'èue pour de l'argent, to murder one for money.

† Il portoit un grand fusil dont il avoit affassiné plusieurs Pies, he carried a long gun wherewith he had already murdered a great many Mag-pies.

† Votre beauté divine affassine, your divine beauty is killing.

Il est de ces Maris que la Jalousie affassine, he is one of those Husbands that lie under the Tyranny of murdering jealousy.

† Ils affassinent les gens de leurs Ouvrages, they tire people with their Works.

† Affavoir, to wit. See Savoir, an Adverbial Particle.

Affaut, (m.) from the Verb Affaillir, an Assault, attack, onset, storm.

Donner l'affaut à une Place, to storm a Place. Un Affaut general, a general Assault.

Emporter d'affaut, to get by storm. Prendre par affaut, to take by assault, or by storm.

Or thus. Faire affaut contre qu'èue (en Termes de Maître d'Armes) to fence with one. † Faire affaut de pucelage, to attempt a maidenhead.

Affêché, dried up, dried away; lean, 2 Sam. 13. 6.

Affêcher, to dry up.

Tant de Veilles lui ont affêché le Cerveau, so much Watching has dried up his Brains.

† Affêcher, to dry up (in a neutral sense.)

As, il tanfa la Mer rouge, &c elle s'affêcha, (Ps. 106. 9.) he rebuked the Red Sea, and it was dried up.

Assemblage, (m.) an union, or conjunction of things, a miscellany.

Faire un assemblage de plusieurs choses, to join many things together.

Table d'assemblage, a Table consisting of many pieces joyned together.

Or thus. As, Eph. 4. 12. Pour l'Assemblage des Saints, for the perfecting of Saints.

Assemblée, (from Assembler) gathered, got (put, or joyned) together; assembled, met (got, or gathered) together.

Assemblée en un monceau, heaped up together.

Assemblée, (a fem. Subst.) Assembly, Congregation, Meeting; a Drum-beat for Souldiers to meet together at the Place appointed; a Place whereto the Nuns resort at certain times about their necessities, or to confess their private Trespasses.

Une grande Assemblée, a great Assembly. Il fut loué en pleine Assemblée, he was praised before all the Congregation.

Congedier (rompre) une Assemblée, to dismiss an Assembly. Assemblées illicites, unlawful Assemblies.

Assembler, to gather, to get (put, or joyn) together, to gather (lay, or heap) up; to call, to call together; to bestow; Luke 12. 17.

Assembler des Gerbes, to get Sheaves together.

Assembler les Feuilles (en Termes d'Imprimeur) to gather the Sheets.

Assembler des Troupes, to get Forces together.

Pour les assembler en bataille (Rev. 20. 8.) to gather them together to battel.

Assembler un Parlement, to call a Parliament.

S'assembler, to assemble, to meet (gather, come, or get) together.

Le Senat s'assembloit dans le Capitole, the Senate used to meet (or to be held) in the Capitol.

S'assembler, (act.) to heap to themselves, as 2 Tim. 4. 3.

Affener, fraper où l'on vise, to hit right.

On assene mieux son coup à pié qu'à cheval, a man is surer to hit afoot than a horseback.

Afféoir, to set, or set down; to fix.

Afféoir un Enfant sur une Chaise, to set a Child down upon a Chair.

Ce fut là qu'il assit son Camp, there he fixt his Camp, there he incamped.

Or thus. As, on ne sauroit afféoir aucun Jugement sur cela, one cannot determine any thing upon that.

S'Afféoir, to sit down.

Afféyez vous, sit down, sit you down.

S'asséoir près de qu'èue, to sit by (to sit near) one. S'asséoir à table, to sit at table.

† Afferteur, (m.) Maintainer, or Defender.

† Affertion, (f.) assertion, affirmation.

Affervi, subjected, enslaved, in (or under) bondage.

Le Peuple que je ne conoissois point m'a été affervi (Ps. 18. 43.) a People whom I have not known shall serve me.

Affervir, to subject, to enslave, to bring under subjection, to bring into bondage.

S'Affervir, as 1 Cor. 9. 19. to make himself a Servant, or a Slave.

Affesseur, (m.) Assessor, a Judge lateral, an Assistant unto a Judge.

Affurance, (f.) assurance, or certainty; surety, or security; confidence, or boldness; insurance.

En avez vous qu'èue assurance? have you any assurance of it?

Prendre des Maisons pour assurance, to take Houses for security.

Personne n'avoit l'assurance de l'approcher, no body had the confidence (or boldness) to come near him.

Or thus. Je ne puis vous en donner aucune assurance, I can give you no certain account of it, I cannot assure (or warrant) you of it.

Un Lieu d'assurance, a safe Place, a Place out of danger.

Vivre (être) en assurance, to live securely, quietly, out of danger. Avec assurance, boldly.

De l'assurance dont il parle on ne peut pas en douter, he speaks it with so much confidence that it is not to be doubted.

Afféuré, sure, certain, infallible; safe, trusty.

Je suis afféuré qu'il est mort, I am sure he is dead. Je n'en ai point de Nouvelles afféurées, I have no certain News of it. Il est afféuré de l'avoir, he is sure to have it. Sa Perte est afféurée, his Ruin is infallible.

Un Ami afféuré, a trusty Friend. Une voie afféurée, a safe Way.

Or thus. Se tenir afféuré contre les Entreprises des Méchans, to secure himself against the Attempts of the Wicked.

Vous viendrez vers un Peuple qui se tient afféuré (Judg. 18. 10.) you shall come unto a People secure.

Des Ames mal afféurées (2 Pet. 2. 14.) unstable Souls.

Afféurement, surely, assuredly, certainly, sure enough.

Cela est afféurement vrai, that is certainly true.

Afféurement je suis enforcé, sure enough I am bewitched.

Afféurer, to assure, or affirm; to warrant, undertake, or promise; to imbolden, or make confident; to secure, or make sure; to insure.

Afféurer une chose, to assure (to affirm) a thing. Il faut bien savoir une chose avant que de l'afféurer, one should be sure of a thing before he makes it sure to others.

Je vous assure que je le ferai, I promise you that I will do it. Je vous assure que le Roi vous pardonnera, I warrant (I promise) you, I dare undertake, the King shall forgive you.

Afféurer qu'èue, le rendre plus hardi, plus courageux, to imbolden one, to make him confident. Il afféura le courage des Soldats, he kept up the Souldiers courage.

Afféurer son argent, to secure his money, to make it sure. Versailles seul suffit pour afféurer à jamais à la France la Gloire qu'elle a à present de surpasser tout les autres

Royaumes dans la Science des Bâtimens, Versailles alone suffices to secure for ever to France the Glory it has at present in surpassing all other Kingdoms in the Science of Buildings.

Afféurer des Marchandises, to insure one's Goods.

S'Afféurer, to assure himself, or be sure; to secure, or make sure; to be sure, or confident; to trust, or have confidence, as Ps. 31. 6. 2 Cor. 7. 16.

Afféurez vous que je le ferai, assure your self (be sure) I shall do it.

S'asséurer de qu'èue, pour l'avoir de son Parti, to make sure of one, in order to have him of his side.

S'asséurer d'un Enemi, d'une personne qui nous donne de la Jalousie, to secure himself from the attempts of his Adversary. En m'asséurant de sa Personne, j'asséurerai la Tranquillité publique, when I am sure of his Person I shall be sure of the publick Peace and Quiet.

S'asséurer de qu'èue, se saisir de lui, to make sure of one, to secure him, to apprehend him. S'asséurer d'une Place, en y mettant Garnison, to secure a strong Place, with a Garrison.

S'asséurer d'une Chose, en être persuadé, to be sure & persuaded, or confident of a Thing, to assure himself of it. Je m'asséure de vous le faire comprendre, I am confident (or sure) I shall make you to understand it.

Or thus. Il s'asséuroit d'obtenir ce Gouvernement, he promised himself that Government.

Qui pouvoit s'asséurer qu'il n'y auroit point de Voleurs? who could imagine that there should be no Robbers?

Afféure toi, ta Foi t'a guérie, (Luke 8. 48.) be of good comfort, thy Faith has made thee whole.

Afféureur, (m.) an Insurer of ships, &c.

Affé, enough, sufficiently.

J'en ai assez, I have enough on't. Je n'en ai pas assez, I have not enough.

On est assez riche lors qu'on est content, a man is rich enough, that hath a contented mind. Cela est assez de mon gout, that I like well enough.

On ne peut avoir assez de soin de son salut, a man cannot take too much care of his salvation.

Affidu, assiduous, diligent, laborious.

Être affidu au travail, to sit hard at work.

Affidument, assiduously, constantly, continually.

Etudier affidument, to study constantly, to be always poring upon his Books.

Affiduité, (f.) assiduity, diligence.

Avoir de l'affiduité, to be assiduous, diligent.

Affiegé, besieged.

Une Place affiegée, a Place that is besieged.

Les Affiegez, the Besieged.

Affiegeant, (m.) Besieger.

J'aime mieux être Affiegeant qu'Affiegé, I had rather be Besieger than Besieged.

Les Affiegeans, the Besiegers.

Les Affiegeans furent repouffez, & perdirent beaucoup de monde, the Besiegers were beaten back with the loss of many men.

Affieger, to besiege, or lay the Siege before; to be about; to compass about.

Affieger une Ville, to besiege a Town, to lay the Siege before it.

Affieger qu'èue, être assidument auprès de sa personne, to be always about one. Affieger l'oreille du Roi, to be always about the King's ears.

Les Douleurs de l'Enfer m'ont affiegeé, the Pains of Hell have compassed me about.

Or thus. As, Luke 19. 43. Tes Enemis t'affiegeront de Trenchées, thine Enemies shall cast a Trench about thee.

Affiete, (f.) seat, or situation; a state of mind; a place.

Il choisit une affiete propre pour bâtir six Villes, he chose a proper seat to build six Towns in. Une Place forte d'affiete, a strongly-seated Place.

Cette Elevation ne changera rien à l'affiete de mon Ame, this Rising to honour shall not in the least change the state of my Soul, my Mind shall be always the same for all this Change.

Or thus. En quelle affiete avoit il l'esprit ?
how was he concerned, or affected ? Il se trouva l'esprit en une étrange affiete, he found himself strangely troubled, perplexed, disquieted, disturbed. En l'affiete où j'ai l'esprit il ne me peut arriver aucun malheur, my Mind is so prepared against all chances that nothing can shake me.
Affiete, la situation du Cavalier sur la selle,
the manner of sitting on horseback.
Affiete d'or ou d'argent, a gold, or silver plate. Affiete à mouchettes, a snuffers pan.
Affignation, (f.) a Rendez-vous, an Appointment of time and place to do a thing in ; a Summons (or Warrant) to appear before a Judge.
Il la soupçonna d'avoir donné assignation à son Rival, he suspected her to have given his Rival a Rendez-vous.
Tous ces Rois là s'étant donnez assignation vinrent, & se camperent ensemble, (Job.
11. 5.) all those Kings being agreed to meet together, they came and pitched together.
Le Tabernacle d'Assignation, the Tabernacle of Congregation.
Donner assignation à quécun pour comparoître en Cour, to summon one to appear before the Court.
Assigné, assigned, appointed ; summoned (warn-
ed) to appear.
Assigner, to assign, or appoint ; to summon (or warn) to appear.
Assigner une Pension, to assign (or appoint) a Pension. Le Roi leur assigna une Contrée pour habiter, the King appointed them a Country to dwell in.
Assimilation, (f.) assimilation.
Assimilé, assimilated.
Assimiler, to assimilate.
Assis, (from s'Assoir) sitting, seated.
Il étoit assis, he was sitting.
Un Cupidon assis sur un Aigle, & posté sur un Globe Terrestre, a Cupid seated on an Eagle, and placed on a Terrestrial Globe.
Assise, (en Termes de Maçon) (f.) a course of stones or bricks in building.
Assises, (f.) Assize.
Tenir les Assises, to hold the Assises.
Les Juges qui tiennent les Assises dans les Provinces, the Judges of the Circuit.
Assistance, (f.) help, assistance ; one's presence in a Place.
J'implore votre assistance, I implore your help, I beg your assistance. Je ne veux pas me rendre indigne des assistances que je reçois de vous, I do not render my self unworthy of those helps I receive from you.
Assistant, (m.) Assistant, Helper ; a stander by.
Assisté, helped, assisted.
Je n'ai été assisté de personne en cette Affaire, I had no body's assistance in this Business.
Assister, to help, or assist ; to be present, or stand by ; to stand, Ps. 134. 1 ; to stand with, 2 Tim. 4. 16.
Assistez moi de votre conseil, help me with your advice. Dieu vous assiste, God help you.
Assister à l'ouverture du Parlement, to be present at the opening of the Sessions of Parliament.
Association, (f.) association, partnership, fellowship, Gal. 2. 9.
Associé, associated.
Un Associé, (Subst.) an Associate, a Partner.
Associé à l'Empire, a Partner in the Empire.
Associer, to bring into Partnership, to make a Partner, to associate, or join with.
S'Associer avec quécun, to join with one, to become his Partner.
Assommé, knocked down.
Assommer, to knock down.
Assommer un Beuf, to knock down an Ox.
Ils assommoient les Enemis dans les Rues, they knocked down the Enemies in the Streets.
Je n'en puis revenir, & tout ceci m'assomme, I can't come to my self again, and all this do's overwhelm me.
Or thus. As, Deut. 17. 5. Tules assommeras de pierres, & ils mourront, thou shalt stone them with stones, till they die.

Assomption, (f.) Assumption, our Lady-day in Harvest.
Assorti, sorted, matched ; furnished, stocked.
Tout cela est bien assorti, that's all very well sorted, or matched.
Boutique tres bien assortie, a Shop very well stocked, that has choice of Commodities.
Ils ont des Casuistes assortis à toutes sortes de personnes, they have Casuists fit for all sorts of persons.
Assortiment, (m.) a sorting, or matching of things together ; a suit of things together.
Assortir, to sort, or match ; to furnish, or to stock.
Il vous faut assortir ce Drap, you must match
this Cloth.
L'Amour a assorti leurs Cœurs, Love has matched their Hearts together. L'Amitié ne peut lier étroitement deux Cœurs, si la
Sympathie ne prend la peine de les assortir,
Friendship can never knit two Hearts together, if Sympathy do's not first match them.
Assortir la Boutique de bonnes Marchandises, to stock his Shop with good Commodities.
Assoupi, dull, heavy, drowsy, or sleepy ; over,
at an end.
Assoupi de la debauche, heavy (or sleepy)
with excessive drinking.
Une Guerre assoupie, a War finely over,
finely brought to an end.
Or thus. As, Rom. 11. 8. Dieu leur a don-né un Esprit assoupi, God hath given them the Spirit of Slumber.
Assoupir, to make dull, heavy, drowsy, or sleepy ;
to suppress, to make an end of.
Le pavot assoupit, poppy makes one sleepy.
Assoupir une Querelle, to suppress a Quarrel.
Assoupir une mauvaise affaire, to make an end of a scurvy business.
Assoupir ses Ennuis, to drive away Cares.
S'Assoupir, to grow dull, heavy, drowsy, or sleepy ; to be laid, or suppressed.
Assoupissant, soporiferous.
Assoupissement, (m.) heaviness, drowsiness, or sleepiness.
Quand te reveilleras tu d'un si long assoupissement ? when wilt thou recover thy self from this long fit of drowsiness ?
Assouplir un Cheval, lui rendre souples toutes les parties du Corps, to make a Horse supple.
Assouvi, satisfied, satiated.
Assouvir, to satisfy, to satiate.
Assouvir sa colere, sa rage, sa passion, to satisfy his anger, his rage, and his passion.
Assouvir ses convoitises, to satisfy his lust.
Assouvissement, (m.) a satisfying, or satiating.
Ils sont tellement abandonnez de Dieu, qu'ils ne songent qu'à l'assouvissement de leurs in-fames Plaisirs, God has so given them over to themselves, that they think of nothing but satisfying their Lusts.
Assujeti, subdued, conquered, brought under, submitted, subjected, subject, made subject ;
kept strict, kept under.
Assujétir, to subdue, conquer, bring under, subject, make subject, or bring into subjection ;
to keep strict, or under.
Assujétir ses Enemis, to subdue his Enemies.
Ses Yeux ont assujéti mille Cœurs, her Eyes have conquered a thousand Hearts.
Il a assujéti toutes Choses sous ses piez,
(Eph. 1. 22.) he has put all Things under his feet.
S'Assujétir, to captivate (to confine, subject, or submit) himself.
J'ai beau m'assujétir, je n'y gagnerai rien, though I captivate my self never so much, I shall get nothing by it.
Assujétissement, (m.) subjection, strictness.
C'est une Discipline qui a ses Assujétissemens, this Discipline hath also its strict Rules.
Assurance }
Assuré } See Assurance.
Assurement } Assuré.
Assurer } Assurement.
Assureur } Assureur.
Asterisque, (m.) a Star in a Book.

Asthmatique } See Astmatique.
Asthme } Asme.
Astragale, ou Talon (en Termes d'Architec-ture) (f.) Astragal, a writhen Circle
(or Ring) about a Pillar.
Astre, (m.) a Star.
Un Astre brillant, a bright Star. Observer les Astres, to observe (to mind) the Stars.
Astre du Jour (en Termes Poétiques) the Sun.
Les Yeux de Philis sont des Astres doux & benins, the Eyes of Phyllis are so many bright and benign Stars.
Astreindre, to force, compel, or constrain.
Le Degout qu'on a des Sciences vient de ce qu'on est obligé de s'astreindre à la Methode pour l'Instruction, the Dislike that Sciences create proceeds from this, that they ty us to certain Rules and Methods.
Attriction, (f.) attrition.
Des Fruits qui ont une Attriction agreable,
Fruits that have an agreeable Attrition.
Astringent, astringent, binding.
Qualité astringente, a binding Quality.
Astrolabe, (m.) Astrolabe.
L'Astrolabe est un Instrumet Astronomi-que, dont les Pilotes se servent pour prendre hauteur, & en conclure la Latitude du Lieu où ils font l'Observation, an Astrolabe is an Astronomical Instrumet, used by Pilots to take the elevation of the Pole, and from thence to find out the Latitude of the Place where they make the Observation.
Astrologie, (f.) Astrology.
Astrologie judiciaire, judicial Astrology.
Astrologique, Astrological.
As, un Discours Astrologique, an Astrological Discourse.
Astrologue, (m.) an Astrologer.
Un fameux Astrologue, a famous Astrolo-
ger.
Astronome, (m.) an Astronomer.
Un habile Astronome, an able Astrono-mer.
Astronomie, (f.) Astronomy, the Science of the Stars, and the Motions of the Heavens.
Astronomique, Astronomical.
Calcul Astronomique, an Astronomical Computation.
Astuce, (f.) craft, subtilty, cunning. Say
Ruse, or Finesse.
Asur. See Azur.
Asyle, (m.) Sanctuary, Refuge, or Place of Refuge.
C'est ici mon Asyle, this is my Place of Refuge.

A T.

Atache	} See	Attache.
Ataché		Attaché.
Atachement		Attachement.
Atacher		Attacher.
Ataque		Attaque.
Ataqué		Attaqué.
Ataquer		Attaquer.
Atenant		Attenant.
Ateindre		Atteindre.
Atéint		Atteint.
Ateinte		Atteinte.
Atel		Attel.
Atelage		Attelage.
Atelé		Attelé.
Ateler		Atteler.
Attendre	Attendre.
Atendri	Attendri.
Atendrir	Attendrir.
Atendu	Attendu.
Atentat	Attentat.
Atenté	Attente.
Atenté	Attenté.
Atenter	Attenter.
Atentif	Attentif.
Attentivement	Attentivement.
Attention	Attention.
Atenué	Attenué.
Aterrer	Atterrer.
Attestation	Attestation.
Attesté	Attesté.
Attester	Attester.
Athée, (m.) Atheist.
Un infigne Athée, a noted Atheist.
Athée, (Adj.) atheistical.
Sentiment athée, an atheistical Opinion.
		Atheisme.

Atheisme, (m.) Atheism.

On l'accuse d'Atheisme, he is charged with Atheism.

Athlete, (m.) Athlete, Champion.

Un ardent (un vigoureux) Athlete, a stout Champion.

Atiedir	} See	Attiedir.
†Atifé		Attifé.
†Atifets		Attifets.
Atirail		Attirail.
Atirant		Attirant.
Atiré		Attiré.
Atirer		Attirer.
Atifé		Attifé.
Atifer		Attifer.
Atitré		Attitré.
Atitrer	Attitrer.
Attitude	Attitude.

Atome, (m.) atom.

Un petit atome, a little atom.

Atouchement. See Attouchement.

†Atours (m.) parure de Dame, a Lady's attire.

Atout, (m.) trumps.

Jetter un atout, to play trumps.

Atrabilaire, (m.) an atrabilarious (or melancholy) person, in whose body black choler predominates.

Atrabile, ou bile noire, (f.) black choler.

Atraction	} See	Attraction.
Atraiant		Attrayant.
Atraits		Attrait.
Atrapé		Attrapé.
Atraper		Attraper.

Atre, (m.) a hearth. But Foyer is the Word most in use.

Atribué	} See	Attribué.
Atribuer		Attribuer.
Atribut		Attribut.
Atribué		Attribué.
Atrister		Attrister.
Attrition	Attrition.

Atroce, hainous, grievous, odious.

Un Crime atroce, an heinous Crime.

Une Injure atroce, a grievous Injury.

Atrocité, (f.) hainousness, grievousness, odiousness.

Atroupé } See { Atroupé.
 s'Atrouper } s'Atrouper.

Attache, (f.) string; eye; eagerness; approbation.

Donnez moi une attache, give me a string.
 Vivre sans attache, to live free, without any tie.

Jouer avec attache, to play eagerly, or with eagerness.

On ne les recevoit point sans attache, none of them was received without approbation.

Or thus. As, il a plus d'attache à Dieu qu'à toute autre chose, he minds God more than any thing else, his mind is more bent upon God than any Worldly Concern.

Un Levrier d'attache, a great Greyhound, an Irish Greyhound.

Attaché, ty'd, bound; fastened, fast; ty'd, knit; wedded.

Est il bien attaché? is it fast?

Attaché à quécun par affection, knit in friendship to one. Attaché à ses Interets, ty'd, (knit) wedded, to his Interests. Attaché à ses Sentimens, wedded to his own Opinion.

In several Places of the Psalms you will find the Word to Cleave for the French être attaché. And Rom. 7. 18. where the French Translation says le Vouloir est bien attaché à moi, the English runs thus, to will is present with me.

Attachement, (m.) tye; constant attendance; love, or passion.

Je suis libre, sans attachement, I am free, without any ty. Les honteux attachemens de la Chair & du Monde, the shameful ties of the Flesh and the World.

L'attachement qu'il a auprès de son Prince est une véritable Servitude, his constant attendance upon his Prince is a meer Slavery.

Il a un grand attachement pour elle, he has a great love for her. L'attachement qu'il a pour son Prince lui fait negliger ses propres Interets, the Love he bears to his Prince makes him neglect his own Concerns.

Attacher, to tie, to bind, to fasten, or make fast.

Attacher une chose à une autre, to tie one thing to another. L'Attacher avec un ruban, to tie it with a ribbon.

Attacher quécun, to bind one.

Attacher un clou, to fasten a nail. Attacher la ceinture au haut de chaufse, to fasten (or to sew) the waist to the breeches.

Or thus. Attacher avec une epingle, to pin. Attacher avec un bouton, to button.

Mon Devoir m'attache auprès d'elle, my Duty makes me stick to her. Ce n'est pas ta bonne fortune qui nous attache à toi, 'tis not thy good fortune that makes us stick to thee.

Cieux, n'attachez point mon Bonheur à ses jours, Heavens, do not wrap up my happiness in his Life.

S'Attacher, to take hold; to stick; to insist; to mind, or give his mind.

Quand on se neye, on s'attache à tout ce qu'on trouve, one that is a drowning takes hold of any thing that comes in his way.

S'attacher à une Opinion, to stick to an Opinion. S'attacher auprès d'un grand Seigneur, to stick to a great Person, to fasten upon him.

S'attacher à l'Evangile, to stick to the Gospel.

Voilà à quoi il s'attache, ou sur quoi il insiste, that's the Thing he insists upon.

S'attacher à l'Etude, à son Devoir, to mind his Study, his Duty. S'attacher au Barreau, to give his mind to the Law, to put in for a Lawyer.

Or thus. As, je m'attache à votre Destin, I will follow your Destiny.

Attainte. See Atteinte.

Attaque, (f.) attack, assault, onset, attempt, or incounter; insult, or insulting words; temptation.

Attaque sanglante, a bloody attack, a furious onset. Attaque fausse ou vraie, a false or true attack.

Commencer, entreprendre, donner une Attaque, to begin, to undertake, to give an Attack. Soutenir une attaque, to withstand the assault.

Donner une attaque à quécun, to insult over one, to urge (to provoke) him.

Le Riche est exposé aux Attaques du Demon, the Rich man is exposed to the Temptations of the Devil.

Attaqué, attacked, assaulted, invaded, set upon; urged, provoked.

Bien attaqué, bien defendu, there was no great odds, they were very well matched.

Attaquer, to attack, assault, fall (or set) upon; to urge, or provoke.

Attaquer une Place, to attack (or assault) a Place. Attaquer l'Enemi, to fall (to set) upon the Enemies, to incounter them.

Attaquer une Proposition, to fall upon a Proposition.

S'attaquer (se prendre) à quécun, to meddle with one, to undertake a scuffle with him.

Atteindre, to reach, or come to; to attain, compass, or obtain; to reach, or hit; to pierce, Heb. 4. 12. to reach, come upon, or overtake.

Le Renard ne pouvant atteindre aux Raisins d'une Treille dit, qu'ils n'étoient pas meurs, the Fox not being able to reach the Grapes of an Arbour put it off by saying, that they were not ripe. Il a atteint l'âge de 30 ans, he is come to be 30 years of age.

Tu aspiras où tu ne saurois atteindre, thou aimedst at a thing thou canst not attain to. Atteindre la fin qu'on s'est proposée, to compass his end, to obtain the thing aimed at.

Il m'a porté deux ou trois coups d'épée, mais il n'a pas seu m'atteindre, he made two or three Passes at me, but could not hit me.

Il court si bien que je te defie de l'atteindre, he runs so well that I defie thee to overtake him. La foulure des Grains atteindra la Vendange, & la Vendange atteindra les Semailles, (Lev. 26. 5.) your Threshing shall reach unto the Vintage, and the Vintage shall reach unto the Sowing time. Ils virent que leur Mal les avoit atteints, (Judg. 20. 41.) they saw that Evil was come upon them.

Atteint, hit, or struck; affected, troubled; attained; overtaken.

Atteint d'un coup de fleche, struck with an arrow. Etre atteint de quécun mal, to be affected (or troubled) with any distemper. Atteint de plusieurs Concussions, attainted of many Concussions.

Atteinte, (f.) a slight blow, hit, or stroke; prejudice, or blemish.

Il a reçu une atteinte au bras, he has received a slight blow on the arm.

Tout cela ne sauroit donner atteinte à ce qu'il a dit, all that can do no prejudice to what he said. C'est une atteinte à son honneur, it is a prejudice to his honour, it is a blemish to him.

Or thus. Donner des atteintes à quécun, to set upon one, to pinch (or to tease) him. La Fortune me donne de tems en tems quécun atteinte, Fortune now and then doth pinch me.

Je lui donnerai quécun atteintes pour lui tirer le ver du né, I shall endeavour by some means or other to pump it out of him. J'ai reçu de vos Yeux une atteinte fatale, your Eyes have had a fatal Influence upon me. Je suis hors de vos atteintes, I am out of your reach.

Vous n'eutes jamais à faire à une Personne si hors de vos atteintes, you never had to do with any person so much out of your reach.

Atteintes de chaleur, onsets (or approaches) of heat. A la premiere atteinte du Mal il s'est abbatu, he no sooner fell sick but he was cast down.

Etre insensible aux plus vives atteintes de la Douleur, to be insensible of the sharpest pangs of pain.

Il a eu deux atteintes, & un dedans, he has hit the ring twice, and got it once.

Atteinte, (en Termes d'Art) est un coup, ou une blessure qu'un Cheval reçoit aux piez de derriere par un autre Cheval qui le suit de trop près; ou qu'il se donne lui même par un des piez de devant ou par un des piez de derriere qui donne sur le pié de coté, ou bien par un des piez de derriere qui entame la couronne du pié de devant.

Attel, (m.) the haum of a draught-horse's Collar.

Attelage, (m.) a Set of Horses for a Coach or Cart, or of Oxen for a Cart or Plough, four of each; also the harness for them.

Attelé, put to a Coach, or Cart.

Or thus. As, la Charette étoit attelée de quatre Bœufs, the Cart was drawn by four Oxen. Les Chariots étoient attelés à quatre Chevaux de front, the Carts were drawn by four Horses abreast.

Atteler, to put the Horses or Oxen to a Cart, Plough, &c.

One might say also properly enough Atteler les Chevaux au Carosse, to put the Horses to the Coach. But mettre is commonly used instead of atteler.

Attelier, (m.) a Work-house for Painters, Stonecutters, Masons, and Potters.

Attelier de Vers à soie, a spinning Place for Silk worms.

Atteloire, (f.) a kind of a round peg, or pin.

†Attenant, qui touche, next, joining unto.

La Maison attenante à la mienne, the very next House to mine.

en Attendant, (in an Adverbial sense) in the mean time, in the mean while, in the interim.

En attendant qu'il vienne, till he comes, against he comes.

Attendre, (neut.) to stay, tarry, wait, or be in expectation.

Attendez un peu, stay a little, tarry a little while. Faut il que j'attende ici bien long tems? must I wait here long? Attendez que je retourne, tarry till I come back.

Or thus. As, il crut que ce seroit une grande folie d'attendre à les attaquer que leur Cavalerie fût de retour, he thought it would be a great piece of folly to put off fighting of them till their Horse were come back.

Je n'ai rien souhaité qu'il ne m'ait donné fans lans attendre que je le lui demandasse, I desired nothing but he gave it me before I asked him for it.

Attendre, (act.) to stay (tarry, or wait) for; to expect, or to look for.

Pourquoi le faites vous attendre? why do you make him stay? Je vous attendrai à la porte, I shall stay (I shall wait) for you at the door.

J'attends sa réponse avec impatience, I stay (I wait) for his answer with great impatience.

Je ne vous attendois pas si tôt, I did not expect you so soon.

J'attends cette faveur de votre bonté, I expect that favour from your bounty. Se faire attendre à quèdun, to make one stay (to make one wait) for him.

Or thus. On attend de grandes Choses de vous, great Things are expected from you.

Votre Courage me fait attendre (ou espérer) quèdun chose de bon, I promise my self great matters from your Courage.

Nous avons vu aujourd'hui des Choses que l'on n'eût jamais attendues, (Luke 3. 26.) we have seen strange Things to day.

S'attendre, s'attendre l'un l'autre, to tarry for one another.

S'attendre à quèdun chose, to expect a thing, to rely (or depend) upon it; to wait (or hope) for it.

As, je ne m'attens plus à cela, I rely no more upon that.

Je m'attendois que vous m'écriviez, I expected you would write to me.

Or thus. As, je ne m'attendois pas à cela, I did not imagine any such thing, I could not imagine such a thing would come to pass.

Je m'attens aussi, que (2 Cor. 5. 11.) I trust also, that.

Que cet homme là ne s'attende point de recevoir Chose aucune du Seigneur, (Jam. 1. 7.) let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

Attendri, grown tender; softened, or moved to compassion.

Attendrir, to make tender; to soften, or move to pity.

Attendrir de la Viande, to make meat tender.

Pour attendrir mon Cœur on a recours aux larmes, to soften my Heart they make use of tears.

S'attendrir, to be moved to pity, to take compassion. Se laisser attendrir, to yield to ones prayers, to suffer himself to be overcome with prayers.

Attendu. See Attendre.

† Attendu que, (a Conj.) seeing (being) that, forasmuch as.

Attentat, (m.) a wicked attempt, (especially upon a mans Life;) attempt, or incroachment.

Il a commis un horrible attentat, he is guilty of an horrid attempt.

† Toute approbation qui marche devant la fiennne est un attentat sur ses lumieres, any approbation that appears before his is an incroachment upon the merit of his knowledge.

Attente, (f.) expectation, hope, trust, confidence.

Etre dans l'attente de quèdun chose, to be in expectation of something. Contre l'attente de tout le Monde, contrary to all Mens expectation.

Toute mon attente est au Seigneur, all my hope is in the Lord. Mettre son attente en Dieu, to put his trust (or confidence) in God.

Pierre d'attente, a corner-stone that sticks out of a Wall for new Buildings to be joyned to it.

Or thus. As, Rom. 2. 4. † Sa longue attente, his long-suffering.

Attenter, to attempt.

Attenter sur la vie ou sur l'honneur de quèdun, to attempt upon a mans life or honour.

Il a attenté le plus grand de tous les Crimes en la personne de son Roi, he has attempted the horridest Crime of all in the person of his King.

Attentif, attentive, heedful, that minds.

Soyez attentifs, give ear, be attentive, mind well what I say to you. Vous n'êtes pas attentif quand je parle, you do not mind when I speak.

Etre attentif à son travail, to mind his work, to be mindful of it.

Or thus. As, Ps. 142. 7. Sois attentif à mon Cri, attend unto my Cry.

Sois attentif à la Lecture, (1 Tim. 4. 13.) give attendance to Reading.

Pratique ces Choses, & y sois attentif, (1 Tim. 4. 15.) meditate upon these Things, and give thy self wholly to them.

Attention, (f.) attention.

Il n'y a rien qui soit digne de votre attention, there is nothing worthy of your attention.

Or thus. Faire une chose avec attention, to do a thing carefully, with great care and diligence.

Tout le monde regarde avec attention ce Tableau, every one stares upon that Picture.

Attentivement, attentively.

Ecouter attentivement, to hear attentively, to mind well what one says.

Attenué, attenuated, wasted, grown thin (through sickness, or Popish mortification.)

† Atterré, thrown down to the ground.

† Atterrer, for terrasser, to throw down to the ground.

Attestation, (f.) Certificate, or Testimony.

Donner une Attestation, to give a Certificate. Prendre une Attestation, to take a Certificate.

Or thus. As, Pet. 3. 21. l'Attestation d'une bonne Conscience devant Dieu, the Answer of a good Conscience towards God.

Attesté, attested, testified, declared.

Attester, to attest, testify, or declare; to call to witness.

Attiedir, to cool (in a figurative sense.)

As, vos froids Raisonnemens ne feront qu'attiedir le Spectateur, your flat Reasons will serve only to cool the Spectators.

S'Attiedir, to grow cold, or indifferent.

Elle commence à s'attiedir, she begins to be cold.

† Attifée, pranked up.

† Attifets, (m.) a Womans endless attire.

Attirail, (m.) train, equipage.

Attirant, ed. charming, charming.

Vous admirez l'attirante Severité de Clémene, you admire the charming Severity of Clémene.

Attiré, drawn to; drawn in; drawn away, Jam. 1. 14. won, gained, or got.

Attirer, to draw to; to draw in; to win, gain, or get.

L'ambre attire la paille, amber draws chaff to it.

Attirer quèdun par careffes, ou par persuasion, to draw one in by kind usage, or by persuasion.

Attirer les cœurs, to win the hearts. Attirer le respect, to get the respect.

Or thus. Vous attirez sur vous les yeux & l'affection de tout le Monde, you attract the eyes and love of all the World. Cet Objet m'attire tout à lui, that Object takes me wholly up.

Un mal en attire un autre, one mischief draws on another, or one mischief springs out of another.

S'Attirer, to incur, or to draw upon himself; to get.

S'attirer quèdun malheur, to draw some mischief or other upon himself, to incur (or run into) a mischief.

S'attirer la haine de tous ceux de sa Connoissance, to incur the hatred of all his Acquaintance.

S'attirer les respects de tout le Monde, to get the esteem and praise of all the World.

Attiser, to stir.

As, attiser le feu, to stir the fire, to lay one brand close to another.

Or thus. As, bien loin d'attiser par mes Discours la fureur de votre Emportement, Ec. I am so far from inflaming your Passion by my Discourses.

Attitré } as { Apposté.

Attitrer } as { Apposter.

Attitude, (f.) Terme de Danse & de Peinture, posture.

As, un Homme représenté avec un Dart à la main, en attitude de le darder du côté des Enemis, a Man represented with a Dart in his hand, and in a posture of throwing it towards the Enemies.

Attouchement, (m.) touch, the act of touching, or feeling.

† Attoucher, to touch, to touch gently, as Ex. 30. 29. Lev. 11. 24. Say Toucher.

Attractif, attractive.

As, une Vertu attractive, an attractive Power.

Attraction, (f.) attraction, or drawing to.

L'Attraction n'est point cause du Mouvement, mais l'Impulsion, Impulsion, and not Attraction, is the Cause of Motion.

Attraiant. See Attrayant.

† Attraire, to entice.

As, Prov. 1. 10. Si les Pecheurs te veulent attraire, ne t'y accorde point, if Sinners entice thee, consent thou not.

Attrait, (m.) charms, temptations.

Se laisser aller aux attrait de la Volupté, to give himself over to the charms of Voluptuousness.

Attrapé, caught, or overtaken; caught, or surprised; caught, or cunningly got; caught, cheated, over-reached.

Vous voila bien attrapé, you are well met with.

Attraper, to catch, or overtake; to catch, take, or surprise; to catch, hit, or get cunningly; to catch, cheat, over-reach, or be too hard for one.

Attraper (atteindre) quèdun à la course, to catch (or overtake) one in his running.

Attraper (surprendre) quèdun sur le fait, to catch one in the deed doing, to take him in the fact.

Il attrape tout ce qu'il peut, he catches (or gets) what he can. Je l'ai attrapé d'un coup de pierre, I hit it with a stone.

Attraper son but, to get his aim, to compass his design.

Prenez garde à vous, il vous attrapera, look to your self, he will be too hard for you.

Attrayant, attractive, enticing.

Des Paroles attrayantes, (1 Cor. 2. 4.) enticing Words.

† Attremance, (f.) temperance, moderation.

Attribué, attributed, imputed.

Attribuer, to attribute, ascribe, impute, or father upon.

J'attribue cette faute à votre Ignorance, I attribute this fault to your Ignorance. On lui attribue la Satyre qui court, they father upon him the Lampoon that now goes about.

Attribuez force à Dieu, (Ps. 68. 34.) ascribe ye strength unto God.

S'Attribuer, to assume, to take upon himself to challenge.

S'attribuer une Gloire qu'on ne merite pas, to assume an undeserved Honour.

Attribut, (m.) Terme de Logique & de Theologie, an Attribute.

La Justice, la Misericorde, la Sagesse, & Toute puissance sont des Attributs de Dieu, Justice, Mercy, Wisdom, and Omnipotency, are so many of God's Attributes.

Attristé, agrieved, sad, sorrowful.

Attrister, to grieve, to make sad, or sorrowful.

Attrister le S. Esprit, to grieve the Holy Ghost. Le Vin a été donné à l'Homme pour le rejoyr, & non pas pour l'attrister, Wine was given to Man, to cheer him up, and not to grieve him.

S'Attrister, to grieve, to be sad, troubled, or sorrowful.

Attrition, (f.) Terme de Theologie, attrition.

† Attrouper, to troop (to get) together.

Les Soldats s'attrouper, & courent à la Tente, the Soldiers get together, and run to his Tent.

AU & AV.

¶ Au and eau in French, are pronounced like an o long; as faute, saute, manteau, chapeau.

But, where au is no Diphthong, both Vowels are distinctly pronounced; as in Esau, Saul the King, Imaus, Agesilaus, and all other proper Names of this Termination.

Au is used, instead of à le, before Nouns of the the masculine Gender that begin with a Consonant; and signifies at the, in the, to the.

As, il demeure au Lion d'or, he lives at the golden Lion. Il est au College, he is in the College. Il est allé au Marché, he is gone to the Market. Je l'ai donné au Valet, I gave it to the Man.

Or thus. As, un Pot au lait, a Milk-pot. Toucher au doigt, voir clairement une chose, to see clearly, to feel the thing it self. Dentelle qui se fait au fuseau, a bone-lace.

Avage, (m.) Droit d'avage, a Right which the Executioners in some Places of France have every Market-day over several sorts of Commodities.

Aval, (Terme de Batelier) down, downward.

Avalé, swallowed.

Avaler, to swallow, to swallow down.

Il prit d'une main la Lettre, & de l'autre le Breuvage qu'il avala, he took the Letter with one hand, and with the other the Potion which he swallowed down. Il est si goulé qu'il ne fait qu'avalier les morceaux sans les mâcher, he is so greedy, that he swallows right down every bit, and never takes the pain to chew it.

Or thus. As, avaler un Bateau, to go down the stream with a Boat.

Avaler (or ravalier) une Branche, la couper près du Tronc pour rajeunir l'Arbre, to cut a Branch off near the Trunk.

† Avaler un Affront, to put up an Affront, to take no notice of it.

† Avaler, to go down into the stomach; to fall too low.

† Avaleur, (m.) As, un Avaleur de pois gris, cd. un Goinfre, un Gourmand, a good Trencher-man, a Greedy-gut.

† Avaleur de Charettes ferrées, a Bully, an Hector, a Braggadochio.

Avalure, (f.) Terme de Manege. C'est la defectuosité d'une nouvelle Corne molle & raboteuse, qui croit aux piez du Cheval quand il fait quartier neuf.

Avance, (f.) an out-jetting piece of Work in Architecture; advance (or first step) in a Thing.

Faire toutes les avances, to make the first advances. Après les avances que j'ai faites, elle ne m'a pu refuser son Cœur, after so many instances that I made, she could not refuse me her Heart.

D'avance, par avance, before-hand. Payer d'avance, to pay before-hand.

Avancé, forward, in good forwardness, got (or put) forward; advanced, or given before-hand; advanced, or preferred.

Or thus. As, avancé en âge, aged, stricken in age, well steep in years.

La Nuit étoit bien avancée, it was late in the Night.

Avancement, (m.) progress, or going forward; furtherance; preferment.

Avancer, to go (or pass) on, to go (move, or get) forward, to proceed; to make some progress, to profit, or to thrive; to jurt out, to shoot forth; to hasten, to forward, to put on, to set forward; to put (to stretch) forth, or forward; to say, tell, speak, utter, or propose; to advance, give (or pay) before-hand; to advance, or prefer.

L'Armée Enemie avance, the Enemy's Army moves forward. Je n'avance rien, I don't go forward; I don't thrive.

A-t-il beaucoup avancé dans son Ouvrage? he very forward (has he made any good progress) in his Work? Il recule au lieu d'avancer, he goes backward instead of going forward. La besongne avance fort, the work goes on apace.

Une Maison qui avance en la Rue, a House that juts into the Street. Un Rocher qui avance dans la Mer, a Rock that shoots forth into the Sea.

Avancer le pié, to set his foot forward.

Avancer le depart de quécun, to hasten one's departure. Avancer l'Horloge, to set the Clock forward.

Avancez la main, put forth your hand, stretch your hand forward. Comment n'as tu craint d'avancer ta main, pour defaire l'Oint de l'Eternel? (2 Sam. 1. 14.) how wast thou not afraid to stretch forth thine hand, to destroy the Lord's Anointed?

Je n'avance rien qui ne soit vrai, I say nothing but what is true.

Avancer de l'argent à quécun, to advance money to one, to give him money before-hand.

Avancer quécun dans les Charges, to advance (or prefer) one.

Or thus. As, je n'avance rien par mes plaintes, I get nothing by my complaints.

Qu'ont avancé mes soins, mes soupirs, & mes larmes? what am I the better (or the forwarder) for my cares, my sighs, and my tears?

Les Seves avancent dans une Année seche, the Sap comes early in a dry Year.

† Avancer, to advance himself, to come forth, or forward; to advance himself, or get preferment; to reach, or reach forth; to prosper, Judg. 4. 24; to increase, Luke 2. 52.

Mon Ouvrage s'avance fort, my Work goes very forward.

† Avancer à la Cour, to get preferment at Court.

Or thus. As, Deut. 1. 41. † Vous vous avancez de monter sur la Montagne, you were ready to go up into the Hill.

Avanie, (f.) a Tyrannical oppression, or illegal seizing of one's Goods, sometimes used by the Turks against Christians.

From whence faire une avanie à quécun is now used amongst the French, to express an injurious and wrong dealing betwixt man and man.

Avant, (en Termes de Marine) the forepart of a Ship.

Le Vent se rangea de l'avant, the Wind turned quite contrary.

Avant, (Prep.) before.

Personne ne peut être appelé heureux avant sa mort, no body can be called happy before his death.

Si avant, so far. As, la chose alla si avant que, the business went so far that.

Plus avant, further. N'allez pas plus avant, go no further.

Bien avant, fort avant, deep, deeply, far, a great way, much.

Le couteau est entré bien avant dans son ventre, the Knife went deep into his belly.

Cet Arbre a poussé ses racines bien avant, that Tree has taken deep root.

Gravez ceci bien avant dans votre esprit, let this be deeply imprinted in your mind.

Cette Penée est bien avant dans mon esprit, the Thought of this is deeply rooted in my heart.

Je me suis insinué fort avant dans son amitié, I have insinuated my self far into his favour.

Nous etions déjà bien avant dans la Mer, we were already got a great way to Sea.

Etre bien avant dans les bonnes grâces de quécun, to be much in one's favour.

Or thus. As, Deut. 17. 13. † afin que de là en avant le Peuple ne se porte point fiement, that the People may do no more presumptuously.

Avant que, (a Conj.) before.

Avant qu'il fût jour, before day, before it was day-light.

Il mourut avant que vous fussiez né, he died before you were born.

Avant-bec (m.) Angle (ou Eperon) qui est aux Piles des Ponts de pierre, a Starling of a Bridge.

Avant-bras, (m.) the part of the Arm that extends from the elbow to the wrist.

Avant-cœur, a great swelling against nature over against the heart of a Horse.

Avant-Cour, (f.) an outward Court, a fore-Court, the first Court of a great House that hath several Courts.

Avant-Coureur, (m.) harbinger, or forerunner. As, le frisson est l'avant-coureur de la fièvre, shivering is the forerunner of an ague.

Avant-Couriere, (f.) harbinger, forerunner. As, l'Aurore est l'Avant-couriere du Soleil, the Morning is the Sun's Harbinger.

Avant-fossé, (m.) a Ditch of the Counter-scarp. C'est une Profondeur pleine d'eau, qui environne la Contrescarpe du côté de la Campagne, & qui regne le long du pié du Glacis.

Avant-Garde, (f.) the Van of an Army.

Avant-gout, (m.) prelibation, fore-tast.

Les Saints ont quécquefois dans cette Vie des avant-gouts du Paradis, the Saints have sometimes in this Life a fore-tast of Heaven.

Avant-hier, the day before yesterday, two days since. Je fus vous voir avant-hier, I went to see you two days since.

Ce n'est que d'avant hier que je vous aime, you are but newly crept into my favour.

Avant-main, (f.) the inside of the hand when it is open.

Avant-mur, (m.) an outward Wall, a Wall before another; a Bulwark.

Paix soit à ton avant-mur, (Ps. 122. 7.) Peace be within thy Walls.

Prenez bien garde à son Avant-mur, mark ye well her Bulwarks.

Avant-propos, (m.) a Prologue.

Avantage, (m.) advantage, (as it signifies) benefit, interest, profit, honour, praise, victory, conveniency, gift or prerogative, and the like; also the Snout of a Ship.

Quel avantage tirez vous de là? what benefit do you reap from thence? Tu ne peux esperer d'autre avantage de cette Action que l'applaudissement d'une Multitude ignorante, thou canst not expect any other benefit from that Action, than the Applause of an ignorant Vulgar.

Chercher ses avantages, to mind his own Interest, to leave no stone unturned for his advantage. C'est fort à mon avantage, 'tis very much to my advantage.

On peut dire ceci à votre avantage, this may be said to your praise. Il a parlé fort à votre avantage, he has spoken many things to your advantage, he has given a very good character of you. La Fortune tournoit à son avantage les obstacles qui lui arrivoient, Fortune turned to his advantage the obstacles that he met withal.

Qui a eu l'avantage en ce Combat? who had the better in that Fight? who got the Victory? Personne n'a eu l'avantage, there has been no Victory, both sides were equally beaten, and retired upon even terms. Faire valoir l'avantage qu'on a, to improve his advantage.

Prendre l'avantage du Lieu, to take his advantage (to make use of the conveniency) of the Place. Tirer quécque avantage (se prevaloir) de la foiblesse de quécun, to take advantage of one's weakness, to turn his weakness to his own advantage.

L'Ame a de grands avantages sur le Corps, the Soul has great prerogatives over what the Body hath, the Soul is much more excellent than the Body. Doué de tous les avantages de la Nature & de l'Art, endowed with all manner of Gifts both of Art and Nature.

Avoir de grands avantages sur quécun, to be much beyond another. Il n'a point d'avantage sur moi, he is no better man than I, I am as good a man as he. Donner à quécun l'avantage de l'Eloquence, to yield to one in point of Eloquence.

D'avantage. See Davantage, under the letter D.

Avantagé, gratifié; improved.

Il a été avantagé sur tous ses Freres, he has had more than any of his Brothers.

Avantager, to gratify, to allow over and above.

Il a avantagé son aîné de dix mille ecus, he hath gratified his eldest Son with ten thousand crowns more than any of the younger.

Il n'a en rien avantagé son fils aîné par dessus le cadet, he has allowed his eldest Son no more than the younger Brother.

Avantageusement, advantageously, handsomely, favourably, honourably.

Juger de quécun avantageusement, to judge favourably of one. Parler avantageusement de quécun, to speak advantageously (or honourably) of one, to speak much to his advantage.

Or thus. As, vous parlez trop avantageusement de vos Actions, you speak with too much pride of your own Actions.

Etre habillé avantageusement, to be in a handsome Garb.

Avantageux, advantageous, convenient, good, profitable, honourable.

Choisir un Poste avantageux, to chuse an advantageous (or convenient) Post. Un Emploi fort avantageux, a very good (profitable, or honourable) Employment.

Il a des Sentimens de moi fort avantageux, he has a very good opinion (or conceit) of me, he thinks well (or advantageously) of me. Or thus. As, il nous fera avantageux de nous rendre, 'twill be best for us ('twill be much for our advantage) to surrender.

Avoir une taille avantageuse, to be a proper man.

Avant-bec, Avant-bras, Avant-cour, Avant-coureur, Avant-courriere, Avant-fossé, Avant-garde, Avant-gout, Avant-hier, Avant-main, Avant-mur, Avant-propos. See Avant.

Avanture	See	Aventure.
†Avanturé		Aventuré.
†Avantureux		Aventureux.
†Avanturier		Aventurier.
†Avanturiere		Aventuriere.
Avanturine		Aventurine.

Avare, covetous.

Il est extrêmement avare, he is mighty covetous.

Un Homme avare ressemble à un Cochon, qui n'est d'aucun Usage qu'après sa Mort, a covetous Man is most like a Hog, which is good for nothing before it is dead.

Un avare, a covetous Man, a Miser. Une Avare, a covetous Woman.

†Avarement, covetously.

Avarece, (f.) Covetousness, Avarice.

L'Avarece est la racine de tous Maux, Covetousness is the Root of all Evil.

L'Avarece est un Vice rampant & fordide, qui affame son Homme au milieu de l'Abondance, & qui lui apprend à ne vivre qu'aux dépens d'autrui, Covetousness is a sneaking and sordid Vice, that starves his Man in the midst of Plenty, and teaches him to live but at the charge of others.

Avarecieux, as Avare.

Il n'est Chère que d'Avarecieux, there's no Feast like a Miser's Feast.

Avarie, (f.) Terme de Douane, a Toll that is paid for the maintenance of a Port by every Ship that casts anchor in it.

Aubade, (f.) from Aube, morning-musick (such as Lovers divert their Mistresses with, under their Chamber Windows.)

† Vous aurez tantôt l'aubade (in a comical Sense) you shall have a lecture anon.

Aubain, (en Termes de Palais) m. an Alien, Stranger, or Foreiner.

Aubain est un Etranger qui n'est pas né fort loin des Pais qui sont Sujets au Roi de France, & qui s'étant venu établir dans son Royaume, y a acquis du Bien, & n'a point pris du Roi de Lettres de Naturalité. Les vrais Aubains (dit Baquet) sont les Alle-mans, les Anglois, les Italiens, & les Espagnols.

Aubaine (f.) Droit d'aubaine, Escheatage, the King's Right of Succession in the Estate of all Strangers dying in France without Naturalization, and French-born Issue.

Le Droit d'Aubaine est Inalienable. Les Suisses, les Portugais, ni les Ecois, ne sont pas sujets à la Loi d'Aubaine.

† Aubaine, hazard qui apporte quelque Profit, a Wind-fall.

Aubans. See Haubans.

Aube, (f.) break of day, dawning of the day, day-peep; a Priests Albe.

Or thus. As, Ps. 139. 9. Si je pren les ailes de l'Aube du Jour, if I take the wings of the Morning.

Aube-piné, (f.) white-thorn, haw-thorn.

Aubere, white-spotted.

As, un Cheval aubere, a white-spotted Horse.

Auberge, (f.) a Publick House (for Strangers to board in.)

† Aubergiste (m. and f.) one that keeps an Auberge.

Aubin (m.) Cheval qui va l'aubin, a Horse whose going is betwixt the amble and the gallop.

Aucun, any.

This Pronoun is never used but with a Negative before it, and then it is commonly made by No, or None.

As, Vous ne trouverez aucun homme qui veuille vous cautionner, you will find no man that will be bound for you. Je vois là trois Femmes, mais je n'en conoi aucune, I see there three Women, but I know none of them.

So in the Plural Number. As, je ne frequente aucuns de ces gens là, I keep company with no such people. Je ne vois aucunes de ces Femmes là, I see none of those Women.

Aucunement (with a Negative before it) not at all, not in the least.

Je ne doute aucunement de leur bonté, I don't question their goodness at all.

Audace, (f.) boldness, confidence, daringness, presumption, audaciousness; a stay for a Hat.

Bessus n'eut pas assez d'audace pour excuser son Crime, Bessus had not confidence enough to palliate his Crime.

But this Word, being joined to a favourable Epithet, is also taken in good part.

As, une belle (une noble) audace, a noble confidence.

† Audacieusement, boldly, confidently, daringly, audaciously, presumptuously.

Audacieux, bold, confident, daring, audacious, presumptuous.

Audience, (f.) audience, or hearing; the Court where Causes are heard; the Court, or the Judges who hear them.

Donner, obtenir, avoir audience, to give, obtain, and have audience. Audience publique & privée, a publick and private audience. Audience de Congé, the last audience of an Ambassador.

Venir dans l'Audience, to come into the Court.

L'Audience est levée, the Court is risen.

Audiencier, (m.) Huissier de Presidial, a Crier of a Court Presidial.

Huissier audiencier. See Huissier.

Le grand Audiencier, the chief Audiencier of France, one of the first Officers of the Seal, and he that examines all Letters Patents, &c. before they pass the Seal.

Auditeur, (m.) Auditor, or Hearer; Auditor, or Examiner of Accounts in the Exchequer.

Auditoire, (m.) Audience, or Auditory; also the Place where the Hearers meet.

Avé, (m.) an Ave, the Salutation of the Angel directed to the blessed Virgin.

Avec, with.

As, venez vous en avec moi, come along with me. Tuer quécun avec un couteau, to kill one with a knife.

Or thus. Avec cela, avec tout cela, for all that.

Avec le tems, at length, in time.

D'avec, from.

As, Discerner le bien d'avec le mal, & le vrai d'avec le faux, to discern good from evil, and truth from falsehood.

Avecque, as Avec.

Aveindre, tirer hors, to take out.

As, aveignez le Linge qui est au fond du Coffre, take out the Linnen which is in the bottom of the Trunk.

Aveine, (f.) Oats.

Jamais on ne vid tant d'Aveines, there was never seen such a Crop of Oats.

Pain d'aveine, oat bread.

Avelaine, or (rather) Aveline, f. filberd.

Ave-maria, (m.) an Ave-maria.

† Avenant, fit, handsome, decent, neat; civil.

Or thus. As, cas avenant qu'il mourût, in case he should die.

De quel côté que le Present se tourne, il est avenant, (Prov. 17. 8.) whithersoever a Gift turns, it prospers.

Mal avenant, unapt, unfit.

Avenement, (m.) coming.

A son avenement à la Couronne les Prisonniers furent relâchez, at his coming to the Crown the Prisoners were released.

Depuis son Avenement à la Couronne les Choses ont bien changé de face, since his coming to the Crown the face of Things is very much changed.

Avenir, to happen, or to chance, to come to pass, Jos. 21. 45.

S'il avient que je meure, ce sera d'amour, if I chance to die, 'twill be for love. Il avint en ces jours là, it hapned in those Days.

Or thus. As, John 5. 14. Ne peche plus, de peur que pis ne t'avienne, sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon thee.

And Acts 5. 5. † Il avint une grande Crainte à tous ceux qui entendirent ces Choses, great Fear came on all them that heard these Things.

Ainsi n'avienne, God forbid, Not so, Acts 11. 8.

L'Avenir, (Subst.) the Time to come, a Summons.

Le Tems passé & l'avenir, the Time past and to come.

Avent, (m.) Advent, the Time of Advent before Christmas.

Aventure, (f.) an Adventure, or intricate Accident.

As, une Aventure amoureuse, an amorous Adventure.

Or thus. As, une triste aventure, a sad mischance. Une bonne aventure, a happy turn.

Aventure, amour, amourette, love. Cette Fille est sa premiere Aventure, she is his first Love.

A l'aventure, au hazard, at random.

† D'aventure, par aventure, peradventure, by chance.

† Aventuré, that runs a great hazard.

† Aventueux, venturesom.

Aventurier, (m.) Adventurer, one that goes to War in order to signalize himself by some glorious Actions.

The same is also used in a burlesk Sense, to express an Adventurer in point of Love, or a new Author that puts out a piece of Work to get some credit in the World.

† Aventuriere, (f.) a Woman that seeks her fortune; a pilfering Jade.

Aventurine, (f.) a kind of precious Stone which is found in Bohemia. 'Tis yellowish, and full of speckles of gold, which add much to its splendor.

Avenue, (f.) avenue; a long walk.

Se saisir de toutes les Avenues, to possess himself of all the Avenues. Fermer toutes les avenues, to stop (to stout up) all the avenues.

Il y avoit à l'entrée de la Maison une Avenue de Cypres fort longue & fort droite, just before the House there was a very long and strait Walk of Cyprus-trees.

Averé, averred, evidenced.

Averer, to aver, to evidence.

Averer un Crime, to aver a Crime.

Averfaire. See Adverfaire.

Averse, adverse.

Partie averse, adverse Party.

Aversion (f.) averness, aversion, hatred, antipathy.

Avoir de l'aversion pour quécun, le prendre en aversion, to hate one, to be out of conceit with him. Avoir une aversion étrange contre quécun, to have a strange antipathy against one.

Vos Decisions sont en aversion à tout le Monde, no body can indure your Decisions.

Averfite. See Adverfite.

† Avertance, (f.) advertency, attention, consideration.

Averti, warned, advertised, informed, told of a thing, that has notice of it.

Un Pas averti de Cheval. C'est ce qu'on appelle autrement un pas ecouté, ou un pas d'Ecole, réglé & soutenu.

Avertir, to warn, advertise, inform, tell, give notice, or make known.

Vous deviez m'en avertir, you should have told me so.

Avertir quécun d'une Chose par avance, to forewarn one of a Thing, to give him a Caution of it before-hand.

Avertissement, (m.) advertisement, advice; a putting in remembrance, 2 Pet. 1. 13; the bill and answer of Plaintiff and Defendant.

Par avertissement, (2 Pet. 3. 1.) by way of remembrance.

Avertisseur, (m.) one of the King's Officers, he that gives notice when the King is ready for Dinner.

Aveu,

Aveu, (m.) from Avouer, confession; approbation; a list of all the Dependencies of a Fief.

Aveugle, blind, that has lost his sight; blind, or inconsiderate.

Je croi que vous êtes aveugle, I think you are blind. Nous sommes d'ordinaire aveugles dans nos propres Affaires, we are commonly blind in our own Concerns.

L'Amour est aveugle, Love is blind. Une Passion aveugle, a blind Passion.

Rendre aveugle, to blind.

Aveugle, (a masc. Subst.) a blind Man.

Un Aveugle ne sauroit juger des Couleurs, a blind Man cannot judge of Colours.

Un Aveugle y mordroit, a blind Man could find it out.

† A l'aveugle. See Aveuglement.

Aveuglé, blinded.

Aveuglement, (m.) blindness, want of sight; blindness, error, mistake; blindness, or miscarriage.

L'aveuglement que Tobie souffroit ne put ébranler sa foi, the blindness of Tobias was not able to shake his faith.

Je m'étonne de votre aveuglement, I wonder at your blindness.

Aveuglement, (Adv.) blindly, blindfold, rashly, headlong, unadvisedly.

Il donne aveuglement dans le panneau, he runs headlong into the snare.

Aveugler, to blind, to blind one's eyes.

Le grand Jour aveugle, a great Light blinds one's eyes, or dazzles the sight.

Le Vice aveugle les Méchans, the Vice blinds the Wicked.

Auge, (f.) a Trough; a Plasterer's Tray.

Auger, (m.) a little trough, or tray; a little pewer (or leaden) drinking cup, for a cage-bird.

Augive, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, an Ogive.

Augment, (m.) Terme de Grammaire, Grecque, augment.

Augmentateur, (m.) Enlarger.

Augmentation, (f.) augmentation, increase.

Augmenté, augmented, increased, amplified, enlarged.

Un Livre augmenté, a Book with additions.

Augmenter, to augment, increase, amplify, or enlarge.

Cette Nouvelle a augmenté ma Douleur, this News has increased my Trouble.

Augmenter un Livre, to enlarge (or amplify) a Book, to make additions to it.

S'augmenter, to increase (neut.)

Augure, (m.) Augur, Soothsayer, or Diviner; presage, omen.

Celui qui conjecture bien est un bon Augure, he is a good Augur that conjectures right.

Un bon ou mauvais augure, a good or bad omen. Prendre une chose à bon augure, to take a thing as a good omen.

Augurer, to augurate, or conjecture; to augurate, bode, ominate, presage.

Je n'en augure rien de bon, I promise myself no good by it.

Auguste, august, royal; august, or venerable.

Sang auguste, royal Blood.

Auguste Assemblée, an august Assembly.

Augustines, the Austin Nuns.

Augustins, (m.) the Austin-Friers, or black Friers of the Order of S. Austin.

Avide, greedy, greatly desirous.

Avide des Biens de ce Monde, greedy of the Things of this World. Avide de gloire, de louanges, greedy of glory, or praise.

Avidement, greedily.

Avidité, (f.) avidity, greediness, eager (or passionate) desire.

Il avoit une grande avidité de regner, he had a great desire to reign.

Avilir, to disgrace, to render vile, or contemptible.

Avilir sa Dignité, to disgrace his Dignity, to make it contemptible.

Avilissement, (m.) contempt, disgrace.

Aviné, seasoned with wine.

Un Tonneau aviné, a seasoned Cask.

Aujourd'hui, to day, this day; now, now a dayes.

Il faut que je sorte aujourd'hui, I must go out to day.

Il n'en est pas de même aujourd'hui, it is not so now, it is not so now a dayes.

Or thus. Ce n'est pas d'aujourd'hui que les gens de bien sont persecutez, it is not a new thing for good people to be persecuted.

Aviron, (m.) oar, a kind of oar.

Avis, (m.) advice, advertisement, account, information, intimation; notice, intelligence, advice, or counsel; sentiment, opinion, mind, judgment.

Je vous en donnerai avis, I shall give you notice (I shall give you an account) of it.

Avis au Lecteur, Advertisement (Instructions) to the Reader.

Prendre avis de quécun, to ask advice of one.

Lui donner avis, to advise him, to give him counsel. Profiter de l'avis qu'on nous donne, to make a good use of the advice that is given us.

Etre de l'avis de quécun, suivre son avis, to be of one's opinion. A mon avis, in my opinion, in my mind, in my judgment. Changer d'avis, to change his mind, to be of another mind.

Or thus. As, on donne avis d'un tel Lieu, que, it is advised from such a Place, that.

Je suis d'avis qu'on prefere la Paix à la Guerre, I am for Peace, not for War. Jene suis pas d'avis de lui resister, I would not have him resisted by any means.

Il m'est avis, il me semble, methinks. Il m'étoit avis que je le voyois, methought I saw him.

Avisé, wise, considerate, wary, circumspect.

On n'est jamais si avisé en son propre fait qu'en celui d'autrui, one is never so wise in his own case as in other peoples.

Mal avisé, unwise, unwary, inconsiderate.

Avivement, (m.) discretion, as Prov. 1.4; witty Invention, Prov. 8. 12.

Aviser, to see, look, think, or consider; to give counsel; to warn.

As, Vous y aviserez, you shall think of it, you shall look to it.

La Nuit vous y avisera (a Proverb.) the Night shall give you counsel. To which alludes the English Proverb, Take Counsel of your Pillow.

Qui vous a avisé de fuir l'Ire à venir? (Luke 3. 7.) who has warned you to flee from the Wrath to come?

† Aviser un Homme sur une Tour, pour dire l'apercevoir, ou le decouvrir, to spy out a Man upon a Tower.

S'aviser, to bethink himself.

As, il s'avisait d'un Stratageme, he bethought himself of a Stratagem.

Avitaillé, victualled, furnished with (provided of) victuals.

Avitaillage, (m.) a victualling.

Avitailler un Vaisseau (en Termes de Mer) le fournir de vituailles, to victual a Ship, to provide her of victuals.

Avives, (f.) the Vives (a Disease in Horses.)

Aulique, (f.) Terme de Theologie, the Act of Doctorship.

Faire son Aulique, ou acte de Doctorerie, to keep his Act.

Aumelette, (f.) Omelet, a Pancake made of eggs.

Aumône, (f.) alms, charity.

Faire l'aumône, to give something to the poor, to bestow a charity.

Or thus. As, demander l'aumône de porte en porte, to beg from door to door.

Aumôner, to bestow in alms, or free gift, to give to charitable uses.

Aumônier, (m.) Alms-giver.

Le grand Aumônier de France, the great Alms-giver of France.

Le Cardinal de Lorraine étoit un grand Aumônier, the Cardinal of Lorraine was a great Alms-giver.

Aumusse, (f.) an Ornament of Fur (which the Canons wear on their arms when they go to the Office.)

Aunage, (m.) a number of ells.

As, je n'ai pas trouvé l'aunage que vous m'aviez dit, I have not found so many ells as you told me of.

Aunaie, (f.) an Alder-Plot.

Aune (m.) sorte d'Arbre, an Alder-Tree.

Aune, (f.) Aune de Roi, an Ell (consisting of 3 foot, 7 inches, and 8 lines.)

Acheter ou vendre à l'aune, to buy or sell by the ell.

Une aune de drap, de ruban, &c. an ell of cloth, of ribbon, &c.

Or thus. As, mesurer les autres à son aune, to measure another man's corn by his own bushel.

† Je sai ce qu'en vaut l'aune, I know what it is by experience. Chacun y babille, & tout du long de l'aune, every one prates there at random.

Auné, measured (by the ell.)

Auner, to measure by the ell.

Auner une piece de drap, to measure a piece of cloth.

Auneur, (m.) Aulneger.

Avocasser, to follow the Law, to plead, or do the Office of a pleading Lawyer.

Avocasserie, (f.) the Law, or Pleading according to Law.

L'Avocasserie n'enrichit guere de personnes aujourd'hui, few people now a dayes do grow rich by the Law.

Avocat, (m.) a Lawyer, a Counsellor, an Advocate.

Avocat plaçant, a pleading Lawyer, or Counsellor. Avocat consultant, a Chamber Counsellor. Prendre quécun pour son Avocat, to retain one for his Counsellor.

Christ est notre Avocat, Christ is our Advocate.

Un bon Avocat, a good Lawyer. Bon Avocat mauvais Voisin, a good Lawyer an evil Neighbour.

Un mechant Avocat, un Avocat de Pilate, un Avocat de Causes perdues, a scurvy (or ignorant) Lawyer.

Un long Procès ruine les Parties, & enrichit les Avocats, a long Suit ruins the Parties, and enriches their Lawyers; long Suits are Lawyers Harvest.

Avocate, (f.) Advocate, Mediatrix.

La Vierge, disent les Papistes, est leur Avocate auprès de son Fils, the Virgin Mary say the Papists, is their Advocate (or Mediatrix) to her Son.

The Attorney General's Lady, and she alone of all the Lawyers Wives, is called Avocate.

Avoine, (f.) Oats. See Aveine.

Avoir, to have; to be.

Avoir du Bien, to have an Estate, to be rich.

Avoir le pouvoir en main, to have the staff (or the power) in his hand. Il a beaucoup d'esprit, & peu de jugement, he has much wit, and but little judgment. Qu'a-t-il à dire là dessus? what has he to say to that?

Avoir froid, chaud, faim, & soif, to be cold, hot, hungry, and dry. Nous avons à combattre, we are to fight.

Avoir beau-faire. See Beau.

Il y a (a Verb Impersonal) there is, there are; here is, here are; tis, or it is.

As, il y a là bas un homme qui veut vous parler, there is a man below that desires to speak with you. Il y a là haut deux Messieurs qui vous attendent, there are (there be) two Gentlemen above that stay for you.

Il y a ici un beau Carosse, here is a fine Coach. Il y a ici bien des Carosses, here are a great many Coaches.

Il y a près de cent lieues d'ici à Paris, tis near upon an hundred leagues to Paris. Il y a plus d'une heure qu'il est sorti, it is above an hour since he went out.

Or thus. As, il y a huit jours, eight days ago, eight days since. Il y a un an, a year ago, a year since. Il y a long tems que j'ai fait dessein, I made account long since. Il y a long tems que j'y serois allé, I had gone thither long since.

† Avoir, (a masc. Subst.) substance, what one hath.

Honore l'Eternel de ton avoir, & des pre-mices de tout ton Revenu, (Prov. 3. 9.) honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine Increase.

C'est là tout mon avoir, that's all I have in this World.

† Avoisiner, to come near, almost to reach.

C'est une Tour qui avoisine les Cieux, E

'tis a Tower which reaches almost to Heaven.

Avortement, (m.) a bringing forth of young before the time.

Avorter, to bring forth before the time, to cast the young.

Une Vache qui a avorté, a Cow that has brought forth her Calf before the time.

Amongst old Authors you will find this Word apply'd to Women, and signifie to miscarry. But now it is not to be used in that Sense.

Avorton, (m.) an untimely Birth, one born out of due time.

Un Avorton vaut mieux que lui (Eccl. 6. 3.) an untimely Birth is better than he.

Il a été vu de moi, comme d'un Avorton, (1 Cor. 15. 8.) he was seen of me, as of one born out of due time.

Orthus. As, quel petit avorton est cela? what little scrimp (what short Arse) is that?

Si qu'èqu' avorton de l'Envie ose encore lever les yeux, if any mushroom of Envy dare yet lift up his eyes.

Il s'perissent comme des Avortons de Vanité, they perish like so many vain shadows.

Avoué, owned, avouched, confessed, acknowledged; approved (allowed) of.

Avouer, to own, avouch, confess, or acknowledge; to approve (or allow) of.

Avouer son Crime, to confess (own, or acknowledge) his Crime. Son Pere ne l'a jamais voulu avouer pour son fils, his Father would never own him for his son.

Il y a ici des personnes qui m'avouèrent de tout ce que j'écrirai, here are some persons that will approve any thing that I shall write.

Auparavant, before.

Long tems auparavant, long before, a long time before.

Il ne lui est rien arrivé que je ne lui aie dit long tems auparavant, nothing happened to him but what I told him of a long time before.

Auprès, tout contre, hard by.

Il est auprès, he is hard by.

Auprès de, near, by, about; to.

Il reside auprès du Prince, he makes his residence near the Prince. Tenez vous auprès de lui, keep by him.

Excusez le auprès de son Pere, excuse him to his Father.

Auriculaire, (Terme d'Eglise) auricular.

As Confession auriculaire, auricular Confession.

Avril, (m.) April.

En l'avril de mes Jours, in the prime of my Age.

Auronne, (f.) forte d'Herbe, Southernwood, an Herb ever green.

Aurore, (f.) the Morning, the Time before Sun-rising; a young Goddess amongst Poets; a fair and young Virgin; the East.

Aurore, (Adj.) yellowish.

As, ruban aurore, a yellowish ribbon.

Auspices, (m.) auspices.

Auspices favorables ou malheureux, happy or unhappy auspices.

Je raconterai ce qui s'est passé sous les auspices & par les ordres d'Alexandre, I shall relate what passed under the auspices and by the orders of Alexander.

Aussi, also, too, likewise; as; so; therefore.

J'étois présent, & votre frere aussi, quand il fut tué, I was there, and your brother also, when he was killed.

Donnez m'en aussi, s'il vous plait, give me some too, if you please. Il fut aussi tres mal traité, he was likewise curvily used.

Il est aussi embarrassé que moi, he is as puzzled as I am. C'étoit un homme d'aussi bon sens qu'il se pût trouver, he was a man of as good sense as any could be found.

Un tel est habile homme, aussi est il, such a one is an able man, so he is. Ayez soin de vos Affaires, aussi ai je, have a care of your business, so I have.

Je m'en doutai bien, aussi le previns je, I did imagine it, and therefore I prevented him.

Orthus. Il est plus avisé que vous, aussi est il plus âgé, he is wiser than you, but he is older too.

J'ai brûlé ce papier, aussi ne servoit il de rien, I burnt that paper, and truly it was good for nothing.

Il est vrai que je l'ai frappé, mais aussi il m'a-voit injurié le premier, it is true I struck him, but he had abused me first.

Aussi bien, as well. Aussi tôt, ou d'abord, forthwith, presently, out of hand. Aussi tôt que, as soon as.

Je le ferai aussi bien que vous, I can do it as well as you.

Aussi tôt dit aussi tôt fait, it was no sooner spoken but it was done, no sooner said but done.

Je suis venu aussi tôt que vous, I came as soon as you.

Austere, austere, severe, rigid, strict; austere, rough.

Un homme austere, a severe (a rigid) man.

Une vie austere, an austere life.

Un Fruit austere, an austere (or harsh) Fruit.

Austerement, austere, strictly.

Jeuner austerement, to keep a fast strictly.

Austerité, (f.) austereness, austerity, severity, rigour.

Les Austeritez de la Vie Religieuse, the Austerities of a Monastick Life.

Austral, Australe, (Terme de Geographie) Australis.

As, Terre Australe, Terra Australis.

Austruche. See Austruche.

Autan, (m.) Vent de Sud-Est, a South-East Wind.

Autant, as much, so much, as many, so many.

Je l'aime autant que s'il étoit mon frere, I love him as much as if he were my own brother.

Autant que jamais, qu'il faut, qu'il est possible, as much as ever, as is requisite, as may be.

J'en ai eu (or je l'ai vendu) tout autant, I had so much for it.

J'ai autant de Soeurs que de Freres, I have as many Sisters as Brothers.

Autant de têtes, autant d'opinions, so many men, so many minds.

Orthus. As, autant de fois qu'on le lui commande, as often as he is bidden. Autant que je puis juger, as far as I can conjecture.

D'autant plus, the more, so much the more.

On meurt d'autant plus volontiers que l'on est homme de bien, the better a man liveth the more willingly he dieth.

Il est d'autant plus aimable qu'il est modeste, he is so much the more lovely because he is modest.

D'autant que. See Dautant que (without an apostrophe.)

Autel, (m.) Altar.

Le grand (le maître) Autel, the great Altar.

Autel privilégié, a privileged Altar.

Il est juste que ceux qui servent à l'Autel vivent de l'Autel, it is fit that those who serve at the Altar should live by the Altar.

Elever Autel contre Autel, to set up Altar against Altar.

Authentique, authentick, of good authority.

Acte authentique, an authentick Act.

Authentiquement, in an authentick manner.

Auteur, (m.) Author, or Cause; Author, or Reporter; Author, or Writer of a Book.

Vous êtes l'Auteur de ces Troubles, you are the Author (or the Cause) of these Troubles.

Dieu n'est pas l'Auteur de ces Maux, God is not the Author (or the Cause) of these Evils.

L'Auteur d'une Nouvelle, the Author of a News. Nommer son Auteur, to name his Author.

Cette Nouvelle court, mais on n'en dit pas l'Auteur, there is such a Report indeed, but not a word of the Author.

Un bon Auteur, un Auteur bien estimé, a good Author, an Author of good esteem.

Un Auteur veritable, un Auteur digne de foi, a worthy and credible Author.

La Reine Marguerite, Fille de Henri II, étoit Auteur, Queen Margaret, Daughter of Henry II, was an Author.

Authentique

Authentiquement

Auteur

Authorisé

Authoriser

Authorité

Authentique.

Authentiquement.

Auteur.

Authorisé.

Authoriser.

Authorité.

Automates, (m.) Machines naturelles (selon Des Cartes) qui se remuent d'elles mêmes, Automata.

Automnal, autumnal.

As, Solstice automnal, the autumnal Solstice.

Automne, or Autonne, (m. & f.) Autumn, the Fall of the leaf.

Automne sec, a dry Autumn. Automne pluvieux, a rainy Autumn.

Autonne abondante en toute sorte de fruits, a plentiful Autumn.

Orthus. As, un Fruit d'Autonne, laterward Fruit.

Mon Autonne se passe, j'entre dans la Vieillesse, my Strength is a going, old Age steals upon me.

Autorisé, authorised, countenanced, or allowed by authority.

Autoriser, to authorise, countenance, or allow by authority.

Autorité, (f.) authority, power, credit; authority, a passage of an eminent Author. (In which last sense only we may say Autoritez in the Plural Number.)

Ufer de son autorité, to make use of his power, or authority. Avoir une autorité absolue, to have an absolute power. Ruiner (détruire) l'autorité d'une personne, to ruin ones credit.

Donner de l'autorité à un Mot, to bear up (or countenance) a Word.

Autour, (m.) forte d'Oiseau de Proie, the Goshawk.

Autour, (Adv.) aux environs, about. As, il tourne tout autour, & n'entre point dedans, he turns about, and does not go in.

Autour de, (a Prep.) about. As, autour de l'Eglise, about the Church.

Autre, other.

This is an Indefinite Pronoun used with the Articles, and applicable both to Things and Persons.

As, l'autre jour, the other day. Une autre fois, another time.

L'un a besoin de l'autre, one stands in need of anothers help. Il dit une chose & en pense une autre, he says one thing and means another.

D'autre part, on the other side.

So in the Plural Number. As, les uns demandent la Paix, les autres la Guerre, some wish for Peace, and others for War.

Orthus. As, les unes se plaisent à une chose, les autres à une autre, some (Women) delight in one Thing, some in another.

Or else it is thus rendred. As, je ne serai jamais autre que j'ai été, I shall ever be the same man.

La chose est tout autre qu'on ne croit, it is quite another Thing than is supposed to be.

Il aime tout autre que moi, he loves any body but me.

Tout autre que lui eût perdu courage, any body else had been disheartened.

Il ne fait autre chose que jouer, he does nothing but play.

Ne voulez vous rien autre? will you have nothing else?

L'un ou l'autre, either. L'un & l'autre, les uns & les autres, both.

Ni l'un ni l'autre, neither.

A d'autres, proceed, go on.

Autrefois, formerly, heretofore, in times past.

J'ai feu tout cela autrefois, I knew all that formerly.

Autrement, otherwise; else, or else.

La chose est arrivée autrement que je ne pensois, the Thing fell out otherwise than I expected.

Entrez, autrement je fermerai, come in, or else I shall shut the door.

Autruche, (f.) Ostrich, or Ostridge.

Avoir un estomac d'Autruche, to have a good digesting stomach.

Autrui, from Autre. This is a Pronoun Indefinite, that has the force of a Substantive, is applicable only to persons, and ever comes after a Preposition.

As, envier le bien d'autrui, to envy the good fortune of others. Faire à autrui ce que nous voudrions qu'on nous fit, to do by others as we would be done by.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

Autrui.

S'affliger du mal d'autrui, to be sorry for another mans troubles, to sympathise with him.

Autumnal. See Automnal.

Auvent, (m.) a Penthouse.

Se mettre à couvert de la pluie sous quelque auvent, to shelter himself from the rain under a penthouse.

Auvernât, (m.) sorte de gros Vin rouge, a sort of coarse red Wine.

Aux, (the Plural of Au) at the, in the, to the.

Auxiliaire, auxiliary.

As, les Verbes auxiliaires, the auxiliary Verbs. Troupes auxiliaires, auxiliary Forces.

Auxquels } See { Lequel.
Auxquelles }

A X. A Y. A Z.

Axe, (m.) axis.

On ne fait pas encore si le Soleil est fixe, ou s'il tourne sur son axe, it is not known yet whether the Sun be fixed, or turn upon its axis.

Axiome, (m.) axiom, maxim, principle.

Axonge, (f.) axonge humaine, an Oynement made of the fat of man prepared with fine herbs.

Ayant, (from Avoir) having.

Ayant si peu d'argent, having so little money.

†Ayant } See { †Aidant.

Ayde. Aide.

Aydé. Aidé.

Ayder. Aider.

Ayeul, (m.) Grandfather.

Ayeule, (f.) Grandmother.

†Aze, (m.) an Afs.

Il est plus doux qu'un Aze, he is milder than an Afs.

Azile. See Afsyle.

Azime, sans levain, unleavened.

As, pain azime, unleavened bread.

Azimut, (m.) azimuth, or vertical Circle.

Les Azimuts servent à marquer les elevations des Astres par dessus l'Horizon, the use of the Azimuts is to mark the elevations of the Stars above the Horizon.

Azur, (m.) azure, sky-colour.

Peindre avec de l'azur, to paint with azure.

Azuré, of azure, painted (or coloured) with azure.

B.

B, the second Letter of the Alphabet, is sounded bé in French, and is of the masculine Gender.

As, faire un b, to make a b.

In Spain, and Gascongne, a Province of France, this Letter is pronounced much like an V consonant.

The Egyptians, who made their Characters by the figure of some living Creature, used to represent a B by the figure of a Sheep, this Animal pronouncing a b when it bleats.

According to the new way of Spelling, this Letter is left out in many Words, wherein it stood mute. And first, before an v consonant; as in devoir, fève, février, fièvre, Orfevre, redevable, which formerly were thus written, debvoir, febve, febvrier, siebvre, Orsebvrie, redebvvable.

And so it is in these Words, sous, sujet, doute, doit, dette, omettre, with their Derivatives, which formerly they writ with a b; as soub, subjeet, doubte, doit, debte, obmettre.

But it is kept, though unpronounced, in plomb.

Ne savoir ni a ni b, être tout à fait ignorant, to know nothing, to have no knowledge in the least.

B-mol } See { Bémol.
B-quarre }

B A.

Baaillement, (m.) a gaping, or yawning.

Bailler, to gape, to yawn.

Il ne fait que bailler, he does nothing but yawn. Une habitude de bailler, an habit of gaping, or yawning.

Quelque belle qu'elle soit, je baillerois près d'elle assurement, as great a beauty as she is, I should certainly fall a gaping by her, (that is) she could never rouse up my spirits.

Or thus. As, Ps. 119. 131. J'ai ouvert ma bouche, & ai baillé, I opened my mouth, and panted.

Baailleur, (m.) a Yawner.

C'est un Baailleur perpetuel, he is an everlasting Yawner.

Baillon, (m.) a gag.

Baillonné, gagged.

Baillonner, to gag.

Babeurre, (f.) lait de beurre, butter-milk.

Babiche, (f.) a little bitch.

Vous perdez pour une Babiche des pleurs qui suffiroient pour racheter un Roi, you wast for a little Bitch tears enough to redeem a King.

Babil, (m.) prating, prating, chatting, or chattering; jangling, 1 Tim. 1. 6.

Le babil est la marque d'un petit esprit, prating is a sure token of a little wit.

†Babillard, (m.) a Prater, Babler, or prating man.

Que veut dire ce Babillard? (Acts 17. 28.) what will this babler say?

†Babillarde, (f.) a Prater, or prating Woman, a Tatler, 1 Tim. 5. 13.

†Babiller, to prate, or prattle, to chat, or chatter.

Les Principaux se font assis, & ont babillé de moi, (Psalm 119. 23.) Princes also did sit and speak against me.

Elles babillent de Choses mallesantes, (1 Tim. 5. 13.) they speak Things which they ought not.

Babilloire, as Caquetoire.

Babine, (f.) the lip of a beast, (as of a Dog, Horse, Cow, &c.)

In a comical sense babine is also used for a mans or a womans Lip.

As, †ils torcherent leurs sales babines, they wiped their dirty lips.

Babioles, (f.) baby-things, whimwhams, gewgaws, or small toys (for Children to play withal.)

†Babouin, (m.) un petit babouin, a young fop.

Baiser le babouin à quécun, to creep and crouch to one, basely to submit himself to him.

†Babouine, (f.) a foolish Woman. Say une Sote, une Impertinente.

Bac, (m.) a Ferry-boat.

Passer la Riviere dans un Bac, to cross the River in a Ferry-boat.

Bacalareat, or Bacaloreat, (m.) Degré de Bachelier, Bachelourship.

Baccanale, (f.) a Bacchanal, a Picture representing the Feasts of Bacchus.

Baccanales, (m.) Bacchanals, Bacchus his Feasts.

Baccante, (f.) a Priestess of Bacchus.

Bacha. See Bassa.

Bachelier, (m.) a Bachelour of Art.

Se faire passer Bachelier, to be made a Bachelour of Art.

Bachelier was also formerly in France a Title of Gentry inferiour to Banneret, and superiour to Ecuyer. It signified also a Suitor to a young Virgin.

†Bachette, (f.) a young Virgin, fit for Marriage.

Bachique, belonging to Bacchus; drunken.

Chanson Bachique, a drunken Song.

Bachet, (m.) from Bac, a Wherry, a small Ferry-boat.

†Bâclé, done, agreed on, concluded.

As, cela est bâclé, (c'est à dire, fait, réglé, arrêté) that's done, 'tis concluded, or agreed on.

Badaude, (f.) a silly Woman; a Parisian Woman (in a burlesk sense.)

Badaut, (m.) a silly Man; a Parisian (in a burlesk sense.)

Badin, (m.) a Sport-maker, one that makes sport; an apish man or youth, one full of apish tricks; an idle Boy, a Boy full of play.

Badin, (Adj.) jocular, merry; silly, ridiculous. C'est un Esprit enjoué & badin, it is a jocular and sportful Wit.

Il nous vient etourdir de ses contes badins, he comes and breaks our heads with idle (or silly) stories.

Badinage, (m.) play, sport; a pleasant and quaint way of speaking or writing.

†Il est intruit au badinage, he has got the knack on't, he is used to the sport; also, he knows all the Intrigue.

Badiner, to play the fool, or the wag; to wag, or move prettily; to speak cunningly.

Badinerie, (f.) foppery, foolery.

Bafoué, abused, reviled.

Bafouer, to abuse, to revile.

Bagage, (m.) baggage, carriage.

†Plier bagage, to pack away. Nôtre Temps a plié bagage, nous sommes vieux, our Life is e'en spun out.

†Bagarre, (m.) noise.

On a bien fait du bagarre, there has been a great noise.

†Bagasse, (f.) Bagasse d'Armée, a Quean, Flurt, or Baggage.

Bagatelle, (f.) a toy, a trifle, an idle thing, a thing of small value.

S'occuper à des bagatelles, to be taken up with trifles, with idle things. Vous voilà bien embarrassé pour une bagatelle, what a stir you keep for a trifle.

Or thus. As, à moi cent mille Vers font une bagatelle, I make nothing of a hundred thousand Verses.

†Bagatelles, il n'y a point de danger, away, there's no danger.

Bague, (f.) a Ring, with a stone to it; a ring, to run at.

Une bague bien travaillée, a Ring well made.

Courir la bague, to run at the Ring.

Or thus. Il s'en est tiré bagues sauves, he came off clear.

Baguer, to baste, or make the Plaits hold with long stitches.

Baguette, (f.) a switch, wand, or rod; a drum-stick; a gun-stick.

Porter une petite baguette, to wear a little switch.

†Commander à baguette, (cd. absolument) to command peremptorily, or with a full authority.

Bahut, (m.) a Trunk (to carry, or keep Things in.)

Bahutier, (m.) a Trunk-maker.

Bai, bay, of a chefnut colour.

As, Cheval bai, a bay-Horse. Cavale baie, a bay-Mare.

Bai miroüetté, ou à miroir, a bright dappled bay.

Baie, (f.) berry; bay; an open place in a Wall that is a building for a Door or a Window; a cheat, or cozening trick.

Baies de Laurier, de Genevrier, de Houx, &c. Laurel, Juniper, Holm berrys. L If porte des baies rouges, douces, & pleines d'un

Suc qui ressemble au Vin, the berrys of the Yew-tree are red and sweet, and yield a sort of Juice not unlike Wine.

La Baie de Cadis, the Bay of Cadis.

†Donner une baie à quécun, to cozen one.

Le payer d'une baie, to pay him with a cheat.

Baigné, watered, washed, bathed.

Baigner, (from Bain) to water, to wash.

As, baigner (faire baigner) un Cheval, to water a Horse.

La Riviere baigne les Murailles de cette Ville, the River washes the Walls of this Town.

Se baigner, to wash himself, to bathe himself.

Il me prend envie de me baigner, I have almost a mind to wash my self. Se baigner dans une Riviere, to wash himself in a River.

Se baigner dans un Bain, to bathe himself. Se baigner de larmes, to bathe himself (to be all bathed) in Tears.

Vôtre Cruauté se baigne dans les Pleurs que versent vos Amans, your Cruelty bathes it self in your Lovers Tears; (that is to say) your Lovers Tears do ye good at the heart, or you take exceeding delight in them.

Or thus. La Coutume de se baigner étoit tres frequente parmi les Anciens, Bathing was much used of old.

Baigneur, (m.) one that bathes himself; one that keeps Baths.

Baigneuse, (f.) a Woman bathing herself.

Baignoire, (f.) a bathing Tub.

Une baignoire ovale, ou carrée, an oval, or square Tub.

Baignu. See Begu.

Bail, (m.) a Lease.

Bail à ferme, a farming, or giving to farm. † Bail d'amour, a Lease (a Contract, or Assurance) of Love.

Belle Maîtresse, pour rendre votre esprit certain, je vous passerai des demain un Bail d'Amour devant un Notaire, fair Mistress, to make you sure of me, I am ready to bind me to you in a Contract of Love.

Bailé, (f.) Terme de Mer, une moitié de Tonneau, en façon de Baquet, a kind of Tub.

† Bailé, given, delivered.

† Bailier, to give, to deliver.

Bailier à ferme, (which is the proper use of this Word) to farm, to let.

Bailli, or Bailiff, (m.) a Bailiff.

In France 'tis a Magistrat of great authority, appointed within a Province, or Precinct certain, to execute Justice, maintain the Peace, and preserve the People from oppression, vexation, and wrong. To which end he takes notice of Treasons committed, false Money coined, Robberies and Murders, Rebellions or Seditions, unlawful Assemblies, Arms born, or Soldiers levy'd without Warrant. He takes notice of Protections or Sanctuaries violated, of Pardons and Charters abused, of Fairs, Markets, and other Privileges usurped. He makes Proclamations in his own name, calls the Ban and Arriereban, leads those that be raised by it, and appoints the ordinary Musters of his Province. He determines Appeals from the Sentence of Prevosts, and other inferior Judges at Assizes, whereof he is the principal Judge. He may have a Lieutenant. And yet he is but a Deputy himself, either to the King, or some Lord; every one whereof hath, or may have, a Bailiff within his Territories.

Les quatre anciens Baillis de France, the four ancient Bailiffs of France. Those are the Bailiffs of Vermandois, Sens, Macon, & S. Pierre le Moutier, the four Towns which the French Kings of old had joined to their Demeans; all other the Towns and Bayliwicks of France being then in the possession of Dukes or Earls.

Les grands Baillis, ou Baillis de Province, the Bailiffs of Provinces, or of superiour Bayliwicks. Such are the Bailiffs of Dukes, Earls, and Marquesses. Called so in difference from those that belong to Viscounts, Barons, and Chatelains, which are inferior unto, and oftentimes depend on the other.

Les Baillis Royaux, the Bailiffs Royal. Which are now many, both by reason of the Reunion unto the Crown of the ancient Dukes and Earls Estates, and by new Erections. These, amongst other Prerogatives, challenge the entire Decision of Royal and privileged Causes.

Bailliage, (m.) Bayliwick, the jurisdiction (or Precinct) of a French Bailiff.

Droit de Bailliage, a Power to keep Assizes, or to have under him a Bailiff.

Baillif. See Bailiff.

† Baillive, (f.) the Wife of a Bailiff.

This Word is hardly used but in a burlesk sense, and in stead of it we commonly say la Femme du Bailiff.

Baillon } See { Baillon.
Bailloné }
Baillonner }

Bain, (m.) a washing Place; a Bath; a bathing Vessel; the bath, or act of bathing.

Le Bain est bon en cet endroit, here is a good washing Place.

Des Bains chauds, hot Baths.

Un beau Bain, a fine bathing Vessel.

Le Bain est bon pour la santé, the Bath is good for one's health.

Bain Marie, Mary's Bath.

Baignonnette. See Bayonnette.

Baisé, kissed, buffed; kissed, or enjoy'd.

Jamais je ne fus tant baisé, I never was so kissed.

Si l'on ne baise aux Enfers, n'esperez plus d'être baisé, if there be no kissing in Hell, you must not expect to be kissed anymore.

Baisemains, (m.) commendations, service, or respects.

Faites lui bien mes baisemains, present my hearty service (or respects) to him.

Vos baisemains ont été bien receus, your commendations (or respects) have been very well received.

† A belles baisemains, gladly, joyfully.

Baiser, to kiss, or buss; to kiss, or enjoy.

Baiser quécun à la bouche, to kiss one at the mouth. Le baiser de bon cœur, to kiss him from the heart, to kiss him savourily.

Il a fait tout ce qu'il a pu pour me baiser, he has done his best endeavours to kiss (or enjoy) me.

Baiser les mains à quécun, to kiss one's hands, to remember his respects to him. Je vous baise les mains, I kiss your hands.

Which words being seriously spoken, shew the respect one bears to another; if scornfully, they signifie as good as a refusal.

Se baiser, to kiss one another.

Ils se baissent avec une ardeur extreme, they kiss one another with an extream ardour.

Des Ais qui se baissent, cd. qui se touchent sans qu'il y ait rien entre deux, two Boards that lie close together.

Baiser, (a masc. Subst.) a kiss, a buss.

Donner, prendre, rendre un baiser, to give, take, and return a kiss.

Un baiser ardent, amoureux, a loving kiss.

Un baiser de Judas, a treacherous kiss.

Baïseur, (m.) a kissing man, a kisser.

Un grand Baïseur, a great Kisser.

Baïseuse, (f.) a kissing woman, a woman that loves to kiss and to be kissed.

† Baïseuse, to be always kissing.

Il ne fait que baïseuse, he is always kissing.

Baïse, down, let down, bowed down.

Aller la tête baïse, to hang down his head.

Or thus. As, aller au feu tête baïse, to run headlong upon the Enemy.

Baïse, to let down, to bow, or bow down.

As, baïse un Pont levis, to let down a Draw-bridge.

Baïse la tête, to bow (to bow down) the head.

Or thus. Un Chapeau qui baïse les bords, a Hat that flaps down.

La Mer hausse & baïse deux fois le jour, the Sea rises and falls twice a day.

Son Esprit baïse, ou diminue, his Wit decays.

Se baïse, to stoop.

La Porte de la Chambre est si petite, qu'il se faut baïse pour y entrer, the Door of his Chamber is so very little, that one cannot go in without stooping.

Baïse (f.) baïse de pain, the kissing crust.

Bal, (m.) a Ball, or solemn Dancing.

Aller au Bal, to go to the Ball. Ouvrir le Bal, to begin the Ball. Il y a aujourd'hui Bal au Louvre, there is a Ball to day at the Louver.

Balade, (f.) a Ballad.

Baladin, (m.) a great Dancer, one that is much given to dancing; a Fop, or silly man.

Balafre, (f.) a great cut (or slash) over the face.

Une vilaine balafre, an ugly cut.

On lui a fait une grande balafre sur la tête, il a reçu à la tête une grande balafre, he has got a great slash over the head.

Balafé, grievously cut, or slashed.

Il a le Visage tout balafé, his face is slashed all over.

Balafier quécun, to slash (or cut) one over the face.

Balai, (m.) a broom.

Un balai de bouleau, a birchen broom.

Un balai de joncs, a flag-broom.

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balaie } See { Balaie.
Balaier }
Balaieuse }
Balaieures }

Balance, (f.) ballance, a pair of ballances.

Tenir la balance egale, to hang the ballance even.

Tibere a tenu la balance, egale entre son Fils & Germanicus, Tiberius held the ballance even betwixt his Son and Germanicus.

Or thus. As, tout cela n'a pu emporter la balance, all that could not carry it.

Son esprit est en balance, his mind wavers, or is in suspense.

Mettre une chose en balance, to take a thing into deliberation, to consider of it.

See Balances.

Balance, ballanced.

Balancement, (m.) ballance.

Le flux & reflux de la Mer vient du ballancement que le Globe de la Terre a sur son Axe, the flux and reflux of the Sea proceeds from the steady ballance which the Terrestrial Globe hath upon its Axis.

Balancer, to weigh, examine, ponder, or consider; to boggle, waver, be floating, or be uncertain what to do; to beat up and down, to flie round.

Il balançoit en lui même tantôt son Avis, tantôt celui de ses Capitaines, sometimes he pondered his own Opinion, sometimes that of his Captains.

Balance le Chemin de tes piez, & que toutes tes Voies soient bien dressées (Prov. 4. 26.) ponder the Path of thy feet, and let all thy Ways be established.

Balancer entre la Crainte & le Desespoir, to be floating betwixt Hope and Despair. Je n'ai point balancé là dessus, I did not boggle at it.

Or thus. As, mon cœur ne balance point pour vous offrir l'Encens qui vous est deu, my heart is ever ready to offer you the Incense you deserve.

Le Cerf balance, the Stag beats up and down.

Se balancer, to swing.

Balances, (f.) ballance, weights, or scales; Libra, one of the twelve Celestial Signs.

Le fleau, la chaise, & les bassins des Balances, the beam, the handle, and the scales.

Balancier, (m.) a Ballance-maker; the ballance of a clock; the fluer of a Kitchen Jack.

Balancines, (f.) the Lifts, two small Cords belonging to the Spirit-jail of a Ship.

† Balandran, (m.) a great Cloak for foul weather; darkness.

Balaft, (m.) Terme de Mer. See Left, as the Word most in use.

Balay } See { Balai.
Balayé }
Balayer }

Balayé } See { Balai.
Balayer }

Balayer } See { Balai.
Balayer }

Balayer, (m.) a Sweeper; a Broom-man, one that sells brooms.

Balayeuse, (f.) a Woman that sweeps the Rooms; a Woman that makes or sells Brooms.

Balayures, (f.) Sweepings, the filth or dust that's swept out of a Room.

† Balbutier, to stammer. Say Begayer.

Balcon, (m.) balcony.

Bale, (f.) bullet, shot; a ball; to play with; a Printer's ball; a pack of merchandise; chaff.

Il eut la tête percée d'un coup de bale, he had his head shot through with a bullet. Bale ramée, a cross-bar shot.

Un Rimeur de bale, cd. un mechant Rimeur, a sorry Rimer.

Bien pousser une bale, to strike a ball right.

La bien juger, to take a right aim at it. La prendre au bond, to take it at its rebound.

Que ceux qui cherchent mon Ame soient comme de la bale exposée au Vent, & que l'Ange de l'Eternel les chasse ça & là (Ps. 35. 5.) let those that seek after my Soul be as chaff before the Wind, and let the Angel of the Lord chase them.

Baleine, or Balene, (f.) a Whale; a Whalebone.

But in the vulgar Translation of the Bible, and particularly Ps. 148. 7, what the French have turned Balene, the English have it by the name of Dragon, which is well known to be quite another Thing.

Vous de la Terre, louez l'Eternel, Balenes,

&c.

& tous les Abimes, Praise the Lord from the Earth, ye Dragons, and all Deep.
 †Baler, (from Bal) to dance.
 Balet, (m.) a kind of Dance; a sort of dramatick Poetry.
 Balié, swept.
 Balier, (from Balai) to sweep.
 Balieur, (m.) a Sweeper.
 Balieures. See Balayures.
 Balieuse, (f.) a Woman-sweeper.
 Balise, (f.) a Mark set up in a dangerous Place for the Direction of Sailors.
 Baliveau, (m.) a young Tree left in a Wood for Increase.
 †Balivernes, (f.) idle Tales, old Women's Tales.
 Je n'enten rien à toutes ces balivernes, I understand nothing of all these idle tales.

Ballade.	} See	Balade.
Bailliage.		Bailliage.
Ballié.		Balié.
Ballier.		Balier.
Ballieur.		Balieur.
Balieures.		Balieures.
Balieuse.		Balieuse.

Balon, (m.) from Bale, a Foot-ball.
 Balonnier, (m.) a maker of Foot-balls.
 Balot, (m.) a bale.
 As, un balot de drap, a bale of cloth.
 Faire un balot, to make up a bale. Le cor-der & plomber, to pack and to mark it.
 Balotade, (f.) a bouncing of a Horse, between two Posts.
 Balote, (f.) balot, a voting ball (such as those they use in the Senate of Venice.)
 Baloté, tossed (as a ball;) made a fool of.
 Baloter, to toss (as a ball;) to make a fool of.
 Balsamine, (f.) the balsam apple (whose oil doth close up wounds like balm.)
 Balsamique, balsamick.
 As, une Vertu balsamique, a balsamick Virtue.
 Le Sang doit avoir une qualité balsamique, pour distribuer à chaque partie du Corps la Nouriture dont elle a besoin, the Blood of living Creatures ought to have a balsamick quality, to distribute to all parts of the Body the Nourishment they want.
 Balsan, (m.) a Horse with a white Spot in his Leg.
 Balsane, (f.) a white Spot in an Horses Leg.
 Balustrade, (f.) balusters, balustring.
 Balustre, (m.) a little Pillar of what material soever, serving to make an Inclosure, as those Pillars ranked on the outside of Cloisters, Terraces, Galleries, &c; the balusters that environ the Beds of Kings and other Princes; a small twisted column to the back of a great Chair; the baluster-like work in a Key; a part of a Church-candlestick.
 Balzan } See { Balsan.
 Balzane } { Balsane.

Bamboche (f.) Marionette grande comme Nature, a Puppet as big as the Life.
 Ban, (m.) a Proclamation by Voice, or with sound of Trumpet; an Edict, or Ordinance published; the pleasure of a Lord proclaimed; a Prescription, Outlawry, or Banishment; a Fief, or Mannor, within the Territory whereof the Lord may cause Proclamations to be made; also as Banlieue.
 Ban de Mariage, ou Annonce suivant les Reformez, a bane of Matrimony.
 Ban de Vendanges, ou de Pressoir, a Proclamation for the beginning of Vintage (which is commonly appointed and limited by the publick Magistrature.)
 Ban de Four, ou de Moulin, the Royalty (or Privilege) of the Lord of the Mannor, whereby his Tenants and Vassals are bound to repair unto certain Mills and Ovens, and to pay him a fee for the Use thereof.
 Ban & Arriereban, a Proclamation, whereby all that hold their Lands of the Crown (except some privileged Officers and Citizens) are summoned to meet at a certain Place, in order to serve the King in his Wars, either personally themselves, or by proxy.
 Banal, that belongs to a Mannor.
 As, Four ou Moulin Banal, an Oven or Mill belonging to the Mannor (where every Tenant must bake and grind.)

Banalité, (f.) Terme de Coutume. See Banlieue.
 Banc, (m.) bench, form, or seat; a shelf in the Sea.
 S'asseoir sur un banc, to sit upon a bench.
 Il y a une infinité de bancs dans cette Mer, there is in that Sea a great number of shelves.
 Or thus. As, être sur les bancs, to stand out a dispute.
 Donner à travers quèque banc, to run a-ground.

Bandage, (m.) a Truss, worn by such as are hurt; a streak of a Cart-wheel.
 Bande, (f.) a swathing band, or fillet; an Iron-plate for a wheel; a bend, in Heraldry; a band, or company.
 Or thus. As, bande de faucilles, a link of scythes.
 Bande joyeuse, a merry Crue. La grande Bande de Violons, the great Set of Violins that play before the King.
 Faire bande à part, to leave the Company.

Amongst Seamen the word Bande is used for Latitude. As, Bande du Nord, ou du Sud, the North, or South Latitude.
 For Bandes, in the Plural Number, you will find the word Fringes, Numb. 15. 38; Host, Numb. 10. 23; Armies, Numb. 33. 1; Grave clothes, John 11. 44.

Déjà les Bandes Grecques avoient joint le Gros de son Armée, the Greek Forces were already come to the main Body of his Army.
 Bandé, bound; bent, &c. according to the Verb.

Les principaux Sénateurs étoient bandez contre lui, the chief Senators were bent against him.

Bandeau, (m.) a head-band; a plaster upon the forehead; a veil.

Le bandeau de l'Amour, the veil of Love.
 La Justice a un bandeau sur les Yeux, Justice hath a Veil over its eyes.

La Discorde leur avoit mis un bandeau fatal sur les yeux, Discord had put a fatal veil over their eyes.

†Bandelette, (f.) a little band, or string.
 Bander, to bind; to blindfold, Luke 22. 64; to wind, John 19. 40; to bend; to cock; to bandy, at Tennis; to stand (in a Venereal sense.)

Bander le bras, to bind the arm.

Bander une plaie, to bind a wound.

Bander un arc, to bend a bow.

Bander un fusil, to cock a gun.

Bander une bale, to bandy a ball.

Il commence à bander, he begins to stand.

Or thus. As, bander les yeux à un Criminel, to blindfold (or hoodwink) a Malefactor.

Bander les cordes d'un Lut, to string a Lute.

Il a bandé tout le monde contre son Enemi, he hath raised all the world against his Enemy.

Se bander (se soulever) contre quécun, to rise (bandy, or oppose himself) against one.

Pourquoi vous bandez vous contre la Verité? why do you withstand Truth?

†Banderet, (m.) the Master of a Ward in some good Towns.

Banderole, (f.) a streamer; the fringed piece of Silk that hangs on a Trumpet.

Bandi, or Bandit, (m.) an Italian Robber.

†Bandoulier, (m.) a Vagabond.

Bandouliere, (f.) bandoleer.

Bane, (f.) a Coal-basket, a kind of great maund, or open basket, wherein they bring Coals to Paris; a kind of Tile.

Baner, to cover with a bane.

Bani.	} See	Banni.
Baniere.		Banniere.
Banir.		Bannir.
Bannissement.		Bannissement.

Banlieue, (f.) the Jurisdiction (Precincts, or Liberties) of a Town.

Banni, (from Bannir) banished, exiled; banished, or excluded.

On croit qu'il sera banni, 'tis thought he will be banished.

Banniere, (f.) banner, standard.

Nous marcherons à bannière déployée au nom de notre Dieu, (Ps. 20. 6.) in the name of our God we will set up our banners.
 Puis partit la Bannière des Compagnies des Enfants d'Ephraïm, selon leurs Troupes, (Num. 10. 22.) and the Standard of the Camp of the Children of Ephraïm set forward, according to their Armies.

Bannir, (from Ban) to banish, to exile.

Bannir quécun, le punir de bannissement, to banish (to exile) one.

On l'a banni de la Compagnie des Dames, he is banished from the Lady's Company.

Bannissement, (m.) banishment, exile.

Banque, (f.) Bank.

Faire la banque, to keep a bank, or to be a Banker.

Mettre son Argent à la banque, to put out his Money into a Banker's hands.

Banqueroute, (f.) a breaking, or becoming bankrupt.

Il a fait banqueroute, he is broke.

Il a fait banqueroute de cent mille ecus, he broke for a hundred thousand crowns.

†Faire banqueroute à l'honneur, au plaisir, à l'amour, to forsake honour, pleasure, love.

Banqueroutier } a Bankrupt.
 Banqueroutiere }

Banquet, (m.) feast, or banquet; a Supper, Rev. 19. 17.

Les Banquet des Sept Sages, the Banquet of the Seven Wise Men of Greece.

Le Banquet de l'Agneau, the Feast of the Lamb.

Banquet (Terme d'Eperonnier) trou où tient l'embouchure, part of the cheek of a bit.

†Banqueter, to feast, to feast it.

In stead of banqueter, the French say now se regaler, faire un bon festin, faire un bon repas.

†Banqueteur, (m.) a Feaster.

Banquette, (f.) a raised Way (for Men on foot;) a bank behind a breast-work.

Banquier (m.) from Banque, a Banker.

Baptême.	} See	Batême.
Baptisé.		Batifié.
Baptiser.		Batifier.
Baptismal.		Batismal.
Baptistère.		Batistère.

Baquet, (m.) pail, or bucket; a small and shallow tub, such as are usually set under a Wine-vessel, to receive the droppings.

Baracan. See Barracan.

Baragouin, (m.) a strange kind of Dialect.

Je ne puis rien comprendre à ce baragouin, I cannot understand a word of that dialect.

†Baragouiner, to pronounce oddly.

Je ne me souvien jamais comme ils baragouinent ce Mot, I can never call to mind how oddly they pronounce that Word.

†Baragouineux, Baragouineuse, a Man, or Woman, that uses an odd kind of speech, not easie to be understood.

Baraque. See Barraque.

Barat, (m.) Terme de Mer, a Cheat, or Mismanagement of the Merchandises that lie in the Ship.

Barate, (f.) a Churn.

On remplit la barate de Crème, que l'on bat jusques à ce qu'il se fasse du beurre, they fill the Churn with Cream, and this they churn till it turns into butter.

Baraterie, as Barat.

Barbacane, or Ventouse, (f.) a Hole made in a Wall from space to space, thereby to drain the Water, especially where the Wall bears up a Terrace.

Barbare, barbarous, rude, uncivil, ignorant; barbarous, cruel, inhumane; barbarous, that does not speak well a Language; barbarous, that is not in use.

Un Peuple barbare, a barbarous People.

A-t-on jamais vu d'Action plus barbare? was there ever seen a more barbarous Act?

Être barbare en François, to be barbarous in French, to speak bad French.

Des Mots barbares, barbarous (or uncouth) Words.

Barbare, (a masc. Subst.) a barbarous Man, or Woman; a Barbarian.

Ce sont des barbares, they are a barbarous people.

Les Romains appelloient Barbares toutes les autres Nations, hormis les Grecs, & ceux qui vivoient selon leurs Loix, the Romans called Barbarians all other Nations, except the Greeks, and those that lived according to their Laws.

Barbarement, barbarously.

Il m'a traité tres barbarement, he has used me very barbarously.

Barbarie, (f.) barbarity, barbarousness; also Barbary, a famous Country of Africk.

Barbarisme, (m.) barbarism, a fault against the Use of a Language.

On fait un barbarisme en disant un Mot qui n'est pas François, en usant d'une Phrase qui est hors d'Usage, ou en oubliant des Particules, des Pronoms, & des Prepositions où elles sont nécessaires, we call that a barbarism, when a man uses a Word which is no French, or a Phrase that is not in use, or leaves out Particles, Pronouns, and Prepositions where the same should be used.

Barbe, (f.) beard; that part of the horse's nether-jaw whereon the curb doth rest; a swelling, or excrescency, under the tongue of a horse; the beams of a blazing star.

Une grande & vilaine barbe, a great and filthy beard. Barbe de bouc, ou de chevre, a goats beard. Barbe d'épi, the beard of an ear of corn.

Or thus, As, faire la barbe à quécun, to trim (shave, or barb) one; also, to affront him.

Faire tous les matins dix ou douze barbes, to trim every morning ten or twelve people. Se faire la barbe, to shave (to trim) himself.

† A ma barbe, ou en ma presence, before my face, or in my presence.

La barbe d'un Coc, a Cock's rattles, or waddles.

St. Barbe, the Gunner's Room in a ship.

Barbe, (m.) a Barbary Horse.

Barbeau (m.) forte de Poisson de Riviere, the barbel-fish; a kind of herb that grows amongst Corn.

Barbet (m.) chien qui va à l'Eau, & dont le poil est frisé, a Spaniel.

Barbette, (f.) a sort of Guimp that Nuns cover their breast with.

Barbeyer (Terme de Mer.) See Friser.

Barbier, (m.) Barber.

Barbier qui fait des Perruques, a Barber that makes Periwigs.

Barbier qui fait le Chirurgien, a Barber-Surgeon.

Il est glorieux comme un Barbier, (Prov.) he is as proud as a Barber.

Un Barbier rait l'autre, (Prov.) one Barber trims another, one Knave helps (or flatters) another.

Barbiere, (f.) a Barber's Wife.

Barbillon, ou petit barbeau, (m.) a little barbel-fish.

On appelle aussi Barbillon ce qui pend en forme de Mouftache, ou de Barbe, au bout & aux côtes de la bouche du Barbeau, & de quelques autres Poissons.

Les Barbillons (ou Barbes) d'un Cheval font des Croissances, ou Superfluités de Chair, qui viennent dans le Canal de la Bouche du Cheval, ed. dans cet Intervalle de la Bouche qui separe les Barres, & qui est sous la Langue.

Barbon, (m.) that hath a bushy beard.

Elle n'aime point les Barbons, she does not love a bushy beard, or a man with a bushy beard.

Barbote, (f.) Poisson de Lac & de Riviere, an Eel-pout.

Barboter, to muddle; to mumble.

Les Oies barbotent dans les Ruiffeaux, the Geese muddle.

† Il barbote je ne sai quoi entre ses dents, he mumbles I know not what between his teeth.

† Barboteur, (m.) a tame Duck.

Barbotine, ou poudre aux Vers, (f.) Worm-seed.

Barbouillage, (m.) course painting; a satirical Picture.

Tout cela n'est que du barbouillage, all that is but course painting, it is all but Dawbers Work.

Barbouillé, dawbed; confounded.

Barbouiller, to dawb; to confound.

Barbouiller le Visage à quécun, to dawb ones Face. Barbouiller le haut & le bas des Murailles d'une Chambre, to dawb the top and bottom of the Walls of a Room with some colour or other, to paint it but cursly.

† Se barbouiller l'esprit de Grec & de Latin, to confound his brains with Greek and Latin.

Or thus, As, barbouiller une feuille de papier, to foul (wast, spoil, confound) a sheet of paper, to write it foul.

Une Feuille qui barbouille, (en Termes d'Imprimeur) a Sheet that does not come off clear, the sides whereof are too black.

Barbouilleur, (m.) a Dawber, a paultry Writer.

C'est un barbouilleur de papier, un méchant Auteur, he is a great destroyer of paper, he is but a paultry Writer.

Barbu (from Barbe) bearded, full of beard, that has got a great beard.

Barbue (f.) Poisson qui ressemble au Turbot, a Fish by some called a Dab, or Sanding. 'Tis a kind of Turbot, or at least Turbot-like.

Bardache (m.) Bardachio, a Youth kept for Sodomy.

Bardane (f.) forte de Plante qui s'appelle autrement Glouteron, bur, clot-bur.

Barde, (f.) barbs, or trappings (for Horses of service, or shew;) a thin, but broad, slice of bacon (wherewith pullers, capons, &c. are sometimes covered, before they come to the spit.)

Bardé, barbed; covered with a slice of bacon.

Barder, to barb; to cover with a slice of bacon.

Bardot, (m.) a small Mule that carries the baggage.

Barge, (f.) a certain Fowl not unlike the Curlew.

† Barguigner, to haggle.

† Barguigneur } a Haggle.

† Barguigneuse } a Haggle.

Bari, ou Baril, (m.) a Rundlet, a small Cask.

Barillet, (m.) the barrel of a watch; a small rundlet.

Bariolé, speckled, marked with several colours.

Fèves bariolées, French beans, or Kidney beans.

Barnabites, (m.) a sort of Monks. So called from S. Barnaby's Church at Milan, the first they ever had.

The Word is commonly pronounced Bernabites.

Barometre, (m.) a Weather-glass.

Baron, (m.) a Baron.

Baronne, (f.) a Barones.

Baronnie, (f.) Barony.

Barque, (f.) a Bark, or great Boat.

Savoir bien conduire la barque, se favoir bien conduire, to know how to carry himself.

Barquette, (f.) a kind of Pastry-Work come from Languedoc.

Barracan, (m.) barracan (a Stuff so called.)

Barrage, m. (from Barre) a kind of Passage-roll.

Barraque, (f.) Hut, a Souldier's Hut in the Camp.

Barre, (f.) a Bar.

Barre de fer ou de bois, an iron or wooden bar.

Barre de Palais, the Bar of a Court of Judicature.

Barre, ou contre-bande traversant l'Ecu de gauche à droite, a bar, in a Coat of Arms.

Barre de muid (Terme de Tonnelier) a cross-bar on the head of a piece of Cask.

Barre, à l'entrée d'un Port ou d'une Riviere, a Bar. C'est un Amas de Sable, ou une Chaîne de Roches qui embarrassent tellement l'Entrée d'un Port, ou celle d'une Riviere, qu'on n'y peut passer que de haute Marée, ou par des Passes, ed. par des Ouvertures qui s'y rencontrent quelquefois par Intervalle.

Or thus. As, la barre du Gouvernail, the whip-staff of the Helm.

Barre de panier, a stick at the bottom of a basket.

Barres, Terme de Marechal, part of a Horses nether-jaw.

Barres, forte de Jeu, the Barriers, a martial sport.

Or thus. As, Ex. 25. 13. Tu feras aussi des barres de bois de Sittim, & les couvriras d'or, thou shalt make also staves of Shittim wood, and overlay them with gold.

Les barres des Etables (Judg. 5. 16.) the sheepfolds.

Barre, barred, stout with a bar.

Barreau, (m.) a little Iron-bar; the Bar without which Advocates (or Counsellours) do plead; a Court of Judicature.

Gens de barreau, Lawyers.

Frequenter le barreau, to be frequent at the bar, to be often hearing (or pleading) of Causes.

Barrer, to bar, to stout with a bar.

Barres. See Barre.

Barricade, (f.) barricado, any kind of sudden Defence to keep off an Enemy.

Barricadé, barricadoed.

Barricader, to barricado.

Se barricader, to barricado themselves.

Barriere, (f.) a rail; an obstacle, let, or hindrance.

Barriere de Sergent, a publick Place, where Bailiffs are to be found.

Les Barrieres des Pais bas, the Barriers of the Low Countries. Rompre les barrieres, to break the barriers.

Barril. See Baril.

Barrique, (f.) a French Barrel (which is something bigger than an English Barrel.)

Bas, basse, low, lower, lowest; shallow; mean, pitiful; base, or sordid.

Une Chambre basse, a low Room. Une Maison basse, a low House. Un Homme de basse taille, a Man of a low stature, a short man.

Un son bas, a low sound. Une Voix basse, a low Voice.

Un homme de bas Lieu, de basse condition, a Man of low Extraction, or of mean condition. Tant ceux de bas etat que les riches (Ps. 49. 3.) both low and high.

La Marée est basse, 'tis low Water.

Le bas Languedoc, the lower Languedoc. La basse Normandie, the lower Normandy. La basse Region de l'Air, the lower Region of the Air.

Les bas Lieux de la Terre (Ps. 139. 15.) les Parties les plus basses de la Terre, the lowest Parts of the Earth.

Une Riviere basse, a shallow River.

Un esprit bas, un petit genie, a shallow wit, a mean wit. Des pensées basses, mean thoughts, poor (pitiful) notions.

Une Ame basse & mercenaire, a base and mercenary Soul. Une basse Complaisance, a sordid Complaisance. Prenez garde de rien faire de bas, take heed you do no base thing.

Or thus. Acheter une chose à bas prix, to buy a thing very cheap, (that is) at a low rate.

Faire main basse, to put all to the sword, to make an universal slaughter.

Les basses Cartes, all Cards that are not Court-cards.

Une basse Cour, a base Court; an Inner Yard, or Barton (wherein Poultry is or may be kept.) Les basses fosses, a Dungeon.

Maître des basses Oeuvres, a Tom-turd.

Bas fond, fond où il y a peu d'Eau, a shallow. Vaissseau de bas bord, a low-built ship, a small ship. See Basbord.

Les basses Voiles, ed. la grand' Voile & celle de Misaine, the main and the mixzen Sails.

Bas Relief. See Relief.

Bas (a masc. Subst.) stocking; bottom.

As, des bas de soie, de laine, d'estame, & de fil, silk, woollen, woofed, and thread stockings. Des bas à l'etrier, ou des chaufsettes, stirrup stockings. Mettre ses bas, to put his stockings on.

Le bas d'une Montagne, the bottom of an Hill.

Il y avoit au bas de vôtre Lettre trois Ecritures.

tures différentes, at the bottom of your Letter there were three several Hands.
Or thus. As, il avoit un Devoiment par haut & par bas, he had both a looseness and vomiting, he voided upwards and downwards.

Les Bas d'un Vaisseau, cd. les Parties qui sont sous le Pont d'en haut, the Parts of the Ship which are under Deck.

Bas, (Adv.) down; low; softly.

As, jeter bas les armes, to lay down his arms. Sa Maladie l'a bien mis bas, his fit of Sickness has cast him down very much.

Il est bien bas, he is very low. Il parle trop bas, he speaks too low. Lequel a eu souvenance de nous, lors que nous étions bien bas (Ps. 136. 23.) Who remembered us in our low estate.

Parler tout bas, to speak softly. Dites lui tout bas qu'il s'en aille, bid him softly to go away.

Or thus. As, mettre bas, faire des petits, to bring forth.

Il y avoit déjà deux Tours à bas, there were already two Towers upon the ground. Voilà le Marquisat à bas, now there's his Marquisship gone.

Vin qui est au bas, où il n'y a presque plus que de la lie, low-running Wine, the tiltings (dregs, or bottoms) of low-running Wine.

En bas, below.

Bafane, (f.) a sheep-skin tanned.

Un Livre couvert de bafane, a Book bound in sheep-skin.

Bafané, tanned, sun-burnt, of a swarthy complexion.

† Les Troupes bafanées, the Spaniards.

Basbord (m.) le Côté du Vaisseau qui est à main gauche, en allant de la Poupe à la Prouë, Larboard, the Larboard of a Ship.

Bascule, (m.) a Device so held up in the middle upon an Ax, that when a thing is laid upon one side, the other rises.

Base, (f.) basis, or foot of a Pillar; basis, ground, foundation.

Basilic, (m.) Basilisk, Cockatrice (a kind of Dragon); the plant called sweet Basil.

Basilique, basilical.

As, la Veine basilique, the basilical Vein.

Basilique, (a fem. Subst.) a great Hall where Justice was administered; a Temple, or Church, of old.

Basin (m.) forte d'Etoffe, Dimitty.

Basfoche, (f.) the Jurisdiction of Lawyers Clarks in the Palace of Paris, having among them a King and their peculiar Laws; Revel, or Misrule.

Le Roi de la Basfoche, the Master of Misrule, or chief Man among the Clarks, when they make their shows.

Basfochien (m.) Clerc de la Basfoche, a Lawyers Clark; a Reveller.

Basque, (f.) skirt.

As, basque de pourpoint, the skirt of a doublet.

Basque, (m.) a Biscayan, one that dwells or was born in Biscay, or about Bayonne near Biscay.

Un Tour de Basque, a clever trick, a leger-demain.

Aller du pié comme un Basque, to be swift-footed.

Bassa, (m.) a Bashaw, a Turkish Bashaw, or chief Governour.

Basse, the feminine Gender of Bas. See Bas.

Basse, (a fem. Subst.) the base, in Musick; he that sings (or bears) it; a shallow in the Sea.

Il nous faudra trois Voix, un dessus, une haute contre, & une basse, we shall want three Voices, a treble, a tenor, and a base.

La Basse, l'Instrument de Musique qui fait la basse, the base Viol. Toucher la basse, to play upon the base Viol.

Basse contre, (f.) Terme de Musique, Counter-Tenor.

Basseffe, (f.) meanness; a base (or unworthy) action.

Il a trop de sincérité pour nier la basseffe de sa naissance, he hath too much ingenuity to deny the meanness of his birth.

Faire des basseffes, to do base (or unworthy) things.

Or thus. As, faire une basseffe, s'abaisser trop, to debase (or prostitute) himself, to humble himself too much.

Le Vers se sent toujours des basseffes du Cœur, from a mean Soul there can spring but mean Verses.

Quoi que vous écriviez, évitez la basseffe, whatever you write, avoid a poorness of style.

Basset (m.) Chien propre pour chasser en terre, a Terrier Dog.

Bassiere. See Bessiere.

Bassin, (m.) a basin, to wash in; the vase of a Fountain; the pan of a close-stool; a scale of a ballance.

Moab sera le Bassin où je me laverai, (Ps. 108. 10.) Moab shall be my Wash-pot.

† Cracher au Bassin. See Cracher.

Notez qu'on appelle aussi Bassin (en Termes de marine) un petit Port particulier pratiqué dans un plus grand, soit pour la Commodité du Radoub, soit parce que le Fond ou l'Abri y font meilleurs.

Bassine, (f.) a wide and deep Pan (used by Confectioners, Chymists, and Apothecaries.)

Bassiné, warmed; bathed.

Bassiner, to warm (with a warming pan.) As, bassiner un Lit, to warm a Bed.

Or thus. Bassiner une Plaie, to bathe a Wound.

Bassinet, (m.) crow-foot; the pan (fire-pan, or touch-pan) of a Gun.

Bassinoire, (f.) a warming-pan.

Basson, (m.) a kind of musical Instrument.

Bast. See Bât.

† Bastant, sufficient.

Bastard

Bastarde

Bastardeau

Bastardiere

Bastardise

† Baste, well, well enough, let it be.

Baste, (m.) Terme de Jeu d'Ombre, the ace of Clubs.

Basteleur

Basti

Bastiment

Bastion, (m) a Bastion.

Attaquer, prendre un bastion, to attack, to take a bastion.

Bastir

Baston

† Bastonnable, qui merite des coups de bâton, that deserves to be cudgelled.

Bastonnade, (f.) a bastinado, or cudgelling.

† Bastonné, (from Bastonner) cudgelled.

Bastonnée d'Eau, la quantité d'Eau que l'on puise à la Pompe chaque fois que la brimbale joue, the quantity of Water that comes out of a Pump every time she plays.

† Bastonner, to cudgel.

Bât, (m.) pack-saddle, pannel.

Bataille, (f.) battel, fight; battel, Forces ready to fight; battalia, or fighting posture; Army, 1 Sam. 4. 12.

Presenter la bataille à l'Enemi, to offer battle to the Enemy. Livrer (donner) bataille, to give battle.

Mettre, (ranger) une Armée en bataille, to draw an Army in battalia.

Bataille rangée, an Army in battalia. Marcher en bataille avec le Bagage au milieu, to march in battalia with the Baggage in the middle.

Or thus. As, gagner la bataille, to get the day, to get the victory. Perdre la bataille, to lose the field, or the victory. Cheval de bataille, a War-horse.

† Batailler, to fight, strive, labour, or contend.

Ne bataillons point contre Dieu, (Acts 23. 9.) let us not fight against God.

Nous monterons & bataillerons, (Deut. 1. 41.) we will go up & fight.

Bataillon, (m.) Battalion, a Body of Infantry ready for fighting.

Tête & front, ailes & flancs de Bataillon, the head and front, the wings and flanks of a Battalion.

Enfonser un Bataillon, to break through a Battalion. Le rompre, le renverser, to rout it.

Rompre un Bataillon, le remettre par Compagnie pour le faire defiler, to break a Battalion, to reduce it into Companies in order to a March.

Batant, (a Particip. of Batre) beating.

As fortir Tambour batant, to come out Drum beating.

† Je ne suis point batant, de peur d'être battu, I don't care to beat, for fear of being beaten.

Batant, (a masc. Subst.) bell-clapper; a batant, the piece of wood that runs all along upon the edge of the lock-side of a Door or Window.

Une Porte à deux batans, a folding (or two leaved) Door.

Batant de Pavillon sur Mer, c'est la longueur du Pavillon, qui voltige en l'Air.

Bâtard, m. Bâtarde, f. Bastard, the brood of a Whore.

Bâtarde, troisième sorte de piece d'Artillerie du Calibre de France, demi-cannon, or demi-culverin.

Bâtard, (Adj.) bastard, false.

As, Pleuresie bâtarde, bastard Pleurisy.

Lettre bâtarde, a bastard hand.

On appelle aussi Bâtarde (en Termes de Mer) la plus grande des Voiles d'une Galere; qui ne se porte que lors qu'il y a peu de Vent, parce que de Vent frais les Voiles ordinaires suffisent.

Bâtardeau, (m.) a Dam, or Water-stop (made of Piles, &c.)

Bâtardiere, (f.) Plan confus d'Arbres entez & à enter, a Seed-plot, a Nursery, (a place where young Trees are set to be afterwards removed.)

Bâtardise, (f.) bastardy.

Droit de bâtardise, the succession of Bastards, that which falls to the King by the Death of a Bastard.

Bate, (f.) a rammer; a Dawbers beater; the Instrument wherewith earthen Floors are settled, and beaten level; a small sloping Bench whereon the Washer-women soap and beat their Linnen; the bolster of a Saddle.

Bate à beuf, a great Club wherewith Butchers beat Oxen and Calves after they are killed.

Bate à beurre, a Churn-staff.

Bâté, (from Bâter) saddled with a pack-saddle.

Bateau, (m.) Boat.

Batelet, (m.) a little Boat.

Bateleur, (m.) Juggler, Puppet-player, Jack-pudding.

Batelier, m. (from Bateau) a Waterman.

Batême, (m.) baptism.

Les Reformez n'ont que deux Sacremens, le Batême & la Sainte Cene, the Protestants have but two Sacraments, the Baptism, and the Lord's Supper.

Donner (conferer) le Batême, to confer the Baptism. Recevoir le batême, to be baptised.

Batême du Tropique, ou de la Ligne, the Ducking of one at Sea.

C'est une Ceremonie, dit Mr. Guillet, profane & ridicule; mais d'un Usage inviolable parmi les Gens de l'Equipage, qui la pratiquent indispensablement dans la Route des Indes Orientales, sur ceux qui pour la première fois de leur Vie vont passer le Tropique, ou la Ligne. Chaque Nation la pratique diversément, & même les Equipages d'une même Nation l'exercent en différentes manieres. Voici une de plus communes parmi les Equipages François.

Pour Preparatif, on range sur le Tillac, tant à Stribord qu'à Basbord, des Baïlles pleines d'Eau de la Mer, & bordées par les Matelots rangez en deux haies, chacun un Seat à la main. Le Maître Valet vient au pié du grand Mât, le Visage barbouillé, le Corps revetu de Cordage roulé tout autour, & suivi de cinq ou six Matelots equipez de même. Il tient entre ses mains quelque Livre de Marine, pour représenter le Livre des Evangiles; & d'ordinaire c'est l'Hydrographie du Pere Fournier, ou le Flambeau de la Navigation, ou bien le Journal du Pilote.

Celui qui doit être baptisé se vient mettre à genoux devant le Maître Valet; qui, lui faisant mettre la main sur ce prétendu Evangile, l'oblige à jurer solennellement & de bonne foi, que que tout autant de fois qu'il se présentera une Occasion de baptiser d'autres gens, il exercera sur eux les mêmes Ceremonies qu'on va exercer sur lui, sans qu'il lui vienne jamais dans la pensée de les exenter.

Après avoir fait ce Serment, l'Homme qui doit être baptisé se leve; & marchant vers l'Avant du Vaisseau entre les Rangs des Bâilles & des Gens de l'Equipage qui l'attendent avec des Seaux tout pleins, il effuse cet Orage, & reçoit ainsi le Batême.

Batement, (m.) from Batre, a beating, or clapping.

As, batement de cœur, a beating of the heart.

Batement d'artere, a beating of the artery.

Un frequent batement de mains, a frequent clapping of the hands.

Un batement de piez & de mains, a stamping with the feet and clapping of hands.

Batement des piez (Judg. 5. 22.) prancings.

Bâter (from Bât) to saddle with a pack-saddle.

Batterie (f.) from Batre, battery; a platform for a battery; a fighting; the battery of a gun; a particular way of playing upon the Guitar, or of beating the Drum; Kitchin-tackling.

Mettre le Canon en batterie, to level the Cannon for a battery.

Batterie bien ou mal servie, a Battery well or ill managed.

La Batterie fait peu d'effet, the Battery doth little execution.

Il y a presque toujours dans cette Rue quelque Batterie, this Street is seldom free from Fighting, there is most an end some body or other fighting.

† J'ai préparé une bonne batterie pour renverser ce Desein ridicule, I have prepared a good battery to overthrow that ridiculous Design.

Je vai dresser une autre batterie, I will set up another battery.

Bateur, (m.) Beater; Thresher.

As, Bateur d'or, a Gold-beater.

Bateur de Blé, a Thresher of Corn.

Or thus. Un Bateur de pavé, an idle Fellow, one that hates business and loves to walk in the streets.

Bateurs d'Estrade, Cavaliers detachez pour reconnoître le Pais, Scouts.

† Bateur, d'humour, a batre, querelleux (as 1 Tim. 3. 3.) a striker.

Bateuse d'or, (f.) a Woman Gold-beater.

Bâti (from Bâtir) built, or contrived.

Une Maison bien bâtie, a well-built House, a well-contrived House. Une Maison mal bâtie, an ill contrived House.

Un homme mal bâti, ou mal fait, an ill shaped man.

Bâtier (from Bât) m. a Maker (or Seller) of Pack-saddles; a silly fellow.

Bâtiment (m.) from Bâtir, a Building; a Ship, or Vessel.

Un superbe Bâtiment, a stately Building.

Un chetif Bâtiment, a sorry Building.

Un Bâtiment bien percé; bien éclairé, a lightfom Building, a Building that has light enough.

Bâtir, to build, to build up; to build, or depend on.

As, bâtir un Palais, to build a Palace.

Quand on bâtit sur la Fortune, on bâtit sur le Sable, he that builds on Fortune builds upon Sand.

Bâtir, coudre à grands points, to make long stitches.

Baptisé, baptised, christened.

Baptiser (from Batême) to baptize, to christen.

Baptiser (benir) une Cloche, to christen a Bell.

† Baptiser son vin, mettre bien de l'eau dans son vin, to put a great deal of water in his wine.

Baptifmal, baptismal, of (or belonging to) baptism.

† Baptifteur (from Bâtir) a Builder.

As, c'est un grand Baptifteur, he is a great Builder.

Baptiste, (m.) Baptist.

As, Jean Baptiste, John the Baptist.

Baptistere, (m.) the Church-book, wherein Christnings are recorded.

Baptistere (Adj.) qui fait foi qu'on a été baptisé, got out of the Church-book.

Extrait Baptistere, a Certificate out of the Church-book.

Batoir (m.) from Batre, a Laundresse's beating-staff; a goff-stick.

Bâton, (m.) a stick, or staff, to walk with; a stick, club, or cudgel; a pole of a Chair.

S'appuyer sur un bâton, to lean upon a stick.

Donner un coup de bâton à quécun, to give one a blow with a stick, to strike one with a stick.

Bâton à deux bouts, ou ferré par les deux bouts, a quarter-staff. Bâton à gans, a glove-stick.

Bâton de Jacob, Jacobs staff, a kind of Mathematical Instrument; a jugler's stick, used for their jugling Tricks.

Bâton de cire, a stick of wax.

Bâton de Marechal de France, a Marshal's staff.

Bâton d'Exemt, an Exemts staff.

Le tour du bâton, by-gains, or by-profits (a cunning way of getting, or of bringing grist to his Mill in the management of a Place or Business.)

† Ce sera mon bâton de Vieillesse, that will be a great help to me in my Old age.

Il appela aussi la Famine pour venir sur la Terre, & rompit tout le bâton du pain (Ps. 105. 16.) moreover he called for a Famine upon the Land, and brake the whole staff of bread.

† Tirer au court bâton avec quécun, to contend (or to strive) with one.

Dormir à bâtons rompus, mal dormir, to sleep scurvily.

Je suis sur cette matiere tres assure de mon bâton, cd. je suis seur de mon fait, ou certain de ce que je dis, I am certain of it.

† Dormir à bâtons rompus, cd. mal dormir, to sleep short sleeps, to sleep unquietly.

Batre, to beat, or strike; to batter; to coin; to thresh; to churn; to shuffle; to clap; to pant.

Batre cruellement une personne, la battre dos & ventre, to beat one cruelly.

Batre un Livre, to beat a Book. Batre une femme de cuir, to beat a leather sole.

Batre la caisse, to beat the drum. Batre la marche, to beat the march.

Batre au Champ, battre pour marcher où l'on est commandé, to beat for a march, or expedition.

Batre des œufs, to beat eggs. Batre les chemins, to beat the way.

Batre le fer tandis qu'il est chaud, to beat (or strike) the Iron whilst 'tis hot.

Batre la mesure, to beat the time.

Le Soleil battoit à plomb sur la Terre, the Sun did beat perpendicular upon the Ground.

Les Arteres & les Veines batent sans cesse, the Arteries and Veins beat continually.

Le cœur bat étant hors du corps de l'Animal, the heart beats when 'tis out of the Body.

Batre une Ville, to batter a Town. Ils nous en ont souvent batu les oreilles, they have often battered our ears (our ears have often rung again) with it.

Batre la monnoie, to coin money. Batre le blé, to thresh corn.

Batre le beurre, to churn butter. Batre les cartes, to shuffle the cards.

Batre des mains, to clap his hands together.

Confessez que le cœur vous bat, cd. que vous tremblez, ou que vous avez quelque peur, you cannot deny but that your heart pants, or but that you are in some fear.

Or thus. As, battre l'estrade, to make excursions into the Enemy's Country, to be sent out to make a discovery, &c.

† Batre le pavé, to be idle, to run up and down the Streets, rather than employ himself at home.

Se battre, to fight.

As, se battre en Duel, to fight a Duel.

Se battre vaillamment, to fight stoutly.

Se faire battre, to cause himself to be beaten.

Battant

Batte

Battement

Batterie

Batteur

Batant.

Bate.

Batement.

Baterie.

Bateur.

Batteuse }
Battoir }
Battre } See { Bateuse.
Battu } { Batoir.
† Batture } { Batre.
 } { Batu.
 } { † Batture.

Batu, beaten; battered, &c. according to the Verb Batre.

Nos Troupes ont été batues, our Forces have been beaten. Un Chemin batu, a beaten Way.

Or thus. La Ville étoit batue des flots de tous côtez, the Waves did beat upon the Town on all sides of it.

Autant vaut être bien batu que mal batu, over shoes over boots.

Batu (Subst.) As, le batu paye l'amende, (Prov.) Justice is not done to the Party abused, he that should be protected is punished.

† Batture, (f.) stripe; as 2 Cor. 6. 5; wound, Prov. 23. 29; scourging, Heb. 11. 30. But Batture is used by Seamen, in the same sense as Brisant. Therefore see Brisant.

† Bavard, (m.) an idle Babler, a prating silly Fellow.

Baudet, (m.) an Ass.

Baudets, Treteaux sur quoi les Scieurs de long posent leur bois pour le debiter, the blocks upon which Sawers lay the Wood to be sawed.

Baudrier, (m.) a belt, a long belt, a shoulder belt; a girdle, as Ex. 28. 4.

Baudrier à franges, a fringed belt. Baudrier tout en broderie, an imbroidered belt.

Bave, (f.) foam, slaver, spittle, 1 Sam. 21. 13.

Baver, to foam; to slaver; to be fluxed.

Il bave en parlant, he foams at the mouth when he speaks.

Bavette, (f.) a bib.

Baveux, foaming, or slabbering.

Baveuse, (f.) a kind of Sea-fish, brown, and speckled upon the back. A Fish so called in French, because she covers her self with her own foam.

Bauge (f.) Lieu où les Bêtes noires se couchent & demeurent le Jour, the Place where a wild Boar lies in the day-time.

Bauge, Maçonnerie qui se fait avec de la terre franche, & de la paille bien corroyée, & bien pètrie, a kind of Mortar made of clay and straw.

Baume, (m.) balsam; balm, or balm-mint.

Bavolet, (m.) a head-attire (much worn by the Country-women about Paris.) 'Tis made of linnen, and hangs like a Tail of Stock-fish upon the shoulder.

Baux, the Plural of Bail, Leases; the beams (or floor-timbers) of a Ship.

Bay } See { Bai.
Baye } See { Baie.

Bayonnette, (f.) a Dagger, or a knife dagger-like, such as the Dragoons wear.

Bazane, as Bafane.

Beant, open, wide open.

As, à bouche beante, with a mouth wide open.

† Beat, an holy man, a good man, a happy man.

Beatification, (f.) beatification.

Beatifié, beatify'd, made blessed.

Beatifier, to beatify, to make blessed.

Beatifique, beatifical, or beatifick.

Des Visions beatifiques, beatifick Visions.

Beatilles, (f.) dainty bits (such as cock's combs, sweet-breads, &c.) usually made into Pies.

Beatitude (f.) Terme de Theologie, beatitude, blis, happiness, blessedness.

Beau, or Bel (and for the feminine Gender) belle, fine, pretty, neat, delicate, beautiful, handsome; fine, handsome, decent, or seemly; fine, delicate, pleasant, or curious; fine, or happy.

Un beau Cheval, a fine Horse. De beau blé, fine corn. Un beau Roman, a fine Romance.

Un bel Enfant, a fine Child. Un bel Homme, a pretty (a handsome) Man, a fine comely comely Man. Un bel Esprit, a fine Wit. Une belle Femme, a fine (handsom, beautiful, or delicate) Woman. Une belle Maison, a fine House, a neat House. Cela n'est ni beau ni honnête, that is neither handsom nor honest. Voila qui est beau, vous lever à midi, you are a fine man indeed, to rise at noon. Une belle Prieure, fine (delicate, pleasant, or curious) Fields. Voila un beau Commencement, that's a fine Beginning. Il est beau de mourir Maître de l'Univers, 'tis a fine thing to die a Master of the Universe.

Or thus: As, faire beau semblant à quécun, to keep fair with one. Il l'a trahi sous un beau semblant d'amitié, he betray'd him under a fair pretence of friendship. Beau pere, Father-in-law. Belle mere, Mother-in-law. Beau fils, Son-in-law. Beau frere, Brother-in-law. Belle sœur, Sister-in-law.

Le beau monde, the fine Folks, the Gentry, the Gallants, the gay Men of the World. Cela n'est pas du beau style, that is not proper for an elegant style.

Payer quécun à beaux deniers contans, to pay one ready money. Il lui arracha l'oreille à belles dents, he bit his ear off cleverly.

Beau (a masc. Subst.) As, joindre ensemble le beau & l'effroyable, to join together the fair and the foul.

Le beau des Images est de représenter la Chose comme elle s'est passée, the excellency of Pictures is to make a true Representation of Things.

Il fait beau, or il fait beau tems, 'tis fine weather. Il fait beau se promener, 'tis fine walking. Fait il pas beau voir ces Coquins faire les Seigneurs? is it not a fine thing to see those Rogues prank it and domineer?

Tu as beau dire, je le veux, say what you will, I will have it so. Il a beau faire, il n'en viendra pas à bout, let him do his worst, he shall never compass it.

J'ai beau me tuer de peine pour son service, il ne m'en fait point de gré, though I confound my self for his service, yet he regards me not in the least. J'ai beau l'attendre, il ne viendra pas, it is to no purpose for me to stay for him, he will not come. On a beau chasser le chagrin, il revient toujours, drive away sorrow never so much, it will come again.

Tout beau, tout beau, fair and softly, not too fast; hold there hoe. Tout beau, ne parlez pas si haut, softly, don't speak so loud. Tout beau, ne vous fâchez pas, peace, peace, be not angry.

Lastly, 'tis to be observed, that Bel (and not Beau) is used before masculine Substantives that begin with a Vowel; as you may see by the former Examples. See Belle.

Beaucoup, much, a great deal; many.

As, c'est un Plaisir beaucoup plus grand, 'tis a much greater pleasure. Je suis beaucoup plus fort que lui, I am a great deal stronger than he.

Avec beaucoup de contentement, with much content, with a great deal of satisfaction.

Beaucoup plus, beaucoup davantage, much more, a great deal more.

Nous sommes beaucoup de gens, we are a great many. Beaucoup de fois, many a time, several times.

Or thus. Il s'en faut beaucoup que votre Affaire ne soit achevée, your Business is far from being ended.

Tu n'es pas à beaucoup près si beau que ton frere, thou art nothing near so handsom as thy brother.

Beaupré, (m.) the Bolt-sprit.

Voile de Beaupré, the Sprit-sail of a ship. Le Beaupré est un Mât, qui est couché sur l'Epéron à la Proue des Vaisseaux.

Beauté, (f.) beauty, fineness, prettiness, handsomness; beauty, pleasantness, fineness, curiousness, or excellency; a beauty, or charming Object.

Beauté d'homme, ou de femme, a man's or woman's beauty. Un Enfant d'une vraie beauté, a Child of a real beauty.

C'etoit une belle Fille, & cela paroïssoit d'autant plus qu'il n'y avoit rien qui contribuât à relever sa beauté, she was a handsome Virgin, and so much the more handsome, because she had nothing to set off her beauty.

La Beauté est une juste Proportion des Parties, accompagnée d'une Couleur agreable & de la Grace, Beauty is nothing but a just Proportion of the Parts, with a good Complexion, and a decent Carriage.

La Beauté est l'Image du Paradis, & la Laideur l'Image des Enfers, Beauty is the Image of Paradise, and Ugliness the Image of Hell.

Il n'est point de beauté plus achevée que la sienne, there is no greater beauty.

Ses mains sont de la dernière beauté, her hands are extream beautiful, her hands are incomparable.

La beauté de la Vertu n'est pas de celles qu'un petit Accident efface, qu'une Maladie fletit, & que la Vieillesse détruit; sa beauté est hors des atteintes de tous ces Maux, toujours florissante, toujours charmante, toujours aimable & adorable, the beauty of Virtue is none of those which a little Mischance disfigures, a Disease spoils, or old Age defaces; her beauty is beyond the reach of all these Evils, always flourishing, always charming, always amiable and adorable.

La beauté de la Campagne, the beauty (the pleasantness) of the Country. La beauté de l'esprit, the fineness (or excellency) of wit. Les beautés d'une Langue, the beauties (or the elegancies) of a Language.

La Beauté que j'aime est une Beauté achevée, the Beauty I love is a compleat Beauty.

Bec, (m.) bill, the bill of a Bird.

As, l'Aigle a le bec noir, long, & crochu, the bill of an Eagle is black; long, and crooked.

Or thus. As, Gen. 8. 11. la Colombe rapporta dans son bec une feuille d'Olivier verd, qu'elle avoit arrachée, the Dove brought in her mouth an Olive-leaf pluckt off.

Le bec de certains Poissons, the sharp Mouth of some Fishes.

Les Saumons ont le bec plus pointu que les Truites, a Salmon hath a mouth sharper than a Trout.

Bec d'Eguiere, le petit conduit par où coule l'eau de l'Eguiere, the gullet of an Ewer.

Bec de plume, the nib of a pen. Bec de lampe, the socket of a lamp. Bec d'Ane, a Carpenter's (Cartwright's, and Joiner's) Tool.

Bec de Corbin, a Pensioner's Halbert, or Poll-ax.

Le Roi de France a 200. Gentilshommes au bec de Corbin, qui marchent aux Jours de Ceremonie deux à deux devant le Roi, the King of France hath 200 Gentlemen Pensioners, who go two and two before him upon Days of Solemnity.

Bec de lievre, a hare-lip, an upper-lip cleft up to the nose.

Bec cornu, a Sor.

Bec jaune. See Bejaune.

On lui a fait le bec, on l'a instruit, on lui a dit ce qu'il devoit dire ou faire, he was prepared, he was taught beforehand what he should say or do.

On lui a tenu le bec en l'eau, on l'a amusé & entretenu, he has been amused, or plaid the fool withal.

† Avoir du bec, to be talkative, to be a prattler.

Quand ma Muse est échauffée, elle n'a pas tant mauvais bec, when my Muse is once warm, she is pretty scarp.

Il fit sortir de son divin bec telles & semblables paroles, he dropt out of his divine mouth such and such words.

Passer à quécun la plume par le bec, to baffle one, to abuse him.

Un tour de bec, a kiss. Un coup de bec, a nipping Jest.

† Qu'il est heureux de baiser ce bec amoureux, how happy he is to kiss those amorous lips. Mon pauvre petit bec, tu le peux si tu veux, my poor little one, 'tis in thy power to do it if thou wilt.

Becafigue. See Becfigue.

Becard, (m.) femelle de Saumon, the female Salmon.

Becasse, (f.) a Woodcock; the Sea-py; a kind of fish; a Mistress, or Woman which one hath a love for.

Becassine, (f.) a snipe.

Becfigue, (f.) the gnat-snapper, or fig-eater.

Beche, (f.) Outil de Jardinier, a Spade.

Bêché, broke with a spade.

Bêcher, to break the ground with a spade.

Becquée } See { Bequée.

Becqueter } See { Bequeter.

† Bedaine, (f.) a fat Guts, or Gorbelly.

Bedaute, or (rather) Bedeau, m. an Usher in an University.

Bedon, (m.) sorte de petit Tambour, a Tabret, or little Drum.

Beellement } See { Bèlement.

Beeller } See { Bêler.

† Bêlé, baffled.

† Bêler, to baffle.

Befroi, (m.) Belfrey; an Alarm-bell.

Begaiment, (m.) a lipping.

Begayer, to lisp.

Begu. On appelle Begu un Cheval qui depuis l'âge de cinq ans jusqu'à sa vieillesse marque naturellement & sans artifice à toutes les Dents de devant, & y conserve ce creux ou petit Enfoncement, avec un Marque noire qu'on appelle Germe de fève. De forte qu'à 12 ou 15 ans, il paroît avec les Marques d'un Cheval qui n'en a pas encore six.

Begue, qui begaye, that lisps.

Beguine, (m.) Coiffe d'Enfant, a Biggin.

Beguines, (f.) So they called once a sort of religious Women. But now this Word is only used, to express an hypocritical Woman.

† Bejaune, (m.) ignorance, silliness.

Je lui ferai voir son bejaune, I shall shew him his ignorance, or his silliness.

Beignet. See Bignet.

Bel. See Beau.

Belaude, or Belandre, (f.) sorte de Vaisseau Flamand, a kind of Flemish Boat.

Bèlement, (m.) a bleating.

Que veut donc dire ce bêlement de Brebis en mes oreilles, & ce meuglement de Beufs que j'enten? (1 Sam. 15. 14.) what meaneth then this bleating of the Sheep in mine ears, and the lowing of the Oxen which I hear?

Bêler, to bleat.

Belette, (f.) a Weasel.

La Belette vit de taupes, & de souris, & avale les œufs des pigeons dans les Coulombiers, the Weasel lives upon moles, and mice, and eats up the eggs of pigeons in Pigeon-houses.

Belgamote. See Bergamote.

Belier, (m.) a Ram, the male of Sheep; a Ram, or Engine anciently used in the besieging of Cities; Aries, one of the twelve celestial Signs.

Beliere, (f.) the Ring upon which the bell-clapper hangs.

Belitre, (m.) a Rascal; a vain Fellow, 2 Sam. 6. 20.

Belle (Adj.) See Beau.

Une Belle, (Subst.) a fair Woman. Comment se porte la Belle? how doth the Fair one do?

† Je l'ai échappé belle, I scaped it narrowly. La donner belle à quécun, to alarm one, to put him to a non-plus. Il recommence de plus belle, he begins more earnestly (more vehemently) than before.

Belle-de-nuit, (f.) sorte de Plante, great Nightshade.

Belle-fille } See Beau.

Belle-mere } See Beau.

Belle-sœur } See Beau.

Bellement, softly, easily, at leisure, by little and little; softly, gently, gingerly.

Parler bellement, to speak low.

Il va bellement en tout ce qu'il fait, he is slow in all his actions, he goes on fair and slowly.

Bellicieux, warlike.

Peuple bellicieux, ou Nation bellicieuse, a warlike People, a warlike Nation.

†Bellissime, ou tres beau, very fine.
 elouse, (f.) the hazard in a Billiard-table; the lower hazard in a Tennis Court.
 Beloufer, to throw a ball into the hazard.
 †Se beloufer, se tromper, to mistake.
 Belvedere, (f.) a fine green Plant.
 Bémol, (m.) Terme de Musique, a b flat (in Musick.)
 †Benaitier. See Benitier.
 Benedicité, (m.) Grace (before Dinner or Supper.)
 Dire son benedicté, to say Grace.
 Benedictines, (f.) Benedictine Nuns.
 Benedictins, (m.) Benedictins, Benedictine Monks.
 Benediction, (f.) blessing, benediction.
 Donner sa benediction à quécun, to give his blessing to one. Mon Pere, je vous demande votre benediction, Father, I ask your blessing.
 Comblér quécun de benedictions, to heap blessings upon one. La benediction de l'Eternel soit sur vous, (Psalm 124. 8.) the blessing of the Lord be upon you.
 Or thus. As, ce Nom est en benediction à tout le Monde, that Name is of blessed memory all over the World.
 Benefice, (m.) a Benefice, or Living; benefice, or protection.
 Avoir un bon Benefice, to have a good Living. La Pluralité des Benefices, the Plurality of Benefices.
 Jouir du benefice des Loix, to enjoy the benefit of the Laws.
 Or thus. As, Benefice simple, qui n'a pas charge d'ames, a sine cura.
 Benefice d'Inventaire, the Kings Letters, by virtue whereof one is capable of a Succession without paying the Debts, and that by causing an Inventory to be made.
 Benefice de ventre, a looseness.
 Attendre le benefice du tems, to wait for an opportunity.
 †Beneficence, (f.) beneficence, bounty, liberality, doing of good.
 Beneficial, belonging (relating) to a Benefice.
 Beneficier, (m.) a benefited man, one that hath a Benefice, an Incumbent.
 Les gros Beneficiers, those that have the great Benefices.
 Benêt, sottish, silly.
 Un Benêt, (Subst.) a Sor, a silly Fellow.
 Un grand benêt de Fils aussi sot que son Pere, a great Booby as silly as his Father.
 †Benetier. See Benitier.
 Beni, blessed; consecrated.
 Benigne, the feminine Gender of Benin.
 Benignement, benignly, kindly, favourably, liberally, Jam. 3. 5.
 Benignité, (f.) benignity, goodness, bounty.
 Benin, benign, kind, favourable.
 As, un Astre benin, a benign (or kind) Star.
 Influence benigne, a benign Influence.
 La Charité se montre benigne, (1 Cor. 13. 4.) Charity is kind.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 55. 22. Ses Paroles sont plus benignes qu'huile, his Words are softer than oil.
 And 1 Tim. 3. 3. il faut que l'Evêque soit benin, the Bishop must be patient.
 Benjoin, (m.) Gomme odoriferante, Benjamin, a sweet Gum that comes out of Africk.
 Benir, to bless; to consecrate.
 Dieu vous benisse, God bless you. Dieu benisse vos Armes, God bless your Arms.
 Benir du pain, to consecrate bread.
 Or thus. As, benir la Table, to say Grace.
 Benit, blessed; consecrated, holy.
 La S. Vierge est benite (or benie) entre toutes les Femmes, the holy Virgin is blessed amongst all Women.
 Du pain benit, consecrated bread. De l'eau benite, holy water. Eau benite de Cour, Court holy water.
 Benitier, (m.) a holy-water stock, or pot.
 Béquarre, (m.) Terme de Musique, a b sharp (in Musick.)
 Bequée, (f.) from Bec, a bill.
 Bequeté, pecked.
 As, Prométhée est bequeté d'un Vautour, Prometheus is pecked by a Vulture.
 Bequeter, to peck.
 Bequille, (f.) a walking Staff, (made Crutch-like;) a wooden Leg.

Berberi, (m.) barberry.
 †Bercail, (m.) a flock.
 Bercé, rocked; won, taken up, or possessed.
 De plaisir mon ame est bercée, my soul is taken up with pleasure.
 Berceau, (m.) a Cradle; an Arbour; Infancy.
 Or thus. As, etoufer l'Herésie dans son berceau, to stifle Heresy in its birth.
 Bercer, to rock; to win, take up, or possess.
 Bercer un Enfant, to rock a Child.
 Je sai bien les Discours dont il le faut bercer, I know what Discourses one must possess him with.
 Or thus. As, il se berce de ses propres Chimères, he feeds himself with his own Chimera's.
 Bergame, (f.) an ordinary sort of Hangings, either grey or red, that comes out of Italy.
 Bergamote, (f.) forte de Poire, a Bergamot-pear.
 Bérge, (f.) forte de Bateau, a Barge.
 Berger, (m.) a Shepherd.
 Les Egyptiens ont en abomination les Bergers, (Gen. 46. 34.) every Shepherd is an abomination unto the Egyptians.
 Le bon Berger met sa Vie pour ses Brebis, (John 10. 11.) the good Shepherd giveth his Life for the Sheep.
 L'heure du Berger, the Shepherds hour, a favourable Opportunity.
 Bergere, (f.) a Shepherdess; a Shepherd's Mistress.
 Bergerie, (f.) a Sheepfold; a flock of sheep.
 Bergeronnette, (otherwise called Hoche-queue) f. a Wagtail.
 Beril (m.) Pierre précieuse semblable au Crystal, Beryl, a sort of precious stone, not unlike Chrystal.
 Berland } See { Breland.
 Berlandier } Brelandier.
 Berlue, (f.) a sudden sparkling from the eye, as of fire from a flint.
 Il a la berlue, his eyes sparkle, he does not know whereabouts he is.
 Berme, (f.) Terme de Fortification, a piece of Fortification.
 Bernabites. See Barnabites.
 Bernardines, (f.) a sort of Nuns that follow the Rule of S. Bener.
 Bernardins, (m.) a sort of Monks, founded by Robert Abbot of Molême.
 Berne, (f.) a tofs; the Coverlet one is tossed up in.
 D'un coup de berne il fut poussé, jusqu'à moitié chemin des Cieux, with one tofs he went half way to Heaven.
 Mettre le Pavillon en berne, (en Termes de Mer) to set up the Flag.
 Berné, tossed; laughed at, ridiculed.
 Berner, to tofs; to laugh at, to ridicule.
 Beface, (f.) a bag (with two pouches to it.)
 Mettre quécun à la beface, to beggar one, to bring (or reduce) him to a beggarly condition.
 Etre à la beface, to be extream poor.
 Befant, (m.) Befant, an ancient Gold Coin worth 50 French Livres.

Besche } See { Bèche.
 Besché } Bêché.
 Bêcher } Bêcher.

†Besicles, (f.) spectacles.
 Bêfi d'heri (m.) a sort of Pear, so called from Heri a Forest of Brittany in France, where these Pears were first found.

Befoard } See { Bezoard.
 Befogne } Befongne.

Besoin, (m.) want, need, or necessity.
 As, dans nos besoins, in our wants. Je pourvoirai à vos besoins, I shall supply your wants.
 L'Ami se conoit au besoin, a Friend is known in time of need. Abandonner un Ami au besoin, to leave a Friend in time of need, to leave him in distress, or in the lurch.
 Avoir besoin, to want, lack, need, or stand in need of. J'ai besoin de plusieurs choses, I want (I lack) a great many things, I stand in need of several things.
 Il n'est pas besoin que vous veniez, you need not come. Je vous viendrai voir s'il en est besoin, lors qu'il en sera besoin, I shall wait on you, when occasion serves. Autant qu'il est besoin, as much as is needful.

 Qu'est il besoin d'en parler davantage? to what purpose so many words? what need is there to talk any more of it?
 Befongne, (f.) Work, piece of Work; trouble.
 Faire sa befongne, to do his work. Achèver sa befongne, to finish (to make an end of) his work.
 †Cela vous donnera peut être de la befongne, that perhaps will create you trouble enough.
 Bessiere, (f.) Vin qui est au bas, low-running Wine, the tiltings (dregs, or bottoms) of low-running Wine.
 Beste. See Bête.
 †Bestial, beastly.
 Bestial, (Subst.) Cattel.
 But it is hardly used, except in the Plural Number.
 As, leurs Bestiaux sont morts, their Cattel are dead.
 †Bestialement, beastly, or like a beast.
 Bestialité, (f.) beastliness; Sodomy.
 †Bestiole, (f.) a little Insect.
 Betail, (m.) Cattel.
 Etre riche en betail, to be rich in Cattel.
 Faire trafic de betail, to drive a trade of Cattel.
 Bête, (f.) a Beast, or irrational Creature; a blockhead, or dull fellow; the Game called Beast.
 Bête brute, a brute. Bête fauve, a fallow Deer. Bête noire, a wild boar. Bêtes de charge, de somme, ou de voiture, beasts of burden, that carry or draw burdens.
 En verité c'est une grosse bête, indeed he is a great blockhead.
 Jouer à la bête, to play at Beast.
 †Prendre du poil de la bête, retourner boire après une Debauche, to take a hair of the same Dog.
 †Une bête epaulée, une Fille qui a fait un Enfant sans être mariée, a young Woman that has got a Bastard.
 Epouser une Bête epaulée, to marry a young Whore.
 †C'est une bonne Bête, she is a good Gipsy.
 †Ma foi, je ne sai pas quelle bête c'est là, faith, I know not what Creature that is.
 Beterave, (f.) Racine grosse & rouge, beets.
 †Un Né de beterave, a great red Nose.
 Bêtise, (f.) from Bête, a foolish trick, a foppery, or piece of foppery.
 Il a fait la plus grande bêtise du monde, he has done the greatest piece of foppery in the world.
 Betoine, (f.) forte d'Herbe, betony, a sort of Herb.
 La betoine est cephalique, betony is Cephalick, or good for the head.
 Fumer de la betoine avec du tabac, to smoke tobacco and betony together.
 Bette-rave. See Beterave.
 Beu, (from Boire) drunk, drunk out.
 Tout est beu, all is drunk out.
 J'ai beu, (the Preter Tense) I drunk, or I have drunk.
 Beveuë, (f.) oversight.
 Vous avez fait là une lourde beveuë, there you made a great oversight.
 Beuf, (m.) an Ox; beef; a block-head, or dull-pated fellow.
 Beuf à Charrue, a Plough-Ox. Mettre la Charrue devant les Beufs, to set the Cart before the Horse.
 Beuf à Charrette, a Cart-Ox. Beuf à l'engrais, an Ox that's fattening. Beuf Marin, a Sea-Ox.
 Assommer un Beuf, to knock down an Ox.
 Crier comme un Beuf, to roar like an Ox.
 Du beuf roti, bouilli, & à l'étuvée, roft, boiled, and stewed beef.
 Langue de beuf, a Neats-tongue.
 Beugler, to bellow (like an Ox, or Cow.)
 Beurre, (m.) butter.
 Batre le beurre, to churn butter.
 Du beurre frais, new butter. Du beurre fort, strong butter. Du beurre salé, salt butter, or pot-butter.
 Beurré, buttered.

Poire de beurré, butter-pear.
 Beurrée, (f.) bread spread with butter.
 Faire une beurrée à un Enfant, to spread bread and butter for a Child.
 Beurrée, poire de beurré, butter-pear, beurree.
 Beurrier, to butter.
 As, beurrer des choux, to butter cabbages.
 Beurrier (m.) Marchand Beurrier, a Butterman.
 Beurriere (f.) Vendeuse de beurre, a Butter-woman.
 Bevue. See Beveüe.
 † Beuverie, (f.) from Boire, drinking, a drinking bout, a banquetting, 1 Pet. 4. 3.
 Beuvetier } See { Buvetier.
 Beuvette } { Buvette.
 Beuveur, (m.) Drinker, Toper, or Wine-biber.
 Un bon Beuveur, a great Drinker, a good Toper. Un beuveur d'eau, Water-drinker.
 Trente six Yvrongnes comme vous ne valent pas en l'amoureuse Affaire un Beuveur d'eau, six and thirty such Drunkards as you are do not signifie in Love-business as much as a Water-drinker.
 Beuveuse, (f.) a Woman that is a good Toper.
 Beuvoter, to sip, to drink little at a time.
 Il ne fait que beuvoter, he does nothing but sip.
 Bezant. See Befant.
 Bezoard (m.) sorte de Pierre precieuse, the bezoar stone.
 Il y a deux sortes de bezoard, l'un Oriental, & l'autre Occidental, there are two sorts of bezoar stone, the one Oriental, and the other Occidental.
 Le Bezoard Oriental naît dans l'estomac d'une espee de Chevre sauvage qu'on trouve aux Indes, & l'Occidental naît dans l'estomac d'une sorte de Bouc du Perou, the Oriental Bezoar comes out of the stomach of a kind of wild Goat in the East-Indies, and the Occidental out of a kind of Goat in Peru.

B I.

Biais, (m.) the side of a thing; way, manner, course.
 Mettre une chose de biais, la faire aller de biais, to lay a thing side-ways, or to turn it aside.
 Je ne sai quel biais prendre pour cette Affaire, I know not what course to take about this Business.
 Prendre une Chose du bon biais, to go the right way to work, to take a right course.
 Or thus. As, je ne me soucie pas de quel biais vous prenez ce que je dis, take it how you will, I don't care whether you take it well or no.
 J'ai bien de la joie de voir prendre un si bon biais à votre Desein, I am very glad to see your Design go on so successfully.
 Biaiser, to go sloping, or slanting, to bend one way more than another; to use shifts, evasions, tricks, and devices, to shift himself off.
 C'est un homme qui biaise, he is a shifting fellow.
 Biberon, (m.) a Toper, a Wine-bibber.
 C'est un bon Biberon, he is a rare Wine-bibber.
 Bible, (f.) the Bible, or holy Writ; a Bible, or a Book containing the Word of God.
 Bibliothecaire, (m.) a Library-keeper.
 Bibliotheque, (f.) Library.
 Avoir une belle Bibliotheque, to have a fine Library.
 † Bibus. As, un Poëte de bibus, ed. un pauvre Poëte, a sorry Poet.
 Biche (f.) la femelle du Cerf, a Hind, the female of a Stag.
 † Bichet, (m.) a Measure for Corn, holding about two Parisian Bushels.
 Bichon (m.) sorte de petit Chien de Chambré, a Lap-dog, a little domestick Dog.
 'Tis also a Diminutive of Elizabeth.
 As, Bichon est belle, Betty is a fine Girl.
 Bicoque, (f.) a little poultry Town.
 Bidet, (m.) a little Nag.

Bidon, (m.) a Cann, or wooden Vessel, containing as much Drink as is allowed to a Mefs at Sea, that is about four Quarts.
 Bien, (m.) good, benefit, advantage; pleasure, happiness, or satisfaction; kindness, or favour; an Estate; one's Substance, or Living.
 Preferer le bien du Public au sien propre, to prefer the Publick Good to his own. Un peu de repos vous fera beaucoup de bien, a little rest will do you a great deal of good.
 C'est le bien de la Republique, 'tis for the good of the Commonwealth.
 Procurer du bien à ses Amis, to procure his Friends some advantage or other. Faire du bien à quëcun, to do one a good office, to do him a kindness. Les biens qu'on lui fait sont bien employez, any kindness one do's him is well bestowed. Tuer quëcun à force de lui faire du bien, to kill one with kindness.
 Grand bien vous fasse, much good may it d're.
 Nul bien sans peine, no pleasure without pain.
 Tous les Maux que j'ai souffert n'egalent pas le bien de l'avoir veü, all the Troubles I have undergone, fall short of the happiness (or satisfaction) I had in the sight of her.
 Le souverain bien, the chief happiness, or summum bonum.
 Acquerir du Bien, to get an Estate. Avoir de grands Biens, to have a great Estate. Depenser (dissiper) son Bien, to scamble away (to spend, or to waste) his Estate, Substance, or Living.
 Or thus. As, un homme de bien, a good man, an honest man. Une femme de bien, a good woman, a virtuous woman.
 Les gens de bien, good men.
 Jesus Christ est le Distributeur de tous les Biens, our Saviour is the Distributer of all good Things.
 Il est bon d'être toujours jaloux en bien, (Gal. 4. 18.) it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing.
 Qui bien fera bien trouvera, do well and have well; he that does well, shall speed well.
 Bien te soit, (Luke 1. 28.) Hail.
 Tu mangeras le labeur de tes mains, tu seras bien heureux, & bien te sera, (Ps. 128. 2.) thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands, happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.
 Dire du bien de quëcun, en parler avantageusement, to speak well of one. Lui vouloir du bien, to wish him well.
 Expliquer en bien quëque chose, to take a thing in good part, to give it a favourable sense.
 Bien (Adv.) well, right; well, very, much, many; finely; fain, willingly; quite, full.
 As, C'est bien dit, 'tis well said. Tout va bien, all goes well, all is well. Fort bien, tres bien, very well, very right. C'est bien fait, 'tis well done, well. Aussi bien que, as well as. Bien ou mal, la chose est faite, right or wrong, the business is done.
 Bien bien, il s'en repentira, well, well, he shall repent it. Quand on est bien, on s'y doit tenir, he that's well had best keep himself so. Qui veut bien mourir doit bien vivre, he that will die well, had need live well.
 J'ai bien diné, I dined very well, I have eaten a plentiful dinner. Il est bien sage, he is very wise. Il est bien plus sage, he is much wiser, he is a great deal wiser.
 Etre bien dans l'esprit de quëcun, to be much in one's favour. Il a bien du monde à sa Suite, he hath many Attendants, he hath a great Retinue.
 Le voila bien humilié, now he is finely humbled.
 Je voudrais bien le voir, I would fain see him. Il voudroit bien penetrer mon Desein, he would willingly fathom my Design.
 C'est bien un autre homme, he is quite another man. C'est bien une autre affaire, 'tis quite another thing. Nous étions bien cinq cens, we were full five hundred. Il étoit bien minuit lors que nous nous retirames, it was full midnight when we went away.
 Or thus. As, parler bien François, to speak good French.
 Je serois bien sot de le croire, I should be a great Sot to believe it. Il a été bien examiné, he was strictly examined. Vous seriez bien fou d'y aller, you would be counted a great fool if you went thither.

 J'ai bien à faire de cela (dans un sens Ironique) what have I to do with that? J'ai bien des affaires en main, my hands are full, I am very full of business.
 Je l'ai bien pensé, mais je ne l'ai pas dit, I thought so indeed, but I said nothing on't.
 Je voi bien que je perdrai ma peine, I clearly see that I shall lose my labour. Voila bien de quoi faire tant le brave, a great matter indeed to be so proud of.
 Ou bien, or else, otherwise. Oui bien, well and good. Vous dites qu'il seroit bon de lui pardonner, oui bien, s'il avouoit sa faute, you say 'tis fit he should be pardoned, well and good, if he did but acknowledge his fault.
 Bien tôt, shortly, soon, speedily. Bien loin, a great way off. Bien loin de me louer, il me blâme, far from praising me, he blames me.
 Bien que, though, although. Bien que vous soyez plus âgé que lui, though you be elder than he.
 Lastly, this Word is sometimes used in French as an expletive Particle, and then it may be omitted in English.
 As, voulez vous bien y aller avec moi? will you go thither with me? Le veux tu bien? 'en suis content, wilt thou have it so? I am contented. Je puis bien vous assurer, I can assure you. J'ose bien vous promettre, I dare promise you.
 Bien aimé, well beloved.
 Celui ci est mon Fils bien aimé, en qui j'ai pris mon bon plaisir, this is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 145. 10. Eternel, toutes les Oeuvres te celebreront, & tes Bien aimez te beniront, all thy Works shall praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saints shall bless thee.
 Bien dire, (m.) eloquence, good language.
 As, ils sont les Arbitres souverains du bien dire, they are the supreme Arbitrators of Eloquence.
 Or thus. Se mettre sur son bien dire, to go upon a high strain of eloquence.
 † Bien disant, a well-spoken man, one that can talk well, that hath his tongue at command.
 Bienfaiteur } as { Bienfaiteur.
 Bienfaitrice } { Bienfaitrice.
 Bienfaissant, gracious, kind, good, bountiful.
 Bienfait, (m.) benefit, favour, kindness.
 Je me souviendrai toujours de vos bienfaits, I shall ever be mindful of your kindnesses.
 Un bienfait reproché tient toujours lieu d'offense, he that upbraids another with a kindness, takes off the merit of it.
 Bienfaiteur, (m.) Benefactor.
 Bienfaitrice, (f.) Benefactrix.
 Bienheureux, happy, blessed.
 Bienheureux ceux qui sont doux, happy are the meek-hearted.
 Les Anges bienheureux, the blessed Angels.
 La bien heureuse Vierge, the blessed Virgin.
 Les Bienheureux, ceux qui jouissent au Ciel d'une Felicité sans bornes, the Blessed in Heaven.
 Bienfaisance, (f.) decency, decorum.
 La bienfaisance demande cela de vous, decency requires that from you.
 Nous devons garder la bienfaisance en toutes nos actions & en tous nos discours, we ought to keep a decency (or a decorum) in all our actions and discourses.
 Or thus. As, voyant que cette Maison étoit à sa bienfaisance il l'acheta, seeing that House stood convenient for him he bought it.
 Bienfaisant, decent, comely, becoming, fitting, convenient.
 Cela n'est pas bienfaisant à un homme de qualité, that is not fitting for a person of quality.
 Or thus. Il n'est pas bienfaisant à un Chretien de mentir, Lying do's not become a Christian.
 Bienveillance, (f.) good-will, love, kindness, benevolence.
 Je vous demande l'honneur de votre bienveillance, I beg of you the favour of your good-will.

Se concilier la bienveillance de son Auditoire, to gain the love (or the hearts) of his Auditory.
 Que le Mari rende la bienveillance due à la Femme, (1 Cor. 7. 3.) let the Husband render unto the Wife due benevolence.
 Bien-venu, welcome.
 Vous êtes le très bien-venu, you are very welcome.
 Bien-venue, (a fem. Subst.) a welcome.
 Payer sa bien-venue, to pay his welcome.
 Bienveillance. See Bienveillance.
 † Bien-voulu, well-beloved, acceptable, Deut. 33. 24.
 Biere, (f.) beer, or ale; coffin, bier.
 De la petite biere, small beer. De la forte biere, strong beer.
 La Biere est un Séjour mélancolique, a Coffin is a melancholy Place to dwell in.
 Le Roi David marchait après la Biere, (2 Sam. 3. 31.) King David himself followed the Bier.
 Bievre (m.) forte d'Animal amphibie, a Beaver; a Goose-like Water-fowl.
 Bifé, razed out.
 Bifer, to raze out.
 Bigame, (m.) twice married, who hath had two Wives successively.
 Bigamie, (f.) bigamy, or second Marriage.
 Bigarrade, (f.) grosse Orange, a great Orange.
 Bigarré, of several colours, set out with several colours.
As, Gen. 37. 3. Israël fit à Joseph un Hoqueton bigarré, Israel made Joseph a Coat of several colours.
 Bigarreau, (m.) grosse Cerise bigarrée, a hard Cherry.
 Cette Cerise est appelée Bigarreau, parce qu'elle est bigarrée de noir, de rouge, & de blanc.
 Bigarrer, to set out with several colours.
 Bigarrotier, (m.) a hard Cherry-tree.
 Bigarrure, (f.) variety (or diversity) of colours.
 † Bigearre. See Bizarre.
 Bigle, squint-eyed.
 † Bigler, to squint.
 Bignet, (f.) fritter; wafer, Ex. 29. 9; cake, 2 Sam. 13. 6.
 Faire des bignets, to make fritters.
 Pren des bignets sans levain, oints d'huile, take wafers unleavened, anointed with oyl.
 Que ma Soeur Tamar vienne, & fasse deux Bignets devant moi, let my Sister Tamar come, and make me a couple of Cakes in my sight.
 Bigorne, (f.) Enclume à deux bouts, an Anvil with two nooks or corners.
 Bigorneau, (m.) a little Anvil.
 Bigorner, to round a thing upon a bigorne.
 Bigot, (m.) a Bigot, or bigotted Man.
 Un Prince bigot n'est pas propre à gouverner, a bigotted Prince is not fit to govern.
 † Bigoter, to play the Bigot.
 Bigoterie, (f.) bigotism.
 La Bigoterie est une marque d'un petit Esprit, Bigotism is a sign of a little Wit.
 Or thus. Donner dans la bigoterie, to become a bigot.
 Bihouac, (m.) a Night-Faction of a besieging Army, for fear of a surprise.
 † Bijon, (m.) a liquid rosin.
 Bijou, (m.) a neat thing, a pretty little toy, the lesser sort of Jewels.
 Bilan, (m.) Terme de Marchands, a Book of Accounts.
 Bilboquet, (m.) a Stick hollowed at both ends with a line, in the midst of which hangs a bullet.
 Bile, (f.) the choler; choler, passion, or anger.
 Bile noire, the black choler.
 Ce Discours m'échauffe la bile, that Discourse raises my passion, stirs up my anger.
 Or thus. As, ce Fruit corrige la bile du Foie, this Fruit corrects the gall of the Liver.
 Bileux, bilious, choleric.
 Temperament bileux, a bilious temper.
 Billard, (m.) billiards; the billiard-stick.
 Jouer au billard, to play at billiards.
 Bille, (f.) billiard-ball.
 Pousser la bille avec le billard, to thrust the billiard ball with the billiard-stick.

 Bille d'Embaleur, a Packer's stick.
 Biller, to pack up close with a stick.
 Biller les Chevaux pour tirer quelque Bateau, to set Horses together to draw a Boat.
 Billet, (m.) a note, bill, or ticket.
 Prêter de l'argent à quécun sur son billet, to lend one money upon a note under his hand.
 Billet sur une Porte, a Bill upon a Door. Ce billet marque qu'il y a ici des Chambres à louer, by this Bill here are Rooms to let.
 Billet pour entrer à la Comédie, a ticket to go into a Play. Billet d'Enterrement, a funeral Ticket.
 Billet-Doux, a Love-Letter.
 † Bille-vesée, (f.) an idle fancy.
 Billon, (m.) bullion, or base Coin cry'd down; the Place where such Coin is received in order to be melted.
 Billonner, to take up such Coin as is cry'd down in order to melt it.
 Billonneur, (m.) one that takes up Coin cry'd down in order to melt it.
 Billot, (m.) a billet, block, or log of wood; the piece of wood an anvil stands upon; a wedge of any metal.
 Bimboquier, (m.) a kind of Pedlar.
 Biner, to turn up the ground a second time; to say Mass twice in one day.
 Binet, (m.) a save-all, a prolonger.
 Faire binet, to make use of a save-all, to stick a piece of candle on a save-all.
 Binocle, (m.) a kind of dioptrick Instrument.
 Biouac. See Bihouac.
 Birette, (f.) a kind of Cap worn by new Jesuits.
 Bis, brown.
As, pain bis, brown bread.
 Bifayeu, (m.) great Grandfather.
 Bifayeule, (f.) great Grandmother.
 † Biscoter, to swive.
 Biscotin, (m.) a piece of Dough baked with sugar.
 Biscuit, (m.) bisket.
 Biscuit de Mer, Sea-bisket.
 † Le Biscuit est du Pain qu'on cuit deux fois pour les petites Traverées, & quatre fois pour les Voyages de long cours, afin qu'il se conserve mieux.
 On le fait six mois avant l'Embarquement; & sur les Vaisseaux du Roi, il est de farine de froment, épurée de son, & de pâte bien levée.
 Bise, (f.) the North-wind; a peny (or half-peny) Loaf, which is given in the morning to the Pensioners of certain Colleges at Paris; a kind of Sea-fish, not unlike a Tunny.
 Bise is also the feminine Gender of Bis.
 As, pâte bise, brown dough.
 Biseau, (m.) the Kissing-crust.
 'Tis also a Word in use amongst several Tradesmen.
 Biset, (m.) forte d'Oiseau de passage, a kind of Stock-dove.
 Bisque, (f.) bisk, a rich kind of Pottage; a fault at Tennis.
 Bissac, (m.) a bag.
 Reduire au bissac, to bring to poverty.
 Bissexté, (m.) the Intercalar day, which comes in every fourth year.
 L'an bissexté, the Leap-year.
 Bistouri, (m.) Instrument de Chirurgien, an Incision-knife, a Surgeon's Tool to make Incisions with.
 Bistourné. As, un Cheval bistourné, cd. qui sans être coupé a été réduit à l'impuissance des Hongres, à force de lui tordre & tourner les Testicules par deux fois avec violence, a Horse whose Genitals are twisted, and incapable of generation.
 Bistourner un Cheval, to twist a Horse's Genitals, so as to make them useless for generation.
 Bitume, (m.) bitumen.
 Bizarre, odd, fantastical, humourfom.
 Un Esprit bizarre, un Bizarre, an odd kind of man, an humourfom (fantastical) man.
 Bizarrement, odly, fantasticaly.
 Bizarrerie, (f.) fantasticalness, fantastical humour; variety.
 Bize }
 Bizeau } See Bife.
 Bizet } Bifeau.
 Bizet } Bifet.

B L.

Blafard, (Terme de Jardinier) bleak, de-cay'd.
As, un Jet blafard, ou mal nourri, a bleak shoot.
 Blamable, to blame.
As, il est blamable, he is to blame.
 Sa Conduite est blamable, his Conduct is to blame.
 Blâme, (m.) blame, imputation, reproach, scandal.
 Donner du blâme à quécun, to lay the blame upon one. Se mettre hors de blâme, to secure himself from any imputation.
 Les blâmes de ceux qui te blâmoient sont tombez sur moi (Ps. 69. 10.) the reproaches of them that reproached thee, are fallen upon me.
 Or thus. As, Jude 9. Sentence de blâme, a railing Accusation.
 Blâmé, blamed, found fault with; evil spoken of, Rom. 14. 16. blasphemed, Tit. 2. 5.
 Si vous faites cela, vous en ferez blâmé, if you do that, you will be blamed for it.
 Blâmer, to blame, to find fault with; to speak evil of, Jude 8.
 Blâmer la conduite de quécun, to blame one's conduct, to find fault with it. Je l'ai fort blâmé de son emportement, I blamed him very much for his outrageous passion.
 Blanc, white; clean.
As, du pain blanc, white bread. De la toile blanche, white cloth. Blanc de vieilleffe, white (or hoary) for age. Blanc comme neige, as white as snow.
 Du linge blanc, clean linen. Une Chemise blanche, a clean shift.
 Or thus. As, un ecu blanc, a crown, or crown-piece. Les cheveux blancs, gray hairs. Les fleurs blanches des femmes, the whites. Les cartes blanches, the small cards.
 Blanc manger, a white and delicate Dish, made of almonds and jelly of the best meat, &c.
 Les blancs Manteaux, so they call the Benedictine Monks that live at Paris in the street called les blancs Manteaux.
 Blanc signé, a blank signed.
 Ils sont tout blancs au dehors, & tout noirs au dedans, they are all white outwards, and all black inwards, that is, meer hypocrites, meer dissemblers.
 Or thus. As, Luke 23. 11. après qu'il l'eut revêtu d'un Vêtement blanc, having arrayed him in a gorgeous Robe.
 Blanc, (a masc. Subst.) white colour, white; a white, or mark, to shoot at; blank, a coin of old worth five deniers.
 Le blanc opposé au noir paroît davantage, a plus d'éclat, black being set against white sets it off, or sets a foil upon it. Le blanc est le Symbole de la Pureté & de l'Innocence, White is the Symbol (or Badge) of Purity and Innocency.
 Le blanc de l'œil, the white of the eye. Blanc d'œuf, the white of an egg. Blanc de chapon, the white of a capon. Blanc d'Espagne, Spanish white (a Thing the Ladies are well acquainted with) Blanc de plomb, white lead, to paint in miniature.
 Quand je veux dire blanc, la quinteuse dit noir, if I say white, she is for black. L'homme va du blanc au noir, cd. est volage & inconstant, there's nothing more fickle than Man.
 Tirer au blanc, to shoot at the mark. Donner dans le blanc, tirer droit au blanc, le fraper, to hit the white, or the mark.
 Or thus. As, un Livre en blanc, a Paper-book. Laisser une ligne en blanc, to leave a white line.
 Chapeau en blanc, a Hat not dy'd. Viande en blanc, meat neither stuck nor larded.
 Avoir les piez blancs, (dans un sens figuré) to be privileged, to be much in favour.
 Six blancs, two pence half-peny.
 Blanchâtre, whitish, somewhat white, inclining to white.
 Blanche, the feminine Gender of Blanc. See Blanc.
 Blanche (Subst.) Note de Musique qui a une queue avec un peu de blanc à la tête, a minim.

Blan-

Blanches, ou Cartes blanches, small Cards.
 Blancherie, (f.) Lieu où l'on blanchit la Cire, the Place where Wax is whitened.
 Blanchet, (m.) Terme d'Imprimeur, blanket, the white woollen Cloth that is used at a Printer's Press.
 Blancheur, (f.) whiteness.
 La blancheur de la Neige fait mal aux Yeux, the whiteness of the Snow hurts the eyes.
 Blanchi, whitened, whited, washed, made white, or clean.
 Blanchiment, (m.) Terme de Blanchisseur, whitening; also a Goldsmith's washing Vessel.
 Blanchir, to whiten, to white, to wash, to make white, or clean; to whiten, or grow white.
 Blanchir de la toile, ou de la cire, to whiten linen, or wax. Blanchir une muraille, to white a wall. Blanchir du linge, to wash linen. Blanchir de l'argent, to wash silver.
 Il commence à blanchir, he begins to grow white.
 † Tout cela ne fait que blanchir, ed. ne sert de rien, all that signifies nothing, all is to no purpose.
 Blanchissage, (m.) washing.
 Je paye tant pour mon blanchissage, I pay so much for my washing.
 Blanchissant, (Adj.) whitish.
 As, Jaune blanchissant, whitish Yellow.
 Blanchisseur, (m.) Whitster.
 Blanchisseuse, (f.) a Washer-woman, a Laundress.
 † Blandir, to blandish, sooth, or flatter.
 † Blandissant, blandishing, soothing, flattering, Psal. 12. 3.
 † Blandissement, (m.) blandishment, soothing, or flattering.
 Blaque, (f.) a blank Lottery.
 Or thus. † Aux unes cela opere, aux autres blaque, with some it works, with others not at all.
 Blanquette, (f.) a delicate sort of white Wine which comes out of Gasconne.
 Blason, (m.) blazon, heraldry; an old kind of Poem.
 Il entend bien le blason, he has great skill in Heraldry.
 Livre qui traite du blason, a Book of Heraldry.
 Blasonné, blazoned.
 † Blasonnement, (m.) a blazoning of Arms; a derision, Psal. 44. 14.
 Blasonner, to blazon a Coat of Arms.
 Blasphémateur, (m.) a Blasphemer.
 C'est un grand Blasphémateur, he is a great Blasphemer.
 Blasphématoire, blasphemous, blasphematory.
 Blasphème, (m.) Blasphemy.
 Blasphémé, blasphemed, reviled, evil spoken of.
 Blasphemer, to blaspheme, to revile.
 Blasphemer le S. Nom de Dieu, to blaspheme Gods holy Name.
 Blé, (m.) Corn.
 Blé en herbe, ou en epi, standing Corn. Le blé est meur, the corn is ripe.
 Couper les blez, to cut the Corn. Le blé est cher, Corn is dear.
 Blé de Turquie, Turky corn, or Turkey wheat.
 Blé Sarrafin, African Wheat.
 Manger son blé en herbe, to spend his Rents before they be due.
 Bled. See Blé.
 Bleme, pale.
 D'où vient que vous êtes si bleme? how come you to be so pale?
 Blemir, devenir blême, to grow pale.
 Blereau, (m.) a badger.
 Le Blereau est une Bête à peu près de la grandeur d'un Renard, laquelle tient du Porc & du Chien, & vit dans les Cavernes, a Badger is a beast about the bigness of a Fox, that hath something of a Hog and something of a Dog, and lives mostly in Caves, or hollow places.
 Le Blereau vit de vermines, de charongne, & de fruits, the Badger lives upon worms, carcasses, and fruits.
 Les Blereaux vivent si long tems, que la Vieillesse les rend quelquefois aveugles, Badgers live so long, that sometimes they grow blind with age.

Quand le mâle est aveugle, la femelle prend soin de le nourrir, & le mâle nourrit la femelle quand celle ci est aveugle, when the male is blind, the female takes care to feed him, and the male provides for the blind female.
 Blessé, hurt, wounded; indamaged.
 Il est blessé à mort, he is mortally wounded.
 Avoir soin des blesez, to take care of the wounded.
 Or thus. As, blessé du cerveau, crack-brained.
 Une Femme qui s'est blessé, ou qui a fait une fausse couche, a Woman that hath miscarried.
 Bleffer, to hurt, or wound; to indamage; to offend, or blemish.
 Il s'est bleffé la tête, he has hurt his head.
 Bleffer quécun à mort, to wound one to death, to give him a mortal wound.
 Bleffer sa Conscience, to wound his Conscience.
 Bleffer un Navire, to indamage a Ship.
 Ces Discours sales bleffent les oreilles chastes, such nasty Discourses offend chaste ears.
 Bleffer la reputation de quécun, to blemish ones reputation.
 Blessure, (f.) hurt, wound.
 Recevoir une grande blessure, to receive a great wound. Il est retourné sans avoir recen aucune blessure, he came back without the least hurt.
 Il est mort de plusieurs blessures, he died of many wounds.
 † Blet, over-ripe, almost rotten.
 Blette, (a fem. Subst.) blit, or blits, a sort of beet.
 Bleu, blue.
 As, un ruban bleu, a blue ribbon. Une Tapisserie bleue, blue Hangings.
 Bleu, (a masc. Subst.) blue, blue colour.
 Le bleu est le Symbole de la Fidelité & de la Justice, blue is the Symbol (or badge) of Fidelity and Justice.
 Un beau bleu, a fine blue. Un bleu chargé, a deep blue.
 Bleu celeste, a sky-blue. Un bleu mourant, a faint blue.
 Blinde, (f.) a blind (to cover open Trenches).
 Bloc, (m.) a block, or log.
 Vendre en bloc & en tas, to sell by the whole, to sell one with another.
 Bloc de marbre, a rough marble-stone (such as comes out of the Quarry).
 Blocaille, (f.) rubbish, ragged stones (such as serve to fill up a Wall).
 Blocus, (m.) blockade, or blocking up.
 Faire le blocus d'une Place, to block up a Place.
 Blond, fair, light.
 Un homme blond, a fair man. Une femme blonde, a fair Woman.
 Une perruque blonde, a light perwig. Des Cheveux blonds, light hair.
 Blond, (Subst.) qui a les cheveux blonds, a fair Man. Une Blonde, a fair Woman.
 Ses Cheveux sont du plus beau blond du monde, his Hair is mighty fair.
 Un blond ardent, a lively fair colour.
 Blond doré, qui tire tant soit peu sur le jaune, flaxen, a light yellowish colour.
 Blondin, (m.) a fair young man, a Gallant with a fair perwig.
 Bloqué, blocked up.
 Tenir la Ville bloquée, to keep the Town blockt-up.
 Bloquer, to block up.
 As, bloquer une Place, ed. se faire des Passages, la fermer, & empêcher les Convois, to block up a Place.
 se Blotir, to lie close to the ground.
 Les Perdrix se blotissent, the Partridges lie close to the ground.
 Bloufe. See Beloufe.
 Blâtre, (from Bleu) bluish, somewhat blue.
 Bluette, (f.) a little Spark.
 Bluté, boulted.
 Bluteau, (m.) a bouter.
 Bluter, to bouter.

B O.

Bobèche, (f.) partie du Chandelier où se met la chandelle, socket, the socket of a Candlestick.
 Bobine, (f.) a Quill for a spinning Wheel.
 † Bobo, (m.) a small ailment.
 Bocage, (m.) a Grove.
 Un plaisant Bocage, a pleasant Grove.
 Bocager, Pastoral.
 As, Poësie bocagere, a pastoral Poem.
 Bocal, (m.) a kind of Vessel (made of earth, glass, or crystal).
 Bocassin }
 Boete } See
 Boetier }
 Boeuf }
 Boiau }
 Boiotier }
 Boire, to drink.
 Boire du vin, de la biere, de l'eau, to drink wine, beer, water.
 Boire peu, boire à petits traits, to drink little at a time. Boire beaucoup à la fois, boire à grands traits, to drink much at a time, to drink great draughts. Boire tout, to drink all.
 Boire avec excès, to drink too much, to drink excessively. Etre malade pour avoir trop beu, to be sick with hard drinking. Nous buames plus de vingt bouteilles, we drank above twenty bottles.
 Je boi comme un Poisson, I drink like a Fish.
 Versez moi à boire, fill me some drink.
 Boire à quécun, boire à la santé, to drink to one, to drink his health. Boire la santé de quécun, to drink one's health.
 Boire l'Iniquité comme l'Eau, to drink Iniquity like Water.
 † Boire à tirelarigot, to drink briskly. Boire un affront, to put up an affront, to swallow a gudgeon. Il me faut boire la raillerie, I was fain to put up the jest. Tu as fait la folie, c'est à toi à la boire, thou hast play'd the fool, 'tis fit thou shouldst suffer for't.
 Papier qui boit l'encre, blotting paper. Ce papier boit, this paper blots. L'Eponge boit tout ce qu'elle peut recevoir de liqueur, the Sponge soaks in as much liquor as it can contain.
 Faire boire une peau 24 heures dans la Riviere, to soak a skin in the River for 24 hours.
 Boire (a masc. Subst.) breuvage, ou boisson, drink.
 Elle lui apprête son boire & son manger, she gets him his meat and his drink.
 Bois, (m.) a Wood, or Forest; a Tree, Luke 23. 34. wood to burn or to build; a shoot, or young branch; the horns of fallow Deer; the Tree, or Cross on which our Saviour suffered.
 Bois de haute futaie, a Forest of high Trees.
 Bois taillis, a Copse, or Underwood.
 Bois à brûler, bois mort, fire-wood. Mort bois, ou blanc bois, all Trees that either bear no fruit, or no profitable fruit. Bois de corde, cord-wood. Bois floté, wood brought floating up on a River. Bois de charpente, timber.
 Bois sec ou verd, dry or green wood. Couper, fendre, brûler du bois, to cut, cleave, and burn wood.
 Arbre qui pousse de jeune bois, a Tree that puts forth young shoots.
 Cerf armé d'un beau bois, a Stag that has got fine horns.
 Or thus. As, bois de lit, a bedstead. Bois de raquette, the wood of a racket. Bois de Tourne broche, the wooden-work of a Turnspit.

Preverbial Expressions.

Aller au Bois quand les Loups s'entremangent, to go to the Wood when Wolves eat one another.
 Les Champs ont des Yeux, & les Bois des Oreilles, Fields have Eyes, and Woods have Ears.

La Faim chasse les Loups hors du bois, Hunger drives Wolves out of the Wood, Hunger breaks down Stone-walls.

† Il ne fait plus de quel bois faire fleche, he does not know which way to turn himself, or what shift to make, he is at his wits end. Je fai de quel bois il s'échaufe, I know his ways, I know what course he takes. Trouver village de bois, cd. la porte fermée, to find the door shut.

Boisé, wainscotted.

Une Chambre boisée, a wainscotted Room.

Boiser, to wainscot.

As, boiser une Chambre, to wainscot a Room.

Boiserie, (f.) Wainscot.

Boisieux, woody.

Boisseau, (m.) a Bushel, which in France is somewhat less than a Lindm peck and a half.

Boisseau de blé, a bushel of Corn. Un Demi-boisseau, a half-bushel.

Boisselier, (m.) a Turner, one that makes (or sells) Bushels, Sieves, and other Household Implements relating to that Trade.

Boisson, (f.) from Boire, drink, liquor.

Une agreable boisson, a pleasant drink, or liquor.

Etre plein de boisson, to be full of drink, to be drunk.

Boîte, (f.) box; case.

As, boîte carrée, ronde, ou ovale, a square, round, or oval box.

Boîte à poudre, a powder-box. Boîte à poivre, a pepper-box. Boîte de senteurs, a box of perfumes. Boîte de confitures, a box of sweet-meats.

Dans les petites boîtes on met les bons Onguents, sweet Ointments are put in little boxes, little Men most commonly are best qualified.

Boîte de montre, a watch-case.

Boîte (from Boire) le tems où le Vin doit être bu, the Season for Wine to be drawn.

Vin qui est en la boîte, Wine that's fit to be drawn, or in season to be drunk.

Now you must observe, that boîte in this last sense is pronounced very short.

Boiter, to halt.

Boiteux, boiteuse, lame, cripple, halt, Luke 14. 21.

Un Boiteux, a lame man.

Une Boiteuse, a lame woman.

Boitier, (m.) a Surgeons Case of Ointments.

Bol, (m.) bolus.

Bol d'Armenie, Bale-Armenick.

† Bombance, (f.) feasting, or junketting.

Bombarde, (f.) Bumbard, a kind of great Gun.

Bombe, (f.) bomb, or murdering-piece.

Jetter des bombes, to throw bombs.

Les François n'épargnoient point leurs Bombes lors qu'ils étoient devant Gènes, the French did not spare for Bombs when they were before Genoa.

Bombe foudroyante, a thundering Bomb.

Bombe flamboyante, a blazing Bomb.

Bon, bonne, (from bien) good (in all its senses.)

As, bon jour, good morrow. Bon soir, good night.

Une bonne action, a good deed. Action qui n'est ni bonne ni mauvaise, an action neither good nor bad.

Un bon homme, a good man. Une bonne femme, a good woman. De bonnes gens, good people. All which are said both in French and English in a double sense, the one good, and the other bad.

Vous n'êtes bon à rien, you are good for nothing. Il est bon de faire cela, it is good (or fit) to do that.

Ce papier n'est pas bon pour écrire, this paper is not good to write upon.

Une eau tres bonne pour les yeux, very good Eye-water, Water good for the eyes.

Un bon Poete, a good (or rare) Poet. Un bon Avocat, a good Lawyer. De bons Vers, good (or excellent) Verses.

De bonnes Epigrammes, good (or ingenious) Epigrams. Un bon mot, a good jest. Pour un bon mot il va perdre un Ami, he had rather lose his Friend than his Jest.

Un bon nombre de pistoles, a good quantity of pistols. Une bonne partie du tems, a good (or great) part of the time.

Un bon coup de poing, a good fifty-cuff. Une bonne preuve, a good (or a strong) proof.

De bon drap, good cloth. Bonne etoffe, good (lasting) stuff.

Bon air, bonne grace, good grace, or boon grace. Bonne fortune, a good fortune, a good hap, or good chance.

Au Jeu de Piquet quatre as sont bons, at Picket fourteen of aces is good.

Il est bon de savoir l'Histoire du Tems passé, it is good to know the History of Times past.

Me fais tu bon cet ecu? dost thou make me this crown good? wilt thou warrant it good?

Or thus. As, A bon Jour bonne œuvre, (a Prov.) the better Day the better Deed.

La bonne raison, (Ironically spoken) a pure reason. Vraiment je vous trouve bonne, indeed you are a fine woman. Ce sont de bons Nigauts que ces gens là, they are pure Cox-combs.

Bonne bouche. See Bouche.

Trouver bon, to approve, like, or allow of; to give leave. Le trouvez vous bon? do you like it? do you approve (or allow) of it?

Je le ferai trouver bon à votre Pere, I shall contrive it so that your Father shall approve of it.

Trouvez bon qu'on vous ecrive, give me leave to write unto you.

Tenir bon contre quécun, to hold out against one. Tenir bon dans sa resolution, to persist (or continue steadfast) in his resolution.

Quand bon vous semblera, when you shall think fit. Où bon vous semblera, where you shall think fit, or convenient.

Etre homme à bonne fortune, cd. être homme à avoir des faveurs des Dames parce qu'on est jeune & bien fait, to be the darling of the Sex, to be lapt up in his mothers smock.

† La donner bonne à quécun, lui en faire accroire, to surprise one with an unexpected story. La garder bonne à quécun, epier l'occasion de lui faire quèque deplaisir, to watch an opportunity of doing one a mischief.

Bon, (a masc. Subst.) As, se former une Idée du beau & du bon, to frame to himself an Idea of that which is fair and good.

Le bon de la Medecine est, qu'il y a parmi les Morts une Discretion la plus grande du Monde, the best thing in Physick is the great Discretion there is amongst the Dead.

Il y a cent ecus de bon, ther's a hundred crowns clear.

† Si l'on a du bon, c'est une autre affaire, if we get the better, 'tis another thing.

In these following Phrases 'tis used Adverbially.

As, à quoi bon? to what purpose? Tout de bon, seriously, in earnest, indeed.

Bon, nous sommes hors de danger, well, we are out of danger. Bon, voilà qui va bien, 'tis very well.

Bonace, or Bonasse, (f.) a Calm; Tranquillity.

Nous eumes ce Jour là une grande Bonace, we had that day a great Calm.

En fin notre Royaume a la bonace qu'il desire, at last our Kingdom has got into its long wished state of Tranquillity.

† Bon-bon, petites friandises, dainties for Children.

Donner des bon-bons à un Enfant, to give a Child dainties.

Bon-chretien, (m.) boon-christian, a huge and rare sort of Pear.

Bond, (m.) rebound; the bounding up of a horse.

Je pris la bale au premier bond, I took the ball at the first rebound.

Un faux bond, a false rebound.

Prendre une bale entre bond & volée, to take a ball at the first rebound.

Autant de bond que de volée, both ways.

† Il m'a fait un faux bond, he has plaid me a trick.

Bonde, (f.) a Sluce.

Lever la bonde d'un Etang, to open the sluce of a Pond.

Or thus. As, Gen. 7. 11. alors les bondes des Cieux furent ouvertes, then the windows of Heaven were opened.

Bondir, to caper, frisk, skip, or jump.

Le jeune Taureau bondit sur l'herbe, the young Bull capers (or frisks) upon the grass.

Or thus. As, † Cette Viande me fait bondir le cœur, le cœur me bondit quand j'en mange, this meat rises in my stomach.

† Bondissement, (m.) a bounding up, skipping, or jumping; a rising of the stomach.

Bondon, (m.) bung, stopple.

Bondonné, stopped.

Bondonner, to stop with a bung, or stopple.

Bonheur, (m.) good luck, good fortune, prosperity, happiness.

Vous avez bien du bonheur, you got the luck on't. Je vous souhaite toute sorte de bonheur, I wish you all manner of good fortune, or prosperity.

C'est un grand bonheur, 'tis a great happiness.

Bonne. See Bon.

Bonnement, downright, ingenuously.

Il y va tout bonnement, he is a downright (or plain) man.

Avouer bonnement une chose, ingenuously to confess a thing.

Or thus. Je ne sai bonnement que dire, I know not indeed what to say.

Je ne saurois bonnement vous le dire, I cannot tell you exactly.

Bonnet, (m.) a Cap.

Bonnet d'homme, ou d'enfant, a man's, or a child's cap.

Bonnet de nuit, a night-cap. Bonnet carré, a square cap.

Bonnet à la Dragonne, a Dragooners cap.

Bonnet plein, bonnet à la raie, two sorts of Womens caps.

Bonnet à Prêtre, Terme de Fortification, a sort of Out-work.

† Rire sous le bonnet, to laugh in his sleeve.

Avoir la tête près du bonnet, to be hasty; also to be cunning, or crafty. Triste comme un bonnet de nuit sans coife, very sad, or melancholy. Bonnet blanc, blanc bonnet, the same thing.

Porter le bonnet verd, to wear a green Cap, to be a cessionary bankrupt. For such Bankrupts were formerly enjoined to wear a fashion of green Caps in publick Assemblies, thereby to be the better known and avoided.

Quitter le bonnet & les bancs, to quit the Bar and Divinity.

† Bonnetade, (f.) capping.

† Bonneter, to pull off his hat, or cap.

As, bonneter tout le monde, to pull off his hat to every body.

Bonnetier, (m.) a Cap-maker; also one that makes all manner of woollen work.

Bonnette, (f.) the bonnet of a Sail, a small Sail, which in fair weather is commonly clapt to the bottom or the sides of the two great Sails.

Il y a bonnette mailée, & bonnettes en e-tui. Celle là se met au bas des deux grandes Voiles, & s'attache à des anneaux, ou bien à des mailles, cd. à des ceilllets qui sont auprès de la Ralingue. Celles ci qui ont la figure d'un Etui, regnent le long des côtes de la grand' Voile.

En Termes de Fortification on appelle aussi Bonnette un Ouvrage composé de deux Faces, qui forment un Angle saillant en façon d'un petit Ravelin.

Bons-hommes. See Minimes.

Bonté, (f.) goodness; kindness, or favour; justice; strength.

Avoir un fond de bonté, to have a stock of goodness. Bonté de naturel, goodness of nature, good nature.

J'atten cette faveur de votre bonté, that favour I expect from your goodness.

Ayez la bonté de me venir voir, do me the favour (or kindness) to come and see me.

La bonté de ma Cause, the justice of my Cause.

Il se confioit en la bonté de la Place, he trusted to the strength of the Place.

Borax, (m.) borax.

Le borax est un Mineral ordinairement blanc-châtre, & quécuefois jaune, verd, ou noirâtre, borax is a Mineral most commonly whitish, but sometimes yellow, green, or blackish.

Le

Le borax est naturel, ou artificiel, borax is either natural, or artificial.
Le borax artificiel est composé d'alum & de salpêtre, the artificial borax is made of alum and saltpeter.

Bord, (m.) edge, side, brink, or brim; Side, or Shore; Ship, or Ship-board.

Le bord d'une Table, the edge of a Table.

Le bord d'un Puis, the brink of a Well.

Le bord d'un Chapeau, the brim of a Hat.

Le bord d'un Tableau, the side of a Picture.

Bord de Lac, ou de Rivière, the Water-side.

Le bord de la Mer, the Sea-side, or the Shore.

Prendre bord, to go ashore.

J'allai me rendre à son bord, I went to his Ship, I went a Ship-board to him.

Mettre à bord, conduire au bord, to carry a Ship-board.

Il eut 30 hommes tuez sur son bord, he had 30 men killed upon his board.

Or thus. As, il est sur le bord de sa fosse, he has already one foot in his grave.

J'ai son Nom sur le bord des lèvres, I have his Name at my tongue's end.

Chapeau qui baisse les bords, a Hat that flaps down.

Tu feras à ses bords des Grenades de pourpre, d'escarlante, & de cramoisi, (Ex. 28. 33) beneath upon the hem of it thou shalt make pomegranates of blue, purple, and scarlet.

Un rouge bord, un Verre tout plein de vin, a brimmer.

Rendre le Bord, (en Termes de Mer) to cast Anchor.

Courir bord sur bord, to go tacking about.

Mettre à l'autre bord, to tack about.

Bordage, (m.) the outside planks of a Ship.

Bordé, (from Border) edged, bordered, &c. according to the Verb.

Le Chemin est bordé de grands Arbres, there's a rank of high Trees on each side of the Way.

Bordée, (f.) a broad-side.

As, nous lâchâmes une bordée de Canon sur eux, we gave them a broad-side.

Bordée signifie aussi le Cours d'un Vaisseau depuis un Revirement jusqu'à l'autre, that is the Course of a Ship from one Tacking to another.

Bordel, (m.) a Bawdy house.

Bordel privé, ou public, a private or publick Bawdy house.

Fréquenter (courir) le bordel, to haunt bawdy-houses.

Le Pape tire des Bordels de Rome un Revenu très considérable, the Bawdy houses at Rome yield to the Pope a considerable Revenue.

†Bordelage, (m.) Whoring.

Border, to edge, or border.

Border une jupe, to border a Peticoat.

Border les poches, to edge the pockets with a galoon.

Or thus. Border une Allée d'Arbres, to set Trees on both sides of a Walk.

Border une Haie pour faire sa décharge, to line a Hedge for a discharge.

Les Soldats bordoient la Rivière, the Souldiers stood along the River side.

Border un Lit, faire entrer les bords de la Couverture dans le bois de Lit, to tuck in the Cloaths.

Border les avirons, les mettre dans les tourrets du bachot pour nager, to hold still the Oars, to give over rowing.

Border un Vaisseau, le suivre de côté pour l'observer & le reconnoître, to make towards a Ship, to observe her.

Border une Voile, c'est l'étendre par enbas, en halant ou tirant les Cordages appelez Ecoutes, pour prendre le Vent.

Bordereau, (m.) a note, an account.

Bordure, (f.) a frame (for a Picture, or a Looking-glass; the border of a Coat of Arms; the border of a Bed in a Garden; the top and bottom of some Suits of Hangings.

Porter de gueules à la bordure d'hermines, to bear gules with a bordure ermin.

Boreal, Northern, Northery.

Borcée, (m.) the North-Wind.

Ce Mot est Poétique.

Borgne, one-eyed, blind of one eye, that has but one eye; blind, or dark.

Un Cheval borgne, a Horse that has but one eye.

† Un Cabaret borgne, a blind Tavern.

Une

Chambre borgne, a dark, (a blind) Room.

This Adjective, being used for Persons, carries a Contempt with it. As, Je pense que vous êtes borgne, I think you are blind.

Borgne, (masc. subst.) a man blind of one eye.

Un Borgne est Roi chez les Aveugles, he that hath but one eye is King amongst the Blind.

Or thus. As, c'est un mechant Borgne, he is a cross Patch.

†Borgnesse, (f.) a Woman blind of one eye.

Borne, (f.) bound, or limit.

Poser une borne, to set a bound.

Etendre les bornes de son Empire, to stretch the bounds of his Dominions.

Son Ambition n'a point de bornes, his Ambition hath no bounds.

Passer les bornes de la Raïson, to exceed the bounds of Reason.

Se tenir dans les bornes de son Devoir, to keep within the bounds of his Duty.

Borné, bounded, limited.

Or thus. As, un Champ borné, a Field with the bounds set out.

Un Esprit fort borné, a shallow Brain, a mean Wit.

Borner, to set bounds to, to confine; to end, or put an end to.

Borner un Champ, to set bounds to a Field.

Borner son Ambition, to set bounds to his Ambition.

Borner les Espérances des Grands, to confine the Hopes of great Men.

Il ne faut pas borner la félicité de l'Homme par les plaisirs de cette Vie, a Man's happiness is not to be confined within the pleasures of this Life.

La Mort ne bornera pas mon bonheur, Death shall not put an end to my happiness.

Se borner, to confine himself.

Quand on fait se borner, on est aisément heureux, a Man is soon happy that can confine himself.

Borras } See { Borax.

Borcage } { Bocage.

Bosquet, (m.) from Bois, a Thicket, Grove, or little Wood.

Bosse, (f.) bunch, or swelling; a bunch in the back; imbossing, or relief; a kind of lock; the burl (or button) in a Deer's head.

Il lui a fait une bosse, he hath made him a bunch.

Elle tâche à cacher sa bosse, mais elle n'en peut venir à bout, she doth what she can to hide her crooked back, but she cannot compass it.

Bosse de Chameau, the bunch of a Camel.

Ouvrage relevé en bosse, an imbossed piece of Work.

Ouvrage de bosse ronde, cd. en relief, a Picture in relief.

Ouvrage de demi bosse, ou demi relief, a Picture in half relief.

† Relié en bosse, cd. bossu, crooked, that hath a crooked back.

Bosses (Terme de Mer) bouts de Corde qui ont des Neuds à leurs extremités, ends of Ropes knotted at the ends.

Bosseman, (m.) Officier de l'Equipage, a Boat-swain.

Bossète, (f.) Terme d'Epronniere, a stud in a horse's bridle.

Bossu, crooked, crumpled.

Proverbs.

De jeune Medecin Cimetiere bossu, a young Physician makes a fat Church-yard.

Le Veau & les Pouteis mal cuits font les Cimetieres bossus, Veal and Chickens half roasted (or half boyled) are only good to fill up the Church-yards.

Un bossu, a crooked man.

Une bossue, a crooked woman.

Botanique, (f.) Botanicks, or Skill in herbs.

Botaniste, (m.) Botanist, Herborist.

Botargues, botargo, the hard rows of the Murene (a kind of Mullet) salted, dried, and eaten to provoke drinking.

Bote, (f.) boot; bunch; a pass, in the Art of fencing.

Une paire de botes, a pair of boots.

Les genouilleres, la tige, & le pié d'une bote, the tops, leg, and foot of a boot.

Mettre ses botes, to put on his boots.

Mettre les botes à quécun, to help one to put on his boots.

Tirer ses botes, to pull off his boots.

Tirer les botes à quécun, to pull off ones boots.

Bote d'allumettes, de raves, d'oignons, &c. a bunch of matches, of radishes, onions, &c. the like.

Porter (alonger) une bote à quécun, to make a pass at one.

Or thus. As, une bote de foin, a bottle of hay.

Bote de vin, a butt.

Cent botes de raisins secs, (1 Sam. 25. 18.) an hundred clusters of raisins.

Boté, booted, that has got boots on.

Boteler. As, boteler du foin, to make hay into bottles.

Boteteur, (m.) a maker of hay into bottles.

Boter quécun, to help one on with his boots.

Se boter, to put on his boots.

Botine, (f.) a buskin.

En Moscovie tout le Monde porte des botines, les femmes aussi bien que les hommes, in Moscow they all wear buskins, women as well as men.

Bouc, (m.) a he-goat.

Puant comme un bouc, that stinks like a he-goat.

†Boucan, (m.) a Bawdy house.

Boucassin, (m.) a kind of fustian.

Bouche, (f.) mouth; one of the chief Offices where the King's Provisions are kept.

Une grande bouche, une bouche fendue, a wide mouth.

Une petite bouche, a little mouth.

Bouche de Saumon, de Carpe, de Grenouille, the mouth of a Salmon, of a Carp, of a Frog.

Bouche d'estomac, de four, de canon, &c. the mouth of the stomach, of an oven, of a great gun, &c.

Ouvrir la bouche, to open his mouth.

Personne n'osa ouvrir la bouche, no body durst open his mouth.

De l'abondance du Cœur la bouche parle, of the abundance of the Heart the Mouth speaks.

Fermer la bouche, to shut his mouth.

Fermer la bouche à quécun, le faire taire, l'empêcher de parler, to stop ones mouth, to make him hold his tongue.

Il a la bouche cousue, il ne parle pas, his mouth is sewed up, he don't speak.

Dire quelque chose de bouche, to tell a thing by word of mouth.

Selon ta bourse gouverne ta bouche, govern thy mouth by thy means, or cut your coat according to your cloth.

Or thus. Il dit tout ce qui lui vient en bouche, he speaks what comes next.

Avoir bouche à Cour, to have budge-a-Court, to be in ordinary at Court; to eat and drink scot-free.

Bouche vermeille, bouche de rose, vermillion, rosy lips.

Bouche riante, a smiling countenance.

Etre sujet à sa bouche, to be given to his belly.

Nous avons pris sur notre bouche la dépense de ses funérailles, we saved out of our bellies the charge of his funerals.

Faire venir l'eau en la bouche de quécun, to make ones teeth water, to make him have a desire after a thing.

L'eau lui vient en la bouche, his teeth water.

Avoir bonne bouche, cd. ne rien decouvrir, to keep counsel, to be secret.

Garder pour la bonne bouche, cd. pour la fin du repas, to keep for the last bit.

Cela vous fera bonne bouche, cela vous rendra l'haleine douce & agreable, that will sweeten your breath.

On ne lui sauroit plus ouvrir la bouche, on ne le sauroit plus faire parler, one cannot make him speak a word more.

Il n'a ni bouche ni eperon, cd. ni parole, ni esprit, he is a meer sot, he hath no discourse nor wit.

Elle n'en fait point la petite bouche, cd. elle le dit franchement, she does not conceal it, she speaks it openly, plainly, freely.

† Elle fait la petite bouche, elle ne mange pas à table, she does not eat at table, she makes as if she could not eat.

Afin que la Parole me soit donnée à bouche ouverte, (Eph. 6. 19.) that Utterance may be given unto me.

Cheval qui a bonne bouche, qui mange toute pâture, a hard-feeding horse, a horse that will eat any thing.

Cheval fort en bouche, a hard-mouthed horse.

Bouché (from Boucher) stopped, &c. according to the Verb.

Un trou bouché, a hole stopped. Une bouteille bien bouchée, a bottle well stopped.

Avoir les oreilles bouchées, to have his ears stopped.

Or thus. As, un Port bouché par les Sables, a Port choked up with Sands.

Bouchée, (a fem. subst.) from Bouche, a mouthful, a morsel.

Avaler une bouchée, to swallow a mouthful.

Boucher (from Bouchon) to stop.

As, boucher une bouteille, to stop a bottle.

Se boucher les oreilles, to stop his ears.

Boucher ses oreilles aux plaintes de quécun, to stop his ears to ones complaint.

Or thus. As, boucher à quécun toutes les avenues, tous les passages, to shut up all the avenues and passages.

Boucher la veuë à quécun, to dam up ones light.

Boucher, (a masc. subst.) a Butcher.

Bouchère, (f.) a Butcher's Wife, or Widow; or a Woman that drives a Butchers Trade.

Boucherie, (f.) shambles; butchery, slaughter.

As, 1 Cor. 10. 25. Mangez de tout ce qui se vend à la Boucherie, whatsoever is sold in the Shambles, that eat.

Ils enfonterent l'Escadron, & en firent une cruelle boucherie, they broke the Squadron, and made a grievous slaughter of it.

Nous sommes estimés comme des Brebis de la Boucherie, (Rom. 8. 35.) we are accounted as Sheep for the Slaughter.

Or thus. As, aller à la Boucherie, to go to the Butchers.

Bouchin (m.) le large du Vaisseau de dehors en dehors, the broadest part of a Ship.

Bouchon, (m.) a cork, a stopple, that where-with a thing is stopped; a Tavern-bush; a Wisp; several Springs that spring from the same place.

Bouchonné, rubbed.

Bouchonner un Cheval, to rub a Horse with a wisp.

Boucle, (f.) buckle; a ring for a Mare; a ring or knocker for a Door; a hair-curl.

Porter de belles boucles à ses souliers, to have fine buckles to his shoes.

Boucles de baudrier, the buckles of a belt.

Tenir sous boucle, (cd. sous la clé, ou en prison) to keep one close.

Bouclé, curled; rung, as a Mare.

Boucler, to curl.

Boucler une Cavale, to ring a Mare, (to keep her from the Horse.)

Bouclier, (m.) shield, buckler.

Le Seigneur est mon Bouclier, the Lord is my Shield.

Le Bouclier de la Foi, (Ephes. 6. 16.) the Shield of Faith.

Or thus. † Faire une levée de boucliers, entreprendre une chose qui n'a point de succès, to make great attempts which at last will come to nothing.

† Boucon, (m.) poison.

On lui a donné un boucon, he is poisoned.

Boudelle, (f.) a little pen.

Bouder, to scold.

Elle ne fait que bouder, she scolds perpetually.

Boudeur, (m.) a Scold; or scolding Man.

Boudeuse, (f.) a Scold, or scolding Woman.

Boudin, (m.) pudding; a kind of squib used in Mines.

Boudin blanc, white pudding.

Boudinière, (f.) a little Tunnel (used for making of pudding).

Boué, (f.) dirt.

Etre tout couvert de boué, to be covered all over with dirt.

Se veautrer dans la boué, to wallow in the dirt.

Or thus. Une Ame de boué, une Ame vile & basse, a dirty (or pitiful) Soul.

Tu vas couvrir de boué les beaux Titres de ta Maison, thou art going to disgrace thy Family.

L'Homme n'est qu'un peu de boué, Man is but a lump of clay.

Bouée (f.) Marque, ou Enseigne, qu'on laisse flotter sur l'Eau, pour indiquer l'Endroit où l'Ancre est mouillée, a Buoy.

Bouëur, (m.) a Dust-man; a Scavenger.

† Bouëux, dirty.

Bouffé, blown.

As, Viande bouffée, blown meat.

Bouffée de vent, (f.) a blast (or gust) of wind.

Il vint une si furieuse bouffée de Vent, que nous fumes contraints de relâcher quécun tems, there came such a furious gust of Wind, that we were forced to run back for a while.

Or thus. As, † il sort de la bouche de ces Yvrongres des bouffées qui engloutissent le Cœur, there come such Winds out of those Drunkards mouths as makes ones Stomack rise.

Boufer, to blow, or spread with blowing.

Boufer un mouton, on un veau, le souffler pour en rendre la chair plus belle, to blow a Sheep, or a Calf, to make the flesh on't look better.

Or thus. Il bouffe, cd. il est dans une colere qui n'eclate pas, he is in a surly humour, his heart is big, he is in his fumes.

Bouffette, (f.) an ear-knot of narrow ribbons.

Bouffi, puffed up.

As, bouffi d'orgueil, puffed up with pride.

Boufon, jesting, full of jests, pleasant, merry, jovial.

Un Esprit boufon, a Man full of jests, a pleasant (a merry) Man.

Une humeur boufonne, a pleasant (or jovial) humour.

Boufon, (a masc. subst.) a Buffoon.

Boufonner, to play the Buffoon; to be merry, pleasant, or full of jests.

Boufonnerie, (f.) Buffoonry, Jestings, Mirth.

Une froide boufonnerie, a sorry way of Jestings.

Bouge, (m.) a little Room without a Chimney; the middle part of a Wine-cask.

Bougé. See Bouger.

Bougeoir, (m.) from Bougie, a Wax-candlestick.

Bouger, to budge, to stir.

Ne bougez pas d'ici, don't budge, don't stir from hence.

Il ne bouge jamais de sa place, he never stirs from his place.

Bougeron, as Bougre.

Bougeronné, buggered.

Bougeronner, to bugger.

Bougette, (f.) a budge, male, or bag.

Une bougette d'argent, (Prov. 7. 20.) a bag of money.

Bougie, (f.) wax-candle.

Bougié, seared with a wax-candle.

Bougie (Terme de Tailleur) to sear with a wax-candle.

Bougran, (m.) buckram.

Bougre, (m.) Buggerer, Sodomite; a Rogue, a Rascal.

† Bouillamment, hotly, eagerly.

Bouillant, hot, boiling, scalding hot; hot-headed, petulant, hasty.

De l'eau bouillante, water that's scalding hot. Humeur chaude & bouillante, a hot humour.

Un Esprit bouillant, a hot-headed Man, a hasty Man. Jeunesse bouillante, petulant Youth.

Je conoites l'œuvre, c'est que tu n'es ni froid ni bouillant, (Rev. 3. 15.) I know thy Work, that thou art neither cold nor hot.

Or thus. Il étoit tout bouillant de vin & de colere, he was heated with wine and anger.

Bouilli, boyled.

As, du beef bouilli, boyled beef. De l'eau bouillie, boyled water.

Ceux qui se moquent de la biere l'appellent de l'eau bouillie, the great Disparagers of Beer say, that it is nothing but boyled Water.

Bouilli, (subst.) boyled meat.

As, le bouilli n'est pas si sain que le roti, boyled meat is not so wholesom as roast meat.

Bouillie, (a fem. subst.) pap.

Faire de la bouillie, to make pap.

Bouillir, to boyl, or seeth; to work.

Bouillir à gros bouillons, to boyl briskly.

Quand le sang bouilloit dans mes veines, when my blood boiled within me.

Faire bouillir l'eau, to make the water boyl.

Faire bouillir la marmite, to make the pot seeth, or boyl, (which hath two Senses in both Languages, the one proper and the other a figurative Sense.)

Le Vin nouveau boit dans les Vaisseaux, new Wine works in the Vessels.

Bouillon, (m.) a walm, or seething up; broth; heat, or transport of passion; a puff in a Garment.

Le bouillon du pot, the seething of the pot.

Après trois ou quatre bouillons les herbes sont cuites, three or four walmes (or seethings up) is enough to boyl herbs.

Prendre du bouillon, to take some broth.

En verité voila d'excellent bouillon, indeed that's excellent good broth.

Moderer les bouillons de la Jeunesse, to allay the passions of Youth. Un bouillon de colere, a transport of anger.

Or thus. L'eau sort de la roche à gros bouillons, the water comes impetuously (it comes gushing) out of the rock.

Bouillonnement, (m.) a boiling.

Bouillonneur, to boyl.

Mon cœur bouillonne un bon propos (Ps. 45. 2.) my heart is inditing a good matter.

La Source de Sapience est un Torrent qui bouillonne, (Prov. 18. 4.) the Well-spring of Wisdom is as a flowing Brook.

Bouis, (m.) the box-tree; box.

Boulangier } See } Boulenger

Boulangere } Boulengere.

Boulangerie } Boulengerie.

Boule, (f.) a bowl; a ball.

Jouer à la boule, to play at bowls. Jetter la boule, to throw the bowl, to bowl.

A l'Enseigne de la boule d'or, at the Sign of the golden ball.

Or thus. Jouer à boule veuë, faire seurement ce qu'on fait, to play sure play.

Faire une chose à boule veuë, ou inconsidérément, to do a thing rashly, or at random.

† Tenir pié à boule, to mind his business.

Bouleau, (m.) birch-tree.

† Boulengé, baked, (as Lev. 23. 17.)

† Boulenger, to bake. Se boulenger, to be baked.

Le Gâteau ne se boulengera point avec le vain, (Lev. 6. 17.) the Meat-offering shall not be baked with leaven.

Boulenger, (a masc. subst.) a Baker.

Boulengere, (f.) a Baker's Wife, or Widow; a Nun that makes the bread for the Nunnery.

Boulengerie, (f.) a Bake-house; baking, or the art of baking.

Boulet (m.) from Boule, bullet; the next joyn't to a horses foot.

Boulet à deux têtes, a Chain-bullet.

Un coup de boulet, a bullet shot.

Boulevard, (m.) bulwark.

Le Tigre & l'Euphrate sont les deux puissans Boulevards de ce Royaume, the Tigris and the Euphrates are the two great Bulwarks of that Kingdom.

This is the modern Use of this Word, that is in a figurative Sense. Whereas it was used formerly in a proper Sense, to express that which we now call a Bastion.

Bouleversé, overturned, overthrown, turned topsy-turvy.

Bouleversement, (m.) an overturning; overthrowing, or turning topsy-turvy; a great confusion, or disorder.

Un Bouleversement universel, a general Confusion.

Bouleverser, to overturn, overthrow, or turn topsy-turvy.

† Boulie. See Bouillie.

Boulimie, (f.) bulimy, canine appetite.

Boulin, (m.) a Pigeon-hole (in a Dove-coat.)

Bouline, (f.) Corde qui sert à porter la Voile de biais pour courir au plus près du Vent, Boline, or Tack.

Vent de bouline, éloigné de cinq Airs de Vent du Lieu de la Route, a Tack-wind.

Bouliner ou aller à la bouline, courir au plus près du vent, to go near the wind.

Boulingriu.

Boulingrin, (m.) a green Plot.
Boulon, (m.) a great Pin of Iron, (such as Tradesmen shut in their Shop-windows withall.)

†Boulu, boiled. Say Bouilli.

†Bouquer, to buckle.

As, faire bouquer quécun, to make one buckle; to make one mad.

Bouquet, (m.) nosegay.

As, un bouquet de diverses fleurs, a nosegay of several flowers.

Or thus. As, un Bouquet de plumes, a plume of feathers.

Bouquet de poires, a cluster of pears. Ils lui donnerent deux bouquets de raisins secs. (1 Sam. 30. 12.) they gave him two clusters of raisins.

Bouquet de paille, a Wisp of straw tied to the tail and mane of some Horses to sell.

Bouquets de Scions d'Arbres, knots of Scions.

Bouquetier, (m.) a Flower-pot.

Bouquetiere, (f.) a Nosegay-Woman.

Bouquetin, (m.) from Bouc, a wild Goat, (such as are found in the Alps of Dauphiné, Savoy, and the Country of Grisons.)

Bouquin, (m.) vieux bouquin, an old book.

Lire de vieux bouquins, to read old books.

Bouquin, (from Bouc) rammissio.

As, sentir le bouquin, to smell rammissio.

Bouquiner, chercher de vieux Livres, to be hunting of old Books.

Il ne fait que bouquiner, he is ever hunting of old books.

Bouquiner se dit aussi du Lievre, lors qu'il est en amour, & qu'il tient la hase.

Bourache, (f.) borage.

Bouras, (m.) a course kind of cloth.

Bouraque, (f.) storm, tempest.

Bourbe, (f.) mud, mire, Ps. 69. 15.

Enfoncer dans la bourbe, to sink in the mud.

Bonbeux, muddy, full of mud.

Un Etang bonbeux, a muddy Pond.

Bourbier, (m.) mire, slough, or puddle.

Se jeter dans un bourbier, to fall into a mire.

† Laisser quécun dans le bourbier, to leave one in the mire.

Bourcer. See Carguer.

Bourde, (f.) a fib, a lie, a tale of a tub.

Donner d'une bourde à quécun, to tell one a lie, to impose upon him.

Bourdellois, (m.) a certain Vine (or Grape) that yields very sour Wine. And therefore 'tis usually set about Arbours, more for the shadow, than for the fruit it yields.

Bourder, (from Bourde) to fib.

Bourdeur } a Fibber.

Bourdeuse }

Bourdon, (m.) a drone; the drone of a bagpipe; the humming, or buzzing of bees; a Pilgrims staff.

† Planter le bourdon en quécun lieu, to settle (or fix) himself somewhere.

Bourdonnement, (m.) a noise, a buzzing, or humming, a grumbling noise.

J'ai un bourdonnement d'oreille qui m'incommode fort, I am very much troubled with a noise in my ear.

Bourdonnement de l'Abdomen, a grumbling of the Abdomen.

Bourdonner, to buzz, or hum; to mumble, or mutter.

Bourre, (f.) a fib, a lie, a tale of a tub.

Donner d'une bourre à quécun, to tell one a lie, to impose upon him.

Bourdelois, (m.) a certain Vine (or Grape) that yields very sour Wine. And therefore 'tis usually set about Arbours, more for the shadow, than for the fruit it yields.

Bourder, (from Bourde) to fib.

Bourdeur } a Fibber.

Bourdeuse }

Bourdon, (m.) a drone; the drone of a bagpipe; the humming, or buzzing of bees; a Pilgrims staff.

† Planter le bourdon en quécun lieu, to settle (or fix) himself somewhere.

Bourdonnement, (m.) a noise, a buzzing, or humming, a grumbling noise.

J'ai un bourdonnement d'oreille qui m'incommode fort, I am very much troubled with a noise in my ear.

Bourdonnement de l'Abdomen, a grumbling of the Abdomen.

Bourdonner, to buzz, or hum; to mumble, or mutter.

Bourre, (f.) a fib, a lie, a tale of a tub.

Donner d'une bourre à quécun, to tell one a lie, to impose upon him.

Bourdelois, (m.) a certain Vine (or Grape) that yields very sour Wine. And therefore 'tis usually set about Arbours, more for the shadow, than for the fruit it yields.

Bourder, (from Bourde) to fib.

Bourdeur } a Fibber.

Bourdeuse }

ne fait pas figure, a small Citizen, or Burges, that makes no figure.

Travailler pour le Bourgeois, to work for the Master.

Or thus. As, † cela est du dernier Bourgeois, that's like a pitiful Tradesman.

Bourgeois, (Adj.) of, or belonging to a Citizen; Citizen-like.

As, Caution Bourgeoise, a Citizen's Security.

† Cela est un peu Bourgeois, that's something like a Citizen. Maniere d'agir Bourgeoise, a Citizen-like Way.

Bourgeoise, (a fem. subst.) a Citizen's Wife.

Bourgeoisement, like a Citizen, or Citizen-like.

Vivre Bourgeoisement, to live Citizen-like.

Bourgeoisie, (f.) the freedom of Citizens; the Citizens themselves.

Bourgeon, (m.) a bud, a young sprig; a pimple in the face.

Un Visage plein de bourgeons, a Face full of pimples.

Bourgeonné, full of pimples.

Visage tout bourgeonné, a face full of pimples.

Bourgeonner, to shoot out, or spring up (as a young sprig); to be overspread with pimples.

Bourgmestre, or Bourguemaître, (m.) a Burgo-master; one of the chief Magistrates in the Low Country Towns, and other Places in Germany; an eminent Burges, or Citizen.

Bourguinote, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bourique, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bourlet, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bouracan, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bourache, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bouras, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bouraque, (f.) a burganet, or Spanish murrion.

Bourre, (f.) flocks; Cows hair, &c. serving to stuff, and used by Bricklayers in their mortar; the ram, or wad rammed in upon the charge of a gun.

Un Lit de bourre, a flock-bed. Remplir de bourre, to stuff with flocks.

Bourre lanice, flocks of wool.

Bourré, beaten, (especially in the business of fencing.)

Bourreau, (m.) Hang-man, Executioner; a cruel mercies man.

Bourrée, (f.) a bavin, brush, or sagot of small wood; a merry kind of Dance.

Bourrelé, troubled, tormented.

Etre bourrelé en sa Conscience, to be troubled in his Conscience. Avoir l'ame bourrelée, to have a troubled Spirit.

Bourreler, to trouble, to torment.

Bourrelet, (m.) a roll (for a Woman's head) a pudding for a young Child's head.

Ente qui fait le bourrelet. Cela se dit, lors que l'Ente se joint difficilement avec le Sauvageau qui demeure plus petit.

Bourrelier, (m.) a Maker of Horses-Collars, and the like.

Bourrer, to ram in stuff upon the charge of a gun; to beat one in fencing, or be too hard for him; to pay one off, or to confound him.

Bourrique, (f.) a she Ass; a kind of hand-barrow made use of by Masons and Bricklayers.

Bourru, humourfom, capricious, fantastical.

Un esprit bourru, an humourfom man. Une humeur bourru, a fantastical humour.

Un Bourru, (Subst.) a man hard to please, a sad (peevish, morose) man.

Du Vin bourru, new sweet wine, wine that is not yet settled after Vintage, new (thick, or unfined) white Wine.

Bourse, (f.) purse; a bag, Luke 12. 33; a bladder; ballock, the outward skin wherein the Cod is contained; a fruit (or flower) bud; a Burse, or Exchange for Merchants to meet in.

Une belle bourse, a fine purse. Vivre sur la bourse d'autrui, to live upon another man's purse.

Offrir la bourse à un ami, to offer his purse to a friend. Malmener la bourse d'autrui, to be prodigal of another man's purse.

Donner au plus Larron la bourse, to trust the greatest Thief with his purse.

Bourse, (f.) purse; a bag, Luke 12. 33; a bladder; ballock, the outward skin wherein the Cod is contained; a fruit (or flower) bud; a Burse, or Exchange for Merchants to meet in.

Une belle bourse, a fine purse. Vivre sur la bourse d'autrui, to live upon another man's purse.

Offrir la bourse à un ami, to offer his purse to a friend. Malmener la bourse d'autrui, to be prodigal of another man's purse.

Donner au plus Larron la bourse, to trust the greatest Thief with his purse.

Bourse, (f.) purse; a bag, Luke 12. 33; a bladder; ballock, the outward skin wherein the Cod is contained; a fruit (or flower) bud; a Burse, or Exchange for Merchants to meet in.

Une belle bourse, a fine purse. Vivre sur la bourse d'autrui, to live upon another man's purse.

Offrir la bourse à un ami, to offer his purse to a friend. Malmener la bourse d'autrui, to be prodigal of another man's purse.

Donner au plus Larron la bourse, to trust the greatest Thief with his purse.

Bourse, (f.) purse; a bag, Luke 12. 33; a bladder; ballock, the outward skin wherein the Cod is contained; a fruit (or flower) bud; a Burse, or Exchange for Merchants to meet in.

Une belle bourse, a fine purse. Vivre sur la bourse d'autrui, to live upon another man's purse.

Proverbs.

Selon ta bourse gouverne ta bouche, be sure to live within compass. Une belle Hoteffe est un Mal pour la bourse, a fair Hostess brings in a foul reckoning. Quand on n'a pas d'argent en bourse il faut avoir du miel en bouche, let him speak fair (or give good words) that cannot spend freely. Ce sont les petits Gains qui emplissent la bourse, light Gains make heavy purses.

La bourse du fiel, the vesicle of the gall. Avoir les bourses enflées, to have his ballocks swelled.

Aller à la Bourse, to go to the Exchange.

Sortir de la Bourse, to come out of the Exchange.

La Bourse Royale de Londres est la plus belle de l'Europe, the Royal Exchange of London is the finest Exchange in Europe.

Or thus. As, faire bourse à part, to lay up for himself. Un Coupeur de bourse, a Pick-pocket.

Bourse de Secrétaire du Roi, the Fees of a King's Secretary. Bourse de Collège, a Maintenance (or Pension) in a College for a young Student.

† Bourrier, (m.) a Purse-maker; a Purse-seller; a Scholar that hath a yearly pension in a College.

Bourfiller, tirer de l'argent de plusieurs pour faire une petite somme, to make a purse, gathering, or collection.

On a bourfillé à l'Académie, there has been a gathering made in the University.

Bourfon, (m.) a little leathern purse.

Bourfoufflé, bloted (by some remnants of a Distemper.)

† Un gros Bourfoufflé, a big bloted Bod.

Boufe, (f.) Cow-dung, Cow-turd.

Bouffole, (f.) Compass, a Mariner's Compass.

Bout, (m.) end, the extrem (or utmost) part of a thing; top, Heb. 11. 21.

Les deux bouts d'une Rue, the two ends of a Street. Toucher du bout des doigts, to touch with his fingers end.

Jusqu'au bout du Monde, to the Worlds end.

Le haut bout de la Table, the upper end of a Table.

Entendre la Comédie d'un bout à l'autre, to hear the Play from one end of it to the other.

Au bout de 30 Jours ils se rendirent, at the end of 30 Days they surrendered.

Or thus. Le bout d'un fourreau d'épée, the chape of a scabbard. Un bâton à deux bouts, a Quarter-staff.

Bout d'argent (Terme de Tireur d'or) a great stick of fine Silver. Bout d'or, a stick of silver gilt.

Bout de l'an (Terme d'Eglise) the annual Service that is read for a Deceased.

Bout saigneux, the bloody (or craggy) end of a Neck of mutton.

Un bout de chandelle, a piece of candle. Le bout du né, the tip of the nose.

Le bout de l'oreille, the tip of the ear. Le bout du tétou, the nipple of a breast.

Le bout des lèvres, the tip (edge, or outside) of the lips.

Bouts rimez, Rimes en blanc qu'on a dessein de remplir, Verses unfinished with a space left for the finishing of the Rhime.

Tenir le haut bout, to have the upper hand.

Il veut toujours tenir le haut bout, he is always for the upper hand, always struggling for precedence.

Il tient le haut bout parmi ses Compagnons, he is the head of all his Companions, he has got the upper hand.

Venir à bout de son dessein, to bring his Design about, to compass it. Vous n'en viendrez jamais à bout, you will never compass it.

Venir à bout d'un Enfant, le redire, le reformer, to reclaim a Child.

Ta science est si haut élevée, que je n'en saurois venir à bout, (Ps. 139. 6.) thy knowledge is so high, that I cannot attain unto it.

L'homme ne sauroit comprendre l'Oeuvre que Dieu a faite de bout à autre, (Eccl. 3. 11.) Man cannot find out the Work which God maketh from the beginning to the end.

G

Mettre

Mettre à bout la patience de quécun, to tire ones patience, to weary him out of his patience. Pouffer une chose à bout, to drive a business to the head. Se mettre sur le bon bout, to set himself off, to begin to make some figure.
 Jusques au bout, (1 Theff. 2. 16.) to the uttermost.
 Tirer quécun à bout portant, cd. le bout de l'Arme étant presque sur le ventre de son Enemi, to shoot one very close, to shoot him with the gun set to his breast.
 † A tout bout de champ, ever, ever and anon.
 Avoir Vent de bout (Termes de Mer) cd. avoir Vent contraire, to have the Wind against us, to have a contrary Wind.
 Bout, from Bouillir, to boil.
 As, la viande bout, the meat boils.
 Boutade, (f.) fit, maggot, or frolick.
 Boutade de vers, a poetick rapture.
 † Boutadeux, maggot-headed, frolicksom.
 Boute. See Baille.
 Boutefeu, (m.) Boutefeu, Incendiary, a wilful firer of Houses; a Fire-brand of Sedition, a kindler of strife and contention, one that loves to set and see men together by the ears; the forked stick whereon hangs the match that a Gunner fires his great Guns with.
 Boute-hors, (m.) the Knaave out of doors, a kind of Play.
 Jouer à bout-hors, to play at the knave out of doors.
 It signified also in former times, to be about to supplant one another; but now 'tis grown out of use in that sense.
 † Boutehors, facilité de parler, good utterance, ready tongue, quick delivery. Il n'a point le boutehors, he hath no good utterance.
 Bouteille, (f.) bottle.
 As, bouteille de verre, de terre, ou de cuir, a glass, stone, or leathern bottle.
 Bouteille de vin, cd. pleine de vin, a bottle of wine.
 Bouteille d'eau, a bottle of water; also a bubble raised on the water, by rain, &c.
 Aimer la bouteille, cd. aimer le Vin, to love the bottle, to love a glass of Wine.
 Bouteiller, (m.) Butler, anciently one of the chief Officers of the Crown of France.
 † Bouter, to put.
 This word indeed is quite out of use, either as to familiar or lofty Discourses; but 'tis still used for a Term of Art in some cases.
 Bouter de los, the same as Bouliner.
 Boute-selle, (m.) the first sound of the Trumpet which gives the Horsemen notice to get on horseback.
 Sonner le bout-selle, to sound to horse.
 Boutique, (f.) Shop.
 Lever boutique, to set up shop. Tenir boutique, to keep a shop.
 Ouvrir, ou fermer la boutique, to open, or shut up shop.
 Faire de son Corps une boutique d'Apoticaire, cd. prendre souvent des remèdes, to make of his body an Apothecaries Shop, to be often taking of Physick.
 Faire de sa Tête une boutique de Grec & de Latin, cd. n'apprendre que du Grec & du Latin, to make his Head a Shop for Greek and Latine.
 Boutis, (m.) the rooting place of a wild Boar.
 Boutoi de Sanglier, (m.) le bout du né du Sanglier, the snout of a wild boar.
 Boutoir, (m.) a Farriers buttress.
 Bouton, (m.) button; bud; pimple, or rising, as Lev. 13. 2.
 Bouton à queue, a long button. Bouton d'Orfèvrerie, a plate-button.
 Serrer le bouton à quécun, le tenir de court, to restrain one, to bear a hard hand over him.
 Bouton de rose, a rose-bud. Bouton à fleur, a flower-bud.
 Bouton à fruit, a fruit-bud.
 On conoit le Bouton à fruit à sa figure, au crochet où il vient, à l'emotion qu'il fait dans la sève de l'Arbre, ou en fin à l'abondance des feuilles qui l'accompagnent, we know a fruit-bud by its figure, by the small bearer where it comes, by the motion it makes in the sap of the Tree, or finally by the abundance of Leaves that accompany it.

Bouton de Verole, a pocky botch.
 Boutonné, buttoned; full of red pimples.
 Boutonner, to button; to bud; to break out.
 As, boutonner un Just au corps, to button a close Coat.
 Les Arbres commencent à boutonner, the Trees begin to bud.
 Si la lepre boutonne bien fort en la peau, (Lev. 13. 12.) if a leprosy break out abroad in the skin.
 Boutonnerie, (f.) Marchandise de Boutonnier, buttons, or button-ware.
 Boutonnier, (m.) a Button-maker.
 Boutonniere, (f.) a button-hole.
 Bouture, (f.) Terme de Jardinier, Branche sans racine que l'on met en terre, a slip.
 As, un Arbre qui vient aisément de bouture, a Tree that comes easily of a slip.
 † Bouveau, (m.) from Beuf, a Bullock, or young Ox.
 Alors on offrira des bouveaux sur ton Autel, (Psalm. 51. 21.) then shall they offer bullocks upon thine Altar.
 Bouverie, (f.) Lieu où le Bouvier tient les Beufs, the Place where Oxen are kept.
 Bouvier, (m.) Cow-herd.
 † Quel Bouvier est cela? what Clown is that?
 Bouvillon, (m.) a bullock, or young Ox.
 Boyau, (m.) gut, bowel; a Room that is not uniform, that is too narrow for the length of it.
 Boyau, ou branche de Trenchée. C'est une Ligne, ou un Fossé particulier, qui se separe de la Trenchée, pour aller envelopper différents Terrains, & qui est tiré parallèle aux Ouvrages & aux Défenses du Corps de la Place, pour en éviter l'Enfilade.
 Boyautier, (m.) Artisan qui fait des Cordes à boyaux, one that makes strings for musical Instruments, &c.
 Boye, as Bouée.
 Boyer, (m.) a Flemish Shallop.

B R

Brac } See { Brague.
 Bracelet } See { Brasselet.
 Bracmane, (m.) Prêtre, ou Philosophe Indien, a Bracmane.
 Brai } See { Bray.
 Braie } See { Braye.
 Braie } See { Brayé.
 Braier } See { Brayer.
 Braies, (f.) a Clout for a Childs backside.
 Formerly it signified also a pair of Breeches.
 As, les Braies sont rompues, his Breeches are torn.
 However it is still used in this burlesk and figurative sense.
 As, † il en est sorti les braies nettes, cd. il s'est tiré d'affaires heureusement, he came off very well.
 † Nos Libertez auront peine à s'en tirer les braies nettes, cd. nous y laisserons notre Liberté, there we shall go near to lose our Liberty.
 Braiette. See Brayette.
 † Brailler, to bawl.
 Il ne fait que brailler, he does nothing but bawl, he is ever bawling.
 Brailleur, (m.) a Bawler.
 Brailleuse, (f.) a bawling Woman.
 Braire, to bray.
 As, l'Ane brait, the Ass brays.
 Braise, (f.) a live coal, a burning coal, a fire of coals, John 20. 9; a hot fit of love.
 Bralier } See { Brailleur.
 Brame } See { Brame.
 † Bramer } See { Rêre.
 Comme le Cerf brame après les découers des eaux, ainsi brame mon Ame après toi, ô Dieu, (Psalm. 42. 1.) as the Hart panteth after the Water-brooks, so panteth my Soul after thee, O God.
 † Bran, (m.) a man's excrement.
 † Bran de vos clisteres, a turd of your clisters.
 Brancar, (m.) a kind of Litter; the Shaft of a Litter.

Branchage, (m.) branches.
 Branche, (f.) branch, or bough; branch, or line of a pedigree; a branch, or part of a thing.
 Un Arbre est ordinairement composé de trois fortes de Branches, que l'on appelle gourmandes ou prodigues, indifferentes, & fertiles, a Tree is ordinarily composed of three sorts of Branches, called Ravenous, Indifferent, and Fertile.
 Branche Urfine. See Branque Urfine.
 Branche, ou Boyau de Trenchée. See Boyau.
 † Brancher. See se Percher.
 Branchu, full of branches.
 Brandebourg, (m.) a kind of Campagne Coat.
 Brandi (from Brandir) brandished.
 Brandillé, swung.
 Brandiller, to swing.
 Se brandiller, to weigh Sale.
 Brandilloire, (f.) a Swing.
 Brandir, to brandish.
 As, brandir un javelot, to brandish a dart.
 † Brandon, (m.) a lightening, or wandering fire.
 As, Ex. 20. 18. Tout le Peuple appercevoit les Tonnerres, les Brandons, le son du Cornet, & la Montagne fumante, and all the People saw the Thunderings, the Lightnings, the noise of the Trumpet, and the Mountain smoking.
 Branle, (m.) motion; brawl, a sort of Dance; a hammock, or Sea-mans bed.
 Or thus. As, mettre une Cloche en branle, to raise a Bell.
 Donner le branle à une Affaire, to influence (or encourage) a thing, to set it a going.
 C'est lui qui a donné le branle aux autres, 'tis he that hath encouraged the rest, that has set them to work.
 Branler, to shake, to jog, (both in the active and the neutral sense;) to be frightened, moved, concerned, or disturbed.
 Branler la tête, to jog his head. La tête lui branle, his head shakes.
 Ce Scelerat ne branla point par ces menaces, il se posseda tout entier, il demeura froid, that profligate fellow was not at all frightened by those menaces, he was not disturbed in the least, and seemed not at all concerned.
 Or thus. As, quand il vid les Enemis branler, il les enfonça, when he saw the Enemies give ground, he broke in amongst them.
 † Branler dans le manche, n'être pas ferme dans sa resolution, to be unsteady, wavering, irresolute.
 Branque-Urfine, (f.) brank Urfin, or Bears foot.
 Braque, (m.) sorte de Chien de Chasse, a kind of short-tail Setting-Dog, (commonly spotted, or party-coloured.)
 Braqué, turned, set.
 Braquer, to turn, or set.
 Braquer un Chariot, ou un Carosse, to turn (to set) a Cart, or a Coach, to bend it on the right or left hand.
 Bras, (m.) arm, an arm of the Body, of a River, or of the Sea; a claw of a cray-fish or lobster; the fore-leg of a horse; an elbow of a Chair; the handle of a Wheel-barrow; Sconce, a sort of Candlestick; the ties, or tackling that holds and stays the Sail-yard.
 Avoir un bras fort & robuste, to have a strong arm. Il se jeta entre mes bras, he cast himself into my arms. Je le receu à bras ouverts, I received him with open arms. Ils arrachoi-ent les Enfans d'entre les bras de leurs Meres, they snatched the Children out of their Mothers arms.
 Le Bras Seculier, the Secular Power, the Civil Magistrate. Il fut dégradé, & livré au Bras Seculier, he was degraded, and then delivered to the secular Power.
 Or thus. As, à tour de bras, with main strength. Bras dessus bras dessous, tenderly, affectionately. Il avoit le bras retroussé jusqu'au coude, he had his sleeve turned up to the very elbow.
 Demeurer les bras croisez, ne rien faire, to be idle, or in an idle posture. Tendre les bras à quécun, to help, relieve, or assist one. Prêter son bras à quécun, to lend an helping hand to one, to serve him in some Design or other.
 Avoir des affaires sur les bras, avoir beaucoup d'affaires, to have his hands full. S'attirer un puissant Enemi sur les bras, to draw a potent Enemy upon his back.

Faire

Faire retraite avec l'Enemi sur les bras, to make his retreat, and be pursued by the Enemy. Il s'accorde avec mes Enemis pour me jeter toutes leurs Forces sur les bras, he combines with my Enemies to turn all their Forces against me.

Cet homme là est mon Bras droit, that man is my right Hand, he is my greatest Help.

Brasier, (m.) from Braise, a fire of Coals, a quick fire of Coals; a pan for Coals; an amorous flame.

Braffage, (m.) the Charges of the Mint; also the Fee which the Masters of the Mint have out of every sort of Money coined.

Braslar, (m.) an Arblers bracelet, or bracer; a vambrace, or piece of Armour for the arm; the wooden Cuff (or Bracer) worn by Balloon-players.

Brasse, (f.) fathom, the length of two arms stretched out, a measure of five foot.

Il est cent brasses au dessus de lui, he is by much the better man of the two, he is much above him.

Brassé, (from Brasser) brewed.

Brassée, (f.) an arm-ful.

Prendre à brassée, to take by arms-ful.

Brasselet, (m.) a bracelet.

Brasser, to brew, or make beer; to brew, work, contrive, frame, imagine, or devise.

As, Brasser de la biere, to brew beer.

Brasser quelque chose contre quelqu'un, to contrive (or imagine) something against one.

Brasser une Trahison, to work a Treason.

Tu lâches ta bouche à mal, & par ta langue tu brasses fraude, (Psalm 50. 19.) thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.

Or thus. As, brasser les Metaux, (en Termes de Monoie) to mix the Metals together.

Brasserie, (f.) Brew-house.

Brasseur, a Brewer.

Un riche Brasseur, a rich Brewer.

Brasseuse, (f.) a Brewers Wife.

Brassieres, (f.) a Night-Waistcoat (for a Child or a Woman.)

† Etre en brassieres, être embarrassé, to be puzzled, or to be hard put to it.

Brassin, (m.) a whole brewing.

† Bravache, (m.) a Bully, a Hector.

Bravade, (f.) bravado, a proud menace.

Voilà où se sont terminées ses bravades, there was the end of his bravadoes.

Brave, brave, stout, or valiant; fine, or spruce; fine, or gallant.

As, un brave Officier, a brave Officer.

Que vous êtes brave! how fine (how spruce) you are!

C'est un brave homme, he is a fine man, a gallant man.

Un Brave, (Subst.) a brave man, a stout man; a brave, or gallant man.

Faire le brave, to brave it.

Bravé, bravéd, affronted, dared.

Bravement, bravely, finely, stoutly.

L'Eternel veuille retrancher la Langue qui parle bravement, (Psalm 12. 4.) the Lord shall cut off the Tongue that speaks proud things.

Braver, to brave, affront, or dare.

Braver la Mort, to affront Death.

Vous venez ici nous braver, allez vous promener, if you come hither to affront (or tantalize) us, go your ways.

† Braverie, (f.) beaux habits, bravery, fine Cloaths.

Bravoure, (f.) valour.

Avoir de la bravoure, to be stout, or valiant.

Bray, (m.) Ship-pitch.

C'est une Composition de Gomme, ou de Resine, & d'autres Matieres gluantes, qui font un Corps dur, sec, & noirâtre. Etant fondu, on l'applique sur les couches d'estoupe, dont on remplit les Jointures des Planches du Vaisseau.

Braye, (f.) bray.

As, une fausse braye, a false bray, a piece of Fortification.

Brayé, pitched, done over with Ship-pitch.

† Brayement, (from Braire,) crying.

As, Prov. 19. 18. Châtie ton Enfant tandis qu'il y a de l'esperance, & ne te fonce point de son brayement, chasten thy Son while there is hope, and let not thy Soul spare for his crying.

Brayer, (from Bray) to pitch, to do over with pitch.

Brayer, (a masc. Subst.) from Brayer, a Truss, such as those wear who are burst-bellied.

† Brayer, (f.) breeches.

As, Ex. 28. 42. tu leur feras des brayer de lin pour couvrir leur vergongne, thou shalt make them linnen breeches to cover their nakedness.

Brayer, Linge dont on couvre le derriere d'un jeune Enfant, back-clouts.

Brayette, (f.) codpiece.

† Avoir la brayette chaude, to be hot in the codpiece, to be hot-spurred.

Note that brayette grows something out of date, and that fente de haut de chausse is the expression now much used instead of it.

Breant, (m.) a kind of Bird something like a Siskin.

Brebis, (f.) a Sheep.

Un Troupeau de brebis, a Flock of sheep.

Qui se fait brebis le Loup le mange, he that carries himself like a sheep shall be fleeced.

Breche, (f.) a breach.

La breche faite, on livre l'Assaut, the breach being made, the Town is stormed.

Defendre, reparer la breche, to defend, to make up the breach.

Faire breche à sa reputation, to make a breach in his reputation.

† Bredindin. See Fiacre.

Bredouille, (f.) partie double, a lurch, (at Cards, or Tables.)

Etre en bredouille, ne savoir où l'on en est, to be put to a non-plus.

Bredouillement, (m.) a faulting in ones speech, an imperfect pronunciation.

Bredouiller, to fault in his speech.

Bredouilleur, (m.) he that faults.

Bredouilleuse, (f.) she that faults.

Bref, brief, short.

As, un Discours bref, a short (succinct, or compendious) Discourse.

Une Syllabe breve, a Syllable that is short, or which is pronounced short.

Bref, (a masc. Subst.) a Pope's Brief.

† Bref, (Adv.) in short, to cut short.

En bref, in a short time, shortly.

Brehaigne. As, biche brehaigne, a barren Hind.

† Brehaigne, ou femme sterile, a barren woman.

Breland, (m.) a kind of Game at Cards; also a House of Gaming.

Brelandier, (m.) a Gamester.

† Brelique, or Breloque, inconsiderately.

Breneux, breneuse, besprit.

Un cul breneux, ones backside besoit all over.

Brefil, (m.) bois rouge, brasil, or brasil wood.

Bremme, (f.) bream, a sweet-water fish.

† Bretandé, whose hair are cut too short.

† Bretauder quelqu'un, lui couper les cheveux bien plus courts qu'il n'a de coutume de les porter, to cut ones hair too short.

Bretelle, (f.) an arm (or handle) of a Dossier, or of a Porter's crooked staff.

Breteur, (m.) a Braggadoshio, a vain Talker.

Brette, (f.) longue epee, a Rapier, or long Sword.

Bretté, notched, indented, jagged, or toothed, like a Saw.

Un Marteau bretté, a jagged Tool, used by Stone-cutters.

Breve, (f.) from Bref, a Syllable which is pronounced short.

Savoir les breves & les longues, être intelligent en quelque chose, to have good skill in something.

Brevement. See Brièvement.

Brevet, (m.) a Brief of the King; an Indenture betwixt a Master and his Apprentice; a bill of lading; a Book, Numb. 5. 23.

Breveté. See Brieveté.

Breviaire, (m.) a Breviary.

† Un Heros de breviaire, a notable Churchman. Il est au bout de son breviaire, he is at a plunge, or non-plus, he hath no more to say.

Breuvage, (m.) drink, liquor.

Le Nectar étoit le breuvage des Dieux, the Nectar was the Gods Drink.

Bribe, (f.) a piece (or lump) of bread; a scrap laid up to eat.

Donner à un Mendiant une grosse bribe de pain; to give a Beggar a great lump of bread.

† Ils se regalent quelque fois entr'eux, en mettant toutes leurs bribes ensemble, they sometimes make merry together with their joyn't scraps.

Brichet, (m.) the brisket, or breast-piece.

Bicole, (f.) a side-stroke, at Tennis.

Bricoles, a kind of Toyl for wild beasts.

† Donner des bricoles à quelqu'un, lui appor-ter des excuses frivoles, to impose upon one.

Bricoler, to be tossed sideways, as a ball at Tennis; also to toss a piece of meat in the mouth for to cool it before it goes down.

Bride, (f.) a bridle; a stay for a hat, or a child's cap; a bar of a lace; the loop of a button hole.

La tête, les renes, & le mors d'une bride, the head-stall, reins, and bit of a bridle.

Tenir la bride droite, to hold the bridle short; to bridle, or curb. Lâcher la bride, to let go the bridle, to give a horse the head.

Or thus. Courre poulxer, s'enfuir à toute bride, to run full speed. Lâcher la bride à ses passions, to indulge (to gratify) his passions, to give himself over unto them.

Tenir en bride, tenir dans le devoir, to bridle, or curb, to keep in, to keep under.

Mettre la bride sur le cou, cd. donner une entière liberté à quelqu'un de faire ce qu'il veut, parce qu'on desespere de sa conduite, to leave one to himself, to let him take his own course, to give him full liberty.

Aller bride en main dans une affaire, s'y conduire sagement, to carry on a business prudently.

Un Cheval fort en bride, a hard-mouthed horse, a stout (or head-strong) horse.

† Bride à veau, amusement pour arrêter quelque sot, a shamming trick, to amuse a Fool.

Bridé, bridled.

† La pécasse est bridée, the woman is bridled.

Bridier, to bridle, or put on a bridle; to bridle, curb, or keep under.

As, bridier un cheval, to bridle a horse.

Bridier ses passions, to bridle his passions. Bridier quelqu'un, le tenir de court, to keep one under. Je bridierai votre Insolence, I shall curb your Insolence.

Or thus. As, ce Cheval ne se laisse point bridier, that Horse will not be bridled, will not endure a bridle.

Bridon, (m.) Embouchure de Cheval fort menue, & sans branches, a Snaffle.

Brief, (Terme de Justice) As, un Ajournement à trois briefs Jours, a three Days Adjournment. Une bonne & brieve Justice, a good and quick dispatch of Justice.

Brièvement, briefly, in a few words.

Je m'expliquerai le plus brièvement que je pourrai, I shall explain the matter in as few words as I can.

Brieveté, (f.) brevity, shortness.

La brieveté de nos Jours, the shortness of our Days.

† Brifiable, eatable.

† Brifé, eaten up.

† Brifer, manger avidement, to eat greedily, to devour.

Il a brifé en un moment tout ce qu'on avoit servi, he devoured in a trice all that was upon the Table.

† Brifeur. As, un terrible brifeur, a greedy eater, a ravenous feeder.

Brigade, (f.) a Division of a Troop of Horse; a Body of Horse consisting of 12 Squadrons, and each Squadron of 150 Horse.

Brigade d'Infanterie, a Body of Foot, for the most part consisting of 5000 Men, that is six Battalions.

† Brigade, ou Compagnie de quelques Personnes, a Company of People.

Brigadier, (m.) a Brigadier.

Brigand, (m.) a Robber, (especially such a one as takes away not only a man's Goods, but his Life also.)

Vous avez fait de ma Maison une Caverne de Brigands, (Matt. 21. 13.) you made my House a Den of Thieves.

Brigandage, (m.) a robbing and killing.

†Brigandean, (m.) a Murderer.

N'es tu pas l'Egyptien qui ces Jours passez as emeu une Sedition, & as retiré du Desert quatre mille Brigandeaux? (Acts 21. 38.) art not thou that Egyptian which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest into the Wilderness four thousand men that were Murderers?

†Brigander, to rob and kill withal.

Brigantin, (m.) Vaisseau de bas bord, a Brigantine.

Le Brigantin est une espece de Galiothe sur la Mediterranée, qui va à Voiles & à Rames, & qui n'a qu'un Homme à chaque Rame. C'est un Bâtiment léger, propre à des Corsaires. Chaque Matelot y est Soldat, & couche son Mousquet sous sa Rame.

Brignoles, (f.) prunes of Brignoles in Provence.

Brignon. See Brugnon.

Brigue, (f.) ones putting in (or standing) for an Office, an eager pursuit after it, or underhand dealing for compassing the same.

La Brigue étoit forte, there was a strong Competition.

Les Brigues qu'on faisoit n'éclatoient pas encore, their Intrigues did not yet breakout. Les Brigues commencent à s'échauffer, the Parties begin to grow hot upon the Election.

Briguer, to put in (or to stand) for an Office.

Brillant, shining, sparkling, glittering; brisk, lively.

Diamant brillant, a sparkling Diamond.

Un commencement de Lettre fort brillant, a brisk beginning of a Letter. Un homme d'une humeur brillante & enjouée, a man of a brisk and lively humour.

Or thus. Un Cheval brillant, a fine (stately) Horse.

La Terre brillante de Fleurs, The Earth set out (or enamelled) with Flowers.

Brillant, (a masc. Subst.) brightness, sparkling, splendour; briskness, liveliness.

Un faux brillant, a counterfeit stone. Distinguer les faux brillants d'avec les véritables pierreries, to discern counterfeit stones from right ones.

Elle a un brillant d'esprit qui enchante tout le Monde, she hath a sparkling Wit that charms all the World.

Briller, to shine, sparkle, or glitter.

Le diamant brille, the diamond sparkles.

Un esprit qui brille, a sparkling wit. La Jeunesse brille sur son Village, Youth sparkles upon his Face.

†Brimbalier les Cloches, to set the Bells a-going.

†Brimborions, (m.) batbles, knacks.

Brin, (m.) a bit, or small parcel of any thing; a slip of an herb; a sprig of a Tree or Shrub; a corn of Salt, &c.

Vous n'en aurez pas un brin, you shan't have a bit on't.

Brin de paille, a straw.

Brin à brin, by little and little, by piece-meal.

†Brinde, Terme Bachique, a health.

As, Brinde à votre Seigneurie, a health to your Worship.

Brioche, (f.) a sort of Cake (or bread) made of the finest Flower, with Eggs, Cheese, and Salt.

Brique, (f.) a brick.

Faire de la brique, to make brick.

Une Maison de brique, a brick-house. Muraille de brique, a brick-wall.

Briqueté, made of brick, or brick-like.

Briqueterie, (f.) brick-making; brick-work; brick-kilm.

Briquetier, (m.) a Brick-maker.

Brifant, (m.) a Rock in the Water.

Les Brifans sont des Pointes de Rochers, qui s'elevent jusqu'à la surface de l'Eau, & quelquefois jusqu'au dessus, en forte que les Houles y viennent rompre ou briser.

Brise, (f.) Vent frais, a breeze, or fresh gale of Wind.

Brisé, broken, bruised, beaten in pieces.

Un Lit brisé, a folding Bed. Une Chaise brisée, a folding Chair.

Mon ame est toute brisée de l'affection qu'elle a de tout tems envers tes Ordonnances, (Psal. 119. 20.) my soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.

Brifées, (f.) blinks; design; discourse.

Jetter des brifées sur les Voies, (en Termes de Chasse) to throw blinks upon the way, to cast them cross the way wherein the Deer is likely to pass, thereby to hinder his running, and to recover him the better.

Suivre les brifées, to prosecute his design.

Reprendre (retourner sur) les brifées, to resume his former discourse.

Or thus. Aller sur les brifées de quécun, to follow ones steps.

Briser, to break, bruise, or beat in pieces; to grind to powder, Luke 20. 18; to break, in a neutral Sense.

Briser du chanvre, to break hemp. Briser du sel, to bruise salt, to break it small. Briser quécun de coups, to beat one to pieces.

Briser toute la puissance des Enfers, to break all the power of Hell.

Briser, rompre les branches, & les jeter sur les Voies de la Bête, to break boughs, to cast them cross the way wherein the Deer is likely to pass.

Voyez de quelle maniere la Mer brise sur ces Rochers, do but see how the Sea breaks upon those Rocks.

Or thus. Ils ont brisé ensemble, they are slain out.

Brifons là dessus, let us break off here.

Se briser, to break (in a neutral sense.)

Briseur de sel, (m.) a kind of salt Officer.

Brifoir, (m.) a brake for flax.

Brifure, (f.) Terme de Blason, an Addition in Armory for the distinction of Brothers, (as a label, half-moon, mullet, &c.)

Broc, (m.) a great leather Jack.

†De broc en bouche, for de la broche à la bouche, while 'tis hot.

Il y a aussi beaucoup d'autres choses qu'ils ont prises à garder, comme les lavemens des coupes, des brocs, de la vaisselle, & des chalits, (Mark 7. 4.) many other things there be which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups and pots, of brazen vessels, and of tables.

Brocard, (m.) brocado, a rich flower Silk; a nipping jest.

Un beau brocard, a fine flower silk.

†Donner un brocard à quécun, to put a deadly jest upon one.

†Brocarder, to jest upon one, to jeer him.

†Brocarderie, (f.) a by-word, Deut. 28. 37.

Brocatelle, (f.) a kind of Linsay-woolsey made in Flanders.

Broccoli, (m.) a Sallet of certain small cole-worts.

Broche, (f.) a spit; a faucet, or quill for a Wine-vessel; a stick whereon the Candles hang in a Chandlers Shop; a Shoemaker's peg.

Tourner la broche, to turn the spit. Un Tourne-broche, a Turn-spir.

Or thus. Mettre la viande à la broche, to spit the meat.

Broché, wrought; knit; stitched; fastened with nails.

As, une Robe brochée d'or, a Gown wrought with gold.

Un bas broché, a knit stocking.

Un Livre broché, a stitched Book.

Un Talon broché, a Heel fastened with a nail.

Brochée, (f.) Terme de Rotisseur, a Spital.

Brocher, to work; to knit; to stitch; to fasten with nails.

Brocher d'or une Robe, to work a Gown, (to enrich it) with gold.

Brocher un bas, to knit a stocking.

Brocher un Livre, to stitch a Book.

Brocher un talon, une semelle, to fasten a heel, or a sole, with a nail.

Or thus. As, brocher un clou, (en Termes de Marechal) to thrust a nail into a Horse's foot.

†Il broche tout ce qu'il fait, he hurries every thing he does.

Brochet, (m.) pike, a fresh-water fish.

Brocheton, (m.) a small pike, a pickeril.

Brochette, (f.) a skewer.

Brocheur, (m.) from Brocher, a Knitter.

Brochoir, (m.) a shooping Hammer, a Farriers shooping hammer.

†Brode, black, swarthy, or sun-burnt.

Elle est brode, she is a swarthy Wench.

Brifées, (f.) blinks; design; discourse.

Jetter des brifées sur les Voies, (en Termes de Chasse) to throw blinks upon the way, to cast them cross the way wherein the Deer is likely to pass, thereby to hinder his running, and to recover him the better.

Suivre les brifées, to prosecute his design.

Reprendre (retourner sur) les brifées, to resume his former discourse.

Or thus. Aller sur les brifées de quécun, to follow ones steps.

Briser, to break, bruise, or beat in pieces; to grind to powder, Luke 20. 18; to break, in a neutral Sense.

Briser du chanvre, to break hemp. Briser du sel, to bruise salt, to break it small. Briser quécun de coups, to beat one to pieces.

Briser toute la puissance des Enfers, to break all the power of Hell.

Briser, rompre les branches, & les jeter sur les Voies de la Bête, to break boughs, to cast them cross the way wherein the Deer is likely to pass.

Voyez de quelle maniere la Mer brise sur ces Rochers, do but see how the Sea breaks upon those Rocks.

Or thus. Ils ont brisé ensemble, they are slain out.

Brifons là dessus, let us break off here.

Se briser, to break (in a neutral sense.)

Briseur de sel, (m.) a kind of salt Officer.

Brifoir, (m.) a brake for flax.

Brifure, (f.) Terme de Blason, an Addition in Armory for the distinction of Brothers, (as a label, half-moon, mullet, &c.)

Broc, (m.) a great leather Jack.

†De broc en bouche, for de la broche à la bouche, while 'tis hot.

Il y a aussi beaucoup d'autres choses qu'ils ont prises à garder, comme les lavemens des coupes, des brocs, de la vaisselle, & des chalits, (Mark 7. 4.) many other things there be which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups and pots, of brazen vessels, and of tables.

Brocard, (m.) brocado, a rich flower Silk; a nipping jest.

Un beau brocard, a fine flower silk.

†Donner un brocard à quécun, to put a deadly jest upon one.

†Brocarder, to jest upon one, to jeer him.

†Brocarderie, (f.) a by-word, Deut. 28. 37.

Brocatelle, (f.) a kind of Linsay-woolsey made in Flanders.

Broccoli, (m.) a Sallet of certain small cole-worts.

Broche, (f.) a spit; a faucet, or quill for a Wine-vessel; a stick whereon the Candles hang in a Chandlers Shop; a Shoemaker's peg.

Tourner la broche, to turn the spit. Un Tourne-broche, a Turn-spir.

Or thus. Mettre la viande à la broche, to spit the meat.

Broché, wrought; knit; stitched; fastened with nails.

As, une Robe brochée d'or, a Gown wrought with gold.

Un bas broché, a knit stocking.

Un Livre broché, a stitched Book.

Un Talon broché, a Heel fastened with a nail.

Brochée, (f.) Terme de Rotisseur, a Spital.

Brocher, to work; to knit; to stitch; to fasten with nails.

Brocher d'or une Robe, to work a Gown, (to enrich it) with gold.

Brocher un bas, to knit a stocking.

Brocher un Livre, to stitch a Book.

Brocher un talon, une semelle, to fasten a heel, or a sole, with a nail.

Or thus. As, brocher un clou, (en Termes de Marechal) to thrust a nail into a Horse's foot.

†Il broche tout ce qu'il fait, he hurries every thing he does.

Brochet, (m.) pike, a fresh-water fish.

Brocheton, (m.) a small pike, a pickeril.

Brochette, (f.) a skewer.

Brocheur, (m.) from Brocher, a Knitter.

Brochoir, (m.) a shooping Hammer, a Farriers shooping hammer.

†Brode, black, swarthy, or sun-burnt.

Elle est brode, she is a swarthy Wench.

Brode, (from Broder) embroidered.

Brodequin, (m.) an ancient sort of Shoes; also a kind of Rack to make Malefactors confess.

Ce Supplice consiste en quatre Ais torts & epais, qu'on ferre avec des Cordes. On met deux de ces Ais entre les Jambes du Criminel, & les deux autres à côté. Ces Ais venant à serrer pressent les Jambes si fort contre les Ais, qu'ils font craquer les Os du criminel. Ce qui lui cause, comme l'on peut croire, une Douleur tres sensible.

Broder, to embroider.

As, broder une Jupe, to embroider a Petticoat.

Or thus. †Vous brodez comme il faut, you lie at ease.

Broderie, (f.) Embroidery.

Un Parterre en broderie, ou de broderie, a Parterre interwoven with box into figures.

Brodeur, } an Embroiderer.

Brodeuse, } an Embroiderer.

Brodeuse de Gaze, a Spotter of Hoods, a Woman that spots Hoods.

Broie } See } Broyé.

Broier } See } Broyer.

Broncher, to stumble.

Cheval qui bronche, a stumbling Horse.

Il n'est Cheval si superbe qui ne bronche, there is no Horse so stately but will stumble.

Or thus. †Si vous bronchez, on vous relèvera d'une belle sorte, if you fail, you will be shrewdly taken up.

Bronze, (m. & f.) cast copper, brass.

Cheval de bronze, a brazen Horse.

Bronzé, brazen, made of (or covered with) brass.

Bronzer, to braze, to make of (or to cover) with brass.

Broquette, (f.) a tack, a small nail.

Broffailles, (f.) little bushes of Thorns; little loose sticks (such as remain where fagots or bavinns have been laded or laid.)

Broffe, (f.) a Painters brush.

Broffes, espece de Vergette pour nettoyer les habits, a brush, (to brush cloaths with) a beath-brush.

Broffer, to brush, to make clean with a brush.

Broffer les forêts, to run through the Woods.

Broffer à travers les buissons, to run through bushes.

Brou } See } Brout.

Brouée } See } Brouillard.

Brouet, (m.) broth.

As, Judg. 6. 19. Il mit la Chair dans un Pannier, & le Brouet en un Pot, the Flesh he put in a Basket, and he put the Broth in a Pot.

Brouette, (f.) a wheelbarrow.

Brouhaha, Terme de Comedien. Ce Mot veut dire le bruit qu'on fait à la Comedie, lors qu'on se recree sur quèque endroit de la beauté de la Piece.

Broui, (from Brouir) blasted.

Un epi broui, a blasted ear of corn.

†Brouillamini, (m.) a misunderstanding; a dark (or obscure) expression.

Brouillard, (m.) mist, fog; also, (but not so proper) as brouillon in the first sense.

Le brouillard se forme dans la basse Region de l'Air, Fogs are formed in the lowest Region of the Air.

La Cause qui arrête les brouillards dans cette Region c'est la Froideur, qui se trouve assez forte pour les condenser, that which fixes Fogs in the lowest Region is the Coldness of it, which is sufficient to condense the same.

Un Air plein de brouillards, a misty (foggy) Weather.

Brouillé, jumbled (or mixt) together; put out, perplexed, confounded; at variance.

Les Cartes sont brouillées, there is a Misunderstanding.

Brouiller, to jumble, (or mix) together; to put out, perplex, or confound; to set at variance, to cause a division in.

Brouiller des œufs avec du jus d'eclanche, to mix eggs with the gravy of a leg of mutton.

Brouiller les cartes, brouiller les affaires, to perplex a business.

Brouiller une Famille, y mettre la Division, to cause a Division in a Family.

Se brouiller, to mix together (in a neutral sense;) to fall out, to interfere.

Se brouiller avec quécun, to fall out with one.

Brouillerie, (f.) Broil, Troubles, Disturbance; a little falling out; a School Disputation.

On n'a point vu de brouillerie dans ce Royaume tant qu'il a vécu, there has not been the least broil in this Kingdom while he lived.

Ils ont eu quèque petite brouillerie, mais cela est passé, they have had a little falling out, but that is over now.

Voulez vous recommencer nos brouilleries? will you renew our Disputation?

De petites brouilleries, little trinkets. As, ce que vous cherchez est parmi de petites brouilleries dans une cassette, the thing you look for is amongst some small trinkets in a box.

Brouillon, (m.) a foul paper, a sheet of paper (or a paper-book) wherein one sets down his first thoughts, till he brings them to perfection; a Shop-keeper's Day-book; a pragmatical (dangerous, or troublesome) man.

Un petit brouillon, a little quarrelsome fool.

Brouir, to blast.

Brouillies. See Brouillies.

Brout, (m.) brouze-wood.

Aller au brout, to go a brouzing.

Brout de noix, ecaille de noix verte, the green shell of a walnut.

Brouter, to browse, to eat up, Ps. 105. 35. to lick up, Numb. 23. 4.

La Chevre & le Chameau broutent, the Goat and the Camel browse.

Broyé, beaten small.

Broyer, to beat small.

Brû, (f.) a Daughter-in-law, a Son's Wife.

Brugnoles. See Brignoles.

Brugnon, (f.) brunion, a kind of Plum (which is not ripe before the month of September.)

Bruant } See Bruyant.

Bruiere } Bruyere.

Bruine, (f.) small (drizzling) rain.

Bruiner, to drizzle.

Il n'a fait que bruiner toute la Journée, we have had but a drizzling rain all this Day.

Bruire, to make a noise, to roar, Ps. 46. 3. to make a tumult, Ps. 83. 2. to speak, Ps. 69. 12. to be moved, Ruth. 1. 19.

Or thus. As, 1 Sam. 7. 10. L'Eternel fit bruire ce Jour là un grand Tonnerre sur les Philistins, the Lord thundered with a great thunder on that day upon the Philistines.

Bruit, (m.) noise, any kind of noise; name, fame, repute, or reputation; bruit, rumour, news, report.

Faire grand bruit, to make a great noise. Je n'aime point qu'on fasse du bruit, I don't love to bear a noise. Une chose qui fait grand bruit, a thing that makes a great noise.

Les Cieux passeront avec un bruit sifflant de Tempête, (2 Pet. 3. 10.) the Heavens shall pass away with a great noise.

Ses Exploits auront un bruit toujours durable, his Exploits will be attended by an everlasting fame. Il ne faut que cela pour nous donner le bruit de gens savans, that only thing will get us the name (or repute) of good Scholars. Tu as le bruit de vivre, & tu es mort, (Rev. 3. 1.) thou hast a name that thou livest, and thou art dead.

Un bruit commun, a common report. C'est vous qui avez repandu ce bruit par toute la Ville, you have spread this rumour all over the Town. Semer (faire courir) quèque bruit, to spread a news.

Or thus. Le bruit court qu'il est mort, 'tis reported (tis given out, 'tis said) that he is dead.

Bruit d'une chose resonante, a sound. Sa Voix étoit comme le bruit de grosses Eaux, (Rev. 1. 15.) his Voice was as the sound of many Waters.

Bruit d'armes, a rustling; de coups de foudre, a jerk; de scie, ou de lime, a crashing; de choses qui tombent, a bouncing; de choses qui se fendent, a cracking; de porte, ou de fouliers neufs, a screeking; de Mer, ou de Tempête, a roaring, or raging.

Avoir bruit ensemble, avoir querelle, to fall out together, to be at variance.

Brûlant, burning, scorching; hot in the mouth.

Les brûlans Deserts de l'Afrique, the scorching Deserts of Africk.

Du Tabac brûlant, Tobacco hot in the mouth.

Une Liqueur brûlante, a Liqueur hot in the mouth.

Brûlé, burned, or burnt, burnt up, or burnt down; burnt, or boiled with spices.

Brûlé tout vif, burnt alive.

La troisième partie des Arbres furent brûlez, (Rev. 8. 7.) the third part of the Trees was burnt up.

Une Maison brûlée, a House burnt down.

Du Vin brûlé, burnt Wine.

Brûlé (a masc. Subst.) As, une Omelette qui sent le brûlé, an Omelet that smells of burning. Je sens le brûlé, I smell of something burnt.

Brûlement, (m.) a burning, as Rev. 18. 4.

Brûle-pourpoint. As, il l'a tiré à brûle-pourpoint, he has shot him with the gun close to his breast.

† C'est un Raisonnement à brûle-pourpoint, 'tis an Argument ad hominem, or an invincible Argument.

Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 11. 29. † Qui est scandalisé, que je n'en fois aussi brûlé? who is offended, and I burn not?

Brûler, to burn (both in the active, and the neutral sense;) to scald; to blast.

As, brûler du bois, ou du charbon, to burn wood, or coals. Brûler les maisons des Païsans, to burn the houses of the Country people. Il m'a brûlé la main, & je lui ai brûlé les cheveux, he has burnt my hand, and I burnt his hair.

Brûler la chandelle en plein jour, to burn day-light.

Brûler la chandelle par les deux bouts, to burn the candle at both ends, to squander all away.

Brûler quécun avec de l'eau chaude, to scald one with hot water. Il m'a brûlé la jambe, he hath scalded my leg. Brûler les plantes, to blast the plants.

Ce bois est si verd qu'il ne sauroit brûler, this Wood is so green that it cannot burn. Un Feu qui brûle bien, a Fire that burns well.

Brûler d'amour, to burn with love. J'aime à brûler d'une si belle flamme, I love to burn with so fair a flame. De la même ardeur que je brûle pour elle, elle brûle pour moi, she burns for me with the same ardour I burn for her.

Vous brûlez d'une Soif qu'on ne peut assouvir, you are all on fire with an insatiable Thirst.

Brûler de colere, ou de haine, to be inflamed with anger, or hatred. Brûler d'impatience, to be out of all patience.

Brûler à petit feu, to be consumed by degrees, or by little and little.

Se brûler, to burn himself; to scald himself.

Je me brûle, I burn my self. Je me suis brûlé la main, I burnt my hand.

Se brûler à la chandelle, se jeter dans le peril, to throw himself into danger.

Brûleur, (m.) Firer.

As, Brûleur de Maisons, a Firer of Houses.

Brûlo (m.) morceau qu'on sale (ou qu'on poivre) trop à dessein, pour faire rire, a bit exceeding hot with salt or pepper.

As, je lui ai donné un brûlo, & il l'a avalé, I gave him a notable salt bit, and he has swallowed it down.

J'ai avalé un brûlo, & j'en ai la gorge toute en feu, I swallowed down a bit all pepper, and my throat is all of a fire.

Brûlot, (m.) a Fire-ship.

Le Brûlot est un Bâtiment chargé de Feux d'artifice, que l'on accroche aux Vaisseaux Enemis, se mettant sur leur Vent pour les brûler.

Brûture, (f.) burning; scald; blast.

Brumal, qui vient l'hiver, that comes out in the Winter.

Hyacinthe brumale, a Winter hyacinth.

Brume (f.) Brouillard de Mer, a Fog at Sea.

Brun, brown, dark of colour; melancholy.

Un drap brun, dark cloth. Des cheveux bruns, dark (or brown) hair.

Une Nuée brune, a dark Cloud.

† Humeur brune, a melancholy humour.

Brun, (a masc. Subst.) brown. Un beau brun, a fine brown.

Brün d'Angleterre, English Oker.

Une Brune, a brown Woman. C'est une fort jolie brune, she is a very pretty brown Woman.

† Sur la brune, for sur le soir, in the evening.

† Brunette, (f.) a brown Girl; a kind of dark-brown Stuff formerly worn by Persons of quality.

Bruni, burnished, polished, or made bright.

Brûir, to burnish, polish, or make bright.

As, brunir de la vaisselle d'argent, to burnish silver plate.

Brunissage, (m.) burnishing.

Payer le brunissage, to pay for the burnishing.

Brunisseur } a Burnisher.

Brunisseuse }

Brûloir, (m.) a burnishing stick.

Brusc, (m.) a rough prickled Shrub, by some called Knee-balm.

Brûler, and its Derivatives. See them without an S.

Brusque, blunt.

Un homme brusque, a blunt man. Une femme brusque, a blunt woman. Une action brusque, a blunt action.

Brusquement, bluntly.

Brusquerie, (f.) bluntness; a blunt action.

Brut, brute, rough, unpolished.

As, diamant brut, a rough diamond. Pierre brute, a rough (or unpolished) stone.

Une bête brute, a brute, a beast.

Brute, (a fem. Subst.) an animal, a beast, an irrational Creature.

Les brutes ont plus de sens que lui, a brute hath more sense than he.

Brutal, brutish, beastly.

Un plaisir brutal, a brutish pleasure. Une humeur brutale, a brutish humour.

Un Brutal, a brutish man, a brute, a man given over to brutish pleasures; a clown, a clownish (rude, or unmannerly) man; a passionate fool, that upon the least disgust falls into a passion.

Une Brutale, a brutish woman, a brute, a woman given over to brutish pleasures; a clownish, (rude, or uncouth) woman; a foolish passionate woman.

Brutalement, brutishly, beastly; clownishly, roughly, rudely; passionately, foolishly.

Brutaliser, prendre des Plaisirs sensuels, to swim in brutish Pleasures.

Comment est ce, dit la Precieuse, qu'une Femme de bon sens se peut résoudre à se marier, pour brutaliser toute sa Vie avec un Homme? how is it possible, said the coy Lady, for a Woman of any sense to resolve upon Marriage, in order to pass with a Man all her life-time in brutish Pleasures?

Brutalité, (f.) brutishness, beastliness; clownishness, roughness, rudeness; foolishness (or outrageous) passion.

Brute. See Brut.

Bravage. See Breuvage.

Bruyant (from Bruire) that makes a noise.

Une Voix bruyante, a thundering Voice.

Je n'aime pas ces Instrumens dont l'harmonie est bruyante & tumultueuse, I don't like those musical Instruments that make a loud and obstreperous noise.

Bruyere, (f.) sweet broom.

Une Campagne couverte de bruyere, a Heath.

B U

Bû. See Bu.

† Buandiere, (f.) a Laundress, a Washer-woman.

Bube, (f.) a blister, or pish.

Buberon, (m.) a drinking cup with a gullet (for young sucking children.)

Bubon, (m.) a Pock-fore, a Winchester-goose.

Bucentaure (m.) Bucentaur, a kind of Gallion wherein the State of Venice espouses the Gulf of that Name.

Buche, (f.) a billet, a log; a sot, a block-head.

Fendre une buche, to cleave a log.

† C'est

† C'est une buche, il n'a point d'esprit, he is a meer blockhead, he hath no wit.
 Bucher, (m.) a wood-pile; a funeral Pile; a wood-house.
 Bucheron, (m.) a Wood-cleaver.
 Bucolique, (f.) Buclick, a part of Virgil's Works.
 Bufet, (m.) a Cupboard for plate, a side-board table; a set of plate for Table-use, as much plate as will furnish a cupboard, or side-board table.
 Bufetin, (m.) a little buff coat.
 Buffle, (m.) a buff, or wild ox; a buff-coat.
 † Un gros buffle, ou grand sot, a great fool.
 Cacher un buffle sous son pourpoint, to be a very sot.
 † Bugler. See Bengler.
 Buglose, (f.) bugloss, a sort of herb.
 Buhots, (m.) Goose-feathers painted (such as Feather-men set out at their shops for a show).
 Buiffon, (m.) a bush, a bramble-bush, Luke 6. 44.
 Je me cachai dans un Buiffon, I hid my self in a Bush.
 Un Arbre qui vient en buiffon, a Tree that grows with a bush-head.
 Bulbe, (f.) bulb, onion plant.
 Bulbeux, bulbous.
 Bulle, (f.) Bull, a Pope's Bull.
 Burat, (m.) a coarse kind of gray Stuff (used by some Monks).
 Bure (f.) Etoffe grossiere dont on habille les Pauvres, a thick and coarse Cloth of a darkish colour.
 Bureau, (m.) an Office, or Place appointed for the execution of an Office; the Table that's within a Court where Causes are judged; the hearing (or decision) of Causes in such a Court; a Place appointed for the sale of certain Commodities; a Chest of drawers.
 † Prendre l'air du Bureau, to pump out the Judge's Opinion. Le Bureau n'est pas pour lui, the Judges do not stand for him. Paris est le grand Bureau des Merveilles, Paris is the Place for Wonders.
 Burette, (f.) a kind of bottle made of crystal or mettle, wherein they put in Roman Churches the Wine and Water used in the Sacrifice of the Mass; a little cruet for oil.
 Burin, (m.) burin, a graving tool.
 Buriné, engraven.
 Buriner, to engrave.
 Burlesque, burlesk, pleasant, or merry.
 Poëte burlesque, a burlesk Poet. Style burlesque, a burlesk style. Action burlesque, a burlesk action.
 Burlesque (a masc. Subst.) a burlesk (or merry) Way of writing.
 Busc. See Busque.
 Buse, (f.) a buzzard; a nimy, or sot.
 † Faire d'une Buse un Epervier, cd. faire d'un sot un habile homme, to make of a dunce an able man.
 Busque, (m.) a busk; whale-bones to a doublet.
 † Busquer fortune, to seek his fortune. Say chercher fortune.
 Buste, (m.) a Statue drawn but half way.
 But, (m.) a mark (to shoot at); aim, scope, end, or design.
 Viser au but, to aim at the mark.
 Quel est votre but? what's your aim? what's your design? La Gloire de Dieu est mon unique but, the Glory of God is the only end I propose to my self.
 But à but (Terme de Jeu de paume) at even hands, without any odds.
 De but en blanc, rashly, out of hand, inconsiderately.
 Or else it is not expressed in English. As, ce Canon peut porter de but en blanc mille pas, this Cannon carries a thousand paces.
 Bute, (f.) a butt; a small rising ground.
 Etre en bute à de nouveaux Dangers, to be exposed to new Dangers.
 Buter, to aim.
 Il bute là, he aims at that, that's his aim.
 Butiere, (f.) a kind of Gun, to shoot for Prizes.
 Butin, (m.) booty.
 Faire un grand butin, to get a great booty.
 Butiner, to get a booty, to prey, or spoil.
 Je n'aurois pas cru qu'on trouvât tant à butiner sur cet homme là, I could not imagine how one could prey so much upon such a man.

Que le Creancier usant d'exaction attrape tout ce qui est à lui, & que les Etrangers butinent tout son labeur, (Ps. 109. 11.) let the Extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the Stranger spoil his labour.

Butor, (m.) a bittern; a dull fellow, a great booby.

Peste soit du gros Butor, dewce take that great Booby.

Buvetier, (m.) the Master of the Buvette.

Buvette, (f.) They call Buvette in Paris, that Place where Lawyers and Clients go to refresh themselves.

There is also a Buvette to every Chambre de Parlement, maintained at the King's charge. But this is only for the Judge's Use, who go thither for refreshment, and in winter to warm themselves.

Buvette is also used to express a drinking Bout.

Buveur	} See	Beuveur.
Buveuse		Beuveuse.
Buvoter		Beuvoter.
Buze		Buse.

C.

C the third Letter of the Alphabet, is sounded cé in French, and is of the Masculine Gender.

As, faire un c, to make a c.

The same hath two Sounds in French as in English. One hard, not unlike a k, as ca, co, cu; and another soft like an s, as ce, ci, and where it hath a cerella under it, as ça, façon, leçon.

Where it ends a Word, 'tis likewise pronounced like a k, even before Words that begin with a Consonant, as arc, bac, lac, parc, iac, bec, sec, bouc, Duc, choc, froc, roc, soc, hoc, pic, public.

Except these Words, where the c is never sounded; viz. almanac, arénac, cotignac, banc, blanc, franc, jonc, porc, porc-épic, tronc, and a few others.

To which add donc, used in a Question; as, est il donc arrivé? is he come then? cc are pronounced as in English, the first hard, and the other soft; as accès, accident.

It is also pronounced as in English; as correct, direct, indirect, correctement, directement, indirectement, affecter, infecter, objecter.

Except Words ending in ction, where it takes the sound of x; as affection, infection, objection. And these three, where the c is not heard, viz. contract, exact, respect.

As for ch, I shall come of course to speak of its Pronunciation.

What remains now is to take notice of those Words, which have lost their c, by the new Way of Spelling.

Such are in the first Place Words ending in ct, and their Derivatives. As objet, lit, nuit, fait, dit, saint, sainteté, contrainct, contrainte, which formerly were spelt object, licit, nuict, faict, dict, saint, sainteté, contrainct, contraincte.

The same is also left out before t, because unpronounced, in etique, laitue, luitre, Poitou, Poitiers, Poitevin, poitral, poitrine, and these with their Derivatives, viz. pratique, voiture, traite, & traïter.

Whereas formerly they used to write with a c quicte, quicté, quicter, quictance, now the c is turned into t; as quitte, quitté, quitter, quittance.

As for the Verb Savoir, I am clearly of Monsieur Menage's Opinion, that it comes not from the Latine Scire, but Sapere; and that 'tis best to spell it savoir, not scavoir.

In fine, one must be of a former Age to write c before q, as they did of old in these Words bloquer, choquer, moquer, cliquette, coquille.

Except in these Words acquerir, acquiescer, acquit, and their Derivatives. To which add Grecque, from Grec.

C A.

ça (an Interjection of Commanding) come on.

ça (an Adverb) hither.

As, ça, qu'on se lave les mains, come on, wash your hands. ça, qu'on travaille fort & ferme, come on, work hard.

Venez ça, come hither.

Or thus. As, courir ça & là, to run up and down.

† Qui ça qui là, some here and some there, some one way some another.

Cabacet. See Cabasset.

Cabale, (f.) Cabal, a hidden Science of divine Mysteries, which the Rabbies affirm was revealed and delivered together with the Law unto Moses, and from him transmitted unto Posterity; Cabal, or a particular and mystical Exposition of the Law, to which some Jews are addicted; Cabal, or a mystical Interpretation of the Words of Scripture by the transposition of Letters; Cabal, or a secret Confederacy about a private Design.

Il est de leur Cabale, he is of their Cabal. La Cabale est forte, ou puissante, 'tis a strong Cabal.

Cabalé, got by Cabal.

Cabaler, to cabal, to contrive together.

Cabaler contre quécun, to cabal against one. Ils ont cabalé cela entr'eux, they have contrived that amongst them.

Or thus. As, son merite cabale pour lui, his merit bears him up.

Cabaleur, (m.) a Cabal-man.

Cabaliste, (m.) Cabalist.

Cabalistique, Cabalistic.
 As, des Conseils Cabalistiques, Cabalistic Counsels.

Cabane, (f.) Cottage; a Cabin, in a Ship.

Cabane de Berger, a Shepherd's Cottage.

La Cabane où je coucheois sur Mer étoit en façon d'Armoire, longue de six piez, haute de trois, & large de deux & demi, the Cabin where I lay at Sea was like a Cupboard, six foot long, three foot deep, two foot and a half broad.

Cabaret, (m.) a Tavern, a publick House where Wine is sold by retail.

Cabaret à biere, an Ale-house.

Cabaretier, (m.) a Tavern-man; an Ale-house-keeper.

Cabaretiere, (f.) a Tavern-woman; an Ale-house-woman.

Cabas, (m.) a frail (for raisins, or figs.)

But 1 Sam. 25. 18. you will find for Cabas in French, the word Cake in the English Translation.

Cabasset, (m.) a slight kind of Helmet (now out of date.)

Cabestan, (f.) Capstane, the Capstane of a Ship.

* Le Cabestan est une Machine, en forme d'Aiffieu ou de Pivot posé à plomb, & qui se tourne en rond par le moyen des barres de bois passées en travers par le haut de l'Aiffieu. Etant conduites à force de bras, elles font rouler autour du même Aiffieu un Cable, dont le bout est amarré aux Fardeaux qu'on veut tirer, soit la grand' Vergue, soit les Ancres mouillées.

Cabinet, (m.) a Closet; a Cabinet; a Chest of drawers; an Arbour; a Summer-house.

Un homme de Cabinet, a studious man.

Etre du Cabinet, cd. du Conseil particulier du Roi, to be of the Cabinet Council.

Or thus. As, Leur Terre produisit des Grenouilles en toute abondance, jusques au dedans des Cabinets de leurs Rois, (Ps. 105. 30.) the Land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the Chambers of their Kings.

Il tire le Vent hors de ses Cabinets, (Ps. 135. 7.) he bringeth the Wind out of his Treasuries.

Cable, (m.) a cable, or huge rope.

This Word is also used amongst Seamen, to express the Measure of 120 Fadoms, the length of the great Cable being commonly so much.

Caboche, (f.) a small nail with a great head (such as Chairmen wear under their shoes to keep 'em from slipping;) an old nail, fit for no use; a man or woman's head.

Cabochon, rough, uncut.

As,

As, un rubis cabochon, a rough ruby, a ruby uncut.
 Caboter (Terme de Mer) to go cruising about from Cape to Cape, or from Harbour to Harbour, as Corsairs do.
 Càbrer, se càbrer, to prance, to rise up upon his two hinder-feet.
 Faire càbrer un Cheval, to rear up a Horse, to make him rise upon his two hinder-feet.
 Cheval qui se càbre, a prancing Horse.
 † Se Càbrer, se fàcher, s'empporter, to fall into a passion, to be transported with anger.
 Se càbrer contre son Maître, to fall out with his Master. Se càbrer contre la Raison, to withstand Reason.
 Cabri (m.) Chevreau d'Espagne, a Spanish Kid.
 Cabriole, (f.) saut figuré, a Caper in Dancing.
 Cabrioler, to caper.
 Cabron, (m.) cuir de Cabri, kid, or kid-skin.
 As, Gans de cabron, Spanish kid-gloves.
 Cabus, beaded.
 Choux cabus, a beaded Cabbage, a cabbage-head.
 † Caca, excrement d'Enfant. As, faire caca, to do his business, to shit.
 Cacao, (m.) a coco-nut, of which Chocolat is made.
 Cache, (f.) a secret place, a hidden corner.
 Caché, hid, hidden; latent, or concealed; private, secret.
 Cacher, to hide, or conceal; to keep private, or secret.
 Cacher cela sous votre manteau, hide that under your cloak. Cacher le dans votre Coffre, hide it in your Trunk. Se cacher, to hide himself, to abscond.
 Cacher sa passion, ne pas la découvrir, to conceal his passion. Pourquoi me cachez vous cela? why do you conceal it to me? why d'ye hide it from me?
 Or thus. Il ne s'en cache point, he does it openly, or bare-faced, and not in higger-mugger.
 Cachet, (m.) a Seal.
 Un beau cachet, a fine Seal. Graver un cachet, to engrave a Seal.
 Le Cachet du Roi, the King's Signet.
 Sur laquelle tu engravas de graveure de cachet, la Sainteté à l'Eternel, (Ex. 28. 36.) and thou shalt grave upon it like the engravings of a Signet, Holiness to the Lord.
 Cacheté, sealed.
 Une Lettre mal cachetée, a Letter ill sealed.
 Cacheter, to seal.
 Cacheter une Lettre, to seal a Letter. J'ai oublié de cacheter ma Lettre, I forgot to seal my Letter.
 † Cachette, (f.) a secret (a hiding) place.
 En cachette, privily, secretly, in secret, under-hand, in higger-mugger.
 Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 4. 2. les Cachettes de honte, the hidden Things of dishonesty.
 Cachot, (m.) a Dungeon.
 Cachou, (m.) Cashoo, an Indian eatable perfume.
 Caco-chime, full of ill humours.
 As, un Corps caco-chime, a Body full of ill humours.
 Or thus. Un Esprit caco-chime, un Esprit sot qui convertit tout en mal, a silly Fool.
 Cacophonie, (f.) cacophony, a rugged sound in words.
 Cadavre, (m.) a carcass, a dead body.
 Un puant Cadavre, a stinking Carcass.
 Cadeau, (m.) a flourish about a writing Copy; a specious but insignificant thing; a feast, or banquet.
 Cadenacé, padlocked.
 Cadenacer, to padlock.
 As, cadenacer une porte, to padlock a door; to shut it with a padlock.
 Cadenat, (m.) a padlock.
 Cadence, (f.) cadence.
 As, la cadence d'une période, the cadence of a period.
 Danser en cadence, observer en dansant la cadence de la Musique, to mind the cadences of Music in dancing.
 Cadence is also said of a managed Horse, and expresses his regular Motion.

As, un Cheval qui entretient bien sa cadence, qui prend une belle cadence, qui ne change point de cadence.
 Cadencé, cadenced.
 As, une période bien cadencée, a well cadenced period.
 Cadet, (m.) a younger Brother; the youngest Brother; a junior Officer.
 Je suis son Cadet, I am his younger Brother.
 Il est le Cadet de tous, he is the youngest Brother.
 Or thus. As, Cadet aux Gardes, a young Gentleman Volunteer in the Regiment of Guards.
 † Un Cadet de haut appetit, a good fellow, that never wants appetite either to eat or drink.
 Cadette, (f.) a younger Sister; the youngest Sister of all.
 Cadis, (m.) a kind of Serge.
 Cadmie. See Calamine.
 Cadran, (m.) a Dial.
 Voyez quelle heure il est au Cadran, see what's a clock by the Dial.
 Un Cadran sans Soleil est comme un Corps sans Ame, a Dial without Sun is like a Body without Soul.
 Cadre, (m.) a frame, for a Picture.
 Un beau Cadre, a fine frame.
 Cadrer, to quadrate, to agree.
 Les Livres cadrent mal avec le Mariage, Books don't agree with a marry'd Life. Cela ne cadre pas, that doth not quadrate.
 Caduc, falling.
 As, le Mal caduc, the Falling-sickness.
 Caducée, (m.) Mercury's Wand, a Caduceum.
 Caducité, (f.) weakness, feebleness (such as attends old Age.)
 Caduque, weak, feeble (through old age) perishable.
 † Cafard, (m.) an hypocrite.
 Café. See Caphé.
 Cage, (f.) a Cage; the body of a Wind-mill; the compass of a Stair-case, or of a Building.
 Oiseau de Cage, a Cage-bird, a Singing-bird.
 † On l'a mis en Cage, ed. en Prison, he is laid up in a Jail.
 Cageolé } See } Cajolé.
 Cageoler } } Cajoler.
 Cageolerie } } Cajolerie.
 Cageoleur } } Cajoleur.
 Cageoleuse } } Cajoleuse.
 Cagneux, halting, hobbling.
 † Cagot, (m.) Cagote, (f.) an hypocrite.
 Un franc Cagot, a meer Hypocrite.
 † Cagoterie, (f.) hypocrisy.
 † Cagotisme, (m.) an hypocritical way.
 Cahos. See Chaos.
 Cahot, (m.) saut que fait un Chariot (ou une Charette) qui roule, a jump, or jog of a Cart, in a rugged or uneven Way.
 Cahoter, donner des cahots, to jump, or jog.
 † Cahutte, (f.) a Cottage. Say Cabane.
 Caic, (m.) l'Esquisse destinée au service d'une Galere, a Galley-boat.
 Caiche } See } Quaiche.
 Caier } } Cayer.
 Caille, (f.) a quail.
 Les Israélites se gorgèrent de Cailles dans le Desert, the Israelites glutted themselves with Quails in the Desert.
 Caillé, (from Cailler) curdled, curdled, turned into curds, coagulated.
 Caillé, (a masc. Subst.) curds, the curds of milk.
 Caillebotis, (m.) Terme de Mer, qui veut dire un Tillac à jour, a grated Deck.
 Cailler, faire cailler, to curd, curdle, or turn into curds.
 Le baume fait cailler le Lait, balsam turns the Milk into curds.
 Se cailler, to curd, to curdle (in a neutral sense).
 Le Lait se caille, the Milk curds.
 Or thus. Le Sang se caille, the Blood coagulates.
 Caillette, (f.) La peau où étoient les testicules du Mouton, the outward Skin of a Rams-cod.

Caillo-rosat, (m.) poire d'eau rose, a rose-water pear, a green and great pear of a pleasant taste.
 Caillou, (m.) a stone, a flint-stone.
 † Caimand, (m.) a Beggar.
 † Caimander, to beg.
 Cajolé, cajoled, coxed, courted, fawned upon.
 Cajoler, to cajole, coxe, court, or fawn upon.
 Cajoler les belles, to court the Ladies.
 Cajolerie, (f.) a cajoling, coxing, courting, or fawning upon.
 Cajoleur, (m.) a Cajoler, or Coxer.
 Cajoleuse, (f.) a (Woman) Cajoler, or Coxer.
 Caïsse, (f.) a Cass; a Drum; a hollow square for Orange trees.
 Batre la Caïsse, to beat the Drum.
 Caïssier, (m.) Cass-keeper.
 Caïsson, (m.) a great sort of Chest (to put Provisions in for people that go to the Army).
 Calament, (m.) Calamine, a sort of Plant.
 Calamine, (f.) cadmia, a certain yellow mineral Substance which fire consumes, but melts not.
 This is it which being mixt with copper changes it into a fine brass, that looks like gold.
 Calamité, (f.) calamity, misery, adversity.
 Une grande calamité, a great misery, or calamity.
 Calamiteux, calamitous, miserable, wretched.
 Regne calamiteux, a wretched Reign.
 Calandes } See } Calendes.
 Calandre } } Calendre.
 Calandré } } Calendré.
 Calandrier } } Calendrier.
 Calcedoine, (f.) sorte de Pierre precieuse, Chalcedony, a kind of precious stone.
 Calcination, (f.) calcining, or calcination.
 Calciné, calcined, calcinated.
 Calciner, to calcine, or calcinate, to reduce unto powder by fire.
 L'Or se calcine avec le mélange de trois parties de Sel, Gold is calcined with the mixture of three parts of Salt.
 Calçon. See Caleçon.
 Calcul, (m.) calculation, computation, reckoning; the stone in the reins.
 Calculé, calculated, computed, counted, reckoned.
 Calculer, to calculate, compute, count, or reckon.
 Calculer une Somme, to compute a Sum.
 Cale, (f.) a kind of woollen Cap worn by Country-women in Champagne, and some other Provinces of France; a Woman that wears such a Cap; a Stuff-Cap with narrow brims, worn by Ladies Foot-boys; a Foot-boy wearing such a Cap, a kind of Punishment at Sea, which consists in being let down time after time from the main Sail-yard into the Sea, with a rope about the waste; a little piece of wood put under a log (or piece of timber) thereby to make it lie the better.
 Fond de Cale, the Hold of a Ship.
 Calebace, or Calebasse, (f.) a great Gourd; a bottle made of a Gourd.
 Calebotin, (m.) Terme de Cordonnier, the crown of an old Hat (wherein some Shoemakers put their thread and awls).
 Caleche, (f.) a Charret.
 Une belle Caleche, a fine Charret.
 Caleçon, (m.) Drawers, a pair of drawers.
 Un Caleçon de toile, taffetas, ou chamois, a linnen, silk, or shamoy pair of drawers.
 † Calémart, (m.) an Inkhorn.
 Calendes, (f.) Calends, the first day of the month amongst the ancient Romans.
 Calendre, (f.) sorte d'Insecte, a Weevil, a black Insect that eats Corn in Corn-lofts; the Calender, or greatest kind of Lark; calender, an Engine made use of to calender stuff.
 Calendré, calendred.
 Calendrer, to calender.
 Calendrier, (m.) a Calendar.
 Caler, (from Cale) to put a little piece of wood under a log (or piece of timber) thereby to make it lie the better.
 As, caler les piez d'une Table, to raise the feet of a Table.
 Or thus. † Caler les Voiles, for amener les voiles, to strike Sail, to take in the Sails. Il faut faut caler la Voile, cd. il faut obeir, se soumettre, ou s'accommoder au Tems, you must submit.

Caleville, (f.) a sort of sweet red Apple.

Calfadé } Calfaté.
Calfader } See } Calfater.
Calfadeur } Calfateur.

Calfas, (m.) Okam, or Tom, wherewith they use to stop the holes and chinks of a Ship; also as Calfateur.

Calfaté, caulked.

Calfater, garnir de poix & d'étoupes les fentes d'un Vaisseau, to caulk.

Calfateur, (m.) a Caulker.

Calfatin, (m.) the Servant of a Calfateur.

Calfautré, the holes wherewith are stopped with paste and paper; also as Calfaté.

Calfautrer, to stop the holes and chinks of a Room or Windows with paste and paper; also as Calfater.

Tu calfautreras l'Arche de goderon par dedans & par dehors, (Gen. 6. 14.) thou shalt pitch the Ark within and without with pitch.

Calibre, (m.) the bore of a gun; the size, or bigness of a thing; sort, or kind.

Canon de gros calibre, a Gun of a wide bore.

Bale qui n'est pas de calibre, a bullet not of a fit size.

Calibrer, faire de calibre, to make of a fit size.

Calice, (m.) Chalice, or Cup.

Calice de rose, the calix (or cup) of a rose, the top of the flower where the leaves being held in together have the resemblance of a Cup.

Callosité, (f.) callosity, thickness (or hardness) of the skin.

Calme, calm, still, quiet (both in the proper and figurative sense.)

La Mer est calme, the Sea is calm. Un esprit calme, a calm (or quiet) mind.

Calme, (a masc. Subst.) a Calm; peace, or tranquillity.

La Saison n'est pas propre à la Navigation, à cause des grands Calmes qu'il y a, the Season is not fit for Navigation, by reason of its great Calms.

Calme d'esprit, tranquillity of mind.

Calme de la Conscience, peace of Conscience.

Calmé, calmed, appeased, pacify'd.

Calmer, to calm, appease, quiet, or pacify.

Calmer la Tempête, to appease the Storm.

Calmer les Esprits, to quiet the Minds of the people.

Calmer son depot, to calm (or pacify) his anger.

Calomniateur, (m.) Calumniator, Slanderer, false Accuser, 2 Tim. 3. 3. Devil, 1 Tim. 3. 6.

Calomnie, (f.) calumny, slander, or false imputation.

Calomnié, calumniated, slandered.

Calomnier, to calumniate, to slander.

Calomnieusement, falsely.

As, accuser quécun calomnieusement; to accuse one falsely.

Calomnieux, calumnious, false.

Calote, (f.) a black Cap (such an one as some aged men do wear under their hats;) a bonnet, Ex. 28. 40.

Calotier, (m.) a maker (or seller) of such Caps.

Calviniste, (m.) a Calvinist, or Huguenot.

Calvitie. See Chauvété.

Calus (m.) durillon: qui vient aux mains à force de travailler, a hard skin, a skin hardened with much labour.

Camaiéu. See Camayeu.

Camail, (m.) a Winter Habit worn by Churchmen in Parish-Churches about the Head and Shoulders from the Month of November or December till Easter.

Camaldolites, (m.) a sort of Monks whose Habit is white.

Camarade, (m.) Comrade, Companion.

Un fidelle Camarade, a faithful Companion.

Camard, (m.) a flat-nosed man.

Camarde, (f.) a flat-nosed woman.

Camayeu, (m.) Ouvrage de Peinture qui n'est que d'une couleur, Brooch, a Picture painted all of one colour.

Camboui (m.) gome, the black and oily grease of a wrought Cart-wheel.

Cambré, hollowed.

Cambrer, to hollow.

Cambrure, (f.) the hollow part of a last or shoe.

Camelion, (m.) Camelion.

Le Camelion est un Animal grand comme un Lezard ordinaire, qui a la queue longue comme une Taupe, qui n'a point de poil, mais des taches sur la peau qui prennent la couleur du Lieu où il est, the Camelion is a Creature about the ordinary bigness of a Lizard, having a long tail like a Mole, hairless, but with spots on the skin which take the colour of the adjacent Place.

Le Camelion marche peu à peu, & se nourrit d'air & des rayons du Soleil, qu'il reçoit à gueule ouverte, the Camelion goes but slowly, lives upon Air and the Sun-beams, and receives them with his mouth open.

Il est plus changeant qu'un Camelion, he is more variable than a Camelion.

Camelot, (m.) camlet, or chamlet.

Camelot oncé, water-camlet.

Il ressemble à un Camelot, il a pris son pli, he is like the Camlet, so plaited that he can never be made smooth.

Camierier (m.) Officier de Pape & de Cardinal, Chamberlain.

Camion, (m.) the small and short pin wherewith Women pin in their ruffs, &c; a kind of little Cart drawn by two men, and used by the Vinegar-makers of Paris.

Camisade, (f.) Camisado.

Camisole, (f.) a Waste-coat.

Camomille, (f.) forte de fleur, camomil, a sort of flower.

Huile de Camomille, Camomil Oyl.

Camouflet, (m.) a smoke paper held under the nose of a sleeper.

Camp, (m.) Camp.

Affoir son Camp, to pitch a Camp.

Camp retranché & fortifié, an intrenched and fortify'd Camp. Camp volant, a flying Army.

Maître de Camp, a Camp-Master. Marchal de Camp, a Camp-Marshal.

Or thus. As, lever le Camp, to discamp.

Campagnard, (m.) Campagnarde, (f.) one that lives altogether in the Country, a Country-man, or Country-woman.

Campagne, (f.) the Country; a Plain; a Campaign, or Field-expedition.

Je vien de recevoir ce Present d'un de mes Amis de la Campagne, I just now received this Present from a Friend of mine out of the Country. Demeurer à la Campagne, to live in the Country. Une Maison de Campagne, a Country-house.

Une rare Campagne, une Campagne où il n'y a point de bois, an open Country, a plain Field, a level Ground.

Commencer la Campagne, to begin the Campaign, to open the Field. Faire une Campagne, to be in a Campaign. A l'âge de 25. ans il avoit déjà fait dix Campagnes, he was but 25. years of age when he had been already in ten Campaigns. Finir la Campagne, to make an end of the Campaign. Cette Campagne nous a réussi, we had very good success in this Campaign.

Se mettre en Campagne, to take the Field.

Le Roi se mettra en Campagne sur le commencement du Printemps, the King will take the Field about the beginning of Spring. Tenir la Campagne, to keep (or to be master of) the Field. Une Piece de Campagne, a Field-Piece.

Campane, (f.) a bell-like Ornament.

Campanelle, (f.) forte de Fleur, the bell-flower.

Campé, incamped.

Campement, (m.) an Incampment.

Camper, se camper, to incamp, to pitch a Camp.

Camper au milieu d'une Plaine, to incamp in the midst of a Plain.

Se camper avantageusement, to incamp advantageously.

Camphre, (m.) sorte de Gomme, Camphire, a Gum that comes out of a Tree in the East-Indies.

Camus } as } Camard.
Camuse } as } Camarde.

Camus, ou de contenance, ashamed, or out of countenance.

Canaille, (f.) rabble, rascally people.

Canal, (m.) Canal, or artificial River; channel; kennel; pipe, or water-conduit.

Un beau Canal, a fine Canal.

Le Canal, (ou le Lit) d'une Riviere, the Channel of a River. Canal de Mer, a Channel, a kind of Streight.

Or thus. Le Canal de la Matrice, the passage of the Womb. Le Canal de l'Epine du Dos, the Concavity of the Chine-bone.

Faire canal (en Termes de Galere) to put off to Sea, to keep the Sea.

Canapla, (m.) a leathern Bag, such as Soldiers Boys carry upon their shoulders.

Canard, (m.) a duck; a drake, or male-duck; a water-dog.

Canard sauvage, a mallard, or wild duck.

Canard privé, a tame duck.

Canardé, shot (like a duck.)

Canarder quécun, le tuer avec une arme à feu comme on tue un canard, to shoot one, like a duck.

Canarie, (m.) Serin de Canarie, a Canary-bird.

Canaries, Dance où l'on remue fort vite les piez, the Canaries.

Danser les Canaries, to dance the Canaries.

Canaux, the Plural of Canal.

Cancer, (m.) Canker, a hard and unceren swelling of an ugly blackish or blewish colour; Cancer, one of the twelve celestial Signs.

Cancré, (m.) a crab-fish.

Un pauvre Cancré, a pitiful (wretched) Fellow.

Candeur, (f.) sincerity, candour, integrity.

Candi (from Candir) candy.

As, sucre candi, sugar-candy.

Candidat, (m.) Candidate, one that stands for an Office.

Candide, ou sincere, candid, or sincere.

As, un Esprit candide, a candid Mind. Une humeur candide, a candid humour.

se Candir, to candy, or to crust (as sugar-candy.)

Cane } See } Canne.
Canette } Cannette.

Canelé, channelled.

Colonne canelée de biais, ou à droites lignes, a Pillar channelled byas, or in a straight line.

Caneler (from Canal) to channel.

As, caneler des Colonnes, to channel Pillars.

Canelle, (f.) cinnamon; a tap.

La canelle est chaude, & provoque l'urine, cinnamon is hot, and provokes urine.

Canelure (from Caneler) gutter-work, chamfring, or channelling.

Canetille, (f.) purl (made of flat, or round silk.)

Canevas, (m.) canvas.

Canevas de Chanfon. Ce sont certaines Notes d'un Maître de Musique qui marquent au Poëte la mesure des Vers de la Chanfon qu'il doit faire.

Cangrene, (f.) gangrene; canker, 2 Tim. 2. 17.

Avoir la cangrene au bras, to have the gangrene in his arm.

C'est fait des Loix, si pour arreter cette Cangrene, vous n'employez le fer & le feu, farewell the Laws, unless both sharp tools and causticks be employ'd to stop this Gangrene.

Cangrené, gangrened, falln into a gangrene.

se Cangrener, to gangrene, to fall into a gangrene.

Caniculaire. As, les Jours Caniculaires, the Dog-days.

Il faut prendre garde à soi durant les Jours caniculaires, a man must look to himself during the Dog-days.

Canicule, (f.) the Dog-star.

La Canicule est un Signe Celeste, qui se leve le 6. de Juillet, & fait un cours de six Semaines qu'on appelle Jours Caniculaires, the Dog-star is a Sign in the Heavens, which rises the 6th of July, and runs a course of six Weeks, which is called the Dog-days.

Canif, (m.) a pen-knife.

Un bon canif, a good pen-knife.

Canine, canine.

As, une faim canine, cd. une fort grande faim, a canine appetite.

Or thus. As, les Dents canines, a mans Tussocks, the Teeth wherewith he breaks his meat.

Canne, (f.) a Duck, the female of a Drake or Mallard; a cane.

Canne privée, a tame Duck. Marcher comme une canne, to waddle as a Duck. Canne de Mer, a Sea-Duck.

Porter une canne, to wear a cane. Donner des coups de canne à quécun, to cane one.

Canne de sucre, a Sugar-cane. Canne d'Inde, a Plant that comes out of the Indies.

Canne, Mesure qui a cours en Languedoc & en Provence, a Measure containing an ell and two thirds.

Le Jeu des Cannes, Jeu que les Espagnols ont appris des Maures, the Cane-play, a kind of Turnament. Where those that fight, turning about with their Horses, sling Canes at one another, which to receive without any hurt they cover themselves with their Shields.

Cannette, (f.) a young Duck.

Canon, (m.) a Cannon, or great Gun; the barrel of a gun; a Canon, or Church-law; the pipe of a Siringe.

Pointer un canon, to level a gun. Le charger, to charge it. Le decharger, le tirer, to shoot it off, to discharge it.

Un coup de canon, a cannon-shot. Batre une Ville à coups de canon, to batter a Town with cannon-shot, or with cannon-bullets.

Etre à la portée du canon, to be within cannon-shot.

Il falua notre Canon de dix volées du sien, auxquels il fut repondu de trois du nôtre, he gave us ten Guns, and we returned three.

Le Droit Canon, the Canon-Law.

Remarquez, que Canon est encore un Terme d'Art, dont se servent plusieurs Artisans.

Dans l'Eglise Romaine, on appelle Canon certaine partie de la Messe qui se dit immédiatement après la Preface, & qui contient l'Ordre, la Regle, & les Paroles avec lesquelles se doit faire la Consécration. On y appelle aussi de ce nom le Porte-feuille large qu'on dresse sur l'Autel, & où sont écrites les Paroles Sacramentales pour la commodité du Prêtre.

Canonial, canonical.

Les Heures canoniales, the canonical Hours.

Canoniat, (m.) Canonship, a Canons Place in a Cathedral or Collegiate Church.

Canonique, canonical, authentical.

Les Livres canoniques de la Bible, the canonical Books of the Bible.

Cononiquement, canonically, authentically.

Canoniste, (m.) a Canonist, a Professor of (or Practiser in) the Canon-Law.

Canonization, (f.) Canonization.

Canonizé, canonized, sainted.

Canonizer, to canonize, to saint.

Canonner, to shoot Guns at.

Canonnier, (m.) a Gunner.

Canonniere, (f.) a Pot-gun, fit for Boys; a draining hole to a great Wall.

Canot, (m.) a Canow, or Indian Boat; also a kind of Ship-boat.

Le Canot est un Vaisseau fait d'un tronc d'Arbre, dont se servent les Indiens pour aller sur les Eaux, a Canow is a Boat made of the body of a Tree, whereof the Indians make use upon the Waters.

Cantal, (m.) a very good sort of Cheese.

Cantaride, (f.) Cantharid, a Spanish fly.

Cantine, (f.) a little Cellar used in an Army to put bottles in.

Cantique, (m.) a Song, a spiritual Song.

Le Cantique de Salomon, Solomon's Song.

Canton, (m.) Canton.

Les Treize Cantons de Suisse, the Thirteen Cantons of Switzerland.

This Word was formerly used to express any Precinct or Territory, and in that sense you will find it used, Jos. 15. 5. But now it is properly said only of the chief Divisions, and Parts of Switzerland.

† Les Cantons de tout le Peuple, (Judg. 20. 2.) the Chief of all the People.

Cantonner, to retire.

Il s'est cantonné dans ce Lieu, he retired (or settled) himself in that place.

Cantonniere, (f.) the stuff that covers the pillar of the beds-feet.

anule, (f.) a pipe (for a fore.)

Cap, (m.) a Cape.

As, le Cap de bonne Esperance, the Cape of good Hope. Doubler un Cap, to double a Cape.

Cap est aussi pris pour la pointe de l'Eperon, ou pour l'Avant du Vaisseau. De là vient Mettre le Cap, ou porter le Cap, cd. mettre la Prouë du Vaisseau sur un Rumb, sur une Côte, ou sur un Navire.

Cap de mouton, the Rams block, a certain flat piece of Wood bored full of holes, and serving in a ship to stiffen or stretch out the main sheet.

De pié en cap, from top to toe. As, être armé de pié en cap, to be armed from top to toe.

Cheval Cap de More. C'est un Cheval de poil rouan; qui, outre son melange de poil gris & bay, a la tête & les extremités noires.

Capable, capable, fit for something; able, or learned; that may hold, contain, or receive.

C'est un Esprit capable de toutes choses, 'tis a Genius capable of any thing. Je n'en suis pas capable, I am not capable of it, I am not fit for't. N'être capable d'aucun Divertissement, not to be capable of any Recreation. Se rendre capable, to capacitate himself, to make himself capable.

Un Avocat fort capable, a very able Lawyer.

Un Port capable de mille Galeres, a Port big enough to contain a thousand Gallies.

Un Lieu capable de dix mille personnes, a Place big enough to receive ten thousand men in it.

Capablement, learnedly.

As, il parle de tout capablement, he speaks of every thing learnedly.

Capacité, (f.) capacity, ability; capaciousness, spaciousness, extent.

Cela surpasse ma capacité, that exceeds my capacity.

Or thus. Avoir une profonde capacité, to be deeply learned. Selon la capacité de mon esprit, according to my poor apprehension.

Caparaçon, ou caparaillon, (m.) Caparison, a kind of Horse-cloth.

Le Caparaillon des Chevaux de main est ordinairement d'un Drap brodé de laine tout autour, enrichi des Armes du Maître sur le milieu qui couvre la croupe, & accompagné de deux Chifres aux deux côtez. Les Caparaçons de l'Armée sont quelquefois d'une grande Peau d'Ours. Ceux des Ecuries sont d'un simple Treillis en Eté, & de Drap en Hiver.

Caparaçonné, caparisoned, furnished with a caparison; having a horse-cloth on.

Caparaçonner, to caparison, or furnish with a caparison; to put a horse-cloth on.

Càpe, (f.) caper, the fruit so called; a piece of silk trimmed with ribbons, wherewith Women undressed go sometimes abroad; the main Sail of a Ship.

Cape de Bearn, a short and sleeveless Gown of course white Cloth, usually worn by the poorer Inhabitants of that Country.

† N'avoir que l'Epée & la Càpe, cd. avoir fort peu de chose, ou n'avoir rien, to have little or nothing.

Capelet, (m.) a kind of disease in a Horse.

C'est une Enflure qui vient à l'extremité du Jarret, au train de derriere du Cheval, & qui est grosse à peu près comme la moitié d'une bale de Jeu de Paume.

Capeline, (f.) a Cap set out with feathers.

Capendu, (m.) the short-stem apple.

Caphé, (m.) Coffee.

Boire du Caphé, to drink Coffee.

Il se boit quantité de Caphé en Angleterre, there is a vast deal of Coffee drunk in England.

Cabaret à Caphé, a Coffee-house.

Capier, (from Càpe) m. the Caper-tree.

Capillaire, (m.) Maiden-hair, Venus-hair, or Ladies-hair.

Capillaire, (Adj.) made of Venus hair; no bigger than a hair.

Capilotade, (f.) Ragout qu'on fait de quèque reste de Viande, Capilotade, a Dish made up of Remnants of meat.

† Mettre quécun en capilotade, to jeer one.

Capitaine, (m.) Captain, a Leader (or Commander) of a Company of Soldiers.

Capitaine de Cavalerie, ou d'Infanterie, a Captain of Horse, or Foot.

Capitaine aux Gardes, cd. Capitaine au Regiment des Gardes, a Captain in the Regiment of Guards. Capitaine des Gardes, cd.

Capitaine des Gardes du Corps, a Captain of the King's Guards.

Capitaine de Château, the Gouverneur (or Commander) of a Castle. Capitaine d'un Vaisseau de Guerre, a Captain of a Man of War.

Lors qu'il est question de fuir, il est toujours le Capitaine, in time of flight, he is always foremost.

Un grand Capitaine, ou grand Guerrier, a great Captain, a great Soldier.

Monsieur de Turenne étoit un grand & un sage Capitaine, Monsieur de Turenne was a great and wise Captain.

Capitainerie, (f.) the Government of a Castle.

Capitainerie Garde-côte. See Garde-côte.

Capitainesse. See Capitane.

Capital, capital, or great; capital, chief, or main; capital, worthy of death.

Une Lettre capitale, a capital (or great) Letter.

Une Ville capitale, a capital City.

Paris est la Ville capitale du Royaume de France, Paris is the chief (or capital) City of the Kingdom of France. Dessen capital, the chief (or main) design. C'est là le point capital de l'Affaire, that's the main point of all.

Un Crime Capital, a Capital Crime.

Or thus. C'est mon Enemi capital, he is my professed Enemy.

Capital and Capitale are also Substantively used. As,

C'est le Capital de l'Affaire, that's the main point of the Business. Londres est la Capitale de l'Angleterre, London is the chief City of England.

Le Capital & l'Interêt, the Principal and the Interest.

Capitalement. As, condamner quécun capitalement, to convict one of a capital crime.

Capitan, (m.) Terme de mepris, a Bragadochio.

Capitane, or Capitaneffe, (f.) la Galere où est le Commandant de la Flote, the Admiral Galley.

Capitole, (m.) the Capitol, that famous Fortress of old Rome.

Capitolin, of the Capitol.

Jupiter Capitolin, Jupiter Capitolinus.

Capitoux, Echevins de Toulouse. So they call 12 of the principal Magistrates of Toulouse, the chief City of Languedoc in France; whereof the first is to be a Gentleman of that Province, the rest Lawyers and substantial Merchants.

Capitulaire, (from Chapitre) capitular.

As, Acte capitulaire, a capitular Decree.

Capitulaires, (Subst.) a Regulation about Church Affairs.

Capitulant, qui a Voix au Chapitre, a Member of the Chapter, one that gives his Voice in a Chapter.

Capitulation, (f.) Capitulation.

Se rendre par capitulation, to surrender by capitulation.

Les Articles de la capitulation, the Articles of the capitulation.

Capituler, to capitulate.

La Ville demande à capituler, the Town desires to capitulate.

Caponniere, (f.) Terme de Fortification.

C'est une Voute qui traverse un Fossé sec, laquelle est capable de contenir des Gens de guerre, qui tout d'un coup font feu par des Ouvertures qui se decouvrent inopinément.

Caporal, (m.) Corporal, an Officer under a Sergeant.

Capot, (m.) Capot, (in the Game called Picket) which is, when a man loses every trick.

† Vous voila bien capot, you are finely brought to bed, you are brought to a fine pass.

Capote, (f.) a Sea-gown, or long Coat fit for the Sea.

Capre, as Cape.

Capre, (m.) a Caper, or Privateer.

H

Caprice,

Caprice, (m.) freak, frolick, caprichio, maggot, foolish fancy.

Admirez le caprice de cet homme là, do but mind the man's frolick. Il a des caprices à faire perdre patience aux gens, he has such freaks, (or maggots) as will tire men out of their patience.

Le caprice de la Fortune, the freaks of Fortune.

Capricieusement, capriciously, fantastically.

Se gouverner capricieusement, to carry him self fantastically.

Capricieux, capricious, humourfom, fantastical.

Capricorne, (m.) Capricorn, one of the twelve celestial Signs.

Le Tropique du Capricorne, the Tropick of Capricorn.

Câprier, from Capre. See Câpier.

Capriole } See Cabriole.

Caprioler } Cabrioler.

Capron, (m.) Terme de Capucin. C'est un Morceau de drap fait en ovale que portent les Novices Capucins, & qui pend par derrière leur dos & par devant leur estomac, environ un pié de long.

Capse, (f.) Terme usité en Sorbonne. C'est une petite boîte de cuivre, ou de fer blanc, où les Docteurs mettent leurs Suffrages, à fin de recevoir ou de refuser celui qui est examiné pour l'acte de Tentative, ou pour la Licence.

† Captieusement, captiously, cunningly.

Captieux, captious, cunning, that is upon the catch.

Un Raisonnement captieux, a captious Way of arguing.

Captif, captive, under great subjection.

Il est trop captif où il est, he is under too great a subjection where he is.

Une Dame captive, a captive Lady, a Lady taken Prisoner.

Captif, Captive, (Subst.) a Captive, a Christian become Slave amongst the Turks.

Il a mené captive une grande multitude de Captifs, (Eph. 4. 8.) he led Captivity Captive.

† Captivé, captivated.

† Captiver, to captivate.

L'Eloquence captive les esprits, Eloquence captivates the minds of men. Captiver la bienveillance de quécun, to captivate (or get) ones good will.

Se captiver, s'assujétir, to captivate (subject, or confine) himself.

Captivité, (f.) captivity, slavery, thraldom, bondage.

Une captivité honteuse, a shameful slavery.

Il a été prisonnier plusieurs années, & sa captivité ne lui a point abbattu l'esprit, he has been a slave several years together, but his captivity has not cast him down in the least.

Tirer quécun de captivité, to deliver one from bondage, or captivity.

Capture, (f.) capture, prize, prey, or booty.

Faire une bonne capture, to get a good prey.

Capuce (m.) the pyramidal top of a Monks Cowl or Capuche.

Capuchon, (m.) a Monks Capuche, or Cowl; a riding-cloak.

Capucin, (m.) a Capucin Friar.

Capucine, (f.) a Capucin Nun.

Caque, (m.) quart de muid, a Cag, the fourth part of a muid, a Barrel, or Vessel, wherein salt meats, pitch, rosen, &c. are usually carried or kept.

† Caque-denier, (m.) a penurious (scrapping) man, a penny-farber, one that could save the droppings of his nose.

Caquer le harang, to put up herrings; in a Caque.

† Caquetangue, (f.) flux de sang, bloody flux.

† Caquet, (m.) prattling, babbling, tittle-tattle.

As, le caquet est ordinaire aux Femmes, prattling is common to Women.

† Caqueter, to prattle, babble, or twattle.

† Caqueteuse, (f.) a prattling Woman.

Caquetoire, (f.) that part of a Plough upon which the Plough-man sits when he talks to any one.

Caquette, (f.) from Caque, a Fisto-tub.

Car, for, forasmuch as, because.

Carabé (m.) Ambre jaune, yellow Amber, bead (or bracelet) Amber.

Carabin, (m.) a Horseman armed with a Carabine.

Les Carabins étoient des Cavaliers, qui servoient du tems de Henry IV. & de Louis XIII. Ils portoient une Cuirasse échan-crée à l'Epaule, afin de mieux coucher en jouë, un Gantelet à coude pour la main de la Bride, un Cabasset en tête, une longue Epée, & une Carabine à l'arçon de la Selle.

Il n'y a aujourd'hui plus de Carabins, mais en leur place on a des Dragons.

† C'est un Carabin de Saint Come, pour dire un Serviteur Chirurgien, un Frater, he is a Journeyman Surgeon.

Carabine, (f.) Carabine, a sort of Gun.

Caracol, (m.) a wheeling about.

Faire le caracol, to wheel about, as Horsemen do sometimes.

Les Thessaliens faisant promptement le caracol revinrent à la charge, the Thessalians wheeling about quickly came to the charge again.

Caracoler, marcher en formant des demi-ronds, to wheel about.

Caracon, (m.) from Caraque, a lesser sort of Carack.

Caractere, (m.) character, letter; character, or hand; character, or style; character, or impression; character, mark, or distinction; a spell.

Mettez cette Ligne en Caractere Italique, let this Line be set in the Italic character, or letter.

J'ai été content, en voyant seulement votre caractere, I was pleased, when I did but see your hand.

L'Eglogue ne doit point être d'un caractere élevé, an Eclogue doth not admit of a lofty style.

Le caractere du Batême est un caractere indélébile, the character of Baptism is indelible.

Le caractere d'un Chretien, the character of a Christian. Il faut rendre aux Ambassadeurs les honneurs qui sont deus à leur caractere, Embassadors ought to be honourably received and entertained according to their character.

Donner le véritable caractere des gens, to give a true character of people. Soutenir bien un caractere, worthily to bear up a character.

Avoir un Caractere, to have a Spell.

Caractérisé, described.

Caractériser, to describe, to give a character of.

Carafe, (f.) a kind of Glas, broad at the bottom, and narrow at the top, which holds commonly a demi-setier, and sometimes chopine.

Carafon, (m.) an Ice-pail.

Caramel, (m.) Sugar well boyled, and good against a cold.

Caramoussail, or Caramoussat, (m.) a Turkish kind of Ship with a very high Stern.

Caraque, Carack. So the Portuguese called of old their greatest Ships.

Carat, (m.) carat, a small weight of four grains, used amongst Jewellers; carat, the third part of an Ounce.

Caravane, (f.) Caravan, a Company of Merchants travelling together through the Desarts of the Levant; a Sea-Expedition of the new Knights of Malta.

Faire la caravane, to make such an Expedition.

Caravelle, (f.) Caravel, a kind of Portuguese Ship.

Carbatine, (f.) the skin, of a Beast newly killed.

Carbonnade, (f.) carbonadoe, a Rasher of bacon on the coals.

Carcan, (m.) an Iron collar, wherein some Offenders are ty'd by the neck unto a post, and there exposed to publick view; a chain of gold for ones neck.

L'Instruction de ton Pere & l'Enseignement de ta Mere seront des Graces enfilées ensemble à ton chef, & des carquans à ton col, (Prov. 1. 9.) the Instruction of thy Father and the Law of thy Mother shall be an Ornament of grace unto thine head, and chains about thy neck.

Carcasse, (f.) carcass; a lean body, a mere skeleton; carcass, a kind of bomb.

Une carcasse de poulet, de chapon, de poulet d'Inde, the carcass of a pullet, of a capon, or a Turkey-cock.

Tu n'es qu'une ombre, qu'une carcasse, je ne vois rien quand je te voi, thou art but a shadow, but a meer carcass, I see nothing when I see thee.

La Carcasse, Machine de Guerre, est faite de deux Cercles de fer, larges de deux pouces, epais de deux lignes, croisez en ovale, qu'on remplit d'un Sac de toile godronnée, farci de granades, & de bouts de canon de Mousquets chargez de grenaille de fer. On la jette, comme une Bombe, avec un Mortier; & elle fait un feu qui dure plus d'une demi heure.

La Carcasse n'a été inventée que depuis quelques années. Et, comme elle n'a pas répondu aux grands Effets qu'on en esperoit, on ne s'en est pas servi fort long tems.

Carcois, (m.) a Quiver for arrows.

Prendre à son coté son carcois, to hang his quiver by his side.

Carde, (f.) a card, to card wool withal.

Cardé, carded.

Cardée, (f.) as much wooll as is carded at once with both the Cards.

Carder, to card.

As, carder de la laine, to card wool.

Cardes. See Carde.

On appelle aussi de ce nom des Côtes de poirée ou d'artichaut qu'on fait cuire, qu'on mange avec du sel, du beurre, & du vinaigre, & dont on se sert dans les Ragouts.

Cardeur, (m.) a Carder.

Cardeuse, (f.) a Woman-carder.

Cardier, (m.) a Card-maker.

Cardinal, cardinal, principal.

As, un Nombre cardinal, a cardinal Number. Les quatre Vents cardinaux, the four cardinal Winds. Les Vertus cardinales, qui sont la Prudence, la Justice, la Force, & la Temperance, the cardinal Virtues, viz. Wisdom, Justice, Fortitude, and Temperance.

Cardinal, (a masc. Subst.) a Cardinal of the Church of Rome; a kind of Bird about the bigness of a small Parrot, the bill and body whereof is red.

Cardinalat, (m.) Cardinalship, the Dignity (or Office of a Cardinal.

Il est parvenu au Cardinalat, he is come to be a Cardinal.

Cardons, (m.) cardoons, the stalks of Artichokes, or of the white Thistle, bury'd in the ground to get them a whiteness. 'Tis counted an excellent Meat.

Carême, (m.) Lent.

Garder (observer) le Carême, to keep Lent.

Rompre le Carême, to break Lent.

Carême prenant, le dernier Jour du Carnaval, Shrove-Tuesday.

† Carême prenant, homme en masque, habillé ridiculement, a Mascarado.

Carenage (m.) Un Endroit sur le bord de la Mer, commode pour donner la carene, a good careening Place.

Carene, (f.) the keel, (or bottom) of a Ship.

Donner la carene à un Vaisseau, le mettre en carene, ou à la carene, to careen a Ship.

Carener, to careen.

Caresme. See Carême.

Careffant, careffing, of a careffing temper, kind, obliging.

Careffé, careffed, made much of, kindly used, friendly entertained.

Careffer, to careff, to make much of, to use kindly, or entertain friendly.

Careffer un Cheval, to stroke a Horse.

Careffes, (f.) careffes, great demonstrations of kindness.

Il m'a fait mille careffes, he has careffed me very much, he has made much of me.

Caret, (m.) a kind of Tortoise, good to eat, and the shell thereof used for combs, &c.

Cargaïson, or Carguaïson, (f.) the Lading of a Ship.

Carguer la Voile, ou la bourier. C'est la troubler & l'accourcir par le moyen des Car-

Cordages appelez Carques, afin de prendre moins de Vent, & de retarder le cours du Vaisseau.

Cariatide, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, a Womans Figure with a long Gown.

Carie, (f.) Terme d'Arracheur de Dents, qui signifie pourriture, rottenness.

Il y a carie en cette Dent, this Tooth is rotten.

Carié, rotten, worm-eaten.

As, une Dent cariée, cd. pourrie, a rotten Tooth.

Bois carié, Wood that is worm-eaten.

se Carier, se pourrir, to rot.

Une Dent qui se carie, a Tooth that rots.

Bois qui commence à se carier, Wood that begins to rot.

Carillon, (m.) a chime, or musick of bells.

Le carillon des verres, the pleasant noise of glasses.

Carillonner, faire un carillon de cloches, to chime, to knowl bells, to make a musick of bells.

Carillonneur, (m.) a chimier, or knowler of bells.

Cariole, (f.) maniere de petit carosse, a kind of small coach.

Carlet, (m.) sorte de poisson plat, a flounder.

Carlet, forte d'eguille dont le Cordonnier se sert, a kind of Shoemakers needle.

Carline, (f.) carline, the carline Thistle.

Carme, (m.) a Carmelite, or white Friar; a verse.

Carmes dechauffez, discalceated Friars.

Carmelite, (f.) a Carmelite Nun.

Carmin, (m.) a certain colour made of Brazil-wood and alum, used by Limners.

Carminatif, Terme de Medecine, that expels the wind.

Carmoussail } as } Caramoussail.

Carnacier } as } Carnaffier.

Carnage, (m.) slaughter, butchery, or murdering of men.

Faire un grand carnage des Enemis, to make a great slaughter of the Enemies.

Carnaffier, that lives much upon flesh, that loves flesh-meat.

Le Loup est le plus carnaffier de tout les Animaux, of all Animals the Wolf is the greatest flesh-eater.

Un Peuple carnaffier, a Nation that eats much flesh, that feeds much upon flesh.

Carnation, (f.) the naked parts of a Picture.

Carnaval, (m.) Carnaval, Shrove-tide.

Se bien divertir durant le Carnaval, to pass his time merrily during the Carnaval.

Carne (f.) angle de quelque chose dure & folide, corner.

Je me suis donné un grand coup de la tête contre la carne de cette Table, I hit my head grievously against the corner of that Table.

Carné (Terme de Fleuriste) qui est de couleur de chair vive, of a carnation colour.

Une Anemone toute carnée, a carnation Wind-flower.

Carnosité, (f.) carnosity, excrescency.

Carogne, (f.) a bold Jade, an impudent Slut.

Carolus, ou cinq doubles, (m.) a carolus.

Carolus, Monoie d'Or d'Angleterre, a Guiny.

Il a des Carolus, cd. il est riche, he is a moneyd-man.

Caron (m.) bande de lard d'ou le maigre est oté, a slice of fat bacon without lean.

Carosse, (m.) a Coach.

Un beau, un superbe, un magnifique Carosse, a stately Coach, a fine Coach.

Carosse de loüage, a Hackney-Coach.

Carosse à six, à quatre, ou à deux chevaux, a Coach and six horses, a Coach and four horses, or a Coach and two horses.

Mener le carosse, to drive the Coach.

Aller en carosse, to ride (or go) in a Coach.

Monter en carosse, to step in a Coach.

Descendre de carosse, to light out of a Coach.

Le Siege du Cocher, the Coach-man's Seat.

Le marche-pié, the Coach-box, upon which the Coachman's feet do rest.

Remise de Carosse, a Coach-house.

Cheval de carosse, a Coach-horse; a great Booby, a great Sot.

Caroffier, (m.) faiseur de Carosse, a Coach-maker.

Carote, (f.) carot.

Carote rouge ou jaune, a red or yellow carot.

Carouge (f.) carob-bean, the fruit of the carob-tree.

Les carouges sont douces, & ont quelque chose du goût des chateignes, carob-beans are sweet, and tast something like chesnuts.

Carouge, (m.) the carob-tree.

Caroufel, (m.) Carroufel, (a shew of Charrets, Engins, and Dancing of Horses.)

Carouffe, (f.) beuverie à l'Allemande, hard drinking.

Faire carouffe, to carouffe it, to drink hard.

Carpe, (f.) sorte de Poisson d'Eau douce, Carp, a sweet-water Fish.

La Carpe n'a point de dents, a Carp hath no teeth.

Carpeau, (m.) a young Carp.

Carquan } See { Carcan.

Carquois } { Carcois.

Carrabine } { Carabine.

Carracon } { Caracon.

Carraque } { Caraque.

Carré, fait en carré, square.

Un Bataillon carré, a square Battalion.

Une figure carrée, a square figure.

Un homme carré, bien pris, a square (or well-set) man.

Un Carré, (Subst.) a square, a four-square Figure; a dressing-box.

Un beau Carré, a fine square. Il a dix piez en carré, it is ten foot square.

On lui a fait present d'un beau Carré d'argent, she was presented with a fine silver Dressing-box.

Carré de mouton, quelques côtes de mouton que l'on fait rotir ou griller, some ribs of mutton roasted or broiled.

Carreau, (m.) a cushion; a bed in a Garden; a Taylor's pressing iron; a square of glass; a diamond at cards; a thunder-bolt; a square tile, or brick.

Carreau de pierre, a great stone to build with.

Jetter quelqu'un sur le carreau, to give one a mortal blow.

Carrefour, (m.) a cross way.

La souveraine Sapience crie es Carrefours, (Prov. 1. 21.) Wisdom crieth in the chief Place of concourse.

Carrelage, (m.) a paving with square tiles, or bricks.

Carrelé, paved with square tiles, or bricks; cobbled.

Leurs Souliers estoient vieux, & carrellez, (Jof. 9. 5.) their shoes were old, and clouted upon their feet.

Carreler, to pave with square tiles, or bricks; to coble.

Carrelet. See Carlet.

Carreleur, (m.) one that paves with square tiles, or bricks.

Carrelure, (f.) paire de Souliers remontée, a pair of shoes new vamped.

Une bonne carrelure de ventre, cd. un ventre bien rempli de viande, a full paunch, a belly-full.

se Carrer, to square it, to have his arms on Kembow.

Carrier, (m.) a Quarry-man; a Worker in Quarries.

Carriere, (f.) a Quarry; a Career, or Place appointed for Races; career, or course.

Percer une Carriere, to break open a Quarry.

Fournir la carriere, to run his full career.

Achever sa carriere, to finish his course.

Se donner carriere, to take a great deal of liberty; to expatiate himself, or enlarge upon a thing; to make merry, to make much of himself.

Carrillon } See { Carrillon.

Carrillonner } { Carrillonner.

Carrillonneur } { Carrillonneur.

Carrote } { Carote.

Carrouge } { Carouge.

Carroufel } { Caroufel.

Carrouffe } { Carouffe.

Carrure, (f.) from Carré, that part of a Coat which covers the breast and back.

† Bâti en carrure, (as Rev. 21. 16.) built four-square.

Carte, (f.) a card; a map.

Un Jeu de cartes, a pack of cards.

Dans un Jeu de Cartes, il faut considerer le Point, les Figures, & les Cartes blanches, in a pack of Cards we must consider the Colour, the Coat-cards, and small Cards.

Le Point est rouge ou noir; le rouge, cœur ou carreau; & le noir, trefle ou pique, the Colour is red or black; the red, hearts or diamond; and the black, club or spade.

A chaque Point il y a trois Figures, savoir le Roi, la Dame, & le Valet, to every Colour there belong three Coat-cards, the King, Queen, and Knave.

Les Cartes blanches sont le dix, neuf, huit, sept, six, cinq, quatre, trois, deux, & as, the small Cards are ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, and ace.

Une Trionfe, a Trump. Carte de trionfe, a trump-card.

Jouer aux cartes, to play at cards.

Batre les cartes, to shuffle the cards.

Donner les cartes, to deal.

Etre le premier en carte, to be to play first, to be the leader, to have the leading hand.

Carte marine, a Sea-Card.

Savoir la Carte, to understand Maps.

La Carte de France, the Map of France.

La Carte generale, the general Map.

Or thus. Donner la carte blanche à quelqu'un, to give one full liberty, to give him full power, to act as he shall think fit.

On lui a envoyé la carte blanche, he has a blank sent him.

Cartel, (m.) a challenge.

Il lui envoya un cartel, he sent him a challenge.

Cartesien, (m.) a Cartesian, a Follower of the great Philosopher Des Cartes.

Cartier, (m.) from Carte, a Card-maker, or Seller.

Cartilage, (m.) cartilage, or gristle, a substance of the body which is between flesh and bone.

Cartilagineux, cartilaginous, gristly.

Carton, (m.) past-board; the thick Paper whereon Painters draw sometimes.

Cartonnier, (m.) a Past-board-maker, or Seller.

Cartouche, (m.) a charge for a small gun; a cartouch, or cartridge for a great gun; a cartridge, in Sculpture or Painting.

Le Cartouche des Pistolets & des Mousquets est de gros papier, & celui des Pieces d'Artillerie est de carton.

Cartulaire, (m.) Registre qui contient les Titres d'un Monastere, the Register-book of a Monastery.

Cartulaire, (Adj.) As, Juge Cartulaire, cd. un Notaire, a Notary, or Scrivener.

On appelle ainsi les Notaires, parce que dans leurs Actes ils se servent quelquefois de ces Mots, Nous condamnons les Parties de leur Consentement à executer le Contrat.

Cas, (m.) case, chance, or accident; case, occasion; case, thing, or matter; case, fact, or crime; account, value, or esteem; case of a Noun.

C'est un cas etrange & fusteste, tis a strange and fatal case.

C'est un cas impreveu, tis an unexpected chance, or a sudden accident.

On a recours en ce cas à la Paroisse, in such a case there's a recourse unto the Parish.

Un cas etrange, & vrai pourtant, a strange thing, but true.

Ce n'est pas grand cas que cela, that's no great matter.

En cas d'amour, in case of love.

Avouer le cas, to confess the fact.

Voila mon vrai cas, that's all my case, or my crime.

Cas reservez, reserved Cases, certain considerable Sins of which the Pope or the Bishop hath received the Absolution to himself.

Je fai grand cas de ce Jeune homme là, I have that Young man in very great esteem, I set a great value upon him.

On ne fait point de cas de la Vertu, Virtue is made no account of.

Ce Nom est en un tel cas, that Noun is in such a case.

Ce Verbe regit un tel cas, that Verb governs such a case.

Un Cas de Conscience, a Case of Conscience.
Etudier les Cas de Conscience, to study Cases of Conscience. Proposer un Cas de Conscience, to propose a Case of Conscience.
Posez le cas que cela soit, put the case (suppose) it be so. En tout cas je suis prêt, however (whatsoever happens) I am ready.
Au cas qu'il meure, in case he die, if he die, provided he die.
Calanier (m.) qui ne sort presque point du Logis, one that seldom stirs out of doors, a constant house-keeper.
Cafaque, (f.) a Coat, a wide Coat, a Campaign Coat.
† Fournir cafaque, changer de Parti, to be a Turn-coat.
† Cafaguin, (m.) a short Coat.
Cascade, (f.) Chute d'Eau, a Cascade, or Water-fall.
† Il a fait une rude cascade, he had a heavy fall.
Cascades, Terme de Fortification. Ce sont certains Puits qu'on fait dans le Terrain près du Rempart, pour éviter les Mines.
Casse, (f.) Terme de Triquetra, two men together.
Casemate, (f.) Casemate, (a Piece of Fortification).
Caserne, (f.) Lodging Rooms for garrisoned Soldiers.
Casque, (m.) a head-piece, or armour for the head.
Le Casque de Salut, (Eph. 6. 17.) the Helmet of Salvation.
† Cassade, ou tromperie, (f.) a cheat, or cheating trick.
Un donneur de cassade, un Trompeur, a Cheat, or cheating man.
Cassant, brittle; fretting.
Cassation, (f.) a nulling, or abrogating.
Casse, (f.) Cassia, a Drug (or Spice) so called; a Case for Letters, in a Printing-house; a Pen-case, part of an Inkhorn.
Eau de Casse, Water of Cassia.
Casse, (Adj.) weak.
As, Une Voix casse, a weak Voice.
Cassé, broke, or broken; weak, or feeble; cashiered, or disbanded; annulled, abrogated, made void; hurt, Ex. 22. 10.
Un verre cassé, a broken glass. Un bras cassé, a broken arm.
Un homme cassé, vieux, infirme, a weak man, one that is spent, broken with age, toil, or diseases. Chanter d'un ton triste & cassé, to sing with a sad and faint Voice.
Un Regiment cassé, a Regiment cashiered, or disbanded. † Il est cassé aux gages, he is cashiered, disbanded, or turned out of service.
Un Privilege cassé, a Privilege annulled, or abrogated.
† Cassé-noisette, (m.) a Nut-cracker.
Casser, to break; to cashier; to annul, abrogate, or make void.
Casser un verre, to break a glass.
Casser la tête à quiconque, to break one's head.
Casser un Soldat, un Officier, une Compagnie, un Regiment, to cashier a Soldier, an Officer, a Company, or a Regiment. Casser une Loi, to annul (or abrogate) a Law, to make it void. Casser un Testament, ou une Sentence, to make void a Will, or a Sentence.
Se casser, to break (in a neutral sense).
Se faire casser la tête, to get his head broke.
Casserole, (f.) a copper-pan (such as Cooks use for Fricassees, and other Ragouts).
Cassette, (f.) (from Casse) a box for one sort of Letter.
La Casse est divisée en plusieurs cassettes, the Case is divided into several boxes.
Cassette, (f.) from Casse, a little Cass.
† Casseure, (f.) bruise; breach, Ps. 60. 2.
Cassidine, (f.) sorte de Pierre précieuse, Cassidony (a kind of precious stone).
Cassiolette, (f.) a Vessel to put sweet things in; a pleasant (or a fragrant) smell.
Cassonade, (f.) powder-sugar, course sugar.
† Cassure, as Casseure.
Cattagnettes, (f.) castanet's.
Jouer des cattagnettes, to play with castanet's.
Cassonade, as Cassonade.

Castor, (m.) a beaver; a beaver-hat.
Un fin castor, a fine beaver.
Casuel, (from Cas) casual, accidental.
C'est une chose casuelle, 'tis a Casualty.
Parties casuelles, the Places and Offices which escheat to the King.
Casuel, (a masc. Subst.) profits, perquisites.
† Casuellement, casually, accidentally, by chance.
Casuiste, (m.) a Casuist, one that understands or resolves Cases of Conscience.
Catalogue, (m.) a Catalogue, or List.
Faire un catalogue, to make a catalogue.
Cataplasme, (m.) cataplasm, or poultice.
Cataracte, (f.) a cataract, or web in the eye; a cataract, or violent fall of waters.
Oter une cataracte, to remove a cataract.
Les Cataractes du Nil, the Cataracts of Nilus.
Les Cataractes du Ciel, the Cataracts (or Flood-gates) of Heaven.
† Catarre. See Catherre.
Catastrophe, (f.) catastrophe.
Catechisé, catechised.
Catechiser, to catechise.
Catechisme, (m.) a Catechism, or Exposition of the Christian Faith; a Catechism, or a Book concerning the principles of the Christian Faith.
Catechiste, (m.) a Catechist, he that makes the Catechism.
Catechumenes, (m.) Catechumenes. So they called in the Primitive Church such as were newly catechised or instructed in the Christian Religion before they were baptized, or such as being baptized were not yet admitted unto the Communion.
Cathedrale. See Cathedrale.
Categorie, (f.) Terme de Logique, Category, or predicament.
Être de même Categorie, to be of the same Category, or predicament.
† Categorical, categorical, formal, positive.
† Categoriement, categorically, formally, positively.
Cathedrale, ou Eglise Cathedrale, a Cathedral, or a Cathedral Church.
Catherre, or Catterre, (f.) a catharr, or rheum.
Catherineux, or Catterreux, rheumatick, often troubled with rheums or catharrs.
Catholicon, a Catholicon (a certain Composition in Physick, so termed, because it purges all kind of humours).
Catholique, catholic, universal.
As, l'Eglise Catholique, the Catholick (or Universal) Church. La Foi Catholique, the Catholick Faith.
Un Catholique, une Catholique, a Catholick, a Catholick man, or woman. Un Catholique Romain, a Roman Catholick.
† C'est un Catholique à gros grains, ed. un Catholique qui n'est pas fort devot, he is no bigotted Catholick.
Catholiquement, good Christian-like.
As, vivre catholiquement, ed. d'une manière pieuse & catholique, to live good Christian-like, or like a good Christian.
Cati, close, or close wrought.
Catin, to work (or to weave) close.
Catoptrique, (f.) Catoptrick, part of Perspective.
Cavalcade, (f.) a Cavalcade, or Riding- (As when many people out of love or respect go to meet one on horse-back, and bear him company to Town, or out of Town).
Cavalcadour, (m.) a Gentleman of the Horse.
Ce Mot, chez le Roi & dans les Maisons Royales, signifie l'Ecuyer, qui commande l'Ecurie des Chevaux de la personne. Ains on dit Ecuyer Cavalcadour de l'Ecurie de la Reine, Ecuyer Cavalcadour de l'Ecurie de Monsieur, ou de l'Ecurie de Madame, de Monsieur le Prince, & de Monsieur le Duc.
Cavale, (f.) from Cheval, a Mare.
Une bonne Cavale, a good Mare.
Cavalerie, (f.) Cavalry, Horse.
La Cavalerie & l'Infanterie, the Horse and Foot. Ils sont forts en Cavalerie, their strength lies in their Horse, they are strong in Cavalry.
Un General de Cavalerie, a General of the Horse. Un Capitaine de Cavalerie, a Captain of a Troop of Horse. Une Compagnie de Cavalerie, a Troop of Horse.

Cavalier, (m.) a Horseman; a Cavaleer, or Gentleman that wears a sword; Cavalier, a kind of high Platform to plant great Guns upon.
Cavalier, (Adj.) free, gallant, noble, genteel, or Gentleman-like; too free.
Un style cavalier, a free (or gallant) style.
Une Eloquence cavaliere, a noble Eloquence.
Cela n'est point du tout cavalier, that is not genteel in the least.
Cela est un peu cavalier, that is a little too free.
A la cavaliere, (Adv.) Gentleman-like.
Cavalièrement, gallantly, Gentleman-like, with a great deal of freedom, and nothing of pedantry; slightly.
Vous en avez agi Cavalièrement, you have acted Gentleman-like, or like a Gentleman.
Parler de la Religion cavalièrement, to speak slightly of Religion.
Traiter quiconque cavalièrement, to use one something roughly.
† Cauchemar, (m.) the Night-mare. Say Incube.
Caudebec, (m.) sorte de Chapeau, a French Hat.
Cave, (f.) a Cellar; a Case of bottles; a sweet-water bottle.
As, Cave à Vin, a Wine-cellar. Cave à biere, a Beer-cellar.
Cave, (Adj.) As, la Veine cave, the hollow Vein.
† Cavé, (from Caver) dug, dug up. Say Creusé.
Caveau, (m.) a little Cellar.
Caveçon, (m.) espece de Muserolle, Caveçon, a kind of musroll for a Horse.
† Caver, (from Cave) to dig, to dig up. Say Creuser.
Caverne, (f.) a Den, Cave, or Cavern.
Une afreuse Caverne, a fearful Den.
Une caverne de Brigands, (Luke 19. 46.) a Den of Thieves.
Caveçon, as Caveçon.
Cavin, (m.) Terme de Guerre, a hollow Way.
Cavin est un Lieu creux, propre à couvrir des Troupes, & à favoriser les Approches d'une Place, quand il s'en rencontre à la portée du Mousquet; parce que ce sont des Places d'Armes qu'on trouve toutes faites, & des Trains commodes pour ouvrir la Trenchée, sans craindre le Feu des Assiegez.
Cavité, (f.) Terme d'Anatomie, cavity, hollowness.
La Cavité des Intestins, the Cavity of the Intestines.
Cause, (f.) Cause, that whereby something is produced; cause, or reason; cause, or law-sute; cause, or party.
Cause physique, ou morale, a natural, or moral Cause. Les Causes secondes, the second Causes.
L'oisiveté est la Cause de tous les Maux, Idleness is the Cause of all Evils.
C'est sans cause que vous m'avez frappé, you strike me without a cause. Je le souffre pour plusieurs causes, I suffer it for many reasons.
Cause civile, ou criminelle, a civil, or criminal Cause. Cause bien ou mal fondée en droit, a just or unjust Cause. Présenter sa Cause à un Avocat, to retain a Counsel upon his Cause. La plaider, to plead it. La gagner, to carry it. La perdre, to be cast in it.
Être pour la bonne Cause, to be for the good Cause, to be of the right side.
A cause, because, for. As, à cause de cela, because of that. A cause de l'affection que je vous porte, for the love I bear you.
† A cause de quoi, wherefore.
A cause qu'il ne l'a pas voulu, because he would not have it.
Causé, caused, occasioned.
Causier, to cause, to occasion, to be the cause, or occasion of; to prate, or prattle.
La Sécheresse cause la Sterilité, Drought causes Dearth.
Vous ne faites que causer, you do nothing but prattle.
† Cau-

†Cauterie, (f.) a prating, or prattling.
 Causeur, (m.) a prating man, a prattler.
 Causeuse, (f.) a prating (or prattling) woman.
 Caustique, ou corrosif, caustick.
 †Cauteleusement, sly, cunningly, with guile, Ex. 21. 14.
 †Cauteleux, cauleous, sly, cunning; false, 2 Cor. 11. 13.
 Une œillade cauteleuse, a sly cast of the eye.
 Cauteloux, (a masc. Subst.) As, un franc Cauteloux, a meer Sophister.
 Cautere, (m.) a cauter, an issue.
 Faire un cautere, to make an issue.
 Cauterisé, that hath an Issue made him.
 Une Conscience cauterisée, cd. endurcie, a seared (an obdurate) Conscience.
 Cauteriser, to cauterize.
 Caution, (f.) caution, bail, or security.
 Donner bonne caution, to give good bail, to give good security. Prendre caution, to take bail, or security.
 Caution bourgeoise, a Citizen's Security.
 †Un homme sujet à caution, en qui on ne se doit pas trop fier, a man not to be trusted.
 Cautionnement, (m.) a bailing, or giving security.
 Cautionner, to bail, to be bound for.
 Cautionner un Ami, to bail a Friend, to be bound for a Friend.
 Cayer, (m.) a loose sheet, or more, of a written Book; a Quire, in the Art of Printing.
 Cazemate } See { Cafemate.
 Cazerne } Caferne.

C E.

¶ Ce is a Pronoun Demonstrative, used before Words that begin with a Consonant, Cet before such as begin with a Vowel, Cette in the feminine Gender, and Ces in the Plural Number.
 As, ce Garçon this Boy, cet Enfant, this Child, cette Femme this Woman, ces Garçons & ces Filles, these Boys and Girls.
 Ce, cet, cette, that, ces those. As, ce grand Coquin, that great Rogue. Cet Importun, that troublesome Man. Cet honnête homme, that honest man. Cette honnête femme, that honest woman. Ces bonnes gens, those good people.
 †Formerly Ce was used before Viendra. As, Deut. 20. 2. Et quand ce viendra qu'on approchera du Combat, and it shall be when you are come nigh unto the Battle. But now that Expression is not fit to be used.
 Ce que, ce qui, that which, what.
 As, ce que vous dites n'est pas vrai, what you say (that which you say) is not true. Ce qui m'embarasse, that which perplexes me.
 Or thus. As, c'est ce qui m'afflige, that is the thing (that's it) which grieves me. C'est bien ce que j'enten, that's the thing (that's it) I mean.
 Ce que je n'y vai pas sur vôtre Invitation, c'est que je n'ai pas le tems, the reason why I don't go thither upon your Invitation is, that I have no time to spare. A ce que je voi, as far as I see.
 †A ce que, that, to the end that. Say afin que.
 Ce me semble, methinks. Ces Jours passez, few days ago. Je vous verrai un de ces Jours, un de ces Matins, I shall see you within a day or two, in a few days.
 As for the Verb Impersonal C'est, you will find an account of it in the Word Etre.
 Ce sont, they are. As, ce sont d'étranges gens, they are strange people.
 Now I must observe to you, that ce is one of those Particles, the e whereof is subject to an Elision. But this is only before est, and then they make up the word C'est aforesaid.
 In familiar Discourses 'tis common to say ce dit il, ce dit on. But the best way is to leave out ce, especially in writing, and to say only dit il, dit on, says he, say they.
 Do not say, as they did of old, il m'a fait cet honneur de me dire, but il m'a fait l'honneur de me dire, he has done me the honour to tell me.

Say ce qu'il vous plaira, not ce qui vous plaira; c'est pourquoy, not ce fut pourquoy; outre cela, and not outre ce.
 Ceans, here, in here, within, at home.
 As, il est ceans, he is here.
 Or thus. †Le Maître de ceans, the Master of the House. Il fort de ceans, he is just gone from hence.
 Ceci, (anciently spelt cecy) this, these.
 As, ceci me fache, this vexes me. Quels Livres sont ceci? What Books are these?
 In short, this is a Pronoun Demonstrative, that hath no Plural Number, and is used without and instead of a Substantive. For, as the English say This for this thing, so the French use Ceci for cette chose ci, as also for the Plural Number ceux ci, and celles ci.
 Cédé, yielded, yielded up, given up, parted with.
 Ceder, to yield, to yield up, to give up, to part with.
 Ceder son Droit à un autre, to yield (or give) up his Right to another. C'est un homme qui ne veut rien ceder de son Droit, he is a man that will not part with a jot of his Right.
 Je vous cede cette louange, I yield you this praise. Il faut ceder à la Raison, one must yield to Reason.
 Ceder la place à quécun, to give place to one. Je ne lui cede en rien, I am not behind him in any thing, I am as good a man as he every way. Ce Capitaine à part, il ne le cede à personne, set aside that Captain, he yields to no man alive.
 Cedille, (f.) cerella, a dash under a c (as ç.)
 Cedrat, (m.) forte d'Arbre, a kind of Citron-tree.
 Cedre, (m.) the Cedar tree.
 Le bois de cedre est odoriferant, the cedar wood hath a sweet smell with it.
 Cedule, (f.) a Bill, or Note, under one's hand. In stead of Cedule, say Billet, as the better Word.
 Ceindre, to gird, to gird about.
 Se ceindre, to gird himself.
 Ceint, girt, girt about.
 Ceinture, (f.) a girdle; the waist.
 Ceinture de la Reine, a certain Tax raised upon Wine at Paris.
 Ceinturier, (m.) a Belt-maker.
 Ceinturon, (m.) a waist-belt; a girdle, Ex. 28. 8.
 Cela, that, those.
 As, cela me fache, that troubles me. Quels Outils sont cela? What Tools are those?
 This is (like Ceci) a Pronoun Demonstrative, that hath no Plural Number, and is used without and instead of a Substantive. For, as the English say That for that thing, so the French use Cela for cette chose là, as also for the Plural Number ceux là, celles là.
 Or thus. As, comment cela? how so?
 Je vous ai vu que vous n'étiez pas plus grand que cela, I saw you when you were no bigger than so.
 Celadon, (m.) Sea-green.
 Celé (from Celer) hidden, concealed, kept secret.
 Celebrant, an officiating Priest.
 Celebration, (f.) Celebration, Solemnity.
 Celebration de Fête, the Celebration of a Feast. Celebration de Mariage, the Solemnity of Marriage.
 Celebre, famous, renowned, eminent, solemn.
 Un Medecin celebre, a famous (an eminent) Physician. Ses Actions l'ont rendu celebre, he has made himself famous by his Actions.
 Une Fête celebre, a solemn Feast.
 Celebré, celebrated, solemnized.
 Celebrer, to celebrate, to solemnize.
 Celebrer une Fête, to celebrate (or to keep) a Feast. Celebrer le Mariage, to solemnize the Marriage.
 Celebrer (dire) la Messe, to say Mass.
 Celebrité, (f.) Solemnity.
 La Celebrité des Jeux, the Solemnity of Plays.
 Celer, to hide, conceal, or keep secret.
 Celer son martyre, to conceal his torment.
 Celeri, (m.) celery, (a known Plant, of which is made a good Winter-sallet.)

Celerier. See Cellerier.
 †Celerité, (f.) celerity, speed, hast, swiftness.
 Celeste, (from Ciel) celestial, heavenly, high; great, stately.
 Globe celeste, a celestial Globe. Les Signes celestes, the celestial Signs.
 Esprits celestes, heavenly Spirits. Les Lieux celestes, the heavenly Places, the high Places.
 Un Air celeste, a stately Air, or Carriage.
 †L'Arc celeste (Rev. 10. 1.) cd. l'Arc en Ciel, the Rain-bow.
 Celestin, (m.) a Celestine Monk (of the Order of S. Benner.)
 †C'est un plaisant Celestin, cd. un impertinent, un niais, un ridicule, he is a great Coxcomb.
 A la Celestine, à la maniere des Celestins, after the Celestine's way.
 Celibat, (m.) Celibacy, a single (or unmarried) life.
 Vivre dans le Celibat, to live unmarried, to live a single life.
 Un homme qui vit dans le Celibat, a single man, an unmarried man, a bachelor.
 Celier. See Cellier.
 Celle, the feminine Gender of Celui. See Celui.
 Cellerier, (m.) Terme de Couvent, the Purveyor of a Monastery.
 Cellier, (m.) a little Cellar (to put wine, or oil in;) a Store-house, Luke 12. 24.
 Cellule, (f.) a Cell; a hole in the honey-comb.
 Celui he; Celle she; ceux, celles, they, or those.
 As, celui qui m'aime, he that loves me. Celle que j'aime, he whom I love. Ceux qui viendront, they that will come. Celles qui voudront, those that will.
 But, after a Verb or a Proposition, celui is made English by Him, celle by Her, ceux, celles by Those, or Them.
 This Pronoun relating to Things is made in the Singular Number by That, and in the Plural by Those, or Them.
 As, l'Air de France est meilleur que celui d'Angleterre, the Air of France is better than that of England. Je les aime mieux que ceux que vous m'avez donnez, I love them better than those you sent me.
 Sometimes Celui is used for the word personne; as, il n'y a celui qui ne sache, there's no body but knows. And Ceux, for les Habitans; as Ceux de Paris, the People of Paris.
 Again, this Pronoun is not only followed commonly by qui or que, but also with these two Particles ci and là, as celui ci this, celui là that.
 And then it is used, either at the beginning, or at the end of a Sentence.
 At the beginning. As, celui ci ne vaut rien, this is good for nothing. Celui là est bon, that is good.
 At the end of a Sentence. As, prenez celui ci, & je prendrai celui là, take this, and I shall take that.
 But now and then after celui là, comes at some distance the Pronoun Relative qui. As, celui là se trompe souvent qui croit un menteur, that Man is often deceived that believeth a Liar.
 †Cimetiere. See Cimetiere.
 Cenacle, (m.) Terme consacré pour dire le Lieu où l'on mange dans un Couvent, the eating Place in a Monastery.
 Cendre, (f.) ashes.
 Cendres chaudes, hot ashes. Reduire en cendres, to reduce into ashes. Une Maison reduite en cendres, a House burnt down, or burned to ashes. Le Jour des Cendres, Ash-wednesday.
 Seigneur, t'oserai je parler, moi qui ne suis que poussière & que cendre? Lord, shall I dare speak unto thee, who am but dust and ashes?
 Le feu couve sous la cendre, the fire is hid under the ashes.
 Reverer les Cendres des Morts, to reverence the ashes of dead Men. Outrager les Cendres des Morts, to disturb the Ashes of the Dead.
 Cendré, ash-coloured.
 Des Cheveux cendrez, ash-coloured Hair.
 Cendrée, (a fem. Subst.) the dross of lead; a kind of small shot.

Cendrier, (m.) an ashpit, that part of a Furnace or Chafing-dish where the Disks fall into.

Cene, (f.) the Lord's Supper; the Communion.

Le Sacrement de la S. Cene, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Faire la Cene, to receive the Communion, to communicate.

Cengle } Sangle.
Cengle } See Sangle.
Cengler } Sangler.

Cens, (m.) quit-rent, old rent.

†Cense. See Ferme.

Censé, counted, lookt upon.

As, cela est censé bien fait, that's lookt upon as well done. Les personnes de votre Rang sont censées de la Cour, persons of your Quality are lookt upon as Courtiers.

Censeur, (m.) Censor, a Roman Magistrate of old; a Critick.

L'Office du Censeur Romain étoit double; le premier de faire le denombrement du Peuple, & de dresser un état des Biens que chacun possédoit, the Roman Censor's Office was twofold; the first to number the People, and to value every man's Estate.

L'autre Office du Censeur étoit de censurer les fautes, & de les corriger, the other Office of the Censor was to censure ill Manners, and punish Misdemeanours.

Un Censeur judicieux, a judicious Critick.

Censive, as Cens.

Censurable, that deserves a check.

Censure, (f.) Censorship, the Dignity (or Office) of Roman Censor; a censure, or reproof; an Ecclesiastical Censure.

Censuré, censured, checked, chid, reproved.

Censurer, to censure, check, chide, or reprove.

Censurer un Livre, to censure a Book. Censurer quécun, to chide one.

Cent, a hundred.

Il y a cent ans pour le moins, 'tis at least a hundred years since. Cent hommes, a hundred men. Cent fois, a hundred times. Deux, trois, quatre, cinq cents, two, three, four, five hundred. Cent mille, a hundred thousand.

Centaine, (f.) a hundred, the number of an hundred.

Nombres, dizaines, centaines, milles, units, tenths, hundreds, thousands.

Par centaines, by hundreds together.

Centaure, (m.) Centaur, a feigned Monster said to be half a man and half a horse.

Centaure, (f.) the Wife of a Centaur.

Centauree, (f.) forte d'Herbe, Centory, an herb so called.

Centenier, (m.) Terme d'Ecriture S. Centurion, a Captain (or Commander) of an hundred Souldiers.

Et le Centenier repondant dit, Seigneur, je ne suis pas digne que tu entres sous mon Toit, (Matt. 8. 8.) the Centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my Roof.

Centième, hundredth.

Il est le centième, he is the hundredth.

Centon, (m.) a Rhapsody.

Centre, (m.) center, the middle point of a thing.

Le centre de la Terre, the center of the Earth.

Le centre de Gravité, the center of Gravity.

Le Centre de l'Amour, l'Endroit où aboutissent toutes les Lignes, the Center of Love.

Centuple, (m.) a hundred fold.

Quiconque abandonnera pour moi sa maison, ses freres, ou ses sœurs, en recevra le centuple, whoever shall forsake for my sake his house, brothers, or sisters, shall receive an hundredfold.

Centuriateur, (m.) Centuriator, one of those that compiled the Church-History.

Centurie, (f.) Century.

As, les Centuries de Nostradamus, the Centuries of Nostradamus.

Centurion, (m.) Terme de Milice Romaine, a Centurion, or Captain of an hundred men.

En chaque Compagnie il y avoit deux Centurions, mais le second n'étoit que comme le Lieutenant du premier, there was in every Company two Centurions, but the second was in a manner but a Lieutenant to the first.

Cenve. See Senve.

Cep, (m.) a Vine.

Cependant, in the mean time, in the mean while, in the interim, mean time, mean while; yet, nevertheless.

†Cependant que, whilst, when. As, cependant que les autres se divertissent, il étudie, whilst others pass away their time, he minds his study.

Les Mechans se promettent de toutes parts, cependant que la Racaille est élevée parmi les fils des hommes, (Ps. 12. 8.) the wicked Men walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted.

Now you must observe, That, according to the true modern Use of this Word, it ought not to be followed by the Particle que, but must be used absolutely. Therefore, instead of cependant que, say tandis que, or pendant que.

Cephalique, cephalick, belonging to the head; cephalick, or good for the head.

As, Veine cephalique, a cephalick Vein.

Une herbe cephalique, a cephalick herb, an herb good for the head.

Ceps, (m.) Stocks, a pair of Stocks for Malefactors.

Or thus. As, Psal. 149. 8. pour garoter leurs Rois de chaines, & les plus honorables d'entre eux de ceps de Fer, to bind their Kings with chains, and their Nobles with fetters of Iron.

Il n'y a pas encore fort long tems qu'on se servoit de Ceps dans la Conciergerie de Paris, mais aujourd'hui l'Usage en est aboli.

Cerat, (m.) from Cire, cerot, a Plaster made of Wax, Gums, and certain Oyles.

Cerceau, (m.) a hoop; a kind of net for birds.

†Cercher. See Chercher.

Cercle, (m.) a Circle.

Les Cercles d'une Sphere, the Circles of a Sphere.

Le Cercle de la Reine, a Meeting of Dutchesses and other Ladies of the Court about the Queen.

L'Allemagne est divisée en dix Cercles, Germany is divided into ten Circles.

Cercueil, (m.) a coffin.

Cerdeau. See Serdeau.

Ceremonial, (m.) Livre où sont les Ceremonies qui se pratiquent dans l'Eglise, a Ritual, a Book of Ceremonies.

Ceremonie, (f.) ceremony, a piece of formality.

Les Princes, les Grands, & les Magistrats observent de certaines Ceremonies, chacun selon son Rang, Princes, great Men, and Magistrates observe certain Ceremonies, every one according to his Place. Un Maître de Ceremonies, a Master of Ceremonies.

L'Eglise a aussi ses Ceremonies, the Church likewise hath her Ceremonies. Savoir les Ceremonies de l'Eglise, to be acquainted with the Ceremonies of the Church.

Parmi les Particuliers on appelle aussi Ceremonies les façons respectueuses & civiles qui se font entr'eux, amongst private men we also call Ceremonies those civil and respectful ways which are in use amongst them.

Ceremoniel, ceremonial.

As, la Loi ceremonielle, the ceremonial Law.

Ceremonieux, ceremonious, full of ceremonies.

Cerf, (m.) a Stag, a Hart.

Le Cerf vit fort long tems, a Stag lives a long time. Courre un Cerf, to hunt a Stag.

Cerf de dix cors, a Stag of seven years. Cerf de dix cors jeunement, a Stag but six years old.

Corne de Cerf, Harts-horn. Langue de Cerf, Harts-tongue (an herb.)

Cerf-volant, the great horn-beetle, or bull fly; a kite, or paper-kite.

Cerfeuil, (m.) Chervil, a well known herb.

Cerisaie, (f.) a Plot (an Orchard) of Cherry-trees.

Cerise, (f.) a cherry.

Les cerises lâchent le ventre, & les aigres sont les meilleures, cherries are loosening, and the sour ones are best.

Cerifier, (m.) a cherry-tree.

Cerifier sauvage, a wild cherry-tree.

Cerne, (m.) a circle under the eye.

Faire un cerne autour de quelque chose, to draw a circle about a thing.

Cerné, the kernel whereof is took out; opened round about the root.

Cerneau, (m.) kernel, the kernel of a Nut.

Cerner. As, cerner une noix, to take out the kernel of a nut.

Cerner un Arbre par le pié, to open a Tree round about the root.

Certain, certain, sure, or true; faithful, 1 Tim. 1. 15; certain, sure, or confident; certain, fixed; certain, or some.

As, cela n'est pas bien certain, that is not certain. La Victoire nous est certaine, we are sure of the Victory. Il n'y a rien de plus certain, there is nothing more true, or more sure.

Cette Parole est certaine, & digne d'être entièrement receüe, this is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation.

Je suis certain que cela est ainsi, I am certain (I am sure, or confident) 'tis so.

A certain tems, à certains Jours, à certaines heures, at a certain time.

Un certain homme, a man, a certain man.

Une certaine femme, a woman, a certain woman. Il y a de certaines gens qui sont tout à fait incommodes, there are some folks mighty troublesome.

†Un Certain, (Subst.) a certain Man, as Luke 9. 57.

Certainement, certainly, infallibly, without fail.

La chose arrivera certainement, the thing will certainly fall out.

Certes, truly, indeed.

Note that this Word is not to be used, except in grave and serious Discourses, and then not frequently neither.

Certificat, (m.) a Certificate.

Certifié, certified, assured.

Certifier, to certify, to assure.

Certitude, (f.) certainty, assurance.

Cervaison, (f.) Terme de Chasse. As, un Cerf qui est en cervaison, a fat Stag.

Cerveau, (m.) the brain.

Le cerveau est le principe de la faculté animale, the brain is the principle of the animal faculty.

Avoir le cerveau perclus, to be crack-brained, to have a worm in his head.

Cervelat, (m.) a large kind of Sausage well seasoned, and eaten cold.

Cervelet, (m.) from Cerveau, the hinder part of the brain.

Cervelle, (f.) as Cerveau.

Je lui ferai sauter la cervelle, cd. je lui casserai la tête, I shall break his pate.

Un homme qui a peu de cervelle, cd. peu de sens, a man that has but little brains, a half-witted man.

Tenir quécun en cervelle, to amuse one.

Cervoise, (f.) strong drink, supposed to be the same as beer.

Je n'ai beu ni Vin, ni Cervoise, (1 Sam. 1. 15.) I drunk neither Wine, nor strong Drink.

Ceruse, (f.) blanc de plomb, white (where-with Women paint.)

Ces, the Plural Number of Ce and Cet. See Ce.

Cessation, (f.) cessation, intermission.

As, cessation d'Armes, a cessation of Arms.

Cessation du poux, an intermission of the pulse.

Cesse, ceasing, intermission.

As, sans cesse, without ceasing, without intermission, incessantly.

Or thus. As, Psal. 22. 2. † Je n'ai point de cesse, I am not silent.

Cesser, to cease, forbear, discontinue, leave off, or give over.

Il ne cesse jamais de se plaindre, he never ceases to complain. Cessez de vous étonner, cease (or leave off) your astonishment. Cesser de travailler, to discontinue his work, to leave it off, or to give it over.

Or thus. Quand cessera la Guerre? when will there be an end of this War? Ma douleur ne cessera-t-elle jamais? will there be no end of my pain?

Faire cesser le travail, to put a stop to the work.

Cessez vos plaintes, put a stop to (forbear) your complaints.

Cession.

Cession, (f.) from Ceder, a yielding up, or resignation.

Faire cession de son Droit, to yield up his Right. Faire cession de son Bien, to resign his Estate.

Cessionnaire, (m.) cessionary, one that has yielded up (or resigned) his Estate; the Party to whom something has been yielded up.

Un Cessionnaire réhabilité, a Cessionary reinstated.

Cette, (m.) Venus her Girdle.

Cet } See { Ce.
†Cettui } Celui.

CH.

The Pronunciation of ch in French is like that of sh in English; as, chaffe, cheval, chien, chose, chute.

Except a few Words, where it is sounded like a k in both Languages; such as Achab, Achate, Cham, Chaos, Cœur, chelidoine, Choriste, chorographie, chronique, chronologie, and its Derivatives, echo, chiromancie, Christ, and its Derivatives. To which add Alchymie, Alchymiste, &c.

Chableur, (m.) a Water-Officer in Paris.

Chabot, (m.) forte de Poisson d'Eau douce, Gull, a fresh-water Fish.

Chacelas, (m.) forte de Raisin, an excellent kind of white Grape.

Chacun, every one, every man, every body; each.

As, chacun fait ses affaires, every one knows his own concerns. Chacun le dit, every body says so.

Il donna à chacune d'elles une paire de Gans, he gave each of them a pair of Gloves.

In short, this is a Pronoun made of chaque and un, used without a Substantive, and without a Plural Number.

Chagrin, (m.) trouble, vexation, grief, or sorrow; melancholy, sadness.

On a beau chasser le chagrin, il revient toujours, drive away sorrow never so much, it will come again. Cela me donne bien du chagrin, that's a great trouble (or a great vexation) to me. Un chagrin cuisant, a great grief.

Quel chagrin l'a saisi? What fit of melancholy has seized upon his spirits?

Or thus. Un homme qui se fait des chagrins de rien, a fretful man, a man apt to fret about the least thing in the world. J'en suis dans le dernier chagrin, I am extremely concerned (or troubled) about it.

Chagrin signifies also the skin of a certain Fish much used for certain cases, for covers of books, table-books, &c. in which sense it is called shagreen in English. There is also a light stuff so called.

Chagrin, (Adj.) morose, sour, fretful; melancholy, sad.

Un esprit chagrin, a morose (sour, or fretful) man. La vieillesse le rend chagrin, old age makes him fretful. Comme l'âge n'agit pas toute forte de Vin, ainsi le grand nombre d'années ne rend pas tous les hommes chagrins, as all Wines don't grow sour for being old, so a great age does not make all men morose.

Je suis devenu tout chagrin, rien ne me plaît, I am grown most melancholy, nothing at all pleases me.

Chagrinant, vexatious, troublesome.

Il n'est rien de plus chagrinant qu'une Visite incommode à un Homme de Cabinet, there's nothing more vexatious to a studious Man than a troublesome Visit.

Chagriner, to vex, trouble, or grieve.

Se chagriner, to fret, to vex (trouble, or grieve) himself.

Chahuant, or Chat-huant, (m.) an Owl, the great Owl. 'Tis the same as Hibou, and it is called Chahuant, because it takes Mice, like a Cat.

Chaîne, (f.) a chain.

Chaîne d'or, d'argent, ou de fer, a gold, silver, or iron chain. Mettre quécun à la chaîne, to bind one in chains.

Une longue chaîne de Montagnes, a long chain (a long ridge) of Hills.

Rompre la chaîne, recouvrer sa liberté, to break his chains asunder, to recover his liberty.

Or thus. As, tendre les Chaînes des Rues, to chain the Streets.

Etre en la Chaîne, (Eph. 6. 20.) to be in bonds.

Chaîne de Tisserand, a Weaver's warp.

Chainetier, (m.) a Chain-maker.

Chainette, (f.) a chain, or watch-chain.

Chainon, (m.) a link of a chain.

Chair, (f.) flesh.

Une chair molle, a soft flesh. Une chair dure, a tough flesh. Chair vive, raw flesh.

Chair morte, dead flesh.

Chair de mouton, de beef, ou d'agneau, mutton, beef, or lamb.

Chair de poisson, the fleshy part of fishes.

Chair de fruits, the pulp of Fruits.

L'Experience nous apprend tous les Jours, que la Chair d'une Pomme cuite mise chaudement sur des Yeux rouges & enflammez est presque l'unique Remède à ce Mal, Experience shows us daily, that the pulp of a roasted Apple, put hot on Bloud-shed and inflamed Eyes, is almost the only Remedy for this Evil.

Chair en fait de Peinture, the naked part of a Picture.

La Chair, ou la partie sensuelle de l'Homme, the Flesh, the carnal part of Man.

As, les Plaisirs de la Chair, the Pleasures of the Flesh, carnal Pleasures. Un Cœur de chair, a Heart of flesh, a carnal Heart.

L'Esprit est prompt, mais la Chair est foible, the Spirit is quick, but the Flesh is weak. La Chair fait la guerre à l'Esprit, the Flesh wars against the Spirit.

Toute Chair verra le Salut de Dieu, (Luke 3. 6.) all Flesh shall see the Salvation of God.

N'être ni Chair ni Poisson (en Termes burlesques) to be betwixt a Hawk and a Buzzard.

Chaircutier. See Charcutier.

Chaire, (f.) a Pulpit.

Monter en chaire, to go up into the pulpit. Sortir de chaire, to come out of the pulpit.

Or thus. As, disputer une Chaire de Droit, to dispute for a Professorship in Law.

Chaise, (f.) a chair.

Chaise à dos, a chair with a back. Chaise à bras, a chair with elbows, a great chair.

Chaise roulante, a rolling Chair.

Chaise pour se faire porter, a Chair, a Sedan. Porteur de chaise, a Chair-man.

Or thus. As, chaise percée, a close-stool.

Chaland, (m.) Customer, one that buys constantly in the same shop.

Se faire des Chaland, to get (to draw in) Customers. Perdre les Chaland, to lose his Customers. Ses Chaland commencent à le quitter, his Customers begin to leave him.

Chalande, (f.) a She-customer.

Chalandise, (f.) custom.

Avoir de la chalandise, to have good custom.

Promettre sa chalandise à quécun, to promise his custom to one.

Chalcédoine. See Calcedoine.

†Chalemie, (f.) a pipe of reed, or straw.

Chaleur, (f.) heat.

As, la chaleur naturelle, the natural heat.

La chaleur du feu, the heat of fire.

La chaleur du tems, the heat of the weather.

Les grandes chaleurs de l'été, the greatest heat of Summer. Au plus fort de la chaleur, in the greatest heat, in the greatest degree of heat.

Faire les choses avec trop de chaleur, to do things with too much heat, to be too violent. Dans la chaleur de la Victoire, in the heat of the Victory.

Or thus. As, il fait une grande chaleur, it is very hot weather.

Chaleur de fièvre, the hot fit of an Ague.

Une Chienne qui est en chaleur, a proud Bitch.

Une Cavale qui entre en chaleur, a Mare ready to take Horse.

Quand les brebis hâtives entroient en chaleur, (Gen. 30. 41.) whensoever the stronger Cattle did conceive.

Temoigner de la chaleur pour les Interets de quécun, to be highly concerned for one.

†Chalit, (m.) a bedstead. Say bois de Lit.

Chaloupe, (f.) a Shallop, or great Boat.

Chalumeau, (m.) a pipe of straw, or reed.

Chamade, (f.) Chamade, a bearing of the Drum in order to a Parley.

Batre la chamade, to beat the Chamade, to beat for a Parley.

se Chamailler, to fight hand to hand with weapons.

Chamaré, laced all over.

Chamarer, to lace all over.

Chamarure, (f.) a thick lacing.

Chambelan, or Chambellan, (m.) Chamberlain.

Le grand Chambelan du Roi, the Lord High-Chamberlain.

Chambre, (f.) a Chamber, or Room; a Court of Justice, or the Room wherein it is kept.

Chambre où l'on couche, a bed-chamber.

Chambre garnie, a Room furnished.

La Chambre du nouveau Marié, (Luke 5. 34.) the Bride-Chamber.

But Luke 12. 3. for the Word Chambre in French, you will find that of Clôset, in the English Translation.

Un Pot de Chambre, a Chamber-pot.

Robe de chambre, a night (a morning) Gown.

Un Valet de Chambre, a Gentleman's waiting-man, one that waits upon him in his Chamber.

Vivre en chambre, to live privately in a lodging. Travailler en chambre, & non en boutique, to work in a chamber, and not in a shop.

La Chambre du Conseil, the Council Chamber.

Les deux Chambres du Parlement d'Angleterre, the two Houses of Parliament.

Chambre de Mine, le Lieu où l'on met la poudre qui fait jouer la Mine, that part of a Mine where they put the barrels of powder.

Chambree, (f.) the Company that lies in one Chamber; the Money that Stage-players got by acting of a Play.

Chambrier, (Terme de Guerre) to lie together.

†Chambrette, (f.) a Chamber, a little Chamber.

†Chambrière, (f.) a Maid-servant.

Chambrière, en Termes de Manege, est une longue bande de cuir, attachée au bout d'une Cane ou d'un bâton, pour animer un Cheval, & le chatier, s'il refuse d'obeir au Cavalier.

†Chambrillon, (f.) a small kind of Maid-servant.

Chameau, (m.) a Camel.

Chamois, (m.) a shamoy, a kind of wild Goat; shamoy, the skin thereof.

Des Gans de chamois, shamoy-gloves. Des Caleçons de chamois, shamoy-drawers.

Champ, (m.) a Field, a Corn-field.

Un Champ maigre, ou stérile, a lean and barren Field. Champ épuisé, qui ne peut plus porter, a Field out of heart, that can bear no more. Un Champ inculte, abandonné, a Field untilled, or unmanured.

Champ bien tenu, bien cultivé, a Field well kept. Champ fertile, ou de grand rapport, a Field that brings forth much corn.

Les Champs Elysiens, or (according to some)

Elysiens, the Elysian Fields. Champ de bataille, the Field where two Champions or Armies have fought, the Place of Battle.

Champ de l'Ecu, the field of a Coat of Arms.

Le Ciel ouvrit un plus noble champ à sa Valeur, the Heavens did open a nobler field to his Valour.

Les Champs, ou la Campagne, the Country.

As, aller aux Champs, to go into the Country.

Les Champs (ou les Possessions) d'un Homme, a Man's Ground.

Or thus. As, †gagner les champs, to run away. Donner la clé des champs à quécun, to give one his liberty.

A travers champs, at random, astray, P. 119. 67.

Sur le champ, extempore, in promptu, out of hand, immediately.

†A tout bout de champ, ever, ever and anon.

- Champêtre, of (or belonging to) the Country; Country-like.
 Vie champêtre, a Country life. Homme champêtre, one that lives a Country life.
 Une Maison champêtre, a Country-house.
 Un Lieu champêtre, a Country-like Place.
 Champignon, (m.) mushroom.
 Champion, (m.) Champion.
 Chance, (f.) hazard, (a Game at dice;) chance, luck, fortune.
 Jouer à la chance, to play at hazard.
 † Nous les vaincrons, à moins que la chance ne tourne, we shall beat them, or else it will be a great chance.
 Chancelant, reeling; staggering; unsteady, wavering.
 Chanceler, to reel, or stagger; to waver; to be unsteady, or wavering.
 Il chancelle, il va tomber, he reels, he is a going to fall. Il est si plein de vin qu'il chancelle des qu'il veut faire un pas, he is so full of wine, that he reels at every step.
 Chanceler dans quelque Opinion, to waver in an Opinion.
 Chancelerie, (f.) Chancery.
 Chancelier, (m.) Chancellor.
 Le grand Chancelier, the Lord Chancellor.
 Chancelier de l'Université, the Chancellor of the University.
 Le Chancelier de l'Académie Française, Celui qui fait la fonction de Directeur quand le Directeur n'y est pas, the Chancellor of the French Academy.
 Chancelière, (f.) femme de Chancelier, the Chancellor's Lady.
 † Chanceux, (from Chance) that hath good luck.
 Me voilà bien chanceux, what a good luck I have?
 Chanci, mouldy.
 Pain chanci, mouldy bread.
 se Chancier, to grow mouldy.
 Ce Pain commence à se chancier, this Loaf begins to grow mouldy.
 Chancre, (m.) a canker.
 Chandele. See Chandelle.
 Chandeleur, (f.) Candlemas.
 La fête (ou le jour) de la Chandeleur, Candlemas-day.
 Chandelier, (m.) Candlestick; a Chandler.
 Chandelier d'argent, de leton, ou de fer blanc, a silver, brass, or tin Candlestick.
 Faire faire le Chandelier à un Arbre, or faire le Chandelier, c'est couper les petites branches des côtes d'un Arbre, & ne laisser que le Tronc degarni, to lop the little branches about a Tree, and leave the Trunk almost bare.
 On appelle aussi Chandelier, en Termes de Guerre, un Entassement de Fascines, ou de Saucissons rangés sur de grosses pièces de bois pour servir de Parapet, & couvrir les Travailleurs.
 Chandelière, (f.) a Chandler's Wife, or Widow.
 Chandelle, (f.) a candle, a light.
 Chandelle de six à la livre, a candle of six in the pound.
 Chandelle de veille, a watch-light. Chandelle de glace, an icicle.
 Brûler la chandelle par les deux bouts, to burn the candle at both ends, to squander all away. Le Jeu ne vaut pas la chandelle, it is not worth one's while.
 Chanfrein, or Chanfrin, (m.) the forehead of a Horse; a piece of black stuff on the forehead of a mourning horse; a set of feathers for a horse upon a solemn Day.
 Chanfrin blanc, ou belle face, a white spot upon a Horse's forehead.
 Change, (m.) change, or alteration; change, the Banker's gain (or profit) for his money; a Bank of Exchange, a Place where Money is exchanged, and Commodities bartered for; a wrong Deer or Hare in hunting.
 Une Lettre de change, a Bill of exchange.
 J'ai reçu une Lettre de change de deux cents ecus à prendre dans cette Ville, I received a Bill of exchange of two hundred crowns to be paid in this Town.
 Donner le change, to shift himself off, and bring another into play; to cheat (or cozen) one. Prendre le change, bounds to riot, or to run riot, to fly out at a wrong Deer, and leave that which was first rowled. Ils vous ont fait prendre le change, they cheated (or deluded) you.
 Vous ne perdrez rien au change, you shall lose nothing by the bargain.
 Changé, changed, altered, transformed, turned, converted.
 Il est tout changé, il est tout autre qu'il n'étoit, he is much altered, or transformed, he is quite another man.
 Ma Joie s'est changée en Tristesse, my Joy is turned into Grief.
 Changeant, fickle, uncertain, changeable.
 As, un esprit changeant, a fickle (or uncertain) man, a meer weather-cock.
 Une couleur changeante, a changeable colour.
 Changement, (m.) change, alteration, vicissitude, turning, Jam. 1. 17.
 Aimer le changement, to love change. Aspirer au changement, to long for a change.
 La Vertu n'est point sujette au changement, Virtue is not subject to change. Changement de Temps, change of Weather.
 Voici bien du changement, here's a great alteration. L'Ambition cause de grands changements dans un Etat, Ambition causes great alterations in a State.
 Les Etats, aussi bien que les Saisons, ont leurs changements, States, as well as Seasons, have their vicissitudes.
 Changer, to change, or make an exchange of; to change, or give silver for; to change, or alter; to turn, or transform.
 Changer de l'étain pour du plomb, to change tin for lead. Tel change qui ne gagne pas, many change for the worse.
 Changer une pièce d'or, to change a piece of gold, to give change for it. Changez moi, je vous prie, ce Louis d'or, pray, change me this Lewis.
 Changer l'état d'une chose, y apporter de la nouveauté, to change the state of a thing, to alter it, to innovate it. Changer la manière de vivre, to change his manner of living. Changer la face de la Chrétienté, to change the face of Christendom.
 Changer un homme en bête, to turn (to transform) a man into a beast. Changer la Grace de Dieu en dissolution, to turn God's Grace into Lasciviousness.
 But this Verb is also used in a Neutral sense. As, changer d'habit, to change his habit, to put on another suit. La Mode des habits change tous les jours, the Fashions change every day. Changer de quartier, to change (or shift) his Quarters, to remove.
 Changer de discours, to change his discourse. Changer de place, to change his place, to take another place. Changer de couleur, to change his colour. Changer de volonté, d'avis, de religion, to change his mind, opinion, religion.
 Changer de mœurs, to mend his manners. Changer de note, to turn over a new leaf. Il a bien changé, he is much altered, he is quite another man.
 Changer de visage & de discours selon le sentiment & la volonté d'autrui, to frame both his countenance and discourse according to another man's opinion and pleasure.
 Un homme résolu à ne point changer, a man resolved never to change.
 † Changer de courage, (Ps. 135. 14.) to repent himself.
 Changer un Cheval, ou changer de main, to turn a Horse from the right hand to the left, or from the left hand to the right.
 Se changer, to turn, to be turned.
 Souvent les Amitiez se changent en grandes Inimitiez, Friendship is often turned into great Enmity.
 Changeur, (m.) a Banker, a Changer of Money, John 2. 14.
 Riche comme un Changeur, as rich as a Banker.
 Chanoine, (m.) a Canon.
 Chanoine regulier, a regular Canon. Chanoine seculier, a secular Canon.
 Chanoinesse, (f.) Canoness, a Virgin that lives like a Nun, but without making a Vow, or renouncing to her Estate.
 Chanoinie, (f.) Canonship, a Canon's place.
 Chançon, (f.) a Song.
 Chançon lugubre, a mournful Song. Chançon gaillarde, a merry Song. Chançon à boire, a drinking Song. Chanter une jolie chançon, to sing a pretty Song.
 Or thus. As, direz vous toujours la même chançon? will you still harp upon the same string? will you say still the same thing over and over?
 † Chançon tout cela, tout ce que vous medites sont des chançons, you tell me tales of a tub.
 † Chançonnette, (f.) a little Song.
 Chant, (m.) singing; a tune.
 As, le chant des Pseaumes, the singing of Psalms.
 Or thus. Le chant du Rossignol est agreable, the Nightingale sings curiously.
 † Un chant melancolique, pour dire un air melancolique, a melancholy tune.
 Chant signifie aussi a Book (or Part) of an heroic Poem.
 Chant Royal, a kind of French Poem.
 Chanté, sung.
 C'est bien chanté, that's well sung; well said (in an Ironical sense.)
 Chanteau, (m.) a great lump of consecrated bread; the quarter-piece of a garment.
 Chanter, to sing.
 As, le Rossignol chante mieux que tout les autres Oiseaux, the Nightingale sings better than any other Bird. Les François chantent mieux que les Italiens, the French sing better than the Italians.
 On chante hardiment quand on n'a rien à perdre, a man sings boldly that hath nothing to lose. To which answers the Latin Verse, Cantabit vacuus coram latrone Viator; and the English Proverbial saying, Whofings so merry a note, as he that cannot change a groat?
 Chanter une chançon, en dire l'air, to sing a Song. Chanter le Te Deum, to sing Te Deum.
 Chanter, (celebrer, louer) les belles Actions d'un grand Homme, to sing (or praise) the noble Acts of a great Man. Alexandre n'a point de Poète, qui puisse assez dignement chanter ses Victoires, there's no Poet that can extol enough the Victories of Alexander. Pour chanter un Auguste, il faut être un Virgile, one must be a Virgil to sing an Augustus.
 Or thus. Lors qu'une fois on est marié, il faut chanter, c'est il faut changer de train de vie, when a man is once married, he must turn over a new leaf.
 † Chanter pouilles à quécun, lui dire des injures, to rail at one, to revile (or vilifie) him.
 Chanterelle, (f.) the treble string of a Violin, the smallest string of any musical Instrument.
 Or thus. As, Eccl. 12. 6. Les Chanterelles seront abaissées, the Daughters of Musick shall be brought low.
 Chanterie, (f.) a singing.
 J'ois une Voix de chanterie, (Ex. 32. 18.) I hear the Noise of them that sing.
 Chanteur, (m.) a Singer, a singing-man.
 Un bon Chanteur, a good Singer.
 Chanteuse, (f.) a Singer, a singing-woman.
 Une belle chanteuse, a fair singer.
 Chantier, (m.) a Woodmonger's (or Timber-Merchant's) Yard; a Carpenter's Yard; a Dock to build Ships in; a Gauntrey (or stalling) for Hogsheads, &c. to stand on.
 Chantre, (m.) a Chanter, a Singer (in a Quire.)
 Chanvre, (m.) hemp.
 Tiller le chanvre, to shale hemp.
 Chaos, (m.) chaos, confusion.
 Chape, (f.) Cope, a Church-man's Cope; the helm (or head) of a Limbeck.
 Chercher chape chute, Phrase Proverbiale qui signifie se gouverner de telle sorte qu'on s'attire quelque chose de fâcheux, to run himself into danger.
 † Disputer la Chape de l'Eveque, c'est contester sur un Chose où l'on n'a point d'intéret, to contend for Things wherein we are not concerned.
 Chapeau, (m.) a Hat.
 La forme & le bord d'un Chapeau, the crown and the brim of a Hat.

Chapeau à grand bord, a broad-brimmed Hat. Chapeau à petit bord, a narrow-brimmed Hat.

Chapeau de paille, a straw Hat. Chapeau de fatigue, a Hat fit for service.

Chapeau à l'épreuve du moutquet, a kind of Iron-cap which the Soldiers put within-side of the crown of their Hat. Chapeau de Cardinal, a Cardinal's Hat, or Cap.

Chapeau (ou couronne) de fleurs, a garland of flowers.

Chapelain, (m.) a Chaplain.

Chapelain du Roi, one of the King's Chaplains. Chapelain d'un Prince, a Prince's Chaplain.

Chapelé, chipped.

Chapeler, to chip.

As, chapeler du pain, ôter la croûte du pain avec un couteau, to chip bread.

Couteau à chapeler, a chipping Knife.

Chapelet, (m.) beads, a pair of beads; a kind of Ornament, in Architecture.

Dire son chapelet, to say prayers by the beads.

On appelle aussi Chapelet (en Termes de Manege) une couple d'Étrivieres, qui sont garnies chacune d'un étrier, & qui se joignent en haut par une espèce de boucle de cuir (appelée la tête du Chapelet) s'attachent par cette boucle au pommeau de la Selle, après avoir été ajustées au point du Cavalier. Ce qui se fait, tant pour éviter l'embaras de les allonger ou accourcir toutes les fois qu'un Cavalier monte sur différents Chevaux, qu'à cause que dans les Academies il n'y a point d'Étriers attachez aux Selles.

Chapelier, a Hatter.

Chapelle, (f.) Chappel.

La Chapelle du Roi, the King's Chappel.

Chapelure, (f.) from Chapeler, chippings.

La chapelure du pain sert à épaissir de certaines Sauces, the chippings of bread serve to thicken certain Sauces.

Chaperon, (m.) a hood (such as they wear in the Universities) the upper part of a Hawk's head, or the hood that covers it; a piece of Embroidery on the back-side of a Church-man's Cope; the top of a Wall made sloping; the top of a Gibbet; a bolster-cap, that which covers the handle of a pistol on horse-back.

Châprier, (m.) from Chape, a Church-man with a Cope on.

Chapiteau, (m.) the top (head, or chapter) of a Pillar.

Chapitre, (m.) chapter, part of a Book; a subject, or matter; a Chapter, or Assembly of the Dean, Prebends, Canons, and other Officers of a Cathedral Church.

Lire un Chapitre de la Bible, to read a Chapter in the Bible.

Passons sur ce Chapitre, let us wave that Subject.

Aller au Chapitre, to go to the Chapter.

Avoir voix en Chapitre, to have a voice in the Chapter; to bear great sway in an Assembly.

†Chapitré, checked, rebuked, reprov'd.

†Chapitrer, to check, to rebuke, or reprove.

Chaplé } See { Chapelé.

Chapler } Chapelier.

Chapure } Chapelure.

Chapon, (m.) capon.

Un bon chapon gras, a good fat capon.

Chaponné, cut, made a capon.

Chaponner, to cut, or make a capon.

Chaponniere, (f.) a Capon-disk.

Chaque, every.

As, il pèse chaque mot, he weighs every word. Que chaque chose soit mise en sa place, let every thing be laid in its proper place. La Nature a donné à chaque Animal des armes pour se défendre, Nature has given every Animal arms for his own defence.

Note that this Pronoun is not to be used but with a Substantive, nor in the Plural Number, except with Substantives that have no singular Number. As, à chaque matines, at every matins, or morning prayers.

Char, (m.) Chariot.

As, un Char de Triomphe, a Triumphal Chariot.

Le Char du Soleil, the Chariot of the Sun.

Là vous verrez la Lune sous la figure de Diane représentée sur son Char, accompagnée des Heures de la Nuit, ses Filles, avec des Ailes de Papillon, there you will see the Moon under the figure of Diana, represented on her Chariot, accompanied with the Hours of the Night, her Daughters, having Wings like Butterflies.

Charbon, (m.) coal; a carbuncle, or plague-sore.

Charbon de terre, Sea-coal, pit-coal. Charbon de bois, charcoal. Charbon de menu bois, small coal.

Charbon de feu, a fire-brand. Charbon qui fume, a smoking brand.

Charbonné, blackened with a coal; lampooned.

Charbonnée, (a fem. Subst.) a piece of lean pork or beef fit to broil.

Charbonner, to blacken with a coal; to lampoon.

Charbonnier, (m.) a Coal-man.

Charbonniere, (f.) a Coal-woman, a Coal-man's Wife, or Widow; the Place where char-coals are made; a Coal-house.

Charcutier, (m.) from Chair and Cuire, a kind of Cook that sells all manner of hogs-flesh, with puddings, sausages, andouilles, cervelats, Neats and Hogs Tongues.

Charcutiere, (f.) the Wife of a Charcutier, or a Woman that drives the Trade of a Charcutier.

Chardon, (m.) thistle.

Chardon benit, blessed (or holy) thistle, carduus benedictus. Chardon à carder, a Fuller's thistle.

Chardoné, napped.

Chardonner, tirer le poil du drap avec des chardons, to nap cloth.

Chardonneret, (m.) a Gold-finch.

Chardonniere, (f.) a Plot of thistles.

Charetée, (f.) from Chariot, a Cart-load.

As, une charetée de bois, ou d'autre chose, a cart-load of wood, or the like.

Charetier, (m.) a Carr-man, a Carter.

Il jure comme un Charetier, he swears like a Tinker. Il n'est si bon Charetier qui ne verse, the best Cart may overthrow.

Charette, (f.) from Chariot, a Cart, with two wheels only.

†Un mangeur de Charettes ferrées, a dreadful man, a terrible swaggoner.

Charge, (f.) a load, or burden; a charge, for a gun; a charge, upon an Enemy; charge, or accusation; a Charge, Place, or Office; charge, order, or command; burden, or inconvenience; a kind of poultice, for a horse.

Une charge de fagots, a load of fagots.

Une grande charge, a great load, a great burden.

Venir à la charge, to come to charge the Enemy. Commencer la charge, to begin the charge. Sonner la charge, to sound the charge. Batre la charge, to beat the charge. Revenir à la charge, to return to the charge. S'acquitter dignement de sa Charge, to acquit himself very well of his Charge. Disposer des Charges de la Cour, to dispose of the Court Offices. Remplir les principales Charges de l'Etat, to have the chief Places in the Kingdom. Faire les fonctions de sa Charge, to do the duties of his Place.

Donner charge à quécun d'une chose, to give a thing in charge to one, to charge him with it, to commit it to his care.

Etre à charge à quécun, to be a burden (to be burdensome) to one. Sa Vie lui étoit à charge, his Life was a burden to him.

Charge de Ville, a man's Duty as he is a Citizen.

À la charge que, upon condition that, provided that, provided.

Je vous donne mon cœur, à la charge que vous me donnerez le votre, I give you my heart, provided you give me yours.

Charge d'Arbre, ou Charge à Fruit, (en Termes de Jardinier) the flower (or fruit) buds of a Tree.

Charge, loaded, laden, charged.

Il est extrêmement chargé, 'tis exceedingly loaded. Chargé de Depouilles, laden with spoils.

Je suis chargé de le faire, I am charged to do it.

Or thus. As, un Cheval chargé de tête, ou d'encolure, a heavy-headed Horse.

Chargé d'années, full of years. Chargé de lie, full of lees.

Table chargée, a Table crowded with Guests.

Couleur chargée, a very deep colour.

Branche chargée d'un bouton à fleur, a branch having on it a flower-bud.

Nous avons été chargés à outrance, (2 Cor. 1. 8.) we never pressed out of measure.

†Chargeant, heavy, weighty, as Prov. 27. 3.

Chargeoir, (m.) a Charger (for great Guns.)

Charger, to load, lade, or burden; to take up; to charge, or give a charge of; to charge, or accuse; to charge, or set upon; to charge, with powder, &c; to fill.

As, charger un Navire, to load a Ship. Charger des Meubles sur un Chariot, to load a Cart with Goods.

Charge ton petit Lit, & t'en va en ta Maison, (Luke 5. 24.) take up thy Couch, and go into thine House.

Charger quécun d'une Affaire, to charge one with a business, to give him a charge of it.

Il m'a chargé de vous aller voir de sa part, he charged me to wait on you from him.

Charger quécun de plusieurs Crimes, to charge one with several Crimes. Se justifier d'une faute, & en charger un autre, to clear himself of a fault, and charge another therewith.

Charger l'Enemi, to charge (or fall upon) the Enemy.

Charger un fusil, to charge a gun. Le charger à balle, to charge it with a bullet.

Charger un Vaisseau de vinaigre, to fill a Barrel with vinegar.

Or thus. As, charger quèque chose sur ses épaules, to take a thing and lay it upon his shoulders.

Charger toutes les Voiles, to clap on all the Sails.

Charger de beaux fruits, to bear fine fruit.

Charger quécun à grands coups d'épée, to lay his Sword upon one with heavy strokes.

†Afin de ne charger aucun de vous, (1 Theff. 2. 9.) because we would not be chargeable unto any of you.

Se charger, to load himself. Il n'a que faire d'Aide, il se charge bien lui même, he needs no Help, he can load himself.

Se charger d'une Affaire, to undertake a Thing, to take it upon himself. Je me charge de faire cela, I take upon me to do it.

Se charger de la faute d'un autre, to take upon himself another man's fault.

Se charger de viande l'estomac, to surcharge his stomach with meat.

†Chariage, as Charroi.

Charié, carry'd, or conveyed (in a Cart.)

Chariet, to carry, or convey (in a Cart.)

As, charier du Vin, to carry Wine in a Cart.

La Riviere charie, ed. entraîne des Glaçons, the River carries flakes of Ice along with it. Urine qui charie une quantité de matieres épaisses & grossieres, Urine that carries a deal of thick matter with it.

Chariet, (Subst.) a bucking cloth.

Chariot, (m.) a Cart (with four wheels.)

Charitable, charitable, bountiful, or merciful.

Etre charitable envers son Prochain, to be charitable to his Neighbour.

Charitablement, charitably, lovingly.

Charité, (f.) charity, love; charity, or alms.

La Charité est le Lien de Perfection, (Col. 3. 14.) Charity is the Bond of Perfection.

La Charité n'est point envieuse, elle n'use point d'insolence, elle ne s'enfle point, (1 Cor. 13. 4.) Charity envieth not, vaunts not it self, and is not puffed up.

La Charité couvrira une multitude de Peches, (1 Pet. 4. 8.) Charity shall cover a multitude of Sins.

La Charité consiste à aimer Dieu de tout son cœur, & son Prochain comme soi même, Charity consists in loving God with all his heart, and his Neighbour as his own self.

Faire la Charité, to bestow a Charity. And in this sense Charité is used in the Plural Number.

Charité bien ordonnée commence par soi même, ed. qu'on doit songer à ses Interets preferablement à ceux d'autrui, Charity begins at home.

Charité signifie aussi le Fonds qui est destiné pour les pauvres Malades de chaque Paroisse de Paris, & qui vient des Quêtes qu'on fait pour eux en chaque Eglise de Paroisse, & des Legs pieux que leur font quèques Gens de bien lors qu'ils sont au Lit de la Mort.

Ce Mot signifie la Subsistance qu'on distribue à ces œuvres Malades, les Personnes qui font la Charité, & les pauvres Malades à qui elle se fait.

On appelle Dames de la Charité, the charitable Ladies, cette Assemblée de Dames de votes de chaque Paroisse de Paris qui est établie sous l'Autorité de Monsieur l'Archevêque pour avoir soin des pauvres Malades de la Paroisse, pour leur porter (ou leur faire porter) de la Nourriture & des Remèdes, pour leur faire en cas de nécessité administrer les Sacrements, & les faire enterrer s'ils meurent.

Les Sœurs de la Charité, the charitable Sisters, sont de bonnes Filles, habillées d'une grosse Etoffe grise, qui ont soin de préparer les Remèdes, & de les porter aux Malades.

La Charité des Pauvres honteux est une Charité ménagée par le Curé de la Paroisse, & les Marguilliers. Qui ayans un Fonds pour cela donnent ou envoient à ces Pauvres honteux de la Paroisse, toutes les Semaines ou tous les quinze Jours, quèque petite Somme d'argent pour les aider à rouler tout doucement.

Il y a encore à Paris la Charité des Hommes, & trois Charitez des Femmes. Dans la première on ne reçoit que des pauvres Garçons & des pauvres Hommes malades, servis par des Religieux.

Dans les Charitez des Femmes on ne reçoit que des pauvres Femmes & des pauvres Filles malades, qui sont servies par des Religieuses hospitalières.

Charivari, (m.) a disgraceful Noise; a deadly rout (as of drunken folks.)

Charlatan, (m.) a Quack; a coaxing Cheat.

Charlatane, (f.) a cunning Gipsy.

Charlatanerie, (f.) Quack's tricks, to gull.

Charlatanerie, (f.) Quack's Tricks.

Charmant, charming, bewitching, pleasant, or delightful.

Un Esprit charmant, a charming Wit. Une

Beauté charmante, a charming (or bewitching) Beauty. Un Séjour charmant, a pleasant (or delightful) Place.

Charme, (m.) charm, spell, or enchantment;

a charm, or temptation; charm, or artifice;

the yolk-elm.

Rompere un Charme, to dissolve a Spell.

Quel Charme a pour vous le Danger? what

Temptation do you find in Danger?

Ses yeux favent les mêmes charmes, her eyes are acquainted with the same charms, or art-ifices.

Charmé, charmed, bewitched, enchanted.

Charmer, to charm, bewitch, or enchant; to charm, or please exceedingly; to charm, in-chant, mitigate, allay, or assuage.

Il avoit charmé l'épée de son Enemi, he had charmed his Enemy's sword.

La Musique charme l'Oreille, & la Beauté la Veüe, as Musick charms the Ear, so does

Beauty the Sight. Si la Vertu se rendoit visible, ses attraits charmeroit tout le

Monde, if Virtue did make her self visible, her beauty would charm all the World.

Le Vin charme les Chagrins, Wine is Care-inchanting. Sa Voix peut charmer les

Douleurs, his Voice can allay Pains.

Charmeur, (m.) a Charmer, or Inchanter.

Charnage, (m.) from Chair, Temps où l'on mange de la viande, flesh-time.

Charnel, carnal, sensual.

Plaisirs charnels, carnal (or sensual) Pleasures.

Avoir un commerce charnel avec une femme, to have carnally to do with a woman.

Charnellement, carnally, sensually.

Charnier, (m.) a Charnel-house, a Place wherein the bones of dead bodies are laid; the Communion-place in the Parish of Paris.

Charniere, (f.) a turning joint.

Charnu, fleshy.

As, partie charnue, a fleshy part.

Charogne, or Charongne, (f.) carrion, carcass, a dead and stinking beast; stink.

Puant comme charogne, that stinks like a carrion.

Charoi. See Charroi.

Charpente, or Charpenterie, (f.) Timber.

Charpentier, (m.) Carpenter.

Un riche Charpentier, a rich Carpenter.

Charrette } See { Charette.

Charrié } { Charié.

Charrier } { Charié.

Charriot } { Chariot.

Charroi, (m.) carriage.

Payer le charroi, to pay for the carriage.

Charron, (m.) a Cart-wright.

Charrue, (f.) a Plough.

Le manche & le soc de la Charrue, the Plough-tail and Plough-share.

Mener la Charrue, to guide the Plough.

Charte. See Chartre.

Charti (m.) le Corps de la Charette, the frame of a Cart without the wheels.

Chartier. See Charetier.

Chartre, (f.) a Charter; a Prison; a Consumption.

Les Chartres sont gardées avec beaucoup de soin, the Chartres are kept with a great deal of care. On a depuis peu châtré l'ancienne Chartre de Londres, the ancient Charter of London has been of late curtailed.

Il a prêché aux Esprits en chartre, (1 Pet.

3. 19.) he preached unto the Spirits in prison.

Etre en chartre, to be in a consumption, to be nothing but skin and bones (as it often happens upon a long and close Imprisonment.)

Chartreuse, (f.) Charter-house.

La grande Chartreuse auprès de Grenoble,

the great Charter-house near Grenoble.

Chartreuses, (f.) Carthusian Nuns.

Chartreux, (m.) Carthusian Friars.

Chasse, (f.) hunting; game; chase, or pursuit; a chase, at Tennis.

La Chasse est l'apprentissage de la Guerre,

Hunting is the prenticeship of War. Aller à la chasse, to go a hunting. Revenir de la chasse, to come from hunting.

Faire bonne chasse, to meet with plenty of game.

Donner la chasse à l'Enemi, to give chase to the Enemy, to pursue them.

Gagner une chasse, au Jeu de paume, to win a chase, at Tennis.

Or thus. Chasse aux Oiseaux, Fowling. Chien

de chasse, a hunting Dog.

Remarque bien cette chasse, tu ne la por-teras pas loin, remember this unkindness of yours, it shan't go long unrevenge.

Châsse, (being pronounced long) a Shrine;

that thing, or part of a thing, wherein another is incased.

Chassé, hunted; chased, or pursued; put out, turned out, put away, driven away.

Chasse-avant, (m.) the Director (or Overseer) in great working Houses.

Chasse-coquin, (m.) a Beadle.

Chasse-coufin, (m.) a stiff foil; bad wine,

such as will drive a Spurger away.

Chasse-marée, (f.) a Ripper, one that carries

Sea-fish about the Country to sell.

Chasse-marée, Conducteur perpetuel de Jeune Noblesse dans les Pais etrangers, a Hackney Governour, a constant Capitano (or Leader) of young Gentlemen Travellers.

Voici la Chasse-marée d'Angleterre qui arrive, here comes the hackney Governour, or the old Capitano out of England.

Chasse-mulet, (m.) a Miller's man.

Chasser, to hunt, or be hunting; to chase, or pursue; to persecute, Luke 11. 49; to put (turn, drive) out, or away.

Chasser un Lievre, ou un Sanglier, to hunt a

Hare, or a wild Boar.

Chasser l'Enemi, lui donner la chasse, to chase

the Enemy, to put the Enemy to flight.

Chasser quècun d'une Chambre, to put one out of a Chamber, to turn him out, to put him away. Il l'a chassé comme un chien de la maison, he put him out of his house like a dog.

Chasser les mouches, to drive away the flies.

Un clou chasse l'autre, one nail drives out another. Chasser les Vents, to drive out the Wind.

Or thus. As, chasser aux Oiseaux, to be a fowling.

On le chassa avec des siflemens & des paroles injurieuses, he was hissed out, or exploded.

Chasser sur un Vaisseau, to give a Ship the chase.

Vaisseau qui chasse sur ses Ancres, a Ship that drives with her Anchors.

Une Lettre qui chasse, en Termes d'Imprimerie, a Letter that drives out.

Chasseur, (m.) Hunter, Huntsman.

Un bon Chasseur, a good Hunter.

Chasseur d'Oiseaux, a Fowler, a Bird-catcher.

Chassie, (f.) humeur qui colle les yeux, & s'attache aux paupieres, blearedness, bleaeyedness, a running of the eyes (with pain, shooting, and redness.)

Chassieux, blear-eyed, having dropping and watery eyes.

Chassis, (m.) any frame, but especially a frame of wood for a window.

Chaste, chaste, honest; neat, pure, or exact.

Une femme chaste, a chaste woman, an honest woman. Avoir les oreilles chastes, to have chaste ears, to have unclean discourses.

Un Style chaste, a neat (pure, or exact)

Style.

Chasteau } See { Château.

Chastelain } { Chastelain.

Chastelenie } { Chastelenie.

Chastement, (from Chaste) chastity, honesty.

Chasteté, (f.) chastity, honesty.

Vivre dans la chasteté, to live in chastity, to lead a chaste life.

Chastie } See { Châtie.

Chastier } { Châtier.

Chastiment } { Châtiment.

Châté } { Châté.

Châtrer } { Châtrer.

Chasuble, (f.) Chasuble, a Priest's Habit which he wears at Mass, a kind of Cope.

Chasublier, (m.) a maker of Chasubles.

Chat, (m.) a Cat.

Chat sauvage, a wild Cat. Chat privé, ou domestique, a tame Cat. Chat huant, See

Hibou. L'herbe au Chat, Cats-mint.

Proverbial Expressions.

A bon Chat bon Rat, they are well matched.

Jetter le Chat aux Jambes à quècun, to put a block in ones way. Vendre le Chat en poche, to sell a Pig in a poke.

Laisser aller le Chat au fromage, donner la dernière faveur à un Galand, to grant the last favour to a Gallant.

Eveiller le Chat qui dort, reveiller une Que-relle assoupie, to renew an old Quarrel. Em-porter le Coat de la Maison, s'en aller sans rien dire, to go away in a mist, to steal away.

Appeler un Chat un Chat, & Rôlet un

Fripon, to call Things by their own Names, to speak the truth of Things, to use no disguise.

Chatagne } See { Chateigne.

Chatagneraie } { Chateigneraie.

Chatagner } { Chateigner.

Chatain } { Chatein.

Chate, (f.) a ske-Cat, a Puss.

Ma Chate a fait de petits Chats, my Puss bath kittled.

Château, (m.) a Castle.

† Faire des Châteaux en Espagne, to build

Castles in the Air, to be full of wandering and vain Imaginations.

Château d'avant, (en Termes de Mer) the Fore-castle. Château d'arrière, the Hind-castle.

Chateigne, (f.) chestnut.

Une grosse chateigne, a great chestnut.

Chateigner, (m.) a Chestnut-tree.

Chateigneraie, (f.) a Plot of Chestnut-trees.
 Chatein, (Adj.) of a chestnut colour.
 Chatein, (a masc. Subst.) chestnut colour.
 Chatelain, (m.) from Château, a Lord of a Manor that has Royalties belonging to it; but inferior to a Baron in rank, and the meanest Lord of Dignity that is. Also a Governour, Captain, Constable, or Judge of a Castle or Town that has or hath had a Castle in it.
 Châtelanie, (f.) Terre de Seigneur Chatelain, the Estate and Jurisdiction of a Lord Chatelain.
 † Chatemite, (m.) a Dissembler, a dissembling Woman.
 Chater, (from Chat) to kittle.
 As, la Chate a chaté, the Cat has kitted.
 Chat-huant, (m.) an Owl.
 Le Chat-huant étoit un des Oiseaux defendus aux Juifs sous la Loi, the Owl was one of the Fowls prohibited to the Jews under the Law.
 Châtié, chastised, punished, corrected.
 Châtier, to chastise, punish, or correct, to chasten, Heb. 12. 6.
 Châtier un Enfant, to chastise (punish, or correct) a Child. Châtier un chien, to correct a dog.
 Châtier rigoureusement quèque faute, to punish a fault severely.
 Se châtié, (Lev. 26. 23.) to be reformed.
 Chatiere, (f.) from Chat, a hole in a door for a Cat to come in and out.
 † Châteur, (m.) from Châtier, a Chastiser. This Word is used Heb. 12. 9.
 Châtiment, (m.) from Châtier, chastisement, punishment, correction, chastening, Heb. 12. 5.
 Prendre châtiement des Rebelles, to punish the Rebels.
 Chaton, (m.) the green shell of small nuts; the bezil of a ring; ouch, Ex. 28. 14.
 Chatouillé, tickled; pleased.
 Chatouillement, (m.) a tickling; a pleasure, or delight.
 Les chatouillemens de la Chair, the pleasures of the Flesh.
 Chatouiller, to tickle; to please.
 Chatouiller quécun pour le faire rire, to tickle one to make him laugh.
 Chatouiller par ses Discours les oreilles de quécun, to tickle ones ears by discourse, to please him with fair words.
 Se chatouiller pour se faire rire, to provoke himself to laughter.
 Chatouilleux, ticklish, or apt to laugh when he is tickled; ticklish, hasty, apt to be angry upon the least occasion; ticklish, dangerous, hard to be well managed; itching, 2 Tim. 4. 3.
 Il est chatouilleux, & elle est chatouilleuse, he and she are both ticklish.
 Un Esprit chatouilleux, a ticklish (or hasty) Man.
 Une Affaire chatouilleuse, a ticklish (or dangerous) Business.
 Châtré, geld, gelded, emasculated.
 Un Châtré, a gelded man.
 Châtrer, to geld, emasculate, or cut off ones stones.
 † Châtrer un fagot, le diminuer, to break a fagot.
 † Chaucher, to thrust in hard.
 Chaud, warm, or hot; hot, eager, violent.
 As, un Temps chaud, warm Weather. De l'eau fort chaude, hot water.
 Chaud en amour, hot-spurred. Chaud en colere, hot-headed, hasty. Un chaud Protecteur, an eager Protector.
 Un fer chaud, a red-hot iron. Il a les piez chauds, cd. il est à son aise, he is warm, or well-lined, he is well to pass. Une fièvre chaude, a fever.
 Tomber de fièvre chaude en haut mal, to fall out of the frying-pan into the fire.
 Chaud mal, (Deut. 28. 22.) Inflammation, or extrem burning.
 Chaud, (a masc. Subst.) hot. As, il fait chaud, 'tis hot, 'tis hot weather. Il fait un grand chaud, 'tis very hot, 'tis very hot weather.
 Apparemment il y fait fort chaud, cd. on s'y bat fortement, 'tis likely very hot there, there's hot work without doubt.

Avoir chaud, to be hot. Brûler de chaud, to be burning hot.
 † Souffler le chaud & le froid, to blow hot and cold, to be for any thing.
 Chaud (Adverbially used.) As, boire chaud, to drink hot, or warm.
 Chaude, (a fem. Subst.) the beating of metal as soon as it is taken out of the fire.
 A la chaude, hotly, quickly, or in haste.
 Main chaude. See Main.
 Chaudement, hotly, eagerly, furiously, brüklly.
 Chaudement, or tout chaud, hot.
 As, il faut l'appliquer chaudement sur l'Estomac, it must be apply'd hot upon the Stomack.
 Chaudépisse, (f.) forte de Mal Venerien, a Clap, a mighty well-known Distemper in this Age.
 Avoir une chaudépisse, to have a clap.
 Chauderon, or Chaudron, (m.) a Kettle, a small Kettle; a Pan, Ex. 27. 3.
 Chaudronnerie, or Chaudronnerie, (f.) Kettle-ware, Braziers (or Tinkers) ware.
 Chaudronnier, or Chaudronnier, (m.) a Brazier.
 Chaudronnier de Campagne, a Tinker.
 Chaudière, (f.) a Kettle, a great Kettle.
 Chauffage, (m.) fuel.
 Chauffé, heated, warmed.
 Chauffe-cire, (m.) the Chafe-wax (in Chancery).
 Chauffe-pié, (m.) a foot-stove, a little and low stove that serves to keep the feet warm.
 Chauffer, to heat, to warm.
 Chauffer le Four, to heat the Oven. Chauffer le Lit, to warm the Bed.
 Se chauffer auprès d'un bon feu, to warm himself by a good fire. Je sai de quel bois il se chauffe, I know what he does, or what he can do.
 Chauffoir, (m.) the warming Place (in a Monastery).
 Chauffour, (m.) from Chaux, a Lime-Kiln.
 Chauffournier, (m.) a Lime-maker.
 Chauffrette, a Chauffe-pié.
 Chaume, (m.) stubble, the stem of corn.
 Chaumer, to cut stubble.
 Chaumière, (f.) a thatched house.
 Chauffé, (f.) a bag, a straining bag.
 Chaussé, shod, that has got shoes, or stockings, on.
 Il y a du plaisir à être bien chaussé, 'tis a great satisfaction to be well shod.
 Ayant les piez chaussés de la preparation de l'Evangile de Paix, (Ephes. 6. 15.) having your feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of Peace.
 Chaussée, (f.) a Causey.
 Faire une Chaussée, to make a Causey.
 Chaussé-pié, (m.) a shooing-horn, a shooing-piece of fur, any thing that helps a shoo on.
 Chauffer, to put on shoo's or stockings; to find shoo's, or stockings.
 Laquais, venez moi chauffer, come, Boy, put on my shoo's and stockings.
 Chauffer ses bas, to put on his stockings.
 Chauffes, (f.) breeches.
 Tirer les chauffes, to pull off his breeches; to run away in haste.
 Chauffes de Page, trunk-breeches. Prendre les chauffes, se faire Page, to take upon him a Page's place. Quitter les chauffes, ne plus être Page, to quit a Page's place.
 Chaussétier, (m.) a Hosier.
 Chauffe-trape, (f.) caltrop.
 Jetter des chauffe-trapes, to throw caltrops about.
 Chauffe-trapes sont des Cloux à quatre ou cinq pointes, dont il y en a toujours une en l'air, chaque pointe longue de quatre à cinq pouces. On seme les Chauffe-trapes sur une Breche, ou sur un Passage de la Cavalerie Enemie, pour le lui rendre difficile.
 Chauffette, (f.) a stirrup-stocking.
 Chauffettes de fil, thread stirrup-stockings.
 Chauffon, (m.) a Sock, a Pump.
 Une paire de chauffons, a pair of socks.
 Danser avec des chauffons, to dance with pumps.
 Chaussure, (f.) shoo's and stockings.
 Trouver chaussure à son pourpoint, trouver qui soit aussi mechant que nous, to be well met.

Chauve, bald, bald-pated.
 Chauve-four, (f.) a bat.
 La Chauvefour est un des Oiseaux que les Juifs avoient en abomination, the Bat is one of the Fowls which were an abomination to the Jews.
 Chauveté, (f.) baldness.
 Chaux, (f.) Lime.
 Fuser la chaux, to slake lime.
 La chaux, qui est Enemie capitale des Hommes, si on la prend par dedans ou qu'on l'applique par dehors, est cependant la principale Matière dont se servent les Rafineurs pour rendre le Sucre plus blanc & plus solide, Lime, which is a capital Enemy of Man, if it be taken inwardly, or outwardly applied, is however the chief Matter made use of by Refiners, for rendering Sugar whiter and more solid.
 Chef, (m.) Head, chief Commander; Author, or Manager; head, or chief point; the head.
 As, un Chef d'Armée, the Head of an Army. Chef d'Escadre, the Commander of a Squadron of Ships. Chef de Justice, en Angleterre, My Lord Chief Justice of England.
 Le Chef de l'Eglise, the Head of the Church. On dit que le Pape est le Chef de l'Eglise, some say the Pope is the Head of the Church.
 Le Mari est le Chef de la Femme, (Eph. 5. 23.) the Husband is the Head of the Wife.
 Le Chef d'une Assemblée, the chief man (or head man) of an Assembly. Chef d'une Entreprise, the chief Manager of an Undertaking. Les Chefs d'une Requête, the heads of a Petition. Chefs d'Accusation, the Heads of an Information.
 Le Chef de S. Jean, de S. Pierre, de S. Denis, S. John's, S. Peter's, and S. Denis his Head. Le chef de Meduse, Medusa's head.
 Tout homme priant ou prophetizant, en ayant quèque chose sur la tête, deshonore son Chef, (1 Cor. 11. 4.) every man praying or propheying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his Head.
 Faire quèque chose de son chef, to do something of his own head, of his own accord. Vous ajoutez cela de votre chef, you add that of your own head, or accord.
 Or thus. As, Chef de Famille, a House-keeper. Gouverneur en chef, a chief (or principal) Governour. Fief en chef, a Fief held in Capite.
 Chef d'œuvre, a trial piece of Work (in order to be made a Freeman); a master-piece, a piece of rare workmanship.
 † Chef de Riviere, (Gen. 2. 10.) the head of a River. Chef de Sapience, (Ps. 111. 10.) the beginning of Wisdom.
 Ce sera le principal chef de ma Rejouissance. (Ps. 137. 6.) 'twill be my chief joy.
 Chef de Files d'un Bataillon. Ce sont les Hommes qui en forment le Front, la Face, la Tête, ou le premier Rang.
 Chefecier, (m.) Officier qui a soin des Chapes & des Cires, the keeper of the Vestry in a Cathedral or Collegiate Church, an Officer that hath charge of the Wax-lights and Ornaments used therein.
 Chelidoine, (f.) forte d'Herbe, Celandine.
 Chemin, (m.) Way, or Road; a way or means.
 Le grand Chemin, the high Way. Chemin écarté, a by-way. Chemin raccourci, a short way about. Chemin large & decouvert, a broad and open way. Chemin étroit, a narrow way.
 Un beau chemin, a fine Road, a fine Way.
 Un chemin battu, a beaten Way. Un mauvais chemin, a bad Way. Chemin sale, ou boueux, a dirty Way. Chemin rompu par les eaux, a deep Way. Chemin rude & pierreux, a hard and stony Way. Chemin glissant, a slippery Way. Chemin qui va à la Ville, a Way that leads into the Town.
 Chemin couvert (en Termes de Siege) a covered Way.
 Prendre le droit chemin, to go the right way. Suivre le grand chemin, to keep the high-way, to follow the beaten road. Pour suivre son chemin, to go on in his way.
 Prendre (tenir) le même chemin, to go the same way.
 S'égarer (s'écarter) du chemin, to go out of his Way. Demander le chemin pour aller en quèque Lieu, to ask the way to some Place. Montrer le chemin, to shew the way.
 I.

way. Mettre quécun au bon chemin, to put one in the right Way. Aller à moitié chemin, to go half way. Reprendre son chemin, to come again into the right way.

S'ouvrir le Chemin de la Gloire, to make Way to Honour. Clearque ne vouloit point aller à la Gloire par un autre Chemin que par celui de la Vertu, Clearque would take no other Way to Glory than that of Virtue.

Socrate disoit, qu'il n'y avoit point de Chemin plus court, ni de Moyen plus aisé, pour acquérir de la Gloire, que de tâcher d'être tel qu'on voudroit être estimé, Socrates used to say, that there was no better Way, or better Course, to get fame, than to endeavour to be such, as one would be thought to be.

Il ne s'écartera pas du Chemin que tant d'illustres Personnages lui ont frayé, he will not go a step out of the Way which so many illustrious Men have traced out to him.

Or thus. As, le monde prend le chemin de nous voir, cd. commence de nous visiter, we begin now to receive visits.

Couper chemin à l'Enemi, to stop the Enemy. Couper chemin à une Maladie, to prevent a Disease. Gagner chemin, to get ground.

Aller son grand chemin, cd. aller rondement & sincèrement, sans y chercher beaucoup de finesse, to go roundly to work. Devenir en beau chemin, perdre courage lors qu'il n'y a plus de difficulté, to despond in a fair way.

Le Chemin de l'Ecole, the furthest Way about.

Cheminée, (f.) Chimney.

Le Tuyau & le Manteau d'une Cheminée, the Tunnel and Mantle-piece of a Chimney. Un Ramonneur de Cheminée, a Chimney-sweeper.

Mariage-fait sous la cheminée, a Match made in hugger-mugger.

Cheminier, to go, or walk; to exercise himself, Ps. 131. 1.

Bienheureux est quiconque craint l'Eternel, & chemine en ses Voies, (Ps. 128. 1.) blest is every one that feareth the Lord, that walketh in his Ways.

Or thus. As, Heb. 11. 37. Ils ont cheminé & là, vetus de peaux de Brebis & de Chevres, they wandered about in Sheep-skins and Goat-skins.

But, though this Word be a little antiquated, and ought to be seldom used; yet it is not improper in some cases. As, when we say, cheminer avec mollesse, to walk effeminately.

Je vis les Vents & les Nuis cheminer sous mes pas, I saw the Winds and Clouds walking under my feet.

Chemineur, (m.) a Walker.

Chemise, (f.) a shift, shirt, or smock. Le premier de ces trois Mots signifie indifféremment chemise d'homme ou de femme, le second est affecté à l'homme, & le troisième à la femme. Il est vrai que shirt se dit aussi d'une Chemise de jeune Enfant, tant femelle que mâle.

Une belle chemise de Hollande, a fine Holland shift. Une chemise de jour, a day-shirt, or day-smock. Chemise de nuit, a night-shirt, or night-smock. Une grosse chemise, a course shirt, or smock. Une chemise fine, a fine shirt, or fine smock.

Monter une chemise, to make up a shirt, or a smock. Chemise blanche, a clean shirt, or smock. Chemise sale, a foul shirt or smock. Mettre quécun en chemise, to ruin, to ruin (or undo) one, to be the ruin of him.

Chemise, (en Termes de Fortification) signifie le Revêtement de Muraille qu'on donne aux Ouvrages de Terre sablonneuse; qui sans cela auroient besoin d'un trop grand Talus, pour se soutenir, & seroient trop de montée. Mais ce Terme vieillit; & on dit aujourd'hui Ouvrage revêtu, ou Place revêtu.

Chemisette, (f.) a Waistcoat.

Il commence à faire froid, donnez moi une Chemisette, it begins to be cold Weather, give me a Waistcoat.

Chênaie, (f.) a Grove of Oaks (as Gen. 21. 33.) a Plain, Judg. 4. 11.

Chêne, (m.) an Oak.

Une Couronne de chêne, a Crown of oak.

Cheneau, (m.) a Gutter of lead.

Chenet, (m.) a dog, a little andiron to hold up the wood.

Chenevi, (m.) graine de chanvre, hemp-seed.

Cheneviere, (f.) a Hemp-clofe.

Chenevote, (f.) a hemp-stalk.

Chenil, (m.) from Chien, a Dog-kennel.

Chenille, (f.) sorte d'Insecte, a caterpillar; a kind of plant that bears a pulse something like a caterpillar; a pretty kind of work serving to set off the Ladies petticoats.

Chenis, (m.) a kind of Measure. You will find this Word mentioned, Rev. 6. 6.

Chenu, tout blanc de vieillesse, gray-headed, that hath gray hairs, hoary.

Ma tête chenue m'apprend qu'il me faudra bien tot quitter le jour, my hoary head tells me that I must shortly leave the Light.

Les Cheveux chenus sont une Couronne honorable (Prov. 16. 31.) the hoary Head is a Crown of glory.

† Onde chenue, a foaming Wave.

† Cheoir. See Choir.

Cher, dear, that costs a great deal; dear, or dearly beloved.

As, le pain est cher, bread is dear. La viande est chère, meat is dear. Cela est trop cher, that's too dear.

Une Etoffe qui coute cher, a dear Stuff.

Votre generosité vous a pensé couter cher, your generosity was like to cost you dear. Vous fites une Sortie qui nous coute cher, you made a Sally which cost us dear.

Mon cher Ami, ma chère Amie, my dear Friend.

Mon cher, ma Chère, (Substantively used) my Dear.

Cherché, sought, lookt for, searched.

Chercher, to seek, to look for, to search; to mind; to desire, Luke 9. 9.

Je l'ai cherché par tout, mais je n'ai pu le trouver, I lookt for it every where, but I could find it no where. Chercher la Verité, to seek for the Truth. Chercher des detours, to seek out by-ways.

Ne chercher que ses Interets, to mind nothing but his Profit.

Chercheur (m.) As, un Chercheur de franchises lipées, a Spurger, one that goes hunting up and down for a free Meal.

Chère, ou regal (a fem. Subst.) cheer.

Faire bonne chère, faire grand chère, to make good cheer, to be merry, Luke 12. 19; to make merry, Luke 15. 29.

Faire mauvaise (pauvre, ou maigre) chère, to make pitiful (course, or poor) cheer.

Or thus. As, faire bonne chère à quécun, to feast one, to give him a good treat, or a plentiful entertainment. Lui faire mauvaise chère, to give him a pitiful entertainment.

Il n'est chère que d'Avaricieux, there's no feast like a Miser's feast.

Une Figure qui représente la bonne Chère, a Figure which represents Feasting.

Cherement, (from Cher) dear; dearly, tenderly.

Acheter des Vivres bien cherement, to buy Provisions very dear.

Il vous rendra bien cherement les services qu'il vous rendra, he will sell you very dear what service he shall do you.

Il aime cherement sa femme & ses enfans, he loves dearly his wife and children.

Cheri, cherished, loved.

Cherir, to cherish, to love.

Cherir ses Enfans, to cherish his Children, to love them tenderly.

Cherir sa Patrie, to love his Country.

Cherir les Arts & les Sciences, to cherish Arts and Sciences.

† Cherrai, cherras, cherra, cherrons, cherrez, cherront. This is the first future Tense of Choir, an antiquated Verb. See Choir.

Cherlone, ou Presqu'Isle (f.) a Chersonese, or Peninsula.

Cherté, (f.) from Cher, dearness; dearth, scarcity, or want.

Le Peuple étoit incommode par la cherté des Vivres, the People was hard put to it through the dearness of Provisions.

Souvent arrive l'Abondance, lors qu'on craint la Cherté, Plenty doth often come, when we fear Scarcity.

Cherubin, (m.) Cherubin, an Angel of the first Order.

Chervi, (m.) Skirret, or Skerwort.

Chesne. See Chêne.

† Chet, a Person of the old Verb Choir.

As, Ex. 21. 33. S'il y chet un Beuf, ou un Ane, if an Ox or Ass fall therein.

Chetif, poor, pitiful.

Un chetif Garçon de boutique, a pitiful Shop-boy.

† Faites droit au Chetif & à l'Orphelin, (Ps. 82. 3.) defend the Poor and Fatherless.

Chetivement, poorly, pitifully.

Entretenir une personne chetivement, to entertain one poorly, or pitifully.

† Cheu, (from Choir) fallen, or slain.

As, Il a creusé, & il est cheu en la fosse qu'il a faite (Ps. 7. 15.) he has digged, and he is slain into the ditch he hath made.

Il est cheu, (Judg. 5. 27.) he fell.

Cheval, (m.) a horse.

La tête, l'encolure, le crin, la queue, & les piez d'un Cheval, the head, neck, mane, tail, and feet of a Horse. Un fer de cheval, a horse-shoe.

Cheval de selle, de bât, de poste, de course, & de carosse, a saddle, pack, post, race, and coach-horse.

Cheval de bataille, a War-horse. Cheval fin, a fine horse. Cheval de parade, a stately horse.

Cheval de louage, a hackney-horse. Cheval de relais, a stage-horse. Cheval de charette, a cart-horse.

Cheval de pas, ou de trot, a pacing, or a trotting horse. Cheval qui bronche, a stumbling horse. Cheval ombrageux, a starting horse. Cheval pouffit, a purfy horse.

Cheval de haras, a Stallion. Cheval hongre, ou cheval châtré, a Gelding. Cheval qui porte en croupe, a double Horse.

Cheval marin, a Sea-horse. Cheval de bois, a wooden horse.

Un Cheval fort dechargé, & qui porte bien sa tête, a well-shaped Horse, that carries his head well. Un Cheval fier, ardent, ou plein de feu, a fiery (or mettlesom) Horse. Un Cheval souple, obéissant, fidelle, a tractable Horse.

Monter à cheval, to get up on horse-back. Etre bien à cheval, to sit handsomly on horse-back, to ride with a good grace. Piquer son cheval, to spur his horse. Lui lâcher la bride, to give him the head. Descendre de cheval, to come off of his horse.

† Il n'est cheval si superbe qui ne bronche, cd. il n'y a personne si habile, qui ne fasse quèque faute, the best horse will stumble. Monter sur les grands chevaux, cd. se mettre en colere, to fly out into a passion. C'est un petit cheval echapé, cd. un petit Libertin, he is a wild Youth. C'est un Cheval de carosse, cd. un gros Sot, he is a great Booby.

Cheval de Frise, en Termes de Fortification. C'est une Poutre à peu près d'un pié de diametre, & longue de dix à douze piez, taillée à cinq ou six pans. Ces Pans sont percez de part en part, & armez (à chaque trou) d'un piquet ferré par les deux bouts, & qui deborde environ trois piez de chaque côté. C'est afin que cette Poutre, présentant des pointes par tout, serve utilement à boucher l'ouverture d'une Breche, ou l'avenue d'un Camp.

Chevalerie, (f.) Knighthood, the Order of Knighthood.

Vous ne sauriez croire combien la Chevalerie est ravilie, you cannot think how much the Order of Knighthood is debased and degenerated.

Or thus. As, Ps. 68. 17. † La Chevalerie de Dieu se conte par vint mille, par milliers redoublez, the Chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of Angels.

Chevalet, (m.) a wooden Horse (such as they have in Garrisons for a Punishment of unruly Soldiers;) the bridge of a musical Instrument.

ment; a Painter's easel; a sawing tressel; the wooden Log whereon a Tanner scrapes his hides. 'Tis also a Term of some other Arts.

Chevalier, (m.) a Knight.

Chevalier du S. Esprit, ou de S. Michel, a Knight of the Holy Ghost, or of St. Michael's Order. Chevalier de Malthe, a Knight of Malthe. Chevalier d'honneur de la Reine, a Knight of honour, that goes at the Queens right hand.

Chevalier de l'Ordre tres illustre de la Jarretiere, a Knight of the most noble Order of the Garter. Chevalier Baronet, a Knight Baronet. Chevalier des Bains, a Knight of the Bath.

Chevalier errant, a Knight errant. Chevalier du Guet, the Captain of the Watch on horse-back. Chevalier de l'Arquebuse, one that is admitted into the Company (or Society) of the Arquebusers.

† Chevalier de la Coupe, a Tavern Knight, a stout Toper, a Devothee. Lastly, there's a Water-fowl called Chevalier, as big as a Stock-dove; and of two kinds, the one red, and the other black.

† Chevaucée, (f.) Goods, Substance, Riches, as Numb. 35. 3.

Chevauchée, swived.

Chevauchée, (Subst.) a riding Circuit of the Treasurer of France.

Chevaucher, to swive. Formerly it signified to ride on horse-back, but now 'tis not used in that sense, except in Academies, or Riding Houses.

Chevaucherie, (f.) swiving.

Chevaucheur, (m.) a Swiver.

Un terrible Chevaucheur, a dreadful Swiver.

Cheveau-leger, (m.) a light-Horse, a Life-guard Man.

Un tel est Cheveau-leger de la Garde du Roi, such a one is a light-Horse of the King's Guard.

Compagnie des Chevaux legers, a Company of light-Horse.

Comme le Mot de Gendarme etoit autrefois affecté à des Cavaliers armez pesamment & de pié en cap, on a donné le Nom de Cheveau-leger à ceux qui etoient equippez moins pesamment. Si bien que Cheveau-leger est un Homme de Guerre, qui combat à cheval; & proprement ce que nous appelons un Maître, ou un Cavalier.

Chevaux, the Plural of Cheval, Horses.

Il avoit six mille Fantassins, & deux mille Chevaux, he had six thousand Foot, and two thousand Horse.

Chevecier. See Chefecier.

Chevelu, (from Cheveu) hairy, long-haired, wearing long hair.

Clodion le chevelu, second Roi de France, Clodion the hairy, the second King of France.

Comete chevelue, a hairy Comet, a blazing Star with beams spread round it.

Or thus. As, Racine chevelue, qui pousse plusieurs petits brins, a fibrous Root.

Chevelure, (f.) hair, a head of hair; the fibres (or hairy threads) that hang at the roots of plants; the beams that surround a Comet; (and Poetically) the leaves of a Tree.

Avoir une belle chevelure, to have a fine head of hair.

La Betoine jette plusieurs chevelures, the root of Betoine puts forth great many fibres, or strings.

Une effroyable chevelure de Comete, a fearful sight of beams round a Comet.

Les Arbres ont perdu leur chevelure verte, the Trees have lost their green Dress.

† Chevestre, (m.) a rope, or halter.

Or thus. As, Prov. 26. 3. le fouet est pour le cheval, le chevestre pour l'âne, & la verge pour le dos des fous, a whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back.

And, Ps. 2. 3. Rompons leurs liens, & jettons arriere de nous leurs chevestres, let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

Chevet, (m.) a bolster.

Un chevet mou, a soft bolster.

Cheveu, (m.) a hair (of a mans, or womans head.)

De longs cheveux, long hair. Des cheveux courts, short hair. Cheveux blancs, blancs, noirs, ou chateins, light, gray, black, or brown hair.

Se frier les cheveux, to curl his hair. Laisser croître ses cheveux, to let his hair grow.

Agencer ses cheveux, to put his hair in order.

Faire les cheveux à quécun, to cut one's hair. Se faire faire les cheveux, to get his hair cut.

Se prendre aux cheveux, se tirer par les cheveux, to take hold of his hair. Tirer quécun par les cheveux, to pull one by the hair.

Or thus. Se peigner les cheveux, to comb his head.

† Tirer un Discours par les cheveux, to force in a Discourse, to bring it in by head and shoulders.

Leve toi devant les cheveux blancs, & honore la personne de l'Ancien, (Lev. 29. 32.) rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man.

Chevill, (f.) a peg, or pin of wood; a botch, in a verse; the ankle-bone; a broche of a Deer's-head.

† Autant de trous autant de chevilles, he finds a cure for every sore, an excuse for every fault, an answer for each objection; a remedy or evasion for any mischief.

Etre blessé à la cheville du pié, to have his ankle-bone sore.

Chevill, pegged, or pinned.

Cheviller, to peg, or pin, to fasten with pegs or pins.

Chevre, (f.) a Goat, a she-Goat; fearn, a sort of Engine.

Sauter comme une Chevre, to skip like a Goat. Barbe de Chevre, a Goat's beard.

Chevre sauvage, a wild Goat.

† Prendre la chevre, s'emporter, se fâcher tout d'un coup, to fly out into a passion. Il prend aisément la chevre, he takes fire presently, there's but a word and a blow with him.

Chevreau, (m.) a Kid.

Chevre-feuille, (m.) sorte d'Arbrisseau, the Horny-suckle.

Chevrette, (f.) a wild Goat (the female;) a sirrup-pot with a gullet.

Chevrettes, petits chiens avec une pomme seulement, little dogs, or andirons.

Chevreu, or Chevreuil, (m.) a Roe-buck, a wild Roe, 2 Sam. 5. 18.

Chevron, (m.) chevron, or rafter (a piece of timber.)

Voici un chevron en ton oeil, (Matt. 7. 4.) behold, a beam is in thine own eye.

Chevronné, Terme de Blason. As, il porte chevronné d'Or & de Sable, it bears a Chevron Or and Sable.

Chevroter, (from Chevre) to Kid, or bring forth young Kids.

Chevrotin (m.) peau (ou cuir) de chevreau, Kid, or Kid's leather.

C'est du chevrotin, 'tis Kid. Gans de chevrotin, Kid-gloves.

† Cheur } Choir.

Cheute } See } Chute.

Chez, at, to.

As, venez souper chez moi, come and sup at my house. Se porte-t-on bien chez vous? are all well at your house?

Je m'en allois chez vous, I was a going to your house. Je m'en vai chez mon frere, I am a going to my brother's.

Or thus. As, il fort de chez un tel, he is just gone from such a ones house.

Instead of chez use dans in these and the like Expressions; as chez Platon, chez Plutarque, chez les Etrangers. Say dans Platon, dans Plutarque, or dans les Oeuvres de Platon & de Plutarque, dans les Pais etrangers, or parmi les Etrangers.

Chicane, (f.) a litigious pleading; or perplexing of a Cause; an unwarrantable evasion, or shift.

Il me cherchera chicane, he will put me to trouble, he will find out a way to insnare me.

Chicaner, to plead litigiously, or perplex a cause; to find fault with, to criticize, or to contradict.

Chicanerie, as Chicane.

Chicaneur, (m.) a Pettifogger, or litigious manager of Causes, that brings people to Law for a trifle, a troublesome Man.

C'est un franc Chicaneur, he is a meer Pettifogger.

Chicaneuse, (f.) a troublesome Woman, that loves to go to Law.

† Chiche, niggardly, saving, sparing, covetous, penurious, miserable.

Une humeur chiche, a niggardly humour.

Etre chiche de reconnoissance, to be of an ungrateful temper.

Pois chiches, chich pease.

† Chichement, sparingly, savingly, penuriously. As, 2 Cor. 9. 6. Celui qui seme chichement recueillira aussi chichement, he which soweth sparingly shall reap sparingly.

Un chiche, a penny-father, a miser, or close-fisted man.

† Chicheté, (f.) niggardliness, penuriousness, covetousness.

Chicorée, (f.) herbe rafraichissante, succory.

Chicot, (m.) a stub, or stump (either of a Tree, or Tooth.)

Chicot, en Termes de Manege, est un eclat d'une Taille nouvelle d'un Bois taillis, qu'un Cheval en courant se met dans le pié; & qui, perçant la Sole, & penetrant jusqu'au vis devient plus ou moins dangereux, selon qu'il est plus ou moins enfoncé dans le pié.

Chicotin, (m.) herbe d'un gout acre & amer, the herb orpin, liblong, or five-long.

Chien, (m.) a Dog; the snap-hammer of a gun.

Chien de chasse, a hunting-Dog. Chien courant, a hound; a grey-hound.

Chien couchant, a setting-Dog. Chien de Village, a Mastive-Dog. Chien de Berger, ou de Boucher, a Shepherd's or a Butcher's Dog.

Chien de Boulogne, a Lap-dog. Chien de Mer, a Sea-dog.

Chien is also used for Persons, in the same sense as Dog is in English. As, chien que vous êtes, chien de coquin, chien de fripon.

† Entre chien & loup, in the dusk of the evening, when one can hardly discern a Wolf from a Dog.

† Faire le Chien couchant, cd. faire le flateur, faire des caresses basses & flatteuses, to debase himself too much, to creep and cringe to one.

Proverbs.

Qui veut neyer son Chien dit qu'il a rage, he that will drown his Dog, gives it out first that he is mad.

Quand un Chien se neye, chacun lui offre à boire, when a Dog is a drowning every one offers him drink.

Chien sur son fumier est hardi, a Dog (the English says, a Cock) is valiant on his own Dung-hil.

Chien eschaudé craint l'eau froide, a scalded Dog fears even cold water; or (as the English has it) a burnt Child dreads the fire.

Chien qui aboie ne mord pas, a Dog that barks much bites but little; a great prater is a weak performer.

Des oreilles déchirées sont la marque d'un Chien hargneux, quarrelsome Lads are seldom without black eyes, broken pates, or scratched faces.

Pendant que les Chiens s'entregroignent le Loup devore la Brebis, while the Dogs fall out the Wolf devours the Sheep. A mechant Chien court lien, a froward Curr must be y'd short.

Chien-dent, (m.) sorte de Racine blanche, Dogs-grafs.

Chienne, (f.) a Bitch.

And, as Bitch in English, so Chienne in French is used for a reviling Word. As, ah Chienne, au Diable soit la Chienne, oh! Bitch, the Devil take the Bitch.

† Chiennier, faire de petits chiens, to whelp.

† Chiennerie, (f.) a nasty trick, a base trick.

Chier, to shite, or to shit.

† Chier sur la besongne, cd. travailler, & ne rien faire qui vaille, to shite upon his work.

Chieur, (m.) Chieuse, (f.) a Shiter.

As, un grand Chieur, ou une grande Chieuse, a great Shiter.

Se choyer, avoir un grand soin de soi, ménager sa santé avec soin, to take a great care of himself, to mind his health.

Chrême (m.) huile sacrée, crisom, the holy oyl wherewith a baptized Child is anointed in the Roman Church.

Chretien, Chretienne, (from Christ) Christian.

Un Sentiment Chretien, a Christian Opinion. La Religion Chretienne, the Christian Religion.

Un Chretien, une Chretienne, (Subst.) a Christian.

Les Chretiens & les Infidèles, the Christians and the Infidels. Se faire Chretien, to turn (to become) a Christian.

Poivre bon chretien, good christian pear.

† Parler chretien, to speak French.

Chretienement, Christian-like, like a Christian.

Vivre chretienement, to live like a Christian, like a good Christian.

Chretiené, (f.) Christendom.

Il n'est rien de tel dans toute la Chretiené, there's no such thing in all Christendom.

Christ, (m.) Christ.

Christ le Redempteur du Monde, Christ the Redeemer of the World.

Christianisme, (m.) Christianity, Christian Doctrine, or Profession.

Chromatique, Chromatick.

As, Musique chromatique, chromatick Musick, a nice and most exquisite Musick.

Chronique, chronical, of a long duration.

Maladie chronique, a chronical Disease, a long (or lingering) Disease.

Chronique, (a fem. Subst.) Chronicle.

As, les Chroniques de France, the Chronicles of France.

† Chroniqué, chronicled.

† Chroniquer, to chronicle.

† Chroniqueur, (m.) a Chronicler.

Chronologie, (f.) Chronology.

La Chronologie est tres necessaire à un Homme de lettres, Chronology is of great use to a Scholar.

La Chronologie de Calvisius est fort exacte, Calvisius his Chronology is very exact.

Chronologique, chronological.

Discours chronologique, a chronological Discourse. Table chronologique, a chronological Table.

Chronologiste, (m.) a Chronologist.

Vous n'êtes pas un bon Chronologiste, you are no good Chronologist.

Chronologue, (m.) as Chronologiste.

Chrysolite, (m.) chrysolite, a kind of Jasper of a golden lustre.

Chrysoprase (m.) sorte de Pierre precieuse, Chrysoprasus, a kind of green Stone mixed with golden brightness. This Stone you will find mentioned, Rev. 21. 20.

Chucheter, parler tout bas à l'oreille, to whisper, to whisper in ones ear.

Chut (Interjection de silence) hush, peace here.

Chut, qu'on ne mene point de bruit, hush, make no noise.

Chut, le voici qui vient, hush, here he comes.

Chute, (f.) from Choir, a fall.

Il est mort de la chute, he is dead of his fall.

Chute d'eau, a fall of water.

La Chute (ou le peché) d'Adam, Adam's fall, or transgression.

Chute (ou fin) de periode, the cadence of a period. Les chutes de periodes doivent être diversifiées, the cadences of periods ought to be diversify'd.

† Chute, ou tombée, fallen, or falln.

As, la Rosée est chute, the Dew is falln.

Elle est chute, elle est chute, la grande Babilone, (Rev. 18. 2.) Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen.

Chyle, (m.) chylus, the white Juice of digested meat, the matter whereof our blood is made.

Chymie, (f.) Chymistry, the Art of refining and extracting Metals and Minerals.

Apprendre la Chymie, to learn Chymistry.

Chymique, chymical.

Chymiste, (m.) a Chymist.

Un savant Chymiste, a learned Chymist.

C I.

Ci, a Particle sometimes added to the Pronoun Demonstrative Celui.

As, celui ci, celle ci, this; ceux ci, celles ci, these.

Sometimes you will find it before dessus and dessous. As, il demeure ci dessus, he lives above here. Comme il a été dit ci dessus, as is above said.

Ci dessous, under here, underneath this place.

Il est ci dessous, 'tis under here. Ci dessous git, &c. underneath this place lieth, &c.

Ci devant, before, heretofore. Ci après, afterwards, hereafter.

Ciboire, (m.) Vase où l'on met les hosties, a Pyx, the box (or cup) wherein the Sacrament is put and kept in Popish Churches.

Ciboule (f.) sorte de petit oignon, a chibbol.

Cicatrice, (f.) a cicatrice, a scar.

Une vilaine cicatrice, an ugly scar.

Cicatrisé, cicatrized, scarred.

† Un Habit tout cicatrisé, a ragged Suite, a Suite worn to tatters.

Cicatriser, to cicatrize, or make a scar on.

Se cicatrifer, to cicatrize it self, to heal up to a scar.

Cicerole, (f.) sorte de pois, Chichling, a sort of pease.

Ciclamen } See { Cyclamen.

Cicle } See { Cycle.

† Cicorée } See { Chicorée.

Cidre, (m.) Cider.

Du Cidre de Normandie, Normandy Cider.

Ciel, (m.) in the Plural Cieux, Heaven; Sky; Climate, or Clime.

Le Ciel est une Etendue de matiere fluide, qui environne l'Air & la Terre, & qui se meut d'Orient en Occident, Heaven is an Expansion of fluid Matter, that surrounds the Air and the Earth, and moves from East to West. Les Cieux sont l'Ouvrage du Tout-puissant, the Heavens are the Almighty's Work.

Le Ciel, ou le Sejour des Bienheureux, the Heaven, or Mansion of the Blessed. Gagner le Ciel par ses bonnes œuvres, to gain Heaven by his good works. Ouvrir le Ciel par ses devotions, to open Heaven by his devotions.

Le Ciel est beau, serein, étoilé, 'tis a fine, serene, or starry Sky.

Aller chercher la Mort sous un Ciel étranger, to go and seek for Death in a strange Climate.

Besides, as Heaven in English, so Ciel in French is used for God himself, and his Graces.

As when we say, nos Pechez ont irrité le Ciel contre nous, our Sins have provoked Heaven against us. Il jouit du Ciel même irrité contre lui, he enjoys Heaven, (that is to say, the Graces of Heaven) though provoked against him.

Ciel is also used to express all the Deities which the Poets placed in Heaven.

As, les petits Amours font brûler le Ciel, the little Cupids set the Deities of Heaven on fire.

Ciel in some Cases makes Ciel in the Plural. As, when we say les ciels d'un Tableau, the upper parts of a Picture. Des Ciel de lit, testerns.

Bui Ciel de lit grows out of use, and Fond de lit is the Expression used instead of it.

O Ciel (an Interjection) O Heavens! O Ciel! tout est perdu, O Heavens! all is lost.

Ouvrir les Cieux à quécun, le combler de joie, to rejoyce one to the heart, to fill him with joy. Je voi les Cieux ouverts dans les Yeux que j'adore, I see the Heavens open (or, I see the Heavens in their full glory) when I see the Eyes I adore.

Remuer Ciel & Terre, to turn every stone, to leave no stone unturned.

L'Arc en Ciel, the Rain-bow.

† Les Oiseaux du Ciel, pour dire les Oiseaux de l'Air, the Birds of the Air.

Cierge, (m.) a taper, a wax-taper; a huge wax-candle.

Cieux, the Plural of Ciel, the Heavens. See Ciel.

Cigale, (f.) in Latin Cicada, a kind of Fly that sings all the Summer, but is unknown in England. 'Tis something like a Grasshopper, and commonly so called.

L'Amandier fleurira, & les Cigales se greveront elles mêmes, (Eccles. 12. 5.) the Almond-tree shall flourish, and the Grasshopper shall be a burden.

Cigale, Poisson d'Eau douce, a small freshwater fish, not unlike the Cigale.

Cigale de Mer, a kind of Sea-Crevise.

Cigne, (m.) a Swan; a Poet.

Le Cigne est un grand Oiseau amphibie, tout blanc, & qui a le cou fort long, the Swan is a great amphibious Bird, white all over, and very long-necked.

Les Poetes nous ont dit, que le Cigne chantoit quand il alloit mourir, mais c'est une fable, Poets have told us, that the Swan used to sing when it was a dying, but 'tis a fable.

Le Cigne est un des Oiseaux que les Juifs avoient en abomination, the Swan is one of the Fowls which were an abomination to the Jews.

Le Cigne Mantouan, Virgil. Called Mantouan from Mantua, his Birth-place, in Italy.

Cigogne, (f.) a Stork.

La Cigogne est un grand Oiseau, qui a le bec rouge & long, les jambes rouges & longues, the Stork is a great Bird, whose bill and legs are red and very long.

La Cigogne, aussi bien que le Cigne, est un des Oiseaux defendus sous la Loi, the Stork, as well as the Swan, is one of the Fowls prohibited under the Law.

Cigoneau (m.) le petit de la Cigogne, a young Stork.

Cigue (f.) sorte de Plante venimeuse, hemlock, or a kind thereof. 'Tis a venomous Plant, and the Juice of it cold Poison, used by the Athenians to kill men in common Executions.

Cilice, (m.) a hair-cloth.

Porter le cilice, to wear a hair-cloth. Affliger son Corps de Jeunes & de Cilices, to afflict his Body with fasting and hair-cloths.

Cilindre } See { Cyllindre.

Cilindrique } See { Cyllindrique.

Ciller. As, ciller les yeux, remuer souvent les paupieres, to twinkle with the eyes.

† Cimagrées, (f.) mines & façons affectées, grimasses, mouths.

Cimaile, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, a Ledge, or outward Member in Architecture, fashioned somewhat like a Roman S, and termed a Wave, or Ogee.

Cimarré, (f.) sorte de Robe de Femme ample & longue, a kind of long and wide Gown for Women.

Cimbale. See Cymbale.

Cime, (f.) top.

As, grimper sur la cime d'une Montagne, to climb up to the top of a Hill. La cime d'un Arbre, the top of a Tree.

Or thus. Ils se croyoient à la cime du bonheur, they thought themselves upon the very pinnacle of happiness.

Ciment, (m.) cement, a strong and cleaving mortar; a cement (or solder) used by Goldsmiths.

Cimenté, cemented.

Cimenter, to cement.

As, cimenter une Muraille, to cement a Wall.

Cimentier, (m.) a Cement-maker.

Cimeterre, (m.) Simitar, a broad kind of Sword.

Cimetiere, (m.) a Church-yard, a burying Place.

Chaque Paroisse a son Cimetiere, every Parish has its proper Church-yard.

L'Italie étoit autrefois le Cimetiere des François, Italy was formerly the Church-yard of the French.

† La Toux du Cimetiere, the Church-yard Cough.

Cimier, (m.) buttock-beef; the buttock-piece of a Deer; the Crest (or Top) of a Head-piece.

Pallas

Pallas avoit pour Cimier de son Casque une Tête de Cheval, Pallas had on the top of her Head-piece a Head of a Horse, or had her Head-piece crested with the Head of a Horse.

Cinabre, (m.) cinoper, vermillion.

Cinamome, (m.) cinnamon.

J'ai parfumé ma Couche de myrrhe, d'aloë, & de cinamome, (Prov. 7. 17.) I have perfumed my Bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinamon.

†Cingler, to sail.

As, cingler en haute Mer, to sail upon the Main.

Cinique } See { Cynique.
Cinnabre }
Cinamome } Cinabre.
Cinamome } Cinamome.

Cinq, five.

Ils étoient cinq, they were five.

Cinq fois, five times. Cinq à la fois, five together, five at once.

Cinq cens, five hundred. Cinq mille, five thousand.

Cinquantaine, (f.) fifty, the number of fifty.

Par cinquantes, by fifties.

Cinquante, fifty.

†Cinquantenier, (m.) a Commander of fifty Men.

Cinquantième, fiftieth.

Il est le cinquantième, he is the fiftieth.

Cinquième, fifth.

Au chapitre cinquième, in the fifth Chapter.

En cinquième lieu, fifthly.

Cintre, (m.) a Centry, or Mould for an Arch.

Cintré, moulded for an Arch.

Cintrer, to make mould for an Arch.

Cion } See { Scion.
Ciprés } Cyprés.

Cirage, (m.) from Cire, a stuff made of wax (amongst other things) to liquor boots or shoes withal; that part of a Picture which is done in wax-colour.

Circonci, circumcised.

Circoncir, to circumcise.

Circoncir un Enfant, to circumcise a Child.

This Verb is also used in a figurative sense. As, Deut. 10. 16. Circoncisez donc le prepuce de votre Cœur, circumcise therefore the skin of your Heart.

Circonciseur, (m.) Circumciser.

Circoncision, (f.) Circumcision.

Le Mystère de la Circoncision, the Mystery of Circumcision.

Circonférence, (f.) compass, circumference.

Tirer une ligne du Centre à la Circonférence, to draw a line from the Center to the Circumference.

Circonflexe, circumflex.

Un Accent circonflexe, un Circonflexe, a Circumflex.

Circonlocution, (f.) periphrase, circumlocution.

User de circonlocution, to use circumlocutions.

Circonspect, circumspect, wary, wise.

C'est un homme fort circonspect, he is a mighty wary man.

Circonspexion, (f.) circumspection, wariness.

Avec circonspection, warily, circumspectly.

Circonstance, (f.) circumstance.

Une circonstance fâcheuse, a sad circumstance.

S'arrêter aux circonstances du Temps, to mind the circumstances of the Time.

Circonstancié, circumstanced.

Un fait bien circonstancié, a fact set out in all its circumstances.

Circonstancier, to tell the circumstances of.

As, circonstançier un fait, to tell the circumstances of a fact.

Circonvallation, (f.) circumvallation.

Faire (tirer) une circonvallation, to make (or draw) a circumvallation.

Les Lignes de circonvallation, the Lines of circumvallation.

†Circonvenir, to circumvent, cozen, or deceive; to accuse falsely, Luke 3. 14; to take a thing from one by false accusation, Luke 19. 1.

†Circonvention, (f.) circumvention, deceit.

User de circonvention, to be deceitful in his ways, to get deceitfully.

†Circonvenu, circumvented, cozened, deceived.

Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 2. 11. Afin que nous ne soyons point circonvenus par Satan, lest Satan should get an advantage of us.

Circonvoisin, neighbouring, near adjoining to.

Un Lieu circonvoisin, a neighbouring Place.

Peuples circonvoisins, neighbouring Nations.

†Circonvoisins, (m.) Neighbours, as Luke 1. 58.

†Circuir, to compass, environ, or inclose.

As, Jos. 6. 3. Vous circuirez la Ville, you shall compass the City.

Je lave mes mains en l'Innocence, & circuis ton Autel, O Eternel, (Ps. 26. 6.) I will wash my hands in Innocency, so will I compass thine Altar, O Lord.

And Ps. 22. 16. Une Assemblée de gens méfaisans m'a circui, the Assembly of the Wicked have inclosed me.

Circuit, (m.) compass, circuit, circumference.

Faire un grand circuit, to fetch a great compass.

Or thus. Les Murailles de cette Ville ont trois lieues de circuit, the Walls of this Town are three leagues about.

Un long circuit de paroles, a great circumlocution.

Circulaire, circular, round, orbicular.

Ligne circulaire, a circular Line.

Lettres circulaires, qu'on envoie à plusieurs Personnes & en divers Lieux, a Writ.

Circulation, (f.) Circulation.

La Circulation du Sang, the Circulation of the Blood.

Circuler, to circulate.

Le Sang ne fait que circuler, the Blood does ever circulate.

Cire, (f.) wax.

Cire blanche, rouge, jaune, verte, white, red, yellow, green wax. Fait de cire, waxen, made of wax.

Ciré, waxed; seared.

Cirer, to wax; to sear.

Cirer des botes, ou des Souliers, to wax boots, or shoes.

Cirer le fil, to sear thread.

Cirier, (m.) a Wax-chandler.

Ciron, (m.) a hand-worm.

Cirque (m.) Circus, a Place in Rome, wherein the People sat to behold Plays, Games, and publick Exercises.

Cirure, (f.) a waxing of boots or shoes.

Cisailles, (f.) great sheers, Garden sheers, Tinmen, Braçiers, and Pinmakers sheers.

Ciseau, (m.) a chisel.

Ciseaux, (f.) Cizars.

Une bonne paire de ciseaux, a good pair of cizars.

Ciséle, cut with a chisel.

Velours ciselé, Velvet cut into flowers.

Ciseler, to cut with a chisel.

Ciseler du velours, to cut velvet into flowers.

Ciseleur, (m.) a Goldsmith that works his Plate with a Chisel; also the same as Decoupeur.

Ciselure, (f.) chisel-work.

Cisoir, (m.) a Goldsmith's Tool, which he cuts gold and silver withal.

Cisterne. See Citerne.

Cistre (m.) Sistrum, a kind of Musical Instrument having something of a Lute, and common in Italy.

But, 2 Sam. 6. 5, for the word Cistres in French, you will find the word of Cornet, in the English Translation.

Citadelle, (f.) Cittadel.

Une forte Citadelle, a strong Cittadel.

Citation, (f.) from Citer, citation.

La Citation d'un Auteur, the quoting of an Author.

Cité, (f.) City, Town.

As, la Cité de Paris, the City of Paris. La sainte Cité, the holy City, that is Jerusalem.

But you must observe that, though this Word signifies a Town or City, yet it is hardly used but when we speak of Places consisting of two Towns, an old one and another built since.

Thus by la Cité de Paris, is meant the old Paris.

Cité (the Partic.) cited, summoned to appear; quoted, alledged.

Citer, to cite, or summon to appear; to quote, or to alledge.

Citerne, (f.) a Cistern.

Une grande Citerne, a great Cistern.

Citoyen, (m.) a Citizen of old, a Greek or Roman Citizen.

Ils le vinrent prier de leur rendre leurs Citoyens qu'il avoit fait Prisonniers, they came and pray'd him to restore unto them their Citizens whom he had made Prisoners.

Citron, (m.) lemon.

Le citron mangé avec du sucre fortifie l'estomac, lemon eaten with sugar fortifies the stomach.

Couleur de citron, lemon-colour.

Citronné, that hath the smell or taste of lemon.

Citronnier, (m.) a Lemon-tree.

Citrouille, (f.) sorte de Plante, a Gourd.

Civade, (f.) a kind of beard-fish.

Civadiere (f.) la Voile de Beaupré, the bolt-sprit Sail.

Civette, (f.) a civet-cat; civet, a kind of fallet herb.

Civiere, (f.) hand-barrow.

Civil, civil, of (or belonging) to Towns and Cities; civil, courteous, mannerly, well bred; civil, not criminal.

Le Droit civil, the civil Law. Un Procès civil, a civil Process. Une Guerre civile, a civil War.

Un homme tout à fait civil, a very civil man. Une femme civile, a civil woman.

Une Affaire civile, qui n'est pas criminelle, a civil Matter, a Matter not criminal.

Civilement, civilly.

Il me receut fort civilement, he received me very civilly.

Civilisé, civilized.

Un Peuple civilisé, a civilized Nation.

Civiliser, to civilize, or make civil.

La Conversation des Dames l'a un peu civilisé, his conversing with Ladies hath made him a little civil.

Or thus. As, civiliser une Affaire criminelle, to turn a criminal into a civil Cause.

Civilité, (f.) civility.

La Civilité est le véritable Caractere d'une personne bien née, Civility is the true Character of a well-born person.

Or thus. Un Gentilhomme qui n'a point de civilité, donne lieu de croire qu'il n'est Gentilhomme qu'à fux titre, qu'il peut y avoir de la fraude dans sa Succession, & que peut être il doit sa naissance à un Laquais ou Palefrenier, when a Gentleman carries himself uncivilly, he gives occasion to think that his Title is false, that there may be some fraud in his Succession, and that possibly he owes himself to a Groom or a Footman.

Faire civilité à quécun, to receive (or entertain) one civilly; to pay his respects to one. Recevoir quécun avec beaucoup de civilité, to receive one very handsomely, or civilly, to show him a great deal of respect.

Civique, civick.

As, Couronne civique, a civick Crown, a Garland of Oak given to him that saved a Citizen by him that was so saved.

Cizailles }

Cizeau }

Cizelé }

Cizeler }

Cizeleur }

Cizelure }

Cizoir }

Cisailles. }

Ciseau. }

Ciséle. }

Ciseler. }

Cizeleur. }

Cizelure. }

Cizoir. }

Clabaud, (m.) a hunting Dog with extream long ears; a Sor.

†Un Chapeau qui fait le clabaud, a Hat that flaps down.

†Clabauder, to clamour, to clamour against.

†Clabauderie, (f.) clamour.

†Clabauder, (m.) a Clamouner.

Claie, (f.) a hurdle.

Etre traîné sur une claie au Lieu du Supplice, to be drawn upon a hurdle to the Place of Execution.

†Claies (en Termes de Guerre) sont des Bran-

Branches d'Arbres etroitement entrelacées les unes avec les autres, & destinées à couvrir des Traverfes & des Logemens, après les avoir changées de terre, pour se garantir des Feux d'artifice & des Pierres que l'Enemi peut jeter dessus. Quand l'Affiegeant veut passer un Fosse qui vient d'être saigné, il jette des Claies sur la Bouë qui reste au fond, pour en affermir le Passage.

Clair, clear, bright, or transparent; clear, thin, not thick; clear, evident, or plain.

As, du crystal clair, clear crystal. Des vitres claires, clear windows.

Du Vin clair, clear Wine. De l'eau claire, clear water. Un Teint clair, a clear Complexion. Une Toile claire, a thin Cloth. Cela est clair, la chose est claire, 'tis a clear case, a plain case. Il n'est rien de plus clair que ses Ecrits, there is nothing more plain than his Writings. Un Style clair, a clear (or easy) Style.

Une Veüe claire, a clear Sight. Une Voix claire, a clear (or a shrill) Voice.

Clair, (Subst.) shine, or light. As, clair de Lune, Moon-shine.

Il commence à faire clair, it begins to be light.

Clair, (Adv.) clear, clearly, perfectly. As, je ne voi pas assez clair, I don't see clear enough.

Or thus. Voir clair, ou avoir bonne veüe, to have a clear eye-sight. Entendre clair, to hear well.

Il void clair dans cette Affaire, he does understand this Affair thoroughly, he sees into the very bottom of it. Il n'a pas vu bien clair dans cette matiere, he has not had a full knowledge of this matter.

Clair-obscur, (m.) Terme de Peinture, the Art of ordering of Lights and Shadows.

Clair-foncé, thin, or scarce. As, les veritables honnêtes gens sont bien clair-foncéz, true honest men are very scarce.

Clair-voyant, clear-sighted, quick-sighted.

Un Esprit clair-voyant, an acute man, a man of an acute wit.

Claiement, clearly, plain.

Il vous entend claiement, he understands you clearly.

Parler claiement, to speak plain. Il écrit claiement, he writes plain, he has a plain way of writing.

Claiet, claret.

Vin claiet, claret Wine.

Eau claiette, an excellent Water against all the Diseases of the Matrix. 'Tis made of Brandy, Cinnamon, Sugar, and old red Rose-water.

Clairon, (m.) sorte d'Instrument à Vent, Clarion, a sort of Wind-Instrument.

Clameur, (f.) clamour, outcry.

Faire de vaines clameurs, to make idle clamours.

Clandestin, clandestine, secret, private.

Un Mariage clandestin, a clandestine (secret, or private) Match.

Clandestinement, privately, in hugger-mugger.

Se marier clandestinement, to marry privately, in hugger-mugger.

Clapier, (m.) Lieu où l'on nourrit les Lapins, a Clapper of Conies.

† Claque, (m.) a clap (as on the breech, or upon the palm of one's hand.)

† Claquemurer, to confine.

As, se claquemurer aux choses du Ménage, to confine himself to the cares of a House.

Claiser, to twang.

Cocher qui fait claiser son fouet, a Coachman that makes his whip twang.

† Faire bien claiser son fouet, faire du bruit dans le Monde, y faire parler de soi, to make a noise in the World.

† Tous Peuples, claquez des mains, jetez cris d'esjoüissance à Dieu avec une Voix de trionfe (Ps. 47. 1.) O clap your hands, all ye People, shout unto God with the voice of Triumph.

† Claquer les fesses à quëcun, to clap one's breech.

Clarifié, clarify'd.

Clarifier (from Clair) to clarify.

Se clarifier, to clarify, or to become clear.

Clarté, (f.) clearness; light.

As, la clarté du Soleil, de l'Air, de l'Eau, du Verre, du Teint, des Yeux, de la Voix, d'un Discours, &c. the clearness of the Sun, of the Air, Water, Glass, Complexion, Eyes, Voice, Discourse, &c.

Faire apporter de la clarté, to call for a light.

Classe, (f.) a Classis, Rank, or Order; a Rank, or Degree, in a School; a Place where Street-Porters wait for employment.

Classe, en Termes de Mer, est une Division de tous les Pilotes, Maîtres, Contre-maîtres, Calfateurs, Canoniers, & generalement de tous les Matelots des Provinces Maritimes du Royaume. Et, suivant l'Ordre du Roi, ils sont enrolez & distribuez, en trois quatre, ou cinq Parties; chacune desquelles est appelée Classe, pour servir alternativement sur les Vaisseaux de sa Majesté, de trois, quatre, ou cinq années l'une. Ce qui facilite les Armemens, sans qu'il soit nécessaire de fermer les Ports, ni d'interrompre le Commerce des Particuliers, comme on étoit obligé de faire avant l'Etablissement des Classes.

Classique, classick, or classical.

As, un Auteur classique, a classick Author. Ciceron, Terence, Horace, & Virgile sont des Auteurs classiques Latins, Cicero, Terence, Horace, and Virgil are all Latine classick Authors.

Claveau, (m.) a dangerous Disease amongst Sheep; the haunse (or lintel) of a Door, of a square Window, or Cornish.

Clavecin, (m.) Instrument de Musique fort harmonieux, Clavicords, a kind of Musical Instrument.

Toucher le Clavecin, to play upon the Clavicords.

Clavette, (f.) a Spring-pin, the little piece of Iron wherewith Tradesmen keep in the Iron pins of their Shop windows.

Clavicule, (f.) Terme d'Anatomie, a camel bone.

Clavier, (m.) the Keys of a Musical Instrument (such as Organs, Virginals, Clavicords, &c.) a Key-chain.

Claufe, (f.) a clause, or article.

As, un Contrat qui porte une claufe avantageuse, a Contract bearing a good clause.

Il omit la Claufe principale, he left out the principal clause, or the main Thing.

Claustal, (from Cloître) of, or belonging to a Cloyster; Monastick, Monastical.

Vie claustrale, a Monastick Life.

Claye. See Claie.

Clef, (f.) a key; the key of an Arch; a cliff, in Musick; a brace, to hold beams together; the gaffle of a cross-bow; the middle wedge of a Boot-last.

Fermer à la clef, to lock up. Calais est une des Clefs du Royaume, Calais is one of the Keys of the Kingdom.

J'avois mis les clefs de mon Ame en la garde de ce Voleur, cd. je lui avois donné un libre accès dans mon cœur, I had intrusted that Rogue with my heart.

† Jeter les clefs sur la fosse, renoncer à la Succession d'une personne parce qu'elle doit trop, to renounce the Succession, to sequester.

Clemence, (f.) clemency, graciousness, mercifulness.

Clement, clement, gracious, merciful.

Le Roi est clement, the King is a gracious Prince.

Clementines, (f.) the Constitutions of Pope Clement the fifth.

Clerc, (m.) Clerk, a Lawyers Clerk; Clerk, Priest, or Church-man, one that is in Orders; a Scholar, or learned Man.

Etre Clerc chez un Procureur, to be an Attorney's Clerk. Le Maître Clerc, the chief Clerk.

Clerc d'un Corps de Metier, celui qui sert ce Corps, & qui en fait partie, the Clerk of a Company of Tradesmen. Clerc d'Office, one of the Officers belonging to the King's Table.

Clerc tonsuré, qui a pris la tonsure, a Clerk who has received his tonsure. Clerc de Chapelle, a Clerk of the King's Chappel.

† Ton Pere n'est pas grand Clerc, thy Father is no great Scholar, is but a mean Scholar. Les plus grands Clercs ne sont pas les plus fins, c'est à dire que les plus savans ne sont pas les plus adroits, the greatest Scholars are none of the wisest.

† Je ne suis pas grand Clerc en matiere de Guerre, I have no great skill in warlike Affairs.

† Je vien de faire un pas de Clerc, I made a great mistake.

Clergé, (m.) the Clergy, the Church-men.

Un Membre du Clergé, a Clergy-man, a Church-man.

Clerical, of a Clerk, of a Clergyman.

Etre en habit clerical, to be in a Clergymans habit.

Clericature, (f.) Clerkship, the being a Clerk, or Priest, or in Orders.

Droit (Privilege) de Clericature, the Privilege of the Clergy (which is to be cryed before the Ordinary.)

† Client, (m.) Clientele, (f.) a Client. The modern Word is Partie.

Cligne-mufette, (f.) Hide and find.

As, Jouër à cligne-mufette, to play at hide and find.

Cligner les yeux, to twinkle with the eyes.

† Ils ont cligné de leurs yeux, afin qu'ils n'appergoivent pas, (Matt. 13. 15.) their eyes they have closed, lest at any time they should see.

† Clignoter, remuer tres souvent les paupieres, to keep the eye-lids in a frequent motion.

Climacterique. See Climaterique.

Climat, (m.) Climate, Clime.

Un Climat chaud, ou froid, a hot or cold Climate.

La France est un bon Climat, France is a good Climate.

Climaterique, climacterical.

L'Année climaterique, the climacterical Year, or every seventh year of ones Life.

La grande Année climaterique, the great climacterical Year (being the dangerous Year of 63, at which Age divers worthy Men have died.)

J'epouse une vieille Antique qui conte plus de viut Printems après son Jour climaterique, I marry a piece of Antiquity which is above 20 years beyond her climacterical.

Clin d'œil, (m.) from Cligner, the twinkling of an eye.

En un clin d'œil, in a moment, in a trice, in an instant, quickly, out of hand. Cela s'est fait en un clin d'œil, that was done in a trice.

Or thus. As, ils étoient obeïssans au moindre clin d'œil, they were ready at a call, or at the least sign.

Clinquallerie, (f.) Pedlars ware, or Trade.

Clinquallier, (m.) a Pedlar, one that sells pins, needles, knives, and such other small ware.

Clinquant, (m.) thin plate-lace of Gold or Silver; a thing that has but an outward shew.

Cliquetis, (m.) clattering, or noise.

As, le cliquetis des Armes, le bruit qu'elles font lors qu'elles se touchent, the noise (or clattering) of Arms.

Cliquettes, (f.) a Childs rattle, or clack; a Lazers clacker, or clapper.

† Cliftere, (m.) a clifter.

As, donner un cliftere à quëcun, to give one a clifter.

Vos Mots coulent si doucement, que chacun d'eux vaut un Cliftere, your Words run so fluently that every one of them is worth a Clifter.

Note that Lavement is the Word now in use, instead of Cliftere.

Clitoris, (m.) Terme d'Anatomie, the upper part of a Womans womb.

Clouaque, (m. & f.) a common Sink.

Un puant Clouaque, cd. une personne puante, a stinking Man.

Cloche, (f.) a bell; a bell-like glass, to cover Melons with; a kind of pot for the stewing of fruit.

Pendre une cloche, to hang up a bell. Sonner une cloche, to ring a bell.

La cloche sonne, the bell rings.

Cloche-pié, As, aller à cloche-pié, to go halting upon one leg.

Clocher, ou boiter, to halt, to go lamely, to be lame.

Clocher devant un boiteux, to halt before a cripple.

Or thus. Cette Comparaison cloche, this is a lame Comparison.
 Clocher, (a masc. Subst.) from Cloche, a Steeple, a Church-steeple; a Steeple, or Parish; a Steeple, or Church.
 As, un haut Clocher, a high Steeple.
 Il y a en France un grand nombre de Clochers, there is in France a great number of Steeples.
 † Il soutint jusqu'au bout l'honneur de son Clocher, he maintained to the very last the honour of his Church.
 † Clochette, (f.) for petite cloche, a little bell, a small bell.
 Clochettes, the bell-flower.
 Cloison, (f.) a Hedge; a Partition-Wall; a Fold.
 Pourquoi as tu rompu ses Cloisons, de sorte que tous les Passans en ont cueilli les raisins, (Psalm. 80. 13.) why hast thou then broken down her Hedges, so that all they that pass by the way do pluck her?
 L'Ange s'arrêta en un Sentier de Vignes, ayant une Cloison de ça & une Cloison de là, (Numb. 22. 24.) the Angel stood in a Path of the Vineyards, a Wall being on this side and a Wall on that side.
 Bâtissez des Cloisons pour vos Troupeaux, (Numb. 32. 24.) build the Folds for your Sheep.
 Cloître, (m.) a Cloyster.
 Un beau Cloître, a fine Cloyster.
 † Clopiner, to halt.
 As, le Gouteux qui sent sa Goutte, clopine des qu'il veut faire un pas, the Gouty Man feeling his Gout halts at the first step he ferches.
 Clorre, to finish, or conclude.
 As, clorre un Conte, ou un Inventaire, to finish an Account, or an Inventory.
 † Clos, close; closed up; stopped; fenced, Joseph. 10. 20.
 Se tenir clos & couvert, to keep close.
 Si tot qu'il eut les yeux clos, on ne fongea plus à lui, no sooner were his eyes closed up, but he was forgotten.
 La bouche close, (Psalm. 63. 11.) the mouth stopped.
 Or thus. As, Matt. 22. 12. Et il eut la bouche close, and he was speechless.
 Ce sont Lettres closes, cd. ce sont des choses qu'on ne fait pas, these are mysterious things.
 Clos, (Subst.) See Cloture.
 Clouffer, comme font les poules, to clock, like a hen.
 Cloutral. See Claustral.
 Cloture, (f.) the compass (or circumference) of a Monastery; the Walls that surround it.
 Garder la cloture, to keep his Monks' Vow.
 Or thus. As, Ex. 25. 25. tu lui feras aussi à l'environ une cloture d'une paume, and thou shalt make unto it a border of an hand-breadth round about.
 Ayant rompu la cloture de la Paroi entre-moyenne, (Eph. 2. 14.) having broke down the middle Wall of Partition between us.
 Clou, (m.) a nail; a boil.
 Mettre un clou dans une Muraille, to knock a nail in the Wall. Arracher un clou, to take (or pull) out a nail.
 Votre clou n'est rien au prix de celui que j'ai, your boil is nothing in comparison of mine.
 Clou à crochet, a tenter-hook. Clou de girofle, a clove.
 Clou de Rue, blessure que le Cheval recoit dans les Rues, en mettant le pié sur un clou, a hurt which a Horse receives by a nail.
 Un clou chasse l'autre, cd. qu'une passion détruit l'autre, une chose en fait perdre (en détruit) une autre, one nail drives out another.
 Sans cela, je ne donnerois pas un clou de tout l'esprit qu'on peut avoir, if it were not for that, I would not give a pins head for all the wit one might have.
 Quand on est mort, il ne sert pas d'un clou d'être en Statue de marbre, when a man is dead, what does it signifie to him to be set up in a marble Statue?
 † Je lui ai bien rivé ses cloux, I fitted him very well, he and I were well met.
 Cloué, nailed.
 Or thus. † Il est cloué à sa maison, he keeps close at home. Je suis cloué sur mon Ouvrage, I am constantly at work.

 Une Gravité clouée, qui ne se demient point, a steady Gravity.
 Clouffer, comme font les Poules, qui ont de petits Poulets, to clock, as a Hen with her Chicks about her.
 On dit aussi Clouffer, avec un G.
 Clouterie, (f.) Nail-Trade.
 La Clouterie va toujours, the Nail-trade never fails.
 Cloutier, (m.) a Nail-Smith.
 † Clystere. See Clistere.

C O.

Coadjuteur, (m.) Coadjutor.
 As, Coadjuteur d'un Evêque, a Bishop's Coadjutor.
 Coadjuteur est un Ecclesiastique qui a le Brevet du Roi pour aider un Evêque, ou un Archevêque, qui est vieux ou malade, dans les Fonctions Episcopales, & pour le succéder quand le Siege sera vacant.
 Le Mot de Coadjuteur est aussi un Mot d'usage parmi les Jesuites. Car ils appellent Coadjuteur Temporel un simple Frere Jesuite; & Coadjuteur Spirituel, un Jesuite qui fait en public les trois Vœux de Religion, mais qui ne fait pas le quatrieme, qui est celui d'aller en Mission, là où il plaira au Pape.
 Coadjutorerie, (f.) Dignité de Coadjuteur, a Coadjutors Place, or Dignity.
 Coadjutrice, (f.) Coadjutrix.
 Coagulation, (f.) Terme de Medecine, coagulation, congealing, curding, or turning into curd.
 Coagulé, coagulated, congealed, curded, or turned into curd.
 Coaguler, to coagulate, congeal, curd, or turn into curd.
 Coasser, to croak, (as frogs do.)
 Coc, (m.) a Cock; a Plant called Dittany, or Dittander.
 Le Coc chante, the Cock crows. Le chant du Coc, the Cocks crowing.
 Coc sauvage, a particular kind of Pheasant in the Northern Countrys. Coc de Bois, a black and rough-legged Moor-cock. Coc d'Inde, a Turkey-cock.
 Coc de clocher, a Weather-cock. Coc à l'âne, an idle (or impertinent) Discourse; a lampooning Poem in short Verses.
 † C'est le Coc du Village, ou le Coc de la Paroisse, he is the Cock (or chief Man) of the Parish.
 † Cocagne. As, Pais de cocagne, a plentiful Country, a good Country to live in.
 Coche, (m.) a kind of Coach, or rather a genteel sort of Wagon; a great Boat, to carry people upon a River from one place to another; a young Sow, or Sow-pig.
 Retenir une Place au Coche, to take a Place in the Coach.
 † Coche, (f.) from Cochon, a Fustilings, or a Woman grown fat by ease and laziness; the nock (or notch) of an arrow.
 Cochemar, or Cauchemar, (m.) the Nightmare.
 Cochenille, (f.) Graine dont on se sert pour teindre l'Ecarlate, cartheneal, (where with Scarlet is dy'd.)
 Cocher, (m.) a Coachman; the leader of a Coach.
 Un bon Cocher, a good Coachman.
 Cocher, (a Verb) to tread.
 As, le Coc coche la Poule, the Cock treads the Hen.
 Cochere. As, Porte cochere, a Coach-house Door.
 † C'est une Porte cochere (parlant d'une Femme qui a l'Ouverture grande) there is a broad Way into her.
 Cochet, (m.) petit coc, petit poulet coc, a young cock chick.
 Cochevi, or Cochevis, (m.) the copped Lark, the Lark that hath a little tuft standing on her head.
 Le Cochevis chante agreablement, the copped Lark sings curiously.
 Cochon, (m.) a Hog, a Pig.
 Acheter un cochon, to kill a hog. Le co-

chon vit de glands, de son, &c. a hog lives upon acorns, bran, &c.
 Un Cochon d'Inde, a Guinea-pig. Cochon de lait, a sucking Pig.
 † Un gros cochon, un homme gras comme un cochon, a man as fat as a hog.
 Cochonnée, (f.) tous les Cochons de la portée d'une Truie, a litter.
 Cochonner, faire de petits cochons, to farrow, to pig, to bring forth pigs.
 † Cocon, (m.) See Coque.
 Coction, (f.) Coction, Concoction.
 Coction tardive, on imparfaite, a slow (or imperfect) Coction.
 La Coction se fait bien ou mal, the Concoction is well or ill made.
 Cocu, (m.) a Cuckold.
 Un Cocu patient, doux, pacifique, a patient, quiet, sweet-natur'd Cuckold, a Wittal, a contented Cuckold.
 Un Cocu fôlé, furieux, dangereux, méchant, cruel, malicieux, ombrageux, a mad (a furious, or dangerous) Cuckold.
 Faire son mari Cocu, to make her husband a Cuckold, to cuckold him.
 Si les Cocus portoient tous des Cornes, on apprehenderoit de fortir dans les Rues, if all Cuckolds did wear Horns, people would be afraid of appearing abroad.
 † Cocu, a Cuckoo. See Coucou.
 Cocuage, (m.) cuckoldship.
 As, le Cocuage est en regne autant que jamais, Cuckoldship was never more in fashion than it is now.
 Code, (m.) a Volume of the Civil Law.
 Codicille, (m.) Ecrit qu'on ne fait pas dans toutes les formes que demandent les Loix ou les Coutumes, & qui marque les dernieres Volontez d'une personne, a Codicil.
 Codignac } Cotignac.
 Coiffe } Coife.
 Coiffé } Coifé.
 Coiffier } See Coiffer.
 Coiffeuse } Coiffeuse.
 Coiffure } Coiffeure.
 Coëne } Coine.
 Coëternel, qui est de toute eternité avec un autre, coeternal.
 L'Ame n'est pas coëternelle à Dieu, the Soul is not coeternal with God.
 Cœur, (m.) the heart; heart, mind, or Soul; heart, memory; heart, spirit, or courage; heart, love, or affection; the heart, midst, or middle of a thing.
 As, le Cœur est situé au milieu de la Poitrine, & est formé en pyramide, ou en maniere de pomme de Pin, the Heart is seated in the midst of the Breast, and is shaped Pyramid-like, or like a Pine-apple. Le cœur est le principe de la Vie, c'est la partie qui vit la premiere, & qui meurt la dernière, the heart is the principle of Life, 'tis that part which lives first and dies last. Le Cœur bat incessamment, the Heart beats continually.
 Un mal de cœur, a pain at the heart. J'ai mal au cœur, le cœur me fait mal, my heart akes. Cela me fait mal au cœur, that makes my heart ake; also that vexes me, troubles me. Ces paroles me fendent le cœur, those expressions break my heart.
 Dire ce qu'on a sur le cœur, to tell his mind, to discover his thoughts. Ouvrir (decharger) son cœur à quëcun, to reveal all his whole heart to one. J'ai quëque chose sur le cœur que je n'ose dire, something lies upon my heart, (or spirit) which I dare not reveal. Il conoit le fond de mon cœur, & mes plus secrettes pensées, he knows the bottom of my heart, and my most secret thoughts. Le cœur me disoit, que quëque mal lui arriveroit, my mind told me, that he should fall into some mischance or other.
 Avoir (ou prendre) quëque chose à cœur, to take a thing to heart. J'ai cette chose grandement à cœur, I take that very much to heart, it sticks much to my heart. Je pren à cœur vos Interets, I am mindful of your concerns. Cela me tient plus au cœur que vous ne croyez, that sticks more to my heart (that thing troubles me more) than you think of. Sa Femme lui tenoit encore au cœur, his Wife stuck stuck to his heart, had still some share in his affection.

Un homme qui a le cœur bon, a man that hath a good heart. Qui a le cœur droit & sincère, who hath an upright heart. Il a le cœur grand, he hath a great soul. Son cœur est au dessus des Sceptres & des Couronnes, his soul is above Crowns and Scepters. Avoir le cœur bien placé, to have a heart generously disposed. Avoir le cœur gros, (Ps. 101. 5.) to have a proud heart.

Apprendre par cœur, to learn by heart, or without Book. Savoir par cœur, to know by heart, to know without book. Je met bien avant ses paroles dans mon cœur, I lay up her words in my mind, or memory.

Le cœur lui manque, il est tout abattu, his heart fails him, he is dejected, or faint hearted. Prendre cœur, to take courage, to pluck up a good heart. Donner du cœur, to hearten, encourage, or animate. Un homme de cœur, a stout man, a valiant man, a man of courage. Un homme qui n'a point de cœur, a man of no courage, a faint-hearted man.

Mon cœur, my heart, my love. Donnez moi votre cœur, give me your heart. Enseignez moi le chemin du cœur, shew me the way to your heart, that is, to gain your love. En fin j'ai trouvé le chemin du cœur de ma Belle, at last I found out the way to my Mistress's heart, I found the way to gain her love. Elle jette son cœur à la tête des gens, she throws her heart at peoples heads, that is, she makes the first steps in point of love.

De bon cœur, with a good heart, or with a good will. Du fond du cœur, from the bottom of the heart. De gayeté de cœur, cheerfully, with a cheerful mind. De tout mon cœur, with all my heart, or soul.

Le cœur de la France, the heart (the very heart) of France. Etre au cœur de l'Hiver ou de l'Été, to be in the midst of the Winter or Summer.

Or thus. Je n'ai rien tant à cœur que de vous rendre service, I have no greater desire (or passion) than to serve you. C'est un homme tout de cœur, he is a man altogether of a noble (or generous) temper. Il prend un cœur de Roi, he takes it up like a King. Cheval de deux cœurs, an untoward Horse. C'est un Cheval qui ne manie que par contrainte, & duquel on n'a pas gagné le consentement.

Coffin, (m.) sorte de petit Panier, a kind of basket, to put candles in.

Coffre, (m.) a trunk; a chest; a close-stool; the clear chest of a Deer.

Un coffre plein de pistoles, a trunk (or chest) full of Pistols.

† Elle est belle au coffre, cd. elle est laide, mais riche, her beauty lies in the Trunk, that is to say, she is an ugly good fortune.

† Coffre (en Termes de Siege) est une Profondeur particuliere, creusée dans le fond d'un Fossé sec, tirée par la largeur du même Fossé, de l'un des côtes à l'autre, & couverte par des Soliveaux, qui sont elevez de deux piez au dessus du Plan du Fossé; de sorte que cette Elevation sert d'un Parapet, qui a des Embrasures. Et, comme les Coffres sont des Ouvrages preparez à loisir par les Troupes d'une Place, ils servent à faire feu sur l'Assiegeant, quand il entreprend le passage du Fossé. La Largeur du Coffre est à peu près de 15 à 18 piez, & sa profondeur de 6 à 7. Sa seule Longueur le distingue de la Caponniere, qui n'occupe pas toute la largeur du Fossé. Il differe aussi de la Traverse & de la Galerie, en ce que ces deux derniers Ouvrages se font par les Assiegeans, & le Coffre par les Troupes de la Place. L'Assiegeant s'empale contre les Coffres, en jettant des Terres du côté que vient le feu des Mousquetaires qui y sont logez.

† Coffre, put in a fail.

† Coffrer, to put in a fail.

On l'a coffré, he is put in a fail.

† Coffret, (m.) for petit Coffre, a little Trunk.

Cognassier } See Coignacier.

Cogné } See Coigné.

Cognée } See Coignée.

Cogner } See Coigner.

Cogneti

Cognoissance

Cognoissant

Cognoistre

} See

} Conu.

} Conoissance.

} Conoissant.

} Conoître.

Cohabitation, (f.) Cohabitation.

Or thus. As, Lev. 18.22. Tu ne coucheras point avec le mâle par cohabitation feminine, c'est abomination, thou shalt not lie with mankind as with womankind, it is an abomination.

L'homme duquel sera sortie semence de cohabitation lavera d'eau toute sa chair, & sera touillé jusqu'au soir, (Lev. 15. 16.) if any mans seed of copulation go out from him, then he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be unclean until the even.

And, Lev. 18. 20. Tu ne coucheras point avec la femme de ton prochain par cohabitation de Semence, thou shalt not lie carnally with thy Neighbours Wife.

Cohabiter, to cohabit, to lie together.

As, Lev. 18. 23. tu ne cohabiteras point avec aucune bête, pour te fouiller avec elle, thou shalt not lie with any beast, to defile thy self therewith.

Coheritier, (m.) Coheir, fellow-heir, joyntheir.

Nous sommes Heritiers de Dieu, & Coheritiers de Christ, (Rom. 8. 17.) we are Heirs of God, and joyn Heirs with Christ.

Cohorte, (f.) a Cohort, or Regiment of Foot. For Cohors amongst the ancient Romans consisted of five or six hundred Men, which were divided into three Companies called Manipuli, commanded by a Tribune, or Camp-Master.

† Il brave des Sergens la timide Cohorte, he out-braves the white-livered Troop of Sergeants.

Cohue, (f.) a clamour, or out-cry of several people together.

Coi, quiet, still.

As, tenez vous coi, be still, be quiet, keep your self quiet. In this case Coi is used Adverbially. But sometimes you will find it in the nature of an Adjective, though not so properly.

As, † cois & discrets on les voyoit paroître, they appeared quiet and discreet. Chercher des Lieux sombres & cois, to look for dark and quiet Places.

† L'Eternel combatra pour vous, & vous demeurerez cois (Ex. 14. 14.) the Lord shall fight for you, and you shall hold your peace. Il me mene le long des Eaux coies, (Ps. 23. 2.) he leads me beside the still Waters.

† Coiement, softly. Il vint à lui coirement, (Judg. 4. 21.) he went softly unto him.

Coife, (f.) a hood, a woman's hood; a coif; the lining of a hat; the cawl of one's belly.

Coife de nuit, a night-coif.

Coifé, that hath a hood (or coif) on; whose head is dressed.

Or thus. As, † il est né coifé, he is born to a good fortune, wrapped up in his mothers smock.

† Coifé d'une femme, smitten in love, over head and ears in love with a woman. Elle est coifée de ce Galand, she is deeply in love with that Galant.

Un Chien coifé, a Dog with good long ears.

Coifer, to dress a Woman's head; to fit one well with a Hat, or a Perwig.

Coifer sa Maîtresse, to dress her Mistress's head.

Se coifer soi même, to dress her own head her self. Se coifer de faux cheveux, to wear towers and locks of false hair.

† Se coifer d'un froc, cd. se faire Moine, to put on a Monk's habit, to turn Monk.

Se coifer d'une personne, to fall in love with one, to be smitten.

† Il s'est laissé coifer à cet Ignorant, he hath suffered himself to be seduced by that ignorant Fellow.

Coifeuse, (f.) an Attire-woman.

Coifure, (f.) the dress of a Womans head.

Coignacier, or Coignassier, (m.) from Coing, a Quince-tree.

Le Coignacier aime les Lieux froids & humides, the Quince-tree loves a moist and cold Soil.

Coigné, thrust (or knocked) in.

Coignée, (a fem. Subst.) ax, or hatchet.

La coignée est déjà mise à la racine des Arbres (Luke 3. 9.) the ax is laid unto the root of the Trees.

Jetter le manche après la coignée, to throw the helve after the hatchet, to venture all, to lose all.

Coigner, (from Coin) to thrust in, to knock in.

As, coigner un clou, to thrust (or knock) a nail in.

Il lui a coigné la tête contre la Muraille, he knocked his head against the Wall.

Je me suis coigné la tête contre ce poteau, I knocked (or hit) my head against that post.

† Coigner une Fille, la ferrer dans un Coin, & l'y baisser, to thrust a Girl in a corner, and there kiss her.

Coin, (m.) formerly spelt Coing, a corner; a wedge, to cleave wood with; a coin, or stamp; a quince.

Jetter une chose en un coin, to throw a thing into a corner. Un coin de Rue, a corner of a Street. Le coin de l'œil, the corner of the Eye.

Il est marqué au mauvais coin, he is stamped with an ill figure, he is not of the right stamp. Vous savez à quel coin se marquent les bons Vers, you know what strain denotes a good Verse.

Le Coin est un Fruit astringent, a Quince is a binding Fruit. Coins de Portugal, Portugal Quinces. Coins de Cheval. Ce sont les quatre Dents situées entre les Mitoyennes & les Crocs, deux dessus & deux dessous à chaque côté de la mâchoire, & qui poussent lors que le Cheval a quatre ans & demi.

Coine, (f.) the skin of bacon.

† Coion } See Coyon.

† Coionerie } See Coyonerie.

Col } See Cou.

And yet we say still un Peuple de Col roide (speaking of the Jews) that is, a stiff-necked People. See Ex. 32. 9.

Colachon, (m.) an Italian Instrument of Music, much like a Lute, but that the neck of it is something longer.

Colateral } See Collateral.

Colation } See Collation.

Colationé } See Collationné.

Colationner } See Collationner.

Colchique, (f.) sorte de Fleur, a kind of flower that buds in Autumn.

Cole, (f.) As, Cole forte, glue. Cole de poisson, mouth-glue, or water-glue. Cole de Menuisier, Joiner's glue, the strongest kind of glue. Cole de farine, paste, Stationer's paste.

† Il m'a donné d'une cole, he has imposed upon me, he has deceived me.

Colé, (from Coler) glued, pasted; caked.

Is sont colez ensemble, they are glued, (or pasted) together.

Des Charbons colez, caked Coals.

Ayez en horreur le Mal, vous tenant colez au Bien (Rom. 12. 9.) abhor that which is evil, cleave to that which is good.

Or thus. Il est toujours colé sur le Sein qu'il adore, he always hangs on that Breast he adores.

Colege } See College.

Colegial } See Collegial.

Colegue } See Collegue.

Coler (from Cole) to glue (to paste) together; to cake.

Se coler, to stick (in a neutral sense) to cake.

† Se coler contre une muraille, to stick to a wall.

Du Charbon qui se cole, Coals that cake.

Colera-morbus, (m.) a violent Disease, occasioned by an overflowing of the choler.

Colere, (f.) anger, wrath; rage.

Faire mettre quécun en colere, to provoke one to anger. Se mettre en colere, s'emporter de colere, to be transported with anger. Decharger sa colere sur quécun, to discharge his anger upon one.

Moderer (appaier) sa colere, to moderate his anger. Sa colere s'est passée, his anger is over.

L'Amour est sans raison, & la Colere sans conseil, Love is not capable of Reason, nor Anger of counsel.

La Colere de l'Homme n'accomplit point la Justice de Dieu, (Jam. 1. 20.) the Wrath of Man worketh not the Righteousness of God.

Latonne, Maîtresse de Jupiter, fuyant un jour la jalouse Colere de Junon, Latona, a Mistress of Jupiter, flying one day from the jealous Rage of Juno.

Or thus. As, être en colere contre quécun, to be angry with one. Il est dans une horrible colere, he is grievously angry. Revenir de sa colere, to come to himself again.

Colere (Adj.) choleric, passionate, hasty, apt to be angry, soon angry.

As, un Esprit colere, a choleric Person.

Une Femme colere, a choleric Woman.

L'homme colere commet folie, (Prov. 14. 6.) he that is soon angry, doeth foolishly.

Se Colerer, to be wroth, angry, or hasty; as, Ps. 78. 59. Prov. 14. 29.

Colet	} See	Collet.
Coleté		Colleté.
Coléter		Colleter.
Coletin		Colletin.
Coleuvre		Couleuvre.
Coleuvrine		Couleuvrine.
Colier		Collier.

Colifichet (f.) bagatelle, ou chose de rien, a trifle, or insignificant thing. Il est riche en colifichets, he is rich in trifling things, in things that are insignificant.

† Coliger	} See	Colliger.
Coline		Colline.

Colin-maillard, (m.) sorte de Jeu, Blind-man's buff. Jouer à colin-maillard, to play at blind-man's buff.

† Colintampon (m.) le son du Tambour des Suisses, the Swissers March.

Colique, (f.) the cholick, a painful windiness in the entrails or stomach; the cholick-shell. Etre tourmenté de la colique, to be troubled with the cholick.

Colique bilieuse, pituiteuse, ou venteuse, a bilious, pituitous, or windy Cholick.

Colire	} See	Collyre.
Colisée		Collyrée.

Collateral, collateral. Les Vents cardinaux & collateraux, the cardinal and collateral Winds.

Collateraux, (a masc. Subst.) Heritiers en ligne collaterale, collateral Heirs (such as Uncles, Nephews, and Cousins).

Collateur (m.) celui qui a droit & pouvoir de conferer un Benefice. vaquant, a Patron, one that has a Living in his Gift.

Parmi les Papiſtes le Pape est le premier Collateur, amongst Papiſts the Pope is the chief Patron.

Collation, (f.) Collation; a light Supper upon a Fast-day; a conferring, or bestowing.

Donner la collation à quécun, to give one a collation. Apporter la collation, to bring the collation. Faire collation, to eat a collation.

Une Collation legere, ou succinte, a slight Supper.

Collation d'un Benefice, the conferring (or bestowing) of a Benefice.

Collationné, compared; collationed.

Collationner, to eat a collation; to compare; to collation.

Allons collationner, let's go and eat a collation. Je vien de collationner, I have been at a collation.

Collationner une Copie avec l'Original, to compare a Copy with the Original.

Collationner un Livre (en Termes de Relieur) to collation a Book.

Colle	} See	Cole.
Collé		Colé.

Collecte, (f.) a Collect, or short Prayer; a Collection, or Gathering.

Dire les collectes, to read the collects.

Faire une collecte, to make a gathering.

Collecteur, (m.) Collector, a Collector of Taxes.

Collectif, collective.

As, un terme collectif, a collective word.

† Collection, (f.) a Collection. Say Recueil.

College, (m.) a College.

Etre dans un College, to be in a College.

Le Sacré College, le College des Cardinaux, the Sacred College, or the College of Cardinals.

Collegial, Collegiate.

As, une Eglise Collegiale, a Collegiate Church (governed in chief by an Abbot, or a Prior).

Collegue, (m.) a Colleague, a Fellow (or Co-partner) in Office.

Collet (from Col) m. a collar; a cape; a neck; a band; a kind of Ginn, or Snarl (wherewith Conys are caught most commonly by the neck).

Un collet de pourpoint, the collar of a doublet.

Collet de manteau, ou de casaque, the cape of a cloak, or coat.

Un Collet de mouton, a Neck of mutton.

Un Colet (ourabat) bien fait, a band well made.

Or thus. Prendre (saisir) une personne au collet, to take hold of one, to apprehend him, or take him prisoner.

† Prêter le collet à quécun, essayer ses forces avec celles d'un autre, to cope with one, to make head against him.

Colleté, took by the neck.

Colleter, to take about the neck.

Se colleter, to wrastle, or struggle.

Colletin, (m.) a Jerkin.

Collier, (m.) a neck-lace; a collar.

Collier d'ambre, ou de perles, a neck-lace of amber, or pearls.

Collier de l'Ordre, Marque d'un Ordre de Chevalerie, the Collar of an Order. Collier de Chien, ou de Cheval, a Dog's, or a Horse's Collar.

Colline, (f.) a Hill, a little Hill.

Une agreable Colline, a pleasant Hill. Ils etoient retranchés sur une Colline, they were intrenched upon a Hill.

Colloque, (m.) Conference; Colloquy.

As, le Colloque de Poissis, the Conference of Poissy. † Ils ont eu de longs Colloques ensemble, they have had long Discourses together.

Les Colloques d'Erasme, ou de Cordier, Erasmus, or Corderius his Colloquies.

Colloqué, placed, put.

Colloquer, to place, to put.

As, le Pape le colloqua entre les Dieux, the Pope placed him amongst the Gods.

Dieu donc prit l'Homme, & le colloqua au Jardin d'Eden, pour le cultiver (Gen. 2. 15.) and God took the Man, and put him into the Garden of Eden, to dress it.

Le Lieu qu'il choisira pour y colloquer son Nom, (Deut. 14. 23.) the Place which he shall chuse to place his Name there.

† Colluder, to collude.

† Collusion, (f.) collusion.

Collyre, (m.) an eye-salve, a Medicine for the eyes.

Je te conseille d'oindre tes yeux de Collyre, afin que tu voies, (Rev. 3. 18.) I counsel thee to anoint thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayst see.

Colofane, (m.) Cole rougeâtre à froter le crin des archets, hard rozen, such as we rub Viol-sticks withall.

Colombe, (f.) a Dove.

This Word is little in use, except in a grave Subject.

As, Gen. 8. 9. la Colombe n'ayant pû trouver aucun Lieu hors de l'Arche où son pié pût se reposer, y revint, the Dove finding no rest without the Ark for the sole of her foot, returned into it.

Le veritable Chretien doit avoir la prudence du Serpent, & la simplicité de la Colombe, a true Christian ought to have the wisdom of Serpents, and the simplicity (or innocency) of Doves.

Semiramis fut changée en Colombe, Semiramis was changed into a Dove.

Colombier. See Coulombier.

Colombin, of dove-colour.

Un fond colombin, ou une fleur colombine, a ground, or flower of dove-colour.

Colonne, (f.) Pillar.

Poser une Colonne, to set up a Pillar.

Colonne torse, a wreathed Pillar.

C'est une des principales Colonnes de l'Eglise, he is one of the chief Pillars of the Church.

Or thus. As, Colonne de Table, the Supporter (the Foot) of a Table. Colonne de Lit, a Bed-post.

Colonne de Livre, a Column in a Book. As, les Dictionnaires se font par Colonnes, Dictionaries are made into Columns.

Colonne (en Termes de Guerre) grande File, ou grand Rang de Troupes qui sont en marche, a Column, a great File, or Rank.

Colonel, (m.) a Colonel, he that commands a Regiment.

Ce mot est particulièrement affecté à l'Officier qui commande un Regiment d'Infanterie. Cependant il se donne aussi aux Commandans des Regimens de Cavalerie Etrangers, & des Regimens de Cavalerie qui sont confiderez comme Etrangers. Il est aussi affecté au Commandant d'un Regiment de Dragons.

On appelle Colonel-Lieutenant un Officier qui est établi dans les Regimens des Princes du Sang; qui, ne commandant pas eux mêmes leur Regiment, ont un Officier qui commande le Regiment en leur place, & cet Officier s'appelle Colonel-Lieutenant.

En fin on appelle Colonel-General des Suisses & Grisons l'Officier qui commande les Suisses qui sont au Service du Roi de France; Colonel-General des Dragons, celui qui commande tous les Dragons qui sont au service du Roi; & Colonel-General des Chevaux Legers, celui qui commande tous les Chevaux Legers.

Autrefois il y avoit le Colonel-General de l'Infanterie Françoisse. Mais cette Charge a été supprimée, depuis la Mort de Monsieur d'Epemont.

Colonel, (Adj.) Colonel, or belonging to a Colonel.

As, Lieutenant-Colonel, a Lieutenant-Colonel. La Compagnie Colonelle, or la Colonelle only, the Colonel's Company, the first Company of his Regiment.

Colonie, (f.) Colony. Planter des Colonies, to plant Colonies. Etablir une Colonie, to settle a Colony. Les habitans d'une Colonie, the people of a Colony.

Colonne	} See	Colonne.
Colophane		Colofane.
Coloque		Colloque.

Coloquinte, (f.) fruit de Courge sauvage, Coloquintida (the Fruit of a wild Gourd, hot and dry in the third degree).

Coloré, coloured; apparent; coloured, or palliated.

Colorer (from Couleur) to colour, or give a colour to; to colour, or palliate.

Le fiel colore les Viandes aussi tôt qu'elles sortent du Ventricle, the gall colours the Meat as soon as it comes out of the Ventricle.

Colorer sa Cruauté du nom de Justice, to colour his Cruelty with the name of Justice.

Coloris, (m.) the colouring of a Picture. Le Coloris doit être vif, the Colours must be lively.

Coloriste, (m.) an Artist in Colours. Un excellent Coloriste, an excellent Artist in Colours.

Colosse, (m.) a Colossus, or Statue of a vast bigness; a Giant.

† C'est un Colosse que cet homme là, that man is a very Giant.

Colporteur, (m.) he that sells abroad the Gazettes, the King's Orders, Declarations, and Proclamations.

Colures, (m.) the Coluri, two Circles in the Sphere.

Colysee, (m.) Colyseum, a Roman Amphitheater, built by Vespasian.

Combat, (m.) Fight, Fighting, Battel, Combat, Conflict, Contention, 1 Theſſ. 2. 2.

Un Combat sur Mer, a Sea-fight. Un Combat sur Terre, a Land-fight.

Se preparer au combat, to prepare (to make ready) to fight. Presenter le combat, to offer battel. Attirer l'Enemi au combat, to draw the Enemy to fight. Accepter le combat, to accept the fight. Donner combat à l'Enemi, to give the Enemy battel.

Un combat sanglant, cruel, furieux, opiniâtre, a bloody, cruel, fierce, and obstinate fight.

Un combat de Gladiateurs, a fight between Gladiators. Un combat d'homme à homme, a fight betwixt man and man. Un combat à outrance, a desperate fight, where there is no giving over till one of the Parties be utterly destroyed.

Un combat amoureux, a Love-combat. Un combat d'esprit, a Wit-combat.

Or thus. As, Combat de Taureaux, a Bull-feast (such as are used in Spain and Portugal).

Ils s'assemblent tous les jours pour des combats, (Psalm. 140. 2.) continually are they gathered together for war.

Cruel, à quel combat faut il te preparer ? to what mischief, you cruel Man, must you prepare your self ?

Combatant, (m.) a fighting Man.

Nôtre Armée étoit composée de trente mille Combatans, Our Army consisted of thirty thousand fighting Men.

Combattre, to fight, to combat; to withstand, oppose, or resist.

Combattre l'Enemi, to fight his Enemy. Le combattre de pied ferme, to fight him stoutly.

Combattre tête à tête, homme à homme, corps à corps, de personne à personne, to fight hand to hand, one Man against another.

Nous n'avons pas seulement les Hommes, mais le Ciel même, à combattre, we have not only Men, but Heaven it self, to withstand, or to fight against. Combattre une Opinion, to oppose an Opinion. Combattre l'amour de quécun, to withstand (or oppose) one's love. Combattre ses Passions, to resist (or to struggle with) his Passions.

Or thus. C'est une Ingratitude de combattre les Intentions de son Bienfacteur, 'tis a piece of Ingratitude to act against the Intention of his Benefactor.

Je combat selon son efficace, (Col. 1. 29.) I strive according to his working.

Des Cruditez qu'on a de la peine à combattre, Crudities which are difficult to deal with.

Combattu, fought, &c. according to the Verb.

Combien, how, how much, how many.

As, vous voyez combien il est difficile, you see how hard (how difficult) it is. On ne peut dire combien la Misericorde de Dieu est grande, it is not to be imagined how great is God's Mercy. Combien peu ? how few ? Combien difficilement ? how hardly ? Combien de tems ? how long ? Combien de fois ? how often ?

Combien estimez vous votre Cheval ? how much do you value your Horse ? Combien voulez vous le vendre ? how much will you sell it for ? Combien d'Argent avez vous ? how much money have you ? Vous ne sauriez croire combien je vous aime, you cannot imagine how much I love you.

Combien ferez vous à souper ? how many will you be at supper ? Dans combien de jours viendra-t-il ? in how many days will he come ? Combien de Chrétiens trouverez vous qui le fassent ? how many Christians will you find that can do it ?

† Combien que, though, although.

As, Psalm. 44. 29. Combien que tu nous ayes froissé parmi les Dragons, & couverts d'ombre de mort, though thou hast sore broken us in the place of Dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death.

Now, instead of Combien que, say bien que, quod que, or encore que.

Comble, (m.) the Timber-work of a Roof; height, or fulness.

Un Comble plat, a flat Timber-work. Un Comble brisé, a parted Timber-work.

Arriver au comble de ses desirs, to arrive at the height of his desires. Il a été élevé au comble des honneurs, he was raised to the height of honour. Une Vertu qui est arrivée au comble de sa perfection, a Virtue that is come to the height of its perfection.

Or thus. As, ceci est survenu pour comble de malheur, this hapned moreover to accumulate misfortunes.

De fond en comble, topsy-turvy, from the top to the bottom; utterly.

As, détruire une Maison de fond en comble, to turn a House topsy-turvy, to raze it down to the ground.

Ruiner un homme de fond en comble, to ruin (or undo) a man utterly, to be the ruin of him to all intents and purposes.

Un Comble de foin, ou de fagots, a great Heap of hay, or fagots (such as come upon Boats).

† Comble, (Adj.) full to the top.

Un Cheval qui a le pié comble, c'est un Cheval qui a la Sole arrondie par dessous, en sorte qu'elle est plus haute que la Corne. Ce qui fait souvent boiter le Cheval, & empêche de le ferrer, à moins qu'on ne voute le fer.

Comblé, filled, or filled up; heaped up, loaded; covered, crowned.

Un Fossé qui est comblé, a Ditch filled up. Comblé de joie, ou de tristesse, filled with joy, or sadness.

Comblé de bienfaits, heaped up (loaded) with benefits. Comblé de bénédictions & de loüanges, loaded with blessings and praise. Comblé de gloire, crowned with glory. Comblé d'un opprobre éternel, covered with an eternal shame.

Comblé, to fill, or fill up; to heap upon, or load; to cover, to crown.

As, combler (or remplir) un fossé, to fill up a ditch. Afin qu'ils combient toujours leurs Pechez, (1 Thess. 2. 16.) to fill up their Sins alway.

Comblé quécun d'honneurs & de richesses, to heap honours and riches upon one, to heap him up with honours and riches.

Comblé de gloire, to crown with glory. Comblé d'un opprobre éternel, to cover with eternal shame.

† Combourgeois. See Concitoyen.

Combustible, combustible, apt to burn. Une matiere combustible, a combustible matter.

Combustion, (f.) combustion. Toute la Ville est en combustion, the whole City is in a combustion. Mettre tout en combustion, to cause a great combustion.

Comedie, (f.) a Play, or Comedy. Une Comedie plaisante & ingénieuse, a pleasant and ingenious Play. Aller à la Comedie, to go to the Play. Donner la Comedie à quécun, to give one a Play. Jouer la Comedie, cd. à qui payera la Comedie, to play who shall pay for the Seats in the Play-house.

Ce fut une seconde Comedie que le Chagrin de nôtre Ami, our Friend's scurvy humour was as good to us as another Play.

Le Monde est un Theatre, nous sommes tous des Comédiens, & tout bien conté nôtre Vie n'est qu'une pure Comedie, the World is a Theater, we are all Players, and when all is done our Life is but a meer Comedy.

Comédien, (m.) a Player; a Dissembler. Ce sont des Comédiens achevez, they are most ingenious Players.

Innocent X. pleuroit quand il vouloit, & c'étoit un grand Comédien, Innocent X. could shed tears when he would, and he was a great Dissembler.

Comédienne, (f.) a Player, a Woman-Player; a dissembler, or dissembling Woman. As, une bonne (une excellente) Comédienne, a good (an excellent) Player. C'est une grande Comédienne, she is a great Dissembler.

Comete, or Comette, (f.) a Comet, a blazing Star; Comet, a kind of Game at Cards.

Il y a trois sortes de Comette, savoir chevelue, barbe, & à queue, there are three sorts of Comets, to wit, a hairy Comet, a bearded Comet, and a Comet with a tail.

Comique, (from Comedie) comical, or pleasant.

Un Sujet comique, a comical Subject. Une Action comique, a comical Action. Un Homme qui a l'air comique, a Man that hath a comical Air.

Le Comique, (a masc. Subst.) le Rolle le plus plaisant d'une Piece comique, the comical Part.

Comite, (m.) the Officer of a Gally, who has the particular command of the Slaves.

Commandant, (m.) a Commander. Un bon Commandant, a good Commander.

Commandataire } See { Commanditaire. Commande }

Befongne de commande, Work that is bespoken.

Commandé, commanded, bidden; commanded, overlook.

Il fut commandé à l'Assaut, he was commanded to the Storm.

La Ville est commandée du Château, the Town is commanded by the Castle.

Commandement, (m.) command, order, or charge; a Commandment of Gods Law; command, or government; an Eminence, which commands a Post.

As, ce que j'en ai fait ça été par vôtre commandement, what I did therein was by your express command. Executer les commandemens de quécun, obeir à ses commandemens, to perform (execute, or obey) ones commands. Faites moi la grace de m'honorer de vos commandemens, & vous verrez combien je suis, &c. do me the favour to honour me with your commands, and you shall see how much I am, &c. On lui a fait commandement de la part du Roi de se retirer de la Cour, he had an Order from the King to leave the Court. Par commandement du Roi, by the Kings Order.

Les Dix Commandemens de Dieu, God's Ten Commandments.

On lui a donné le Commandement de l'Armée, he had the command of the Army given him. Prendre le Commandement de l'Armée, to take upon him the Command of the Army.

Or thus. As, il a le commandement si beau qu'il y a presse à lui obeir, he commands with so much grace, that every body strives in obedience.

Faire commandement, to command. On lui a fait un commandement de payer, he had a Mandamus to pay. Les Commandemens de l'Exercice, the words of Command.

Commander, to command, order, bid, or injoin; to command, or have the command of; to command, or overlook.

As, je vous commande cela absolument, I absolutely command you to do that. Faites ce que je vous commande, do what I bid you, do what I order you to do. Le Roi m'a commandé d'y aller, the King hath commanded me to go thither. On commanda le Regiment des Gardes pour attaquer la Demi-lune, the Regiment of Gards was commanded to attack the Half-moon. On commanda aux Archers de s'avancer, the Sergeants were commanded to come forward.

Commander une Armée, to command an Army. Commander la Garde de la Trenchée, to command the Gard of the Trenches. Celui qui doit commander aux autres Animaux commence sa Vie par les Supplices, he that is to have the command of other Creatures begins his Life in Misery.

La Citadelle est bâtie sur une Hauteur qui commande à toute la Ville, the Cittadel is built upon an Eminence which commands the whole Town. Toute sa seureté depend d'un Château qui commande sur la Ville, all his safety depends upon a Castle which commands the Town. Les Montagnes voisines commandoient la Plaine, the neighbouring Hills commanded the flat Country. In all which Phrases observe the different Construction of this Verb, sometimes with, and sometimes without a Preposition.

Commanderie, (f.) Commandership, the Place (or Office) of a Commander of an Order.

Avoir

Avoir une bonne Commanderie, to have a good Commandership.
 Commandeur, (m.) a Commander, the Commander of an Order of Knights.
 Comme, as, like; when.
 Comme il vous plaira, as you please. Comme vous voudrez, as you will. Pour suivez comme vous avez commencé, go on as you begun. Comme si je ne savais pas ce que c'est, as if I knew not what it is. Il est fait comme lui, he is like him, he is just such another.
 Comme il eut ouï ces choses, when he had heard these things.
 Or thus. Triste comme content, il te faudra chanter, sad or merry, you must sing. C'est comme cela, 'tis so.
 † Comme quoi, for comment, how.
 As, je ne fai comme quoi une si fote pensée a pu vous venir en l'esprit, I wonder how such a simple fancy could come into your mind.
 ‡ Comme ainsi soit que, (an Expression much used of old, but now quite out of date) whereas, when, forasmuch as.
 Commemoration, (f.) Terme de Religion, remembrance.
 Faites ceci en commemoration de moi, (Luke 22. 19.) do this in remembrance of me.
 Commencé, begun.
 Voilà qui est fort bien commencé, that's very well begun.
 Commencement, (m.) a beginning.
 Depuis le commencement du Monde jusqu'à la fin, from the beginning to the end of the World. Toutes choses ont leur commencement, every thing has a beginning. Prendre commencement, to take beginning.
 Les Commencemens en toutes choses sont fâcheux & difficiles, Beginnings are always troublesome and difficult.
 Commencer, to begin.
 As, commencer quelque chose, to begin a thing. Commencer par une chose, to begin with a thing. Commencez par là, begin there, begin with that. Achever ce que l'on a commencé, to make an end of what one has begun. Finir par où l'on a commencé, to finish where one hath begun.
 Il commence d'entrer dans l'âge de Raison, he begins to come into years of Discretion. Je commence d'avoir plus d'esperance, I begin to have more hopes.
 Ils commencerent à prendre courage, they begun to cheer up. Quand je commençai à parler, when I began to speak.
 Commencer un Cheval, le mettre aux premières Leçons pour le dresser, to break a Horse.
 Commendataire, (m.) Commendatary, that enjoys a Benefice by Commendum.
 C'est un Abbé commendataire, he is a secular Abbot, he holds his Abby in commendum.
 Commende, (f.) commendum.
 As, une Abbaie en commende, an Abby in commendum.
 Commensaux (m.) Officiers Domestiques de la Maison du Roi qui ont bouche à Cour, such Officers of the King's Household as have budge-a-Court.
 Commensurable, Terme de Geometrie, commensurable.
 Comment, how.
 Voulez vous savoir comment cela se fait? will you know how that is done? Je vous dirai comment, I'll tell you how.
 Comment dites vous? how d'ye say? Comment se porte t-il? how doth he do? Comment cela? how so?
 Commentaire, (m.) Comment, Commentary, or Exposition.
 Le Commentaire de Servius sur Virgile est le meilleur de tous, the best Comment upon Virgil is that of Servius.
 Un faiseur de Commentaires, a Commentator, or maker of Comments.
 Les Commentaires de César, l'Histoire qu'il a écrite d'un Style simple & aisé, Cæsar's Commentaries.
 Commentateur, (m.) a Commentator.
 Lubin est un des meilleurs Commentateurs de Juvenal, Lubin is one of the best Commentators upon Juvenal.

 Commenté, commented.
 Commenter, to comment.
 As, commenter un Livre, to comment a Book. Commenter un Auteur, to comment an Author.
 Commerce, (m.) commerce, trade, trading, or traffick; commerce, communication, acquaintance, or correspondence.
 Entendre (savoir) le commerce, to have skill in trading. Le Commerce ne va plus, ou n'est plus bon, Trading is dull, there's no Trade stirring, 'tis a dead Time for Trade.
 Avoir commerce avec quécun, to have a commerce with one. Je n'ai nul commerce avec lui, parce que c'est un mal honnête homme, I have no commerce (I keep no correspondence with him) because he is not right.
 Entretenir un commerce de Lettres avec quécun, to keep a correspondence with one by Letters. J'entre avec vous dans un heureux commerce de reputation & d'honneur, I now begin to entertain you with an happy commerce of reputation and honour.
 La Vertu n'a aucun commerce avec la Volupté, Virtue hath no commerce at all with Voluptuousness.
 Or thus. As, avoir un commerce charnel avec une prostituée, entretenir un commerce d'impudicité avec elle, to have to do carnally with a prostitute woman, to keep an unchaste (or obscene) correspondence with her.
 Commere, (f.) a Gossip, or Godmother; a Gossip, or gossiping buswife.
 Avoir une jolie Commere, to have a pretty Gossip.
 † C'est une bonne Commere, c. d. une bonne Gaillarde, qui aime à se rejouir, she is a good Gossip, or a good Functetting Woman.
 Commettre, to commit, do, or perpetrate; to make, Rev. 22. 15; to appoint, or delegate; to expose.
 As, commettre une Faute, ou un Crime, to commit a Fault, or a Crime. Commettre un Peché par ignorance, to commit a Sin through ignorance.
 C'est lui qui commet les Juges, 'tis he who appoints the Judges. On l'a commis pour avoir l'œil sur ce qui se passera, he is appointed to watch all passages. Je commettrai sur vous la Frayeur, la Langueur, & l'Ardeur, qui vous consumeront les Yeux, & tourmenteront l'ame, (Lev. 26. 16.) I will appoint over you Terror, Consumption, and the burning Ague, that shall consume the Eyes, and cause sorrow of Heart.
 Commettre un homme, l'exposer, to expose a man.
 Se commettre, to expose (or venture) himself. Ne vous commettez point avec cet homme là, vous n'y trouverez pas votre conte, do not venture your self with that man, you will come by the loss.
 Commination, (f.) commination.
 Comminatoire, comminatory.
 Commis (from Commettre) committed, or perpetrated; appointed, or employed.
 Un Peché commis, a Sin committed.
 Un Juge commis pour décider quelque Differend, a Judge appointed to decide a Controversy.
 Commis, (Subst.) a Commissioner; an Officer appointed about a business; a Deputy.
 Commis de la Douane, a Commissioner of the Custom-house.
 † Commiseration, (f.) commiseration, compassion.
 Commissaire, (m.) a Commissioner, Justice, or Commissioner of the Peace, who is to inquire after faults, disorders, and trespasses committed; a Judge delegate; an Overseer, Sequestrator, or Seller of Goods authorized thereto by the Magistrate; and one that, by the same authority, hath the possession and keeping of Lands seized by publick Order; a Muster-master.
 Commissaire de la Marine, a Commissioner of the Navy.
 Commissaire General, le troisième Officier general de tous les Regimens de la Cavalerie legere. Ce Commissaire a un Regiment qui lui est particulièrement affecté sous le nom de Regiment Commissaire. Il fait la force de chaque Regiment, les fait passer en revue, tient les Officiers dans le Devoir, casse les Cavaliers qui le meritent, & prend soin qu'ils soient bien montez & bien equippez.

 Commissaire à la Conduite, ou Commissaire des Guerres. C'est un Officier etabli pour la Police militaire; & qui, dans la Marche des Troupes, a l'œil sur les Difficultez qui arrivent, pour la fourniture des Etapes, & des Utensiles. Il assiste aux Montres, & aux Reveües des Gens de Guerre.
 Commission, (f.) commission, or power; commission, or charge.
 Avoir commission, to have a power, to have a commission.
 Faire obtenir une commission à quécun, to procure (or get) one a commission. Se charger d'une commission, to take a commission. S'acquitter de la commission, to execute (or perform) his commission.
 Commissionnaire, (m. & f.) one that sells under another.
 Commissionnaire de Marchand, ou Facteur, a Factor.
 Committimus, Lettres de Committimus, special Commissions directed in the behalf of privileged persons unto their peculiar Judges.
 Commode, convenient, commodious; convenient, or easy; complaisant, easy, not troublesome.
 Une Maison commode, a convenient House. Vraiment voilà qui est tres commode, truly that's very convenient, or 'tis a great convenience.
 Une Doctrine commode, a convenient (or easy) Doctrine.
 Un homme commode, qui a l'esprit commode, ou qui n'est point gênant, a complaisant (or good humoured) man.
 Commodément, conveniently, commodiously, comfortably.
 Nous sommes logez tres commodément, we are lodged very conveniently, we have very good (or convenient) Lodgings.
 Nous vivons ensemble assez commodément, we live together comfortably enough.
 Commodité, (f.) convenience; convenient time, opportunity.
 C'est une commodité necessaire dans un Logis, 'tis a necessary convenience in a House. C'est une grande commodité, 'tis a great (or mighty) convenience. Une Maison qui n'a presque nulle commodité, a House that hath almost no manner of convenience.
 La premiere commodité, with the first opportunity. Lors que votre commodité le permettra, quand vous aurez la commodité, when it shall stand with your own convenience, when you shall have convenient time, when it shall be convenient for you.
 Or thus. Avoir chez soi toutes les petites commoditez, to have all things convenient at his own house.
 † Les Commoditez, pour dire les Lieux, the convenient House, the Privy, or House of Office.
 † Commotion, (f.) commotion, uproar, tumult.
 Commué, changed.
 Commuer, (Terme de Palais) to change.
 As, commuer la peine, to change the punishment.
 Commun, common, belonging to all; common, belonging to some; common, usual, ordinary; common, vulgar, trivial.
 La Mort est commune à tous, Death is common to all. L'Air est commun à tout le monde, the Air is common to all men. Tout est commun entre les Amis, all things are common amongst friends. Le Genre commun, the common Gender.
 Un Vice commun, a common Vice. Une Plante commune, a common Plant. Rendre une chose trop commune, to make a thing too common.
 Une pensée tres commune, a very common (or trivial) notion.
 Commun, (a masc. Subst.) les gens du Commun, the mobile, the vulgar sort of people; an inferior Officer.

Un homme du commun, qui n'a rien d'extraordinaire, an ordinary man.

† Le commun des Sages, pour dire la plus grande partie des Sages, most of the Wise men.

En commun, in common.

As, vivre en commun, to live in common.

Tout étoit en commun parmi eux, all was in common amongst them.

Communauté, (f.) Commonalty, the Body of Inhabitants of a Place; Corporation, or Society; the Body of Monks in a Monastery.

Communauté de Biens, community of Goods.

Communautier, (m.) Terme d'Augustin dechaussé, he that takes care of cloathing the Monks.

Commune, (f.) Commonalty, the common People of a Place.

Il fut tué par la Commune, he was killed by the common People.

Les Communes d'un Etat, the Commons of a State. La Chambre des Communes, the House of Commons.

A la commune, cd. grossièrement, ou vulgairement, coarsely.

Communément, commonly, usually.

Cela se trouve communément dans les Rues, that's commonly found in the Streets.

Or thus. Cela se dit communément, that's a common saying.

Les Visions ne se montrent pas communément, (1 Sam. 3.1.) there was no open Vision.

Communiant, (m.) from Communier, a Communicant.

Nous avons dans notre Eglise plus de six mille Communians, we have in our Church above six thousand Communicants.

Communicatif, qui se communique volontiers, sociable, affable, familiar, easy to be spoke with, willing to communicate, 1 Tim. 6. 19.

C'est un homme fort communicatif, he is a very sociable man.

Communication, (f.) communication; converse, correspondence, fellowship, dealings, or society; exhibition; distribution, 2 Cor. 9. 13.

La Citadelle a communication avec la Ville par un Pont, the Citadel hath a communication with the City by a Bridge. Les Lignes de Communication, the Lines of Communication.

Avoir une communication étroite avec quécun, to keep a close correspondence with one. Il n'est rien de tel, pour se rendre éclairé, que d'avoir communication avec des personnes savantes, the best way to improve our selves in learning, is to converse with learned men.

Je lui ai donné communication des pieces du Sac, I made an exhibition of the Writings of the Bag.

Communier, to communicate, to receive the communion; also, to give the communion.

Communier tous les premiers Dimanches du Mois, to receive the Communion every first Sunday of the Month.

On a communiqué aujourd'hui plus de cinq cens personnes, above 500 People received the Communion to day.

Communion, (f.) communion.

Recevoir la communion, to receive the communion. Faire sa premiere communion, to receive the communion the first time.

Or thus. As, la communion du S. Esprit, the fellowship of the Holy Ghost.

Etre retranché de la Communion des Fidèles, to be turned out of the Pale of the Church.

Communiqué, communicated, imparted.

Communiquer, to communicate, impart, tell, shew, reveal, or make a partaker of; to confer, or have a conference together; to produce, or exhibit.

Communiquer ses Desseins à quécun, to communicate (or impart) his Designs to one.

Je vous communiquerai mon deplaisir, I shall tell you my grief. Il me communiqua sa Lettre, he shewed me his Letter.

Ils ont long tems communiqué ensemble, mais je ne sai ce qu'ils ont résolu, they have had a long Conference together, but I know not the result of it.

On m'a communiqué deux pieces, I have two papers produced to me.

Or thus. As, Eph. 5. 11. Ne communiquez point aux Oeuvres infructueuses de Tenebres, have no fellowship with the unfruitful Works of Darkness.

Se communiquer à quécun, se découvrir à lui, to discover himself to one. Une Maladie qui se communique, an infectious Disease.

Communitatif, commutative.

As, la Justice commutative, commutative Justice.

Commutation, (f.) from Commuer, commutation, exchange.

As, demander commutation de peine, to demand an exchange of one penalty for another.

Compagne, (f.) a Companion, a she Companion.

C'est sa bonne, sa fidelle, & son inseparable Compagne, she is her good, her faithful, and inseparable Companion.

Compagnie, (f.) a Company, or meeting of People together; a Company of Soldiers, Merchants, or Tradesmen; company, or conversation.

Un homme qui reçoit compagnie chez lui, a man that receives company into his house.

Il y a toujours chez lui fort bonne Compagnie, there is always very good Company at his house. Etre en compagnie, to be in company, to have company with him.

Monfieur est en compagnie, revenez une autre fois, my Master has company with him, you must come at another time.

Un homme qui void (ou qui frequente) compagnie, a Company-keeper. J'aime bien être en bonne compagnie, I love good company very well.

Fuir les Compagnies, to avoid Company. Fuir les mauvaises Compagnies, to avoid ill Company.

Se fourrer dans une Compagnie, to intrude himself into a Company. Prendre quécun en sa compagnie, to take (or receive) one into his company.

Rompre (fausser) Compagnie, to leave (to break off) the Company.

Lever une Compagnie, to raise a Company.

Compagnie de Cavalerie, a Troop, (or Company) of Horse. Compagnie d'Infanterie, a Company of Foot.

Une Compagnie complete, a compleat Company. La Compagnie des Indes Orientales, the East-India Company.

La Compagnie du Levant, the Turky Company.

Etre de bonne compagnie, cd. de belle & d'agreable humeur en compagnie, to be good company.

Etre de mauvaise compagnie, être facheux, n'être pas agreable en compagnie, to be bad company.

Or thus. As, Les mauvaises Compagnies corrompent les bonnes Mœurs, (1 Cor. 15. 33.) evil Communications corrupt good Manners.

Une compagnie de perdrix, a berry of partridges. Aller (marcher) de compagnie, to go together.

Les Compagnies Souveraines du Royaume, the Parliaments of France.

Chacun fait ce que veulent dire Compagnie de Cavalerie, & Compagnie d'Infanterie. Ainsi il n'est pas necessaire, que je m'explique là dessus.

Je m'imagina aussi, qu'il y a peu de gens qui ne sachent, qu'une Compagnie Colonelle est la premiere Compagnie d'un Regiment d'Infanterie.

Quant à la Distinction de Compagnie des Gardes, & Compagnie aux Gardes, vous n'avez qu'à voir le Mot de Capitaine, où vous trouverez cela tout expliqué.

Voyons maintenant ce qu'on entend par une Compagnie en Second, par les Compagnies Franches, & les Compagnies d'Ordonnance.

Compagnie en Second est une Compagnie de Cavalerie, tirée d'une autre, qui étoit trop nombreuse. En sorte que la Compagnie en Second a ses Officiers particuliers, & fait Escadron avec la Compagnie dont elle a été tirée.

Les Compagnies Franches sont des Compagnies qui ne sont pas en Corps de Regiment, & qui prennent l'Ordre de leur Capitaine; comme les autres Compagnies le prennent de leur Maître de Camp, ou de leur Colonel.

Les Compagnies d'Ordonnance sont des Compagnies qui n'entrent jamais en Corps de Regiment, & qui consistent en Gardarmes & Cheval-legers de la Maison Royale.

Compagnon, (m.) Companion, or Fellow; a Journey-man; also a sort of flower red, or white, and not unlike a gilly-flower.

Compagnon de Guerre, ou de Voyage, a Fellow-Soldier, a Fellow-Traveller. Compagnon d'Ecole, a School-Fellow.

Compagnon de Logis, a Chamber-fellow. Compagnon à boire, a Pot-companion.

Compagnon de Service, a Fellow-servant.

Qui a Compagnon a Maître, a man is not his own Master that hath a Companion.

Un Compagnon Imprimeur, a Journey-man Printer. Un Compagnon Tailleur, a Journey-man Taylor.

Compagnon d'Oeuvre, Work-fellow, Helper, Fellow-helper, Yoke-fellow, Fellow-labourer.

Or thus. As, Eph. 5. 7. Ne foyez point leurs Compagnons, be not Partakers with them.

† Vous avez été autrefois un bon Compagnon, you have been formerly a good Fellow.

Petit Compagnon, homme de basse condition, a pitiful Fellow.

Comparable, comparable, to be compared, like.

Ce vieux Livre est il comparable à ce nouveau? is that old Book comparable to this new one?

Vous n'avez rien fait de comparable, you have done nothing like it.

† Comparablement, comparatively.

Comparaïson, (f.) comparïson.

Faire comparaïson d'une chose avec une autre, to make a comparïson of (to compare) one thing with another. Une Comparaïson belle, vive, touchante, ingenieuse, & juste, a fine, lively, moving, ingenious, and just Comparïson.

En comparaïson, in comparïson, to.

L'Abfinthe est douce en comparaïson du fiel, Wormwood is sweet in comparïson of gall.

C'est peu de chose en comparaïson de ce que je vous dois, 'tis a small matter to what I owe you.

Comparatif, comparative.

As, le Degré comparatif, the comparative Degree.

Comparé, compared, likened.

Henri le grand peut avec raison être comparé à Jules César, Henry the great may fitly be compared to Julius Caesar.

Comparer, to compare, to liken.

Comparer une chose avec une autre, to compare one thing with another. Comparer les petites choses avec les grandes, to compare great and small things together.

Il se compare à moi, he compares himself to me, he thinks himself as good as I.

† Comparïson } See { Comparution.

† Comparoir } See { Comparoître.

Comparoître, to appear, or make an appearance.

Comparoître en personne, to appear in person, to make a personal appearance.

Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 4. 14. Il nous fera comparoître en sa preïence avec vous, he shall present us with you.

Compartiment, (m.) a Compartment.

As, compartiment de Jardin, ou de Platfond, the Compartment of a Garden, or of a Cieling.

Comparu, (from Comparoître) that hath made his appearance.

Comparution, (f.) appearance.

Prendre acte de sa comparution, to enter his appearance.

Compas, (m.) compasses, a pair of compasses; a Shoemaker's size; exactness.

Tracer des Cercles avec un Compas, to draw Circles with a pair of Compasses.

Prendre la mesure du Pié avec un Compas, to take the measure of one's foot with a size.

Faire les Choses avec Compas, to do things with great exactness, to do 'em as it were by a Rule.

Il pese toutes ses Paroles, & crache même avec avec compas, he weighs every word he speaks and spits by the compasses.

Son Discours, ses Gestes, & ses Pas sont tous mesurez au Compas, his Discourse, Gestures, and Steps are all measured by the Compasses. Tout son Corps est fait par Compas, his whole Body is made by the Compasses.

Compas de Mer, ou Compas de Route, Compass, a Mariner's Compass.

Compasse, measured by compasses, very regular; set, ordered, regulated.

Compasser, to measure by compasses; to set, order, or regulate.

Quand il compassoit les fondemens de la Terre, (Prov. 8. 24.) when he appointed the foundations of the Earth.

Compassion, (f.) from Compatir, compassion, pity, mercy.

Avoir compassion de quëcun, être emeu (ou touché) de compassion envers lui, to take compassion of one, to take pity of him. Donner (exciter) de la compassion, emouvoir à compassion, to move to pity. Digne de compassion, worthy of pity, worthy of compassion.

Que tes compassions viennent sur moi, & je vivrai, (Ps. 119. 77.) let thy tender mercies come unto me, and I shall live.

Plein de compassion, (Eph. 4. 32.) tender-hearted.

Compatibilité, (f.) compatibility, concurrence, accord, or agreement.

Ils n'ont ensemble aucune compatibilité d'humeurs, their humours don't suit at all together.

Compatible, compatible, which can abide (or agree) together.

As, le chaud est compatible avec l'humide, heat is compatible with moisture.

Son humeur n'est pas compatible avec la mienne, his humour and mine cannot agree together, or we cannot set our horses together.

Un Office, ou Benefice compatible, an Office or Benefice that may stand with another.

Compatir, to sympathize, or be sensible of; to bear.

Compatir à la douleur de quëcun, to be sensible of one's pain.

Compatir à ses foiblesses, to bear with his infirmities.

Compatir, to agree, to stand.

As, les Fous ne peuvent compatir ensemble, Fools can't agree together. Cette Vertu impitoyable ne peut compatir avec votre Generosité, this cruel Virtue cannot stand with your Generosity.

Compatriote, (m.) a Countryman.

C'est son Compatriote, he is his Countryman.

Compensation, (f.) Compensation, amends, satisfaction.

Faire une compensation, to make a compensation, to make amends, to give satisfaction.

La Compensation est tres juste, & on auroit tort de s'en plaindre, the Compensation is very equitable, and there is no cause to complain of it.

Compensé, compensated.

Les Depensentant compensent, chacun devant payer les siens, each Party being adjudged to bear his own costs and charges.

Compenser, to compensate, to make amends for.

Ce Service n'est pas capable de compenser leur Crime, that Service cannot compensate their Offence.

Comperage, (m.) the state of a Gossip.

Compere, (m.) ones Gossip, that stood Godfather for his Child; ones Gossip, that stood Godfather with him.

Competamment, avec pouvoir de juger, competently, or by a full power.

Il a été jugé competamment, he was judged by a full power.

† Competamment, ou suffisamment, enough, sufficiently. Il a du bien competamment, he is rich enough, he has a competent estate.

Competance, a full power to judge; competition.

Competant, competent.

As, Juge competant, a competent Judge.

Competiteur, (m.) Competitor, Rival.

C'est un dangereux Competiteur, he is a dangerous Rival.

Compilateur, (m.) a Compiler.

Un fameux Compilateur, a famous Compiler.

Compilation, (f.) compiling, compilation, collection.

Compilé, compiled, collected.

Compiler, to compile, or collect.

Compisser, to be pish; to spend.

Elle compisse des qu'elle void les postures de l'Aretin, she spends as soon as she sees Aretin's postures.

Complaignant, (m.) Plaintiff.

Il est Complaignant, he is Plaintiff.

† se Complandre, for se plaindre, to complain.

† Complainte, (f.) a Complaint. Say Plainte.

Nous vous avons chanté complaints, & vous n'avez point lamenté, (Luke 7. 32.) we have mourned unto you, and you have not lamented.

Complaire, to please, or humour, to consent, Deut. 13. 8.

Je fais tous mes efforts pour lui complaire, I do my best endeavours to please him.

Or thus. As, Eph. 6. 6. Comme voulans complaire aux Hommes, as men-pleasers.

† Complaisamment, ed. avec complaisance, with complacency.

Complaisance, (f.) complacency, compliance, condescension.

Une Complaisance honnête, an honest Compliance. Une aveugle, une basse, molle, ou lâche Complaisance, a blind (or base) Compliance.

Aujourd'hui la Complaisance fait des Amis, & la Verité se fait des Enemis, nowadays Compliance gets Friends, and Truth makes Foes.

Complet, complete, or complete, perfect, absolute.

C'est un Fou complet, he is an absolute Fool.

Une Victoire complete, a complete Victory.

Des Armes completes, complete Arms.

Complexion, (f.) temper, constitution.

Complexion froide, chaude, foible, robuste, vigoureuse, a cold, hot, weak, strong, or vigorous constitution.

Être d'une bonne complexion, to be of a good constitution.

† Complexionné, complexioned.

As, un Corps mal complexionné, an ill-complexioned Body.

Complication, (from Compliqué) complication.

As, il y a complication de Maladie, there is a complication of Diseases.

Complice, accomplice, accessory.

Être complice de la mort de quëcun, to be accessory to ones Death.

Si on trouve qu'elle soit complice, on la condamnera à la Mort, if she be found to be an Accomplice, she will be sentenced to Death.

Complies, (f.) une des sept Heures Canoniales, Complines, one of the seven Canonical Hours.

Compliment, (m.) compliment, or complement.

Un Compliment galant, a handsome Compliment.

Faire un Compliment à quëcun, to pass a Compliment upon one, to make him a Compliment.

L'accabler de Complimens, l'affaiblir à force de Complimens, to pester (to confound) him with Compliments.

Ce n'est pas par Compliment que je vous le dis, what I say to you is no Compliment.

Trêve de complimens, laissons là tous ces Complimens, away with those Compliments.

Les Complimens ne me plaisent point, I am not pleased with Compliments, I hate compliments.

Ce n'est plus la mode de faire des Complimens, Compliments are out of fashion.

Or thus. Faire compliment au Roi sur la prospérité de ses Armes, to compliment the King upon the success of his Arms.

Complimenté, complimented, or complemented.

Complimenter, to compliment, or to complement.

Je n'aime point flater ni complimenter, I love neither to flatter nor to compliment.

Complimenteur, (m.) Complimenter.

C'est un grand Complimenteur, he is a great Complimenter, a complimentary Man, a Man much given to complimenting.

Complimenteuse, (f.) a Complimenter, a complimenting Woman.

C'est une grande Complimenteuse, she is a great Complimenter.

Complicqué, complicated.

As, Maladies complicquées, complicated Diseases.

Complot, (m.) plot, combination, conspiracy.

Un funeste, un noir, un detestable Complot, a fatal, a hellish, a horrid Plot.

Faire des complots contre quëcun, to contrive plots (to lay plots) against one.

Graces Dieu les Complots des Mechans sont évanouis, dissipés, étouffés, allez en fumée, Thanks be to God, the Plots of the Wicked are vanished away, dissipated, smothered, and come to nought.

Comploter, to plot, to combine, conspire, or join together in an ill Design.

Ils ont comploté la Ruine, they have plotted his Ruin.

Componction, (f.) Terme de Devotion, compunction, a pricking in the heart.

Ayant ouï ces choses, ils eurent componction de cœur, (Acts 2. 37.) now, when they heard this, they were pricked in the heart.

† Comportement. See Deportement.

Comporter, to bear.

As, notre Langue ne comporte pas un Style de cette nature, our Language will not bear such a Style.

Or thus. As, ce sont des Plaîsirs que comporte la Jeunesse, they are Pleasures for Youth, or suitable to Youth.

But, though the Verb Comporter may be thus used in Discourse, yet it is not to be used in Writing.

Se comporter, to carry (to behave, to comport) himself.

Comment se comporte-t-il? how doth he carry, (how do's he behave, or comport) himself?

Il se comporte fort bien, he behaves himself very well.

Il s'est bien comporté en cette Affaire, he hath carried himself very well in that Business.

Il s'est comporté en mal honnête homme à mon égard, he has not carried himself like (he hath not shewed himself) an honest man to me.

Or thus. As, 1 Pet. 3. 7. Maris, portez vous discrettement avec elles, ye Husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge.

Je me comporterai en Ami, I will shew myself a Friend.

Composé, composed, made, writ, or written; composed, or set by a Compositor; compounded; consisting, or made up; composed, or sober.

As, un Discours bien composé, a Discourse well composed, or well writ.

Un Livre composé en Latin, a Book written in Latin.

Voilà qui est assez bien composé, that's pretty well composed, or set (speaking of a Compositor.)

Un Mot composé, a compounded Word, a Compound.

Un Corps composé de plusieurs parties, a Body consisting (or made up) of several parts.

Une Armée composée de quarante mille hommes, an Army consisting of forty thousand men.

Elle a l'air composé, she hath a sober countenance, a composed aspect.

Or thus. As, un Remede composé, a Composition.

Composé, (Subst.) a Compound.

Avez vous vu la Belle? ce Composé de Roses & de Lis, did you see the fair one? that delicate Compound of Roses and Lilies.

Composer, to compose, make, or write; to compose, or set; to compound, make, or make up; to compound, or agree.

As, composer un Livre en Grec ou en Latin, en prose ou en vers, to compose (make, or write) a Book in Greek or Latin, in prose or in verse.

Composer un mot, une ligne, une page, to compose (or to set) a word, a line, or a page.

Composer une Medecine, to make a Medicine. Composer un Mot de plusieurs, to compound a Word (to make it up) of many. Le Corps des Fideles compose la multitude des Saints, the Body of the Faithful makes up the multitude of Saints.

Composer avec ses Creanciers, to compound with his Creditors.

Or thus. La Ville compose, the Town is upon terms of Composition.

Se Composer, to compose himself, to put on a sober (or modest) countenance.

Composite, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, one of the five Orders of Architecture.

Compositeur, (m.) Compositor, a Printer that composes out of a Copy; a Setter in Music.

Composition, (f.) a piece of Work composed; a composing, or setting of letters in a Printing House; a composition, or mixture of several things; composition, accord, or agreement; composition, capitulation.

Une Composition bien faite, a piece of Work (or a Book) well done. Une Composition pleine de fautes, a Thing ill composed, or written, a Book swarming with faults. C'est par la Composition que l'on se rend bon Orateur, 'tis by frequent composing that one becomes a good Orator.

Un Compagnon Imprimeur qui entend bien la Composition, a Journey-man Printer well skilled in composing, or in the setting of the Letters.

La Composition est faite, the Composition is made. Je doute si cette Composition est bien faite, I doubt whether or no this Composition be well made.

Entrer en composition, to enter upon an agreement. Un homme de difficile composition, a man hard to be brought to an agreement.

Demander Composition, to be for Composition, to desire to capitulate. Faire bonne Composition, to make good Composition. Se rendre à Composition, to surrender upon Composition, or upon terms of Composition.

Donner Composition, recevoir à Composition, to grant a Composition, or Capitulation. Prendre une Place par Composition, to take a Place by Composition. Les Articles de notre Composition furent, que nous fortions Tambour batant, Enseignes deployées, Meche allumée, Bale en bouche, the Articles of our Capitulation were, that we should go out Drums beating, Colours flying, Match lighted, and Bullets in the mouth.

Compote. See Compote.

Compoteur, (m.) Outil d'Imprimerie, the composing Stick.

Ranger les Lettres sur le Compoteur pour en composer des Mots, to set the Letters upon the composing Stick in order to compose Words.

Compote, (f.) stewed pears, or apples.

† Il me prend envie d'accommoder son visage à la compote, I have a mind to beat him to mummy, or (rather) to a jelly.

† Il lui a mis la tête à la compote, cd. il lui a rendu la tête molle à force de coups, he hath bruised his head sadly.

Comprehenfible, to be conceived, conceivable.

Cela n'est pas comprehensible, 'tis not to be conceived.

Comprendre, to apprehend, conceive, or understand; to comprehend, comprise, include, or contain; to receive, 2 Cor. 2. 14.

Comprenez vous ce que je dis? do you apprehend me? do you understand what I say?

Je ne compren pas bien ce que vous dites, I do not understand well what you say. Je vous le ferai comprendre, I shall make you understand it. Autant que je puis comprendre, as far as I can understand.

Cela comprend bien des choses, that includes a great many things. La Justice comprend toutes les Vertus, Justice comprehends all Virtues.

Compresse, (f.) a bolster, or fold of linnen, (to bind up, or lay on a wound).

Compris (from Comprendre) apprehended, conceived, or understood; comprehended, comprised, included, or contained.

Compromettre, to make a Compromise.

Se compromettre avec des Coquins, to engage in a quarrel with a Company of Rogues.

Compromis, (m.) Compromise, a mutual Promise of two or more at difference to refer the ending of their Controversies to the Arbitrement and Equity of one or more Arbitrators.

Or thus. As, mettre en compromis toutes les Affaires, cd. mettre en balance le succès de ses Affaires, to hazard (or venture) his Concerns. Mettre son Autorité ou sa Vie en compromis, to venture his Authority or his Life.

Alexandre le grand ne pouvoit souffrir qu'il y eût une Nation qui lui mit en compromis le Titre d'Invincible, Alexander the great could not suffer that any Nation should bring into question his Title of Invincible.

Comptable	See	Contable.
Comptant		Contant.
Compte		Conte.
Compté		Conté.
Compter		Contier.
Comptoir		Contoir.

Compulser, (Terme de Palais) to cause a Register, Notary, or Clerk, to shew or deliver up a Paper which a Suitor hath need of.

Compulsoire, (m.) a Commission enjoining a Register, Notary, or Clerk, to exhibit the Papers which a Suitor hath need of.

Comté, (m. & f.) Earldom, County.

Comtesse, (f.) a Countess.

Con, (m.) commodity, a woman's commodity, a cony, &c.

Concassé, bruised, stamped, quashed in pieces.

Concasser, to bruise, stamp, or quash in pieces.

As, concasser des noix, ou des amandes, to bruise nuts, or almonds.

Concave, concave, hollow.

Un Miroir concave, a concave Looking-glass.

Concavité, (f.) concavity, hollowness.

† Concedé, granted, yielded.

† Conceder, to grant, to yield.

Concentré, concentred, meeting in one center.

se Concentrer, to center, to meet in one center.

Concentrique, concentrick, having one and the same center.

Cercles concentriques, concentrick Circles.

Conception, (f.) from Concevoir, conception, or breeding in the womb; conception, thought, notion; apprehension, judgment, understanding.

La Conception de la S. Vierge, the Conception of the blessed Virgin.

Expliquer ses conceptions, to explain his conceptions.

Avoir la conception prompte & facile, to be quick of apprehension. Avoir la conception dure, to be dull of apprehension.

Concerner, to concern, or belong to.

On ne doit point negliger ce qui concerne le Salut, we ought not to slight that which concerns our Salvation.

Concert, (m.) concert, harmony; Musick-house; unanimity.

Un charmant concert de Musique, a charming concert of Musick. Le plaissant concert des Oiseaux, the pleasant harmony of Birds.

Aller au Concert, to go to the Musick-house.

Agir de concert, faire une chose de concert, to act unanimously, to go hand in hand in a business.

Concerté, concerted, contrived; unmoved, unconcerned.

Une Affaire mal concertée, a Business ill concerted, or ill contrived.

† Après ce Combat il parut aussi concerté que s'il ne se fût point battu, after the Fight he seemed as unconcerned as if he had been in no fight.

Concertier, to have a Consort of Musick; to concert, or contrive.

Nous concerterons demain, to morrow we shall have a consort of Musick.

Ils ont concerté cela ensemble, they have concerted (or contrived) that together.

Concession, (f.) from Conceder, concession, grant.

Conceu, conceived, or bred in the womb; conceived, contrived, or imagined; expressed, or indited; understood, apprehended.

As, Christ a été conçu des S. Esprit, Christ was conceived of the Holy Ghost.

Un Dessen bien conçu, a Design well contrived, well laid.

Sa Lettre étoit conçue en ces termes, his Letter was expressed in these terms.

Des qu'une fois la chose est bien conçue, as soon as the thing is once well apprehended.

Concevable, conceivable, to be conceived, to be imagined.

Cela n'est pas concevable, it is not to be conceived, or to be imagined.

Concevoir, to conceive, or breed in the womb; to conceive, contrive, or imagine; to conceive, understand, or apprehend.

Elle conceut d'abord, she conceived presently.

Concevoir un Dessen, to contrive a Design.

C'est ce que je ne conçois pas, that I don't apprehend.

† Conchier, to besit, to besit all over.

As, il a conchié toute la Chambre, he has besit the Room all over.

Concierger, (m.) a Keeper of a great House or Castle; the Keeper of a Prison, he that looks to the Door; the Keeper of a Play-house, or he that looks to the Door.

Conciergerie, (f.) So they call at Paris the common jail of that Place, such as our Newgate in London.

Concile, (m.) a Council.

Concile General, ou Oecumenique, a General, or Oecumenical Council. Concile National, ou Provincial, a National, or Provincial Council.

Assembler (convoquer) un Concile, to call a Council. Tenir un Concile, to hold a Council. Aller au Concile, to go to the Council.

Conciliation, (f.) a reconciling.

As, la conciliation de quelques passages de l'Ecriture, the reconciling of some places of Scripture.

Or thus. La conciliation de tous les passages de l'Ecriture est difficile, 'tis hard to reconcile all places of Scripture.

Concilié, reconciled.

Concilier, to reconcile.

As, concilier les passages de l'Ecriture qui semblent contraires, to reconcile those places of Scripture which seem contradictory.

Concilier les Esprits, to reconcile Men that are at variance.

Or thus. As, se concilier la bienveillance des Juges, to get the favour of the Judges, to incline them to give a favourable audience.

Se concilier la bienveillance de son Auditoire, to gain the love (or the hearts) of his Auditory.

Concis, concise, short, succinct.

Un Style net, vif, & concis, a neat, lively, and short Style.

Il est concis dans ses Harangues, he is concise in his Speeches, he makes short Speeches.

Concision, (f.) concision.

This Word you will find used by S. Paul, Phil. 3. 2, as a mock-word for the Jew's Circumcision.

Concitoyen, (m.) a fellow-Citizen.

Conclave, (m.) the Conclave, or the Place wherein the Cardinals assemble for the election of a new Pope; the Conclave, or the Cardinals belonging to the Conclave.

As, aller au Conclave, to go to the Conclave. On est au Conclave, there's a meeting in the Conclave.

Le Conclave est assemblé, the Conclave is met. Le Conclave a élu un Pape, the Conclave has chose a Pope.

Conclu, concluded, ended, finished; concluded, determined, resolved, or agreed upon; concluded, gathered, or inferred.

Conclure, to conclude, end, or finish; to conclude, determine, resolve, or agree upon; to conclude, gather, or infer.

Conclure un Discours, to conclude (or end) a Discourse. L'Orateur doit conclure son Discours vivement & pathetiquement, an Orator ought to conclude his Discourse lively and pathetically.

Conclure une Affaire, to conclude a Business.
Je n'ai rien encore conclu, I have as yet resolved upon nothing.

De tout cela je conclu que c'est un Fat, from thence I conclude he is a very Sor.

Or thus. As, conclude criminellement contre quécun, to find one guilty of the Charge.

Tout conclut à ta mort, everything conduces to your death. Je conclu à votre depart, I am for your going away.

Conclusion, (f.) conclusion, end, issue; conclusion, or consequence; conclusion, or the last proposition of a Syllogism; the Reader's Opinion upon the Subject in hand; the Attorney-general's (or another eminent Lawyer's) Opinion of the Matter debated; a Demand of a Plaintiff.

Faire la conclusion d'un Discours, to make the conclusion of (to conclude) a Discourse.

La conclusion de l'Affaire, the conclusion (the Issue) of the Business.

D'où je tire cette conclusion, from whence I draw this consequence.

Quand on dispute dans les formes, il ne faut jamais nier la Conclusion d'un Syllogisme, in case of a formal Dispute, the Conclusion of a Syllogism is not to be deny'd.

Il est bon de savoir les Conclusions de son Regent, 'tis good to know his Readers Opinion.

L'Avocat general a donné ses conclusions, the Attorney general has given his Opinion.

On lui a ajugé ses conclusions, his Demands were allowed him.

† Concoction, (f.) concoction, digestion. Say Coction.

Concombre, (m.) cucumber.

Le Concombre est rafraichissant, Cucumbers are cooling.

Concombre marin, forte d'Insecte qui a du rapport au Concombre de Terre, the round pompion, or melon.

Concomitance, (f.) concomitancy.

As, les Papietes croient, que le Corps & le Sang de Jesus Christ sont dans le Sacrement, & que le Pere & le S. Esprit y sont aussi par concomitance, the Papists believe, that the Body and Blood of our Saviour are in the Sacrament, and that the Father and the Holy Ghost are there also by concomitancy.

Concomitant, concomitant, concurrent.

As, Grace concomitante, the concomitant (or concurrent) Grace.

Concordance, (f.) a Concordance; a short (or introductory) Grammar for the Latine Tongue.

Concordat, (m.) Concordate, the Treaty made betwixt King Francis I. and Pope Leo X. about Church-Livings; a Contract, or Agreement. In which last sense it is used, as a Church-word, amongst Church-Wardens.

Concorde, (f.) concord, union.

Vivre dans une grande concorde, to live in great union.

Concourir, to concur; to conspire.

Dieu concourt aux actions des Causes secondes, God concurs in the actions of second Causes.

Tout concourt à son Elevation, all Things conspire to his Advancement.

Concours, (m.) concurrence, or help; concurrence, or resort of people.

Le concours de Dieu aux actions des Causes secondes, the concurrence of God to the actions of the second Causes.

Il y avoit un grand concours de peuple, there was a great concourse of people.

Concubinage, (m.) Concubinage, or keeping of a Concubine.

Concubinaire, (m.) he that keeps a Concubine.

As, c'est un Concubinaire, he keeps a Concubine.

Concubine, (f.) a Concubine.

Se defaire de sa Concubine, to rid himself of his Concubine.

Concupiscence, (f.) concupiscency, lust.

La Concupiscence rebelle sollicite l'Ame au Peché, the rebellious Concupiscency intices the Soul to sin.

Concupiscible, concupiscible.

As, l'Appetit concupiscible, the concupiscible Appetite.

Concurrence, (f.) from Concourir, emulation, competition.

Concurrent, (m.) Competitor, Rival.

Concussion, (f.) concussim, publick extortion, violence.

Etre accusé de concussions, to be accused (or charged) with extortions.

Concussionnaire, (m.) an Extortioner.

C'est un infigne Concussionnaire, he is a noted Extortioner.

Condamnable, guilty; to blame.

Le Parlement la trouva condamnable, & il la condamna à avoir la tête coupée, the Parliament found her guilty, and pronounced sentence upon her that she should be beheaded.

Son procédé est condamnable, her proceeding is to blame. Elle est condamnable pour s'être trop emportée, she is to blame for having gratify'd so much her violent passion.

Condamnation, (f.) condemnation, damnation, 1 Tim. 5. 12. judgment, 2 Pet. 2. 3.

Votre Condamnation est infallible, your Condemnation is infallible.

Or thus. As, je passe là dessus condamnation, I confess I am in the wrong.

† Ils l'ont livré en condamnation de Mort, (Luke 24. 20.) they delivered him to be condemned to Death.

Condamné, cast; condemned, or sentenced; blamed; rendered (or made) unserviceable.

As, ma Partie est condamnée, my Adversary is cast.

Il est condamné à la mort, he is condemned to die, or sentenced to death.

Etre fausement accusé, & injustement condamné, to be falsely accused, and unjustly condemned.

Sa Conduite est condamnée par toute la Terre, his Conduct is blamed all over the World, all the World blames his Conduct.

Une porte, ou une fenêtre condamnée, a door, or window rendered unserviceable, so shut up as never to be opened again.

Or thus. Condamné à une amende, fin'd.

Condamné par contumace, outlawed.

Tel est condamné qui a bonne cause, he that is in the right often receives the foil.

Condamner, to cast; to judge, or condemn; to blame; to suspect; to render unserviceable, or make fit for nouse.

La Cour vous condamnera (en fait de Cause civile) you will be cast in Court.

Les Juges vous condamneront à la mort, the Judges will condemn you to die, they will sentence you to death.

Ils vous condamneront aux Galeres, they will condemn you to the Gallies.

Condamner la conduite d'une personne, to blame one's conduct, to blame him for his ill conduct.

Je me condamne moi même, I blame my self. Ce n'est pas l'usage des Choses, mais l'Abus que je condamne, 'tis not the Use, but the Abuse of Things, which I blame.

Condamnerai je la fidelité de mon Medecin? shall I suspect my Physician's honesty?

Condamner une porte, ou une fenêtre, la fermer tout à fait, de sorte qu'on n'en tire aucun usage, to render a door or a window unserviceable, to make it unfit for service.

Or thus. As, condamner à une amende, to fine.

Condamner par contumace, to outlaw.

Condensation, (f.) Terme de Philosophie, condensation.

Condensé, condensated, condensed, or thickened.

As, des Vapeurs condensées, condensated Vapours.

Condenser, to condensate, to condense.

Condescendance, (f.) condescendency, condescension, complacency.

Ce que j'en fai c'est plutôt par condescendance que par dessein, I do it rather out of condescension than out of any design.

Condescendre, to condescend, to submit.

Condescendre à la volonté d'autrui, to condescend (to submit) to another's will.

Je condescendrai à tout ce que vous voudrez, I shall submit to what you please.

Or thus. As, il nous faut condescendre à leur foiblesse, we must bear with their weaknesses.

† Condisciple, (m.) a fellow-Disciple.

This Word you will find used, John 11. 16.

Condition, (f.) condition, term, or article; condition, or thing required towards the validity of an Action or Writing; a conditional proffer; a Place, or Employment; condition, state, or profession; quality, or degree.

As, il traita avec ces conditions, he treated upon those terms.

Les Conditions furent jurées de part & d'autre, the Articles (or Conditions) were sworn to on both sides.

Faire ses conditions bonnes, to make good terms for himself.

Voici les Conditions qu'il faut, pour faire qu'une Action soit volontaire, these are the Conditions requisite to make an Act voluntary.

J'accepte la Condition qu'il m'a offerte, I accept the Proffer he made me.

Chercher Condition, to look for a Place.

Trouver une tres bonne Condition, to find a very good Place.

Entrer en Condition, to enter into (or upon) an Employment.

Sortir de Condition, to leave (to come out of) a Place.

Dans toutes sortes de Conditions, in all states of a mans Life.

S'ennuyer de sa Condition, to be weary of his Condition.

Un Homme de Condition, a Man of quality.

Un Homme de basse Condition, a Man of low degree.

A condition que, à charge que, upon condition that, provided that.

A condition que vous vous taisiez, provided that you hold your tongue.

Conditionné, conditional.

As, une Permission conditionnée, ed. qui renferme quelque chose de conditionnel, a conditional Leave.

Or thus. As, des Livres bien conditionnez, Books that are in a right case, which are come to no hurt, or damage.

Conditionnel, conditional.

As, un Offre conditionnel, a conditional Offer.

Conditionnellement, conditionally, upon condition, or with a proviso.

Condolence, (f.) Condolence, Condoling.

Faire à quécun des Complimens de condolence, sur la Mort d'un proche Parent, to condole with one for the Death of a near Relation.

† Se Condouloir, to condole.

In stead of se condouloir, the French say now s'affliger avec quécun; faire compliment à quécun sur sa Douleur.

Conducteur, (m.) Leader, or Guide; Governor, or Overseer.

Souvenez vous de vos Conducteurs, (Heb. 13. 7.) Remember them which have the Rule over you.

Conduire, to conduct, lead, guide, or bring; to conduct, lead, manage, govern, rule, guide, bring (or train) up, carry on.

Conduire un Aveugle, to lead a blind man.

Je vous conduirai jusques là, I'll conduct you so far, I'll go so far along with you.

Il m'a conduit jusque'ici, he has brought me hither.

Conduire quécun au Supplie, to bring one to the Place of Execution.

Conduire une Riviere d'un Lieu en un autre, to bring in a River to a Place.

Conduire une Armée, to conduct (or lead) an Army.

Conduire un Enfant dans sa Jeunesse, to bring up a Child.

Conduire l'Etat, to govern the State.

Pour l'amour de ton Nqm mene moi, & me condui, (Ps. 33. 3.) for thy Name's sake lead me, and guide me.

Conduire une Affaire, to manage a Business.

Pour bien conduire une Entreprise, to carry on a Design cunningly.

Conduire un Bâtiment, to carry on a Building.

Se conduire, to find out his way; to govern himself, to be his own Master; to behave (or to carry) himself.

As, cet Aveugle se conduit fort bien lui même avec son bâton, that Blind man finds his own way very well with his stick.

Il est trop jeune, il n'a pas encore l'esprit de se bien conduire, he is too young, he doth not know yet how to govern himself.

Se conduire (se comporter) sagement, to behave (or to carry) himself discreetly.
 Conduit, conducted, managed, governed, &c. according to the Verb.
 Un Etat mal conduit, a State ill-governed.
 Une Armée bien conduite, an Army well managed, well ordered.
 Cette Affaire a été mal conduite, this Business has been ill managed.
 Conduit, (a masc. Subst.) a conduit, passage, or pipe.
 Un conduit souterrain, a conduit (or pipe) under-ground.
 Le conduit de l'Urine, the passage of the Urine.
 Sauf conduit, safe conduct.
 Conduite, (a fern. Subst.) manage, or management; power, or command; care, tuition, or government; conduct, way, manner of life, 2 Tim. 3. 10; conduct, forecast; discretion, or wisdom.
 As, donner la conduite d'une chose à quécun, to give one the management of a thing.
 Il a la conduite de toutes mes Affaires, he hath the management of all my Concerns.
 Avoir la conduite d'une Armée, to have the command of an Army. On lui donna la conduite de l'Aile gauche, he had the command of the left Wing given him.
 Confier la conduite de ses Enfants à un honnête homme, to trust an honest man with the care of his Children, to leave them under his eye, tuition, care, or government. Etre sous la conduite de quécun, to be under ones tuition, or government.
 On blâme fort sa conduite, his conduct is very much blamed. Elle a une étrange conduite, she has strange ways with her. Cela lui est arrivé par sa mauvaise conduite, that he fell into by his ill conduct, or for want of good conduct.
 Un homme de grande conduite, a man of great conduct. Il manque (il n'a point) de conduite, he wants discretion, he hath no forecast at all.
 Cone, (m.) sorte de Pyramide ronde en forme de pain de sucre, Cone, a Geometrical Body, broad beneath and sharp above, with a circular bottom.
 Conetable } See { Connetable.
 Conetablie } Connetablie.
 Confection, (f.) Terme d'Apoticaire, confection, composition.
 La confection du Chyle, (en Termes de Medecine) the making of the Chyle.
 Confederation, (f.) Confederacy, or Confederation.
 Cette Confederation n'est faite que depuis notre Traité, this Confederation was made but since our Treaty.
 Confederé, confederate.
 As, un Peuple confederé, a confederate People. Une Ville confederée, a confederate Town.
 Les Confederez, the Confederates. Les Cantons de Suisse & leurs Confederez, the Swiss Cantons and their Confederates.
 Conferé, (from Conferer) conferred; compared.
 Cela lui a été conferé, that was conferred upon him.
 Ce qui paroît beau & delicat dans la Copie est froid & languissant lors qu'il est conferé avec l'Original, that which appears to be delicate and fine in the Copy is but indifferent when compared with the Original.
 Conference, (f.) Conference.
 Entrer en Conference avec quécun, to begin a Conference with one. Etre en conference (avoir conference) avec lui, to hold (to have) a conference with him.
 Mr. l'Ambassadeur & les Commissaires du Roi ont eu diverses Conferences sur cette matiere, My Lord Ambassador and the Kings Commissioners had several Conferences together upon that matter.
 Conferer, to confer, discourse, or communicate; to confer, give, or bestow; to compare.
 Nous conférerons ensemble de toutes ces choses, we shall confer (or talk) together about all these things. Après que les Generaux eurent conféré ensemble, il repondit, after the Generals had conferred together, he answered.

 Conferer les Ordres à quécun, to admit one into Orders. Conferer une Benefice, to confer (give, or bestow) a Benefice.
 Conferer deux choses ensemble, to compare two things together.
 Confès, confessed.
 As, contrit & confès, (en Termes d'Eglise) penitent and confessed.
 Confesse. As, aller à confesse, to go to confess.
 Elles sont toutes amoureuses, & ne vont point à confesse, they are all amorous, and never go to confess.
 Confessé, confessed, acknowledged.
 Confesser, to confess, or acknowledge; to give thanks to, Heb. 13. 15; to confess, or hear ones confession.
 Confesser ses pechez, to confess (or acknowledge) his sins. Je lui ferai bien confesser sa faute, I shall easily make him confess his fault. Confesser ses rechutes, to confess his relapses.
 Le Prêtre a confessé aujourd'hui plusieurs personnes, the Priest has confessed to day several people, or has heard the confession of several persons.
 Se confesser, dire ses pechez à un Prêtre, to confess his sins to a Priest, to be shaven.
 Se confesser au Renard, (Prov.) to betray himself to a false-hearted man.
 Confesseur, (m.) Confessor, a Priest that hears confessions; Confessor, or Martyr.
 Un Confesseur doux & commode, a mild and easy Confessor. Avoir deux Confesseurs, l'un pour les pechez veniels, & l'autre pour les pechez mortels, to have two Confessors, one for venial, and another for mortal sins.
 Confession, (f.) confession, acknowledgment.
 On tira cette confession de sa bouche, that confession was pumped out of him.
 La confession auriculaire, the auricular confession. Faire une confession generale, to make a general confession.
 Entendre une personne en confession, to hear ones confession.
 Confessional, (m.) la Chaise de Confesseur, Confessionary, the Confessor's Seat.
 Confiance, (f.) confidence, trust.
 La Confiance n'est autre chose qu'une Esperance consommée, Confidence is nothing but a consummate Hope. Mettre sa confiance en Dieu, to put his trust in God. Mettre sa confiance en ses Richesses, to put his trust in his Riches.
 Prendre confiance en une personne, to begin to trust one, or to confide in him.
 Marquer de la confiance pour quécun, lui donner des marques de sa confiance, to express (or to shew) the confidence one hath of a mans integrity. J'ai une entiere confiance en lui, I have an intire confidence in him.
 La confiance que j'ai en vous me fait entreprendre cette Affaire, the confidence I have in you makes me undertake that Business. Sur la confiance que j'ai en votre bonté, upon the confidence I have in your bounty.
 Avoir confiance, 2 Cor. 5. 6. to be confident.
 Confidement, en confiance, confidently.
 Dire quèque chose confidement, to tell a thing confidently.
 Confidence, (f.) the keeping of a Benefice which is none of ours.
 Faire confidence d'une chose à quécun, to trust a secret thing with one, to impart it to him.
 Confident, (m.) Confident, a trusty Friend.
 C'est son cher Confident, he is his dear Confident.
 Confidente, (f.) Confident, a she Confident.
 Une fidelle Confidente, a true Confident.
 Confidential, (m.) he that keeps a Benefice for another.
 Confier, to trust.
 As, confier son Bien à quécun, to trust one with his Estate. Confier un Secret à un Ami, to trust a Friend with a Secret.
 Se confier à quécun, faire fond sur sa bonne foi, to trust one, to confide in one, to repose his trust in him. Se confier en Dieu, to trust in God, to put his trust (or confidence) in God.

Se confier en ses forces, to trust to his own forces. Il se confioit en la bonté de sa Cause, he trusted to the justice of his Cause.
 Confine, confined.
 Confiner, to border; to confine, or send away to a Place of confinement.
 As, la Bourgogne confine à la Suisse, Burgundy borders upon Swisserland.
 Vous me confinez parmi des bêtes sauvages qu'on ne peut apprivoiser, you confine me amongst wild beasts that cannot be tamed.
 Se confiner, se retirer en quèque Lieu éloigné, to confine (or retire) himself.
 Il se va confiner aux Lieux les plus cachez, he is going to confine himself to the most private Places.
 Confins, (m.) Confines, Borders.
 Il entra dans les Confins de la Medie, he went within the Confines of Media.
 Confire, to preserve; to pickle.
 As, confire des prunes, ou des cerises, to preserve Plums, or Cherries.
 Confire du concombre, to pickle cucumbers.
 Or thus. As, confire une Peau, to dress a Skin (with water, salt, flower, &c.)
 Confirmation, (f.) confirmation, or assurance; Confirmation, or Bishoping.
 J'attens avec impatience la confirmation de cette Nouvelle, I wait with impatience the confirmation of that News.
 La Confirmation fait un des sept Sacremens de l'Eglise Romaine, the Confirmation makes one of the seven Sacraments of the Roman Church. Recevoir la Confirmation, to receive the Confirmation.
 Confirmé, confirmed, or made good; confirmed, or established; confirmed, that hath received the Confirmation.
 Cette Nouvelle est elle confirmée, ou non? is that News confirmed or no?
 Afin que vous soyez confirmez, (Rom. 1. 11.) to the end you may be established.
 Confirmer, to confirm, or make good; to confirm, establish, settle, strengthen, or fortify; to confirm, or give the confirmation.
 Confirmer une Nouvelle, to confirm a News.
 Confirmer quécun dans sa Resolution, to confirm (or settle) one in his Resolution. Je l'ai confirmé de plus en plus dans les bons sentimens qu'il avoit pour elle, I confirmed him more and more in the good opinion he had of her.
 Confirmer quécun, lui donner la Confirmation, to confirm one, or give him the Confirmation.
 L'Evêque frappe legerement avec la main la Jouë de celui qu'il confirme, pour lui apprendre qu'il doit être pret à souffrir toutes sortes de disgraces pour Jesus Christ, the Bishop strikes lightly with his hand the Cheek of the Person confirmed, to let him know that he must be ready to suffer all manner of disgraces for his Saviours sake.
 Se confirmer, to strengthen (or fortify) himself.
 As, se confirmer dans la Foi, to strengthen himself in the Faith.
 Or thus. As, la Nouvelle de la defaite des Turcs se confirme tous les jours, the News of the Turks Overthrow is confirmed every day.
 Confiscable, (from Confisquer) forfeitable, liable to be forfeited.
 Ses Biens sont confiscables au Roi, his Estate is forfeitable to the King.
 Confiscation, (f.) confiscation, forfeiture.
 Confiseur, (m.) from Confire, a Confectioner.
 Un bon Confiseur, a good Confectioner, one that makes good Confits.
 Confisqué, confiscated, forfeited, seized upon.
 Tous ses Biens sont confiscuez, all his Estate is forfeited, or seized upon.
 † Un homme confiscué, ruiné, perdu, qui n'a plus de santé, ni de vigueur, a decay'd man, a dying man.
 Confisquer, to confiscate, forfeit, or seize upon.
 On confiscuera tous vos Biens, all your Estate will be forfeited.
 Confit, (from Confire) preserved, seasoned.
 † Confit en devotion, pour dire fort devot, extream devout, pickled in devotion.
 Confitures, (f.) preserves, confits, sweet-meats.

Confitures seches & liquides, dry and wet confits.
 Confiturier, (m.) a Confectioner, one that makes and sells confits.
 † Conflagration, (f.) Conflagration, or violent Burning.
 † Conflant. See Confluant.
 Conflit, (m.) Terme de Palais, conflict.
As, Conflit de Jurisdiction entre deux Juges, a conflict (or contest) between two Judges about their Jurisdiction.
 Confluant, or Confluent, (m.) the meeting of two Rivers, the Influx (or the Fall) of one River into another.
 Confondre, to confound, or mingle together; to confound, trouble, or disturb; to confound, shame, or disgrace.
Alles vous confondre tout cela? do you go to confound all that together?
Voila qui me confond, that confounds me.
Je l'ai confondu, il n'a su que me repondre, I have confounded him, he could not tell what answer to give me. Confondre l'Auteur de quelque Bruit, to confound (to shame, or disgrace) the Author of a Report.
 Conformation, (f.) disposition, proportion.
As, la conformation des Parties du Corps, the proportion (or disposition) of the Parts of the Body.
 Conforme, conform, conformable, agreeable, like, consentaneous, congruous.
As, ce genre de Vie est tres conforme à la Nature, this kind of Life is very conformable (or agreeable) to Nature. Une Doctrine conforme à celle des Peres, a Doctrine conformable to that of the Fathers.
 La Fin est conforme au Commencement, the End is like the Beginning. Personne du monde n'a des Sentimens plus conformes aux miens, no man in the world has any Opinions more congruous (or consentaneous) to my own.
 Conformément, conformably, according, pursuant.
Il parle conformément à mon desir, he speaks conformably to my desire.
Vivre conformément à la Raison, to live according to the rules of Reason.
 Conformément aux Ordres du Roi, pursuant to the King's Orders.
 Conformer, to suite, to frame.
As, conformer ses Interets aux Volontez de quécun, to suite his Interests to another mans Will, or Pleasure.
 La Loi de Dieu conforme les Ames à ses Instructions salutaires, the Law of God frames the Souls to its wholesome Precepts.
 Se conformer, to conform, to frame himself, to be conformed, to fashion himself, 1 Pet. 1. 14.
As, se conformer aux volontez d'autrui, to conform himself to another mans will, to frame himself according to his will.
 Ne vous conformez point à ce present Siecle, (Rom. 12. 2.) be not conformed to this World.
 Conformité, (f.) conformity, conformableness, resemblance, likeness.
 Le bonheur de l'Homme consiste en la conformité de sa Volonté à celle de Dieu, Man's happiness consists in the conformity of his Will with the Will of God.
 Doctrine qui n'a nulle conformité avec celle des Peres, a Doctrine that hath not the least conformity with that of the Fathers.
 Si nous avons été faits une même Plante avec lui par la conformité de sa Mort, aussi le serons nous par la conformité de sa Resurrection, (Rom. 6. 5.) if we have been planted together in the likeness of his Death, we shall be also in the likeness of his Resurrection.
 † Confort, (m.) comfort, consolation.
 Confortatif, strengthening, comfortable.
As, un Remede confortatif, a strengthening Remedy.
 † Conforté, comforted.
 † Conforter, to comfort.
 Confraire } See { Confre.
 Confrairie } Confre.
 Confre, (m.) a Member (or Brother) of a religious Society; a Brother (or Fellow) of any Society.

Un Confre fort devot, a very devout Brother, (that is, of such a Society as is called Confre.)
 † A present les Auteurs sont ses Confres, now Authors are his Brothers, now he has got into the noble Society of Authors.
 Les Peres de l'Oratoire appelleit aussi Confre le Religieux de l'Oratoire qui n'est pas Pere.
 Confre, (f.) a devout Brotherhood, Society, or Fraternity; such as les Confres de S. Laurent, du Rosaire, de la Passion, du S. Sacrement.
 † Etre de la grande Confre, cd. être au nombre des Cocus, dont la Troupe est nombreuse, to be of the Cuckold's great Society.
 Confrontation, (f.) Confrontation de Temoins, a confronting of the Witnesses with the Party accused, a reading (or examining) of their Deposition in his presence.
 Confronté, confronted; compared.
 Confronter, to confront; to compare.
 Confronter les Temoins au Criminel, to confront the Witnesses to the Prisoner, to bring them face to face.
 Confronter la Copie avec l'Original, to compare the Copy with the Original.
 Confus, (from Confondre) confused, or perplexed; confounded, ashamed, out of countenance.
 Un Discours confus, a confused (or perplexed) Discourse. Un cri confus, a confused noise. Vision confuse, a confused Vision.
 Le voila tout confus, there he is quite confounded. Je suis confus de la peine que je vous donne, I am ashamed for the trouble I give you. Cette Reponse le rendit confus, that Answer put him out of countenance.
 Or thus. As, un Miroir qui fait voir tout confus, a dull Looking-glass, that does not shew the object clear.
 Confusément, confusedly, indistinctly.
 Voir les choses confusément, to see but confusedly.
 Confusion, (f.) confusion, or disorder; disorder, trouble, or hurly-burly; confusion, or shame; a deal, or store.
 Voyez un peu quelle confusion (quel defordre) il y a ici, see a little what a confusion here is.
 Dans les Confusions d'une Guerre civile, amidst the Troubles of a civil War.
 Ceci me donne bien de la confusion, this puts me into a great confusion. Je le dirai à ma confusion, I shall speak it to my shame and confusion.
 Une confusion de rubans, a deal (a store) of ribbons.
 Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 7. 14. Je n'en ai point reçu de confusion, I am not ashamed of it.
 † Confutation, (f.) confutation. Say refutation.
 † Confuté, confuted. Say refuté.
 † Confuter, to confute. Say refuter.
 Congé, (m.) leave, permission, or licence; leave, or farewell; order to depart; a dismissal upon default.
 Donner à quécun congé de s'en aller, to give one leave to be gone. Les Soldats eurent leur congé à charge de revenir, the Soldiers had leave to go, but with a charge to return. Congé d'Encavement, a Licence to lay Wine in the Cellar.
 Prendre congé de quécun, lui dire adieu, to take his leave of one, to bid him farewell.
 Je pars, & je ne veux prendre congé de personne, I am going, and will not take leave of any soul alive.
 Donner le congé à un Domestique, cd. s'en defaire, le renvoyer, to send away (to dismiss) a Servant, to give him order to depart.
 Congédié, dismissed, discharged, sent away, disbanded.
 Un Domestique congédié, a Servant discharged, dismissed, or sent away.
 Des Troupes congédiées, disbanded Forces.
 Congedier, to dismiss, discharge, send away, disband.
 As, congedier un Domestique, to dismiss (discharge, or send away) a Servant.
 Congedier les Troupes, to disband the Forces.

Congelation, (f.) congealing, or congelation. Congelé, congealed.
 Congeler, (Terme de Chymie) to congeal.
 Conglobation, (f.) conglobation.
 Congratulation, (f.) congratulation.
 Congratulé, congratulated.
 Congratuler, to congratulate.
But these three foregoing Words, though they may be used, yet they are not current. Feliciter, instead of Congratuler, is the Word.
 Congre, (m.) Conger, a sort of Fish.
 Congreganiste, (m.) See Congregation.
 Congregation, (f.) Congregation, Assembly, a certain number of Cardinals selected by the Pope for the decision of a Church-concern. Amongst Jesuits it signifies a Body (or Society) of Scholars or Tradesmen that from time to time confess themselves to the Father of that Fraternity, which Fraternity is also known by the name of Congreganistes. And the Hall, or Chappel, where they meet, hath also the name of Congregation.
 † Congregé, assembled (met) together.
 L'Assemblée fut congregée, (Judg. 20. 1.) the Congregation was assembled together.
 † Congreger, to assemble (or gather) together.
 Congrès, (m.) congress, copulation.
 Après le premier Congrès on fait jouer la Musique, after the first Congress the Musick is set a playing.
 Congru, competent; exact.
 As, une Portion congrue, a competent Portion.
 Etre congru en François, to be exact in speaking or writing of French.
 Congruement, exactly, proper.
 As, parler congruement, to speak proper.
 Conjectural, conjectural, guessing.
 As, la Medecine est une Science fort conjecturale, Physick is a very conjectural Science.
 Conjecture, (f.) conjecture, guess.
 Une conjecture vraie, ou fausse, a true, or false conjecture. Se fonder sur une conjecture, to ground himself upon a conjecture.
 La conjecture que j'en ai est fondée sur une concurrence de Choses, qui toutes y contribuent, my conjecture is grounded upon a concurrence of Things, which altogether contribute thereto.
 Conjecturé, conjectured, guessed.
 Conjecturer, to conjecture, to guess.
 Je conjecture par moi même, que vous n'eussiez pas agréé la Harangue, I guess by my own self, that you would not have liked his Speech.
 Sa Mine me fait conjecturer beaucoup de choses, I conjecture many things from his looks.
 † Conjoindre, to conjoin, or join together.
 Conjoint, conjoined, joined together.
 Or thus. As, Prov. 18. 24. Il y a tel Ami qui est plus conjoint que le Frere, there is a Friend that sticketh closer than the Brother.
 Conjointement, jointly.
 Il fut nommé conjointement avec moi, he was named jointly with me.
 Conjonctif, Conjunctive, the Conjunctive (or Subjunctive) Mood.
 Conjonction, (f.) conjunction.
 La conjunction de la Lune avec le Soleil, the conjunction of the Moon with the Sun.
 Une Conjonction de Grammaire, a Grammatical Conjunction. Il faut placer ingénieusement les Conjonctions, the Conjunctions must be ingeniously placed.
 Conjonctive, (f.) Conjunction.
 Mots liés par la conjonctive, Words joined by a conjunction.
 Conjoncture, (f.) juncture, conjuncture.
 Une conjoncture heureuse ou malheureuse, bonne ou mauvaise, an happy or unhappy, good or bad conjuncture. Une conjoncture fatale, a fatal conjuncture.
 Dans cette conjoncture, in that juncture of time. Dans cette conjoncture il falloit dissimuler, in such a case you should have connived.
 † se Conjoûir, to congratulate. Say se rejouir avec (or feliciter) quécun.
 Conique (from Cone) conical.

As, figure conique, a conical figure.

Conjugaison, (f.) Conjugation.

Les Verbes François se réduisent, comme les Latins, à quatre Conjugaisons, the French (like the Latine) Verbs, are reducible to four Conjugations.

Conjugal, conjugal, belonging unto man and wife.

As, l'amour conjugal, the conjugal love.

Le lien conjugal, the conjugal ty, the bond of matrimony.

Conjugué, conjugated, declined.

Conjuguer, to conjugate, to decline.

As, conjuguer un Verbe, to conjugate (or decline) a Verb.

† Conjurateur. See Conjuré.

Conjuration, (f.) Conjuraton, Plot, or Conspiracy; prayer, or earnest application.

Une dangereuse Conjuration, a desperate Conspiracy. Découvrir une Conjuration, to discover a Plot.

Conjuré, (m.) a Plotter, a Conspirator.

Les Conjurez ont été condamnés à la Mort, the Conspirators are condemned to die, are sentenced to Death.

Conjurer, to plot, to conspire, to join in a private confederacy against the Sovereign or the State; to conjure, or earnestly intreat; to conjure, or exorcise.

As, Catiline avoit conjuré contre sa Patrie, Catilina had conspired against his native Country.

Je vous conjure, ma Chère, de vous souvenir d'un homme qui vous adore, I conjure you, my Dear, to remember a Man who is your adorer.

Le Prêtre a conjuré le Diable de sortir du possédé, the Priest has conjured the Devil to come out of the possessed person.

Connetable, (m.) Constable.

Le grand Connetable de France, the high Constable of France, the chief Officer of the Crown, whose Place is next to the Princes of the Royal Blood. At present there is none.

Autrefois le grand Ecuier de France étoit le Connetable, heretofore the Master of the King's Horse was the Lord High Constable.

Connetable, (f.) As, Madame la Connetable, the High Constable's Wife.

† Connetablierie. See Connetablie.

Connetablie, (f.) sorte de Jurisdiction, qu'on appelle d'ordinaire la Table de Marbre, the High Constable's Jurisdiction.

Connexion, (f.) connexion.

Ces Matières n'ont ensemble aucune connexion, these Matters have no manner of connexion together.

Connexité (f.) ce par quoi une chose a rapport à une autre, connexity.

† Connil, or Connin, (m.) a coney, a rabbit, a young rabbit; a rabbit's skin; a pocket cup, commonly of silver, and made after the shape of a woman's —

Connin is also frequently used by Nurses, when they play to their Nursery Girls.

As, c'est le plus beau, le plus joli, & le plus mignon Connin du monde, 'tis the finest, the prettiest, and the handsomest Cony in the whole World.

Connivence, (f.) connivence, or winking at.

Conniver, to connive, or wink at.

Connoissance, (f.) knowledge; notice; acquaintance.

As, s'appliquer à la connoissance de quelque chose, to apply himself to the knowledge of something. Donner à quelqu'un la connoissance d'une chose, to help one to the knowledge of a thing.

La connoissance des Choses à venir, the knowledge of Things to come. On n'a aucune connoissance assurée de cette Affaire, there is no certain knowledge of that Thing. Cela étant venu à ma connoissance, that being come to my knowledge.

Prendre connoissance d'une chose, to take notice of a thing. Gardez vous bien d'en prendre connoissance, be sure to take no notice of it. Je n'en ai pris aucune connoissance, I have not took the least notice of it.

Je vien de faire une Connoissance, I got just now a new Acquaintance. C'est une de mes anciennes Connoissances, he is my old Acquaintance. Renouveler connoissance avec quelqu'un, to renew his acquaintance with one.

Or thus. As, prendre connoissance d'un Procès, s'en réserver la connoissance, to hear a Cause, in order to determine it. Etre condamné sans connoissance de Cause, to be condemned without hearing.

Tu as la connoissance des Saintes Lettres, (2 Tim. 3. 15.) thou hast known the Holy Scriptures.

Les Connoissances honnêtes, good Learning, good Literature. Les Connoissances se peuvent acquérir par le sens, ou par le raisonnement, Learning may be got by the senses, or by reasoning.

Juger des choses par ses propres connoissances, to judge of things by his own lights. Nous avons puisé ces connoissances dans ces Auteurs, we have taken those lights from such Authors.

On l'emporta dans sa Tente plus vif que mort, ayant perdu toute connoissance, he was carry'd away into his Tent, so far gone that he had lost his senses.

Faire connoissance avec quelqu'un, to get acquainted with one. Je vous ferai faire connoissance avec lui, I shall get you acquainted with him. Je lui ai donné la connoissance de mes meilleurs Amis, & il en a mal usé, I got him acquainted with my best Friends, and he hath made but an ill use of it.

Ce Jour là nous eumes connoissance du Cap vert, that Day we discovered the Cape vert.

Connoissances (ou Descriptions) des Côtes, the Draughts of the Sea Coasts.

Connoissant, knowing.

As, un homme fort connoissant, a very knowing man.

Connoissement, ou brevet, (m.) a bill of lading.

Les Gens de Mer appellent Connoissement une Reconnoissance par écrit, que le Maître ou le Patron d'un Vaisseau Marchand donne sous son Seing privé à des Particuliers, pour certifier les Marchandises qui ont été chargées dans son Bord.

Connoisseur, (m.) celui qui s'entend & se connoit en quelque chose, a skilful man, a man of skill in something.

Connoisseuse, (f.) a skilful woman, a woman of skill in something.

Cela nous donnera le bruit de Connoisseuses, that will get us the repute of skilful Women.

Connoître, to know, perceive, or understand; to know, see, or discern; to know, or be acquainted with; to know, or have a carnal knowledge; to judge.

As, Je voudrais que vous pussiez connoître l'affection que je vous porte, I wish you could know the love I have for you. Je conois les embûches que mes Enemis me dressent, I know what snares my Enemies do lay against me. Si je pouvois connoître ces mystères, if I could but know (if I could but dive, or penetrate into) those mysteries.

Faire connoître, to make known, to declare, or make to understand.

Je lui ferai connoître ma fidélité, I shall make him know my fidelity. Je lui ferai connoître à qui il se prend, I shall make him know who I am.

Il m'a fait connoître cela, he hath made me to understand that. Donner à connoître, to give to understand.

Connoître quelqu'un de vue, to know one by sight. Je ne le conois point, car je ne l'ai jamais vu, I don't know him at all, for I never saw him. Je conois fort bien que cette toile n'est pas blanche, I see very well that this cloth is not white. On veut me faire accroire que je conois la plupart des herbes, they would make me believe that I know most herbs.

Je le conois très particulièrement, I know him very well, I am particularly acquainted with him. Se connoître soi-même, to know himself. Cela vous apprendra à vous connoître, that will teach you to know your self. La chose du Monde la plus difficile, c'est de se bien connoître soi-même, the most difficult thing that is, is to know himself well.

Je la conois comme Adam conut Eve, I know her as Adam knew Eve. Prenez garde, mon fils, de ne connoître point d'autre Femme que celle que Dieu vous aura donnée pour Epouse, be sure, my Son, not to know (or meddle with) any Woman but that which God shall give you for your Spouse.

Connoître d'une Affaire, en être Juge, to be Judge of a thing, to take the Judgment of it upon himself.

Or thus. As, ces choses font connoître que vous êtes un Imprudent, these things argue (or make it appear) that you are an unwise man. Le Jour fit connoître que les Enemis s'étoient enfuis, the Day coming on made it appear that the Enemies were fled.

Il fut dans le Desert jusqu'au Jour qu'il devoit être donné à connoître à Israël, (Luke 1. 80.) he was in the Desert till the Day of his shewing unto Israel.

Se connoître (ou s'entendre) en quelque chose, to have skill in something, to understand it.

As, se connoître en Peinture, en Architecture, to have skill in Painting, in Architecture. Se connoître en gens, to understand the capacity of people.

Se faire connoître, se donner à connoître, to make himself known. Il a vécu parmi nous sans se faire connoître, he has lived amongst us unknown, or incognito.

Conque, (f.) a Shell, a Sea-shell; a marine Trumpet.

As, Venus étoit portée sur deux Tritons dans une Conque marine, Venus was carry'd upon two Tritons in a Sea-shell.

Les Tritons montez sur des Veaux marins enflaient deux Conques marines, the Tritons mounted upon Sea-calves blowed two marine Trumpets.

Conquerant, (m.) a Conquerour.

As, un glorieux, (fameux, ou celebre) Conquerant, a famous Conquerour. Les Conquerans ne peuvent pas toujours dormir jusqu'à onze heures, Conquerours cannot always sleep till eleven a clock.

† Un Conquerant en amour, a Conquerour in point of love.

Conquerante, (f.) a She-Conquerour.

Conquerir, to conquer, subdue, bring under obedience; to get, or win.

As, Alexandre a conquis plusieurs Villes & plusieurs Provinces, Alexander conquered many Towns and Provinces.

Conquerir les cœurs, to get (or win) the hearts.

Or thus. As, il conquit la Normandie sur les Anglois, he took (he recovered) Normandy from the English.

Conquêt, (m.) Terme de Droit, an Estate, or Purchase, compassed by a mans own means, labour, or industry.

Conquête, (f.) Conquest.

Faire de grandes Conquêtes, to make great Conquests. Conserver ses Conquêtes, to keep his Conquests. Perdre ses Conquêtes, to lose his Conquests.

Faire des Conquêtes en amour, to make Love-conquests. Une Conquête amoureuse, an amorous Conquest.

† Conquêter, to conquer. Say Conquerir.

Conroyé

Conroyer

Conroyeur

Conroyeuse

Corroyé.

Corroyer.

Corroyeur.

Corroyeuse.

Confacré, consecrated, hallowed; dedicated, devoted; Deify'd.

Du pain confacré, consecrated bread. Une hostie confacrée, a consecrated host.

Confacré au service de Dieu, devoted (dedicated) to Gods service.

Un Empereur Confacré, a Deify'd Empe-rouer.

Or thus. As, des Mots confacrez, qui ne sont bons qu'en un certain Endroit, Words only proper to some particular Use.

Confacrer, to consecrate, or hallow; to sacrifice, dedicate, or devote; to Deify.

As, confacrer un Autel, une Eglise, le Pain & le Vin de la S. Cene, to consecrate an Altar, a Church, the Bread and Wine of the Holy Communion.

Confacrer ses Travaux & sa Vie au Salut de sa Patrie, to devote (or dedicate) his Labours and Life to the service of his Country. Consacrer son Temps & sa Peine à des Ingrats, to sacrifice his Time and Pains to Ungrateful Wretches.

Ils consacraient les Empereurs après leur mort, they Deify'd the Emperours after their decease.

Or thus. Nous eussions consacré votre Mémoire à la Postérité, we had perpetuated your Memory to Posterity.

Se consacrer au Service de Dieu, to consecrate himself to Gods Service.

Consanguinité, (f.) Consanguinity, or Nearness in blood.

Conscience, (f.) Conscience, an inward knowledge we have of what we do well, or amiss; conscience, or scruple; conscience, or honesty.

La Conscience m'est témoin de l'affection que j'ai pour vous, my Conscience witnesses for me the affection and love I have for you.

Je fais plus d'état du Témoinage de ma Conscience que de tous les Discours des Hommes, I value more the Testimony of my own Conscience, than all the Discourses of Men.

Agir en bonne conscience, to act with a good conscience. Vous êtes obligé en Conscience, you are bound in Conscience.

Trahir sa Conscience, to betray his Conscience. Avoir des remors de Conscience, to have remorse of Conscience.

La Conscience lui reproche ses Crimes, le tourmente incessamment, & ne lui donne aucun repos, his Conscience lays his Crimes before him, torments him continually, and gives him no manner of rest.

Avoir mauvaise Conscience, une Conscience corrompue ou dépravée, to have a bad Conscience. Avoir la Conscience large, to have a large Conscience.

Endormir sa Conscience, to lay his Conscience asleep. Promettre sur sa Conscience, to promise upon his Conscience.

Jurer sur sa Conscience, to swear upon his Conscience. En conscience, en vérité, à n'en point mentir, in my conscience, truly.

Faire conscience d'une chose, to make conscience (or scruple) of a thing. Il fait conscience de mentir, he makes a conscience of a lie.

Je fais conscience de la regretter, I make conscience of bewailing her. C'est un homme sans conscience, he is a man of no conscience.

Conscientieusement, conscientiously, with a good conscience. Agir conscientieusement, to act with a good conscience.

Conscientieux, conscientious, that hath a good conscience. Pour un Marchand, il est aussi conscientieux qu'on le peut être, of a Merchant, he is as conscientious a man as can be.

C'est une Devote, elle est conscientieuse, she is a devout Woman, she is conscientious.

Consecration, (f.) from Consacrer, consecration. As, après la Consécration, after the Consecration. Le Prêtre est à la Consécration, the Priest is at the Consecration.

Consecutif, one after another, one upon another. Durant trois Jours consecutifs, during three days one after another.

Il m'en prie par trois Lettres consecutives, he begs it of me by three several Letters which came one upon another.

Consecutivement, one after another. Conseigneur, (m.) Terme de Palais, a joint Lord, or Partner, in a Lordship.

Conseil, (m.) counsel, advice; Counsel, Adviser, or Counsellor at Law; a Council, or Court of Counsellors; Council, the Place where the Counsellors meet.

Demander conseil à ses Amis, to take counsel (or advice) of his Friends. Donner conseil, to give counsel, or advice.

Prendre conseil, to take advice. Suivre le conseil de quécun, to follow ones counsel. Un bon, un salutaire, un sincère, un fidèle conseil, a good, wholesome, sincere, and faithful advice.

Un mauvais (un pernicieux) conseil, a bad (or pernicious) advice.

Aller au conseil, pour dire, aller demander conseil à quécun, to go and ask advice. Le conseil des Vieillards doit conduire les Jeunes gens, (Prov.) the counsel of Old men ought to rule Young People.

Monseigneur un tel est son Conseil, Master such an one is his Counsel, or Adviser. Un Conseil d'Avocats, a number of Counsellors at Law pleading for one Client.

Les Conseils du Roi, the King's Councils. Les Conseils du Roi se divisent en Conseil d'en haut, Conseil d'Etat ou de Finance, petite & grande Direction, Conseil des Dépêches, & Conseil des Parties.

Le Conseil d'en haut est celui où préside le Roi, & où se trouvent Monsieur le Chancelier, les Ministres d'Etat, & autres Personnes qu'il plaît à sa Majesté d'y appeler, & qui sont consommées dans les Affaires qui s'y doivent traiter.

Les Arrêts de ce Conseil commencent par ces Mots, Le Roi étant en son Conseil, pour faire voir la Différence des Arrêts des autres Conseils qui ne debutent pas de même, & pour marquer la préférence de sa Majesté au Conseil.

Les Secretaires d'Etat expedient les Arrêts du Conseil d'En haut. Le Conseil d'Etat, ou de Finance, est celui où se traitent toutes les Affaires de Finance, ou qui ont rapport aux Finances, telles que sont les Affaires des Fermes & des Gabelles, & même des Offices.

Ce Conseil se tient dans une Salle au Louvre, où il y a une Table, au bout de laquelle est la Chaise du Roi. Monsieur le Chancelier préside à ce Conseil; où se trouvent le Directeur general des Finances, le Controleur general, les deux Intendants des Finances, avec les Conseillers d'Etat, & les Maîtres des Requêtes qui ont quécun Affaire à y rapporter.

Il y a quatre Secretaires de ce Conseil, qui servent par Quartier. Les Conseils qu'on appelle petite & grande Direction regardent aussi les Finances. La petite Direction se tient chez le Directeur general des Finances, où se rencontrent le Controleur general, les deux Intendants des Finances, quécuns Conseillers d'Etat, & les Maîtres des Requêtes qui ont des Affaires à y rapporter.

C'est dans cette Cour que se fait le premier Examen des Affaires qui sont de Finances, ou qui regardent les Finances. La grande Direction se tient au Louvre, dans la Salle du Conseil. Mais la Chaise du Roi n'y est pas, & dans ce Conseil il ne se fait aucune Adjudication des Fermes du Roi.

Le Conseil des Dépêches est composé du Roi, de Monsieur le Chancelier, des trois Ministres d'Etat, & des quatre Secretaires d'Etat. Le Roi, le Chancelier, & les trois Ministres sont assis, & les quatre Secretaires debout. Ce Conseil traite des Affaires étrangères, & c'est proprement dans ce Conseil que les Secretaires d'Etat parlent des Affaires de leur Charge.

Il se tient ordinairement le Lundi. Et les autres Jours le Roi tient Conseil avec Mr. le Chancelier, & les trois Ministres. Le Conseil des Parties est un Conseil où l'on traite des Affaires des Particuliers, comme des Cassations d'Arrêts, Evocations, & autres Choses à peu près de cette nature.

Ici préside Monsieur le Chancelier, les Conseillers d'Etat y assistent assis, & derrière eux les Maîtres des Requêtes debout. La Chaise du Roi est en ce Conseil, au bout de la Table.

Un Conseil de Guerre, a Council of War. Conseil de Ville, the Common-Council of a Town.

Conseil de Construction, en Termes de Marine. C'est une Assemblée des premiers Officiers de la Marine, ordonnée par le Roi pour délibérer sur le Radoub des Vaisseaux, sur les Modelles de ceux qu'on met sur le Chantier, & que l'on construit dans les Arsenaux de Marine.

Conseils, 2 Cor. 10. 5, Imaginations. Je ne pris point conseil de la Chair & du Sang, (Gal. 1. 16.) I conferred not with Flesh and Blood.

Conseillé, advised, counselled. Il a été mal conseillé, he was ill advised.

Conseiller, to advise, or counsel.

Que me conseillez vous de faire? what d'ye advise me to do? Je vous conseille de vous en aller, I advise you to be gone.

On lui conseille de se défaire de cet homme, he is advised to put away that man.

Conseiller, (a masc. Subst.) a Counsellor; one in general that gives counsel or advice; a Counsellor of any Court.

Vous êtes un mauvais Conseiller, you are a bad Counsellor. Conseiller lai, a lay-Counsellor. Conseiller Clerc, a Church-Counsellor.

Conseiller d'honneur, an extraordinary Counsellor. Conseiller honoraire, an honorary Counsellor. Les Conseillers de la Seigneurie de Venise, the ten Venetian Lords, who (with the Doge) represent the Body of the Venetian Republic.

In a burlesk sense a Looking-Glass is called le Conseiller des Graces, and by an Author le Conseiller muet dont les Dames se servent.

Conseillère, (f.) a Counsellors Wife. The proper Expression is Femme de Conseiller.

Consentant, willing, that gives his consent. As, elle est consentante de faire toute ce qu'on voudra, she is willing to do any thing the Company shall please.

Or thus. As, je suis consentant de tout, I agree to it in all points.

Consentement, (m.) consent, approbation; mind, accord. Donner son consentement à quécun chose, to give his consent to a thing. Suspendre, ou refuser son consentement, to suspend, or refuse his consent.

Cela s'est fait de votre consentement, that was done with your consent, or with your approbation.

D'un commun consentement, with one accord, unanimously. † Soyez tous d'un consentement, (2 Cor. 13. 11.) be of one mind.

Consentir, to consent, yield, be willing, approve, agree, or allow of.

J'y consens, je le veux, j'en suis content, I consent to it, I am contented with it. Y consentez vous? do you approve (or allow) of it? do you agree to it? Vous ne sauriez me faire consentir à cela, you cannot make me consent to that.

Consentir à une Tentation, to yield to a Temptation. Prenez garde de ne consentir jamais au Peché, take heed you never yield to Sin.

Mon cœur tres amoureux consent de se ranger sous votre Empire, my most amorous heart is willing to yield up it self to your Empire.

On lui proposa de la mettre en liberté, pourveu qu'elle consentit à passer seulement au travers du Temple, she was offered her Liberty, provided she would only go cross the Temple.

Conséquence, (f.) consequence, or sequel; consequence, effect, or influence; a precedent; consequence, moment, or importance.

As, quelle conséquence tirez vous de là? what consequence do you draw from thence? Je nie la conséquence, I deny the consequence.

La conséquence est mal prouvée, the consequence is ill proved. C'est une conséquence nécessaire, 'tis a necessary consequence.

Une chose de dangereuse conséquence, a Thing of a dangerous consequence. Une chose de peu de conséquence, a Thing of small consequence, a small matter.

Tirer une chose à conséquence, to bring a thing into precedent, to make a precedent of it. Je vous accorde cette grace, mais sans tirer à conséquence, I grant you that favour, but it must not be brought as a precedent.

Une chose de grande conséquence, a thing of great consequence. Cela est d'une extreme conséquence, that's a business of very great consequence, or importance.

Conséquens, (m.) Terme de Rhétorique, resultant.

Consequent. As, par conséquent, consequent-ly, by consequence, therefore.

Vous êtes son Ami, & par conséquent vous devez l'aider, you are his Friend, and therefore you ought to help him.

Con-

Conservateur, (m.) Conservator, Defender, Protector, Keeper, Saviour.

Conservateur des Privilèges, the Conservator of Privileges granted by the King to Universities, Fairs, &c. Dieu qui est le Conservateur de tous les Hommes, (1 Tim. 4. 10.) God who is the Saviour of all Men.

Conservation, (f.) conservation, keeping, preservation, saving.

Songer à la conservation de son Bien, to take care about the keeping of his Estate.

Je veille à la conservation de la Ville, I watch for the preservation (or defence) of the Town.

Pour la conservation de l'Ame, (Heb. 10. 39.) to the saving of the Soul.

Conserve, (f.) conserve.

As, conserve de roses, de jasmin, a conserve of roses, of jasmin. Conserve sèche, ou liquide, a dry, or liquid conserve.

Or thus. As, aller de conserve, cd. aller ensemble, (en Termes de Marine) to go of one consort, to go together, to keep company together.

See Conserves, in the Plural Number.

Conservé, kept, conserved, maintained, defended, or preserved.

Conserver, to keep, to conserve, maintain, defend, or preserve.

Conserver sa santé, to keep his health, to keep himself in health. Conserver ses Droits, ou ses Privilèges, to maintain (to defend) his Rights, or Privileges. Conserver son Autorité, to keep (to maintain) his Authority.

Se conserver, to keep (in a neutral sense) to take care of himself, to mind his health. La Viande ne se conserve pas quand il fait grand chaud, Meat will not keep in hot weather.

La peur de mourir l'oblige à se conserver, his fear of death makes him mind his health, or makes him take care of himself.

Conserves, (f.) espece de Lunettes qui ne grossissent pas les Objets, & dont on se sert seulement pour se conserver la Vue, Preservers, a Glass to preserve the Sight; a piece of Fortification, the same as Contregarde.

Is also the Plural of Conserve.

Des Conserves vertes, a green Glass.

Considérable, considerable, remarkable, notable.

Une Perte, ou un Gain considérable, a considerable Loss, or Gain. Il ne pouvoit rien faire alors de considérable, then he could do nothing considerable. Trouver des Occasions considérables de servir quëcun, to find notable Occasions to serve one. Un Evénement considérable, a considerable (remarkable, or notable) Event.

Un Homme considérable, a considerable (remarkable, or eminent) Man, a noted Man, a Man of good note. Rien ne le rendoit considérable hormis sa Noblesse, nothing but his Nobility made him considerable.

Or thus. As, il est considérable à la Reine par les Services qu'il lui a rendus, the Queen has a value for him for the Services he has rendered her.

Considérablement, considerably, very much.

Il augmenta considérablement ses Revenus, he increased his Estate considerably.

Considération, (f.) consideration, thoughts, reflection, examination; consequence, importance, or note; consideration, regard, esteem, respect.

As, la considération de la Mort nous fait rentrer dans nous mêmes, the thoughts of Death makes us recollect our selves. La considération de son Merite m'a gagné le cœur, the consideration of his Merit has conquered my heart.

Cela est d'une grande considération, that's a thing of great consequence. C'est une Autorité qui n'est pas de petite considération, this is an Authority which is of no small importance. Elles se rendirent avec vingt autres Villes de moindre considération, they surrendered with twenty other Towns of less note. Une personne de considération, a person of note.

N'avoir aucune considération pour les gens, to have no regard for people, to have no consideration. Puis qu'elle n'a pas en de considération pour nous, nous ne sommes pas obligés d'en avoir pour elle, being she had no respect for us, we are not bound to have any for her.

Or thus. As, je le ferai à votre considération, I shall do it upon your account, or for your own sake.

Considéré, look upon, viewed, or beheld; minded, considered, reflected upon; considered, esteemed, valued, or respected.

Or thus. Il est le plus considéré dans la Cour, he is the chief man at Court.

† Considérément, considerably, advisedly, discreetly, circumspcctly.

Considérer, to look upon, to view, or behold; to mind, reflect upon, consider, or take into consideration; to consider, esteem, value, or respect.

Considérez bien cette Peinture, look steadfastly on that Picture. Je la considèrai depuis les piez jusqu'à la tête, I look upon her (I viewed, I beheld her) from top to toe.

Considérez qu'il faut mourir, & qu'il vous faut rendre un conte exact de vos actions, consider (think) that you must die, and give a strict account of your actions. Considérons la chose en foi, let us consider the thing in it self.

Epreuve moi, & considère mes Discours, (Ps. 139. 23.) try me, and know my Thoughts. On ne le considère point, he is not at all esteemed. On ne considère pas beaucoup la Vertu dans ce Siecle de fer, Virtue is not much valued in this Iron Age.

Confignation, (f.) confignation. Configné, configned.

Configner, to confign.

As, configner de l'Argent entre les mains d'un Notaire, to confign Money into a Scrivener's hands.

Or thus. As, Rom. 15. 28. après que j'aurai configné ce Fruit, when I have sealed to them this Fruit.

Consistance, or Consistence, (f.) consistence, or settling; continuance, firmness, stableness, or settled condition.

Du sucre cuit en consistance, sugar that's boyled into a consistence. Donner la consistance au Sirop, to bring Syrup into a consistence.

Les Choses de ce Monde n'ont point de consistance, the Things of this World are of no continuance, they are uncertain, they last but for a while. Les Affaires de Rome sembloient avoir pris quëque consistance, the Affairs of Rome seemed to have been brought into a settled condition.

Or thus. Savez vous quelle fut la consistance de la Monarchie, sous François I? do you know how stood the Monarchy under Francis I? Je suis dans l'Age de consistance, I am of a middle Age, of that Age wherein men live some years without any visible decay.

† Je n'étois pas alors en trop bonne consistance, cd. je ne me portois pas trop bien, I was not then very well.

Consister, to consist.

La Vie de l'Homme consiste en l'Union du Corps avec l'Ame, the Life of Man consists in the Union of the Body and Soul. La Beauté consiste en la proportion des Parties, Beauty consists in a due proportion of the several Parts of the Body.

La Loi de Jesus Christ consiste à aimer Dieu & son Prochain comme soi même, the Law of Jesus Christ consists in loving of God and our Neighbour as our selves.

Or thus. As, l'Affaire consiste en ceci, here lies the Business.

Consistoire, (m.) Consistory.

Le Consistoire à Rome est une Assemblée du Pape & des Cardinaux pour les Affaires de l'Eglise, the Consistory at Rome is an Assembly of the Pope and Cardinals about Church Affairs.

Parmi les Protestans on appelle Consistoire l'Assemblée des Ministres & des Anciens d'une Eglise pour les Affaires qui la regardent, amongst Protestants a Consistory is an Assembly of the Ministers and Elders of a Church met for regulating the Concerns thereof.

Consistorial, Consistorial, of (or belonging to) a Consistory.

As, un Decret consistorial, a Consistorial Decree, a Decree of a Consistory.

Consolable, to be comforted, that may be comforted, capable of comfort.

Elle n'est pas consolable de la Mort de son Mari, her Husband's Death goes so near her heart, that she is not capable of any comfort.

Consolant, comfortable, that comforts, that gives comfort.

Il n'y a rien de plus consolant pour moi que ces grandes Idées que j'ai de la Divinité, & l'Impression qu'elles font sur mon Esprit, there is nothing that gives me more comfort than those great conceptions I have of God, and the Impression they leave upon my Soul.

Consolateur, (m.) Comforter.

Dieu est le Consolateur des Affligés, God is the Comforter of such as are in trouble.

Consolation, (f.) comfort, consolation.

Recevoir de la consolation, to receive some comfort, or consolation. Ce fut un grand bonheur pour moi de recevoir tant de consolation, I was very happy in meeting with so much comfort. A un si grand Malheur que le mien il ne falloit pas une moindre Consolation que celle que vous m'avez donnée, my Trouble was so great that it required no less Comfort than that I received from you.

Une Lettre de consolation, a Letter of comfort, a comfortable Letter. Je trouve toute ma consolation & tout mon contentement dans mes Livres, I find all my comfort and satisfaction in my Books.

† Consolatoire, comfortable, that comforts, that gives comfort. Say Consolant.

Console, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, a bracket, or shouldering piece (in Building.)

Consolé, comforted, that has received comfort.

Je suis tout consolé quand je vous escri, I am all comforted when I write to you, 'tis a great comfort to me to write to you.

Or thus. J'en suis tout consolé, it troubles me (it affects me) no more, I don't matter it. Quëque déplaisir que je puisse avoir, j'en serois bien tot consolé par le soin que vous prendriez de moi, whatever disgrace I should fall into, I should not value it, as long as I had you to take care of me.

Consoler, to comfort, to give comfort.

Il n'est rien qui puisse me consoler, ma douleur est inconsolable, there is nothing can comfort me, my grief is past cure. Cette pensée vous consolera beaucoup, that very thought will give you much comfort.

Consoler quëcun d'une Chose, to comfort one about a Thing.

Se consoler, to comfort himself, to cheer up, to take courage, to pluck up a good heart.

Consolez vous, vous avez dequoi vivre honnêtement, comfort your self, and consider that you have wherewithal to live handsomely. Il se console là dessus, he comforts himself with the thoughts of that.

Or thus. As, il se console aisément de la Mort de sa Femme, he is not much troubled for the Death of his Wife, her Death doth not stick much to his heart.

Il ne se peut consoler de ne plus voir une personne qu'il aimoit si tendrement, the absence of a person whom he loved so tenderly makes him incapable of comfort, or makes his life uncomfortable.

Consolidé, consolidated, healed, or closed up.

Consolider, to consolidate, heal, or close up.

As, consolider une plaie, to consolidate a wound, to heal it.

† Consummateur, (m.) Finisher, as Heb. 12. 2.

Consummation, (f.) consummation, conclusion, end.

Consummation de Mariage, the consummation of Marriage.

Jusques à la consummation des Siecles, to the Worlds end.

Consummé, consummated, consummate.

As, un Mariage consummé, a consummated Marriage.

Un homme d'une prudence consummée, a man of a consummate prudence.

Or thus. Etre consummé dans les Sciences, to be an absolute Scholar.

Afin qu'ils soient consummez en un, (John

17. 23.) that they may be made perfect in one.

Du consommé, (Subst.) Jelly-broth. Manger de bons consoimez, to eat good Jelly-broth.

Il a été si malade, qu'il n'a vécu depuis long tems que de Consoimez, he has been so sick, that he has lived a long time upon nothing but Jelly-broths.

Consoimer, to consummate.

As, consoimer un Mariage, to consummate a Marriage.

Consumption, (f.) from Consumer, Consumption.

Consonance, (f.) consonance, accord, harmony.

Consonance de Mots, a consonance of Words (as when two Words sound much alike at the end, such as soleil and mortel.)

Il faut éviter la consonance des Mots, the consonance of Words must be avoided.

† Consonante. See Consonne.

Consonne, (f.) a Consonant.

On appelle Consonne une Lettre qui n'a nul son sans le secours de quelque Voyelle, a Consonant is a Letter that hath no sound without the help of a Vowel.

Consoirs, (m.) Terme de Palais, Partners, Associates.

Conspirateur, (m.) Plotter, Conspirator.

Conspiration, (f.) Plot, or Conspiracy.

Faire une Conspiration contre son Souverain, to make a Conspiracy against his Sovereign. Découvrir une Conspiration, to discover a Plot, or a Conspiracy.

Conspirer, to plot, to conspire.

As, conspirer contre sa Patrie, to plot against his native Country.

Constamment, avec constance, avec perseverance, with constancy, firmly, steadfastly.

Constance, (f.) constancy, firmness, steadfastness.

Avoir bien de la constance, to have a great deal of constancy. S'armer de constance, to arm himself with constancy.

Il endura tous les Malheurs avec toute la constance imaginable, he suffered all his Troubles with the greatest constancy.

Constant, constant, firm, steadfast; sure, certain.

Un amant fort constant, a very constant Lover. Etre constant dans sa résolution, to be constant (or firm) in his resolution.

Il est constant, 'tis certain, 'tis a certain truth. Rien n'est si constant que la Mort, there's nothing so certain as Death. C'est une chose constante parmi les Philosophes, 'tis a certain Truth amongst Philosophers.

Constellation, (f.) Constellation, a Celestial Sign consisting of some Stars not far from one another; Constellation, Star, or Influence.

Il y a douze principales Constellations, qu'on appelle les Signes du Zodiaque, ou les Maisons du Soleil, there are twelve chief Constellations, called the Signs of the Zodiac, or the Houses of the Sun.

Etre né sous une heureuse Constellation, to be born under an happy Constellation.

Consternation, (f.) Consternation, panick Fear.

Etre dans une grande Consternation, to be in great Consternation.

Cet Accident mit la Consternation dans l'Armée, that Mischance caused a Consternation in the Army.

Voilà ce qui jetta le Peuple dans la dernière Consternation, that very Thing cast the People into the utmost Consternation.

Contipé, bound, cistive, constipated.

Il est contipé, he is bound.

Contipé is also used Substantively, and that in the masculine Gender.

As, il a la mine d'un Contipé, he looks as if he were bound.

Contiper, to bind, make cistive, constipate.

Les Nœsles contipent, Medlars are binding.

Constituant, (Subst.) Terme de Pratique, he that appoints one in his room.

Constitué, constituted, appointed, made, set, or established.

Or thus. Une Rente constituée, a Rent upon Mortgage, a Rent raised upon (or procured by) Money.

Personne constituée en Dignité, a Person raised to Honours, or being in Authority, as 1 Tim. 2. 2.

Constituer, to constitute, appoint, make, set, or establish.

Il a constitué un tel son Procureur, he has made such an one his Attorney. Constituer un Héritier par Testament, to make one his Heir by his Will.

Or thus. As, constituer de l'argent à Rente, to raise a Rent upon Money.

Constituer par écrit une Pension annuelle à quécun, to settle by writing a yearly Pension upon one.

Se constituer. As, il s'est lui même constitué Juge de l'Affaire, he has made himself a Judge in the business, he has took upon himself to be Judge in the case.

Constitution, (f.) constitution, complexion; constitution, or decree; a yearly Rent.

La constitution du Corps, the constitution of the Body.

Les Constitutions des Papes, cd. leurs Loix, ou Ordonnances, the Pope's Constitutions, or Decrees.

Mettre de l'Argent en constitution, to put out his Money upon a yearly Income.

† Constructeur, (m.) a Builder. Say Bâtisseur, or Architecte.

Construction, (f.) construction, or building; construction, or ordering of Words according to Grammar.

Songer à la construction des Navires, to think of building of Ships.

Faire la construction des Mots, to make the construction of Words.

Construire, to build, or make; to construct.

Construire une Maison, un Palais, to build a House, or Palace.

Construire du Latin ou du Grec, to construct Latin or Greek. Apprendre à construire, to learn to construct.

Construit, built, or made; constructed.

Consubstantiel, qui est de même substance, consubstantial, of the same substance.

Le Fils de Dieu est consubstantiel avec le Pere, the Son of God is consubstantial with the Father.

Consul, (a Consulendo) m. Consul, a Supreme Magistrate in the time of the Roman Commonwealth; Consul, one of the five Citizens yearly chosen at Paris to determine all Cases of Debt (not exceeding 300 Livres.) between Merchant and Merchant. In Provence and Languedoc, Consul is the same as Echevin in other Provinces.

Les Consuls de Rome n'étoient pas établis seulement pour gouverner la Ville, mais pour commander les Armées, the Roman Consuls were not only appointed to govern the City, but also to command their Armies.

Pour être Consul parmi les Romains il faisoit avoir 43 ans, no man could be a Consul of Rome under the age of 43 years.

Affigner quécun devant les Consuls, to summon one before the Consuls.

On a fait un tel Consul, such a one is made a Consul.

Consulaire. As, un homme Consulaire, one that has been a Consul.

Une Famille Consulaire, a Consul's Family.

Consulaires, (a masc. Subst.) ceux qui ont été Consuls Romains, the Roman Consuls that have been.

Les Consulaires sont pour nous, the former Consuls stand for us.

Consulat, (m.) Consulship, the Dignity (or Office) of a Consul.

Durant son Consulat, during his Consulship.

Consultant. As, un Avocat consultant, a Chamber-Counsellor, a Counsellor that practices most in his Chamber.

Consultation, (f.) consultation, deliberation.

As, Consultation de Medecins, a Consultation of Physicians.

On fera Consultation sur ce point, a Consultation will be held upon this point.

Consultations (au Pluriel) signifie les Chambres de Palais où les Avocats consultants vont, lors qu'on les consulte sur quelque Affaire.

Consulte. See Consultation.

Consulté, consulted.

Consulte, to consult, to advise with, to take advice of.

Consulter un Medecin sur une Maladie, to consult a Physician about a Disease.

Consulter son Avocat, to take advice of his Council.

Consumant, (Adj.) consuming.

As, Heb. 12. 29. Notre Dieu est un Feu consumant, our God is a consuming Fire.

Consumé, consumed, or destroyed; consumed, spent, or wasted.

Consumé par le feu, consumed with fire.

Un Bien tout consumé, an Estate spent away, squandered away, wasted, come to nothing.

Consumé d'amour, de chagrins, spent with love, consumed with cares.

Consumer, to consume, or destroy; to consume, waste, or spend.

Le Temps consume toutes choses, Time consumes all things.

Consumer ses forces, to spend his strength.

Consumer son Bien, to consume, (spend, or waste) his Estate.

Se consumer, to waste, to waste away; to spend (or consume) himself.

Cette Chandelle se consume mal à propos, that Candle wastes to little purpose.

Se consumer d'ennuis, to spend (to consume) himself with cares. Se consumer en des regrets superflus, to spend (or waste) himself in unnecessary grief.

Contable, (from Conte) accountable, liable unto account.

Il est contable de cent mille Livres, he is accountable for no less than a hundred thousand Livres.

Contable is also used Substantively. As, c'est l'un des Contables.

Contagieux, contagious, infectious, pestilential.

As, une Maladie contagieuse, a contagious (infectious, or pestilential) Disease.

Contagion (f.) Contagion, Plague, Infection.

Contagion de Mœurs, a Corruption of Manners.

† Contaminé, polluted, defiled.

† Contaminer, to pollute, or defile. Say Souiller.

Se contaminer, to be defiled.

Contant, (from Conter) ready money, money in hand, the money down upon the nail.

As, vendre vingt Pistoles contant, to sell for twenty Pistols ready money. Avoir du contant, ou de l'Argent contant, to have money in hand, to have ready money.

Payer contant, ou Argent contant, to pay ready money.

Conte, (m.) account, reckoning; account, relation; a story, or tale.

Faire (dresser) un conte, to make up an account. Tenir conte, to keep account, or reckoning, to score. Mettez cela sur mon conte, set it down to my account.

Rendre conte, to give an account. Rendre ses contes, to give up his accounts. Les examiner, to examine them.

Un Livre de conte, a Book of accounts. Les bons Contes font les bons Amis, even Reckoning keeps long Friends. La Chambre des Contes, the Court of Accounts, or of the Kings Exchequer.

Vous me rendez conte de tout ce qui se fera, you shall give me an account of all passages.

Un conte fait à plaisir, conte pour rire, a merry story, a tale told for diversions sake.

Ce sont des Contes, de vrais Contes, they are meer Stories. Conte de Vieille, Conte à dormir debout, an old Woman's Tale.

Or thus. As, c'est un homme de bon conte, he is a fair-dealing man. Vous m'en rendez conte, you shall be accountable to me for it.

Je ne trouve pas le conte en cette Somme. I find something defective in this Sum.

Vous n'y trouverez pas votre conte, cd. vous n'y trouverez pas ce que vous vous promettez, you will be disappointed, the thing will not answer your expectation. Je n'ai pas eu de peine à trouver mon conte dans la Retraite, I easily found out the satisfaction I lookt for in my Retirement.

Il faut que chacun y trouve son conte, every one must have satisfaction.

† Manger à bon conte, cd. sans le mettre en peine de rien, to eat freely, and without any care. Il en a pour son conte, he is caught, he hath enough on't. Je pren cela sur mon conte, cd. je m'en charge, I take it upon my self. Je ne pren rien sur mon conte de tout ce qui se dit de desobligeant, I will not be accountable for any thing unkind that is spoken.

† Faites votre conte, qu'il ne vous recevra point, assure your self that he will not receive you. Vous aussi faites ainsi votre conte que vous êtes morts au péché, (Rom. 6. 11.) likewise reckon ye also your selves to be dead indeed unto sin. J'ai fait le conte de mes Voies, (Psalm. 119. 59.) I thought on my Ways.

A votre conte mes affaires iront fort bien, in your judgment (in your opinion) I shall have a good success in my business. A ce conte il faut s'enfuir, so we must fly.

† Ne tenir conte de qu'écun, n'en faire aucun conte, to slight one, to make no account of him.

Qu'est ce que de l'Homme que tu aies soin de lui, & du fils de l'Homme mortel que tu en tiennes conte ? (Psalm. 144. 3.) What is Man that thou takest knowledge of him, or the son of Man that thou makest account of him ?

Conté, reckoned, told.

Tout bien conté, when all is done, when all comes to all.

Contemplateur, (m.) Contemplator.

C'est un grand Contemplateur, he is a great Contemplator.

Contemplatif, contemplative.

As, un Esprit contemplatif, a contemplative Mind. Une Vie contemplative, a contemplative Life.

Contemplation, (f.) contemplation, speculation.

Etre dans la contemplation, to be in contemplation.

Contemplé, contemplated, beheld.

Contempler, to contemplate, to see, or behold.

As, contempler les Cieux, to behold the Heavens.

Celui qui me contemple contemple celui qui m'a envoyé, (John 12. 45.) he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.

Contemporain, qui a vécu au même tems qu'un autre, contemporary, that lived at the same time.

Catulle & Cicéron étoient contemporains, Catullus and Cicero were contemporary.

† Contempteur, (m.) Contemner, Despiser.

As, un Contempteur de Dieu, a Contemner of God.

Contemptible, contemptible, despicable, fit to be slighted.

As, ils passent ici pour les plus vils & les plus contemptibles de tous les Hommes, they go here for the vilest and most despicable of all Men.

This Word indeed may be used in some Cases ; but Meprisable is the better Word of the two.

Contenance, (f.) countenance, posture.

Une contenance posée, a sober (or grave) countenance. Une contenance égarée, a wandering (a wild) countenance. Une contenance gaie, a cheerful countenance.

Perdre contenance, to be put out of countenance.

Epier la contenance des Enemis, to observe the posture of the Enemy.

Contendant, (m.) celui qui conteste, one that is at variance with another.

As, les deux Contendants, the two Parties that are at variance.

Contenir, to contain, hold, or comprehend ; to contain, or keep in.

As, une Sale qui contient deux mille Hommes, a Hall that contains (or holds) two thousand Men. Les Prisons ne pouvoient contenir les Prisonniers, the Prisons could not hold the Prisoners. Un Livre qui contient l'Histoire de cent ans, a Book that contains the History of a hundred years. La Justice contient toutes les autres Vertus, Justice comprehends all other Virtues.

Contenir le Peuple dans le Devoir, to con- tain (or to keep) the People in their Duty.

Se contenir, to forbear.

As, le pauvre Garçon ne sauroit se contenir, the poor Boy can't forbear.

Content, contented, satisfied, pleased ; contented, content, or willing ; contentedly.

Etes vous content ? are you contented ? Je suis content de ma petite fortune, I am contented (satisfied, or well pleased) with my small fortune. Il n'est pas content, he is not pleased. Je ne suis pas content de sa conduite, I am not pleased with his conduct.

Je suis content de tout souffrir pour la Cause de Dieu, I am contented (or willing) to suffer any thing for God's Cause. J'en suis content, je le veux bien, I am content, I will.

Je vis content, I live contentedly.

Contenté, contented.

Contentement, (m.) content, contentment, pleasure, satisfaction.

Avoir un extreme contentement, jouir d'un grand contentement, to have a great satisfaction. L'Etude fait mon plus iensible contentement, my greatest pleasure is in Study.

Contenter, to content, or give content ; to please, or satisfy.

Contenter une personne, to content one, to give him content. Il contente tout le monde, he gives every one content. Ses Serviteurs ne le contentent pas, his Servants give him no content.

Contenter sa passion, ou son ventre, to satisfy his passion, or his belly.

Un homme difficile à contenter, a man hard to please.

Se contenter, to content himself, to be satisfied, or contented.

As, contentez vous de cela, content your self (be contented, or satisfied) with that. Il ne s'est pas contenté de la voler, mais il lui a encore ôté la vie, he was not contented to rob him, but more than that he took away his life.

Contentieux, contentious, litigious, quarrelsome.

Contention, (f.) heat, strife, contention, debate.

Contenu, (from Contenir) contained.

Le Contenu d'une Lettre, the Contents of a Letter.

Le Contenu de la Terre, (1 Cor. 10. 26.) the Fullness of the Earth.

Contenir, (from Contenir) to reckon, compute, or cast an account ; to reckon, or tell ; to tell, or recite.

Je vous prie, contons ensemble, pray, let us reckon together. Vous contez sans votre Hôte, you reckon without your Host.

Celui qui conte sur vous conte sans son Hôte, he that relies upon you reckons without his Host.

Contenir une Somme d'argent, to tell a Sum of money. Si vous contez bien, vous trouverez qu'il y a autant ; if you tell it right, you will find it so much.

Contenir agreablement une aventure, ou une historiette, to tell a story with a good grace. Tu nous en contes, tu nous en contes de belles, thou tellest us idle stories, thou dost entertain us with idle stories.

Or thus. As, s'en faire conter, cd. se faire cajoler par un Amant, to entertain a Lover. to give ear to his flattering discourses. Contenir des fleurettes à une Demoiselle, to entertain a Gentlewoman with amorous and flattering expressions.

Un conte sur sa Naissance, & l'autre sur son Merite, the one values himself upon his Extraction, and the other upon his Merit. Gardez vous bien de conter (ou de faire fond) là dessus, be sure not to rely (or depend) upon that.

Je conte pour beaucoup les Commoditez qui en reviendront, I set a great value upon the Benefits which shall result from thence. Vous devriez conter pour quelque chose la violence que je me fai, you should consider (or take notice of) the constraint I put my self to. Sachez que je ne conte pas cela pour si peu de chose, I would have you know that I do not think it so slight a matter.

Contestation, (f.) contest, contestation ; a Rule given by the Judge upon the opening of the Cause.

† Contesté. See Contestation.

Contesté, contested, contended for.

Contester, to contest, contend, or dispute.

Contester avec qu'écun, to contest (contend, or dispute) with one. Contester la Couronne à un Roi, to contend with a King for the Crown.

Or thus. As, 1 Sam. 12. 7. Je contesterai contre vous devant l'Eternel, I shall reason with you before the Lord.

And, Rom. 9. 20. Qui es tu, Toi, qui contestes contre Dieu ? who art thou, that repliest against God ?

Conteur, (from Contenir) m. As, un conteur de fornettes, a teller of idle stories.

Un conteur de fleurettes, one that entertains Ladies with soothing expressions of Love.

Contigu, qui est tout contre, contiguous, next, adjoining to.

Ce sont deux choses contigues, they are two contiguous things.

Notre Maison est contigue à la sienne, our House is contiguous (is the very next House) to his.

Contiguïté, (f.) contiguity.

Contenance, (f.) from Contenir, continency.

Avoir le don de continence, vivre dans une grande continence, to have the gift of continency.

Alexandre le grand a surpassé en continence tous les Rois, Alexander the great has out-done all Kings in point of continency.

Continent, continent, sober, temperate, Tit. 1. 8.

C'est un homme fort continent, he is a very sober man.

Un Continent, une Terre ferme, a Continent, or firm Land.

La grande Bretagne est une Ile, & la France un Continent, great Britain is an Island, and France a Continent.

Contingence, (f.) contingency.

Cela n'empêche pas la contingence, that doth not prevent contingency.

Contingent, (Terme de Philosophie) contingent, accidental.

Continu, continual.

As, une fièvre continue, a continual fever, whose fit never ceaseth till the disease or the diseased end.

Il est mort d'une fièvre continue, he is dead of a continual fever.

A la continue, à la longue, at length, in tract of time. As, à la continue, l'Amour est un Tourment, at length (in tract of time) Love is a Torment to one.

Continuateur, (m.) Continuator.

As, un Continuateur d'Histoire, a Continuator of History.

Continuation, (f.) continuation, continuance.

As, la continuation d'un Roman, the continuation of a Romance.

La continuation d'une Guerre, the continuance of a War.

Continué, (from Continuer) continued.

Continuel, continual, constant, without intermission.

Un Travail continuel, a continual Work. Une Pluie continuelle, a constant (or continual) Rain.

Continuellement, continually, perpetually, always, ever, without intermission.

Il pleure continuellement, he cries continually. Marcher continuellement jour & nuit, to be continually upon the march night and day.

Continuer, to continue, or hold out ; to continue, or carry on ; to continue, or confirm.

As, tout est perdu, si ces Guerres continuent, all is lost, if these Wars continue.

Continuer un Discours, to continue a Discourse, to go on with it. Continuer un Bâtimement, to carry on a Building.

Continuer qu'écun dans son Office, to continue (or confirm) one in his Office. Or thus. As, continuer toujours à bien faire, to persevere in well doing.

Continuez comme vous avez commencé, go on as you begun.

Continuité (f.) Terme de Philosophie, wholeness, intireness, or intire conjunction.
 Contoir (from Conte) m. a Counter.
 Contorsion (f.) contorsion, or wry face.
 Faire des contorsions, to make wry faces.
 Or thus. L'Oreille a plusieurs contours, the Ear hath many windings and turnings.
 † Le vaste Contour, cd. le Monde, the World.
 Les Contours d'un Corps (en Termes de Peinture & de Sculpture) the Lines, either real or imaginary, which surround a Body, and make the surface of it.
 Contourner (Terme d'Art) to draw the Lines of a Body.
 Contract (m.) contract, bargain, agreement.
 As, un Contract de Mariage, a Contract of Marriage. Contract de Vente, a Contract of Bargain and Sale.
 Passer (faire) un Contract avec quécun, to make a Contract (a Bargain, or Agreement) with one. Se tenir à son Contract, to stand to his Bargain.
 Contract de Donation, a Deed of Gift.
 Contractant (m.) he that passes a Contract.
 Contracté, contracted.
 Contracter, to contract, or agree upon; to contract, or get.
 As, contracter Mariage, to contract a Marriage, to agree upon it. Contracter amitié avec quécun, to contract friendship with one.
 Contracter une Maladie, ou une mauvaise habitude, to get a Distemper, or an ill habit.
 Contraction (f.) contraction.
 Contraction de nerfs, a contraction (or shrinking) of the sinews.
 Contractuel, stipulé par contract, done in due form of Law.
 Contradiction (f.) from Contredire, gain-saying, or contradiction; opposition, 1. Tim. 6. 20.
 Tomber en contradiction, to fall into contradiction. Il y a en cela de la contradiction, cela implique contradiction, that's a contradiction, that imply's contradiction.
 Accorder des contradictions apparentes, to reconcile seeming contradictions.
 Un Esprit de contradiction, a Spirit of contradiction.
 Contradictoire, contradictory; peremptory.
 Arrêt contradictoire, a peremptory Decree (pronounced in the presence of the Party's concerned.)
 Contradictaires (subst.) Contradictory's, in Logic.
 Contradictoirement, in the presence of the Party's concerned.
 Contraindre, to constrain, force, or compel.
 Contraindre une personne, to constrain one.
 Il m'a contraint de dire la vérité, he has forced me to tell the truth.
 Or thus. As, l'Etude le contraint fort, he is averse from Study, Studying go's much against his grain.
 Contraindre une personne par corps, to condemn one to Imprisonment.
 Se contraindre, to constrain himself, to do things contrary to his own inclination, to sit upon thorns.
 Contraint, forced, compelled; forced, not free.
 As, il est contraint de travailler pour gagner sa Vie, he is forced (he is fain) to work to get him a Livelihood.
 Etre contraint avec les Dames, être gêné dans leur Compagnie, not to be free with Lady's, to sit upon thorns in their Company.
 Un Style, un Geste, un Air contraint, a forced Style, Action, or Countenance. Ce Vers est un peu contraint, this Verse is a little forced, is not altogether so free.
 Contrainte (a fem. Subst.) constraint, force, compulsion.
 As, il est dans une fureuse contrainte, he is under a dreadful constraint. Par contrainte, by force.
 Or thus. As, la Contrainte est grande en cette Maison là, there is no freedom in that House. Faire les choses sans contrainte, to do things freely, or with a great deal of freedom.
 Contrainte par Corps, (Terme de Pratique) an Order for Imprisonment.
 Contraire, contrary, opposite; adverse; of the contrary part, Tit. 2. 8.

As, le froid est Contraire au chaud, cold is contrary to heat. Les Vices sont contraires aux Vertus, Vices are contrary to Virtues.
 Un Vent contraire, a contrary Wind. Des Opinions contraires, contrary Opinions.
 Etre d'un Parti contraire, to be of a contrary Side.
 La Fortune lui a toujours été contraire, Fortune was always adverse to him.
 Or thus. As Luke 21. 13. Tous ceux qui vous seront contraires, all your Adversary's.
 Contraire is also used Substantively, and then in the masculine Gender.
 As, Je sai le contraire, I know the contrary.
 Je vous ferai bien voir le contraire, I shall shew you the contrary. Il fait tout le contraire de ce qu'il dit, he acts quite contrary to what he says.
 Contraires (Terme de Logique) the Contrary's.
 Au contraire (Adv.) on the contrary, contrariwise. Tout au contraire, rather; quite contrary.
 Contrariant (Adj.) apt to contradict, of a contradicting temper.
 Humeur contrariante, a contradicting humour.
 Contrarié, contradicted.
 Contrarier, to contradict.
 C'est un Fat qui se plaît à contrarier tout le Monde, he is such a Fool that he loves to contradict all the World.
 Contrariété (f.) contradiction.
 C'est une contrariété grossière, visible, manifeste, 'tis a plain contradiction.
 Accorder des contrariétés, to reconcile contradictions.
 Contraste (m.) Terme de Peinture & de Sculpture, Contrast, a different position of the Objects and Parts of the Figures.
 Contrat. See Contract.
 Contrevention (f.) from Contrevenir, trespass.
 C'est une manifeste Contrevention à l'Ordonnance, 'tis a plain Trespass upon the Ordinance.
 Contre, against, contrary to.
 As, cela est contre les Loix du Royaume, that is against the Laws of the Kingdom.
 Contre son Opinion, contrary to his Opinion.
 Or thus. As, apporter des raisons pour & contre, to alledge Reasons pro and con. L'Orateur doit savoir le pour & le contre, an Orator ought to know pro and con.
 † Contre, tout contre, cd. auprès, near, hard by.
 As, il étoit assis tout contre moi, he sat near me. Sa Maison est contre le College, his House stands near the College.
 Contre-Amiral (m.) a Rear-Admiral.
 † Le Contre-Amiral est un Officier qui commande l'Arrière-garde, ou la dernière Division d'une Armée Navale. Cette Charge n'est qu'une simple Qualité en France, & il n'y a point de Contre-Amiral fixe. Il ne subsiste que pendant un Armement considérable, où les Officiers généraux sont employés. Dans ces Occasions le plus ancien des Chefs d'Escadre porte le Pavillon de Contre-Amiral, qui est blanc, de figure carrée, & qui s'arboie à l'Artimon.
 Contre-approches. Ce sont des Lignes ou des Travaux, que font les Assiégés, quand ils viennent par Trenchée rencontrer les Lignes d'Attaque des Assiégeans.
 Contrebalancé, counter-balanced.
 Contrebalancer, to counter-balance, or counterpoise; to counter-balance, or counter-vail.
 Cette Perte ne peut contrebalancer le Profit qui vient du Commerce, this Loss cannot counter-balance the Profit of Commerce.
 Contrebande (f.) counterband.
 As, Marchandises de contrebande, dont le Transport est défendu sous peine de Confiscation, counterband Goods, prohibited Goods.
 † Contrebas. See Contremont.
 Contrebatterie (f.) Batterie opposée à une autre, a Counter-battery.
 Dresser une Contrebatterie, to make a Counter-battery.
 Contrecarré, spitefully used.

Contrecarrer quécun, to do things in spite of one, to use him spitefully.
 Je veux le faire pour la contrecarrer, I will do it merely to spite her.
 Contrechange (m.) a counter-change.
 Or thus. As, Prov. 21. 18. Ce Mechant sera le Contrechange du Juste, & celui qui se porte deloyaument au lieu des Droitu- riers, the Wicked shall be a Ransom for the Righteous, and the Transgressor for the Upright.
 Contrecharme (m.) a counter-charm.
 Contrecœur (m.) the back of a Chimney.
 A contrecœur (Adv.) against his will, against the grain.
 As, faire une chose à contrecœur, to do a thing against his will.
 Or thus. As, Lev. 26. 11. mon Ame ne vous aura point à contrecœur, my Soul shall not abhor you.
 Contre-coup (m.) a counter-blow.
 Or thus, in a figurative Sense. J'ai senti jusques au fond de mon Ame le contre- coup de votre Douleur, cd. j'ai pris part à votre Douleur, j'ai ressenti tous vos De- plaisirs, your Grief went to the heart of me.
 Contredire, to contradict, to gainsay, or speak against; to confute, in Law; to answer again, Tit. 2. 9.
 Contredire quécun, to contradict one. Con- tredire la Vérité, to gainsay the Truth.
 Contredire une production, to confute a proof.
 Se contredire, se couper en ses Discours, to contradict himself.
 Il se contredit en cela, he contradicts him- self in that.
 Contredisant (Adj.) contradicting, gainsay- ing.
 Les humeurs contredisantes sont incom- modes & desagréables, a contradicting hu- mour is uneasy and very unpleasant.
 J'ai étendu mes mains vers un Peuple re- belle & contredisant, I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying People.
 Contredisant (a masc. Subst.) Gainsayer.
 As Tit. 1. 9. Pour convaincre les Contredi- sans, to convince the Gainsayers.
 Contredit (a masc. Subst.) contradiction, or controversy; confutation.
 As, sans contredit, without contradiction, without controversy, certainly. C'étoit sans contredit le premier du Royaume, he was certainly the first of the Kingdom.
 Cette Piece n'a point besoin d'autre con- tredit, this Piece requires no better Confuta- tion.
 Contredits (en Termes de Palais) Obje- ctions.
 Contrée (f.) Country, Region, Tract of Land; Coasts, Ps. 105. 31; Fields, John 4. 35.
 Ravager une Contrée, to waste (or spoil) a Country.
 De Contrée en Contrée, from Country to Country, from one Country into another.
 Contrefaire, to counterfeit, to imitate.
 As, contrefaire l'écriture de quécun, to counterfeit ones hand.
 Contrefaire quécun parfaitement bien, to imitate (or personate) one admirably well.
 Or thus. As, contrefaire le malade, to make as if one were sick. Le Loup contrefait son port & sa démarche pour séduire les Brebis, the Wolf puts on a disguise in order to seduce the Sheep.
 Se contrefaire, to feign, to dissemble, to dis- guise himself.
 Contrefait, counterfeit, counterfeited, or imi- tated; deformed, ill-favoured.
 Une écriture contrefaite, a counterfeit hand.
 Elle est laide & contrefaite, she is ill-fa- voured and deformed.
 Contrefugue (f.) sorte d'Echo qu'on fait en Musique, a kind of Echo in Musick.
 Contre-garde (f.) Envelope, ou petit Rem- part bordé de son Parapet, avec un Fossé, pour couvrir quèques Endroits du Corps de la Place, a Counter-gard, or piece of For- tification covering some Parts of the Place.
 † Contregarder, to keep, save or defend.
 As, Ps. 140. 4. Contregarde moi de l'Hom- me outrageux, keep me from the hands of the Wicked.

Se contregarder, to keep (in a neutral sense.)
 Contre-hâtier. See Hâtier.
 Contre-jour (m.) a false light.
 Contre-lettre (f.) Lettre contraire à celle qu'on a écrite, a Letter of a tenure contrary to a former Letter.
 Contre-ligne. See Contre-valuation.
 Contre-mâitre (m.) the Masters Mate in a Ship.
 Contre-mâitre est un Officier de l'Equipe, qui est l'Aide du Patron ou Maître. Ses Soins s'étendent sur les Agreils, sur la Manœuvre de l'Avant, sur l'Ancre, & sur le Travail du Cabestan.
 Contre-mandé, countermanded.
 Contre-mandement (m.) a countermand.
 Contre-mander, donner un contre-mandement, to countermand.
 Contre-marche (f.) Marche contraire à celle qu'on faisoit, a Counter-march.
 Faire une contre-marche, to counter-march.
 Il y a deux sortes de Contre-marches, l'une qui se fait par Files, & l'autre par Rangs, there are two sortes of Counter-march, the one made by Files, and the other by Rangs.
 La Contre-marche (say's Mr. Guillet) est un Changement de la Face du Bataillon, quand elle se fait par Files; & elle est un Changement des Ailes du Bataillon, quand elle se fait par Rangs. La Contre-marche par Files se fait, lors qu'on veut mettre les hommes de la tête du Bataillon à la queue du même Bataillon. Ce qui est utile, lors que le Bataillon est chargé en queue, & qu'on veut que les Chefs de files, qui sont ordinairement des gens choisis, prennent le Terrain des Serre-files. La Contre-marche par Rangs se fait, lors qu'on veut faire passer un des Flancs du Bataillon sur le Terrain de l'autre Flanc.
 Contre-marque (f.) sorte de marque qu'on met pour empêcher quelque tromperie, a Counter-mark.
 Contre-marqué, counter-marked.
 Cheval contre-marqué. C'est un Cheval qui a les Dents creusées adroitement par le burin du Marechal, ou du Maquignon, avec une fausse marque dans ce Creux. Ce qui se fait, pour imiter le germe de fève, & persuader que le Cheval n'a que six ans. Ainsi on déguise son âge, qui est plus avancé que la marque ne témoigne.
 Contre-marquer, to counter-mark.
 Contreminer (f.) Mine qu'on fait pour éventer une autre Mine, a counter-mine.
 Contre-mine est un Puis, ou un Enfoncement sous Terre; d'où sort une Galerie, ou un Rameau, qui est aussi conduit sous Terre; pour aller chercher la Mine de l'Enemi, & l'éventer.
 Contreminé, countermined.
 Contreminer, to countermine.
 Contreminier (m.) a Counterminer.
 Contre-mont (Terme de Batelier) up the River; above, Prov. 15. 24.
 As, aller contre-mont, or aller à contre-mont, to go up the River.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 74. 5. Ramenant contre-mont les haches, as he had lifted up axes.
 Contre-mur (m.) Mur contre un autre, & qui le rend double, a Wall against a Wall.
 Contrepeser, to countervail.
 Or thus. As, Rom. 8. 18. Tout bien conté, j'estime que les souffrances du Temps present ne font point à contrepeser à la Gloire qui doit être révélée en nous, I reckon that the sufferings of this present Time are not worthy to be compared with the Glory which shall be revealed unto us.
 Contre-pié (m.) tout le contraire, the contrary sense.
 Il faut prendre le contre-pié de tout ce qu'il dit, what he says must be taken in a contrary sense.
 Contrepoids (m.) counterpoise; the weight of a Kitchen Jack.
 Le Contrepoids du Corps, en Termes de Cavalier, est une Liberté d'action & d'affiète, que le Cavalier s'acquiert par la pratique.
 Contre-poil. As, à contre-poil, against the hair, against the grain; the wrong way.
 Raser à contre-poil, to shave against the hair.

Prendre une chose à contre-poil, to take a thing the wrong way, or in a wrong sense.
 Contre-pointe. See Courte-pointe.
 Contre-poison (m.) antidote, counter-poison.
 Prendre du contre-poison, to take counter-poison.
 Contre-porteur (m.) a Hawker.
 Contre-preuve (Terme de Graveur) a new Proof made upon another.
 Contre-queue d'Yronde, a certain Piece of Fortification.
 C'est un Dehors, ou une Piece détachée, faite en Tenaille simple, plus large du côté de la Place (cd. vers sa Gorge) que vers la Campagne. Les Ailes de la contre-queue ne sont pas si bien flanquées du Corps de la Place, que le sont celles de la Queue d'Yronde.
 Contre-role } See { Controle.
 Contre-rouleur } Controleur.
 Contre-ronde, a second Round (in a garrisoned Place.)
 Contre-sanglot (m.) petite Courroie clouée aux arçons d'une Selle, pour arrêter les Sangles, a Girth leather, the leather whereto a Girth is fastened.
 Contrescarpe (f.) Ligne qui termine le Fossé du côté de la Campagne, a Counterscarp.
 Faire une Contrescarpe, to make a Counterscarp.
 Contrescarpe est proprement le Talus ou la Pente du Fossé qui regarde la place. Mais on comprend souvent sous ce Nom ce même Talus, le Chemin couvert, & le Glacis. Et c'est dans ce dernier sens que l'on dit, On attaque la Contrescarpe, on s'est logé sur la Contrescarpe.
 Contrescarper, to counterscarp, or make a counterscarp.
 Contre-seal (m.) petit Seau apposé à côté du grand Seau, a Counter-seal.
 Contre-sealé, counter-sealed.
 Contre-sealer, to counter-seal.
 Contre-sens (m.) sens contraire, a contrary sense, a contrary meaning.
 Vous donnez un contre-sens à mes paroles, vous rapportez à contre-sens tout ce que je dis, you turn my words to a contrary sense, you pervert the sense of my words.
 Or thus. As, c'est un contre-sens, 'tis a thing taken in a contrary sense.
 Un Fer frotté d'Aimant à contre-sens, an Iron rubbed with the Load-stone the contrary way.
 Louer quécun à contre-sens, to praise one the clean contrary way.
 Contresigné, counter-signed.
 Le Papier est signé du Roi, & contresigné par un Secrétaire d'Etat, the Paper is signed by the King, and counter-signed by one of the Secretary's of State.
 Contresigner, to counter-sign.
 Contrespallier (m.) les Arbres plantez vis à vis de l'Espalier, the Trees that are set over against the Espalier.
 Contre-tems (m.) an action out of time, a thing unseasonably done.
 C'est un Contre-tems que cela, that was unseasonably done.
 Il a fait un étrange contre-tems, he has contrived his business very ill as to the time, he has not timed it well.
 Contre-tems (en Termes de Manège) est une Défense du Cheval, qui interrompt sa Cadence, & la mesure de son manège. Ce qui est causé par le mauvais Cavalier, ou par la malice du Cheval.
 A contre-tems (Adv.) unseasonably.
 As, faire tout à contre-tems, to do all things unseasonably.
 Contre-tiré, copy'd.
 Contre-tirer (Terme de Peintre) to copy.
 Contrevallation, countervallation.
 Faire des lignes de contrevallation, to make lines of countervallation.
 Contrevallation, ou Contre-ligne, est un Fossé bordé d'un Parapet, dont les Affiégeans se couvrent du côté de la Place, pour arrêter les forties de la Garnison; de sorte que les Troupes qui font un Siege sont postées entre la Ligne de Circonvallation & celle de Contravallation. Quand la Garnison est forte, l'Affiégeant commence à remuer les Terres par la Contrevallation, & la Circonvallation se fait en suite.

 Contrevenant (m.) celui qui contrevient, Offender, Transgressor.
 Contrevénir, to contravene, to infringe, to act contrary.
 Contrevénir aux Ordres du Roi, to act contrary to the Kings Orders.
 Contrevent (m.) grands Volets de bois, qu'on met par dehors, & qu'on ferme sur les Vitres, a great Shutter.
 Contrevention. See Contravention.
 Contre-veritez (f.) a mock-praise, a satirical praise.
 Contre-visite (f.) Terme de Commis aux Caves, qui veut dire nouvelle Visite qu'on fait pour surprendre un Cabaretier, a second Search (intended for a Surprise.)
 Contribuable, liable (or subject) to contributions.
 As, un Pais contribuable, a Country subject to contributions.
 Contribuant, Contributor.
 Contribué, contributed.
 Contribuer, to contribute; to conduce; to add; to pay contributions.
 Contribuer beaucoup à la fortune de quécun, to contribute very much to ones fortune.
 La Joie est ce qui contribue le plus à la Santé, Joy is the Thing that conduces most to ones Health.
 Cela a beaucoup contribué à votre bonheur, that hath added very much to your happiness.
 Une Partie des Pais bas contribue à l'autre, one Part of the Low Country's pays Contributions to another.
 Contribution (f.) Contribution.
 Mettre une Ville sous contribution, to put a Town under contribution.
 Payer de grosses contributions, to pay great contributions.
 Contr'imitation (f.) a concurring imitation.
 Contristé, grieved, sorrowful.
 Son Ame a été fort contristée, his Soul was very much grieved.
 Comme contristez, & cependant toujours joyeux (2. Cor. 6. 10.) as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing.
 Contrister, to grieve, to make sorry, 2. Cor. 2. 2.
 Contrit (Terme de Devotion) contrite, sorrowful, penitent.
 Un cœur contrit, a contrite heart.
 Etre contrit de ses pechez, to be full of sorrow for his sins.
 Avoir l'Ame contrite (dans un sens burlesque) to have a sorrowful heart.
 Le Pauvre Garçon est tout contrit de la mort de sa Maîtresse, the Poor Young man is grievously troubled for the death of his Mistress.
 Contrition (f.) contrition, hearty sorrow, inward grief for ones faults.
 Faire une acte de contrition, to do an act of contrition.
 Une véritable & sincere contrition, a true and sincere contrition.
 Controle (m.) a Comptrolment; a Commission to be a Comptroler.
 Controlé, comptroled, examined.
 Controler, to comptrol, or examine.
 Controler les gens, to comptrol people, to find fault with them. Controler les actions des Dieux, to censure the actions of the Gods.
 Controleur (m.) a Comptroler.
 Controleur general, a general Comptroler.
 Controleur des Guerres, a Comptroler of Wars. Controleur de l'Artillerie, Comptroler of the Artillery.
 Controleur des Vivres, the Comptroler of Provisions. Controleur de la Marine, a Comptroler of the Navy.
 Controleur, qui trouve toujours à redire, a fault-finder, a meer Momus.
 Contr'ordre (m.) Ordre contraire à celui qu'on avoit donné, a contrary Order.
 Controverse (f.) controvery.
 Faire la controverse, to go upon controvery.
 Mettre une chose en controverse, to bring a thing into controvery.
 Enseigner la controverse, to teach Controvery.
 Vider une controverse, to decide a Controvery.

Controversé, controverted, in controversy.

Une Matière controversée, a Matter controverted, or in controversy.

Des Passages de l'Ecriture controversés, Places of Scripture controverted.

Controversiste (m.) a Controversist.

Controuvé, forged, invented.

Controuver, to forge, or invent.

As, controuver un mensonge, to forge a lie.

Contumace (f.) Contempt (in the Sense of the Law.)

Condamné par contumace, outlawed, condemned by outlawry (for refusing to appear.)

Now the French Lawyers make two sorts of Contumace. The first, of such as after three several and publick summons refuse to appear; and the second, of those that appearing stand mute. A Silence which imports Confession.

Contumace, is also used Adjectively.

As, on le declara contumace, he was declared outlawed.

Contumacé, jugé par contumace, outlawed.

Contusion (f.) bruise, contusion.

Une petite contusion, a slight bruise.

Conu (from Conoitre) known, &c. according to the Verb.

Convaincant, convictive, convincing.

As, une Raïson convaincante, a convictive Reason. Des Preuves convaincantes, convincing Proofs.

Convaincre, to convict, to convince; to prove, Rom. 3. 9; to reprove, John 16. 8.

Convaincre quécun de vol, to convict one of robbery.

Je vous convaincray d'ignorance tout à l'heure, I shall presently convince you (I shall make you presently conscious) of your ignorance.

Or thus. As 2 Tim. 3. 16. Toute l'Ecriture est profitable à convaincre, all Scripture is profitable for reproof.

Convaincu, convicted, convinced.

Etre convaincu de Larcin, to be convicted of Theft.

J'en suis convaincu, I am convinced of it.

Convalescence, (f.) cd. Retablissement, Recouvrement de Santé, recovery (of health, strength, and vigour.)

Convalescent, qui commence à se mieux porter, that is in a fair way of recovery, that is in a mending hand.

Convenable, expedient, proper, mutable.

As, cela vous est convenable, that is expedient for you.

Cela est convenable au Bien de l'Etat, that's a thing proper for the Good of the Country.

Ils n'avoient pas encore mis tout l'ordre convenable à leurs affaires, they had not yet ordered all things suitably to their affairs.

Or thus. As Luke 3. 8. Faites donc des Fruits convenables à Repentance, bring forth therefore Fruits worthy of Repentance.

† Convenablement, suitably.

Convenance, (f.) affinity, agreeableness, agreement, 2 Cor. 6. 16.

Quelle convenance y eût il eu entre l'Offrande & celui qui la recevoit? what affinity had there been betwixt the Offering and him that received it?

† Convenances, as, Psal. 78. 56. Testimonies.

Convenir, to become, to be proper, suitable, or agreeable; to agree, or make an agreement; to agree, grant, or promise.

Cela ne convient point au Sujet, that is not at all suitable to the Subject. Remède qui convient aux Vieillards, a Remedy proper for Old Men, that agrees with Old Men.

Ils en sont convenus, they are agreed upon't.

J'en convien avec vous, I grant it, I agree to it.

Convent. See Couvent.

Conventicule, (m.) Terme Anglois naturalisé pour dire une Assemblée illicite de Non-Conformistes, a Conventicle, a private Meeting.

Convention, (f.) ce dont on convient, Article agreed on.

Faire une convention avec quécun, to make a covenant with one.

Observer les Conventions, to observe (or stand to) the Articles. Rompre les Conventions, to break the Articles.

Conventionel, done under Articles.

Conventuel (from Couvent) of a Convent, of a Monastery.

Prieur Conventuel, a Prior that hath Friars under him.

Messe Conventuelle, Mass celebrated in a Convent.

Convers, frere Convers, (Terme de quèques Religieux) a Lay-brother.

Conversable, sociable.

Une personne conversable, a sociable person, a person fit for conversation.

Conversation, (f.) conversation.

Une Conversation galante, a genteel Conversation. Un homme d'une belle conversation, a man of a sweet conversation.

Entrer en conversation, to begin a conversation. Renouër la conversation, to renew the conversation. Rompre la conversation, to break off the conversation.

Or thus. Etre en conversation avec quécun, to converse (to be in company) with one.

Faire un Discours en conversation, to make a Discourse in company.

Converse (from Convers) f. a Nun.

Converser, to converse, to keep company; to live, Heb. 13. 18; to walk, 1 Pet. 4. 3.

Dans l'humeur où je me trouve, je ne dois plus converser avec les Creatures vivantes, I am now of such temper, that I am not fit to converse with any living Soul.

Or thus. As, je converse familièrement avec lui, I am very familiar with him.

Nous n'avons point conversé en sapience charnelle, mais par la grace de Dieu, (2 Cor. 1. 12.) We have had our conversation in the World, not with fleshy wisdom, but by the grace of God.

Afin que tu saches comment il faut converser en la Maison de Dieu, (1 Tim. 3. 15.) that thou mayst know how to behave thy self in the House of God.

Conversion, (f.) from Convertir, conversion; a turning (or wheeling) about.

La Conversion de S. Paul, S. Paul's Conversion.

Les Grecs firent la Conversion pour l'aller recevoir, the Greeks wheeled about to receive him.

Conversion de Proposition, en Logique, the Conversion of a Proposition, in Logick.

Converti, converted, turned, changed.

Il n'est pas encore converti, he is not yet converted.

Votre Tristesse sera convertie en Joie (John 16. 20.) your Sorrow shall be turned into Joy.

Un Converti, Une Convertie, a Convert.

Convertible (Terme de Philosophie) convertible.

As, des Termes convertibles, convertible Terms.

Convertir, to convert, or to turn.

As, convertir de l'argent en or, to turn silver into gold. Convertir des Vases sacrez en des Usages profanes, to convert holy Vessels into profane Uses.

Convertir quécun, le faire quitter une mauvaise Religion pour embrasser une bonne, to convert one, to make him forsake a bad Religion and imbrace that which is right.

Convertir un Payen, to convert a Heathen, to make him turn Christian.

Convertir quécun, le tirer du Libertinage, & le mettre dans le chemin de Salut, to convert one, or reclaim him from his vicious courses.

† Convertir quécun, le gagner par prieres ou par adresse, to prevail upon one. Je l'ai en fin converti, I prevailed at last upon him.

Se convertir, to turn (in a neutral sense.)

As, le Sel se convertit en eau, Salt turns into water. Le Froment semé dans une mauvaise Terre se convertit en Avoine, Wheat sowed in a bad Soil turns into Oats.

Se convertir avant sa mort, quitter une fausse Religion pour en prendre une bonne, to turn before his death, to forsake a bad Religion to imbrace that which is right.

Se convertir, changer sa Vie en une meilleure, to lead a new life, to leave his former vicious life.

Convertisseur (m.) a Converter.

Aujourd'hui la France est toute pleine de Convertisseurs, & il n'y a pas jusques aux plus grands Scelerats qui ne s'en mêlent, France now a daies swarms with Converters, and the most profligate there will have a hand in it.

Convexe, courbé en dehors, ou par dessus, convex.

As, un Miroir convexe, a convex Looking Glass.

Convexité (f.) convexity.

Conviction (f.) from Convaincre, conviction.

As, la conviction y est toute entiere, 'tis a plain conviction.

Convie, invited.

Etre convié à souper, to be invited to supper.

Un Convie, a Guest, one that is invited (or bidden) to a feast.

Les Conviez le prendront en mauvaise part, the Guests will take it ill.

Convier, to invite, bid, or call; to invite, or persuade.

Convier quécun à dîner, ou à souper, to invite one to dinner, or to supper.

La necessité des Affaires le convia à se reconcilier, the urgent state of Affairs invited him to a reconciliation.

Or thus. As Rom. 2. 4. Ne sachant point que la benignité de Dieu te convie à Repentance, not knowing that the goodness of God leads thee to Repentance.

leur, to lead a new life, to leave his former vicious life.

Convertisseur (m.) a Converter.

Aujourd'hui la France est toute pleine de Convertisseurs, & il n'y a pas jusques aux plus grands Scelerats qui ne s'en mêlent, France now a daies swarms with Converters, and the most profligate there will have a hand in it.

Convexe, courbé en dehors, ou par dessus, convex.

As, un Miroir convexe, a convex Looking Glass.

Convexité (f.) convexity.

Conviction (f.) from Convaincre, conviction.

As, la conviction y est toute entiere, 'tis a plain conviction.

Convie, invited.

Etre convié à souper, to be invited to supper.

Un Convie, a Guest, one that is invited (or bidden) to a feast.

Les Conviez le prendront en mauvaise part, the Guests will take it ill.

Convier, to invite, bid, or call; to invite, or persuade.

Convier quécun à dîner, ou à souper, to invite one to dinner, or to supper.

La necessité des Affaires le convia à se reconcilier, the urgent state of Affairs invited him to a reconciliation.

Or thus. As Rom. 2. 4. Ne sachant point que la benignité de Dieu te convie à Repentance, not knowing that the goodness of God leads thee to Repentance.

Convocation (f.) from Convoquer, Convocation, or calling together.

As, la Convocation des Etats, ou d'un Concile, the calling of the States, or of a Council.

Lettres de Convocation, a Writ for calling of the States.

Six Jours on travaillera, mais au septieme Jour il y aura sainte Convocation (Lev. 23. 3.) six Days shall thy Work be done, but the seventh Day shall be an holy Convocation.

Convoi (m.) a Convey, or great Number of Carts loaded with Provisions and sent to the Army, with an Attendance of Souldiers; a Convey, or Company of Souldiers or Ships intended for safety; a funeral Convey consisting of Churchmen, attending the Corps with funeral Songs and Prayers.

Escorter un Convoi, to guard a Convey.

Prendre (ou enlever) un Convoi, to take a Convey.

† Convoitable, desirable, to be coveted, or desired. Say Desirable.

† Convoité, coveted, desired, lusted after. Say Desiré.

Convoiter (Terme de Religion) to covet, lust, or desire.

Tu ne convoiteras point la Maison de ton Prochain, thou shalt not covet thy Neighbour's House.

La Chair convoite contre l'Esprit, & l'Esprit contre la Chair (Gal. 5. 17.) the Flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the Flesh.

† Convoiteux, covetous, desirous, greedy, zealous, that covets (desires, or lusts after) a thing.

This Word is frequently used in S. Pauls Epistles.

Convoitise (f.) lust, concupiscence, or eager desire, love.

La Convoitise des Richesses est la Racine de tous Maux (1. Tim. 6. 10.) the love of Money is the Root of all Evil.

La Convoitise ne se peut pas prescrire des bornes, Concupiscence admits of no bounds.

Avoir une insatiable convoitise de regner, to have an eager desire of reigning.

Reprimer ses convoitises, to bridle his lust. Vivre sans convoitise, to live without any lust.

Vous n'accomplirez point les Convoitises de la Chair (Gal. 5. 16.) ye shall not fulfil the Lusts of the Flesh.

Convoler (Terme du Palais) convolver en secondes Noces, to marry again, to take a second Wife.

Convoqué, called together, assembled.

Convoquer, to call together, to assemble.

Convoquer le Peuple, ou un Concile, to call the People, or a Council, together.

Convoy. See Convoi.

†Convoyé, attended, accompany'd.

†Convoyer, to attend, or accompany; to send away, Gen. 31. 27; to let one go, to let him depart, Ex. 18. 27.

Convulsion (f.) convulsion, a shivering of the sinews; a kind of swooning.

Etre sujet à des convulsions, to be subject to convulsion fits.

Vous n'avez pas été jusques aux convulsions, you have not been ready to swoon.

Coopérateur (m.) celui qui aide, Cooperator, that cooperates, a fellow-Worker.

Nous sommes les Coopérateurs de Dieu, we work together with God.

Coopération (f.) cooperation.

Coopérer (Terme de Théologie) to cooperate, to work with.

Coopérer à son Salut, to cooperate his Salvation, to work his salvation with God.

C'est Dieu qui a coopéré à toutes ces Merveilles, 'tis God that hath work'd all these Wonders.

Copeau (m.) tout ce qu'on ôte du bois avec la plane ou la hache, a chip, a shaving.

Copeau de bouis (Terme de Peignier) a piece of box, to make a Comb of.

Copie (f.) a copy, or extract; a Copy, to print upon, an Author's Original.

Collationner la Copie à l'Original, to compare the Copy with the Original. Ce Tableau n'est qu'une Copie, this Picture is but a Copy.

Acheter une Copie bien cher, to buy a Copy very dear.

Or thus. As, cet Enfant est une parfaite Copie de son Pere, that Child is the very Picture of his Father.

Copie, copy'd, writ out, transcribed; copy'd, or drawn from the Original; imitated.

Copier, to copy, write out, or transcribe; to copy, or draw from an Original; to imitate.

As, copier une Lettre, to transcribe a Letter, to write it out.

Copier un Original de Peinture, to copy an Original, to draw a Picture from the Original.

Il le copie en tout & par tout, he imitates him in all things.

Copieusement, plentifully, abundantly.

As, boire copieusement, to drink plentifully.

Copieux, copious.

As, la Langue Angloise est fort copieuse, the English Tongue is very copious.

Copiste (m.) from Copie, a Writer of Copy's, a Transcriber. Also an Officer in a Play-house, who takes care of the Originals, and helps out a Player when his memory fails him.

†Copulation (f.) copulation.

Copulatif (Terme de Grammaire) copulative.

As, Conjonction copulative, a copulative Conjunction.

Copulative (a fem. Subst.) cd. Conjonction, a Conjunction, or Conjunctive Particle.

Coq. See Coc.

Coq, en termes de Mer, le Cuissier d'un Vaisseau, a Ship-Cook.

Coque (f.) coque d'œuf, shell, egg-shell.

Manger un œuf à la coque, to eat an egg in the shell.

Coque de ver à soie, the coc of a silk-worm.

Coquelicot (m.) Fleur rouge qui croit parmi les Blez, poppy, or red corn-rose; cock-crowing.

Coqueluche (f.) Toux violente, qu'on appelle aussi Quinte, Coqueluche, a violent Cough (wherewith the French were infested in the beginning of the last Century.)

†Coqueluchon (f.) capuce (ou chaperon) de Religieux, a Monks hood, or capuche.

Coquemar (m.) sorte de Vase de terre ou de metal, an earthen (or brazen) Pot with a cover.

Coquet, wanton, effeminate, that loves amorous discourses, whose Inclination is to love and love business.

Avoir un attachement coquet, to be wanton, or effeminate, to mind nothing but love-business.

Un Coquet (Subst.) a wanton Lover of the Sex, who makes it his business by his genteel dress and amorous discourses to ingratiate himself with the Lady's; a Cock-boat.

Coqueter, to intertain with amorous or flattering discourses; to bear with pleasure such discourses.

Coqueterie (f.) the tricks of a Coquette.

Coquetier (m.) Marchand d'œuf, a Seller of eggs; a small vessel to put an egg in.

Coquette (f.) a fisking Gossip, a twattling Hussy.

C'est une franche Coquette, she is a twattling Hussy.

Coquillage (m.) Shells; Shell-work.

Un beau Coquillage, delicate shell-work.

Coquille, Shell.

As, coquille de Tortue, a Tortoise-shell.

Coquille d'huître, ou d'escargot, oyster, or snail-shell.

Coquille d'œuf, ou de noix, an egg, or a nut-shell.

Proverbial Expressions.

A qui vendez vous vos coquilles? cd. à qui pensez vous avoir à faire? who do you think to have to do with? Qui a de l'argent a des coquilles, cd. quiconque a de l'argent a tout ce qu'il lui plait, he that hath money hath all things.

La coquille lui demange, cd. elle est amoureuse, & voudroit bien satisfaire sa passion, she longs for it, she has an itching after it.

Coquin (m.) a Rogue, a Rascal, a base Man.

C'est un Coquin, & c'est tout dire, he is a Rogue, in a word.

†Coquin (Adj.) quiaccoquine, idle.

As, il n'y a point de Metier plus coquin que celui de l'Amour, there is no idler Trade than that of love.

Coquine (f.) a Fade, a base Woman.

C'est une franche Coquine, she is a very Fade.

Cor (m.) horn, a Hunters horn; a kind of Sea-shell.

Donner (sonner) du Cor, to wind a horn.

†Crier à cor & à cri, cd. à pleine tête, de toute sa force, to cry out with might and main.

Cor de Belier (Jof. 6. 4.) a Trumpet of Rams-horn.

Sept Sacrificateurs porteront sept cors de Belier devant l'Arche, seven Priests shall bear before the Ark seven Trumpets of Rams-horns.

Cor au pié. See Cors.

Corail, & (by the Poets) Coral (m.) corral.

Corail rouge, blanc, noir, ou jaunâtre, red, white, black, or yellowish Corral.

†Ses Levres de corail, & sa Bouche de roses, her coral Lips, and rosy Mouth.

Corbeau (m.) a Raven; a Corbel, in Architecture.

Corbeau de Mer, the Sea-raven.

Le Corbeau est un des Oiseaux que les Juifs avoient en abomination (Lev. 11. 15.) the Raven is one of the Fowls which were an abomination to the Jews.

Corbeille (f.) a Basket, a wide Basket.

†Corbeillee (f.) a basket full.

Corbillard (m.) Coche par eau pour aller de Paris à Corbeil, the Corbeil-Boat.

Corbillon (m.) espece de petit Picotin, où l'on met les bales lors qu'on joue à la Paille, a ball-basket.

Corbin. See Bec, or Gentilhomme.

Cordage (m.) cordage, cords, ropes.

L'Eternel est juste, il a coupé les cordages entortillez des Mechans (Ps. 129. 4.) the Lord is righteous, he hath cut asunder the cords of the Wicked.

Cordager, faire du cordage, to make cords, or ropes.

Corde (f.) a rope, or cord; a with, Judg. 16. 7; a string; the thread of cloth.

Corde à danser, a dancing rope. Danser sur la corde, to dance upon the rope. Danseur de corde, a Rope-dancer.

Corde à pendre, a hanging rope. Traîner sa corde, mener une vie de Fripon, être à la veille d'être pris & pendu, to go the way to the Gallows, to do such things as will bring one to the gallows. Se mettre la corde au cou, to put a rope about his neck. Se pendre avec une corde, to hang himself with a rope.

Corde d'arc, a bow-string. Corde d'arbalète, a cross-bow-string. Corde de Violon, de Lut, &c. the string of a Violin, of a Lute, &c. Garnir de cordes un Violon, to string a Violin.

Corde de bois, ou Voie de bois, a cord of Wood. Corde de bois est un Tas de bois en carré, coupé pour être brûlé, qui est de quatre piez de haut & d'environ huit piez de long, entre deux membrures, a Cord of wood is a certain Quantity of Wood (whether fagots or billets) laid together, about four foot in height and eight in length, having at either end two stakes to hold it in.

Proverbial Expressions.

Ce sont des gens de sac & de corde, cd. des gens qui ne valent rien, they are profligate Wretches, the Gallows groans for them. Donner à quécun la corde pour se pendre, to give one rope enough to hang himself.

Avoir plusieurs cordes à son arc, to have more than one string to his bow.

Toucher la grosse corde, dire une chose qu'il falloit faire scrupule de dire, to tell all, to discover what should have been concealed.

Ne touchez pas cette corde là, cd. ne dites mot de cette affaire là, hush, forbear talking of that.

Cordé (from Corder) corded, or bound with cords; stringy.

Un Balot bien cordé, a Bale well corded.

Une rave cordée, a stringy radish.

Or thus. As, un Cheval cordé, a Horse troubled with hard strings. Chaudépisse cordée, a Clap with great Inflammation.

Cordeau (m.) a cord; a line.

But Ps. 18. v. 5. and 6. and Sam. 22. 6. you will find, for the word Cordeaux in the French Translation, the word Sorrows in the English.

Cordelette (f.) a small Cord.

As John 2. 15. Il fit un Fouet de Cordelettes, he made a Scourge of small Cords.

Cordelier (m.) sorte de Religieux de l'Ordre de S. François, Cordelier, a gray Friar (of S. Francis his Order.)

Cordeliere (f.) Religieuse de S. François, a Nun of S. Francis his Order; a black and knotted silk Neck-lace, worn by some Gentlewomen.

Corder, to cord, to bind with cords.

As, corder des balots, ou du bois, to cord bales, or wood.

Se corder, comme font les herbes & les fruits après la Saison de leur tendreur naturelle, to grow stringy, as herbs and fruits do when they are out of Season.

Corderie (f.) Lieu établi pour faire des cordes, a Rope-Yard.

Cordial (from Cœur) cordial, good for the heart; cordial, hearty.

As, un Julep cordial, a cordial Julep. Vin cordial, a cordial Wine.

Un Ami cordial, a cordial (a hearty) Friend.

Cordiale affection (Phil. 1. 8.) bove's.

Cordial (Subst.) a Cordial.

Cordialement, cordially, heartily.

Agir cordialement, to act cordially, like a friend.

Cordialité (f.) sincérité, ou amitié sincere, cordialness, heartiness, or hearty love.

Avoir de la cordialité pour ses Amis, to be cordial to his Friends.

Cordier (m.) from Corde, a Rope-maker.

Cordon (m.) a twist of a rope or cord; a lace (to lace with); a hat-band; a shoestring; a ribbon, Numb. 15, 38.

Une Corde à trois cordons, a Rope with three twists.

Cordon de fil, ou de soie, a thread, or silk lace.

Cordon d'or ou d'argent pour embellir un Chapeau, a gold or silver hat-band to set off a Hat. Un Cordon bleu, a blue hat-band; a Knight of the Holy Ghost wearing a blew Hat-band.

Je ne suis pas digne de delier le cordon de ses souliers, I am not worthy to untie his shoestrings.

Or thus. As, gros Cordons de soie, comme ceux qui sont attachez aux côtes des Portieres du Carosse, tassels, as the tassels of a Coach.

Cordon de Muraille, a Wreath (or Edge) of stone on the outside of a Building, to distinguish the several Stories.

Cordon

Cordon (ou Ceinture) de Minime, the Girdle of such Friars as are called Minimes. Etre du Cordon de S. François, to be of S. Francis his Order.
En façon de Cordon (Ex. 28. 22.) of wreathen-work.
Cordonné, twisted, braided.
Cordonner, to twist, to braid.
Cordonner les cheveux d'un Enfant, to braid a Child's hair.
Cordonnerie (f.) a Shoemaker-Row, or Shoemaker-Street.
Cordonnet (m.) petit lacet de fil en forme de gance, a lace, a small lace of thread.
Cordonnier (m.) a Shoemaker.
Un Cordonnier qui travaille bien, a good Shoemaker.
Cordouan (m.) Cuir de peau de Bouc ou de Chevre passée en tan, Cordovan leather (which is properly a Goats skin tanned.)
Coriace (from Cuir) as tough as leather, as hard as a hide.
As, Viande coriace, tough Meat.
Coriandre, (f.) forte de Plante & de Grains, Coriander, an Herb and Seed so called.
Coridon. See Coridor.
Corne, (f.) fruit de Cormier, the Service, or Sorb-apple.
Cormier, (m.) the Service-tree, the Sorb-apple-tree.
Cormorant, (m.) forte d'Oiseau, Cormorant, a sort of Fowl.
Le Cormorant est un Oiseau de Riviere de pié plat, qui a un long bec & un long cou, & qui mange les Poissons, the Cormorant is a flat-footed Fowl, long-beaked, and long-necked, and that eats Fish.
But, Psal. 102. 7. you will find for the word Cormorant in the French Translation the word Pelican in the English.
Je suis devenu semblable au Cormorant du Desert, I am like a Pelican of the Wilderness.
Cornaline, (f.) forte de Pierre precieuse, Cornelian, the Cornelian stone.
La Cornaline est une Pierre rouge ou blanche, sur laquelle on peut peindre en email, a Cornelian is a Stone, either red or white, upon which one may enamel.
Cornard, (m.) Cocu, a Cuckold.
Un franc Cornard, a meer Cuckold.
Sa propre Femme l'appelle Cornard, his own Wife calls him Cuckold.
Corne, (f.) horn; boof, the hoof of a Beast.
As, une corne de beuf, de vache, de taureau, the horn of an ox, of a cow, of a bull.
Cornes d'escargot, ou de limacon, the horns of a snail.
Corne de Cerf, Harts-horn, the horn of a Hart, as it is used in Physick and Manufactures; also a Plant called Harts-horn in English, sometimes used in Sallets. Le manche de Couteau est de corne de Cerf, the haft of this Knife is of Harts-horn.
La Corne d'Abondance, the Horn of Plenty.
La Corne de Salut, the Horn of Salvation.
Les Cornes du Croissant de la Lune, ou de l'Arc en Ciel, the Horns of the Moon in her Increase, or of the Rainbow.
Corne, Ouvrage à Corne, (en Termes de Fortification) Horn-work.
† Cornes de Cocu, the Horns of a Cuckold.
Porter les cornes, to wear horns. Cacher ses cornes, to hide his horns. Faire porter les cornes à son Mari, to bestow a pair of Horns upon her Husband. Planter des cornes à Jupiter, faire un Roi ou un Prince cornard, to make a King or a Prince cuckold.
Les Cornes sont pour les Peigniers, the Horns are for Comb-makers.
† Faire les cornes à quécun, se moquer de lui, to make horns at one, to jeer him.
Corne Ducale, a Cap worn by the Doge of Venice.
Corne de Cheval, the Hoof of a Horse.
Cornée, (f.) Terme d'Anatomie, the horny Tunicle, wherein the Apple of the eye is placed.
Corneille, (f.) a Crow.
La Corneille est un Oiseau noir, plus petit que le Corbeau, a Crow is a Bird of a black colour, lesser than the Raven.

Corneille emmantelée, Oiseau noir & cendré qui hante les Rivages, the Winter-crow, or Roiston-crow (whose back and belly are of an ashy colour.)
† Cornement d'oreilles, (from Corner) the tingling (or glowing) of the ears.
Cornemuse, (f.) Instrument de Musique, a Bag-pipe.
Jouer de la cornemuse, to play upon the bag-pipe.
Corner, to sound a cornet, to wind a horn; to stink, or smell mustily (as meat that hath taken wind)
† Viande qui commence à corner, Meat that begins to stink.
Or thus. † Les oreilles me cornent, my ears tingle.
† Je m'en vai faire une Chose en Israel, laquelle quiconque orra ses deux oreilles lui corneront, (1 Sam. 3. 11.) I will do a Thing in Israel, at which both the ears of every one that heareth it shall tingle.
Cornet, (m.) Cornet, a musical Cornet; a dice-box; the bottom of an Inkborn; a paper rolled into the form of a Cornet; a rolled kind of pastry-work; a horned cup.
Il void sa vie ou sa mort sortir de son cornet, he sees his life or death come out of his dice-box.
Or thus. As, Ex. 19. 16. au matin il y eut des Tonnerres & des Eclairs, & une grosse Nuée sur la Montagne, & un Son tres fort de cornet, in the morning there were Thunders and Lightnings, and a thick Cloud upon the Mount, and the Voice of the Trumpet exceeding loud.
Cornetier, (m.) a horn-dresser, one that dresses horns both for Comb-makers and Bead-makers.
Cornette, (f.) the Horse-Guard; a Body of Horse; a Troop of Horse; a Cornet, or Standard-bearer (in which sense it is masculine;) a Cornets Place; the Standard of the principal Ship of a Squadron; a woman's Cornet, being a kind of dress for her head; a kind of flower not unlike the Violet.
Cornette blanche, a white Standard of the Colonel General of the Light Horse, the only Standard of that colour in France; the first Company of the said Colonel; his Office of Colonel General, as they call it in France.
Corniche, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, Cornish, the brow of a wall, pillar, or other piece of building; a kind of top (for boys to whip.)
Cornouille, (f.) fruit de Cornouiller, Corniberry.
Cornouiller, (m.) forte d'Arbre fruitier, the Cornil-tree.
Cornu, (from Corne) horned, cornute.
As, un Animal cornu, a horned Beast. La Lune cornue, the horned Moon.
† Le pauvre homme est cornu comme un Satyre, the poor man is cornute like a Satyr.
Cornue. See Retorte.
Corollaire, (m.) Proposition qui n'est qu'une Suite d'une autre precedente, a Corollary.
Mettre en corollaire, to add by way of Corollary.
Coronal, Terme d'Anatomie, coronal.
As, Os coronal, cd. l'Os du Front, the coronal (or the Forehead) bone.
Suture coronale, cd. Suture extérieure du crane, the coronal Suture, or coronal Seam (which compasses the forehead, or fore part of the Scull, in form of a half Circle.)
Corporal. See Caporal.
Corporal, (m.) Linge benit & carré sur lequel on met le Calice & l'Hostie, Corporal.
Corporalier, (m.) Bourse où l'on met le Corporal, the Bag wherein the Corporal is kept.
† Corporance, (f.) corporature, or size of the body.
Or thus. As, Ps. 144. 14. Que nos Beufs soient d'une corporance bien amassée, that our Oxen may be strong to labour.
Corporel, corporal, bodily.
As, Punition corporelle, corporal Punishment.
Corporellement, corporally, bodily.
Punir corporellement, to inflict a corporal punishment.
Corporifié, corporified.

Corporifier, Terme de Chymie, to corporifie.
Corps, (m.) Body, a Thing with Dimensions; a Body, or Collection; a Body, Society, or Company; the body, or main part of a Thing.
As, le Corps humain, Mans Body. Les Parties du Corps, the Parts of the Body. Un Corps dur, mou, liquide, lumineux, a hard, soft, liquid, or luminous Body. Un Corps opaque, ou transparent, a dark, or transparent Body. Corps de Soleil, the Body of the Sun.
Corps de Droit Civil, a Body of the Civil Law. Corps de Droit Canon, a Body of the Canon Law. Reduire plusieurs pieces en un Corps, to reduce several pieces into a Body.
Le Corps de la noblesse, the Body of the Nobility. Corps de Marchands, a Company of Merchants.
Vous serez receu dans notre Corps, you shall be received into our Society. Le Senat l'est venu trouver en Corps, the Senate came in a Body to wait upon him. Un Corps de Reserve, a Body of Reserve. Faire un Corps d'Armée, to raise a Body of Men, to levy an Army. Rassembler les Troupes en un Corps, to rally all his Forces together.
Le Corps d'une Armée, the body of the Army, the main part of it.
This Word is also used in some other Senses.
As, un Corps de Logis, a Side of a great House. Corps de Garde, the Guard, the Court of Guard. Garde du Corps, a Life-Guard-man. Corps de Jupe, Stays. Vin qui a du corps, Wine that hath a body. Etoffe qui a du corps, substantial stuff.
Repondre corps pour corps, to answer body for body.
Se battre corps à corps, to fight hand to hand. A corps perdu, headlong, furiously, desperately, without any care of his own safety. A son corps defendant, in his own defence. Tuer quécun à son corps defendant, to kill one in his own defence. † Elle est prude à son corps defendant, cd. elle est sage parce qu'elle est laide, she is honest because ugly.
† Faire folie de son Corps, to prostitute her Body. C'est un Corps sans Ame, pour dire un homme triste, ou abbatu, he is just like a Body without Soul. C'est un plaisant Corps, he is a jovial Blade.
Absent de Corps, (Col. 2. 5.) absent in the Flesh.
† Corpulence, (f.) corpulency, bigness of the body.
† Corpulent, corpulent, big-bodied.
Corpuscule, (m.) cd. petit corps, a corpuscle, or little body.
Correçt, (from Corriger) correçt, neat, pure, without fault.
Un Ouvrage correçt, a correçt (pure, or neat) Piece of Work.
Correçtement, correçtly, purely, neatly, without fault.
As, parler, ou ecrire correçtement, to speak, or write correçtly.
Correçteur, (m.) Corrector.
As, Correçteur d'Impimerie, the Corrector of a Printing-house.
Or thus. As, Correçteur des Contes, Officier qui verifie les Contes rendus à la Chambre, an Officer that examines and comptrolls, or passes the Accounts of the Receivers, Under-Treasurers, and other the like Accountants of the Exchequer. There are four of them belonging to the Chamber of Accounts.
Un Correçteur de Classes, the Whipping Tom of a School, he that is appointed by the head-Master to the whipping Office.
Correçteur de Minimes, the Superiour of a Convent of Minimes.
Correçtif, (m.) tout ce qui corrige, qui adoucit, ou qui rend moins rude, Correçtive, a correçtive Medicine.
Correçtion, (f.) correçtion, or mending; correçtness, or perfection; punishment.
La Correçtion en est aisée, 'tis easily mended.
C'est une Faute qui merite correçtion, this is such a fault as deserves a punishment.
Correçtion fraternelle, a kind exhortation (or advice) to a friend.

Sous correction, sauf le respect, under favour. Sous votre correction cela n'est pas, under your favour 'tis not so.

Correspondant, (m.) a Correspondent.

Un fidelle Correspondant, a faithful Correspondent.

J'ai trois ou quatre Correspondans à Paris, I have three or four Correspondents at Paris.

Correspondant, (Adj.) that answers, that corresponds.

Or thus. As, Heb. 9. 24. Christ n'est point entré es Leux saints faits de main, qui estoient des figures correspondantes aux vrais, Christ is not entered into the holy Places made with hands, which are the figures of the true.

Correspondence, (f.) correspondence.

Entretenir correspondance avec quécun, to hold correspondence (to correspond) with one.

Avoir de particulieres Correspondences dans les Pais étrangers, to have particular Correspondences in foreign Countries.

Correspondre, to correspond, to answer.

As, il ne correspond pas aux Soins qu'on prend de son Education, he doth not answer the Care which is taken about his Education.

Corridor, (m.) Terme d'Architecture, & de Fortification, a kind of Gallery that surrounds a Building; a covered Way, in Fortification.

Corrigé, corrected, mended.

Corriger, to correct, or mend; to reclaim, or reform; to correct, moderate, or diminish.

Corriger une faute, to correct (or mend) a fault.

Corriger quécun de ses fautes, to reclaim one from his faults.

Un peu de Vin pour corriger la crudité de l'Eau, a little Wine to correct (or diminish) the crudity of the Water.

Or thus. As, 2 Tim. 3. 16. Toute l'Ecriture est profitable à corriger, all Scripture is profitable for correction.

Se corriger, to mend (in a neutral sense.)

Se corriger de quécun Vice, to forsake a Vice, to reclaim himself from it.

Corrival, (m.) Rival. Say Rival.

Corroie } See Corroyé.
Corroier } Corroyer.
Corroieur } Corroyeur.
Corroieuse } Corroyeuse.

Corrompre, to corrupt, debauch, or spoil; to corrupt, or bribe; to pervert, or get to his side against Justice; to falsifie, change, or alter.

As, corrompre les mœurs, to corrupt manners. Corrompre une Fille, to debauch a Virgin. Vous l'avez corrompu, you spoiled (you debauched) him.

Corrompre les Juges, to corrupt (to bribe) his Judges. Ils se sont laissez corrompre à force d'argent, they suffered themselves to be bribed, or to be corrupted with bribes.

Sa beauté a corrompu ses Juges, her beauty hath perverted her Judges.

Corrompre quécun passage d'un Livre, to alter a place in a Book.

Se corrompre, to corrupt, or be corrupted; to taint; to defile himself.

La Viande se corrompt l'Eté, Meat is apt to taint in the Summer.

Or thus. Bois qui est sujet à se corrompre, Wood apt to be worm-eaten.

Le vieil Homme qui se corrompt par les Convoitises qui seduisent (Eph. 4. 22.) the old Man which is corrupt according to the deceitful Lusts.

Corrosif, corrosive, gnawing.

As, un Ulcere corrosif, a corrosive Ulcer.

Une humeur corrosive, a corrosive humour.

Corroyé, curried, tawed, or dressed (as leather) rough-hew.

Corroyer, to curry, taw, or dress; to chip, rough-hew, or square.

As, corroyer un Cuir, to curry Leather.

Corroyer du bois, to rough-hew (or to chip) a piece of timber.

Maisons use also this Word in their Trade.

As, when they say, corroyer le mortier, which is to mix well the sand and lime together. Amongst Lock-Smiths and Cutlers it signify's to joyn two hot pieces of steel or Iron together.

Corroyeur (m.) a Currier, a Leather-Dresser.

Corroyeuse (f.) a Curriers Wife, or Widow.

Corrupteur (m.) from Corrompre, Corrupter, or Debaucher; Corrupter, Falsifier.

As, ce sont de grands Corrupteurs de la Jeunesse, they are great Debauchers of Youth.

C'est un infigne Corrupteur de l'Ecriture, he is a noted Corrupter of Scripture.

Corruptible, corruptible.

Tout est corruptible, excepté la Vertu, all but Virtue is corruptible.

Corruptible (Substantively used) corruptible.

As, 1. Cor. 15. 53. Il faut que ce Corruptible ici revête l'Incorruption, this Corruptible must put on Incorruption.

Corruption (f.) corruption.

La Corruption de notre Nature, the Corruption of our Nature.

Le Monde est dans une étrange Corruption, the World is grown to a strange pass of Corruption.

Cors (m.) cors au pié, corn, a corn in ones foot; also as Cor.

Couper un cors, to cut a corn. Arracher un cors, to pick out a corn.

Corfage (m.) a mans presence, or stature.

Corfaire (m.) Corsair, or Pirat; a scelerate, or profligate man.

Les Corsaires d'Alger, Tunis, & Tripoli, the Corsairs of Algiers, Tunis, and Tripoli.

Corflet (m.) Cuirasse pour un Piquier, a Corflet; an habergeon, Ex. 39. 23.

Corflet (m.) Corps de Jupe de Paisanne, the bodies of an ordinary Woman.

Cortège (m.) a Train of Coaches.

Corvée (f.) a drudging Day's Work due by a Vassal (or Tenant) unto his Landlord; an unprofitable Toil; a Fob of Work.

Cosmographie (m.) a Cosmographer, or Describer of the whole World.

Cosmographie, Cosmography, a Description of the whole World; a Cosmography, or Cosmography-book.

La Cosmographie est une Science fort utile, Cosmography is a very usefull Science.

Il a mis au jour une Cosmographie, he has put out a Cosmography.

Cosmographique, Cosmographical.

As, un Discours Cosmographique, a Cosmographical Discourse.

Cossé (f.) couverture de legume, cod.

As, cossé de pois & de fèves, the cod of pease and beans.

Coffeigneur } Conseigneur.

† se Coffier } se Doguer.

Coste } Cote.

Costé } Côté.

Costelette } Cotelette.

Costoyer } Cotoyer.

Cotau } Coteau.

Cote (f.) a Coat; a Peticoat; a Letter serving for a mark.

Cote d'arme, a Coat-armour. Cote de maille, a Coat of mail.

† Donner la cote verte à une fille, la baiser sur l'herbe, to give a Maid a green gown, to kiss her upon the green grass.

Cela est produit sous la cote A, that is produced under the letter A.

Cote-part, quora. Payer la cote-part, to pay his quora.

Côte (f.) a Coast; a Hill; a Rib.

As, rater la Côte de la Mer, to sail along the Sea-Coast.

La Place est située sur une petite Côte, the Place is seated upon a little Hill.

Rompre les Côtes à quécun, to break one's Ribs. Eve fut tirée d'une des Côtes d'Adam, Eve was formed out of one of Adam's Ribs.

Or thus. As, côte de Melon, a slice of a Melon.

Côte de Lut, a piece of the body of the Lute.

Cote rouge, a sort of good Cheese.

Côté (m.) side, the right or left of the body; side, or way; side, or family; side, or Party.

As, avoir mal de côté, to have a pain in his side. Tomber sur le côté droit, to fall upon his right side. Porter l'épée à son côté, to wear a sword by his side. Aller à côté de quécun, to walk by ones side.

De ce côté, this side, this way. De ce côté là, that side, that way. Les uns d'un côté, les autres d'un autre, some one way, some another.

De quel côté qu'il se tourne, which way soever he turns himself. Il ne fait plus de quel côté se tourner, he do's not know which way to turn himself. Le Mal se repand de tous cotez, the Evil spreads it self every way.

Il est mon Cousin du côté de ma Mere, he is my Cousin by my Mother's side. Du côté de son Pere il est de bonne Maison, he is of a good Family by his Father's side.

Je me rangerai de votre côté, I shall be of your side. La Raïson est de mon côté, I have the Reason on my side. Je ne suis ni d'un côté ni d'un autre, I am of neither side, I stand neuter.

Or thus. As, ils marchent à côté l'un de l'autre, they walk abreast. Il est toujours à mon côté, he is always by me. De côté, de biais, sideways. Du côté d'Orient & du Midi, Eastwards and Southwards.

J'ai fait de mon côté ce que j'ai pu, I have done my part. Elle de son côté ne lui fut pas cruelle, she for her part was not cruel to him.

On la decrie fort du côté de la tendresse, she is much blamed for being too tender, too easy, too flexible. Chacun regarde les Choses du côté qui le touche, every body faces Things according as he is concerned.

César étoit trop impérieux, pour souffrir quécun à côté de lui, Caesar was too imperious to suffer any Equal.

Cote (from Coter) quoted.

Coteau (m.) from Cote, a Hill, a little Hill.

Cotelette (f.) from Côte, a little rib, a stake.

Un Plat de Cotelettes, a Dish of stakes.

Coter (from Cote) to quote.

Il a coté le Chapitre, he has quoted the Chapter.

Or thus. As, coter les pieces (en Termes de Gens de Finance) to write in few words upon the back of a Paper the contents thereof.

Coteret (m.) a Fagot (especially such a one as is made of great Sticks, or cloven Wood.)

Un bon Coteret, a good Fagot.

Huile de Coteret, pour dire coups de bâton, sound blows with a stick, or club.

† Coterie (f.) Societé de plaisir, a Club.

As, il est de notre Coterie, he is of our Club.

Cothurne (m.) Chaussure dont se servoient les anciens Comediens, lors qu'ils representoient des Tragedies, a fashion of high-soled Buskin, used by the antient Tragedians.

Or thus, in a figurative sense. As, les Cothurnes ne sont pas une Chaussure qui me plaise, cd. je ne me plai pas à faire des Pieces de Theatre, I don't love to make Plays.

Quitte ce Langage tragique, & met bas le Cothurne, cd. ne parle point d'un style si sublime & si plein d'esprit Poétique.

Cotignac (m.) Confiture faite avec du Jus de Coings, Quiddeny, or Marmalade of quinces.

† Cotignac de Bacchus, cd. fromage, Cheese.

As, ô doux Cotignac de Bacchus! Fromage que tu vau d'ecus! S. Am.

† Cotillon (m.) from Cote, a Peticoat. Say Jupe.

Cotisation (f.) Reglement de la Part que chacun doit donner, a rating, or assessment.

Cotisé, rated, assessed.

Cotiser (from Cote-part) to rate, to assess.

Cotoier. See Cotoyer.

Coton (m.) the Cotton tree; Cotton, a kind of wool that is found in the fruit of that Tree; a Young mans mossy beard.

Le Coton echaufe & desseche, Cotton warms and is a drier.

Toile de coton, Callico.

Cotonné, nappy; curled.

se Cotonner, to wear nappy; to curl.

Drap qui se cotonne, Cloth that wears nap.
 Cotoyer (from Côte) to coast along.
 A, Cotoyer le Rivage, to coast along the shore.
 Cotret. See Coteret.
 Cotte } See { Cote.
 Coturne } { Cothurne.
 Cou (m.) neck; orifice.
 Se mettre la corde au cou, to put a rope about his neck. Couper le cou à quëcun, to cut ones neck off.
 Se rompre le cou, to break his neck. Sauter au cou de quëcun, l'embrasser, to fall about ones neck, to embrace him.
 † Un cou de Grue, un grand Cou, a long Neck.
 Le cou de la Matrice, ou de la Vessie, the orifice of the Matrix, or Bladder.
 Or thus. As, le cou du pié, the Instep.
 † Couard (m.) a Coward. Say un Lâche.
 † Couardise (f.) cowardise. Say Lâcheté.
 Couchant, setting.
 As, un Chien couchant, a setting Dog.
 † Faire le Chien couchant, to fawn upon one for fear.
 Le Couchant (Subst.) the West.
 Regarder (être tourné vers) le Couchant, to face the West. Du Couchant au Levant, from West to East.
 Couche (f.) a bed, or couch (but chiefly an open Bed, such as are fit for Monks, and inferior Servants;) a bed for a new-born Child, wherein it is wrapt up; a bed for melons, cucumbers, &c. the laying on of a colour; a laying on of plaister; the butt-end of a Gun.
 Souiller la couche de son Mari, to defile her Husbands bed, to be false to his bed.
 Or thus. As, une fausse couche, a miscarriage (of a Woman that brings forth untimely.) Faire une fausse couche, to miscarry.
 Les Couches d'une Femme, a Woman's Lying in. Faire ses couches, être en couche, to ly in. Ses couches ont été heureuses, she has had a very happy lying in.
 Couches (Rom. 13. 13.) chambering.
 Couché, lying abed.
 Couché à terre, sur l'herbe, sur le visage, lying upon the ground, upon the grass, upon his face.
 Être couché, être au lit, to be abed.
 † Or thus. As, couché par écrit, couched, or set down in writing.
 Couché sur l'Etat, listed amongst the Kings Servants.
 Couchée (a fem. Subst.) Lieu où l'on couche quand on voyage, the Place wherein one ly's by the Way.
 Payer sa Couchée, to pay for his Night's Lodging.
 Coucher, to lay down, as upon a bed; to lay down, or to stake; to set down, or to list; to lay on; to ly, or to ly down.
 As, coucher un Enfant, to lay down a Child, to lay it in a cradle (or upon a bed) to sleep.
 Coucher un Malade, to lay down a sick body.
 Coucher une chose par terre, to lay a thing down to the ground.
 Coucher de l'argent sur une carte, to lay down money upon a card. Coucher en Jeu, to stake.
 Coucher quëcun sur l'Etat du Prince, to set one down (to list him) amongst the Princes Servants.
 Coucher les couleurs pour peindre, to lay on the colours in order to painting. Coucher l'or, to lay on the gold.
 Où couchez vous? where d'ye ly? Je couche seul, I ly alone, I ly all alone. Coucher aux piéz de quëcun, to ly down at ones feet.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 21. 12. quand tu coucheras tes fleches sur tes cordes contre leurs faces, when thou shalt make ready thine arrows upon thy strings against the face of them.
 Se coucher, to lay himself down, to ly down; to set.
 Comme je ne pouvois m'empêcher de dormir, je me couchai, being not able to keep from sleeping, I laid myself down. Se cou-cher par terre, to ly down upon the ground.

 Se coucher sur un coffre, to lay himself down upon a trunk.
 Le Soleil se couche, the Sun sets. Savez vous à quelle heure le Soleil se couche? do you know what time the Sun sets?
 Coucher (a masc. subst.) ones bed-time, the time one go's to bed.
 Prier Dieu à son coucher & à son lever, to pray to God every night and morning, that is, at his down-lying and at his uprising.
 Or thus. As, le coucher du Soleil, the Sun-set.
 Couchette (f.) a little scurvy bed, such as Monks use to ly in.
 † Un Mignon de couchette, un Jeune homme bien fait, propre, poli, & un peu effeminé, a spruce, but an effeminate Young man.
 Coucheur (m.) Coucheuse (f.) a Bed-fellow.
 As, c'est un mechant Coucheur, ou une mechante Coucheuse, he is a scurvy Bed-fellow, she is a scurvy Bed-fellow.
 Coucombre. See Concombre.
 Coucon (m.) peloton de soie que fait le ver à soie, the little bottom (or clue) of silk spun by the silk-worm.
 Coucou (m.) sorte d'Oiseau, a Cuckoo, the Welch Embassadour.
 Le Coucou est un des Oiseaux defendus sous la Loi, the Cuckoo is one of the Fowls prohibited under the Law.
 Coude (m.) the elbow.
 Pousser avec le coude, to jostle with the elbow.
 S'appuyer sur le coude, to lean upon his elbow.
 Coude de la branche d'une Bride, the elbow, or out-bearing of the branch of a Bit.
 Coudée (f.) Mesure d'un pié & demi, a Cubit.
 Haut de deux bonnes coudées, two good cubits high.
 † Avoir les coudées franches, to have elbow-room, to have free liberty.
 Coudoyer, pousser avec les coudes, to bunch (or thrust) with his elbows.
 Coudre, to sew, or stitch; to joyn, add, or patch.
 Coudre une chemise, un haut de chauffe, une paire de Souliers, to sew a shirt, a pair of breeches, a pair of shoes.
 † Je fais coudre une Rime au bout de quëque Vers, I can patch a Rhime to a Verse.
 Coudre la peau du Renard à celle du Lion, to patch a Fox's tail to a Lion's skin, to use both sleight and might.
 Coudrier. See Noisetier.
 Couenne. See Coine.
 † Couillaunt (m.) a Man (to speak Latin) benè mentulatus.
 Couille (f.) a Mans Instrument of Generation.
 Couillon (m.) stone, cod, or testicle.
 † Couillamment, fluently, readily.
 Couillant, fluent, that runs well.
 As, un Discours couillant, a fluent Discourse.
 Un Vers couillant, a Verse that runs well.
 Coulé, run; run out; strained.
 Coulé à fond, sunk.
 Couler, to run along, or glide; to run, not to be forced; to trickle, or trickle down; to run away; to run, or run out; to slip in; to strain.
 As, Fleuve qui coule tout doucement, a River that runs gently along.
 Un Vers qui coule doucement, a Verse that runs sweetly.
 Laissez couler mes larmes, let my tears trickle down.
 Le tems coule, Time runs away. La Vie coule, our Life runs away.
 Un Vaisseau qui coule, a Vessel that runs.
 Couler de l'argent dans sa poche, to slip money into his pocket.
 Couler du lait, to strain milk.
 Or thus. As, couler un Vaisseau à fond, to sink a Ship. Vaisseau qui coule à fond, a Ship that sinks.
 Une Vigne qui coule, a Vine the grapes whereof begin to drop, or fall off.
 Il faisoit couler la bave sur sa barbe (1. Sam. 21. 13.) he let his spittle fall down upon his beard.

Se couler, to slip in, to creep in.
 As, il s'est coulé dans le Fossé sans être apperceu, & s'est sauvé, he slipped into the ditch unseen, and so saved himself.
 Couleur (f.) colour, or reflexion of light; the colour of ones face, or any thing else; colour, shew, or pretence; colour, or reason; colour, or ornament.
 Une couleur belle, agreable, éclatante, a fine, pleasant, and noble colour. Couleur vive, gaie, riante, a lively colour. Couleur triste, morne, sombre, morte, a dull Colour. Couleur obscure, a sad (or dark) Colour. Couleur chargée, changeante, pâle, a deep, changeable, pale Colour. Bonne ou mauvaise couleur, a good or bad Colour. Couleur naturelle ou composée, a natural or mixt colour. Garder sa couleur, to keep its colour. Changer de couleur, to change its colour. Perdre sa couleur, to lose its colour. Avoir une mauvaise couleur, to have a bad colour. Avoir tres bonne couleur, to have very good colour. Être haut en Couleur, to have a high colour. Un Vin d'une couleur agreable, Wine of a fine colour. Du Ruban couleur de feu, ribbon of a flame colour.
 Tromper quëcun sous couleur d'Amitié, to cheat one under colour of Friendship. Pour appuyer cette Conjecture, on ne manque ni de preuves, ni de couleurs, to make good that Conjecture, they want not proofs nor pretences.
 Il lui disoit avec quëque couleur, qu'il ne servoit Dieu que par Interêt, he told him, not without some reason, that he served God only for self-Interest.
 Couleurs de Rhetorique, Rhetorical Colours, Rhetorical Figures, or Ornaments.
 Or thus. As, les pâles Couleurs, the green-Sickness.
 Donner des Couleurs à une Affaire, to colour a Business. Donner une couleur specieuse à un Mensonge, to colour a Lie with a specious shew of Truth.
 Porter les Couleurs, to wear the Livery. Gens qui portent les Couleurs, Livery-men.
 Couleuvre (f.) sorte de Serpent, an Adder. Une grosse, ou petite Couleuvre, a great, or a small Adder.
 † Il a bien avalé des Coulevres, c'est à dire il a bien eu de la peine, il a eu beaucoup d'affliction, he has gone through a great deal of sorrow.
 Coulevrine (f.) sorte d'Artillerie, Culverin, a Piece of Ordnance so called.
 Coulis (from Couler) that blows through a hole or chink.
 Il faut boucher ce trou là, il y vient un Vent coulis qui incommode fort, that hole must be stopped, there comes a Wind through it which is very troublesome.
 Coulis (f.) the hollow gutter of a piece of Wood made for a Thing to run in; also that which runs in the hollow.
 Coulis d'Arbalete, the chace (or gutter) of a Cross-bow.
 Couloir (m.) Vaisseau à couler le Lait, a strainer.
 Couloire (f.) sorte de Panier oval, an oval Kind of basket.
 Coulombier (from Colombe) m. a Pigeon-house.
 Coupable. See Coupable.
 Coule (f.) fault, misdeed, or trespass; judgement, Rom. 5. 16.
 Dire sa coule des Choses qu'on a gâtées ou perdues, to make a clear confession of what one hath either spoiled or lost.
 Encore qu'il n'honore pas son Père ou sa Mere, il sera hors de coule (Matt. 15. 6.) though he honour not his Father or his Mother, he shall be free.
 Coup (m.) blow, stroke, or stripe; wound; throw, or cast; hit, or touch; act, or deed; time.
 As, donner un bon coup de poing à quëcun, to give one a good blow with the fist, to strike (or smite) him with the fist.
 Lui donner cent coups de bâton, to give him a hundred blows with a stick. Parer le coup, to put by the blow. Un coup de Jarnac, a fatal blow. Sans coup ferir, without a blow.

Il pourra lui donner quarante coups (Deut. 25. 3.) forty stripes he may give him.
Le coup qu'il a reçu est mortel, the wound he received is mortal. Vos regards sont mortels, leurs coups sont redoutables, your looks are mortal, and their wounds formidable. L'Amour me fait sentir ses plus funestes coups, Love wounds me to the heart.

Un coup de dé, at throw at dice.
Un bon coup, un beau coup, un coup de Maître, un grand coup, un coup heureux, un coup de partie, un coup avantageux, a lucky hit. Ma Muse s'applaudit du beau coup qu'elle a fait, my Muse is highly pleased that she has hit so well.

Faire un mauvais coup, to do an ill act.
C'est lui qui a fait le coup, 'tis he that has done it, 'tis he that hath done the deed.
Au premier coup, the first time. Je vous défie de le faire en trois coups, I defy you to do it in three times.

Or thus. Porter un coup d'épée à quelqu'un, to give one a thrust with his sword.
Manquer son coup, to miss his aim. Se donner des coups fourrez, to run one another through.

Aller aux coups, to go to fight. Il y aura bien des coups donnez, there will be brisk fighting.

On estime de grands fous ceux qui se fourrent aux coups, those are looked upon as great fools that expose themselves at random.

Un coup d'Arme à feu, once shooting of a Gun. Il fut tué d'un coup de Canon, he was killed with a Cannon shot.

Un coup de hazard, ou un coup de fortune, a meer chance. Un coup de Vent, ou de Tempête, a sudden gust of Wind.

Un coup de Mer, a billow of the Sea, a mighty Sea. Un coup de Tonnerre, a Thunder-clap. Un coup de Foudre, a Thunder-bolt.

Un coup d'ongle, a scratch of the nail.
Un coup de désespoir, a desperate attempt.
Un coup du Ciel, a great Providence. Un coup d'Etat, a great piece of Policy.

Il se hâte de faire son coup, he thinks it long till he has done his job, or till he has accomplished his design.

Porter coup, to hit home. Ils ne tirent coup qui ne porte, they ever shoot true.

La plus petite Tolerance porte coup, cd. est de consequence, the least Toleration is of consequence.

Faire un coup de sa main, to steal. C'est un coup de ta main, 'tis thy own handy Work. Se hâter de faire son Coup, to hasten the execution of his Design.

Faire d'une pierre deux coups, to kill two birds with one stone. C'est un coup perdu, that's nothing.

Tirer à coups perdus, to shoot at random.
Beuvons un coup ensemble, let's drink a glass together. Boire encore un coup, to drink once more, to drink another glass.

Ne gagnerai je pas un coup ? shall not I win so much as once ? shall I be always beaten ? A ce coup je connoîtrai si vous m'aimez, now I shall know whether you love me or no.

Tout d'un coup, all at once, all together.
Il a fait tout d'un coup ce qu'il avoit à faire, he has done at once all that he was to do.

Du premier coup, presently, at the first.
Il a deviné la chose du premier coup, he guessed the thing presently. Ses Disciples n'entendirent point ces choses du premier coup (John 12. 16.) these Things understood not his Disciples at the first.

Faire un coup de tête, cd. faire une chose par caprice, par boutade, & ne prendre aucun conseil que de sa passion, to do a thing of his own head. Avoir un coup de hache, cd. être un peu fou, to be a little crack-brained.

Les plus grands coups sont ruez, cd. les plus grands efforts sont faits, the storm is pretty well over, the passion is allayed. Ces Actes n'ont été faits qu'après coup, cd. qu'après le tems qu'il falloit, those Acts were made too late.

Faire un coup de Grille, au Jeu de Paume, to strike the ball into the Hazard.

† Vous ferez comme la Cloison qui a pris coup (Ps. 62. 3.) you shall be as a tottering Fence

Coupable, guilty, culpable.

Se rendre coupable d'un Crime, to make himself guilty of a Crime. Je ne suis pas coupable de cela, I am not guilty of that.

Si on le trouve coupable, il sera puni, if he be found guilty, he shall be punished.
Coupable (a masc. subst.) a guilty man.

Le Coupable est sauvé, & l'Innocent puni, the Guilty man is saved, and the Innocent punished.

Coupe (f.) a Cup; cut (or cutting) of Wood.
Une Coupe d'or ou d'argent, a gold or silver Cup. Ma Coupe est comble (Ps. 23. 5.) my Cup is full.

Coupe d'amertume, a cup of bitterness.
La Coupe du bois est faite, the Wood is cut down, the Trees are lopped.

Or thus. As, un Tailleur qui a la coupe bonne, a Taylor that has a good hand in cutting out.

Coupé, cut, cut out, cut off, cut down, hewn down.

Bois coupé, wood ready cut. Pain coupé n'a point de Maître, bread that is cut hath no Master.

Il eut la tête coupée, his head was cut off.

Coupé (a masc. subst.) Terme de Dance, a copee.

Copeau. See Copeau.

† Coupe-chou. As, Frere coupe-chou, Terme de mepris, a Lay-Friar, a Servant Friar.

Coupe-cu. As, Jouer à coupe-cu, cd. sans revanche, to play without hopes of revenge.

Coupe-gorge (m.) a Cut-throat Place, a dangerous Place.

Coupe-jarret, a Heeler, a dangerous Man.
Coupelle (f.) Outil d'Affineur, Copell, a little Pot or Vessel, wherein Goldsmiths melt or fine their Metal.

Argent de coupelle, fine (tried) silver.
Couper, to cut, with an edge tool; to cut, according to Art; to cut out, to cut off, to cut (or hew) down; to cut, or divide into parts.

As, couper du pain & de la viande, to cut bread and meat. Couper les blez, to cut the Corn.

Couper un Cheval, le rendre impuissant, to cut a Horse.

Couper un Manteau, un Habit, to cut out a Cloak, or a Sute (that is, to cut Cloth or Stuff to make a Cloak or Sute.) Couper une paire de Souliers, ou une paire de Botes, to cut out a pair of Shoes, or a pair of Boots.

Couper la gorge à quelqu'un, to cut ones throat. Lui couper la tête, to cut his head off. Couper un Arbre, to cut down a Tree.

Couper les Cartes (en Termes de Jeu) to cut the Cards. Les couper nettement, to cut them cleverly.

Or thus. As, couper chemin, couper les devans, to cross the way in order to stop one, to shut up the avenues, to prevent. Couper l'Enemi, to prevent the Enemy. Couper les Vivres aux Enemis, to keep the Enemy from getting Provision.

Or thus. As, pour couper court, to be short.

Se couper, to cut himself.
Il s'est coupé le doigt avec son couteau, he has cut his finger with his knife. Se couper les ongles, to cut (or pare) his nails.

Se couper, se contredire, to contradict himself. C'est un Etourdi qui se coupe à tous momens, he is a giddy-headed Man, that contradicts himself ever and anon.

Un Cheval qui se coupe, a Horse that is apt to hit one leg with the other.

Couperet (m.) sorte de Couteau de Boucher, a Cleaver, a Butchers cleaving knife.

Couperose (f.) Copperas, a kind of mineral Salt having in it some metallick substance.

Couperosé, red.
As, Visage couperosé, cd. plein de rougeurs, a red Face.

Coupeur (m.) from Couper. As, un Coupeur de bourse, a Cut-purse.

Coupeur de bois (Deut. 29. 11.) a Hewer of wood.

Couple (f.) couple, yoke.

As, une couple de pommes, d'œufs, de pigeons, de tourterelles, a couple of apples, eggs, pigeons, turtle-doves.

Une couple de Beufs (as Luke 14. 19.) a yoke of Oxen.
But Couple, being apply'd to Persons, is used in the masculine Gender.

As, un heureux Couple d'Amans, a happy Couple of Lovers.

Couplé, coupled.

Coupler, to couple.

As, coupler deux Chiens ensemble, leur mettre les couples, to couple two Hounds together.

Couplet (m.) partie de Poème, a Staff of a Song.

Coupon (from Couper) m. reste de Drap ou d'Etoffe, a shred of Cloth or Stuff.

Coupure (f.) cut.

Cour (f.) Court, or Yard; Court, a Princes dwelling Place; Court, the Prince and his Courtiers; a Court of Judicature.

La Cour d'un Palais, the Court of a Palace.
La Cour d'une Maison de particulier, the Yard of a private House. Basse Cour de Ferme, où sont les Volailles & le Fumier, the Yard of a Farm-house.

Aller à la Cour, to go to Court. Il est à la Cour, he is at Court. Il est bien à la Cour, he meets with great favour at Court.

La Cour est allée à Versailles, the Court is gone to Versailles. Eau benite de Cour, Court holywater.

Une Cour Souveraine, a Sovereign Court.
La Cour l'a renvoyé absous, the Court hath acquitted him. La Cour des Aides, the Court of Aids, a Sovereign Court, wherein all Causes that concern the Kings Farms, les Tailles, & les Gabelles are heard and determined.

† La Cour des Aides n'est pas loin. 'Tis a Proverbial Saying, apply'd to a Wife, who falling short of her sweet expectations from her Husband is like to provide elsewhere for herself.

Faire sa Cour, to go often to Court, in order to get something.

Faire sa Cour à quelqu'un, to give one frequent attendance, to wait upon him often, with a prospect of some advantage. Il fait bien sa Cour à Monsieur de... he waits frequently upon My Lord... he gives him frequent attendance. Faire la Cour aux belles, to court the Lady's.

Courage (m.) from Cœur, courage, heart, valour, stoutness; mind, 1. Pet. 5. 2; accord, Phil. 2. 2.

Courage grand, fier, noble, a great (or noble) courage. Abbatre (ramollir) le courage, to take away a mans courage, to pull down his spirits. Perdre courage, to lose courage, to despond, to be dejected, or discouraged. Prendre courage, to take courage, to pluck up a good heart. Reprendre courage, to resume his courage, to take heart again.

Avoir bon courage, to have a good heart, to be of good comfort. J'ai bon courage, mais les forces me manquent, I have a good heart, but my strength fails me. Faire quelque chose avec courage, to do a thing cheerfully, or with a good heart.

De courage (Eph. 6. 6.) from the heart.
Or thus. As, Perdre courage, to despond, to faint, Heb. 12. 5.

Ceux qui sont de petit courage (1. Thess. 5. 14.) the feeble-minded.

† Si j'en croyois mon courage, cd. si je me laissois aller à ma colere, ou à mon ressentiment, should I gratify my anger.

This Word is also used by way of Interjection, and that to animate people.

As, Courage, Soldats, ils sont à nous, cheer up, old Souldiers, we have 'em. Courage, mes Enfants, n'ayez point de peur, cheer up, Children, be not afraid.

Courageusement, courageously, valiantly, stoutly, briskly.

S'opposer courageusement aux Enemis, to make a stout resistance against the Enemy.

Courageux, courageous, stout, valiant.

Un Esprit courageux, a courageous Man, a stout Man.

Couramment, in haste; fluently, finely, without stop.

On ne fait pas bien les Choses quand on les fait couramment, Things are never well done when they are done in haste.

Lire couramment, to read finely, or without stop.

Courant (from Courir) running; current.

As, une Eau courante, a running Water.

Monoie courante, current Coin, current Money.

Or thus. As, s'en aller tout courant, to run along. Un Chien courant, a hunting Dog.

† Et la barre du milieu sera au milieu des ais, courant de bout en bout (Ex. 26. 28.) and the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall reach from end to end.

Courant (a masc. subst.) a Current, or Stream.

Un Courant fort rapide, a very rapid Stream. Naviger contre le courant, to run against the stream.

† La Lettre est du dixième du Courant, the Letter is dated the tenth instant.

Or thus. As, Rom. 9. 16. Ce n'est point donc ni du Vouloir, ni du Courant, mais de Dieu qui fait miséricorde, so then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

Courante (a fem. subst.) Courant, or Couranto (a kind of Dance.)

† Ma Franchise a dansé la courante, cd. j'ai perdu ma Franchise, my Freedom is gone.

Courbatu, foundred, chest-foundred.

As, Cheval courbatu, a foundred Horse.

Courbature (f.) the foundring of a Horse.

Courbe, crooked.

As, une Ligne courbe, a crooked Line.

Courbe (a fem. Subst.) a crooked (or bowing) piece of Timber; the curbs, a Disease in a Horse's hinder legs.

Courbes, ou Côtes de Navire, the Ribs of a Ship, the futtocks, or Navel-timbers.

Courbé, bent, crooked.

Courbé en avant, en arrière, au bout, au milieu, bent forwards, backwards, at the end, in the middle.

Or thus. Je ne suis pas courbé sous le faix des Années, cd. Je ne baïsse pas le dos, & ne suis pas encore fort vieux, I don't stoop yet under the burden of my Years, I am not yet old enough to stoop.

Cetoit une Femme courbée, qui ne pouvoit point se redresser, (Luke 13. 11.) the Woman was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up her self.

Courber, to bend.

As, courber un bâton, to bend a stick.

Se courber, to bend, (in a neutral sense,) to bow himself.

Comment ce Bâton s'est il courbé? how was this Stick bent?

Elle se courba, & enfanta, she bowed her self, and travailed.

Courbette, (f.) Terme de Manege, curvet, the curvetting of a Horse.

Cheval qui va à courbette, a curvetting Horse.

Courbure, (f.) a bending.

As, la courbure des tiges, the bending of the stalks.

Courée, (f.) Grave.

As, donner la Courée à un Bâtiment, le suifver, to new grave a Ship.

Courée, ou Couroy, est une Composition de Suif, de Resine, & de Verre brisé, dont on frote les Vaisseaux, quand on les met à l'Eau, ou que l'on veut faire un Voyage de long cours. C'est afin de conserver le Bordage, & le défendre des Vers qui s'engendrent dans le bois, & qui le criblent.

Coureur, (from Courir) m. a Rambler, or Wanderer abroad; an idle Boy, that loves to be ever running up and down, whose shoes are made of running leathers, a free Horse for the gallop.

Coureur de Vin, an Officer that carries Provisions with him for the King when he rides abroad, but especially when he rides a hunting.

Coueurs, Cavaliers detachez qu'on envoie pour reconnoître l'Enemi, a Party sent abroad to observe the Motions of the Enemy.

† Coureuse, (f.) a gadding Huswife, a rambling (or gossiping) Woman; a lewd (or prostitute) Woman.

Courge, (f.) a Pumpkin.

Courier, (m.) a Post-man, the Post; a Courier, or Express.

Depecher un Courier, to dispatch a Courier.

Courir, to run; to rove about; to wander about.

As, où courez vous? whither d'ye run? Vous avez assez couru, you have run sufficiently.

Courir à bride abbatue, to run a full gallop. Courir aux armes, to run to his arms. Courir à son épée, to run to his sword.

Courir les Mers, to rove about the Seas.

Courir comme un Bandit qui n'a ni feu ni lieu, to wander like a Rogue that hath no being of his own.

Mes Gages courent depuis hier, my Wages run since yesterday.

Or thus. As, le bruit court que les Enemis sont batus, 'tis said ('tis reported) that the Enemies are beaten.

On fit courir le bruit, qu'il étoit mort, the news was spread abroad, that he was dead.

La Nouvelle court, qu'il reviendra bien tôt, there is much talk of his speedy return.

Ce Bruit courut de lui par toute la Judée, (Luke 7. 17.) this Rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea.

Vous verrez bien tot courir deux Chançons de sa façon, you will soon see abroad two Songs of his making.

Les Manifestes qu'on fait courir, the Manifestoes that are abroad.

La Côte court cinq lieues Nord-Ouest, the Coast runs five leagues North-West.

Nous courumes diverses bordées, we tacked about several times.

Courir un Cheval, le faire galoper, to galop a Horse, to make him go a gallop.

† Courir sus, to fall upon one, to use him despitely. Luke 6. 28. Courir les Rues, to gad up and down like a Mad-man, to play the Bedlam.

Couronne, (f.) a Crown, or Diadem; a Crown, Kingdom, or Monarchy; the crown of the head; a Priest's shaven Crown; the crown, top, or beginning of a Horse's hoof; a sort of paper marked with a Crown.

Couronne d'or, de laurier, ou de myrte, a Crown of gold, of laurel, or of myrtle.

Une Couronne d'Epines, a Crown of Thorns.

C'est vous qui lui avez mis une Couronne sur la tête, 'tis you that have set a Crown on his head.

Offrir une Couronne à quécun, to offer one a Crown. Ils veulent lui ôter la Couronne, they will take his Crown away.

Contester la Couronne à un Roi, to contend with a King for the Crown.

Couronne de Martyre, a Crown of Martyrdom. Etre honoré de la Couronne de Martyre, to be honoured with a Crown of Martyrdom.

Couronne Imperiale, the Imperial Crown, a Flower so call'd. Couronne foudroyante, a kind of artificial Fire used in Sieges.

Couronne de Fleurs, Garland, a Garland of Flowers.

Enter en Couronne. See Enter.

Couronné, crowned.

Il fut couronné avec beaucoup de magnificence, he was crowned in great state.

Or thus. As, la Ville de Rhodes étoit couronnée de divers petits Côtiaux, the Town of Rhodes was compassed by several little Hills.

Arbre couronné, ou usé, a Tree grown up to its full height.

Cheval couronné. C'est ainsi qu'on appelle un Cheval qui, par une Chute, ou par quelque autre Cause, s'est si fort blessé aux Genoux, que le poil en est tombé, & n'est pas revenu.

Couronnement, (m.) Crowning, or Coronation; perfecting, or perfection; the top of a Building.

Le Couronnement d'un Roi, a King's Coronation.

C'est le couronnement de sa Doctrine, that's the perfection of his Doctrine.

Or thus. As, Ex. 25. 11. tu lui feras un Couronnement d'or à l'environ, thou shalt make upon it a Crown of Gold round about.

Le Couronnement d'un Vaisseau, la partie du haut de la Pouppe qui porte les Ornaments de Menuiserie & de Sculpture pour l'Embellissement de l'Arrière, the upper part of the Stern of a Ship, that which is set off with fine Joiners and Carvers Work.

Couronner, to crown, or set a Crown upon; to crown, or perfect; to crown, or reward.

As, couronner un Roi, to crown a King, to set a Crown upon his head.

La Victoire s'avançoit à grands pas pour couronner ses Triomphes, Victory came on briskly to crown his Triumphs.

Couronner la Valeur, to crown Valour.

Couroy. See Courée.

Courre, to run, to hunt.

As, courre la poste, to run post. Courre la bague, to run at the ring.

Courre risque, courre fortune, to run hazard. Courre risque de la vie, to run the hazard of his life.

La Ville courroit fortune d'être prise, the Town ran the hazard of being taken.

Courre après le merite, to run after deserving man.

Courre le Lievre, to hunt a Hair. Courre le Cerf, to hunt a Deer.

Or thus. On ne court plus qu'à cela, this is the only thing that's minded. Voyez combien de Perils j'ai couru en un Jour, see how many Dangers I went through in one Day.

Courroie, (f.) the leather strap, leather string, or lacher of a shoe; a rope. Judg. 16. 11.

Courroucé, (a Word now used but in the figurative sense) angry, raging.

As, la Mer est courroucée, the Sea is angry, or raging.

† Courroucer, to anger.

Se courroucer, to be angry, to be wroth.

L'Eternel les ayant ouïs se courrouça grandement (Psalm. 78. 21.) the Lord heard this and was wroth.

Courroucez vous, & ne pechiez point, (Eph. 4. 26.) be ye angry, and sin not.

Courroux, (m.) raging.

As, le courroux de la Mer, the raging of the Sea.

Formerly this Word was used promiscuously instead of Colere, or Indignation; and you will find it in that sense in many places of Scripture. As Psalm. 27. 9. Ne rejette point ton Serviteur en courroux, put not away thy Servant in thine anger, or wrath.

But, 2 Cor. 12. 20. you will find it used in the same sense in the Plural Number, to which answers the word Wraths in the English Translation.

Courroye. See Courroie.

Cours, (from Courir) m. course.

As, le cours des Astres, the course of the Stars. Le cours du Soleil & de la Lune, the course of the Sun and Moon.

Le cours d'une Riviere, the course of a River. Detourner le cours d'une Riviere, to turn the course of a River.

La Riviere a pris son cours d'un autre côté, the River has took its course another way. Le Rhone prend son cours vers le Midi, the Rhone takes its course Southward.

Le cours de la Vie humaine, the course of a man's Life. Le cours de notre Vie est borné, the course of our Life is limited.

Pour arrêter le cours de ses Victoires, to stop him in the course of his Victories, to put a stop to his Conquests. Pendant le Cours de son Regne, during the course of his Reign.

Un Cours de Philosophie, de Medecine, de Théologie, a course of Philosophy, Physick, and Divinity.

Le Cours d'un Navire, the Course of a Ship. Ils firent leurs Cours Nord, ou au Nord, they steered their Course Northward.

Or thus. As, Faire le Cours, pour combattre les Corfaires, to cruise, in order to fight Corsairs. Ces Vaisseaux là sont armez en Cours, these Ships are armed for cruising.

Un Voyage de long Cours, a long Voyage.
Or thus. As, faire son cours de Philosophie, to study Philosophy. Acheter un cours de
Philosophie, to buy Philosophy Books.

Cours, Lieu Public où l'on va se promener, a Publick Place (such as Hyde-Park) to which persons of quality resort to take the air, and a view of one another. As, aller au
Cours, se promener au Cours, se voir au
Cours.

Un Cours de Ventre, a Looseness. Il a un furieux cours de ventre, he hath a terrible looseness.

Monoie qui a cours, current money. Un
Livre qui a cours, a Book that sells, or takes.
Mode qui a cours, a Mode much taken up.

Course (f.) a running, race, or career; a course, or duration; an inroad, incursion, irruption; a Course, at Sea.

Course de gens à Cheval, a horse-race.

Course de bague, a running at the ring.

Commencer sa course, to begin the race.

Je vai faire une course jusques là, I am a going to run to that place. Je prevois trois ou quatre Inconvénients qui s'opposent à votre course, I foresee three or four Obstacles that will stop you in your Career.

La course de nos Jours est tres courte, the course of our Life is but short.

Faire des courses dans le Pais Enemi, to make inroads (incursions, irruptions) into the Enemy's Country.

Durant deux Jours la Course fut Nord, for two Day's time we steered our Course Northward.

Or thus. La course de nos Jours est plus qu'à demi faite, our Life is above half spent.

Courfie (f.) Terme de Mer, Courfey, the Gallery-like space of a Galley, on both sides whereof the Seats of the Slaves are placed.

Courfier (m.) Canon qu'on met sur la Courfie, a Cannon planted in the Courfey.

Courfier, Cheval de raisonnable grandeur, bien pris dans sa taille, a Courfier. As, un
Courfier de Naples, a Courfier of Naples.

Court, short.

As, un bâton court, a short-stick. Une après-dinée fort courte, a very short afternoon. Les Jours sont courts en Hiver, the Days are short in Winter. Des Sentences courtes, short Sentences.

Etre court d'argent, to be short of money.

Couper court, dire en peu de mots, to be short.

Or thus. As, le plus court fut de se retirer,
'twas the best way (or the best course) to withdraw.

Court (Adv.) As, il est demeuré court, elle est demeurée court, ils sont demeurés court, he (she, they) had not a word to say.

Dites Monsieur tout court, say Master only
(without adding any Name to it.)

Il s'arrêta tout court, he stopped on a sudden.

Il tourna tout court sur l'Infanterie, he turned suddenly upon the Infantry.

Tenir de court, to keep under.

Court-bouillon, a Way of boiling fish in Wine, with laurel, rosemary, orange, salt, and pepper. Brochet ou Carpe au court bouillon, a Pike or Carp dressed that way.

Courte-paille, cuts. As, tirer à la courtepaille qui fera ceci ou cela, to draw cuts who shall do this or that.

Courte-pointe, a quilted Counterpane.

Courtat (m.) a short man, but well-set; a Musical Instrument, like un Basson, but something lesser.

Courtat de Boutique (Terme de Mepris, pour dire un Gargon de Boutique) a Trade-man's Prentice, a Shop-keeping Boy.

Courtier (m.) qui s'entremet entre le Ven-deur & l'Acheteur, a Dealer betwixt Man and Man, one that helps people to bargain.

As, Courtier de Chevaux, one that gets Customers for Horses.

Courtier de Vin, a Wine-taster, one that tasts Wine to be sold, and who makes it his business (in case it be right) to get Customers for the same.

Courtier de Sel, he that finds the Minots to measure Salt with.

Courtier de Lard, a Visiter of Greases and Bacon, who finding those Things naught is to make his Report.

Courtine (f.) a Curtain (in Fortification.)

This Word signify'd also heretofore a Curtain for a Bed or Window. But now 'tis not used in that sense, and Rideau is the Word.

Les Courtines du Parvis seront de fin lin retors (Ex. 27. 9.) there shall be Hangings for the Court of fine twined linnen.

Courtisan (from Cour) m. a Courtier.

Les Artifices des Courtisans, Courtiers Tricks, or Fetches.

Courtisane (f.) a Court Miss, a Courtesan.

† Courtisé, courted.

As, elle est courtisée, she is courted.

† Courtiser, to court.

As, courtiser les Dames, to court the Lady's.

Say faire la Cour aux Dames.

† Courtois, courteous, civil.

† Courtoisie (f.) courtesy, civility.

I have marked both Courtois & Courtoisie, as Words growing out of Use. And so they are, though found in good Authors. In stead of Courtois say civil, honnête, or galant; and for Courtoisie use either civilité, or honnêteté.

† Courtpendu (m.) the short start Apple. Say
Capendu.

Couru, run. 'Tis a Preter Tense of the Verb
Courir, to run.

† Courvée. See Corvée.

Courvette (f.) a kind of French Bark, or Vessel.

† Courvette est un espede de Barque longue, qui n'a qu'un Mât, & un petit Trinquet,
& qui va à Voiles & à Rames.

Les Courvettes sont frequentes à Calais & à Dunkerque; & d'ordinaire il y en a à la suite d'une Armée Navale, pour aller à la decouverte, & pour porter des Nouvel-
les.

Cousin (m.) Cousen, or Cousin; a kind of Gnat, very troublesome to Travellers in some Parts of the World; a kind of Pastry-knack.

Cousin Germain, a Cousin german. Cousin issu de germain, a second Cousin. Un petit Cousin, ed. un Parent de loin, a small Cousin, a Relation at a distance.

† Cousinage (m.) Kindred, Cousinship.

Le Cousinage est un Pretexte qu'ils ont imaginé pour se voir sans scandale, their Cousinship is a Pretence they found that they might see one another without giving scandal.

Cousine (f.) a Cousin, a she Cousin.

Cousine germaine, a Cousin germane. Cou-sine issue de germaine, a second Cousin.

Une petite Cousine, ou Parente de loin, a small Cousin, a Relation at a distance.

† Cousiner, to call Cousin.

As, cousinier tout le Monde, to call every one Cousin.

Cousoir (from Coudre) m. petite Table sur laquelle on coud les Livres qu'on doit relier, a sewing-Press.

Coufu (from Coudre) sowed.

As, voila qui est mal coufu, that is very ill sowed.

Couffin (m.) a cushion.

S'asseoir sur un couffin, to sit upon a cushion.

Couffinet (m.) petit Couffin, a bag.

As, un couffinet de fenteur, a sweet bag.

Couffinet de Cheval, sur quoi l'on met la
Valise, a Pad.

Couffinet qu'on porte sur l'Estomac pour le tenir chaud, un Devant d'Estomac, a Stomacher.

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Couffé

Le manche & la lame d'un Couteau, the handle and the blade of a knife.

Or thus. As, † Jouer des couteaux, se batre à coups d'épée, to fall a fighting with swords.

† Ils sont à couteaux tirez, ed. toujours en querelle, toujours prêts à se battre, they are always at daggers drawing.

Coutelas (m.) a Hanger, a broad Sword having but one edge; also as Bonnette en Etui.

Coutellerie (f.) a making of knives.

Cofne est renommé pour la Coutellerie,

Cofne is a famous Place for making of knives.

Coutelier (m.) a Cutler.

Couteliere (f.) Etui à couteaux, a Case of knives.

Une Couteliere bien faite, a Case of knives well made.

Couter, to cost, to stand in.

As, combien vous coute cela? what did that cost you? what doth it stand you in?

Il me coute vingt livres, it cost me (it stands me in) twenty livres.

Cette Victoire leur coute beaucoup de Sang, that Victory cost them a great deal of Blood.

Vos Charmes m'ont déjà couté bien des Larmes, your Charms cost me already a power of Tears. Votre amitié me coute cher, your Friendship costs me dear. Quoi qu'il en coute, whatever it cost.

Les Honneurs content à qui veut les posséder, much Worship much cost.

Or thus. Il me coute plus de vingt ecus, I paid above twenty crowns for it. Il vous coute bien cher, you paid dear enough for it.

Il lui a couté beaucoup d'avoir été absent,
he paid dear for his absence.

La Gloire coute à acquérir, the purchase of Glory is a dear Purchase. L'Adieu coute le plus à dire, I am at a stand when leave must be taken, the Adieu is the thing I am most puzzled with. Jamais Resolution n'em'a tant couté à prendre, I never was so long resoving about any thing.

Coutis (m.) grosse Toile où il y a des barres de couleur, & dont on fait des Tentés & des Traversins, Tent-cloth.

Coutre (m.) the coulter (or knife) of a Plough.

Couts (m.) Terme de Droit, Cost and Charge.

Coutume (f.) custom, way, a customary Law;
a Book containing the customary Laws of any Place.

Une bonne ou une mauvaise Coutume, a good or bad Custom. C'est votre Coutume,
'tis your custom, 'tis your way. C'est une vieille coutume, pratiquée de tout tems, 'tis an old custom, 'tis a custom of old.

Etablir (mettre, introduire) une Coutume, to establish (bring in, or introduce) a Custom. Une Coutume qui commence à s'établir, a Custom that begins to prevail, or to take root. Passer en Coutume, to pass into (to become) a Custom. Abolir une Coutume, to abolish a Custom.

Retablir une Coutume, remettre une Coutume sur pié, to renew an old Custom. Reprendre la Coutume, to resume his old Custom.

Perdre la coutume de jurer, to leave off the custom of swearing. Je lui ferai bien perdre cette coutume, I shall wean him from that custom, or I shall make him leave it off.

Une Coutume locale, a Customary Law to a private Place.

La Coutume est imprimée de nouveau, the Book of Customary Laws (the common Law) is newly reprinted.

Coutumier (Terme de Palais) Customary.

As, le Droit Coutumier, the Customary Laws of a Nation, the common Law.

Or thus. As, Pais Coutumier, a Country that governs it self by its Customary Laws.

Couture (f.) from Coudre, a Seam.

Le Saie de notre Sauveur étoit sans couture, our Saviours Coat was without seam.

A plate couture, utterly, totally. As, ils furent défait à plate couture, they were utterly defeated, totally routed.

† Couturier (m.) a Taylor. Say Tailleur.

Couturiere (f.) a Seamster.

Couvé (from Couver) sit on.

As, un œuf couvé, an egg that hath been sit on.

Or thus. As, un air couvé, clofé (fusty) air.

Sentir le couvé, to have a fusty smell.

Couvé (a fem. subst.) brood, a brood of chickens.

Couvent (m.) a Monastery, a Convent.

Couver, to brood, or sit on; to be hid; to foment.

La Poule couve ses œufs, the Hen sits on her eggs.

Le feu couve sous la cendre, the fire is hid under the ashes.

† Couver un mauvais Desein, to foment an ill Design. Couver une haine contre quécun, to nourish a secret hatred (or malice) against one.

† Couver is also said in a burlesk Way of those Women beyond Sea, who in Winter-time warm themselves with Stoves under their Coats.

Couvercle (m.) a lid, a pot-lid.

Couvert (from Couvrir) covered, or over-spread; covered, having his hat on; clad, or cloathed; hid; covered, or woody; dark, gloomy, overcast; dark, or obscure; close, or reserved; deep, full body'd.

Etes vous bien couvert? are you well covered? have you covering enough? Un Champ couvert de fleurs, a Field covered with flowers. Une Montagne couverte de neige, a Hill covered with snow. Une Campagne couverte de corps morts, a Plain covered with dead body's. Servir à Plats couverts, to bring up the Dishes covered.

Demeurez couvert, be covered, keep your hat on.

Il étoit superbement couvert, he was richly clad, he was in a rich garb.

Si notre Evangile est couvert, il est couvert à ceux qui persiflent (2. Cor. 4. 3.) if our Gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost.

Un Pais couvert, a covered (or woody) Country. Un Chemin couvert, a covered Way. La Rive étoit couverte d'Arbres, the Shore was covered with Trees.

Un Temps couvert, dark (gloomy, or overcast) Weather.

Parler en mots couverts, to speak in dark (or obscure) words.

Un Esprit couvert, a close (or reserved) Man.

Du Vin couvert, deep (full body'd) Wine.

Le Vin couvert n'est pas si bon que le Vin clair, deep (or full body'd) Wine is not so good as claret Wine.

Or thus. As, un Lieu couvert; ou ombragé, a shady Place. Il étoit couvert de sueur, he was all over in a sweat.

Couvert (Subst.) the Cloth (with all its dependencies, as Plates, Napkins, Knives, Spoons, Forks, Salt-fellers;) a Plate, with a Napkin, Knife, Spoon, and Fork for one body; Shelter, Lodging.

Mettre le Couvert, to lay the Cloth, &c.

Un Festin à trente couverts, a Feast for thirty people. Il n'y a plus de couvert pour lui chez un tel, there is no more room for him at such a one's Table. Conter combien il y a (ou, combien il faut) de couverts, to tell noses.

Voici un bon Couvert, here is a good Shelter. Donner le couvert à quécun, to give one a Lodging, to receive him under his Roof, or into his House.

A couvert (Adv.) As, se mettre à couvert des ardeurs du Soleil, to shelter (to secure) himself from the burning heat of the Sun.

Etre à couvert du Vent & de la Pluie, to be under shelter from Wind and Rain.

Etre à couvert de ses Enemis, du Canon, & des Mousquetades, to be secure from his Enemy's, from Cannon-shot, and from Musket shot.

Etre à couvert de blâme, ou de l'envie, to be secure (to be free) from blame and envy.

† Etre à couvert, ou en prison, to be laid up in prison.

Couverte (a fem Subst.) Mot des Levantins, pour dire Pont, ou Tillac, a Deck.

Le Brigantin ne porte pas Couverte, a Brigantine has no Deck.

Couverture (f.) cover; a covering, or coverlet; the roof of a building; a colour, cloak, or pretence.

La couverture d'un Livre, the cover of a Book.

Une Couverture de soie, a silk Covering. Une couverture de laine, a Blanket. Couverture velue, a Rug.

C'est pour servir de prétexte & de couverture à leur Ingratitude, this is to palliate (or colour) their Ingratitude.

Couverturier (m.) a Maker or Seller of Coverings for Beds.

Couvet (m.) from Couver, a Stove used by Women beyond Sea in Winter time to keep themselves warm, by putting the same full of coals under their Coats.

Couvre-chef (f.) Kerchief, a Woman's Kerchief (such as Country-women wear in Champagne, Picardy, and some other Provinces of France;) a Napkin, John II. 44.

Couvre-feu (m.) a hollow Piece of Iron or Brass, set before the fire to reflect the heat thereof upon the Meat on the Spit.

Couvre-plat (m.) a cover, a dish-cover.

Couvre tout (m.) an upper Coat.

Couvreur (m.) a Brick-layer, any one that covers a House either with Tiles or Slate.

Couvreuse (f.) a Brick-layer's Wife; also a Chair-woman, that covers wicker-Chairs.

Couvrir, to cover; to overlay; to cover, hide, or conceal; to cloak, colour, or palliate; to leap, or line.

Couvrir une Maison de tuiles, to cover a House with tiles. Couvrir son Corps d'une bonne couverture, to cover his body with a good covering. Couvrir la Table de Viandes, to cover the Table with meat. Couvrir quécun de honte, ou de confusion, to cover one with shame, or confusion.

Couvrir d'or quécun chose, to overlay a thing with gold. Tu feras aussi des barres de bois de Sittim, & tu les couvriras d'or (Ex. 25. 13.) and thou shalt make staves of Shittim-wood, and overlay them with gold.

Il couvre sa haine d'une fausse apparence d'amitié, he covers (or cloaks) his hatred with a false show of friendship.

Couvrir son ambition de quécun mechant prétexte, to cloak (palliate, or colour) his ambition with a false pretence. Ils couvrent leur prudence humaine & politique du prétexte d'une prudence Divine & Chretienne, they cloak their humane and politick wisdom with the pretence of a divine and Christian prudence.

Cheval qui couvre une Cavalle, a Horse that leaps a Mare. Un Chien qui couvre une Chienne, a Dog that lines a Bitch. Le Chien ne couvre la femelle que quand elle est en amour, a Dog never lines a Bitch but when she is proud.

Or thus. As, couvrir la joue à quécun, lui donner un soufflet, to give one a box on the ear.

Se couvrir, to cover himself; to put his hat on.

Se bien couvrir dans son Lit, to cover himself very well in his Bed.

Couvrez vous, be covered, put on your hat. Il ne se couvre jamais en ma présence, he never keeps his hat on before me.

On ne se couvre point devant les Dames, 'tis not the fashion to be covered before Lady's.

Se couvrir d'un bon habit, to put on a good sute, to cloath himself with a good sute of cloaths.

Or thus. Se couvrir de gloire, acquerir beaucoup de gloire, to get much glory, to come off glorious. Il s'en alla à l'Armée, résolu de s'y couvrir de gloire ou d'y mourir, he went into the Army, resolved to come off with glory or to die.

En faisant cela vous vous couvrirez d'honneur, & moi de confusion, by so doing you will cloath your self with honour, and me with confusion.

† Se couvrir d'un Sac mouillé, cd. alleguer un prétexte ridicule, donner une mechante excuse, to bring a frivolous excuse.

Coy } Coi.
Coyement } See } Coiement.

† Coyon (m.) a Coward. Say, un Lâche, or un Pagnote.

† Coyonnerie (f.) a base (or cowardly) action; a pitifull (idle) story.

C R.

Crac, a kind of Interjection, expressing the quickness of an Action. As, Crac, nous voici au C R.

Crachat (m.) spittle.

Remplir une Chambre de gros crachats, to fill a Room with great spittles, to bespawl a Room in a most odious manner.

Craché, a Participle and Preter Tense of Cracher.

† C'étoit lui tout craché, he was as like him as if he had been spit out of his mouth. Il y est tout craché, there it is word for word.

Crachement (m.) a spitting, or spatwling.

Il lui a pris ce matin un crachement tres fâcheux, he fell a spitting this morning in a sad manner.

Cracher, to spit.

Il ne fait que cracher, he doth nothing but spit.

Cracher du sang, to spit blood. Cracher les poudrons, to spit up the lungs.

Il m'a craché sur le visage, he spit upon my face.

Cracher en haut, en bas, ou contre quécun chose, to spit up, down, or against some thing.

† Cracher au bassin, cd. donner de l'argent qu'on voudroit bien ne pas donner, to contribute, to club.

Cracheur (m.) a spitting (or spawling) man.

Cracheuse (f.) a spitting (or spawling) woman.

Crachoir (m.) a spitting box.

Un beau crachoir, a fine spitting box.

Craie (f.) chalk.

Craignant, fearing.

Craignant Dieu, that hath the fear of God. C'est un homme craignant Dieu, he is a godly man, a man that hath the fear of God before his eyes.

Craindre, to fear, to be afraid, to be afraid of; to fear, with veneration.

Ne craignez point, fear not, be not afraid. Je ne vous crain point, I don't fear you.

Vous n'avez pas sujet de craindre, you have no cause to fear.

Le Lion craint le feu, a Lion is afraid of fire.

Je ne crain point de le dire, I fear not to say it. Ce n'est pas une chose à craindre, it is not a thing to be feared. Je crain qu'il ne me fasse du mal, I fear he will hurt me.

Craignez Dieu, honorez le Roi, fear God, honour the King. Crain Dieu, & obeï à ses Commandemens, fear God, and obey his Commands.

Se faire craindre, to make himself to be feared.

Se faire craindre de quécun, to keep one in aw. Il ne se fait pas craindre de ses Enfants, he doth not keep his Children in aw.

† Craint, fear'd. Say Apprehendé. And yet one may say, elle est plus crainte qu'aimée, she is more feared than beloved.

Crainte (f.) fear, aw; godly fear.

Etre sans crainte, to be without fear. Avoir de la crainte, être saisi de crainte, to be possessed with fear. Floter entre la crainte & l'esperance, to be floating betwixt fear and hope.

Diffiper la crainte de quécun par l'esperance qu'on lui donne, to dissipate a mans fear by an impression of hope. Chassez (banissez) cette Crainte, remove (banish) that Fear.

Tenir quécun en crainte, lui donner de la crainte, to keep one in aw. Il faut retenir les Enfants plutôt par l'honneur & par le devoir que par la crainte, Children should be brought up, not so much by fear, as by motives of honour and Duty.

Avoir la Crainte de Dieu devant ses yeux, to have the fear of God before his eyes. La Crainte de Dieu est le commencement de la Sagesse, the Fear of God is the beginning of Wisdom.

De crainte, for fear. As, de crainte de pecher, ayez toujours Dieu devant les yeux, for fear of sinning, have always God before your eyes.

Priez incessamment, de crainte que vous ne tombiez dans la tentation, pray continually, lest you fall into temptation.

Craintif, fearful, afraid, timorous.

Un Enfant fort craintif, a very fearfull Child. Une femme craintive, a timorous Woman.

†Craintivement, fearfully, timorously.

Craion } See { Crayon.
Craioné } Crayoné.
Craioner } Crayoner.

Cramoisi, crimson, of a crimson hue.

As, velours cramoisi, crimson velvet. Soie cramoisie, crimson silk.

†Fou en cramoisi, ed. extrêmement fou, a very fool, a fool of a deep die.

Crampe (f.) the cramp.

Avoir la crampe au pié, to have the cramp in his foot.

La crampe le prit en nageant, & il se neya, the cramp took him as he was swimming, and by that means he was drowned.

Crampe de Cheval. C'est un Engourdissement du Jarret du Cheval, qui souvent au sortir de l'Ecurie fait cinquante ou soixante pas en traînant la Jambe, comme s'il n'avoit point de mouvement au Jarret. Mais ensuite la Crampe se dissipe.

Crampon (m.) a cramp-iron; a caulk of a horse-shoe; ouche, Ex. 28. 13.

Cramponné, fastened (or joyned) with a cramp-iron.

Cramponner, to fasten (or joyn) with a cramp-iron.

Cramponnet (m.) a little cramp-iron.

Cran } See { Carene.
Cranage } Carenage.

Crane (m.) the Scull, the brane-pan.

Ouvrir le Crane, to open the Scull.

Crapaud (m.) a toad.

Le Crapaud est un Animal venimeux, de peau grosse & dure, a Toad is a venomous Creature, with a thick and hard skin.

Crapaudine (f.) a toad-stone; also the Sole, or square piece of Iron &c. wherein the Pivot plays or turns in the bottom of a Gate.

Le Marechal ferrant appelle aussi Crapaudine une Crevasse que les Eponges du Fer des piez de derriere font en croissant, & donnant sur la Couronne de l'autre pié de derriere.

Crapule (f.) Debauche de Vin mal-honnête, drunkenness.

Craquelin (m.) Cracknet, a kind of Cake good to make one drink.

Craquer (from Crac) to crack.

As, les os ont craqué, his bones cracked.

Craquement (m.) a crack, or cracking noise.

Craqueter, to crack, or make a cracking noise.

J'enten craqueter le Tonnerre, I hear cracks of Thunder.

Craquignole. See Croquignole.

Crasse (f.) filth, nastiness; dandriff, the scales that fall from the head; the dross of any metal.

Oter la crasse du corps, to take away the outward filth of the body.

Une Tête pleine de crasse, a Head full of dandriff.

Crasse (Adj.) gross.

As, une Ignorance crasse, a gross Ignorance.

Crasseux, nasty, filthy, full of nastiness.

As, un corps crasseux, a nasty body. Une tête crasseuse, a head full of nastiness.

Un Crasseux (Subst.) a nasty man, that keeps himself nasty.

Cravate (f.) a Cravat.

As, Cravate simple, ou à dentelle, a plain or lace Cravat. Une Cravate bien faite, a cravat well made.

Cravate (m.) a croat, one of Croatia; also a Horse come out of Croatia.

Un Régiment de Cravates, a Regiment of Croats.

Craye. See Craie.

Crayon (from Craie) m. a pencil; a dry painting.

Crayoné, painted in dry colours.

Crayoner, to paint in dry colours.

Creance (f.) from Croire, belief, or faith;

thoughts, opinion; trust, credit, interest.

La Creance du Chretien, the Christian Faith. Est ce là votre creance? is that your belief?

Il est dans cette creance, c'est sa creance, 'tis his opinion.

Trouver creance dans l'esprit du Peuple, to find credit amongst the People. Avoir de la creance parmi les Gens de guerre, to have interest amongst the Souldiers. Ajouter creance à quécun, to give credit to one.

Perdre creance dans les Elprits, to lose his credit amongst Men.

Or thus. Avoir des lettres de creance, to have credential Letters. Avoir de la creance en quécun, to trust one, to repose his trust in him, to rely upon him.

Creancier (m.) Creanciere (f.) Creditor.

Un seul Creancier aiguise & exerce l'esprit, deux l'importunent, trois l'etonnent, & quatre sont capables de l'accabler, one Creditor sharpens and exercises ones wit, two are troublesome, three put him to hard shifts, and four are able to crush him.

Faire de nouveaux Creanciers pour payer les vieux, to make new Creditors to pay off the old ones.

Creat (m.) Gentilhomme élevé dans une

Academie, pour se mettre en etat d'enseigner l'Art de monter à Cheval, a Gentleman brought up to riding the great Horse, in order to become a Riding Master.

Createur (m.) Creator.

Dieu est le Createur du Ciel & de la Terre, God is the Creator of Heaven and Earth.

Creation (from Creer) f. Creation.

Depuis la Creation du Monde, since the Creation of the World.

La Creation d'un Officier, the Creation (or making) of an Officer.

Créature (f.) creature, Gods creature; a creature, or favourite, one that has a great man's favour and protection.

Toutes les Créatures louent Dieu, chacune en sa maniere, all Creatures praise God, every one in its own way.

Il étoit la Créature du Roi, he was the King's Creature. Ce Cardinal étoit une des Créatures du Pape, that Cardinal was one of the Pope's Creatures.

Crece } See { Cresselle.
Crececelle } Cresserelle.

†Creche (f.) a manger; a Stall, Luke 13.

15. Allons adorer le Sauveur du Monde dans la Creche, let us go and worship the Saviour of the World in the Manger.

But Creche is now grown out of date, and Mangeroire is the modern Word.

Credence (f.) a little Cup-board near the Altar (where the Church-plate is kept).

Credit (m.) credit, trust; credit, sway, power, or interest; esteem, or reputation.

Le Commerce ne peut subsister sans credit, there can be no Trade without trust. Avoir bon credit chez les Marchands, to have good credit amongst Merchants. Prendre à credit, to take upon trust. Vendre à credit, to sell upon trust. Faire credit, to give credit, to trust.

Qui donne à credit perd son bien & son ami, he that lends his friend money loses his friend and his money.

Un homme de grand credit, qui a grand credit, a man of great credit, a great man.

Se servir du credit de quécun, to make use of ones credit, power, or interest. Il employa tout son credit à me perdre, he made use of all his credit to ruin me. Il a grand credit à la Cour, he carries a great sway at Court.

Cet Ouvrage vous donnera du credit, vous mettra en credit, this Work will credit you, will make you famous.

Credule, qui croit trop aisément, credulous, apt to believe any thing.

Vous êtes trop credule, you are too credulous.

Credulité (f.) credulity.

Avoir une trop grande credulité, to be guilty of too much credulity, to be too credulous.

La trop grande credulité nuit souvent, many Inconveniences arise from credulity.

Crée, created, made of nothing; created, made, or constituted.

Creer, to create, or make of nothing; to create, make, or constitute.

Dieu crea le Monde en six jours, & au septième il se reposa, God created the World in six days, and rested on the seventh.

Dans les Perils extremes on croit un Dictateur, in great Extremity's a Dictator was created.

†Creiche. See Creche.

†Cremailiere, or Cremaliere. See Cremiliere.

Creme (f.) cream; butter, Judg. 5. 25.

Cette creme est fort bonne, this is very good cream.

Creme fouettée, whipt cream; an empty thing.

Creme de tartre, cream of tartar, purify'd tartar.

Creme (m.) See Chrême.

Cremiliere (f.) a pot-hanger.

Creneau (m.) pinnacle, battlement.

Crenele, made into battlements.

Crenele, to made into battlements.

Crêpe (m.) crape, black crape.

But Rev. 19. 8. for the French Word Crêpe you will find the Words of fine Linnen in the English Translation.

Crepi (from Crepir) rough-cast.

Cuir crépi, auquel on a fait venir le grain, Leather workt into a grain.

Crepi (a masc. Subst.) a lay of plaster.

Un crepi de Muraille fort bon, a lay of good plaster.

Crepin, Saint Crepin, the name of a certain Saint, who is a Patron to Shoemakers; all the Tools of a Journey-man Shoemaker; a poor body's whole substance.

†As, mettez là votre S. Crepin, lay your Tools down there.

†On lui a volé tout son petit S. Crepin, he was robbed of that little he had.

Crepine (f.) sorte de Frange, a fringe for Beds, Canopys, Chairs, and the like.

Crepir, to rough-cast.

As, crepir un Mur, to rough-cast a Wall.

Crepon (m.) from Crepe, crape, of any colour.

Crepu, curled; crisp.

Il a les cheveux crepus, his hair is curled. Crepuscule (m.) l'Entre-Chien & Loup, Twilight.

Le Soleil ne paroît presque point l'Hiver dans les Zones froides, mais il y a un Crepuscule le matin, & un autre le soir, the Sun is hardly seen at all in Winter-time in the frigid Zones, but there is a Twilight in the morning, and another in the Evening.

Crefferelle (f.) sorte d'Oiseau de rapine, Kestrel, a Bird of Prey.

Creffon (m.) cresses; also a sort of flower.

Crête (f.) a cocks comb; a crest.

Les crêtes de Coc bien assaisonnées sont bonnes dans les Ragouts, Cocks-combs well seasoned are excellent in Ragouts.

Crête de Casque, the crest of a head-piece.

Or thus. As, crête de morue, a certain piece of stock fish come off from the back.

Crête de blé dans un Bateau, & qui est élevée en forme pyramidale, a pyramidal Pile of Corn in a Boat.

Creten. See Chretien.

Creu (from Croire) believed.

As, cela est creu de tout le Monde, that's believed all over the World.

†Dieu manifesté en Chair, creu au Monde, & enlevé en Gloire, (1 Tim. 3. 16.) God manifested in the Flesh, believed on in the World, received up into Glory.

The same is used in the Preter Tenses, thus.

As, je ne l'aurois jamais creu, I could never have believed it.

Si vous m'eussiez creu, vous seriez maintenant hors de peine, had you believed me, you would be now out of trouble.

Creu (from Croire) See Cru.

Crevasse (f.) a kind of Ulcer crevice-like in ones hand; Cratches, or Rats-tails, in a Horses legs; a chink, or crevice.

se Crevailler, to crack, to split, to resolve it self into chinks or crevices.

Crevé, crackt; burst; dead.

Un Pâté crevé, a cracke Py.
 Son Ventre est crevé, his Belly is burst.
 † Il est crevé, he is dead.
 Creve-cœur (m.) grief of heart, great trouble, or heart-breaking.
 Ce m'est un grand creve-cœur, 'tis a great grief to me.
 Crever, to burst, crack, or break (both in the active and the neutral sense.)
 As, crever le ventre, to burst (crack, or break) the belly. Crever une pustule, to break a blister.
 † Si vous lui donnez davantage à manger, vous le creverez, if you give him any more to eat, you will certainly burst him.
 Crever de graisse, to burst with fat.
 Crever de rire, to burst with laughter, to burst his sides with laughing.
 Crever de dépit, to burst with spite, to be ready to run mad for spite.
 Crever de honte & de dépit, to burst with shame and madness. Je le ferai crever de dépit, I shall mad him, I shall make him mad.
 Or thus. As, crever un Cheval, letant fatiguer qu'on le fasse mourir, to kill a Horse, to ride a Horse to death. Crever les yeux à quécun, to put (or thrust) ones eyes out.
 Cela vous creve les yeux, cd. vous faute aux yeux, est tout devant vos yeux, it is just before you, you cannot but see it. Les failetez y crevent les yeux, tout y est plein de failetez, there is nothing but Naftiness.
 † Il creve, il meurt, he is a dying.
 Se crever, to burst, crack, or break (in a neutral sense.)
 As, il se creve à force de manger, he eats till his belly is ready to burst. Quand la Vague creve, when the Wave breaks.
 Un Pâté qui se creve au four, a Py that cracks in the Oven.
 Or thus. As, se crever à force de travailler, to kill himself with working.
 † Se crever de rire, to split himself with laughing.
 Creuse, the feminine of Creux.
 Creusé, dug, digged; hewn.
 Un Rocher creusé, an hewn Rock.
 † Creuseau (m.) snuff-dish.
 As Ex. 25. 38. Et les mouchettes & ses creuseaux feront de pur or, and the tongs thereof and the snuff-dishes thereof shall be of pure gold.
 Creuser, to dig; to hew.
 As, creuser la terre, to dig the ground.
 Creuser un rocher, to hew a rock.
 † Qui se marie vieux creuse la fosse, he that marry's in old age marry's to dig his grave.
 Creuset (m.) Vale d'Orfevre, pour fondre l'Or & l'Argent, Crucible, a little earthen Pot wherein Goldsmiths melt their gold and silver.
 Creux (Adj.) hollow; deep; empty.
 As, la canne est creuse, the Cane is hollow.
 Un Fossé fort creux, a very deep Ditch.
 Avoir le Ventre creux, to have an empty Belly.
 Discours creux, & vuide de sens, an empty Discourse.
 † Viande creuse, pour dire un Regal de Musique, empty Musick (in stead of Victuals.)
 Or thus. As, un Homme creux, a maggot-pated Man.
 Creux (a masc. Subst.) a hole.
 As, tomber dans un creux, to fall into a hole. Il est tombé dans un creux d'où il a eu peine de se retirer, he fell into a hole which he had much ado to get out of.
 Un creux fort profond, a pit, a deep hole.
 Or thus. As, le creux de la main, the middle of the palm of the hand.
 Je ne puis arracher cela du creux de ma cervelle, I cannot get it out of my brains.
 Cri (m.) cry, outcry, clamour, or great noise.
 Sois attentif à mon cri (Ps. 142. 6.) attend unto my cry.
 Les Cris des personnes qui portent vendre par la Ville, the Cry's of such as cry Things about the Streets.
 Or thus. As, jeter des cris, to cry out.
 Un cri de joie, a shout, shouting, or acclamation of joy. Cri que la Peur fait faire, a screech, or screeking for fear, a squeaking out.

Criailler, to bawl, to scold, to clamour.
 Une Femme qui ne fait que criailler, a Bawling (or scolding) Woman, one that doth ever bawl, scold, or clamour.
 Criailleries (f.) a bawling, scolding, clamouring, or clamour.
 Socrate ne se foucioit pas des criailleries de Xantippe sa femme, Socrates did not mind the clamours of Xantippe his Wife.
 Les Criailleries du Barreau, the Clamours of the Bar.
 Criaillieur (m.) a bawling fellow, a clamouring man.
 Criaillieuse (f.) a bawling (or clamouring) woman.
 Criaient (from Crier) crying.
 As, un Peché criaient, a crying Sin.
 Crible (m.) a Sieve.
 Or thus. As, Ex. 27. 4. tu lui feras un Crible d'airain en façon de treillis, thou shalt make for it a Grate of net-work of brass.
 Criblé, sifted.
 Un Vaisseau criblé, a Ship damny'd.
 Cribler, to sift.
 As, cribler du blé, to sift corn.
 † Je crible mes Raïsons pour en faire un bon choix, I sift my Reasons, to make a choice of them.
 Cribleur (m.) a Sifter.
 Criblures (f.) the Siftings.
 Les criblures du Grain sont bonnes pour les Poules, the siftings of Corn are good for Hens.
 Cric (m.) Instrument pour lever toutes fortes de Fardeaux, an Engine used to lift up all manner of Burdens.
 Cric & croc, the Noise that is made by the hitting of Wine-glasses one against another.
 Criée (f.) an Outcry, or Portale (done in due form of Law.)
 Crier (from Cri) to cry, or cry out, to make a clamour, to bawl out; to proclaim; to cry for, or require.
 Crier quèque chose par la Ville, to cry something about the Streets. Crier à pleine tête, crier comme un perdu, to cry out with all his strength, to cry out desperately, to make a desperate outcry. Crier au meurtre, to cry murder. Crier au feu, to cry out fire.
 Crier de peur, to cry out for fear, to squall, to squeak (or screek) out.
 Une Femme qui crie incessamment, a bawling (or scolding) Woman, a Scold.
 Une chose qui crie Vengeance, a Thing that cry's for Vengeance.
 † Crierie (f.) Eccl. 9. 17. voice, cry, or clamour, Ps. 74. 23; babbling, 1 Tim. 6. 20.
 Crieur (m.) a Crier.
 Crieur de Vin, a Wine-Crier.
 Crieuse (f.) a Crier, a Woman Crier.
 Crieuse de vieux Chapeaux, a Crier of old Hats.
 Crime (m.) a Crime.
 As, un Crime capital, horrible, odieux, a capital, horrid, or odious Crime.
 Commettre un Crime, to commit (to perpetrate) a Crime. Se purger d'un Crime, to purge himself of a Crime.
 Or thus. As, Crime de lese Majesté, high Treason. Crime de lese Majesté divine & humaine, a Sin against God and against his Sovereign.
 † Crime de lese Majesté d'Amour, a Sin against the God of Love.
 Crime de lese Faculté, a Sin against the Faculty of Physick.
 Criminel, Criminal, guilty.
 As, une Vie criminelle, a criminal Life. Sa Conduite est criminelle devant Dieu & devant les Hommes, his Conduct is criminal both before God and Men.
 Un-homme criminel, une femme criminelle, a criminal man, or woman.
 Une Cause Criminelle, a Criminal Cause.
 Etre Criminel de lese Majesté, to be Guilty of High Treason.
 Or thus. As, le Lieutenant (le Juge) criminel, the Judge that sits on life and death.
 Criminel (Subst.) a Criminal, a Malefactor.
 Executer un Criminel, to execute a Malefactor.

Criminellement, criminally.
 Pour suivre quécun criminellement, to charge one with a Crime.
 Crin (m.) the long hair of a horse.
 Crin d'archet, the hair of a bow.
 Criniere (f.) the mane of a Horse, or of a Lion; also a Hood, for a Horse.
 † Criquet (m.) sorte de petit Cheval, a little Nag.
 As, il étoit sur un Criquet assez joli, he rid a pretty little Nag.
 Crise (f.) Terme de Medecine, crisis, the crisis of a Disease, a sudden change.
 Une crise imparfaite, an imperfect crisis.
 Cristal } See { Crystal.
 Cristalin } See { Crystallin.
 Critique, critical.
 Un Esprit critique, a critical Man. Une humeur critique, a critical humour.
 Jour critique, ou Jour de crise, a critical Day, a Day of Crisis.
 Critique, (a fem. Subst.) the Criticks.
 As, la Critique de Scaliger n'est pas toujours seure, Scaliger's Criticks are not always sound.
 Critique, (m.) a Critick.
 As, un savant Critique, a learned Critick.
 Un bourru Critique, a troublesome Critick.
 Faire le Critique, to play the Critick.
 Critiqué, criticized.
 Critiquer, to criticize, or examine; to find fault with.
 Il critique tout, mais tres mal, he criticizes every thing, but very ill.
 Critiquer les Actions d'autrui, to find fault with other mens Actions.
 Critiqueur, (m.) a Critick, or Criticizer.
 As, tous ces grands Critiqueurs ne sont pas toujours ceux qui font le mieux, all those great Criticks are none of the best doers.
 Croacement } See { Croasement.
 Croacer } See { Croasser.
 Croasement, (m.) croking, the croking (or natural cry) of a Raven.
 Croasser, to croke, like a Raven; also, but in a burlesk sense, as Criailler.
 Croc, (m.) a grapple, or great hook.
 Pendre de la viande à un croc, to hang meat upon a hook.
 † Pendre l'épée au croc, la quitter, to leave off wearing of a sword. Ce Different demeure pendu au croc, that Difference remains undecided.
 Donner le croc en jambe à quécun, to give one a foil.
 Crocs, ou Crochets de Cheval. See Crochet.
 Croche, (f.) a crochet (in Musick.)
 Crochet, (m.) a hook; a brace, in the Art of Printing; a sort of Weight (used for hemp, flax, and down); a pick-lock.
 Or thus. As, tu feras aussi cinquante crochets d'or, (Ex. 26. 6.) and thou shalt make fifty taches of gold.
 Clou à crochet, a center-hook.
 Crochets d'Arbre, the bearers of a Tree.
 Crochets de Portefaix, the French Porters Device to carry Burdens with.
 Crochets, ou Crocs de Cheval. Ce sont quatre Dents au de là des Coins, situées sur les Barres, où elles poussent à chaque côté des mâchoires.
 Crocheté, pickt open.
 Crocheter, to pick, to pick open.
 Crocheter une serrure, une porte, un coffre, to pick open a lock, a door, a trunk.
 Crocheteur (m.) a Porter, a street Porter.
 Crocheteur de serrures, a Pick-lock.
 Crochetons (m.) les deux petites branches des Crochets du Portefaix, the forks, or crooked Staves of a French Porter's Device.
 Crochu, hooked, crooked.
 Un bec crochu, a crooked bill.
 Or thus. † Il a les mains crochues, he is light-fingered.
 Cheval crochu, c'est un Cheval qui a les Jarrets trop proches l'un de l'autre.
 Crocodile (m.) a Crocodile; a perfidious Man.
 Des Larmes de Crocodile, cd. des Larmes traîtresses, Crocodile's Tears.

Note that, for the Word Crocodile in French, you will find that of Camaleon in the English Translation, Lev. 11. 30.

Croiable } See } Croable.
Croiance } } Creance.
Croie } } Craie.

Croire, to believe, or give credit to; to believe, or be ruled by; to believe, or put his confidence, to think, or make account.

Je le croi sur votre parole, I believe it upon your word. Je ne croi rien de tout cela, I believe nothing of all that. Croyez moi, je ne vous dis rien qui ne soit très véritable, believe me, I say nothing to you but what is true. Je croi que cela se fera, I believe that will come to pass.

Vous combattez, si vous m'en croyez, you shall fight, if you will be ruled by me. Pourquoi ne m'avez vous pas voulu croire? why would not you be ruled by me?

Croire en Dieu, to believe in God, to put his whole trust and confidence in God.

Je croi qu'il partira demain, I think he will be gone to morrow. Je croi de m'en aller bien tôt, I make account to go away very speedily.

Crois. See Croix.

Croisade (f.) from Croix, Croisade, or holy War.

Prêcher la Croisade, to preach the Croisade, to stir up People to arm against the Turks and Infidels.

Now this kind of Expedition was heretofore called Croisade from the badge of the Cross, which every Christian Soldier wore then upon his Coat.

Croisade, en Termes de Mer, est une Disposition de quatre Etoiles à peu près rangées comme une Croix. Ces Etoiles servent à discerner le Pole Antarctique à ceux qui naviguent dans l'Hémisphere Meridional, comme la Constellation de la petite Ourse sert à discerner le Pole Arctique dans l'Hémisphere Septentrional.

Croisat (m.) a Coyn of Genoua in Italy, worth about seven shillings, marked of one side with the Sign of the Cross, and on the other with the Picture of the blessed Virgin.

Croisé, cross, laced cross.

Aux Clefs croisées, at the cross-Keys. Les bras croisez, in an idle posture.

Croisé (a masc. Subst.) qui est de la Croisade, one of the Croisade, that hath taken on him the Cross, or hath undertaken to fight against Turks or Infidels.

Croisée (a fem. Subst.) cross Work.

Croiser, to cross, to lay cross, or cross-wise; to cruise.

Croiser les Jambes, ou les Bras, to cross his Legs, or Arms, to lay them cross.

Croiser dans le Canal, to cruise in the Channel. Nos Vaisseaux croisent vers le Détroit, our Ships cruise near the Streights.

Se croiser, to be cross; to sit cross-legged; to take upon him the Cross for a holy War.

Chemins ou Lignes qui se croisent, cross Ways or Lines.

Croissant (m.) a middle cross-bar of a Window.

Croissant (from Croître) m. half-moon; crescent, in Heraldry; crescent, the Grand Seigniors Arms; the hollow part in the sides of Violins and Viols; a Chimney-hook, to hold the tongs and fire-shovel.

C'est maintenant que l'on fait pâlir le Croissant, now the Crescent grows pale, now the Turks are scared.

Or thus, Adjectively. As, le Jeune Garçon Samuel alloit croissant (1 Sam. 2. 26.) the Child Samuel grew on.

Croître, to grow, or grow up; to increase.

Les Plantes croissent peu à peu, Plants grow by little and little, they grow up by degrees.

Laisser croître la barbe & ses cheveux, to let his beard and hair grow. La raison croît avec l'âge, Reason grows with age. Un Enfant qui croît, qui se fait grand, a growing Child, a Child that grows tall.

Le Nil croît & décroît quarante jours, the River Nilus increases and decreases for the space of forty Days. Le Mal croît de jour en jour, Evil increases daily.

Amongst Poets only this Verb is used actively. As, c'est infailliblement leur croître le desir, this is infallibly to increase their desire.

Croix (f.) a Cross, to crucify Offenders; a cross, or any thing that is set cross-wise; the cross of a Sword without shell; cross, trouble, or affliction.

Jésus Christ a souffert la mort de la Croix, Christ has suffered Death upon the Cross. Il fut attaché à la Croix, he was nailed upon the Cross. Faire le signe de la Croix, to make the sign of the Cross.

J'en vais vous faire une Croix, I am going to make you a Cross. Croix ou pile, cross or pile. Croix de Jerusalem, the Jerusalem Cross; also a kind of flower.

Pour être sauvé il faut porter la Croix, to be saved one must bear his Cross.

Or thus. As, j'n'ai ni croix ni pile, ed. être pauvre, n'avoir point d'argent, to be poor, to be destitute of money.

Cromatique } Chromatique.
Cronique } Chronique.
†Croniqué } Chroniqué.
†Croniquer } Chroniquer.
†Croniqueur } Chroniqueur.
Cronologie } Chronologie.
Cronologique } Chronologique.
Cronologiste } Chronologiste.
Cronologue } Chronologue.

Croquer, to cranch; to hurry, or make haste with; to leave imperfect, or unfinished.

As, Croute qui croque sous la dent, a Crust that cranches in the teeth.

Le Renard croque les Poules, the Fox cranches the Hens. Le Chat croque les Souris, the Cat cranches the Mice.

La Serre croquoit ses Ouvrages, la Serre hurry'd his Works.

Croquer un Tableau, ne le pas finir, to lay aside a Picture, to leave it unfinished.

Croquet (m.) a thin and hard piece of Gingerbread that cranches in ones teeth.

†Croqueur (m.) a Catch-bir.

As, un vieux Renard, grand croqueur de Poulets, an old Fox, excellent at cranching of Pullers.

Croquignole (f.) coup qu'on donne sur la Tête avec le second & le troisième doigt fermé, a rap with the fingers over the head.

†Crouler. See Crouler.

Crosse (f.) a Crosse, or Bishops Staff; a bat, for Boys to play with at cricket.

Crosse (or rather, Couche) de mousquet, the butt-end of a musket.

Crossé. As, un Abbé crossé & mitré, an Abbot that has the Crosse-staff and Miter.

Crouler, to play at cricket.

C'est un petit Libertin qui n'a fait que crouler tout l'hiver, he is an idle Boy, he has minded nothing all Winter long but his cricket-play.

Crouleur (m.) a Cricket-player.

Crote (f.) boue de Rue, dirt, the dirt in the Streets.

Pour peu de crote qu'il y ait, je suis assuré d'en avoir ma bonne part, if there be never so little dirt, I am sure of my share.

Sa Jupe amasse toutes les crottes des Rues, her Petticoat takes up all the dirt of the Streets.

Crote de chevre, de rat, de souris, de ver à soie, the dung of goats, rats, mice, and silk-worms.

Croté, dirty.

As, croté jusques à l'échine, dirty all over, over head and ears in dirt.

Or thus. As, j'un Poète croté, ed. un pauvre Poète, un méchant Poète, a paltry (a wretched) Poet.

†Une Comtesse crotée, ed. qui n'a point de Carosse pour aller par la Ville, a poor Countess, that hath never a Coach to go out in.

Croter, to dirt, or bedaggle with dirt.

As, croter sa Jupe, to dirt her petticoat, to bedaggle it with dirt.

Se croter, to dirt (to bedaggle) himself.

Crouler, to shake, or to be shaken.

As, la Muraille croule, the Wall shakes.

Les fondemens de la Prison crouloient (Acts 16. 26.) the foundations of the Prison were shaken.

Croupade (f.) Terme de Manege, a kind of bouncing of a Horse.

Les Croupades sont des Sauts relevez, qui tiennent le devant & le derrière du Cheval dans une egale hauteur, sans qu'il montre son fer. On dit manier à croupades, mettre un Cheval à l'air des croupades, Cheval qui se presente à croupades, faire des croupades. Un Cheval ne s'epare point aux Croupades, ed. ne rue point entierement du train de derrière.

Hautes Croupades, ce sont des Croupades plus relevées que les Croupades ordinaires.

Croupe (f.) the top of a hill; the buttocks of a horse.

As, ils firent des feux sur la croupe des Montagnes, they made fires upon the very tops of the Hills.

Une belle croupe de Cheval, fine buttocks.

Or thus. As, mettre en croupe, to take one up behind him on horseback. Porter en croupe, to carry double. Cheval qui porte en croupe, a Horse that carries a duple.

†L'Hymen porte souvent en croupe le Repentir & la Misere, Marriage is frequently attended by Sorrows and Misery.

Croupi. See the Verb Croupir.

Croupiere (f.) crupper, a horse-crupper, the crupper of a Horse.

Or thus. As, j'une femme qui hausse la croupiere, ou qui leve le cul, ed. qui a des Galants, a Woman that takes her pleasure with Gallants.

†On va lui tailler des croupieres, ed. on va lui faire de mauvaises affaires, they are about to bring him into troubles.

Croupion (m.) the rump.

Un croupion de Chapon, the rump of a capon.

†Or thus. Remuer le croupion, to shake his (or her) arse.

Croupir, to stand still, not to run; to stand still, or to please himself with Idleness.

L'eau croupit dans les fosses, the water doth not run in ditches.

Croupir dans l'Oisiveté, to stand still, or to please himself with Idleness, to live in Idleness.

Or thus. As, croupir dans le peché, to abide in sin. Croupir en une extreme misere, to live in great want, or misery.

Croupissant, standing.

As, Eau croupissante, standing Water.

Crouppade } See } Croupade.
Crouppe } } Croupe.
Crouller } } Crouler.
Crouste } } Croute.

†Croustille (f.) une petite croute, a little crust.

As, prenez une croustille pour boire un coup, take a crust to drink a glass.

†Croustiller, to eat a crust.

Croustillons avant que de boire, let's eat a crust before we drink.

†Croustilleusement, d'une maniere bouffonne & plaisante, pleasantly.

†Croustilleux, boufon, qui fait rire, pleasant.

Il est croustilleux, c'est un croustilleux corps, he is a pleasant man.

Elle est croustilleuse, she is a pleasant woman.

Croute (f.) crust, the crust of bread.

La croute de dessus, the upper crust. La croute de dessous, the under crust. Aimer la croute, to love the crust.

Croute de pâté, Pie-crust.

Croute de plaie, ou d'ulcere, the scab of a wound, or ulcer.

Crouton (m.) a piece of crust (come off from the side of a Loaf.)

Croyable (from Croire) credible, to be believed.

Il n'est pas croyable, it is not to be believed.

La Chose est assez croyable, the Thing is credible enough.

Un homme croyable, ou digne d'être cru, a credible man.

Croyance. See Creance.

Croyant, believing &c. according to the Verb Croire, whereof this is a Participle.

Croyant

Croyant (a masc. Subst.) Believer, one that believeth.
As, Rem. 10. 4. Christ est la fin de la Loi en Justice à tout Croyant, Christ is the end of the Law for Righteousness to every one that believeth.

Cru (from Croître) grown.

As, il est cru d'un pié pour le moins, he is grown a foot taller at least.

Cru (Subst.) ones ground. As, boire du Vin de son cru, to drink Wine of his own Vineyard.

Or thus. As, cela n'est pas de son cru, cd. n'est pas de lui, that is not a thing of his own Invention.

Cru, from Croître. See Creu.

Cruauté (f.) cruelty, barbarity, inhumanity; a cruel, or barbarous temper; rigour, hard-heartedness, inflexible temper.

Exercer toute sorte de cruauté sur quécun, to use one with all manner of cruelty.

Affouvir sa cruauté, to satisfy his cruel temper.

Un véritable Amant doit souffrir, sans murmurer, la cruauté de sa Maîtresse, a true Lover ought patiently to suffer the rigours of his Mistress.

Cruche (f.) a Pitcher, a Water-pot.

Tant va la Cruche à l'eau, qu'elle se casse, cd. tel s'est sauvé plusieurs fois qui est en fin pris & puni, at last comes the Fox to the Skinner.

Crucifié (from Croix) crucify'd.

Notre Sauveur a été crucifié, our Saviour was crucify'd.

Crucifier, to crucify, to nail (or put to death) on the Cross.

Les Juifs ont crucifié Jesus Christ, the Jews have crucify'd our Saviour, they put him to death (they nailed him) on the Cross.

Crucifier la Chair, la mortifier, to crucify (or mortify) the Flesh.

Crucifiment (m.) Crucifixion.

As, le Crucifiment de Jesus Christ, our Saviours Crucifixion.

Crucifix (m.) a Crucifix, the Representation of Christ dying upon the Cross.

Crud, raw, that has not been concocted by the fire; raw, or unwrought; raw, hard, or undigested.

As, un fruit crud, a raw fruit. De la viande crue, raw meat.

Chanvre crud, raw hemp. Soie crue, raw silk.

Cela est un peu crud, that's something hard. Une Reponse crue, a raw (or undigested) Answer.

A crud. As, chauffer des bas de soie à crud, to put on nothing but a pair of silk-sockings. Se boter à crud, to put on boots without stirrup-sockings. Aller à cheval à crud, to ride a horse without a saddle.

Crudité (f.) crudity, rawness.

On dit que l'Eau de Vie est tres bonne pour corriger la crudité de la Biere, the goodness of Brandy is very much extolled in that it corrects the crudity of Beer.

Avoir des cruditez d'Estomac, to be troubled with crudity's of the Stomack, to have a raw Stomack.

Cruel (from Cruauté) cruel, inhumane, fierce, barbarous; cruel, hard-hearted, inflexible; cruel, sad, or grievous.

As, un cruel Tyran, a cruel (or barbarous) Tyrant. Une cruelle Marâtre, a cruel Mother in Law. Une cruelle Action, a cruel (or inhumane) Act.

Une Maîtresse cruelle, a cruel (inflexible, or hard-hearted) Mistress.

En verité c'est bien cruel, truly 'tis a grievous thing, a sad thing. Cela est cruel, qu'il m'en faille parler avec tant d'artifice, that is a cruel thing indeed, that I must speak of it with so much artifice.

Cruel. Cruelle (Substantively used) a cruel (a barbarous) Man, or Woman.

Neron étoit un cruel, Neron was a cruel Man.

Elle fait la cruelle, she pretends to be inflexible. Jamais Surintendant ne trouva de Cruelle, a rich Man never meets with a cruel Lady.

Cruellement, cruelly, inhumanely, barbarously, unmercifully; cruelly, sad, grievously.

Faire mourir quécun cruellement, to put one to a cruel death.

Il fut cruellement battu, he was cruelly (sadly, or grievously) beaten.

Crûment (from Crud) rashly, inconsiderately.

As, il ne faut pas dire les Choses si crûment que cela, one must not speak so rashly, or so inconsiderately.

Cry. See Cri.

Crystal (m.) Crystal, a white transparent Stone.

As, un beau Crystal, a fine Crystal. Crystal de Roche, Rock-Crystal.

Une belle Tasse de Crystal, a fine Crystal Cup. Un Verre de Crystal, a Crystal-Glass.

Crystal de Montre, the crystal of a Watch.

Crystal mineral, mineral Crystal, a Composition of Saltpeter well purify'd, and of flower of brimstone.

Amongst Poets this Word is used to express the clearness of the Waters.

As, le mobile Crystal des Eaux, the moveable Crystal of the Waters. Dans le Crystal d'une Fontaine un Cerf se miroit autrefois, in the Crystal of a Fountain a Stag beheld himself of old.

Crystalin, Crystalline, of Crystal, or like to Crystal in brightness.

L'humeur crystaline de l'Oeil, the crystaline humour of the Eye.

Ciel crystalin, the crystaline Heaven.

C U

Cu. See Cul.

Cube (m.) Cube, a four-square Figure like a Die.

On se sert de Cubes pour la mesure des Corps solides, Cubes are used for measuring of solid Body's.

Cubique, cubical.

As, pié cubique, a cubical foot.

Cueillir } See { Cuillier.

Cuillerée } See { Cuillierée.

†Cuillette (f.) in-gathering; Increase.

As, la Fête de la Cuillette (Ex. 23. 16.) the Feast of in-gathering.

Quand l'Eternel ton Dieu t'aura benit en toute ta Cuillette (Deut. 16. 15.) when the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy Increase.

Cueilleur (m.) Gatherer.

As, un Cueilleur de Fruits, a Gatherer of fruits.

Fait en Cueilleur de pommes, turned into the habit of an Apple-squire.

Cueilli, gathered.

Cueillir, to gather.

As, cueillir les fruits, to gather the fruits.

Cuict. See Cuit.

†Cuider, to think, to fancy.

As, le Comte Duc mourir cuida, the Count fancy'd he should die a Duke.

Cuillier (f.) a spoon; a kind of Fowl, not unlike a Heron.

De belles cuilliers d'argent, fine silver spoons.

Cuillier de Mer, Coquille longue, ou Poisson à test dur, the Sea spoon, a kind of long Cockle.

Or thus. As, une Cuillier à pot, a ladle, a pot-ladle.

Cuillierée, plein la cuillier, a spoon-full.

Prenez en une cuillierée, take a spoon-full of it.

Cuillieron (m.) the broad end of the Spoon.

Cuir (m.) leather, skin.

Donner le tan au cuir, to tan leather.

Entre cuir & chair, between the skin and the flesh.

Cuirasse (f.) Cuirass, an Armour for the back and breast; breast-plate, Eph. 6. 14.

Une Cuirasse à l'épreuve du mousquet, an Armour musket-proof.

Cuirassier (m.) Cavalier armé de Cuirasse, a Cuirassier.

Un Regiment de Cuirassiers, a Regiment of Cuirassiers.

Cuire, to boyl, bake, rost, &c; to concoct, or digest; to ripen, or to rot; to smart, to make smart.

Mettre la viande au pot, & la faire bien cuire, to put the meat in the the pot, and make it boyl briskly. Faire cuire une eclanche de mouton au four, to bake a leg of mutton. Mettez le Soupe à la broche, & laissez le bien cuire, put our Supper in the spit, and rost it well, or let it be well rosted.

L'Estomac cuit les Viandes, the Stomack digests (or concocts) the Meat.

Voici qui cuira votre Toux, this will ripen (this will rot) your Cough.

Ma blessure me cuit, my wound smarts.

L'Eau de Vie cuit lors qu'elle est d'abord appliquée à la blessure, brandy smarts as soon as it is apply'd to the wound.

†O! qu'il vous en cuira, cd. que vous en aurez de regret, ou de déplaisir! Oh! how you will smart for't!

Remarquez, au reste, que l'Anglois n'a point de Terme general, qui reponde à celui de Cuire.

Cuisant, sharp, smart, or smarting.

As, un Chagrin cuisant, a smart Grief. Une Douleur cuisante, a sharp (or a smart) Pain.

Cuisine (f.) Kitchen; Cookery; the Art of dressing Vittles.

Une Cuisine fort belle & fort propre, a very fine and very neat Kitchen.

Il entend bien la Cuisine, he understands Cookery well, he has great skill in dressing of meat, he is a very good Cook.

Batterie de Cuisine, Kitchen Tackling.

Or thus. As, faire la Cuisine, to dress meat. Fonder la Cuisine, cd. etabli de quoi vivre, to settle upon a Livelihood.

Chargé de Cuisine, cd. qui est gros & gras, a fat burly man.

†Du Latin de Cuisine, gross (or ordinary) Latine.

†Cuissier, to dress meat. Say faire la Cuisine.

Cuissier (m.) Cook, a man Cook.

Un bon Cuissier, a good Cook.

Cuissiere (f.) a Cook, a woman Cook.

Une excellente Cuissiere, an excellent Cook.

Cuissards (m.) tout le fer qui couvre les Cuisses d'un Homme armé de pié en cap, an Armour for the Thighs.

Cuisse (f.) the thigh; a leg.

As, il a eu la Cuisse emportée d'un coup de Canon, his Thigh was shot off with a Cannon bullet.

Une cuisse de poulet, ou de chapon, a leg of pullet, or of a capon.

Or thus. As, Ex. 32. 27. †Mettez un chacun son épée sur sa Cuisse, let every man put his sword by his side.

Cuiffon (from Cuire) As, du pain de cuiffon, bread baked at home.

Cuistre (m.) a School-master's Man; a nasty (filthy) Pedant.

Cuit (from Cuire) boyled, baked, rosted, &c. according to the Verb.

Cuivre (m.) copper.

Cuivre rouge, ou jaune, red, or yellow copper.

Cul (m.) arse, or breech; bottom.

Montrer le cul à quécun, to shew his breech (or his arse) to one. Le trou du cul, the arse-hole.

Cul de bateau, de charette, de fosse, de sac, de lampe, d'artichaut, the bottom of a boat, cart, ditch, sack, lamp, artichoke.

Une Tour faite en cul de Lampe, a Tower winding downwards like a wreathed Shell.

Cul de Sac, Rue sans Issue, a Street (Lane, or Court) which hath no Way out.

Cul bas, a Kind of Game a Cards. Cul blanc, Whittail (a Bird so called.)

Cul de jate, an impotent man who is fain to go on his arse. Cul d'épingle, the head of a pin.

Cul de Chapeau, the tip of the crown of a Hat.

Entre deux Selles le cul à terre, between two Stools the breech falls on the ground.

Cul par dessus tête, topsy-turvy, arsy-vasy, upside down. A cul levé (Terme de Joueur) at level-coyl.

†De cul & de tête, cd. de tout son pouvoir, with all his might, with main strength.

Il y va de cul & de tête, he goes to it with all his might.

† On le tient au cul & aux chausses, ed. il est pris & arrêté, he is seized, apprehended, arrested. Tirer le cul en arrière, ed. se retirer, refuser de faire ce que l'on avoit promis, to slip his neck out of the collar.

† Etre à cul, ed. n'en pouvoir plus, to be at a loss, to be put to his last shifts, or to a non-plus.

† Faire le Cul de Plomb, ed. être sédentaire, être assidu au travail, to stick to his work. C'est un Cul de plomb, he is a sedentary Man, a Man that minds his business at home.

† Un Cul de fosse, a Dungeon. Say Cachot, or les basses Fosses, Culasse, (f.) Terme d'Arquebuser, morceau de fer qui entre au bas bout du Canon, the breech of a Gun.

Culbute, (f.) a fall (especially with the feet upwards and the head downwards.)

Il a fait une culbute, he has got a fall.

Faire la culbute, to fly top over tail.

Culbute qu'on, to give one a fall, to make him fall.

Il l'a culbuté, & s'en est fui, he gave him a fall, and so ran away.

Culebute } See { Culbute.

Culebuter } See { Culbuter.

Culier, or Culiere, (f.) a Spoon.

But Culier asofesaid is the Word most in use.

Culier, (Adj.) As, le boyau culier, the arse-gut.

Culieron. See Cuilieron.

Culot, (m.) the bottom of a Church-Lamp.

Culote, (f.) close Breeches, Spanish breeches.

Culotin, (m.) a sort of close breeches.

Culte, (m.) worship.

Rendre à Dieu un culte souverain, to render unto God the supreme worship.

Cultivé, tilled, manured, husbanded, dressed; cultivated, improved.

Pavot cultivé, the Garden-poppy.

Cultiver, to till, manure, husband, cultivate, or dress; to cultivate, or improve.

As, cultiver la Terre, to till (manure, or husband) the Ground. Cultiver un Jardin, to dress a Garden. Cultiver des Plantes, des Arbres, ou des Fleurs, to cultivate Plants, Trees, or Flowers. Cultiver une Vigne, to dress a Vine.

Cultiver les Arts & les Sciences, to improve Arts and Sciences. Cultiver l'esprit de qu'on, to improve (or adorn) ones mind with knowledge and understanding.

Je me ferai une affaire de cultiver une Connoissance qui m'est si avantageuse, I shall make it my business to cultivate (or improve) so beneficial an Acquaintance to me.

Culture, (f.) husbandry; improvement.

Avoir soin de la Culture de la Terre & des Plantes, to mind Husbandry and the improving of Plants.

Songer à la culture des Arts & des Sciences, to think of the improvement of Arts and Sciences. Travailler à la culture de son Esprit, to take pains for the improvement of his Mind.

Or thus, As, le peu de Connoissance que j'ai, je le dois à la Culture des honnes Lettres, I got the small knowledge I have by reading of good Books.

Cumin, (m.) Cummin.

Cumin sauvage, wild cummin.

Semence de cummin, cummin-seed.

Cupidité, (f.) Terme de Theologie, cupidity, concupiscence.

Curatelle, (f.) Charge de Curateur, Gardianship.

Elle a la curatelle de ses Enfants, she hath the Gardianship of her Children.

Curateur, (m.) Gardian; Gouverneur, Gal. 4. 2.

Donner un Curateur à qu'on, le mettre en curatelle, to appoint a Gardian over one.

Curatrice, (f.) a Woman Gardian.

Cure, (f.) a Cure, or healing of a sick body; a Living, or Benefice; a Parsonage, or Vicarage.

En verité vous avez fait là une belle Cure, indeed you performed a great Cure. La Cure de cette Maladie étoit tres difficile, the Cure of that Disease was a most difficult Cure.

On lui a donné une fort bonne Cure, he has got a very good Living.

Je m'en vai à la Cure, I am going to the Parsonage.

Curé, (m.) the Curate, or Parson of a Church.

Curé, (a Part. of the Verb Curer) cleansed.

Cure-dent, (m.) a tooth-picker.

Un cure-dent bien fait, a tooth-picker well made, a neat tooth-picker.

Curée, (Terme de Chasse) the hunting dogs Reward, the bounds fees, or their part of the Game they have killed.

Cure-oreille, (m.) an ear-picker.

Un joli cure-oreille, a pretty ear-picker.

Cure-pié, (m.) Instrument à nettoyer le dedans des piez des Chevaux, a horse-picker.

Curer, to cleanse.

As, curer la Charrue, to cleanse the Plough.

Curer les Chevaux, on les Vaches, to cleanse the Stables. Curer (or rather Ecurer) un Puits, to cleanse a Well.

† Se curer les dents, to cleanse his teeth. Say se nettoyer les dents.

Curateur (or rather Ecurer) de Puits, (m.) a Cleanser of Wells.

Curial, (from Curé) of, or belonging to a Curate.

As, fonction Curiale, a Curate's (or Parson's) function.

Curieuse, the feminine Gender of Curieux.

Curieusement, curiously.

Or thus. As 2 Theff. 3. 11. Ne faisons rien, mais vivans curieusement, working not at all, but are busy bodies.

Curieux, curious.

Il est curieux en ses habits, he is curious in his dress.

Un Curieux, (Subst.) a curious Man, a Vertuose. Une Curieuse, a curious Woman, a busy body, 1 Tim. 5. 13.

Curiosité, (f.) curiosity; a raree Show.

Il y a une Curiosité blamable, & une Curiosité louable, there is a blamable, and a commendable Curiosity.

Si la Curiosité me prend de le savoir, if my Curiosity prompts me to know it.

A Paris, comme ailleurs dans les grandes Villes, on voit de certains Savoyards qui pour peu de chose divertissent le menu Peuple avec leurs Curiositez, at Paris, as in other great Towns and Cities, there are certain poor people of Savoy to be seen, who for a small matter divert the common sort of People with their Raree-Shows.

Curioir, (m.) Bâton avec quoi le Laboureur cure la Charrue, the Plough-staff, wherewith the Plough-coulter is cleansed.

Custode, or rather Chaperon, (f.) a holster-cap, that which covers the handle of a Pistol on horseback.

Custode, (m.) Terme de Capucin & de Recolet, he that bears the Provincials Office in his absence.

† Avoir le fouet sous la custode, to be whipped privately.

Cuve, (f.) a fat, or open Tub; Press, or Wine-press.

Fossé à fond de Cuve, qui n'a point de talus, a flat-bottomed Ditch.

Tes Greniers seront remplis d'abondance, & tes caves rompront de moût, (Prov. 3. 10.) thy Barns shall be filled with plenty, and thy Presses with new Wine.

And Rev. 14. 19. Il jetta la Vendange en la grande Cuve de l'Ire de Dieu, he cast the Vintage into the great Wine-press of the Wrath of God.

Cuve d'airain, (Ex. 30. 18.) a Lever of brass.

Cuvée, (f.) a Tub full of Wine and Grapes.

C'est du Vin de la premiere cuvée, this is Wine of the first pressing.

Cuver, (Terme de Vigneron) to let the Grapes stand a while in a Tub.

† Cuver son Vin, ed. après avoir bien bu aller dormir pour se desenyvrer, to sleep himself sober, to evacuate the fumes of Wine by a good nap.

Cuvette, (f.) a Cistern, for a Dining-Room; a little Ditch in the midst of a great one.

Cuvier, (m.) a bucking Tub; a fish Tub.

CY & CZ.

Cy. See Ci.

Cyclamen, an Herb whereof there are two sorts, the one called Sours-bread, and the other the Seal of our Lady.

Pronounce it Cyclaman.

Cycle, (m.) Cycle.

As, il y a trois Cycles, le Solaire, le Lunaire, & celui de l'Indiction, there are three Cycles, one of the Sun, another of the Moon, and the Cycle of Indiction.

Le Cycle Solaire est de 28 ans, le Lunaire de 19, & celui de l'Indiction de 15. the Cycle of the Sun is of 28 years, that of the Moon of 19, and the Indiction Cycle of 15.

Cygne. See Cigne.

Cylindre, (m.) Figure ronde & longue comme une Colonne, Cylinder, a figure Pillar-like, round and long.

Cylindrique, Cylinder-like.

Cymaise. See Cimaife.

Cymbales, (f.) Cymbals.

Toucher les Cymbales, to play upon the Cymbals.

Louez le avec les Cymbales, qui se font entendre de loin, (Psal. 150. 5.) praise him upon the loud Cymbals.

Cynique, Cynical.

As, un Philosophe Cynique, a Cynical Philosopher.

Cynique, (a masc. Subst.) a Cynick.

Diogene étoit un fameux Cynique, Diogenes was a famous Cynick.

Cypres, (m.) the Cyprus tree; Cyprus-wood.

Le Cypres est un Arbre haut & droit, dont le bois est dur & jaunâtre, the Cyprus-tree is tall and straight, and its wood hard and yellowish.

Le bois de Cypres sent bon, lors qu'on le brûle, Cyprus-wood being burnt casts a sweet smell.

Czar, (m.) Titre dont on appelle les Monarques de Moscovie, Czar, a Title given to the Monarchs of Moscow.

Les derniers Troubles de Moscovie ont élevé deux Freres sur le Trône, qui regnent ensemble, & que l'on appelle les Czars de Moscovie, the late Troubles of Moscow have occasioned the raising of two Brothers upon the Throne, who reign as Partners, and are called Czars of Moscow.

Le Mot de Czar veut dire Cæsar, & c'est là son Origine, the Word Czar signifies Cæsar, and that's the Origine of it.

D.

THIS Letter, one of those which are called Mute, was formerly represented by three Stars in the form of a Triangle, to which answers the Δ of the Greeks.

Amongst the Egyptians, from whence this Expression came, it was the Hieroglyphick of God's Name, perhaps because their Divinity afforded some knowledge of the Trinity.

In the Inscriptions of the Ancients this Letter had divers significations, and to this day a capital D in Numbers signifies five hundred.

The French pronounce it dé, and use it in the masculine Gender. As, un D bien ou mal fait, a D well or ill made.

With other Letters it is pronounced in French as in English.

Except where it ends a Word, and is followed by another Word, beginning with a Vowel. For then it takes the sound of a t. As, un grand Esprit, a great Wit; un grand Homme, a great Man; quand il vous plaira, when you please; quand est ce qu'il viendra? when will he come?

But withal you must take notice of these Words wherein it is ever mute; viz. affied, chaud, fond, nud, rond, and sourd. To which add grand before &, and quand before a Vowel, being used with an Interrogation; as grand & gros, quand irez vous?

According to the modern Way of Spelling, d is left out as mute & superfluous in the first Syllable of these Words, ajoindre, ajourner, ajouter, ajuster, Amiral, amodier, avance, avantage, avenir, averer, avertir, aveu, avis, Avocat, and their Derivatives, all which formerly were spelt with ad. Except adjonction, from ajoindre.

It is also commonly left out in these Words, mors, blé, pié, trepié, Alleman, je ven, je ren, which heretofore they spelt thus, viz. mords, bled, pied, trepied, Allemand, je vend, je rend.

Lastly, most write now with a t these following Words, viz. Galant, badaut, courtaut, lourdaud, maraut, nigaut, which formerly were spelt with a d.

D A

† Da. This is a kind of Interjection always joyned to some other Word.

As, oui da, yes verily, yes forsooth. Non da, no verily, no forsooth.

Dactyle, (m.) dactyl, a sort of foot in Latine Verses.

† Dada, (m.) cd. un Cheval, un petit Cheval, a Nag.

Dague, (f.) sorte d'Epée courte & large à l'antique, Dagger, a kind of Dagger.

Dagues, le premier bois que porte un Cerf, & par où commencent les deux perches, the head of a young Deer.

Daguet, (m.) jeune Cerf qui est à sa seconde année, qui pousse & porte son premier bois, a Spitter, or Pricket.

Daigner, to vouchsafe.

As, il n'a pas daigné lui repondre, he did not vouchsafe to answer him.

Or thus. As, vous fites mon affaire avec deux mots que vous daignates dire, you did my business with two words you were pleased to speak.

Il est si ridicule, qu'on ne daigne plus lui rien dire, he is so senseless (so silly, so ridiculous) that he is not thought to be worth speaking to.

Daillon. See Dalon.

Daim, (m.) Deer, a fallow Deer.

Un Daim mâle, a buck. Un Daim femelle, a Doe.

Daine, (f.) femelle de Daim, a Doe.

Dais, or Daiz, (m.) Canopy, a Cloth of State.

Dalmatique, (f.) Dalmatic, a wide-sleeved Vestment, or Surplice, worn by Deacons, Subdeacons, and Bishops themselves, when they officiate.

Dalon, or Dalot, (m.) Terme de Mer. On appelle ainsi des Ouvertures, ou des Gouttières, de deux ou trois pouces de diamètre, qui sont conduites en pante tout au travers du Bordage du Vaisseau, le long des Tillacs & des Sabords, pour l'écoulement des Eaux de la Pluie & des Vagues.

Ces Ouvertures s'appellent aussi Orgues.

† Dam. As, c'est à ton dam, 'tis but what you deserve.

Damas, (m.) damask.

Damas fort beau, a very fine damask. Lit de damas, a damask Bed.

Damaquiné, wrought damask-like.

Or thus. As, Prov. 25. 11. Comme sont des Pommes d'or damasquinées d'argent, ainsi est la Parole dite comme il appartient, a Word fely spoken is like Apples of gold in Pictures of silver.

Damasquiner, to work damask-like.

Damasquinerie, (f.) damask-work.

Damassé, damasked, damask.

Linge damassé, damask-linnen. Servietes damassées, damask-napkins.

† Etre damassé (ou revetu) de gale, to be scabby all over.

Damasser, to damask.

Dame, (f.) a Lady, a Queen, at Cards; a Man, at Draughts or Tables.

As, une Dame de la premiere qualité, a Lady of the greatest quality. Notre Dame, our Lady, a common Appellation for the blef-sed Virgin Mary amongst the Roman Catholics.

La Dame de cœur, ou de carreau, the Queen of hearts, or diamonds.

Placer les dames, to place (or set) the men.

Jouer une dame, to play a man. La couvrir, to cover it. Dame touchée, dame jouée, the man that's touched must be plaid.

Or thus. As, Dame d'atour de la Reine, the Keeper of the Queen's Jewels. Dame d'honneur de la Reine, a Maid of honour to the Queen. Dame de Cœur, a Title given to certain Nuns.

Dame, with the Name of the person to it, is used for the inferior sort of People, and is no more than Mistress amongst us here. As, † Dame Jeanne, faites moi ce plaisir.

The same is also used, in an Ironical way.

As, † la Dame est fort mal satisfaite de lui, the Lady is not pleased with him. La Dame ne fut pas long tems sans donner au Cavalier les dernieres faveurs, the Lady was not long before she gave her self over to the Gentleman.

† Dame, celle dont les Qualitez gagnent le Cœur, a Lady so well qualify'd as to gain the hearts of all that see her. Elle est Dame de tous ceux qui virent jamais sa personne, she has got the hearts of all those that ever saw her.

Lastly, Dame is a kind of Interjection, used only by the vulgar Sort, and signifying truly, or verily. As, † Dame! je ne saurois qu'y faire, truly, I cannot help it.

Dame-dame, a sort of Cheefe.

Damé, made a Queen, as a pawn at Chess; doubled, or made a King, at Draughts.

Une Dame damée, a Lady of quality, who hath the Title of Lady.

Damé, à quoi l'on a donné un demi pié de pante, that has half a foot allowed for sloping.

Damer, to make a Queen, at Chess; to double a man, or make a King, at Draughts.

Damer, donner un demi pié de pante, to allow half a foot for sloping.

† Damer le pion à quécun, le supplanter, to put ones nose out of joynt, to supplant him.

Dames, (f.) Jeu de Dames, Draughts.

Jouer aux Dames, to play at Draughts.

Damier, (m.) a Chess-board; the outside of a pair of tables.

Damnabile, damnable.

Une Doctrine damnable, a damnable Doctrine.

Damnation, (f.) Damnation.

La Damnation eternelle, the eternal Damnation.

Or thus. As, il en a juré sur sa part de Paradis, & la damnation de son Ame, he swore to it upon his salvation.

Damné, damned.

Il est damné, he is damned. Elle est damnée, she is damned.

Les Damnez, (Subst.) the Damned, those that are damned. Il n'y a que les Damnez de malheureux, none but the Damned are unhappy.

† Il souffre comme un Damné, il souffre comme une Ame damnée, he suffers horribly, his sufferings equal the Torments of Hell.

† Damoiseau, (m.) an effeminate Youngster. This is the sense the Word bears at present, whereas formerly it was an honourable Name for young Persons of quality.

† Damoisel

† Damoiselle

Danable

Danation

Dance

Dancer

Danceur

Danceuse

Danché

† Dandin, (m.) a Noddy, a Nimby, one that looks like an As.

† Dandiner, to carry himself like a Noddy or Nimby.

Dandiner du cul, to jog his Arse.

Dané } Se } Damné.

Dâner } Se } Damner.

Danger, (m.) danger, peril, hazard, jeopardy.

Etre en grand danger, to be in great danger. Votre Vie est en grand danger, your Life is in great jeopardy.

Se mettre en danger, s'exposer au danger, to expose himself to danger, to endanger himself.

Delivrer (tirer) quécun d'un danger, to deliver one from a danger, to put him out of danger.

Etre hors de crainte & de danger, to be out of fear and danger.

Droit de Tiers & Danger. See Tiers.

Dangereusement, dangerously.

Etre dangereusement malade, to be dangerously sick.

Dangereux, dangerous.

Une Chose dangereuse, de dangereuse consequence, a dangerous Thing.

Un homme (un esprit) dangereux, a dangerous man to deal withal.

Dans, in, within; by.

Il est dans sa Chambre, he is in his Chamber. Vous trouverez cela dans les OEuvres de Plutarque, you will find that in Plutarch's Works.

Je suis venu de Londres à Paris dans huit jours, I came from London to Paris in eight days.

Dans ces entrefaites, in the mean time, in the interim, or whilst these things were a doing.

On croit que la Ville se rendra dans deux jours pour le plus tard, 'tis thought the Town will surrender within two days at furthest. Se tenir dans les termes de la Raison, to keep within the bounds of Reason.

Sentir son mal dans les maux d'autrui, to feel his misery by that of other people.

Now, forasmuch as dans and en have the same signification, and are sometimes promiscuously used, it will not be improper to shew wherein lies the right Use of these two Propositions.

First, they are promiscuously used before Adjectives of Number, and such as relate thereto. As, je le verrai dans deux Jours (or en deux Jours) d'ici, I shall see him within two days.

Secondly, before Nouns of the feminine Gender, that are not Nouns of Countries. As, dans la misere (or en la misere) où je suis, in the misery I am in.

But, when you intend to express the time that a Thing takes up, then use en, and not dans. As, il fait une Comedie en deux ou trois jours, he makes a Play in two or three days.

Before Nouns of Countrys never use dans. So you must say, demeurer en France, to live in France.

Except such Names of Countrys as have an Article before them; viz. le Peloponese, le Perche, le Maine, le Caire, la Mecque, &c.

Danse, (f.) dance, dancing.

Danse éleyée, basse, ou figurée, a lofty, a smooth, or a figured Dance.

† Je vai rentrer en danse avec les neuf Soeurs, cd, je vai recommencer à faire des Vers, I am a going to make new Verses.

Danser, to dance.

Danser une Courante, ou une Gigue, to dance a Courant, or a Jig.

Danser au Violon, ou aux Chançons, to dance to the Violin, or to Singing.

Danser sur la corde, to dance upon the Rope.

Un Maître à danser, a dancing Master.

† Il ne fait sur quel pié danser, cd, il ne fait que faire, il est fort mal dans ses affaires, he is at his wits end, he knows not what in the World to do.

Danseur, (m.) a Dancer.

C'est un bon Danseur, he is a good Dancer.

Danseur de corde, a Rope-dancer.

Danseuse, (f.) a Dancer, a Woman Dancer.

C'est la meilleure Danseuse du Monde, she is the best Dancer in the World.

Danseuse sur la corde, a Rope-dancer.

Dante, (m.) an African Creature, about the bigness of an Ox, and very swift-footed.

D'après. See Après.

Dard, (m.) a Dart; a kind of half-pike where-with the Boys at Paris do sometimes fight together.

Decocher (lancer) un Dard, to sling (or cast) a Dart.

Darder, to dart, or cast.

As, darder un couteau, ou un poignard, to dart a knife, or dagger.

Le Soleil darde ses Rayons sur la Terre, the Sun darts his Beams upon the Earth.

Darder un regard, to cast a look.

Elle darde de ses Yeux mille Trépas, she darts from her Eyes a thousand Deaths.

Dardeur, (m.) a Darter.

Dariole, (f.) sorte de Flan, a kind of Dainty made of flower, milk, butter, & eggs.

Dartre, (f.) sorte de Tumeur, a tetter, or ring-worm.

Dartre de Cheval. C'est une Ulcere à peu près large comme la Main, qui se fait ordinairement à la Croupe du Cheval, quelquefois à la Tête, & quelquefois à l'Encolure. Elle vient d'un Sang bilieux, qui consume & mange la Peau, & qui cause une si grande demangeaison au Cheval, qu'il est très difficile d'empêcher qu'il ne frote, & n'augmente l'Ulcer.

Dataire, (m.) Cardinal Dataire, Datary, the Chancellor of Rome.

Date, (f.) date, the date of a Writing; date, the fruit of the Palm-tree.

La date d'une Lettre, the date of a Letter.

Lettre de fraîche ou de vieille date, a Letter of fresh, or old date. Mettre la date, to set down the date.

Etre le premier ou le dernier en date, to be of sooner or later date.

Or thus. La Date du Contrat est fausse, the Contract is false dated.

Il y a plusieurs sortes de Dates, mais les meilleures de toutes sont les blanches, there are several sorts of Dates, but the white ones are the best.

Daté, dated.

Ma Lettre étoit datée du premier Jour de Janvier, my Letter was dated the first day of January.

Dater, to date.

As, dater une Lettre, un Contrat, une Procuration, to date a Letter, a Contract, a Letter of Attorney.

Daterie, (f.) the Datary's Office.

†Dater, (m.) the Palm-tree. Say Palmier.

Datura, (m.) sorte de Fleur, a kind of sweet flower.

Davantage, more, more on't, more than that; farther.

En voulez vous davantage? will you have any more?

Je n'ai que faire d'en savoir davantage, what need I know any more on't?

Je dis bien davantage, I say more than that.

Pour m'expliquer davantage, to explain my self farther.

Or thus. As, il faut ménager davantage ceux qui sont puissans dans l'Eglise, we must manage better those that are eminent in the Church.

†Davantage pour dire D'ailleurs, ou De plus, moreover.

Daube, (f.) certaine maniere d'apprêter la Viande, a certain Way of dressing Meat in order to create an appetite.

As, mettre une Eclanche de mouton à la daube. Manger d'un Poulet d'Inde à la daube.

†Dauber, jeered. Say Railler.

†Dauber, to jeer. Say Railler.

As, je les dauberai tant qu'ils se rendront sages, I shall so jeer them that they will be the wiser for it.

Dauphin, (m.) sorte de Poisson de Mer, Dolphin, a Sea-fish.

Le Dauphin de France, the Dolphin of France. So the King's eldest Son is called from Dauphiné, a Province of France, since the Donation thereof in the year 1343. by Humbert Earl of Dauphiné to King Philip of Valois.

Daurade. See Dorade.

Dautant que, (without an Apostroph) for, forasmuch as, whereas; because, Job. 8. 43.

As, Ps. 106. 1. Celebrez l'Eternel, dautant que sa gratuité demeure à toujours, Praise ye the Lord, for his mercy endureth for ever.

And Ps. 143. 2. N'entre point en jugement avec ton Serviteur, dautant que nul Vivant ne sera justifié devant toi, enter not into judgment with thy Servant, for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.

Or thus. As, Judg. 6. 16. Dautant que je serai avec toi, Surely I will be with thee.

But now dautant que is almost grown out of date, unless it be at the beginning of a publick Concern relating to the State.

D'autant, (with an Apostroph.) See Autant.

D E

De, of; from; to.

As, le Royaume de France, the Kingdom of France. La Republique de Venise, the Republick (or State) of Venice. Les Plaisirs de la Vie, the Pleasures of Life. Par la Grace de Dieu, by the Grace of God. Je suis las de votre amitié, I am weary of your friendship. Vous êtes indigne de sa faveur, you are unworthy of his favour. Parler de quécun, to speak of some body. Manger de quécun chose, to eat of something. Envie de manger, a desire of eating. Il est chéri de tout le monde, he is beloved of all the World.

Je vien de Londres, I come from London. Je vien de la Cour, I come from Court. De chez le Medecin, from the Doctor's house. Il vient de boire, he comes from drinking. De Londres à Paris il n'y a qu'environ quatre vints & dix lieues, from London to Paris, 'tis but about fourscore and ten leagues.

J'ai un desir extreme de le voir, I have an extream desire to see him. Je vous permet d'y aller, I give you leave to go thither. Il m'a defendu de le faire, he hath forbid me to do it. J'ai envie de le châtier, I have a mind to punish him.

De is also made by with, in, upon, by, at, for, about.

As, de tout mon cœur, with all my heart. De toute ma force, with all my strength. Repousser quécun de la main, to push one off with his hand.

Il partit de nuit, he went away in the night.

Se lever de grand matin, to rise early in the morning. De notre Temps, in our Time.

Vivre de poisson, to live upon fish; de viande, upon meat; de racines, upon roots.

Il étoit respecté de tout le monde, he was respected by all the World. De grace, by your favour.

Se moquer de quécun, to laugh at one.

Je suis fâché de cela, I am sorry for that. Il en faute de joie, he leaps for joy.

Dequoi vous mettez vous en peine? what do you trouble your self about?

Mais il faut ici remarquer, que les Anglois, transposans comme ils font souvent leurs Substantifs, à l'imitation des Latins, leur Preposition Of se perd dans cette Transposition, & en lieu de cela ils ne font qu'ajouter une apostrophée au dernier des Substantifs qui par la Transposition se trouve le premier.

Par exemple, pour rendre en Anglois, la Maison de mon Pere, on ne dira guere, the house of my father, mais plutôt, my father's house. Ainsi dira-t-on, my Mother's Estate, le bien de ma Mere, plutôt que de dire, the Estate of my Mother. Si bien qu'à la Verité on peut dire, que la Langue Angloise a un Cas que n'ont pas les autres Langues Vulgaires, je veux dire un Cas varié, que l'on appelle Genitif.

Il est vrai, que cette Addition de l's n'est pas generale dans toutes les Transpositions. Temoin ces Exemples suivans, favoir la Gazette de Londres, the London Gazette; une douleur de tête, a head-ake; un mal de dents, a tooth-ake; un livre de poche, a pocket-book; un Moulin à Vent, a Wind-mill. Mais on repond, qu'en ce cas là le premier Substantif revêt la nature d'un Nom Adjectif, si bien que London Gazette est tout de même que si l'on disoit, the Londonian Gazette.

Il y a encore quelques autres Endroits, où la Preposition De ne s'exprime pas en Anglois. Comme après des Adverbes de Quantité; exemple, peu d'argent, little money; assez d'amis, friends enough; beaucoup de pain, much bread; trop de Vin, too much Wine. A moins que la Chose ne soit spécifiée; Ex. J'ai encore beaucoup de l'Argent que vous m'avez prêté, I have still a great deal of the Money you lent me.

Elle ne s'exprime pas non plus en Anglois, quand elle se trouve devant un Adjectif.

As, de belles Chaises, fine Chairs; de grandes Tables, great Tables; voici de bon Vin, here is good Wine; voilà de bonne viande, there's good meat. L'Angleterre produit de vaillans Hommes & de belles Femmes, England produces stout Men and handsome Women. Il n'y a rien de tel, there's no such thing.

Quand de signifie quécun, il se rend par some en Anglois. Exemple, donne moi du vin, give me some wine. Apporte moi de l'eau, bring me some water. Changez moi de l'argent, change me some money. Achetons de la Toile, let us buy some Cloth.

Mais on l'omet encore en Anglois dans toutes ces Expressions qui suivent, & leurs semblables. Comme, c'est de la dernière folie, 'tis the greatest folly in the World. Ce sot d'Officier, that foolish Officer. Mon coquin de Valet, my rascally Servant. Il n'a mangé de tout le Jour, he has eat nothing all this Day.

De mal en pis, worse and worse. De bien en mieux, better and better. De deux Jours l'un, every other day. De trois en trois ans, every third year. Dans un an d'ici, a year hence.

Je ne retournerai de dix ans, I shall not come back these ten years. Tenir quécun de court, to keep one under.

Je vien de lui parler, I spoke just now to him. Il ne fait que de sortir d'ici, he is but just gone from hence.

De plus, moreover. De la sorte, so. De ce que, that. Il se plaint de ce que je ne lui ecri pas, he complains that I don't write to him.

De par, by, from, of. As, de par le Roi, by the King. De par Dieu le Pere, & de par notre Seigneur Jesus Christ, (Eph. 1. 2.) from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ.

Le Fils ne peut rien faire de par soi même, (John 5. 29.) the Son can do nothing of himself.

Lastly, de is one of those Particles, which being followed by a Word beginning with a Vowel, turn their e into an Apostroph, and become one Word with the next. As in the Example aforesaid, un peu d'argent.

Dé, (m.) a die; a thimble; the middle of a pedestal; a square piece of iron to put in a Cartouch.

Jouer aux dez, to play at dice. Jeter les dez, to throw the dice. Un coup de dé, a throw (or cast) at dice. Piper les dez, to cog the dice.

Il faut vivre en ce Monde, comme quand on joue aux dez. Si, en les jettant, ce que vous demandez n'arrive pas, il faut corriger par votre adresse ce qui est arrivé par hazard, We must live in this World, as when a man plays at dice. If you don't throw what you desire, you must make up by your dexterity that which hapned by chance.

† Le dé en est jetté, cd. la resolution en est prise, 'tis a Thing resolved on. Elle à jaser tient le dé tout le jour, cd. elle jase plus que les autres, she talks more than all the rest, she holds all the discourse. Sans flater le dé, cd. franchement, sans deguïser, roundly, plainly, without making things better than they be.

Un Dé bien fait, a thimble well made, a neat thimble.

Debaqueur, (m.) sorte d'Officier sur les Ports de Paris, a kind of Water-Bayliff at Paris, whose Office is to clear the Passage to the Place where the Commodities lie.

† Debagager, to pack up. Say plier bagage.

Debagouler, dire sans suite & hors de propos, to bring out things foolishly, to talk filitly.

Debalé, unpacked.

Debaler, to unpack.

As, debaler de la Marchandise, to unpack a Commodity.

Debandade. As, aller à la debandade, c. par troupe, & sans ordre, to go confusedly, or without any order.

Debandé, unt'y'd; unbent.

Debander, to unt'y; to unbend.

As, debander le bras, to unt'y (or unbind) his arm.

Debander un arc, to unbend a bow.

Se debander, to slacken, or grow loose; to leave the body of the Army.

Cordes qui se debandent, strings that slacken.

Une partie de son Infanterie s'étoit debandée à poursuivre les Fuyards, part of his Infantry left the Army to pursue the Enemy.

Debarassé, got clear, got out, disintangled, disintricated.

Debarassé d'une mauvaise affaire, got out of a scurvy business.

Debarasser, to clear, get clear, free, or get out, to disintangle or disintricate.

As, debarasser un Passage, to clear a Passage.

Je l'ai debarassé d'un Fâcheux qui le chagrinoit fort, I got him clear from a troublesome Man who was a burden to him.

Debarasser son cœur des Engagemens du Monde, to free his mind (to get it clear) from the Temptations of the World.

Se debarasser, to get clear, to get out, to rid himself.

Il s'est debarassé de leurs mains, & les a chargés à coups d'épée, he got out of their hands, and laid on heavily with his Sword.

Elle se debarassa de sa Compagnie le plus tôt qu'elle put, she rid her self of her Company as soon as she was able.

Se debarasser l'esprit, to clear (to ease) his mind.

Debarbouillé, clean, washed (or made) clean.

As, debarbouiller un Enfant, to wash a Child's face clean that was very smutty.

Se debarbouiller, to debarbouiller le visage, to wash his face clean, to wash (or wipe) the dirt off.

Debardé, disburdened.

Debarder (Terme de Portefaix,) se decharger d'un Fardeau qu'on porte sur le dos, to disburden himself of.

As, debarder une Charge de Coterets, to disburden himself of a Load of Fagots.

Debardeur, (m.) a Lighter-man, a Porter that belongs to a Lighter for the unloading thereof.

Debarqué, disembarked; unladed, unloaded, landed, or set on shore.

Debarquement, (m.) a disembarking; an unloading, or unloading, a landing, or setting on shore.

Le Debarquement causa beaucoup de Joie, the Landing caused a great Joy.

Debarquer, to disembark; to unlade, or unload, to land, or set on shore.

As, debarquer, fortir du Vaisseau pour prendre terre, to disembark, or go ashore.

Debarquer les Troupes, & le Canon, to land the Forces, and the Cannon.

Debarquer les Marchandises, to unlade (or unload) the Commodities.

Debarré, unbarred.

Debarrer, to unbar.

As, debarrer une porte, ou les fenêtres, to unbar a door, or the windows.

Debatté } See } Debâté.

Debatter } See } Debâter.

Debat, (m.) debate; dispute, altercation, strife, contention.

Après plusieurs débats & contestations on demeura d'accord de la Paix, after several debates and contests the Peace was agreed upon.

Or thus. As, Ex. 17. 7. il nomma le Lieu Massa & Meriba, à cause du Debat des Enfants d'Israël, he called the name of the Place Massah and Meribah, because of the Chiding of the Children of Israel.

Non point en débats de Disputes, (Rom. 14. 1.) not to doubtful Disputations.

Debâté, unsaddled, or rid of the pack-saddle.

† Chevaucher comme un Ane débâté, to go to it hotly, or briskly, (like an Ass, who being discharged of his burden, and set at liberty, is the friskest Creature alive.)

Debâter, oter le bât de dessus le dos d'une Bête de somme, to unsaddle, to take off the pack-saddle.

As, débâter un Ane, ou un Mulet, to unsaddle an Ass, or a Mule.

† Se débâter (Terme de Jeu) to play who shall pay all.

† Débateur, (m.) from Debatre, a contentious person, one that is apt to strive; 2 Tim. 2. 24.

† Débâtillé, unchristened, that hath got a new Name.

† Débâtiser, to unchristen, to give another Name.

Se débâtiser, to take another Name.

Debatre (from Debat) to debate, discuss, or examine; to dispute, strive, or contend; to chide, Ex. 17. 2. Ps. 103. 9; to fall out, Gen. 43. 24.

Debatre un Conte, to examine an Account.

Debatre une Affaire, to debate (or discuss) a Business.

Se debatre, se demener, to struggle.

As, il ne fait que se debatre, he does nothing but struggle.

Se debatre, ou se disputer, to strive, to contend.

As, John 6. 52. les Juifs se debatoient entre eux, the Jews strove amongst themselves.

Debatu, debated, discussed, examined.

Un Point debatue entre les Parties, a Point debated among the Parties.

La Chose a été souvent debatue, the Business hath been often debated.

Debauche, (f.) a merry meeting, a merriment; debauchery, lewdness, riot, excesses, dissolution.

Faire debauche, to be merry. Aimer l'honnête debauche, to love an honest merriment.

Un homme qui est plongé dans la debauche, a debauched man, a lewd man, a man given over to debauchery and lewdness.

Passer sa Vie dans les Debauches, to lead a lewd Life.

Manger son Bien dans les debauches, to spend his Substance (or Estate) in lewdness, or debauchery.

Or thus. As, être dans la debauche des Femmes, to debauch himself amongst Women, to be given to Women.

Debauché, debauched, loose, lewd, given to debauchery; (whether it be Drink, Play, or any unlawful Congress of Men and Women.)

Un Debauché, (Subst.) a loose Man, a Debauchee. C'est un franc Debauché, he is one of the loosest Men alive, he is a pure Debauchee.

But this Word, with a kind Epithet to it, may be also taken in good part. As, un honnête Debauché, a Man that loves an honest Mirth.

Une Debauchée, a loose (or lewd) Woman, a Prostitute, a Whore.

C'est une infame Debauchée, she is an infamous Whore.

Debaucher, to debauch, spoil, or deprave; to take off; to get (or intice) away.

C'est vous qui m'avez debauché, 'tis you that debauched me. Debaucher une Pucelle, to debauch a Virgin.

Debaucher quécun de son Travail, to take one off from his Work.

Il m'a debauché mes Chalandes, he has got away my Customers. Debaucher un Serviteur, le faire quitter son Maître, to intice a Servant away, to intice him from his Master's Service.

Se debaucher, to debauch himself, to take a lewd course of life; to depart, as Ps. 18. 21.

† Debâté, disfigured, whose face is torn, or here and there scratched; that looks sorrowfully, decayed, and far spent, as one that is but newly recovered of a great sickness.

† Debâtter quécun, to disfigure one, by tearing or scratching of his face, &c.

Debile, or (rather) foible, weak, feeble, faint, infirm.

Debilité, or (rather) foiblesse, f. weakness, feebleness, debility, faintness, infirmity.

Il lui a pris ce matin une débilité au fortir du Lit, he was this morning taken with a weakness as he came out of his bed.

† Debilité, (the Part.) feeble, grown feeble, debilitated.

As, Psal. 38. 8. Je suis débilité & brisé

tant & plus, I am feeble and sore broken.

Debilité, or (rather) affoiblir, to weaken, to debilitate.

La grande Debauche debilité les Nerfs, great Excesses do debilitate the Nerves.

Se debilité, to weaken, or grow weak.

As, la Veüe se debilité en lisant, a mans Sight is weakened by reading.

Debit, (m.) utterance, or sale; utterance, or delivery.

Un prompt debit, a quick sale; a good utterance.

Avoir le debit agreable, avoir un beau debit, to have a fine utterance, or a quaint way of delivery.

Or thus. As, un Livre qui n'a point de debit, a Book that does not take well, that does not make a quick return, that does not turn to account.

Marchandise qui a un fort grand debit, a Commodity that takes exceeding well.

Il s'en fait un grand debit, there is a great deal of it sold.

Debité, sold, put off.

Debiter, to sell, utter, or put off; to utter, or deliver.

As, debiter ses Marchandises, to sell (utter, or put off) his Commodities.

Il debite agreablement son fait, he delivers his matter finely.

Or thus. As, debiter le bois (en Terme de Menuisier) to cut wood into small parcels.

Il debite de pernicious Dogmes, he vents abroad pernicious Doctrines.

Debiteur (from Devoir) m. a Debtor.

Un mechant Debiteur, a desperate Debtor.

Debitrice (f.) a Debtor.

Deboîté. See Deboité.

Deboire (m.) farewell, an after-tast, or twang, which a liquor leaves behind in the mouth; grief, sorrow, a choak-pear.

Ce Vin n'a qu'un gout plat & un deboire affreux, this Wine drinks but flat and leaves a scurvy tast, it has no good farewell with it.

† C'est un terrible deboire pour lui, it must needs be a terrible grief to him, it is to him a notable choak-pear.

Deboité (Terme de Chirurgien) out of joint.

As, un os deboité, a bone out of joint.

Debonder, to open.

As, debonder l'Ecluse, to open the Sluce.

Or thus. As, debonder en larmes, to break out (to burst forth) into tears.

Debondonné, unbunged, unstopped.

Debondonner, to unbung, to unstop.

As, debondonner un muid, to unbung a hogs-head.

Debonnaire, good, gracious, meek, debonair.

This Word is little in use, except for an Epithet to that Lewis, King of France, who was surnamed le Pieux, ou le Debonnaire, that is the Godly, or the Meek.

Ps. 149. 4. you will find this Word used Substantively. As, l'Eternel rendra honorables les Debonnaires en les delivrant, the Lord will beautify the Meek with salvation.

† Debonnairété (f.) goodness, good nature, kind nature, gentleness, meekness, moderation, Phil. 4. 5.

Debordé, unbordred; broke out of its banks, or bounds; lewd, dissolute.

Ma jupe est debordée, my Peticoat is unbordred.

La Riviere est debordée, the River is broke out of its banks, it overflow's the Country.

Mener une Vie debordée, to lead a lewd (or dissolute) life.

Debordement (m.) an Overflowing, or Inundation; lewdness, or dissolution.

As, le debordement du Nil, the overflowing of Nilus. Un debordement d'humeurs, an overflowing of humours.

Toute l'Europe courroit risque, si Charles ne se fût opposé à ce debordement d'Infidèles, all Europe was in great hazard, had not Charles opposed his Forces to that Inundation of the Infidels.

C'est un debordement (ou dereglement) honteux, 'tis a shamefull Lewdness.

Deborder, to unbordred; to overflow, or break out of its banks.

Deborder une jupe, to unbordred a Peticoat.

Une

Une Riviere qui deborde, an overflowing River.

Or thus. As, Paris void chez lui tous les ans les Auteurs à grands flots deborder de tout tems, every year brings forth at Paris an endless Crowd of Writers.

Se deborder, to overflow, break out, overwhelm; to be wanton, John 5. 5.

Le Nil se deborde, & son Debordement rend la Terre fertile, the Nilus overflow's, and its Overflowing makes the Land fruitful.

Se deborder en paroles impures & licentieuses, to break out into unchast and licentious expressions.

Sa Cruauté se deborda sur toutes sortes d'Âges, his Cruelty broke out every where, made no distinction of Age. Des lors les Eaux se fussent débordées sur nous, (Ps. 124. 4.) then the Waters had overwhelmed us.

Se deborder (en Termes de Mer) to get off.

Deboté, unbooted, that hath got his boots off.

Deboter, to pull off ones boots.

Faites moi venir un Laquais pour me deboter, call a Footman to pull off my boots.

Se deboter, tirer ses botes soi même, to pull off his boots himself.

Debouché, unstopped, open.

Deboucher, to unstop, to open.

As, deboucher un trou, to unstop a hole.

Deboucher une bouteille, to open a bottle.

Or thus. As, le Cidre debouche les Entrailles, Cider opens the obstructions of the Entrails.

Debouclé, unrung; uncured.

Deboucler, to unrung; to uncure, or undo the curls of.

As, deboucler une Cavale, to unrung a Mare.

Deboucler une Perruque, to undo the curls of a Perwig.

Debouquer, Terme en usage dans les Isles Françoises de l'Amérique, to get out of a Channel.

†Deboursé, taken out of a mire.

†Debourser, tirer de la boue, to take out of a mire.

†Deboursé, the flocks whereof are taken out; made fit for something.

†Debourser, to take out the flocks; to refine, or make fit for something.

†Se debourser, to grow genteel.

Deboursé, disburged, laid out.

Il y a tant de deboursé, there is so much laid out.

Deboursément (m.) a disbursement, disbursement, or laying out.

Faire un deboursément considerable, to lay out a considerable Sum of money.

Debourser, to disburse, or lay out.

J'ai deboursé plus de cent pistoles à la poursuite de cette Affaire, I laid out above a hundred pistols in the prosecution of that Business.

Or thus. As, il vous faudra debourser bien de l'argent, you will be put to a great deal of charges.

Debout, up, standing Judg. 15. 5.

Debout, qu'on se leve, up, rise. Je suis debout, I am up. Se tenir debout, to stand up.

La Muraille de la Ville étoit encore debout, the Town-Wall was up still.

Que celui qui s'estime être debout prenne garde qu'il ne tombe (1 Cor. 10. 12.) let him that thinks he standeth take heed lest he fall.

C'est par la Foi que vous êtes debout (2. Cor. 1. 24.) by Faith ye stand.

Debouté (Terme de Droit) frustrated, deny'd, cast off.

As, ils en furent deboutez par Arrêt, they were deny'd it by a Decree from the Court.

Or thus. As, Isaiab 53. 3. † Il est le meprisé & debouté d'entre les hommes, he is despised and rejected of men.

Debouter, to deprive, frustrate, or deny; to cast off.

Ne ce sera pas toi, ô Dieu, qui nous avoit deboutez? (Ps. 108. 11.) wilt not thou, O God, who has cast us off?

Or thus. As, Ps. 36. 11. † Que le pié de l'Orgueilleux ne s'avance sur moi, & que la main des Mechans ne me deboute, let not the foot of Pride come against me, and let not the hand of the Wicked remove me.

And Ps. 62. 4. Ils ne font que consulter, pour le debouter de sa hauteffe, they only consult, to cast him down from his excellency.

Deboutonné, unbuttoned.

† Manger à ventre deboutonné, to eat while his skin will hold.

Deboutonner, to unbutton.

As, deboutonner son Juste au corps, se deboutonner, to unbutton his Coat.

† Debraillé, naked down to the breast.

Il est tout debraillé, his breast is open, or he shews his breast.

† Debrailler, to open his breast.

† Debrailler, (Terme de Triquetrac) to save the lurch.

Debridé, unbridled.

Debrider, to unbridle, to take off the bridle.

As, debrider un Cheval, to unbridle a Horse, or to take off his bridle.

Sans debrider, without drawing bit. Sans debrider, cd. sans discontinuer, without intermission.

Debris, (m.) ruins, wrack, the ruins or fragments of a Thing wracked or fain to ruin.

Le Debris d'un Navire, the Fragments of a Ship. Il cherche Rome en ses vastes Debris, he looks for Rome in its vast Ruins.

Or thus. Le debris d'une Armée, the scattered Remnants of an Army.

Je n'ai recueilli que cela du debris de mon Patrimoine, those are the only Relicks of my wasted Patrimony.

Debrouillé, cleared, disintangled, disintricated.

Debrouillement, (m.) a clearing, disintangling, or disintricating.

Le debrouillement du Chaos, the dispersing of the Chaos.

Debrouiller, to clear, to disintangle, or disintricate.

Debrouiller une Affaire, to clear (to disintangle, or disintricate) a Business.

Debrutalisé, civilized.

Debrutaliser, to civilize.

On aura bien de la peine à le debrutaliser, it will be a hard matter to civilize him.

Debte } Dette.

† Debteur } See } Debiteur.

Devoir } Devoir.

† Debusqué, supplanted, undermined.

† Debusquer, to supplant, or undermine; to force one from his post.

Debut, (m.) the beginning of a Discourse.

On fait un grand coup quand on fait un beau debut, 'tis a great matter to begin well.

Debiter, to begin.

Il importe en toutes choses de debiter avec esprit, 'tis a great matter in all things to begin ingeniously.

Il a malheureusement debuté auprès d'elle, the beginning of his Address to her was unlucky.

Deça, on this side.

As, deça la Riviere, on this side the River.

Deça & de là, up and down. As, courir deça & de là, to run up and down.

De deça, of these Parts, from hence. As, je vous envoie toutes les Nouvelles de deça, I shall send you an Account of all News in these Parts.

Au deça, en deça, par deça, this way, on this side.

Decacheté, unsealed, open.

Decacheter, to unseal, to open.

As, decacheter une Lettre, to open (to unseal) a Letter.

Decade, (f.) a decade, or number of Ten.

As, une Decade de Sermons, a Decade of Sermons.

Les Decades de Tite live, Livy's Decades.

Decadence, (f.) decay, declining, fall, or ruin.

Un Empire qui va en decadence, a declining

(or falling) Empire, an Empire that begins to fall.

Or thus. As, tout va en decadence, all goes to wrack.

Decagone, (m.) a Decagone, or a Figure consisting of ten Angles.

Le Decagone, en Termes de Fortification, est une Figure, ou un Polygone, compris par dix Cotez, qui forment dix Angles, capables chacun d'un Bastion.

Decalogue, (m.) the Decalogue, or the Ten Commandments.

Decampé, discamped, decamped, gone from the Camp, marched off.

As, l'Armée est decampée, the Army is marched off.

† Il est decampé, cd. il s'en est fui, he is gone.

Decampement, (m.) a Decampment, or marching off.

Decamper, to discamp, to decamp, to go from the Camp, to march off.

L'Armée decampa à la pointe du Jour, the Army marched off by break of Day.

† Decamper, fuir, s'en aller vite, to march off, to run away.

As, je l'ai bien fait decamper, I made him quickly march off.

Decapité, beheaded.

Il est condamné à être decapité, he is condemned to be beheaded.

Decapiter, or (rather) couper le cou, ou la tête, to behead.

Decédé, deceased, dead.

Deceder, to de cease, to die.

As, Henry VIII. deceda à Londres le 8. de Janvier 1546, Henry VIII. died at London the 8th. of January 1546.

But both the Verb and its Participle are something out of date, and begin to wear out.

Decelé, disclosed, discovered, detected.

Deceler, to disclose, discover, or detect.

This Verb, as well as Deceder, begins to grow out of date.

Decembre, (m.) December.

Il mourut le premier Jour de Decembre, he died the first day of December.

† Decemment, (from Decent) decently, handsomely.

Decemvirs, (m.) Decemviri, Ten Men, who were for some time chosen and appointed to govern the Roman Commonwealth instead of Consuls, with absolute Authority.

Decendant }

Decendre } See } Descendant.

Decendu } Descendre.

Decenglé } See } Descendu.

Decengler } Descanglé.

Decengler } Descangler.

Decent, decent, handsom, befitting.

En habit decent, in a decent garb.

Decente. See Descente.

† Deception, (f.) deceit.

Decerné, decreed, ordered, appointed.

As, le petit Trionfe fut decerné à Germanicus, a small Triumph was decreed for Germanicus.

Decerner, (a Word hardly used but in Books) to decree, order, or appoint.

On lui decerna les Honneurs divins, divine Honours were appointed for him.

Decès, (from Deceder) Decease, Death.

Il s'est remarié deux mois après le decès de sa Femme, he marry'd again two months after his Wife's decease.

But this Word is more in use amongst Lawyers than any where else.

Decen, deceived, disappointed.

Vous verrez votre Crainte heureusement decenue, you shall see your Fear happily deceived.

† Decevable, deceitful. Say Trompeux.

Decevoir, or (rather) Tromper, to deceive, or disappoint.

As, pour ne vous pas decevoir, not to deceive you.

Ses Soupleffes continuelles ne tendent qu'à nous decevoir, his continual fetches are in order to deceive us.

Decez. See Decès.

Dechainé, unchained, or let loose.

Un Chien dechainé, a Dog unchained, or let loose.

Prenez garde à vous, le Diable est déchainé, look to your self, the Devil is let loose.

Dechainement, (m.) outrage, or outrageous dealing.

Le Monde recommence-t-il ses dechainemens contre moi? is the World going to renew his former outrages against me?

Continuer ses dechainemens contre quécun, to continue his outrages against one.

Dechainier, to unchain, to let loose.

As, dechainier un Galerien, to unchain a Galley-slave.

Il l'a dechainé contre moi, he let him loose upon me.

Se dechainier, to break his chain, to get loose.

Se dechainier contre le Gouvernement, to invade the Government, to be a fierce Opposer of it; to leave no stone unturned to pull it down.

Se dechainier en invectives contre quécun, to break out into invectives against one.

Dechalander, without Customers, that hath lost his Customers, whose Customers are gone from him, or inticed away.

Dechalander quécun, to intice ones Customers away.

Dechalander une Boutique, to spoil the Trade of a shop, to drive its Customers away.

†Dechanter. As, il y a bien à dechanter, ed. les Choses ne vont pas comme on le croyoit, on n'en est pas où l'on pensoit. Things are not so well as 'twas supposed.

Decharge, (f.) discharge, or acquittance; a Volley of Musket-shot; a landing.

Donner une decharge à quécun, to give one a discharge, or an acquittance.

La Bourgeoisie sous les armes fit plusieurs Decharges, the Trained-bands gave several Volleys.

Faire la decharge des Marchandises, to land the Commodities.

Or thus. As, une decharge d'humeurs, a driving out (or a purging) of the humours.

Decharge de Conscience, a discharge (or ease) of Conscience.

C'est autant de decharge pour l'Etat, the State will be so much the more eased by it.

La Cavalerie fit sa decharge, the Horse charged the Enemy.

Dechargé, disburdened, eased, discharged, uncharged, &c. according to the Verb.

Je suis dechargé de ce soin là, I am free from that care.

Un Cheval fort dechargé de taille, a well made Horse.

Decharger, to disburden, or unload; to ease, free, exempt, or release; to discharge, or shoot off; to uncharge; to discharge, clear, or acquit; to spend (in a Venereous sense.)

Decharger un Crocheteur, un Chariot, une Bête de somme, to unload a Porter, a Cart, a Beast of Carriage.

Decharger des Marchandises, to unload Commodities.

Dechargez mon Cœur de l'Ennui que vous lui donnez, ease my Mind of the Trouble which you put it to.

Decharger le Peuple de Subsidies, to ease the People of their Taxes.

Decharger sa Conscience, to ease (or discharge) his Conscience.

Il m'a dechargé de beaucoup de Soins, he has eased me of (he has freed me from) a great deal of Care.

Decharger quécun d'une Obligation, to release one from an Obligation.

Decharger un Canon, to shoot off a Gun.

Decharger l'Artillerie, to discharge (or shoot off) the great Guns.

Decharger un Canon, en ôter la Charge, to uncharge a Gun.

Il l'a dechargé par sa deposition, he hath cleared him by his evidence.

Or thus. As, decharger son Ventre, to evacuate his Belly, to shute, to do his business.

Vous avez trop de cheveux, il en faut couper pour vous decharger la tête, your hair is too thick, it must be cut to cool your head.

Decharger la masse du Sang, to clear the mass of the Blood.

Le Sang entre dans la Veine cave qui le decharge dans la Cavité droite du Cœur, the Blood goes into the hollow Vein, and from thence into the right Cavity of the Heart.

Decharger sa Colere sur quécun, lui faire ressentir les effets de sa Colere, to vent his Choler (or his spleen) against one.

Je lui dechargeai un demesuré coup de poing, I laid upon him a grievous blow with my fist.

Il me dechargea un grand coup de bâton sur la tête, he gave me a great blow with his stick upon my head.

Decharger son cœur à un Ami, se soulager en lui ouvrant son cœur, to open his heart to a Friend.

Dechargez votre cœur devant lui, (Psal. 62. 8.) pour out your heart before him.

Decharger ses Soins sur quécun, to cast all his Care upon one.

Se decharger, to take (or cast) off his burden, to ease himself of his burden; to discharge, disburden, disimbogues, or empty it self; to evacuate, or drive out; to ease himself; to clear himself; to change, fade, or lose its colour.

Qu'il se decharge lui même, let him take off his burden himself.

Le Rhône se decharge dans la Mer Méditerranée, the Rhone discharges (empties, disburdens, or disimbogues) it self into the Mediterranean.

La Nature se soulage en se dechargeant des Excremens superflus, Nature eases it self by driving out the superfluous Excrements.

Je me decharge sur vous de tous ces Soins, I unload these my cares upon you.

Se decharger de sa faute, to clear himself of his charge.

S'en decharger sur un autre, ed. la rejeter sur autrui, to charge another with it.

Dechargeur, (m.) a certain Officer at the Wharfs of Paris, that causes the Commodities to be landed.

Dechargeur de Vin, a Cooper that chalks the Wine that is bought, and takes some further care of it.

Decharmé, uncharmed.

Decharmer, to uncharm.

Decharné, picked, as a bone; lank, very lean, that hath nothing but skin and bones left on him.

†Un Ouvrage maigre & decharné, a sorry (an empty) piece of Work.

Un Style decharné, an empty Style.

Decharner un os, to pick a bone, to pick the flesh off.

†Dechassé, expelled, cast out, driven out, out-cast, as Ps. 147. 2.

†Dechasser, to expel, cast out, or drive out, as Gen. 3. 24. Ex. 23. 28. to persecute, 1 Thess. 2. 15.

Dechaussé, whose shoes and stockings are off, bare-legged, bare-footed.

Me voila dechaussé, now my shoes and stockings are off.

Un Carme dechaussé, a bare-legged Carmelite.

Or thus. As, un Arbre dechaussé, a Tree opened at the root.

Une Dent dechaussée, a Tooth cleared from the gum.

Dechausser quécun, to pull off ones shoes and stockings.

Dechausser un Arbre, to open a Tree at the root, to dig about it.

Dechausser une Dent, to clear a Tooth from the gum (in order to draw it.)

Or thus. As, Ruth 4. 7. En cas de Droit de Retrait Lignager, c'étoit la Coutume que l'Homme dechaussât son Soulier, & le donnât à son Prochain, this was the Manner concerning Redeeming, the Man plucked off his Shoe, and gave it to his Neighbour.

Se dechausser, to pull off his shoes and Stockings himself.

Dechaussoir, (m.) a Fleam, the Tool wherewith Surgeons divide the Gum from the Tooth which they would draw out.

Dechet, (m.) from Dechoir, wast, or decay; loss, or damage; destruction, Prov. 14. 28.

Il y a beaucoup de dechet, le dechet est grand, ou considerable, there's a great wast.

Vous porterez le dechet, you shall bear the loss.

Dechet is also a Person of the Verb Dechoir.

Decheu, Decheute. See Dechu.

Dechevelé, dishevelled.

Une Femme toute dechevelée, a dishevelled Woman, a Woman whose hair falls disorderly about her ears.

Decheveler, to deshevel, to pull ones hair about.

Ces Femmes en se batant se sont toutes dechevelées, those Women as they fought pulled one another by the hair most wretchedly.

Dechiffré, decyphered, &c. according to the Verb.

Dechiffrer, to decypher.

As, dechiffrer une Lettre en chiffres, to decypher a Letter written in cyphers.

Or thus. Dechiffrer une Ecriture difficile à lire, to read an ugly hand, to find out the meaning.

Pourriez vous bien dechiffrer ceci? can you possibly guess at the meaning of this?

Il me fut impossible de le dechiffrer, it was past my skill to discover (or find out) the meaning of it.

†Dechiffrer une personne, la faire connaître avec tous ses défauts, la mettre en beaux draps blancs, to set one out in his colours.

Dechiffrer, (m.) qui explique les Chiffres, a Decypherer, or Expounder of Cyphers.

Dechiqueté, cut, flashed, or mangled.

Dechiqueter, to cut, flash, or mangle.

As, dechiqueter la peau, to cut the skin here and there.

Ils dechiqueterent d'une étrange façon les Corps morts, they mangled the dead Bodies in a most strange manner.

Dechiré, torn, torn off, torn in pieces; railed at, bespattered.

Or thus, in a burlesk sense. Je ne suis pas si dechirée, que je n'ise bien encore une paire de Manches. This is a Proverbial Expression used amongst middle-aged Widows, that are for a new Husband. The Metaphor is taken from a Gown, that may wear out a new pair of Sleeves.

†Dechirement, (m.) a rending, or tearing.

Dechirer, to rend, tear, tear off, tear in pieces; to rail at, or bespatter.

Dechirer un papier, to tear a paper.

Vous dechirez mon manteau, you tear my cloak.

Dechirer quécun, le mettre en pieces, to tear one in pieces.

Les uns dechirent l'Etat, & les autres l'Eglise, some rend the State, and others the Church.

Il la dechire par tout, he rails at her every where.

Ils dechiroient les Successeurs à l'Empire, they bespattered the Successors to the Empire.

Or thus. As, on les dechiroit de coups, they were mauled with blows.

Se dechirer, to rend, to tear, or tear off (in a neutral sense.)

Voyez comment il se dechire, see how it tears.

Se manger, se dechirer, to tear one another to pieces.

Dechirure, (f.) a rent.

Je me suis fait une dechirure à ma Jupe, I got a rent in my Pericost, I tore it in one place.

Dechoir, to wast, decay, pine (or fall) away; to fall, or be degraded; to fail, 1 Cor. 13. 5.

Le pauvre homme dechet de plus en plus tous les Jours, poor man, he decays every Day more and more.

Dechoir de son rang, to be degraded.

Dechoir du faite de la Gloire, to fall from the height of Glory.

Or thus. Dechoir de son Credit, to lose his Credit.

Dechoir, en Termes de Mer, not to keep the right course.

†Qu'ils decheient de leurs Conseils, (Psal. 5. 10.) let them fall by their own Counsels.

La Charité ne dechet jamais, (1 Cor. 13. 8.) Charity never faileth.

†Se dechoir, (2 Cor. 4. 16.) to perish.

Dechu, wasted, decayed, falm away; falm, Gal. 5. 4; that has taken no effect, Rom. 9. 6.

Dechu de quelque Droit, that hath lost (or forfeited) a Right, or Priviledge.

Decidé, decided, determined.

L'Affaire est décidée, the Business is decided.

Decider, to decide, determine, or resolve.

As, décider une Affaire, to decide (to determine) a Business. La Fortune decida la Chose autrement, Fortune decided the Business otherwise.

Decider une Question, ou une difficulté, to resolve a Question, or a difficulty.

Elle decidera par ses faveurs de la bonne fortune de l'un ou de l'autre, her favours shall decide the good fortune of the one or the other.

Decillé, opened.

Deciller, to open.

As, il commence à deciller les yeux, he begins to open his eyes.

Tu m'as decillé les Yeux, & je voi clairement la Vanité des Choses, thou hast opened my Eyes, and now I see clearly the Vanity of Things.

Decimes, (f.) ce que le Roi prend sur les Benefices, the Tenth of the Clergy.

L'Origine des Decimes vient des Guerres que les Rois de France firent contre les Infidèles, & ce fut alors qu'on appela Decimes une certaine Somme d'Argent qu'on leva sur le Clergé, pour contribuer aux Frais de ces Guerres. On commença en 1189. à lever ces sortes de Decimes sur les Ecclesiastiques. Depuis ce tems là, quoi qu'on ne fit plus la Guerre aux Infidèles, on ne laissa pas de lever de tems en tems sur tous les Benefices une Somme d'Argent, qu'on appela Decime Pascaline; qui en l'Année 1516. fut reduite en forme de Subvention ordinaire, & mise sur tout le Clergé. C'est ce qui s'appelle aujourd'hui les Decimes du Clergé.

Ces Decimes se paient tous les ans au Roi par tous les Beneficiers de France, soit qu'ils aient un Revenu certain, ou qu'ils ne subsistent que du Casuel de leur Benefice, comme Messieurs les Curez de Paris. La Somme qu'ils paient n'est pas proportionnée à la Valeur du Benefice dont le Beneficier jouit, mais depend purement des Messieurs qui l'imposent.

Decimé, decimated.

Decimer, prendre au fort le dixième Soldat pour le faire mourir, to decimate, to cull out every tenth Soldier, and put them to death for an Offence committed by them all.

Decisif (from Decider) decisive, peremptory.

Raison decisive, a decisive (or peremptory) Reason.

Titre decisif, a clear Title.

Decision (f.) decision, resolution, determination.

Les Decisions des Papes, the Popes Decisions.

Decisoire (Terme de Palais) decisory, deciding, decisive.

As, un Serment decisoire, a decisive Oath.

Declamateur (m.) a Declamator, or Declamer.

Declamation (f.) Declamation, an Oration made only for exercise.

Declamatoire, Declamatory.

Declamer, to declaim, or pronounce an Oration only for exercise; to declaim, or inveigh.

Declamer contre quécun, to declaim against one. Declamer contre l'Etat, to declaim (or to speak) against the State.

Je ne preten pas declamer contre un Ordre que je rever, my meaning is not to inveigh against an Order that I have a great respect for.

Declaration (f.) declaration; interpretation, 2. Pet. 1. 20.

Declaration d'amour, ou de Guerre, a Declaration of Love, or of War.

Elle prend de simples Complimens pour des Declarations d'Amour, she takes meer Compliments for Declarations of Love.

Or thus. As, j'ai commis dans ce Volume deux Fautes considerables dont je fais ma declaration, c'est l'Entreprise & l'Execution, I am guilty of two great Faults in this Volume which I acknowledge, and those are the Undertaking and the Execution.

Donner sa declaration des Biens & des Terres de quécun Fief, to give a List of the Estate and Lands of a Fief.

Declaré, declared.

Il a été déclaré criminel, he was declared (or found) guilty.

La Guerre est déclarée, the War is declared.

Or thus. C'est mon Enemi déclaré, he is my professed Enemy.

Declarer, to declare, tell, or make known; to declare, publish, or proclaim; to shew, John 11. 57, and Rev. 1. 1.

As, déclarer ses Intentions, to declare (or make known) his Intentions. Declarer ses Complices, to declare his Accomplices. Je vous declare, qu'il n'y a rien de tel, I tell you (upon my word) there is no such thing.

Declarer la Guerre, to declare War. L'Espagne a déclaré la Guerre à la France, & en a laissé la conduite à la France, Spain has declared War against France, and left to France the management of it.

Se déclarer, to declare (tell, or open) his mind; to manifest himself, John 14. 22.

Le Roi s'est déclaré là dessus, the King hath declared his mind upon that. Se déclarer à un Ami, to declare his mind to a Friend, to tell (or open) him his mind.

Il faut se déclarer pour ou contre, il n'y a point de milieu, we must declare one way or other pro or con, there is no help for it.

Or thus. La Maladie s'est déclarée au bras, the Distemper is broke out in the arm.

Declin (m.) decline, declining, going off, or going away.

Le declin de l'age, the decline of ones age.

Le declin d'un Etat, the declining (or fall) of a State. Le declin du jour, the declining part of the Day, or the latter part of it.

Declin de Maladie, le tems auquel elle commence à cesser, the declining (or decrease) of a Distemper.

Etre sur le declin de ses Jours, to be of a declining Age.

L'Hiver est sur son declin, Winter is going away. L'Année est sur son declin, the Year growing towards an end. Etat qui est sur son declin, a declining State, a State that go's down the wind.

Declinaison (f.) Declension, Declination.

Les Noms Latins se reduisent à cinq Declinaisons, Latine Nouns are reduced to five Declensions.

Savoir la Declinaison du Soleil, to know the Declination of the Sun.

Declinatoire (m.) Terme de Palais, an Exception taken against a Judge, or Jurisdiction.

Decliné, declined; far spent, Luke 24. 29.

Decliner, to decline, or grow old; to decline, fade away, decay, or wear away; to decline, or go to wrack; to decline, or avoid; to decline, sinerve, or go astray.

As, il commence à decliner, he begins to decline, or to grow old.

Sa beauté decline, her beauty fades away.

Je m'en vai comme l'Ombre quand elle decline (Ps. 109. 23.) I am gone like the shadow when it declineth.

Ses Affaires commencent à decliner, his Affairs begin to decline, or to go to wrack.

Decliner une Jurisdiction, to decline a Jurisdiction, to except against it.

† Nos pas n'ont point decliné de tes Sentiers (Ps. 44. 18.) neither have our steps declined from thy Ways.

Or thus. As, le jour decline, it begins to grow late.

L'Aimant ne decline pas toujours de même en un même Endroit de la Terre, the Load-stone doth not always decline alike in the same Part of the Earth.

† Ne decline ni à droit ni à gauche, de-tourne ton pié du Mal (Prov. 4. 27.) turn not to the right nor to the left, remove thy foot from evil.

Decliner un Nom, to decline a Noun.

Decloüé, unmailed.

Decloüer, to unmail.

As, decloüer un ais, to unmail a board.

Decoché, shot, let fly.

Decocher, to shoot, to let fly.

As, decocher une fleche, to shoot (or let fly) an arrow.

Decoction (f.) decoction.

Faire une decoction, to make a decoction.

Decoifée, whose Coif is pulled off.

Je l'ai veüe toute decoifée, I saw her with her Coif off.

Decoifer une femme, to pull a Woman's Coif off.

† Decoifer une bouteille, to open a bottle and drink it off.

Decolation. See Decollation.

Decolé, unglued, come off.

Decoler, to unglue, to make come off.

Se decoler, to come off.

Decollation (f.) a beheading.

La Decollation de S. Jean Batiste, the beheading of S. John the Baptist.

† Decollé, beheaded.

† Decoller, for couper la tête, or couper le cou, to behead; to break the neck, Ex. 34. 20; to strike off the neck, Deut. 21. 4.

Decoloré, discoloured, that has lost its colour, faded away.

† Deconpter. See Deconter.

Deconcerté, confounded, disappointed, frustrated.

Deconcerter, to confound, disappoint, or frustrate.

Deconcerter les Deseins de l'Enemi, to frustrate (disappoint, or confound) the Designs of the Enemy.

Cette surprise deconcerta sa Raison, that surprise confounded his Reason.

Se deconcerter, to be concerned, or disturbed.

As, il agit avec une presence d'esprit merveilleuse, & ne se deconcerta point dans une Conjoncture si delicate, he acted with a marvellous presence of mind, and was not at all disturbed in so nice a Conjunction.

Sans s'emouvoir, sans se deconcerter, il repondit, que, without being any thing moved, or disturbed, he answered, that.

† Deconfire, to rout, defeat, or discomfit; to consume, 2 Thess. 2. 8.

† Deconfit, routed, defeated, discomfited.

Or thus. As, Ps. 83. 11. Lesquels furent deconfits à Hendor, which perished at Endor.

† Deconfiture (f.) a Rout, Defeat, Overthrow, or Slaughter.

† Deconforté, discomforted, out of heart.

† Se Deconforter, to be discomforted, or out of heart. Say's affliger.

Deconseillé, disswaded.

Deconseiller, to dissuade.

† Decontenance, out of countenance.

As, il est tout decontenance, he is quite out of countenance.

† Deconter, to discount.

Il y a bien à deconter, things fall short of expectation.

Decorateur (m.) Decorator, an Officer in a Play-house, he that sets up the Hangings.

Decoration (f.) decoration, ornament, set-off.

Decorations de Theatre, de Carrousel, de Tournois, de Chapelle, d'Eglise, the Decorations of a Stage, of a Carrousel, Turnament, Chappel, or Church.

La Decoration d'un Parterre de Jardin, the Set-offs of a flower-Garden.

Decouché, put out of his bed.

Decoucher, to ly out, to ly out of his bed, to ly from his usual bedfellow.

Je n'aime point à decoucher, I don't love at all to ly out.

Il ne decouche jamais d'avec sa femme, he never ly's from his Wife.

Decoucher quécun, to put one out of his bed, or to cause him to resign it to another.

Decoudre, to unsow, to unrip.

As, decoudre une cravate, to unsow a cravat.

† Il en faut decoudre, cd. il en faut venir aux mains, we must go to it, we must have a bout together.

Se decoudre, to unrip (in a neutral sense.)

Decoulant, flowing.

Un Pais decoulant de lait & de miel (Ex. 13. 5.) a Country flowing with milk and honey.

Decouler, to flow, to run down. As, Ps. 147. 18, and Ps. 133. 2.

Or thus. As, Lev. 15. 2. tout homme à qui qui la Chair découle, any man who hath a running Issue out of his flesh.

Decoupe, cut.

Decouper, to cut.

As, découper, or (rather) couper la Viande, to cut the Meat.

Decouper du Drap, to cut Cloth into flowers.

Decoupeur (m.) one that figures Cloth or Stuffs.

Decouplé, uncoupled.

Decoupler, to uncouple.

Decoupure (from Decouper) f. cut Cloth, or cut Cloth work.

Decouragé, discouraged, out of heart.

Decouragement, (m.) discouragement.

Decourager, to discourage, to put out of heart, to put of conceit.

Il m'en decourage, he discourages me from it, he puts me out of conceit with it.

Se decourager, to be discouraged, to lose courage, to despond.

Decours, (m.) wane, decrease.

As, le decours de la Lune, the wane (or decrease) of the Moon.

Or thus. As, le decours des Eaux, the Sream, Ps. 126.4; the Water-brook, Ps. 42.1.

Decouffu (from Decoudre) unfowed, unripi.

Il n'y a rien de déchiré, ce n'est que decouffu, there's nothing torn, 'tis but unfowed.

Les Affaires sont fort decouffues, cd. en mauvais état, Things are in a bad posture.

Decouffure, (f.) Terme de Chasse, a Gash made upon a Dog by the tusks of a wild Boar.

Decouvert; uncovered, open, bare, or bare-headed; discovered, or found out; discovered, disclosed, or revealed.

Je l'ai trouvé au Lit tout decouvert, I found him abed all uncovered.

Païs decouvert, où il n'y a pas beaucoup d'Arbres, an open Country. Un Lieu decouvert, an open Place.

Sa Gorge étoit à demi decouverte, her Breast was half open.

Se tenir decouvert, ou la tête decouverte, to be bare, or bare-headed.

Un Païs tout nouvellement decouvert, a Country newly discovered, a new-found Country.

Sa Tromperie est decouverte, his Cheat is found out. Tout est decouvert, all is discovered.

A decouvert, (Adv.) openly, in the open air; openly, bare-faced, in the face of all people.

As, nous étions à decouvert, we were in the open air.

Faire tout à decouvert, to do all openly, bar fac'd, in the sight of the whole World.

Decouverte, (a fem. Subst.) discovery, or finding out; discovery, or thing discovered.

As, la Decouverte du nouveau Monde, the Discovery (or finding out) of the New World.

Faire la decouverte d'un Païs, ou d'une Conjuración, to make the discovery of a Country, or of a Conspiracy. La decouverte d'une Verité, the finding out of a Truth.

L'Experience fait tous les jours de nouvelles Decouvertes, Experience makes daily new Discoveries.

Or thus. As, envoyer à la decouverte (en Termes de Guerre) to send out Scouts.

† Decouverte, (f.) discovery. Say Decouverte.

Decouvrir, to uncover; to discover, see, perceive, or find out; to discover, disclose, or reveal.

As, dort elle? decouvrez la, doth she sleep? uncover her.

Je ne saurois le decouvrir de si loin, I cannot see it so far off. Je decouvre son Crime sur son Visage, I see (I discover) his Crime upon his Face.

Decouvrir une Verité, to find out, (to discover) a Truth. Decouvrir le Dessein des Enemis, to discover (or find out) the Enemy's Design. Je decouvrirai par là sa malice, I shall thereby discover his malice.

Decouvrir de nouveaux Païs, to discover new Countries.

Decouvrir un Secret, ou une Conspiration, to discover a Secret, or Conspiracy, to make a discovery of it.

Son Visage & son Discours decouvrent ce qu'il a dans l'Âme, his Countenance and Discourse discover all that is in his heart.

Or thus. As, decouvrir sa pensée, son sentiment, to open (to tell) his mind.

Decouvre mes yeux, afin que je regarde aux merveilles de ta Loi, (Ps. 119.18.) open thou my eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy Law.

Decouvrez, decouvrez, jusqu'à ses fondemens, (Ps. 137.7.) rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.

Se decouvrir, to uncover himself; to pull off his hat; to discover himself.

Je me suis decouvert la nuit, & c'est par là que j'ai pris froid, I uncovered my self last night, and so I got my cold.

Decouvrez vous, decouvrez vous la tête, pull off your hat.

Se decouvrir à quécun, se faire conoître à lui, to discover himself (to make himself known) to one. Se decouvrir (ou se declarer) à quécun, lui faire conoître ses sentimens, to open his mind to one.

Decraiss, clean, made clean.

Decraiss, to make clean, to get the dirt off.

Se decraiss le Visage avec eau & pommade, to get the dirt off his face with water and pomatum.

Decredité, disgraced, discredited.

Decrediter, to disgrace, or discredit.

La plupart cachent leurs Disgraces, pour ne pas se decrediter, most people conceal their Misfortunes, for fear of disgracing themselves, or to save their reputation.

Decrepite, decrepite, extreme old.

As, une Vieille decrepite, an old decrepit Woman.

Decrepitude, (f.) Age decrepit, decrepit old Age, decrepitness.

Decret, (m.) a Decree; an Order.

As, les Decrets de Dieu, God's Decrees. Les Decrets des Papes, the Popes Decrees.

Un Decret de la Cour, a Decree of the Court.

Decretales, (f.) Constitutions de Papes, Decretals.

On appelle aussi Decretales un Recueil de plusieurs Lettres de divers Papes, qui fut composé par le Commandement de Gregoire IX, there goes also by the name of Decretals a certain Collection of several Popes Letters, compiled by the Command of Pope Gregory IX.

L'Eglise Gallicane n'a pas reçu toutes les Decretales, the Gallicane Church hath not received all the Decretals.

Decreter, to order, or decree.

Decreter prise de Corps, to order a person to be apprehended.

Or thus. As, Decreter une Terre, to give a Judgment (or pass an Order) in Court for the Sale of an Estate.

Decru. See Decru.

Decri, (m.) a crying down, or prohibition; disgrace, discredit.

As, le decri des Monoies, the crying down of Coin.

Etre dans le decri, to be under some disgrace.

Decrié, cry'd down, or prohibited; cry'd down, disgraced, discredited.

Decrier, to cry down, or prohibit; to cry down, disparage, disgrace, or discredit.

As, decrier la Monnaie, to cry Money down.

Decrier quécun, en parler mal, to cry one down, to speak ill of him, to disparage (disgrace, or discredit) him. Decrier un Livre, to cry a Book down, to disgrace (or disparage) it.

Or thus. As, decrier quécun dans l'esprit du Peuple, to make one odious to the People.

Decrire, to draw; to describe, or make a description of; to copy, or to transcribe.

Decrire une ligne courbe avec le Compas, to draw a crooked line with a pair of Compasses.

Decrire les Malheurs de l'Etat, to describe the Troubles of the State.

Decroché, took down, or took off of the book.

Decrocher, to take down, to take off of the book.

Decroire, to disbelieve.

As, je ne le croi, ni ne le decroi, I neither believe him, nor disbelieve him.

Note that this Verb is hardly to be used any where else but in this very Expression.

Decroissement, (m.) decrease.

Le Decroissement du Nil, the Decrease (or ebbing) of Nilus.

Decroître, to decrease.

Le Nil croit quarante Jours, & en decroit autant, the Nilus flows forty days, and is as long ebbing.

Decroté, rubbed clean.

Je veux que mes Souliers soient bien decrotés, I will have my Shoes rubbed very clean.

Or thus, in a burlesk and Venerous sense. † Elle est jolie, & merite bien la peine d'être decrotée, she is handsome, and deserves very well to be dealt withal.

Decroter, to rub the dirt off, to rub clean.

Il faut que je decrote mes Souliers, I must rub the dirt off of my Shoes, I must rub my Shoes clean.

Decrotoire, (f.) a rubbing brush.

Decru (from Decroître) decreased.

Decry. See Decri.

Decurie, (f.) Terme dont on se sert en parlant des anciens Romains, a Company of ten Men.

Dedaigner, to scorn, to despise.

Je les dedaigne si fort que je n'en puis medire, I scorn them at that rate that I cannot speak ill of them.

On ne dedaigne que ce qu'on croit qui ne vaut rien, those things only are despised which are supposed to be good for nothing.

Or thus. As, 1 Sam. 2.17. les Hommes en dedaignoient l'Oblation de l'Eternel, Men abhorred the Offering of the Lord.

Dedaigneusement, disdainfully, scornfully, with a scornful eye.

Regarder quécun dedaigneusement, to look upon one with a scornful eye.

Dedaigneux, disdainful, scornful.

Un regard dedaigneux, a disdainful (or a scornful) look.

Une humeur dedaigneuse, a scornful humour.

Dedain, (m.) disdain, scorn, contempt.

Le Dedain est une Colere meprisante, qui fait soulever l'Âme contre ce qui lui deplaît, Disdain is a scornful Anger, that makes the Soul rise up against what it dislikes.

Avoir un grand dedain pour quécun, to have a great contempt for one.

† Celui qui rebute l'Instruction a en dedain son Âme, (Prov. 15. 32.) he that refuseth Instruction despiseth his own Soul.

Dedans, in.

Aller dedans, to go in. Regarder dedans, to look in. Il est entré dedans, he is gone in.

Or thus. As, mettre les Voiles dedans, (en Termes de Marine) to furl the Sails.

Au dedans, inward. Par dedans, through. Garnir par dedans, to furnish the inside.

Dedans, (a masc. Subst.) the inside, the inward part of a Thing.

As, le dedans d'une Maison, the inside of a House.

Mettre un Cheval dedans, cd. le dresser, to manage a Horse.

Dedicace, (f.) Dedicacion, or Epistle dedicatory.

Les Dedicaces, aussi bien que les Prefaces, doivent être courtes, Dedications, as well as Prefaces, ought to be short.

Dedicace (ou Consecration) d'Eglise, the Consecration of a Church.

La Fête de la Dedicace, the Feast of the Dedication.

Dedié, dedicated.

Dedier, to dedicate.

As, dedier un Livre à quécun, to dedicate a Book to one.

Dedier une Eglise à un Saint, to dedicate a Church to a Saint.
 Dedire, desavouer ce qu'un autre a fait, to disown what is done by another.
 As, il est permis à un homme de dedire sa Femme, a man may disown the actions of his Wife.
 Se dedire, to retract, unsay, or recant; to go from (not to be as good as) his word.
 As, il a été contraint de s'en dedire, he was forced to recant.
 Il n'est pas d'un honnête homme de se dedire, 'tis not the part of an honest man to go from his word.
 Or thus. As, se dedire de ses anciennes maximes, to go contrary to his old maxims.
 Dedit, (m.) unsaying.
 Avoir son dit & son dedit, to say and unsay.
 Le dedit est de vingt pistoles, he retracts twenty pistols of his bargain.
 Dedommagé, saved harmless, indemnified.
 Dedommagement, (m.) a saving harmless, an indemnity, or indemnifying.
 Dedommager, to save harmless, to indemnify.
 Se dedommager, to save himself harmless.
 Dedoublé, unlined, whose lining is took off.
 Dedoubler, to unline, to take off the lining.
 As, dedoubler un Manteau, to take off the lining of a Cloak, to unline it.
 Deduction, (f.) rabat de Somme, deduction, abatement.
 Deduire, to deduct, or abate; to draw; to tell, or relate.
 As, deduire sur le principal, to deduct upon the principal sum.
 Deduire une Verité d'un Principe, to draw a Truth from a certain Principle.
 Si je voulois deduire ce qui s'est passé en Grece, if I had a mind to relate the Transactions (or Passages) in Greece.
 Or thus. Deduire fortement les Raisons qu'on a de faire quelque chose, to urge the Reasons one hath to go about something.
 Deduit, deducted, or abated; drawn; told, or related.
 †Deduit, (a masc. Subst.) sport, pastime, pleasure.
 Deesse (from Dieu) f. Goddes.
 As, la Deesse Venus, the Goddes Venus.
 Les Payens, qui n'avoient pas la Connoissance du vrai Dieu que nous adorons, s'étoient forgez une infinité de Dieux & de Deesses, the Heathens that had not the Knowledge of the true God we adore, did make to themselves an infinite Number both of Gods and Goddes.
 Belle Deesse que j'adore, ne pleurez plus, pray, fair Goddes, forbear your tears.
 †Defaché, appeased, pacified.
 †Defacher, to appease, or pacify.
 Defaillance, (f.) swooning, or swooning.
 Tomber en defaillance, to fall into a swoon, to swoon away.
 Il lui prit une defaillance, he fell into a swoon, he swooned away.
 Huile de tartre par defaillance, Oyl of tartar by decantation.
 †Defaillance d'yeux, (Deut. 28. 65.) a failing of eyes.
 Defaillant, failing, that fails.
 Or thus. As, Gen. 35. 29. † ainsi Isaac defaillant mourut, and Isaac gave up the ghost and died.
 Defailli, spent, consumed, fainted; that ceaseth, lacking. As, Ps. 31. 10. Ps. 102. 3. Ps. 119. 81. Judg. 21. 3.
 Or thus. As, Numb. 20. 3. † Plût à Dieu que nous fussions defaillis, would to God that we had died.
 Defaillir, to fail, or decay, to lack, to want, to be wanting; to die. Numb. 20. 3.
 Avant que le Jour commençât à leur defaillir, before the light began to fail them.
 Je me sentoie defaillir les forces, I found my strength decaying, or going away.
 Peut être en defaillira-t-il cinq des cinquante Justes, (Gen. 18. 28.) peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous.
 Or thus. Rien ne lui defaut, que d'avoir le

Sang trop chaud, nothing is amiss with him, but that his blood is too hot.
 Craignez l'Eternel, vous ses Saints, car rien ne defaut à ceux qui le craignent, Pf. 34. 9. Fear the Lord, ye his Saints, for there is no want to them that fear him.
 Tellement qu'il ne vous defaut aucun Don, (1 Cor. 1. 17.) so that you come behind in no Gift.
 Defaire, to undo, unravel, or untie; to undo, or take to pieces; to undo, or break; to rid, or deliver; to rout, defeat, overthrow, beat, or destroy.
 As, defaire un neud, to undo (or untie) a knot.
 Defaire une chose piece à piece, to undo a thing, or to take it to pieces. Les Filles de Penelope defaisoient la Nuit ce qu'elle avoit fait pendant le Jour, Penelope had Girls who unravelled in the Night what she had worked in the Day-time.
 Defaire un Mariage, to undo (or to break) a Match.
 Defaites moi de cet Incommode, rid me of (deliver me from) that troublesome Man.
 Defaire une Armée, to overthrow (or defeat) an Army. La Terre est remplie d'Extorsion par eux, & voici je les deferaie avec la Terre, (Gen. 6. 13.) the Earth is filled with violence through them, and behold I will destroy them with the Earth.
 Se defaire, to sell, or put off; to rid (or ease) himself; to quit, or part with; to fall to pieces.
 Il s'est defait de toutes ses Marchandises, he has sold all his Commodities.
 Se defaire (se débarasser) de quécun, to rid himself of some body. Je voudrois bien me defaire de mon Valet, & lui voudroit bien se defaire de moi, mais nous ne favons de quel biais nous y prendre, I would fain part with my man, and he with me, but we don't know how to go about it.
 Veu tu te defaire d'un homme? prête lui une bonne Somme, & tu ne le verras plus, wilt thou be rid of any man? do but lend him a good Sum, and thou shalt be sure never to see him more.
 Se defaire d'une Charge, ou de ses Biens, to part with a Place, or with his Estate. Se defaire d'une mauvaise habitude, to leave an ill habit.
 Une chose qui se defait, a Thing that falls to pieces.
 Or thus. As, il faut se defaire de ses prejugés, one must be void of prejudice.
 Tâcher de se defaire de quécun, ed. de le faire mourir, to contrive how to make one away, or how to murder him.
 Sans se defaire, sans s'étonner, unconcerned.
 Defait, undone; routed, defeated, beaten; pale, that has no good colour in his face.
 Les Enemis sont defaits, the Enemy is beaten.
 Un Jeune homme pâle & defait, a pale Young man.
 Defaite, (a fem. Subst.) defeat, overthrow, slaughter; a shift, evasion, excuse, pretence, or come off.
 Après cette Defaite, nous n'eumes plus de ressource, after this Defeat, we were left helpless.
 † C'est une defaite que cela, that's a meer evasion.
 Or thus. As, † une Fille d'une belle defaite, a banjom Virgin, a Virgin like to go off very well.
 † Defalqué, defaulted, deducted, abated.
 † Defalquer, to default, deduct, or abate. Say Deduire.
 † Defaveur, (f.) disfavour, disgrace. Say Disgrace.
 Defaut, the third person singular of the Present Tense Indic. Mood of the Verb Defaillir. But the same is hardly now in use. See Defaillir.
 Defaut, (a masc. Subst.) defect, want, or lack; flaw, imperfection; the default which Dogs are sometimes at in hunting; want of appearance before a Judge.
 Commettre un Peché par le defaut de Charité, to commit (or perpetrate) a Sin through want of Charity.
 Il n'y a personne sans defaut, there's no body without some imperfection.

Defaut pur & simple, an absolute and meer default.
 Or thus. Le Defaut de la Lune, the New Moon, (at which time there being a Conjunction of the Sun and Moon, the latter is not seen.)
 Ils ont suppléé à votre defaut, (1 Cor. 16. 17.) that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.
 Defectif, defective.
 As, un Verbe defectif, ed. qui n'a pas tous ses Temps, a Verb defective.
 Defectueux, defective, imperfect.
 Defectuosité, (f.) defect.
 Defenderesse, (f.) Terme de Palais, a she Defendant.
 La Defenderesse a été condamnée à payer, the she Defendant was condemned to pay.
 Defendeur, (m.) Defendant.
 Etre pour le Defendeur, to be for the Defendant.
 Defendre, to defend, to stand for, to stand in the defence of; to defend, uphold, assert, or maintain; to forbid, or prohibit.
 Defendre son Bien & sa Vie, to stand in the defence of his Life and Fortune. Defendre une Place contre une puissante Armée, to defend a Place against a powerful Army. Defendre une Cause, to defend a Cause. Defendre la Verité, to defend the Truth, to stand for it, or in the defence of it.
 Defendre une Opinion, to defend (assert, or maintain) an Opinion.
 Defendre le Duel sur peine de la Vie, to forbid Duelling upon pain of Death. Defendre le Vin à quécun, to forbid one drinking of Wine. Defendre que personne ne sorte de la Ville, to forbid all persons to go out of the Town.
 Or thus. As, les feuilles defendent la Grappe contre les ardeurs du Soleil, the leaves keep the Grapes from the burning heat of the Sun.
 Se defendre, to defend himself, to make a defence, or stand in his own defence; to forbear, or keep from.
 Ils sont assez forts pour se defendre, they are strong enough to defend themselves, or to stand in their own defence.
 Elle a tant d'esprit qu'on ne peut se defendre de l'aimer, she is so witty that one cannot forbear loving of her, she is so ingenious that one cannot but love her.
 Or thus. Je me suis bien defendu de cela, I cleared my self pretty well from that.
 Il ne sauroit se defendre de tant de reproches, he cannot clear himself from so many reproaches.
 Se defendre du Prix, ed. contester sur le Prix, to haggle about the Price.
 Place qui se peut defendre, a defensible (or tenable) Place, a Place of defence.
 Defendu, defended, or protected; forbidden, prohibited.
 La Ville est defendue par la Citadelle, the Town is defended by the Cittadel.
 Cela est defendu, that's a Thing forbidden, or prohibited. La Bible est un des Livres defendus dans l'Eglise de Rome, the Bible is one of the prohibited Books in the Church of Rome.
 Defense, (f.) defence, or guard; a fence, or fortification; defence, answer, or justification; a Reply, in Law; injunction, or prohibition.
 Se mettre en defense, to stand in his own defence, to stand upon his guard. Pourvoir à la Defense d'une Place, to provide for the Defence of a Place.
 Les principales Defenses d'une Place, the chief Fences (or Fortifications) of a Place. Une Ville sans defences, an open Town, a Town unfortified.
 Une Place capable de defense, a Place of defence, a strong (or defensible) Place.
 Entreprendre la defense d'une personne, to undertake ones defence. Qu'a-t-il dit pour sa defense? what did he say in his own defence?
 Donner ses defenses, to give in his Reply. Il a été condamné sans être ouï en ses defenses, he was condemned without being heard what he had to say for himself, or for his defence.

On a fait defences de par le Roi, there is a Prohibition from the King.
 En Termes de Couvreur on appelle aussi Defense une Late en forme de Croix, qu'on pend avec une Corde aux Toits des Maisons qu'on recouvre, afin que les Passans voyant cela se donnent de garde qu'il ne leur tombe quelque chose sur la tête.
 Les Defenses d'un Sanglier, ses grandes dents d'embas, the Tusks of a wild Boar.
 † Defenses autour d'un Toit, (Deut. 22. 8.) a Batlement of a Roof.
 Défenseur, (m.) Defender.
 Le Roi de la Grande Bretagne porte le Titre de Défenseur de la Foi, the King of Great Britain styles himself Defender of the Faith.
 Défensif, defensive.
As, une Ligue offensive & defensive, a League offensive and defensive.
 Défensive, (a fem. Subst.) As, se mettre sur la defensive, to put himself in a posture of Defence, or in a defensive posture.
 Deference, (f.) observance, respect.
As, avoir de la deference pour les personnes de merite & de qualité, to show respect to persons of worth and of quality.
 Deferé. As, le serment lui fut deferé, he was sworn, or put to his oath.
 Deferer, to yield, to submit, or give way; to charge, or accuse; to administer.
As, deferer aux Avis de quécun, to submit to ones Counsel. Ils devoient deferer aux anciennes Loix de l'Eglise, they should have submitted to the antient Laws of the Church.
 On ne voulut point deferer à son Appel, the Court did not think fit to yield to his Appeal.
 On l'a deferé, & au même tems on l'a envoyé prendre, he was accused, and at the same time a Warrant was issued out to apprehend him.
 Deferer le Serment à quécun (en Termes de Palais) lui faire prêter Serment, to administer an Oath unto one, to put him to his Oath.
 Deferre, unshod; put to a nonplus.
 Deferer, to unshoe; to put to a nonplus.
As, deferer un Cheval, to unshoe a Horse.
 Il se fit une huée, qui deferra le Temoin, a shout was made, that put the Evidence to a nonplus, that stop his mouth, or put him out of countenance.
 Desi, (m.) Challenge, Defiance.
As, faire un desi à quécun, to make one a Challenge. L'accepter, to accept it.
 Desiance, (f.) distrust, mistrust, diffidence, suspicion, jealousy; unbelief, Rom. 4. 20.
 Temoinner quécun desiance, to skew (or express) some distrust.
 J'aime mieux mourir par la mechanceté d'autrui que par ma desiance, I should rather chuse to die by another man's wickedness than by my own distrust.
 Il lui leva toutes sortes de desiances par ses Caresses, by his Caresses he removed all manner of jealousy.
 Desiant, distrustful, mistrustful, diffident.
 Que vous êtes desiant! how distrustful you are!
 Desié, challenged.
 Desier, to challenge, to defy.
 Desier quécun au Combat, to challenge one to fight.
 Je vous en desie, I defy you to do it. Je m'en vai desier les Vents au milieu de l'Océan, I go to defy the Winds in the midst of the Ocean.
 Se desier, avoir de la desiance, to mistrust, distrust, or suspect.
 Je me desie de vos promesses, I mistrust your promises.
 Se desier de ses propres forces, to suspect his own strength.
 Defiguré, disfigured, deformed, spoiled.
 Defigurer, to disfigure, deform, or spoil; to misrepresent.
As, defigurer le Visage, to disfigure the Face.
 Defigurer les Morts, to misrepresent the Dead.
 Se defigurer le Visage, to disfigure (or to spoil) his Face.

Defilé, undone, taken off of the string.
 Defilé, (a masc. Subst.) Defilé, a narrow Lane, or Passage, through which an Army marches.
 Un Defilé, où à peine quatre hommes armez pouvoient marcher de front, a Defilé, where four armed men could hardly march abreast.
 Ils donnerent sur le Bagage, à cause qu'il y avoit un long Defilé, they fell upon the Baggage, because there was a long Defilé.
 † Defilé, dit Mr. Guillet, est un Chemin si ferré, que des Troupes qui sont en marche n'y peuvent passer, qu'en faisant un petit front. Ce qui donne moyen à l'Enemi de les arrêter facilement, & de les charger avec d'autant plus d'avantage, que celles de la Tête & de la Queue ne se peuvent reciproquement secourir.
 Defiler, to undo, to take off from the string; to march through a Defile, or narrow Passage.
As, defiler un Chapelet, to take off the beads from the string.
 Defiler de la Chandelle, cd. l'ôter des broches, to take off Candles from the sticks upon which they hang.
 Faire defiler les Troupes par Compagnie, to cause the Troops to march Company after Company.
 Defini, defined.
 Defini, (Subst.) the Thing defined.
 Definir, to define, to give the definition of.
 On definit l'Homme un Animal raisonnable, they define Man a rational Creature.
 Or thus. C'est un Homme qu'on ne sauroit definir, cd. qu'on ne peut comprendre, he is a Man unsearchable.
 Definiteur, (m.) Terme de certains Religieux, the Councellor of a General or Provincial of the Order.
 Definitif, definitive, peremptory, which makes a full end of.
As, Arrêt définitif, a definitive Decree.
 Sentence définitive, a peremptory Sentence.
 Definition, (f.) definition.
 Faire la definition d'une Chose, to give the definition of a Thing.
 La Definition doit être claire & courte, a Definition ought to be clear and short.
 Définitivement, definitively, peremptorily.
As, juger définitivement, to judge definitively.
 † Defloration, (f.) the getting of one's maiden-head.
 † Deflorée, that has lost her maiden-head.
 † Deflorer, to get ones maiden-head.
 † Defluxion, (f.) a fluxion. Say fluxion.
 Defoncé, knockt out, (as the head or bottom of a Cask,) flaved.
 Defonser un Tonneau, to knock out the head or bottom of a Cask, to flave it.
 Se defonser, to be flaved.
 † Defortune, (m.) a misfortune.
 Defrayé, whose Charges are born, defray'd.
 Defrayer, to bear the Charges, to defray.
As, defrayer une personne, to bear ones Charges.
 Or thus. As, defrayer une Compagnie de bons mots, to make the Company merry.
 Defriché, grubbed up, cleared.
 Defricher, to grub up, to clear.
As, defricher un Bois, to grub up a Forest, to clear it of Trees.
 Defricher une Affaire, l'eclaircir, la débrouiller, to clear a Business, to make it clear.
 Defrisé, uncurled.
 Defriser, to uncurl.
As, defriser une Perruque, to uncurl a Perwig.
 Defroncé, the plait whereof are undone.
 Defronter, to undo the plait.
As, defronter les poignets d'une Chemise, to undo the wrist-bands of a Shirt.
 Defroqué, stript of his Religious habit.
 Un Moine defroqué, qui a quitté l'habit de Religieux, a Monk that has forsook his Order, a Monk that has made his escape, that is run away.
 Defroquer, to strip; to rob.
As, defroquer un Moine, to strip a Monk.

† Defroquer quécun, lui prendre ce qu'il a, to rob one, or to take away what he hath.
 Defuné, unrigged.
 Defuner (Terme de Mer) to unrig.
As, defuner un Mât, lui ôter son Cordage, ou sa Manœuvre, to unrig a Mast.
 Defunt (Terme de Palais) deceased, defunct, dead.
 Degagé, disengaged; got off; redeemed; free.
 Degagé de la matiere, disengaged from matter.
 En fin me voila degagé, at last I got off.
 Des Meubles degagez, redeemed Goods.
 Un Air degagé, a free Carriage. Danser d'un air degagé, to have a free way of dancing.
 Or thus. As, un Escalier degagé, an easy Stair-case.
 Degagement, (m.) freedom; a piece of Fortification by it self.
 Etre dans un entier degagement de toutes choses, to be free upon all accounts, to have no ty upon him.
 Degager, to disengage, fetch (get, or take) off; to redeem.
 Il faut le degager, we must get (or fetch) him off.
 Degager les Coeurs des Interets du Monde, to disengage Mens Hearts from Worldly Concerns.
 Degager son Epée de celle de son Enemi, to get his Sword clear from his Enemy's.
 Degager la Parole de quécun, to disengage one of his Word, or Promise.
 Degager des Meubles, to redeem Goods, to fetch out Goods that are in pawn.
 Se degager, to disengage himself, to get out.
 Se degager adroitement, to wind himself out.
 † Degainer, to draw.
As, degainer l'epée, to draw his Sword. Say tirer l'epée.
 Degarni, unfurnished, the furniture whereof is taken away; stripped of all its set-offs and ornaments; disgarnished; unmanned, or destitute of men.
 Degarnir, to unfurnish; to strip, or take off the trimming; to disgarnish; to unman.
As, degarnir une Chambre, to unfurnish a Room.
 Degarnir un Habit, to take off the trimming of a Suit.
 Degarnir le Tronc d'un Arbre, to disgarnish the stock of a Tree, to lop away all the little branches about it.
 Degarnir une Place de Soldats, to unman a Place.
 Degasconné, that hath left off his boasting Ways.
 Degasconner quécun, to bring one out of his boasting Ways.
 Now you must know this Expression is derived from the Gascons, a People of France, noted above all the rest for being great Braggadochios.
 Degast } Sec } Degât.
 † Degasté } } Degaté.
 † Degaster } } Degäter.
 Degât, (m.) Ravage que font des Troupes de Guerre dans un Pais Enemi, havoc, desolation, (such as is made by an invading Army.)
 Faire le degât dans un Pais, to ruin a Country.
 † Degaté, wasted, ruined, destroy'd, desolated, brought into desolation.
 Or thus. As, Prov. 25. 26. le Juste qui bronche devant le Mechant est comme une Fontaine embourbée, & une Source degatée, a righteous Man falling down before the Wicked is as a troubled Fountain, and a corrupt Spring.
 † Degäter, to wast, ruin, destroy, desolate, or bring into desolation.
As, Ps. 91. 6. Tu n'auras point peur ni de la Mortalité qui chemine en Tenebres, ni de la Destruction qui degâte en plein midi, thou shalt not be afraid for the Pestilence that that walketh in Darkneſs, nor for the De-ſtruction that waſteth at Noon-day.

And Lev. 26. 31. Je reduirai vos Villes en Deſert, & degaterai vos Sanctuaires, I will make your Cities waſte, and bring your Sanctuaries into deſolation.
Degel, (m.) Thaw, thawing Weather.
Le Temps eſt au Degel, 'tis thawing Weather.
Degelé, thawed.
Degeler, to thaw.
As, degeler de l'Eau, to thaw Water.
Il degèle, (a Verb Impersonal) it thaws.
As, il degèle tout à fait, it thaws for good and all, it thaws in good earnest.
Degeneré, degenerated.
Degenerer, to degenerate.
Degenerer de la Vertu de ſes Ancêtres, to degenerate from his Ancestors Virtue.
† Degobiller, to bring up, or vomit.
As, degobiller ſon Soupe, to bring up his Supper. Say rendre, or rejeter.
† Degoiſer, to chirp; to prattle.
Degorgement, (m.) an overflowing; a cleanſing.
Un grand degorgement de bile, a great overflowing of choler.
Un degorgement de tuyau, the cleanſing of a pipe.
Degorger, to cleanſe; to pour out, or belch, as Prov. 15. 28. Ps. 59. 7; to utter, as Ps. 78.
2; to vomit up.
Degorger un tuyau, to cleanſe a pipe.
† Degorger des Injures contre quécun, to vomit up Slanders against one.
Or thus. As, votre Cheval a les Jambes gorgées, il le faut promener pour les de-gorger, your Horſe's Legs are ſwelled, you ſhould walk him to get off the ſwelling.
† Se degorger, to diſgorge, (empty, or diſ-charge) it ſelf.
As, le Rhône ſe degorge dans la Mer par trois bouches, the Rhone diſgorgeth it ſelf into the Sea by three ſeveral mouths.
Degourdi, quickned, revived, whoſe ſtiffneſs is removed.
Degourdir, to quicken, or revive, to remove a ſtiffneſs.
Degourdir ſes mains, ou ſes piez, to remove the ſtiffneſs of his hands, or feet.
Se degourdir, to grow ſupple; to grow handy.
Mes mains commencent un peu à ſe degourdir, my hands begin to grow ſupple, their ſtiffneſs begins to go away.
† Je commence un peu à me degourdir, I begin to grow handy, to be fit for ſome-thing.
Degourdiſſement, (m.) a quickening, or reviving, a removal of ſtiffneſs.
Degout, (m.) diſtaſt, diſlike.
Temoigner du degout pour une perſonne, to expreſs his diſlike of ſome body.
Donner du degout, to create a diſtaſt, or diſlike, to take away ones ſtomack.
Or thus. Cette Viande me donne du de-gout, this Meat goes againſt my ſtomack.
La fièvre me cauſe un grand degout, my feaver makes me loath any meat.
Il y en a qui ont du degout pour la Soupe,
there are ſome who diſlike Pottage.
Concevoir du degout pour la Vie, to be out of conceit with Life, to begin to be weary of his Life.
Degoutant, loathſom, diſtaſtful, unpleasant.
Viande degoutante, Meat that is apt to take away ones ſtomack, loathſom Meat.
Un homme degoutant, a loathſom man. Une perſonne qui a des manieres degoutantes, one that hath unpleasant ways with him.
Degouté, that hath no ſtomack, or no mind to eat, (that is through a diſtemper of the Stomack;) out of conceit with any thing.
Vous êtes bien degouté, your ſtomack is very bad.
Je ſuis degouté du Service, I am out of conceit with Service.
† Un bon Degouté, a cunning fellow, that ſeems to decline the Thing which he aims
at.
Degouter, to take away ones ſtomack; to put out of conceit.
Viande qui degoute, loathſom Meat, Meat that is apt to take away ones ſtomack.

Vous m'en avez degouté, you put me out of conceit with it.
Un homme qui degoute tout le monde, a man that all the World is out of conceit with, a man that pleaſeth no body. Ses manieres aigres & choquantes me degoutent fort de lui, his moroſe and unpleasant ways put me ſtrangely out of conceit with him.
Degouter, tomber goutte à goutte, to drop,
to drop down.
Les Toits degoutent, the Eves drop.
Degradation, (f.) a degrading, or degradation.
Degradé, degraded; diſgraced.
Degrader, to degrade, to deprive one of his Degree, Office, or Dignity; to diſgrace.
As, degrader un Gentilhomme, ou un
Prêtre, to degrade a Gentleman, or Priest.
En cent Lieux il me degrada, he diſgra-ced me in an hundred Places.
Or thus. As, degrader une Muraille (en termes de Maçon) l'abbatre par le pic, to beat down a Wall from the foundation.
Degraſſé, unclafſed.
Degraſſer, to unclafſ.
Degraſſé, ſcoured.
Degraſſer, to ſcower.
As, degraſſer un habit, to ſcower a ſute of cloaths, to take off the ſpots of greaſe that are upon it.
Terre à degraſſer, Fullers earth.
Degraſſeur, (m.) a ſcower.
Porter un Habit au Degraſſeur, to carry a ſuit to the ſcower.
Degré, (m.) ſtep, ſtair; ſtair-caſe; degree.
Voici un mechant degré, here is a bad ſtep.
Monter les degrez, to go up ſtairs. Deſcen-dre les degrez, to go down the ſtairs.
Un Degré derobe, a private ſtair-caſe.
Un degré d'honneur, de ſainteté, de con-ſanguinité, a degree of honour, of holineſs, of conſanguinity. Degré de latitude, ou de longitude, a degree of latitude, or longitude.
Prendre ſes Degrez dans l'Univerſité, to take his Degrees in an Univerſity.
Degré. See Deſagré.
† Degringoler, to run down.
As, degringoler les montées, to run down the ſtairs.
Degroſſé, made ſmall, or fine.
Degroſſer, to make ſmall, or fine.
Degroſſi, refined.
Degroſſir, to refine.
Deguerpi, quit, yielded up, given over.
Deguerpir, (Terme de Palais) to quit, yield up, or give over.
Deguerpiſſement, (m.) a quitting, yielding up, or giving over.
† Degueuler, to caſt up, to vomit. Say reje-ter, or rendre.
Deguiſé, diſguiſed, counterſeited, feigned;
diſguiſed, or in a diſguiſe; concealed.
Deguiſement, (m.) a diſguiſe.
Deguiſer, to diſguiſe, or counterſeit; to conceal, or to cloak.
As, deguiſer ſes Intentions, to diſguiſe his Intentions.
Deguiſer ſon Nom, to conceal his Name.
Ne me deguiſez rien, dites la verité, conceal nothing from me, but tell me the whole Truth. Deguiſer ſon ambition, ou ſa perfidie, to cloak his ambition, or his perfidiousneſs.
Se deguiſer, ſe traveltir, to diſguiſe (or transform) himſelf, to put himſelf in a diſ-guiſe.
Il ſ'eſt deguiſé en Moine, he hath travelted himſelf into a Monk.
Deherance, (f.) Terme de Palais. As,
Bien tombé en deherance, an Eſtate faſt to the King for want of Heirs, or Will.
Dehors, out, without, abroad.
Il eſt dehors, he is out. Il n'eſt ni de-hors ni dedans, he is neither without nor within.
Par dehors, without. As, une Maïſon belle par dehors, & vilaine par dedans, a fine
 Houſe without, and ugly within.
Au dehors, outward, on the outſide. As, le deuil n'eſt qu'au dehors, the Mourning is only outward.
De dehors. As, Ps. 69. 8. Je ſuis devenu etranger à mes freres, & un homme de dehors aux enfans de ma Mere, I am become a ſtranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my Mother's children.

Dehors, (Subſt.) outſide; outwork.
As, cela vient du dehors, that comes from the outſide. Les dehors de l'action, the out-ſide of the action. Une honnête femme doit au moins ſauver les dehors, an honeſt woman ought however to ſave the outſide.
Defendre les Dehors d'une Place, to defend the Outworks of a Place. Prendre les De-hors, to take the Outworks.
Déjà, already.
Cela eſt déjà fait, that's done already.
Avez vous déjà diné? have you already dined?
Dejection, (f.) Terme de Medecine, Excrements, or the voiding of Excrements.
As, dejection bilieule, ſanglante, pure, blanchâtre, bilious, bloody, pure, whitish excrements.
Dejection de Planete (en Termes d'Aſtro-nomie) the depreſſion of a Planer.
La Dejection d'une Planete ſe dit, lors qu'elle eſt dans le Signe oppoſé à celui de ſon Exaltation, the Depreſſion of a Planer is, when the Planer is in the Sign oppoſite to that of its Exaltation. See Exaltation.
Dejeté, warped; caſt down, Ps. 37. 24. Rev.
12. 16.
Se Dejetter (Terme de Menuiserie) to warp.
Cette Boiserie commence à ſe dejetter, this
Wainscot begins to warp.
† Dejetter, to caſt, to caſt down.
Il ſe dejette en un autre Pais, he has caſt them into another Land.
Dejeuné, (m.) a break-faſt.
Faire un bon dejeuné, to eat a good break-
faſt.
Etre muni d'un bon dejeuné, to be provided of a good break-faſt.
Dejeuner, to break-faſt.
Allons déjeuner, let us go to break-
faſt.
Dejeuner d'une tranche de jambon, to eat a ſlice of gamon for his break-faſt.
Deifié, Deify'd, made a God, or ranked amongſt the Gods.
Deifier, to Deify, to make one a God, or rank him amongſt the Gods.
Dejoindre, to diſjoyn, part, or ſeparate.
Dejoint, diſjoyned, parted, ſeparated; feeble,
Heb. 12. 12.
Deiſme, (m.) Deiſm, a bare belief of a God without any more religion.
Deiſte, (m.) a Deiſt, one whoſe belief of a
God makes the ſum of his Religion.
Deité, (f.) Deity, Godhead.
As, une Deité mortelle, a mortal Deity.
Delà, off; from thence; beyond; after.
A deux pas delà, two ſteps off.
Je partis delà, I departed from thence. Je vien delà, I come from thence. Delà ſont venus tous ces Malheurs, from thence are ſprung all theſe Troubles. Delà ſ'enſuit, from thence it follows.
Delà la Mer, beyond Sea.
A quelques ſemaines delà il mourut, ſome weeks after, he died.
Or thus. As, je vien delà où vous futes hier, I come from the place where you were yeſterday.
Paſſer delà l'Eau, to croſs (to go over) the Water.
De delà, beyond, on the other ſide of; from beyond.
As, un Pais de delà les Alpes, a Country beyond the Alps, a Country on the other ſide of the Alps.
Ceci vient de delà la Mer, this comes from beyond Sea.
Au delà, beyond.
As, au delà de toute eſperance, beyond all hopes. Cela eſt au delà de mes forces, that is beyond my ſtrength. Aller au delà des bornes de la Raiſon, to go beyond the bounds of Reaſon.
Par delà, beyond.
As, par delà les Alpes, beyond the Alps, on the other ſide of the Alps.
Elle promet par delà ſon pouvoir, ſhe promiſes beyond her ability ſhe promiſes more than ſhe is able to perform.

†Delabré, shattered, in a sad case, in a bad posture.

As, être tout delabré, to be in a sad posture.

Sans moi vos Affaires étoient fort delabrées, if it had not been for me your Affairs had been in a sad case.

Delai, (m.) Terme de Palais, a delay, or put off.

Delaié } See { Delayé.
Delaié } See { Delayer.

Delaisé, left, forsaken, abandoned, cast off.
La Delaisée, (Gal. 4. 27.) the Desolate.

Delaisser, to leave, forsake, abandon, or cast off; to put away.

Voici, nous avons tout delaisé, & t'avons suivi, (Matth. 19. 27.) behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee.

Que le Mari ne delaisse point sa Femme, (1 Cor. 7. 11.) let not the Husband put away his Wife.

Delassé, unwearied, refreshed, recreated.
Me voila bien delassé, now I am unwearied, now I am very well refreshed.

Delassement, (m.) ease.

Ce m'est un grand delassement, 'tis a great ease to me.

Delasser, to unwearied, refresh, or recreate.

Le feu delasse, fire unwearies (or recreates) one. Delasser l'esprit, to refresh (or recreate) the mind.

Or thus. As, Delasser quécun de ses Travaux, to allow one some refreshment, to give him some respite.

Se delasser, to refresh (or recreate) himself.

Delassez vous de vos fatigues, refresh (exhilarate) your self, take some refreshment after so many toils. Se delasser l'esprit, to recreate his mind.

Allons nous delasser à voir d'autres Objets, let us divert our mind with new Objects.

Delateur, (m.) Accuser, Informer.

Le Delateur fut puni, the Accuser himself was punished.

Delay. See Delai.

Delayé, steeped in milk or water; beaten; also as Dilayé.

Delayer, to steep in milk or water; to beat; also as Dilayer.

Delayer un Jaune d'Oeuf, to beat a Yolk of an Egg.

Delectable, (Terme de Morale) delectable, pleasant, delightful.

As, il y a trois sortes de Biens, l'honnête, le delectable, & l'utile, there are three sorts of Good, viz. the honest, the delectable, and profitable Good.

†Delectation, (f.) delectation, delight, or pleasure.

†Delecter, to delight.

Delegué, Delegate.

As, un Juge délégué, a Judge delegate.

Delegué, (a masc. Subst.) a Delegate.

As, un Delegué du Pape, a Pope's Delegate.

Deleguer, to delegate.

Deleguer des Juges avec plein pouvoir, to delegate Judges with a full power.

Or thus. As, on l'a délégué pour cela, he had a commission for that.

Delestage, (m.) Terme de Mer, la decharge du Lest de chaque Bâtiment, the taking the Ballast out of the Ships.

Deliberatif, deliberative.

Il a Voix deliberative au Chapitre, he has a debating Voice in the Chapter.

Deliberation, (f.) deliberation, consultation, consideration.

As, mettre une chose en deliberation, to put a thing under consultation.

Tomber en deliberation, to fall under (to come into) consultation.

Delibéré, deliberated, consulted, considered.

Un homme delibéré, ou hardi, a bold (or courageous) man.

Deliberer, to deliberate, consider, consult, advise, or think upon; to purpose, or determine, Tit. 3. 12.

Deliberer sur quécun affaire, to advise about a business, to think upon't, to consider of it.

C'est à vous à deliberer s'il faut faire cela ou non, you ought to consider whether that's fit to be done or no.

Delicat, delicate, dainty, rarely well tasted; nice, dainty, or curious; nice, or effeminate; tender, weak, of a tender or weak constitution; delicate, fine; excellent, ingenious; nice, ticklish, apt to be angry for the least thing in the World; nice, scrupulous, unwilling to meddle; nice, ticklish, dangerous.

As, un morceau delicat, a dainty (a delicate) bit.

Un homme delicat dans son boire & dans son manger, a nice man in his diet.

Un homme delicat, qui ne sauroit souffrir la moindre incommodité, a nice (or effeminate) man, that cannot bear with the least inconvenience.

Un homme delicat, qui n'est pas robuste, a weak (or tender) man, a man of a weak constitution. Un temperament delicat, a weak temper. Une complexion delicate, a weak (or feeble) constitution. Un Arbre delicat, a nice (or tender) Tree.

Un Esprit delicat, a delicate (fine) Wit, an excellent (or ingenious) Man. Un Ouvrage delicat, a delicate (excellent, fine) piece of Work. Une Oreille delicate, a fine Ear. Une Raillerie delicate, a fine (witty) Jest.

Je hai ces gens delicats, qui se fâchent pour la moindre chose, I hate these nice (or ticklish) men that are angry for the least thing in the World, that catch fire presently.

Il est delicat la dessus, he is nice upon that subject, he is unwilling to meddle.

Une Affaire fort delicate, a very nice (ticklish, or dangerous) Business.

Un Delicat, (Subst.) a nice Man. Une Delicate, a nice Woman.

Delicatement, gently, softly, tenderly; delicately, prettily; delicately, finely, ingeniously.

As, manier une chose delicatement, to handle a thing gently. La toucher delicatement, to touch it but softly.

Travailler delicatement, to work delicately, prettily.

Ecrire delicatement, to write delicately.

S'exprimer delicatement, to speak delicately, finely, ingeniously.

Se Delicater, to make much (to take great care) of himself.

C'est un homme qui se delicate fort, he is a man that makes much of himself.

Delicateffe (f.) niceness, curiousness; nicety.

Il y a une ridicule delicateffe d'honneur, qui prend tout en mauvaise part, there is a ridiculous niceness in point of honour, which takes all in ill part.

La delicateffe est trop grande de ne pouvoir souffrir que des gens triez, 'tis too great a niceness for a man to suffer none but choice people about him.

Les delicateffes d'une femme, the nicety's (or nice ways) of a woman. Les delicateffes d'une Langue, the nicety's of a Language.

Or thus. Avoir une grande delicateffe d'esprit, to have a most delicate wit.

La delicateffe de son esprit me charme, his delicate wit charms me.

Delices (f.) delights, pleasures.

Gouter les delices d'une entiere liberté, to taste the delights of an intire Liberty.

Nager (être plongé) dans les delices, to swim in delights, or pleasures.

Moïse aime mieux être affligé avec le Peuple de Dieu, que de jouir pour quécun tems des Delices du Peché, Moses chose rather to suffer affliction with the People of God, than to enjoy the Pleasures of Sin for a Season.

Or thus. As, Psal. 141. 4. que je ne mange point de leurs delices, let me not eat of their dainties.

Delicieusement, delicately, deliciously.

As, vivre delicieusement, to live delicately, or deliciously.

Delicieux, delicious, delicate; that loves his pleasures.

Un manger delicieux, a delicate meat.

Un homme delicieux, a man that loves his pleasures.

Delict. See Delit.

Delicé, unt'y'd, or loosed; fine, small, or thin; fine, acute, subtle.

Un Paquet delicé, a bundle unt'y'd, a loose bundle.

Quand les mille Ans seront accomplis, Satan sera delicé de sa Prison (Rev. 20. 7.) when the thousand Years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his Prison.

Or thus. As, avoir la Langue delicée, to have his Tongue well hung, to have a great facility of expression.

Un fil tres delicé, a very fine thread. Des cheveux fins & deliez, fine and small hairs.

Un Esprit delicé, a fine (subtle, acute, or sharp) Wit.

Delicé (a masc. Subst.) As, le delicé de la plume, the small of a pen; the small strokes of a pen.

Delielement (m.) As, un delielement de Langue, a great facility of Expression.

Delier, to unt'y, loose, or undo.

As, delier un fagot, to undo a fagot.

L'Eternel delie ceux qui sont liez (Ps. 146. 7.) the Lord looseth the prisoners.

†Delineation, (f.) delineation, or first draught.

Delinquant (Terme de Droit) m. Offender.

Delire (m.) delirium, or raving.

Etre en delire, to be in a delirium.

Delit (m.) Terme de Palais, a fault, offence, or crime; a sin, Lev. 4. 3; a trespass, Lev. 5. 6; a trespass-offering, Lev. 5. 19.

Etre surpris en flagrant delit, ad. sur le fait, to be taken in the fact, or in the deed doing.

Offrande de Delit (Lev. 5. 3.) Trespass-Offering.

Delivrance (f.) Deliverance; Salvation, Ps. 106. 4; Redemption, Col. 1. 14.

Je vous souhaite une heureuse delivrance, I wish you a happy deliverance.

Je vous felicite de votre delivrance, I wish you joy for your deliverance.

Demander la Delivrance de ses Maux, to beg a Deliverance from his Misery's.

Delivré, delivered, given; delivered, freed, loosed, Luke 13. 12.

Delivrer, to deliver, or give; to deliver, free, or save; to redeem.

As, delivrer des Marchandises, to deliver Commodities. Delivrer de l'Argent, to deliver Money. Delivrer des Commissions, to give out Commissions.

Delivrer quécun d'un Danger, to deliver one from Danger, or to save him from it.

Je l'ai delivré d'un Fâcheux qui le tourmentoit fort, I delivered (or freed) him from a most troublesome Man.

Delivrer un Captif, to redeem a Slave.

†Delivreur, (m.) a Liberator. Say Libérateur.

Delogé, gone, marched off.

Le Regiment est delogé à la pointe du Jour, the Regiment went away (or marched off) by break of day.

Delogement, (m.) removing, departure.

Deloger, to go away, to march off; to go out, or abroad; to remove, or to go from his Lodging.

La Compagnie delogea hier, the Company marched off yesterday.

†Qui vous fait deloger si matin? who makes you go out so early?

†Deloger sans trompette, fortir d'un Lieu à la derobée, to steal away, to go away privately.

Deloyal, or (rather) infidelle, unfaithfull, that believeth not 2 Tim. 2. 13; unbeliever, Luke 12. 6.

Un Ami deloyal peut trahir ton Dessein, an unfaithfull Friend may betray thy Design.

†Deloyaument, unfaithfully.

Or thus. As, Ps. 25. 3. que ceux qui se portent deloyaument sans occasion soient confus, let them be ashamed which transgress without cause.

Deloyauté, or (rather) Infidelité, f. unfaithfulness, treachery, perfidiousness.

C'est une infigne deloyauté, 'tis a notorious piece of treachery.

Deluge, (m.) Deluge, great Flood, or Inundation of Waters.

Le Deluge Universel, the Universal Flood.

Un Deluge de pleurs, a flood of tears.

Un Deluge d'Armées, an Inundation of Army's.

Deluté, unluted.

Deluter, (Terme de Chymie) ôter le lut, to unlute.

As, deluter un Vaisseau, to unlute a Vessel.

Demalloté, unswathed, taken out of the swathes.

Demalloter un Enfant, to unswathe an Infant, to take it out of the swathes.

Demain, to morrow.

Demain matin, to morrow morning. Demain au soir, to morrow night.

Après demain, after to morrow. Il sera ici après demain, he will be here after to morrow.

Demanché, loose.

Demancher, to loosen.

As, demancher un couteau, to loosen a knife, to take off the hilt from the blade.

Demande, (f.) demand, suit, request.

Une demande raisonnable, a rational demand. Une demande incivile, ou impertinente, an uncivil demand.

Accordons lui sa demande, let us grant him his demand, suit, or request.

Demandé, demanded; begged, desired, required; asked, or inquired.

Demander, to demand; to beg, require, or desire; to ask, or inquire of.

Demander une Chose due, to demand a Thing due. Demander la Fille de quécun en mariage, to demand ones Daughter in marriage.

Demander une Grace au Roi, to beg a Favour of the King. Demander l'Avis d'un Ami sur une Chose, to desire (or to beg) a Friends Advice about a Business. La Raison le demande, Reason requires it, it is but just and reasonable. Ceci demande un plus long Discours, this requires a longer Discourse.

Je lui demandai son Nom, I asked him his Name. Il me demanda plusieurs choses, he asked me several questions. Demander le prix d'une chose, to ask the price of a thing.

Or thus. As, que demandez vous? what would you have?

Il demande le Proconsulat, he stands for the Proconsulship.

Demandresse, (f.) a woman Plaintiff, or a sue Petitioner.

Demandeur, (m.) Terme de Palais, a Plaintiff, a Petitioner.

Demangeaison, (f.) an itching desire.

J'ai par tout le corps des demangeaisons qui me font enrager, I have all over my body an itching humour that makes me mad.

Avoir une furieuse demangeaison d'écrire, to have an itch (or an itching desire) of writing.

Demanger, to itch; to have a great mind.

As, le bras me demange, my arm itches.

† Les mains commencent fort à lui demanger, his fingers itch to be at it.

Demantelé, dismantled.

Demanteler, to dismantle.

As, demanteler une Place forte, to dismantle a strong Place, to pull down its Walls and Fortifications.

† Demantibulé, cd. demonté, brisé, rompu, broken, quite out of order.

Demarche, (f.) gate; advance, step, proceeding.

Sa demarche est pleine de majesté, he hath a majestic gate.

Je ferai les premieres demarches, I shall make the first advances (or the first step) towards it.

Je crain que toutes ces Demarches ne soient fatales à l'Etat, I fear all these Proceedings will prove fatal to the State.

† Demarcher, to march out.

As, Judg. 5. 4. Quand tu demarchas du Territoire d'Edom, la Terre fut ébranlée, when thou marchedst out of the Field of Edom, the Earth trembled.

Demaré, unmoored, gone out to Sea.

Demarer, to put out to Sea.

La Flote demara de bon matin, the Fleet put out to Sea betimes in the morning.

Demarié, unmarried.

Demarier quécun, to unmarried one.

Demarqué, unmarked.

Demarquer, to unmark.

Cheval qui demarque, comme lors qu'on ne conoit plus par aucune marque l'âge qu'il a, a Horse who has his mark out of the mouth.

Demasqué, unmasked.

Elle s'étoit demasquée, she was unmasked.

Demasquer, to unmask, to pull (or take) off the mask.

Se demasquer, to pull off her mask.

Demâté, that hath lost her masts.

Demâter, to unmast.

As, demâter un Navire, to unmast a Ship.

Demêlé, pické, disintangled; unravelled, or discovered; cleared, or resolved; decided, or compounded.

Prenez soin que ses cheveux soient bien demêlés, see that his hair be well disintangled, see that his head be well combed.

Une Intrigue bien demêlée, an Intrigue very well unravelled, or discovered.

Une difficulté demêlée, a difficult matter cleared, or resolved.

Un Different demêlé l'épée à la main, a Difference decided by dint of sword.

Demêlé, (a masc. Subst.) quarrel, peeks, or difference.

Ils ont quèque petit demêlé ensemble, they have some little peeks one with another.

Or thus. As, il a des demêlés avec tout le monde, he falls out with every body, he is at variance with all the world.

Demêler, to pick, or disintangle; to unravel, or discover; to clear, or resolve; to decide, or compound.

Demêler les cheveux, to disintangle ones hair, to comb them into order.

Demêler une Intrigue, to unravel (or to discover) an Intrigue. Demêler une Vérité, to discover a Truth. Je n'ai encore pu demêler les Sentimens qu'il a pour moi, I could never yet discover (or find out) what Thoughts he has of me.

Demêler une Difficulté de Droit, to resolve a difficult point of Law.

Demêler un Different, to compound a Difference, to decide a Controversy.

Or thus. Vous ne sauriez les demêler des autres Demoiselles, you cannot part (or single) them from the other Lady's.

Demêler les Voies du Cest, to discern the new tracks of the Hart from the old ones.

Nous avons de fâcheuses affaires à demêler, our hands are full of sad and intricate businessses. Il fut étrangement traversé dans son Voyage, & eut quantité d'Aventures à demêler, he was strangely crossed in his Voyage, and had many intricate Accidents to wade through.

Avoir quèque chose à demêler avec quécun, to have something to do with one, to have a controversy with him. Je ne veux rien avoir à demêler avec vous, I le have nothing to do with you. Nous n'avons rien à demêler ensemble, nous sommes d'accord, we have nothing to scuffle for, we are agreed together.

Se demêler d'une Affaire, to wind himself out of a Business, to get clear off.

Demembré, dismembred, divided.

Demembrer, to dismember, to divide.

As, demembrer un Royaume, to divide a Kingdom, to give one part to one and another part to another.

Demembrer son Fief, to alienate some part of his Fief.

Deménagé, removed, shifted from one place to another.

Deménagement, (m.) a removing, or shifting from one place to another.

Le deménagement coûte, removing is chargeable.

Deménager, to remove, to shift his Lodging and carry his Goods with him.

Il en coûte de deménager, Removing is chargeable.

† Demené, tossed, agitated, carry'd about.

† Demener, to toss, to agitate, to carry about.

† Demener Joie, to rejoice. Les bien aimez demeneront Joie sur leurs couchés (Ps. 149. 4.) the Saints shall sing aloud upon their beds.

Se demener, se remuer, to move to and fro, to stir much, to sit fidgeting.

Dementi, (m.) lie.

As, il m'a donné un dementi, he hath given me the lie.

Tuer quécun pour un dementi, to kill one for giving the lie.

Or thus. As, il en aura le dementi, cd. il ne viendra pas à bout de son dessein, he will be disappointed.

Dementir, to give the lie; to bely.

As, dementir quécun, to give one the lie. Il n'y a que les Sots qui dementent les gens, none but Fools will give folks the lie.

Vos actions dementent vos paroles, your actions bely your words.

Se dementir, to bely himself.

Or thus. Se dementir de ses belles actions, to degenerate, to do things unsuitable to his former actions.

Une Amitié qui ne se doit jamais dementir, a durable Friendship, that should never be guilty of the least miscarriage.

Un homme qui ne se dement point, a man who is always like himself.

† Dementibulé. See Demantibulé.

† Demeite, (m.) misdeed.

Demesuré, huge, excessive, exceeding great, immoderate.

Une grosseur demesurée, an exceeding bigness.

Une Ambition demesurée, an immoderate Ambition.

† Demesurément, excessively, exceedingly.

Demettre, to put out, to remove.

Demettre quécun de sa Charge, to put one out of his Place, to remove him from it.

Demettre un os (en Termes de Chirurgien) to put a bone out of joint.

Se demettre de sa Charge, to resign (surrender, or give over) his Place.

Se demettre la jambe, to put his Leg out of joint.

Demeublé, unfurnished.

As, une Maison demeublée, a House unfurnished, the furniture whereof is gone or taken away.

Demeublement, (m.) an unfurnishing, or taking away the household stuff from a Place.

Demeubler, to unfurnish, to take away the furniture.

As, demeubler une Maison, une Chambre, un Cabinet, to unfurnish a House, a Chamber, a Closet.

† Demeurance. See Demeure.

Demeurant, dwelling, living, abiding. 'Tis a Participle of the Verb Demeurer.

† Demeurant, (a masc. Subst.) rest, remainder, residue.

As, le demeurant d'une somme, the remainder of a Sum.

Or thus. As, Ex. 23. 11. & leur demeurant sera mangé par les bêtes des Champs, and what they leave the Beasts of the Field shall eat.

As, Ps. 17. 14. ils laissent leur demeurant à leurs petits Enfans, they leave the rest of their substance to their Babes.

† Au demeurant, (Adv.) cd. au reste, for the rest.

Demeure, (f.) dwelling, or dwelling Place, an Abode, or Habitation.

Or thus. Faire sa demeure en un Lieu, to live (or to dwell) in a Place.

Sa demeure est auprès de la Cour, he dwells near the Court.

Il y a plusieurs demeures en la Maison de mon Pere, (John 14. 2.) in my Fathers House are many Mansions.

Demeuré. As, mon frere est demeuré derriere, my brother stays behind.

La Victoire nous est demeurée, we got the Victory.

S'il en fût demeuré là, if he had gone no further, had he been contented with that.

Elle est demeurée court, she was put to a nonplus, she was put to silence.

Demeurer, to live, abide, or dwell; to stay, or stand; to linger; to remain, continue, or persist; to stick; to be slain.

Il demeure à Londres, he lives (he dwells) at London.

Demeurez ici, stay here. J'aime mieux demeurer au Logis que de m'aller promener, I had rather stay at Home than walk abroad. Demeurez à dîner, stay at dinner. Demeure, ou je te tue, stand, or you are a dead man. Demeurer neutre, to stand neuter.

Demeurer long tems à faire quelque chose, to linger about a business, to be long about it, to be long a doing of it. Vous avez trop demeuré à faire cela, you have been too long about it.

Il demeura trois Jours dans la même posture, he continued three days in the same posture. Il demeurait immobile à ce Discours, he remained altogether unconcerned at that Discourse. Si vous demeurez dans cette Résolution, if so be you persist in that Resolution. Demeurer dans le péché, to abide (or continue) in sin.

La lie demeure au fond, the dregs stick at the bottom.

Il y demeura plus de dix mille hommes sur la place, above a thousand men were slain upon the place.

Or thus. Celebrez l'Eternel, d'autant que la Gratuité demeure à toujours. (Ps. 107. 1.) give thanks unto the Lord, for his Mercy endureth for ever.

En demeurer là, cd. ne pousser pas une affaire à bout, to go no further, to stop there. Croyez vous qu'il en demeure là? do you believe he will not go on in that business?

Boule qui demeure, a short bowl, a bowl that rubs.

Demi, half.

As, un mois & demi, a month and a half.

Un an & demi, a year and a half.

Une heure & demi, an hour and a half; also, half an hour past one.

Or thus. As, un fou & demi, three half pence.

A demi, half. As, à demi yvre, half drunk.

Now you must know, that there are several Words compounded of this. Such as these following, viz.

Demi-an, (m.) half year. But six mois is better.

Demi-aune, (f.) half an ell. As, une demi-aune de ruban, half an ell of ribbon.

Demi-bain, (m.) half a bagno.

Demi-castor, (m.) a demi-castor.

Demi-ceint, (m.) a Silver-chain (whereof Women of old, as some to this very day) made a kind of Girdle.

Demi-cercle, (m.) half circle, demi-circle.

Demi-coudée, (f.) half a cubit.

Demi-denier, (m.) a small Coin current under the Reigns of the first Kings of France.

Demi-Dieu, (m.) a Demi-God.

Demi-douzaine, (f.) half a dozen. As, une demi-douzaine de pommes, half a dozen apples.

Un demi-fou, (m.) a half witted man.

Demi-gorge, (f.) half breast, a part of Fortification.

C'est la Distance comprise depuis l'angle de la Courtine jusqu'à l'angle de la Figure.

Et, selon cette Definition, il ne faut point confiderer de Demi-gorge aux Dehors, ou Travaux avancez, si ce n'est aux Ouvrages couronnez, qui seuls ont un Bastion entier, & un Angle de la Figure. Pour les autres Dehors, on dit la Gorge.

Demi-heure, (f.) half an hour. Je ferai à vous dans une demi-heure, I shall be with you in half an hours time.

Demi-lieu, (f.) half a league. Il n'y a qu'une demi-lieu d'ici là, 'tis but half a league thither.

Demi-livre, (f.) half a pound. As, une demi-livre de sucre, half a pound of sugar.

Demi-lune, (f.) sorte de Fortification, a half moon. Attaquer une demi-lune, to attack a half moon.

Demi-once, (f.) half an ounce. Une demi-once de poivre, half an ounce of pepper.

Demi-pié, (m.) half a foot.

Demi-pique, (f.) a half pike.

Demi-quart, (m.) half a quarter.

Demi-quarteron, (m.) half a quartern.

Demi-queuë, (f.) sorte de Futaille à Vin, the Name of a Wine-Vessel much used in Orleans, Anjou, and Maine. 'Tis the half of a Queuë, contains 27. Setiers, and every Setier 8. of their Pints.

Demi-savant, (m.) a Sciolist, one that hath some small tincture of Learning.

Demi-setier, (m.) for demi-chopine, half a Chopine (which answers much to our half Pint at London.)

Demi-fou, (m.) a half penny.

Demi-ton, (m.) a semi-tone.

Demi-tour, (m.) Terme d'Evolution militaire, a turning to the right or left. As, faire un demi tour à gauche, to turn to the left.

Demi-vent, (m.) a side-wind.

Demi-vin, (m.) Demi-wine, a sort of Liquor drunk by the common sort of People in their Family's, and made with the skins of Grapes after the last Pressing.

Demi volte, (f.) half a round, or half a turn.

Demis (from Demettre) put out, removed; out of joynt.

Etre demis de son Evêché, to be put out of his Bishoprick.

Avoir le bras demis, ou la jambe demise, to have his arm or leg out of joynt.

Demission, (f.) resignation.

Faire sa demission, to make a resignation.

Democracie (f.) Gouvernement populaire, Democracy, popular Government.

Democratique, democratical, popular.

Gouvernement Democratique, a democratical (or popular) Government.

Demoiselle, (f.) from Dame, a Gentlewoman.

Une Demoiselle bien née, a Gentlewoman well born.

But, as Gentlewoman in English, so Demoiselle in French is a Title attributed to Women and Maids that look something like Gentlewomen in their Garb and Carriage, or that have an Estate.

Demoiselle, ou hie, a Rammer.

Demoli, demolished, pulled (or thrown) down.

Combien de Temples demolis? how many Churches pulled down?

Demolir, to demolish, to pull (or throw) down.

As, demolir une Maison, to pull down a House.

Demolir les Fortifications d'une Place, to demolish the Fortifications of a Place.

Demolition, (f.) a demolishing, or pulling down.

Les Demolitions, the Ruins of a demolished Building.

Demon, (m.) a Devil, a Devilish Spirit.

Les Demons sont sujets à toutes sortes de passions, Devils are subject to all sorts of passions.

Lors que son Demon commence à l'agiter, when his Devilish Spirit begins to move him.

Or thus. As, un petit Demon, un tres mechant Garçon, an unlucky Boy.

Demoniaque, (m. and f.) a Man or Woman possessed with the Devil, or that hath a Devil.

Demonstratif (from Demonttrer) demonstrative.

As, un Argument demonstratif, a demonstrative Argument.

Le Genre Demonstratif, the Demonstrative Part, in Rhetorick.

Une Preuve demonstrative, a demonstrative Proof.

Demonstration, (f.) demonstration, or token.

Une Demonstration Mathematique, a Mathematical Demonstration.

Recevoir quëcun avec de grandes demonstrations de Joie, to receive one with great demonstrations of joy.

Demonté, unhorféd, or dismounted; taken to pieces.

Un Cavalier demonté, a Horseman unhorfed.

Un Canon demonté, a Cannon dismounted.

Horloge demontée, a Clock taken to pieces.

Epée qui est demontée, a Sword taken out of the hilt.

Or thus. As, il semble que tout son Corps soit demonté, cd. qu'il agisse comme par ressorts, one would think he moves his Body with the help of springs.

† Je fus tout demonté, quand il me dit cela, I was in a maze, when he told me that.

Demontre, to unhorfe, or dismount; to take to pieces.

L'Enemi a demonté notre Cavalerie, the Enemy hath dismounted our Horse.

Demontre une Armoire, ou un Cabinet, to take a Cup-board or a Cabinet to pieces.

Or thus. Ces paroles demontent toutes mes Esperances, those words put me out of all hopes.

† Demontrance, (f.) demonstration, sign, or evident token; evidence, Heb. 11. 1.

Demontre, demonstrated.

Demontre, to demonstrate, to shew, as Job. 5. 20, to declare, Rom. 3. 24.

Demontre la proportion des Lignes, to demonstrate the proportion of the Lines.

Demordre, to let go his hold.

As, un Chien qui ne demord pas, a Dog that will not let go his hold.

Or thus. Il n'en demordra pas, il n'en veut pas demordre, he won't bate an inch on't, he won't yield the least thing.

C'est un homme à n'en point demordre, cd. un homme qui persistera dans ce qu'il a entrepris, he is a man that will stand to it.

Demy. See Demi.

Denaté, unmated.

Denater, to unmat.

Denaturé, unnatural, cruel, barbarous.

Un Fils denaturé, an unnatural Son, that hath not a natural affection for his Father.

Denché (Terme de Blason) dancy.

Deni, (m.) from Denier, denial, refusal, a denying, or refusing.

Appeler du Deni de Justice devant les Juges Superieurs, to appeal upon a Denial of Justice to the superiour Judges.

† Deniaisé, that hath learned wit.

Un Deniaisé, (a masc. Subst.) a cunning Blade.

† Deniaiser, to cheat, cosen, or gull; to teach wit.

On l'a plaisamment deniaisé, he was pleasantly gulled.

Se deniaiser, to learn wit, to grow cunning.

Deniché, put out of his nest; forced to remove.

As, denicher des Oiseaux, to put Birds out of their nest.

† Il faut denicher de ceans, we must remove from hence.

Denier, to deny, or give a negative answer; to deny, or refuse.

Il denia le Crime, he deny'd the Charge.

Denier une Faveur, to deny (or refuse) a Kindness.

Denier, (a masc. Subst.) denier tournois, denier de prix, or denier de cours, a denier.

Which is a brass Coy, something less than a brass farthing, 12 whereof goes to a French Penny.

Denier de poids, la 24 partie de l'Once, a penny-weight, and 24 grains.

Denier, poids de deux grains, the weight of two grains.

Denier de Monoyage, any Coin.

Denier de fin, a degree of the goodness of pure silver, as the same is divided into 12 deniers.

Les deniers d'argent du tems de la premiere Race, the silver Deniers in the time of the first Race.

Un Creancier avoit deux Detteurs, l'un lui devoit cinq cens deniers & l'autre cinquante, (Luk. 7. 41.) there was a certain Creditour which had two Debtours, the one ought five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

Denier à Dieu, ou errhes, an earnest-peny.

On doit retirer le Denier à Dieu dans 24 heures après qu'on l'a donné, ou il faut que le marché qu'on a fait tienne, the earnest-peny must be called back within 24 hours after it was delivered, or else the bargain must stand.

Now you must know, that an Earnest is so called in French, because it is chiefly intended for poor people.

Interêt au denier douze, a peny for a years loan of twelve pence (which comes to eight pounds and a noble in the hundred.)

Les Deniers du Roi, the King's Treasure.

Les Deniers publics, the publick Treasure.

Il fit une grande levée de Deniers sur les Peuples, he raised vast sums of Money upon the People.

† Denigré, slandered, raised at.

† Denigrer, pour dire diffamer, to slander, to rail at.

† Denombé, numbred, told.

Tous les Denombrez de la Compagnie d'Ephraïm, (Numb. 2. 24.) all that were numbred of the Camp of Ephraïm.

Denombrement, (m.) a list, roll, or catalogue; a Survey of Land, particularizing the Quantity, Seat, Rents, Services, and Tenure thereof.

Quand tu en feras le denombrement, (Ex. 30. 12.) when thou numbrest them.

Tous ceux qui passeront par le denombrement, (Ex. 30. 14.) every one that passeth among them that are numbred.

† Denommer, to number, count, or tell.

As, Ps. 139. 18. Les veux je denommer ? elles sont en plus grand nombre que le Sable, if I should count them, they are more in number than the Sand.

Denominateur, (m.) Terme d'Arithmetique, Denominator.

Denomination, (f.) denomination.

Denoncé, denounced, signify'd, declared; denounced, or proclaimed; charged, accused.

Denoncer, to denounce, signify, or declare; to denounce, or proclaim; to charge, to give in charge, or command, 1 Tim. 1. 3; to charge, accuse, or inform against.

Denonciateur, (m.) an Informer, an Accuser.

Denonciation, (f.) denunciation, declaration.

† Denoter, to betoken, to signify.

Denoüé, undone, or unty'd; unfolded, discovered, unravelled.

Denouement. See Denouement.

Denouer, to undo, or unty; to unfold, discover, unravel.

As, denouer un nœud, to undo (or unty) a knot. Denouer la langue à quécun, to unty ones tongue.

Denouer une Comedie, to unravel the whole Intrigue of a Play.

Or thus. As, denouer une Difficulté, to resolve a difficult Point.

Se denouer, to discover it self, to put it self forth.

Denouement, (m.) the unravelling of the whole Intrigue of a Play.

Denrée, (f.) any Ware, or Commodity.

Cette Denrée est chere, this is a dear Commodity.

Dense, (Terme de Philosophie) thick, compact, that lies close together.

As, un Corps dense, qui occupe peu d'étendue avec beaucoup de matiere, a compact Body.

Dent, (f.) a tooth.

Les Dents lui tombent toutes, he loses all his teeth. Il n'a point de dents, he is toothless, or he hath no teeth.

Les dents d'une Scie, d'un Rateau, d'une Herse, the teeth of a Saw, Rake, Harrows, &c.

Proverbial Expressions.

Avoir une dent de lait contre quécun, ad. avoir quèque haine (ou quèque ressentiment) contre lui, to have a grudge against one.

Montrer les dents à quécun, montrer qu'on a de la fermeté & du cœur, to shew his courage to one.

Il n'en tatera que d'une dent, ad. il n'en mangera point du tout, he shall not so much as taste of it.

Dire quèque chose entre ses dents, to mutter something between his teeth. Malgré mes dents, ad. malgré moi, in spite of my teeth.

Elle a mis son Galand sur les dents, ad. elle a épuisé ses forces, she hath exhausted her Gallant.

Avoir les dents bien longues, to be hungry, or sharp set; to be poor and needy.

Parler des grosses dents, parler vertement & hardiment à quécun, to talk big to one.

Chacun lui donne un coup de dent, every one flings a stone at him.

† Dentelle, indented, jagged.

Dentelle, (f.) lace.

Dentelle d'or & d'argent, gold and silver lace.

Dentelure, (f.) Ouvrage dentelé, a Fagging.

Denture, (f.) Rang de Dents, a set of Teeth.

Une belle denture, a fine set of teeth.

Denué, destitute.

Etre denué de toutes choses, to be destitute of all things.

Or thus. As, Ex. 32. 25. Et Moïse vid que le Peuple étoit denué, and Moïse saw that the People were naked.

Non point comme étant denué de Sageffe, mais comme étans Sages, (Eph. 5. 15.) not as Fools, but as Wise.

Une Valeur denuée de toutes les autres Vertus, Valour without all other Virtues.

Deny. See Deni.

Depaillé, got out of his own Country; grown cunning.

Depailler quécun, to get one out of his own Country; to teach one wit.

Depaqueté, opened, (being said of a bundle.)

Depaqueter, to open, to open a bundle.

Depart, (m.) departure, or going away; de-cease, 2 Pet. 1. 15.

Un depart subit & précipité, a sudden and abrupt Departure. Je n'en ai point eu de nouvelles depuis son depart, I did not hear a word from him since his departure, or since he went away.

Songer à son depart, to think of going. Je suis sur mon depart, I am ready to go.

Or thus. As, faire le depart de l'or & de l'argent (en termes d'Orfèvre) to part the gold and silver.

† Departement, (m.) Part of a Country committed in some Things to ones Care.

As, il a trente Villages dans son Departement, his Power reaches over thirty Villages.

Cette Province n'est pas de son Departement (parlant d'un Secrétaire d'Etat) he hath nothing to do with that Province.

Chacun alla à son Departement (parlant de Gens de Guerre) every one went home to the Place allotted him.

† Departement, departing.

As, Gen. 35. 18. sur le departement de son Ame, as her Soul was in departing.

Or thus. As, Numb. 10. 6. on sonnera avec retentissement bruyant à leurs departements, they shall blow an alarm for their Journeys.

† Departi, given, divided, distributed, imparted, &c. according to the Verb.

Et il leur apparut des Langues departies comme de feu, (Acts 2. 3.) and there appeared unto them cloven Tongues like as of fire.

† Departir, to give, divide, distribute, or impart; to depart.

As, Jos. 14. 1. ce que les Chefs des Peres des Tribus leur departirent en heritage, what the heads of the Fathers of the Tribes distributed for inheritance unto them.

Departir des graces à quécun, to impart gifts to one.

Je desire grandement de vous voir, pour vous departir quèque Don spirituel, (Rom. 1. 11.) I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual Gift.

Or thus. As, Prov. 1. 23. Voici, je vous departirai de mon Esprit en abondance, & vous donnerai à conoître mes paroles, Behold, I will pour out my Spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

† Celui qui rend le Mal pour le Bien, le Mal ne departira point de sa Maison, (Prov. 17. 13.) Whoso rewardeth Evil for Good, Evil shall not depart from his House.

Departir un Procès (en Termes de Droit) when one Court is equally divided, to require the Opinion of the Judges of another Court, that Judgment may be thereon given.

† Il n'y avoit personne qui les departît, ad. qui les separât, (2 Sam. 14. 6.) and there was none to part them.

Se departir (en Termes de Palais) to quit, to yield up, or give over; to depart, or go from, Luke 9. 33; to go away, Job. 12. 11.

Se departir de son Droit, to yield up (to give over) his Right.

Que la Femme ne se departe point du Mari (1 Cor. 7. 10.) let not the Wife depart from her Husband.

Ce n'est pas une Regle dont on ne puisse bien se departir, this is not a Rule that one may not go from.

Depavé, unpaved.

Depaver, to unpave.

As, depaver une Rue, ou une Cour, to unpave a Street, or a Yard.

Depaysé } See } Depaillé.

Depayser } } Depailler.

Depecé, cut in pieces, torn in pieces.

Depecer, to cut (or tear) in pieces; to break off, Ex. 32. 24; to hew down, Deut. 12. 3.

Depêche, (f.) dispatch.

Une bonne & prompte depêche, a good and quick dispatch.

Depêches, Lettres d'Etat, Dispatches, Letters of State.

Depeché, dispatched.

Or thus. As, 1 Sam. 27. 1. Je ferai depeché quèque jour par les mains de Saul, I shall now perish one day by the hand of Saul.

Depecher, to dispatch, hasten, or make haste; to dispatch, or send away in haste.

Depecher une Affaire, to dispatch a Business.

Depecher un Courier, to dispatch a Courier.

† Se depecher, to make haste. Depechez vous, make haste.

† Depedantifé, rid of his pedantick ways.

† Depedantiser quécun, le tirer de la pedanterie, to work one out of his pedantick ways.

Depeindre, to describe, to represent.

En verité je ne saurois vous depeindre sa mauvaise humeur, truly I cannot well describe his ill humour.

Depeint, described, represented.

Dependance, (f.) dependency.

Les Arts ont une mutuelle dependance les uns des autres, there is in Arts a mutual dependency from one another.

Vivre dans une parfaite dependance de la Providence divine, to live in a perfect dependency upon God's Providence.

Une Dependance, Terre ou Pais qui depend d'un autre, a Dependency.

Dependant, held of another.

Etre dependant de quécun. See Dependre de quécun.

Dependre,

Dependre, to depend, or proceed; to depend, belong, or be subject; to take down.

Les Biens du Corps dependent de la Fortune, bodily Goods depend upon Fortune.

Ils ont des Richesses qui n'ont rien d'assuré; & qui dependent du Hazard, they have uncertain Riches, and such as wholly depend upon Hazard.

Ma Vie depend de la votre, my Life depends upon your own, or my Life is wrapt up in yours.

Dependre de quëcun, to be another man's, to depend upon one, to belong to him, to be under him, to have a dependency from him.

Il fait mal dependre d'autrui, 'tis a sad thing to be another man's.

L'Irlande depend de l'Angleterre, Ireland depends upon (is subject to) England.

Dependre une Chose pendue, to take a Thing down that hangs upon a nail, &c.

Or thus. As, la Vie de l'Homme depend de l'Union du Corps avec l'Esprit, the Life of Man consists in the Union of the Body with the Soul.

La Victoire depend uniquement de là, in that only the Victory consists.

Il y a des Benefices qui dependent du Roi, there are some Livings in the King's Gift.

Or thus. Je vous offre tout ce qui depend de moi, I offer you whatever lies in my power.

Lastly, Dependre was also used formerly in the sense of Depenser, to spend. But now 'tis not to be used in that sense.

Dependu, taken down (from a Nail, or any thing else, where it hung.)

Depens, (m.) cost, charge.

As, faire une chose à les depens, to do a thing at his own charge. Je l'ai appris à mes depens, I learnt it to my cost.

Faire bonne chere aux depens d'autrui, to make good cheer (to live well) at other Mens cost.

Les Depens d'une Cause, the Cost (or Charges) of a Law-sute. Etre condamné aux Depens, to be adjudged to pay Cost and Damage.

Les Depens montent haut, the Charges are great.

Or thus. S'accommoder aux depens d'autrui, to live upon others. Se justifier aux depens d'autrui, to clear himself at the peril of others.

Depense, (f.) laying out, spending, expense, charge, or disbursement; a Place in a Monastery where they keep their Bread, Wine, Pots, and Cups; a Garner, Psal. 144. 13.

Manger son Bien en de folles depenses, to waste his Estate in idle and foolish Expences.

Sa Depense monte plus haut que ses Revenus, his Layings out exceed his Comings in, he outruns the Constable, he does not live within compass.

Or thus. Faire une belle (faire une grosse) depense, to spend high, to spend nobly.

Je ne puis faire de si grandes depenses, I cannot spend so high.

Tu ne seras plus en pouvoir de faire la Depense, (Luk. 16. 2.) thou shalt be Steward no longer.

Depensé, laid out; spent, consumed.

Depenser, to lay out; to spend, or consume.

Depenser son Argent en bagatelles, to lay out his Money in trifles.

Depenser (manger) tout son Bien, to spend (or consume) his whole Estate.

Depensier, (m.) the Cater of a Monastery; a Steward, Luke 12. 42.

Un grand Depensier, a great (or a high) spender.

Depensiere, (f.) the shoe-Cater in a Nun-nery.

Une Depensiere, pour dire une femme qui fait bien de la depense, a high spender, a Woman that spends high.

Deperi, decay'd, gon to ruin.

Deperir, to decay, to go to ruin.

L'Armée deperit, the Army decays.

Laisser deperir une Maison, to let a House go to ruin.

Deperissement, (m.) decay, ruin.

Depesche } See { Depêche.
Depesché }
Depescher }

† Depetré, rid, eased of a thing. Say debarrassé.

† se Depetrer d'une affaire, to rid himself of a business.

La Pauvreté est si gluante, qu'on a peine à s'en depetrer, Poverty does so stick by one, that it is hard to shake it off.

Se depetrer de quëcun, to rid himself of one.

Depeuplé, depopulated, unpeopled.

Cette Ville est fort depeuplée, this Town is much depopulated, is very thin of people.

Depeupler, to depopulate, to unpeople.

La Peste a bien depeuplé ce Pais, the Plague hath very much unpeopled this Country.

Or thus, in a burlesk sense. † Elle depeuple de bijoux toutes les Boutiques, she unfurnishes all the Shops of their pretty toys, that is, she buys a world of toys.

Depilatoire, (f.) Pâte qu'on fait de quëques Ingrédients pour ôter le poil de dessus le Corps, a depilatory Plaster.

† Depiquer, to allay grief.

As, cela me depique de toutes les pertes que j'ai faites jusqu'ici, that allays my grief for all the losses I have hitherto sustained.

Depit, (m.) sorte de courtoise colere, vexation, anger; emulation, Gal. 5. 20.

Pleurer de depit, to cry for anger, to cry for vexation.

Or thus. As, donner du depit, to vex.

Faire depit à quëcun, to vex one.

Je veux bien oublier tous les depits qu'elle m'a faits, I am willing to forget all her provoking actions against me.

Avoir du depit contre soi même, to be angry with himself. Crever de honte & de depit, to be mad at something.

En depit de, in spite of. As, en depit de lui, in spite of him.

En depit de l'Hiver, in spite of Winter.

† Depité, vexed, angry, fretting.

As, depité du rebut qu'on lui a fait, il s'en est allé, fretting at the repulse he received, he went away.

Un Amant depité, an angry Lover.

† Depiter, to vex, anger, provoke, or provoke to anger.

As, Ps. 106. 29. ils depiterent Dieu avec leurs Inventions, they provoked God to anger with their Inventions.

Or thus. As, Ps. 74. 10. l'Enemi depitera-t-il ton Nom à jamais? shall the Enemy blaspheme thy Name for ever?

Se depiter, se fâcher, se mettre en colere, to fret, to be vexed, to be angry.

Se depiter contre quëcun, to be angry at one.

Or thus. As, la Vieillesse est chagrine, & se depite toujours, old Age is morose and ever fretful.

† Depiteux, fretful, or easily provoked; angry.

La Charité n'est point depiteuse, (1 Cor. 13. 5.) Charity is not easily provoked.

Il vaut mieux habiter dans un Desert qu'avec une Femme depiteuse, (Prov. 21. 19.) it is better to dwell in the Wilderness than with an angry Woman.

Deplacé, displaced, put out of his place.

Deplacement, (m.) a displacing, or putting of one out of his place.

Deplacer, to displace, to put out of his place.

Il n'est pas honnête de deplacer les gens, 'tis not handsom to displace people.

Deplaire, to displease, to be unagreeable, or unacceptable.

Deplaire à quëcun, to displease one, to be unacceptable to one. Je n'ai jamais eu le dessein de vous deplaire, it never was my design to displease you.

Deplaire à Dieu & au Monde, to displease God and the World. Quand il veut plaire, il deplait, when he thinks to please, he displeases.

Tout me deplait, all things displease me, there's nothing can please me.

Or thus. As, ne vous en deplaise, by your leave, by your favour.

La principale Chose qui me deplait en elle c'est sa Fierté, the chiefest Thing that I dislike in her is her Pride, or Statelinefs.

Se deplaire, to be displeased with himself; to be melancholy, or weary of a thing.

Il se deplait dans le service, & il a raison, he is weary of serving, and good reason too.

Deplaisant, unpleasant, unacceptable.

Une Chose fort deplaisante, a very unpleasant Thing.

Or thus. As, Gen. 6. 6. † Dieu se repentit d'avoir fait l'Homme en la Terre, & fut deplaisant en son cœur, it repented the Lord that he had made Man on the Earth, and it grieved him at his heart.

And Judg. 3. 7. Les Enfants d'Israël firent ce qui est deplaisant à l'Eternel, the Children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord.

Deplaisir, (m.) displeasure, affront, discourtesy, trouble; or grief.

Faire un deplaisir à quëcun, to do one a displeasure, or discourtesy. Recevoir quëque deplaisir, to receive an affront.

Avoir de grands deplaisirs, to have great troubles. Je ne pouvois avoir un plus sensible deplaisir, I could not have a greater trouble upon me.

Or thus. As, j'ai ressenti un tres sensible deplaisir de sa Mort, I have been extremely troubled (or grieved) for his Death.

J'en ai un grand deplaisir, I am very sorry (or very much troubled) for it.

Deplanté, displanted, or plucked up by the root.

Deplanter, to displant, or pluck up by the root.

As, deplanter une Tulipe, l'arracher pour la planter ailleurs, to pluck up a Tulip by the Root, in order to set it elsewhere.

Deplié, unfolded.

Enseignes depliées, or deployées, flying Colours.

Deplier, to unfold, open, or set forth.

Deplier une Serviette, to unfold a Napkin.

Elle a deplié tous ses Charmes, she has set forth all her Charms.

C'est là qu'il a deplié tous les Tresors de son Ame, there he set forth all the Treasures of his Soul.

Deplissé, unplaited.

Deplisser, to unplait, to undo the plaits of.

As, deplisser une Jupe, to undo the plaits of a Petticoat.

Deploie } See { Deplié.
Deployer }

Deploable, deplorable, lamentable, to be bewailed.

Un Accident deplorable, a deplorable Misfortune.

Deploer, to deplore, lament, or bewail.

Deploer la Ruine de sa Patrie, to deplore the Ruin of his Country.

Deploer son Infortune, to lament (or bewail) his Misfortune.

Deployé } See { Deplié.
Deployer }

But yet we say deployer les Voiles, to loose the Sails.

And 2 Cor. 4. 12. you will find these Words, La Mort se deploye en nous, Death worketh in us.

Deport, (m.) Terme d'Eglise, the first fruits, or one Year's Revenue of vacant Benefices, (due unto the Prince, Patron, or Prelate, as the Custom or Case is.)

Deportement, (m.) cd. conduite, ou maniere d'agir, deportment, carriage, doings, Deut. 28. 20.

Ses deportemens me sont assez connus, I am pretty well acquainted with his deportment.

Ses deportemens donnent prise à tout le monde, he doth expose himself strangely by his carriage.

Les mauvais deportemens des Jeunes gens viennent le plus souvent de leur mauvaise Education, the ill carriage of Young people doth commonly proceed from their bad Education.

se Deporter, to leave off, cease, forbear, or give over.

As, se deporter d'une Affaire, to leave off a Business, to give it over.

Il se deposite de bien faire, (Ps. 36. 3.) he hath left off to do good.

Deporte toi de debatre, (Prov. 17. 14.) leave off contention. And Pro. 19. 27. Mon fils, deporte toi d'ouïr ce qui te pourroit apprendre à te fourvoyer des paroles de science, cease, my son, to hear the Instruction that causeth to err from the words of knowledge.

Or thus. † As, Ex. 32. 12. Deporte toi de l'ardeur de ta colere, turn from thy fierce wrath.

Deporte toi de moi, afin que je me renforce, (Ps. 39. 14.) spare me, that I may recover my strength.

And Ps. 46. 10. Deportez vous, & conoissez que je suis Dieu, be still, and know that I am God.

Deportez vous de ces hommes, & les laissez, (Aët. 5. 38.) refrain from these men, and let them alone.

Deposé, deposed, or put out of his Place; deposited.

Deposer, to depose, or swear to; to lay down; to depose, or deprive from; to deposit.

As, il a déposé contre moi, he hath deposed (or evidenced) against me.

Deposer sa Commission, to lay down his Commission.

Deposer un Ecclesiastique, to depose (or degrade) a Church-man.

Deposer l'argent, to deposit the Money.

Depositaire, (m. and f.) he or she into whose hands a thing is deposited.

Or thus. C'est le depositaire de ses plus secrètes Penées, he is the Confident of his most secret Thoughts.

Deposition, (f.) deposition, or evidence; a deposing, degrading, or degradation.

Rendre sa deposition au Juge, to give in his evidence to the Judge.

La deposition d'un Roi, the deposing of a King. La deposition d'un Ecclesiastique, the deposing (or degrading) of a Church-man.

Deposé, deposited, deprived.

Le Roi se voyant déposé de son Pouvoir, the King seeing himself deprived of his Power.

Deposéder, to dispossess, deprive, or put out of possession.

Deposéder quécun de ses Biens, to deprive one of his Estate, to put him out of it, to take it away from him.

Or thus. As, Ex. 34. 24. † Je deposéderai les Nations de devant toi, I will cast out the Nations before thee.

Depôt. See Depot.

Deposé, chassé du poste, forced from a Post.

Deposier, (Terme de Guerre) to force from a Post.

As deposier l'Enemi, le chasser de son poste, to force the Enemy from their post, to make them quit their post.

Depôt, (from Deposer) m. any Thing left (or committed) unto another mans keeping, any Thing committed to ones trust.

Mettre une Chose en dépôt, to deposit a Thing, to put it into a third hand to keep.

Depôt (Terme de Medecin) epaisseur & marc qu'on void au fond des Urines, the feelings of Urine.

Depôt (Terme d'Augustin) Coffre où sont les Archives du Couvent, the Chest wherein are kept the Papers and Titles of a Monastery.

Depouille, (f.) the Cloaths that a Gentleman leaves off; spoil, or booty.

Il a cinquante ecus de son Maître par an, & sa depouille, he hath fifty Crowns a year of his Master, and his old Cloaths. Nous remportames quantité de depouilles, we got a great booty, or we made a great spoil.

Or thus. As, † il a quitté sa depouille mortelle, cd. il est mort, he is dead.

Depouille de Serpent, la vieille peau qu'il quitte au Printems, a Slouch, the cast skin of a Snake.

Depouillé, stript, or stripped, unclothed; dispossessed, deprived, robbed.

Je fus depouillé au milieu d'un Bois, I was stript naked in the middle of a Forest.

Depouillé de tous ses Biens, dispossessed of all his Estate, outed of all.

† Depouillement, (m.) a stripping, or uncloathing; a dispossessing, robbing, or depriving.

Or thus. As, Col. 2. 11. par le depouillement du corps des Pechez de la Chair, by putting off the body the Sins of the Flesh.

Depouiller, to strip, to strip naked; to dispossess, deprive, or rob; to cast off, to put off, to put away, or to lay aside.

As, depouiller quécun, lui ôter ses habits, to strip one naked.

Depouiller quécun de ses Biens, to deprive one of his Estate.

Depouillez cette Rigueur qui rend votre Beauté si farouche, cast off that Rigour which renders your Beauty so severe.

Depouiller le vieil homme, to put (to cast) off the old man.

Se depouiller, to pull off his Cloaths.

Se depouiller de sa Rigueur, to cast off his Rigour.

Depourveu, unprovided, unfurnished, destitute.

Depourveu de toutes Choses necessaires, unprovided of all manner of Necessaries.

Or thus. Il est depourveu de tout sens, he is senseless, he is out of his wits, he is a fool.

Au depourveu. As, prendre quécun au depourveu, to take one napping, to surprise him.

Depravation, (f.) depravation, corruption; crime, or offence.

La depravation des Mœurs, the depravation (or corruption) of Manners.

Votre depravation a eu sa recompense, your offence met with its reward.

Or thus. As, Prov. 4. 24. † Eloigne de toi la depravation des levres, put far from thee perverse lips.

La depravation de l'Appetit, the depraving of the Appetite.

Depravé, depraved, corrupt, spoiled, viciated.

Un Appetit depravé, a depraved Appetite.

Une Volonté Depravée, a corrupt Will.

Raison depravée, a corrupt Reason.

Des Mœurs depravées, corrupt Manners.

Or thus. As, avoir le Gout depravé, to have his Mouth out of Taste.

† Depraver, to deprave, corrupt, spoil, or viciate.

Depredation, (f.) cd. Pillage, Vol, depredation.

† Deprier. As, il m'avoit prié à dîner, mais il lui est survenu des Affaires, & il m'a envoyé deprier, he had invited me to dinner, but some unexpected Business falling out, he desired to be excused.

† Deprimé, depressed, abased, or brought low.

† Deprimer, to depress, abase, or bring low.

Say rabaisser, or ravaler.

Deprisé, disparaged, despised.

Depriser, to disparage, to despise.

As, depriser la Marchandise de quécun, to despise (or disparage) ones Commodity.

Depucelée, that hath lost her maiden-head, deflowered.

Depuceler une Fille, to deflower a Virgin, to get her maiden-head.

Depuis, since, from, after.

As, depuis la naissance du Monde, since the beginning of the World.

Depuis le tems que je le conois, since I knew him.

Depuis

le Jour que nous fumés ensemble, since that Day we were together.

Depuis ce tems là, since that time, since.

Cela s'est passé depuis, that hapned since.

Depuis la Fondation de cette Ville, from the Foundation of this Town.

Depuis la tête jusqu'aux piez, from top to toe.

Il est allé depuis Lion à Rome dans trois jours, he went from Lyons to Rome in three days.

Six ans depuis la prise de Rome, six years after the taking of Rome.

Or thus. As, je le conois depuis long tems, I have known him this great while.

Depuis peu, a little while, a little while since.

Depuis deux ans, these two years.

Depuis que, since.

As, tout est en Joie depuis qu'il est de retour, there is an universal Joy since his return.

Depuis quand? how long?

Depuis quand est il malade? how long hath he been sick?

† Du depuis, since, then.

Say Depuis.

Je ne l'ai pas vu, du depuis, I have not seen him since.

Du depuis je montai à Jerusalem avec Barnabas, (Gal. 2. 1.) then I went up to Jerusalem with Barnabas.

Deputation, (f.) Deputation.

Savez vous quel est le Sujet de leur Deputation? do you know the Subject of their Deputation?

Deputé, deputed, sent from a whole Corporation about some Concern of theirs.

Deputé, (a masc. Subst.) a Deputy.

Les Deputez sont venus en Corps remercier le Roi, the Deputies came in a Body to give the King thanks.

Deputer, to depute, or send.

Dequoi, (for de quoi, in two words) wherewith, wherewithal.

As, dequoi parlez vous? what do you speak of?

Il n'a pas dequoi me payer, he has not wherewith to pay me, he is not able to pay me.

Il a dequoi vivre, he hath wherewithal, he hath means.

Or thus. Dequoi s'agit il? what's the matter? what's the business?

De quoi vous entretenez vous? what's your discourse?

Vous n'avez pas dequoi douter, you have no reason to doubt.

C'est dequoi le Monde se met fort en peine, (Ironically spoken) a great matter indeed for the World to be so much concerned at it.

Travailler pour avoir dequoi vivre, to work for a livelihood.

Voilà bien dequoi faire tant l'orgueilleux, a great matter indeed to be so proud of.

Deraciné, rooted up, plucked up by the root; rooted out, extirpated.

Deraciner, to root up, to pluck up by the roots; to root out, or extirpate.

As, deraciner un Arbre, to pluck up a Tree by the root.

Deraciner un Vice, to extirpate a Vice, to root it out.

Deraisonnable, unreasonable.

As, c'est un homme fort deraisonnable, he is a most unreasonable man.

Derangé, disordered, put out of order.

Derangement, (m.) a disordering, or putting out of order.

Deranger, to disorder, or put out of order.

Deranger les Chaises, to put the Chairs out of order.

† Deraté, grown cunning.

C'est un fin deraté, he is a cunning Blade.

† Derechef, again, once more, over again.

Say encore, de nouveau.

Derechef, le Royaume des Cieux est semblable à un Trezor caché en un Champ, (Matt. 13. 44.) Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a Treasure hid in a Field.

Je quitterois derechef un Empire pour vos beaux Yeux, I could once more part with an Empire for your fair Eyes.

Dereglé, disordered; disorderly, immoderate, unruly.

Un Esprit dereglé, a disordered Mind.

Une Ville dereglée, a disorderly Town.

Une Passion dereglee, an immoderate (or unruly) Passion.
 Dereglement, (m.) disorder, confusion, disturbance; corruption, depravation, exorbitancy; lewdness, dissolution, or debauchery; misgovernment.
 Le dereglement des Saisons, the irregularity of Seasons. Il n'y a point de dereglement dans le mouvement des Cieux, there is no irregularity in the motion of the Heavens.
 Les Maladies se forment du dereglement des Humeurs, Diseases are contracted by a disturbance of the Humours.
 Ce sont de veritables marques du dereglement de la Raison, these are true tokens of a corrupt (or depraved) Reason. La Doctrine des Opinions probables est la Source & la Base de leurs Dereglements, the Doctrine of probable Opinions is the Source and Basis of their Exorbitancies.
 Dereglement des Mœurs, Lewdness, Debauchery. A quels dereglements ne se laisseroit on pas aller, si l'on ne craignoit d'être recherché? what manner of lewdness (or debauchery) would not men run into, if there were no fear of punishment?
 Se laisser emporter aux dereglements de la Langue, to give himself over to the misgovernment of his Tongue.
 Dereglement, (Adv.) As, vivre dereglement, to live an irregular life.
 Deridé, unwrinkled; whose wrinkles are gone.
 Derider le front à quécun, to take away the wrinkles of ones forehead. Say ôter les rides.
 Derision, (f.) derision, mockery.
 Cela fut fait en derision, that was done in derision.
 Derive, (f.) Terme de Mer. As, laisser aller le Vaisseau à la derive, to let by under a mizzen.
 Donner de la derive au Vaisseau, to bring a Ship out of her right Course.
 Derivé, derived.
 Ce Mot est derivé d'un autre, this Word is derived from another.
 Derivé, (a masc. Subst.) a Derivative.
 Deriver, to be derived, to come originally.
 Ce Mot derive du Latin, this Word is derived (or comes) from the Latin.
 Deriver (en Terme de Mer) to lay by.
 Dernier, last.
 Je suis le dernier de tous, I am the last of all. La dernière maison de toutes, the very last house of all.
 Le dernier Jour du Mois, the last Day of the Month. La Semaine dernière, the last Week. Les derniers venus, the last comers.
 En dernier Lieu, lastly, last of all.
 Or thus. As, Prov. 19. 20. Ecoute le Conseil, & recois l'Instruction, afin que tu deviennes sage en ton dernier tems, bear Counsel, and receive Instruction, that thou mayst be wise in thy latter end.
 C'est le dernier des hommes, he is the worst of men. Cela est du dernier Bourgeois, that's fit only for the meanest Citizen to do.
 Une Affaire de la dernière importance, a Business of the greatest consequence. Une Action de la dernière cruauté, a most barbarous Act. Je suis dans le dernier chagrin de vous voir si indisposé, I am extremely concerned to see you so indisposed.
 Vos mains sont de la dernière beauté, your hands are mighty fine, you have most delicate hands. Je vous suis obligé de la dernière obligation, I am infinitely obliged to you.
 On appelle Hypochondres les Parties au dessous des dernières Cotes, où sont le Foie & la Rate, those Parts are called Hypochondria which ly under the short Ribs, and contain the Liver and Spleen.
 Dernier (Subst.) As, elle n'aura pas le dernier, she shall not have the last word.
 Dernierement, lately, not long since, not long ago.
 Je receu dernièrement une Lettre de lui, I received lately a Letter from him.
 Derobé, stolen, or stoln.
 As, des fruits derobez, stoln fruits.

Les Eaux derobées sont douces, (Prov. 9. 17.) stolen Waters are sweet.
 Or thus. Faire une Chose à des heures derobées, to do a Thing at spare hours, at vacant times.
 Un Escalier derobé, a private Stair-case.
 Des fèves derobées, ou fraisées, beans slip out of their skins.
 Derobé (en Termes burlesques) pour dire, à qui l'on ôté la Robe, ou l'usage de la Robe, whose Gown is taken away, or at least the Use thereof.
 Pié derobé, en Termes de Marechal ferrant. C'est le pié d'un Cheval qui s'est usé à force de marcher pié nud; de sorte que, manque de Corne, il ne peut être ferré qu'à peine.
 A la derobée, (Adv.) privately, by stealth.
 Je ne puis rien faire de tout cela qu'à la derobée, I can do nothing of all that but by stealth, but by girds and snatches.
 Se retirer à la derobée, to steal away.
 Jetter des regards à la derobée, to play at bopeep.
 Derober, to steal, or rob.
 Derober quécun chose à une personne, to steal a thing from one.
 Enclin à derober, thievish, apt to steal. Inclination (ou panchant) à derober, thievishness, or aptness to steal.
 Il ne cessoit de se plaindre de sa Destinée, qui lui deroboit la Victoire, he ever complained of his Fate, which robbed him of the Victory.
 Or thus. Derober une chose à la conoissance de quécun, to conceal a thing from one, to keep him in the dark.
 Vous ne sauriez croire le tems que j'ai derobé à mes plus pressantes Occupations, you cannot imagine what time I spared from my most urgent Businesses.
 Derober des fèves, leur ôter la robe pour les rendre plus tendres, to slip beans out of their skins.
 Derober quécun (en Termes burlesques) lui ôter sa Robe, ou lui en ôter l'usage, to take ones Gown away, or to deprive him of the Use thereof.
 Se derober, to steal away.
 Se derober aux coups de quécun, to avoid (or prevent) one's blows. Se derober à la poursuite de ses Enemis, to get away from a pursuing Enemy.
 Derogatoire, derogatory, derogating.
 As, Clause derogatoire, a derogating Clause.
 Deroger, cd. faire tort, to derogate.
 As, deroger à son Droit, to derogate from his own Right.
 Deroidi, grown soft, or supple.
 Deroidir, to make soft, or supple.
 Se deroidir, to grow soft, or supple.
 Deromp, to tear, as Mark 9. 20; to break, Luke 8. 29.
 Derompu, torn; broke.
 Derouillé, the rust whereof is got out, or fetched off.
 Derouiller, to get out (or fetch off) the rust.
 Deroulé, unrolled.
 Derouler, to unroll.
 As, derouler du parchemin, to unroll a piece of parchment.
 Deroute, (f.) Rout, Defeat.
 Mettre en deroute, to rout, to defeat.
 Derriere, behind.
 As, derriere la muraille, behind the wall.
 Il est demeuré derriere, he stay's behind.
 Regardez derriere, look behind you.
 Derriere, (a masc. Subst.) backside.
 As, le derriere d'une Maison, the back-side of a House.
 Torchon son derriere, to wipe his back-side.
 Or thus. La Porte de derriere, the back-door. Le derriere d'une Cuirasse, the back of an Armour.
 Par derriere, behind.
 Des. This is a Particle, which hath a three-fold Sense.
 First, it is used instead of de les; secondly, instead of quécun; and thirdly, for depuis.
 In the first sense. As, la Grandeur des Rois, the Greatness of Kings. La Beauté des Femmes, the Beauty of Women.

Parlons des Affaires du Monde, let us speak of the Worlds Affairs.
 Venir des Indes, to come from the Indies.
 In the second Sense, it stands in a manner for the Plural of Un, and is thus made.
 As, j'ai vu des Hommes qui n'ont presque pas le Sens commun, I have seen some men that have hardly any common Sense.
 Il y a bien des Femmes qui ont perdu toute sorte de pudeur, there are a great many Women that have lost all shame.
 Qu'il y a des gens bien fous dans le Monde, how many foolish folks there are in the World.
 In the third Sense des is rendred since, from.
 As, des le commencement du Monde, since the beginning of the World. Je le connois des mon Entance, I knew him since I was a Child.
 Des ma Jeunesse, (Luke 18. 21.) from my Youth up. Des à present, from this time forward.
 Des lors, from that time, ever since, then.
 Des lors ils nous eussent engloutis tous vifs, (Ps. 124. 3.) then they had swallowed us up quick.
 Des que, assoon. Des que j'aurai dîné, assoon as I shall have dined.
 Defabusé, undeceived, disabused.
 Defabuser, to undeceive, or disabuse.
 As, defabuser quécun, to undeceive (or disabuse) one.
 Se defabuser, to undeceive himself.
 Defaccordé, put out of tune.
 Defaccorder, to put out of tune.
 As, defaccorder un Lut, to put a Lute out of tune.
 Defaccoutumé, disused.
 Defaccoutumer, to disuse.
 As, defaccoutumer le Vin, to disuse drinking of Wine.
 Or thus. As, defaccoutumer quécun, to make one leave off (to wean him from) a Custom.
 Se defaccoutumer, to disuse himself, to leave off, or give over.
 Se defaccoutumer de mentir, to leave off lying.
 Defadjusté, disordered, put out of order.
 Defagencer, to disorder, or put out of order.
 Defagreable, unpleasant, disagreeable, unacceptable.
 Cela n'est fort defagreable, that's very unpleasant to me.
 Une Voix defagreable, an unpleasant (or harsh) Voice.
 Defagreablement, unpleasantly.
 Defagré, (Terme de Mer.) As, un Vaisseau defagré, qui a perdu les Cordes de sa Manœuvre, ou partie de ses Agreils, a Ship that has lost some of her Rigging.
 Defagreer, not to please, to be disliked.
 Il a le malheur de defagreer à tout le monde, he hath the misfortune to please no body, or to be disliked by every body.
 Defagrément, (m.) any thing that is apt to create a dislike, a defect.
 Elle a un grand defagrément en toute sa personne, cd. elle n'a rien d'aimable ou d'engageant, she hath nothing that's attractive.
 C'est un grand defagrément que cela, that's a great fault, or a great defect.
 Or thus. Un tel a beaucoup de defagrément pour la Predication, such a one has no good Utterance, has no good way of delivery.
 Defajusté, disordered.
 Defajuster, to disorder.
 Defalteré, whose thirst is quenched.
 Me voila assez bien defalteré, now my thirst is pretty well quenched.
 Defalterer, to quench thirst.

Se defalterer, to quench his thirst.
Je ne saurois me defalterer, I cannot quench my thirst.

Defappareillé, undone, disordered.
Defappareiller, ôter & defaire des Choses appareillées, to undo, to disorder.
Defappliqué, taken off.
Defappliquer, to take off.

Le Temps me desappliquera des Objets qui m'occupent, Time will take me off from these Objects. I am taken up with.

Defapprendre, to unlearn, to forget.
Avant que d'apprendre quelque chose, il faut qu'il desapprenne ce qu'il a déjà appris, before he can learn any thing, he must unlearn what he hath already learnt.

Defappris, unlearned.
Defapprouvé, disproved, found fault with.
Defapprouver, to disprove, dislike, or find fault with.

Defapprouver le procédé de quelqu'un, to disprove (or dislike) ones proceeding.

Defarçonné, dismounted, thrown off of his horse.

Defarçonner quelqu'un, le tirer (ou jeter) hors des arçons d'une Selle, to dismount one, to throw him off his horse.
† La bonne Dame defarçonna son Galant, the good Lady pulled down her Gallant so low that she made him incapable of further Service.

Defargenté, the Silver whereof is worn out, or picked out.

Defargenter, to pick out (or take off) the Silver.

Defarmé, unarmed, disarmed.
Defarmer, to disarm.

As, defarmer un Soldat, to disarm a Soldier.

Defarmer la Vengeance de Dieu par de tendres Prières, to disarm God's Vengeance by tender Prayers.

Or thus. Defarmer un Vaisseau, to take the Guns &c. out of a Ship, in order to lay her up.

Defarmer les Levres d'un Cheval. C'est les tenir sèches, & hors de dessus la barre, lors qu'elles sont si grosses qu'elles la couvrent, & qu'en soutenant le mors, & empêchant que le Cheval ne le sente sur la barre, elles ôtent le vrai appui de la Bouche.

† Defarroir, or Defarroy, (m.) discomfiture, or overthrow; disorder, confusion, wrack.
Il y avoit un fort grand defarroir, (1 Sam. 14. 20.) there was a very great discomfiture.

Etre en un triste defarroir, to be in a sad confusion. Tout est en defarroir chez lui, all goes to wrack at his house.

Defassé, taken down, or asunder.
Defassé, to take down, or asunder.

As, defassé un Ouvrage de Menuiserie, to take down (or asunder) a piece of Joiner's Work.

† Defassé, freed from the Siege.
† Defassé, to raise the Siege.

As, defassé une Ville, to raise the Siege of a Town.

Defastre, (m.) disaster, mischance, misfortune.
C'est un grand defastre, 'tis a great disaster.

Il lui est arrivé un fâcheux defastre, a sad disaster (mischance, or misfortune) is befallen him.

† Defattelé } See { Detelé.
† Defatteler } See { Deteler.

Defavantage, (m.) disadvantage, prejudice, loss, or damage.

Cela va à mon defavantage, that turns to my disadvantage, prejudice, loss, or damage.

Defavantage du Temps & du Lieu, a disadvantage of Time and Place.

Or thus. Nous eumes dans ce Combat quelque defavantage, we were something worsted in that Fight.

Parler au defavantage de quelqu'un, to speak ill of one, to give an ill character of him.

Defavantageusement, disadvantageously.
Defavantageux, disadvantageous.
Ce Combat nous fut defavantageux, we had the worst on't in that Fight.

Defaveu, (from Defavouer) m. a disowning, or disclaiming.

† Defaveuglé, unblinded.
† Defaveugler, to unblind, to make one to see that had no sight before.

Defavoué, disowned, disclaimed.
Defavouer, to disown, or disclaim.

† Desbagager
Desbagouler
Desbalé
Desbaler

Desbandade
Desbandé
Desbander
Desbarbouillé
Desbarbouiller

Desbardé
Desbardier
Desbardeur
Desbarqué
Desbarquement

Desbarquer
Desbarré
Desbarrier
Desbâté
Desbâter

Desbauche
Desbauché
Desbaucher
† Desbiffé
† Desbiffer

Desboité
Desboire
Desbonder
Desbondonné
Desbondonner

Desbordé
Desbordement
Desborder
Desboté
Desboter

Desbouché
Desboucher
Desbouché
Desboucher
† Desbourbé
† Desbourber

† Desbourré
† Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer
Desbourré
Desbourrer

Heaven. Descendre aux Enfers, to descend into Hell.

Descendre dans le detail d'une chose, to descend to particulars.

Descendre des Occupations les plus importantes dans les Plaisirs les plus ordinaires, to stoop from the highest Occupations to the most common Pleasures.

Une Robe qui descend jusques aux talons, a Gown that comes down (or that reaches) to the very heels.

Descendre de Cheval, to light off his Horse.
Descendre de Carosse, to light out of his Coach.

Descendre (A&T.) As, descendre les degrez, to come (to go) down the Stairs.

Descendre du Vin dans la Cave, to let Wine down into the Cellar. Descendre une Statue de dessus une Colonne, to take down a Statue from the top of a Pillar.

Descendre du Bois d'une Montagne, to throw Wood down a Hill.

Descendu, come (or gone) down, descended; come off, come out.

Je suis descendu au bruit qu'on faisoit dans la Rue, I went down hearing the noise that was made in the Street.

Descendu du Ciel, come down from Heaven.
Il est descendu aux Enfers, he descended into Hell.

Descendu de Cheval, come off of his horse. Descendu de Carosse, come out of his Coach.

Or thus. As, descendu de bonne Famille, come from good Parents, well descended.

Descenglé } See { Dessanglé.
Descengler } See { Dessangler.

Descente, (f.) from Descendre, a fall, or falling; a descent; a taking (or letting) down.

La descente de l'aliment dans l'estomac, the falling of meat into the stomach.

La descente d'une Colline, ou Montagne, a descent, the steep side of a Hill. Faire une descente sur le rivage, to make a descent, or to land an Army.

La descente d'une Statue, the taking down of a Statue.

Or thus. As, faire une descente dans le fossé, to go down into a ditch. Faire une descente sur les Lieux (en termes de Pratique) to go upon the Place.

Descente d'humeurs, a deflux of humours.
Descente de boyau, the rupture, or burstness.

Descente de Croix, (Terme d'Imager) a Picture representing the manner how our Saviour was taken down from the Cross.

Descente, ou Tuyau de plomb par où coule l'eau des Cheneaux, a Gutter.

Descentes dans le Fossé. Ce sont des Taillades ou Enfoncemens, qu'on fait par des Sappes dans les Terres de la Contrescarpe, au dessous du Chemin couvert, & que l'on couvre de Madriers & de Claies, avec des terres dessus, pour empêcher l'effet des Feux d'artifice. Aux Fosses pleins d'eau, les Descentes se font jusqu'à fleur d'eau, & puis on comble le Fossé avec des Fascines bien affermies & chargées de terre. Aux Fosses secs, on pousse les Sappes jusqu'au fond; on y fait des Traveres, soit pour se loger, soit pour favoriser le Mineur.

Les Oiseaux font de merveilleuses pointes & descentes, the Birds of prey soar up very high, and fall down again with great force upon their Prey.

Deschainé
Deschainement
Deschainer
Deschalandé
Deschalander

† Deschanter
Descharge
Deschargé
Descharger
Deschargeur

Descharmé
Descharmer
Descharné
Descharné

† Deschassé

† Deschaffé.
 † Deschaffer.
 Deschauffé.
 Deschauffer.
 Deschet.
 Decheu.
 Deschevelé.
 Descheveler.
 Deschifré.
 Deschifrer.
 Deschifreur.
 Deschiqueté.
 Deschiqueter.
 Deschiré.
 Deschirer.
 Deschirure.
 Dechoir.
 Dechu.
 Decloûé.
 Decloûer.
 Decoché.
 Decocher.
 Decoiffée.
 Decoiffer.
 Decolé.
 Decoler.
 † Decollé.
 † Decoller.
 Decoloré.
 Decolorer.
 † Descompter.
 † Desconfire.
 † Desconfit.
 † Desconfiture.
 † Desconforté.
 † Desconforter.
 Desconfeillé.
 Desconfeiller.
 † Descontenance.
 † Desconter.
 Descouché.
 Descoucher.
 Descoudre.
 Descoulant.
 Descouler.
 Descouplé.
 Descoupler.
 Descouragé.
 Descouragement.
 Descourager.
 Descoufu.
 Descoufure.
 Descouvert.
 Descouverte.
 † Descouverture.
 Descouvri.
 Descraffé.
 Descraffer.
 Descrî.
 Descrîé.
 Descrier.

Dechaffé.
 Dechaffer.
 Dechauffé.
 Dechauffer.
 Dechet.
 Dechu.
 Dechevelé.
 Decheveler.
 Dechifré.
 Dechifrer.
 Dechifreur.
 Dechiqueté.
 Dechiqueter.
 Dechiré.
 Dechirer.
 Dechirure.
 Dechoir.
 Dechu.
 Decloûé.
 Decloûer.
 Decoché.
 Decocher.
 Decoiffée.
 Decoiffer.
 Decolé.
 Decoler.
 Decollé.
 Decoller.
 Decoloré.
 Decolorer.
 Deconter.
 Deconfire.
 Deconfit.
 Deconfiture.
 Deconforté.
 Deconforter.
 Deconfeillé.
 Deconfeiller.
 Decontenance.
 Deconter.
 Decouché.
 Decoucher.
 Decoudre.
 Decoulant.
 Decouler.
 Decouplé.
 Decoupler.
 Decouragé.
 Decouragement.
 Decourager.
 Decoufu.
 Decoufure.
 Decouvert.
 Decouverte.
 Decouverture.
 Decouvri.
 Decraffé.
 Decraffer.
 Decrî.
 Decrîé.
 Decrier.

Description, (f.) Description.
 As, faire la description d'un Pais, to make a description of a Country.

Descrire.
 Decrit.
 Decroché.
 Decrocher.
 Decroire.
 Decroiffement.
 Decroître.
 Decroté.
 Decroter.
 Decrotoire.
 Decry.
 Dedaigner.
 Dedaignement.
 Dedaigneux.
 Dedire.
 Dedit.
 Dedommagé.
 Dedommagement.
 Dedommager.
 Dedoublé.
 Dedoubler.
 † Desembalé.
 † Desembaler.
 † Desembarrassé.
 † Desembarrasser.
 † Desembarqué.
 † Desembarquer.

Decrire.
 Decrit.
 Decroché.
 Decrocher.
 Decroire.
 Decroiffement.
 Decroître.
 Decroté.
 Decroter.
 Decrotoire.
 Decrî.
 Dedaigner.
 Dedaignement.
 Dedaigneux.
 Dedire.
 Dedit.
 Dedommagé.
 Dedommagement.
 Dedommager.
 Dedoublé.
 Dedoubler.
 Debalé.
 Debaler.
 Debarassé.
 Debarasser.
 Debarqué.
 Debarquer.

Desemparé, disabled; quitted, or abandoned.
 Desemparer, to disable; to quit, or abandon.
 As, desemparer un Vaisseau, to disable a Ship.
 † Desemparer une Place, to quit (or abandon) a Place.
 Desempli, empty'd.
 Desemplir, to empty.
 As, desemplir une bouteille, to empty a bottle.
 Or thus, in a neutral Sense. Sa Maison ne desemplit point de Joueurs, his House is never free from Gamesters.
 Desenchanté, disenchanted, uncharmed.
 Desenchanter, to disenchante, to uncharm.
 Desenfle, unswelled.
 Desenfler, to take away the swelling.
 As, il faut premierement avoir un bon Onguent pour desenfler la Jambe, you must first have a good Salve to take away the swelling of the Leg.
 Desennuyé, diverted.
 Desennuyer, to divert.
 L'agréable Lecture desennuye, the reading of good Books is a fine diversion.
 † Desenrolé, discharged, put out of the list.
 † Desenroler, to discharge, or put out of the list.

† Desenrouillé } See { Derouillé.
 † Desenrouiller } See { Derouiller.

Desenrumé, that has got his Cold away.
 Desenrumer, to get a Cold away.
 Sirop qui desenrume, a Sirrup good for a Sore.
 Desenseigner, to unteach.
 As, desenseigner quécun, to unteach one, to teach him otherwise than he was taught before.

† Desenseveli } See { Deterré.
 † Desensevelir } See { Deterrer.

Desenforcé, unbewitched, rid from sorcery.
 Desenforceler, to unbewitch, or rid from sorcery.
 Desentété, work off.
 Desentêter, to work off.
 On l'a desentété de son Mariage, he was work'd off from the Match.
 Desenvenimé, the venom whereof is removed, or taken away.
 Desenvenimer, to remove (or to take away) the venom.
 As, desenvenimer une Plaie, to remove (or take away) the venom of a Sore.
 Desenyvré, unfuddled, become sober again, come to himself again after a drunken bout.
 Or thus. As, 1. Sam. 27. après que Nabal fut desenyvré, when the Wine was gone out of Nabal.

Desenyvrer, to unfuddle, to make sober again.
 Se desenyvrer, to grow sober again.
 Se desenyvrer en dormant, to sleep himself sober.

Desergoter un Cheval. C'est lui fendre l'Ergot jusqu'au vif avec un Bistouri, pour arracher une Vessie pleine d'eau, qui est couverte par l'Ergot.

Desert, (m.) Desert, Wilderness; Desolation.
 Tout Royaume divisé contre Royaume sera réduit en Desert, (Luke 11. 17.) every Kingdom divided against it self is brought to Desolation.
 Vivre dans un Desert, to live in a Desert.

Deserter, to desert, to run away from his Colours; to leave, to forsake.

Un Soldat qui a deserté, a Souldier that is run away from his Colours.

Ses Galans la desertent, her Gallants leave her, forsake her.

Deserteur, (m.) a Desertor.
 On pend les Deserteurs, Desertors are hang'd, Hanging is the Desertor's Punishment.

Un Deserteur de quécque Societé, a Desertor of a Society.

Desertion, (f.) a Souldiers deserting, or running away from his Colours.

Desertion d'appel, a giving over of an Appeal. Desertion de Cause, a Non-suit, or letting fall a Suit.

† Deservir, to deserve. Say Meriter.

Or thus. As, Ps. 28. 4. Ren leur ce qu'ils ont deservi, render to them their desert.

Voici, le Juste reçoit en la Terre ce qu'il a deservi, combien plus le Mechant & le Pecheur? (Prov. 11. 31.) behold, the Righteous shall be recompensed in the Earth, much more the Wicked and the Sinner?

Desesperé, despaired of; desperate.

La Place est desesperée, the Place is despaired of, there's no hopes of saving the Place.

Un Cheval desesperé, qui mord, ruë, & emporte, a desperate Horse.

Desesperement, desperately.

Desesperement malade, desperately sick.

Desesperer, to despair, to be in despair, to have no hope, to be without hope; to mad, anger, vex, or make mad.

Je desesperé de sa Santé, I despair (I have no hopes) of his Recovery.

Je met tout mon plaisir à le desesperer, I take the greatest pleasure in the World to vex him.

Desespoir, (m.) despair.

Il est tombé dans le desespoir, he is fallen into despair. Jetter quécun dans le desespoir, to drive a man into despair.

Or thus. As, Je suis au desespoir de ne me pouvoir promener avec vous, I am vexed that I cannot walk with you.

J'en suis au desespoir, I am extremely troubled (or concerned) about it.

Desfait.
 Desfaillance.
 Desfaillant.
 Desfailli.
 Desfaillir.
 Desfaire.
 Desfait.
 Desfaite.
 † Desfasché.
 † Desfasher.
 † Desfaveur.
 Desferré.
 Desferrer.
 Desfi.
 Desfiance.
 Desfiant.
 Desfié.
 Desfier.
 Desfiguré.
 Desfigurer.
 Desfilé.
 Desfiler.
 † Desfloration.
 † Desflorée.
 † Desflorer.
 Desfonfé.
 Desfonfer.
 † Desfortune.
 Desfrayé.
 Desfrayer.
 Desriché.
 Desricher.
 Desfrié.
 Desfriser.
 Desfronté.
 Desfronter.
 Desfroqué.
 Desfroquer.
 Desgagé.
 Desgagement.
 Desgager.
 Desgainer.
 Desgarni.
 Desgarnir.
 Desgât.
 Degaté.
 Degater.
 Degel.
 Degelé.
 Degeler.
 † Degobilli.
 † Degoisier.
 Desgorgement.
 Desgorger.
 Desgourdi.
 Desgourdir.
 Desgourdissent.
 Degout.
 Degoutant.
 Degouté.
 Degouter.
 Degraité.

Desfait.
 Desfaillance.
 Desfaillant.
 Desfailli.
 Desfaillir.
 Desfaire.
 Desfait.
 Desfaite.
 Desfâché.
 Desfâcher.
 Desfaveur.
 Desferré.
 Desferrer.
 Desfi.
 Desfiance.
 Desfiant.
 Desfié.
 Desfier.
 Desfiguré.
 Desfigurer.
 Desfilé.
 Desfiler.
 Desfloration.
 Desflorée.
 Desflorer.
 Desfonfé.
 Desfonfer.
 Desfortune.
 Desfrayé.
 Desfrayer.
 Desriché.
 Desricher.
 Desfrié.
 Desfriser.
 Desfronté.
 Desfronter.
 Desfroqué.
 Desfroquer.
 Degagé.
 Degagement.
 Degager.
 Degainer.
 Degarni.
 Degarnir.
 D-gât.
 Degaté.
 Degater.
 Degel.
 Degelé.
 Degeler.
 Degobiller.
 Degoisier.
 Degorgement.
 Degorger.
 Degourdi.
 Degourdir.
 Degourdissent.
 Degout.
 Degoutant.
 Degouté.
 Degouter.
 Degraité.

Desgra-

D E

D E

D E

Desgrafer.
Desgraislé.
Desgraisier.
† Desgringoler.
Desgrosié.
Desgrossier.
Desgrosfi.
Desgrossir.
Desguerpi.
Desguerpir.
Desguerpissement.
Desguisé.
Desguisement.
Desguiser.

See

Degrafer.
Degraislé.
Degraisier.
Degringoler.
Degrosié.
Degrossier.
Degrossi.
Degrossir.
Deguerpi.
Deguerpir.
Deguerpissement.
Deguisé.
Deguisement.
Deguiser.

Deshabillé, undressed, whose cloaths are off.
Quand vous serez deshabillé, when you are undressed, when your cloaths are off.

Deshabillé, (a masc. Subst.) an undress, a night gown, or home-dress.
Elle est en son deshabillé, she is in her night-gown.

Deshabiller, to undress, to pull the cloaths off.

Le Valet de Chambre deshabille son Maître, the Valet de Chamber undresses his Master.

Se deshabiller, to undress himself, to pull his cloaths off.

† Deshalé, rid of his swarthy complexion.

† Deshaler, to turn a swarthy complexion into a clear one.

Se deshaler, to recover his clear complexion.

Desharnaché, unharnessed, untrapped.

Desharnacher, to unharness, to untrap.

† Desherance. See Deherance.

Desherité, disinherited.

Desheriter, to disinherit.
As, desheriter son fils aîné, to disinherit his eldest Son.

Deshonneur, dishonest, disgracefull, shameful, dishonourable.

Une Action deshonnête, a dishonest (or dishonourable) Action.

Or thus. As, un Gain deshonnête, filthy Lucre.

Il est mêmes deshonnête de dire ce qu'ils font, it is a shame even to speak of those Things which they do.

Deshonneur, (f.) dishonesty.

Deshonneur, (m.) dishonour, shame, disgrace, discredit.

Couvrir le deshonneur de sa Famille, to cover the shame of his Family.

Deshonore, dishonoured, disgraced, despised, discredited, blamed, 2 Cor. 6. 3.

Deshonorer, to dishonour, disgrace, despise, or discredit; to defy, 1 Sam. 17. 25.

Deshonorer sa Famille, to dishonour (or disgrace) his Family, to cast a reproach upon it.

Or thus. As, 1 Cor. 7. 36. si quécun pense que ce soit deshonorer sa Vierge, if any man think that he behaves himself uncomely towards his Virgin.

Desja. See Dêja.

Designé, appointed.

Designier, to appoint.

Desintéressé, disinterested, uninterested, impartial.

Un Esprit desintéressé, an impartial Mind.

La beauté de l'Ame se fait voir par l'Amour desintéressé, the excellency of the Soul shews it self by a disinterested Love.

Desintéressement, (m.) impartiality.

Desintéresser quécun, to make a man disinterested.

Desinvité, disinvited.

Desinviter, to disinvite.

Desiccatif.
Desjetté.
Desjettier.
Desjeuné.
Desjeuner.

See

Desiccatif.
Dejetté.
Dejettier.
Dejeuné.
Dejeuner.

Desir, (m.) desire, wish; lust, 1 Tim. 6. 9, John 8. 44.

Le Desir est un Mouvement de l'Appetit, par lequel l'Ame s'élance vers le Bien absent, à dessein de s'en approcher & de s'unir à lui, a Desire is a Motion of the Appetite, whereby the Mind bends eagerly towards an absent Good, to arrive at and be united to it.

Un grand desir, un desir ardent, a great (or ardent) desire.

Un desir dereglé, an unruly (immoderate, or inordinate) desire.

Tous mes desirs sont accomplis, all my desires are fulfilled.

Desirable, desirable, to be wished for.

Desiré, desired, wished (longed) for.

Desirer, to desire, to wish.

Je desire d'avoir l'honneur de vous voir, I desire to have the honour to see you.

Desirer quécun chose ardemment, ou avec passion, to desire a thing earnestly or passionately, to have an earnest desire (to long) for it.

Les hommes se persuadent aisément ce qu'ils desirerent avec passion, men are easily persuaded of those things which they earnestly desire.

† Desireux, desirous.

As, il étoit desireux d'étendre davantage ses Conquêtes, he was desirous to spread his Conquests further.

Desistement, (m.) Terme de Palais, a desisting.

se Desister, to desist, to cease, or leave off.

S'il ne se desiste de sa poursuite, if he do not desist from his prosecution.

Desister has been also formerly used in a neutral Sense, without the Pronoun se in the Infinitive Mood.

As, 1 Pet. 4. 1. celui qui a souffert en la Chair a desisté de pecher, he that has suffered in the Flesh has ceased from Sin.

† Deslabré

Deslacé.

Deslacier.

Deslaffé.

Deslaffer.

Deslayé.

Delayer.

Delié.

Delier.

Delogé.

Deloger.

Des lors.

Deloyal.

† Desloyaument.

Desloyauté.

Desmailloté.

Desmailloter.

Demanché.

Demancher.

Demangeaison.

Demanger.

Demantelé.

Demanteler.

† Demantibulé.

Demarcher.

Demarer.

Demarié.

Demarier.

Demarqué.

Demarquer.

Demasqué.

Demasquer.

Demâté.

Demâter.

Demembré.

Demembrer.

Dementi.

Dementir.

Demêlé.

Demêler.

Deménagé.

Deménagement.

Deménager.

Demesuré.

Demesurement.

Desmettre.

Desmeublé.

Desmeublement.

Desmeubler.

Desmis.

Desmission.

Desmonté.

Desmonter.

Desmordre.

Desnaté.

Desnater.

Desnaturé.

† Desniaisé.

† Desniaiser.

Delabré

Delacé.

Delacer.

Delaffé.

Delaffer.

Delayé.

Delayer.

Delié.

Delier.

Delogé.

Deloger.

Des lors.

Deloyal.

Deloyaument.

Deloyauté.

Demailoté.

Demailoter.

Demanché.

Demancher.

Demangeaison.

Demanger.

Demantelé.

Demanteler.

Demantibulé.

Demarcher.

Demarer.

Demarié.

Demarier.

Demarqué.

Demarquer.

Demasqué.

Demasquer.

Demâté.

Demâter.

Demembré.

Demembrer.

Dementi.

Dementir.

Demêlé.

Demêler.

Deménagé.

Deménagement.

Deménager.

Demesuré.

Demesurement.

Demettre.

Demeublé.

Demeublement.

Demeubler.

Demis.

Demission.

Demonté.

Demonter.

Demordre.

Denaté.

Denater.

Denaturé.

Deniaisé.

Deniaiser.

See

Desniché

Desnicher.

† Desnigré.

† Desnigrer.

Desnoué.

Desnouement.

Desnouër.

Desnué.

See

Deniché.

Denicher.

Denigré.

Denigrer.

Denoué.

Denouement.

Denouër.

Denué.

Desobeir, to disobey, to be disobedient, or undutiful.

As, desobeir à son Pere, to be disobedient (or undutiful) to his Father.

Desobeissance, (f.) disobedience, undutifulness.

Sa Desobeissance merite d'être punie, his Disobedience deserves to be punished.

Desobeissant, disobedient, undutiful.

Un Enfant desobeissant, an undutiful Child.

Desobligé, disobliged.

† Desobligeamment, disobligingly, unkindly.

Desobligeant, disobliging, unkind.

Vous êtes bien desobligeant, you are very unkind.

Une Lettre fort desobligeante, a very unkind (or disobliging) Letter.

Desobliger, to disoblige.

Vous m'avez desobligé d'une manière fort sensible, you have disobliged me in a most sensible manner.

† Desoccupation, (f.) a retiring from business.

Desoccupé, retired from business.

se Desoccuper, to retire from business, to lay them aside.

Son principal soin étoit de se desoccuper, his chief care was to lay business aside.

Ils s'appliquoient à ce qu'ils devoient à Dieu, & se desoccupoient de tout autre soin, they apply'd themselves to their duty to God, and laid all other cares aside.

Desolation, (f.) desolation, ruin, or devastation; trouble, affliction.

La Guerre est cause de la Desolation de tout ce Pais, the War has occasioned the Ruin of all this Country.

Etre dans la desolation, to be in trouble.

Desolé, desolate, ruined, laid wast; doleful, disconsolate, grievous.

Elle est toute desolée, she is all disconsolate.

D'une plainte desolée, with a doleful complaint.

Desoler, to desolate, ruin, or lay wast; to vex, trouble, or grieve.

Desoler la Campagne, to ruin the Campaign. Ils desolent les Familles par leurs Concussions, they ruin whole Family's by their Concussions, or publick Extorsions.

Vous me desolez, you vex me.

Desoppilatif, deobstructive, opening, that removes obstructions.

Medicament desoppilatif, a deobstructive Medicament.

Desoppiler, ôter les obstructions, to deobstruct, or remove obstructions.

Desordonné, inordinate, disordinate, extravagant, unruly, unreasonable.

Avoir un amour desordonné pour les Grands, to have an extravagant desire of Greatness.

Nos Passions desordonnées, our unruly (or inordinate) Affections.

Desordonnement, disordinately, disorderly, without any rule.

Vivre desordonnement, to live without any rule.

Desordre, (m.) disorder, confusion; tumult, hurly-burly; havoc.

Je n'ai jamais ven de desordre plus grand, I never saw a greater disorder, or greater confusion. Tout est ici dans un grand desordre, All is here in a great confusion.

Elle porta la main sur ses yeux, pour cacher son desordre à ceux de son Amant, she laid her hand upon her eyes, to hide her disorder from the sight of her Lover. Elle changea cent fois de couleur, & son Ame parut tout à fait en desordre, her colour rise a hundred times, and her Soul appeared to be in disorder.

D'où vient tout ce Desordre? how comes this Tumult, this hurly-burly?

Ne

Ne faites point ici de desordre, make no havock here.

Or thus, As, mettre tout en desordre, to confound every thing.

Elle étoit mal vêtue, & toute en desordre, she was in a poor garb, and all out of order. Cela la fit rougir, & la mit en desordre, that made her colour rise, and dashed her out of countenance.

Desorienté, confounded, out of countenance.

Desorienter quécun, to draw one out of his Country; to take one out of his element; to confound one, or put him out of countenance.

Desormais, hereafter, from henceforth.

Desossé, boned.

Un Lievre desossé, a boned Hare.

Desosser, ôter les Os qui sont dans la Chair, to Bone.

As, desosser un Lievre, to bone a Hare.

Despaillé

Despaïser

Despaqueté

Despaqueter

Despecé

Despecer

Despeinct

Despeindre

Despendance

Despendre

Despendu

Despens

Despense

Despensé

Despenser

Despensier

Despensiere

Despêche

Despêché

Despêcher

Despêtré

Despêtrer

Despeuplé

Despeupler

Despit

Despité

Despiter

Despitieux

Desplacé

Desplacement

Desplacer

Desplaire

Desplaisant

Desplaisir

Desplanté

Desplanter

Desplié

Desplier

Desplissé

Desplisser

Desployé

Desployer

Desposédé

Desposéder

Depaillé.

Depaïser.

Depaqueté.

Depaqueter.

Depecé.

Depecer.

Depeinct.

Depeindre.

Dependance.

Dependre.

Dependu.

Depens.

Depense.

Depensé.

Depenser.

Depensier.

Depensiere.

Depêche.

Depêché.

Depêcher.

Depêtré.

Depêtrer.

Depeuplé.

Depeupler.

Depit.

Depité.

Depiter.

Depitieux.

Deplacé.

Deplacement.

Deplacer.

Deplaire.

Deplaisant.

Deplaisir.

Deplanté.

Deplanter.

Deplié.

Deplier.

Deplissé.

Deplisser.

Deployé.

Deployer.

Deposédé.

Deposéder.

Despote, (m.) Prince qui depend de l'Empire Ottoman, Despot, a sort of Prince under the Ottoman Empire.

Despotique, cd. Souverain, Despotical, Absolute, Arbitrary.

As, un Gouvernement Despotique, a Despotical (Absolute, or Arbitrary) Government.

Despotiquement, Despotically, Absolutely, Arbitrarily.

Depouille

Depouillé

Depouiller

Depourveu

Deprisé

Depriser

Depucelée

Depuceler

Desquels

Desquelles

Deraciné

Deraciner

Deraisonnable

Derangé

Derangement

Deranger

Derégé

Depouille.

Depouillé.

Depouiller.

Depourveu.

Deprisé.

Depriser.

Depucelée.

Depuceler.

Duquel.

Deraciné.

Deraciner.

Deraisonnable.

Derangé.

Derangement.

Deranger.

Derégé.

Defreglement

Defregler

Defridé

Defridier

Defrobé

Defrober

Defrompre

Defrompu

Defrouillé

Defrouiller

Defroulé

Defrouler

Defroute

Derelement.

Dereglér.

Deridé.

Derider.

Derobé.

Derober.

Derompre.

Derompu.

Derouillé.

Derouiller.

Deroulé.

Derouler.

Deroute.

See

† se Dessaisir, to deprive himself.

As, se dessaisir de ce qu'on a, to deprive himself of his own.

Deffalé, watered, unsalted, the salt whereof is taken out.

As, Saumon deffalé, watered Salmon.

Morue deffalée, watered green fish.

† Deffalé, (a masc. Subst.) a cunning blade.

C'est un Deffalé, he is a cunning Blade, he has seen the Lyons.

Deffaler, to water, to unsalt, to take out the salt.

Faire deffaler des harangs, to water herrings.

Les Anglois ont en fin trouvé le secret de deffaler l'Eau de Mer, & de la rendre salubre, the English have at last found the Art of making Sea-water fresh and wholesome.

Deffanglé, ungird.

Deffangler, to ungird.

As, deffangler un Cheval, to ungird a Horse.

Deffeché, dry'd, or dry'd up.

Deffechement, (m.) a drying, or drying up.

On dit que ce Fruit contribue au deffechement de tout le Corps, this Fruit is said to contribute to the drying of the whole Body.

Deffecher, to dry, to dry up.

Les Vents deffechent la Terre, Winds dry the Ground.

Le Sucre le plus raffiné est le moins propre pour l'Usage des Hommes, car il nous echaufe & nous deffeché trop, the most refined Sugar is the least proper for the Use of Man, for it heats and dries us too much.

Deffsein, (m.) design, mind, intention, purpose, resolution; a design, plot, or project; a Painter's design.

Former un deffsein, faire deffsein, to frame a design, to take a design in hand, to design, to undertake. Avoir quèque deffsein dans l'esprit, to have a design in his head. Avoir un deffsein sur quécun, to have a design upon one.

C'est mon deffsein, 'tis my intention, 'tis my resolution. J'étois dans le deffsein de passer en Angleterre, I had a mind (I made account) to go into England.

Executer son deffsein, to execute his design, to bring it to pass. Changer de deffsein, to change (or alter) his design. Renverser les Deffseins de quécun, to overthrow a man's Designs.

En verité c'est un beau Deffsein, truly 'tis a noble Design.

A deffsein, de deffsein formé, purposely, on set purpose. A bon deffsein, with a good intent. A mauvais deffsein, with an ill intent.

Il a fait cela à deffsein de me nuire, he hath done that with a design (or in order) to pre-judice me.

Deffelé, unsaddled.

Deffeler, to unsaddle.

As, deffeler un Cheval, to unsaddle a Horse.

Defferre. As, il est dur à la defferre, cd. il ne donne pas volontiers, il n'ouvre pas aisément sa bourse, he is a bold-fast, he is a close-fisted man.

Defferré, loosened, made a little loose.

Defferrer, to loosen, to make a little loose.

Defferrez mon corps de jupe, loosen my stays.

This Verb is also elegantly used by Poets for lancer, or decocher.

Deffert, (m.) the last course at Table, (consisting usually of Tarts, Cheese, Fruit, and Sweet-meats.)

Servir le Deffert, mettre le Deffert sur table, to bring the last Course.

On est au Deffert, the last Course is upon the Table.

Defferte, (f.) that which comes off of the King's Table; the functions of a Parsonage, or the like.

Deffervir, to take away, to clear the Table; to serve; to do an ill office to.

Deffervez ce Plat, to take away the Dish.

Deffervir une Cure, to serve a Parish, in the quality of Priest, &c.

† Le Fourbe a deffervi mes feux, the Cheat hath done an ill office to my amorous flames.

Defficatif (from Deffecher) desiccative, apt to dry up.

As, un Onguent defficatif, a desiccative Salve.

Deffignateur } See Deffignateur.

Deffigné } Deffiné.

Deffigner } Deffiner.

Deffinateur, (m.) Designer.

As, être bon Deffinateur, to be a good Designer, to design well.

Deffiné, designed; framed, contrived.

Deffiner, to design; to frame, to contrive.

As, deffiner un Portrait, to design a Picture.

† Vous verrez de quel air la Nature a deffiné sa personne, you shall see how Nature hath framed his person.

Deffolé, unsold.

As, un Cheval deffolé, a Horse unsold, the bottom of whose foot (or hoof) is pared quite away.

Deffoler, cd. arracher la Sole du pié d'un Cheval, to unsold.

As, deffoler un Cheval, to unsold a Horse, to pare away (or wholly cut off) the bottom of a Horse's foot.

Deffoubs. See Deffous.

Deffoudé, unfolded.

Voilà qui est tout deffoudé, 'tis all unfolded.

Deffouder, to unfold.

Deffous, underneath, beneath, below, under.

Cherchez deffous, look underneath.

Les uns sont deffous, les autres deffous, some are above, some beneath.

Le Soleil qui voit tout deffous & deffous l'Air ne voit rien qui l'égale, the Sun that sees all things above and below the Air sees no beauty like her.

Il n'y a pas assez d'Or ni deffous ni deffous la Terre pour me faire commettre une telle Mechanceté, there is not Gold enough either above or under Ground to make me perpetrate so great a Villany.

Elle n'est ni dedans ni deffous le Coffre, she is neither in the Trunk nor under it.

Sens deffous deffous, topsy-turvy, upside down.

Ci deffous, a little lower.

Par deffous, under. Aller, lier, creuser par deffous, to go, to try, to dig under.

On la menoit par deffous les bras, she was led under the arms.

De deffous, from under. As, de deffous terre, from under ground.

Un Serpent sortit de deffous l'Autel, out came a Snake from under the Altar.

Au deffous, under, underneath, below. J'étois alors au deffous de 30 ans, I was then under 30 years of age.

Au deffous il y avoit une Tour, there was a Tower underneath.

Être assis au deffous d'un autre, to sit below another. Cela est au deffous de vous, cd. est indigne de vous, that's below you, that's unworthy of you.

Or thus. Je suis au deffous de lui, I am inferior to him, he is the better man.

Deffous, (Subst.) the bottom, the lower (or undermost) part of a thing.

Le Feu tient le deffous, & l'Air le deffous, the Fire possesses the upper parts, and the Air the lower.

Or thus. As, le deffous (ou la plante) du pié, the Sole of the foot.

† Donner du deffous, to beat, to overpower.

Avoir du deffous, to be beaten, to be overpowered.

Deffous,

Dessus, upon, above.

Il est dessus, he is upon.

Les uns sont dessus, les autres dessous, some are above, some beneath.

Sens dessus dessous, top-sy-turvy, upside down.

Ci dessus, above.

Par dessus, au dessus, above. Il vole par dessus les Nues, he flies above the Clouds.

Je vous aime par dessus tous les autres, I love you above all the rest.

Il est beaucoup au dessus de moi, he is much above me.

De dessus, off, from. Les fruits tombent de dessus les Arbres, the fruits fall off the Trees.

Il ne leva jamais les yeux de dessus elle, he never turned his eyes from her.

La dessus, upon that, thereupon. Que dit il la dessus? what said he upon that, or thereupon?

Dessus, (a masc. Subst.) top; superscription; advantage; the treble (or upper part) in Music.

As, gagner le dessus de la Montagne, to get to the top of a Hill.

Ecrire (mettre) le dessus d'une Lettre, to write the superscription of a Letter, to superscribe a Letter. Un dessus de Lettre mal écrit, a superscription ill written.

Avoir le dessus, to prevail, to have the advantage, to be uppermost.

Il veut toujours avoir le dessus, he will always be uppermost.

Prendre le dessus, to take place above one. Ils n'ont point encore eu le dessus de moi, (Ps. 129. 2.) they not have yet prevailed against me.

Chanter le dessus, to sing the treble part.

Destaché, Detaché.

Destachement, Detachment.

Destacher, Detacher.

Destacheur, Detacheur.

Destail, Detail.

Destaler, Detaler.

Detindre, Detindre.

Detoint, Detoint.

Detelé, Detelé.

Deteler, Deteler.

Detendre, Detendre.

Detendu, Detendu.

Detente, Detente.

Deterré, Deterré.

Deterrer, Deterrer.

Detroné, Detroné.

Detroner, Detroner.

Destin, (m.) destiny, fate.

Son destin porte, qu'il guerira de cette Maladie, 'tis his destiny to recover of this Distemper.

Il est mal aisé d'échapper à son destin, 'tis a hard matter to avoid his destiny.

Il a eu un cruel destin, he had a cruel destiny.

Destiné, born to a thing, designed, devoted, destinated, appointed.

Destiné à être pendu, born to be hanged.

Il est destiné à être malheureux, he is born to be unhappy, or to an unhappy life.

J'étois destiné à l'Eglise, I was designed for a Church-man, I was devoted to the Church.

Destinée, (Subst.) destiny, fate.

Se plaindre de sa destinée, to complain of his destiny.

Destiner, to design, destinate, devote, or appoint.

J'avois destiné cet Argent à des Aumônes, I had designed that money for the Poor.

Destiner les Enfants au Service de Dieu, to devote his Children to the Service of God.

Destitué, destitute, deprived.

As, destitué d'Amis, destitute of Friends.

Destitué de toutes choses, destitute of all things.

Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 4. 3. Etans en perplexité, mais non pas destitués, being perplexed, but not in despair.

Destituer, to leave destitute.

Je me suis retiré vers toi, ne destitue point mon Ame, (Ps. 141. 8.) in thee is my trust, leave not my Soul destitute.

Destonner, Detonner.

Destordre, Detordre.

Destorse.

Destortillé.

Destortiller.

Destour.

Destourbier.

Destourné.

Destournement.

Destourner.

Destraqué.

Destraquer.

Destrempe.

Destrempe.

Destremper.

Destresse.

Destroit.

Destrompé.

Destromper.

Destroné.

Destroner.

Destrouffé.

Destrouffier.

Destruire.

Detruire.

Detruit.

Devalé.

Devaler.

Devalisé.

Devaliser.

Developé.

Developper.

Devergonde.

Devergonder.

Deverrouillé.

Deverrouiller.

Devesti.

Devestir.

Devidé.

Devider.

Devidéuse.

Devidoir.

Devisagé.

Devisager.

Defuni, disunited, divided.

Defunion, (f.) disunion, division.

Il y a une étrange defunion parmi eux, there is a strange disunion amongst them.

Defunir, to disunite, to divide.

Defunir des Amis, to disunite Friends.

Se defunir, to come asunder; to be divided.

Devoilé.

Devoiler.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Detorse.

Detortillé.

Detortiller.

Detour.

Detourbier.

Detourné.

Detournement.

Detourner.

Detraqué.

Detraquer.

Detrempe.

Detrempe.

Detremper.

Detresse.

Detroit.

Detrompé.

Detromper.

Detroné.

Detroner.

Detrouffé.

Detrouffier.

Detruire.

Detruit.

Devalé.

Devaler.

Devalisé.

Devaliser.

Developé.

Developper.

Devergonde.

Devergonder.

Deverrouillé.

Deverrouiller.

Devesti.

Devestir.

Devidé.

Devider.

Devidéuse.

Devidoir.

Devisagé.

Devisager.

Defuni, disunited, divided.

Defunion, (f.) disunion, division.

Il y a une étrange defunion parmi eux, there is a strange disunion amongst them.

Defunir, to disunite, to divide.

Defunir des Amis, to disunite Friends.

Se defunir, to come asunder; to be divided.

Devoilé.

Devoiler.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devoilé.

Devo

Il y a de la temerité d'entreprendre de déterminer jusques où s'étend la Puissance de Dieu, 'tis a piece of rashness for a man to take upon him to resolve how far the Power of God extends it self.

Cela me détermina à fortir, that inclined me to go out, that made me go out.

Deterré, digged (or dug) out of the ground.

Deterrer, to dig out of the ground; to find out, or discover.

As, deterrer un Corps, to dig a dead Body out of the ground.

Quelque part qu'il soit, on le deterrera, wherever he be, he will be found out; or, he will be found out, if he be above ground.

On l'a en fin deterré, he is found out at last.

Je deterreraï cela, I shall find it out. C'est un homme qui a deterré mille Choses curieuses, he is a man that hath discovered a thousand Curiosities.

Deterrif, qui ôte & nettoie, deterrive, of a scouring (or cleansing) quality.

Detestable, abominable, detestable, sad, or wretched.

As, une Action detestable, an abominable (or detestable) Action.

Une Comedie detestable, a wretched Play.

Un Potage detestable, a wretched Potage.

Une detestable Vieille, an old and ugly Hag.

Detester, to abhor, to detest, to abominate.

As, detester le Vice, to abhor Vice.

Or thus. As, Numb. 23. 7. Vien, deteste Israël, come, defy Israel.

Dethroné } See { Dethroné.

Dethroner } See { Dethroner.

Detonner (Terme de Musique) fortir de ton, to go out of tune.

Detonner & fulminer (en Termes de Chymie) to expel from Minerals the impure, volatile, & sulphureous parts, by keeping those which are internal and fixt.

Detorce, as Detorse.

Detordre, to unwring.

As, tordre & detordre du linge, to wring and unwring linen.

Se detordre, to unwring (in a neutral sense.)

Detorse, unwring.

Detorse, (Subst) See Entorse.

Detortillé, untwisted.

Detortiller, to untwist.

As, detortiller de l'osier, to untwist o-zier.

Se detortiller, to untwist (in a neutral sense.)

Detour, (m.) a turning, or by-way; a going about the bush; a by-way, cunning shift, evasion, subterfuge.

Le detour d'une Rue, the turning of a Street.

Pour éviter la Compagnie elle cherchoit les plus secrets detours, to shun his Company she looked for the most unfrequented by-ways.

C'est fuir la difficulté que de prendre ce detour, to go thus about the bush is to avoid splitting against the difficulty.

O le plaissant detour ! oh ! what a cunning shift this is. Je ne cherche aucun detour, I seek for no by-ways.

Or thus. As, j'aime sans detour, my love is downright and sincere.

Detourbier, (m.) a disturbance, hinderance, or interruption.

Detourné, disturbed, hindered, taken off, interrupted; turned; dissuaded; conveyed away, converted to his own use.

Or thus. As, des Lieux (des Endroits) detournez, by-ways.

Le Chemin que tu tiens est detourné de devant moi, (Numb. 22. 32.) thy Way is perverted before me.

Detourné de son Chemin, put out of his Way.

Detournement, (m.) a turning.

As, un detournement de tête, a turning of the head.

Detourner, to disturb, hinder, take off, or interrupt; to turn; to dissuade; to convey away, or convert to his own use.

Vous me detournez toujours, you always disturb me, or take me off from my work.

Detourner le cours d'une Riviere, to turn the course of a River.

Detourner les yeux d'un Objet, & les porter sur un autre, to turn his eyes from one Object to another.

Detourner ses pensées, ou son discours, to turn his thoughts and discourse to another thing.

Detourner quécun d'une Chose, to dissuade one from a Thing, to turn his mind from it.

Il faut le detourner de ce mauvais Dessein, he must be dissuaded from that pernicious Design.

Detourner à son profit les Effets d'autrui, to convert to his own use the Effects of another.

Or thus. Detourner quécun Mal de dessus quécun, to avert an Evil from one.

Detourner quécun par la crainte, to deter one.

Se detourner, to turn aside, to turn away, to turn.

J'ai évité un coup fatal, en me detournant un peu, I avoided a fatal blow, by turning a little aside.

Ils se sont detournés de moi, (2 Tim. 1. 15.) they be turned away from me.

Se detourner de la Verité, to turn from the Truth.

Or thus. As, se detourner de son Chemin, to go out of his Way.

Se detourner de son Travail, to leave his Work, to go from his Work.

Se detourner du Mal, to depart from (to eschew) Evil.

Detraçter, cd. medire, to detract, or speak evil of, to slander, to traduce, or backbite.

Detraçter de son Prochain, to detract from his Neighbour, to speak evil of him, to slander (to traduce) him.

Seigneur, qui est ce qui séjournera en ton Tabernacle ? celui qui ne detraçte point par sa Langue, (Ps. 15. 1. 3.) Lord, who shall abide in thy Tabernacle ? he that backbiteth not with his Tongue.

Detraçteur, (m.) Detraçteur, Slanderer, or Traducer.

Detraction, (f.) cd. Médifance, detraction, slander, evil-speaking, backbiting.

Or thus. As, Matth. 15. 19. du Cœur sortent les detractions, out of the Heart proceed blasphemies.

Detraqué, out of order.

Detraquer, to put out of order.

As, detraquer une Horloge, to put a Clock out of order.

Detrempe, (f.) Terme de Peinture, Distemper, a kind of Painting in water-colours.

Peindre en detrempe, to paint in distemper.

Detrempé, diluted, allay'd.

Detremper, to dilute, or allay.

As, ce Fruit detrempe le Sang qui est trop épais ou grossier, this Fruit dilutes the Blood which is too thick and gross.

Detresse, (f.) distress, sorrow, trouble, anguish, tribulation.

As, Ps. 20. 1. L'Eternel te reponde au Jour de ta detresse, the Lord hear thee in the Day of trouble.

Les detresses de mon Cœur se sont augmentées, (Ps. 25. 17.) the troubles of my Heart are enlarged.

Allez, & adressez vos cris aux Dieux que vous avez choisis, qu'ils vous delivrent au tems de votre Detresse, (Judg. 9. 14.) go, and cry unto the Gods which you have chosen, let them deliver you in the time of your Tribulation.

Or thus. As, Ps. 116. 3. les detresses du Sepulcre m'avoient rencontré, the pains of Hell got hold upon me.

Detriment, (m.) detriment, loss, damage.

Say Perte.

Detroit, (m.) Straits, or Streights, a narrow Passage of the Sea between two Lands, or a narrow Way between two Hills; the Jurisdiction, Precincts, or Liberties of a Bailiwick.

Le fameux Detroit de Gibraltar, the famous

Streights of Gibraltar. Passer le Detroit, to pass the Streights.

Detrompé, undecieved.

Detromper, to undeceive.

As, detromper un Ami, to undeceive a Friend.

Detroné, unthroned.

Detroner, to unthrone.

As, detroner un Prince, to unthrone a Prince, to put him out of his Throne.

Detrouffé, unpinmed; robbed.

Detrouffier, to unpin; to rob.

As, detrouffier une Robe, to unpin a Gown.

On l'a detrouffé dans un Bois, he was robbed in a Wood.

Detruire, to destroy, cast down, defeat, ruin, or spoil.

Detruire un Parti, to destroy (ruin, or spoil) a Party.

Vous detruisez ce que j'ai établi, you destroy my principles.

Je m'en vai detruire en deux mots toutes ses Raisons, in two Words will I defeat all his Arguments.

Il craint que je ne le detruise dans votre esprit, he fears I should ruin him in your favour.

Or thus. As, 1 Cor. 3. 17. Si quécun detruit le Temple de Dieu, Dieu le detruira, if any man defile the Temple of God, him shall God destroy.

And 2 Tim. 1. 10. Jesus Christ qui a detruit la Mort, Jesus Christ who has abolished Death.

Se detruire, to fall to ruin, to lose himself.

Luke 9. 25.

Les plus grandes Choses se detruisent peu à peu par la Discorde, by Discord the greatest Things decay and fall to ruin.

Detruit, destroy'd, cast down, ruined, spoiled.

Dette, (f.) from Devoir, a Debt; a Duty, or Obligation.

Faire (contracter) une dette, to contract a debt.

Dette active, a debt we owe.

Dette passive, a debt owing us.

Etre chargé de dettes, to be deeply indebted, to be indebted over head and ears.

N'avoir pas de quoi payer ses dettes, not to have wherewithal to pay.

Se charger des dettes d'un autre, to take upon himself another man's debts.

Etre exent de dettes, to owe nothing, to be free from debts.

Avouer la dette, to acknowledge the debt.

La nier, to deny it.

Payer les dettes, to pay off his debts.

Sortir de dettes, to come out of debt.

Exiger ses dettes, to demand his debts.

Il faut que je m'acquitte de cette dette, I must acquit my self of that debt, or obligation.

Detteur, (m.) a Debtor.

Say Debitteur.

Deu, due, owing.

Il m'est deu bien de l'argent, a great deal of money is due to me.

La même Somme m'est deuë, the same Sum is owing to me.

Deu, a Preter Tense of the Verb Devoir.

As, quand j'aurois deu perir, though I should have died for't, though it had cost me my life.

Devalé, let down.

Devaler, to let down.

Or thus. As, l'Ame d'Orphée devala dans les Enfers, Orpheus his Soul hurried down into Hell.

Devalisé, robbed.

Il fut devalisé au milieu d'un Bois, he was robbed in the midst of a Wood.

Devaliser, to rob.

Devancé, outrun, prevented.

Devancer, to outrun, to outgo, to come before, to prevent, to go beyond.

Je l'ai devancé de cent pas, I outrun him a hundred paces.

Il devança de trois jours la Flote, he came three days before the Fleet.

Devancer l'Aurore, to prevent the Morning.

Il le devance en merite, he goes beyond him in point of merit.

Or thus. As, vous me devancez en âge, you are more advanced in years than I.

Devancier } a Predecessour.
Devanciere }

Leurs Devanciers, their Predecessors, their Parents, 1 Tim. 5. 4.

Devant, (a Preposition) before, over against; before, in the presence of, in the sight of.

As, devant la porte de l'Eglise, before the Church-door. Aller devant les autres, to go before the rest. Mettre une Chose devant les yeux de quëcun, to set a Thing before ones eyes. Mettez vous cela devant les yeux, set that before your eyes. On emportoit tout devant ses yeux, every thing was carried away before his face.

Plaider devant un Juge, to plead before a Judge. Faire une Chose devant tout le Monde, to do a thing before the face of the whole World, to do a thing bare-faced, or publicly. Devant Dieu, in the sight (in the presence) of God.

Or thus. As, aller au devant de quëcun, to go to meet one.

La Ville sortit au devant de lui, the Town went to meet him.

Je vai au devant de votre pensée, I prevent your objection.

De devant. As, ôtez vous de devant moi, stand out of my sight; (also) get out of my sight, or avoid my presence.

Devant, (Adv.) before.

As, marchez devant, go (march) before.

Devant & derriere, before and behind. Met-tez vous devant moi, stand before me.

Par devant, before.

As, il est beau par devant, & laid par derriere, he is handsome before, and ill-favoured behind. Il étoit blessé par devant, he was wounded before, or in the fore-part.

Sens devant derriere, preposterously, the cart before the horse.

Ci devant, heretofore, formerly.

† Devant que, (a Conjunction) before, before that, ere. Say avant que.

Devant, (a masc. Subst.) fore-part, fore-side.

Le devant de la tête, the forepart of the head.

Le devant du Logis, the forepart (the front) of the House. Devant de Jupe, de Carosse, the forepart of a Petticoat, of a Coach. Le devant d'une Femme, the forepart of a Woman.

Or thus. Un devant de Chemise, the forepart of a Shift. Un devant de Cuirasse, the breast of an Armour. Devant de Perruque, cd. les cheveux bouclés qui couvrent le front, the fore-top of a Perwig.

Un devant d'Estomac, Couffinet que l'on porte sur l'Estomac pour le tenir chaud, a stomacher.

† Bâti sur le devant, cd. commencer d'avoir le Ventre gros & de devenir gras, to grow big, or burly.

† Elle prête son Devant, cd. elle se prostitue, she prostitutes her self, or she is free of her Commodity.

Prendre les Devans, to march before.

Lastly, Devant is also a Participle of the Verb

Devoir, to owe.

† Devantier, (m.) an apron. Say Ta-bliser.

Developé, opened, unwrapped, unfolded.

Developer, to open, to unwrap, or unfold.

Developer un Mystere, to unfold a Mystery.

Deuement. See Deuement.

Devenir, to become, to grow, to be made.

As, que devient votre argent? what becomes of your money? Que deviendrai je? what will become of me?

Devenir sage, honnête, civil, obligeant, to grow sober, courteous, civil, obliging. Devenir riche & taquin, to grow rich and miserable.

Afin que ceux qui voient deviennent aveugles, (John 9. 39.) that they which see might be made blind.

Devenu, become, grown.

Qu'est il devenu? what's become of him?

Qu'est devenue cette grande Armée? what's become of that great Army?

Il est devenu fort sobre, he is grown very sober.

† Devergondé, qui n'a point de honte, bold, shameless, impudent.

C'est un devergondé, he is a bold (or an impudent) fellow.

† se Devergonder, perdre sa honte, to lose all shame, to grow shameless; or impudent.

Deverrouillé, unbolted.

Deyerrouiller, to unbolt.

As, deverrouiller une porte, to unbolt a door.

† Devers, towards. Say Vers.

De devers, from, as Rev. 16. 17.

Par devers, with, as Ps. 36. 9. Ps. 130. 7.

† Devenir, to strip, to pull (or put) off.

L'ayant devetu, ils mirent sur lui un Manteau d'ecarlate, (Matt. 27. 28.) they stripped him, and put on him a Scarlet Robe.

Puis Aaron devetira les Vêtemens de lin desquels il s'étoit vetu, (Lev. 16. 23) then Aaron shall put off the linnen Garments which he had put on.

† Devetu, stripped, pulled (or put) off.

Devidé, wound, wound into a skain, or bottom.

Devider, to wind.

As, devider de la soie en echeveau, to wind silk into a skain. Devider de la laine en peloton, to wind yarn into bottom.

Or thus. As, † devider une fourberie, to discover (or find out) a cheat. Say decouvrir, or develop.

Devideuse, (f.) a Woman that winds any thing into skains, or bottoms.

Devidoir, (m.) a pair of Blades, or of Yarn-windles.

Deuil, (m.) mourning, a mourning sute of cloaths; grief, or sorrow.

Prendre le deuil, to put on mourning.

La Cour est en deuil, the Court is in mourning.

Porter le grand deuil, ou le petit deuil, to wear first, or second mourning. Quitter le deuil, to leave off mourning.

Etre dans le deuil, to be cast down with grief.

Pourquoi me laissez vous dans le deuil & dans la tristesse? why d'ye leave me in this sorrowful condition?

Or thus. As, † mener deuil, to mourn, to wail, Rev. 1. 7; to lament, Rev. 18. 9.

Le Deuil n'est qu'au dehors, the mourning is but from the teeth outward.

Devin, (m.) Diviner, or South-sayer, a foreteller of Things to come, a Cunning man.

Deviné, guessed.

As, c'est bien deviné, 'tis well guessed.

Devinement, (m.) divination; the reward of divination, Numb. 22. 7; Witchcraft, 1 Sam. 15. 23.

Deviner, to divine, or foretell things to come;

to conjecture, or guess.

Vous avez bien deviné, you guessed right, you have hit the nail on the head.

Devis, (m.) a Plot for a Building; a talking, or prating together.

Devilagé, who has got a scratched face.

Devifager quëcun, lui egratigner le visage, to scratch ones face.

Devise, (f.) a device, or emblem; a motto, or posy.

† Deviser, to talk, speak, or discourse; to rehearse, Judg. 5. 11; to commune, Luk. 6. 11; to meditate, Ps. 119. 15.

Deuement, (from Devoir) duly, rightly, legally, lawfully.

Il a été deuement convaincu, he was legally convicted.

Devoicé } See } Devoyé.

Devoier } } Devoyer.

Devoilé, unveiled.

Une Religieuse devoilée, an unveiled Nun.

Devoiler, to unveil.

Devoiment, (m.) from Devoyer, a looseness and vomiting at once.

Avoir un devoiment par haut & par bas, to have both a looseness and a vomiting, to void upwards and downwards.

Devoir, to owe, or be indebted.

As, je dois de l'Argent, I owe Money. Devoir beaucoup, être fort endetté, to owe a great deal, to be deeply indebted. Il doit plus qu'il n'a, he owes more than he is worth. Il doit au tiers & au quart, he owes every body.

Je vous dois honneur & respect, I owe you honour and respect.

Or thus. Chacun doit avoir soin de sa Santé, every one ought to take care of his Health.

C'est vous qui devriez faire cela, 'tis you that should do that. Vraiment vous devriez y aller, truly (indeed) you should go thither.

Il doit venir aujourd'hui, he is to come to day. Je dois souper ce soir avec lui, I am to sup with him to night. Deût il être pendu, though he were to be hanged. Nous devons le faire, we are bound to do it.

Devoir, (a masc. Subst.) duty, devoir.

S'acquitter de (faire) son devoir, to do (to perform) his duty. S'acquitter des devoirs du Mariage en galant homme, to perform the matrimonial Duty like a Man.

Remplir jusqu'au moindre de ses devoirs, to fulfil his duty to a tittle, upon all accounts.

Ranger quëcun à son devoir, to make one do his duty. Le tenir dans le devoir, to keep him to his duty. Un General nesauroit tenir ses gens dans le devoir, s'il ne se tient lui même dans le sien, a General cannot keep his Soldiers to their duty, unless he minds his own duty himself.

Rendre ses devoirs à quëcun, to pay his duty to one. Rendre les derniers devoirs à une personne, cd. assister à ses funérailles, to pay his last duty to one, to do him the last office.

Devoir de Vassal à son Seigneur, the Tenant's Submission, or Acknowledgment of Duty, unto his Landlord, (expressed by his Mouth, Hands, and Oath of fealty.)

Or thus. As, se mettre en devoir de faire une Chose, to prepare (or dispose) himself to do a Thing.

Devolu, devolved, fallen from one to another.

Ce Droit à lui est devolu, that Right is devolved to him.

Devolu, (Subst.) a Grant of (or Presentment unto) a Benefice, by lapse.

Jetter un devolu sur un Benefice, to make a Benefice fall into lapse.

Obtenir un Benefice par devolu, to get a Living fallen into lapse. Benefice tombé en devolu, a Benefice fallen into lapse.

Devolutaire, (m.) Devolutary, one that hath got a Benefice fallen into lapse.

Devolution, (f.) devolution, or falling into lapse.

Devorateur, (m.) a Devourer.

Rien n'échape à ces Devorateurs, nothing can escape those Devourers.

Devoré, devoured.

Il fut devoré par un Loup, he was devoured by a Wolf.

Devorer, to devour, eat up, or eat greedily; to devour, or read greedily; to devour, ruin, oppress, or consume.

Les Loups devorent les Brebis, the Wolves devour the Sheep.

Il devore les Livres, he devours Books.

Devorer son Peuple, to devour (or oppress) his People.

Le Temps devore tout, Time devours all things. Devorer tout son Bien, to consume all his Estate, to spend (or squander) it away. Le Chagrin me devore, I am consumed with Grief.

Or thus. As, il devore en esperance tous mes Tresors, he has a greedy expectation of all my Estate.

† Devoreur, (m.) a Devourer.

As, un Devoreur de Livres, a Devourer of Books.

Devot, devout, godly, full of devotion; addicted, or devoted.

Vous n'êtes pas assez devot en l'Eglise, you are not devout enough in the Church. Que vous êtes devot à la Vierge! how devout you are to the blessed Virgin!

† Mon Cœur qui vous est si devot, my Heart which is so devoted to you.
 Devot, (a masc. Subst.) a devout, godly, or, religious Man.
 C'est un grand Devot, he is a mighty godly Man.
 Or thus. As, ce Prelat n'a point de Devot plus Zelé que moi, that Prelate has no man more addicted (or devoted) to him than I am.
 Devote, (f.) a devout (godly, or religious) Woman.
 Devotement, devoutly, with zeal, with devotion.
 As, prier Dieu devotement, to pray devoutly to God.
 Or thus, in a burlesk sense. † Il soupa lui tout seul, & fort devotement il mangea deux perdrix, he supped by himself, and very fairly swallowed down two partridges.

† Devotieusement } See { Devotement.
 † Devotieux } { Devot.

Devotion, (f.) devotion, or zeal; devotion, or service.
 As, faire paroître bien de la devotion, to show a great deal of zeal, or devotion. Une Devotion aisée, an easy devotion.
 Avoir quëcun à sa devotion, to have one at his devotion. Je suis à sa devotion, I am at his service, or devotion. On lui manda, que la Ville étoit à sa devotion, he was sent word, that the Town was at his devotion.
 Or thus. † As, avoir de la devotion pour une personne, cd. avoir un amour grand & respectueux pour elle, to have a transcendent and respectful love for one.
 Devotions, (in the Plural number) devotions, pious (or godly) Exercises.
 As, faire ses devotions, to perform his devotions.

Devoûé, devoted.
 Etre devoûé aux Interets de son Maître, to be devoted to his Master's Good.

Devoûer, to devote, to sacrifice.
 As, devoûer sa Jeunesse à l'Exercice des Armes, to devote his Youth to the Exercise of Arms.
 Devoûer à ses Interets la Tranquillité de la Patrie, to sacrifice the Peace of his Country to his own private Interest.
 Se devoûer au Service de Dieu, to devote himself to the Service of God.
 Tous ses Amis sont prêts à se devoûer pour lui, all his Friends are ready to sacrifice themselves for him.

† Devoûoir, to alter his Will, to suspend his Will.

Devoüyé, qui a un devoûment, that hath got a looseness and vomiting.

Devoiyement. See Devoûment.

Devoyer, causer (donner) un Devoûment, to cause both a looseness and vomiting.

† Devoyer, to mislead, to bring out of the way. Say Egarer.

† Se devoyer, to err, wander, or go out of the way; to turn aside, 1 Tim. 5. 15; to be turned out of the way, Heb. 12. 13.

Tu as foulé aux piez tous ceux qui se devoient de tes Statuts, thou hast trodden down all them that err from thy Statutes.

Deuteronomie, (m.) Deuteronomy, the Repetition of the Law, (a Book in the old Testament.)

Deux, two; both; one another.
 As, lequel de vous deux? which of you two? L'un des deux, one of the two. Deux à deux, two and two. Deux à la fois, two together. Deux de front, two a breast.
 Entre deux selles le cul à terre, (Prov.) between two stools the Breech goes to the ground.
 Ils sont tous deux fous, they are both of them fools. Tous deux ont été vaincus, they were both beaten, or vanquished.
 Entre deux, between both.
 Ils s'aiment tous deux, they love one another.
 Or thus. As, de deux en deux jours, every other day.
 Deux fois, twice. Deux fois autant, twice as much. Deux fois davantage, twice as much more.

Deuxième, second.

As, le Chapitre deuxième, the second Chapter.

Il est logé au deuxième Etage, he lodges two stories high.

Pour la deuxième fois, for the second time.

Dextérité, (f.) dexterity, skill, industry.

Il faut un peu de dextérité, there must be some dexterity.

† Dextre, (f.) cd. main droite, right hand.

As, Ps. 16. 8. Puis qu'il est à ma dextre, je ne ferai point ebranlé, because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

† Dextrement, dexterously, skilfully.

Sonnez dextrement avec cri, d'jouissance, (Ps. 33. 3.) play skilfully with a loud noise.

Dez. Is the Plural of Dé.

D I

Di, a Person of the Imperative Mood of the Verb Dire, tell.

As, di lui, que je suis ici, tell him, that I am here.

Diable, (m.) Devil.

Se donner au Diable, to give himself to the Devil.

† C'est un Diable, cd. un Enragé, un Determiné, he is a Devil, that is a desperate Man. C'est un Diable en Procès, cd. un grand Chicaneur, ou un insigne Plaideur, he is a desperate Lawyer.

† Il fait le Diable à quatre, he is deadly boisterous, he frets and fumes at a deadly rate.

Pauvre Diable, poor Wretch.

† Tirer le Diable par la queue, prendre beaucoup de peine pour vivre, to bite on the bridle, to be hard put to it for a livelihood. Etre battu en Diable, cd. être bien battu, to be devilishly beaten.

† Il est pesant comme tous les Diables, he is extremely dull. C'est là le Diable, cd. c'est là la difficulté, there's the Devil on't, there lies the difficulty.

† Diablement, devilishly.

As, vous êtes diablement fort, you are devilishly strong.

† Diablerie, (f.) a devilish trick; a scurvy humour.

† Diablesse, (f.) a Devilish Woman, a she Devil.

Sa Femme est une franche Diablesse, his Wife is a very Devil.

† Diablotin, (m.) a young Devil.

But amongst Gardiners this Word is used to express a certain Worm having a head great and black, which comes in August, and gnaws the Leaves of Trees. The same is called otherwise in French Tigre, or Lutin.

Diabolique, Devilish, Diabolical.

Un Esprit Diabolique, a devilish Man.

Une Invention Diabolique, a devilish (or diabolical) Invention.

Diaboliquement, d'une manière diabolique, devilishly, diabolically.

Diaconat, (m.) Deaconry, the Office (or Degree) of a Deacon.

Diaconesse, or (rather) Diaconisse, (f.) a Deaconess, a Widow that had received the Order of Deacon, and was consecrated to the Service of the Church, and Poor.

Diacre, (m.) a Deacon.

Il a été fait Diacre, he is made a Deacon.

Diademe, (m.) a Crown, a Diadem.

Le Diademe, selon quelques Auteurs étoit une manière de petit Bonnet, qui se lioit sur la tête avec un Linge fort blanc, & que les Empereurs aussi bien que les Rois portoient sur leur Tête pour marque de leur Dignité. Aujourd'hui le Mot de Diademe se prend pour toute sorte de Couronne de Prince absolu & souverain.

Avec un Diademe tout plait, tout charme, any thing with a Crown is full of charms.

Je revêtirai de honte ses Enemis, & son Diademe fleurira sur lui, (Ps. 132. 18.) his Enemies will I cloath with shame, but upon himself shall his Crown flourish.

Diaphane. See Diaphane.

Dialecte, (f.) Dialect.

La Langue Grecque a cinq Dialectes, the Greek Tongue hath five Dialects.

La Dialecte Dorique a été premierement en usage parmi les Lacedemoniens, the Dorick Dialect was first in use amongst the Lacedemonians.

Dialecticien, (m.) a Logician.

Dialectique, (f.) Logick, Dialectick.

Dialogue, (m.) a Dialogue.

As, les Dialogues de Lucien, Lucian's Dialogues.

Faire des Dialogues, to make Dialogues.

Diamant, (m.) a diamond.

Diamant fin, ou faux, a fine, or counterfeit diamond.

Diamant taillé en facettes, a diamond cut facet-wise.

Diamant, pour couper le Verre, a diamond, to cut glass with.

Diamantaire, (m.) Ouvrier qui taille les diamans, a Diamond-cutter.

Diametral, diametral.

As, Ligne diametrale, a diametral Line.

Diametralement, diametrically.

Les deux Poles sont diametralement opposés, the two Poles are diametrically opposite to one another.

Diametre, (m.) diameter.

Le Diametre est une Ligne qui coupe le Cercle en deux Parties égales, & qui passe par le Centre, a Diameter is a Line that cuts a Circle into two equal Parts, and passes through the Center.

Diane, (f.) batterie de Tambour à la pointe du Jour, a beat of drum at break of day.

† Diantre, pour dire le Diable, (m.) the Devil.

As, Diantre soit le fou, the Devil take him for a fool.

Diapalme, (m.) sorte d'Emplâtre, a kind of Plaster.

Diaphane, cd. transparent, transparent.

As, un Corps diaphane, a transparent Body.

Diaphragme, (m.) the midriff, a long and round Muscle which parts the vital from the natural Parts.

Diarrhée, (f.) sorte de flux de Ventre, a kind of Loosness, without Inflammation.

Dicernement	} See {	Discernement.
Dicerner		Discerner.
Diciple		Disciple.
Disciplinable		Disciplinable.
Dicipline		Discipline.
Dicipliné		Discipliné.
Diciplinier		Discipliner.
Dict		Dit.

Dictame, (m.) sorte d'Herbe, distany, a kind of Herb.

Dictateur, (m.) a Dictator.

Le Dictateur étoit un Souverain Magistrat de l'ancienne Rome, qu'on faisoit dans les Perils extremes de la Republique, & dont la Puissance ne duroit pas plus que le Danger, a Dictator was a Sovereign Magistrat amongst the ancient Romans, never chosen but in some great Danger of the Commonwealth, and whose Power continued no longer than the Danger.

Dictature, (f.) a Dictatorship, a Dictator's Place or Office.

Deposer la Dictature, to yield up his Dictatorship.

Dicté, dictated.

Dictée, (a fem. Subst.) the Dictates of a Master to his Scholars, that which he dictates and they write.

Dicté, to dictate; to teach.

As, dicté une Lettre, to dictate a Letter.

La Raison nous dicte cela, Reason teaches us that.

Diction, (f.) a Word; an Expression.

Une Diction belle, noble, grande, grave, pathétique, a fine, noble, great, grave, and pathetic Expression.

Dictionnaire, (m.) a Dictionary.

Un bon Dictionnaire, a good Dictionary.

Il faut de l'Art, aussi bien que du Travail, pour faire un bon Dictionnaire, a great deal of Art, as well as Labour, is required to make a good Dictionary.

Dicton, (m.) Terme de Palais, that part of a Sentence.

rence, or Decree, which contains the Judges positive Orders.

† Dicton, ou mot sentencieux, a sententious Word; a by-word, Ps. 44. 14; a Proverb, Num. 21. 27; accusation, Matt. 27. 37.

Didactique, ou instructif, didactic.
As, un style didactique, a didactic style.

† Didrachme, (Matt. 17. 24.) Tribute-money.

† Die, and Dient, Persons of the Verb Dire. Say dise, disent.

Diete (f.) diet, strict diet; a Diet, or Assembly of the States.

Faire diete, vivre de regime, to keep to a strict diet. La trop grande diete nuit, too strict a diet is hurtful.

La Diète de l'Empire est assemblée à Ratisbonne, the Diet of the Empire is assembled at Ratisbon.

Dieu, (m.) God.

Dieu est un Etre Souverain, eternal, infini, immuable, incomprehensible, tout puissant, & tout sage, God is a Sovereign Being, eternal, infinite, incomprehensible, almighty, and all wise.

Dieu est le Createur du Monde, c'est lui qui le conserve, & c'est par lui qu'il sera détruit dans le tems qu'il l'a ordonné, God is the Creator of the World, he is the Preserver of it, and it shall be destroyed by him in his own appointed time.

Prier, invoquer, adorer Dieu, to pray to God, to call upon him, to worship him.

Au nom de Dieu, in God's name. A Dieu ne plaise, God forbid. Dieu le veuille, God grant it, would to God. Dieu merci, graces to God, God be thanked, thanks be to God.

Les faux Dieux des Payens, des Dieux de fiente, Lev. 26. 30, the Heathenish Gods, or Idols.

Diffamateur, (m.) a Defamer, Traducer, or Slanderer.

Diffamation, (f.) defamation, traducing, or slandering.

Diffamatoire, defamatory, scurrilous.

Un Libelle diffamatoire, a scurrilous Libel, or Pamphlet.

† Diffame, (m.) evil report; reproach, shame, or disgrace.

As, 2 Cor. 6. 8. Parmi le Diffame & la bonne Renommée, by evil Report and good Report.

Ce nous feroit un diffame, (Gen. 34. 14.) 'twould be a reproach to us.

Jusques à quand sera ma Gloire en diffame? (Ps. 4. 3.) how long will you turn my Glory into shame?

And Ps. 15. 3. celui qui ne leve point de diffame contre son Prochain, he that doth not take up a reproach against his Neighbour.

Diffamé, defamed, traduced, slandered.

Diffamer, to defame, traduce, or slander.

As, diffamer une personne, to defame (traduce, or slander) one, to speake ill of him.

Différement, differently, severally, variously, with a difference.

On parle des Choses différemment, men talk of Things variously.

Difference, (f.) difference.

Il y a bien de la difference, there's a great deal of difference.

Voyez la difference qu'il y a de mon Opinion à la votre, see the difference there is in our Opinions.

† Différencié, distinguished, made different from.

† Différencier, to distinguish, to make different from.

As, c'est ce qui différencie l'Homme de la Bête, that's it which distinguishes a Man from a Beast.

Different, different, unlike.

La Fin est bien différente du Commencement, the End is very much different (or differs much) from the Beginning.

Mes Affaires & les vôtres sont tres différentes, your Casé and mine are very different.

Orthus. As, il est souvent différent de lui-même, he often differs from himself, he seldom agrees with himself.

Different, (a masc. Subst.) difference, dispute, controversy.

Decider un Different, to decide a Controversy.

Or thus. J'ai un différent (ou un démêlé) avec lui, I am at variance with him.

Ils sont en différent sur un seul point, they differ but in one point.

Differer, to differ, or be different; to defer, delay, or put off.

Voulez vous savoir en quoi nous differons? will you know wherein we differ? Nous differons en ceci, c'est que vous n'êtes pas honnête homme comme moi, herein we differ, that you are not as honest a man as I am.

Je ne puis differer plus long tems à vous écrire, I can put off no longer writing to you.

On ne doit point differer à bien vivre, one ought not to put off a good life.

Difficile, hard, difficult.

Une Entreprise difficile, a difficult Enterprise. Un homme difficile à contenter, a man hard to please.

Il est difficile, it is hard, 'tis a hard matter. As, il est difficile de me faire entrer dans votre Sentiment, 'tis a hard matter to make me join in Opinion with you.

Il n'est pas difficile de savoir sa pensée, 'tis no hard matter to discover his thoughts.

Difficilement, hardly, scarcely, with much ado, not easily.

Difficilement le fera-t-il, he will hardly do it.

La Gloire s'acquiert difficilement, Honour is not easily got.

Difficulté, (m.) difficulty, the difficulty there is in bringing a thing to pass; a difficulty, or difficult matter either to do or apprehend; an obstacle, or impediment; a scruple.

Il se trouve toujours quelque difficulté, there is always some difficulty or other in the way. C'est l'Affaire du Monde qui reçoit le moins de difficulté, 'tis a Thing the least liable to any difficulty.

Cette Connoissance a beaucoup de difficulté, there are in that Science many difficulties.

Proposer une difficulté à quécun, to move a hard question to one. Soudre une difficulté, to resolve a difficult point.

Difficulté de Droit, a difficult Casé in the Law.

Il trouve toujours de nouvelles difficultés, he meets still with new obstacles, or impediments.

Je ne ferai point difficulté de lui prêter de l'argent, I shall make no scruple to lend him money.

Or thus. As, lever une Difficulté, to remove an Objection.

On a trouvé plus de difficulté qu'on ne croyoit, the Thing was found more difficult than could be imagined.

La Chose se fera sans difficulté, the Business will be done with ease.

Sans faire beaucoup de difficulté, (Jam. 3. 17.) without partiality.

Difficulté de Respiration, shortness of breath. Difficulté d'Urine, strangury.

Difforme, deformed, ugly, ill-favoured.

Difformité, (f.) deformity, ugliness, ill-favouredness.

Diffus, diffused, long-winded.

Un Style trop diffus, a too long-winded Style.

† Diffusion, (f.) diffusedness.

Digéré, digested, concocted; digested, or disposed; examined, weighed, considered; digested, suffered, born, indured.

Digerer, to digest, or concoct; to digest, or dispose; to examine, weigh, or consider; to digest, suffer, bear, or indure.

As, digerer bien ce qu'on mange, to digest well what one eats.

Digerer une Matière, to digest a Matter.

Vous ne digerez pas assez ce que vous faites, you do not consider well what you do.

Je ne puis pas digerer cet Affront, I cannot digest (or bear) such an Affront.

Digeste, (m.) Volume contenant les Reponses des anciens Jurisconsultes, Digests, or Pandects, a Volume of the Civil Law digested into 50 Books.

† Digestible, digestible, easy to be digested.

† Digestif, digestive, helping the digestion.

Digestion, (f.) digestion, concoction.

Faire digestion, to make digestion. Aider à la digestion, to help the digestion.

Une Chose de dure digestion, a Thing of a hard digestion.

Voilà qui est de dure digestion, ed. difficile à supporter, that's a thing hard to digest, or bear with.

Digitale, (f.) forte d'Herbe, fox-gloves, a kind of Herb.

Digne, worthy, that deserves.

Il n'est pas digne de l'honneur qu'on lui fait, he is not worthy (he does not deserve) the honour he receives.

Vous êtes digne d'être aimé, you deserve to be loved. Vous êtes digne de commander, you deserve (or, you are fit) to command.

Digne de foi, credible, true.

Dignement, worthily, finely, handsomely.

As, Remplir dignement la Charge, to acquit himself handsomely of his Employment.

Parler dignement d'un Sujet, to speak finely upon a Subject.

Dignité, (f.) Dignity, Honour, or high Place of honour; greatness of expressions, or of any matter, or subject.

Etre élevé (monter) aux Dignitez, to be raised to Dignities, to be advanced to high Places. C'est une grande Dignité, 'tis a high Place.

La dignité des paroles, the greatness of expressions. Soutenir la dignité de son Sujet, to bear up the greatness of his Subject.

Digression, (f.) digression, a going from the matter in hand.

Faire une Digression, to make a Digression.

Les Digressions doivent être courtes & ingénieuses, Digressions ought to be both short and ingenious.

Digue, (f.) a Bank, or heap of Earth raised up for a defence against Overflowing.

Faire une Digue, to raise a Bank.

Or thus. As, la Licence a ravagé toutes les Dignes, Licentiousness has broke through all Opposition.

Dilatation, (f.) dilatation.

La Dilatation est opposée à l'Obstruction, Dilatation is contrary to Obstruction.

Dilatatoire, (m.) Outil de Chirurgie, Dilatatory, a kind of Surgeons Tool, one sort whereof is used for cutting one of the Stone.

Dilaté, dilated.

Dilater, ed. etendre, ou élargir, to dilate.

As, dilater les Vaisseaux, to dilate the Vessels.

Se dilater, to dilate (in a neutral sense).

Dilatoire, ed. qui tend à differer, à remettre, ou à retarder, dilatory.

As, Exceptions dilatoires, dilatory Exceptions.

Dilaté, delay'd, deferred, put off; dilated, or allay'd.

Dilayer, to delay, defer, or put off; to dilate, or allay.

Tu ne dilayeras point d'offrir de ton abondance & de ta liqueur, (Ex. 22. 9.) thou shalt not delay to offer the first of thy ripe fruits and of thy liquors.

Les Meures rafraichissent & dilayent la Masse du Sang, Mulberries cool and allay the Mass of blood, or keeps it from fermenting.

Dilection, (f.) Terme de Theologie, love, charity.

La dilection de Dieu le Pere, the love of God the Father.

Ils m'ont rendu mal pour bien, & haine pour ma dilection, (Ps. 109. 5.) they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.

Dilemme, (m.) Terme de Logique, a kind of Syllogism that convinceth every way.

Diligement, diligently, speedily.

Ecrire diligemment, to write diligently.

Diligence, (f.) diligence, speed; a flying Coach, or any swift Conveyance either by Land or Water.

Faire une Chose en diligence, to dispatch a thing, to do it with all speed. Aller en diligence à l'Armée, to make hast (to hasten) to the Army.

Prendre la Diligence, ou aller par la Diligence, to take the flying Coach, or to go in the flying Coach.
 Diligences, poursuites, an action.
 As, faire ses diligences contre quécun faute de paiement, to enter an action against one for non-payment.
 Diligent, diligent, laborious, pains-taking.
 Un Serviteur diligent, a diligent Servant.
 Ma Langue sera la Plume d'un Ecrivain diligent, (P. 45. 1.) my Tongue is the Pen of a ready Writer.
 Diligenter. As, faire diligenter quécun, to hasten one.
 † Se diligenter, to do his diligence, 2 Tim. 4. 9; to be diligent, Tit. 3. 12.
 Dimanche, (m.) Sunday, the Lord's Day.
 Dime, (f.) Tithe, the Tenth, or the tenth Part.
 Payer la Dime, to pay the Tithes.
 Sujet à la dime, tithable, whereof tithes may be gathered.
 Lever (prendre) les Dimes, to raise the Tithes.
 Dimé, tithed.
 Dimension, (f.) dimension.
 Mesurer un Corps dans toutes ses dimensions, to measure a Body in all its dimensions.
 Dimer, (from Dime) to tithe.
 Dimeur, (m.) a Tithe-gatherer.
 Diminué, diminished, lessened.
 Diminuer, to diminish, to lessen (both in the active, and the neutral sense.)
 Diminuer la puissance de quécun, to diminish (or lessen) ones power.
 Son Orgueil commence à diminuer, his Pride begins to diminish.
 Diminutif, (m.) Diminutive, a Word expressing something less than its Primitive.
 Diminution, (f.) diminution, diminishing, lessening, or decrease.
 Il ne pouvoit souffrir que la Gloire d'autrui allât à la diminution de la sienne, he could not indure that anothers Glory should make a diminution of his own.
 Dimissoire, (m.) a dismissory Letter from one Bishop to another, about conferring the Orders upon the Party mentioned in the Letter.
 Dindon, (m.) a young Turkey.
 Dindonneau, (m.) a little young Turkey.
 Diné, (m.) dinner.
 Appreter le diné, to make dinner ready. Le Diné est pret, the Dinner is ready.
 Courte Messe & long Diné, a short Mass and a long Dinner. Après diné moutarde, mustard after dinner.
 Dinée, (f.) the Place where one goes to dinner on a Journey.
 Notre dinée sera demain en un tel Lieu, we shall dine to morrow in such a Place.
 Diner, to dine.
 Quand dînerons nous? when shall we dine?
 Allons dîner, let us go to dinner. J'ai déjà diné, I have already dined.
 Nous avons diné d'une bonne Longe de Veau, we have dined upon a good Loyn of Veal.
 † Dineur, m. As, être un grand Dineur, cd. un grand Mangeur, to be a great Eater.
 Dintiers, (m.) les roignons du Cerf, the Kidneys of a Deer.
 Diocefaïn, (m.) the Bishop of a Diocese; one that is of a Bishop's Diocese.
 Diocèse, (m.) Diocese, a Bishop's Jurisdiction.
 Un grand ou petit Diocèse, a great or small Diocese.
 Dioptrique, (f.) Partie de l'Optique, a part of Opticks.
 Diphtongue, (f.) a Diphtong, or two Vowels making together but one sound.
 Dire, to tell, say, or speak.
 Dire une chose à quécun, to tell one something. Dites moi la verité, tell me the truth. C'est ainsi comme je vous le dis, 'tis so as I tell you.
 Avez vous quécun chose à me dire? have you any thing to say to me? Qu'avez vous à dire contre cela? what have you to say against that? Que dira-t-on si vous le faites? what will the World say if you do it? Dire la Messe, to say Mass. C'est à dire, that is to say.

Je veux vous dire un mot, I'll speak a word with you. Ne dites mot, don't speak a word. A dire les choses comme elles sont, je ne pense pas que, to speak the truth of the business, I do not think that.
 Or thus. As, les petits Esprits ont le don de beaucoup parler, & de ne rien dire, little Wits have the gift of speaking much, but nothing to the purpose.
 Que veut dire cela? what means that? what is the meaning of that? Cela veut dire, que tout est perdu, the meaning is, that all is lost.
 Est ce à dire pour cela que j'aie failli? does it follow therefore that I was in fault?
 Pour avoir été une fois au Cabaret, ce n'est pas à dire que je sois un Yvrongne, though I was once in a Tavern, it doth not follow therefore that I am a Drunkard.
 Dites lui qu'il entre, bid him come in. Dites lui qu'il s'en vienne, bid him come away.
 Dieu qui a dit que la Lumière resplendît des Tenebres, (2 Cor. 4. 6.) God who commanded the Light to shine out of Darkness.
 On dit, it is said, it is reported. On dit qu'Esculape fut le premier qui banda une plaie, Æsculapius is reported to be the first man that ever bound up a wound.
 Se dire, to call (to profess) himself; to boast himself.
 As, il se dit Astrologue, he professes himself an Astrologer.
 Il se dit descendu d'Hercule, he boasts himself descended from Hercules.
 Trouver à dire à une chose, la reprendre, la critiquer, to find something amiss. Que trouvez vous à dire à cela? what do you find amiss in that?
 On trouve à dire, il se trouve à dire, cd. il se manque, there is wanting. On vous trouve à dire, (cd. on vous desire) où vous n'êtes pas, your company is desired where you are not.
 Il y a bien à dire du vrai au faux, there's a vast deal of difference betwixt truth and falsehood.
 † Dire, (a masc. Subst.) a Saying.
 As, c'est un Dire commun, 'tis a common Saying.
 Or thus. A votre dire, c'est un mal honnête homme, by what you say, he is no honest man.
 Confirme ton dire à l'endroit de ton Serviteur, (P. 119. 38.) stablish thy word unto thy Servant.
 Direct, direct.
 Par des Voies directes ni indirectes, directly nor indirectly.
 Directement, directly.
 Cette Maison regarde directement le Midi, this House looks directly Southward.
 Cela va directement à vous, this comes home directly to you.
 Directeur, (m.) Director, Overseer.
 Direction, (m.) direction, or overseeing.
 Or thus. As, la ligne de direction, the line of direction. La direction de Mars, de Jupiter, & de Saturne, the direction of Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn.
 Direction d'Intention, the directing of ones Intention.
 La petite & la grande Direction, deux Conseils du Roi. See Conseil.
 Directrice, (f.) Governess.
 As, la Directrice d'un Couvent, the Governess of a Nunnery.
 Dirigé, directed.
 Diriger, to direct.
 Diriger l'Intention, to direct the Intention.
 † Disception, (f.) disception, disputation.
 Discerné, discerned, distinguished.
 Discernement, (m.) a discerning, or distinguishing; judgment.
 Faire le discernement d'une chose, to make a distinction of one thing from another.
 Il a le discernement bon, he hath a good Judgment.
 Discerner, to discern, to distinguish.
 Discerner le bien d'avec le mal, & le vrai d'avec le faux, to discern good from evil, and truth from falsehood.
 Je ne pû bien discerner qui étoit avec vous,

I could not well discern who was with you.
 Disciple, (m.) a Disciple; a Scholar, or Pupil.
 Aristote a été Disciple de Platon, Aristotle has been Plato's Disciple. Les douze Disciples de Jesus Christ, the twelve Disciples of our Lord and Saviour.
 C'est un bon Precepteur, il enseigne bien ses Disciples, he is a good Tutor, he teaches his Scholars (or Pupils) very well.
 Disciplinable, tractable, apt to receive instruction.
 Discipline, (f.) discipline; correction; nurture, Eph. 6. 4; a disciplining whip.
 La Discipline de la Guerre, the Discipline of War. Vivre avec discipline, to live according to the Rules of a good Discipline.
 Donner la Discipline à quécun, to discipline (or scourge) one, as they do in Monasteries.
 Se donner la Discipline, prendre la discipline, se disposer à la discipline, to discipline (or to scourge) himself.
 Discipliné, disciplined, instructed, taught; whipt, or scourged.
 Des Soldats bien disciplinez, Souldiers well disciplined.
 Discipliner, to discipline, to bring under a discipline.
 Il a bien discipliné sa Maison, he has brought his House under a good discipline.
 Discontinuation, (f.) discontinuanee, discontinuing, or discontinuation, ceasing, intermission.
 On tira sans discontinuation, they shot without intermission.
 Discontinué, discontinued, intermitted, left off for a time.
 Discontinuer, to discontinue, intermit, or leave off for a time.
 As, discontinuer quécun travail, to discontinue a piece of work, to leave it off for a time.
 Disconvenir, to disagree.
 Il n'est pas homme à disconvenir de cela, he is not such a man as to disagree about that.
 Il n'est pas disconvenu de la chose, he did not disagree about the thing.
 † Discord, See Discorde.
 Discordant, discordant, jarring, untunable.
 Voix discordante, a jarring Voice.
 Discorde, (f.) discord, jarring, contention, division.
 Semer la discorde entre des Amis, les defunir, to sow division amongst Friends, to set them at variance.
 Entretenir la discorde entre les gens, to foment discord amongst people.
 Un Frere offensé est plus revêche qu'une Ville forte, & il est de leur discorde comme des Barres d'un Palais, (Prov. 18. 19.) a Brother offended is harder to be won than a strong City, and their Contentions are like the Bars of a Castle.
 Or thus. As, Act. 28. 25. Etant donc en discorde entr'eux, ils se separerent, and when they agreed not among themselves, they departed.
 † Discoureur, (m.) a Talker, a talking (or babbling) Man.
 † Discoureuse, (f.) a Talker, a talking (or babbling) Woman.
 Discourir, to discourse, speak, talk, or make a discourse; to discourse, or reason about a thing.
 As, discourir de quécun chose, to discourse (to make a discourse) of something.
 Il discourut sur l'immortalité de l'Ame, he discoursed upon the Souls Immortality.
 Discours, (m.) Discourse.
 Un Discours elegant, poli, agreable, & coulant, an elegant, polite, pleasant, and fluent Discourse. Un Discours rampant, bas, negligé, mal poli, a pitiful, low, loose, and unpolished Discourse.
 Un Discours ferré, familier, ample, étendu, a close, familiar, ample, or long Discourse.
 Mettre un Discours en avant, to begin a Discourse. Tomber sur quécun Discours, to fall upon a Discourse. Tenir un Discours de quécun, to hold a Discourse about one.
 Changer de Discours, to change his Discourse.
 Tourner la face du Discours par une adresse merveilleuse, to change the Discourse with a marvellous marvellous dexterity. Reprendre le Discours, to resume the Discourse.

L'Action donne l'ame au Discours, Action gives life to a Discourse.

Or thus. As, Eph. 5. 6. Que nul ne vous séduise par de vains Discours, let no man deceive you with vain Words.

Discret, discreet, wise, prudent, or sober.

As, un homme fort discret, a very discreet man.

Une Femme aussi discrète qu'une Femme le peut être, as discreet a Woman as a Woman can be. Une action discrète, a discreet action.

Quantité discrète (en Termes de Logique) a Quantity whose Parts are separate from one another.

Discret and Discrette are also used Substantively amongst some Religious Orders, the first signifying a Deputy sent by a Monastery to a Provincial Chapter, there to represent the state of the House and procure its advantage, and Discrette one of the Abbess's Counsellors.

Discrettement. See Discrettement.

Discretion, (f.) discretion, wisdom; discretion, what the Loser shall think fit to pay, discretion, or will.

As, faire une chose avec discretion, to do a thing with discretion. Je laisse cela à votre discretion, I leave that to your discretion.

L'Age de discretion, the Years of discretion.

Jouer une Discretion, to play a Discretion.

Payer une Discretion, to pay a Discretion.

Se mettre à la discretion de quécun, to yield himself to ones discretion. Se rendre à discretion, to surrender at discretion.

Discrettement, discreetly, wisely, according to knowledge 1 Pet. 37.

Vous n'avez pas usé discrettement de la Liberté qu'on vous a donnée, you have not used discreetly the Liberty you had given ye.

Disculpé, cleared.

Disculper, to clear.

Se disculper d'une faute qu'on nous impute, to clear himself of an Offence he is charged with.

Discussif, discussive.

As, Medicament discussif, a discussive Remedy, a Remedy that dissolves humours.

Discussion. See Discussion.

Discuté, discussed, examined; praised, or valued.

Discuter, to discuss, or examine; to praise, or value.

As, discuter une Affaire, to discuss (or examine) a Business.

Discuter les Biens de quécun, to praise (or value) ones Goods or Estate, in order to pay the Creditours.

Discussion, (f.) discussion, or strict examination; a praising, or valuing of ones Goods or Estate, in order to pay the Creditours.

On a fait la discussion de l'Affaire en presence des Personnes interessées, the Business was discussed before the Party's concerned.

Faire la discussion des Biens de quécun, to praise (or value) ones Goods or Estate, in order to pay his Creditours.

Disert, well spoken, that speaks or writes well, full of flourishes.

Disertement, with flourishes.

As, écrire disertement, to write with flourishes.

Disette, (f.) want, scarcity, need; penury, Luke 21. 4.

Etre dans une extreme disette, to be in great want, to suffer need.

Il y a de la disette dans la Ville, there is a scarcity (Provisions are scarce) in the Town.

Or thus. As 2 Cor. 11. 9. lors que j'avois disette, when I wanted.

†Disetteux, needy, poor.

Il sauvera les ames des Disetteux (Pf. 72. 13.) he shall save the Souls of the needy.

†Diseur, (from Dire) m. a teller.

As, un Diseur de bonne aventure, a Fortune-teller.

Disgrace, (f.) disgrace, or ill fortune; displeasure, disavow.

Tomber en quèque Disgrace, to fall into some Disgrace. C'est une Disgrace commune avec les plus grands hommes de l'Antiquité, this is such a Disgrace as is common with the greatest men of Antiquity.

Tomber dans la disgrace du Roi, to fall into the Kings disavow.

Or thus. As, Savez vous bien la Cause de la Disgrace? Do you know how he came to lose the Kings favour?

Disgracié, out of favour, that hath lost some great persons favour.

Il est disgracié, he is out of favour.

Disgracié de la Nature, whose Gifts of Nature are but small.

Difau. See Diziau.

Disjonction, (f.) Terme de Grammaire, Disjunction.

Dislocation, (f.) Terme de Chirurgien, a putting of a bone out of joint.

Il y a dislocation, the bone is out of joint.

Remettre une dislocation, to put a bone into joint again.

Disloqué, out of joint.

Un Os disloqué, a Bone out of joint.

Disloquer, to put out of joint.

Disme } Dîme.

Dismé } Dîmé.

Dismier } Dîmier.

Dismeur } Dîmeur.

Dismé } Dîné.

Dismée } Dînée.

Dismier } Dînier.

†Dismeur } Dîmeur.

Disparité, (f.) Terme Philosophique, disparity.

Donner raison d'une disparité, to give a reason for a disparity.

Disparoître, to disappear, to vanish away, to go out of sight.

Je ne l'ai pas plus tôt vu qu'il a disparu, I no sooner saw it but it went out of sight.

Disparu, disappeared, vanished away, or gone out of sight.

Cela est disparu en un moment, that vanished away in a moment.

Dispensateur, (m.) Dispenser, Steward, Dispenser, Distributer, Administrator.

Ils font les Dispensateurs des Tresors celestes, they are the Dispensers of the Heavenly Treasures.

Dispensation, (f.) administration, La dispensation des Sacremens, the administration of Sacraments.

Dispensatrice, (f.) Dispenser, a she Dispenser.

Les Muses sont les Dispensatrices de la Gloire, Muses are the Dispensers of Glory.

Dispense, (f.) Dispensation.

Le Pape donne des Dispenses, the Pope gives Dispensations.

Obtenir une Dispense de Rome, to obtain a Dispensation from Rome.

Dispensé, bestowed, distributed, administered.

Dispenser, to bestow, dispose, distribute, administer; to dispense, or exempt.

Dispenser ses faveurs avec jugement, to bestow his favours with discretion. Dispenser les Sacremens, to administer the Sacraments.

Je vous prie de m'en dispenser, pray dispense me with that. Cela ne sauroit vous dispenser de Jeune, that can't exempt you from Fasting.

Or thus. As Pf. 112. 5. † l'Homme de bien dispense les Affaires en droiture, a good Man guideth his Affairs with discretion.

Se dispenser de quèque chose, to exempt himself from a thing, to dispense with it.

Se dispenser des Regles, to dispense with Rules.

Dispersé, dispersed, scattered.

Les Juifs sont dispersés par toute la Terre, the Jews are dispersed all over the Earth.

Disperser, to disperse, to scatter.

Il dispersa ses Troupes en divers Endroits, he dispersed his Forces into several Places.

Dispersion, (f.) dispersion.

As, la Dispersion des Juifs, the Jews Dispersion.

Dispos, active, nimble.

As, C'est un homme fort dispos, he is a very active man.

Disposé, disposed; fixed, Pf. 108. 1.

Disposer, to dispose, get, or prepare; to dispose, order, settle, regulate; to make, Heb. 8. 9.

Disposer une personne à faire quèque chose, to dispose one to do something, to prepare him to it.

Je ne saurois la disposer à me donner cette satisfaction, I cannot get her (or prevail with her) to give me satisfaction.

Disposer de ses Biens par Testament, to dispose of his Estate by Will. Disposez de moi comme bon vous semblera, dispose of me (do with me) as you shall think fit.

L'Homme propose, Dieu dispose, Man proposes, and God disposes.

Or thus. As Pf. 90. 27. Dispose nous l'Oeuvre de tes Mains, establish thou the Work of our hands upon us.

Se disposer à quèque chose, to be resolved upon a thing; to set (fit, or prepare) himself to it.

Il se dispose à bien etudier, he prepares himself (he is resolved) to study well.

Je me dispose à l'accuser, I am resolved to bring in a charge against him.

Se disposer à faire un grand Voyage, to prepare for a long Voyage.

De bon matin je me disposerai vers toi (Pf. 5. 3. in the morning I will direct my prayer unto thee.

Dispositif, as Dicton.

Disposition, (f.) disposition, state, or order; disposal, management, power, or command; disposition, aptness, or inclination.

Il faut considerer la disposition des parties, we must consider the disposition of the parts.

En quelle disposition l'avez vous trouvé? What state did you find him in? (Also) how did you find him affected?

Tout cela est en ma disposition, all that is at my disposal. Je suis entierement en votre disposition, I am wholly at your disposal or command, you may dispose of me as you please.

Avoir de la disposition à quèque chose, to have an aptness (or inclination) to something.

Or thus. As, je ne suis pas dans la disposition d'y aller, I am not disposed to go thither.

Disproportion, (f.) disproportion, inequality.

Il y a entre ces Choses une grande disproportion, there is in those Things a great disproportion.

Disproportionné, disproportioned, made unequal.

Disproportionner, to make unequal.

Les Choses estoient egales, mais pour les disproportionner on a fait telle chose, the Things were equal, but such a thing was done to make them unequal.

†Disputable, disputable, which may be brought into controversy.

Dispute, (f.) disputation, controversy; disputing 1 Tim. 4. 5; reasoning, Luke 9 46; quarrel, or difference.

Etre en dispute avec quécun sur quèque Sujet, to hold out a disputation with one upon a Subject. Une Matière de dispute, a Matter of controversy.

Avoir dispute avec quécun, to fall out with one, to have a quarrel (or to be at variance) with him.

Disputer, to dispute, reason, or hold out a disputation; to dispute, contend, or oppose.

As, disputer pour & contre, de part & d'autre, to dispute pro and con, to be on either side. Disputer fortement sur une Matière, to dispute stoutly about a Subject.

Is ont long tems disputé, & n'ont rien conclu, they have disputed a long time, but they are come to no conclusion.

Dequoi dispute-t-on? What's the matter in controversy? Si l'on vient à disputer là dessus, if the matter comes to a dispute or debate.

Disputer à quécun la Victoire, to dispute the Victory with one. Ceux qui defendent une Place disputent le terrain pié à pié, those that defend a Place dispute every foot of ground with the Besiegers.

Disputer son Droit par Justice, ou par les Armes, to dispute his Right by Law, or by force of Arms.

Arms. Il me dispute mon Droit, he disputes my Right.
 Elle disputoit la Beauté à Venus, she contended with Venus for Beauty. Le Vice le disputoit à la Vertu, Vice contended with Virtue about it. Je lui en disputerai l'entrée, I shall oppose his coming in.
 Se disputer, se quereller, to wrangle, to quarrel.
 Il se disputent continuellement, they wrangle perpetually, they quarrel at all times.
 Disputeur, (m.) a Disputer, a Strickler.
 Un grand Disputeur, a great Strickler.
 Disquisition, (m.) sorte d'Examen & de Critique, disquisition.
 Dissecteur, (m.) Dissector.
 Dissection, (f.) from Dissequer, dissection.
 As, faire la dissection d'un Corps, to make the dissection of a Body.
 Dissemblable, unlike, different, unressembling.
 Cela est tout dissemblable, that's quite another thing.
 Dissension, (f.) dissension, discord, division.
 Mettre la dissension entre les personnes, to sow dissension amongst people.
 Leur Dissension a été cause de leur Perte, their Dissension caused their Ruin.
 Dissenterie. See Dyenterie.
 Dissentiment, (m.) dissent, disagreement, or opposition.
 Il n'est pas croyable, qu'on y prit la plus funeste de toutes les Resolutions, sans qu'il y eût eu aucun dissentiment & aucune opposition entre tant de personnes de differens caracteres, de differentes humeurs, & de differens Interets, it is not likely that so fatal a Resolution should be taken in that Assembly, without the least disagreement or opposition amongst so many persons of different characters, humours, and Interests.
 Dissequé, dissected.
 Dissequer, to dissect.
 As, dissequer un Corps, en faire la Dissection, to dissect a Body.
 Dissimilaire, qui n'est pas de même nature ou espece, dissimilar, not of the same nature or substance.
 As, les Parties du Corps se divisent en Parties similaires & dissimilaires, the Parts of the Body are divided into similar and dissimilar.
 Dissimulation, (f.) dissimbling, dissimulation, disguise, hypocrisy.
 La Dissimulation est la Vertu des Grands, Dissimulation is the Vertue of great men.
 User de dissimulation, to dissimble.
 Dissimulé, counterfeit, feigned, pretended.
 As, un Ressentiment dissimulé, a counterfeited (or pretended) Resentment.
 Une Haine dissimulée, a feigned (or counterfeited) Hatred.
 Dissimulé, (a mas. Subst.) a Dissembler, or dissimbling Man, a Counterfeit. C'est un Dissimulé, he is a Dissembler, or a Counterfeit.
 Une Dissimulée, a Dissembler, or dissimbling Woman, a Counterfeit. C'est une Dissimulée, she is a pure Dissembler.
 Dissimuler, to dissimble, conceal, or disguise.
 Dissimuler ses ressentiments, sa douleur, ou sa haine, to conceal his resentments, his pain, or his hatred.
 Il ne sert à rien de dissimuler quand on n'a qu'un moment à vivre, 'tis to no purpose to dissimble when there's but a moment to live.
 Dissipateur, (m.) a profuse (wasteful, or prodigal) man.
 Avez vous jamais vu un si grand Dissipateur? did you ever see such a profuse Man?
 Or thus. As, Luke 16. 1. il fut accusé, comme ayant été Dissipateur de ses Biens, he was accused that he had wasted his Goods.
 Dissipation, (f.) wast, wasting; distractedness, or wanderingness; rebuke, Deut. 28. 26.
 Après la dissipation de son Bien, il tomba malade, & mourut dans la dernière misere, having wasted all his Estate, he fell sick and died most miserable. Une grande dissipation d'esprits, a great wast of Spirits.
 La dissipation de son esprit est cause qu'il ne fait rien, the distractedness of his mind is the reason he can do nothing.
 Dissipé, wasted, consumed, spent, (or squandered) away; dissipated, removed, dispersed.

Un Esprit toujours dissipé, ed. qui n'est jamais appliqué, a Mind always wandering, or unsettled.
 Dissiper, to wast, consume, or spend away; to dissipate, remove, or disperse.
 As, dissiper son Bien, le consumer (le manger) en mal-honnête homme, to wast, (consume, spend, or squander away) his Estate. Il a dissipé tout son Patrimoine, he has spent away all his Patrimony.
 Dissiper les Tenebres, to dissipate (disperse, or scatter) Darknes. Pour dissiper notre Crainte, to dissipate (or remove) our Fears.
 Dissolu, lewd, loose, licentious, dissolute.
 Une Vie dissolue, a lewd Life. Chanter des Chansons dissolues, to sing licentious Songs.
 Dissolvant, (m.) a dissolvent.
 As, le Fiel est un dernier dissolvant & celui qui acheve la digestion, Gall is the last dissolvent, and that which do's compleat the digestion.
 Dissolument, (from Dissolu) lewdly, loosely, licentiously, dissolutely.
 Vivre dissolument, to live lewdly.
 Dissolution, (f.) dissolution, or dissolving; the thing dissolved by Chymistry; dissolution, lewdness, licentiousness, excess, lasciviousness, riot 1 Pet. 4. 4.
 La dissolution de l'Or se fait par l'eau regale, & celle de l'Argent par l'eau forte, Gold is dissolved by Aqua regalis, and Silver by Aqua fortis.
 La Dissolution d'un Composé, the dissolution of a mixt Body. Dissolution de Mariage, a dissolution of Marriage.
 Verser la dissolution dans un Vase, to pour the thing dissolved into a Vessel.
 Vivre dans toute sorte de dissolutions, to live in all manner of dissolution, or lewdness.
 Dissoudre, to dissolve.
 As, dissoudre de l'or ou de l'argent, to dissolve gold or silver.
 Se dissoudre, to dissolve; to break off; (both in the neutral sense.)
 C'est un plaisir de voir comment les Metaux se fondent & se dissolvent, 'tis pretty to see how Metals melt and dissolve.
 Notre Société se dissout, our Society breaks off.
 Dissout, Dissoute (the Part.) dissolved.
 As, un metal dissout, a dissolved metal. Une chose dissoute, a thing dissolved.
 Or thus. As 2 Pet. 3. 10. les Elements seront dissous par Chaleur (2 Pet. 3. 10.) the Elements shall melt with fervent heat.
 Dissuadé, dissuaded, advised to the contrary.
 J'en suis tout à fait dissuadé, I am quite dissuaded from it.
 Dissuader, to dissuade, or advise to the contrary.
 Dissuader quelqu'un d'une chose, to dissuade one from a thing, to advise him to the contrary.
 Dissuader la Guerre par de bonnes Raisons, to dissuade from War with good Reasons.
 Dissuasion, (f.) dissuasion, or advising to the contrary.
 Le Genre Demonstratif a deux Parties, la Persuasion & la Dissuasion, the Demonstrative Part of Rhetorick is divided into Persuasion and Dissuasion.
 Distance, (f.) distance.
 Il y a une grande distance, there is a great distance.
 Il faut qu'il y ait une distance egale, there must be an equal distance.
 Distant, distant, remote, far off.
 Lieu qui n'est pas fort distant d'un autre, a Place not very far off from another.
 Distillateur, (m.) a Distiller.
 Un fameux Distillateur, a famous Distiller.
 Distillation, (f.) distilling.
 Distillation de fleurs, a distilling of flowers.
 Distillé, distilled.
 Eau distillée par un alambic, a Water distilled from an alembick.
 Distiller, to distill, to drop.
 As, distiller du pourpier, to distill purslain.
 Le sang distilloit du Couteau, the blood dropped from the Knife.
 Or thus. Il distilla sa Rage en ces tristes Adieux, his Rage melted into these moanful Adieus.

Ai je d'un Style afreux distillé sur sa Vie un Venin dangereux? Have I poisoned his Fame with a venomous Pen?
 Se distiller en larmes, to melt into tears.
 Distinct, distinct, clear.
 As, avoir une idée distincte d'une Chose, to have a clear notion of a Thing.
 Distinctement, distinctly, clearly, plain.
 Voir distinctement, une Chose, to see a Thing clearly, or very plain.
 Parler distinctement, to speak distinctly, to speak plain.
 Distinction, (f.) distinction, difference; a Philosophical Distinction; a distinction in Writing.
 Faire la distinction des gens d'esprit, to distinguish men of parts from others.
 Par le moyen d'une petite distinction il croira se sauver, by means of a small distinction he'll think to save himself.
 Entendre bien l'Usage des Distinctions d'Ecriture, to understand well the Use of the Distinctions in Writing.
 Distingué, distinguished; noted, eminent, considerable.
 Cela n'est pas mal distingué, that is well enough distinguished.
 Des Personnes d'une Qualité distinguée, Persons of an eminent (of a considerable) Quality.
 Distinguer, to distinguish.
 Distinguer une chose d'avec une autre, to distinguish one thing from another.
 Se distinguer par son esprit, ou par son savoir, to make himself eminent (to raise himself above other men) by his wit, or learning.
 Distinguo, (m.) a Logical Distinguo.
 As, je crain furieusement le Distinguo, I stand deadly in fear of a Logical Distinguo.
 Distique, (m.) deux Vers Latins qui font un Sens parfait, a Distick, or two Latine Verses making a compleat Sense.
 Un beau Distique, a fine Distick.
 Distraction, (f.) distraction.
 C'est une continuelle distraction, 'tis a continual distraction.
 Distraire, to take off.
 As, distraire quelqu'un de son travail, to take one off from his work.
 Se distraire de quelque Desein, to quit (or forsake) a Design.
 Distrait, wandering; cumbered, Luke 10. 40.
 As, un esprit distrait, a wandering mind.
 Distribué, distributed, imparted, shared; distributed, divided.
 Distribuer, to distribute, to impart, or share; to distribute, or divide.
 Distribuer ses faveurs, to distribute his favours.
 Les Veines distribuent le Sang par toutes les parties du Corps, the Veins distribute the Blood through all the parts of the Body.
 Or thus. As, distribuer un Livre, to put out a Book to sell.
 Se distribuer, to be distributed.
 As, la Viande & la Boisson se distribuent par toutes les parties du Corps, Meat and Drink are distributed through all the parts of the Body.
 Distributeur, (m.) a Distributer.
 Il est le Distributeur de tous les Biens, he is the Distributer of all good Things.
 Distributif, distributive.
 As, Justice distributive, distributive Justice.
 Distribution, (f.) distribution.
 Faire la distribution des Aumônes, to make the distribution of Alms.
 Distribution de Procès, the referring a Cause to be examined by some judicious Counsellor, that he may report unto the Court the true state thereof. Which Power of referring ly's in the President of the Court.
 Distributrice, (f.) So the French call those Women which are allowed in a Play, one by the Pit, another by the Boxes, to sell such Liquors as they drink in Play-houses.
 Dit, (from the Verb Dire) said, said, or spoken.
 Aussi tot dit aussi tot fait, no sooner said but done.
 Or thus. As, le Sermon est dit, the Sermon is done. La Messe est dite, the Mass is done.

Dits, (Subst.) ones words, what he say.
 As, à ses dits le Ciel s'accorda, Heavens yielded to what he said.
 Tous les dits de ma bouche font de Justice, (Prov. 8. 8.) all the words of my mouth are in Righteousness.
 Or thus, As, avoir son dit & son dedit, to have the liberty to say and unsay.
 Ditirambe, or Dithyrambe, (m.) Hymne en l'honneur du Vin & de Bacchus, Dithyrambes, a Song in honour of Bacchus.
 Ditirambique, or Dithyrambique, Dithyrambick.
 Divan, (m.) le Conseil du grand Turc, Divan, the great Council of Turkey.
 Divers, diverse, several, different.
 En divers Lieux, in diverse (in several) Places.
 Des Sentimens divers, different Opinions.
 Or thus, As Ps. 119. 113. J'ai eu en haine les pensées diverses, mais j'ai aimé ta Loi, I hate vain thoughts, but thy Law do I love.
 Diverfement, diversely, severally, variously, differently.
 On parle diverfement de la Mort, his Death is variously talk'd of.
 Diverfifié, diversified, varied.
 Diverfifier, to diversify, to vary.
 Diverfifier son Discours par de belles pensées, to vary his Discourse with fine notions.
 Diversion, (f.) from Divertir, a diversion.
 Faire Diversion, obliger l'Ennemi de partager ses Forces, to make a Diversion, or cause the Enemies to divide their Forces.
 Or thus, As, faire une diversion d'humeurs (en Termes de Medecine) to divert the humours into some other parts of the Body.
 Faire diversion à la douleur, to amuse (or to charm) his pain.
 Diverfité, (f.) from Divers, variety, or diversity; difference.
 J'aime la diverfité, I love variety.
 Il y a diverfité de Dons, diverfité d'Admiration, (1 Cor. 12. 4. and 5.) there are diversities of Gifts, and differences of Admirations.
 Diverfi, diverted.
 Divertir, to divert, divertise, or make merry; to divert, or turn from one place to another.
 Divertir quécun, to make one merry, to entertain him merrily, to divert him. Il nous a bien divertis, he has made us very merry.
 Divertir la fluxion sur quécun autre partie du Corps, to divert (or turn) the humours into some other part of the Body.
 Se divertir, to divertise himself, to take his pleasure, to be merry, to pass away the time.
 Je veux aller à la Campagne pour me divertir, I'll go into the Country to divertise myself.
 Quand on n'a que faire, on se divertit, when a man has nothing to do, he takes his pleasure.
 Or thus, Vous travaillez incessamment sans vous divertir, you work continually without taking the least divertisement.
 Une Femme qui se divertit, ou qui s'abandonne, a Woman that takes her pleasure, that prostitutes her self.
 Se divertir de quécun, s'en moquer, en faire son jouët, to make merry with one, to make sport with him, to make him a laughing stock.
 Divertissant, pleasant.
 Un Esprit divertissant, a pleasant Man or Woman. Une humeur divertissante, a pleasant humour.
 Divertissant, (Subst.) Boufon de Theatre, a Jack-pudding.
 Divertissement, (m.) divertisement, diversion, pastime, recreation.
 Prendre du divertissement, to take some divertisement. Passer son tems dans un divertissement honnête, to pass his time in some honest divertisement. Nous n'avons point d'autre divertissement, we have no other divertisement, this is all the recreation we have.
 Il lui donna le divertissement de la Chasse & de la Comedie, he gave him the divertisement of Hunting and that of a Play.
 Or thus, As, le Roi prit le divertissement de la Chasse, the King went a hunting, the King diverted (or recreated) himself with hunting.

 Dividende, (f.) Terme d'Arithmetique, the Dividend, in Arithmetick.
 Divin, (from Dieu) divine, of (or belonging to) God; excellent, admirable, most excellent.
 As, la Providence divine, the Divine Providence, the Providence of God. Les Attributs Divins, the Divine Attributes, Gods Attributs. Le Service divin, the divine Service.
 Un Homme divin, an admirable (or most excellent) Man.
 Une Pensée divine, an excellent Notion.
 Divinement, divinely, or in a divine manner; admirably well, excellently.
 La Vierge a conçu divinement le Fils de Dieu dans son chaste Sein, the Virgin's Conception of the Son of God in her chaste Womb was done in a divine manner.
 Il parle divinement bien, he speaks admirably well.
 Or thus, As 2 Tim. 3. 16. Toute l'Ecriture est divinement inspirée, all Scripture is given by Inspiration of God.
 Divinisé, Deify'd.
 Diviniser, to Deify.
 Divinité, (f.) Divinity, or Godhead; a Deity; a divine (or transcendent) Beauty.
 Seigneur, j'adore ta Sainte Divinité, Lord, I adore thy holy Godhead. La Divinité de Christ, Christ his Godhead.
 Les Payens adoroient de fausses Divinitez, the Pagans worshipped false Gods, false Deity's.
 Les Amans passionnez ont aussi leurs Divinitez, qu'ils adorent, the passionate Lovers have also their Objects of adoration.
 Divis, parted.
 Des Fonds divis, ou indivis, Lands parted, or unparted.
 Divisé, divided, parted; divided, disunited.
 Un Livre divisé en deux Parties, a Book divided into two Parts.
 La Ville est divisée, il y a division, the Town is divided.
 Diviser, to divide, or part; to divide, or disunite.
 Diviser le Tout en ses Parties, to divide the Whole into several Parts. Diviser une Chose en plusieurs Parties, to divide a Thing into several Parts.
 Diviser un Etat, to divide (or disunite) a State. Pour en venir à bout, il faut les diviser, to conquer them, we must divide them.
 Diviseur, (m.) Terme d'Arithmetique, the Divisor.
 Divisibilité, (f.) Terme de Philosophie, divisibility.
 Divisible, divisible, which may be divided.
 Division, (f.) division (in all its senses.)
 As, faire la division d'un Discours, to make the division of a Speech. Les Homelies des Peres n'ont point de division, the Fathers Homily's have no division.
 Division d'Armée Navale, a Division of a Naval Army.
 La Regle de la Division, the Rule of Division.
 Mettre la Division entre des Amis, to make a Division amongst Friends, to disunite them.
 Mettre la Division dans une Ville, to make a Division (or a Sedition) in a Town.
 Causer des Divisions, to cause Divisions.
 Or thus, As, être en division, to be divided.
 Divisions de Carte Geographique, the Colours of a coloured Map.
 Divorce, (m.) divorce, or dissolution of Marriage, a parting of Man and Wife.
 Faire divorce avec sa Femme, to divorce his Wife, to give her a Bill of divorce.
 Or thus, As, faire divorce avec l'Eglise, to forsake the Church.
 Il a fait divorce avec le bon sens, he has bid good sense farewell, he has sent it a bill of Divorce.
 Diuretique, qui fait pisser, diuretick, apt to make one piss.
 As, la Rave est diuretique, the Radish is diuretick.
 Diuretique is also used substantively, and then in the masculine Gender.

As, c'est un tres bon diuretique, 'tis a very good diuretick.
 Diurnal, Livre qui contient l'Office des Heures Canoniales du jour, a Prayer-book for every day.
 Diurne, Terme d'Astronomie, cd. qui est de jour, diurnal.
 As, Mouvement diurne, ou qui se fait de jour, a diurnal Motion.
 Divulgué, divulged, published, spread abroad.
 La Chose est déjà divulguée, the Thing is already divulged.
 Divulger, to divulge, publish, or spread abroad.
 Dix, ten.
 As, ils sont dix, they are ten.
 Dix fois, ten times. Dix fois autant, ten times as much.
 Dixain, } Dizain.
 Dixaine, } See } Dizaine.
 Dix-huit, eighteen.
 Il y avoit dix-huit personnes à table, they were eighteen at table.
 Dix-huitième, eighteenth.
 Le Chapitre dix-huitième, the eighteenth Chapter.
 Dixième, tenth.
 Je suis le dixième, I am the tenth.
 Dixième, (a masc. Subst.) a tenth deal.
 As, Ex. 29. 40. Avec une dixième de fine farine, with a tenth deal of flour.
 Dix-neuf, nineteen.
 Elle a eu dix-neuf Enfants, she has had nineteen Children.
 Dix-neuvième, nineteenth.
 C'est ici le dix-neuvième, this is the nineteenth.
 Dix-sept, seventeen.
 Dix-sept fois, seventeen times.
 Dix-septième, seventeenth.
 C'est le dix-septième Livre, 'tis the seventeenth Book.
 Dizain, (m.) a pair of Beads containing ten pieces, or courses; a stanza of ten Verses.
 Dizaine, (f.) ten, the number of ten.
 Diziau, (m.) Terme de de Moissonneur, a Heap of ten sheaves of Corn.

D O

Dober. See Dauber.
 Docile, tractable, good-natured, sweet-natured, docile.
 Un Esprit docile, un Naturel docile, a tractable Mind, or Temper.
 Un Enfant docile, a good-natured (a sweet-natured) Child.
 Docilement, with a tractable mind.
 Ecouter docilement, to hear with a tractable mind.
 Docilité, (f.) tractableness, docility, tractable temper.
 Avoir une grande docilité, to have a very tractable temper.
 Docte, learned.
 As, c'est un homme tres docte, he is a very learned man, he is a man of great learning.
 Cela est docte, that is learned.
 Doctement, learnedly.
 Parler doctement, to speak learnedly.
 Docteur, (m.) a Doctor; a Teacher, 1 Tim. 2. 7. and 2 Pet. 5. 1.
 Docteur en Theologie, en Droit, ou en Medecine, a Doctor of Divinity, of Laws, or Physick.
 Se faire passer Docteur, to take the Degree of Doctor.
 Qui dit Docteur dit souvent un Sot, many a Doctour is a Sot.
 Docteur de la Loi (Luke 11. 46.) a Lawyer.
 Doctoral, of a Doctor.
 As, Bonnet Doctoral, a Doctors Cap. Say Bonnet de Docteur.
 Doctorat, (m.) Doctorship, a Doctors Degree.
 Doctorerie, (f.) the Feast which a new-made Doctor makes to his Society in the House called Navarre in Paris.
 Doctrina, (f.) doctrine; learning.
 As, la Doctrina Chretienne, the Christian Doctrina. Une veritable Doctrina, a true Doctrina.
 Un Homme de grande Doctrina, a Man of great Learning. Un Livre plein de Doctrina, good morrow. Donner Congé. See Congé.

Le Pere ne juge personne, mais il a donné tout Jugement au Fils, (John 5. 22.) the Father judgeth no man, but has committed all Judgment unto the Son.

Il faut donner quelque chose à son Importunité, something must be yielded to his Importunity. Je lui ai bien donné à penser, I puzzled him sufficiently. Donner carrière, to let go, to give full liberty. On lui a donné son sac & ses quilles, he is put away, or turned out of Service.

Donner sa parole, to pass his word. Je vous donne ma parole que cela n'est pas, upon my word it is not so. Je donne ma tête à couper, si cela est, I'll forfeit my head, if that be true.

Donner de l'Amour, to instill Love. Donner de la peine, to trouble, to put to trouble. Il m'a bien donné de la peine, he has put me to a great deal of trouble.

Ne favorir ou donner de la tête, to be put to his last shifts. Donner de la tête contre une Muraille, to beat (or hit) his head against a Wall.

Donner dans le piège, donner dans le panneau, to fall into the snare. Donner dans le bon sens, to be in the right, to act according to reason. Il en donne à tout le Monde, he makes a fool of every body, he serves all people alike. Donner fond, to cast anchor.

Donner sur l'Enemi, le charger, to fall (to set) upon the Enemy. Il donna sans y penser dans les Troupes des Enemis, he fell unawares into the Enemies Troops. Donner jusqu'au Camp des Enemis, to fall into the Enemies Camp. Si la Vente donne, (Termes de Marchand) if the Commodity sells well.

Donner tout aux apparences, se laisser aller aux apparences, ne se régler que sur les apparences, to go altogether by outward appearances. Il n'est pas homme à donner là dedans, cd. à entrer dans ce Desein, he will never engage himself in that Business. Donner un méchant jour aux actions des gens, les faire paroître méchantes, to misrepresent other peoples actions, to make them look worse than they are.

Donner entrée à l'Air, to let in the Air. Donner la main, ou donner la bride, cd. la lâcher, to give a Horse the head.

Se donner à quécun, to give up (to resign) himself to one. Il se donne au Diable vingt fois par jour, he gives himself to the Devil twenty times a day.

Se donner garde, to beware, to take heed, to look about. Se donner carrière, se donner trop de liberté, to take too much liberty. Se donner du bon tems, to make much of himself, to pass away his time merrily.

Je me donnerai l'honneur de vous aller voir, I shall make bold to go and wait on you.

Il s'en est bien donné (parlant d'un Homme qui a fait debauché de boisson) he has took a large cup, he has tumbled squarely. Elle s'en fait donner (parlant d'une Femme libre) she has those Stallions that do her business for her.

Donneur, (m.) Giver.

As, qu'il soit le Donneur, & je serai le Preneur, let him be the Giver, and I shall be the Taker.

Un Donneur de Serenades, a Giver of Serenades.

Or thus. Un Donneur de bons Jours, a Man of Words only.

† Donneuse, (f.) a Woman apt to give.

C'est une grande Donneuse de ce qui ne lui coûte rien, she is very free of what costs her nothing.

Donque. This Word is used by Poets, instead of Donc.

Dont. This is a Pronoun Relative of all Genders and Numbers, and used instead of dequoi, de qui, or duquel, de laquelle, and their Plural desquels, desquelles.

As, c'est cela même dont je vous parlois l'autre jour, that's the very thing which I was speaking to you of the other day. C'est ce dont il s'agit maintenant entre nous, that's it we are now about. Tout ce dont il s'agit ne monte pas à dix ecus, the whole amounts not to ten crowns.

C'est l'Homme du Monde dont je fais le plus d'estime, this is the Man whom I have the greatest esteem for.

C'est la Femme du Monde dont je me soucie le moins, she is the Woman that I least care for.

Ce sont des Disgraces dont personne n'est exempt, these are such Misfortunes as all Men are subject to.

Voilà les Parties dont le Tout est composé, those are the Parts of which the Whole does consist.

† Dont, and, Ps. 55. 6; so Ps. 81. 12; whence, from whence, Ps. 121. 1; whereby, 1 John 2. 18.

Dontable, tameable, or governable.

Donté, tamed; subdued, or conquered.

Donter, to tame; to subdue, or conquer.

Donter une bête farouche, to tame a wild beast.

Donter ses Enemis, to subdue (or conquer) his Enemies. Donter ses passions, to subdue his passions.

Donteur, (m.) a Subduer, or Conquerour.

† Donzelle, (f.) a Gentlewoman. The same is a slighting Word.

C'est l'humeur de la Donzelle, 'tis the Gentlewoman's humour.

Dorade, (f.) Poisson de Mer qui frequente les Rivages, the Gold-fish, or Goldeny.

Doré, (from Dorer) gilt, or gilt over; golden, of gold colour; washed over with eggs.

Bordure dorée, a gilt frame.

Sous les epis dorez, under the golden ears of corn.

† Dorenavant, hereafter. Say Desormais, ci après, à l'avenir.

Dorer, to gild, to gild over; to wash over with eggs.

As, dorer un Plat-fond, to gild a Cieling.

Dorer un Livre, to gild a Book.

Dorer un Pâté, to wash a Py over with Eggs.

† Dorenavant. See Dorenavant.

Doreur, (from Dorer) m. a Gilder.

Doreuse, (f.) a Gilder's Wife, or Widow.

† Dorloté, pampered, made much of.

† Dorloter, to pamper, to make much of.

As, une Femme qui dorlote bien son Mari, a Wife that pampers her Husband, that makes very much of him.

Se dorloter, to make much of (to pamper) himself.

Dormant, sleeping; standing.

As, les Biens lui viennent en dormant, Riches come to him sleeping.

Une Eau dormante, qui ne coule point, a standing (still, or stagnant) Water.

Or thus. As, je m'imagineois en dormant d'être Roi, I fancied in my sleep that I was a King.

† Dormant, (a masc. Subst.) As 1 Cor. 15. 20. Il a été fait les Premices des Dormans, he is become the first Fruits of them that sleep.

Dormeur, (m.) a Sleeper, a sleepy Man.

Un grand Dormeur, a great Sleeper.

Dormeuse, (f.) a Sleeper, a sleepy Woman, a slug-a-bed.

Dormir, to sleep; to be fallen asleep, 1 Cor. 15. 6.

Avoir envie de dormir, to have a mind to sleep. Se mettre à dormir, to compose (to set) himself to sleep. Commencer à dormir, to begin to sleep, to fall asleep.

Dormir profondément, to sleep soundly. Dormir tout son soul, to sleep his belly full, to barrel up sleep.

Dormir la grasse matinée, cd. dormir bien avant dans le jour, to sleep (or to ly sleeping) very late.

Il a accoutumé de dormir jusqu'à midi, he uses to sleep till noon. Il dort comme un Cochon, he sleeps like a Pig.

Dormir à son aise, ou en assurance, to sleep quietly, or in a whole skin. On dort en assurance quand on n'a rien à perdre, he sleeps securely that hath nothing to lose.

Le Travail me fait dormir, Working makes me sleep.

Dormir à bâtons rompus, cd. mal dormir,

to sleep short sleeps, to sleep unquietly. Je n'ai pu dormir de toute la nuit, I could not sleep at all last night.

Je dors mieux maintenant que je ne faisois, I sleep better now than I used to do.

Or thus. Dormir l'après-dinée, to take a nap after dinner. Dormir d'un léger sommeil, to slumber.

Faire des Contes à dormir debout, to tell old Womens Tales.

Laisser dormir ses ressentiments, to lay aside his resentments. L'Eau dort, the Water is still.

Le Chat dort tant qu'en fin il se reveille, the sleepy Cat at length awakes.

Dormir, (a masc. Subst.) sleep, or sleeping.

Quelques uns croient que le dormir ne vaut rien après Dîné, some think sleep unwholesome after Dinner.

Dieu avoit fait tomber un profond dormir sur Adam, (Gen. 2. 21.) God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam.

Joseph étant éveillé de son dormir, (Mat. 1. 24.) Joseph being raised from sleep.

Dortoir, (m.) Dorter, the sleeping Place in a Monastery.

On garde le Silence dans le Dortoir, Silence is kept in the Dorter.

Dorure, (from Dorer) f. a gilding; a washing over with eggs; or the beaten eggs, where-with Pastry-Cooks wash their Pies over.

Dos, (m.) back; ridge.

Avoir le dos courbé, to have a crooked back. Tourner le dos à quécun, to turn his back to one. Tourner le dos à quécun, l'abandonner, to turn his back to one, to forsake him. Tourner le dos, & s'enfuir, to turn his back, and betake himself to flight. Dos à dos, back to back.

Toute cette foule d'Argumens lui tombe à dos, all that crowd of Arguments does fall upon his back.

Dos de Cheval, de Livre, de Couteau, the back of a Horse, of a Book, or of a Knife.

Le dos d'une Montagne, the ridge of a Hill.

Or thus. Avoir une personne à dos, cd. avoir quécun qui nous poursuive à dessein de nous nuire, to have one upon him, or upon his back.

Batre quécun dos & ventre, le battre fort, to beat one soundly. Il les batit dos & ventre, (Judg. 15. 8.) he smote them hip and thigh.

Faire le gros dos, to hunch out his back. Monter un Cheval à dos, ou à poil, cd. sans Selle, to ride a Horse without a Saddle.

† Il a bon dos, cd. il portera bien cette dépense, he is strong enough, he will bear that charge with ease. Cela est sur le dos du bon homme, cd. le bon homme payera cela, the good Man must pay that.

† Fait en dos d'Ane, as sharp as the back of an Ass. Un Bateau fait en dos d'Ane, a sharp-bottomed Boat.

Dose, (f.) a dose.

Une grande dose, a great dose. Redoubler la dose, to double the dose.

Dofme. See Dome.

Doffe, (f.) Teime de Maçon, a great supporting Beam.

Dossier, (from Dos) m. the back of a Chair, or Form; that part of a Coach which eases (or stays) ones back; that part of a back-basket which resteth upon the back; the boards on which resteth the beds-head; the paper whereon the Lawyer sets down the Clients Names.

Doffiere, (f.) ridge-band, that part of a Draught-horses harness which runs over-crofs his back.

Dot. See Dote.

Dote, (f.) Portion, a Womans portion.

Une Dote avantageuse, a considerable Portion.

Doter. As, doter sa Fille, to give his Daughter a Portion.

Doter une Eglise, to endow a Church.

Dou. See Oü.

Douaire, (m.) from Douër, a jointure, or Dowry.

Douairiere, (f.) Dowager.

As, la Reine Douairiere, the Queen Dowager.
 Douane, (f.) Custom; a Custom-House.
 As, payer la Douane, to pay the Custom.
 Aller à la Douane, to go to the Custom-house.
 Douanier, (m.) an Officer of the Custom-house.
 Doublage, (m.) Terme de Mer. C'est un second Bordage, ou Revêtement de Planches.
 Double, double, or twofold; double, a double value; deceitful.
 As, un Linge double, a double piece of Cloth.
 Une double Pistole, a double Pistol.
 Une Langue double, a deceitful Tongue.
 Or thus. As, 1 Tim. 3. 8. † Double en parole, double-tongued.
 And, Jam. 1. 8. L'Homme double de cœur est inconstant en toutes ses Voies, a double-minded Man is unstable in all his Ways.
 Double, (a masc. Subst.) a double, or double part; the Copy of a Writing; the sixth part of a Sou, or French Penny.
 Or thus. As, payer le double de ce qu'on doit, to pay as much more as is due, to pay more than is due by half.
 Payer au double, to pay twice the value.
 Etre condamné au double, to be fined double.
 Rendre au double, to give twofold.
 Mettre en double, to fold into two.
 Doublié, (from Doubler) doubled; lined.
 Un Manteau doublé de panne, a Cloak lined with plush.
 Doublement, two ways.
 As, il a été doublement puni, he was punished two ways, or he received a double punishment.
 Doubler, to double; to encrease the Number; to line; to multiply, or encrease (in a neutral sense).
 As, doubler un Nombre, to double a Number.
 Doubler les Rangs, to double the Ranks.
 Doubler un Cap, le passer, to double a Cape.
 Doubler le Laquais, to take another Footman.
 Doubler un Habit, to line a Suit of Cloaths.
 Cela double à l'infini, that multiplies ad infinitum.
 Doubler des Reins. Cela se dit d'un Cheval qui saute plusieurs fois de suite, pour jeter le Cavalier à bas.
 Doublet, (m.) Terme de Jeu de Dez, a double making four.
 † Doublon, (m.) a Spanish Pistol. Say Pistole d'Espagne.
 Doublure, (f.) from Doubler, a Lining.
 Doublure de soie, a silk lining. Une bonne Doublure pour l'Hiver, a very good Lining for Winter.
 Doubte } See } Doute.
 Doubter } } Doubter.
 Doubteusement } } Doubteusement.
 Doubteux } } Doubteux.
 Douçain, (m.) sorte de Pommier, a kind of Apple-tree.
 Douce. 'Tis the feminine of Doux.
 Douceâtre, (from Doux) sweetish.
 Doucement, softly, gently; meekly, patiently; mildly, lovingly; sweetly, comfortably.
 Marchez doucement, go softly, go gently.
 Parlez doucement, speak softly. Fleuve qui coule doucement, a River that runs gently along, a gentle River.
 Recevoir doucement une Reprimende, to receive a Reprimend meekly, or patiently.
 Parler doucement, cd. sans rudesse, to speak meekly, mildly, lovingly.
 Doucereux, sweet, luscious, that hath a sweet taste without any quickness.
 Vin fade & doucereux, a flat and luscious Wine.
 Doucereux, (Subst.) qui fait le beau auprès des Dames, qui leur dit des fleurettes, a Gallant, a Courter of Ladies.
 † Doucet, (m.) qui fait le sage, a counterfeit piece of Modesty.
 Doucette, (f.) a kind of small Sallet-herb.

† Doucette, Fille qui contrefait la douce, qui fait la Fille sage & modérée, a Virgin that carries a fair pretence of Modesty, a counterfeit piece of Modesty.
 Douceur, (f.) sweetness of taste; sweetness, gentleness, meekness, or sweet temper; lenity, or indulgence; comfort, pleasure, or delight.
 As, douceur du Sucre, des Fruits, &c. the sweetness of Sugar, of Fruits, &c.
 Douceur de naturel, de langage, de conversation, a sweetness of nature, of speech, or conversation. Elle a une grande douceur, she is of a mighty sweet temper.
 Il gâte ses Enfants par la grande douceur, he spoils his Children with too much indulgence.
 Les Douceurs de la Vie, the Comforts of this Life. Une des Douceurs de la Vie l'Hiver, c'est le Feu, Fire in Winter-time is one of the Comforts of this Life. Les Douceurs du Mariage, the Comforts of a married Life.
 Or thus. As, aimer la douceur, ou les choses douces, to love sweet things. Aimer les douceurs, ou les petites friandises, to be a lover of dainty knacks. Quand il va voir sa Mere, il en a toujours quelque petite douceur, when he goes to see his Mother, she ever gives him some pretty knack or other.
 Faites cela, & il y aura quelque petite douceur pour vous, do that, and there will be something for you.
 Traiter quécun avec douceur, to use one kindly, gently, meekly. Une Medecine qui purge avec douceur, a gentle Purge, a Physick that purges gently.
 Avoir une trop grande douceur pour ses Enfants, to be too much indulgent to his Children, to coddle them too much.
 Douceurs, ou Cajoleries amoureuses, sweet expressions, courtly Language, complimentary (flattering, or coxing) Discourses, such as are used amongst Lovers.
 Dire des Douceurs aux Belles, to use sweet expressions to the Fair Ladies. Ecouter avec plaisir les douceurs d'un Amant, to hear with pleasure the sweet expressions of a Lover.
 Doucine, (f.) Terme d'Architecture, a kind of Moulding.
 Doué, that has a Joynture; indowed.
 Elle est bien douée, she has a good Joynture.
 † Un Jeune homme doué de qualitez fort avantageuses, a Young man indowed with excellent qualities.
 Douër, to give (or make) a Joynture; to indow.
 Douër une Femme, lui assigner le douaire, to make a Woman her Joynture. Il l'a douée de mille Livres de rente, he has made her a Joynture of a thousand Livres yearly.
 † Dieu a doué l'Homme de Raison, God hath indowed Man with Reason.
 Douille, (f.) le fer qui est au talon de la Pike, the socket of a Pike.
 † Douillet, tender, effeminate, that cannot bear with the least inconvenience.
 Douleur, (f.) pain, or ache; grief, or sorrow.
 Une grande douleur de tête, a great headache. Je sens une extreme douleur, I suffer a great pain. Cet Onguent m'a fait passer ma douleur, that Salve has taken away my pain. Au fort de la douleur, in the very height (or extremity) of pain.
 Se laisser aller (s'abandonner) à la Douleur, to give himself over to Grief. Etre accablé (être abbatu) de Douleur, to be overwhelmed with Grief. Sa Mort m'a causé une tres sensible Douleur, his Death gave me a very sensible Grief.
 La Douleur est ordinairement legere quand elle est longue, & ne dure pas long tems quand elle est grande; de forte que l'on a de quoi se consoler, soit qu'elle soit violente, puis qu'elle passe bien tôt, ou qu'elle soit longue, puis qu'il n'y a pas beaucoup à souffrir, Grief is commonly light when it lasts long, and doth not endure long when it is great; so that a man may comfort himself, when it is violent, with the thoughts that it will be soon over; and if it be long, because he hath not much to suffer.

Douloureusement, heavily, wofully, grievously.
 Se plaindre douloureusement, to complain heavily.
 Douloureux, grievous, or smarting; grievous, sad, or woful.
 Un Mal douloureux, a grievous pain. Une Plaie douloureuse, a smarting Wound.
 Il n'y a rien de si douloureux que cette Separation eternelle que la Mort met entre nous & nos Amis, there's nothing so grievous as that eternal Separation which Death makes betwixt us and our Friends.
 Doute, (m.) a doubt, question, or doubtful thing; a quandary, irresolution, or suspense.
 Résoudre un doute, to resolve a doubt. Eclaircir un doute, to clear a doubt.
 Il n'y a point de doute qu'il ne le fasse, there is no doubt but he will do it. Sans doute, without doubt, undoubtedly, certainly, without fail, as sure as can be. Sans doute qu'il le refusera, sure enough he will refuse it.
 Je suis en doute si j'irai ou non, I am in a quandary whether I shall go or no. Tenir quécun en doute, to hold one in suspense.
 Douter, to doubt, question, suspect, or mistrust.
 J'en doute, I doubt it. Personne ne doute de votre fidelité, no body questions your fidelity. Je n'ai jamais douté de cela, I never questioned that.
 Se douter d'une chose, to have an inkling of a thing, to suspect it.
 Mon Pere ne se doute-t-il point de cela? has not my Father some inkling of the matter?
 Or thus. As, Je me doutois bien qu'il ne viendrait pas, I thought he would not come.
 Douteusement, doubtfully, in a doubtful manner.
 Douteux, doubtful, dubious, uncertain, that may be questioned.
 Un Evenement fort douteux, a very uncertain Event.
 Douve, (f.) head-piece, a head-piece of a Cask.
 Doux, sweet; soft; fresh; gentle, meek, sweet-natured, of a sweet temper.
 As, du Vin doux, sweet Wine. Doux comme miel, as sweet as honey. Une douce & agreable Musique, a sweet and pleasant Musick.
 Le Velours est doux au toucher, Velvet is soft to the hand. Avoir les mains douces, to have soft hands.
 De l'eau douce, fresh Water.
 Un homme doux, d'une humeur douce, d'un naturel doux, a meek (or sweet-natured) man, a man of a sweet temper. Elle a l'humeur la plus douce du Monde, she is the sweetest-natured Woman alive.
 Or thus. As, une taille douce, a brass cut. Les Tailles douces rendent les Livres chers, Cuts make Books dear.
 Un Medecin d'eau douce, a young (raw, or unexperienced) Physician.
 Un billet doux, a Love-letter. Faire les doux yeux à quécun, to look amorously upon one.
 Filer doux, donner de douces paroles, to give one fair words.
 Nos grands Travaux deviennent doux quand ils sont recompensez, our great Pains become light to us when they are recompensed.
 Douzain, (m.) a base Coin of old worth twelve deniers, and current till the Reign of Henry the Fourth.
 There was also a Coin, coming to half that value, and therefore called demi-douzain.
 Douzaine, (f.) a dozen.
 Une douzaine de perdrix, a dozen of partridges.
 A la douzaine, by the dozen. As, vendre quécun chose à la douzaine, to sell a thing by the dozen.
 † Un Poète à la douzaine, cd. un mechant Poète, a poultry Poet, a sorry (or scurvy) Poet.
 Douze, twelve.
 Douze fois, twelve times.
 Un Livre en douze, cd. dont chaque feuille fait douze feuillets, a Book in twelve.
 Douzième

Douzième, twelfth.

Je suis le douzième, I am the twelfth.

Doyen, (m.) a Dean.

On appelle Doyen celui qui possède une Dignité qui le fait Chef de tout le Corps des Chanoines, & cette sorte de Doyen est perpétuel, we call Dean a Dignitary who is the Head of the whole Body of Canons in a Church, and such a Dean is for life.

Doyen Rural, Rural Dean, a Country Parson appointed for some time to decide the Differences arising amongst the Clergy.

The eldest also of a Court, or Corporation, is frequently called Doyen in French. As, le Doyen des Conseillers du Parlement, le Doyen de la Communauté, &c.

Doyenné, (m.) Deanry; also Deanship, the Place (or Dignity) of a Dean.

D R

Drachme. See Dragma.

Dragée, (f.) Sugar-plum; small shoot.

Aimer les dragées, to love sugar-plums.

Tirer des Oiseaux avec de la dragée, to shoot Birds with small shot.

Or thus. In a burlesk Sense † Ecarter la dragée, faire sauter sa salive sur le Visage ou sur les Habits de ceux qui sont près de nous, to sputter upon folks.

† Ecarter la dragée, dépenser son Bien mal à propos, to squander all away, to be lavish, or extravagant.

Drageoir, (m.) a Comfet-box.

Dragme, (f.) huitième partie de l'Once, a dram, the eighth part of an Ounce.

Ne vous semble-t-il pas qu'il y ait dans cette Lettre pour le moins cinq ou six dragmes d'Amour? don't you think there is in this Letter at least five or six drams of Love?

Dragme, sorte de Monoie, Dram, a Greek Coin (or a piece of Silver) worth about a groat.

Dragon, (m.) Dragon, a kind of Serpent; Dragon, a Souldier that fights a foot and horse-back; a desperate Youth; an herb called Dragon-wort.

Dragon volant, sorte de Metéore Ignée, a flying Dragon, the same as Draco volans.

Drague, (f.) a Tool used in the scouring of Wells.

Dramatique, dramatick, comical, belonging to Plays.

As, Poëme Dramatique; dramatick Poetry.

La Comédie & la Tragedie sont les deux fortes de Poëmes dramatiques que nous avons des Anciens, Comedy and Tragedy are the two sorts of dramatick Poetry that we have from the Ancients.

Poëte dramatique, a dramatick (or comical) Poet.

Drap, (m.) cloth, woollen cloth; a sheet, for a Bed.

Un bon drap d'Angleterre vaut mieux que tout autre drap, good English Cloth is the best Cloth that is.

Du drap fin, ou grossier, fine, or course cloth.

Des Draps blancs ou sales, clean or foul Sheets. Mettre des draps blancs au Lit, to put clean sheets in a Bed.

Or thus. † Mettre une personne en beaux draps blancs, la railler, la jouer, la déchirer à force d'en médire, to jeer one out of his skin.

Drapé, hung with black, or mourning; jeered, derided, ridiculed.

J'ai vu sa Maison drapée, il faut qu'il y ait quècun de mort, I saw his House hung with black, to be sure there's some body dead.

† Il a eu le déplaisir de se voir furieusement drapé dans une Satyre, he has had the grief to see himself derided in a Satyr in a most deadly manner.

Drapeau, (m.) rag; the Colours of a Foot Company.

Le Papier se fait de drapeaux, Paper is made of rags.

Il marchait sous le Drapeau d'un vaillant

Chef, he marched under the Colours of a valiant Captain.

Draper, to make cloth; to hang a House with mourning; to jeer, deride, or turn into ridicule.

Draper (ou vêtir) les figures, to make the Drapery of Pictures.

Draperie, (f.) Cloth-Trade; Drapery, in Painting.

La Draperie va bien, the Cloth-Trade is good.

Jetter une Draperie, to make the Drapery of a Picture.

Drapier, (m.) a Cloth-maker; a Draper.

Dreche, (f.) malt.

Drelin, (m.) Tis a made word to express the sound of a tinkling Bell.

Dresse, (f.) a piece of leather which Shoemakers and Coblers put betwixt the two soles of a Shoe that go's awry.

Dressé, made straight; erected, raised, set up; pricked up; trained up, or disciplined; beaten; dished up.

Dresser, to make straight; to raise, or to set up; to prick up; to draw; to train up, or discipline; to beat; to dish up.

As, dresser un bâton, to make a stick straight.

Dresse ton Chemin devant moi (Ps. 5. 8.) make thy Way straight before my face.

Dresser les quilles, to set up the pins. Dresser un Lit, ou une Tente, to set up a Bed, or a Tent. Dresser une Statue, to erect (raise, or set up) a Statue.

Dresser les oreilles, to prick up his ears.

Dresser un Erit, to draw a Writing. Dresser un Procès Verbal, to draw up a Verbal Process.

Dresser une Armée, to train up (to discipline) an Army.

Dresser un Livre (en Termes de Relieur) to beat a Book well.

Dresser le Potage, to dish up the Potage.

Or thus. As, dresser un Arbre, to trim up a Tree.

Dresser une embuscade, to lay an ambush.

Dresser des embuches à quècun, to ly in wait for one.

Il dressa sa face, tout resolu d'aller à Jerusalem (Luke 9. 51.) he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem.

Dresser un Cheval, to break a Horse.

Cela me fit dresser les cheveux, that made my hair stand on end.

† Se dresser, to stand, or stand up.

Se dresser en haut (Luke 21. 28.) to look up.

Drille, (m.) un bon Drille, a brave fellow, a good jovial fellow.

Drille, sorte de Soldat un peu fripon, an unlucky Souldier.

† Driller, to post away, to march off in haste.

Drogue, (f.) a drug.

As, une bonne, ou mechante drogue, a good, or a bad drug.

Drogué, physicked.

Droguer, to physick.

Droguer ses Enfants, to physick his Children.

Se droguer, to physick himself.

Droguet, (m.) sorte d'Etoffe, Druggert.

As, Droguet d'Espagne, a Spanish Druggert.

Droguiste, (m.) from Drogue, a Druggist.

Droit (formerly spelt Droict) strait; upright, sincere, righteous, John 7. 247.

Ce bâton n'est pas droit, this stick is not strait. En droite ligne, in a strait line.

Tenir le corps droit, to keep his body strait.

Avoir le cœur droit, to have an upright heart. Mon Bouclier est en Dieu, qui délivre ceux qui sont droits de cœur (Ps. 7. 10.) my Defence is of God which saveth the upright in heart.

Or thus. Tenir la tête droite, to hold his head up.

Il a la Jambe droite, & tout d'une venue, his Leg is all of a size.

Le Chemin d'ici là est tout droit, the Way leads directly thither.

Cheminer de droit pié (Gal. 2. 14.) to walk uprightly.

Cheval qui est droit (en Termes de Manège) cd. qui ne boite pas, a Horse that is not lame.

Avoir le Sens droit, to have good Sense. La droite Raison, sound (clear) Reason.

Droit, (a masc. Subst.) Law; right, or power; tax, or duty; fee.

Le Droit écrit, the written Law. Le Droit Civil, Canon, & Coutumier, the Civil, Canon, and Common Law. Le Droit des Gens, the Law of Nations. Etudier le Droit, l'étudier en son particulier, to study the Law by himself. Etudier au Droit, ou en Droit, l'apprendre de quèque Maître, to learn the Law of some Master or other. Etre savant en Droit, to be learned in the Law. Une Difficulté de Droit, a difficult Case in the Law.

Avoir droit (être en droit) de faire une chose, to have a right to do a Thing. Ceder son Droit, to give (or yield) up his Right. Défendre son Droit, to defend his Right. Il ne veut rien demordre de son Droit, he will not part with a jot of his Right. Droit d'aînesse, Birth-right.

Etablir un Droit nouveau, to raise a new Tax.

Payer les Droits, to pay the fees.

Or thus. As, Ps. 9. 8. Il jugera le Monde en justice, & fera droit aux Peuples en équité, he shall judge the World in righteousness, and shall minister judgement to the People in uprightness.

And Deut. 4. 5. Je vous ai enseigné les Statuts & les Droits, I have taught you Statutes and Judgements.

A bon droit, justly, deservedly, not without a cause.

Il a obtenu cela à bon droit, he hath deservedly got it. C'est à bon droit que je me plain, 'tis not without a cause that I complain.

Droit (Adv.) strait, strait along, strait on, directly; just; roundly.

Allez tout droit, go strait on, go strait along. Ce Chemin mene droit à la Ville, this Way leads strait into the Town. Marcher droit à l'Enemi, to march directly towards the Enemy. Il y est allé tout droit, he went directly thither. Il va droit au point, he go's directly to the mark.

Droit au milieu de cette Place il y a une Pyramide, just in the middle of the Piazza there is a Pyramid. Droit au dessus du Balcon, right over the Balcony.

Un homme qui va droit, qui fait les choses en honnête homme, a man that go's roundly to work, an honest (upright) man. Il ne va pas droit en cette Affaire là, he do's not go roundly in that Business.

A droit & à gauche, on the right and on the left hand. Adroit ou à tort, right or wrong.

Droite (a fem. Subst.) the right hand; the right Wing of an Army.

Il étoit assis à ma droite, he sat on my right hand.

Commander la Droite, to command the right Wing.

A droite (Adv.) à main droite, on the right hand.

Prendre (tourner) à droite, to turn on the right hand.

Droitement, d'une manière sincère & juste, roundly, righteously, uprightly, sincerely; just, Deut. 16. 6; right, Numb. 23. 7; rightly, 2 Tim. 2. 15.

Aller droitement en besongne, to go roundly to work.

Droiture, (f.) uprightness, honesty, integrity; judgement, Ps. 101. 1; discretion, Ps. 112. 5.

J'admire la droiture de son Cœur, I admire the uprightness of his Heart. C'est un homme qui a de la droiture, he is a man of some honesty.

Cacher un grand fonds de perfidie sous des apparences de droiture, to hide a great stock of perfidiousness under a cloak of uprightness.

Je te célébrerai en droiture de cœur, (Ps. 119. 7.) I will praise thee with uprightness of heart.

Or thus. As, Ps. 17. 2. † Que tes yeux regardent aux droitures, let thine eyes behold the things that are equal.

Servir Dieu en esprit de droiture, to serve God with an upright spirit.

D U

Droiture d'esprit, clearness of reason.
En droiture, directly.
As, écrire en droiture à Londres, to write directly to London.
Aller en droiture, faire la Route en droiture (Termes de Marine) cd. naviguer en droite Route, to sail strait along.
†Droiturier, righteous.
As, Ps. 107. 42. Les Droituriens voient cela, & s'en rejouissent, the Righteous see it, and rejoice.
†Drole, pleasant, merry, jocular, that hath a drolling way with him; pleasant, or acceptable.
Il est fort drole, he is very pleasant.
Il n'y a rien de plus drole pour les jeunes Filles que le mot de Mariage, there is nothing that pleaseth young Virgins more than the word of Marriage.
Drole, (a masc. Subst.) a brisk (or merry) fellow, a Droll.
Drolement, pleasantly.
Cela est dit drolement, that's pleasantly said.
†Droleffe, (f.) a brisk (or merry) Woman.
Dromadaire, (m.) sorte de Chameau, Dromedary, a lesser sort of Camel, but swifter.
Drouine, (f.) a Tinkers bag (wherein he puts in his Tools).
Drouineur, (m.) a Tinker, a Country-Tinker.
Dru, thick; pert.
As, l'Herbe étoit haute & drue, the Grass was high and thick.
La Neige tombe dru & menu, the Snow falls thick in little flakes.
†Une Fillette drue, a pert Girl.
Or thus. As, Ps. 78. 27. Il fit pleuvoir sur eux de la Chair dru comme poudre, & de la Volaille ayant aile dru comme le Sable de la Mer, he rained Flesh upon them as dust, and feathered Fowls like as the Sand of the Sea.
Druide, (m.) Druid. So were formerly called the Priests and Philosophers of the ancient Gauls.

D U

Du, of the; from the; some.
As, le fruit du Jardin, the fruit of the Garden.
Il vient du College, he comes from the College.
Donnez moi du Vin, give me some Wine.
Or thus. As, du tout, at all. Du moins, at least, at the least.
Du commencement, in the beginning. Du vivant du Cardinal de Richelieu, in the lifetime of Cardinal Richelieu.
Ce Terme n'est pas du beau style, this Word is not in use in a fine style.
Sometimes 'tis left out in English.
As, j'ai du pain, I have bread. J'ai du vin, I have wine.
In short, this is a Preposition used, instead of de le, before Nouns of the masculine Gender beginning with a Consonant.
Duc, a Duke; a Horn-Owl, or Horn-coot.
Un Duc Souverain, a Sovereign Duke.
Le Duc se defend du bec & des grifes, the Horn-owl defends it self with its bill and claws.
Duc is also taken for the head of a Family, as you may see Gen. 36. 15.
Ducal, Ducal.
As, Couronne Ducale, a Ducal Crown.
Ducale, (Subst.) Lettres Patentes du Senat de Venise; a Patent of the Venetian Senate.
Ducat, (m.) sorte de Monoie d'or, Duckat, a gold Coyne, worth about nine shillings six pence.
Double ducat, a double duckat.
Or ducat, duckat gold.
Ducaton, (m.) Duckatoon, a foreign Coyne worth about five shillings four pence.
Duché, (m. & f.) Dukedom.
Duchesse, (f.) Duchess.
La Duchesse se porte mal, the Duchess is not well.
Ductile. As, un metal ductile, a metal easy to be hammered, or beaten into thin Plates.

D U

Dueil, mourning. See Deuil.
Duel, (m.) challenge; duel; a dual Number.
Appeler quécun en duel, to send one a challenge. Refuser le duel, to refuse the challenge. Recevoir (accepter) le duel, to accept the challenge.
Se battre en duel, to fight a duel.
Le Duel, ou Nombre duel, est un Nombre des Noms Grecs, dont on se sert quand on parle de deux personnes ou de deux choses, the Dual Number is a Number of Greek Nouns, used in case of two persons or two things.
Dueliste, (m.) qui se plaint à se battre en duel, a Duelist.
C'étoit un fameux Dueliste, he was a famous Duelist.
†Duire, to tempt, to please; to teach, train up, or bring to.
Prenez celui des trois qui plus vous duit, take of the three that which pleases you best.
Benit soit l'Eternel, mon Rocher, lequel duit mes mains au Combat, & mes doigts à la Bataille, (Ps. 144. 1.) blessed be the Lord, my Strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight.
†Duit, tempted, incited; taught, trained up.
Duit au marteau, beaten, hammered.
Tu feras les deux Cherubins d'ouvrage duit au marteau, (Ex. 25. 18.) of beaten work shalt thou make the two Cherubins.
Dunes, (f.) Hauteurs ou Montagnes de Sable sur le bord de la Mer, Downs, sandy Banks or Hills near the Sea.
Dunette, (f.) le plus élevé Departement de l'Arriere du Vaisseau, the Poop, the highest part of the Stern of a Ship.
Dupe, (f.) a Cully, Sor, Fool, or Nimby, one that is apt to be gulled, choused, or cheated.
Ne croyez pas que je sois Dupe, don't take me for a Fool.
C'étoit la Dupe de tout le Monde, he was the Cully of all the World.
Dupé, cheated, gulled.
Duper, to cheat, to gull.
Vous avez bien la mine de me vouloir duper, you look as if you had a mind to gull me.
Dupliques, (f.) Ecritures contre les Repliques du Demandeur, Rejoinder, the second Answer of the Defendant.
Duquel, of whom, of which, whereof.
As, C'est le Frere de ma Femme, duquel je vous parle, 'tis my Wifes Brother, whom I speak to you of.
Now you must know that duquel is a Compound Word, used instead of de le quel. Neither is it to be used, but only to avoid an Ambiguity, as in the Example aforesaid, where duquel being of the masculine Gender shews that it is le Frere, not la Femme, which is hinted therein.
The same it is with de laquelle, the feminine of Lequel. As, c'est la Femme de mon Frere, de laquelle je vous parle, 'tis my Brother's Wife, whom I speak to you of. There we say de laquelle, to shew it is la Femme, not le Frere, which is hinted therein.
But in all other Cases, where the foregoing Substantives do not differ in Gender, say dont, or de qui, which are of all Genders, and run much smoother than duquel, or de laquelle.
Dur, hard, solid, stiff; hard, or tough; hard, sad, or grievous; hard, cruel, inflexible; dull, heavy; hard, uneasy.
As, un Corps dur & solide, a hard and solid Body.
Un Chapon dur, a hard (or tough) Capon.
Une poule dure, a tough hen. De la chair dure, tough flesh.
Dans cette dure extrémité, in this hard extremity.
Etre dur, avoir le cœur dur, ou l'ame dure, to be hard-hearted, cruel, or inflexible.
Avoir l'Ouïe un peu dure, to be somewhat dull of hearing. Un Esprit dur, a dull Wit, a heavy man or woman, one that is but half-witted.
Un Style dur, a hard (or uneasy) Style.
Or thus. Un Livre dur à la vente, (en

D U

Termes de Libraire) a slow Book, a heavy Book, a Book that does not go off well.
Dure-mere, (Terme d'Anatomie) dura mater.
Cheval dur, cd. qui n'a point de sensibilité ni au fouet, ni aux eperons, a dull Horse.
Ils ont ouï dur de leurs oreilles, (Matt. 13. 15.) their ears are dull of hearing.
Durable, durable, lasting.
Durant, during.
As, durant l'espace de trois heures, during the space of three hours. Durant le Regne d'Alexandre, during Alexander's Reign.
Or thus. As, durant tout l'Hiver, all Winter long.
†Durant que, whilst, when.
As, Ps. 124. 1. durant que leur Colere étoit embrasée contre nous, when their Wrath was kindled against us.
Durci, hardened, &c. according to the Verb.
Un Bâton durci au feu, a Stick hardened in the fire.
Durcir, to harden, to make hard, or stiff; to dull, to make dull, or heavy.
L'eau sert à durcir le plâtre, the water serves to harden the mortar.
Cela durcit l'esprit, that dulls the brains.
Faire durcir, to make hard, or tough.
As, le Vin fait durcir la Viande, Wine makes the Meat tough.
Dure, (a fem. Subst.) ground, bare ground.
As, coucher sur la dure, to lie upon the ground.
Durée, (f.) duration, continuance.
Une chose de longue durée, a Thing of long continuance. Une chose de peu de durée, a Thing of short continuance.
Les Plaisirs de cette Vie ne sont pas de durée, the Pleasures of this Life are of no long continuance.
Or thus. As, Paix ou Guerre de longue durée, a durable Peace, or War. Notre Vie est de si peu de durée, our Life is so very short.
Qu'y a-t-il dans le Monde d'éternelle durée? what is there in the World of an eternal duration?
Durement, hard; rudely, rustically.
Etre couché durement, to lie hard, or to lie upon a hard bed.
Dire les choses durement, to speak things rudely, or rustically.
Durer, to last, endure, hold out, or continue; to stay, stand, or abide.
Du drap qui dure long tems, cloth that will last a long time, a lasting cloth. Cette étoffe ne durera pas, this stuff will not last.
La Guerre dure bien long tems, the War continues a long while. La Tempête dura toute la nuit, the Storm continued all night.
Tant que le Monde durera, so long as the World endures. Les Joies de l'autre Vie dureront toujours, the Joys of the Life to come shall endure for ever, shall have no end.
Faire durer la Guerre, to make the War hold out. L'Orage ni les Guerres ne durent pas toujours, neither great Winds nor Wars hold out for ever.
Il ne peut durer en sa Chambre, he can't stay (he can't abide to stay) in his Chamber. Il n'y a pas moyen de durer ici, it is impossible to stay here.
†Duret, firm, somewhat hard.
Elle a le Cul duret, she has a firm back-side.
Dureté, (f.) hardness; a hard skin; hard-heartedness, inflexibility.
La dureté du marbre, the hardness of marble.
Les hommes de travail sont ceux qui ont des duretez dans les mains, hard-working men have hard skins.
J'admire la dureté de son cœur, I wonder at his hard-heartedness.
Or thus. As ils se dirent quelques duretez, there passed some hard words betwixt them.
Durillon, (m.) callosity, a hard skin in the feet, or hands.
Duvet, (m.) plumes douces & molles, down.
As, coucher sur du duvet, to lie upon a down-bed.

† Duvet.

E

† Duvet, barbe de Jeune homme, a downy beard.

D Y.

Dynastie, (f.) Dynasty, or Government by one Race of Kings.

As, les Cinq Dynasties des Egyptiens, the Five Dynasties of Egypt.

Dysenterie, (f.) Bloody flux, Dysentery.

La Dysenterie a tué quantité de monde cet Automne, the Bloody flux has killed a world of people this Autumn.

E.

† This Letter is the second Vowel, and the fifth Letter of the Alphabet.

The Name of it is pronounced in French as in English, and 'tis of the masculine Gender.

As, un e bien fait, an e well made.

The French Grammarians divide it into Masculine, Feminine, and Open.

They call that e Masculine which is marked with an accent acute, and accordingly pronounced long and sharp; as verité, aimé, troisième, assèurement.

But it is also masculine, where it ends the Word with an r or a z; as aimer, danger, veritez, aimez. Except these Words ending in er, where it is sounded after the English way, viz. Jupiter, Mer, amer, fer, Enfer, Hiver.

By the e Feminine they mean an e without an accent, especially at the end of Words, where it is sounded so very short that it is scarce heard; as un homme, une Femme, la peste, une infamie.

The e Open is that which is sounded like the Diphthong ai, which commonly happens before these Terminations of Nouns especially, viz. be, ce, de, fe, ge, ie, le, me, ne, pe, que, re, se, te, ve, ze, together with their Plural Number, which is known by the addition of an s. Thus for example you must pronounce emblème, scène, severe, these, Prophète, and their Plural Number emblèmes, scènes, severes, theses, Prophetes.

Moreover this Vowel is pronounced open, or like the Diphthong ai, wherever it is circumflexed; as in these Words être, Prêtre, quelque, fête, tête, mercredi, congrès, progrès, accès, décès, excès, procès, succès, après, près, auprès, exprès, &c.

And so it is in these Monosyllables, des, tres, mes, tes, fes.

But, besides these three several Pronunciations of the Vowel e by the French, there is a fourth Pronunciation, which is as general, and of almost as great a latitude, as any of the former. I mean the Pronunciation of the e like that of an a, before m or n in the same syllable; as emporter, empoisonner, prendre, entreprendre. For which, in particular, I refer you to Em and En.

The Diphthong ei is pronounced in French as in English; as Reine, peine, veine.

Except, 1. Reinette, which is pronounced Renette.

2. Where an e doth not follow in the same Syllable, the e of the Diphthong is in a manner mute; as in these Words sein, reins, teinte, peinture.

It is no Diphthong, and therefore both Letters must be distinctly pronounced, in obeir, re-integrer, reïterer, or any of their Derivatives.

As for ea and eu, I refer you to their proper Places.

Eu is so pronounced, that the e is not heard at all; as te soir, s'asseoir. After a g, it serves to keep that Letter to its soft Pronunciation; as George, Bourgeois, Villageois, mangeois, songeois, mangeons, songeons.

One thing is observable concerning this Vowel, that is its being subject to be turned into an Apostroph, at the end of these Words ce, de, ie, le, me, ne, que, ce, te, being followed by a Word beginning with a Vowel. As c'est for ce est, d'un for de un, j'aime for je aime, l'esprit for le esprit, il m'inquiete for il me inquiete, je n'en veux rien for je ne en veux rien, qu'importe for que importe, s'avancer for se avancer, je t'enten for je te enten.

E A

These three Words also grande, re, entre, lose sometimes their e final; as la grand' Messe for la grande Messe, l'entrer for re-entrer, entr'ouir for entre-ouir.

In point of Spelling, e is left out, 1. before the Vowel o, in these Words, voir, dechoir, echoir, which formerly were spelt veoir, decheoir, echeoir.

2. Before u, in these Participles, dechu, echu, cru, conu, and its Compounds.

3. Before u, in such Verbals as rongnure, egratignure. To which add chute, for cheute.

E A.

† Ea, in one and the same syllable, sounds but like the French a; as Jean, il mangea, il songea, where the e is mute in a manner.

But, where both the Vowels belong to several Syllables, the same are distinctly pronounced. As in these Words, Geant, neant, néanmoins, faïneant, aneantir, seant, bienseant, malseant, ceans, Ocean, theatre, Createur, creation, creature, genealogie.

Eau is pronounced but as au, like an o; as seau, chapeau, couteau.

Eau, (a fem Subst.) Water, one of the four Elements; water, or rain; water, stilled water; water, or urine; water, or sweat; the juice of fruits; the water (or luster) of pearls.

L'Eau est l'Element des Poissons, l'Air celui des Oiseaux, & la Terre celui des autres Animaux, Water is the Fishes Element, Air is the Birds, and Earth that of all other living Creatures.

Une eau claire & belle, a fine clear water.

De l'eau trouble & obscure, thick muddy water.

Eau courante, ou dormante, running, or standing water.

Eau douce, ou salée, sweet, or salt water.

Eau de Fontaine, de Roche, de Puis, de Mer, de Riviere, Spring, Rock, Well, Sea, and River-water.

Eau vive, running-water. Eau de Separation, (Numb. 19. 9.) the Water of Separation.

Le Ciel est couvert, nous aurons de l'Eau, the Sky is overcast, we shall have some Rain.

Il tombe de l'eau, it rains.

Eau de vie, strong water, brandy, aqua vitæ.

Eau de la Reine de Hongrie, Queen of Hungary's water. Eau rose, rose water.

Eau de canelle, de plantin, de fleur d'orange, cinnamon, plantine, orange-flower water.

Eau forte, aqua fortis.

Des Eaux minerales, mineral Waters. Prendre les Eaux, to take (to drink) the Waters.

Aller aux Eaux, to go to the Waters.

Des Perles qui ont une fort belle eau, fine clear Pearls, Pearls of a good water, or luster.

Ces Poires là ont bonne eau, the juice of those Pears is good.

Etre tout en eau, to be all in a water, or in a sweat, to sweat all over.

Faire de l'eau, cd. piffer, to make water, to piss.

Faire de l'eau, ou faire aiguade, (en Termes de Marine) to take in fresh Water.

Faire eau, to leak. Notre Navire faisoit eau de tous côtez, our Ship leaked on every side.

Mettre un Navire à l'Eau, to launch a Ship.

Haute Eau, le vis de l'Eau, high Water.

Basse Eau, morte Eau, le bas de l'Eau, low Water.

Mettre de l'eau dans son Vin, to put water into his Wine; (and in the figurative sense) to cool his anger, to come to himself again, to be reclaimed.

Pêcher en eau trouble, to fish in troubled Waters, to make a benefit of publick Troubles.

Nager en grande eau, avoir abondance de toutes choses, to have plenty of all things.

Nager entre deux eaux, to swim under water; to be in great danger.

L'eau lui en vient à la bouche, it makes his teeth water.

Tenir le bec en l'eau à quelqu'un, l'amuser, to amuse one, to play the fool with him, to keep him in suspense.

Tout s'en est allé à vau l'eau, cd. tout s'est évanoui, dissipé, ou perdu, all is gone, all is gone to wrack. Les eaux sont basses, il est réduit à l'estroit, he is driven to straits.

E B

Il n'est pire Eau que l'Eau qui dort, cd. que les gens mornes, & qui ne semblent pas songer à mal, sont plus mechans que les autres, the stillest waters and humours are ever the worst and most dangerous.

Amener de l'Eau au Moulin, to bring grist to the Mill.

Batre l'Eau, (en Termes de Chasse) a Deer to take soil.

Il faut lui donner trois eaux, it must be washed in three waters.

Les Eaux & Forêts, Cour Souveraine, a Sovereign Court which judges of Waters, Mills, and Forests.

Un Jet d'eau, a Water-spout. Faire jouer les Eaux, cd. les faire aller, to set the Water-works a going.

Une Chute d'eau, a Fall of water. Une goutte d'eau, a drop of water.

Aller à fleur d'eau, to glance upon the water.

E B

† Ebahi, astonished, amazed.

† Ebahir, cd. s'étonner, to marvel, wonder, admire, or be amazed at.

Ne t'ebahi point de cela, marvel not at it.

† Ebahissement, (m.) amazement, wonder, astonishment, admiration. As, Acts 3. 10. Deut. 28. 37. Rev. 17. 6.

† Ebarbé, barbed.

† Ebarber, to barb.

† Ebat, (m.) cd. plaisir, passetems, pleasure, pastime.

Prendre ses ebats, to take his pleasure.

† Ebatement, (m.) sporting, recreation, diversion.

† Ebatre, se rejouir, to rejoice, to be merry, or to sport himself.

Elle étoit descendue avec ses Compagnes pour s'ebatre sur le Rivage, she was come down with her Companions, to sport herself by the Water-side.

Je m'ebatois devant lui en tout tems, (Prov. 8. 30.) I rejoiced always before him.

† Ebaubi, cd. étonné, tout surpris, amazed, astonished, in a maze.

Je suis toute ebaubie, & je tombe des Nues, I am in a maze, as if dropped down the Clouds.

Ebauche, (f.) the first draughts, a tricking, a rough beginning.

Faire l'ébauche d'un Tableau, to make the first draughts of a Picture, to trick.

Ebauché, begun, rough-hewed, tricked.

Ebaucher, faire imparfaitement, to begin, or lay the first draughts of a thing; to rough-hew; to trick, in Painting.

Ebauchoir, (m.) sorte d'Outil, a kind of Stone-cutters tool; a great Hatchel used by Cord-makers; also a Carwrights and Carpenters Tool.

Ebe, (f.) Terme de Mer, cd. le Reflux de la Marée, qui refoule & s'en va, the Ebb, or ebbing Water.

The same is otherwise called Jussant, by French Sea-men.

Ebene, (f.) Arbre des Indes, & le bois de cet Arbre, the Ebony-tree; ebony, or ebony-wood.

Ebene noire & luisante, a black & shining Ebony.

Ebenier, (m.) the Ebony-tree.

Ebeniste, (m.) Menuisier qui travaille en Ebene, an Ebonyist.

Un bon Ebeniste, a good Ebonyist.

Ebloui, dazzled.

Eblouir, to dazzle.

Quand on regarde fixement le Soleil, il eblouit les yeux, the Sun dazzles the eyes of any one that looks steadfastly upon it.

L'éclat d'une Couronne eblouit la Raison, the brightness of a Crown dazzles a man's Reason.

Eblouissement, (m.) a dazzling, a dimness of the eyes.

Il m'a pris un eblouissement qui m'incommoda fort, I was taken with a dimness which troubles me very much.

† Eborgné, who has lost an eye, made blind of an eye.

† Eborgner.

†Eborgner quécun, lui crever l'œil, to put out ones eye, to make him blind of an eye.
Or thus. As, eborgner les boutons à fruit d'un Arbre, to take away fruit-buds of a Tree.

S'eborgner, to put out one of his eyes.

Il est homme à s'eborgner, pour faire perdre l'œil à un autre, he is such a man that he will part with one of his eyes to make another lose his eye.

†s'Eboufer de rire, cd. se prendre à rire, to break out into laughter.

Eboulé, fallen (tumbled) down.

As, une Muraille eboulée, a Wall that is fallen down.

Eboulement, (m.) a falling (or tumbling) down, a fall.

Un eboulement de Muraille, the fall of a Wall.

s'Ebouler, cd. se ruiner & tomber à terre, to fall (or tumble) down.

La Terre est eboulée, the Ground is fallen down.

Ebourgeonné, pruned.

Ebourgeonner, ôter les bourgeons, to prune.

As, ebourgeonner les Arbres, ou la Vigne, to prune Trees, or the Vine.

Ebranché, lopped.

Ebrancher, couper les branches inutiles, to lop, to cut off the small branches.

As, ebrancher un Arbre, to lop a Tree.

Ebranlé, moved, shaken, upon the turn, in a wavering condition.

Cette Province a été ebranlée par de grands Tremblemens, that Province was shaken by great Earthquakes.

La Multitude étoit déjà toute ebranlée & chancelante, the Mob was already upon the turn, and in a wavering condition.

Il ne permettra point que ton pié soit ebranlé, (Ps. 121. 3.) he will not suffer thy foot to be moved.

Or thus. Sa fidélité ne fut jamais ebranlée, he remained unmoved (or unshaken) in his fidelity.

Ebranlement, (m.) trouble, ou crainte, trouble, or fear.

Ebranler, to move, or shake; to pull down; to break into.

Ebranler une Muraille, to shake a Wall.

La frayeur de la Mort ebranle le plus ferme, the fear of Death shakes the stoutest man alive.

Ebranler les Regles les plus saintes de la Religion Chrétienne, to pull down the most sacred Rules of Christian Religion. Cela seul ebranla le Courage des Soldats, that Thing alone pulled down the Soldiers Courage.

Ebranler un Escadron, to break into a Squadron.

S'ebbranler, to be moved, concerned, or daunted; to move, or prepare himself.

As, il repondit, sans s'ebbranler, qu'il vouloit vaincre ou mourir, he answered, with out being concerned in the least, that he would vanquish or die.

L'Armée s'ebbranla pour donner, the Army moved in order to fight.

Ebreché, whereof a piece is broke off.

As, un couteau ebreché, a knife that has a piece of it broke off.

Une dent ebrechée, a tooth that has a piece broke off.

Ebrecher, to break a piece off.

As, ebrecher la lame d'un couteau, to break off a piece of the blade.

Ebrecher une dent, to break off a piece of a tooth.

Ebrillade, (f.) a ferk, or Correction given a Horse with the bridle.

Ebrillade est un coup de bride que le Cavalier donne à un Cheval par la secousse d'une rêne, quand le Cheval refuse de tourner.

See Sacade.

s'Ebrouer, to snort, or snuffler.

On dit d'un Cheval, qu'il s'ebroue, lors qu'étant plein de feu il pousse de ses Naseaux un certain Son, qui est une espece de Ronflement ou de Reniflement; comme s'il se vouloit debarrasser de quelque Chose qui seroit dans son Naseau, & qui l'empêcheroit de prendre son haleine.

Ebullition, or Ebullition, (f.) ebullition, or boiling.

As, une grande ebullition de sang, a great ebullition (or boiling) of the blood.

Or thus. Des ebullitions de cerveau, beats of the brains.

E C

Ecaché, beaten, or beaten flat.

Ecacher, applatir, to beat, or to beat flat.

As, ecacher de l'or, to beat gold.

Ecacheur d'Or, (m.) a Gold-beater.

Ecaille, shell; scale.

As, ecaille d'huître, ou de tortue, an oyster-shell, or tortoise-shell.

Poisson couvert d'ecailles, a Fish covered with scales.

Aussi tôt il cheut de ses yeux comme des ecailles, (Acts 9. 18.) Immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales.

Ecaillé, scaled.

†La Troupe ecaillée, cd. les Poissons, the scaly Troop, the Fishes.

Ecailler, ôter (defaire) les ecailles, to scale.

As, ecailler un Poisson, to scale a Fish, to pull the scales off.

Ecalé, shelled.

Ecaler, to shell.

As, ecaler des noix, to shell nuts, to take off the green shells.

Ecarlate, (f.) scarlet, scarlet colour; scarlet, or scarlet cloth.

†Ecarquillé, straddled, spread.

†Ecarquiller les jambes, les ouvrir, les elargir trop, to straddle, to spread his legs.

Ecarri

Ecarri } See { Equarri.

Ecarri } See { Equarri.

Ecart, (m.) Terme de Jeu de Piquet, the Cards that are laid aside to take in others.

Faire son ecart, to lay out his Cards.

Faire un ecart (en Termes de Danse) to step aside.

Faire un ecart, s'éloigner du but, to stand off.

Faire des ecarts, ou des depenses excessives, to spend extravagantly.

A l'ecart, (Adv.) aside, apart. As, tirer quécun à l'ecart, to draw one aside.

Ecarté, (from Ecarter) dispersed, gone aside, removed; discarded, put away.

Ecartelé, quartered, cut into quarters; quarterly (in Heraldry,) divided into four.

Il merite d'être ecartelé, he deserves to be quartered.

Il porte ecartelé d'argent & de sable, he bears quarterly argent and sable.

Ecarteler, to quarter, or cut into quarters; to quarter, in Heraldry.

As, ecarteler un Traître, to quarter a Tray-tor.

Ecarteler des Armes, to quarter a Coat of Arms.

Ecarter, to disperse, scatter, remove, or put out of the way; to discard, or put away some cards to take others in their stead.

Ecarter les Enemis, to disperse his Enemy's.

Ecarter quécun de la Cour, to remove one from Court. Il a ecarté les meilleurs de mes Livres, he has scattered the best of my Books.

J'ecarte cinq cartes, je pren tout, I put away five cards, I take all.

S'ecarter, to go out of the way, to go aside.

S'ecarter de son chemin, to go out of his way, to lose his way.

S'ecarter de son Sujet, to make a Digression, to go from the matter in hand.

S'ecarter des Sentimens des autres, to depart from other Mens Opinions.

Eccentrique. See Excentrique.

Ecclesiaste, (m.) Ecclesiastes, a Book of the Old Testament.

Ecclesiastique, (f.) (or belonging to) the Church.

L'Histoire Ecclesiastique, the Church History. La Discipline Ecclesiastique, the Church Discipline.

Ecclesiastique, (a masc. Subst.) a Church-man, a Clergy-man.

Ecclesiastique, Livre Apocryphe du Vieux Testament, Ecclesiasticus, the Apocryphal Book so called.

Ecervelé, cd. fou, etourdi, hair-brained, cock-brained.

Ecervelé, (a masc. Subst.) a hair-brained Youth.

Ecervelée (a fem. Subst.) a hair-brained Maid, or Woman.

Echafaud, or Echafaut, (m.) a Scaffold.

Faire un Echafaud, to make a Scaffold.

Mourir sur un Echafaud, to die upon a Scaffold.

Echafaudé, made into Scaffolds; made a gazing Stock, Heb. 10. 33.

Echafauder, (Terme de Maçon) to build Scaffolds.

Echallas, (m.) morceau de bois qui sert à soutenir les Ceps des Vignes, prop, a Vine-prop.

Echalassé, propped.

Echalasser, to prop.

As, echalasser une Vigne, y ficher des Echallas, to prop a Vine.

Echalote, (f.) espece de petit Oignon, Shalot.

Les Echalotes sont bonnes pour reveiller l'appetit, Shalots are good to stir up the appetite.

Echancré, hollowed, cut (or made) hollow.

Echancrer, couper en maniere d'arc, to hollow, to cut (or make) hollow.

As, echancrer une Coiffe, to cut a Coif hollow.

Echancrure, (f.) a hollow Cut.

Echange, (m.) exchange, chopping, or bartering of one thing for another.

Faire un échange, to make an exchange.

Or thus. En échange des faveurs que vous m'avez faites, in requital of the favours I received from you.

Echangé, exchanged, chopped, bartered.

Echanger, faire un échange, to exchange, chop, or barter.

Echanfon, (m.) a Cup-bearer.

Faire l'Office d'Echanfon, to do a Cup bearers Office.

Ganimede étoit l'Echanfon de Jupiter, Ganimedes was Jupiter's Cup-bearer.

Echanfonnerie, (f.) the Wine-Office in the Kings Household.

Echantillon, (m.) a pattern.

Couper un échantillon, to cut a pattern.

Tailleur, ne manquez pas de m'apporter des échantillons, Taylor, fail not to bring me some patterns.

†Echapatoire, (f.) an evasion, a shift, excuse, or subterfuge.

Chercher des echapatoires, to seek evasions.

Echapé, escaped, gone away, that has made his escape.

Un Echapé, en Termes de Manege. C'est un Cheval engendré d'un Etalon & d'une Cavale qui sont de différente Race, & de divers Pais.

Echaper, to escape, to get away, to make his escape.

Echaper un grand danger, or echaper d'un grand danger, to escape a great danger.

Echaper aux Enemis, to get away from the Enemy, to make his escape.

J'echaperai comme je pourrai, I shall make my escape (or get away) as well as I can.

Il l'a echapé belle, he escaped it very narrowly.

Or thus. As, laisser echaper une Occasion, to let slip an Opportunity. Il ne laisse rien echaper, he omits nothing, he takes notice of every thing.

Laisser echaper un Cheval (le faire echaper) de la main, cd. le pousser à toute bride, ou le faire partir de la main, to give a Horse the head.

Rien n'echape à sa prevoyance, he oversees nothing, there's nothing can escape his foresight. Je recueille les moindres billets qui echapent de vos mains, I take up the least papers that slip out of your hands.

Il lui echape quelquefois de dire la Verité, he makes bold sometimes to speak the truth, he ventures sometimes upon speaking the truth.

S'echaper, se donner trop de liberté, to take too much liberty.

Il s'est echapé jusques là que de lui couvrir la joue, he took the liberty (he was so bold as) to give him a box on the ear.

S'echaper en des Paroles deshonnêtes, to let slip some unbandson Words.

S'echaper de la Prison, to break Prison,

to get

get out of Prison, to make his escape out of it.

†Echarde, (f.) a splint, or splinter.

Or thus. As 2 Cor. 7. il m'a été mis une echarde en la chair, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh.

Echarpe, (f.) a Scarf.

Une belle Echarpe, a fine Scarf. Echarpe d'Officier, an Officers Scarf. Elle est en echarpe, she wears a scarf, she hath her scarf on.

Avoir le bras en echarpe, to have his arm wrapped up in a scarf.

Or thus. † Il a l'esprit en echarpe, ed. il est un peu fott, he is a little maggot-headed.

Echarpe, pour le Sein d'une Dame, a bosom piece of Silk.

Echarpes, ou Cordages dont on se sert pour retenir & attacher les Engins quand on veut lever des Fardeaux, the Ropes which strengthen and settle the Jambes or Cheeks of Cranes, or the like Engines.

†Echars, niggardly, miserably, close-fisted, strait-banded.

Vent echars, (en termes de Marine) a shifting Wind, a Wind little favourable.

†Echarfement, niggardly, miserably.

Echarfer, Terme de Marine. As, le Vent echarfé, ed. est foible, inconstant, & peu favorable, this is a shifting (an uncertain) Wind.

†Echarfeté, (f.) niggardliness; miserable humour.

Echaffes, (f.) stilts.

Marcher sur des echaffes, to go upon stilts.

Echaudé, scalded.

Chat echaudé craint l'eau froide, (Prov.) a scalded Cat dreads even cold water.

Cochon de lait echaudé, ed. pelé avec de l'eau chaude, a scalded Pig.

Un Pot Echaudé, ed. nettoyé avec de l'eau chaude, a scalded Pot.

Echaudé, (a masc. Subst.) a kind of Wig, or Sammel.

Echauder, to scald.

As, il m'a echaudé le pié, he has scalded my foot.

Echauder un Cochon de lait, to scald a Pig.

Echauder un Pot, to scald a Pot.

Echaudoir, (m.) Lieu où les Bouchers tuent les Beufs, les Moutons, & les Veaux, a Slaughter-house.

Echauffon, (f.) Mal qui vient de ce qu'on s'est trop echauffé, a Disease that comes of immoderate heat, an over-heating of ones self.

Echauffé, warmed, heated; animated, stirred up, or inflamed.

Echauffé de Zele, ardent (or burning) with Zeal.

Echauffé, par trop d'étude, ou d'application, that hath over-heated his brains, whose brains are over-heated.

Or thus. Echauffé de la debauché, hot with hard drinking.

Echauffer, to warm, to heat; to animate, stir up, or inflame.

Le Soleil echauffe la Terre, the Sun warms the Earth.

Echauffer un Discours, to animate (or give life to) a Discourse. Echauffer le Zele de quécun, to stir up (or animate) ones Zeal.

Or thus. As, Ps. 51. 5. Voila, j'ai été formé en iniquité, & ma Mere m'a echauffé en peché, behold, I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me.

S'echauffer, to over-heat ones self; to grow hot, or brisk in discourse, &c; to grow hot, or angry, to fret, chafe, or fume.

As, il s'est echauffé à marcher, & moi à force de boire, he has over-heated himself with walking, and I with drinking.

Des qu'il a bu quatre ou cinq verres de vin il s'echauffe, & alors il n'y a pas de Conversation plus agreable que la sienne, as soon as he has drunk four or five glasses of wine, he grows brisk, and then he is the best Company in the World.

A ces paroles le bon homme s'echauffa, & la couleur en même tems lui monta au visage, upon those words the good man grew hot, and then the colour flew up into his face.

Or thus. As, s'echauffer par trop d'étude, ou d'application, to heat his brains.

Les Brigues s'echauffent, the Parties grow hot upon the Election.

Laissons cette Matière, qui s'echauffe un peu trop, let us leave that Subject, which is carried on with too much heat.

†Echauguette, (f.) a Watch-tower.

Eche, (f.) Terme de Pêcheurs d'autour de Paris, pour dire amorce, a bait.

Echec, (m.) piece du Jeu des Echecs, check.

Echec & mat, check-mate.

Le Jeu d'Echecs, Chess. Jouer aux echecs, to play at chess.

Or thus. As, tenir quécun en echec, to keep one in aw.

Echec, ou malheur, a check, blow, or misfortune.

As, il a receu un grand echec, he hath had a great check, or blow.

Echelle, (f.) a Ladder; a Scale.

Monter au haut d'une echelle, to go up to the top of a ladder. Echelles de Siege, Scaling Ladders.

L'Echelle d'une Carte, the Scale of a Map.

Echelle is also a Levantine Word, to express a Port, or place of Trade.

As, Smyrne & Alexandrie sont les deux plus fameuses Echelles du Levant, Smyrna and Alexandria are the two most famous Sea Ports in the Levant.

†Echelle de Rubans, a row of Ribbons before a Ladies breast.

Il faut tirer l'echelle après cela, ed. on ne peut rien davantage, nothing can be better.

Echelon, (m.) step, a ladder-step.

Il y aura deux tenons en chaque ais, en façon d'echelons l'un après l'autre, (Ex. 26. 17.) two tenons shall there be in one board set in order one against another.

Echenillé, rid from Caterpillars.

Echeniller, oter les Chenilles des Arbres, to rid of Caterpillars.

As, echeniller un Arbre, to rid a Tree of Caterpillars.

Echeoir, } See { Echeoir.

Echeu } See { Echu.

Echeveau, (m.) a skain.

As, un echeveau de fil, a skain of thread.

Echevelé, dishevelled, whose hair falls loose about ones ears.

Elle étoit toute echevelée, she was all dishevelled.

Elle accourt l'œil en feu, la tête echevelée, she run with her fiery eyes, and her head disheveled.

Echevin, (m.) un de ceux qui ont soin de la Police d'une Ville, a kind of Magistrate, something like an English Sheriff.

Echevinage, (m.) the Time that one hath been an Echevin.

Echine, (f.) chine; back.

Croté jusqu'à l'echine, dirty all over.

†Echiné, (from Echine) whose back is broke, broken-backed.

Echinée, (a fem. Subst.) a chine.

As, une echinée de porc, a chine of pork.

†Echiner quécun, to break ones back.

Echiqueté, (Terme de Blason) ed. rangé en maniere d'Echiquier, checkey.

Echiquier, (from Echec) m. a Chess-board; Exchequer, a Court of Judicature in Normandy, settled by Lewis the Twelfth.

Or thus. As, Planter les Arbres en echiquier, to plant Trees checker-wise.

Echo, (m.) Son redoublé, an echo, or redoubled sound; a kind of French Poetry.

L'Echo repete les dernieres syllabes, an echo repeats the last syllables.

Echoir, to expire, or be out; to befall, happen, or fall out.

Le terme du Payement echerra bien tôt, the time for Payment will soon expire.

Selon qu'il echet, (1 Cor. 14. 15.) as it may fall out, it may chance, or it may be.

Or thus. As, Luke 1. 9. le Sort lui echet d'offrir le Parfum, his Lot was to burn Incense.

Echole. See Ecole.

Echope, (f.) a Scall, or little Shop olapt against a House; a graving Tool for Aqua fortis.

Echoué, run aground, or against a Rock.

Echouer, to run aground, or against a Rock.

As, notre Navire echoua sur la Côte, our Ship ran on Shore.

La Tempête nous fit echouer contre ce Rocher, the Storm made us run against that Rock.

Or thus. Il echoué dans tous ses Desseins, he is baffled (or disappointed) in all his Undertakings.

Echu, (from Echoir) expired.

As, le Terme est echu, the Time is expired.

Or thus. Cela lui est echu par sort, that fell to him by lot.

Si quécun Heritage m'étoit echu, if any Estate had fallen to me.

La Contrée des Enfants de Dan étoit echute trop petite, (Jos. 19. 47.) the Coast of the Children of Dan went out too little for them.

Eclabouffé, dashed.

Eclabouffer, faire rejaillir de l'eau ou autre chose sur quécun, to dash.

Ne me suivez pas de si près, vous m'eclabouffez, do not follow me so close, you dash me.

Eclabouffure, (f.) the water one is dashed with.

Eclair, (m.) a lightning.

Je tremble quand je voi ces furieux eclairs, I tremble when I see such dreadful lightnings.

Il est prompt comme un Eclair, he is as swift as Lightning.

Or thus. As, il fait des eclairs, it lightens.

Il se fait quécunefois des eclairs sans tonnerre, it lightens sometimes without thunder.

Eclairci, cleared, or made clear; clarified, or made clear; cleared, or thinned; cleared, made out, or explained; informed, or instructed.

Eclaircir, to clear, or make clear; to clarify, or make clear; to clear, or thin; to clear, make out, or explain; to inform, instruct, or give information.

Eclaircir la vue, to clear the sight. Le Soleil a éclairci le brouillard, the Sun has cleared (or scattered) the mist.

Eclaircir du Vin, de l'eau, ou quécun autre liqueur, to clarify wine, water, or other liquors.

Eclaircir les Rangs d'une Armée, to clear the Ranks of an Army. Le Canon éclaircira les premiers Rangs, the Cannon shall clear the first Rangs. La Peste a bien éclairci cette Ville, the Plague has thinned this Town, has made it thin of people.

Eclaircir un Doute, to clear a Doubt. Eclaircir quécun d'une chose, to make out a thing to one, to make it clear to him.

Je l'ai éclairci là dessus, I have fully informed him about it.

Eclaircissement, (m.) a clearing, or making clear; light, or insight.

As, l'éclaircissement de la Vue, the clearing of the Sight. L'éclaircissement d'une Difficulté, the clearing of a difficult Point.

Donner de grands éclaircissements à quécun pour une Affaire, to give one a great insight into a Business.

Or thus. As, Je veux avoir un éclaircissement avec lui, ed. je veux parler & m'expliquer avec lui, I will have a clear conference with him.

Un homme à éclaircissement, un tireur d'éclaircissement, a quarrelsome man, a man all for fighting.

Eclair, (f.) la grande eclaire, sorte de Plante sauvage, the herb celandine, swallow-wort, or tetter-wort.

La petite eclaire, little celandine, pilewort, or figwort.

Eclairé, lighted; watched, or observed; lighted, or full of light; enlightened; knowing, that has a particular insight into (or knowledge of) things.

Je fus éclairé par un de ses Gentilshommes, I was lighted by one of his Gentlemen.

Il est bien éclairé, ed. observé, he is well watched, or observed.

Eclairé, (illuminé) par le S. Esprit, enlightened (illuminated) by the Holy Ghost.

Un Batiment bien éclairé a very lightsome Building.

C'est un Homme fort éclairé, qui a de grandes grandes lumieres, he is a Man of great insight into things, he is a very knowing Man.

 Or thus. Nous etions eclairez par la Lune, we had the Moon-shine.
 Eclairer, to light; to shine, or give light to; to lighten; to watch, observe, or have an eye upon; to enlighten.
 Eclairez moi jusqu'à la porte, light me to the door, light me as far as the door.
 Le Soleil eclaire le Monde, the Sun gives light to all the World. Le Soleil eclaire rarement cet endroit de la Maison, the Sun doth seldom shine in this part of the House.
 La pleine Lune eclaire durant toute la nuit, the full Moon shines all night long.
 Il eclaire fort, it lightens very much. Il a eclaire toute la nuit, it has lightened all night long.
 Il n'a qu'à se bien conduire, car on l'eclaire fort, he needs carry himself well, for there are those who watch his actions narrowly, that have a strict eye upon him.
 Seigneur, eclaire mon Esprit, Lord, enlighten my Mind.
 Eclanche, (f.) a Leg.
 As, une Eclanche de mouton, a Leg of mutton.
 Some say un Gigot de mouton, but Eclanche is the Word most in use.
 Une Eclanche bien tendre & succulente, a Leg very tender and full of gravy.
 Eclat, (m.) a clap, or crack, a sudden and violent noise; a noise, or clamour; a luster, brightness, splendour, clearness.
 Un eclat de tonnerre, a thunder-clap. Il a fait un furieux eclat de tonnerre, there has been a dreadful thunder-clap.
 Elle va reveler ce Secret, sans considerer l'eclat qu'elle va faire, she is about to reveal that Secret, and does not consider the noise (or clamour) it will cause. Cela fait un grand eclat dans le Monde, that makes a great noise in the World.
 Eclat de pierres precieuses, the luster (brightness, or splendour) of precious stones.
 L'eclat des yeux, the brightness of the eyes.
 L'eclat du teint, the clearness of the skin.
 L'eclat de la Vertu, the beauty (splendour, or brightness) of Virtue. Cette Action donnera de l'eclat à votre Reputation, this Action will give a luster to your Fame.
 Or thus. As, un eclat de bois, a splinter of wood crackt off on a sudden. Un eclat de pierre, a piece of stone flown off.
 Eclat de rire, a breaking out into laughter. Ils font de continuel eclat de rire, they constantly break out into laughter.
 L'eclat des Habits, the glory of Cloaths.
 La Voix de l'Eternel jette des eclats de flamme de feu, (Ps. 29. 7.) the Voice of the Lord divides the flames of fire.
 Eclatant, shining, sparkling, glittering; splendid; great, transcendent, singular, notable, signal.
 Un Habit eclatant en pierres, a Sute of cloaths glittering with precious stones.
 Un Equipage eclatant, a splendid Equipage.
 Un bruit eclatant, a great (or extraordinary) noise.
 Un Merite eclatant, a transcendent (or singular) Merit.
 Donner des Marques eclatantes de sa Reconnaissance, to give singular Marks of his Gratitude.
 Eclater, to break out; to exclaim, or cry out; to shine, sparkle, or glister.
 As, eclater de rire, to break out into laughter.
 Eclater (s'emporter de colere) contre l'Injustice, to exclaim (or cry out) against Injustice.
 Tout y eclate & d'or & de pierres, all things there glitter with gold and precious stones.
 Tant de Vertus qui eclatent eminemment dans votre personne, so many Virtues that eminently shine in your person.
 Or thus. Cette Verité eclate si fort, this is so apparent a Truth.
 Sa haine a en fin eclaté, his hatred has at last burst forth.
 Faire eclater son amour, to discover his love.
 Elle fit d'abord eclater sa passion impudique, she presently discovered (or made appear) her unchast affection. Faire eclater les ressentimens, to show his resentments.

Eclésiaste } See Ecclesiaste.
 Ecclesiastique } Ecclesiastique.
 Eclipse, (f.) an Eclipse.
 Une Eclipse de Soleil, ou de Lune, an Eclipse of the Sun, or Moon.
 Il y aura deux Eclipses cette année, there will be two Eclipses this year.
 L'Eclipse de Soleil se fait par l'opposition de la Lune entre le Soleil & la Terre; & celle de la Lune arrive, lors que la Terre se trouve entre le Soleil & la Lune, an Eclipse of the Sun is caused by the interposition of the Moon betwixt the Sun and the Earth; and that of the Moon happens, when the Earth interposes betwixt the Sun and the Moon.
 This Word is also used in both Languages, in a figurative sense.
 As, durant la malheure Eclipse de cette Monarchie, during the unhappy Eclipse of this Monarchy.
 Eclipsé, eclipsed.
 Eclipser, to be eclipsed.
 La Lune fait eclipser le Soleil, the Moon causes the Sun to be eclipsed.
 Or thus. Vous avez fait eclipser ce Larron, you helped that Thief to make his escape.
 S'eclipser, to be eclipsed, to be in an eclipse; to vanish away, or to go out of sight.
 Le Soleil s'eclipsera, the Sun will be eclipsed, there will be an eclipse of the Sun, the Sun will be in an eclipse.
 Il s'est eclipsé, he is vanished away. Toutes ces belles qualitez se sont eclipsées, all those fine qualifications are eclipsed, or come to nothing.
 Ecliptique, (f.) the Ecliptick.
 L'Ecliptique est un Cercle qui passe par le milieu du Zodiaque, & qui represente le Chemin par où le Soleil fait son Cours annuel, the Ecliptick is a Circle (or Line) which goes through the midst of the Zodiack, and shows the yearly Course of the Sun.
 Eclisse, (f.) a Cheese-fat; the wooden part of a Childs Drum; the side of a Lute.
 Eclorre, to be hatched.
 As, des Poulets qui commencent à eclorre, Chickens that begin to be hatched.
 Faire eclorre, to bring forth. As, faire eclorre des Vers à soie, to bring forth silk-worms.
 La Terre en la voyant fit mille fleurs eclorre, as soon as the Earth saw her she brought forth abundance of flowers.
 Eclos, hatched.
 Les Oiseaux sont eclos, the Birds are hatched.
 Or thus. As, mille fleurs fraichement ecloses couvroient la neige de son Sein, a thousand flowers newly sprung up covered her alabaster Breast.
 Ecluse, (f.) a Sluce; a Mill-dam.
 Ouvrir, ou fermer l'Ecluse, to open, or to shut the Sluce.
 Eco. See Echo.
 Ecofroi, (m.) sorte de Table où le Maître Cordonnier coupe la Besongne à ses Compagnons, a Shoemakers Cutting-board.
 Ecole, (f.) a School.
 Tenir ecole, to keep a school. Envoyer à l'ecole, to send to school. Aller à l'ecole, to go to school. Venir de l'ecole, to come from school.
 Une Ecole de Medecine, de Droit Canon, de Theologie, a School of Physick, Canon-Law, or Divinity.
 Ecole, ou petite Ecole, où l'on apprend à lire & à écrire à de petits Enfans, a School, or little school, such as are those where Children learn only to read and write.
 Un Maître d'Ecole, a School-master. Une Maitresse d'Ecole, a School-dame. Un Compagnon d'Ecole, a School-fellow.
 † Faire l'ecole buissonniere, s'absenter de l'ecole pour jouer, to play the Truant, to leave the school to play.
 Ecole is also used in a figurative sense.
 As, il a appris cela dans l'Ecole de la Pauvreté, he hath learned that in the school of Poverty.
 La Cour fut pour lui une Ecole de Sageffe & de Vertu, the Court was to him a School of Wisdom and Virtue.
 Or thus. Envoyer quécun à l'Ecole, (en Termes de Triquetrac) le reprendre d'une faute, & la conter à son profit, to get an advantage by his fellow-players overseeing of a fault, to come upon him with a why not.

 Ecolier, (m.) a Scholar, or School-boy.
 Un bon Ecolier, a good Scholar, a Boy that learns apace.
 Ecoliere, (f.) a Scholar, a see Scholar.
 C'est une jolie Ecoliere, she is a pretty Scholar.
 Econduire, to deny, refuse, shift off, or reject.
 Ne pensez pas m'econduire, don't think to deny me, or to shift me off.
 Et le Roi étant tres marri ne voulut pas toutefois l'econduire, (Mark 6. 26.) and the King being exceeding sorry would not however reject her.
 Econduit, denied, refused, shifted off, rejected.
 Se envoyant econduit & moqué, il ne garda plus de mesure, seeing himself denied and baffled, he kept no measures.
 Economat, (m.) Oeconomy, or Stewardship.
 Econome, (m. & f.) a Ruler of a Family, a Man or Woman that hath the Government or Rule of a Family.
 Economie, (f.) Oeconomy, or Government of a Family; Oeconomy, or Dispensation; oeconomy, or constitution.
 Avoir de l'Economie, entendre l'Economie, to have skill in Oeconomy, to be a thrifty (frugal, saving, or sparing) Man.
 L'Economie de la Loi, the Dispensation of the Law.
 L'Economie du Corps, the Oeconomy of the Body.
 Le dereglement des humeurs trouble l'Economie du Corps, the disturbance of the humours troubles the whole Oeconomy of the Body.
 Economique, economical.
 As, Prudence economique, economical Prudence.
 Ecope, (f.) Pèle de Batelier, a Scoop.
 Ecorce, (f.) the rind, or bark of a Tree; the pill, or outward skin of some fruits; the outside of things.
 Une grosse ecorce, a thick rind, or bark.
 Ecorce d'orange, ou de citron, orange, or lemon pill.
 Il ne s'arrête qu'à l'ecorce, he minds but the outside.
 † Mettre son doigt entre l'arbre & l'ecorce, se mêler mal à propos des Differens qui naissent entre gens qui sont proches, to meddle foolishly with the Differences (or Unkindnesses) that are betwixt near Friends.
 Ecorché, flea'd; galled; exacted upon, scor'd too hard in the reckoning.
 Avoir la peau toute ecorchée, to have all the skin off.
 † Un Mot ecorché du Latin, a Word cramp't out of the Latin.
 Ecorcher, to flea; to gall; to exact upon people.
 As, ecorcher un Chat, to flea a Cat.
 Selle de Cheval propre à ecorcher le derrière, a Saddle fit to gall ones back-side.
 † C'est dans ce Logis qu'on ecorche les gens, there it is they grievously exact upon people, that is a right Cut-throat Place.
 Or thus. † Il ecorche un peu le Latin, he speaks broken Latin, he speaks it a little, he has a little smattering of it. Ecorcher les Auteurs, to understand Authors very little, or to translate them ill.
 † Votre cœur crie avant qu'on l'ecorche, ed. avant qu'on lui fasse mal, you are more afraid than hurt.
 Ecorcher le Renard. See Renard.
 S'ecorcher, to get (or tear) the skin off.
 Je me suis ecorché le doigt, I tore the skin off of my finger.
 S'ecorcher les fesses à Cheval, to lose leather in riding, to be galled on horseback.
 Ecorcherie, (f.) a fleaing House, the Place wherein slaughtered Beasts are usually flea'd; a Cut-throat place.
 Ecorcheur, (m.) a Fleaer; a great Exacter, an unreasonable Man.
 Ecorchure, (f.) a place where the skin is off.
 Ecore, (f.) a Precipice by the Sea-side, a very steep shore.
 Cote en ecore, ed. escarpée, ou taillée en precipice & à plomb, a steep Coast.
 Ecorné, deprived of its horns, that hath lost its horns.

Ecorner,

Ecorder, to break the horns off.
As, ecorder un Beuf, to break an Ox's horns.

†Ecornifler, to sponge.
Ecornifler un dîné, un souper, to get a dinner, or supper, by sponging.

†Ecornifleur, (m.) Ecornifleuse, (f.) a Spurger.

Ecoffe, (f.) shell, the shell of pease, beans, and the like.

Ecoffe tendre, ou dure, a soft, or a hard shell.

Ecoffé, shelled.
As, des pois ecoffez, des fèves ecoffées, pease, or beans shelled.

Ecoffer, to shell.
As, ecoffer des pois, ou des fèves, to shell pease, or beans.

Ecot, (m.) Reckoning; ones club, or share of the Reckoning.

L'Ecot est gros, there is a great Reckoning.

Payer son ecot, to pay his reckoning; to pay his club, or share of the Reckoning.

Ecotards, Terme de Mer. See Porte-haubans.

†Ecoué, qui a la queue coupée, curtailed, whose tail is cut.

†Ecouir, to beat out.
As, Ruth. 2. 17. Elle ecouit ce qu'elle avoit recueilli, she beat out what she had gleaned.

Ecoulé, drained, or dry'd up; spent, or gone.

Un Etang ecoulé, a drained Pond.

Notre Vie est eculée, avant que nous ayons fait reflexion sur la Mort, our Life is spent (or gone) before we think of Death.

Or thus. As, Ps. 29. 15. Je suis eculé comme l'Eau, I am poured out like Water.

Ecoulement, (m.) a draining.

As, l'écoulement d'un Etang, the draining of a Pond.

Ecouler. As, faire couler l'eau, to make a passage for the Water.

Or thus. As, 2 Sam. 5. 20. l'Eternel a fait couler mes Enemis, comme s'écouleroit un Debordement d'Eaux, the Lord has broken forth upon mine Enemies, as the breach of Waters.

S'écouler, to go away by degrees; to convey himself (to steal, or slip) away; to melt, Judg. 5. 5; to melt away, 1 Sam. 14. 16; to fade away, Ps. 18. 46.

L'Eau s'écoule peu à peu, the Water goes away by degrees.

Le Temps s'écoule insensiblement, Time slips away insensibly.

Or thus. As, les Torrens s'écoulent en peu de jours, Torrents dry up in a few days.

Je disois lors que je me suis laissé couler, Tout homme est menteur, (Ps. 116. 11.) I said in my haste, All men are Liars.

†Ecougée, (f.) a Whip, a Scourge.

Ecourté, cropped.

Cheval ecourté, a Crop.

Ecourter, to crop.

As, ecourter un Cheval, couper quelques extremités comme de la Queue & de ses Oreilles, to crop a Horse.

†Ecoutant, Witness.

As, Judg. 12. 10. Que l'Eternel soit Ecoutant entre nous, the Lord be Witness between us.

Ecouté, heard.

Croyez vous qu'il soit écouté? do you think he will be heard?

Un Pas écouté, en Termes de Manege. C'est à dire un Pas d'Ecole, comme lors qu'un Cheval écoute les Talons, & qu'il demeure balancé entre les Talons, sans se jeter sur l'un ni sur l'autre. Ce qui arrive, quand le Cheval prend finement les aides de la Main & du Talon.

Ecouter, to hear, or give ear to, to hearken, or listen.

Ecouter patiemment quécun, to hear one patiently. Je vous prie de m'écouter, I pray you to hear me. Je ne veux écouter ni vos Plaintes, ni vos Prières, I will give ear neither to your Complaints nor Prayers.

Ecoutez un peu ce que cet homme là dit, hearken a little to what that man says.

S'écouter, s'écouter parler, to speak distinctly; also, to pride himself in his Oratory.

Ecoutes. As, être aux écoutes, to hearken, to listen privately, to eave-drop.

†Ecouteur, (m.) Heaver, as Jam. 1. 25.

Ecouteux. As, un Cheval ecouteux, cd. retenu, qui saute au lieu d'aller en avant, qui ne part pas de la main franchement, & ne s'emploie pas comme il pourroit, a skittish Horse.

Ecoutille, (f.) Ouverture dans le Tillac, faite comme une Trape, pour descendre sous le Pont, the Scuttles, or Hatches of a Ship.

Ecouillon, (m.) ce avec quoi on nettoie le Four après que la braie en est ôtée, a Drag, to sweep an Oven with.

Ecouillonné, cleansed (or swept) with a Drag.

Ecouillonner le Four, to cleanse (or sweep) the Oven with a Drag.

Ecran, (m.) a Screen, to keep off the heat of the fire.

Un bel Ecran, a fine Screen.

Ecraté, crushed in pieces; bruised.

†Ecratement, (m.) a crushing in pieces; a destruction, Prov. 16. 18.

Ecraser, to crush in pieces; to bruise.

La Rouë du Chariot a écraté mon Chien, the Cart-wheel has crushed my Dog in pieces.

Ecraser des Raisins, to bruise Raisins.

Ecremé, fleet, or fleeced.

As, lait ecremé, fleet milk.

Ecremer, to fleet.

As, ecremer du lait, lever la crème de dessus le lait, to take off the cream from the milk.

Ecrevice, or Ecrevisse, (f.) Cray-fish; Cancer, one of the XII. Celestial Signs.

Ecrevisse de Mer, a Lobster.

†Ecrier, to cry out, or make an outcry; to cry out, or exclaim; to cry unto, or to call upon.

Ne manquez pas de vous ecrier comme il faut, be sure to cry out with might and main.

Tout le monde s'ecrie contre ce Mot, all men cry out (or exclaim) against that Word.

Seigneur, je m'ecrie vers toi, Lord, I cry unto thee.

Ecrire, to write, or frame characters; to write, or compose.

As, apprendre à écrire, to learn to write.

Il fait lire & écrire, he can read and write.

Il écrit bien, he writes a good hand. Il écrit mal, he writes a bad hand. Un Maître à écrire, a writing Master.

Ecrire une Lettre à quécun, to write a Letter to one. Ecrire un Livre, to write a Book. Ecrire l'Histoire de son Temps, to write the History of his Time.

Ecrit, writ, written.

Cela est bien écrit, that's well writ.

Roman bien écrit, a Romance well written.

Ecrit, (a masc. Subst.) a Writing; a Paper, or Pamphlet; a Note under ones hand.

Donner par écrit, to give in writing.

Il court un Ecrit qui fait grand bruit, there is a Pamphlet abroad that makes a great noise.

J'ai tiré un Ecrit d'elle, I got a Note under her hand.

Les Ecrits, ou les Ouvrages d'un Auteur, the Works of an Author.

Ecritéau, (m.) a Bill set up, and writ in large Characters; a Superscription, Luk. 23. 38; a Title, John 19. 19; a School-master's Sign, with his Name to it; the Title of a Drawer, amongst Grocers and Apothecaries.

Ecritoire, (f.) an Inkhorn.

Une Ecritoire d'argent, a silver Inkhorn. Ecritoire de poche, a pocket Inkhorn.

Une Ecritoire de Table, a Standish.

Ecriture, (f.) hand, or way of writing.

As, je conoi son écriture, I know his hand.

C'est la son écriture, that's his hand.

Or thus. As, la Sainte Ecriture, the holy Writ, the holy Scripture.

Les Ecritures, (John 7. 15.) the Letters.

Ecritures, ou Ecrits qu'on fait pour un Procès, the Writings about a Law-sute.

Ecrivain, (m.) a writing Master; a writing Scholar; a Writer, or noted Author; a kind of Ship-Officer.

Un bon Ecrivain, a good writing Master.

Il a vingt Ecrivains, he hath twenty writing Scholars, or twenty Scholars that learn of him to write.

Un fameux Ecrivain, a famous Writer, or eminent Author.

Ecroué, (m.) the Hole wherein a vice doth turn; a Jaylers Book, wherein he registers the Names and Surnames of his Prisoners, together with the day, month, and year of their entrance and dismissal; a Roll containing the particulars of the King's household Expence.

Ecroué, entred in the Jaylor's Book.

Ecrouelles, (f.) Corps glanduleux qui s'engendrent souvent d'humeurs acres & melancoliques, the Evil, the King's Evil.

Ecrouer, (from Ecroué) to enter in the Jaylor's Book.

Le Geolier l'a ecroué, the Jaylor hath entred him in his Book.

Ecroulé, shaken, tottered.

Ecrouler, cd. ebranler, to shake, to totter.

As, ecrouler un Mur, to shake a Wall.

Ecrouté, chipped.

Ecrouter, to chip.

As, ecrouter du pain, couper la croute qui est autour d'un Pain, to chip bread.

Ecstase } See { Extase.

Ecstasie } { Extasie.

Etique } { Etique.

Ecu, (m.) a crown, or crown-piece; a kind of Shield, used in former Ages; a coat of Arms.

Ecu blanc, the same as Ecu, a crown-piece.

Demi ecu, half a crown. Quart d'ecu, See Quart.

Ecu Sol, a gold Coyn worth a French crown, and current in the Reign of Henry II. and Charles IX. Demi ecu Sol, a gold Coyn worth half the Ecu fol.

Ecu Soleil, a gold Coyn which in the Reign of King Francis I. was worth 4. livers and 5. sous, that is about six shillings six pence English.

Demi Ecu Soleil, a gold Coyn worth half l'Ecu Soleil.

Ecu d'or, a gold Coyn worth to this day 114. sous, that is about 8. shillings 6. pence sterling. Coyned in the Reign of Lewis XIII.

†Amasser des ecus, to hord up money. Un homme qui a beaucoup d'ecus, a money'd man.

Ecueil, (m.) a Shelf, or Sand in the Sea.

Un dangereux Ecueil, a dangerous Shelf, or Sand.

Or thus, in a figurative sense. La Question du Flux & du Reflux de la Mer est l'Ecueil de la Philosophie, the Question about the Flux and Reflux of the Sea is the stumbling Block of Philosophy.

L'Amour est l'Ecueil des plus grands Coeurs, the greatest Souls are fain to yield to Love.

La Haine & la Flaterie font des Ecueils où la Verité fait naufrage, Hatred and Flattery are the Rocks where Truth often suffers Shipwrack.

Ecuelle, (f.) a porringer.

Manger du potage dans une ecuelle, to eat potage in a porringer.

Ecuellée, (f.) plein l'ecuelle. a porringer full.

Ecuyer } See { Ecuyer.

Ecunie } { Ecunie.

Eculé, trodden down.

As, un Soulier eculé, a Shoe trodden down at the heels.
 Eculer, to tread down at the heels.
 Eculer ses souliers, to tread his shoes down at the heels.
 Seculer, to tread down (in a neutral sense.)
 Ecume, (f.) froth, foam, scum, droß.
 Ecume de biere, the froth of beer.
 Ecume de Cheval, ou de Chien, d'une Mer irritée, ou d'un Homme en colere, the foam of a Horse, or Dog, of an angry Sea, or of a Man in anger.
 L'ecume du pot, the scum of the pot.
 Ecume de metal, the droß of any metal.
 Jetter de l'ecume, to froth, or foam.
 Ecumé, skimmed.
 Ecumenique. See Oecumenique.
 Ecumer, (from Ecume) to skim; to foam; to foam out, Jude 13.
 As, ecumet le pot, to skim the pot.
 La Mer ecume, the Sea foams. Un Cheval, ou Chien qui ecume, a Horse, or Dog that foams.
 Ecumer, pirater, piller & voler sur Mer, to scour the Seas.
 Ecumeur, (m.) Ecumeur de Mer, a Pirate, or Corsair.
 †Ecumeux, frothy, foamy.
 Ecumoire, (f.) Instrument avec quoi l'on ecume, a skimmer.
 Ecuré, scoured, cleansed.
 Ecurer, cd. nettoyer, to scour, to cleanse.
 Ecurer la Vaiselle d'étain, to scour the pewter.
 Ecurer un Puis, to cleanse a Well.
 Ecuréuil, (m.) sorte d'Animal sauvage, a Squirrel.
 Ecurer, (m.) from Ecurer, a Cleanser of Wells, &c.
 Ecurer, Vuidangeur, ou Gadouard, a Tom-turd.
 Ecurie, (f.) Stables.
 L'Ecurie du Roi, the King's Stables.
 †Ecurieu. See Ecuréuil.
 Ecusson, (m.) a Scutcheon, or Coat of Arms; the scutcheon of a Lock; the bud of a Tree, cut off with part of the bark, in form of an ordinary Scutcheon.
 Enter en ecusson, to lodge the foresaid bud in the bark of a Tree, by an Incision made thereinto of the form of a T, or by any other hole apt to receive it, the clefts and breaches thereof being afterwards closed up with wax or clay.
 Ecuyer, (m.) an Esquire, or Gentleman; a riding Master; a Gentleman of the Horse; a Ladies Gentleman Usher.
 Le grand Ecuyer du Roi, the Kings Gentleman of the Horse.
 Un Ecuyer trenchant, a Carver. Ecuyer Bouche, an Officer belonging to the King's Table. Ecuyer de Cuisine, a Clark of the Kitchen.

E D

Edenté, toothless.
 Une Vieille edentée, an old Woman that has no teeth left.
 Edict. See Edit.
 Edictal, qui est de l'Edit, of (or belonging to) an Edict.
 Edification, (f.) edification, or zeal.
 Or thus. J'ai leu ce Chapitre avec beaucoup d'edification, I was very much edify'd by reading of that Chapter.
 Donner de l'edification à son Prochain, to edify his Neighbour.
 Pour l'edification du Corps de Christ, (Eph. 4. 12.) for the edifying of the body of Christ.
 Edifice, (m.) Edifice, Building.
 Elever un Edifice, to raise up a Building.
 Edifié, edify'd; built, or builded. But in this last sense it is grown out of use.
 Je ne suis pas fort edifié de lui, I am not very much edify'd by him.
 Or thus. † Je n'en suis point edifié, cd. je n'en suis point content, I am not at all pleased with it.
 Edifier, to edify; to build. But in this last sense it is grown out of use.

Edifier son Prochain par une bonne Vie, to edify his Neighbour by a good Life.
 Or thus. As † cela ne m'edifie point, cd. ne me plaît (ne me revient) point, that does not please me at all, I am not at all pleased with it.
 Edile, (m.) the Edilis, or Surveyour of Works, amongst the ancient Romans.
 Edit, (m.) an Edict, or Ordinance; a Commandment, Heb. 11. 23; a Decree, Luke 2. 1.
 Faire un Edit, to make an Edict.
 Les Chambres de l'Edit, ou de l'Edit de Nantes, Courts of Judicature formerly established in divers good Towns of France, in the Huguenots behalf, one half of the Judges being Protestants, and the other half Papists.
 Edition, (f.) Edition, Impression.
 As, la premiere, ou seconde Edition d'un Livre, the first, or second Edition of a Book.
 Education, (f.) education.
 Avoir soin de l'education d'un Enfant, to take care of a Child's Education. Lui donner une bonne Education, to give him a good Education.
 N'avoir nulle Education, to have no manner of Education.

E F

Effacé, blotted (razed, put) out; eclipsed, obscured, diminished.
 Or thus. As, un Ecrit tout effacé, où l'on ne voit goutte, a blind Writing.
 Effacer, to blot (raze, or put) out; to eclipse, obscure, or diminish.
 As, effacer une ligne entiere, to blot out a whole line. Je n'effacerai jamais de mon esprit ce bienfait, I shall never put out of my mind (or forget) that kindness.
 Cette Maison efface la beauté de la vôtre, this House eclipses the glory of your own.
 Le Soleil efface les Etoiles, the Sun obscures the brightness of the Stars.
 †Effaceure, (f.) a blot, an erasement.
 Effané, pickt off.
 Effaner (Terme de Jardinier) ôter les feuilles avant le fruit, to pick the leaves off before the fruit.
 Effaré, cd. tout troublé, tout hors de lui même, that hath a wild look with him, bewildered, scared.
 Avoir l'air d'un homme effaré, to have a scared countenance.
 Effarouché, scared, frightened away.
 Effaroucher, to scare, or fright away, to make wild.
 As, effaroucher une bête, to fright away a beast, to scare it, to hinder its being tamed.
 Effaroucher une personne, to fright one away.
 S'effaroucher, to put on an angry countenance.
 Effect. See Eftet.
 Effectif, (from Eftet) effective, real, effectual.
 Il a mille ecus effectifs, he hath a thousand crowns effective. Une Armée de cinquante mille hommes effectifs, an Army of fifty thousand men effective, or an Army fifty thousand men strong.
 Ce Monstre est si parfaitement représenté dans ce Tableau, qu'on diroit qu'il est effectif, that Monster is so exactly drawn, that one would think it to be real.
 Une Vertu effective, an effectual Virtue.
 Effectivement, really, in effect.
 Une Chose effectivement mauvaise, a Thing really bad.
 Effectué, effected, performed, brought to pass.
 Effectuer, to effect, perform, or bring to pass.
 Effectuer ce qu'on a promis, to perform his promise.
 Effeminé, effeminate, softened through Voluptuousness; effeminate, that relishes of an effeminate temper.
 Un Peuple effeminé, an effeminate People.

Discours effeminé, an effeminate Discourse.
 Effeminé, (a masc. Subst.) un petit Effeminé, an effeminate Youth.
 Eftet, (m.) effect, performance, execution; effect, or success.
 J'atten l'effet de ses promesses, I wait for the performance of his promises.
 Votre Conseil a eu bon effet, your Counsel has taken good effect, has had a good success.
 Or thus. As, mettre une chose en effet, to bring a thing to pass, to effect (do, or perform) it.
 Mettre en effet ce que l'on dit, to do as one says, to bring what one says to pass.
 Mettez en effet la Parole, (Jam. 1. 22.) be ye doers of the Word. Mettre en effet la Loi, (John 7. 19.) to keep the Law.
 Des Promesses sans effet, qui n'ont point d'effet, Promises without deed.
 Ces paroles eurent un puissant effet, these words prevailed very much, proved very effectual. Ces Tableaux ainsi rangez faisoient un tres bel effet, those Pictures thus disposed made a very fine sight.
 Cette Fuite fit un tres mauvais effet parmi les Soldats, that flight proved to be of dangerous consequence amongst the Souldiers. Ces choses là font un vilain effet, those Things look very ill.
 J'admire ces Maisons là, elles font un tres bel effet, I admire those Houses, they yield a fine prospect.
 En effet, indeed, and indeed, really, in effect. En effet il n'est rien de meilleur, indeed there's nothing better. Pour cet effet, therefore, to that end, to that purpose.
 Les Effets d'un Marchand, ses Papiers & Biens meubles, the Effects of a Merchant.
 Les Effets de la Main (en Termes de Manège) pour dire les aides, ou les mouvements de la main, the motions of the Hand, in Riding.
 Effeuillé, strip of superfluous leaves.
 Effeuiller, to strip of superfluous leaves.
 Efficace, (Terme de Theologie) efficacious, effectual.
 La Grace efficace, the efficacious (or effectual) Grace.
 Efficace, (a fem. Subst.) efficacy, strength, operation, virtue.
 Or thus. As, Dieu leur envoie efficace d'Erreur, (2 Theß. 2. 11.) God shall send them strong Delusions. Selon l'efficace de la puissance de la force, (Eph. 1. 14.) according to the working (or to the effectual working) of his mighty Prayer.
 La Parole de Dieu est vivante & d'efficace, (Heb. 4. 12.) the Word of God is quick and powerful. Une Porte d'efficace m'est ouverte, (1 Cor. 16. 9.) an effectual Door is opened unto me.
 La Priere du Juste faite avec vehemence est de grande efficace, (Jam. 5. 16.) the effectual fervent Prayer of a righteous Man availeth much.
 L'Esprit qui opere maintenant avec efficace es Enfans de Rebellion, (Eph. 2. 2.) the Spirit that now worketh in the Children of Disobedience.
 Efficacement, avec efficace, efficaciously, effectually, to purpose.
 Efficacité, (f.) Terme Philosophique, virtue, or influence.
 As, l'efficacité des Planetes, the virtue (or the influence) of Planetes.
 Efficient, (Terme de Philosophie) cd. qui produit son Eftet, efficient.
 As, une Cause efficiente, an efficient Cause.
 Effigie, (f.) cd. Image, effigies, likeness, Deur. 4.
 Etre pendu en effigie, to be hanged in effigie. A French Way of hanging such Persons as being adjudged to the Gallows are fled from Justice. Their Picture, though but coarsely drawn, is as formerly hanged as if it were the Original.
 Effilé, ravell'd out.
 † Un Visage effilé, a long and thin Face.
 Un grand Cou effilé, a long and small Neck.

s'Effiler, s'en aller en fils, to ravel out.

As, une Chemise qui s'effile, a Shift that ravel out.

Efflanqué, (Terme qui se dit des Chevaux) back-swanked, lean, thin-flanked, slunk in the flank.

Effleuré, glanced upon, slightly touched.

Effleurier, to glance upon, to touch slightly.

Il n'a fait qu'effleurier la peau, it did but glance upon the skin.

Je ne ferai qu'effleurier ce point, I shall but slightly touch upon this point.

† Effondré, drawn, or bowelled. Say Vuidé.

† Effondrer, to draw, or bowel. Say Vuidé.

s'Efforcer, to indeavour, or to do his indeavour; to be fierce, Luk 23. 5; to break forth, Gal. 4. 27.

Efforcez vous de faire cela, indeavour to do that.

Je me suis efforcé de le faire, I have indeavoured to do it.

Effort, (m.) an indeavour, attempt, or effort.

Faire tous ses efforts, to do all his indeavours, to do his best indeavours.

Je veux faire un effort sur mon amour, I will make an attempt upon my love.

De vains efforts, vain efforts, fruitless indeavours, insignificant attempts.

Or thus. As, il faut faire un effort pour cela, we must strive with might and main, we must do what lies in our power.

Soutenir tout l'effort de la Guerre, to bear the whole brunt of the War.

L'effort de la Guerre se tourna de ce côté là, the whole stress of the War bent that way.

Cheval qui a pris un effort, a foundered Horse.

Effrayant, frightful, fearful, dreadful.

Un sommeil effrayant, a frightful sleep.

Figure effrayante, a frightful shape. Une Nouvelle effrayante, a fearful (or dreadful) News.

Effrayé, frightened, affrighted, scared.

Un homme effrayé est un homme à moitié perdu, a frightened man is but half a man.

Effrayer, (from Effroi) to fright, to scare.

Un Spectre est capable d'effrayer les plus hardis, a Spectrum is able to fright the stoutest men alive.

S'effrayer, to fright himself, to be afraid, frightened, or affrighted.

As, s'effrayer de peu de chose, to fright himself for a small matter, to be afraid of his own shadow.

Effrené, unbridled, unruly; extream.

As, une Licence effrenée, an unbridled Licentiousness.

Une Avarice effrenée, an extream Covetousness, a boundless Avarice.

Effroi, (m.) terreur, consternation, terrible-ness, Deut. 26. 8; vexation, Deut. 28. 20.

Porter l'effroi par tout, to strike a Terror every where.

Repandre l'effroi dans tout un País, to cause a general Consternation.

Or thus. As, Ps. 10. 18. afin que l'homme mortel ne donne plus d'effroi, that the man of the Earth may no more oppress.

Tu feras en effroi nuit & jour, (Deut. 28. 66.) thou shalt fear day and night.

Effronté, brazen-faced, over-bold, impudent, saucy.

Il est effronté comme un Page de Cour, he is as brazen-faced as a Court-Page.

Une Fille effrontée, a brazen-faced Woman.

Effronté, (a masc. Subst.) a brazen-faced Youth.

Une Effrontée, a brazen-faced Wench.

Effrontement, with a brazen face, impudently, saucily.

Parler effrontément, to speak saucily.

Effronterie, (f.) brazen-face, impudence, sauciness.

Avoir de l'effronterie, to be saucy, impudent, or brazen-faced.

Effroyable, (from Effroi) fearful, dreadful, terrible, hideous; prodigious, extraordinary.

Un Monstre effroyable, a fearful Monster. C'est une Chose effroyable, 'tis a dreadful Thing.

Il a une Memoire effroyable, he hath a prodigious Memory.

Or thus. Il fait une effroyable depense, he spends horribly.

Effroyablement, horribly.

As, Il depense effroyablement, he spends horribly.

Or thus. Elle est effroyablement laide, she is fearful ugly.

Effusion, (f.) effusion, or flooding; an overflowing.

Effusion de Sang, effusion of blood, or bloodshed. Sans aucune effusion de sang, without any effusion of blood, without any bloodshed.

Effusion (epanchement) de bile, an overflowing of the gall.

Or thus. As, une effusion de cœur, a free-hearted love.

Une riche effusion de Couleurs que le Soleil verse en se retirant, a rich dispersion of Colours which the Sun makes at his retreat.

Egaie } See } Egayer.

Egaier } See } Egayer.

Egal, equal, even, like, alike.

Prenez garde que ces deux choses soient egales, see that these two things be even.

La Mort rend toutes choses egales, Death makes all even.

Faire un partage egal, to make an equal division, to part (or share) equally. Par egales portions, by equal portions.

Nous naissons tous egaux, we are all born alike. Mon Frere & moi sommes egaux en quelque chose, mais en d'autres je le surpasse, my Brother and I are alike in some things, but in other things I go far beyond him.

Un homme toujours egal, a man of an even temper. Humeur egale, an even temper.

A l'egal, in comparison. Ce n'est rien à l'egal de cela, that's nothing in comparison to that.

Egalé, (from Egaier) equalled, matched, made even.

Egalement, alike, equally.

Partager egatement, to share alike. Boire egatement, to drink alike.

Nous sommes tous egatement fous, we are all fools alike.

Egaler, to equal, match, or make even; to be equal, or alike.

Egalez ces deux choses, make these two things even. Qui pourroit egaler la Vertu d'Alexandre? who can equal (or match) Alexander's Virtue?

S'egaler à quécun, to equal himself to one.

Egalité, (f.) equality, likeness, or proportion; equality of condition, &c; evenness of temper.

Il y a de l'egalité entre eux, there is some likeness between them.

J'admire l'egalité de votre Esprit, I admire the evenness of your Temper.

Or thus. Garder de l'egalité entre les Personnes, to keep a due decorum amongst Persons.

Egard, (m.) regard, consideration, respect.

Avoir egard à quelque chose, to have a regard to something. Sans avoir egard à personne, without respect to any body.

Dieu n'a point d'egard à l'apparence des personnes, God hath no respect of persons.

Avoir de grands egards pour les gens de merite, to have a great respect for deserving persons.

Or thus. Ayez egard à votre honneur, mind (regard) your honour. N'avoir egard qu'à son profit, to mind nothing but his profit.

Avoir egard à toutes les Circonstances d'une Chose, to mind (observe, or consider) all the Circumstances of a Thing.

A mon egard, for my sake, upon my account.

Ne faites point cela à mon egard, do not do that for my sake, or upon my account.

On doit être honnête à son egard, & à l'égard des autres, a man ought to be honest to himself, and to others.

Eu egard, considering. Eu egard au Temps où nous sommes, considering the Times wherein we live.

Egaré, stray'd, wandering out of the way; wandering, or unsettled.

Une Brebis egarée, a stray'd Sheep.

J'ai été long tems egaré, sans me pouvoir remettre dans mon Chemin, I wandred a long time about, before I could find my Way again.

Dés Yeux egarez, wandering Eyes; wild looks.

Il a l'Esprit tout egaré, his Mind is wandering, unsettled, or goes a wool-gathering, he hath a worm in his head.

Egarement, (m.) a straying, wandering, or going astray; ill conduct; erreur.

L'egarement d'une Brebis, a Sheep's wandering, or going astray.

L'egarement de son Fils le chagrina, the ill conduct of his Son troubled him.

Il est dans un étrange egarement, he is in a strange error; he is strangely out of the way.

Egarer, to put out of the way.

Si vous m'egarez, malheur vous en arrivera, if you put me out of the way, wo be to you.

Egarer sa Venie sur toute sorte d'Objets, to make his Sight wander upon all manner of Objects.

S'egarer, to go out of his way, to lose his way; to grow foolish; to be in an error.

Je me suis egaré dans le Bois, I lost my Way in the Wood.

Son Esprit commence un peu à s'egarer, he begins to grow a little foolish.

Il s'egare malheureusement, he runs himself unhappily into great Errors.

Egarotté. As, un Cheval egarotté, cd. qui a une blessure au Garot. See Garot.

Egayé, quickened, or made brisk.

Egayer, to quicken, or make brisk.

As, egayer l'esprit, to quicken the mind.

Egayer un Discours, to quicken a Discourse.

Or thus, in a burlesk sense. † Il est allé egayer son humanité, cd. il s'est allé divertir, he is gone out to be merry, or to make much of himself.

S'egayer, to make himself brisk, to grow brisk.

Il s'egaye à faire des Vers, he grows brisk with making of Verses.

Or thus. Les Medecins s'egayent sur notre Corps, the Physicians sport themselves with our Bodies.

En vous egayant, (1 Pet. 4. 13.) with exceeding Joy.

Eglantier, (m.) Ronce qui porte le Grate- cu, the Eglantine-florib, or Sweet-brier.

Le grand Eglantier, the Hep-tree.

Eglise, (f.) Church, the Church of God; a Church, or Nation following the same Worship; a Church, or Building for publick Devotion.

L'Eglise Catholique, ou Universelle, the Catholick, or Universal Church.

L'Eglise Judaïque & l'Eglise Chretienne, the Jewish and Christian Churches. L'Eglise Romaine & la Grecque, the Roman and Greek Churches. L'Eglise Gallicane & Anglicane, the Gallicane and the English Churches.

Une Eglise Cathedrale, a Cathedral Church.

Eglise Collegiale, a Collegiate Church.

Eglise Paroissiale, a Parish Church.

Près de l'Eglise, loin de Dieu, the nearer the Church, the further from God.

Eglogue, (f.) sorte de Poëme, an Eclogue.

Les dix Eglogues de Virgile, Virgil's ten Eclogues.

Egorgé, whose throat is cut, that hath his throat cut, killed.

Il fut egorgé en ma presence, he had his throat cut before my face.

Egorger, to cut the throat, to kill.

On alloit vous egorger, they were about to cut your throat.

Tu egorgeras le Bouveau devant l'Eternel à l'entrée du Tabernacle d'Assignation, (Ex. 29. 11.) thou shalt kill the Bullock before the Lord by the door of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

Se laisser egorger, to suffer his throat to be cut.

†Egofillé, whose throat is sore with speaking, or crying aloud.

†Egofiller, s'egofiller, parler ou crier si haut qu'on se fasse mal au gosier, to make his throat sore with speaking or crying aloud.

Je m'egofille à force de vous appeler, & vous ne me repondez pas, my throat is sore with calling you, and you will not answer me.

Egout, (m.) a Sink, or common Shore; the House-eve Tiles.

Un vilain Egout, a nasty Sink.

Egouté, drained, drained dry.

Egouter, to drain, to drain dry.

As, egouter la Vaisselle d'étain que l'on vient d'ecurer, to drain Pewter newly scoured.

Egoutoir, (m.) a drainer.

Egrainé } See { Egrené.
Egrainer } { Egrenier.

Egratigné, scratched.

Votre Visage est tout egratigné, your Face is scratched all over.

Egratigner, to scratch.

Elle egratigne les gens des qu'on l'approche pour la baiser, she scratches people as soon as they come to kiss her.

Egratigneur, as Decoupeur.

Egratignure, (f.) a scratch.

Une petite egratignure, a slight scratch.

Egrené, the grain whereof is shaken out.

Egrener, to shake out the grain.

Egrener un épi, to shake the corn out of its ear.

Egrener un raisin, to pick the grapes off of the bunch.

†Egrillard, sprightly, mettlesom, wanton.

Un œil egrillard, a wanton eye.

Egrugé, bruised.

Egrugeoir, (m.) a Thing to bruise salt with.

Egruger, cd. casser, ou briser, to bruise.

As, egruger du Sel, to bruise Salt.

Eguade

†Egueuler

Eguere

Eguierée

Eguille

Eguillée

Eguiller

Eguilleté

Eguilletier

Eguillette

Eguillon

†Eguilloné

†Eguillonner

Eguisé

Eguiser

†Eguiseur

Aiguade.

s'Egofiller.

Aiguere.

Aiguierée.

Aiguille.

Aiguillée.

Aiguiller.

Aiguilleté.

Aiguilletier.

Aiguillette.

Aiguillon.

Aiguilloné.

Aiguillonner.

Aiguisé.

Aiguiser.

Aiguiseur.

E H

Eh! Eh là! alas!

Eh non! alas! no.

Bhanché, qui a la hanche rompue, whose hip (or hanch) is out of joynt.

E I

Ejaculation, (f.) ejaculation, or violent spurt- ing.

Ejaculatoire, ejaculatory.

Vaisseaux ejaculatoires, ejaculatory Vessels, certain assistant and active parts in the act of Generation.

†Ejouir, to rejoice, or be glad.

As, Ps. 5. 11. Que tous ceux qui se retirent vers toi s'ejouissent, let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice.

And Ps. 9. 14. Je m'ejouirai de la Delivrance que tu m'auras donnée, I shall rejoice in thy salvation.

†Ejouissance, (f.) joy, gladness.

E L

Elagné, bared of branches.

Elagner, (Terme de Jardinier.) As, elagner un Arbre, to bare a Tree of its branches, to cut off its unprofitable, hurtful, or unband- som branches.

Elan, (m.) a jerk, a sudden thrust, or leap; an ejaculation, transport, or violent motion of the soul; an Elk.

Faire un elan, to give a jerk.

Un elan affecté, an affected transport.

L'Elan est un Animal sauvage, de la grandeur d'un Cheval de mediocre taille, & qui se trouve dans les Pais Septentrionaux, an Elk is a wild Creature, about the bigness of a middle size Horse, and to be found in the North-Countries.

Elancement, (m.) an emotion of the body, an ejaculation of the soul.

Faire de grands elancements, to make great emotions.

Un elancement de l'Ame, an ejaculation of the Soul.

Elancer, to sling, or throw.

La Mort fait elancer ses traits, Death knows how to sling her darts.

S'elancer, to give a jerk, to lanch forward.

Il s'elanga dans l'Onde, he lanchd into the Water.

Or thus. S'elancer sur quécun, to fall upon one, or to fly at him.

Un Lion s'elanga sur lui, & le dechi- ra au même instant, a Lyon fell upon him, and immediately tore him to pie- ces.

Elargi, enlarged, widened, or made wider; re- leased, or set at liberty.

Elargir, to enlarge, widen, or make wider; to release, or set at liberty.

Elargir un Chemin, to make a Way wi- der.

Elargir un Prisonnier, to release a Prisoner, to set him at liberty.

But in this sense it is only said of a Man. For, to avoid the Ambiguity, you must say thus for example of a Woman, Ma- dame telle a eu aujourd'hui provision de la Personne, and not on a elargi Ma- dame, which has a wanton sense with it.

Or thus. As, Ps. 119. 29. Ote arriere de moi le moyen d'être trompé, & m'elargi gracieusement ta Loi, remove from me the way of lying, and grant me thy Law gra- ciously.

And 1 Theff. 2. 8. Nous souhaitions de vous elargir, non seulement l'Evangile de Dieu, mais aussi nos propres Ames, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own Souls.

Elargir un Cheval, en Termes de Manege. C'est le faire marcher large, ou lui faire embrasser un plus grand Terrain que celui qu'il occupoit.

S'elargir, to widen, or grow wider; to get more room; to be enlarged.

La Chaussée commençoit à s'elargir, the Causey began to grow wider.

Il nous étoit impossible de nous elar- gir, it was impossible for us to get more room.

Nôtre Cœur s'est elargi, (2 Cor. 6. 11.) our Heart is enlarged.

Elargissement, (m.) a Release, out of Pri- son.

Obtenir un Elargissement, to obtain a Re- lease.

Electeur, (m.) from Elire, an Elector.

Les Sept Electeurs de l'Empire, the Seven Electors of the Empire.

Electif, elective.

As, un Royaume electif, an elective King- dom.

Election, (f.) election, choice; the Province

(or Jurisdiction) of an Elen, or general Af- fessor of Subsidies.

Faire l'élection des Magistrats, to chuse new Magistrates. La Cour favorise son election, the Court backs his Election.

Electoral, Electoral.

As, le College Electoral, the Electoral Col- lege.

Son Alteffe Electorale, his Electoral High- ness.

Electorat, (m.) Electorship; an Elector's Territories.

Electrice, an Elector's Wife.

Electuaire, (m.) Composition liquide ou se- che qui purge, Electuary, a Physical Com- position.

Elefant. See Elephant.

Elegamment, elegantly, eloquently, freely.

Ecrire, ou parler elegamment, to write, or speak elegantly.

Elegance, (f.) elegancy, eloquence.

Ajouter l'ornement & la beauté des fi- gures à l'elegance des Mots, to add the ornaments of Rhetorical figures to the choice of Words.

Elegant, elegant, eloquent.

As, un Discours elegant, an elegant Dis- course.

Un Auteur elegant, an eloquent Au- thor.

Elegiaque, of Elegies.

As, Vers elegiaque, an Elegy Verse.

Elegie, (f.) Poëme qui represente des Choses tristes ou amoureuses, Elegy, a mournful Poem.

Les Elegies d'Ovide, Ovid's Elegies.

Element, (m.) Element, one of the four Ele- ments; Element, the proper Place appointed by Nature for Creatures to live in; Ele- ment, the place or thing we are most pleased with.

Il y a quatre Elemens, dont les Corps Mixtes sont tous composez, savoir le Feu, l'Air, l'Eau, & la Terre, there are four Elements, of which all mixt Bodies are composed, viz. Fire, Air, Water, and Earth.

L'Eau est l'Element des Poissons, l'Air des Oiseaux, & la Terre des autres Animaux, Water is the Element of Fishes, Air that of Birds, and Earth that of all other living Creatures what- ever.

La Chasse est son Element, Hunting is his Element. Je suis hors de mon Element, quand je suis privé de votre Compagnie, I am out of my Element (I am just like a Fish out of the Water) when I do not enjoy your Company.

L'Element liquide (Termes Poëtiques, pour dire la Mer) the liquid Element, the Sea.

Les Elemens d'une Science, the Rudiments (or Principles) of a Science.

Les Elemens d'Euclide, Euclids Elements.

Elementaire, elementary.

As, le Feu elementaire, the elementary Fire.

Elephant, (m.) an Elephant.

L'Elephant est le plus gros de tous les Ani- maux Terrestres, the Elephant is the biggest Creature that lives upon the Land.

Faire d'une mouche un Elephant, (Prov.) to make of a fly an Elephant.

Elese, (f.) Linge qu'on met dans le Lit sous les Malades, pour leur servir dans leurs be- soins, Cloths (or Clouts) clapt in the bed of a sick body, to use them as Occasion serves.

Eleu, (from Elire) electd, chosen.

Il fut eleu Empereur, he was chosen Em- perour.

Eleu, (a masc. Subst.) a general Assessor of the King's Aids or Subsidies in every parti- cular Circuit, Province, or Diocese; an elect, or chosen of God to be saved.

Les Eleus de Dieu, God's Elect.

Eleuë, a Subst. (from Eleu) the Wife of an Eleu, or of a general Assessor of the King's Aids.

Elevation, (from Elever) f. elevation; af- cent; rise, or preferment; loftiness.

L'elevation de l'Hostie, the elevation of the Host.

L'elevation du Pole sur l'Horizon, the elevation of the Pole above the Horizon.

Une Elevation de trois marches, an Ascend of three steps.

Contribuer

Contribuer à l'elevation d'une personne, to contribute to ones rise, or preferment.

Elevation de Style, a loftiness of Style.

Or thus. Cette Mine fit une grande elevation de terre, that Mine blew up the ground very high.

Cette Isle a 50. degrez d'elevation, in this Island the Pole is elevated 50. degrees.

Or thus. As, faire les Plans & les Elevations d'un Bâtiment, to make the Ground-plot with the Front of a Building.

Quand les Jours de son Elevation s'accomplissoient (Luke 9. 5.) when the Time was come that he should be received up.

L'Epaule d'Elevation, the heave-shoulder.

Elevé, raised, raised up, heaved, (or lifted) up; high; raised up, extolled; exalted, praised; raised, advanced, or preferred; excellent, great, eminent, lofty; brought up, educated.

Elevé de terre, raised up from the ground.

Une Tour fort élevée, a very high Tower.

Je ne souffrirai point celui qui a les yeux élevés, & le cœur gros (Ps. 101. 5.) him that hath an high look, and a proud heart, I will not suffer.

Elevé jusques au Ciel, raised up to the Sky.

Elevé à de grands Honneurs, raised up (preferred, advanced) to great Honours.

Un Esprit élevé, an excellent (great, or eminent) Wit. Son Nom est haut élevé (Ps. 148. 13.) his Name is excellent.

Discourir d'un air élevé, to have a lofty Speech. Une maniere de discourir élevée, a lofty way of speaking. Une Danse élevée, a lofty Dance.

Un Enfant bien élevé, a Child well brought up, or well educated.

Or thus. As, Offrande élevée, beave-offering.

Elevé, (a masc. Subst.) one that has learnt Painting under another, that has been brought up to Painting by another.

Il a été élevé de Raphaël, he was brought up by Raphael.

Elevé is also said of one that sticks to an Author, and is altogether imbibed with his Learning.

Elevation, (f.) loftiness, or greatness.

As, un elevation de cœur, a loftiness (or greatness) of mind.

L'honneur du Monde & la gloire de vaincre ont un attrait & un elevation qui eblouit, worldly honour and the pride of conquering are bewitching, and have in them something of a dazzling greatness.

Elever, to raise, to raise up, to heave (or lift) up; to raise up, extoll, praise, or exalt; to raise, advance, or prefer; to bring up.

Elever une Tour, ou une Muraille, to raise a Tower, or a Wall. Le Soleil eleve des Vapeurs, the Sun raises Vapours. Elever les Yeux, to lift up his Eyes. Elever la Voix, to raise (or lift up) his Voice. Elever une Fleur, ou un Arbre, to raise a Flower, or a Tree.

Elever quécun à une haute Dignité, to raise one up to a great Place. Humiliez vous en la presence du Seigneur, & il vous elevera (Jam. 4. 10.) humble your selves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

Elever un Oiseau, un Cheval, to bring up a Bird, or a Horse. Elever un Enfant, to bring up (or educate) a Child, to give him some education.

S'elever, to rise up, to arise; to raise (or exalt) himself.

La Mer s'eleva par un grand Vent qui souffloit (John 6. 18.) the Sea arose by reason of a great Wind that blew. S'elever contre quécun, to rise up against one.

Nation s'elevera contre Nation, & Royaume contre Royaume (Luke 21. 10.) Nation shall rise against Nation, and Kingdom against Kingdom.

Il tâche de s'elever, he does what he can (he endeavours) to raise himself. Si quécun s'eleve sur vous (2 Cor. 11. 20.) if a man exalt himself.

Quiconque s'eleve sera abaissé, & quiconque s'abaisse sera élevé (Luke 14. 11.) whoever exalteth himself shall be abased, and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Or thus. As Ps. 131. 1. Mon Cœur ne s'est point élevé, my Heart is not haughty.

Un Vaisseau qui s'eleve, cd. qui court au large, a Ship that takes Sea-room.

Eleveure, (f.) sorte de Pustule qui vient sur la peau, a kind of Blister.

Elire, to elect, to chuse.

Elire quécun en la place d'un autre, to elect one in the place of another.

On l'a élu tout d'une voix, he was unanimously chosen.

Elision, (f.) Terme de Grammaire, Elision, the cutting off of a Vowel at the end of a Word.

Elite, (f.) from Elire, chosen (or choice) men.

Cetoient tous gens d'elite, they were all chosen men, men pickt out of all the rest. Quand il abbatit les gens d'elite d'Israel (Ps. 78. 31.) when he smote down the chosen men of Israel.

Il le vint trouver avec l'elite des Troupes, he came to him with the choicest of his Forces. Saul Jeune homme d'elite (1 Sam. 9. 2.) Saul, a choice Young man.

Prenez la science plutôt que le fin Or d'elite, (Prov. 8. 10.) receive knowledge rather than choice Gold.

And Acts 9. 15. Il m'est un Instrument d'elite, pour porter mon Nom devant les Gentils, he is a chosen Vessel unto me, to bear my Name before the Gentiles.

Elixir, (m.) sorte de Boisson cordiale, Elixir, a kind of cordial Drink.

Elle, (the feminine of Lui) she, her.

As, c'est elle, 'tis she. C'est elle même, 'tis she her self. Elle n'est pas belle, she is not handsome. Elle est vieille, she is old.

Avec, pour, par, contre elle, with, for, by, against her.

Elle, (the feminine of Il, a personal Pronoun used with Verbs,) she, it.

As, elle aime, she loves; elle dort, she sleeps.

Bien loin que cette Viande soit mauvaise, elle est admirable, this Meat is so far from being bad, that it is admirably good. Now Elle makes in the Plural Elles, in English they, or them.

As, ce sont elles qui me l'ont dit, they are the Women that told me of it. Elles sont amoureuses, they are in love. Elles ne sont pas belles, they are not handsome.

Je m'en irai avec elles, I'll go along with them. Je ferai pour elles ce qui me sera possible, I will do for them what lies in my power.

In case of an Interrogation, Elle is placed, as its masculine Gender, after the Verb. See Il.

Elleboire, (m.) sorte de Plante medecinale, elleboire, a Physical plant.

Elleboire blanc ou noir, white or black elleboire.

Elme. See Feu S. Elme.

Elocution, (f.) Terme de Rhetorique, cd. le Langage, ou la Maniere dont on s'explique, Elocution.

L'Elocution doit être claire & propre au Sujet, the Elocution ought to be clear and fitted to the Subject.

Eloge, (m.) commendation, elogy, praise, encomium.

Un froid eloge, a cold commendation.

Faire l'eloge de quécun, to make one's elogy.

Donner à quécun de grands eloges, to give one great encomiums, to speak much to his praise.

†Elogiste, (m.) a maker of Elogy's.

Eloigné, removed, or put away; remote, far.

Eloigné de la Cour, removed from the Court.

Un Pais éloigné, a remote Country. Nous sommes trop éloignés l'un de l'autre, we are too remote (or too far) from one another.

La Temerité n'est pas beaucoup éloignée de la Folie, Rashness is not far from Folly. Ce- la est fort éloigné de mon Deffein, that's far from my Design. Ils sont fort éloignés de sçavoir s'ils pechent ou non, they are far from knowing whether they sin or no.

Eloignement, (m.) removal; distance, or remoteness; absence, or separation.

C'est lui qui est la Cause de son Eloignement, he caused him to be removed, he was the Cause of his being removed.

L'eloignement du Soleil en est la Cause, the distance (or remoteness) of the Sun is the Cause of it. Le fond du Tableau represente une Mer & un petit Vaisseau dans l'eloignement, the ground of the Picture represents a Sea, and a little Vessel appearing at a distance.

Je suis fort affligé de notre Eloignement, I am very much concerned about our Separation.

Eloigner, to remove, or put away, to send a great way off.

On a fait tout ce qu'on a pu pour l'eloigner de la Cour, there have been great endeavours made to remove him from the Court.

Eloignez cela de moi, put that away.

S'eloigner, to remove, to go away.

As, s'eloigner de la Cour, to remove from the Court, to leave the Court, to go far enough from it.

S'eloigner du droit Chemin, to go from the right Way.

Or thus. As, s'eloigner de son Sujet, en discourant, to make a digression.

S'eloigner du respect qu'on doit à quécun, to forsake the respect which is due to one.

Eloquemment, eloquently, elegantly.

Parler eloquemment, to speak eloquently.

Eloquence, (f.) eloquence.

La veritable Eloquence consiste à dire tout ce qu'il faut, & à ne dire que ce qu'il faut, herein lies true Eloquence, that is in expressing all that's fitting, and nothing but what is fitting.

Eloquent, eloquent, well spoken; eloquent, eloquently spoke or written.

Un Homme eloquent, an eloquent (or well-spoken) Man.

Un Discours eloquent, an eloquent (or elegant) Discourse.

†Elourdi, dulled.

†Elourdir, to dull.

Elu. See Eleu.

Eludé, eluded, shifted off, frustrated, disappointed.

Eluder, rendre sans effet, to elude, shift off, frustrate, or disappoint.

Eluder un Argument, to elude an Argument.

Eluder les Intentions de quécun, to frustrate (or to disappoint) ones Designs.

Elue. See Eleué.

E M

Em in the same Syllable is pronounced am, the e taking the sound of a French az as embleme, ensemble.

Except where the Word ends in em, or emme; as item, dilemme.

And yet femme is pronounced famme.

Email, (m.) certaine Composition dont se servent les Peintres, les Virriers, Orfèvres, & Emailleurs, Enamel.

Email fin, fine Enamel.

Peinture en email, an enamelled Picture.

L'email des Fleurs (Termes Poétiques) the Enamel of Flowers.

Emailé, enamelled.

De l'Or emailé, enamelled Gold.

Le Ciel est emailé d'Etoiles, the Sky is enamelled with Stars.

Un Pré emailé de fleurs, a Meadow enamelled with flowers.

Emailer, to enamel.

As, emailer de l'Or, to enamel Gold.

Les fleurs de toutes parts emailent les Vallons, the Dales every where are enamelled with flowers.

S'emailer, to be enamelled.

As, la Terre s'emailloit de fleurs, the Earth grew enamelled with flowers.

Emailleur,

Emaillieur, (m.) an Enameller.
Un habile Emaillieur, an able (or skilful) Enameller.

†Emaillure, (f.) enamelling, or enamelled Work.

Emanation, (f.) emanation, a flowing, or issuing from.

Ce sont des Emanations de la Justice Royale, they are Emanations of the Royal Justice.

Emané, issued, flowed, proceeded.

Le S. Esprit est émané du Pere & du Fils, the Holy Ghost proceeds from the Father and the Son.

Emancipation, (Terme de Palais) an Act by virtue whereof a young Man or Maid is put out of the Guardians hands into a personal possession of an Estate.

Emancipé, put out of the Guardians hands into a personal possession of an Estate.

Emanciper, délivrer un jeune Garçon, ou une jeune Fille, de la Puissance du Tuteur, en leur donnant la Jouissance de l'Usufruit de leur Bien, to put out of the Guardians hands into a personal possession of an Estate.

S'emanciper, prendre trop de liberté, to take too much liberty, to grow too licentious.

Il s'emancipe jusques là, qu'il ne veut rien faire de tout ce qu'on lui commande, he is so very licentious, that he will do nothing he is bid to do.

Emané, ed. venu, forti, issued, proceeded, come.

As, une Constitution émanée du Siege de Rome, a Constitution issued from the See of Rome.

†Embabouiné, inveigled, drawn in, or deceived by fair words, brought into a Fools Paradise.

†Embabouiner, ed. cajoler pour tromper, to inveigle, draw in, or deceive by fair words, to bring into a Fools Paradise.

Il m'a embabouiné je ne sai comment, he hath inveigled me I know not how.

Emaux, the Plural of Email.

Embalage, (m.) a packing up; also the Packers fees.

Embalé, packed up.

Vos Marchandises sont elles embalées? are your Commodities packed up?

Embalier, to pack up.

As, embalier des Marchandises, to pack up Commodities.

Embaleur, (m.) a Packer.

†Embaleur, ou Trompeur, a Cheat.

Embaras, (m.) trouble, or imbarasment; cumber, or confusion; a disorder of the mind.

Etre dans l'embaras, to be in a deal of trouble, to be pestered (or perplexed) with something or other.

Je deteste l'embaras des Rues, I hate the cumber (or the confusion) of the Streets.

L'embaras où j'étois parut sur mon Visage, the disorder of my mind appeared upon my Face.

Embarassant, troublesome.

As, un homme embarassant, a troublesome man.

Une femme embarassante, a troublesome woman.

Je ne trouve rien de plus embarassant, I find nothing more troublesome.

Embarassé, cumbered; troubled, pestered, puzzled, perplexed; puzzled, confounded, put to a nonplus.

Je le trouvai bien embarassé, I found him very much troubled, or perplexed, I found him in great trouble.

Il se trouva bien embarassé quand il falut répondre, he was very much puzzled (he was put to a nonplus) when he should have answered.

Or thus. As, il est embarassé à choisir, he does not know which to chuse.

Embarasser, to cumber; to trouble, pester, puzzle, or perplex; to puzzle, confound, or put to a nonplus.

Embarasser un Passage, to cumber a Passage.

Il n'y a rien qui m'embarasse plus, nothing troubles (pesters, puzzles, or perplexes) me more.

La Difficulté qu'on lui a proposée l'embarasse extrêmement, the difficult Case which was put to him does extremely puzzle him.

La moindre chose l'embarasse, the least thing in the World puzzles him.

Embarqué, imbarked, shipped, got (or put) on ship-board; drawn in, or inveigled.

Embarquement, (m.) an imbarking, or shipping; an ingagement, or undertaking.

Notre Embarquement se fit à Marfeilles, we imbarked (or took ship) at Marfeilles.

C'étoit un Embarquement bien au dessous de sa qualité, it was an Undertaking a great deal below him.

Embarquer, to ship, to get (or put) on ship-board; to draw in, or inveigle.

As, embarquer des Marchandises, to ship Commodities, to get them on ship-board.

Il nous faut embarquer la Dupe, we must draw in the Simpleton.

S'embarquer, to imbark, or take ship; to ingage, or undertake.

Je vai m'embarquer pour les Indes, I am going to the Indies.

Gardez vous bien de vous embarquer avec elle, take heed you don't ingage with her.

Ne vous embarquez pas à boire, do not undertake to drink.

Embaras } See } Embaras.

Embarassant } See } Embarassant.

Embarassé } See } Embarassé.

Embarasser } See } Embarasser.

S'Embarrer, en Termes de Manege. As, un Cheval qui s'embarre, ed. qui s'embarasse les Jambes à l'Ecurie, dans la Barre destinée à separer deux Chevaux, pour les empêcher de se battre.

d'Embas } See } d'Embas.

Embassade } See } Ambassade.

Embassadeur } See } Ambassadeur.

Embassadrice } See } Ambassadrice.

†Embâté, saddled (with a pack-saddle;) loaded; that pays for all. Bâté is the right word.

†Embâter, to saddle (with a pack-saddle;) to load; to make one pay for all. Bâter is the right word in the first sense.

Et Abraham embâta son Ane (Gen. 22. 3.) and Abraham saddled his Ase.

†Embâtonné, armed with cudgels.

Embauché, that is employed by a Shoemaker in his way of Trade.

Embaucher un Compagnon Cordonnier, l'introduire dans une Boutique, ou lui faire donner de la besogne, to get a Journey-man Shoemaker Work.

Embaucheur, (m.) one that finds work for Journey-men Shoemakers.

Embaumé, embalmed.

Embaumer, to imbalm; to perfume.

Embaumer un Corps, to imbalm a dead Body.

Cela embaume toute la Chambre, that perfumes all the Room.

†Embeguiné, insatuated, bewitched.

As, être embeguiné de quécun, to be insatuated (or bewitched) with one.

†s'Embeguiner (ed. s'entêter) de quécun, to take a fancy for one, to be taken (insatuated, or bewitched) with him.

Embelli, set out, adorned, embellished, beautify'd.

Embellir, to set out, adorn, embellish, beautify.

As, embellir une Maison, to adorn a House, to embellish (or beautify) it.

Embellissement, (m.) ornament, embellishment.

C'est un Embellissement nécessaire, 'tis a necessary Ornament.

†Emblavé, sown, as a field with Corn. Say ensemené.

†Emblaver, to sow. Say Ensemené.

d'Emblée (from Embler) suddenly, by storm, or by surprise.

As, prendre une Ville d'emblée, to take a Town suddenly, by storm, or by surprise, to snatch it away as it were.

Emblematique, emblematick, or emblematical.

Embleme, (used in both Genders) emblem, an ingenious Picture with a moral Conceit.

Un Embleme fort ingénieux, a most ingenious Emblem.

Une fort belle Embleme, a very fine Emblem.

†Embler, cunningly to snatch away.

Emboeté } See } Emboité.

Emboetement } See } Emboitement.

Emboeter } See } Emboïter.

Emboeture } See } Emboïture.

Emboire (Terme de Peinture) to soak.

†Emboisé, gulled, inveigled, drawn in, deceived by fair Words.

†Emboïser, ed. cajoler pour tromper, to gull, inveigle, draw in, or deceive by fair Words.

Il tâche à l'emboïser, he makes it his business to inveigle him.

Se laisser emboïser, to suffer himself to be gulled, or inveigled.

†Emboïseur, (m.) an Inveigler, or inveigling Man.

C'est un franc Emboïseur, he is a right Inveigler.

†Emboïseuse, (f.) an Inveigler, or inveigling Woman.

Emboîté, put up in a box; set, or set in.

Emboïter, to put up in a box; to set in.

As, emboïter des Confitures (en Termes de Confiturier) to put up Confits in a box.

Emboïter un os (en Termes de Chirurgien) to set a bone, to set it in its right place.

Emboiture, (f.) Terme de Charon, the ring, or plate of iron, &c. that keeps the box of a Wheel from wearing.

†Embonpoint, (m.) good case, good plight of the body.

Etre dans un parfait embonpoint, to be in a very good case.

Or thus. As, perdre son embonpoint, to fall away, to fall in his flesh.

Embouché, bit, furnished (or fitted) with a bit; put into ones mouth; instructed, prepared before hand.

Emboucher, to bit, to furnish (or fit) with a bit, to put into the mouth; to instruct, or prepare before hand.

As, emboucher un Cheval, to bit a Horse, to fit it with a bit.

Emboucher un flageolet, to put a flageolet in his mouth in order to play.

†Il le faut bien emboucher, de peur qu'il ne dise queque sottise, we must instruct (or prepare) him well before hand, lest he should blabber out some impertinencies.

Joab l'emboûcha de ce qu'elle devoit dire (2 Sam. 14. 3.) Joab put the words in her mouth.

S'emboucher, le jeter dans la Mer, to fall, empty, or discharge it self.

As, le Volga s'embouche dans la Mer Caspienne, the Volga falls into the Caspian Sea.

But take notice that se jeter is better than s'emboucher.

Embouchoir, (m.) deux morceaux de bois en forme de Jambe qu'on met dans les Botes, pour les elargir, a boot-last, or boot-tree; also a horn to drench a horse with.

Embouchure, (f.) mouth; socket; a bit, or horse bit; a bole.

Embouchure de canon, de pot, de fourneau, de sac, de Riviere, &c. the mouth of a canon, of a pot, furnace, sack, River, &c.

Embouchure de Chandelier, the socket of a Candlestick.

Donner une embouchure à un Cheval, to bit a horse, to fit him with a bit.

Embourbé, that sticks fast in the mud; bemuddled.

Il jure comme un Chartier embourbé, he swears like a Car-man that sticks fast in the mud.

Roué embourbé, a Wheel that sticks fast in the Mud.

Or thus. As, Le Juste qui bronche devant le Mechant est comme une Fontaine embourbée, (Prov. 25. 26.) a Righteous man man falling down before the Wicked is as a troubled Fountain.

s'Embourber, to sink in the mud.

Or thus. As, s'embourber dans la Philosophie de l'Ecole, to pester himself with School Philosophy.

S'embourber dans le Vice, to run headlong into Wickedness.

Embourré, stuffed (as a Chair, with flocks, hair, &c.)

Embourrer, to stuff.

As, embourrer une Chaise, to stuff a Chair.

†Embourser, to lay up in a purse.

Il a embourcé dix pistoles, he has laid up ten pistols in his purse.

De tous ses Revenus il n'embourse pas un liard, of all his Incomes he does not lay up a penny.

Embouti, wrought upon a Stamp.

Emboutir, (Terme d'Orfèvre) to work Silver upon a Stamp.

Embrâlé, all of a fire; inflamed.

Le College est tout embrâlé, the College is all of a fire.

Embrâlé d'amour, inflamed with love.

Or thus. As Rev. 1. 15. Comme si ses piez eussent été embrâlez en une Fournaise, as if his feet burned in a Furnace.

Embrâsement, (m.) fire, or conflagration; combustion, or disorder.

As, l'Embrâsement de Londres en 1666. étoit horrible & extraordinaire, the Fire of London in the year 1666. was a dreadful and extraordinary Fire.

Il arrêta cet Embrâsement, he put a stop to that Combustion.

Embrafer, to fire, to set on fire, to inflame.

As, embrafer une Maison, to fire a House, to set a House on fire.

Vos beaux yeux m'embraferent, your fair eyes set me all of a fire.

Is embraferent mon desir, they inflame my desire.

Si nos Peches embraferent ta Colere, c'est fait de nous, if our Sins inflame thy Anger, we shall be utterly destroyed.

S'embrafer, to take fire, to burn, to be on fire, to be inflamed.

La Poudre s'embrafer promptement, Gunpowder takes presently fire.

Or thus. As, que ta Colere ne s'embrafer point contre moi, let not thy Anger wax hot against me.

Embrassade, (f.) imbrace.

Ce sont des donneurs d'Embrassades frivoles, they are people prodigal of frivolous Imbraces.

Embrâcé, imbraced, or hugged; imbraced, received, or undertaken; included, comprehended.

Embrâsement, (m.) imbrace.

Des embrâsemens mal-honnêtes, dishonest imbraces.

Charger la fureur de ses embrâsemens de protestations, d'offres, & de sermens, to charge the heat of his imbraces with offers, oaths, and protestations.

Embraffer, to embrace, hug, or take about; to imbrace, receive, or undertake; to include, or comprehend.

Je m'impatiente de vous embrasser, I long to imbrace you. Embraffer quécun par le milieu du corps, to take one about the middle. Embraffer ses genoux, to take him about the knees.

Embraffer une Opinion, to imbrace (to receive) an Opinion. Embraffer un Emploi, to undertake an Employment.

Cela embrasse toutes les Vertus Chrétiennes, that includes all Christian Virtues.

Or thus. As, embrasser le parti de quécun, to take one's part, to side with him.

Qui trop embrasse mal etreint, (Prov.) some lose all by coveting all.

Tout ce que le Ciel de la Lune embrasse est périssable, all sublunary Things are perishable.

Embraffer la Volte, en Termes de Manege. C'est lors que le Cheval maniant sur les Voltes fait à chaque tems un grand chemin avec ses jambes de devant.

S'embraffer, to imbrace (to hug) one another.

C'étoit un plaisir de les voir s'embraffer, it was mighty pleasant to see them imbracing each other.

Embrasure, (f.) Ouverture d'un Parapet pour le passage du Boulet des Pieces d'Artillerie, the port-hole of a Cannon. Also the chamfretting of a Door or Window; that part of a Furnace whereinto runs the neck of a Lembeck.

†Embrené, bespirt.

Sa Chemise est toute embrenée, his Shirt is all bespirt.

†Embrené, to bespirt, or bespirt.

Embrené ses chausses, to bespirt his breeches.

Embrion, (m.) embryo, an Infant in the Mothers Womb before it has got perfect shape.

Petit Embrion, pour dire un petit Esprit mal fait, an ill-contrived Piece.

S'il sort jamais un Embrion, fils de son Pere il ne sera, if he ever comes out a small Child, it will not be his Fathers Child.

Embroché, spitted, put upon the spit.

Viande mal embrochée, Meat ill spitted.

Embrocher, to spit, to put upon the spit.

As, embrocher un Chapon, to spit a Capon.

Embrouillé, imbroyled, intricate, confused.

Les Affaires de sa Maison sont fort embrouillées, his domestick Concerns are very much imbroyled.

Une Affaire fort embrouillée, a very intricate Business.

Il est fort embrouillé dans ses Ecrits, he is very much confused in his Writings.

Embrouiller, to imbroyl, perplex, intangle, or confound.

As, embrouiller une Affaire, to imbroil (perplex, or confound) a Business.

S'embrouiller, to perplex himself.

S'embrouiller dans quécune difficulté, to imbroil (or intangle) himself in some dangerous business.

Embrumé (Terme de Mer) foggy.

Comme le Temps étoit fort embrumé, nous mouillames jusqu'au lendemain, it being very foggy Weather, we lay at anchor till next day.

Embryon. See Embrion.

Embu (from Emboire) soaked.

Embuches; (f.) snares, wiles.

Dresser des embuches à quécun, to lay snares for one, to lie in wait for one.

Afin que vous puissiez résister contre les embuches du Diable (Eph. 6. 11.) that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the Devil.

Embuscade, (f.) ambush, ambuscado.

Se mettre en embuscade, to lie in ambush.

Faire (dresser) une embuscade, to lay an ambuscado. Decouvrir l'embuscade, to discover the ambuscado.

Emeraude, (f.) Pierre précieuse, Emerald, a kind of precious stone.

L'Emeraude est verte, diaphane, & brillante, the Emerald is green, transparent, and glittering.

Il y a de deux sortes d'Emeraude, l'Orientale & l'Occidentale, there are two sorts of Emerald, the Eastern and Western.

Emeri, (m.) Pierre grisâtre dont se servent les Lapidaires & les Fourbisseurs, emrod, a hard and grayish kind of stone (wherewith Iron-works are furnished, glass and precious stones cut.)

Emerillon, (m.) le plus petit de tous les Oiseaux de proie, Merlin, the least of all Birds of prey.

†Emerilloné, qui a de la couleur, that hath got a colour.

Il est emerilloné, he hath got a colour.

Emerocale. See Emerocale.

†Emerveillable, marvellous; secret, Judg. 13. 18.

D'une maniere emerveillable, (Ps. 39. 14.) wonderfully.

†Emerveiller, to marvel, to wonder.

Vous ne devez pas vous emerveiller de cela, you ought not to wonder at that.

Ils s'emerveilloient, disans l'un à l'autre (Acts 2. 7.) they marvelled, saying one to another.

Emetique, qui provoque le Vomissement, emetick, that provokes Vomiting.

As, Vin emetique, emetick Wine, a strong kind of Vomit.

Emetique, (a masc. Subst.) emetick Wine.

Emeu (from Emouvoir) moved, stirred up, troubled, affected; moved, in a passion; loose, that has got a looseness; out of order, not well.

Emeu par quécune Passion, moved with some Passion. Emeu de compassion, moved to compassion, that has compassion of one. Il a été emeu à la Tragedie, he was affected by the Tragedy.

Je l'ai entrepris, emeu de l'affection que j'ai pour vous, I undertook it, merely out of the affection I have for you.

Je ne l'ai jamais vu si emeu qu'il étoit ce jour là, I never saw him before in such a passion as that he was in that day.

C'est une terrible Bête qu'une Populace emeuë, an angry (or seditious) Multitude is a terrible Beast.

†Emeudre. See Emoudre.

Emeute, (f.) cd. Sedition, a Commotion, Rising, or Insurrection.

Craindre une Emeute, to fear a Commotion.

L'appaiser, to appease it.

Emié, crummed.

Emier, mettre en mie, to crum.

As, emier du pain, to crum bread.

Eminemment, en un degré eminent, eminently, in an eminent degree.

Eminence, (f.) a Hill, or rising Ground; Eminence, a Title given to Cardinals.

Ville bâtie sur une Eminence, a Town built upon a Hill.

Son Eminence est arrivée, his Eminence is arrived.

Eminent, eminent, or high, both in the proper and figurative sense; eminent, or famous; apparent, imminent.

Un Lieu eminent, a high, (an eminent) Place. Une qualité eminente, an eminent quality.

Un homme eminent en doctrine & en sagesse, an eminent man in learning and wisdom.

Un Danger eminent, an imminent (or apparent) Danger.

Eminentissime, most eminent.

L'Eminentissime Cardinal de Richelieu, the most eminent Cardinal of Richelieu.

Emissaire, (m.) celui qu'on envoie pour espier, an Emissary, or Spy.

Les Emisaires de Rome sont pour la plupart Jésuites, the Roman Emissaries are for the most part Jesuits.

Emmailloté, wrapped up in swaddling Cloaths.

Emmailloter, to wrap up in swaddling Cloaths.

As, emmailloter un Enfant, to wrap up a Child in swaddling Cloaths.

Emmanché, hasted, that hath a hasty (or handle) set on; belved.

Un homme bien emmanché, qui a un gros membre, a man furnished with a good —

Emmancher, to hasty, to set a hasty (or handle) set on; to belve.

Emmancher un couteau, to hasty a knife.

Emmancher une coignée, to belve an ax.

Emmantelé. As, Corneille emmantelée, a kind of Crow, black and ash-coloured.

Emmaroté, covered with a plaster, clay, or Cow-dung.

Emmaroter les grosses branches d'un Arbre, cd. les couvrir d'emplâtre, d'argille, ou de fiente de Vache, to cover the great branches with a plaster, clay, or Cow-dung.

Emmenagé, stocked with household Goods.

Etre bien emmenagé, to be well stocked with household Goods.

Emmenagement, (m.) the getting of household Goods.

s'Emmenager, to furnish his House, or get furniture for it; to furnish his House, or fit it up with convenient furniture.

Nous nous emménageons peu à peu, we furnish our House by degrees.

Il faut prendre quécun pour nous aider à à nous emménager, we must take some body to help us to furnish our house, to help us to dispose of our furniture.

Emmené, carried away.

Emmener, to carry away; to lead away, John 18. 13; to bring, Luke 12. 11.

Emmenez le, carry him away.

†Emmenoté, manacled, hand-fast.

†Emmenoter, to manacle. Say mettre les menottes aux mains.

†Emmellé, qui a ouï la Messe, that hath been at Mass.

†Emmiellé, sweetly disposed.

†Emmieller, to dispose finely.

O Muse, emmielle moi le bec, Oh! Muse, fit my pen to write sweet running Verses.

Emmiellure, (f.) Terme de Marechal ferrant, a kind of Ointment for Horses.

†Emmitoufflé, muffled up.

Il est emmitoufflé comme un President de Sorbonne, he is muffled up like a President of Sorbonne.

Emmufelé, muzzled.

As, un Ours emmufelé, a muzzled Bear.

Emmufeler, to muzzle.

Emmufeler un Veau, to muzzle a Calf.

Tu n'emmuferas point ton Beuf, lors qu'il foule le Grain (Deut. 25. 4.) Thou shalt not muzzle the Ox, when he treadeth out the Corn.

Emollient (Terme de Medecin) cd. qui amollit, ou qui addoucit, lenitive, emollient.

As, un Remede emollient, a lenitive Remedy.

Emolument, (m.) cd. profit, gain, profit, emolument.

Emolumens considerables, considerable emoluments.

Emunctoire, (m.) Glande pour la decharge des Parties nobles, Emunctory, a kernelly place of the Body, serving for the voiding of such humours as be superfluous in (or offensive unto) a noble or principal Part. Such a place there is under the ears for the brains, under the arm-pits for the heart, and the groin (or share) for the liver.

Emondé, pruned.

Emonder, to prune; to purge, John 15. 2.

As, emonder les Arbres, couper les branches d'embas, to prune Trees.

Emorragie. See Hemorrhage.

†Enoi, (m.) heaviness, pensiveness, trouble, or sorrow.

Emotion, (f.) from Emouvoir, stirring, or motion; Commotion, Sedition; trouble, or fear; a little fit of an ague.

As, une emotion de Ventre, a stirring of the belly.

Exciter des Emotions, to stir up Commotions. Appaiser une Emotion, to appease a Commotion. L'Emotion est assoupie, the Sedition is laid.

Cela me donnoit quèque emotion, that gave me some trouble, I was a little disturbed at it.

Il a encore un peu d'emotion, he has still something of an ague upon him.

Emouché, rid of flies.

Cheval emouché, a Horse rid of flies.

Emoucher, chasser les mouches, to rid of flies, to drive flies away.

Emoucher un Cheval, to rid a Horse of flies.

Emouchoir, (m.) a fly-flap; a kind of Cloth for a Coach-horses back.

Emoudre, to grind.

As, emoudre des cifeaux, to grind a pair of cizars.

Emouleur, ou Gagne-petit, (m.) a Grinder.

Emoulu, ground.

Couteau bien emoulu, a Knife well ground.

Emouffé, blunt, blunted, dull.

Un Canif emouffé, a blunt (or dull) pen-kife.

Avoir l'esprit tout emouffé, to be dull, to have a dull wit.

Emouffer, gâter la pointe d'une Chose qui perce, to blunt, to dull, to make blunt, or dull, to take off the edge of a thing.

Emouffer la pointe d'un couteau, to dull the point of a knife.

Emouffer l'esprit, to dull wit, to take off the edge of wit.

S'emouffer, to grow dull, or blunt.

As, l'esprit s'emouffe par l'Oisiveté, the vigour of the mind is blunted (or grows dull) with idleness.

Emouvoir, to stir up, or raise; to move, stir up, or affect; to urge, or provoke; to disorder, discompose, or alter ones temper.

Emouvoir une Sedition, to stir up (or to raise) a Sedition. Il n'eut pas toute sa fureur (Ps. 78. 38.) he did not stir up all his wrath.

Emouvoir l'esprit de ceux qui nous ecoutent, to stir up the minds of those that hear us. Emouvoir à compassion, to move to compassion. Ces choses ne l'emeuvent point, these things don't move him at all.

Emouvoir quécun, ou le mettre en colere, to put one in a passion.

En l'état où vous êtes, il ne faut rien pour vous emouvoir, in the condition you are in, the least thing will disorder you.

Or thus. Il est difficile à emouvoir (en Termes de Medecine) cd. il est mal aisé de lui lâcher le ventre, 'tis hard to make his belly loose.

Ce breuvage m'a emeu tous les Intestins, that Potion has caused a disturbance in all my inward Parts.

Duquel la Voix emeut alors la Terre (Heb. 12. 26.) whose Voice then shook the Earth.

S'emouvoir, to be moved, troubled, or concerned.

As, il commence à s'emouvoir, he begins to be moved.

Ne s'emouvoir d'aucun accident, not to be moved (or concerned) with any accident.

Se laisser emouvoir, to suffer himself to be moved, to yield up himself.

Se laisser emouvoir aux pleurs d'une Femme, to yield up himself to the tears of a Woman, to be melted into compassion by her tears.

Empaillé, covered with straw.

Empailler, couvrir de paille, to cover with straw.

Empailler une Chaise, to cover a Chair with straw.

Empailleuse, (f.) Femme qui couvre les Chaises de paille, a Chair-woman, a Woman that covers Chairs with straw.

Empalé, impaled.

Empaler, to impale, to thrust a stake in at the fundament and out of the mouth. A manner of Death inflicted amongst the Turks.

Empân, (m.) a span.

Empaqueté, packed up.

Empaqueter, to pack up.

As, empaqueter ses hardes, to pack up his cloaths.

S'Emparer, to seize, to take.

Il s'est emparé de tout mon Bien, he seized upon my whole Estate. L'admiration s'étoit emparée de leur esprit, admiration seized upon their mind.

S'emparer d'une Ville, to take a Town.

†Empaumer. As, empaumer un soufflet, to give a box on the ear.

Empaumer quécun, empaumer l'esprit de quécun, to inveigle one, or to draw him in.

Empêché, hindred; busy, full of business, taken up with business.

Faire l'empêché, to pretend business.

Etre empêché de sa personne, to be a burden to himself.

Empêchement, (m.) hindrance, disturbance, let, obstacle, impediment; business.

Lever un empêchement, to remove an obstacle.

Il me survient tous les jours de nouveaux empêchemens, every day some business or other comes upon me.

Empêcher, to hinder, forbid, or keep from; to cumber, Luke 13. 7.

La douleur m'empêche de dormir, my pain hinders my sleep, or keeps me from sleeping.

La crainte l'empêche de mentir, fear keeps him from lying.

Or thus. As, empêcher que quèque mal n'arrive, to prevent a mischance.

Ce grand Vent empêche la Respiration, this great Wind takes away ones Breath.

S'empêcher, to forbear, to keep himself from.

Ne sauriez vous vous empêcher de dormir? cannot you forbear sleeping? can't you keep your self from sleeping? Il ne peut s'empêcher de dérober, he can't forbear stealing.

Empegne, (f.) tout le dessus du Soulier, upper leather, the upper leather of a shoe.

Empereur, (m.) from Empire, an Emperour; also a Sword-fish.

Un Empereur Romain, a Roman Emperour.

Les Empereurs d'Orient & d'Occident, the Eastern and Western Emperours.

Empesché } See } Empêché.

Empeschement } Empêchement.

Empescher } Empêcher.

Empesé, starched.

Empeser (from Empois) to starch.

As, empeser du linge, to starch linen.

Empeser, (m.) Officier qui a soin d'empeser le Linge du Roi, the King's Starcher.

Empeseuse, (f.) a Starcher, a Woman Starcher.

C'est une bonne Empeseuse, she is a good Starcher.

Empesé, qui sent tres mauvais, infected, stinking, infectious.

Une halene empesée, a stinking breath.

Empêtré, intangled.

Ils sont empêtrés au Pais, le Desert les a enfermez (Ex. 14. 3.) they are intangled in the Land, the Wilderness hath shut them in.

Empêtrer, to intangle.

S'empêtrer, to intangle himself.

Emphase, (f.) force, energie, emphasis, energy.

Parler avec emphase, to speak with an emphasis, to speak emphatically.

Emphatique, emphatical, strong, or significant.

Une Expression emphatique, an emphatical Expression.

†Emphatiquement, emphatically. Say avec emphase.

Emphyteose (Terme de Palais) a long Lease, a Lease of a hundred years, or thereabouts.

Emphyteotique. As, faire un Bail emphyteotique, to make a long Lease of a hundred years, or thereabouts.

Empieter, to incroach.

As, empieter sur son Voisin, to incroach upon his Neighbour.

Empilé, piled up.

Bois empilé, Wood piled up.

Empiler, (Terme de Marchand de Bois) to pile up.

As, empiler du bois, or (rather) le mettre en pile, to pile up wood.

Empirance, (f.) diminution de Monoie, soit pour le titre, le poids, la taille, ou la valeur, the decay of Money.

Empire, (m.) an Empire, or State governed by an Emperour; Empire, Power, Dominion, Rule, or Government; Power, or Influence.

L'Empire d'Orient, the Eastern Empire.

L'Empire d'Occident, the Western Empire.

Durant l'Empire de Charlemagne, during the Empire of Charles the great. Son Empire est trop rude, & ne sauroit durer, his Government is too severe, and cannot last long.

Tenir l'Empire de la Mer, to have the Dominion (or Lordship) of the Sea.

La Lune a moins d'Empire sur les Choses sublunaires, lors qu'elle commence à manquer, que quand elle croit, the Moon has less Influence on Sublunary Things, when she begins to be in the Wain, than when she increases.

Or thus. As, se ranger sous l'Empire de quèque Belle, to put himself under the Yoke of a Beauty.

L'Empire des Lettres, les Gens de lettres, the Learned, the Commonwealth of the Learned.

Ecrivez moi ce qui se passe dans l'Empire des Lettres, write me word what passes in the Commonwealth of the Learned.

Empiré (from Empirer) grown worse and worse.

Empirée. See Empyrée.

Empirer, to grow worse and worse.

As, le Malade empire à tout moment, the Patient grows every moment worse and worse.

Les Choses empirent, Things grow worse and worse.

Or thus. As, Ps. 71. 4. Delivre moi de la main du Pervers, & de celui qui empire tout, deliver me out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel Man.

Empirique, empirical.

As, un Medecin Empirique, qui tient que la Medecine ne consiste que dans l'Experience, an empirical Doctor.

Empirique, (a masc. Subst.) an Empirick, a Quack.

Faire l'Empirique, to play Quacks tricks.

Emplâtre, (f.) a plaster.

Appliquer une emplâtre, to apply a plaster.

Or thus. As, † une Emplâtre de Mari, a loathsome (heavy, dull) Husband, a meer Drone of a Husband.

Emplette, (f.) a bargain, or purchase.

Or thus. As, faire une bonne emplette, to buy a good stock of something.

Il faut que j'aille à Paris faire une nouvelle emplette de Marchandises, I must go to Paris for a new stock of Commodities.

Empli, filled, filled up.

Emplir, to fill, or fill up.

As, emplir une bouteille, to fill (or fill up) a bottle.

S'emplir, to fill (in a neutral sense.)

Le Tonneau s'emplit, the Cask fills.

Emploi, (m.) employment, or work; an Employ, Employment, Place, or Office.

Chercher de l'emploi, to seek some employment. Donner de l'emploi à quelqu'un, to give one some employment. Procurer de l'emploi à une personne, to get one some work.

Chercher un Emploi, to look for a Place.

Trouver un Emploi, to find a Place, or an Employment. Donner un Emploi à quelqu'un, to bestow an Employ upon one. Les grands Emplois, the great Places.

Employé, employed, or made use of; laid out, bestowed.

J'étois employé à écrire, I was employ'd in writing, I was made use of to write.

Argent bien employé, Money well bestowed.

Peine mal employée, a Labour ill bestowed.

Or thus. Un Homme fort employé, a Man very full of business.

Employer, to employ, or make use of; to lay out, or bestow.

Employer quelqu'un pour venir à bout d'une chose, to employ one about a Business, to make use of him to bring it about. Employer le tems à l'étude, to employ his whole time in study.

Employer son tems, son industrie, ses moyens, & son credit à servir ses Amis, to employ his time, his industry, his means, and his credit in the service of his Friends.

J'emploierai tout mon Credit pour votre service, I shall make use of the best Interest I have for your service. Vous pourriez employer des paroles plus honnêtes, you might have used handsomer words.

Employer bien son argent, to bestow his money well, to lay it out with discretion.

Or thus. As, † employer le verd & le sec, faire tous ses efforts pour venir à ses fins, to turn every stone, to leave no stone unturned.

Employer mal son Esprit, to misemploy his Wit.

S'employer, to bestow himself, to spend (or bestow) his time; to mind, or take care.

Il s'emploie à peindre, à chasser, à danser, he spends his time in painting, hunting, and dancing.

Je m'emploierai pour vous, I shall mind you, I shall take care of you, I shall take you into my care.

Or thus. As, Phil. 2. 12. Employez vous à votre propre Salut avec crainte & tremblement, work out your own Salvation with fear and trembling.

Empoigner, to take, to lay hands on, to catch (or take) hold of, to hold.

Empoigner quelqu'un par les cheveux, to take one by the hair.

Il empoigna les Cornes de l'Autel, he caught hold on the horns of the Altar.

Si je pren les ailes de l'aube du Jour, & je me loge derrière la Mer, ta dextre m'y empoignera, (Ps. 139. 10, 11.) if I take the wings of the Morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the Sea, there thy right hand shall hold me.

Empois, (m.) starch.

Empois blanc, ou bleu, white, or blue starch.

Empoisonné, poisoned.

Donner à quelqu'un des louanges empoisonnées, to dishonour one with praising of him.

† Empoisonnement, (m.) a poisoning, or the act of poisoning; sorcery, Rev. 9. 21; witchcraft, Gal. 5. 20.

Le Crime d'Empoisonnement, the Crime of Poisoning.

Empoisonner, to poison.

As, empoisonner un Chien, to poison a Dog.

Empoisonner quelque chose, y jeter du poison, to poison something, to put poison in it.

Les Medisans empoisonnent tout, Slanderers poison every thing. Il empoisonne jusques aux actions les plus innocentes, he poisons the most innocent actions.

Empoisonneur, (m.) a Poisoner, a Sorcerer, Rev. 21. 8.

C'est un infame Empoisonneur, he is a notorious Poisoner.

† Un Empoisonneur, pour dire un méchant Traiteur, ou Cuisinier, a scurvy Cook, a Cook fit to poison one.

Empoisonneuse, (f.) a Poisoner, a she Poisoner.

† Empoissé, pitched over.

† Empoïsser, to pitch over.

Empoïssiné, stocked with fish.

Empoïssonner, to stock with fish.

As, empoïssonner un Etang, le remplir de poisson, to stock a Pond with fish.

Emporté, carried (led, driven, gone, taken) away; hot, hasty, passionate.

Les Meubles sont emportés, the Goods are gone away. La Place est emportée, the Place is taken. Nous fumes emportés par la Tempête contre des Rochers, we were driven by the Storm against Rocks.

Des gens emportés, hot (hasty, passionate) people.

Or thus. Emporté de passion, transported with passion. Il fut emporté d'une fièvre chaude, he was taken off by a fever.

Un Emporté, (Subst.) a hot, hasty, or passionate Man.

Une Emportée, a hot, hasty, or passionate Woman.

Emportement, (m.) anger, passion, transport of anger, or transport of passion; a magget, or crochets.

Il est dans un furieux emportement, he is in a dreadful passion.

Il est à craindre dans son emportement, he is to be feared in his anger.

Un noble emportement, a noble passion.

Un Livre plein d'emportemens, cd. de caprices, ou dereglemens d'Imagination, a Book full of maggets, or crochets.

Emporter, to carry, to carry (or take) away; to carry, to prevail, to get the better on't, or have the advantage; to get, or obtain; to take (or get) by force; to take off, take away, or remove; to take up; to hurry, or to transport.

Emportez le, carry it away. Il est trop pesant, je ne saurois l'emporter, 'tis too heavy, I cannot carry it.

Emporter le prix, to carry the prize, to receive the prize, 1 Cor. 9. 24. Je l'emporterai en justice, I shall carry it (I shall get the better of it) when it comes to a Trial.

Les Passions l'emportent sur la Raison, Passion prevails over Reason. La plus douce Opinion l'emporta sur la plus cruelle, the mildest Opinion prevailed over the severest.

Le Depit l'emporta sur la Resolution, his Anger prevailed over his Resolution. Nous ferons venir tant de monde, que nous l'emporterons, we shall get so many of our side, that we shall carry it, that we shall have the advantage.

J'emporterai par mes prières ce que je demande, I shall obtain by my prayers all that I desire. Il a emporté ce qu'il demandait, he got what he asked for.

Emporter une Ville, to take a Town. L'emporter d'assaut, to take it by assault, or by storm. Emporter la Victoire, to get the Victory.

Un coup de Canon lui emporta un bras, a Cannon-shot took off one of his arms. L'Absinthe emporte les Obstructions, Wormwood removes all Obstructions.

Cela emporte du Tems, that takes up some Time.

Helas! où est ce que la Douleur m'emporte? whither, alas! doth my Grief hurry me? Je sen que Phebus m'emporte plus loin que je n'avois pensé, I find that Phoebus transports me further than I was aware.

Or thus. As, ils ne l'emporteront pas de la sorte, they shall not go away with it so.

Prairie dont le Verd l'emporte sur les Emeraudes, Meadows whose Verdure exceeds the greenness of Emeralds.

S'emporter, to fall into a passion, to be angry, or transported with anger.

Si je l'avois su, je me serois assurément emporté, had I known of it, I had certainly been very angry. Je m'emporte facilement, a little matter raises my passion.

Un Jeune homme qui ne s'emporte point, qui est retenu, sage, & modéré, a sober Young man.

Se laisser emporter, to suffer himself to be transported or carry'd away, to yield, or give way, to give himself over.

Ne vous laissez pas emporter à votre passion, suffer not your self to be transported with passion.

Se laisser emporter à la flatterie, to give way to flattery.

Barnabas même se laissoit emporter à leur Dissimulation, (Gal. 2. 13.) Barnabas also was carried away with their Dissimulation.

Emporter des branches d'un Arbre, cd. les couper, to cut away some branches of a Tree.

Seigneur, si tu l'as emporté, di moi où tu l'as mis, (John 20. 15.) Sir, if thou hast born him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him.

Empourpré, (Terme Poétique) bloud-red, of a dark red colour.

Raisin empourpré, a bloud-red grape.

Empourprer, (Terme Poétique) donner une couleur de sang, to dy of a bloud-red colour.

† Empreint, imprinted, or ingraved. Say Gravé.

Empreinte, (f.) a stamp, print, or image.

Faire une empreinte, to make a stamp.

Fer chaud qui porte l'empreinte d'un Renard, a hot Iron with the print of a Fox.

L'empreinte de S. Pierre sur un Cierge, St. Peter's Image on a Wax-taper.

Empressé, busy, full of business, in haste either to do or say something.

Il fait fort l'empressé, he pretends a great deal of business, he pretends to be in great haste.

Empressement, (m.) haste.

Il y travaille avec empressement, he works at it in haste.

Or thus. As, il temoigne assez d'empressement pour ces choses, he seems to be forward enough in those things.

Avoir des empressements pour quelqu'un, to be ardently officious to one.

Empresser, faire travailler fort & ferme, to set hard at work.

As, ce Bruit de Guerre empressé tous les Armuriers, this Rumour of War sets all the Gun-smiths hard at work.

† Empresser, for Presser, to throng, as Mark 5. 31. and Luke 8. 42.

S'empresser, to be eager, earnest, or forward.

As, il s'empressé de travailler, he is eager to work.

Il s'empressé fort pour cela, he is very eager for that.

Emprisonné, imprisoned, put in prison, laid up, laid by the heels; bound, Heb. 13. 3.

Emprisonnement, (m.) Imprisonment.

Il est Cause de son Emprisonnement, he is the Cause of his Imprisonment.

Emprisonner, to imprison, to put in prison, to lay up, to lay by the heels.

As, emprisonner une personne, to lay one up, to put him in prison.

Emprunt, (m.) As, faire un emprunt, to borrow.

Emprunté, borrowed.

Emprunter, to borrow.

Emprunter de l'argent de quécun, to borrow money of one. Emprunter du Secours des Etrangers, to borrow Aid of Strangers.

Emprunter le Nom d'autrui, to borrow another's Name.

La Philosophie emprunte ses Ornaments de l'Eloquence, Philosophy borrows her Ornaments of Eloquence.

La Lune emprunte sa Lumière du Soleil, the Moon borrows her Light of the Sun.

Nous empruntons ces Ceremonies des Anciens, we borrow these Ceremonies of the Ancients.

† Emprunteur, (m.) a Borrower, or borrowing Man.

† Emprunteuse, (f.) a Borrower, or borrowing Woman.

Empuant, bestunk.

Empuantir, to bestink.

As, empuantir un Lieu, to bestink a Place.

S'empuantir, to begin to smell.

Viande qui s'empuantit, Meat that begins to smell.

Empyrée, Empyrean.

As, le Ciel Empyrée, or l'Empyrée alone, the Empyrean Heaven.

L'Empyrée est le plus haut de tous les Cieux, the Empyrean Heaven is the highest of all.

Emu. See Emeu.

Emulateur, (m.) Emulator; Imitator.

Emulation, (f.) emulation, imitation.

Avoir une belle emulation, to have a noble emulation. Donner de l'emulation, to create an emulation. Etre touché d'emulation, to be stirred up with emulation.

L'Emulation procede du Regret de n'avoir pas les Perfections que l'on reconoit aux autres, & de l'esperance d'y arriver, Emulation proceeds from the Regret one hath for the want of those Perfections which are discerned in others, and the hopes of attaining them.

La Force & le Courage de ces deux Heros se donnoient une emulation reciproque, the Strength and Courage of those two Heroes made a reciprocal emulation between one another.

Emule, (m.) a Scholar that contends with another.

Emulsion, (f.) Emulsion.

On appelle Emulsion une Potion faite avec des Amandes douces & les quatre Semences froides, pour humecter & pour faire dormir, an Emulsion is a Potion made of sweet Almonds and the four cold Seeds, to moisten the Body and cause sleep.

E N

As em is generally pronounced am, so is en sounded an; as prendre, entreprendre, entêtement.

Except 1. after i or y, in which case the e retains its proper Pronunciation, but that it takes something the sound of an i; as in these Words bien, chien, lien, mien, sien, tien, rien, vient, tient, Amiens, Chretien, Chretiené, moyen, Payen.

2. Where the Word ends in enne; and then it is pronounced like an e open, that is like the Diphthong ai; as antenne, preenne, and its Compounds.

Except after the Vowel i, for then it is sounded like an e masculine; as in these Words mienne, sienne, tienne, Chretienne, Chienne, Vienne, Valenciennes.

Lastly, ent, ending the third person Plural of a Verb, is so pronounced that the n is not heard at all; as ils parlent, ils mangent, ils boivent.

Comment, before a Word beginning with a Vowel, is pronounced comme. As, comment appelez vous cela? how d'ye call that?

Now En, the Particle, is used several Ways, viz. as a Preposition, a Pronoun, and an Adverb.

En, (a Preposition) in, into. Remarquez qu'on se sert de In là où il ne s'exprime point de Mouvement local, & d'Into tout au contraire. Par exemple, Il est en France, he is in France. Il veut aller en France, he will go into France.

Il est en Prison, he is in Prison. On le mene en Prison, he is carry'd into Prison.

Or thus. As, Ps. 108. 14. Nous ferons prouesse en Dieu, & il foulera nos Enemis, through God we shall do valiantly, for he it is that shall tread down our Enemies.

En, with a Participle of the Present Tense, bear the sense of the Latine Gerund ending in do, and are invariably used for all Persons and Numbers.

As, en dormant, sleeping; en mangeant, eating; en buvant, drinking.

Il est vrai qu'en Anglois on donne ordinairement un autre tour à cette sorte d'expression, en distinguant ainsi les Personnes & les Nombres. Exemple, en dormant, as I was (as thou wast, as he was) asleep; as we were (as you were, as they were) asleep;

cd. comme je dormois, comme tu dormois, comme il dormoit, comme nous dormions, comme vous dormiez, comme ils dormoient.

Il y a encore d'autres Manieres de rendre en Anglois cette sorte d'Expression, mais elles sont assez particulieres. Exemple, En songeant, ou comme il songeoit, in his dream. En se moquant, in mockery.

En disant cela, whilst he said that. En passant, by the by.

En après, en suite, afterwards. En fin, finally, at length, at last, qui se disent plus familièrement qu'en fine, qui se dit pourtant.

En haut, above, up. En bas, below, down.

En dedans, within side. En dehors, without.

This Particle is used moreover as an expletive Particle.

As, vous en avez tres mal agi envers moi, you have done very ill by me.

Il en est des Heros comme des autres Hommes, it is with Heroes as with other Men.

There en comes in very well with est. But, with any other Tense of the Verb Etre, followed by the Preposition de, the particle en must be left out.

As, il fera (not il en fera) de sa Felicité comme d'un Songe, his Happiness will prove as a Dream.

As for the different Use of en and dans, I refer you to Dans.

En, as a Relative Pronoun, is rendred several ways, according to the Person or Number to which it relates.

En, for de lui, of him. En, for d'elle, of her. En, for d'eux, or d'elles, of them.

As, je m'en veux defaire, I will be rid of him, of her, of them.

But sometimes en signifies de cela, and then it is Englished of it, on't. As, j'en suis bien aise, I am glad of it. Vous n'en avez que trop, you have but too much on't.

Or else it is made by for it, at it, to it, or in alone.

As, j'en suis fâché, I am sorry for it. J'en suis surpris, I wonder at it. Qu'en dites vous? what say you to it?

Il s'en repentira, he shall repent it. Je m'en souvien, I remember it. J'en ai de l'horreur, I hate it, I abhor it.

The same is also sometimes made by any, or some.

As, vous parlez d'argent, en avez vous? you talk of money, have you any? J'en aurai dans peu de jours, I shall have some in a few days.

Otherwise it is left out in English. As, je n'en ai point, I have none. Je n'en veux point, I'll have none.

C'en est fait, 'tis past recovery. En voulez vous être? will you make one? A quoi en serois je? what case should I be in? J'en suis là, that's my case, that's my temper.

J'en suis de même, it is so with me. Il en tient, he is caught.

En, the Adverb, is either an Adverb of Place, or an Adverb of Comparing.

En, as an Adverb of Place, is ever joined to a Verb, and then it signifies away from thence.

As, s'en aller, to go away. Venez vous en, come away. J'en vien, I come from thence.

En, an Adverb of Comparing, like.

As, vivre en bête, to live like a beast. Se comporter en honnête homme, cd. comme un honnête homme, to carry himself like an honest man.

† Enaigrir, fowred; grieved.

† Enaigrir, to sour; to grieve.

S'enaigrir, to sour; to grieve (both in a neutral sense.)

Ainsi mon cœur s'enaigrissoit, (Ps. 73. 20.) thus my heart was grieved.

Or thus. As, Col. 3. 19. Maris, aimez vos Femmes, & ne vous enaigrissez point contre elles, Husbands, love your Wives, and be not bitter against them.

† Enamouré, inamoured, in love.

As, enamouré d'une Donzelle, inamoured (in love) with a Gentlewoman.

† Enbas, for d'en bas, from below from beneath.

Il en vient d'en haut, & d'en bas, they come from above and below.

Vous êtes d'en bas, & moi d'en haut, (J. b. 8. 23.) you are from beneath, I am from above.

D'en bas, lower.

As, couper les branches d'en bas, to cut the lower branches.

Ença, for en ça. As, depuis mille ans ença, a thousand years since.

Enca, (m.) Vente de Biens par un Sergent Crieur, an Outcry, or publick Sale of private Goods.

Mettre ses Biens à l'enca, to make an Outcry, or a publick Sale of his Goods.

† Encanaillé, degenerated, debased, grown mean-spirited.

† Encanailler, to degenerate, to grow base, or mean-spirited.

Le Monde s'encanaille furieusement, the World is horribly degenerated.

Encaqué, barrell'd up.

Encaquer, to barrel up.

As, encaquer de la poudre à canon, la mettre dans un Caque, to barrel up gun-powder.

Encastellé, narrow-beeled.

As, un Cheval encastellé, a narrow-beeled Horse.

On appelle un Cheval encastellé, celui dont les Talons pressent si fort le Pié qu'ils font boiter le Cheval, ou l'empêchent de marcher à son aise.

† Encastelure, (f.) Douleur dans le pié de devant d'un Cheval, a painful Narrowness in a Horse's Heel.

† Encavé, laid in, laid in a Cellar.

† Encavement, (m.) a laying in, a laying in a Cellar.

† Congé d'Encavement, a Licence to lay Wine in a Cellar.

† Encaver, mettre en Cave, to lay in, to lay in a Cellar.

As, encaver du Vin, le mettre en Cave, to lay Wine in a Cellar.

† Encaveur, (m.) a Wine-Porter.

† Encendre, to incompass, to surround, to beset round. As Ps. 22. 12. Ps. 139. 3.

† Enceinte, (Adj.) with Child, got with Child.

As, une Femme enceinte, a Woman with Child. Elle est enceinte, she is with Child.

Devenir enceinte, to be got with Child.

Elle est enceinte de son premier Fruit, she goes with her first Child.

† Les Côtaux sont enceints de Joie, (Ps. 65. 12.) the little Hills rejoice on every side.

† Enceinte, (a fem. sub.) compass, circumference.

As, l'enceinte des Trenchées, ou d'une Maison, the compass of the Trenches, or of a House.
 L'enceinte de l'Autel, (Ex. 27. 5.) the compass of the Altar.
 Encens, (m.) incense, frankincense; praise, or commendation.
 Brûler de l'encens à quécun, to praise one.
 Encensé, censed, perfumed with frankincense.
 Encensement, (m.) a censuring, or perfuming with incense.
 Encenser, to cense, or perfume with frankincense; to praise, or commend.
 Encenser un Autel, to cense an Altar.
 Pour gagner son Amitié, il le faut toujours encenser, to get his Friendship, one must always praise him. Encenser les défauts de quécun, to praise (or commend) ones faults.
 Encensoir, (m.) a Censer, or perfuming Pan, a fire-pan, Ex. 27. 3.
 Enchaîné, bound in chains, ty'd up with a chain; linked, or joyned together.
 Un Chien enchaîné, a Dog ty'd up.
 Des choses enchaînées les unes dans les autres, Things linked together.
 Enchaînement, (m.) concatenation, connexion, affinity.
 Les Sciences ont entr'elles une espece d'enchaînement, there is a kind of affinity betwixt all Sciences.
 Enchaîner, to bind up in chains, to ty up with a chain or chains; to link, or joyn together.
 Enchaîner les Galériens, to bind up the Galley-slaves in chains.
 Enchaîner la Raïson avec la Rime, to joyn Reason with Rhime, to link them both together.
 Enchanté, enchanted, charmed, bewitched; enchanted, charming, bewitching, pleasant.
 Il est enchanté, he is enchanted, charmed, or bewitched.
 Un Palais enchanté an enchanted Palace, a charming (or bewitching) Palace.
 Elle a des Manieres enchantées, she hath bewitching Ways with her.
 Enchantement, (m.) Incantment, or Charm; a ravishing pleasure; a charm, or charming quality.
 C'est un étrange enchantement, 'tis a strange kind of charm.
 C'est un enchantement que de l'entendre jouer de l'Epinette, 'tis a ravishing pleasure to hear her play at Virginals.
 Elle est toute pleine d'enchantemens, she is all full of charms, or of charming qualities.
 Enchanter, to inchant, charm, or bewitch.
 As, enchanter quécun, to inchant (charm, or bewitch) one. Enchanter les Armes de son Enemi, to charm his Enemies Arms.
 Tout ce qu'elle fait m'enchanté, all that she does charms me, I am charmed with all her actions. Elle a je ne sai quel air qui enchante, something she has in her Ways that's charming.
 Enchantresse, (f.) an Inchantress, a Witch; a Beauty, a charming Beauty.
 C'est une grande Enchantresse, she is a great Inchantress.
 Je ne conoi point ici d'autre Enchantresse que Vous, I know here no charming Beauty but Your self.
 †Enchanterie, (f.) delusion, deceit, or juggling trick.
 As, il n'y a point là d'enchanterie, there is no juggling trick in that.
 Enchanteur, (m.) a Witch, or Wizard, a Sorcerer, a Charmer, Deut. 18. 11.
 Pharaon avoit des Enchanteurs, Pharaoh had Sorcerers about him.
 †Enchargé, bid, commanded.
 †Encharger, to bid, to command.
 Enchassé, set in, put in.
 Une Chose bien enchassée, a Thing well set in.
 Un Mot bien enchassé, a Word well put in.
 Enchasser, to set in, to put in.
 Enchasser une pierre dans de l'or, to set a stone in gold.
 Or thus. As, la Nature enchasse les Esprits les plus brillans dans les plus petits Corps, Nature sets out the least Bodies with the finest Souls.

 †Je m'enchasse dans ce Fauteuil, I sit close upon this great Chair.
 Enchere, (f.) an out-bidding, or inhancing of the Price.
 Faire une enchere, to out-bid, to bid more than another.
 †Vous en payerez la folle enchere, you shall pay dear for it.
 Encheri, grown dearer.
 As, la Viande est encherie, Meat is grown dearer.
 Encherir, to raise the price of, to sell dearer; to grow dearer; to out-bid, or bid more; to out-do, excel, or do better.
 Les Bouchers encherissent la Viande, the Butchers raise the price of their Meat, the Butchers sell their Meat dearer.
 La Viande encherit, Meat grows dearer.
 Encherir sur une personne, to out-bid one, to bid more than he.
 Encherir sur quécun, to out-do one, to excel him, to do better than he.
 Encherisseur, (m.) an Out-bidder.
 Le dernier Encherisseur, he that bid's most.
 Enchevêtré, intangled with his halter.
 Enchevêtrure, (f.) an Excoriation in the Pastern of a Horse.
 C'est une Excoriation dans le Paturon, causée par la longe du Licou qui s'y est accrochée, lors que le Cheval s'étant voulu grater le Cou avec les piez de derriere s'est pris dans la longe.
 Enchifrené, qui a un Rhume qui le tient au cerveau, whose nose is stoppt with a Cold or Rhume.
 Je suis tout enchifrené, my nose is quite stopped with a cold.
 Enchifrenement, (m.) Rhume qui est au Cerveau, a Rhume in the Brains.
 J'ai un enchifrenement qui m'incommode fort, I am very much troubled with a Rhume.
 †Enciclopedie. See Encyclopedie.
 Enclavé, mortised, set within another.
 As, un Poutre enclavé dans un autre, a mortised Beam, a Beam set within another.
 Principauté enclavée dans un Etat, a Principality lying within the bounds of another State.
 Enclaver, cd. enfermer (ou mettre) dedans, to mortise, or set one within another.
 Enclin, inclined, inclinable, bent, prone, apt, ready, or willing.
 Etre enclin à quécun chose, to be inclined to something.
 Enclin à faire plaisir à tout le Monde, ready (or willing) to oblige all the World.
 Or thus. As, Rom. 12. 10. Soyez enclins, par Charité fraternelle, à montrer de l'affection l'un envers l'autre, be kindly affectioned one to another, with brotherly Love.
 †Encliné. As, John 8. 6. Jesus etant encliné en bas, Jesus being stooped down.
 †Encliner, to incline. Say Incliner.
 †Enclorre, to shut up, to conclude.
 As, Ps. 31. 8. Tu ne m'as point enclos en la main de l'Enemi, thou hast not shut me up into the hand of the Enemy.
 L'Ecriture a tout enclos sous le Peché, (Gal. 3. 22.) the Scripture has concluded all under Sin.
 †Enclos, shut up, concluded.
 Or thus. As, Jos. 8. 22. †Ainsi ils furent enclos des Israélites, so they were in the midst of Israel.
 Enclos, (a masc. Subst.) an Inclosure.
 Encloué. As, un Cheval encloué, a Horse pricked to the quick in the shoeing.
 Canon encloué, a Cannon nailed up.
 Enclouer un Cheval, le blesser avec le Clou quand on le ferre, to prick a Horse to the quick in the shoeing.
 Enclouer un Canon, to nail up a Cannon, to drive a nail (or iron-pin) into the touch-hole thereof.
 Enclouëure, (f.) a prick in a Horses foot, or the like.
 Enclouëure est l'atteinte d'un Clou, qui en le brochant est entré si avant dans le pié, qu'il a été jusqu'au vif, ou a pressé la Veine qui est dans le Pié du Cheval.

L'enclouëure negligée peut devenir un grand Mal, the fighting of a prick in a Horse's foot may prove very mischievous.
 Or thus. As, †j'ai decouvert où est l'enclouëure, I found out where the mischief lay.
 Enclume, (f.) an anvil, a Smith's anvil.
 Batre le fer chaud sur l'enclume, to beat a hot iron upon the anvil.
 Souche d'Enclume, le gros Billet de bois sur lequel est posée l'Enclume, the anvil-stock.
 Encoché, nocked, or notched, as an arrow.
 Encocher une fleché, to nock an arrow, to put the nock thereof into the bow-string.
 Encognure, or Encoignure, (f.) corner, as Ex. 26. 23; corner-stone, Ps. 144. 12.
 Encolure. See Encoulure.
 Encombrement, (m.) Terme de Marine, Cumber, the Cumber of a Ship.
 Encongnure. See Encognure.
 †Encontre, (f.) luck, chance, fortune.
 C'est bonne encontre que tu fuis, cd. tu fuis ton bonheur, tu fuis une heureuse rencontre, thou withstandest thine own good fortune.
 †A l'encontre, (a Prep.) against. Say contre.
 Avoir son recours à l'encontre quécun, to have his remedy against one.
 Encor, Encore. The first of these Words is used in Verses, but especially at the end of them. Encore, with an e final, is the Word in prose.
 They both signify yet, as yet; still; more, also, too, even; however.
 As, il n'est pas encore éveillé, he is not awake yet. Je n'en suis pas encore asseuré, I am not as yet sure of it.
 Mais tout de bon, est il encore au Lit? but seriously, is he a-bed still? Ose-t-il bien encore paroître? does he dare still shew his face? Elle est encore au travail, she is at work still.
 Encore une fois, once more. Je vous demande encore cette grace, I beg this favour of you more. Nierez vous encore ceci? will you deny this too? Non seulement il a perdu l'accessoire, mais encore le principal, he has not only lost the accessories, but even the principal.
 Encore, s'il avoit fait ce qu'on l'avoit prié de faire, on n'auroit pas sujet de se plaindre, however, had he done what he was desired to do, there would be no cause of complaint.
 Or thus. As, Gal. 6. 3. Si quécun pense être quécun chose, encore qu'il ne soit rien, if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing.
 Encore que, though, although.
 Encore qu'elle ne soit pas belle, though she be not handfom.
 Encoulure, (f.) la partie du Cou du Cheval qui est bordée par le haut du Crin, & par le dessous du Gofier, Crest, the Crest of a Horse.
 Ce Cheval a une fort belle encoulure, that Horse has a fine crest.
 Or thus. As, †c'est lui même, je le connoi à l'encoulure, 'tis he himself, I know him by his meen.
 Encouragé, incouraged.
 Encouragement, (m.) Incouragement.
 Encourager, to encourage.
 Il faut l'encourager, he must be encouraged.
 Encourir, to incur, to run himself into.
 As, encourir une amende, to incur a penalty.
 †S'encourir, to run. As 1 Sam. 4. 12. Un Homme de Benjamin s'encourut de la Bataille, there ran a Man of Benjamin out of the Army.
 Encrassé, rempli de crasse, grown nasty, or rusty.
 Encrasser, se remplir de crasse, to grow nasty, or rusty.
 Le Corps s'encrassé, the Body grows nasty.
 Or thus. As, †l'Esprit s'encrassé dans la Province, a man's Parts grow rusty in the Country.
 Encre, (f.) ink.
 Encre noire, ou rouge, black, or red ink.
 Encre luisante, shining ink.
 Encuirassé, grown stiff with nastiness.

As, du linge encuirassé, linnen grown stiff with nastiness.
 s'Encuirasser, to grow stiff with nastiness.
 Encuvé, put into a Tub.
 Encuver, to put into a Tub.
 †Encyclopedie, (f.) Science universelle, Encyclopedia, a Collection of all the Sciences.
 Endetté, indebted.
 Il est fort endetté, he is very much indebted, he is deeply indebted.
 Endetter quécun, to make one run into debt.
 s'Endetter, to run into debt.
 Je n'aime point à m'endetter, I don't love to run into debt.
 †Endéver, cd. enrager, to be mad.
 As, il endève, he is mad.
 Faire endéver quécun, to make one mad.
 Vous me faites endéver, you make me mad.
 †Endiable, devilish mischievous.
 C'est un Endiable, he is devilish mischievous.
 Endive, (f.) forte d'Herbe, Endive.
 †Endoctrinement, (m.) learning, as Rom. 15. 4; Doctrin, 1 Tim. 4. 13.
 †Endoctriner, to teach, or instruct.
 As, Prov. 5. 13. Je n'ai point incliné mon oreille à ceux qui m'endoctrinoient, I have not inclined my ear to them that instructed me.
 And Matth. 28. 19. Allez, & endoctrinez toutes Nations, go you, and teach all Nations.
 Or thus. As, 2 Tim. 3. 16. toute l'Ecriture est profitable à endoctriner, all Scripture is profitable for Doctrin.
 Endommagé, that has received damage; indamaged, defrauded.
 Je craignois d'être endommagé, I was afraid of being indamaged.
 Endommager, to indamage; to defraud.
 †Endormeur, (m.) As, un Endormeur de Couleuvres, un Conteur de fariboles, a deceitful Flatterer.
 Endormi, sleepy, drowsy, heavy with sleep; asleep, lulled asleep.
 Je suis tout endormi, I am very sleepy, I am heavy with sleep.
 L'Enfant est endormi, the Child is asleep.
 Etre endormi dans les Delices, to be lulled asleep in Pleasures.
 Endormir, to make sleep, to cast into a sleep; to lull (or lay) asleep; to charm asleep; to deceive by fair words.
 Cette Emulsion vous endormira, this Emulsion will make you sleep. Endormir ses Auditeurs, to cast his Auditors into a sleep.
 Endormir un Enfant, to lull (or lay) a Child asleep. Il ne put jamais trouver le Sommeil, ni endormir ses Inquietudes, he could never find Repose, nor lay asleep his Inquietudes.
 Cette Musique m'endort, this Musick charms me asleep. Endormir sa douleur, to charm his pain asleep.
 Si vous n'y prenez garde, il vous endormira, if you don't look to it, he will deceive you by fair words.
 S'endormir, to fall asleep; to be careless, or negligent; to sleep, or die.
 As, il s'endort, he falls asleep. On s'endort plutôt à l'Eglise qu'à la Comedie, people are a great deal more apt to fall asleep in the Church than in the Play-house.
 S'endormir sur son Livre, to fall asleep upon his Book.
 Il s'endort au plus fort de ses Affaires, he neglects his Business strangely, he is guilty of a great neglect.
 S'endormir sur la bonté de quécun, to neglect all and rely on a man's goodness.
 Ainsi David s'endormit avec ses Peres, & fut enseveli dans la Cité de David, (1 Kings 2. 10.) so David slept with his Fathers, and was bury'd in the City of David.
 Endossé, indorsed; laden.
 Endosser, to indorse, or write on the back; to load, or lay upon ones back; to put on.
 Je vous prie d'endosser sur l'Obligation l'Argent que je vous ai donné, pray, indorse upon the Bond the Money you had of me.
 † Je vien de lui endosser tout l'Ecot, I laid all the Reckoning upon his back.

Endosser l'Ecarlate, to put on the Scarlet.
 Endroit, (m.) a place; a bit, or place of a Joyn of meat; the right side of a stuff.
 En quel endroit? in what place? where? whereabouts? En cet endroit, in this place, here, hereabouts.
 Les bons endroits d'un Lapereau, the good bits of a young Rabbet. Voila le bon endroit, donnez m'en, there's the good bit, give me some. Voila le meilleur endroit, there's the best place, or bit.
 Montrer l'endroit de l'Etoffe, to shew the right side of the Stuff.
 Or thus. As, je ne le conoi que par cet endroit là, I know him no other way.
 La Fortune n'est jamais si mauvaise qu'elle n'ait quelques bons endroits, Fortune is never so bad, but some good may be picked out of it.
 † Il en a mal agi en mon endroit, he has done very ill by me. Afin qu'on en agisse ainsi en mon endroit, (1 Cor. 9. 15.) that it should be so done unto me. En son endroit, in particular, Eph. 5. 33; unto him, John 12. 16.
 † A l'endroit de, (a Prep.) in the presence of, as Gen. 16. 12; before, Jos. 6. 5. Ps. 52. 9; about, Rev. 1. 13.
 Or thus. As, 1 Cor. 9. 19. bien que je sois libre à l'endroit de tous, though I be free from all men.
 Enduire, (Terme de Maçon) to plaister.
 As, enduire un Mur, to plaister a Wall.
 Enduit, plaistered.
 As, Muraille enduite, a plaistered Wall.
 Enduit, (a masc. Subst.) plaister.
 Or thus. As, Lev. 14. 41. Il fera racler l'enduit de la Maison par dedans tout à l'entour, he shall scrape the House to be scraped within round about.
 Endurant, (Adj.) from Endurer, patient.
 As, il n'est pas fort endurant, he is not very patient.
 Endurci, hardened, obdurate, inured; stiff, Pf. 75. 5; blinded, 2 Cor. 3. 14.
 Endurci au travail des son Enfance, hardened (or inured) to labour from his Infancy.
 Un Pecheur endureci, an obdurate Sinner.
 Un Courage endureci, a Valour inured to action, or well-fleshed in action.
 Endurcir, to harden, to inure.
 Dieu endurecit le Cœur de Pharaon, God hardened Pharaoh's Heart.
 La Coutume endurecit à la fatigue, Custom inures one to hardship.
 S'endurcir, to harden himself, or be hardened; to inure himself; to withstand.
 S'endurcir au travail, to inure himself to labour.
 S'endurcir contre les pleurs, to withstand tears, to grow inflexible.
 Endurcissement, (m.) hardness of heart; blindness, Eph. 4. 18.
 Endurer, to endure, suffer, or bear with; to forbear, 1 Thess. 3. 1.
 Endurer beaucoup, to endure (to suffer) much.
 Le Loup endure patiemment la faim, the Wolf endures hunger patiently.
 Le Diamant endure le marteau, the Diamond endures the hammer.
 Enemi, (m.) an Enemy, or Foe.
 Se declarer Enemi de quécun, to declare himself Enemy to one. Le traiter en Enemi, to treat him like an Enemy. Se faire des Enemis, to create Enemies to himself.
 Vous êtes l'Enemi de ma Gloire, you are an Enemy to my Glory. Je n'ai point de plus grand Enemi au Monde que vous, I have no greater Enemy in the World than you are.
 Un Enemi déclaré, a professed Enemy. Un cruel Enemi, a cruel Enemy.
 La Religion Chretienne nous oblige d'aimer nos Enemis, & d'avoir des sentimens de tendresse pour eux, Christian Religion obliges us to love our Enemies, and to be tender of them.
 Un Enemi de Guerre, an Enemy. Combattre l'Enemi, to fight the Enemy. Faire la Guerre dans le Pais Enemi, to war in the Enemies Country, to make it the seat of War. Tomber entre les mains de l'Enemi, to fall into the Enemies hand.

Un Enemi des Lettres, de la Societé, an Enemy of Learning, of Society.
 Or thus. Je suis enemi du Mensonge, I hate a Lie.
 Enemie, (f.) an Enemy, a foe-Enemy.
 Elle est mon Enemie déclarée, she is my professed Enemy.
 Energie, (f.) force d'expression, energy, emphasis.
 Un Mot plein d'energie, a Word full of energy, an emphatical Word.
 Energique, energetical, emphatical.
 Son Discours est energique, his Discourse is energetical, or full of energy.
 Enervement, (m.) possédé du Demon, possessed by the Devil.
 Enervé, enervated, weak.
 As, un Style mol & enervé, a soft and weak Style.
 Enerver, cd. affoiblir beaucoup, to enervate, to weaken.
 Le Vin & les Femmes enervent, quand on ne garde point de mesure, Wine and Women immoderately used do enervate a Man.
 Enerver un Cheval. C'est lui couper deux Tendons qu'il a au côté de la Tête, environ cinq pouces au dessous des Yeux, & qui s'assemblent en un au bout du Né, dont ils font le mouvement. On coupe aussi ce Tendon au bout du Né, & cela s'appelle abusivement enerver, puis que ce n'est pas un Nerf qu'on coupe, mais un Tendon. On enerve donc un Cheval, pour lui dessécher la Tête, & la rendre menue.
 Enfance, (f.) Infancy, or Childhood; Infancy, first age, or beginning.
 Des mon Enfance, from my Infancy, from a Child.
 L'Enfance du Monde, the Infancy (or first Age) of the World.
 Enfant, (m. and f.) a Child, an Infant, a little Boy, or Girl, a Babe. Mais ce dernier ne se dit proprement que d'un Enfant à berceau.
 Un bel Enfant, a fine Child. Ma chere Enfant, my dear Child, (speaking of a Girl.)
 Avoir plusieurs Enfans, to have many Children, or great many Issue.
 Faire un Enfant, to be brought to bed of a Child, to bring forth a Child. Etre en travail d'Enfant, to be in labour. Etre hors d'âge d'avoir des Enfans, to be past Child-bearing, to be past Child-bearing.
 Les Enfans sont susceptibles du Bien & du Mal, Children are capable of Good and Evil. Il faut retenir les Enfans plutôt par l'Honneur & par le Devoir que par l'Apprehension & la Peine, Children must be rather kept in by the motives of Honour and Duty than by Fear and Correction.
 Les Enfans de Dieu, the Children of God. Les Enfans du Diable, the Devil's Children.
 † Enfans perdus, Soldats qu'on expose les premiers, the forlorn Hope, the Perdues.
 Enfans trouvez, pauvres petits Enfans qu'on a exposez dans les Rues, Children found by chance; also the Hospital where such Children are kept and brought up.
 Enfans bleus, the blew Boys. Enfans rouges, the red Boys. So they call at Paris poor Children brought up in two Hospitals there, they of one Hospital being attired in red, and those of the other in blew, as they are here in Christ-church Hospital.
 Enfans de Chœur, singing Boys. Enfans de Cuisine, ou Galopins, the King's Cooks Boys.
 † Un Enfant gâté, cd. qui est libertin, & qu'on n'eleve pas avec assez de crainte ni de severité, a Child quite spoiled, a wilful (stubborn) Child, that wants a strict hand over him.
 Enfantement, (m.) Terme consacré.
 As, sentir les douleurs de l'Enfantement, to feel the pains of a Woman in labour.
 Le ridicule enfantement des Montagnes, the ridiculous brood of the Mountains.
 Enfanter, to bring forth; to be in travel, John 16. 21.
 Enfanter un fils, to bring forth a Child. But it is hardly used in that sense, except when we speak of the blessed Virgin in relation to our Saviour.

As, Matt. 1. 21. elle enfantera un Fils qui sera appelé Jesus, she shall bring forth a Son, who shall be called Jesus.
In a figurative Sense, this Word is very much in use.

As, enfanter un Volume, to bring forth a Volume.

Ne te vante point du Jour de demain, car tu ne fais pas ce qu'il enfantera, (Prov. 27. 1.) boast not thy self of to morrow, for thou knowest not what a Day may bring forth.
Quand la Convoitise a conceu, elle enfante le Peché, (Jam. 1. 15.) when Lust hath conceived, it brings forth Sin.

Enfantin, qui est d'Enfant, ou qui a l'air d'Enfant, Childish, or proper to Children; childish, or like a Child.

As, Jeu enfantin, a childish Play.
Mine enfantine, a childish look. Façon d'agir enfantine, a childish way.

Enfariné, made white with meal.
Or thus, As, † Il s'en est venu la gueule enfarinée, ad. plein d'esperance d'obtenir ce qu'il croyoit, he came big with expectation.

† Avoir la tête enfarinée, to be over-much powdered, to have his hair all white with powder.

Enfariner, to make white with meal.
Il m'a tout enfariné, he has made me white all over with meal.

† Enfariner sa tête, s'enfariner de poudre, to make his hair all white with powder.

Enfer, (m.) Hell, the Place of the Damned; Hell, or the Devils in Hell; a Hell, or Place which one cannot endure; a hellish noise.

Les Payens même ont crû, qu'il y avoit un Enfer pour les Mechans, the very Heathens believed a Hell for the Wicked.

Les Demons sont vaincus, l'Enfer est désarmé, the Devils are overcome, Hell is disarmed.

C'est mon Enfer que ce Lieu là, that Place is a Hell to me.

† Il a l'Enfer chez lui, there's a hellish noise at his house.

Enfermé, locked (or shut) in; locked up; inclosed, or hemmed in.

Or thus, Prisonnier que l'on tient étroitement enfermé, a close Prisoner.

Enfermer, to lock (or shut) in; to lock up; to inclose, or hem in.

Enfermer quécun à la clef, to lock (or shut) one in.

Enfermer ses Habits, son Linge, & ses Livres, to lock up his Cloaths, his Linnen, and his Books.

Enfermer l'Enemi de toutes parts, to hem in the Enemy on all sides.

Or thus, As, enfermer de murailles une Ville, to wall a Town about.

† Enfermer, se nuire à soi même par ses paroles ou par sa conduite, to insnare (or intangle) himself, to fall upon his own sword.

Il s'est enfermé lui même par ses Réponses, he has intangled himself by his own Answers, he is fallen upon his own sword.

Enfilé, tied close with a string.

Enfiler un Chapeau, le fermer avec une ficelle, to ty a Hat close with a string.

Enfilade, (f.) Terme de Guerre. C'est une Situation de Terrain, qui decouvre un Poste selon toute la longueur d'une Ligne droite.

Enfilé, threaded; strung.

Enfiler, to thread; to string; to enter upon; to go through; to run through.

As, enfiler une aiguille, to thread a needle.

Enfiler des perles, to string pearls.

Enfiler un Discours, to enter upon a Discourse, to begin it.

Enfiler une Rue, to go through a street. Il enfile ce Chemin, he went (he took) that Way.

Enfiler quécun, lui passer son épée au travers du Corps, to run one through.

† Enfiler une Femme, to run a Woman through (in a Venereous sense.)

Or thus, As, † enfiler la Venelle, s'enfuir, to run away.

Enfiler, en Termes de Guerre, c'est battre & netteyer toute l'étendue d'une Ligne droite.

Une Pyramide qui enfiloit un Globe, a Pyramid with a Globe upon it.

S'enfiler, to run himself through.

Ils se sont enfilés l'un l'autre, they run one another through.

Enfin, See En fin, under the Word En, or Fin.

† Enflambé, (as 2 Pet. 3. 12.) See Enflam-mé.

Enflammé, on fire, all in a flame, all of a light fire; inflamed, heated, animated.

Le Palais est tout enflammé, the Palace is all in a flame, 'tis all of a light fire.

Etre enflammé de quécque Passion, to be inflamed with a Passion.

Enflammer, to set all in a flame, or of a light fire; to inflame, heat, animate.

Le Feu s'est pris au haut du Toit, & a tout enflammé, the Fire begun at the very top of the House, and hath set all on a flame.

Je ne veux pas enflammer la Colere, I will not inflame his Anger. Votre Beauté & vos Discours m'enflamment, your Beauty and Discourses inflame me, I am inflamed both with your Beauty and Discourses.

S'enflammer, to be inflamed, to be kindled.

Prenez garde que la Colere de l'Eternel ne s'enflamme contre vous (Deut. 11. 17.) take heed that the Lords Wrath be not kindled against you.

Enflé, swelled, blown, puffed (lifted) up; proud, 1 Tim. 6. 4; high-minded, 2 Tim. 3. 4.

Mon Ventre est enflé, my Belly is swelled.

Une Vessie enflée, a blown Bladder.

Enflé d'orgueil, puffed (lifted) up with pride.

Or thus, As, un Style enflé, a bumbastick (swelling, or tumid) Style.

Deslors les Eaux enflées furent passées sur notre ame (Ps. 124. 5.) then the proud Waters had gone over our Soul.

Enfler, to make swell, to swell, to blow, to puff up.

Cela vous enflera le Ventre, that will make your Belly swell.

Tous ces petits Succès enflaient ses Espérances, all those small Successes swelled his Hopes.

Enfler une Vessie, to blow a Bladder.

Cela lui enfla le courage, that puffed him up, that puffed up his heart. La Connoissance enfile, (1 Cor. 3. 1.) Knowledge puffeth up.

Or thus, As, la Retaille fait enfler les boutons de la premiere Seve, the Re-cutting of Trees makes the buds of the first Sap to fill up.

S'enfler, to swell (in a neutral sense;) to be puffed up.

Une Apostume qui commence à s'enfler, an Impostume that begins to swell.

Les Veines s'enflent, the Veins swell.

Quèques uns se font enfler, (1 Cor. 4. 18.) some are puffed up.

La Charité ne s'enfile point, (1 Cor. 13. 4.) Charity is not puffed up.

Enflure, (f.) swelling, tumour; a swelling Style.

Son enflure est dangereuse, his swelling is dangerous.

L'Enflure est un grand Vice en matiere de Discours, a swelling Style in point of Discourse is a great Fault.

Enfoncé, forced, (thrust, pulled, or drove) down; hollow; that has a bottom; gone far (gone a great way) in; routed, or broke through; broke open.

Un Chapeau enfoncé, a Hat pulled down close to ones head. Des Pieux entoncez bien avant dans la Terre, Stakes drove (or forced) down very deep into the Earth.

Un Plat enfoncé, a hollow Dish. Une Affiete enfoncée, a hollow Plate. Des Yeux enfonchez, hollow Eyes, Eyes sunk in ones head.

Des Joues enfoncées, hollow Cheeks.

Une Futaille enfoncée, a Cask with a bottom.

Enfoncé dans une Forêt, gone a great way into a Forest. Enfoncé dans une Matiere, gone far into a Subject.

Un Bataillon, ou un Escadron enfoncé, a Battalion (or Squadron) routed, or broke through.

Une Porte, ou une Prison enfoncée, a Door, or a Prison broke open.

Or thus, As, Lev. 13. 3. si la Plaie, à la voir, est plus enfoncée que la peau de la chair, c'est plaie de Lepre, if the Plague in sight be deeper than the skin of the flesh, 'tis a plague of Leprosy.

Ta Main s'est enfoncée sur moi, (Ps. 38. 2.) thy Hand presseth me sore.

Enfoncement, (m.) a bottom, hole, nook, or hollow Place.

As, l'enfoncement d'une Vallée, the bottom of a Valley.

Voila un Enfoncement fort propre à mettre un Lit, there's a Nook proper for a Bed.

Enfoncer, to sink (force, trust, pull, or drive) down; to make deep; to clap on a bottom; to rout, or break through; to break open.

As, enfoncer son Chapeau, to pull down his hat close to his head. Enfoncer des pieux en terre, to drive stakes into the ground.

Enfoncer un Plat, ou une Affiete, to make a Dish or Plate deep.

Enfoncer une Futaille, to clap a bottom to a Cask.

Enfoncer un Escadron, ou un Bataillon, to break through a Squadron, or a Battalion.

S'enfoncer, to sink (in a neutral sense;) to go far (or a great way) in; to dive into.

As, s'enfoncer dans l'eau, aller à fond, to sink to the bottom.

S'enfoncer dans une Matiere, to dive into a Matter, to go a great way into it.

Enfonceure, (f.) the boarded bottom of a Bedstead; all the pieces belonging to the bottom of a Cask.

Or thus, As, Lev. 13. 55. c'est enfonceure en son envers, ou en son endroit pelé, it is fret inward, whether be it bare within or without.

† Enfondré, sunk, drowned, overwhelmed.

As, l'élite de ses Capitaines a été enfondrée en la Mer rouge, (Ex. 15. 4.) his chosen Captains are drowned in the Red Sea.

Je suis enfondré dans un Bourbier profond (Ps. 69. 2.) I sink in deep Mire.

And Ps. 9. 15. Les Nations ont été enfondrées en la Fosse qu'elles avoient faite, the Heathens are sunk down in the Pit that they made.

† Enfondrer, to sink down, or overwhelm.

Enfondrer un Chemin, to make a deep Way.

S'enfondrer, to sink, to drown, or be overwhelmed.

† Enfourir, ad. cacher, to hide.

Il ne faut pas enfourir les Talens que Dieu nous a donnez, we must not hide the Talents God hath given us.

Enfourné, put (or laid) into the Oven.

Enfourner, mettre dans le Four, to put (or lay) into the Oven.

As, enfourner du Pain, des que le Four est chaud, to put the Bread into the Oven, as soon as the Oven is hot.

Or thus, As, † il n'y a qu'à bien enfourner d'abord, ad. à bien commencer, the main business is to begin well.

Enfreindre, ou Enfreindre, ad. violer, to infringe, break, or transgress.

As, enfreindre les Loix, to infringe (break, or transgress) the Laws.

Il a meprisé la Parole de l'Eternel, & a enfreint son Commandement, (Numb. 15. 31.) he hath despised the Word of the Lord, and hath broken his Commandment.

Enfreint, broken.

As John 10. 35. L'Ecriture ne peut être enfreinte, the Scripture cannot be broken.

† Enfuir, to fly, to run away.

Des qu'ils nous apperceurent ils s'enfuirent, as soon as they perceived us, they fled.
 Ils s'en sont fuis à la premiere decharge, they fled at the first charge.
 Enfumé, smoked, troubled with the smook; smoaky.
 Nous sommes ici enfumés d'une maniere insupportable, here we are smoked in an insufferable manner.
 Jaune enfumé, smoaky Yellow.
 Entumer, to smook, to fill (or trouble) with smook.
 Engagé, engaged, drawn in, or obliged; pawned, given in pawn, mortgaged.
 Or thus. As, la Clef est engagée dans la serrure, the Key is fast in the Lock.
 Engagement, (m.) engagement, or obligation; allurements, temptation.
 C'est un grand engagement, 'tis a great obligation; also, 'tis a great temptation.
 Engager, to engage, draw in, or oblige; to pawn, to give in pawn, or mortgage.
 Je l'ai engagé à cette Guerre, I have engaged him in this War.
 Engager l'Enemi à une Bataille, to draw in the Enemy to a Battle, to oblige them to fight.
 Il faut l'engager par quelque tour d'Ami, you must draw him in (you must oblige him) by some friendly Office.
 Engager sa Vaisselle pour une Somme d'argent, to pawn his Plate for a Sum of money.
 Engager son Bien, to mortgage his estate.
 Or thus. As, engager la Clef dans la serrure, to make the Key fast in the Lock.
 S'engager, to engage (involve, or run) himself; to be bound, or to stand security.
 As, s'engager dans une Affaire, to engage, (or involve) himself in a Business.
 S'engager dans un mauvais pas, to run himself into a Danger.
 S'engager pour un Ami, to stand bound for a Friend.
 Or thus. As, s'engager dans quelque Parti, to join (or side) with a Party.
 Notre Navire s'engagea entre des Rochers, our Ship run in amongst Rocks.
 La Clef s'est engagée dans la serrure, the Key has got fast in the Lock.
 †Enganymeder, cd. abuser honteusement d'un jeune Garçon, to bugger.
 †Engarder, to keep, with-hold, or restrain.
 Ainsi on engarda le Peuple d'offrir, (Ex. 36. 6.) so the People were restrained from bringing.
 †Engé, (from Enger) furnished, stocked; given; marry'd, or given in marriage.
 †Engéance, (f.) Seed, Off-spring, Generation.
 As Gen. 7. 3. afin que l'engéance en soit conservée sur toute la Terre, to keep seed alive upon the face of all the Earth.
 And Matt. 23. 7. Engéances de Vipères, qui vous avertis de fuir l'Ire à venir? O Generation of Vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the Wrath to come?
 Engéin. See Engin.
 Engélure, (f.) chilblain.
 J'ai des engélures aux piez qui m'incommodent fort, I got chilblains in my feet which trouble me very much.
 †Engence. See Engéance.
 Engendré, got, begot, ingendered, procreated; begot, bred, or caused.
 Moliere has used it in another sense, to signify one that has got a Son in Law, but he is singular in that.
 Engendrer, to get, beget, ingender, procreate; to beget, breed, cause, ingender, or gender, as 2 Tim. 2. 23; to minister, 1 Tim. 1. 4; to work, Jam. 1. 3; to bring forth, Jam. 1. 15.
 Engendrer des Enfants, to get (beget, or procreate) Children; to bear Children, 1 Tim. 2. 23.
 Il a le temperament qu'il faut pour engendrer, he is of a right temper to get Children.
 Dieu le Pere engendre le Fils, God the Father begets the Son.
 Ce Fruit engendre de bon Sang, this Fruit breeds (or ingenders) good blood.
 Les Procès engendrent des Inimitiez, Law-sutes

beget Enmity's.
 L'Abondance engendre les Divisions, Plenty begets Divisions.
 S'engendrer, to be bred, or ingendered; to come, 1 Tim. 6. 4.
 †Enger, to furnish, to stock; to give; to marry, or give in marriage.
 As, qui a engé votre Jardin de cette Herbe? elle ne vaut rien, who has stocked your Garden with this Herb? 'tis good for nothing.
 Un tel m'a engé de ce Plant, such a one has given me that young Tree.
 Or thus. On dit, ma Mignonne, que votre Papa veut vous engager d'un Ministre, they say, my dear Heart, that your Father will marry you to a Minister.
 Engin, (m.) Engine, Tool, Instrument.
 Engins de Guerre, Warlike Engins.
 Engin is also used in a burlesk sense, to express a mans Tool of Generation, that which gets Emperours and Kings.
 Engerbé, sheafed, or bound up in a sheaf.
 Engerber, to sheaf, or bind up in a sheaf.
 As, engerber le blé, to sheaf corn, to bind it up in sheaves.
 Englouti, swallowed up, or devoured; drowned.
 As, englouti de Tristesse, (2 Cor. 2. 7.) swallowed up with sorrow.
 Les Egyptiens furent engloutis, (Heb. 11. 29.) the Egyptians were drowned.
 C'est un Gouffre, il engloutit tout, 'tis a Whirl-pool, he swallows up any thing that comes near him.
 Il vient engloutir mes Tresors, he comes to swallow up all my Treasures.
 Le Diable, comme un Lion rugissant, va cherchant de côté & d'autre qui il pourra engloutir, (1 Pet. 5. 8.) the Devil, as a roaring Lion, walks about, seeking whom he may devour.
 Englué, caught with bird-lime.
 Engluier, to catch with bird-lime.
 Oiseau qui a englué son aile, a Bird that hath stuck his wing with bird-lime.
 Engorgé, choaked up (with filth and nastiness.)
 As, un Tuyau engorgé, a Pipe that's choaked up.
 Engorgement, (m.) a being choaked up.
 Engorger, to choak up.
 As, engorger un Tuyau, to choak up a Pipe.
 S'engorger, comme fait la fumée, quand le Tuyau de la Cheminée est trop petit, to want a clear passage.
 Engoué, ready to choak, that can't get his morsel down for the bigness of it; fond, or insatuated.
 Engouër, faire de la peine à avaler, to choak.
 Cela m'engouë, that choaks me, I can't get it down.
 S'engouër, manger si goulument qu'on ait peine à avaler, to choak himself for greediness.
 †S'engouër, s'entêter de quelque chose, to be fond of (or insatuated with) a Thing.
 Engoutré, got into.
 S'Engoutrer, to get into.
 Si le Vent s'engouffre dans ce Valon, il fera du ravage, if the Wind gets into this Dale, it will do a world of mischief.
 Or thus. As, Voyez vous comment l'Eau s'engouffre là dedans? do you see how the Water runs in there?
 †Engoulé, swallowed up, devoured.
 †Engouler, to swallow up, to devour.
 †Engouleux, (m.) a Devourer.
 Engouleux de Vin, a Wine-bibber.
 As, Prov. 23. 20. Ne fois point avec les Engouleux de Vin, ni avec les Gourmands de Chair, be not amongst Wine-bibbers, nor amongst riotous Eaters of Flesh.
 Engourdi, benumbed, stiff.
 Engourdi de froid, benumbed with cold.
 Engourdi de paresse, stiff with slothfulness.
 Engourdir, to benum, to make stiff.
 As, le grand Froid engourdit les piez & les mains, a vehement Cold benumbs both feet and hands.

s'Engourdir, to grow stiff.
 Engourdissement, (m.) nummess.
 Je sens un engourdissement, I feel a nummess.
 Engraissé, fattened, grown fat; dunged, or marled; greased, spotted with grease.
 Or thus. As, Matt. 13. 15. le Cœur de ce Peuple est engraisé, the People's Heart is waxed gross.
 Engraisser, to fatten, or make fat; to fatten, or grow fat; to dung, or marl; to grease, or spot with grease; to grease, or make rich.
 As, engraisser un Cochon, to fatten a Hog.
 Le millet engraisse, millet fattens.
 Vous engraissez extrêmement, you grow mighty fat.
 Engraisser la Terre, to dung (or marl) the Ground, to make it rich and fertile.
 Engraisser son Habit, to grease his Sute.
 Un Fofu qui de ses Revenus engraisse la Justice, a Fool who with his Revenues fattens the Lawyer, or makes the Lawyer rich.
 Or thus. Engraisser un Chapon, to cram a Capon.
 S'engraisier, to fatten, or grow fat.
 As, s'engraisier, à force de manger, de boire, & de dormir, to grow fat with much eating, drinking, and sleeping.
 Engrangé, inmed, or got in.
 Engranger, to inn, or get in.
 As, engranger le blé, cd. le mettre dans la Grange, to get in the corn, to get it in a Barn.
 Engravé, run a ground; ashore, or out of the water; ingraved; express, Heb. 1. 3.
 As, un Bateau engravé, a Boat run a ground, that sticks fast; a Boat ashore, or out of the Water.
 Engraver, to run a ground; to thrust ashore, or out of the water; to ingrave.
 Engraver un Bateau, to run a Boat a ground; to thrust it ashore out of the Water.
 †S'Engreger, to increase, or grow worse.
 Engrelure, (f.) petite bande à jour au bout de la Dentelle, pearl.
 Engrener, mettre le blé dans la Tremie, to put the corn in the Mill-hopper.
 Engroffée, got with Child.
 Une Fille engroffée, a Maid got with Child.
 Engroffer, to get with Child.
 Il ne sauroit engroffer la Femme, he cannot get his Wife with Child.
 Engroupé, crouching.
 As, il étoit engroupé derrière, he was crouching behind.
 Enhardir, to imbolden, to incourage.
 S'enghardir, to grow bold, to take courage; to be very bold, Rom. 10. 20.
 Enharnaché, harnessed, set out with all its trappings.
 †Enharnaché en Chasseur, set out like a Hunter.
 Enharnacher, to harness, to set out with trappings.
 As, enharnacher un Cheval, lui mettre le Harnois, to harness a Horse, to set it out with trappings.
 †Je veux l'enharnacher d'une drolle maniere, I will set him out after a pleasant manner.
 †Enhâlé, very busy. Say empressé, Il fait l'enhâlé, he pretends to be (he makes as if he were) very busy.
 d'Enhaut, from above.
 Cela vient d'enhaut, that comes from above.
 Ce sont des Graces qui nous viennent d'enhaut, cd. du Ciel, these Gifts come from above, that is from Heaven.
 Enjambée, (f.) autant d'Espace qu'on en peut comprendre en etendant les Jambes, a stride, as much ground as one can stride over.
 Une bonne enjambée, a good stride.
 Enjambement, (m.) a fault in Verses, as when the Sense not being full in one Verse is patched up by the next.
 Enjamber, faire une enjambée, to stride over; to patch up the sense of a Verse by the next.
 Enjerber. See Engerber.

Enjeu, (m.) tout l'Argent qu'on met au Jeu, stake.

As, tirer l'Enjeu, to sweep stakes.

Enigmatique, enigmatical, dark, obscure, mystical, hard to be understood.

Enigme, (m. & f.) Riddle, a dark and intricate Sentence; a Riddle, or any hard thing to be understood.

Un Enigme fort ingénieux, a very ingenious Riddle. Une Enigme fort belle, a very fine Riddle.

Vous aurez de la peine à entendre cet Enigme, it will be hard for you to understand this Riddle. C'est une Enigme pour moi, 'tis a Riddle to me.

On appelle proprement Enigme un Ouvrage d'esprit, qu'on fait d'ordinaire en Vers; où, sans nommer une Chose, on la décrit par ses Causes, ses Effets, & ses Propriétés.

Enjoindre, to injoin, bid, order, charge, give in charge, or command.

On vous enjoint de répondre, you are commanded to answer.

Il leur enjoignit d'y aller, he bad them go thither.

†Enjolé, gulled, deceived by fair words.

†Enjoler, cd. attraper par de belles paroles, to gull, or deceive by fair words.

†Enjoleur, or Enjoleux, (m.) a Man apt to gull people, or to deceive them by fair words, a Cheat.

†Enjoleuse, (f.) a Woman apt to gull people, or to deceive them by fair words, a Cheat, a cheating Woman.

Enjolivé, set off.

Enjolivement, (m.) a Set-off.

Il faut à cela quelque petit enjolivement, there must be something to set it off.

Enjoliver, (en Termes d'Art) cd. parer, orner, to set off, or make fine.

As, enjoliver un Chapelet, to set off a pair of Beads.

Enjoliveur, (m.) a Setter off.

The Bead-makers, Button-makers, and some other Tradesmen of this kind, call themselves Enjoliveurs.

Enjoué, graceful, genteel, agreeable, jovial, airy, good-humoured, pleasant.

Un Esprit enjoué, qui dit les Choses d'un air gai & plein d'agrément, a graceful (or genteel) Man or Woman, one that doth things with a good grace, that has a graceful way with him or her.

Une humeur enjouée, cd. agreeable, a pleasant (or agreeable) humour.

Or thus. As, un air enjoué, a good grace, a genteel look, a merry countenance.

Un air trop enjoué, une humeur trop enjouée, an excessive mirth.

Enjouement, (m.) gentleness, gracefulness, good grace, pleasant carriage, pleasantness, good (or jovial) humour.

J'aime mieux son Enjouement que tout vôtre Sérieux, I prefer his good Humour before your sober Gravity.

Enivré } See { Enyvré.

Enivrer } See { Enyvrer.

Enlacré, snared, insnared, intangled.

As, Ps. 9. 16. Le Méchant est enlacré en l'Ouvrage de ses mains, the Wicked is snared in the Work of his own hands. Tu es enlacré par les paroles de ta bouche, (Prov. 6. 2.) thou art snared with the words of thy mouth.

Enlancer, to insnare, or intangle, to cast a snare upon.

Alors les Pharisiens prirent conseil comment ils l'enlacroient en paroles, (Matt. 22. 15.) then the Pharisees took counsel how they might intangle him in his talk.

†Enlaidi, grown homely.

Elle est fort enlaidie, she is grown very homely.

†Enlaidir, cd. devenir plus laid, to grow homely.

En vieillissant on enlaidit, age will make one homely.

Enlevé, lifted (or heaved) up; taken (carried) away by force.

Enlèvement, (m.) a rape, or carrying away by force.

As, l'Enlèvement de Proserpine par Plu-ton Dieu des Enfers, the Rape of Proserpina by Pluto the God of Hell.

Faire un enlèvement, to make a rape.

Enlever, to lift (raise, or heave) up; to run away with, to take (or carry) away by force; to take off, or to make come off; to take up.

Enlever une piece de bois, to lift up a piece of timber. Tu m'enlèves d'entre ceux qui s'élèvent contre moi (Ps. 18. 48.) thou liftest me up above those that rise up against me.

Enlever l'Esprit de quécun par son Discours, to raise a mans Soul by his Discourse.

On lui a enlevé tous ses Meubles, all his household Goods were taken away. Enlever une Fille, to run away with a Virgin.

Enlever la peau, to take off the skin, to make the skin come off.

Ils enlevèrent du reste des pieces de pain sept Corbeilles pleines, (Matt. 15. 37.) they took up of the broken meat that was left seven Baskets full.

Enleveure, (f.) a rising, or swelling.

†Enleveurs de Quartier, Souldiers that fall upon the Quarters of other Souldiers.

Enluminé, coloured.

As, des Cartes enluminées, coloured Maps.

Or thus, in a burlesque sense. †Né de boutons enluminé, a Nose full of red pimples.

Enluminer, laver avec des Couleurs à gomme, to colour.

As, enluminer des Cartes, to colour Maps.

Or thus. † Je m'enlumine le museau de ce trait que je boi sans eau, I cheer up my deer muzzle with this draught of pure wine.

Enlumineur, (m.) a Colourer of Maps.

Enluminure, (f.) a coloured Figure; a sort of Satirical Verses.

†Enluminure de Visage, the redness of ones Face.

Enmaillotté

Enmailloter

Enmanché

Enmancher

Enmantelé

Enmenagé

Enmenagement

Enmenager

Enmené

Enmener

†Enmenoté

†Enmenoter

†Enmessé

Enmiellé

Enmieller

Enmiellure

†Enmitoufflé

†Enmitouffler

Enmufelé

Enmufeler

Ennemi

Ennoblir

Ennoblement

See

Enmaillotté.

Emmailloter.

Emmanché.

Emmancher.

Emmantelé.

Emmenagé.

Emmenagement.

Emmenager.

Emmené.

Emmener.

Emmenoté.

Emmenoter.

Emmessé.

Emmiellé.

Emmieller.

Emmiellure.

Emmitoufflé.

Emmitouffler.

Emmufelé.

Emmufeler.

Enemi.

Anobli.

Anoblir.

Anoblissement.

Ennui, (m.) heaviness, vexation, trouble, grief, sorrow, disquiet.

Mon Ame s'est fondue d'ennui, (Ps. 119. 28.) my Soul melted for heaviness.

Donner de l'ennui à quécun, lui causer de l'ennui, to trouble, vex, or disquiet one.

Ennuyant. See Ennuyeux.

Ennuyé, weary'd, or tired; grieved, Heb. 3. 10.

Ennuyé d'un si long Discours, wearied (or tired) with so long a Discourse.

Or thus. As, 1 Sam. 1. 15. † Je suis une Femme ennuyée en mon Esprit, I am a Woman of a sorrowful Spirit.

Ennuyer, to weary, to tire, to be wearisom, (or tiresom) to.

As, un long Discours m'ennuye, a long Discourse tires me. Taisez vous, vous m'ennuyez, hold your tongue, you tire me, or you tire me out.

S'ennuyer, to be weary, to be tired.

Il m'ennuye, I am weary. Il ne m'ennuye jamais à la Ville, I am never weary of the Town.

On s'est ennuyé de vôtre Discours, people were tired with your Discourse.

†Ennuyeusement, tediously, in a tedious manner. Say d'une maniere ennuyeuse.

Ennuyeux, tedious, wearisom, tiresom.

Un Discours ennuyeux, a tedious Discourse.

Un Garçon ennuyeux, a tiresom Boy.

†Enombré, overshadowed.

†Enombrer, to overshadow.

As, Matt. 17. 5. Comme il parloit encore, voici une Nuée resplendissante qui les enombra, while he yet spake, behold a bright Cloud overshadowed them.

And Luke 1. 35. Le S. Esprit surviendra en toi, & la Vertu du Souverain t'enombrera, the Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the Power of the Highest shall overshadow thee.

Enoncé, declared, set forth.

Enoncé, (a masc. Subst.) a Declaration.

Un faux Enoncé rend la Demande nulle, a false Declaration makes the Demand void.

Enoncer, cd. declarer, to declare, or set forth.

S'enoncer, s'exprimer, to express himself.

Apprenez à vous mieux enoncer, learn to express your self better.

Enonciation, (f.) Declaration.

s'Enorgueillir, devenir orgueilleux, to be proud, to grow proud.

Il s'enorgueillit de peu de chose, a little matter makes him proud.

Enorme, vast, excessive; enormous, great, or hainous.

Une Statue d'une grandeur enorme, a Statue of a vast (or excessive) bigness.

Un Crime enorme, an enormous (or an hainous) Crime.

Enormité, (f.) enormity, hainousness; wickedness, a wicked thing.

As, l'enormité d'un Crime, the enormity (or hainousness) of a Crime.

C'est enormité (Lev. 18. 17.) it is Wickedness.

s'Enquerir, to inquire, to ask.

Enquerez vous de lui, inquire of him, ask him.

Pourquoi vous enquerez vous de ce que je fais? why do ye inquire about what I do?

Or thus. On s'est enquis d'elle, an inquiry hath been made of her.

Mangez de tout ce qui se vend à la Boucherie, sans vous en enquerir pour la Conscience, (1 Cor. 10. 25.) whatsoever is sold in the Shambles, that eat, asking no question for Conscience sake.

Enquerez vous diligemment des Ecritures, (John 5. 39.) search the Scriptures.

Enquête, (f.) an Inquest.

Faire une Enquête, to make an Inquest.

Chambre des Enquêtes, a Court of Inquest (for the Examination and Tryal of civil Causes and Appeals, by Witnesses and other Evidences.)

†s'Enquêter, to inquire, or make an Inquiry.

Say s'Enquerir.

Or thus. As, je ne m'enquête point de cela, I don't trouble my self about that.

Enraciné, rooted, that hath taken root; inveterate.

Un Arbre fort enraciné, a Tree that hath taken deep root. Le Vice est enraciné dans ton Ame, Vice hath taken deep root in thy Soul.

Porter une haine enracinée à quécun, to bear an inveterate hatred against one.

s'Enraciner, to take root.

Ce Mal s'enracine de plus en plus, this Evil takes root deeper and deeper.

Enragé, mad, seized with madness; mad, or grievous angry.

Un Chien enragé, a mad Dog. Un Homme enragé, a mad Man.

†Il est enragé contre moi, he is mad at me.

Enrager, to be mad.

l'enrage du Tort qu'on m'a fait, I am mad at the Injustice that's done me.

Il enrage contre vous, he is mad at you.

Faire enrager quécun, lui causer un grand déplaisir, to make one mad.

Enrayer

Enrayer (en Termes de Laboureur) cd. faire la premiere Raie lors qu'on veut labourer, to make the first furrow.

Enrayure, (f.) the first furrow the Plough makes when it turns the ground.

Enregistré, registred, recorded.

Enregistrement, (m.) a registering, or recording.

Faire l'enregistrement des Causes, to register Causes.

Enregistrer, mettre sur le Registre, to register, to record.

Enrhumé } See { Enrhumé.
Enrhumé } See { Enrhumé.

Enrichi, enriched, or grown rich; enriched, set out, adorned, or beautified; enriched, enlarged, or amplified.

Enrichir, to make rich; to enrich, make rich, set out, adorn, or beautify; to enrich, enlarge, or amplify.

Les Muses n'enrichissent guere de gens, the Muses make few people rich, few men get riches by the Muses.

Enrichir un Discours de belles figures, to enrich a Discourse with fine figures.

Enrichir une Langue, to make a Language rich. Vous devriez travailler à enrichir votre Ame, you should labour to enrich your Soul.

Enrichir un Dictionnaire; l'étendre, l'amplifier, to enrich (enlarge, or amplify) a Dictionary.

S'enrichir, to grow rich.

Qui paie ses Dettes s'enrichit, (Prov.) the way to grow rich is to get out of Debt.

Un pauvre homme qui s'est enrichi ne connoit Parent ni Ami, bath a poor man got a little pelf? he knows no Friend, no Kinsman, nor himself.

Enrichissement, (m.) an Ornament, a Set-off.

Ce sont tout autant d'enrichissements qui relevent la beauté de l'Ouvrage, they are so many set-offs to the Work.

Enrôlé, listed, taken into the number, 1 Tim. 59; ordained, Jude 4; taxed, Luke 2. 1.

Je suis enrôlé, I am listed.

Enrôler, to list.

Enrôler des Soldats, to list Souldiers.

S'enrôler, to list himself.

Enroué, hoarse.

S'Enrouer, to make himself hoarse, to grow hoarse.

Il s'est enroué à force de crier, he made himself hoarse with bawling.

Enrouillé, rusty; cankered, Jam. 5. 3.

S'Enrouiller, to grow rusty.

Le Fer & le Cuivre s'enrouillent, Iron and Brass grow rusty.

L'esprit s'enrouille dans la Province, a mans parts grow rusty in the Country.

Enrhumé, that has got a Cold, or a Rhume.

Enrhumé, to cause a Cold.

S'enrhumé, to get a Cold.

Ensanglanté, bloody, covered with blood.

As, je l'ai vu tout ensanglanté, I saw him all bloody.

Il a le Bras, le Corps, & le Visage ensanglantez, his Arms, Body, and Face are all covered with blood.

Ensanglanter, to make bloody, to cover with blood.

Il m'a ensanglanté tout le Visage, he has covered all my Face with blood.

Enseigne, (f.) a Sign; the Colours of a Company; a Token, Mark, or Sign; a pledge, 1 Sam. 18. 18.

Enseigne, (m.) an Ensign, or he that carries the Colours.

Enseigne à Vin, ou à Biere, a Wine, or Beer Sign. Enseigne d'Artisan, a Tradesman's Sign. Il demeure à l'Enseigne du Lion d'or, he lives at the Sign of the golden Lion.

Marcher Enseignes dépliées, to march Colours flying.

A bonnes enseignes, by a sure token. A fausses enseignes, by a false token, wrongfully.

Il s'y trouva à telles enseignes, qu'il y fut bleffé, he was there by the same token he was wounded. Avec ces enseignes je donnerai assez à entendre qui elle est, with these tokens (marks, or signs) I shall discover well enough who she is.

Vous aurez ces Enseignes, (Luke 2. 12.) this shall be a Sign unto you.

L'Enseigne a été tué, the Ensign was Killed.

Or thus. Il porta nos Enseignes (cd. nos Armes) au de là de l'Elbe, he went with our Army even beyond the Elb.

Il couche à l'Enseigne de la Lune, cd. à l'erte, he l's at the Sign of the Moon, that is without doors.

Enseigne est un Officier qui porte un Drapeau, non seulement dans l'Infanterie, mais quelquefois dans la Cavalerie; comme dans les Gardes du Corps, où il y a présentement trois Enseignes par Compagnie. Dans les Gendarmes il y a un Enseigne & un Guidon; & dans les Mousquetaires, un Enseigne & un Cornette. A l'égard de l'Infanterie, le seul Regiment des Gardes a un Enseigne par Compagnie; & dans tous les autres Regimens il n'y en a que deux par Regiment, l'un dans la Compagnie Colonelle, & l'autre dans la Compagnie du Lieutenant Colonel. Les Compagnies Suisses ont un Enseigne, & au dessous de lui un Porte-enseigne, qui porte le Drapeau. Le Poste des Enseignes est à la tête des Piquiers. Et, si l'Enseigne est tué dans un Combat, le Capitaine est obligé de porter le Drapeau.

Enseigné, taught, instructed.

†Enseignement, (m.) instruction, precept; law, Prov. 13. 14; Tradition, 2 Theff. 3. 6.

Je ne veux point de vos enseignemens, I scorn your Instructions.

Enseigner, to teach, or instruct; to teach, or shew.

Enseigner des Enfans, to teach (or instruct) Children.

Enseigner aux Vieillards à être sobres, to teach Old men Sobriety.

Enseigner la Grammaire, to teach the Grammar, to shew the Use of it.

†Enseigneur, (m.) a Teacher.

Ensellé, As, un Cheval ensellé, cd. qui est tres difficile à bien serrer, a Horse hard to sit with a saddle.

Ensemble, together.

Parler ensemble, to speak together. Se promener ensemble, to walk together.

Perdre le Sentiment & la Vie tout ensemble, to lose his Senses and Life altogether.

Ensemble, Numb. 27. 21, even; Ps. 24. 1, and; Col. 4. 3, withall.

Un Cheval qui est bien ensemble. C'est un Cheval, qui en cheminant approche ses piez de derriere de ceux de devant, & dont les Hanches soutiennent en quèque maniere les Epaules.

Ensemencé, sown.

Ensemencer, to sow.

As, ensemencer un Champ, y jeter de la semence, to sow a Field.

†Enfermé, shut up, kept in, in a strait, Phil. 1. 23; contained.

Or thus. As, Ps. 4. 8. quèque mechante Maladie le tient enfermé, some evil Disease cleaveth fast unto him.

†Enfermer, to shut up; to keep in, or hold fast in; to contain.

Or thus. As, Ps. 25. 5. Tu dresse la Table devant moi, à la veuë de ceux qui m'enferment, thou preparest a Table before, in the presence of mine Enemy's.

And Ps. 105. 18. On lui enferra les piez dans les ceps, his feet they hurt with fetters.

Aujourd'hui l'Eternel t'enfermera entre mes mains, (1 Sam. 17. 46.) this day will the Lord deliver thee into my hand.

De tout ce que le Ciel enferme il n'est rien qui soit sans Amour, there is nothing under the Heavens free from Love.

S'enfermer, (1 Tim. 6. 10.) to pierce himself.

Enseveli, buried.

Il a été enseveli honorablement, he was decently buried.

Enseveli sous les Ruines d'une Maison, buried under the Ruins of a House.

Enseveli dans l'Oubli, buried in Oblivion.

Ensevelir, to bury.

As, ensevelir un mort, to bury a dead body.

Ensevelir dans l'Oubli, to bury in Oblivion.

Or thus. As, s'ensevelir dans la Solitude, to be buried alive in Solitude.

Enforcé, bewitched.

Assurément je suis enforcé, sure enough I am bewitched.

Enforceler, jeter un sort sur quécun, to bewitch.

Enforceleur, (m.) a Bewitcher.

Enfouple, (f.) Terme d'Art, beam, a Weavers Loom-beam; an Imbroderer's Loom.

†Enfuble, as Enfouple.

Ensuite, for en suite, afterwards, then.

Ensuivant, following, next.

As, le second de Juin ensuivant elle fut couronnée, the second of June following she was crowned.

Au Jour du Sabbat ensuivant presque toute la Ville s'assembla, pour ouir la Parole de Dieu, (Act. 13. 44.) the next Sabbath-day came almost the whole City together, to hear the Word of God.

†Ensuivre, to follow, to be a follower of.

As, Ex. 23. 2. Tu n'ensuivras point la Multitude pour mal faire, thou shalt not follow a Multitude to do evil.

And 1 Pet. 3. 13. Qui est ce qui vous fera du Mal, si vous ensuivez le Bien? who is he that will harm you, if you be followers of that which is good?

S'ensuivre, (a Word in Use) to follow, to insue.

As, je lui fis la Reponse qui s'ensuit, I made him the Answer that follows, or the following Answer.

Il a tant souffert qu'en fin la Mort s'en est ensuivie, he has suffered so much that Death insued upon it.

Il s'ensuit (a Verb Impersonal) it follows.

Il ne s'ensuit pas pour cela que je vous aime, it does not follow therefore that I love you.

De là s'ensuit que vous êtes un honnête homme, from thence it follows that you are an honest-man.

Or thus. As, Jos. 14. 1. S'ensuit ce que les Enfans d'Israel eurent pour heritage au Pais de Canaan, and these are the Country's which the Children of Israel inherited in the Land of Canaan.

Entablement, (m.) Terme d'Architecture, a planking (or boarding) on the top of a Wall, or Door.

Si elle est comme une Porte, nous la renforcerons d'un Entablement de Cedre (Cant. 8. 9.) if she be a Door, we will inclose her with boards of Cedar.

On appelle aussi Entablement la partie d'un Ordre d'Architecture qui est au dessus du Chapiteau de la Colonne, & qui se divise en Architrave, en Frise, & en Corniche.

†Entabler, Terme de Manege. Cheval qui s'entable est celui dont la Croupe va avant les Epaules, quand il manie sur les Voltes. Au lieu que, pour manier avec justesse, il faut que la moitié des Epaules aille toujours avant la Croupe.

†Entaché, tainted, spotted. Say taché, souillé.

Il est entaché de ce Crime, he is tainted with that Crime.

Se conserver sans être entaché de ce Monde, (Jam. 1. 87.) to keep himself unspotted from the World.

Entaille, (f.) Terme de Menuisier, a piece of carved Work.

Entailler, to carve.

†Entaillure, as Entaille.

Avec coignées & marteaux ils brisent les entaillures (Ps. 74. 6.) with axes and hammers they break down the carved Work thereof.

Entamé, cut.

Entamer,

Entamer, to cut, to make the first cut.

As, entamer un Pain, to cut a Loaf (that is whole.) Entamer la peau, to cut the skin.

Or thus. † Entamer une Matière, to enter upon a Matter.

Entamer le Chemin, cd. commencer à galoper, to fall galloping.

Entamure, (f.) the first cut.

As, entamure de Pain, the first cut of a Loaf.

Or thus. As, Ps. 55. 21. Ses Paroles sont plus douces que l'huile, & cependant elles sont autant d'entamures, the Words of his mouth are softer than oil, and yet are as bad as drawn Swords.

† Entant que, cd. comme, as, as much as.

Entant que, for dautant que, forasmuch as.

Christ entant que Mediateur, Christ as Mediator.

Entant qu'en moi est, (Rom. 1. 15.) as much as in me is.

Entant qu'il paroît en vous que vous êtes l'Epître de Christ, (2 Cor. 3. 3.) forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the Epistle of Christ.

Entassé, heaped (buddled) up.

Ils étoient tous entassés les uns sur les autres, they were all heaped (or buddled) up together.

Or thus. As, Luk. 6. 38. Une bonne Mesure entassée, a good Measure shaken together.

Entassement, (m.) a heap.

Entasser, to heap up.

Entasser Crime sur Crime, to heap Crime upon Crime.

Ente, (f.) a grafted Tree.

Une jeune Ente, a young grafted Tree.

Enté, (from Enter) grafted.

Entendement, (m.) Understanding, Intellect, Intellectuals; Mind, Head, or Brains.

Avoir fort bon Entendement, to have very good Intellectuals. La Raison rendit la Veüe à mon Entendement, Reason restored the Sight to my Understanding.

Il a perdu l'Entendement, he has lost his Understanding, he is out of his wits.

Qui vous a mis cela dans l'Entendement? who put that into your Mind, Head, or Brains?

Entendre, to hear; to understand, or apprehend; to understand, to have skill (or be skilful) in; to mean.

Les Oreilles entendent le Son, the Ears hear the Sound. Entendre un Sermon, to hear a Sermon. Entendre un Predicateur, to hear a Preacher. Il parle si bas, qu'on a peine à l'entendre, he speaks so low, that one can't hear him.

Se faire entendre, to speak so as to be heard. Criez fort, & vous vous ferez entendre, speak aloud, if you will be heard.

Il n'entend pas bien, il est un peu sourd, he does not hear well, he is a little deaf. Il ne veut point entendre à cette Paix, he will not hear talk of that Peace. Je n'enten parler que de cela, I hear of nothing else.

Condamner quëcun avant que de l'entendre, to judge one before he be heard.

Entendez vous (cd. comprenez vous) ce que je vous dis? do you understand (d'ye apprehend) what I say to you? Je commence à entendre cette Difficulté, I begin to understand that difficult Point. Autant que je puis entendre, as far as I can understand.

Le Vulgaire n'entend point cela, the common sort of People does not understand that. Donner à entendre, to give to understand, to give a hint of something.

Entendre un Metier, ou une Science, to understand a Trade, or a Science. Entendre le Latin & le Grec, to understand Latine and Greek.

Il entend fort bien le Droit, he understands the Law very well, he is a very good Lawyer. Je n'enten rien en Medecine, I have no skill in Physick.

Comment l'entendez vous? how d'ye mean? what d'ye mean by it? Je l'enten ainfi, I mean so. Vous l'entendez d'une autre façon que je ne l'enten, you mean quite another thing than I do.

Qu'entendez vous par un homme riche? what do you mean by a rich man? J'enten celui qui est content, I mean the man who hath a contented mind.

Or thus. As, faites comme vous l'entendez, do as you think best, or do as you see cause.

Vous l'entendez mal, you are much mistaken.

Vous n'y entendez rien, (Job. 11. 49.) you know nothing at all.

† Enten à moi, & m'exauce, (Ps. 55. 2.) attend unto me, and hear me. Enten à toi, (1 Tim. 4. 16.) take heed unto thyself.

S'entendre, to understand one another, or have secret intelligence; to have skill, or to be skilful.

Ils s'entendent ensemble, they understand one another, they play booty together. Ils s'entendent comme des Larrons en Foire, they keep correspondence like Pick-pockets in a Fair.

Je ne m'enten point en ces Choses là, I have no skill in (I do not understand) those Things.

Entendu, heard, or understood; skilful, understanding, that hath skill, that understands; wise, 1 Cor. 10. 15; prudent, Luke 10. 21; regular, very well contrived.

Un Sermon entendu d'un bout à l'autre, a Sermon heard from one end to another.

Il est entendu dans les Mathematiques, he has great skill in Mathematicks, he understands Mathematicks very well. Elle est entendue au Ménage, she understands Husbandry, she is a good Housewife.

Dieu a regardé du Ciel sur les Fils des Hommes, pour voir s'il y en a quëcun qui soit entendu, & qui cherche Dieu, (Ps. 55. 2.) God looked down from Heaven upon the Children of Men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God.

Un Batiment bien entendu, a regular (or well-contrived) Building.

Or thus. As, Ps. 119. 73. Ren moi entendu, give me Understanding.

And Ps. 136. 5. Celebrez celui qui a fait les Cieux, comme bien entendu, give thanks to him that by wisdom made the Heavens.

† Faire l'entendu, cd. faire le fat & le glorieux, to be proud, to carry it high.

Entente, (f.) meaning.

Un Mot à double entente, cd. à double Sens, a Word that hath a double meaning, an ambiguous Word.

Parler à double entente, to speak ambiguously, to equivocate.

Enter, (from Ente) to graft.

Enter en Fente, to graft within a cleft made in the top of a stock, (which is the ordinary Way of grafting.)

Enter en Couronne, to graft between the bark and the Tree.

Enter en ecusson, to graft in form of a Scutcheon, to lodge the bud in the bark of a Tree by an Incision made therein in the form of a T, or by any other hole apt to receive it; the clefts and breaches thereof being afterwards closed with wax or clay.

Enteriné, passed, confirmed.

Enterinement, (m.) the passing of a Pardon, and the like.

Enteriner, rendre entier & parfait, to pass, or confirm.

Enterré, bury'd, interred, laid in the ground.

Il fut enterré Jeudi dernier, he was bury'd on Thursday last.

Enterrement, (m.) a Burial, a Funeral.

Aller (assister) à l'Enterrement d'un Ami, to go to a Friend's Funeral.

Enterrer, to bury.

As, enterrer une personne morte, la mettre en terre, to bury a dead body.

Enterrer de la chicorée, la mettre dans la terre, to put (or lay) succory in the ground.

Or thus. Enterrer un Secret, le cacher bien, ne le decouvrir à personne, to keep a Secret to himself, to keep it close.

Voudriez vous bien m'enterrer toute vive? cd. me faire renoncer à tout Commerce, could you find in your heart to debar me from all Society?

Entété, possessed, infatuated; big, or puffed up.

Etre furieusement entété d'une Opinion, to be strangely possessed (or infatuated) with an Opinion.

Il est entété d'une Fille de ma conoissance, he is infatuated with a Maid of my acquaintance.

Un Gentilhomme entété de sa Noblesse, a Gentleman big (or puffed up) with his Gentility.

Entêtement, (m.) infatuation, strong prejudice.

Il est dans un furieux entêtement, he is strangely infatuated, he lies under a strong prejudice.

Or thus. As, Il faut vous defaire de ces Entêtements que vous avez pour le Vin, you must wean your self from that conceited Opinion you have of Wine.

Revenir de ses entêtements, to come to him-self again.

Entêter, faire mal à la Tête, to make the head ache.

Les Vapeurs du Charbon de bois allumé entètent, the Vapours of Charcoal kindled are apt to make ones head ache.

† S'entêter de quëque chose, to put a thing foolishly into his head, to take a strong fancy to it.

As, je m'étonne comment il a pû s'entêter d'un aussi sot Animal que lui, I wonder how he could take such a strong fancy to such a Sot as he is.

Or thus. As, s'entêter (cd. se piquer) de sa Noblesse, to value himself very much upon the account of his Gentility, to be very proud of it.

Enthousiasme. See Entousiasme.

Enthymeme, (m.) Terme de Logique, Enthymem, a kind of Syllogism with only two Propositions.

Entier, whole, or intire; obstinate, wilfull, that will not yield in any thing; upright, Ps. 18. 25; perfect, Deut. 18. 13.

La Somme est entiere, the Sum is whole.

J'ai été avec lui une Semaine entiere, I was with him a whole Week. Il a mangé un Pain tout entier, he hath eaten a whole Loaf.

Un Homme entier, an obstinate (or wilfull) Man. Une Femme entiere, an obstinate (or wilfull) Woman.

Or thus. Le Seau est tout entier, the Seal is unbroken.

Il y a trois Jours entiers qu'il est mort, 'tis full three days since he died.

Cheval entier, qui n'est pas coupé, a Stone-Horse.

Cheval entier, ou retif, qui ne veut pas suivre la main, a Horse that turns unwillingly, that is not pliant to his turn.

Entier, (a masc. Subst.) an intire Number.

Or thus. Remettre la Chose en son entier, to restore the Thing to its first state.

Etre remis en son entier, (Heb. 12. 13.) to be healed.

La Chose est en son entier, the Thing is intire.

En mon entier, (Ps. 41. 13.) in mine integrity.

Entierement, wholly, intirely, altogether.

Or thus. As, il est entierement de mes Amis, he is an absolute Friend of mine.

Il m'a entierement satisfait, he has paid me all.

Entimême. See Enthymême.

Entonné, put in a Cask; tuned, sung.

Entonner, to put in a Cask; to tune, or sing.

Entonner du Vin, le verser dans un Vaisseau avec un Entonnoir, to put Wine in a Cask.

Entonner les Notes, chanter du Ton qu'il faut chanter, to sing the Notes. Entonner des Louanges, to sing Praises.

Or thus. Entonner la Trompette, to sound (or blow) the Trumpet.

Entonnoir, (m.) a Tunnel, or Funnel.

Entorse, or Entorsé, a Sprain.

Prendre une entorse, to sprain some part or other of his body.

Entortillé, wound about, twined, or twisted; intangled, 2 Pet. 2. 20.

† Avoir un Style entortillé, to have a perplexed Style.

Entortillement, (m.) a winding about, a twining, or twisting, 1 Pet. 3. 3.

L'entortillement du Lierre autour d'un Arbre, the winding out of Ivy about a Tree.

Entortiller, to twine, to wind it self about, to wrap about.

Le Lierre entortille les Arbres, the Ivy twines about the Trees.
 Entortiller son Manteau autour du bras, to wrap his Cloak about his arm.
 Or thus. As, † entortiller son Style, to perplex his Style.
 S'entortiller, to wind it self about.
 Un Serpent qui s'entortille autour d'une branche, a Serpent that winds it self about the branch of a Tree.
 à l'Entour, tout à l'entour, round about.
 Les Lieux d'alentour, les Environs, the Places about it.
 Entouré, surrounded, compassed, environed, compassed about.
 Le Hieroglyphe de la Prudence est une Fleche entourée d'un Serpent, the Hieroglyphick of Prudence is an Arrow compassed about with a Serpent.
 Entourer, ou environner, to surround, compass, or environ.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 48. 12. Environnez Sion, entourez le, & contez ses Tours, walk about Sion, go about it, and tell the Towers thereof.
 † Entourner, to surround.
 Or thus. As, Prov. 7. 16. J'ai entouré mon Lit de tours de Rasoirs entrecoupez de fil d'Egypte, I have deckt my Bed with coverings of Tapestry, with carved Work, with fine Linen of Egypt.
 Entoufflement, (m.) fièvre Poétique, Entoufflement, a rapture of the Mind.
 L'Entoufflement l'a enporté, an Enthusiasm has carried him away.
 † Entoufflé, charmed, ravished.
 Entr'acte, (m.) ce qui se passe entre deux Actes, an Interlude.
 s'Entr'accuser, s'accuser l'un l'autre, to accuse one another.
 s'Entr'aider, s'aider l'un l'autre, to help one another.
 Entrailles, (f.) inwards, bowels, intrals; inward parts, bowels, heart; bowels, Child or Children, an Object of ones Love.
 Arracher les Entrailles à quécun, to pull out ones Entrails. Il a les Entrailles échauffées, there is an Inflammation in his Bowels. Les Entrailles de la Terre, the Bowels of the Earth.
 Seigneur, grave ta Loi dans le fond de mes Entrailles, Lord, print thy Law in the very bottom of my Heart.
 S'arrmer contre ses propres Entrailles, to arm himself against his own Bowels, against his own Child or Children. Recevez le comme mes Entrailles, receive him as an Object of my Love.
 Or thus. As, c'est lui arracher les entrailles, cd. c'est lui faire un tres sensible déplaisir, this is to put him to a grievous torture.
 s'Entr'aimer, s'aimer l'un l'autre, to love one another.
 Ils s'entraiment beaucoup, they love one another very well.
 Entraîné, dragged, dragged along; drawn.
 Entraîner, to drag, or drag along; to draw.
 Entraîner quécun au Supplice, to drag one to the Place of Execution.
 Ses Raifons font si convaincantes, qu'elle m'a entraîné de son côté, her Reasons are so pregnant, that she drew me on her side.
 Entrant, (from Entrer) forward, that puts himself forward, that has a fine way of winning upon Company.
 As, c'est un homme entrant, cd. qui a une hardiesse honnête à se produire, he has a fine way of winning upon Company.
 s'Entr'appeler, to call one another.
 s'Entr'avertir, s'avertir l'un l'autre, to give one another notice.
 Entraves, (f.) pasterns for Horses legs.
 Leurs Chevaux repaissent avec des Entraves aux Jambes, de crainte qu'ils ne fuyent, their Horses feed with Pasterns to their Legs, that they may not run away.
 Entre, among, amongst; between, betwixt.
 As, il faut ôter les Querelles & les Divisions qui sont entre nous, we must remove those Quarrels and Contentions which are amongst us.
 L'Air tient le milieu entre le Ciel & la Terre, the Air possesses the middle part betwixt the Sky and the Earth. C'est la toute la Difference qu'il y a entre vous & moi, there lies all the Difference there is between us. Cela soit dit entre vous & moi, this is betwixt you and I, or be it spoke under the rose.

 Entre deux, between.
 Je lui parlerai, pourveu qu'il y ait une Muraille entre deux, I will speak with him, provided there be a Wall between us.
 S'il l'attaque, je me jetterai entre deux, if he set upon him, I shall come between, or I shall interpose.
 Entré, (from Entrer) gone in, &c. according to the Verb.
 Il est entré, he is gone in, he has got in.
 s'Entrebaiser, to kiss each other, to kiss one another, to interchange kisses.
 La Justice & la Paix s'entrebaiseront, Justice and Peace shall kiss each other.
 s'Entrebatre, se battre l'un l'autre, to beat one another, to fight together, to fall together by the ears.
 Ils s'entrebataient continuellement, they are always together by the ears.
 s'Entrebleser, to wound each other, to wound one another.
 Ils se sont entreblesés, they have wounded one another.
 Entre-chat, (m.) sorte de Saut figuré, a cross caper.
 s'Entrechoquer, se choquer l'un l'autre, to fall upon one another.
 Entrecoupé, cd. interrompu, interrupted.
 Parler d'une Voix entrecoupée de sanglots, to speak with a Voice interrupted with sighs.
 Or thus. As, Jos. 3. 13. † Les Eaux du Jordan se sont entrecoupées, the Waters of the Jordan shall be cut off, or divided.
 s'Entrecouper, se contredire, to contradict himself.
 s'Entre-defaire, se defaire l'un l'autre, to defeat one another.
 † S'entre-demander, As, s'entredemander l'un à l'autre, (Luke 22. 23.) to inquire amongst themselves.
 Entredeux, (a masc. Subst.) a space, an intermedium.
 Remplir les entredeux des Pilotis, to fill up the spaces between the Piles.
 s'Entredire, se dire quécun chose l'un à l'autre, to say something to one another.
 s'Entredonner, se donner quécun chose l'un à l'autre, to give one another, to interchange.
 Entrée, (a fem. Subst. from the Verb Entrer) entrance, passage, access, coming in; entrance, or entry; entrance, or beginning; the Custom (or Impost) laid upon imported Commodities; a course of Ragoos (or high-relished Dishes) served with the courser sort of Meat.
 Ville qui a l'Entrée libre, a Town that hath a free entrance into it. A l'Entrée du Port, at the entrance into the Port. Donner entrée à quécun dans un Lieu, to give access to one into some Place.
 Faire une Entrée solennelle dans la Ville, to make a solemn Entrance (or Entry) into the Town.
 A l'Entrée de son Discours, at the beginning of his Discourse. L'Entrée de ses Paroles illumine, & rend les Simples entendus, (Ps. 119. 130.) the entrance of thy Words giveth light, it gives understanding unto the Simple.
 Payer l'Entrée, payer les Droits de l'Entrée, to pay the Custom (for imported Commodities.)
 On a déjà servi deux Entrées, there has been already two courses of dainty Dishes.
 Or thus. Je lui ai donné l'Entrée de ma Maison, I have admitted him into my House. On en a défendu l'Entrée, there is an Order against admittance.
 Donner entrée à l'Air, to let in the Air.
 Il s'en va faire son entrée dans le Monde, he is a going to begin the World.
 L'Entrée de ce Chapeau est trop petite pour moi, this Hat is too little in the head for me.
 s'Entrefâcher, se fâcher l'un l'autre, to quarrel together, to anger one another.
 Entrefaites, (f.) As, dans ces entrefaites, in the mean while, during these Transactions, while these Things were a doing.
 Il arriva sur ces entrefaites, he came upon that, he came while that was a doing.

s'Entrefouetter, se fouetter l'un l'autre, to whip one another.
 † S'entrefouler, to beat down one another, as 1 Sam. 14. 16.
 s'Entrefraper, se fraper l'un l'autre, to strike one another.
 † Entregent, (m.) good (or genteel) carriage.
 As, avoir de l'entregent, to have a genteel carriage.
 s'Entregorger, se gorger l'un l'autre, to cut one another's throat.
 Ils sont toujours sur le point de s'entregorger, they are always upon the point of cutting one another's throat, they are always at daggers drawing.
 s'Entreheurter, to fall one upon another.
 Entrelacé } See { Entrelacé.
 Entrelacer } Entrelacer.
 Entrelardé, larded, fat and lean together.
 Entrelarder, to lard lean with fat.
 Entrelas, (m.) a streak.
 Entrelas, en Termes de Vitrier, a figured Window-glass.
 Entrelasé, intermingled, put amongst.
 Les Neuds étoient entrelasés les uns dans les autres, the Knots were one within another.
 Entrelasser, to intermingle, to put amongst.
 s'Entrelouer, se louer l'un l'autre, to praise one another.
 s'Entremanger, se manger l'un l'autre, to eat one another.
 Les Loups ne s'entremangent pas, Wolves don't eat one another.
 Entremêlé, intermixed, inserted.
 Or thus. As, Prov. 14. 10. † le Cœur d'un chacun conoit l'Amertume de son Ame, & un autre n'est point entremêlé en sa Joie, the Heart knoweth his Bitterness, and a Stranger doth not intermeddle with his Joy.
 Entremêler, to intermix, to insert.
 Entremêler des Sentences dans son Discours, to insert Sentences in his Discourse.
 s'Entremêler, to mix together.
 Or thus. As, 1 Cor. 5. 9. † Je vous ai écrit que vous ne vous entremêliez point avec les Paillards, I wrote unto you not to company with Fornicators.
 Entremets, (m.) dainty Dishes, served just before the Fruit where a great Table is kept.
 Entremetteur, (m.) a Meddler, one that helps a Thing forward for another; a Spy, 1 Sam. 15. 10.
 Entremetteuse, (f.) a Meddler, or meddling Woman, that helps a thing forward for another. But it is to be observed, that neither this Word, nor Entremetteur, is taken in good part.
 s'Entremettre, to meddle.
 As, s'entremettre (ou se mêler) du Gouvernement, to meddle with the Government, to thrust himself into it.
 Or thus. S'entremettre pour faire obtenir quécun chose, to employ his credit for the obtaining of something.
 Entremise, (f.) means, help, assistance, interposition.
 Cela s'est fait par votre entremise, cd. par votre moyen, that was done by your means.
 s'Entremoque, se moquer l'un de l'autre, to jeer one another.
 s'Entremordre, se mordre l'un l'autre, to bite one another.
 Des Chiens qui s'entremordent, Dogs that bite one another.
 s'Entreuire, se nuire l'un l'autre, to prejudice one another.
 s'Entreparler, to talk together.
 Entreparleur, (m.) he that speaks in a Dialogue, or in a Stage-play.
 Entrepas, (m.) Amble rompu, qui ne tient ni du Pas ni du Trot, mais qui a quécun chose de l'Amble, a broken amble.
 s'Entrepercer, se percer les uns les autres, to break in one amongst the other.
 s'Entreplaider, to sue one another.
 Deux Frères s'entreplaident, on condamna le Pere à l'Amende pour n'avoir pas appaisé leur Querelle, two Brothers suing one another.

another, a Penalty was laid on their Father for not having appeased their Quarrel.

Entrepos, (m.) rest, or ceasing from Work. Or thus. Ecrire par entrepos, to write by another.

Lieu d'Entrepos, en Termes de Mer. C'est un Port où l'on établit des Magazins destinés à recevoir les Marchandises qu'on y conduit, pour être transportées dans les Pais étrangers.

†Entreposer, to interpose. See Interposer. Or thus. As, Heb. 6. 17. Il s'est entposé par Serment, he confirmed it by an Oath.

s'Entrepousser, se pousser l'un l'autre, to push one another.

Entreprenant, (Adj.) bold, venturesom. C'est un homme fort entreprenant, he is a bold (venturesom) man.

Entreprendre, to undertake, take in hand, attempt, enterprise. As, entreprendre quelque chose, to undertake a Business. Il entreprend trop, he undertakes too much.

Entreprendre quelqu'un, le pousser, le mettre à la raison, to take one in hand. S'il vous entreprend, vous serez mal dans vos Affaires, if he take you in hand, it will go very hard with you.

Entreprendre sur la Vie de quelqu'un, to attempt upon a man's Life. Or thus. As, vous entreprenez sur mon Autorité, you incroach upon my Authority.

Entrepreneur, (m.) an Undertaker. Un fameux Entrepreneur, a famous Undertaker.

Entrepreneuse, (f.) a Woman that undertakes Work, and gets it done by others.

Entrepris, undertaken; impotent, that has lost the use of his Limbs. Un Ouvrage entrepris, a Work undertaken. La Guerre est entreprise, the War is undertaken. Il est entrepris de tous ses Membres, he has lost the use of all his Limbs.

Entreprise, (f.) Undertaking, Enterprise, Attempt, or Design; action, 1 Sam. 2. 3. Faire (former) une Entreprise, to form a Design. Couver son Entreprise, to conceal his Design. Une Entreprise glorieuse, a glorious Design, or Enterprise. Une Entreprise bien hardie, a very bold Enterprise.

s'Entrequereller, to quarrel together. Ils commencent à s'entrequereller, they begin to quarrel one with another.

Entrer, to go (or come) in, to get in, to step in, to enter; to enter, or begin. Entrez, come in; go in. Il est si gros, qu'il ne sauroit entrer par cette Porte, he is so big, that he cannot go through this Door. Il m'est entré un moucheron dans l'œil, a fly has got into one of my eyes.

Entrer en Discours, to enter into (to begin) a Discourse. Entrer en matière, to enter upon the matter in hand. Entrer dans le détail d'une chose, to begin the particulars. Entrer en Charge, to enter upon a publick Office. Entrer en querelle, to begin a quarrel. Entrer en procès, to begin a Law-sute. Or thus. Entrer en possession, to take possession. Entrer en amour, to fall in love. Tout entre en amour au Printems, all Creatures fall in love in the Spring.

Entrer dans les Interets de quelqu'un, to side with one, to stand for his Interest. Entrer dans son Sens, ou dans son Sentiment, to imbrace (or to follow) his Opinion. Que vous entrez mal dans mes Sentimens! how grossly you mistake my Meaning! Des Medicaments où il entre de l'Or & des Pierres, Medicaments made, amongst other Things, of Gold and precious Stones.

†s'Entrencontrer, to meet together. As, Prov. 22. 2. le Riche & le Pauvre s'entrencontrent, the Rich and Poor meet together.

s'Entreprerpondre, se repondre l'un l'autre, to answer one another. Ils s'entreprerpondoient tour à tour, they answered one another by turns.

†Entreromp, for Interrompu, (As 1 Pet. 3. 7.) hindered.

s'Entre-ronger, (As Gal. 5. 15,) to devour one another.

s'Entrescourir, to succour one another.

s'Entresuivre, to follow successively; to reach, Rev. 18. 5.

s'Entretailier, to hurt one leg with another.

Entretiens, (m.) mean-while, mean-time. As, dans cet entretiens, in the mean time. Or thus. Un heureux entretiens, a favorable Opportunity.

Entretienement, (m.) keeping, or continuing; Maintenance, Wages, 2 Cor. 11. 8. As, l'Entretienement (ou l'Observation) d'un Edit, the keeping (or continuing) of an Edict. Cela servira à l'Entretienement des Soldats, that will serve for the Maintenance of the Soldiers.

Entretenir, to keep, maintain, or observe; to keep, maintain, or intertain; to intertain, by way of discourse; to intertain, or amuse. Entretenir la Paix, to keep the Peace, to observe (or maintain) it. Entretenir un Enfant, une Famille, une Armée, to keep (or maintain) a Child, a Family, an Army. Entretenir une Putain, to keep (maintain, or intertain) a Whore. Entretenir les Pauvres, to maintain the Poor. Entretenir quelqu'un de choses agréables, to intertain one pleasantly, with pleasant Things. Je l'entretins quelque tems de diverses Chimères, I amused (I intertained) him a while with some chimerical Notions. Entretenir un Bâtiment, to keep a Building in repair. S'entretenir avec quelqu'un, to discourse with one, to have a familiar Discourse with him. Or thus. As, Ps. 133. 1. O que c'est chose plaisante que des Freres s'entretiennent bien ensemble! how pleasant it is for Brethren to dwell together in unity! And Ps. 122. 3. Jerusalem est bâtie comme une Ville qui s'entretient bien ensemble, Jerusalem is builded as a City that is compact together.

Entretenu, kept, maintained, observed; kept, maintained, intertained; intertained, by way of Discourse; amused, or intertained. Une Alliance bien entretenue, an Alliance well kept. Un Enfant bien entretenu, a Child well kept. Cette Putain est entretenue par une Personne de qualité, that Whore is kept by a Person of quality. Une Armée bien entretenue, an Army well kept. Une Maison bien entretenue, a House kept in good repair. Entretenu de promesses, de belles paroles, amused with fair words, led into a Fool's Paradise. Or thus. As, Rom. 5. 20. la Loi est entretenue, afin que l'Offense abondât, the Law entered, that the Offence might abound.

Entretien, (m.) maintenance, or keeping; conversation, or company; discourse. L'entretien d'un Enfant, d'une Famille, d'une Armée, des Pauvres, the maintenance of a Child, of a Family, of an Army, of the Poor. L'entretien d'une Maison, the keeping of a House in repair. C'est une Personne d'un agréable entretien, he is a Person of very good conversation, he is excellent company. Les mauvais Entretiens gâtent les bonnes Mœurs, evil Conversation corrupts good Manners. Mon principal Entretien sont les Livres, my chief Conversation is with Books. Dans nos Entretiens, in our familiar Discourses. Or thus. As, Entretien de bouche & d'habits, the Charge of Victuals and Cloaths. Les Prairies sont de moindre entretien, & de plus grand revenu, Meadows are less chargeable, and yield a great deal more.

Entretoise, (f.) a cross-quarter of Timber.

s'Entretoucher, to touch one another.

†Entrevénir, to intervene. See Intervénir. Or thus. As, Heb. 9. 16. Là où il y a un Testament, il est nécessaire que la Mort du Testateur intervienne, where a Testament is, there must also of necessity be the Death of the Testator.

Entrevue, (f.) an Interview, a Sight of each other, a Meeting. Convenir d'une Entrevue, to agree about an Interview.

Entrevoir, to see (or discover) a little, to have but a glimpse of.

Entr'ouïr, to over-hear. Il entr'ouït leur Discours, he over-heard their Discourse.

Entr'ouvert, but a little open, half open. La Porte étoit entr'ouverte, the Door was a little open. Cheval entr'ouvert. C'est un Cheval qui a fait un effort à l'Epaule avec tant de violence, que l'Os de l'Epaule a été dejoint du Corps.

Entr'ouvrir, to open but a little. As, entr'ouvrir la Porte, to open the Door but a little. S'entr'ouvrir, to open, (in a neutral sense.)

Envahi, invaded, usurped.

Envahir, to invade, to usurp. As, envahir un Royaume, l'usurper, s'en emparer, to invade a Kingdom.

Envelope, (f.) any thing that serves to wrap another in; a cover of a Letter. En Termes de Guerre, on appelle Envelope une Elevation de Terres; que l'on fait quelquefois dans le Fossé d'une Place, quelquefois au de là du Fossé; tantôt en façon d'un simple Parapet, tantôt comme un petit Rempart bordé d'un Parapet.

Envelopé, covered, wrapped (or wrapt) up; involved; hemmed in, or beset. Envelopé dans du papier, wrapt up in a piece of paper. Elle reçoit avec joie ce qu'on lui veut dire de libre, pourveu qu'il soit envelopé, she hears joyfully any thing that relates to the pleasures of Love, provided it be wrapt up in clean linnen. Nous sommes tous envelopés dans un grand Danger, we are all involved in a great Danger. L'Enemi étoit envelopé de toutes parts, the Enemies were hemmed in on all sides.

Enveloper, to wrap up, or to cover; to involve; to hem in, or beset. As, enveloper quelque chose dans du papier, to wrap up something in paper. Tu m'as envelopé au Ventre de ma Mere, (Ps. 139. 13.) thou hast covered me in my Mother's Womb. Le Malheureux nous envelopa dans sa Ruine, the Wretched involved us in his Ruin. Enveloper l'Enemi de toutes parts, to hem in the Enemy on every side. S'enveloper, to wrap himself up, to cover himself. S'enveloper de son Manteau, to wrap himself up in his Cloak. Tu t'envelopes de Lumiere comme d'un Vêtement, (Ps. 104. 2.) thou coverest thy self with Light as with a Garment.

Envenimé, invenomed, venomous. Il est envenimé contre moi, he is invenomed against me. Une Plume envenimée, a venomous Pen. Envenimer, to invenom, to poison. Un Insecte qui envenime les Herbes sur lesquelles il passe, an Insect that poisons the Herbs that come to be touched by it. Il se plaît à envenimer ce qu'on dit, he loves to poison what one says, he loves to make the worst of it.

Envers, to. Etre charitable envers les Pauvres, to be charitable to the Poor. Envers, (a masc. Subst.) the wrong side of a thing. As, l'envers du Drap, the wrong side of the Cloth. A l'envers, (Adv.) the wrong side outward.

Envi, As, à l'envi, in emulation one of another. Etudier à l'envi, to study with an emulation. Or thus. As, travailler à l'envi, to strive who shall work most, or best. Envi, au Jeu de Cartes, a Vy, at Cards.

Envie, (f.) envy, envying, hatred; mind, or desire; a longing; a mark upon a Child, representing the thing his Mother longed for. L'Envie est un Deplaisir qu'on a de voir ses Egaux jouir de quelques Avantages considérables, Envy is a Grief arising from the Good of others. L'Envie est une Passion basse, Envy is a base Passion.

 Avoir envie contre quécun, porter envie à quécun, to have an envy against one, to envy him. Etre ulcere d'envie, to be eaten up with envy. Le Potier porte envie au Potier, the Potter envies the Potter, two of a Trade can never agree. S'attirer l'envie de plusieurs personnes, to incur the envy of many people. Etre au dessus de l'Envie, to be above Envy. Se mettre à couvert de l'Envie, to secure himself from Envy.
 Le Diable, voyant qu'Abel servoit Dieu fidellement, alluma dans le cœur de Cain son Frere une cruelle Envie contre lui, the Devil, seeing that Abel served God in sincerity of heart, kindled in his Brother's heart a cruel Hatred against him.
 J'ai grande envie de le voir, I have a great mind (or a great desire) to see him. Cela m'en a fait naître (ou m'en a donné) l'envie, that has created my desire of it.
 Or thus. Je meurs d'envie d'y aller, I die with an impatience to go thither. Si l'envie m'en prend, if the humour takes me.
 Cela fait envie, that makes the mouth water.
 Il m'en a ôté l'envie, he has put me out of conceit with it. J'ai quèque envie d'aller à telle, I have a kind of a motion to stool.
 Une Envie de Femme grosse, a Longing of a Woman with Child.
 Un Enfant né avec une envie sur son front, a Child born with a Mark upon his forehead.
 J'ai arraché toutes les envies que j'avois autour des Ongles, I plucked off all the rising skins that were about my Nails.
 Envies, (2 Cor. 12. 20.) envious.
 Envié, (from Envier) envy'd.
 Vous êtes envié de tout le Monde, you are envy'd by all the World.
 Envié, old, waxed old, Ps. 32. 3.
 As, abfondre les Pecheurs les plus envié-lis, cd. qui sont Pecheurs depuis long tems, to absolve old Sinners.
 † Envié, to make old, as Heb. 8. 43.
 S'envié, to wax old.
 Je vous ai conduit quarante ans par le Desert, sans que vos Vêtemens se soient envié sur vous, (Deut. 29. 5.) I have led you forty years in the Wilderness, and your Cloaths are not waxen old upon you.
 Envier, (from Envie) to envy; to vy.
 Je n'envie ni son Elprit, ni sa Fortune, I neither envy his Wit, nor his Fortune.
 Si mon Desein réussit, je n'envierai pas à Alexandre toutes ses Conquêtes, if my Design takes effect, I shall not envy Alexander his Conquests.
 Envier le point, to vy the point.
 Envieux, envious, jealous.
 Un Elprit lâche & envieux, a base and jealous Soul.
 Or thus. As, Ps. 106. 16. † Ils furent envieux sur Moïse dans le Camp, they envy'd Moses in the Camp.
 And 1 Cor. 13. 4. la Charité n'est point envieuse, Charity envieth not.
 Envieux, (a masc. Subst.) an envious Man.
 Son Merite lui a fait des Envieux, his Merit has brought Envy upon him.
 Envieuse, (a fem. Subst.) an envious Woman.
 Environ, about; thereabouts.
 Environ ce même tems, about this very time. Il est environ deux heures, it is about two a clock. Nous étions environ vint mille, we were about twenty thousand.
 Il y eut cinq cens hommes tuez, ou environ, there were five hundred men killed, or thereabouts.
 Environné, surrounded, encompassed, environed.
 Etre environné de la Mer, to be surrounded with the Sea.
 Une Province environnée d'Eau, a Province surrounded with Water.
 Environner, to surround, to compass round, to encompass, environ, or stand about.
 Tous les Malheurs nous environnent, all kind of Mischiefs surround us.
 Ses Serviteurs l'environnoient pour le de-fendre, his Servants stood about him in order to defend him.

 Envisagé, looked (or lookt) in the face.
 Envisager, to look in the face.
 As, envisager une personne, to look one in the face.
 Envisager la Mort avec une constance heroïque, to look Death in the face with an heroic constancy.
 Enumeration, (f.) cd. denombrement, enumeration, or account.
 Faire une longue enumeration, to make a long enumeration.
 Envoi, (m.) a sending; the envoy (or conclusion) of a Ballet or Sonnet, in a short Stanza by it self, and serving oftentimes as a Dedication of the Whole.
 Envoyé } See { Envoyé.
 Envoyer } Envoyer.
 Envoyer, to fly.
 As, il se jouoit avec un petit Oiseau, qu'il a laissé envoler, he play'd with a little Bird, which he let fly.
 S'envoler, to fly away.
 L'Oiseau s'est envolé, the Bird is flown away.
 † Mon Ame est prête à s'envoler, cd. est sur le point de mourir, my Soul is ready to depart, I am upon the point of death.
 Envoyé, sent.
 Un Homme envoyé exprès, a Man sent on purpose.
 C'est un Homme envoyé du Ciel, he is a Man sent from Heaven.
 Envoyé, (a masc. Subst.) an Envoy.
 As, un Envoyé extraordinaire, an Envoy extraordinary.
 L'Envoyé de l'Empereur, the Emperor's Envoy.
 Envoyer, to send.
 Envoyer ses Enfans à l'Ecole, to send his Children to School. Envoyer un Present à quécun, to send a Present to one.
 Envoyer querir quécun, to send for one. On m'a dit chez nous que vous m'aviez envoyé querir, I was told at home that you had sent for me.
 Envyé, drunk, made drunk; inebriated, intoxicated, infatuated.
 Je l'ai vu envyé de la belle maniere, I saw him finely drunk.
 Envyé d'une bonne Opinion de soi même, inebriated with a good Conceit of himself.
 Envyé de sa bonne fortune, intoxicated with his own good fortune. Un Pedant envyé de sa vaine Science, a Pedant infatuated with his empty Learning.
 Envyer, to make drunk.
 Ils l'ont mené au Cabaret, & l'ont envyé, they carry'd him into the Tavern, and there made him drunk.
 S'envyer, to make himself drunk, to take his fill of drink.
 Il ne sauroit boire sans s'envyer, he cannot drink without making himself drunk.
 Or thus. As, Eph. 5. 18. Ne vous envyrez point de Vin, auquel il y a de la dissolution, be not drunk with Wine, wherein is excess.
 And 1 Thess. 5. 7. ceux qui s'envyrent s'enyrent de nuit, they that be drunken are drunken in the night.
 Vien, envyrons nous d'amourettes jusques au matin, (Prov. 7. 18.) come, let us take our fill of love untill the morning.

E P

Epaete, (f.) Epaet.
 On appelle Epaete les onze Jours que l'Année Solaire commune a par dessus l'Année Lunaire commune, we call Epaet the eleven Days which the common Solar Year hath above the common Lunar Year.
 Epagneul, (m.) forte de Chien, Spaniel, a Spaniel-Dog.
 Un bon Epagneul, a good Spaniel.
 Epagneule, (f.) a Spaniel, a Spaniel-Bitch.
 Epais, thick.
 Du Drap epais, thick Cloth. Une Etoffe epaisse, a thick Stuff.
 Un Homme epais, a thick Man. Une Femme epaisse, a thick Woman.
 Il donna le premier dans le plus epais de la Cavalerie, he was the first that fell in amongst the thickest of the Cavalry.

 Epaisseur, (f.) thickness.
 Admirez l'epaisseur de cette Graisse, admire the thickness of this Fat.
 Or thus. As, elle a trois doigts d'epaisseur, it is three inches thick.
 Entrer dans l'epaisseur du Bois, to fall into the thick of the Forest.
 Epais, thickened, or made thick.
 Epaisir, to thicken, or make thick.
 S'epaisir, to thicken, to grow (or become) thick.
 L'Air s'epaisit en Nue, the Air thickens into a Cloud.
 Epaisissement, (m.) a thickening, or condensation.
 As, l'epaisissement des Nues, the thickening (or condensation) of the Clouds.
 Observer by the by, that this Word is not said of firm and solid Things.
 Epanché, shed, diffused, overflowed.
 Epanchement, (m.) an overflowing.
 C'est un epanchement de bile par tout le Corps, 'tis an overflowing of the choler all over the Body.
 Epancher, to shed; to lay open, Prov. 13. 16.
 Notre Sauveur a epanché son Sang pour nous, our Saviour hath shed his Blood for us.
 S'epancher, to overflow, or diffuse it self.
 C'est une Bile qui s'est epanchée par tout son Corps, 'tis a Choler that hath diffused it self over all the Body.
 Epancre, to shed, or pour out; to sprinkle; to scatter, or disperse.
 As, epancre des larmes, to shed tears.
 J'ai epanché mon Ame devant l'Eternel, (1 Sam. 1. 15.) I have poured out my Soul before the Lord. J'eplan devant lui ma Complainte, (Ps. 142. 2.) I pour out my Complaint before him. Epan ton Indignation sur eux, (Ps. 69. 25.) pour out thine Indignation upon them.
 Tu epandras le sang sur l'Autel tout à l'entour, (Ex. 29. 20.) thou shalt sprinkle the blood upon the Altar round about.
 Epancre (or eparpiller) quèque chose, to scatter a thing about.
 † Epancre, for etendre, to stretch forth.
 As, Ps. 143. 6. J'eplan mes mains vers toi, I stretch forth my hands unto thee.
 S'epandre, to spread it self, to be shed abroad, Rom. 5. 5; to go about, Numb. 11. 8; to go abroad, Luke 5. 15.
 Le Fleuve s'epand dans la Plaine, the River spreads it self along the Plain.
 Epandu, shed, poured out, poured, Ps. 45. 2.
 Il me souvint de tant de Pleurs vainement epancus, I remember so many Tears shed in vain.
 S'epanouir, to blow.
 As, bouton de rose qui s'epanouit, cd. qui s'elargit, qui s'etend, qui s'ouvre, ou qui se deplie, a rose-bud that blows.
 † S'epanouir la rate, se rejouir, to be merry, to cheer up.
 † Eparde, to scatter, as Ps. 44. 11; to disperse, Ps. 112. 9.
 S'eparer, cd. detacher des Ruades, to sting, or yerk out with the heels, (as Horses do in a high Manage.)
 Epargnant, saving, sparing, penurious, parsimonious.
 Un homme epargnant, a saving man.
 Epargne, (f.) savingness, or husbandry; that which one has laid up, or saved out of his Charges.
 User d'epargne, to make use of good husbandry, to be saving. La plus belle de toutes les Epargnes est celle de la Bouche, the finest way of Saving is from Mouth-expendes.
 A-t-il fait grande epargne? has he laid up much? L'epargne qu'il a faite n'est pas grande, he has not laid up much.
 L'Epargne du Roi, or rather le Tresor Royal, the King's Treasure. Le Tresorier de l'Epargne, the King's Treasurer.
 Epargné, saved, spared.
 C'est tout autant d'epargné, 'tis so much saved.
 Croyez vous que les Meurtres y fussent epargnez? do you think they spared for Murders.
 Epargner, to spare, or husband; to save, or lay up; to spare, or forbear.

Epargner son Argent, to spare his Money.
 J'en ai épargné une partie sur ma bouche.
I saved part of it out of my own Belly. Le Prodigue dépense ce que le Chiche épargne, that which one spares another spends.
 Tous frais faits, il épargne tous les ans cent Pistoles, all Charges born, he lay's up every year a hundred Pistols.
 N'épargner personne, to spare (or forbear) no body. Il n'a pas même épargné son propre Fils, he has not spared so much as his own Son. Sans épargner ni Age ni Sexe, without sparing either Age or Sex. Voici ceux que les Malheurs de la Guerre ont épargnez, these are the Men whom the Misfortunes of the War have spared, or that have escaped the Misfortunes of the War.
 Or thus. As, je veux bien vous en épargner la peine, I'll save you the labour.
 Ton Oeil ne l'épargnera point, (Deut. 19. 13.) thine Eye shall not pity him.
 S'épargner, ne se pas employer vertement, to spare himself.
 Il s'épargne un peu, he spares himself a little.
 Je m'en épargne, (2 Cor. 12. 6.) I forbear.
 Eparpillé, scattered, scattered about.
 J'ai trouvé mes papiers tout eparpillés, I found my Papers scattered about.
 Eparpiller, to scatter, or scatter about.
 Eparpiller ses Papiers, to scatter his Papers about.
 † S'éparpiller (cd. s'épanouir) la Rate, to be merry, to cheer up.
 Epars (from Epardre) scattered abroad, dispersed.
As, Ps. 141. 7. Nos Os sont epars près la gueule du Sepulcre, our Bones are scattered at the Graves mouth.
 Or thus. Elle marchoit les Cheveux epars, she went along with her hair dishevelled.
 Eparkin, (m.) Maladie de Cheval, Spavin, a Horse-disease.
 Il y a deux sortes d'Eparkins, savoir l'Eparkin de Beuf, & l'Eparkin sec. Le premier est une grosseur qui vient au bas du Jarret en dedans, & qui fait ordinairement boiter le Cheval.
 L'Eparkin sec est un Roidissement ou Engourdissement du Jarret qui ne peut plier, & qui contraint le Cheval de lever tout d'un coup la Hanche & la Jambe, sans que le Jarret jouë.
 † Epaté, cd. elargi, etendu, broad, well spread.
 Un Né epaté, dont les Narines sont larges, & etendues, a broad Nose, a Nose with large Nostrils.
 Epatique. See Hepatique.
 Epave, (m.) Terme de Palais, Movable Goods the Owner whereof is not known; a Waif, or Stray; a Stranger born in a far Country.
 Epau, (f.) a shoulder.
 Avoir de grosses Epaules, to have great Shoulders, or to be broad-shouldered.
 Porter quelque chose sur ses epaules, to carry a thing upon his shoulders. Epau de Mouton, de Veau, ou d'Agneau, a Shoulder of Mutton, Veal, or Lamb.
 Epau d'elevation, (Numb. 6. 20.) beaver-shoulder.
 Epau (ou flanc) de Bastion, the flank of a Bastion.
 † Pouffer le tems à l'epau, to put off from day to day. Par dessus l'epau, over the left shoulder. Cela me fait hausser les epaules, that makes me shrink in my shoulders (as it is usual with some people, to shew an abhorrency.)
 Epaulé, whose shoulder is out of joint.
 Epaulé signifie aussi (but not so properly) propped, or backed; backed, or countenanced.
As, † un Espalier epaulé d'un Mur, an hedge-row of Fruit-trees backed with a Wall.
 † Vous ne l'entreprendriez pas, si vous n'étiez bien epaulé, you would not undertake it, if you were not well backed.
 Or thus. As, † c'est une Bête epaulée, cd.

qui a fait un Enfant avec un Galant, she is a crake Wench, she has had a Bastard.
 Epaulement, (m.) a Covert, a sheltered Place.
 C'est un Travail pour se couvrir de côté, soit par des Elevations de Terres, par des Sacs à terre, par des Gabions, ou par des Fascines chargées de terre.
 Epaulement, ou demi-bastion, a Demi-bastion.
 † Epauler, to prop, or back; to back, or countenance.
 s'Epauler, to put his shoulder out of joint; also, to cover themselves of one side.
 Epaulette, (f.) petite bande de Toile sur l'épaule de la Chemise, a strip of Cloth knotted or stitched in a Shirt on the top of the shoulder.
 Epaulette, Couture qui est sur l'Epau, a seam upon the shoulder.
 Epaulette de Religieuse, a Ribbon tied upon a Nuns shoulder.
 Epauliere (f.) Shoulder-piece.
 Il aura deux Epaulieres, qui s'attacheront par les deux bouts, (Ex. 28. 7.) it shall have the two Shoulder-pieces joined at the two edges thereof.
 Epeautre, (f.) forte de Blé, Spelt, a kind of Corn.
But Ezek. 4. 9. you will find for the French Word Epeautre, that of Fitches in the English Translation.
 Epée, (f.) a Sword; a Sword-man.
 La lame, la pointe, la garde, la poignée, & le pommeau d'une Epée, the blade, the point, the guard, the handle, and pommel of a Sword.
 Une Epée à deux trenchans, a two-edged Sword.
 Porter l'epée, to wear a sword. Mettre la main à l'epée, to clasp his hand to his sword.
 La tirer, to draw it.
 Se battre à coups d'epée, to fight with his sword. Se faire un passage l'epée à la main, to make way with his sword in his hand.
 Passer tout au fil de l'epée, to put all to the sword. Passer son epée au travers du corps de quëcun, to run one through with his sword.
 Mettre l'epée dans son fourreau, to put up his sword in its scabbard.
 Il reduisit cette Place sans tirer l'epée, he reduced that Place without drawing of sword.
 Il l'emporta à la pointe de l'epée, he carried it by dint of sword.
 Il lui tint long tems l'epée sur la gorge, he held a long time his sword to his throat.
 C'est une bonne Epée, pour dire c'est un brave, he is a good Sword-man, he is a stout man.
 Il n'y a point de meilleure Epée que lui, there is no stouter Man than he is.
 Or thus. Ils font aux epées & aux couteaux, cd. ils se mangent, ils se querellent, they are at daggers drawing.
 Epée Romaine, ou Epi qui vient à l'Enco-lure d'un Cheval, the Feathers.
 La main de l'Epée, ou de la Lance, cd. la main droite du Cavalier, a Horse-mans right hand.

Proverbial Expressions.

N'avoir que l'Epée & la Cape, cd. être pauvre, to have little or nothing.
 Ils sont aux Epées & aux Couteaux, cd. toujours prêts à s'entregorger, they are always at daggers drawing.
 Mettre du côté de l'epée, prendre pour soi d'une manière peu honnête, to take a thing to himself unhandsonely.
 Son Epée est vierge, cd. il n'a pas encore degainé pour faire mal à personne, his Sword never came to action.
 Epelé, spelled.
 Epeler, assembler les Syllabes, to spell.
As, il commence à epeler les Lettres, he begins to spell the Letters.
 Eperdu, tout eperdu, dismayed, astonished, in a maze.
 Ils prirent la fuite tout eperdus, they fled all dismay'd.
 Eperdument, intirely, extreamly, desperately, passionately.

Or thus. As, Deut. 20. 3. Ne foyez point eperdus, do not tremble.
And Ps. 2. 5. Alors il parlera à eux en sa Colere, & les rendra eperdus en l'ardeur de son Ire, then shall he speak unto them in his Wrath, and vex them in his sort Displeasure.
 Eperdument, intirely, extreamly, desperately, passionately.
 Elle m'aime eperdument, she loves me intirely, extreamly.
 Etre eperdument amoureux, to be desperately in love, to love passionately.
 Eperlan, (m.) forte de Poisson, a Smelt.
 Eperlan de Riviere, the River Smelt. Eperlan de Mer, the Sea-Smelt.
 Eperon, (m.) a Spur; the Stem of a Ship or Galley; a kind of Buttress.
 Un Eperon bien fait, a Spur well made. Mettre ses eperons, to put on his spurs.
 Notre Esprit assez souvent n'a pas moins besoin de bride que d'eperon, our Soul sometimes wants both bridle and spurs.
 Or thus. As, Donner de l'eperon à un Cheval, le piquer, to spur a Horse.
 † Donnons un coup d'eperon jusques là, let us gallop thither.
 † N'avoir ni bouche, ni epron, cd. n'avoir ni esprit ni agrément, to have no wit, nor genteelness.
 † Eperonné, spurred.
 † Eperonner, cd. donner de l'eperon, to spur.
 Eperonnier, (m.) a Spurrier, or Spur-maker.
 Epervier, (m.) Oiseau de Proie qui est la femelle du Mouchet, a Spar-hawk.
 L'Epervier est un des Oiseaux qui étoient defendus aux Juifs sous la Loi, the Spar-hawk was one of the Fowls which were prohibited to the Jews under the Law.
 Epervier, sorte de Filet dont on se sert pour pêcher, a great Sweep-net for fishing.
 Epha, (m.) Epha, a kind of Measure amongst the ancient Jews, the tenth part of an Homer.
 Ephemere, (m.) Accès de Fievre qui ne dure ordinairement que 24 heures, an Ague of one day, or that lasts but a day.
 Ephemerides, (f.) Livre qui contient ce qui se passe chaque Jour, a Journal, or daily Register of Things done.
 Ephemerides, ou Tables Astronomiques, où l'on represente Jour par Jour le Cours, l'etat, & la Disposition des Planettes & des autres Etoiles, Astronomical Tables, shewing day by day the course, state, and disposition of Planets and other Stars.
 Ephore, (m.) Juge absolu de Lacedemone, Ephorus, a sort of Judge of great power anciently amongst the Lacedemonians.
 Epi, (m.) an ear, an ear of Corn.
 Les Blez se forment en epi, the Corn begins to ear.
 Epi, ou Molette de Cheval. See Molette.
 Epicé, spiced, seasoned with spices.
 Ragout trop epicé, a Ragoo too much spiced.
 Epicier, assaisonner avec des Epices, to spice, or season with spices.
 Epicier un Pâté, to spice a Pie.
 Epicerie, (f.) spices.
 Bonne Epicerie, good spices.
 Epices, (f.) spices.
 Les Epices sont chaudes, spices are hot.
 Epices, en Termes de Palais, the Fees taken by the French Judges, and their Assistants, for Books perused, Consultations had, and Sentence given in a Cause.
 These Fees are called Epices, that is Spices, from an ancient Custom of grateful Sutors; who, having prevailed, were wont to present the Judges or the Reporters of their Causes with Comfers, and other Junkets. Which Gratuity they afterwards turned into Money, and by degrees have suffered it to become a Duty. 'Tis as this day the best Revenue that belongs to Judicial Places.
 Prendre des epices, to take fees. Les epices montent haut, the fees amount to a great deal.
 Epicicle. See Epicycle.
 Epicier, (m.) from Epices, a Grocer.
 Un grand Epicier, a great Grocer.

Epidémique (from Epidémie) epidemical, popular.

As, Maladie epidémique, cd. populaire, an epidemical (or popular) Disease.

Epiderme, (m.) la petite peau insensible qui couvre la grosse, the outward thin skin of the body.

Il n'y a que l'Epiderme qui soit offensé, there is no hurt but in the outward skin.

† Grater l'epiderme à quécun, to scratch one.

Epidémie, (f.) Maladie epidémique, an epidemical Disease.

Epié, eared, grown to an ear; spy'd, watched, dogged, narrowly observed.

Le Blé est epié, the Corn is eared.

Il est epié par tout, he is dogged every where.

Epier, to ear, or grow to an ear; to spy, watch, dog, or observe narrowly; to lay wait for, Luke II. 34.

Le Blé commence à epier, the Corn begins to ear.

Epier quécun, to watch one. Epier ses actions, to watch his actions. Epier l'Occasion, to watch an Opportunity.

Epieu, (m.) sorte d'Arme qui est hors d'Usage, a kind of Javelin, a Weapon of old now disused.

Epigrammatiste, (m.) an Epigrammatist, or Writer of Epigrams.

Epigramme, (f.) sorte de Poème, an Epigram.

Martial a fait de tres belles Epigrammes, mais il en a fait aussi de fort froides, Martial has writ very fine Epigrams, and some very indifferent.

L'Epigramme est une sorte de petit Poème, qui finit d'ordinaire par une Pointe ingenieuse, ou par quécque Chose qui tient lieu de Pointe.

Epilepsie, (f.) le haut Mal, le Mal caduc, le Mal de S. Jean, Epilepsy, the falling Sickness.

Epileptique. As, Maladie epileptique, the falling Sickness.

Epilogue, (m.) Conclusion d'un Livre, ou de quécque Ouvrage entier, Epilogue, Conclusion.

Les Epilogues des Fables de Phedre, the Epilogues of Phædrus his Fables.

† Epilogué, found fault with, criticized.

† Epiloguer, trouver à dire à tout, to find fault with, to criticize, or play the Critick.

Je deteste un Savant qui sans cesse epilogue, I hate a learned Man who is always playing the Critick.

Je ne veux point epiloguer là dessus, I will not play the Critick upon that.

Epinars, (m.) sorte d'Herbe potagere, Spinage.

Epine, (f.) a thorn, the prickly wood of a white Thorn; a thorn, or pain; a thorn, or difficulty.

Avoir une epine au pié, to have a thorn in his foot.

Les Rosés se trouvent parmi des epines, Rosés are found amongst thorns.

On diroit qu'il marche sur des epines, one would think he goes upon thorns.

J'ai au pié une Epine, qui me rend tous les Lieux raboteux, I have a thorn (or pain) in my foot, which makes all Places rugged to me.

Les Commencemens des Regnes ne sont jamais sans quécques Epines, the beginning of a Reign is ever attended by some Difficulty.

Il n'y a que lui qui puisse changer les Epines en Rosés, there's none but he that can change Thorns into Rosés.

Or thus. As, l'epine du Dos, the back-bone.

Epine-vinette, (f.) the barberry-tree.

Epinée. See Echinée.

Epinette, (f.) sorte d'Instrument de Musique, Virginals, a pair of Virginals.

Jouer de l'Epinette, to play upon Virginals.

But Rf. 150. 4. you will find for the French Word Epinette that of stringed Instruments in the English Translation.

Epineux (from Epine) thorny, or full of thorns; hard, difficult.

Un Arbrisseau epineux, a thorny shrub.

Une Affaire epineuse, a difficult Business.

Epingle, (f.) a pin.

Epingle jaune, ou blanche, a yellow, or white pin.

Attacher quécque chose avec une epingle, to pin a thing.

† Tirer son Epingle du Jeu, se retirer sans bruit d'une Affaire où l'on avoit fait mine de vouloir entrer, to slip his Neck out of the collar.

Donner les Epingles à la Femme de celui qui vend, lui faire un present par dessus le marché, to make a Present to the seller's Wife.

Epinglier, (m.) faiseur d'Epingles, a Pin-maker.

Epiphanie, (f.) la Fête des Rois, the Epiphany, or Twelfth Day.

Epique, ou heroïque, heroick.

As, un Poème epique, an heroick Poem.

Un Poète epique, an heroick Poet.

Episcopal, Episcopal.

As, l'Habit Episcopal, the Episcopal Habit. Le Gouvernement Episcopal, the Episcopal Government.

La Dignité Episcopale, the Episcopal Dignity.

Les Fonctions Episcopales, the Episcopal Dutys.

Or thus. As, une Maison Episcopale, a Bishops House.

Episcopat, (m.) Episcopacy, the Dignity (or Office) of a Bishop.

Episcopaux, (m.) Episcoparians, or Church-men, those that are for Episcopal Government.

Les Presbyteriens d'Angleterre s'opposent aux Episcopaux, the Presbyterians of England are opposite to the Episcoparians.

Episode, (m.) Terme de Poésie, an Episod.

Epistre } See { Epitre.

Epitalame } See { Epithalame.

Epitaphe, (f. and sometimes m.) an Epitaph, a funeral Poem, or Inscription.

Faire une jolie Epitaphe, to make a pretty Epitaph.

L'Epitaphe est un petit Poème, qui marque la Mort d'une Personne, & qui finit ordinairement par une Pointe ingenieuse.

Epithalame, (m. and sometimes f.) Poème en faveur d'un Mariage, Epithalamium, a Wedding Song, or Poem.

Epitheme, (m.) Epithem, a liquid Medicine apply'd to an outward Part of the Body, thereby to cool and comfort the inward (either Heart, Stomack, or Liver) that is under it.

Epithete, (f. and sometimes m.) an Epithet.

As, une belle Epithete, a fine Epithet.

† Epitome, (m.) an Epitome. Say Abbrege.

Epitre, (f.) an Epistle.

As, les Epitres Grecques & Latines des Anciens, the Greek and Latine Epistles of the Ancients. Les Epitres des Apotres & des Peres, the Apostles and the Fathers Epistles.

Une Epitre dedicatoire, an Epistle dedicatory.

Epleuré, or Eploré, cd. tout en pleurs, bathed in tears, melted into tears, bedewed with tears.

Elle est toute epleurée, or toute eplorée, she is all melted into tears.

Epluché, pickt, or culled; sifted, or examined.

Les herbes sont epluchées, the herbs are pickt.

Une Affaire bien epluchée, a Thing well sifted, or examined.

Eplucher, to pick, or cull; to sift, or examine.

As, eplucher une Salade, to pick a Sallet.

Eplucher une Doctrine, to sift (or examine) a Doctrine.

Eplucher, amongst Gardeners, signifi's also to rid a Tree of its dead branches; and amongst other Tradesmen, to cut the small threads that stick out of the Work, to make clean work.

Eplucheur, (m.) a Picker.

Eplucheuse, (f.) a Woman Picker.

Epluchoir, (m.) a Basket-makers Knife, such as he makes use of to pare his Work.

Epluchures, (f.) pickings.

Epode, (f.) an Epod.

Les Epodes d'Horace, Horace's Epods.

On appelle Epode un Chant qui se faisoit apres l'Ode (ou l'Hymne) qu'on avoit chantée à l'honneur des Dieux.

Epointé. See Echanché.

Eponge, (f.) a Sponge.

Passer l'éponge sur quécque chose, to wash a thing off with a sponge.

Or thus, in a metaphorical sense. Passons l'éponge là dessus, let us wave that, let us lay that aside.

Epoque, (f.) an Epoch.

Les Epoques sont de certaines Distinctions de Temps ou de certains Points fixes & arrêtés, dont se servent les Chronologistes pour conter les Années, Epochs are certain Distinctions of Time, and Periods, which the Chronologers make use of to compute Years.

Les plus remarquables de toutes les Epoques sont celles de la Creation du Monde, & de la Naissance de Jesus Christ, the most notable Epochs of all are those of the Creation of the World, and of our Saviours Birth.

† Epouillé, lousé, rid of lice.

† Epouiller, to louse, or rid of lice.

As, epouiller un Enfant, cd. lui netteyer la Tête, en ôter & tuer les poux, to louse a Child, to kill his lice, or rid it of his lice.

Epouailles, (f.) Wedding.

Epouse, (f.) from Epoux, the Bride, the Spouse, a new-married Woman.

Il est couché avec sa nouvelle Epouse, he lies a-bed with his Spouse.

L'Eglise est l'Epouse de Jesus Christ, the Church is our Saviours Spouse.

Epouse is also said especially of a Queen, at any time during the Life of the King her Husband.

As, le Roi & la Reine son Epouse, the King and his Royal Consort.

Epoué, marry'd, wedded.

Il fut epoué la Semaine passée, he was marry'd last Week.

Elle sera bien tôt epouée, she is to be marry'd very suddenly.

Epoué, (a masc. Subst.) a Bridegroom, a new-marry'd Man.

As, l'Epoué est bien fait, the Bridegroom is a handsome Man.

Epouée, (a fem. Subst.) a Bride, or new-marry'd Woman.

As, une jolie Epouée, a pretty Bride.

Epouser, to marry, or take in marriage; to espouse.

Epouser une Femme, ou un Mari, to marry a Wife, or a Husband. Elle a epoué un homme riche, she has marry'd a rich man.

Il a epoué une belle Fille, he has marry'd a handsome Woman.

Epouser le Parti de quécun, to espouse ones Interests. Epouser sa Querelle, to espouse his Quarrel, to take it upon himself.

Pour être libre, il ne faut epouser (cd. s'attacher à) personne, he that will be free must have no ty with no body.

Mariez vous au nom de Dieu, mais ne foyez jamais si bête que d'epouser vôte Mari, Marry in Gods Name, but be not so silly as to ty your self for ever to your Husband.

This is Motin's Advice, in his Parnasse Satyrique.

Epouffeté, whereof the dust is wiped off; whipt.

Epouffeter (Terme d'Orfèvre) ôter avec une peau la poussiere de la besongne qui sort du feu, to wipe off the dust of a piece of Work as it comes out of the fire.

† Epouffeter un Enfant, le fouetter, to whip a Child.

Epouvantable, dreadful, horrid.

C'est une Chose epouvantable, 'tis a dreadful Thing.

Epouvantablement, dreadfully, horribly.

Epouvantail, (m.) a Scare-crow, a Bugbear.

On appelle proprement Epouvantail une Figure de paille, qu'on met dans les Champs, pour epouvanter les Oiseaux.

Epouvante, (f.) fright, or terror.

Mettre l'épouvante dans le Cœur des Rebelles, to strike a terror into the Rebels hearts. Or thus. As, donner de l'épouvante, to fright. Prendre l'épouvante, to be frightened.

Epouvanté, frightened, affrighted, scared, terrified, that fears exceedingly, or is in a great fright.

Epouvantement, (m.) a Terror, or terrible Thing; a fearful sight, Luke 21. 11; Fear Ex. 23. 27; Horrour, Ps. 55. 6; Amazement; 1 Pet. 3. 6.

La Mort est le Roi des Epouvantemens, Death is the King of Terrours.

Epouvanter, to fright, to scare, to terrify. Vous l'épouvanterez, you will fright him.

S'épouvanter, to fright himself, to be frightened, or scared.

Epoux, (m.) a Bridegroom, or new-marry'd Man, a Spouse.

Un aimable Epoux, a lovely Bridegroom. Jesus Christ est l'Epoux de l'Eglise, our Saviour is the Spouse of the Church.

Epreindre, to strain, to wring (or squeeze) out.

Epreindre du Jus d'une Orange, to squeeze out the Juice of an Orange.

Epreint, strained, wrung (or squeezed) out. As, Lev. 1. 15. Son Sang sera epreint contre le côté de l'Autel, the Blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the Altar.

Epreuvier. See Epervier.

Epreuve, (f.) trial, trying, proof, or experiment; a Proof, or Printers proof; trial, affliction, temptation.

J'en ai fait l'épreuve, I made a trial (or experiment) of it. Une Cuirasse à l'épreuve du mousquet, an Armour musquet-proof.

Faire, ou tirer une Epreuve, to make, or draw a Proof. Corriger une Epreuve, to correct a Proof.

C'est une grande Epreuve, it is a great Trial, or Affliction.

Or thus. Je suis à toutes épreuves votre tres humble Serviteur, I am upon all occasions your most humble Servant.

Epris, possessed, inflamed.

Epris d'amour, ed. enflammé d'amour, possessed (or inflamed) with love.

Or thus. As, Numb. 11. 4. Et le Peuple ramassé qui étoit parmi eux fut epris de convoitise, and the mixt Multitude that was among them fell a lusting.

And Ps. 106. 14. Ils furent epris de convoitise au Desert, they lusted exceedingly in the Wilderness.

Epron. See Eperon.

Epronné. See Eperon.

Epronner. See Eperonner.

Epronnier. See Eperonnier.

Epruvé, try'd, experimented.

C'est un Remède éprouvé, 'tis a tried Remedy.

La Parole de l'Eternel le rendit éprouvé, (Ps. 105. 19.) the Word of the Lord tried him.

Eprouver (from Epreuve) to try, experiment, or prove.

Eprouver un Remède, to try a Remedy.

Eprouver l'Or avec la pierre de touche, to try Gold with the touch-stone.

Il faut que l'éprouve les forces de votre Esprit, I will try the strength of your Judgement.

Epruvez toutes Choses, retenez ce qui est bon, (1 Thess. 5. 21.) prove all Things, hold fast that which is good.

S'éprouver, s'examiner, to try (or examine) himself.

Que chacun donc s'éprouve soi même (1 Cor. 11. 28.) let every man then examine himself.

S'éprouver, to prove, in a neutral sense.

As, cela ne s'éprouve que trop véritable, that proves but too true.

Eprouvette, (f.) sonde de Chirurgien, a Probe, a Surgeon's Probe.

Eprouvette, petite Machine avec quoi on éprouve les degrés de force de la Poudre à canon, a Device made to find out the degrees of strength of Gun-powder.

Epuisé, drained, empty'd; wasted, exhausted, spent, or consumed; worn out, tired.

Un Puis épuisé, a drained Well. Un Arbre épuisé de fruits, a drained Tree.

Un Corps épuisé de forces, a Body spent, whose strength is exhausted.

Ma Patience est épuisée, my Patience is worn out, or tired.

Or thus. As, une Terre épuisée, a piece of Ground out of heart.

Epuisement, (m.) a drawing away; an exhausting of ones strength.

As, l'épuisement d'une humeur superflue, the drawing away of a superfluous humour.

Après avoir marché quèque tems, je sens un tel épuisement, que je suis obligé de manger pour repaier mes forces, by that time I walkt a while, I find my self so exhausted that I am fain to eat to recover my strength.

Epuiser, to drain, or empty; to waste, exhaust, spend, or consume; to tire, or wear out.

Epuiser un Puis, to drain a well.

Epuiser des Tresors, to waste (spend, or consume) Treasures. Epuiser ses Forces, to spend his spirits, to exhaust his strength.

Epuiser la patience de quècun, to wear out (or tire) ones patience.

Or thus. As, votre esprit epuise toutes nos louanges, your Wit eclipses all our praises.

Epuiser d'hommes tout un Pais, to unpeople (or depopulate) a Country.

Epuré, refined, clear.

As, de l'or epuré, refined gold.

Avoir la Raison tout à fait epurée, to have a very clear Reason.

Epurier, to refine.

As, epurer de l'or, ou de l'argent, to refine gold, or silver.

Epy. See Epi.

Equari, squared, made (or cut) square.

Equarir, to square, to make (or cut) square.

As, equarir une Poutre, la rendre egale de côté & d'autre, to square a Beam, to cut (or make) it square.

†Equarquillé } See { Ecarquillé.

†Equarquiller } See { Ecarquiller.

Equateur, (m.) the Equator, or Equinoctial Circle.

On appelle Equateur, en Geographie, une Ligne tracée sur le milieu du Globe, ou de la Mappemonde, dans une distance egale de l'un & de l'autre Pôle, & qui marque le Chemin du Soleil aux Jours des Equinoxes, the Equator, in Geography, is a Line drawn upon the middle of the Globe, or of a general Map, at an equal Distance from each Pole, and shewing the Course of the Sun in the Equinoctial Days.

Equerre, (f.) Instrument qui sert à equarir, a Rule, or Square (an Instrument used by Masons, Carpenters, and Joiners.)

Equestre, ou à Cheval, on horseback.

As, une Statue equestre, a Statue on horseback.

Fortune equestre, Fortune on horseback.

Equiangle, qui a les Angles egaux, equiangular, whose angles are equal.

Equilateral, or Equilatere, qui a tous ses Côtés egaux, equilateral, whose sides are equal.

Un Triangle equilateral, an equilateral Triangle.

Une Figure Reguliere est equiangle & equilatere, a Regular Figure is both equiangular and equilateral.

Equilibre, (m.) ed. pareil poids, equilibrium, equality of weight.

La Balance est en equilibre, the Scale is in equilibrio.

Equinoxe, (m.) egalité du Jour & de la Nuit, Equinox, an equal length of Day and Night.

Equinoxial, equinoxial.

As, la Ligne Equinoxiale, the Equinoxial Line.

Equipage, (m.) equipage, attire, or furniture; all the Men that attend a Ship, the Seamen, Souldiers, and Officers thereof.

Se mettre en equipage, to put himself into some equipage.

Etre en bon ou mauvais equipage, to be in a good or bad equipage.

Il étoit en tres mauvais equipage, he was in a very bad equipage.

Ils allerent au devant de lui en fort bel Equipage, they went to meet him in a very fine Equipage.

Leurs Majestez y parurent dans un Equipage tres eclatant, their Majesties appeared in a most splendid Equipage.

Tout l'Equipage de ce Bâtiment est mort du Scorbut pendant cette Traversée, every man of that Ship died of the Scurvy in that Voyage.

Or thus, in a comical sense.

Il se trouva au Rendez-vous avec tout son Equipage d'Amour, he went to the Rendez-vous with all his Love-Implements.

Equipé, equipied, set out, fitted out, provided of all things necessary.

Un Soldat bien équipé, a Souldier well set out.

Une Flote bien équipée, a Fleet well equipped, well fitted out.

†Equipée, (a fem. Subst.) folle Entreprise, a foolish Enterprize, an idle Design.

As, faire une Equipée, to go upon a foolish Design.

Equipement, (m.) the Provisions and Store of a Ship.

Equiper, to equip, to set (or fit) out, to provide of all Things necessary.

As, equiper une Flote, to equip (or fit out) a Fleet.

Equiper un Soldat, to set out a Souldier, to give him Cloaths and what else is convenient to make him fit for service.

Or thus. As, Ps. 18. 32. C'est le Dieu fort qui m'équipe de force, 'tis God that girdeth me with strength.

S'equiper, to fit out himself.

Equipolent, Terme de Pratique.

As, donner à l'equipolent, ed, donner autant, ou à peu près, to give an equivalent.

Equitable, equitable, just.

C'est un homme fort equitable, he is a very just (or equitable) man.

Une Action tres equitable, a very equitable Action.

Equitablement, equitably, justly.

Juger equitablement d'une Chose, to pass an equitable Judgement upon a Thing.

Equité, (f.) equity, that which is just or equitable.

Equivalent, Terme de Pratique, equivalent, of equal value.

Equivoque, qui a double Sens, equivocal, ambiguous, doubtful, that hath a double meaning.

Un Mot equivoque, an equivocal Word.

Equivoque, (a fem. Subst.) an equivoque, or ambiguous expression; an error, or mistake.

Il faut éviter les Equivoques, soit en parlant ou en écrivant, Equivokes must be avoided, whether we speak or write.

Tomber dans une plaisante equivoque, to fall into a pretty mistake.

Equivoué, that hath a double meaning.

As, un Vers equivoué, a Verse that hath a double meaning.

†Equivouer, faire des Equivoques, to equivocate.

Les petits Esprits se plaisent à equivouer, the little Wits are those that equivocate most.

†S'equivouer, se tromper, to mistake.

As, il s'equivoue fort souvent, he mistakes very often.

Je me suis un peu equivoué, I made a little mistake.

Erable, (m.) sorte d'Arbre, Maple, the Maple-tree.

Il y a de plusieurs especes d'Erable, l'un qu'on appelle Erable commun ou Erable de Plaine, & l'autre Erable de Montagne.

Celui là a le bois blanc & plein de Veines; & celui ci est un grand Arbre qui a le bois fort dur, & qui fleurit jaune.

Erailé,

Eraillé, spread, set wide open.

Un Oeil eraillé, qui n'est pas retenu tout à fait des paupieres, & dont les coins elargis font un vilain effet, an Eye whose lower lid being reversed leaves that part of the white altogether uncovered.

Erain. See Airain.

Ere, (f.) cd. Epoque, an Era, or Epoch.

As, l'Ere Chretienne, the Christian Era, or the Christian Epoch.

Erection, (f.) from Eriger, an erecting, or raising; erection, or standing.

As, l'erection d'une Comté en Duché, the erecting (or raising) of an Earldom into a Dukedom.

L'erection de la Verge, the erection of the Yard.

Eresypele, (f.) a swelling with heat, redness, and pain.

L'Eresypele est une Tumeur contre Nature, occupant la surface des Parties avec chaleur, rougeur, & douleur, causée par une Humeur bilieuse & naturelle.

Ergot, (m.) spur, the spur of some fowls (such as Cocks, Hens, Larks, &c.)

† Monter sur ses ergots, to rise on his toes, to stand upon his tiptoes; also, to carry it high, to stand upon high terms.

Ergot de Cheval. C'est une Corne molle, à peu près de la grosseur d'une Chateigne, située au derriere & au bas du Boulet, & cachée ordinairement par le Fanon.

Ergoté, spurred.

Un Coc bien ergoté, ou qui a de bons ergots, a Cock well spurred.

† Ergoter, (from the Latine Word Ergo) to dispute upon some Points of Philosophy.

† Ergoteur, (m.) a Sophister.

Erigé, erected, raised.

As, un Pais erigé en Duché, a Country erected into a Dukedom.

Une Statue erigée, a Statue erected, or set up.

Eriger, to erect, or raise.

As, eriger une Terre en Comté, to raise an Estate into an Earldom.

Eriger une Statue à quécun, to erect a Statue to one.

S'eriger en Docteur, to take upon him to be a Doctor, to carry it Doctor-like.

Il s'est erigé en Railleur, he set up for a Jeerer.

† Erisypele } See Eresypele.

Ermine } See Hermine.

Errant (from Errer) wandering, going astray, being out of the way.

As, il est errant, he is a wandering man, he is a Vagabund. Un Juif errant, a wandering Jew.

Une Putain errante, a wandering Whore.

Une Etoile errante, a wandering Star.

Vous etiez comme des Brebis errantes, (1 Pf. 2. 25.) you were as sheep going astray.

Or thus. Nous sommes errans ça & là (1 Cor. 4. 11.) we have no certain dwelling Place.

Errata, (m.) Terme d'Imprimeur, an Errata.

As, faire l'Errata d'un Livre, to make an Errata.

Erre. As, aller grand' erre, cd. aller grand train, to go at a great rate.

† Erré, hired, ingaged.

Erre, to wander, or go about; to err, to be under an erreur, to be out.

Erre de Province en Province, to wander from one Country to another. Erre dans les Bois, to wander in the Woods.

Il est sujet à erre, he is apt to err. Il erre quécquefois, he is out sometimes.

† Errer, (from Erres) to hire, or ingage.

Erres, (f.) an earnest.

Donner de grosses erres, to give a great earnest.

Erreur, (f.) an Errour; a Folly.

Etre dans l'erreur, to be in an errour. Tomber dans l'erreur, to fall into an errour.

Se rire de ses erreurs passées, to laugh at his former follies.

Erroné, cd. faux, erroneous, false.

As, une Opinion erronée, an erroneous (or false) Opinion.

Opiner sur un fondement erroné, to give his Opinion upon false ground.

Erronément, d'une maniere erronée, erroneously.

Erte. As, être à l'erte, to have a watchfull eye.

Avoir l'esprit à l'erte, cd. vif & éveillé, to be circumspect, watchfull, or vigilant.

Je les tiendrai à l'erte, I shall make them look about them.

Erudition, (f.) learning.

As, c'est un Homme d'une grande erudition, ou d'un grand savoir, he is a Man of great learning, he is a very learned Man.

E S

Es, of.

As, Maître es Arts, a Master of Arts.

This is the only Case wherein this Preposition is rightly used now a dayes. Whereas formerly it was often used for dans, en, and aux.

As Ps. 9. 14. afin que je raconte toutes tes Louanges es Portes de la Fille de Sion, that I may shew forth all thy Praise in the Gates of the Daughter of Sion.

Es is also a Person of the Verb Etre, to be.

As, tu es un honnête homme, thou art an honest man.

† Esbahi

† s'Ebahir

† Esbahissement

† Esbarbé

† Esbarber

† Esbat

† Esbatement

† s'Ebatre

† Esbaubi

Esbauche

Esbauché

Esbaucher

Esbauchoir

Esbloui

Esblouir

Esblouissement

† Esborgné

† Esborgner

† s'Eboufer

Esboulé

Esboulement

s'Ebouler

Esbourgeonné

Esbourgeonner

Esbranché

Esbrancher

Esbranché

Esbranchement

Esbranler

Esbreché

Esbrecher

Esbrillade

s'Esbrouer

† Esbahi

† s'Ebahir

† Esbahissement

† Esbarbé

† Esbarber

† Esbat

† Esbatement

† s'Ebatre

† Esbaubi

Esbauche

Esbauché

Esbaucher

Esbauchoir

Esbloui

Esblouir

Esblouissement

† Esborgné

† Esborgner

† s'Eboufer

Esboulé

Esboulement

s'Ebouler

Esbourgeonné

Esbourgeonner

Esbranché

Esbrancher

Esbranché

Esbranchement

Esbranler

Esbreché

Esbrecher

Esbrillade

s'Esbrouer

Ebahi.

s'Ebahir.

Ebahissement.

Ebarbé.

Ebarber.

Ebat.

Ebatement.

s'Ebatre.

Ebaubi.

Ebauche.

Ebauché.

Ebaucher.

Ebauchoir.

Ebloui.

Eblouir.

Eblouissement.

Eborgné.

Eborgner.

s'Eboufer.

Eboulé.

Eboulement.

s'Ebouler.

Ebourgeonné.

Ebourgeonner.

Ebranché.

Ebrancher.

Ebranché.

Ebranchement.

Ebranler.

Ebreché.

Ebrecher.

Ebrillade.

s'Ebrouer.

† Esbahi

† s'Ebahir

† Esbahissement

† Esbarbé

† Esbarber

† Esbat

† Esbatement

† s'Ebatre

† Esbaubi

Esbauche

Esbauché

Esbaucher

Esbauchoir

Esbloui

Esblouir

Esblouissement

† Esborgné

† Esborgner

† s'Eboufer

Esboulé

Esboulement

s'Ebouler

Esbourgeonné

Esbourgeonner

Esbranché

Esbrancher

Esbranché

Esbranchement

Esbranler

Esbreché

Esbrecher

Esbrillade

s'Esbrouer

† Esbahi

† s'Ebahir

† Esbahissement

† Esbarbé

† Esbarber

† Esbat

† Esbatement

† s'Ebatre

† Esbaubi

Esbauche

Esbauché

Esbaucher

Esbauchoir

Esbloui

Esblouir

Esblouissement

† Esborgné

† Esborgner

† s'Eboufer

Esboulé

Esboulement

s'Ebouler

Esbourgeonné

Esbourgeonner

Esbranché

Esbrancher

Esbranché

Esbranchement

Esbranler

Esbreché

Esbrecher

Esbrillade

s'Esbrouer

Escadron, (m.) a Squadron.

As, un Escadron de Cavalerie, a Squadron of Horse.

Romp (defaire) un Escadron, to break through (to rout) a Squadron.

Escadron est un Corps de Cavalerie, qui se forme depuis un Nombre de cent Maîtres jusqu'à celui de 150. ou de 200, toujours rangez à trois de hauteur.

Escalade, (f.) Terme de College, qui signifie Coup de pié au Cul, a kick in the arse; also a kick at a football.

Escalade, kicked.

Escaler, to kick.

As, les grands Ecoliers escalent les petits, the great Scholars kick the little ones, or domineer over them.

Escaler le ballon, to kick the football.

Escalignon, (m.) a stink, the stink of ones foot, upon much walking.

On appelle Escalignon une Puanteur qui vient du pié de certaines gens, lors qu'ils ont trop marché l'Eté.

Escaille, See Ecaille.

Escallé, See Ecaillé.

Escaller, See Ecailler.

Escalade, (f.) a Scaling, or Scalado.

Escalade est une Attaque brusque contre les Formes & les Precautions, & qui se fait en employant des Echelles, pour insulter une Muraille ou un Rempart.

As, escalader une Muraille, to scale a Wall.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

Escalade, See Ecailler.

On appelle Escarmouche un petit Choc de quelques Soldats detachez de l'un & de l'autre Parti, lors qu'ils se mêlent sans en venir à un Combat réglé, Skirmish is a Fight betwixt some Souldiers of a contrary Side, that come to handy blows without any regular fighting.

Une rude Escarmouche, a bloody Skirmish.

† Escarmouche amoureuse, a Love-Skirmish.

Escarmoucher, faire quelque Escarmouche, to skirmish.

Ils escarmoucherent quelque tems avec avantage égal, they skirmished a while with equal advantage.

† S'escarmoucher, to rage.

As, Prov. 14. 16. Le Sage craint, & se retire du Mal, mais le Fou s'escarmouche, & se tient seur, a Wise man fears, and departs from Evil, but the Fool rageth, and is confident.

Escarmoucheur, (m.) a Skirmisher.

On a tué deux ou trois de nos Escarmoucheurs, two or three of our Skirmishers were killed.

Escarpe, (f.) sorte de Fortification, a Scarp.

Escarpe est le Talus (ou la Pente) du Fossé qui regarde la Campagne, & qui est au dessous du Rempart.

Escarpé, cut steep down, steep.

Un Roc escarpé, a steep Rock.

Escarper, to cut steep down.

Escarper un Rocher, to cut a Rock steep down.

Escarpin, (m.) Soulier decoupé, a Shoe cut in several places.

† Ecarquillé.

† Ecarquiller.

Ecarri.

Ecarri.

Ecart.

Ecarté.

Ecartelé.

Ecartier.

Ecervelé.

Echafaud.

Echafauder.

Echallas.

Echallaffé.

Echallaffer.

Echalote.

Echancré.

Echancrer.

Echancrure.

Echange.

Echangé.

Echanger.

Echanfon.

Echanfonnerie.

Echantillon.

† Echapatroire.

Echapé.

Echaper.

† Echarde.

Echarpe.

† Echars.

† Echarfement.

† Echarfeté.

Echaffes.

Echaudé.

Echauder.

Echaudoir.

Echaufaison.

Echaufé.

Echauffer.

† Echauguette.

Eche.

Echec.

Echelle.

Echelon.

Echenillé.

Echeniller.

Escheoir.

Escheu.

Escheveau.

Eschevelé.

Eschevin.

Eschevinage.

Eschine.

Eschinée.

† Eschiner.

Eschiqueté.

Eschiquier.

Eschoir.

Eschole.

Eschope.

Eschoüé.

Eschoüer.

Eschu.

† Escent.

As, à bon escent, in good earnest, seriously, diligently; surely, Ex. 3. 16; clean, or quite, 2 Pet. 2. 18; sore, Ps. 118. 28.

Esclabouffé.

Esclabouffer.

Esclabouffure.

Esclair.

Esclairci.

Esclaircir.

Esclaircissement.

Esclaire.

Esclairé.

Esclairer.

Esclanche.

Esclat.

Esclatant.

Esclater.

Esclavage, (m.) Slavery, Bondage.

Vivre dans un triste Esclavage, to live in sad Slavery.

Tenir quelqu'un en Esclavage, to keep one in Slavery, or Bondage.

Qu'il est dur de tomber dans l'Esclavage?

what a sad Thing it is to fall into Slavery?

Esclave, (m.) a Slave.

Faire Esclave, to make a Slave.

Mettre un Esclave en Liberté, to give a Slave his Liberty.

Être esclave de ses Passions, to be a Slave to his Passions.

Esclave, (f.) a Slave, a She-Slave.

Je pren pitié de cette pauvre Esclave, I take pity of that poor Slave.

Escluse.

Escofroi.

† Escogrise, (m.) qui ne cherche qu'à attraper quelque chose, one that is ever upon the catch.

Escole.

Escolier.

Escoliere.

Esconduire.

Esconduit.

Esconte, (m.) a discount.

On appelle Esconte (en Termes de Marchand) un Rabais que l'on fait sur quelque Somme de tant pour cent.

Esconté, discounted.

Esconter, to discount.

Esconter l'Intérêt, to discount the Interest.

Escopé. See Ecope.

Escopette, (f.) C'est une sorte d'Arquebuse, ou de Carabine, dont la Cavalerie François de Henri IV. & de Louis XIII. se servoit, & qui (à ce qu'on dit) portoit 500. pas. Aujourd'hui elle est hors d'Usage, & à peine même est elle connue.

Escorce.

Escorché.

Escorcher.

Escorcherie.

Escorcheur.

Escorchure.

Escore.

Escorné.

Escorner.

† Escornifler.

† Escornifleur.

Escorte, (f.) a Convoy.

Escorté, that hath a Convoy.

Escorter, to be a Convoy to.

Deux Vaisseaux de Guerre les escortoient, they had for their Convoy two Men of War.

Escosse.

Escoffé.

Escoffer.

Escot.

Echiquier.

Echoir.

Ecole.

Echope.

Echoüé.

Echoüer.

Echu.

Esclabouffé.

Esclabouffer.

Esclabouffure.

Esclair.

Esclairci.

Esclaircir.

Esclaircissement.

Esclaire.

Esclairé.

Esclairer.

Esclanche.

Esclat.

Esclatant.

Esclater.

Esclavage, (m.) Slavery, Bondage.

Vivre dans un triste Esclavage, to live in sad Slavery.

Tenir quelqu'un en Esclavage, to keep one in Slavery, or Bondage.

Qu'il est dur de tomber dans l'Esclavage?

what a sad Thing it is to fall into Slavery?

Esclave, (m.) a Slave.

Faire Esclave, to make a Slave.

Mettre un Esclave en Liberté, to give a Slave his Liberty.

Être esclave de ses Passions, to be a Slave to his Passions.

Esclave, (f.) a Slave, a She-Slave.

Je pren pitié de cette pauvre Esclave, I take pity of that poor Slave.

Escluse.

Escofroi.

† Escogrise, (m.) qui ne cherche qu'à attraper quelque chose, one that is ever upon the catch.

Escole.

Escolier.

Escoliere.

Esconduire.

Esconduit.

Esconte, (m.) a discount.

On appelle Esconte (en Termes de Marchand) un Rabais que l'on fait sur quelque Somme de tant pour cent.

Esconté, discounted.

Esconter, to discount.

Esconter l'Intérêt, to discount the Interest.

Escopé. See Ecope.

Escopette, (f.) C'est une sorte d'Arquebuse, ou de Carabine, dont la Cavalerie François de Henri IV. & de Louis XIII. se servoit, & qui (à ce qu'on dit) portoit 500. pas. Aujourd'hui elle est hors d'Usage, & à peine même est elle connue.

Escorce.

Escorché.

Escorcher.

Escorcherie.

Escorcheur.

Escorchure.

Escore.

Escorné.

Escorner.

† Escornifler.

† Escornifleur.

Escorte, (f.) a Convoy.

Escorté, that hath a Convoy.

Escorter, to be a Convoy to.

Deux Vaisseaux de Guerre les escortoient, they had for their Convoy two Men of War.

Escosse.

Escoffé.

Escoffer.

Escot.

Escouade, (f.) le Tiers d'une Compagnie de Gens de pié, the third part of a Company of Foot.

Escouade est ordinairement la troisième partie d'une Compagnie d'Infanterie, divisée de la sorte, pour la facilité de monter la Garde, & de se relever l'une après l'autre. Ainsi il y a toujours un tiers de la Compagnie d'employé. Toutes les Escouades, qui servent à la Garde d'une Place de Guerre, doivent tirer au fort entr'elles le Poste que chacune tiendra, pour empêcher les Intelligences avec l'Enemi. En fin l'Escouade repend ordinairement à ce qui s'appelle Brigade dans la Cavalerie.

† Escoué.

Escoulé.

Escoulement.

Escouler.

† Escourgée.

Escouffe, (f.) a flying back in order to fetch a leap.

Escouffe est l'Action de celui qui voulant sauter s'éloigne un peu du Lieu ou de la Chose qu'il veut franchir, & qui courant depuis cette Distance qu'il a prise jusques au Lieu ou à la Chose par dessus laquelle il veut sauter s'élance avec effort pour bien sauter.

Escourté.

Escourter.

Escouté.

Escouter.

Escoutes.

Escoutille.

Escouvillon.

Escouvillonné.

Escouvillonner.

Escran.

Escrafé.

Escrafer.

Escrimé.

Escrimer.

Escrervice.

† Escrime, (f.) fencing.

Maître d'Escrime, a fencing Master.

Un tour d'escrime, a notable fetch.

† Escrimer, ed. faire des armes, to fence.

Or thus. Laissons les entreux s'escrimer en repos, let them not be disturbed in their conflict.

Tel que vous me voyez, je m'en escrime un peu, such as you see me, I have some skill in it.

Escrive.

Escrit.

Escriteau.

Escritoire.

Escriture.

Escrivain.

† Escroc, (m.) celui qui escroque, one that is upon the catch.

Escroqué, got, cunningly got.

Escroquer, to get cunningly.

Il vient toujours m'escroquer de l'argent, he ever comes and gets money from me.

Escroué.

Escroué.

Escrouelles.

Escrouër.

Escroulé.

Escrouler.

Escrouté.

Escrouter.

Ecu.

Ecueil.

Ecuelle.

† Escuillée.

Escurie.

Esculé.

Esculer.

Escume.

Escumé.

Escumer.

Escumeur.

Escureuil
Escureur
Escurie
† Escurieu
Escuffon
Escuyer
Esgard
Esgaré
Esgarement
Esgarer
Esgayé
Esgayer
Esglantier
Esgorgé
Esgorger
† Esgouillé
† Esgouiller
Esgout
Esgouté
Esgouter
Esgoutoir
Esgratigné
Egratigner
Egratigneur
Egratignure
Egrené
Egrener
† Egrillard
Egrugé
Egrugeoir
Egruger
† Egruener
Eguiere
Eguierée
Eguille
Eguillée
Eguiller
Eguilleté
Eguilletier
Eguillette
Eguillon
† Eguilloné
† Eguillonner
Eguisé
Eguiser
† Eguiseur
Ehanché
† Esjouir
† Esjouissance
Eslagué
Eslaguer
Eslan
Eslancement
Eslancer
Eslargi
Eslargir
Eslargissement
Esléu
Elevation
Esléu
Eslévé
Eslèvement
Esléver
Esléveure
Eslire
Eslite
Esligné
Eslignement
Esligner
† Eslourdi
† Eslourdir
Eslu
Esmail
Esmailé
Esmailer
Esmailleur
† Esmailleur
Esméraude
Esméri
Esmerrillon
† Esmerrilloné
† Esmerveillable
† Esmerveiller
Esméu
† Esméudre
Esméute
Esmié
Esmier
Esmondé
Esmonder
Esmotion
Esmouché
Esmoucher
Esmouchoir

Ecureuil.
Ecureur.
Ecurie.
Ecureuil.
Ecuffon.
Ecuyer.
Egard.
Egaré.
Egarement.
Egarer.
Egayé.
Egayer.
Eglantier.
Egorgé.
Egorger.
Egouillé.
Egouiller.
Egout.
Egouté.
Egouter.
Egoutoir.
Egratigné.
Egratigner.
Egratigneur.
Egratignure.
Egrené.
Egrener.
Egrillard.
Egrugé.
Egrugeoir.
Egruger.
s'Egruener.
Aiguere.
Aiguierée.
Aiguille.
Aiguillée.
Aiguiller.
Aiguilleté.
Aiguilletier.
Aiguillette.
Aiguillon.
Aiguilloné.
Aiguillonner.
Aiguisé.
Aiguiser.
Aiguiseur.
Ehanché.
s'Ejouir.
Ejouissance.
Elagué.
Elaguer.
Elan.
Elancement.
Elancer.
Elargi.
Elargir.
Elargissement.
Eleu.
Elevation.
Eleu.
Elevé.
Elevement.
Elever.
Eleveure.
Elire.
Elite.
Eloigné.
Eloignement.
Eloigner.
Elourdi.
Elourdir.
Elu.
Email.
Emailé.
Emailer.
Emailleur.
Emailleur.
Emeraude.
Emeri.
Emerillon.
Emerilloné.
Emerveillable.
s'Emerveiller.
Emeu.
Emoudre.
Emeute.
Emié.
Emier.
Emondé.
Emonder.
Emotion.
Emouché.
Emoucher.
Emouchoir.

Emoudre.
Emouleur.
Emoulu.
Emouffé.
Emouffer.
Emouvoir.

See

Emoudre.
Emouleur.
Emoulu.
Emouffé.
Emouffer.
Emouvoir.

Esophage, (m.) Terme d'Anatomie, the Wind-pipe.

Espace, (m.) a Space.

Espace de Temps & de Lieu, a Space of Time and Place.

Espace, (f.) Terme d'Imprimerie, a Space.

Espace, set at an equal distance.

As, des Arbres espacez, Trees set at a certain distance from one another.

Espacement, (m.) cd. distance, a distance.

As, l'espacement des Colonnes, the distance of Pillars.

Espacer, ranger d'espace en espace, to set at an equal distance.

Espadon, (m.) grande Epée à deux mains, a two-handed sword.

Les Suisses savent bien jouer de l'Espadon, the Swissers know best how to use a two-handed sword.

Espagneul } See { Epagneul.
Espagneule } See { Epagneule.

Espagnol, (m.) Langue Espagnole, Spanish, the Spanish Language.
Parler bon Espagnol, to speak good Spanish.

Espais } See { Epais.
Espaisseur } See { Epaisseur.
Espaissi } See { Epaisi.
Espaissir } See { Epaisir.
Espaississement } See { Epaisissement.

Espalier, (m.) Esplanier, an edge-row of Fruit-trees set close together with their boughs interlaced one within another.

On appelle aussi Espaliers (en Termes de Mer) les Gens de Rame, placez sur les Bancs les plus proches de la Poupe d'une Galere.

Esplanier, (the Verb.) As, esplanier un Arbre, le mettre en Espalier par Espace mesurée, to spread a Tree into an edge-row.

Esplaner, Terme qui s'applique plutôt aux Galeres qu'aux Vaisseaux, to careen.

Espanché } See { Epanché.
Espanchement } See { Epanchement.
Espancher } See { Epancher.
Espandre } See { Epandre.
Espandu } See { Epandu.
s'Espanouir } See { s'Epanouir.
† Espandre } See { † Epandre.
s'Espaner } See { s'Epaner.
Espannant } See { Epannant.
Espanne } See { Epanne.
Espanné } See { Epanné.
Espanner } See { Epanner.
Espanpillé } See { Epanpillé.
Espanpiller } See { Epanpiller.
Espan } See { Epan.
Espanvin } See { Epanvin.
Espané } See { Epané.

Espatule, (f.) a Spatula.

Espatule est un Instrument de Chirurgien & d'Apoticaire, large par un bout, dont on se sert pour étendre les Emplâtres, la Charpie, &c. a Spatula is an Instrument wide at one end, which Surgeons and Apothecaries make use of to spread Plasters, Lint, &c.

Epave. See Epave.

Epavilladour, (m.) Affiète à Mouchettes, a Snuffers pan.

Epaulé } See { Epaulé.
Epauler } See { Epauler.
Epaullette } See { Epaullette.
Epaulière } See { Epaulière.
Epeautre } See { Epeautre.

Especie, (f.) a species, or kind; kind, or sort.
L'Homme est une especie d'Animal, Man is a species amongst Animals. La propagation de l'Espece, the propagation of the Species.

Quelle especie d'Oiseau est ce là? what kind of Bird is that? Il y a une especie de République parmi les Fourmis, there is amongst Ants a kind of Commonwealth. Recevoir le Sacrement sous les deux Especes, to receive the Sacrament in both kinds.

Or thus. As, il a reçu cent Ecus en especie, he has received a hundred Crowns in specie.

Les Especes, ou Images des Choses Visibles, the Images of visible Things.

Espée } See { Epée.
Espelée } See { Epelée.
Espeler } See { Epeler.

Esperance, (f.) hope, hopes, expectation.

Avoir bonne esperance, to have good hopes.

Perdre esperance, to lose his hopes, to despair.

Fonder ses esperances sur quécun, to ground his hopes upon one, to rely upon him. Etre frustré de son esperance, to be frustrated of his hopes, or expectation.

Donner de grandes esperances à quécun, to give one great hopes. Remplir les esperances qu'on a données, to answer the hopes that were intertained of him.

Il va même au delà de nos esperances, il surpasse nos esperances, he goes even beyond our hopes, he exceeds our expectations.

Il n'y a aucune esperance de sa Guérison, there is no hopes of his Cure. Un homme qui est sans esperance, ou hors d'esperance, a man without hopes.

Il y en a qui disent, qu'il y a plus de plaisir dans l'Esperance que dans la Jouissance, there be those who say, that there is more pleasure in Hopes than in the very Enjoyment.

Dieu seul est mon Esperance, God only is my Hope.

L'Esperance ne confond point, (Rom. 5. 5.) Hope maketh not ashamed.

Or thus. As, un Enfant de grande esperance, dont on espere beaucoup, a very hopeful Child.

Mettre toute son Esperance en Dieu, to put his whole trust in God.

Esperdu } See { Eperdu.
Esperdument } See { Eperdument.

Esperé, hoped for, expected.

Esperer (from Esperance) to hope, to hope for, to trust, expect, or promise himself.

Je commence d'esperer ma Liberté, I begin to hope for my Liberty. Esperer la Vie éternelle, to hope to come to Life everlasting.

Que peut on esperer d'un Homme comme lui? what can be expected from such a Man as he? Il n'y a pas lieu d'esperer que les Affaires aillent mieux, there is no reason to expect that Things should have a better Success.

Cela me fait esperer qu'on nous pardonnera, that makes me hope we shall be forgiven. Quel sujet avez vous d'esperer cette Grace? what reason have you to expect such a Favour?

Il espere avoir du Roi quèque Recompense, he expects a Reward from the King. J'espere beaucoup de son Arrivée, I promise my self great matters upon his Arrival.

Esperer en Dieu, to hope (to trust) in God.

Esperlan } See { Eperlan.
Esperon } See { Eperon.
† Esperonné } See { † Eperonné.
Esperonner } See { Eperonner.
Esperonnier } See { Eperonnier.
Espervier } See { Epervier.
Epi } See { Epi.
Epicé } See { Epicé.
Epicier } See { Epicier.
Epicie } See { Epicie.
Epices } See { Epices.
Epicier } See { Epicier.
Epié } See { Epié.
Espier } See { Epier.

† Espiegle,

†Espiegle, (m. & f.) qui a de la vivacité, a Wag.

C'est un Espiegle, he is a Wag.
Mademoiselle, vous êtes une Espiegle, Madam, you are Wag.

Espieu	} See	Epien.
Espinars		Epinars.
Espine		Epine.
Espinée		Epinée.
Espinette		Epinette.
Epineux		Epineux.
Epingle		Epingle.
Epinglier		Epinglier.

Epion, (m.) from Epier, a Spy, a Scout.

On prit l'Epion, & on le pendit, the Spy was taken, and hanged.

Espionne, (f.) a Spy, a Woman Spy.

Une petite Espionne, a little Spy.

†Espionné, spied, watched.

†Espionner, cd. observer, to spy, to watch.

On a donné l'ordre de l'espionner sous main, there is an Order to watch him under hand.

Esplanade, (f.) the Glacis of the Counter-scarp.

Esplanade signifie le Glacis de la Contre-scarpe, mais il commence à vieillir dans ce Sens. Aujourd'hui il signifie proprement le Terre-plain, qui regne entre le Glacis d'une Citadelle, & les premières Maisons de la Ville.

Espluré	} See	Epluré.
Esploré		Eploré.
Espluché		Epluché.
Eplucher		Eplucher.
Eplucheur		Eplucheur.
Eplucheuse		Eplucheuse.
Epluchoir		Epluchoir.
Epluchures		Epluchures.

Espoir, (m.) Terme plus usité en Vers qu'en Prose, hope.

Ce Refus etouffa dans mon Ame toute sorte d'espoir, that Denial stifled in my Soul all manner of hope.

Éponge. See Éponge.

Es ponton, (m.) espece de Demi-pique en Usage sur Mer, a kind of half-pike, of great use at Sea, especially amongst the Venetians and Knights of Malta, when they come to boarding.

Es poufaiiles	} See	Epoufaiiles.
Epoufe		Epoufe.
Epoufé		Epoufé.
Epoufer		Epoufer.
Epouffeté		Epouffeté.
Epouffeter		Epouffeter.
Epouvantable		Epouvantable.
Epouvantable-		Epouvantable-
ment.		ment.
Epouvantail		Epouvantail.
Epouvante		Epouvante.
Epouvanté		Epouvanté.
Epouvantement		Epouvantement.
Epouvanter		Epouvanter.
Epoux		Epoux.
Epreindre		Epreindre.
Epreint		Epreint.
Eprevier	Eprevier.
Epreuve	Epreuve.
Elpris		Epris.

Esprit, (m.) Spirit; the Spirit, mind, or soul of Man; Spirit, or Ghost; Soul, Person, Man, or Woman; a Spirit extracted by Chymistry; Spirit, or Character; purport, end, design, or meaning; nature, or temper; wit, apprehension, or understanding; a Wit.

L'Esprit de Dieu, l'Esprit Saint, the Spirit of God, the holy Spirit. Les Esprits bienheureux, the blessed Spirits.

L'Esprit de l'Homme, the Spirit (the Soul) of Man. Cela m'est venu dans l'esprit, that came into my mind. Ce fut la première chose qui lui tomba dans l'esprit étant éveillé, that was the first thing which came into his mind, after he was awake.

Je ne saurois lui ôter cela de l'esprit, I can't get that out of his mind.

Aliéner les Esprits, to alienate the Minds of people. Aigrir les Esprits, to exasperate the Minds of people.

Avoir l'esprit troublé, to be disturbed in his mind, to be distracted, or out of his wits.

Le S. Esprit, la troisième personne de l'adorable Trinité, the holy Ghost.

Rendre l'esprit, to give up the Ghost. L'Esprit, ou l'Ame d'une personne morte, the Ghost of a dead Body.

Avoir peur des Esprits, to be afraid of Spirits.

Un Esprit follet, un Esprit de Python, Deut. 18. 11. a familiar Spirit.

Un Esprit chagrin, choquant, vif, turbulent, a morose, odious, sprightly, turbulent Man or Woman. Un Esprit faux, a false Man, or Woman. C'est un étrange Esprit, he is a strange Man, or she is a strange Woman.

Esprit volatil, a volatile Spirit. Esprit de Sel, a Spirit of Salt.

C'est là l'esprit de notre Contrat, that's the purport (or end) of our Covenant. C'est là l'esprit de la Fable, that is the meaning of the Fable.

Avoir un esprit couvert, to be of a close (or reserved) temper.

Avoir beaucoup d'esprit, to have a great deal of wit. Il a beaucoup d'esprit, & peu de jugement, he hath a great deal of wit, and but little judgement. Ses Harangues sont toutes pleines d'esprit, his Speeches are all full of wit.

Avouons qu'il n'est rien de si bien partagé que l'Esprit, puis que tout le Monde croit en avoir assez, let us confess, that there is nothing so well shared as Wit, seeing every one thinks he hath enough on't.

Un Esprit fin, délicat, a fine delicate Wit.

Un Esprit vif, a quick (smart, acute) Wit. Un

Esprit pesant, a dull Wit. Un Esprit médiocre, a tolerable Wit. Un Esprit mal tourné, an ill-contrived Wit. Un Esprit usé, a worn out Wit.

Or thus. As, le malin Esprit, le Demon, the Devil. Un malin Esprit, ou une méchante personne, a wicked Man or Woman, a Devilish Man or Woman.

Un Esprit querelleux, a quarrelsome Body.

Avoir l'esprit malin, ou malicieux, to be mischievous, or unlucky. C'est un Esprit fort malin, he is a most mischievous Man, she is a most mischievous Woman.

Il a l'esprit de travers, he is a cross-grained man.

Un homme d'esprit, a witty (or ingenious) man, a man of parts, a wise-hearted man, Ex. 36. 1.

L'Impiété perd les Jeunes Esprits, Irreligion is the Ruin of Youth.

Les Esprits animaux & vitaux, the animal and vital Spirits.

Reprendre les esprits, to recover his Spirits, or his strength, to come to himself again.

Espron	} See	Eperon.
Espronné		Eperonné.
Espronner		Eperonner.
Espronnier		Eperonnier.
Esprouvé		Eprouvé.
Esprouver		Eprouver.
Esquisé		Epuisé.
Esquisement		Epuisement.
Esquiser		Epuiser.
Espuré		Epuré.
Espurer		Epurer.
Espy		Epi.
Esquari		Equari.
Esquarir		Equarir.
†Esquarillé		Ecarquillé.
†Esquarquiller		Ecarquiller.

†Esquels, for en qui, in whom.

As, Ps. 16. 3. esquels je pren tout mon plaisir, in whom is all my delight.

Esquerre. See Equerre.

Esquis, (m.) Bachot de grand Vaisseau, Skiff, a kind of Ship-boat.

Esquille, (f.) éclat d'os rompu, cassé, ou fracassé, a splint of a broken bone.

Une petite esquille, a small splint.

Esquimau. See Quartier-maître.

Esquinancie, (f.) Scurvy.

L'Esquinancie est une Maladie aiguë, qui vient à la Gorge, & qui empêche la Respiration, Scurvy is a Sharp Disease that affects the Throat, and stops the Breath.

Esquine, (f.) les Reins d'un Cheval, a Horse's Back.

Cheval d'Esquine, ou qui va sur l'Esquine, a strong-backed Horse.

Cheval foible d'Esquine, a Horse that has a weak back.

Esquipot, (m.) Boîte où le Barbier met l'Argent qu'il reçoit de chaque Barbe, a Barbers Money-box.

Esquille, (m.) premier crayon (ou legere ebauche) d'un Ouvrage qu'on medite, the first rude draughts of a Fancy in Panning.

Esquisser, faire un esquille, to make the first rude draughts of a Fancy.

†Esquiver, cd. eviter, to eschew, shun, or avoid.

Il faut tâcher de l'esquiver, you must endeavour to shun him.

Faire esquiver quécun, to help one to make his escape.

S'esquiver, se dérober, to run away, to steal away.

Essai, (m.) proof, trial, experiment, assay, or attempt; a taste, or touch of a thing, to know it by; a taster, or little tasting cup.

Faire essai des forces de quécun, to make trial of ones skill. Ce sont là les essais d'un Courage naissant, these are the proofs of a youthful Courage.

Un Coup d'essai, a trial of his skill.

Or thus. As, faire l'essai de l'or, ou de l'argent, to try gold, or silver.

Faire l'essai d'un Canon, to try a Gun.

Essaié } See

Essaier } Essayé.

Essaieur } Essayeur.

Essaim, (m.) a swarm.

As, un essaim d'Abeilles, a swarm of Bees.

† Un essaim de diverses pensées, a swarm of different notions.

Essaimer, faire un essaim, to swarm (as Bees do.)

Essarté, grubbed up.

Essarter, to grub up.

As, essarter les Buissons, cd. les couper, to grub up the Bushes.

Essayé, try'd, assayed, experimented.

Ayant essayé de le prendre, having try'd to apprehend him.

Essayer (from Essai) to try, assay, or experiment; to try, or endeavour; to taste.

Essayer de l'argent, to try silver. Essayer un Canon, to try a Gun.

Essayons de gagner son amitié, let us try to get his love. Essayez si vous en pourrez venir à bout, try if you can bring it about.

Essayer du Vin, le goûter, to taste Wine.

Essaieur, (m.) Officier de la Monoie, qui void à quel titre est l'Argent, an Officer in the Mint, who touches the Coin before it be delivered out.

Esse. See Aisse.

Essence, (f.) nature, substance, being; essence, a perfumed kind of Oyl.

Detruire l'essence d'un Chole, to destroy the nature of a Thing.

Essence de fleur d'Orange, de Jasmin, &c. essence of Orange flower, of Jaymin, &c.

Essentiel, essential, natural, real, particular.

Une propriété essentielle, a natural propriety.

Avoir des Obligations essentielles à quécun, to be particularly obliged to one.

Essentiel, (a masc. Subst.) the essential part of a Thing.

As, je ne manquerai point à l'essentiel de l'Amitié, I shall not fail in the essential part of Friendship.

L'essentiel de la Royauté n'est pas dans les Honneurs, the essential part of Royalty does not consist in Honours.

Essentiellement, naturally, of its self, of its own nature; particularly, intirely.

L'Ame est essentiellement immortelle, the Soul is of it self immortal.

Je lui suis essentiellement obligé, I am particularly obliged to him.

Effieu. See Amieu.

Effor, (m.) Vol à tire d'aile, the soaring up of a Bird.

Oiseau qui prend l'effor, a Bird that soars, or soars up.

Or thus. As, prendre l'effor, to come out, to come abroad. Prendre l'effor, se donner trop de liberté, to take too much liberty.

Donner l'effor à son Imagination, to let his Fancy ramble.

† L'effor (ou la publication) d'un Livre, the publishing of a Book.

† Efforeillé. See Efforillé.

Efforillé, à qui on a coupé les oreilles, that has his ears cut off.

Efforiller un Larron, to cut a Thieves ears off.

On efforilloit autrefois en France par ordre de Justice, mais présentement cette sorte de Punition n'est plus en usage, formerly the Cutting of Ears off was a Punishment in France, but now it is grown out of use.

† Effoufflé, qui est hors d'halene, out of breath.

Il est tout effoufflé, he is quite out of breath.

† Effui, (m.) Serviette à laver les mains, a Towel.

Effui, Lieu où l'on met secher les Cuirs tannez, a drying Place for tanned Leathers.

Effui-main, (m.) a Cloth in the Vestry of a Church, where the Priest wipes his hands, which he washes there, before he goes in to say Mass; also, a kind of narrow Napkin, hanging on the right side of the Altar, which the Priest (after the Ablutions) wipes his fingers upon.

Effuyé, wiped, wiped off, wiped away.

Effuyer, to wipe, wipe off, or wipe away; to wipe off, bear, endure, or go through.

Effuyez vos mains, wipe your hands. Donnez moi donc une Serviette pour les effuyer, give me then a Towel to wipe them.

Effuyer ses larmes, to wipe off his tears.

Dieu effuyera toute Larme de leurs Yeux, (Rev. 21. 4.) God shall wipe away all Tears from their Eyes.

Effuyer un Affront, to wipe off (to bear) an Affront. Effuyer un Refus, to bear a Denial.

Effuyer une decharge de coups de mousquet, to bear a whole discharge of guns.

Effuyer beaucoup de Dangers, to go through many Dangers.

Est, (m.) East.

Un Vent d'Est, an East (Eastern, or Easterly) Wind.

Est is also a person of the Verb Etre, to be; but there the s is not pronounced.

As, il est mal-honnête homme, he is a dishonest man, he is no honest man.

See the Verb Etre, where you will find particularly the Use of the Verbs Impersonal C'est, and Il est.

Estable

Establer

Establi

Establiir

Establisement

Estafier, (m.) a waiting Man in Turnaments, and the like; a kind of Foot-man, in which sense it is a Word of Contemp.

En parlant de Tournois & de Caroufels, on appelle Estafiers ceux qui conduisent les Chevaux de main, qui portent les Flambeaux allumez, qui se tiennent auprès des Machines, & font d'autres fonctions.

Hors de cela, le Mort d'Estafier se prend ordinairement pour un Valet de pié, & est un Terme de Mepris.

† Estafilade, (f.) sorte de Coup du tréchant de l'Epée, &c. a slash, or cut.

Il a une estafilade au Visage, he has got a cut in his face.

Estage

Estaire

Estaim

Estaimé

Estaimer

Estal

Estalage

Estalé

Estaler

† Estaleur

Estalier

Estal

Estalage

Estalé

Estaler

† Estaleur

Estalier

Estalon

Estalonné

Estalonner

Estalonneur

Estambord, (m.) Stern-Post.

L'Estambord est une Piece de bois droite qui s'ente sur l'extremité de la Quille, à angles obtus, pour bâtir la Poupe du Vaisseau, the Stern-Post is a piece of Wood in a Ship, that extends from the Keel to the top of the Poop, and bends together with it.

Estame, (f.) woofed.

As, des Bas d'estame, woofed Stockings.

Estamé

Estamer

Estamine

Estampe, (f.) a Cut, Stamp, or Print; a Smiths rivetting Tool.

Une belle Estampe, a fine Cut.

Estampé, imbossed.

Estamper (Terme d'Orfèvre, & de Serrurier) to imboss.

Estanché

Estancher

Estangon

Estangonné

Estangonner

Estang

Estant

Estape

Estapier

Etat

Estau

Estayé

Estayer

Esté

Estaignoir

Estindre

Estendart

Estendoir

Estendre

Estendu

Estendue

Estenuer

Estenuement

Estauf

Estimable, of great value, much to be valued, or esteemed.

Cela est fort estimable, that's a thing much to be valued.

Estimation, (f.) estimate, estimation.

As, Lev. 27. 2. les Personnes seront à l'Eternel selon ton estimation, the Persons shall be for the Lord by thy estimation.

Estime, (f.) esteem, or respect; esteem, credit, or reputation.

Faire une haute estime de quécun, to have an high esteem for one.

Vous pouvez voir par là quelle estime j'ai pour vous, you may see by that what esteem I have of you. Il ne repond pas à l'estime qu'on a de lui, he doth not answer that esteem which men have of you.

S'acquérir de l'estime, to get an esteem. Il est dans une haute estime, he is in great esteem.

Un homme qui n'est pas en estime, a man of no esteem.

Estime, en Termes de Marine, est une Presomption ou Conjecture du Chemin que le Vaisseau peut avoir fait, & du Parage où il se rencontre.

Estimé, esteemed, accounted, or valued; esteemed, of some esteem.

La Vertu n'est pas estimée ce qu'elle vaut, Virtue is not esteemed answerably to what it merits.

Il n'est pas estimé, il n'est en aucune estime, he is a man of no esteem.

Estimer, to esteem, value, or have an esteem of; to value, or tell the price of; to think, or look upon; to reckon, Rom. 8. 18; to suppose, 1 Cor. 7. 26.

J'estime plus l'Honneur que la Vie, I esteem (I value) Honour above Life. Je n'estime point les Richesses, I don't value Riches. Je vous estime beaucoup, I have a great esteem of you.

Combien estimez vous ceci? how much d'ye value this?

M'estimez vous si fôu que de le croire? do you think me such a fool as to believe it? Ils estiment la Place imprenable, they think the Place is impregnable, they look upon the Place as impregnable.

S'estimer, to value himself; to think.

Il s'estime plus que tous les autres, he values himself above all others.

Que celui qui s'estime être debout prenne garde qu'il ne tombe, (Cor. 10. 12.) let him that thinks he standeth take heed lest he fall.

Estincellant

Estincelle

Estinceller

Estive, (f.) ballance, or counter-poise.

Estive est le juste Contrepoids qu'on donne à chaque Côté d'un Vaisseau ou d'une Galere, pour balancer leur Charge avec tant de justesse qu'un Côté ne pèse pas plus qu'un autre; ce qui facilite leur Cours.

† Estoc, (m.) a long Sword; a thrust with a Sword; the Stock, trunk, or body of a Tree; the principal Stock, or Stem (the direct and chief Line) of a Family, or Pedigree.

Fraper d'estoc & de taille, to thrust with the point and strike with the edge.

Cela ne vient pas de son estoc, ed. ne vient pas de lui, that doth not come from him, he is not the Author (or Inventer) of that.

Estocade, (f.) grande Epée déliée & pointue, a Rapier.

Il a une Estocade à son côté, he hath a Rapier by his side.

† Un Presenteur d'Estocade, one that presents a begging Copy of Verses, or any Thing of that kind in order to get a Present.

† Estocader quécun, to apply himself to one for a Present.

Estocader la Tristesse, to drive away Sorrow.

† S'estocader, ed. se porter des coups d'epée, to make passes at one another.

Estoffe

Estoffé

Estoffer

Estoile

Estoile

Estomac, (m.) the Stomach.

L'Estomac est la partie de l'Animal où se fait la premiere Coclion des Viandes, the Stomach is that part of a living Creature, wherein is made the first Concoction.

Un bon Estomac, a good Stomach. Un Estomac foible, a weak Stomach.

Mal d'estomac, a pain in the Stomach.

† Estomacal

†Estomacal	Stomacal.
Etonnant	Etonnant.
Etonné	Etonné.
Etonnement	Etonnement.
Etonner	Etonner.
Estouffant	Estouffant.
Estouffé	Estouffé.
Estouffement	Estouffement.
Estouffer	Estouffer.
Estouffoir	Estouffoir.
†Estouppé	See Estouppé.
†Estouper	Estouper.
Estoupes	Estoupes.
†Estourderie	Estourderie.
Estourdi	Estourdi.
Estourdie	Estourdie.
Estourdiment	Estourdiment.
Estourdir	Estourdir.
Estourdissent	Estourdissent.
Estourgeon	Esturgeon.
Estourneau	Estourneau.

Estrade, (f.) Lieu élevé dans une Chambre où l'on met un Lit, an Alcove, or Bed-room in a Chamber.

Or thus. As, battre l'estrade, faire quelque Course pour découvrir quelque chose, to run about in order to make a discovery.

Estragale, (f.) petit Rond de bois noir qui sert d'Ornement aux Ouvrages tournez, an Astragal.

Estramacon, (m.) 'Tis that part of a Hanger which is about half a foot from the point; also that part of a Quarter-staff which is at least a foot from the point.

Estrange	See Etrange.
Estrangelement	Etrangement.
Estranger	Etranger.
Estranglé	Etranglé.
Estrangler	Etrangler.

Estrapade, (f.) Rack, or Strapado.

Donner l'Estrapade à quelqu'un, to give one the Strapado.
L'Estrapade est un Supplice, dont on punit les Soldats qui ont fait des Fautes qui ne méritent pas la Mort. L'Instrument avec lequel cela se fait est un Tronc d'un grand & d'un haut Arbre, arrondi, chevillé, & fiché avant en Terre, avec des Archoutans qui l'appuient de côté & d'autre.
En Termes de Manege, on dit qu'un Cheval donne des Estrapades à son Homme, lors qu'il ne veut pas obéir, & que pour se défendre du Cavalier il leve extrêmement le Devant. En sorte qu'ayant le Devant encore en l'Air il détache des Ruades avec furie, porte la Croupe plus haut qu'il n'avoit la Tête, & pendant ce Contretems recule plutôt que d'avancer.

Estrapadé, racked, that has suffered the Strapado.

Estrapader quelqu'un, to rack one, or give him the Strapado.

Estrapassé, barried.

Estrapasser un Cheval (en Termes de Manege,) c'est le fatiguer à force de lui faire faire un Manege deregulé & violent, to harry a Horse.

Estrapontain, (m.) petit Banc qu'on met au milieu du Carosse, ou au fond de la Calèche, pour s'asseoir, a loose Seat to be put (when Occasion serves) in the midst of a Coach.

Estre	See Etre.
Estreci	Etre.
Estrecir	Etre.
Estreindre	Etreindre.
Estreint	See Etreint.
Estreinte	Etreinte.
Estrene	Etrene.
Etreiné	Etreiné.
Etrener	Etrener.
Estrier	Etrier.

†Estrif, (m.) Strife, or striving.

As, Ps. 18. 43. Tu m'as fait échapper des estrifs du Peuple, thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the People.

Estrille	See Etrille.
Estrillé	Etrillé.
Estriller	Etriller.

Estrieviere	See Etriviere.
Estroit	Etroit.
Estroitement	Etroitement.

Estropié, maimed, lame, cripple.
Revenir de l'Armée estropié, to come home maimed from the Army.

Une Expression estropiée, a lame Expression.
Or thus, in a burlesk Sense. † Etre estropié de la Bourle, to want money.

Etre estropié de la Cervelle, to want brains, or to be crack-brained.

Estropié, (a masc. Subst.) a maimed Body.

Estude	See Etude.
Estudié	Etudié.
Estudier	Etudier.
Estui	Etui.

Esturgeon, (m.) Sturgeon, a known Sea-fish.

L'Esturgeon est un Poisson de Mer, qui entre aux Rivières d'Eau douce. Il a le Museau pointu, le Ventre plat, le Dos bleu & élevé. C'est un Poisson cartilagineux, de bon goût, & de bonne nourriture.

Esture	See Eture.
Esturé	Eture.
Estuver	Eture.
Estuvalé	Evalué.
Estuvaler	Evaluer.
Estvanoui	Evanoui.
s'Estvanouir	s'Evanouir.
Estvanouissement	Evanouissement.
Estveillé	See Eveillé.
Estveiller	Eveiller.
Estventail	Eventail.
Estventé	Eventé.
Estventer	Eventer.
Estverré	Everré.
Estverrer	Everrer.
Estvier	Evier.
Estvuider	Evuider.

Et, and; both.

As, un Jeune homme savant & vertueux, a learned and virtuous Young man.

Je veux du bien & à mes Amis & à mes Enemis, I wish well both to my Friends and Foes.

Etable, (f.) a Stable.

Or thus. As, Etable à Beufs, an Ox-stall.

Etable à Cochons, a Hog-sty.

Etable, put in the Stable.

Des Chevaux bien etablez, Horses got into good Stables.

Etabler, mettre dans des Ecuries, to put in the Stable.

Etabli, settled fixt; made, established, set, appointed, ordained.

Un Mot établi, a Word received into Use.

Etabli, (a masc. Subst.) Shop-board, a Taylor's Shop-board.

Etablir, to settle, or fix; to make, establish, appoint, ordain.

Etablir quelqu'un dans un Emploi, to settle one in an Employment.

Etablir dans le Monde, to settle him in the World.

Etablir sa Demeure en quelque Lieu, to fix his dwelling Place (to settle himself) somewhere.

Etablir des Loix, to make Laws.

Etablir des Magistrats, to make (or appoint) Magistrates.

Etablir le Mechant sur lui, (Ps. 109. 6.) set thou a Wicked man over him.

Or thus. As, i Tim. 1. 12. m'ayant établi au Ministère, putting me into the Ministry.

Etablir par des Exemples ce que l'on vient de dire, to make good by Instances what one hath discoursed.

Etablir des Impôts, to raise Taxes.

S'établir, to settle himself, to think of a Settlement.

Après que l'on a bien couru, on est bien aisé de s'établir, after a man has rambled a long while, he is glad of settling himself.

Or thus. As, un Mot qui a bien de la peine à s'établir, a Word that can hardly come into Use.

Etablissement, (m.) a Settlement.

Procurer un Etablissement à quelqu'un, to procure one a Settlement. C'est un Etablissement pour le reste de ses Jours, 'tis a Settlement for the remaining part of his Life.

Or thus. As, il faut faire un Etablissement une fois en sa Vie, one must be settled at last.

Vous me devez l'établissement de votre fortune, you owe your whole fortune to me.

Faire l'établissement de quelque Droit nouveau, to raise a new Tax, or Impost.

Etage, (m.) a Story.

Une Maison à plusieurs Etages, a House several Stories high.

Or thus. As, le premier, le second, troisième, & quatrième Etage, the first, second, third, and fourth Story.

Loger au premier Etage, to lodge in the first Story.

† Menton à double étage, a double Chin.

Etaie, (f.) ed. Appui, a prop, stay, or supporter.

Une bonne Etaie, a good prop.

Etain, (m.) etain commun, pewter.

Etain fin, tin, or fine pewter. Etain de Cornouaille, Cornish Tin.

Etain de glace, Tin used in the tinning of the back sides of Looking-Glasses, and for the dust of Hour-glasses.

This is of a thin substance, small, even, dry, and little subject to giving by any change of weather.

Etain sonnant, Tin that rings clear.

Etain cristallin, Tin that looks like crystal.

Etainé } See Etainé.

Etainer } See Etamer.

Etal, (m.) Boutique de Boucher, a Butcher's Stall.

Etalage, (m.) Stallage.

Un bel Etalage, a fine Stallage.

Or thus. As, mettre quelque chose à l'Etalage, to lay out something upon a Stall to be seen and sold.

† Mettre sa Science en etalage, to shew (to produce) his Learning.

Etalé, laid out, shewed, exposed unto view.

Etaler, to lay out, to shew, or expose unto view.

Etaler de la Marchandise, to lay out Wares upon a Stall, to expose them to view.

Etaler sa folie, son zèle, ses appas, ou ses charmes, to shew his folly, his zeal, and his charms.

Or thus. Quand on loué les Paons de leur beauté, on dit qu'ils étalent leurs Plumes, when a Man praises the beauty of Peacocks, 'tis said they spread their Feathers.

Etaler les Marées, to ly at anchor for want of good Wind and Tide.

† Etaleur, (m.) pauvre Libraire qui étale des Livres ici & là, a paltry Book-seller, that exposes Books to sail here and there.

Etaler, (m.) a Butcher that keeps a Stall.

Etalon, (m.) Cheval destiné pour couvrir les Cavales, a Stallion, a Stallion for Mares; a Standard, or Size of Measures appointed by Authority.

Donner l'Etalon aux Cavales, to turn a Stallion amongst Mares.

† Voilà l'Etalon de plusieurs Dames de la Cour, c'est-à-dire l'Homme dont elles se servent pour leurs Plaisirs particuliers, there's the Stallion of many Court Ladies.

Etalonné, marqué aux Armes du Roi & de la Ville, stamped with the publick Mark (as are Measures reduced to the just Proportion of the common Size.)

Etalonner, (m.) to stamp with the publick mark.

Etamé, rimmed, rimmed over.

Etamer, (from Etain) to tin, to tin over.

Etamine, (f.) sorte d'Etoffe legere, a Strainer, or bouting cloth.

Or thus. As, j'ai passé plusieurs fois par cette Etamine, I have been put to it several times.

Etanché, stanch'd, stopp'd; quenched.

Le sang est étanché, the Bleeding is stopp'd.

Sa soif est étanchée, his Thirst is quenched.

Etancher, to stanch, or stop; to quench.

As, étancher le Sang, to stop Bleeding.

Etancher la Soif, to quench ones Thirst.

S'étancher, to stanch, or stop (in a neutral Sense.)

As, Luke 8. 44. dans ce meme instant son Flux de sang s'etancha, immediately her Issue of blood stanch'd.

Etançon, (m.) cd. appui, a prop, stay, or supporter.

Etançonner, propped, stay'd, supported.

Etançonner, appuyer avec des Etançons, to prop, stay, or support.

Etandart. See Etendart.

Etang, (m.) a Pond, a Lake, Rev. 19. 20.

Abreuver son Cheval dans un Etang, to water his Horse in a Pond.

Etant, being. 'Tis the Participle of the Present Tense of the Verb Etre, to be.

As, cela étant ainsi, it being so.

Etape, (f.) a publick Store-house in a trading Town, wherein foreign Merchants lodge such Commodities as they mean to vend; a Staple-Town; a Magazine of Provisions for Souldiers upon the March; the Place where there is such a Magazine; the daily allowance of Souldiers upon the March.

Etapier, (m.) the Officer appointed to give the Souldiers l'Etape.

Etapier, ou Entrepreneurs des Etapes, est un Particulier qui fait marché avec une Generalité, ou une Election, pour la Fourniture des Vivres & du Fourrage, destinez au Passage des Gens de Guerre. Les Etapiers doivent livrer les Etapes aux Majors de Cavalerie & d'Infanterie, ou en leur absence au Marechal des Logis d'une Compagnie de Cavalerie, & au Sergent d'une Compagnie d'Infanterie. Il est defendu aux Etapiers de donner aux Soldats l'Etape en argent.

Etat, (m.) state, case, posture, condition, way; account, value, or esteem; or design; the List of the King's Household; a State, or Government; an Estate, as of a Kingdom, or Province.

Savoir l'etat des Affaires, to know the state of things. Elle ne lui cachoit pas l'etat de son Esprit, she did not conceal from him the state of her Mind.

L'Affaire est en cet etat, such is the state of our Business. L'etat d'Innocence, the state of Innocency.

Je vous ai vu dans un etat pitoyable, I have seen you in a doleful case. Je suis en fort bon etat, I am in a very good case.

Nos Affaires sont en tres bon etat, our Affairs are in a very good posture. Rien ne demeure long tems en même etat, nothing continues long in the same condition.

Se mettre en etat de se defendre, to put himself into a posture of defence. Je ne suis pas en etat de venger cet Affront, I am not in a condition to make vengeance of that Affront.

Ere en etat de faire fortune, to be in a way to make his fortune, to have a fine prospect of making himself. Il est en etat de servir ses Amis, he is in a fair way to serve his Friends.

Faire grand etat de quécun, to make great account of one, to set a great value upon him, to have a great esteem of him. Vous faites grand etat des Richesses, you set a great value upon Riches.

On ne fait pas maintenant grand etat de la Vertu, there is no great account made of Virtue now adays. Prendre un etat de quécun chose, to take an account of something.

Il fait etat de s'en aller par la premiere Commodité, he makes account to be gone with the first Opportunity. Il faisoit etat d'attaquer les Grecs, he made account (he had a design) to fall upon the Greeks.

Etre couché sur l'etat de la Maison du Roi, to be listed amongst the King's Servants.

La France a été un des plus puissans Etats de l'Europe, France hath been one of the most potent States of Europe. Des Affaires d'Etat, State-Affairs.

Conseil d'Etat, a Council of State. Conseiller d'Etat, a Counsellor of State. Secrétaire d'Etat, a Secretary of State.

Les Trois Etats du Royaume, favoir le Clergé, la Noblesse, & le Peuple ou le tiers Etat, the three Estates of a Kingdom. viz the Clergy, Nobility, and Commonalty.

Les Etats, ou l'Assemblée generale des trois

Etats, the Estates, or general Assembly of the three Estates. Les Etats d'une Province, the Estates of a Province.

Messieurs les Etats des Provinces Unies, the States of Holland, or of the United Provinces. Les Etats generaux, the States general.

Etat-major. C'est un Nombre particulier de quécuns Officiers qui sont distinguez du reste du Corps par une plus grande Solde, ou par une plus grande Fourniture de l'E-tape de l'Utensile.

Or thus. En quel etat est votre santé? how is your health? La Chose ne sauroit être en pire etat qu'elle est maintenant, the Thing cannot be worse than it is at the present.

Dans l'etat où sont les Affaires, at the Case stands. En quécun etat que l'Affaire soit, however the matter stands.

Afin que vous appreniez mon etat, (Eph. 6. 21.) that you may know my Affairs.

Etes vous en etat de partir? are you ready to depart? L'Armée sera en etat au commencement du Printemps, the Army will be ready in the beginning of Spring.

Un Coup d'Etat, a great piece of Policy.

Etau, (m.) Outil de Serrurier, &c. Vice, a Smith's Vice, (that he works upon.)

Les mords & la clef d'un Etau, the Vice-chops and Vice-pin.

Etaie. See Etaie.

Etaie, propped, stay'd, supported.

Etaier, (from Etaie) to prop, stay, or support.

Eté, (m.) the Summer.

Un Eté pluvieux, a rainy Summer. Un Eté sec & chaud, a dry and hot Summer.

Passer l'Eté en Province, & l'Hiver à Paris, to pass the Summer in the Country, and the Winter at Paris.

Le Commencement, le Milieu, & la Fin de l'Eté, the Beginning, the Midst, and the latter end of Summer.

L'Eté S. Martin, the latter part of Autumn, the Time from All-Saints day to Martlemas.

Eté, from the Verb Etre, been. As, j'ai été, I have been.

Eteignoir, (m.) an Extinguisher.

Eteindre la Chandelle avec un Eteignoir, to put out the Candle with an Extinguisher.

Eteindoir. See Eteignoir.

Eteindre, to put out, or quench; to smother; to root out, or to abolish.

As, eteindre le feu, to put out (to quench) the fire. Eteindre la chandelle, to put out the candle.

Eteindre (ou etancher) la Soif, to quench the Thirst. Ce Fruit eteint la Chaleur du Foyer, this Fruit quenches the Heat of the Liver.

Eteindre les flammes d'un Amant, to extinguish the flames of a Lover. Rien ne peut eteindre la Passion que j'ai pour vous, nothing can extinguish (or smother) the Love I have for you. Eteindre la haine qu'on a pour quécun, to smother his hatred.

Il n'y a rien qu'on ne fasse en France pour eteindre la Reformation, nothing is omitted in France, to root out the Reformation.

Eteint, out; quenched, extinguished; smothered.

As, le feu est eteint, the fire is out. La chandelle est eteinte, the candle is out.

Ma Soif est eteinte, my Thirst is quenched. Mes flammes sont eteintes, my flames are extinguished.

Sa Haine pour moi n'est pas encore eteinte, the Hatred he bears against me is not yet quite smothered.

Or thus. As, des Yeux eteints, ou languissans, dying (or languishing) Eyes.

Cette Famille est eteinte, that Family is extinct.

Etendart, (m.) a Standard, or Banner; the uppermost leaves of the flower called Iris.

J'ai combattu sous son Etendart, I fought under his Banner.

But Jos. 8. 18. for the French word Etendart you will find that of Spear in the English Translation.

Etendoir, (m.) Terme d'Imprimeur, ce avec quoi on etend les feuilles des Livres sur les cordes, a Peel, in a Printing-House.

Etendre, to spread, stretch, stretch out, stretch forth, extend, or enlarge.

Un Arbre qui etend ses branches de tous cotez, a Tree that spreads its branches every way.

Etendre du beurre sur du pain, to spread butter upon the bread.

Etendre les bras, to spread (or stretch) his arms.

Celebrez celui qui a etendu la Terre sur les Eaux, (Ps. 136. 6.) give thanks to him that stretched out the Earth above the Waters.

And Prov. 29. 5. l'Homme qui flate son Prochain etend le Rets devant ses pas, a Man that flattereth his Neighbour spreads a Net for his feet.

Etendre (porter plus loin) ses Conquêtes, to extend (or enlarge) his Conquests.

S'etendre, to stretch himself; to spread; to enlarge, to reach, or extend.

Voyez comment ce Paresseux s'etend dans son Lit, see how that lazy Man stretches himself abed.

Les Veines s'etendent par tout le Corps jusques au Cerveau, the Veins spread themselves through the whole Body up to the very Brain.

S'etendre dans un Discours, to enlarge in a Discourse. Je pourrois m'etendre sur ce Sujet, & donner carrière à mon Discours, I could enlarge upon that Subject, and give the reins to my Discourse.

L'Isle s'etend jusques à l'autre bord, the Island extends over to the other Coast.

Etendu, spread, stretched, stretched forth, or stretched out, large, long, or prolix.

Avoir les bras etendus, to have his arms spread, or stretched out.

Ce Discours là est trop etendu, that Discourse is too long, too large, or too prolix.

Or thus. As, il est etendu sur son Lit, he lies upon his Bed.

Etendu de son long, tout de son long, lying all along, lying at full length.

Une Ville etendue dans une belle Plaine, a Town which extends itself in a fair Plain.

Etendue, (a fem. Subst.) extent; the Firmament, Gen. 1. 6, Ps. 19. 1.

L'etendue d'un Lieu, the extent of a Place.

Un Lieu d'une grande etendue, a Place of a vast extent.

Selon l'etendue de mon pouvoir, according to the utmost extent of my power.

Donner à son Ouvrage une juste etendue, to allow his Work a proper extent.

Or thus. Une grande etendue de Chemin, a great Way. Une Plaine qui a quatre lieues d'etendue, a Plain which extends itself four leagues in length.

Donner à la Passion une libre etendue, to give it full liberty.

Avoir une grande etendue d'esprit, to be a great Wit, to have a great deal (or abundance) of Wit.

Ton Commandement est de tres grande etendue, thy Command is exceeding broad.

Eternel, eternal, everlasting, that hath neither beginning nor end; eternal, everlasting, endless.

Dieu est un Esprit eternel, God is an eternal Spirit.

Un Bonheur eternel, an eternal (or everlasting) Happiness. La Damnation eternelle, the eternal Damnation.

Leur eternelle Inquietude a quécun Image des Enfers, their endless Inquietude hath some Resemblance of Hell.

Or thus. As, 2 Tim. 1. 9. † devant les Temps eternels, before the World began.

L'Eternel, (a masc. Subst.) the Lord, the everlasting God.

Eternelle, (a fem. Subst.) a kind of Plant that bears yellow flowers in the form of a Nose-gay.

Eternellement, eternally, everlastingly, to eternity, always, for ever, without end.

Les Damnez souffriront eternellement, the Damned shall suffer without end.

† Il babille eternellement, he prates everlastingly.

Ils sont éternellement ensemble, they are always together.
 Eternisé, eternized, immortalized.
 Eterniser, to eternize, or immortalize.
 As, éterniser sa Mémoire, to eternize his Memory.
 Eterniser les Actions des grands Hommes, to immortalize the Actions of great Men.
 Eternité, (f.) eternity.
 Dieu est de toute éternité, God is from all eternity.
 Travailler pour l'éternité, to work for eternity, for an eternal good, or fame.
 Eternuer, to sneeze.
 Ceci me fait éternuer, this makes me sneeze. Je ne fais qu'éternuer, I do nothing but sneeze.
 J'ai déjà éternué plus de cinq ou six fois, I have already sneezed above five or six times.
 Eternument, (m.) sneezing.
 Etété, lopped.
 Etêter, to lop.
 As, etêter un Arbre, en couper le haut ou la tête, to lop a Tree.
 Etouf, (m.) Balle qui n'a pas encore sa dernière couverture, a ball uncovered, and only ty'd round with pack-thread.
 Etimologie } See { Etimologie.
 Etimologique } Etimologique.
 Etimologiste } Etimologiste.
 Etincellant, sparkling; hot, Ps. 78. 48.
 As, des Yeux étincellans, sparkling Eyes.
 Etincelle, (f.) a spark.
 Une étincelle de feu, a spark of fire.
 Faire naître (exciter) des étincelles, to raise sparks.
 Les Corps durs qui se choquent produisent des étincelles, the collision of hard bodies raises sparks.
 Ils ont été si bien batus, qu'il ne leur est pas resté une étincelle de Courage, they have been so well beaten, that there is not so much as one spark of Courage left them.
 Etinceller, jetter des étincelles, to sparkle.
 Un feu qui étincelle, a sparkling fire.
 Ses Yeux étincellent, his Eyes sparkle.
 Ses Ouvrages étincellent de sublimes beautés, his Works sparkle with sublime fancies.
 Etique, hectic, consumptive.
 As, Fièvre étique, an hectic fever.
 Il est étique, il n'a que les os & la peau, he is consumptive.
 Etiquette, (f.) Terme de Procureur, a Note upon a Lawyer's Bag, where is set down the Client's Name.
 Juger sur l'étiquette du Sac, to judge slightly, or without a perfect knowledge of the Matter.
 Etoffe, (f.) Stuff.
 Etoffe de laine, woollen Stuff.
 Etoffe de soie, Silk.
 Des Artisans, & autres gens de telle étoffe, Tradesmen, and such like people.
 †Etoffé, stuffed, substantial, full of matter.
 Un Sermon bien étoffé, a substantial (or pithy) Sermon, a Sermon full of good matter.
 †Etoffer, to stuff, or to make substantial.
 Etoile, (f.) a Star, in the Sky; the Star-fish; Star-wort; a Star, in a Book; a Star, upon a Horse's head; star, or fate; a piece of Fortification.
 Les Etoiles fixes, the fixed Stars. Les Etoiles errantes, cd. les Planetes, the wandering Stars, the Planetes.
 Les Etoiles fixes sont de six différentes grandeurs, the fixed Stars are of six different magnitudes. Et celles de la sixième Grandeur sont dix huit fois plus grandes que la Terre, and those of the sixth Magnitude are eighteen times bigger than the Earth.
 Le lever & le coucher des Etoiles, the rising and setting of the Stars.
 L'Etoile matinière, the Morning-star. L'Etoile du Nord, the North-Star.
 L'Ordre de l'Etoile, an Order of Knighthood, instituted by John King of France in the Year 1351, but long since abandoned.

L'Etoile volante, sorte de Metéore, a flying Star, a kind of Meteor.
 C'est l'Etoile de notre Nation, 'tis the Star (or the Fate) of our Nation. C'est mon Etoile, & non pas mon Choix, qui m'oblige à vous aimer, 'tis my Star, not my Choice, which makes me love you.
 Or thus. Quand même les Etoiles me seroient contraires, though the Heavens themselves should oppose it.
 Etoilé, plein d'étoiles, starry, or full of stars.
 J'aime à voir un Ciel étoilé, I love to see a starry Sky.
 Etole, (f.) a Stole.
 Etole est une grande Bande benite, longue & large, que le Prêtre se met sur le cou, & croise sur son estomac; & que le Diacre porte en echarpe, de l'épaule gauche sous le bras droit.
 Etonnant, strange, surprising, wonderful.
 Cela est étonnant, that is a strange thing.
 Etonné, that wonders, surprised, astonished, amazed.
 Je suis étonné de son procédé à mon égard, I wonder he should deal so by me. Tout le monde en est étonné, every body is surprised (or wonders) at it.
 Je fus étonné de le voir, I wondered to see him.
 Or thus. As, je le vis tout étonné, I saw him in a maze.
 Etonné comme un Coupeur de Bourses, ou comme un Fondeur de Cloches, confounded like a Cut-purse taken in the fact, or like a Bell-founder whose Work miscarries.
 Tout étonnez de sa Réponse ils se teurent, (Luke 20. 26.) they marvelled at his Answer, and held their peace.
 Etonnement, (m.) astonishment, surprise, amazement; a terror, Ps. 18. 16.
 Ils étoient tout interdits de crainte & d'étonnement, they were utterly at a loss through fear and astonishment.
 Or thus. As, tout le Monde est dans l'étonnement, every body wonders.
 Et un étonnement les faisoit tous, (Luke 5. 26.) and they were all amazed.
 Etonner, to surprise, astonish, or amaze.
 Cela m'étonne, that surprises me, I am surprised at it.
 S'étonner, to wonder, to marvel, to be surprised, astonished, or amazed; to be concerned, or frightened.
 Qui s'étonnera maintenant? who will now wonder? Je m'en étonne, I wonder at it.
 Je ne m'étonne point de vos menaces, I am not frightened in the least at your threatenings.
 Etourant, sweltery.
 As, une Chaleur étoufante, a sweltery Heat.
 Etouffé, smothered, stifled, choaked; smothered, suppressed.
 Je suis presque étouffé de fumée, I am e'en choaked (or smothered) with smok.
 Une Révolte étouffée, a Rebellion suppressed.
 Or thus. As, il fait étouffé, 'tis close weather.
 Le Fruit en seroit étouffé par l'Ombre de l'Arbre, the Fruit would be spoiled by the shadow of the Tree.
 Etouffement, (m.) suffocation, or stopping of the breath.
 Il me prend quelquefois des étouffemens qui me font peur, my breath is sometimes so stopped that I am frightened at it.
 Etouffer, to smother, stifle, or choak; to smother, or suppress.
 Vous m'étouffez, you smother me, you stifle (you choak) me. La fumée nous étouffe ici, the smok stifles (smothers, or choaks) us here.
 Etouffer ses Passions, ses Ressentimens, une Révolte, ou les Semences d'une Guerre civile, to stifle his Passions, his Resentments, a Rebellion, or the Seeds of a Civil War.
 On peut bien assoupir ce Mal pour quelque tems, mais on ne sauroit l'étouffer pour toujours, indeed one may for a time put a stop to that Evil, but not wholly suppress it.

 Or thus. As, Etouffer une Sedition, to suppress (to quell, or appease) a Sedition.
 Etouffer la Guerre, to put a stop to the War.
 La grande Joie où je suis étouffe toutes mes Paroles, my Joy is so great that it stops my Speech.
 Etouffoir, (m.) Instrument dont les Boulangers se servent pour étouffir la braise, a Maulkin.
 †Etouffé, stopped.
 Or thus. As, 2 Cor. 11. 10. Cette gloire ne fera point étouffée pour moi es Contrées d'Achaïe, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the Regions of Achaia.
 †Etouper, to stop.
 As, étouper un Puis, (Gen. 26. 15.) to stop a Well. Etouper son Oreille, (as Ps. 58. 4, Prov. 21. 13, Hof. 5. 27.) to stop his Ear.
 Etoupes, (f.) tow, the course part of flax.
 †Mettre le feu aux Etoupes, allumer la Colere des gens qui sont en querelle, to throw Oyl into the fire.
 †Etourderie, (f.) a rash deed. Say action etourdie.
 Il a fait une etourderie, he hath done a rash deed.
 Etourdi, whose head is out of order (or troubled) with noise; puzzled.
 J'en suis tout étourdi, my head is out of order with it; I am puzzled with it.
 Etourdi, (a masc. Subst.) a rash (heedless, hot, hot-headed, or giddy-headed) man.
 C'est un jeune Etourdi, he is a hot-headed (or giddy-headed) Boy.
 Etourdie, (a fem. Subst.) a rash (heedless, hot-headed, or giddy-headed) Woman, or Girl.
 Votre Fille est une vraie Etourdie, yours is a giddy-headed Girl.
 A l'étourdie, (Adv.) d'une manière étourdie, rashly, heedlessly, inconsiderately.
 Etourdir, to make ones head out of order (to trouble ones head, or brains) with too much noise; to puzzle.
 Le Son des Cloches étourdit, quand on les entend de près, the Noise of Bells is troublesome, if one be near.
 Vous m'étourdissez de ces Sotises tous les jours, you break my head every day with those Impertinencies.
 Etourdir les Ignorans, to puzzle the Ignorant.
 S'étourdir, s'ôter le sentiment d'une chose, & se tromper en quelque façon soi même, to wave the thoughts of an unpleasant thing, not to love to hear on't, to shake his head at it.
 S'étourdir sur la crainte de la Mort, to stop his ears to the summons of Death, to shake off the fearful Notions of Death.
 Il fait ce qu'il peut pour s'étourdir sur les Peines qui sont réservées aux Impies après la Mort, he doth what he can to beat out of his brains the thoughts of the Pains of Hell reserved for the Wicked after this Life.
 Etourdissent, (m.) dizziness, or swimming of the head.
 Le bruit des Canons m'a causé un Etourdissent qui m'a duré long tems, my head has been a long time dizzy with the noise of the great Guns.
 L'Esprit d'étourdissent, the Spirit of dizziness.
 Etourneau, (m.) Starling.
 L'Etourneau est un Oiseau noir, marqué de petites Taches grises, qui apprend à parler, & qui est d'un aliment grossier, a Starling is a black Bird, powdered with little gray Spots, that learns to speak, and which is but course meat.
 Poil d'Etourneau, flea-bitten.
 Etrange, strange, unusual; strange, silly, or impertinent.
 Faire d'étranges efforts, to make strange (or unusual) attempts. Une étrange Résolution, a strange Resolution. C'est étrange, 'tis strange.

Etre d'une étrange humeur, to be of a strange humour. C'est un étrange homme, he is a strange man.
 D'une étrange manière, strangely, in a strange manner.
 † Un Peuple étranger, pour dire étrangers, a foreign (or outlandish) People.
 † Etranger, estranged, alienated.
As, Eph. 4. 18. Etant étrangeté de la Vie de Dieu, being alienated from the Life of God.
 Etranglement, strangely, after a strange manner.
 Il est étranquement mélancolique, he is strangely melancholy.
 Etranger, strange; outlandish.
 Une Langue étrangère, a strange Language.
 Il est étranger, he is outlandish.
 Etranger, (a masc. Subst.) a Stranger, a Foreiner, an Outlandish Man.
 Les Barbares même sont quelquefois civils aux Etrangers, the barbarous Nations themselves are sometimes civil to Strangers.
 Les Etrangers sont défiants, Strangers are distrustful.
 Etrangère, (a fem. Subst.) a Stranger, a Foreiner, an Outlandish Woman.
 C'est une Etrangère, elle ne fait pas parler notre Langue, she is a Stranger, she can not speak our Speech.
 † Etranger, to be estranged, to separate.
As, Ps. 58. 3. Les Méchants se sont étrangetés de la Matrice, the Wicked are estranged from the Womb.
 Etranglé, strangled; killed; scolded at.
 Etrangler, to strangle; to kill; to scold at.
 Etrangler quécun avec une corde, to strangle one with a rope.
 Le Malheureux étrangla sa Mere, the wicked Wretch killed his Mother.
 † Elle a une Mere qui l'étrangle, she hath a Mother that scolds at her perpetually.
 S'étrangler, to strangle (to choke) himself.
 Un Empereur s'étrangla d'un pepin, an Emperor choked himself with a kernel.
 Etre, to be, or exist; to be, or belong; to prove.
 Etre un honnête homme, to be an honest man. Etre en santé, to be in health. Etre malade, to be sick.
 Cela est à moi, that is mine.
 Je crain que toutes ces Demarches ne soient fatales à l'Etat, I fear all these Proceedings will prove fatal to the State.
 Or thus. Pour qui êtes vous? who are you for? or, who stand you for? Si Dieu est pour nous, qui sera contre nous? if God be for us, who shall be against us?
 Etre tout le jour à faire une bagatelle, to be (or spend) all the day in doing of a trifle.
 Il a été trois jours à faire cela, he spent three days in doing of that.
 Je le fus voir l'autre jour, I went to see him another day. Je l'ai été prendre à son Logis, I went to take him at his House. J'ai été querir mes Livres, cd. je suis allé (ou, je vien de) querir mes Livres, I have been to fetch my Books.
 Ils n'en font encore qu'aux Injures, mais ils sont prêts d'en venir aux mains, they are as yet but railing at one another, they will soon come to handy blows. Il n'en est pas encore où il pense être, he is not yet what he thinks to be.
 Etre en Soutane, to have a Cassock on.
 Etre bien avec quécun, être en bonne intelligence avec lui, to agree well with him. Etre mal avec quécun, to be at variance with one.
 Etre de garde, comme font certains Fruits, to keep (in a neutral sense.)
 Cela n'est pas de mon gout, that doth not suit with my palate.
 Le Prêtre est à l'Elevation de l'Hostie, the Priest is come to the Elevation of the Host.
 Etre (ou croupir) dans l'Oisiveté, to live in Idleness.
 † O! que bien heureux est le Peuple auquel il est ainsi, (Ps. 144. 15.) happy is the People which is in such a case.
 Now you must know this verb is also used Impersonally, and that two several Ways; as, C'est, il est.
 C'est, 'tis, it is; he is, she is. As, c'est pitié, c'est dommage, 'tis pity. C'est moi, c'est vous, c'est un tel, 'tis I, 'tis you, 'tis such a one. C'est ici, c'est là, 'tis here, 'tis there. C'est assez, c'est trop, 'tis enough, 'tis too much.

 C'est un Homme d'une étrange humeur, he is a Man of a strange humour. C'est une bonne Femme, she is a good Woman.
 Or thus. As, ce qui est le plus à craindre, & qui nous met le plus en peine depuis quelque Jours, c'est que, &c. that which is most to be feared, and which perplexes us most of all some days since, is that, &c.
 La Cause de tant de Malheurs qui surviennent à cet Etat les uns sur les autres, c'est que, &c. the Cause of so many Mischiefs that come upon this State one upon the neck of another is, that, &c.
 En voulez vous savoir la Raison? c'est que, will you know the Reason of it? thus it is.
 Ce n'est pas que que j'en sois fâché, not that I am concerned. Ce n'est pas que je ne sois fort content de ma Condition, not but that I am very well contented with my Condition.
 Il est, 'tis, it is.
As, il est tems de dîner, 'tis dinner time.
 Il est jour, 'tis day-light. Il est dix heures, it is ten a clock.
 Il est nécessaire, it is needfull. Il est impossible, it is impossible. Il est permis, it is lawful. Il est défendu, 'tis forbidden.
 Il est d'un honnête Homme d'être sensible aux Plaisirs qu'on lui a faits, 'tis the part of an Honest Man to be sensible of the good Offices done him.
 Il en est comme du flux & reflux de la Mer, 'tis not unlike the flux and reflux of the Sea.
 Etre, (a masc. Subst.) a being.
As, un Etre créé, incréé naturel, matériel, a created, uncreated, natural, material Being.
 Dieu est un Etre souverain, God is a sovereign Being. Dieu donne l'être à toutes Choses, God gives a being to all Things.
 Je plains moi-même à mon Dieu, tant que je serai en être, (Ps. 104. 33.) I will sing praise unto my God, while I have my being.
 † Les Etres d'un Logis, the Entries and Issues of a House.
 Etre-ci, straitened, or made straiter.
 Etre-ci, (from Etre) to straiten, or make straiter.
As, estreindre un Habit, le faire plus étroit, to make a Sute straiter.
 S'estreindre, to grow straiter.
 Cheval qui s'estreint, cd. qui se serre, qui perd de son Terrain, qui ne va pas assez large, & qui s'approche trop près du Centre de la Volte.
 Etreindre, cd. ferrer, to hold close.
 Une Mere qui estreint sa Fille entre ses bras, a Mother that holds her Daughter close in her arms.
 Qui trop embrasse mal estreint, (Prov.) some lose all by coveting all.
 † Etreinte, (f.) band.
As, Ps. 73. 4. Il n'y a point d'estreinte en leur Mort, there are no Bands of their Death.
 Etrene, (f.) Handsel; a Present, or Gift.
 Je ne veux pas vous refuser à mon etrene, I won't let you go away because this is my handsel.
 Donner quelque chose en etrenes, to make one a Present. Il a eu de bonnes etrenes, he has got good Presents.
 † A bon jour bonne Etrene, a happy luck on a holy Day.
 Etrene, presented, that has received Presents.
 Il a été fort bien etrené, he has been finely presented.
 Etrener, to present; to handsel; to sell.
 Personne ne m'a etrené, no body has presented me with any thing.
 † Etrener un Habit, le mettre pour la première fois, to handsel a Sute, to wear it the first time.
 † Etrener un Marchand, acheter de lui le premier, to handsel a Shop-keeper. Faites moi bon marché, & je vous etrenerai, be but reasonable, and I shall handsel you.
 † Je n'ai pas encore etrené aujourd'hui, I have not yet sold any thing to day.

Etreffir } See { Etre-ci.
 Etreffir } { Etre-cir.

Etrier, (m.) a stirrup.

Mettre le pié à l'étrier, to put his foot to the stirrup.
 Tenir l'étrier, to hold the stirrup.
 Ajuster les étriers, to fit the stirrups.
 † Le pauvre bon homme! la Femme lui fait souvent perdre l'étrier, poor man! his Wife doth often put him out of order.
 Etrille, (f.) a horse-comb, a curry-comb.
 † Etre logé à l'Etrille, cd. dans un Cabaret où l'on fait payer trop cher, to lodge at a dear Place.
 Etrillé, curry'd, as a horse; banded.
 Etriller, to curry; to bang.
As, étriller un Cheval, to curry a Horse.
 † Etriller quécun, le rosser, to bang one.
 Etrivière, (f.) bande de cuir qui tient les Etriers suspendus, a stirrup-leather.
 Etrivieres, coups de fouet qu'on donne à quécun, lashes.
 Donnez lui les etrivieres, mbip him, lash him soundly.
 Il a eu les etrivieres, he has been whipt.
 Eroit, narrow, strait, close.
As, du drap étroit, de la toile étroite, narrow cloth.
 Vous me l'avez fait trop étroit, you made it too strait for me.
 Une Chambre étroite, a close Room.
 Or thus. Etre dans une étroite amitié avec quécun, to be intimate with one.
 Une étroite familiarité, an Intimacy, or an intimate Familiarity.
 Avoir une étroite obligation à quécun, to be very much obliged to one.
 Réduit à l'étroit, driven to straits, put to the pinch, distressed, in distress.
 Quand j'étois à l'étroit, tu m'as mis au large, (Ps. 4. 1.) when I was in distress, thou hast enlarged me.
 Conduire un Cheval étroit. C'est lui donner peu de terrain quand il en occupe trop, & empêcher qu'il ne marche large.
 Etroitement, in a narrow compass; particularly, or in a particular manner.
 Etre étroitement logé, to have but little room, to be lodged in a narrow compass.
 Je vous suis étroitement obligé, I am bound to you in a particular manner.
 Or thus. Prisonnier que l'on tient étroitement enfermé, a close Prisoner.
 Etude, (f.) study, an application of the Mind to Learning; a Study, or Closet to Study in; study, or care.
 Faire ses Etudes, to be in a course of Study.
 Donner quelque partie de son Etude à la Philosophie, to bestow part of his study upon Philosophy.
 Quitter ses Etudes, to leave off his Studies.
 Les reprendre, & les achever, to resume, and to compleat them.
 Une fort belle Etude, a very fine Study.
 Une Etude fort claire, a very lightsome Study. Etre à l'Etude, to be in his Study.
 Sa principale étude étoit à faire des Querelles, his chief study was to make Quarrels. Toute mon étude est à vous plaire, all my care is to please you.
 Or thus. As, un Homme d'étude, cd. un homme de Lettres, a Learned Man, a Scholar.
 Un Homme sans étude, an illiterate Man.
 Etudiant, (m.) a Student.
 Etudiant en Théologie, a Student in Divinity.
 Etudié, study'd, elaborate.
 Un Discours étudié, a study'd (or elaborate) Speech.
 Etudier, to study, or mind his Book; to study, or learn any thing; to mind, observe, or have an eye upon.
 Etudier ardemment, fort & ferme, to study hard. Etudier lâchement, to study remissly.
 Etudier la Géographie & l'Histoire, to study (to learn) Geography and History.
 Etudier une personne, to mind one. Etudier ses actions, to observe his actions, to have an eye upon them.
 Or thus. As, étudier le Monde, to study Men, to bring himself acquainted with the World.
 S'étudier, to study, to labour, to endeavour, to give diligence, 2 Pet. 1. 10.
 Il s'étudie à plaire à tout le Monde, he studies (he endeavours) to please all the World.
 Il s'étudie à toute sorte de Mechancetez, he studies (he gives his mind to) all manner of Wickedness.

Or thus. As, Gal. 2. 10. Ce que je me suis aussi étudié de faire, which I also was forward to do.

Etui, (m.) a Case.

Etui de Chapeau, a Hat. Etui de Peigne, a Comb-case.

Etui de Poche à plusieurs Instrumens, tweezers, a pair of tweezers.

Etuve, (f.) a Stove, hot House, or hot Bath.

L'Etuve est chaude, the Bath is hot.

Etuvée, (f.) stewed-meat.

Une Carpe à l'etuvée, a stewed Carp.

Etuver, to wash.

As, ce Cheval s'est blessé la Jambe, il la lui faut etuver, that Horse has hurt his Leg, it must be washed.

Etuy. See Etui.

Etymologie, (f.) Etymology, etymon, the true signification and origine of Word.

Etymologique, given to etymology's, or apt to find out the etymology of Words.

Etymologiste, (m.) Etymologist, that understands (or is versed in) Etymology's.

Un fameux Etymologiste, a famous Etymologist.

EV & EU

The Diphthong eu hath a proper Pronunciation in French, which is to be learnt by the ear; as feu, peur, heure.

But it is sounded like a single u, 1. In all Participles of the Preter Tense, such as beu, veu, receu. 2. In all Preter Tenses ending in eu and eusse, as j'apperceu, j'apperceusse. 3. In all Verbals in eue, as piqueure. 4. In all Adjectives in eur, and their Derivatives, as feur, meur, assurement, meurement.

Eue is pronounced ue, as veué, receué.

Eui is commonly followed by one i or two, and its pronunciation must be learnt by the ear; as deuil, feuille, veuille. In which Words, and the like, the sound of the i is drowned in the liquid l.

Evacuation, (f.) Terme de Medecine, evacuation, or voiding.

Il s'est fait une grande evacuation d'humours, there was a great evacuation of humours.

Evacué, evacuated, voided.

Evacuer, faire fortir du Corps, to void, or evacuate.

As, evacuer les humeurs nuisibles, to void the ill humours.

Evader. As, faire evader quécun, to get one away, to help him to make his escape.

S'evader, se sauver secrettement, to make his escape, to get away privately.

Évalué, praised.

Évaluer, to praise, or tell the value of.

As, évaluer des Meubles, to praise Goods.

Évangélique, Evangelical, of (or belonging to) the Gospel.

As, une Verité Évangélique, an Evangelical Truth.

Évangélique, (a masc. Subst.) one that rejects the Old Testament, and sticks only to the New.

Évangéliquement, Evangelically.

†Évangélisé, preached. Say Annoncé.

†Évangéliser, to preach the Gospel. Say annoncer (or prêcher) l'Évangile.

Évangéliste, (m.) Evangelist.

As, les quatre Évangélistes, the four Evangelists.

Évangile (m. and sometimes f.) Gospel.

Le Saint Évangile, the holy Gospel. L'Évangile fut annoncé par toute la Terre, the Gospel was preached all over the Earth.

Jurer sur les Saintes Évangiles, to swear upon the holy Gospels.

†Tout ce qu'il dit n'est pas Évangile, 'tis not all Gospel what he says.

Évanoui, vanished away, gone out of sight; swooned away, or fallen into a trance.

Sa Gloire est évanouie, his Glory is vanished away.

S'Évanouir, to vanish away; to swoon away, or fall into a trance.

Évanouissement, (m.) a swoon, or swooning away.

Il lui a pris un évanouissement en se levant, as he got up he swooned away.

Evaporation, (f.) evaporation.

Évaporé, evaporated.

S'Évaporer, aller en vapeurs, to evaporate.

Liqueur qui s'évapore, a Liquor that evaporates.

†Une Femme qui s'évapore, cd. qui jette son feu, ou qui se met en colere, a Woman that vents her passion.

Évasion, (f.) from s'Évader, flight, escape.

Eucharistie, or Eucharistie, (f.) Eucharist, the Sacrament of Christ's Body and Blood.

Evêché, (m.) from Evêque, a Bishoprick; the Bishops House, or Pallace; a Map of a Bishoprick.

Avoir un bon Evêché, to have a good Bishoprick.

Il demeure à l'Evêché, he lives at the Bishops House.

Montrez moi l'Evêché de Tours, show me the Bishoprick of Tours.

Eveillé, awake; airy, brisk, lively.

Il n'est pas encore éveillé, he is not awake yet.

Un Oeil éveillé, a brisk Eye. Un Esprit éveillé, a lively Spirit.

Eveillé, (a masc. Subst.) a sprightly Boy.

Eveillée, (a fem. Subst.) a sprightly Girl.

Eveiller, to awake, to waken, to stir up, 2 Pet. 1. 13.

As, eveiller un Enfant, to awake a Child.

Eveiller le Chat qui dort, to awake the sleeping Lion.

Cela sert à eveiller l'esprit, that's good to awaken the mind.

Evenement, (m.) event, chance.

Un heureux, ou fâcheux Evenement, an happy, or unhappy Chance.

Or thus. As, un Evenement ingénieux d'une Piece de Theatre, an ingenious Come-off in a Stage-play.

Eventail, (m. & f.) a fan.

Un joli (ou une jolie) Eventail, a pretty fan.

Eventé, dead, that has lost its spirits; published, discovered, divulged; giddy-headed, skittle-brained.

Ne beuvez pas ce Vin là, il est tout eventé, don't drink that Wine, 'tis dead.

La Mine est eventée, the Mine is countermined; the Plot is discovered.

Il est bien eventé, or c'est un Eventé, he is a giddy-headed fellow. Elle est bien eventée, c'est une Eventée, she is a skittle-brained Girl.

Une Branche eventée (en Termes de Jardinier,) a branch cut close; also a Branch decay'd, or a dying Branch.

Eventer, to publish, discover, or divulge.

As, eventer un Secret, to divulge a Secret.

Or thus. Eventer une Mine, to countermine.

†Ils laissent eventer leurs debiles Cerveaux, they give way for their weak brains to evaporate.

Eventer un Arbre, en Termes de Jardinier, to cut the branches close; also to decay a Tree.

S'eventer, to pall, to lose its spirits; to be discovered.

Le Vin s'evente dans un Vaisseau qui n'est pas bien bouché, Wine loses its Spirits in any Thing that is not well stopp'd.

Je crain que notre Dessin ne s'evente, I fear our Design will be discovered.

Evêque, (m.) a Bishop.

Un Evêque pieux, a Godly Bishop. Un Evêque mondain, a worldly Bishop.

La Mitre & la Crosse d'Evêque, a Bishops Miter and Crozier.

†Devenir d'Evêque Meunier, of a Bishop to become a Miller, that is to have a great downfall.

Everré, wormed.

Everrer, to worm.

As, everrer un Chien, ôter un Ver de dessous sa Langue, to worm a Dog.

S'Evertuer, to labour, strive, study, or endeavour.

Éviction, (f.) from Evincer, the Recovery of a Thing by Law which the adverse Party had got bonâ fide.

Evidemment, evidently, clearly, manifestly, apparently.

Cela est évidemment faux, that's manifestly false.

Evidence, (f.) evidence, demonstration.

Mettre une Choie en evidence, la faire voir manifestement, to make a Thing plain, clear, or evident, to make all men see it.

Or thus. As, Ps. 80. 2. Mets en evidence ta Puissance, stir up thy strength.

Venir en evidence, (as Lev. 4. 14.) to come to be known.

Evident, evident, clear, plain, apparent, manifest.

Cela est evident, that's plain, 'tis a clear case.

Une Fausseté evidente, a plain Falshood.

Evidé, cut round.

Evider (Terme de Tailleur) to round, or cut round.

As, evider une Manche, la couper en arrondissant, to round a Sleeve.

Evier, (m.) Canal qui sert à jeter les Eaux de la Cuisine dans la Rue, a Sink, (to let the Water out of a Kitchen.)

Evincer (Terme de Palais,) to recover a Thing by Law which the adverse Party had got bonâ fide.

Évitée, (f.) Terme de Mer, la Largeur que doit avoir le Lit ou le Canal d'une Riviere pour le libre Passage des Vaisseaux, the breadth the Chanel of a River must have to be navigable for Ships.

Eviter, to avoid, shun, or eschew.

Eviter un Danger, to avoid a Danger.

Eunuque, (m.) un Homme châtré, Eunuch, a gelded Man.

Evocation, (f.) from Evoquer, Conjuraton, or conjuring Words; also, the bringing of a Cause before an higher Court by command of the Judges thereof.

Evolution, (f.) a military Motion.

Les Evolutions sont des Mouvements que fait un Corps de Gens de Guerre; lors que, pour se conserver dans un Terrain, ou pour en gagner un autre, il veut changer de Forme & de Disposition. Ce qui se fait, afin d'attaquer ou de se defendre avec avantage; soit que l'Attaque ou la Resistance se fasse de front, sur la Queue, ou par les Ailes. Les Parties des Evolutions sont les Doublemens par Rangs & par Files, les Contremarches, & les Converfions.

Evoqué, conjured up; removed, or brought before an higher Court.

Evoquer, to conjure up; to bring before an higher Court.

Evoquer un Esprit, to conjure up a Ghost.

Le privé Conseil a évoqué l'Affaire, by Order of the Privy Council the Business was brought before them.

Évudier (Terme de Jardinier.) As, évudier trop le Buillon, to make the bush of a Tree too thin by cutting away the little Branches.

Eux (the Plural of Lui) them.

As, pour eux, for them. Contre eux, against them.

E X

Exact, punctual, exact; strict.

As, un homme exact, qui a de l'exactitude, a punctual man.

Faire une exacte Recherche, to make a strict (or exact) inquiry.

Exactement, punctually, exactly, duly.

Exaction, (f.) exaction, hard dealing.

Exactitude, (f.) exactness.

Faire quèque Chose avec une grande exactitude, to do a Thing with great exactness.

Or thus. As, avoir de l'exactitude, to be punctual.

Exageration, (f.) exaggeration, aggravation, or amplifying.

Sans aucune exageration, without any exaggeration, without amplifying the matter in the least, without any more weight to it than it really deserves.

Exageré, exaggerated, aggravated, amplified.
 Exagerer, to exaggerate, aggravate, or amplify.

Exalaifon } See { Exhalaison.
 Exaler } { Exhaler.

Exaltation, (f.) exaltation; advancement; election.

As, l'exaltation de la Croix, the exaltation of the Cross. L'Exaltation de la Foi, the exaltation of the Faith. L'exaltation d'une Planete, the exaltation of a Planet.

Une Planete est dans son Exaltation, lors qu'elle est dans le Signe où les Astrologues lui attribuent le plus de vertu, d'efficace, & d'influences, comme le Soleil dans Aries, la Lune dans Taurus, &c. Au contraire, lors que la Planete est dans le Signe opposé à celui de son Exaltation, cela s'appelle Dejection de Planete.

Trouver son Exaltation dans l'Abaissement de ses Enemis, to find out his Advancement by the Suppression of his Enemies.

L'Exaltation du Pape, the Election of a Pope.

Or thus. As, Ps. 149. 6. Les Exaltations du Dieu fort seront en leur Gouffier, the high Praises of God shall be in their Mouth.

Exalté, exalted, praised, extolled; purified, or refined.

Or thus. As, Heb. 7. 26. Exalté par dessus les Cieux, made higher than the Heavens.

Exalter, to exalt, praise, or extol; to exalt, or refine.

Exalter quécun, to exalt one, to praise (or extol) him.

Exalter quécque esprit, ou essence, to exalt a spirit, or essence, to clear it from any impure matter.

Examen, (m.) Examination, or Examining.

Un Examen rigoureux, a strict Examination. Examen de Conscience, Examination of Conscience.

Examen de Temoins, an Examining of Witnesses. Examen à futur, en Termes de Palais, a Pre-examination of Witnesses by Commission (upon fear of their Death, or Absence.)

Examineur, (m.) an Examiner.

On lui a donné des Examineurs fort doux, he had very favourable Men appointed to examine him.

Examinatrice, (f.) an Examiner, a Woman Examiner.

Examiné, examined.

Il a été bien examiné, he was strictly examined.

Tout bien examiné, bien pesé, ou considéré, all Things well examined, weighed, and considered.

Examiner, to examine, or ask questions; to examine, weigh, discuss, or consider.

As, examiner quécun, l'interroger, to examine one, or to ask him questions. Examiner un Ecolier, to examine a Scholar. Examiner sa Conscience, to examine his Conscience.

Examiner une Affaire, to examine a Business, to weigh (discuss, or consider) it. Examiner exactement tous les Points d'une Question, exactly to discuss all the Points of a Question.

Exarchat, Exarchat, or Exarquat, (m.) the Country Subject to an Exarch; the Dignity of an Exarch.

Exarque, (m.) an Exarch, a Lieutenant which the Eastern Emperours used to send into Italy. Ravenna was the Seat of the Exarch.

Le Mort d'Exarque vient du Grec, & signifie celui qui commande, qui est le premier, ou le Chef.

Narsé ayant chassé les Gots de Ravenne, l'Empereur Justinien en 557. envoya Longin pour être Exarque en Italie. Les Empereurs Grecs continuerent depuis à y envoyer des Exarques, & il y en eut à Ravenne environ 175. ans. En fin les Rois de Lombardie les en chasserent. Et Pepin, s'étant rendu Maître de la Lombardie, donna à l'Eglise tout l'Exarquat de Ravenne.

Ce fut alors que le Mot d'Exarque devint un Terme d'Eglise, & que par là on entendoit le Chef d'un grand Diocèse. Ils étoient en ceci au dessus des Metropolitains, qu'ils jugeoient des Differens qui pouvoient naître entre un Metropolitain & son Ecclesiastique. Ils aidoient aussi à terminer dans les Conciles Diocesains ou Nationaux les Differens qu'on n'avoit pu finir dans les Conciles Provinciaux.

Exaucé, heard, or granted.

Exaucer, to hear, or grant.

As, Seigneur, exauce nos Prières, Lord, hear our Prayers.

Exceder, to exceed, or go beyond.

As, il excède le Prix ordinaire, he doth exceed (or go beyond) the ordinary Price.

La Mise excède la Recette, the Disbursements exceed the Receipts.

But Prov. 20. 1. you will find for the French Word excéder that of deceive in the English Translation, which alters something the Sense.

Excellentment, excellently, notably, rarely well.

Cela est excellentment dit, that is notably (or rarely well) said.

Excellence, (f.) excellency.

J'admire l'excellence de son Esprit, I admire the excellency of his Wit.

L'excellence des Ouvrages de Dieu, the excellency of God's Works.

Son Excellence, Titre qu'on donne aux Ambassadeurs, his Excellency.

Or thus. As, par excellence, by way of eminency, (the word ὑπερβολή of the Greeks.)

Excellent, excellent, rare.

Un Vin excellent, an excellent Wine. Un Fruit excellent, a rare Fruit.

Voilà qui est excellent en son genre, that's excellent indeed in its kind.

Un Esprit excellent, an excellent Wit. Un Homme excellent, a rare (an excellent) Man.

C'est un excellent Ecrivain, he is an excellent Writer.

Or thus. As, Eph. 1. 19. l'excellente grandeur de sa Puissance, the exceeding greatness of his Power.

Excellent, to excel, surpass, outdo, or go beyond.

Il excelle en toutes Choses, he excels in every Thing.

Excellent par dessus tous les autres, he goes beyond all the rest, he outdoes all the rest.

Excentrique, excentrick.

As, Cercle, ou Sphere excentrique, an excentrick Circle, or Sphere.

Le Soleil fait son Cours dans un Cercle excentrique, the Sun runs its Course in an excentrick Circle.

Excepté, excepted; except, but.

Cela est excepté de la Regle, that is excepted from the Rule.

Il endure patiemment toute sorte d'Incommoditez, excepté la Chaleur, he patiently bears all manner of Inconveniences, but Heat. Chacun s'est acquitté de sa Charge, excepté Vous seul, every one has done his Part, except You alone.

Excepter, to except.

J'en excepte ce Mot, I except this Word.

Exception, (f.) Exception; difference, or distinction; an Exception pleaded (or put in) by a Defendant.

Il n'y a point de Regle sans Exception, there is no Rule without Exception. C'est une Exception à la Regle generale, 'tis an Exception from the general Rule.

Il faut faire quécque Exception parmi les Personnes, some Difference must be made amongst People.

Alleguer quécque Exception, to bring in an Exception.

Or thus. As, sans exception d'Age ni de Condition, without regard either to Age or Condition.

A l'exception d'un tel, such a one excepted.

Excès, (m.) from Exceder (but in a deviate Sense) excess, or superfluity; excess, riot, debauchery.

Excès d'amour, an excess of love, or an excessive love. Excès de bonté, an excess of goodness, or an excessive bounty. Excès au Vivre & aux Habits, a superfluity in Diet and Cloaths.

Aller à l'excès, to run out into excess. Il peche plutot par excès que par défaut, he rather sins in excess than defect.

Vivre dans l'excès, to live in riot. Tes Excès (tes Debauches) ruineront ta Santé, thy Excesses (thy Debaucheries) will ruin thy Health.

Or thus. Un excès de beauté me force à l'adorer, un excès de rigueur me defend d'esperer, her great beauty makes me adore her, but her great cruelty excludes me from all hopes.

Excessif, exceeding, excessive.

Des Habits d'un prix excessif, Cloaths of an exceeding price.

Une peine excessive, an excessive pain.

Excessivement, exceedingly, excessively.

Manger excessivement, to eat exceedingly.

Excité, stirred up, caused, incited, incouraged.

Exciter, to stir up, cause, incite, excite, or incourage.

Exciter le Peuple à la Revolte, to stir up (or incite) People to a Rebellion. Exciter une Sedition, to stir up a Sedition.

Exciter l'Appetit, to stir up (or excite) the Appetite.

Le regorgement de bile excite des fermentations dans le Sang, the overflowing of choler causeth fermentations in the Blood.

Or thus. Il excita par l'odeur du Vin ses esprits languissans, his saint Spirits he quickened by the smell of Wine.

Exclamation, (f.) Exclamation.

Une Exclamation pathetique, a pathetick Exclamation.

Exclu. See Exclud.

Exclure, to exclude, debar, shut out, or keep from.

Exclure quécun du Gouvernement, to exclude one from the Government. L'exclure du Sacrement, to exclude him from the Sacrament, to deny him (to keep him from receiving) the Sacrament.

Exclus, excluded, debarred, shut (or kept) out.

Exclusif, exclusive.

Voix exclusive, an exclusive Vote.

Particule exclusive, an exclusive Particle.

Exclusion, (f.) exclusion.

Exclusivement, exclusively.

Jusqu'à Dimanche exclusivement, ed. le Dimanche n'étant pas compris, till Sunday exclusively.

Excommunication, (f.) Excommunication.

L'Excommunication majeure, la Separation du Corps des Fidelles, the greater Excommunication.

L'Excommunication mineure, l'Interdiction des Sacremens, the lesser Excommunication.

Encourir Excommunication, to incur an Excommunication. Fulminer une Excommunication contre quécun, to fulminate an Excommunication against one.

Lever l'Excommunication, to take off the Excommunication.

Excommunié, excommunicated.

Il a été excommunié, he has been excommunicated.

Un Excommunié, a Man excommunicated.

† Visage d'Excommunié, pour dire Visage affreux, morne, ou defait, a dreadful look.

† C'est un Excommunié, ed. un Scelerat, he is a wicked (or a profligate) Fellow.

Excommunier, to excommunicate.

As, excommunier une Personne dont la Vie est scandaleuse, to excommunicate a Person of a scandalous Life.

Excoriation, (f.) an excoriation, or fretting of the skin off.

Excrement, (m.) excrement.

Les Excremens du Corps, the Excrements of the Body.

Les Excremens, ce qui sort du Corps par le fondement, ones Excrements, that which comes out out of the Body through the Fundament.

Excroissance, (f.) an excrescence (as a wart, a wen, and the like.)

Excusable, excusable, to be excused.

Il n'est pas excusable, he is not excusable, he is inexcusable.

Cette Faute n'est pas excusable, that Fault is not to be excused.

Excuse, (f.) Excuse; cloak, or pretence, John 15. 22.

Faire excuse à quécun, to make his excuse to one. Une Excuse raisonnable, ou frivole, a good, or frivolous Excuse.

† Je vous demande excuse, I beg your pardon. Say, according to the English, Je vous demande pardon.

Excusé, excused.

Excuser, to excuse.

Je vous prie de m'excuser, I pray you, excuse me.

Excusez le auprès de son Pere, excuse him to his Father.

† Excuser, pour dire exenter, to excuse, or exempt.

As, votre Age ne vous excuse pas du Jeune, your Age does not excuse you from Fasting.

S'excuser, to excuse himself; to decline.

Il s'excuse sur son Indisposition, he excuses himself upon the account of his Indisposition.

Il s'est excusé en galant homme, he has excused himself like a gallant man.

Ils envoyèrent des Deputés pour s'excuser de leur Faute, they sent Deputy's to excuse their Errour.

Je l'ai prié de répondre pour moi de cent ecus, mais il s'en est excusé, I praid him to stand my Security for the Sum of an hundred Crowns, but he declined it.

Exeat, (m.) Terme de College, leave to go out.

As, son Maître lui a donné un exeat, cd. lui a donné pouvoir de sortir, his Master has given him leave to go out.

Execrable, execrable, odious, hateful, abominable.

Un Crime, une Action execrable, an execrable Crime, or Action.

Se rendre execrable devant Dieu & les Hommes, to make himself abominable before God and Men.

Plus qu'execrable, (John 7. 49.) cursed.

Execration, (f.) execration, curse.

Etre en execration à sa Patrie, to be the Curse (or Execration) of his native Country.

Or thus. As, Ps. 102. 8. † Ceux qui sont enragez contre moi sont des execrations de moi, they that are mad against me are sworn against me.

And Acts 23. 13. Ils estoient plus de quarante, qui avoient fait cette Conjuración avec execration de Serment, they were more than forty which had made this Conspiracy.

Si quécun vous evangelize outre ce que vous avez reçu, qu'il soit execration, (Gal. 1. 9.) if any Man preach any other Gospel unto you than ye have received let him be accursed.

Exécuté, executed, performed, or put in execution; executed, or put to death; executed, distrained, or seized.

Executer, to execute, perform, or put in execution; to execute, or put to death; to execute, distrain, or seize.

Executer son Dessein, to execute (or perform) his Design, to put it in execution, to bring it to pass, to fulfill, to accomplish it.

Executer les Ordres de quécun, to execute (or perform) ones Orders, to put them in execution, to fulfill, or to obey them.

Executer un Testament, to execute a Will.

Executer une Sentence, to put a Sentence in Execution.

Executer un Criminel, to execute (or put to death) a Malefactor. On executa les Auteurs de la Revolte, the Authors of the Rebellion were executed.

Executer quécun, faire emporter ses Biens en vertu d'une Sentence, to distrain ones Goods by an Execution.

Executer des Villages, pour n'avoir pas payé Contribution, to execute Villages, for having failed to pay the Contributions.

Executeur, (m.) Executor; a Hang-man, or Executioner; an Officer, Luke 12. 58.

Executeur Testamentaire, ou du Testament; the Executor of a Will, he that is charged to see ones last Will performed.

L'Executeur de la haute Justice, the Hang-man, the Executioner.

Execution, (f.) execution, or performance; execution, or death inflicted upon one; execution, or distress.

Ils demandent l'execution du Traité, they insist upon the execution of the Treaty. L'execution d'un Testament, the execution of a Will.

Mettre une Chose en execution, to put a Thing in execution. Le Canon fit une merveilleuse execution, the Cannon did great execution.

L'Execution d'un Criminel, the Execution of a Malefactor. C'est de la Mort, & de son Execution, que parle S. Augustin, 'tis of his Death and Execution that S. Austin speaks.

L'Execution a été déclarée torsionnaire, the Distress was declared illegal.

Executoire, (m.) Terme de Pratique, a Writ of Execution.

Executrice, (f.) Executrix.

Elle est seule Executrice du Testament de son Pere, she is sole Executrix of her Fathers Will.

Exemplaire, exemplary.

As, mener une Vie exemplaire, to lead an exemplary Life.

Une Punition exemplaire, an exemplary Punishment.

Exemplaire, (m.) a Copy, a Copy of a Book; a pattern, 1 Tim. 1. 16.

On me donne tant d'Exemplaires, I have so many Copy's given me.

Exemplairement, d'une maniere exemplaire, exemplarily, to give example.

Vivre exemplairement, to live exemplarily, or to lead an exemplary Life.

Exemple, (m.) exemple, pattern, or model.

Un bon, ou un mauvais Exemple, a good, or a bad Example. Donner bon exemple à quécun, to give one good example.

Prendre exemple sur quécun, to take example by one. Imiter (suivre) son exemple, to follow his example.

Servir d'exemple, to serve for an example.

C'est un Exemple vivant d'Honnêteté, he is a lively Pattern (or Model) of Honesty.

Exemple, (f.) Modèle d'Ecriture que les Ecrivains donnent à leurs Ecoliers, a Copy, to learn to write by.

Exempt } See { Exent.

Exempté } Exenté.

Exempter } Exenter.

Exemption } Exention.

Exent, free.

Exent de Taille, free from Taxes.

Exent, (a masc. Subst.) a kind of Under-Officer in the Kings Gards. He is next to the Ensign.

Exenté, exempted, freed, discharged.

Exenter, to exempt, free, or discharge.

Exenter un Village de Soldats, to free a Village from Souldiers.

S'exenter, to free himself.

As, s'exentet de blâme, to free himself from blame.

Exention, (f.) Exemption, Privilege, Immunity.

Les Exentions Ecclesiastiques, the Church-Privileges, or Church-Immunity's.

Exercé, exercised.

Exercer, to exercise; to practise; to do, Ps. 119. 121; to minister, Ex. 28. 1; to execute, John 5. 27.

Exercer des Soldats, to exercise (or to train up) Souldiers. Exercer sa Charge, to exercise his Office.

Exercer l'Esprit, ou la Memoire, to exercise his Wit, or Memory. Exercer sa cruauté sur son propre Fils, to exercise his Cruelty upon his own Son.

Exercer la Medecine, to practise Physick.

Or thus. As, 1 Pet. 2. 24. Pour exercer Vengeance sur les Malfaiteurs, (1 Pet. 2. 14.) for the Punishment of evil Doers.

S'exercer, to exercise himself.

As, s'exercer à la Chasse, to exercise himself with Hunting.

Exercice, (m.) exercise, or practising; exercise, or function; exercise, or action.

L'exercice des Armes, the military Exercise. La Chasse est un Exercice fort beau & fort honnête, Hunting is a very fine and noble Exercise. Exercices Spirituels, Spiritual Exercises.

L'exercice d'une Charge, the exercise (or function) of an Office.

Aimer l'exercice, to love Exercise. L'Exercice reveille l'Esprit, Exercise wakens the Mind. Prendre de l'exercice, to take some exercise.

Or thus. As, donner de l'exercice à quécun, to keep one busy, or employed, to keep him in action.

Faire l'Exercice, to exercise.

L'Exercice Militaire est la Pratique des Leçons qu'enseigne l'Art des Evolutions, pour former le Soldat, le rendre capable du Service, & lui donner toutes les Lumières qui servent à l'Attaque & à la Defense.

Exhalaison, (f.) exhalation.

Une Exhalaison chaude & sèche, a hot and dry Exhalation.

Les Exhalaisons s'elevent de la Terre, & les Vapeurs de l'Eau, the Exhalations rise from the Earth, and the Vapours from the Water.

Exhaler, to exhale, or cast forth.

Exhaussé, raised higher; high.

Un Plancher fort exhaussé, a high Cieling.

Exhaussément, (m.) a raising higher; height.

L'exhaussément d'un Plancher, the raising of a Cieling; the height of a Cieling.

Exhauffer (Terme d'Architecture) cd. elever, to raise higher.

As, exhauffer un Bâtiment, to raise a Building higher.

Exheredation, (f.) Terme de Palais, a disinheriting.

Les Exheredations sont odieuses, 'tis an odious thing to disinherit.

Exherédé, disinherited.

Un Fils exherédé, a Son disinherited.

Exhereder (Terme de Palais) cd. disinheriter, to disinherit.

Il a exherédé sa Fille, he hath disinherited his Daughter.

Exhibition, (f.) exhibiting, or exhibition.

† Exhortateur, (m.) an Exhorter.

Exhortation, (f.) exhortation.

Il a toujours negligé mes exhortations, he hath always slighted my exhortations.

Exhorté, exhorted, encouraged, prepared.

Exhorter, to exhort, encourage, or prepare; to beseech, 1 Pet. 2. 11.

Exhorter quécun à faire quèque chose, to exhort one to do something. Il l'exhortoit d'entreprendre quèque chose digne de sa naissance, he exhorted him to undertake something worthy of his Birth.

Il m'exhorta à me faire violence, he encouraged me to lay violent hands upon my self. Il courroit par les Rangs, & exhortoit le Soldat, he ran up and down through the several Rangs, and encouraged (or animated) the Souldiers.

Il n'y a rien qui exhorte tant à bien mourir que de n'avoir point de plaisir à vivre, nothing doth so prepare one to die well as the want of comfort in this Life.

Or thus. As, Rom. 16. 17. Je vous exhorte, que vous preniez garde, &c. I beseech you, mark them, &c.

Exigé, demanded, required.

Exiger, cd. demander, to demand, or require.

Exiger ses Dettes, to demand his Debts.

Z 2 Comporter

Comportez vous selon que la chose l'exige-ra, carry your self as Occasion shall require.
Or thus. A quoi serviroit il d'exiger cette Reconnoissance ? to what purpose should this
Acknowledgement be required ?
Exigible, qu'on peut exiger, that may be de- manded.
La Dette n'est pas encore exigible, the Time for Payment is not expired as yet.
Exil, (m.) Exile, Banishment; absence.
Envoyer en exil, to exile, or banish.
Exilé, exiled, banished; absent.
Il est exilé, he is exiled, or banished. Ovide fut exilé par Auguste, Ovid was exiled by Augustus.
Un Exilé, (a masc. Subst.) an exiled
Man.
On fit r'appeler les Exilez, the Exiled were called home.
Exiler, ou bannir, to exile, or banish.
† S'exiler, to banish himself from humane Society.
Existence, (f.) existence, or being.
Exister, être dans la Nature des Choses, to exist,
to be.
Exorbitamment, exorbitantly, extravagantly.
Il depense exorbitamment, he spends extra- vagantly.
Exorbitant, excessif, exorbitant, extrava- gant.
Faire une depense exorbitante, to spend ex-
travagantly.
Exorcisé, exorcised.
Exorciser, to exorcise.
As, exorciser un Possédé, c. d. user d'Ex-orcisme pour chasser le Diable de son Corps, to exorcise a Demoniac.
Exorcisme, (m.) Exorcism.
Exorciste, (m.) an Exorcist.
Exorde, (m.) la premiere Partie d'un Discours Oratoire, Exordium, the entrance into a Discourse.
Un bel Exorde, a fine Exordium.
† Exortateur } See { Exhortateur.
Exortation } Exhortation.
Exorté } Exhorté.
Exorter } Exhorter.
Expectatif. As, Grace expectative, ou Rescrit du Pape qui ordonne au Collateur de donner le premier Benefice vaquant de sa Collation à la Personne que le Rescrit designe, a Popes Rescript, whereby he orders a Patron to present to the first Benefice that shall be void the Person mentioned in the Rescript.
Expedient, ce qu'il est à propos de faire, expedient, fit, necessary.
Il est expedient pour votre Bien, que cela se fasse, it is expedient for your Good, that that be done.
Expedient, (a masc. Subst.) expedient, means, or way.
Trouver un Expedient, to find out an Ex- pedient.
Expedier, to dispatch, or hasten; to dispatch,
kill, or make away.
As, expedier une Affaire, to dispatch a Bu- siness.
† Expedier un homme, le tuer, le faire mourir, to dispatch a man, to kill him, to make him away.
Expeditif, qui expedie, qui fait vite, expeditive,
of dispatch.
C'est un homme expeditif, he is a man of dis- patch.
† Un Medecin expeditif, qui depeche d'abord un Malade, a dispatching Doctor, one that makes a quick dispatch of his Patient.
Expedition, (f.) expedition, or dispatch; an Expedition, or great Warlike Action; a
Copy of Law-business.
Un homme d'expedition, a man of dis- patch.
Une fameuse Expedition, a famous Expe- dition.
Experience, (f.) experience, experiment,
knowledge.
Conoitre une chose par experience, to know a Thing by experience. Je le sai par experience, I know it by experience. Un homme sans experience, a man of no experi- ence.

L'Experience est la Maitresse des Fous,
Experience is the Mistress of Fools.
Faire quèque petite experience, to make some little Experiment. J'en veux faire l'experience, I will make an experiment of it.
Avoir une parfaite experience d'une Chose, to have a perfect knowledge of a Thing.
Experimenté, experienced, experimented, skil-
full.
Ils estoient experimentez au fait de la Guerre, they were skilfull in the art of War.
Experimenter, to experience, to experiment,
to assay, Heb. 11. 29.
Expert, skilfull, of great experience.
Il est expert en cela, he is skilfull in that.
C'est un homme fort expert, he is a very skilfull man, or a man of great experience.
Experts (a masc. Subst.) the most skilfull
Men of a Trade; the ablest Men in any Art or Science.
Expiation, (f.) expiation.
Expié, expiated.
Expier, to expiate.
As, expier un Crime, to expiate a Crime,
to make satisfaction for it.
Il a expié son Crime par sa Mort, he hath expiated his Crime by his Death.
Expiré, expired, out.
Le Terme est expiré, the Time is expired,
the Time is out.
Expirer, to expire, to die, or give up the ghost;
to expire, end, or be out.
Il est pret à expirer, he is going to expire.
Expirer de douleur & d'amour, to die for grief and love.
L'Année expire aujourd'hui, the Year ex- pires to day.
Explication, (f.) explication, explanation,
exposition, interpretation.
Faites nous en l'explication, explain (ex- pound) it to us.
Expliqué, explicated, explained, expounded,
interpreted.
Expliquer, to explicate, explain, expound, or interpret.
Expliquer une Difficulté, to explicate a Dif- ficult Case, to expound (or explain) it.
Expliquer les Poëtes Grecs & Latins, to expound the Greek and Latin Poets.
Expliquer ses pensées, to explain his con- ceptions, or to explain himself.
S'expliquer, to speak plain.
As, il s'est assez expliqué là dessus, he hath spoke plain enough upon that Subject.
Expliquez vous mieux, car on ne vous en-tend pas, speake plainer, for you are not un- derstood.
Exploit, (m.) exploit, a great act, or great deed; a Summons; an Execution upon a Judgement, and a Seizure by Vertue thereof.
Exploits de Guerre, Warlike Exploits.
Exploiter, s'acquitter des fonctions de Ser-gent, to serve Warrants, and the like.
A mal exploiter bien écrire, a fair pretence
for a foul act.
Or thus. As, Ex. 10. 2. † afin que tu racontes ce que j'aurai exploité en Egypte, that thou mayest tell what things I have wrought in Egypt.
Expofant (a masc. Subst.) a Publisher, a Patentee, one that publishes a Thing, or exposes it to sale, with an authentick Privilege.
Expofé, exposed, set forth, set out; expounded,
interpreted, explained; turned.
Expofé à la honte & à l'infamie, exposed to shame and infamy. Une chose expofée aux Yeux de tout le Monde, a Thing exposed to the Eyes of the whole World.
Notre Vie est expofée à tous les Hazards,
our Life is exposed to Hazards.
Un Texte mal expofé, a Text ill expound-
ed.
Les Bibliothèques sont ordinairement exfées au Soleil levant, Library's are common- ly turned to the East.
Exposer, to expose, shew, or lay out; to ex- pound, explain, or interpret; to declare, open, or make known; to expound, explain, or interpret; to turn.
Exposer sa Vie pour sa Patrie, to expose his Life for his native Country. Exposer le
S. Sacrement, to expose the Host.

Exposer l'état de sa Conscience à quècun, to open his Conscience to one, to declare unto him the State of his Conscience. Exposer le fait de sa Cause, to open his Case.
Exposer son Texte, to expound his Text.
Exposer une Chambre au Couchant, to turn a Chamber to the West.
S'exposer, to expose himself.
S'exposer à quèque Danger, to expose him- self to a Danger. S'exposer à la Mort, to expose himself to Death.
En verité, vous vous exposez trop, truly,
you expose your self too much.
Or thus. Un homme qui s'expose à la risée de tout le Monde, a man that makes himself a laughing Stock.
Expofiteur, (m.) an Expounder, Explain-
er, or Interpreter.
Exposition, (f.) exposition, or exposing; ex- planation.
L'exposition d'un Bâtiment, the turning of a Building East, North, West, or South.
Un Arbre planté à une mauvaife disposition, a Tree set in an ill place.
Exprès, express.
As, un Ordre exprès, an express Order. En termes exprès, in express terms.
La Loi fait expresse mention de cela, the Law makes an express mention of
that.
Exprès (a masc. Subst.) an Express.
As, il envoya un Exprès au Roi, he sent an Express to the King.
Exprès (Adv.) purposely, on purpose, on set purpose.
Expressement, in express terms.
Or thus. As, Jos. 24. 10. Et Balaam vous benit tres expressement, and Balaam blef- sed you still.
And 1 Sam. 1. 11. Si tu regardes expref-fément à l'affliction de ta Servante, if thou wilt indeed look on the Affliction of thy Handmaid.
Lequel j'ai envoyé vers vous expressement,
(Col. 4. 8.) whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose.
Expressif, expressive.
As, se servir de termes expressifs, to use ex- pressive terms.
Une Image expressive, an expressive (or lively) Image.
Expression, (f.) expression.
Une belle expression, a fine expressi- on.
Avoir l'expression belle, vive, noble, & riche, to have a fine, lively, noble, and rich
way of expressing himself.
Exprimé, expressed; squeezed, squeezed out;
pressed forth.
Cela est fort bien exprimé, that's very well
expressed.
L'Ecorce des Oranges aigres exprimée un peu dans du Vin le rend plus agreable, se-lon le Gout de plusieurs personnes, & le fait passer plus promptement par les Urines, the Peel of sharp Oranges being squeezed a little into Wine renders it more agreeable to the Taste of many persons, and makes it pass more readily by Urine.
Exprimer, to express; to squeeze, or squeeze out; to press forth.
Exprimer quèque chose de bouche, ou par ecrit, to express something by word of mouth, or in writing.
Exprimer ses pensées avec esprit, ingeniously
to express his conceptions.
Ils expriment & font fortir tout ce qu'ils rencontrent dans la Cavité des Intestins, they squeeze and force out all they meet within the Cavity of the Intestines.
S'exprimer, to express himself, or to express his mind.
Il s'exprime delicatement, he expresses him- self finely.
Exprovincial, Terme de Recolet, a Monk that hath been Provincial.
Expulsion, (f.) expulsion.
Expultrice, expulsive.
As, la faculté expultrice, the expulsive fa- culty.
Exquis, excellent, rare, exquisite, curi- ous.

C'est

C'est quelque chose de fort exquis, 'tis a very rare thing. Une Beauté exquisite, a rare (an exquisite) Beauty.
Des Viandes exquis, dainties, rare (choice, curious, or excellent) Meat. Un Ouvrage exquis, a rare (an excellent) or ingenious piece of Work.
Le Ceinturon exquis, (Ex. 28. 8.) the curious Girdle.
Or thus. As, Ex. 26. 4. des Cherubins d'un ouvrage exquis, Cherubims of cunning Work.
And Deut. 33. you will find in several Places for the word Exquis in French that of Precious in the English Translation.
Extase, (f.) Transport de l'Esprit, extasy, trance, rapture.
Etre ravi en extase, to be ravished (to fall) into an extasy.
Etre en extase, to be in a trance, or in a rapture.
†Extasié, in a trance, in a rapture, ecstasick.
†Extasier, to put in a trance.
Chaque Vers qu'il entend le fait extasier, every Verse he hears does put him in a trance.
Extension, (from Etendre) extension, or stretching.
Cela ne peut recevoir d'extension, that is incapable of stretching.
L'extension des Nerfs, the extension of the Nerves.
Extenuation, (f.) a growing thin, slender, lean, spare, or lank.
Extenué, grown thin, slender, lean, spare, or lank.
Un Visage extenué, a thin face.
Extenuer, to make thin, or lean.
Exterieur, outward, external.
As, les Sens extérieurs, the external Senses.
Les Devoirs extérieurs de la Religion, the outward Duties of Religion.
Des Marques extérieures, outward Signs.
L'Homme extérieur, (en Termes d'Ecriture S.) the outward Man.
Exterieur, (a masc. Subst.) an Outside.
Avoir l'extérieur fort beau, to have a fair Outside.
Affecter un extérieur grave, to affect a grave Outside.
Exterieurment, à l'extérieur, apparemment, outwardly, on the outside.
Exterminateur, (m.) Destroyer, or Exterminator.
L'Ange Exterminateur, the destroying Angel.
Exterminé, destroyed, cut off, exterminated.
Toute la Race est exterminée, the whole Race is cut off.
Exterminer, to destroy, cut off, or exterminate.
Il extermina toute la Nation, he destroyed the whole Nation.
Quand l'Eternel ton Dieu aura exterminé les Nations, (Ex. 19. 1.) when the Lord thy God has cut off the Nations.
Extinction, (f.) from Eteindre, quenching, or extinction.
Extinction d'Acier, the quenching of Steel.
L'extinction de la Chaleur naturelle, the extinction of natural Heat.
Extirpateur, (m.) Extirpator.
As, l'Extirpateur des Heresies, the Extirpator of Heresies.
Extirpation, (f.) extirpating, or extirpation.
Prier Dieu pour l'extirpation des Heresies, to pray to God for the extirpation of Heresies.
Extirpé, extirpated, rooted out.
Extirper, to extirpate, to root out.
As, extirper une Heresie, to extirpate (or root out) an Heresy.
Extorqué, extorted, got by force.
Extorquer, arracher de force, to extort, to get by force.
Extorquer quelque chose d'une personne, to extort a Thing from one.
Extorsion, (f.) extortion.
Faire des extorsions, to commit extorsions.

Ce sont des Extorsions insupportables, these are Extorsions not to be born with.

Extraction, (f.) a taking out; extraction, or Birth.

L'extraction de la pierre, the taking of the stone out.

Un homme de noble, ou de basse extraction, a man of a noble, or of a low extraction.

Il n'est pas de grande extraction, son extraction est peu considerable, he is of no great extraction, his extraction is but mean.

Extraire, to extract, or make a short Collection of; to extract, in a Chymical sense.

Extrait, extracted.

Extrait, (a masc. Subst.) an Abstract, a Draught, or Copy, a Thing Chymically extracted.

Faire un extrait de quelque chose, to make a Draught, (or Abstract) of something.

Extrait de Procès, a Breviate.

Extraordinaire, extraordinary.

Une Taille, une Faveur, une Ambassade extraordinaire, an extraordinary Size, Favour, or Embassy.

Un Homme extraordinaire, an extraordinary Man. Un Ambassadeur extraordinaire, an Ambassador extraordinary.

Extraordinaire, (a masc. Subst.) a Sheet of foreign News besides the Gazette.

Extraordinaire des Guerres, an Officer that takes upon him the Charges of the War and the paying of the Forces, an extraordinary Treasurer appointed in time of War for that purpose.

And in this Sense we say, prendre son fonds à l'Extraordinaire, aller prendre ses Appointemens à l'Extraordinaire, cd. les aller prendre du Tresorier extraordinaire des Guerres.

Extraordinairement, extraordinarily, in an extraordinary (or unusual) manner.

Extratempora, (m.) Terme d'Eglise, a Leave from the Pope to take Orders at any time.

Extravagamment, extravagantly, strangely.

Il est extravagamment jaloux, he is strangely jealous.

Extravagance, (f.) extravagancy, impertinency.

Dire des extravagances, to talk extravagantly.

Faire des extravagances, to do extravagant things.

Extravagant, extravagant.

Un homme extravagant, un Extravagant, an extravagant Man.

Une Femme extravagante, or une Extravagante, an extravagant Woman.

Extravaguer, être fou dans ses Discours, to extravagate, to talk idly, to dote.

Il extravague, il ne fait ce qu'il dit, he dotes, he knows not what he says.

Extravasé, extravasated.

As, du Sang extravasé, cd. qui est hors des Vaisseaux qui le contiennent, extravasated Blood.

Extravafer, to extravasate.

Des que le Sang commence à s'extravafer, as soon as the Blood begins to extravasate.

Extreme, extream, very great.

Une Douleur extreme, an extream (or very great) Pain. Un extreme Plaisir, a great Pleasure. Son extreme Vieillesse, his great Age.

L'extreme Onction, the extream Unction, one of the seven Sacraments of the Roman Church.

Il a eu (il a reçu) l'extreme Onction avant que mourir, he received the extream Unction a little before he died.

† Extreme, (a masc. Subst.) an extream.

Say Extremité.

Extremement, extreamly, extream, very much, very, mighty, mightily, a great deal.

Il est extremement malade, he is extreamly (extream, or very) sick. Il est extremement honnête, he is very civil, he is mighty (or extream) civil. Une peau extremement douce, an extream (a very) soft skin. Il m'aime extremement, he loves me mightily.

Il a extremement d'esprit, & de courage, he hath a great deal of wit, and courage.

Extremité, (f.) extremity or end; extremity, necessity, last shift, or distress; extremity, outrage, or violence; an extream.

Les extremités du Corps, the extremities of the Body. L'extremité des doigts, the fingers end.

Etre réduit à l'extremité, to be put to his last shifts, or to a non-plus. Je suis réduit à cette extremité, qu'il faut que je me sauve, I am reduced to this extremity, that I must make my escape. Dans cette dure Extremité, in this severe Necessity.

En venir à de fâcheuses extremités, to bring things to sad extremities. Je ne veux pas souffrir qu'on vous porte à cette extremité, I will not suffer you to be carried to that extremity.

Passer d'une extremité à l'autre, to go from one extream to another. Les Fous s'arrentent toujours aux extremités, Fools are always for extreams.

Or thus. As, La Laponie est à l'extremité du Golfe Bothnique, Lapland borders upon the Gulf of Bothnia.

Les Extremités d'une Place, the furthest Ends of a spacious Place.

A toute extremité ils sont résolus de mourir, when the worst comes to the worst they are resolved to die. Ils sont résolus à toute extremité, they are resolved to stand it to out to the last.

Etre malade à l'extremité, cd. être fort malade, to be extream sick.

Etre à l'extremité, cd. être à l'agonie, to be going out of the World.

Extremocion

Extrordinaire

Extrordinairement

Extreme Onction.

See Extrordinaire.

Extrordinairement.

Exultation, (f.) exultation, or leaping for joy.

F.

THIS Letter is a Consonant of the feminine Gender, and is pronounced in French as in English.

As, une f bien faite, an f well made. La tête & la queue d'une f, the head and tail of an f.

F, at the end of a Word, is often left unpronounced, even before Words that begin with a Vowel; as Baillif, Apprentif, eteuf, clef, which are always pronounced Bailli, Apprenti, eteu, clé.

From which Rule these must be excepted, viz. Brief, chef, fief, nef, neuf, veuf, canif, esquis, Juif, lucratif, naïf, oïst, vif, and others, where the f is always pronounced.

To which add the Names of Cases of Nouns, and Moods of Verbs; as Nominatif, Genitif, Datif, Accusatif, Vocatif, Ablatif, Indicatif, Imperatif, Optatif, Conjonctif, Infinitif.

But what you must observe, that all Derivatives of such Nouns as end in f turn the same into v consonant. So from brief, we say brieve, brièvement, brieveté; from grief, grieve, grièvement, grieveté; from naïf, naïve, naïvement, naïveté; from neuf the Adj. neuve, nouveauté, nouvellement; from neuf, (the numeral Noun) neuve, neuvième; from veuf, Veuve, Veuvage.

And, whereas ph is sounded like an f, some Authors write those Words with an f, which the generality of Writers do spell still with ph; as Filis, Philosophie, Sôisme, for Philis, Philosophe, Philosophie, Sophisme. But they are not to be imitated.

As for fantôme, frenesie, frenetique, trionfe, trionfer, & Trionfateur, instead of phantôme, phrenesie, phrenetique, triomphe, triompher, and Triomphateur; they are grown so much into Use, that I confess I am altogether for their new Way of spelling.

Apprentif and Baillif are also commonly spelt Apprenti, Bailli. And accordingly we say Apprentice (otherwise spelt Apprentisse) for for a Prentice-Girl; not Apprentive, according to the foresaid Rule.

F, (m.) Ouverture faite en f, sur la Table de quelques Instrumens de Musique, a Sound-hole, in the shape of an f.

F A

Fa, (m.) fa, a Musical Note.

Fable, (f.) a Fable, or feigned Story.

As, les Fables d'Esoppe, Æsop's Fables. Fable de Poète epique, ou de Poète dramatique, the Fable of an heroick, or of a dramatick Poet.

La Fable, pour dire l'Histoire fabuleuse, the Fable.

Il faut qu'un Poète sache la Fable, a Poet ought to know the Fable.

Or thus. As, sans la Fable on ne sauroit entendre les Poètes, without the knowledge of Mythology Poets cannot be understood.

Une Histoire qui sent extrêmement la Fable, a Story which savours very much of Romance, which seems very fabulous.

Or thus. As, servir de fable & de risée à tout le Monde, to be the laughing Stock of all the World.

†Fabricateur, (m.) Fabricator, Architect.

Le Fabricateur Souverain, the Supream Architect.

Fabrication, (f.) Coining.

As, payer les Frais de la fabrication de la Monoie, to pay the Charges of Coining.

Fabrique, (f.) a Fabrick; the Revenue of a Church, for the reparation or maintenance thereof; make, or making; a Mint.

C'est une belle Fabrique, it is a fine Fabrick.

Un Drap de fabrique etrangere, foreign Cloth, or Cloth of a foreign make.

Fabrique, made; built; coined.

Drap fabriqué de bonne Laine, Cloth made of special Wool.

Fabriquer, to make; to build; to coin.

As, fabriquer du Drap, des Chapeaux, de la Chandelle, des Cierges, to make Cloth, Hats, Candles, Tapers.

Fabriquer des Vaisseaux, to build Ships.

